The Democrat for Job Work.

Howard's Side of It.

Sunday morning, August 16, a challenge was printed in the Fremont Herald by Chairman Stephens, of the Democratic congressional committee. The challenge was directed to me, and I was challenged to appear before the Democratic state committee and prove the charges which I have made against Chairman Stephens in connection with his betrayal of his official trust in this primary campaign.

I was afraid the mail would not carry my acceptance fast enough, and so I immediately accepted the challenge by telegraph, my message reading as follows:

Columbus, Neb., August 16, 1908. Dan V. Stephens, Chairman Democratic Congressional Committee, Fremont, Nebraska.

I accept your challenge published in Fremont Herald this morning, and have wired Chairman Allen to call immediate meeting of state committee, so I may prove every charge against you. Letter by mail.

EDGAR HOWARD.

In order that there might be no delay in getting before the state committee with my charges I sent the following message to the chairman of that committee:

Columbus, Neb., August 16, 1908. Hon. T. S. Allen, Chairman Democratic State Committee, Lincoln, Nebraska.

I have accepted challenge issued by Chairman Stephens of Third district democratic committee in Fremont Herald of this morning, and ask instant opportunity to prove my charges before full state committee.

EDGAR HOWARD.

I ask every Nebraska Democrat who is opposed to the buying and selling of democratic nominations to closely watch the outcome of this hearing before the state committee.

Chairman Stephens has promised to pay the state committee $1,000 if I prove my charges. I will get that money for the state committee if that body shall give me a chance to make proof.

Chairman Stephens has also promised to write me a check for $1,000 if I prove my charges. I shall get that check also, if I get a chance to make the proof, and will send the money to the national democratic committee. Thus bad money will be converted to a good cause.

Chairman Stephens is handy at writing checks. He has the Latta check-book in his pocket. He has written many checks in this primary campaign. He has spent great sums of Mr. Latta's money in an effort to deliver the nomination for congress.

I ask no sympathy from any democrat in my contest with Chairman Stephens and the Latta check-book. All I ask is a square deal, and I believe the common democrats of the district will give me a square deal. I believe the common democrats of the district are opposed to putting the nomination on the auction block and selling it to a check-book. I believe the common democrats of the district will repudiate Guffey methods by an overwhelming majority at the primary on the 1st day of September.

Again I ask democrats to watch the result of this hearing before the state committee. Again I ask—not for sympathy—but only for a square deal. I believe you will grant me this.

Respectfully,
EDGAR HOWARD.

Republicans Have Troubles.

Pardon us, brother republican for intruding just trifle on your territory, but did you read that dispatch sent into the Norfolk Daily News yesterday by the Pierce correspondent? You didn't read it? Well, it appears in glaring headlines on the first page, the first line of which reads: "Pierce Fair to Stanton!" In substance it means that Pierce republicans are going to support Appleby, the Stanton county man, in preference to Randall of Newman Grove, for state senator, and if she don't Pierce will be made to eat crow in the future. Now we'll bet almost anything that there is nothing true in the report and was written for the purpose of satisfying Huse and his gang. Almost everybody who is on the ropes in the least knows that Huse is a railroad supporter and is trying to down Randall and nominate Appleby. The Leader doesn't want to see either Randall or Appleby elected, it wants to see the democratic candidate, Dave Rees, sent to the legislature, but if fate decrees that a republican shall be elected, we truly and honestly hope that it will be Randall of Newman Grove, for no other reason than he is not a favorite of the railroads, like Appleby is said to be.

It wouldn't be surprising but what there are other republicans in the county who would agree with W. H. Chilvers, one of the strongest republicans in the state, when he said after reading the article in the News: "Well, wouldn't that make a dog sick!"—Pierce Leader.

