LOCAL NEWS.

J. E. Owen was a caller from Omaha Monday.

Ed. Fennick and R. B. Crawford went to Sioux City Tuesday.

A big fat ten-pound girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Engliert, south of town, last Friday, and Carl is feeling so good over it he wants to pull all the tail feathers out of the stork. This office has been smoking all week on the 7th year advent.

Brown Palmer went to Sioux City on Tuesday.

J. G. Poater was a Tuesday afternoon passenger to Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason, both of whom are in rather poor health, left Tuesday morning for Excelsior Springs, Mo., to see what the famous baths would do for them. F. A. Berry writes they are making a new man of him, his improvement dating from his arrival there.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Davis were visitors from Winside Monday and made the DEMOCRAT an appreciated visit.

Ray Perdue and his gang of cement workers commenced gutting Main street from the State bank south, on Monday, the work being paid for by the property owners. That side of the street will be gutted the block south, and an effort is being made to get the lot owners on the east side do likewise.

Albert Berry returned Sunday from Idaho where he visited with Eph Cunningham, Frank Owen and other ex-Wayneites. Albert thinks that is the coming country; that Frank Owen was feeling good over his change and that he would make more money out there in five years than he could garner in Nebraska in a life-time. Geo. Harrington is now raising a plutocrat. John Kofoed, who bought a lot of land near Lisbon, N. D., a two years ago, has also been looking about Ashton, Idaho, is figuring on leasing the Harrington-Robbins tract of land, and had gone back to North Dakota to sell his possessions in that country.

The county fathers were in session Monday to finish up as a board of equalization but not having received any report from the state were forced to call another settlement day for August 20. The state board has raised the assessment on real estate in Wayne county five per cent, no report having as yet been made public on personal property. The commissioners hold a meeting for regular business August 14th, tomorrow.

Harry Tidrick was a visitor from Winside Monday.

Mrs. Leonard, who until a few weeks ago was housekeeper at St. Mary's Catholic church parsonage, died last Sunday near Norfolk, the funeral taking place Tuesday.

Brewer Stortz of Omaha was in town Monday. Mr. Stortz believes the fight in Nebraska this fall will be over county option and that the issue may be close. The state anti-sloop league has been very busy, and secured men of their party to file for the legislative offices. Randall, according to Mr. Stortz, and Witsie are county option candidates for the legislature.

O. D. Franks, salesman for the Kivett Land Co., returned Monday from Cheyenne county with Messrs E. B. Chichester, John Bannister and Neal Thompson, all of whom made deals for farms out there and were well pleased with the country and prospects.

Peter Baker and family, who moved to North Dakota a few weeks ago, is coming right back to Wayne again so as not to starve nor freeze to death. It didn't take Peter long to discover that he had jumped from the frying pan into the crematory.

Violin and Clarinet lessons will be given by A. G. Bohnert, west of P. O.

J. Woodward Jones and family left Monday morning for a ten days outing at Denver.

Mrs. Jas. Grier and Miss Leona Hanson went to Fullerton on Monday to visit their sister who is teaching there.

The schoolboard held a meeting Monday night and re-elected Peter Hinkle janitor and his son janitor of the ward school. Also elected Miss Emma Hughes to the position in the High school made vacant by the resignation of Miss Hunter. School opens August 31st, this fall and there will be but one week's vacation during the holidays so that it can close two weeks earlier next spring and work be pushed on the new building.

According to the Norfolk News S. E. Auker has withdrawn his name as a candidate for representative, for Stanton and Wayne counties, giving John R. Morris of Carroll a clear field on the g. o. p. track. Adam Pilger of Stanton county, the democratic candidate, had an immense majority two years ago and he will no doubt be an easy winner this fall.

Messrs Emil Hansen, Tams Russman and a brother of Jake Ziegler went to Bonesteel S. D. Monday to look at lands.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. John Larson arrived home from Kirksville, Mo. Monday.

Four or five old DEMOCRATS of July 31st got mixed up in the edition of last week, one subscriber at Lincoln sending his copy back and demanding a democrat that was up to date.