The DEMOCRAT has been silent for several weeks on the contest between J. P. Latta and Edgar Howard for the nomination for congress from this district, but there has never been a doubt in our personal mind—as to which gentleman we would vote for at the primaries. The chief aim and desire of every democrat in the district should be the election of the democratic candidate, and it has appeared better for obvious reasons to not get into any warm or reckless discussion as to the merits or demerits of our candidates for nomination, as something might be said or done that would interfere with loyal and consistent support of the democratic ticket. The DEMOCRAT deprecates the actions of Chairman Stephens to defeat Edgar Howard and to further the candidacy of Mr. Latta. The former was at a disadvantage at all times, anyway, because he is a newspaper man, not possessed of the wealth of Mr. Latta, simply because he has devoted his time and ability for years in "fighting the battles of the people"—as Editor Mose Warner puts it—and not to laying up much riches. But on the other hand Judge Edgar Howard is not only one of the brainiest and brightest men in the state or middle-west, but he has all the qualities that go to make a statesman for and by the people. For many years he has been one of the conspicuous characters in the democratic party of this state, and on more than one occasion has refused the pleadings of his friends to run for office. Judge Howard is known as the foremost of editorial writers; a man with a heart in him as tender as a woman's for suffering humanity or misused brute creation. He is loved "for the enemies he has made," for most of them if not all of them are not interested in reform and honest government. The DEMOCRAT fails to understand why Mr. Howard has not the ardent support of every newspaper man in this congressional district. But then, a few dollars, sometimes, goes a long way in a print shop, and some of the boys may feel that the five dollars worth of advertising paid for by Candidate Latta included their support of his candidacy.

At all events, the NEBRASKA DEMOCRAT is for Edgar Howard, an lest he suffers by not having the wherewithal to pay for newspaper notoriety he is welcome to this much—at least "free gratis."

A. C. Shallenberger made a splendid campaign for governor two years ago, was well liked by both republicans and democrats for the political arguments he advanced. The state would lose nothing by having Shallenberger displace Governor Sheldon. Every democrat in Wayne county should vote for Shallenberger at the primaries.

A newspaper that sells its political opinions for "5 cents a line," is a damned cheap commodity in a community, even if its does support county option and prohibition.

Two obnoxious features have entered the political arena in this section of Nebraska that every voter should be made aware of. One is the "plate editorials" published by certain newspapers furthering the candidacy of Jas. P. Latta, candidate for the democratic nomination for congress, and the other, as C. A. Randall tells the DEMOCRAT, the "paid for" political columns of "stuff" appearing in behalf of R. Y. Appleby, candidate by the republicanism for the state senate. The DEMOCRAT believes it is perfectly proper for a candidate for nomination before the primaries to pay for the simple announcement of that fact, but that it is "rotten" politics if not unadulterated dishonesty on the part of both candidate and newspaper for the former to bribe or buy the latter's support throughout the campaign. A week ago the DEMOCRAT personally asked C. A. Randall why certain articles or editorials appeared in certain newspapers, favoring Appleby's candidacy, when Mr. Randall claimed the editors of these papers were at heart in sympathy with his, Randall's, ambition, and Mr. Randall promptly answered that such stuff was paid matter. Within the past week the DEMOCRAT has been requested to use plate matter, express prepaid, for Jas. P. Latta, with the injunction that we would be "seen" later on. The DEMOCRAT does not believe this is a "democratic" square deal. The poor man, be he ever so much better fitted to represent the county, state or nation as a public servant, stands no show against such slyster methods, and the newspaper that will so prostitute its mission to the public is, as aforesaid, a "damned cheap commodity."

The Norfolk News makes many disparaging if not insulting remarks about Bryan's speech-making traits, but gleefully announces that President Roosevelt may make a speech—for Taft of course—in Norfolk, along towards the end of the campaign. As a political pirate for the coin there is in it the Norfolk News has no equals, considering the size of the sheet.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cunningham and Frank and Miss Mae Gildersleeve left Monday morning for a two weeks pleasure trip through Yellow Stone Park.

Henry Gaertner was in town Monday closing up a deal for some four or five hundred acres of the Shulthies ranch in South Dakota. Henry says the sales that have been made will make Mr. Shulthies some money and that probably no more of the land will go on the market. It is over the sale of this big tract of land, several sections, that P. H. Kohl and C. R. Munson have a suit next month in the district court, the former suing Munson for his share of the commission on the sale to Mr. Shulthies. Munson will be here to defend the action.

J. G. Foster was in Omaha Monday.

Emil Hansen and Claus Kussman bought a 160 acre farm each near Herrick, S. D., last week, the former paying $35 per acre and the latter even $50.