H. B. Miller's Travels.

My memory tells me that I promised some one that if I got lost I would write and tell you and you could tell them just where I am and here I am in the old shack that has served me so long and well most six long years. Nine months ago today I started on my trip around the world, and was just six months less four days making the trip, and I don't think any old coger ever enjoyed an outing any better. I saw most of the friends and relatives I started out to see, and then some I had not seen for 38 years, and one old lady I had not met in 54 years. I meandered through fourteen states, visited in nine of them; traveled about 5000 miles and I want to tell you that 2-cent mile deal helped me out to the tune of dollars. I met one good old widow lady—a minister's widow. Sixty years ago I had taken her to a "gum-sucker," we called it then. We had a good smile over it. Her son was present and I told him about it. Her home then only had one room in it and she had to get behind her ma to change her duds, and I was not up in etiquette enough to go out doors, and in fact I didn't want to. I was telling a lady friend about the incident, and she asked me why I didn't go out. I told her I never thought about it, but have written her an apology since. Coming home I remember we played sister feby and it snows and it blows and it's cold, stormy weather; I know we had a good time. I remember we were younger then than now. It was quite awhile ago. Fifty years ago I shipped my first car of stock to Chicago. I went to Chicago to see if I could find any of the chaps who were there at that time, but they had all moved away—most of them to the silent city. At Dodge City, Kans., on my way home, I met a lady who had been out in this country. She learned that I was on my way out here. She said "don't go out there they are starving to death;" but I had my ticket and I was bound to ride if I did starve. I have never met the fellow who starved to death. One thing I learned on my circuit is that I am a distant relative and a friend of lots of good people and I am more than convinced that this is the best world I ever lived in. The friends all played fair with me and I didn't mix with any but first-class people. I learned that a person didn't have to go over a big territory to find people in all conditions of life. And to you, my friend, who feels that your lot in this world is a hard one, I would say, go with me and I can convince you that you ought to be one of the most contented persons on earth. I met a number of girls who had lived with and worked for us, yes, and boys; some with good homes and large families; some old maids just waiting the summons—one has answered the call already.

This is an ideal day. Had a thunder-storm yesterday and have had big rains that assures a crop, and everybody smiles. I wish my good friends of that country could have the fruit that will go to waste here this fall.

And that brings me down to what of the political future of this country? The men are on the track—one a God-made man, the other a law-made man. Choose ye. Ones is very acceptable to the corporate interests, the other is

Death of John Ahern.

Carroll Index: Death came to our esteemed citizen and friend Thursday evening about eight o'clock. He passed away without even regaining consciousness. All that medical science could do could not overcome the effects of the deadly blow.

Dr. Franchere, of Sioux City, an expert on brain troubles was summoned Thursday. He arrived in the evening about five minutes after the patient died. He made an examination and came to the same conclusion as the local doctors: that death was caused by a rupture of the base of the brain.

The funeral was held last Monday forenoon, services by Father Kearns at the St. Marys Catholic church and interment in the Wayne cemetery.

CURED HAY FEVER AND SUMMER COLD.

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Raymond's Drug Store.

WANTED—One hundred young hens Plymouth Rocks or Brahmas.
 W. J. GILMORE.

"It's simply delicious and the only trouble there's not half enough in a big dishful," is what patrons say of Whalen's famous ice cream.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jans and Nick Hansen and daughter returned Monday from northern Iowa where they had been visiting old friends for a week.

For parties and socials remember Whalen makes the best ice cream in the country.

E. B. Chichester, who returned yesterday from Cheyenne county, tells the DEMOCRAT that if he had ten thousand dollars to invest it would all go into land in Cheyenne, that crops out there for the past twenty-two years have been immense with the exception of two years, and the climate is fine. Mr. Chichester spent some time visiting with the older residents, all of whom live in good houses and are well-to-do. He says that while it is not considered a corn country, he found one farmer who had 200 acres in corn, and who told him the average crop for ten years had been 35 bushels per acre. The average crop of wheat is 40 bushels, about what the harvest is this year. Mr. Chichester is closing up a deal for a farm there with the Kivett Land Co.

Many people abuse their eyesight by not having properly fitted glasses; are careless of what they will need very much in old age. Good sight is one of the most necessary blessings, and to keep it for the years that are to come have Optician Vail fit your eyes with glasses that will not injure the eyes.

Mrs. Harry Barnett went to Sioux City Monday to be with her little girl in the hospital. The child is slowly recovering but got homesick, and will be brought home in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Skeen went to Ponca yesterday for a few days visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Auker were in Sioux City yesterday.

Ed. Rennick took his daughter, Miss Bessie Rennick to Sioux City Tuesday where the young lady was operated upon for appendicitis.

F. M. Skeen has filed for the republican nomination for county attorney, instead of running independent as at first announced. This will make what might be termed "a horrible split" in the republican vote at the primaries, a sort of a side-split, so to articulate.

BY DAD

If you expect her to love you during hot weather feed her Whalen's delicious ice cream.

Harry Thaw has gone Daft. Well, there are a few people not in the penitentiary in worse condition mentally. They are gone Taft.

After granting reduced rates for other big dolings the railroads couldn't do anything to assist the people in going to Lincoln—by the thousands. It shows how the wind has always been blowing and every man in this state who stands for the "square deal" Roosevelt talked about so much will vote for the great Nebraska for president.

An ex-grain shipper for the government told the DEMOCRAT recently that he had paid 32 cents per hundred to ship grain from Norfolk to the western part of Nebraska, 10 cents to ship from Bloomfield to Norfolk, 75 cents from Norfolk to Utah, and 25 cents to ship it from Kansas City, Kansas, to Liverpool, England. And still there are some dampfools in this country who will assist the railroads in electing a state legislature selected by the railroads.

A Chicago writer says "there ought to be a law to require every school teacher below the high school to spend a few minutes each day pounding into the heads of the pupils the proper use of the words 'did', 'done', 'saw', 'seen', 'come', 'came', 'went' and 'gone.' Ninety per cent of the bad English hangs around the words mentioned." A little of the same training would not hurt some of our high school pupils.—Ida Grove Pioneer.

And it strikes us that a little pounding of that sort would benefit some of our teachers.

They are telling of the meanest man in Nebraska over at Carroll. He got married and took his wife for a walk around the block for a wedding trip, brought her a nickel's worth of candy for a wedding present, and then wanted her to keep the candy for the children.

It is announced that the president has decided to "butt in" on the Iowa senatorial situation and tell just what the meat some "prohibitionist"—who gets "the meat" later on—gives poor pussy a swift kick in the ribs.

The editor rose from his gas-dried nest in joy as the morning broke, For he had enjoyed a good night's rest.

And hatched in his dreams a joke—A joke which he deemed was one of the best.

And he laughed till he thought he would croak.

He printed the joke in his sheet that day, In his column of sharps and flats, And watched a man read it and heard him say

With a voice full of pity, "Oh, Rats" And thus the jolly joke pettered away, which the editor hatched on the slate.

From Life: It is wrong to steal, even from a street car company. No doubt it is also wrong to fib, even in a presidential party platform. But nobody takes that seriously. Wonderful was the claim in the republican platform to all virtue and all beneficence as exclusive republican properties, but where was the reader who could read it with a straight face? It is a curious habit—this putting forth quadrannally with such seriousness a lot of buncombe that takes nobody in.

The automobile is fixing the millionaires much faster than the democratic party can do it after Bryan is elected.

People who have lived in states that have county option probably know that such a regulation of the liquor business makes just a little more disturbance in a community than so-called prohibition. Under prohibition an effort is made to banish booze from sight and mind. In county option it is like dangling a piece of fresh meat over a hungry cat's head, and every time the cat gets its nose to the meat some "prohibitionist"—who gets "the meat" later on—gives poor pussy a swift kick in the ribs.

The Norfolk Chautauqua was a "grand success," according to the News, with the exception of the attendance and the finances. This is certainly putting the chautauqua ahead of the dollar, by dad.

A couple of brothers in Cherokee county, Io, hung their "keg" in the well to cool, and when they went after it both were killed by gas. Another evidence that prohibition prohibits in Iowa and that the "Almighty is on the anti-saloon side."

Hanker Fred Volpp of Scribner is a candidate for the state senate from Dodge county. Fred is bound to make the natives aware of his presence, and he takes up considerable space. No one would ever take better Clonson of the Carroll Index for a fighting man, but he never carries the belt in his section of the country. The facts in the fight are that a big, burly 230-pound farmer near Sholes wanted to seek a scrap with E. W. Clonson, Dick's brother. Dick finally protested, telling the "John L. Sullivan" to drop it, cut it out, and etc. The man looking for an engagement there-upon took a punch at "ye editor" but never touched him. Eye-witnesses of what followed say it was a beaut of a beating the big fellow got, being thoroughly disfigured, knocked down, then thrown down and "licked" until he hollered "enough". Rah for Clonson! He's the man they need to bust up that "ring". F. M. Skeen was telling us about last week.

The county commissioners were in session Monday, finishing up as a board of equalization.

Coon Creek News.

The wind last Thursday night blew the corn flat to the ground.

Fred Larson is thrashing on the creek and is giving good satisfaction.

Ed. Hogerman thrashed Friday and had the best crop of spring wheat in the neighborhood.

Wheat is going about 15 bushels and oats about 30.

Leaves Orlinchesters team ran away the other day but no damage done.

E. B. Orlinchester went to cheyenne county to look at some land, this day.

The corn crop on the Creek is like the baby crop; it's extra good. A fine baby boy came to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Spikes, five weeks ago, and a girl came to Dan Buyers two weeks ago; and a youngster came to M. S. Englert last Friday. It was named, Mrs. Englert being a kind hearted woman, the child, it was hungry and she fed it; it seems to be satisfied with its new home and will stay with the Englert family until it is of age, or 18 years. It is a girl and weighs 10 pounds. Mrs. Englert is past 45 and Mr. Englert is past 61. How's that for old folks. Can any of the young married men beat that? If they can let them try it.

FOR STATE SENATOR.

I desire to announce myself as a candidate for State Senator in the 11th senatorial district, subject to the will of the democratic and populist voters at the primary election to be held September 1st, 1908.

DAVID REES, Norfolk, Neb.

Zeb Jones went to Sioux City today with a load of hogs.

Lon Hunter and family are in Sioux City today.