P. H. Kohl last week sold his farm northwest of Wayne to Adolph Kleper, for $11,000, profitable sale for the seller.

While riding in a Pearl Street car in Sioux City last Saturday, Harry Armstrong was severely injured in the face by being shot with an air gun or sling shot, the missile hitting him close to an eye.

Rev. Warren of Randolph occupied the pulpit of the M. E. Church last Sabbath.

L. P. Kloppling was down from Randolph Saturday. He recently threshed his fall wheat which was of good quality and averaged 22 bushels per acre.

Orrin Garwood is making the Hoskins Headlight a very readable and interesting newspaper, the best Hoskins has ever enjoyed.

Dr. Cherry was a visitor from Winfield Saturday.

The 40 horse power Buick recently purchased by Mrs. A. N. Matheny is a very handsome automobile as well as a durable one. It is good enough for a newspaper man to ride in.

Gerald Porter says the DEMOCRAT erred last week in giving the figure he paid for his half section of land in South Dakota that it was $20.25 per acre instead of $16.25.

Mrs. Will Nangle and son returned to Sioux City last Saturday.

John Lempe has sold or traded his 240-acre farm northwest of Wayne to Henry Kreger, taking a 160 acre farm three miles from Pender and $6,000. Mrs. Lempe went to Pender Saturday to see how she likes the new home. John thinks he made a good trade, it being over $900 an acre for his place.

Willie Buetow accompanied his cousin, John Sundstead, to Ponca, last Saturday.

W. M. Bowles of Randolph was in Wayne Monday morning enroute to Sioux City. Mr. Bowles informed the DEMOCRAT that our old friend D. E. Nellor was "coming across" in the shape of his new paper and would be right up with the bounds at the finish.

Frank Whitney was in town Sunday night, the Savidge Bros. show playing at Wakefield Monday.

Edgar Howard is the man who has earned a nomination for congress from this district by the democrats. If you follow Bryan's theory and "put the man before the dollar," Howard will be the nominee.

Mrs. John Larson and daughter went to Minneapolis, Minn., Tuesday.

A big crowd went to Wakefield Tuesday, and again yesterday, to attend the carnival.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Lloyd left Tues-

I am a candidate for the nomination for congress. Please look up my record of twenty years as an advocate of democratic principles. If that record shall meet your approval, may I ask you to help win me the nomination?

If nominated and elected I shall speak and vote in congress for those same principles which I advocated when I was a member of the Nebraska legislature, and which I have supported for many years in my newspaper.

If I win the nomination it must be won by the power of friendship, and by the worth of my record. I have no other campaign machinery.

If you approve my record, will you be my friend on primary day?

The politicians are becoming quite numerous.

The Spaniard Admiral Cervera, is "out for Taft." But then, the "niggers" are for Bryan.

In Wayne it was a little different, wasn't it? Here instead of a race war over the "nigger," the "nigger" started a new race. Chase the brutes off the face of a white man's country.

"Ears that hear not," is not a circumstance to "eyes that see not." Neglect your eyes when you should protect them with glasses, and you'll see not when old age over-takes you. Better "see" Optician Vail while you can see.

Because she wouldn't talk to him he took a shot at his wife, was the explanation Wm. Lush of Lincoln gave the judge. That is certainly a unique difficulty with the Lushers, especially the female Lusher.

Candidate Taft has more business at the golf links than posing as a believer of government by the people.

The Norfolk Press thinks that two or three days of a diatantique is enough.

The Norfolk News says Bryan will summer at Fairview and fall in November. Bless your cute heart, Mr. News, but Bryan will at least not fall in bad company.

Mighty near the frost line last night. At five o'clock this morning it was 46 above zero and that inside a doorway. Must have been within four or five degrees of frost on the low land.

A country editor who wished to go away for a "spell" put in training a few weeks before his departure, a young fellow who had some ability in the news gathering line, in order that the "sheet" would not be without the interesting locals while the "old man" was on his trip. The editor took special pains to impress on his understudy that the little things count in writing up "locals" and charged him never to intentionally omit any mention of little things that might prove interesting. "They may look very dull and uninteresting to you but they may make the vanity of some subscriber, you know," was the parting admonition of the editor just before he took the train out of town. The young man remembered and when the editor returned he found among the locals such mention of "little things" as these:

"Miss Tabitha Granger and parrot accompanied by her large malted cat arrived in the city last week for a visit at the Gordon home."