Wm. House has commenced a modern residence on lot west of Dr. Blair's home.

Miss Emma Slater of Chicago who has been visiting her mother, went to Niobrara yesterday to see her sister Mrs. Rock, expecting to return to Wayne Saturday.

The Rural Home Society met with Mrs. Noaken Thursday, July 16th. The afternoon was spent in sewing. The hostess served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Elmer Noake and Miss Lauman. Mrs. Palmer invited the ladies to meet with her the 31st Thursday in August.

C. A. Randall was a caller on the DEMOCRAT yesterday and reported politics as somewhat mixed on his candidacy for senator. Mr. Randall made a most virtuous record, so far as the railroads are concerned, in the last legislature and the corporations are after him hard and trying to line up the voters for Appleby of Stanton.

D. Rees, the democratic candidate for the state senate was in Wayne last week train Tuesday and made this office a call. Mr. Rees is a man of fine personal appearance and of much general knowledge of the needs of the people. He has been in the grain business for a number of years but never belonged to the grain trust, and is therefore in a good position to know the inwardness of it.

W. H. Nangle was up from Sioux City yesterday.

Mrs. Howard Whalen and daughter went to Dodge City, Kansas, today to see her father.

The Winslow school board has dropped the DeBolt incident and engaged Prof. F. L. McNown of Peru as superintendent of schools.

J. E. Marteller is home from the western part of the state.

Normal College Commencement.

The seventeenth annual commencement was preceded by a week of Chautauqua which acted as an inspiration to great effort on the part of those taking part in the program. The commencement proper was ushered in by the annual contest between the two literary societies. The two societies have done such excellent work all the year, that their friends expected much of their representatives, and they were not disappointed. Miss Kingsbury, head of the Latin and German Department and Miss Bellows, head of the English Department have charge of these two societies. The work has been of a high order, which was fully demonstrated by the following program. The Crescents were victorious. The following persons represented this society:

Essay How I would keep school
Rose Head
Oration Friendship Georgia Austin
Recitation A Senator Entangled
Nellie Cash

Debate Emma Chicoine

Although this society was victorious does not indicate they were superior to the Philos, for the final summing up showed them only a little more than one per cent ahead. The Philos presented the following as their part of the program:

Essay Music Mae C. Munger
Oration The Rights of the Laborer
Vernon E. Rightmire
Recitation The Mission Box that Scandalized the Village

Debate Alice Heaton
Archir L. Burhan

Saturday night the Elocution Department presented a most excellent program. This department is presided over by Miss Jennie Bellows. The entertainment was of a high order and most entertaining.

1 A Modern Sewing Society—certainly depicted the majority of these true to life.

2 A Proposal Under Difficulties, was pronounced the best thing of the evening.

3 The First Formal Call, was most entertaining.

4 A Grecian Pantomime, by Miss McIntosh, was charming.

During the evening the Music Department gave the following selections:

Piano Solo Maidens Blush Tollichalk
Corola Ton Brauchitsch
Piano Solo Rondo Brillantio op 62
Weber
Myrtle Hewins
Piano Duet Pas de Charge
Mattie
Myrtle Hewins, Margaret Jeffrey
Piano Solo Spring Song Mendels Sohn
Minnie Goodsell

Sunday at 4 P. M. the Graduating Classes to the number of eighty-eight, in cap and gown, were seated in a body to listen to the Rev. J. L. Stine as he preached them a most able sermon. At 8 o'clock the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. presented the following program:

Hymn 56, Chapel Hymnal
Scripture Reading Dan T. Burruss
Invocation Rose Armstrong
Music Ladies' Quartette
Y. M. C. A. Neal B. Mack
Y. W. C. A. Edith E. Beechel
Selection Male Quartette
Address Prof. C. H. Bright
Hymn 111, Chapel Hymnal.
Circle of Prayer.

These two associations have done most excellent work. The Y. M. C. A. sent two members to the students conference at Cascade, Col., and the young ladies one to the conference for young women.

A new society has recently been formed, known as the Catholic Students' Club. Another year we expect to hear from a representative of this body.

Monday evening found a large and appreciative audience. Every one was interested in one or more of the contestants, as a twenty dollar gold piece was to be given the winner. Mr. Chester Jones, president of the Certificate class, presided.

Miss Von Brauchitsch and Miss Fenner opened the evening entertainment with a piano duet. These entertainments have been made most enjoyable by the excellent music given.

Miss Louie Ellis discussed concerning "A Limit of Wealth." Miss Ellis was very nervous and as a result did not do herself justice.

"Schools of Diplomacy" by Chester A. Fenner, showed a careful preparation, as did "Christian Unity" by A. R. Herrell.

A charming vocal solo by Miss Gleason, set us in a frame of mind to most thoughtfully appreciate those that followed. Miss Alice Kate with "The Backbone of the Nation," carried off the prize.

"Our Nation Today" by Ralph V. Leinhardt, was much enjoyed. "Our Navy" by Mary Mahood, was a close second. "Ireland's Demand" by P. E. Sauntry was an able effort by a real Irishman. Everybody seemed pleased with the decision. Miss Kate has not only been an untiring student but a popular one as well. Popular because she has always been courteous and always in her place of duty.

Monday night seemed to have been a sort of inspiration, and on Tuesday evening a larger crowd was present to hear the Elocution contest, that was to decide who should be the recipient of the handsome medal which was to be the prize for that department. Miss Lela Olmsted, whose dignified bearing has placed her in the front rank as a student, presents.

The opening number, piano solo, by Miss Margaret Jeffrey, was most charmingly rendered. Selection Prof. David Harum, by Miss Hattie Best, was very favorably received.

The Arena Scene from Quo Vadis, by Miss Bessie Cash, showed that Miss Cash had made great improvement this year. Some pronounced this the best "Trusty" by Miss Gleason, was very fine. Miss Gleason has much natural ability and we fear did not appreciate the fact that a little training might have won for her the prize.

"Jean Valjean and the Bishop," by Miss Marsh, was fine and won for her second place.

"Henry the Fifth's Wooing," by Hazel McIntosh was interesting. It hardly seemed suited to Miss McIntosh's style, but was well received, as was "The Love of Bernice," by Miss Sauntry. "Taming the Shrew" by Miss Strickland was a fine selection of a part of Shakespeare's immortal Comedy. Miss Strickland had spent much time in its preparation and as a result was the victor. She simply showed that hard work and close application take the place of natural ability.

"A Leaf in the Storm" was the title of the recitation by Mr. Harry Ziemer. Mr. Ziemer did well. In fact the comments of the audience were that all the recitations were of a high order. The markings of the Judges, showed this to be true.

The lost contest took place Wednesday evening. Although the evening was dull and sultry, eight o'clock found the chapel full. Miss Rose Head, President of Teachers' class presiding.

Resolved, "That trial by Jury should be Abolished," was ably discussed by Arthur Anderson and Katherine Murphy for the affirmative, while Lela Olmsted and Chester Jones as ably declared for the negative.

The other question "That Socialism is a constructive force in the advancement of Modern Civilization," was affirmed by Burrett Wright and Orpha Anderson. The negative was ably upheld by Leo. Pryor and August Nordgren. When the decision of the judges was announced, all seemed to have made the same decision. Miss Anderson certainly presented some fine arguments and in that forceful manner which characterizes all that Miss Orpha does. She was the recipient of the Craven Prize.

Thursday evening the Graduating exercises proper occurred. The address of the occasion was a masterpiece. Those who have followed Congressman Norris' career at Washington, knew there would be a fine address and were not disappointed. Mr. Norris and Prof. File were College class mates, and in all the years that have intervened they have been close personal friends.

When it came to presentation of diplomas, Fred, who has taken his father's place on so many occasions since his illness, did so now, and in a neat speech presented the 88 diplomas, as he also awarded the twenty dollar prizes as follows:

1 The most substantial improvement, Bressler prize, Minnie Goodsell

2 The Best Oration, Tucker prize, Alice Kate

3 The Best Debate, Craven prize, Orpha Anderson

4 First rank in Scientific class, Dr. Leisenring prize, Nellie Cash

5 First rank in Teacher's class, S. R. Theobald prize, Edith Beechel

6 First rank in State Certificate class, Harrington prize, Mabel Armstrong

7 Best Recitation, Mines Medal, Jessie Strickland

8 First rank in Commercial Dept., Ley prize, Dan Burruss

9 First rank in Music Dept., Jones prize, Margaret Jeffrey

10 The Honor Roll, Faculty prize, Mary Mahood

Thus closed the 17th Annual Commencement.

MEMBERS of the Alumni had been coming back for several days. Some coming early in order to attend the Chautauqua before Commencement proper. Alumni Day was all that we might wish, for two weeks old students had been returning until several hundred were ready for the exercises of that day.

One member came from western Colorado, while many came from the Dakotas, and Nebraska. The weather was ideal so the luncheon was served on the lawn. The fore-noon session was held in the chapel. Here the old students entertained the graduating classes, with stories of how good they always were as students and how perfect, always in department. After luncheon games of Basket ball, Tennis and Base ball made a full afternoon. The athletic field was in fine shape. All day the Manual Training Department was open and running. This fine department was a surprise to many of former students as it was only recently installed.

At six o'clock the Banquet Hall was thrown open. It certainly was a scene of beauty. The room used for this occasion was the Gymnasium. The room was beautifully decorated, while the tables were resplendent in all that makes a properly appointed banquet board.

Miss Mullen, who has had charge of the Culinary department of the college, assisted by a Sioux City cateress and a body of college girls, served a five course dinner that was faultless.