"Charles Doonittle, wife and pug dog, are welcome guest at the Smith home. They live in Bloomville, where Mr. Doonittle is the popular section foreman for the C. & B. railway."

"Mrs. Henry Wilson is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Albert Stranger of Clear Creek. Mrs. Stranger is accompanied by her twin babies, cute little fellows not yet old enough to walk."

"The 'old man' had been obeyed, but he never essayed to follow up the young reporter's style."

"It's about time for someone to invent a gun that will shoot straight up. We'll need it in the new kind of warfare."

"What has become of all of the taraxacum officinale and the taraxacum erythrospermum? Haven't heard so much about it this year."

Charles Walsh, the renegade from Iowa democracy who is now helping to manage Hearst's Independence League, states his party has no hopes of electing its candidate but only of getting enough votes away from the democrats so that Taft will win. This statement of Walsh's ought to be sufficient to deter any democrat—who has heretofore been favorably disposed towards Hearst—from having anything to do with the Independence League.

Des Moines Tribune: This morning we observed on the west river bank one of the most disreputable specimens of humanity we ever saw, with no money, no home, no future, no character and a face that would convict him of any crime if he should have the misfortune to be placed on trial. What would you expect such a specimen to be doing? He was lazily rolling a cigar.

After the death of their son Bill, his parents felt they ought to do something nice for him, for they said he had only one fault, and that was he couldn't tell the truth, so they carved a little motto his friends would understand, "Let him lie in peace."

A Wisconsin editor is in a wild state of terror because a local physician is hunting him with a gun. The editor wrote, "Having felt the patient's pulse he prescribed for the man," but the compositor set it "pulse" instead of "pulse"—and the end is not yet.

A Pennsylvania man killed himself when his thirteenth child was born. He should have made it twins.

For parties and socials remember Whalen makes the best ice cream in the country.

Mrs. A. N. Matheny's new car is certainly a handsome machine, 1909 model, and was the first one shipped into Sioux City. Mrs. Matheny, Mr. and Mrs. McCabe and Jas. Graves, chauffeur, will leave the last of this week if the roads are good, going to Lincoln, Omaha then into various Illinois cities, and possibly Indiana points.

A. E. Kivett was in town from Hancock yesterday.

An error in last week's paper regarding the next meeting of the county board, it will be Sept. 14th instead of August 14th.

Prof. U. S. Conn and wife passed through town last Friday evening enroute to Columbus.

Ed. Stephens, Henry Lords and Gus Hansen are guests from Randolph last Friday.

Mrs. Harry Whittaker and baby were arrivals from Craig last Friday.

John Felber, who is now a resident of Omaha, was in Wayne last Friday on a political mission.

No other manufacturer has the facilities for making ice cream that the Whalen factory has, at least in this section. Only the best of cream and pure ingredients are used, and the product always finds great favor with the public.

No risk of catching anything but a clean, comfortable shave, or a neat hair cut at Abbott and Root's antiseptic barber shop.

C. M. Craven and daughter Alma and Miss Nettie Craven left Saturday for Excelsior Springs, Mo., for a week's pleasure trip.

Matheny and McCabe are unloading a carload of Buicks this week.

A. G. Bohnert and Lee Buroker played for a dance at Bloomfield Friday night last, Mr. Buroker playing with the Concord band at Dixon Saturday and going to Sioux City for Sunday.

The rain last week surely fixed the Norfolk races with the exception of a little sport Thursday afternoon. Mac Miller's Alice Woodford was second in the trot that day.

Dixon had a very wet day for a picnic last Saturday and the affair was almost a failure.

If in need of wells cisterns, caves etc. call on Cadwell Bros. work guaranteed. Phone 315.

Irvin Jakram went to West Point Saturday, expecting to take a job in a hotel there. Jakram and Miss Girtton had a scrap Saturday morning, so the former told the Democrat, and he quit the job on that account.

Commissioners Farran and Stanton were in town Monday and accompanied by the county attorney, drove out to the A. B. Clark ranch where there is some friction between A. B. and Ted Perry over the tiling done by Mr. Clark, which runs the water to the road grade and thence onto Mr. Perry's farm. The latter recently served an injunction on Clark to stop the tiling. The county board decided to take no part in the controversy. They also drove to the Geo. Lyons farm, in Wilbur precinct, where there is a scrap about the Lyons fence being out in the road. This was also passed up and left for the farmers to fight out amongst themselves. Commissioner Stanton states the fence in question is not as "far out in the road" as many fences all over the county, and he didn't believe it was good policy to get into a lot of trouble over such matters.