After the dinner the following toasts were given, Mrs. Bright, who has recently returned from a trip around the world to again take her place as an instructor in the college, was toast mistress. In her happy way she called for the following. Mr. Jno. Powers, address of welcome to the Graduating Classes. Response on behalf of the graduates, Miss Edith Beechel. First Impressions, Mr. Jno. Roll, Our Bachelors, Miss Margaret Carroll, Supt. Perdue and others responded to toasts.

Mr. E. O. Garret, a guest of the evening was called on and gave an entertaining speech. Mr. Garret was a student at Fremont when Mr. File had charge of the mathematics of that institution, more than seventeen years ago. This closed the work of the school for the year of 1907 '08. Lincoln, Neb., August 11.—(Special Correspondence)—The appeal for campaign contributions made by Mr. Bryan is meeting with a gratifying response. The "farmers fund" is growing at a goodly rate, and the daily and weekly newspapers that are taking hold are making returns that please the campaign managers. Mr. Bryan through the Commoner, has asked every democratic newspaper in the country to collect contributions for the campaign fund, and the newspapers that have responded are meeting with splendid success.

Governor Haskell of Oklahoma, treasurer of the democratic national committee, was a visitor at Fairview, Friday and Saturday of last week. He was accompanied by Mrs. Haskell and his private secretary, and the three were guests of the Bryans while in Lincoln. In conference Mr. Bryan and Governor Haskell decided to raise by solicitation among the rank and file the half million dollars deemed necessary to keep the campaign moving.

Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota called on Mr. Bryan Friday, and as a result it is announced that Mr. Bryan will make at least one speech in that state during the campaign, probably at Mitchell, where the state fair is to be held.

"I have just come from New York and Bryan will carry the state. The moneyed men will not vote for Mr. Bryan for they are afraid of him." But there are men who were voted for him before they will do so this time, and enough of them will do so that he will carry the state. We are looking on in the state of the Nebraska Standard.

That is the principal reason he will not carry the state."

Bishop O'Doham of the Methodist Episcopal church was a caller last Friday. The bishop was in Lincoln for the purpose of addressing the great Epworth Assembly. The discussion was wholly about mission work. Bishop O'Doham said after the visit: "I do not see eye and eye with Mr. Bryan."

W. A. Hollingsworth, a member of the grand council of the United Commercial Travelers was another Fairview caller last week. He is also a member of the grand council of Elks. He told Mr. Bryan that he had recently attended the meetings of both these orders in Texas and Louisiana and that the political talk among the members was very favorable to his candidacy.

Two presidential candidates met on the front porch of Fairview last Saturday. One was Mr. Bryan and the other was Eugene W. Chaffin, prohibition candidate. Mr. Chaffin was an Epworth Assembly orator and made a social call on Mr. Bryan. After the call Mr. Chaffin declined to be interviewed concerning the conversation, but laughingly admitted that he told Mr. Bryan that his chances were as good as either Taft's or Bryan's.

M. B. Gibson, who was a delegate to the Independence League convention from Oregon, called on Mr. Bryan one day last week and told a few things about the convention. Mr. Gibson was forcibly ejected from the hall for advocating the nomination of Bryan.

"All I got from the convention was considerable knowledge of the way the league is run, and California standard, which is a thing and held on to while they were throwing me out," said Mr. Osborne. "Whole states were unrepresented, but their total vote was cast by some one stationed for the purpose."

Mr. Osborne visited in the east before and after the Independence League convention and insists that Bryan will get electoral votes from eastern states considered irreparable victories of Republicans.

Rev. W. L. Dawson, of London, England, stopped at Fairview last Thursday. He is a lecturer and had a date on Friday at York, Neb. Asked if he had heard much political talk while traveling in America, he said: "I am not taking any active part in American politics, as I am an English citizen, and am not able to do anything in this country. I have been all through the states, however, in the last three months, preaching and lecturing, and have heard much political talk. It appears to me that Mr. Taft has not aroused much enthusiasm in the east, while, on the other hand, Mr. Bryan is hailed as a sort of a popular hero in the laboring centers."

On the occasion of the official notification of Mr. Taft the railroads made a special rate to Cincinnati. A request for a similar reduction on the occasion of Mr. Bryan's official notification has been cutly refused. The excuse is that "Nebraska has a two-cent fare law." So has Ohio—but the g. o. p. pull with the railroads seems to be as strong as ever. The chairman of the Western Passenger Association asserts that the railroads are compelled to charge the full 2-cent per mile, evidently forgetting that the Nebraska roads have made a one-and-one-half cent rate to the state fair in Lincoln the latter part of the month.

Senator Culbertson of Texas has been named as chairman of the advisory board of the national committee. Ex-Governor Francis of Missouri declined the place because of enforced absence in Europe about the middle of September. Governor Francis however, gladly accepted a place on the committee and pledged himself to do all he could to bring about democratic success.

The esteem in which Vice Chairman Hall is held by his neighbors in Lincoln was evidenced one night last week when a couple of hundred of them went to his home and congratulated him upon his selection to the second highest place on the democratic national committee. Men of every political belief were in the crowd, and the editor of a local republican daily was one of the speakers of the occasion. Mr. Bryan paid a splendid tribute to Dr. Hall, and everybody in Lincoln says it was deserved.

Cyrus W. Davis of Waterville, Me., who was the democratic candidate for governor of Maine two years ago, has written to Mr. Bryan saying that one unacquainted with the political situation in the pine tree state would not believe it possible for such a change to have come over the commonwealth. "You will receive 10,000 majority in Maine," wrote Mr. Davis.

The Campaign Text Book will soon be issued, and there is every reason to believe that it will be the best one ever issued by the national democratic committee. The work is being done by Richard L. Metcalf of Lincoln, editor-in-chief of The Commoner. Mr. Metcalf's brain is a storehouse of political facts, and he has the knack of knowing just where to turn to find the statistics, the records, and the facts he wants. J. E. Lamb of Indiana is chairman of the Text Book committee, but the committee will entrust the work solely to Mr. Metcalf.

Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance may safely be pointed to as one of the clearest, most convincing and most satisfactory ever made by a nominee. While it was not given to the public until after this letter was written, the writer had the privilege of reading the proofs. Brief, it puts the republican candidate "in the hole" on a dozen different propositions, and not even the most bitter opponent of Mr. Bryan can accuse him of "straddling" or evading. That speech will have a great effect in the campaign.

For the benefit of bands that may visit Fairview, or that may be engaged to play on the occasion of Mr. Bryan's visit to their cities, it is here stated that they should provide themselves with the music of "La Paloma," which is Mr. Bryan's favorite piece of music, and whenever possible he has bands and orchestras play it for him.

The democratic mule given to Mr. Bryan by enthusiastic Minnesota democrats has not arrived in Lincoln yet, but daily expected. It is said to be wonderfully well trained.

"Who Struck"—The New York World?

The World's opinion of William Jennings Bryan is a matter of record. Its opinion as to the wisdom of his nomination is a matter of record. There is nothing in this public record of opinion which The World would withdraw.

We opposed Mr. Bryan's nomination on the ground of principle and expediency. In advocating the nomination of Gov. Johnson of Judge Gray The World's aim was the rehabilitation and revitalization of the Democratic party.

Even as a minority party the Democracy has an important duty to perform. There are grave wrongs to redress. There are shocking abuses of power to correct. There is waste and extravagance in the National Government so scandalous that it finds no parallel in modern government. No adequate punishment has yet been dealt out to the eminent pirates of American finance who have reduced lawbreaking to a fine art. There is jingoism, militarism, imperialism, rough-riding, government by denunciation, Executive contempt for Congress and the Courts—Rooseveltism in all its worst manifestations, unchecked and unrestrained.

THE NEED OF OPPOSITION: Much as the Democratic party has suffered during the last twelve years by reason of its own impotence, the country is suffering more. Without intelligent, vigorous opposition it is impossible successfully to carry on republican government. Political parties cannot long govern acceptably and well unless they are constantly menaced with the loss of place and power through a virile, organized opposition, forever watchful and forever ready to take advantage of all their mistakes. A week and divided opposition is a standing invitation to extravagance, corruption, usurpation and all the ills that democratic government is heir to.

This is the situation that confronts Mr. Bryan, and it is here that his duty lies. His nomination at Denver was proof of a most remarkable personal popularity. Senator Johnston, of Alabama, publicly said that fully 75 per cent of the Democrat members of Congress were opposed to Mr. Bryan's nomination. Probably half the delegates who voted for his nomination doubted if he could be elected. A large percentage of them, if the question had been left to their own judgment, would have voted for the nomination of somebody else. Yet Mr. Bryan held the convention in the hollow of his hand. Obviously this would not have been possible if he did not represent the thought, the feeling and the conscience of a very large body of voters—the masses rather than the thinkers of the Democratic party.

PUBLICITY AND CORRUPT PRACTICES:

Mr. Bryan is fortunate in the strength of the issues which the Republicans have voluntarily presented to him. The foremost of these in political effectiveness, perhaps, is the refusal of the Chicago Convention to adopt a plank demanding an efficient corrupt practices act and publicity of campaign contributions. A Republican House of Representatives had already passed a publicity bill. Mr. Taft had written to Senator Burrows advocating publicity. While the political timidity of Southern Democratic Senator in respect to the negro issue prevented the passing of the bill, the Republican National Convention showed how little Republican sincerity there was back of the measure when it defeated by a vote of 880 to 94 the plank which provided for the publication of campaign contributions.

With Cortelyou and Corruptions succeeding Hanna and Corruption, with the revelations of the $150,000 of insurance money and the $250,000 raised by Harriman to help elect Roosevelt, a Republican convention, existing in its opportunities on the eve of tariff revision to bleeding the protected industries white, took its stand naked and unashamed in favor of continuing political corruption and selling legislative privileges to the highest bidder for cash.

Mr. Taft's very creditable promise to make all campaign contributions and expenditures public, according to the laws of New York, does not change the official record of his party.

UNPARALLELED EXTRAVAGANCE:

Of scarcely less importance than the issue of political integrity is the issue of administrative economy. Never before was there such a debauch of extravagance in modern government as that which the Roosevelt Administration is responsible for. In place of the sensational Billion Dollar Congress which Speaker Reed was compelled to defend we have the Two Billion Dollar Congress, spending a thousand million of public money at each annual session.

As Senator Allison, of Iowa, Republican Chairman of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, explained in a statement prepared for the anniversary number the World, the appropriations for the army alone are $51,000,000 more than they were twenty five years ago. During this period the naval appropriations have increased $84,000,000 and pensions have jumped $30,000,000 a year. Under Theodore Roosevelt Congress in the last three years has appropriated $3,428,000,000 from the public treasury, or nearly $35,000,000 more than was appropriated during two years of civil war.

In a recent statement to the World James A. Tawney, of Minnesota, the Republican Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, said:

In my opinion the chief duty of a great independent newspaper during the next decade is, or should be, to combat the alarming tendency in this country toward paternalism and militarism.

When we remember that almost 65 per cent of the Government's revenues, exclusive of postal receipts, is to-day being spent to meet the cost of wars past and anticipated, the seriousness of the frantic rushing to the front as a great military power is alarming, if the present military and naval programs is adopted and expenditures for war purposes continue to increase, it is not unreasonable to estimate that within the next two years the Government will be spending 70 per cent of its total income on war and the fear of it.

other questions, he has always shown ability, fidelity and principle to combat militarism, imperialism and jingoism. The World considers his speech on imperialism at Indianaapolis in 1900, in accepting the Democratic nomination for President, as the ablest and most creditable of all his oratorical achievements. Indeed, Mr. Bryan has always been exceeding sound on what might be called foreign policy, or the great cause of arbitration and peace in place of war.

MR. TAFT NOT INVINCIBLE:

In spite of all Mr. Roosevelt's frenzied rhetoric about swollen fortunes and the necessity of both an income and an inheritance tax when the tariff is revised, there is not a solitary word in the Chicago platform advocating either an income tax or an inheritance tax. There is not one word about the criminal penalties of the Sherman law, yet Theodore Roosevelt has been frothing at the mouth over "malefactors of great wealth."

The Republican platform is weak, and neither Mr. Taft nor his party is invincible. Against the Republican candidate is arrayed because of the strength of organized labor because of his decisions on the bench, however just those decisions may have been, Mr. Taft is the weaker by being the personal candidate of President Roosevelt, nominated through Mr. Roosevelt personal efforts and largely by the army of Federal office-holders that Mr. Roosevelt controls. Brownsville is certain to hurt Mr. Taft greatly with the negro vote in debatable States, despite his efforts to induce the President to modify a most arbitrary and despotic order. The excesses of the Roosevelt Administrations will hurt him. He will have to bear the burden of all the dissatisfaction which twelve years of uninterrupted Republican administration have created. Hard times will hurt him. And the record of the Republican party both in Congress and in National Convention would be a heavy handicap for even a more popular candidate.

THE FIRST GREAT QUESTION:

But the first practical issue that must be faced and squarely met is that of dilapidated business and industry. The people of the United States need peace, they need prosperity, they need employment, they need bread. No campaign can be successful which does not take this great factor into consideration. In place of an indiscriminate ate crusade against all business and a continuation of the Roosevelt reign of terror must come a realization that guilt is always personal, and that the only effective way to deal with corporation crimes is to send the one responsible man to jail.

Mr. Bryan must clearly recognize Mr. Roosevelt's share in the responsibility for the recent panic, and picture the true effects of government by denunciation in undermining confidence and credit. To sympathize with Mr. Roosevelt's violence of utterance, with his vituperation, with his denunciation of the courts, with his reign of terror, is to surrender the most effective and legitimate weapons which the Democratic Opposition can wield in the campaign.

If Mr. Bryan will take up these questions and show the country the peril into which Roosevelt's extravagance, militarism and jingoism are leading it, carefully avoiding attacks upon the courts, carefully avoiding all appeals to class prejudice, carefully avoiding all the delusions and fraudulent issues of Populism and semi-socialism, he will certainly make a creditable showing at the polls. He would come out of the contest with a greater vote than he ever polled before, with greater honor, with greater reputation than he ever had before; he would strengthen his party, and even in defeat he would have the satisfaction of knowing that he had rendered a great service to Democracy.