Jas. T. Leahy sold a piece of land in South Dakota last week and left again Monday morning to make another sale. Mr. Leahy says the country that he is doing business in is finer than silk and he has a bunch of elegant farms to dispose of.

Wm. Shorten was in Wayne Saturday taking a party of land buyers to Dixon.

Boy Loses a Finger.

While cutting creek ditches at the June 1st farm, last Tuesday Clark Skadden, recently clipped off the little finger of one of Harold Weber's hands. It was dismembered close to the hand and piece of it lay among Weber's feet in his pocket, wrapped a handkerchief around his hand and came home narrating his mother by pulling out the lost appendage and putting a tangle for that he had cut it off. It was at once taken to a doctor and had his own finger re-attached. Being disappointed when he was told the doctor could not put his finger back on his hand.

EB. SCOWENHOVEN The Yankee Farmer

This is one of the characters that Job Thompson represents in his entertaining presentation.

"THE FUNNY FELLOWS OF NEW YORK"

If a person were afflicted with the rheumatism, gout and neuritis, they would have to forget their pains and laugh at the character. As soon as "Eli" makes his appearance, he tells the audience that he has lost his cow, has been kicked by a mule and a few other misfortunes that have happened to him. After awhile he sees the piano, and has something to say about it. No one being present to play it, he decides to play it himself, so after singing a comic song, he amuses himself by playing "Turkey in the Straw," in rag time. The playing of this tune has such an effect on him that he cannot resist the temptation to dance, although he weighs nearly 300 pounds. While dancing, his legs began to get short, the audience notices this and begins to laugh, the longer he dances the shorter his legs become, and the shorter his legs become the louder the audience laugh, and a hilarious scene is becoming shorter every minute the laughter grows louder and louder, when his legs become so short that they disappear altogether, then the audience begins to howl, and when the audience are all howling together they make such a noise that sometimes they can be heard outside of the theatre for a quarter of a mile.

Another big undertaking that is being talked up is an electric railway from Altona to Wisner. This proposition is somewhat "up in the air" at present, but if the flying machine does not come into early use to move the grain to market and the gold to the bank, by dad the railway may be built at no distant date.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 18.—(Special Correspondence)—“The greatest day in Lincoln's history” is the universal verdict concerning the notification ceremonies last Wednesday on which occasion William J. Bryan was officially notified that he had been nominated for president by the democratic national convention at Denver. As nearly as such a partisan affair could be made non-partisan this was Governor George L. Sheldon, republican chief executive of Nebraska, who was captain of a company in Bryan's regiment, the Third Nebraska, occupied a front seat on the platform. E. R. Sizer, postmaster of Lincoln, had charge of the carriage containing the notification committee, and half of the mounted escort were republicans. The city was decorated far more than ever before, although Lincoln had never yet reached the point where it decorates like most cities of her class. The crowd was so immense that not one-tenth of the people heard Mr. Bryan. This will give some idea of the size to those who understand how far-reaching Mr. Bryan's voice is. The most conservative estimates put the number of people on the state house grounds at 30,000.

The notification proceedings are familiar to newspaper readers, but there were numerous incidents in connection therewith that have not been sent over the press wires and which may be of interest.

Humphrey O'Sullivan of Lowell, Mass., the “rubber heel” man, was in Lincoln as the guest of Lincoln Typographical union, and was selected secretary of the notification committee. Mr. O'Sullivan's duty was to read the official letter of the committee, and this he did in a most delicious Irish brogue that delighted the immense throng. Mr. O'Sullivan has, as one of the printers expressed it “more money than he can haul in a hay wagon,” but he still carries his union card and is as proud of it as a boy of a pair of new boots. He says that Massachusetts will give Bryan a majority.

Rev. Father Nugent of Des Moines, who will be remembered because of his valiant services for democracy during the campaigns of 1896 and 1900, invoked the divine blessing, and it was magnificently impressive to hear that immense throng join with him in repeating the Lord's Prayer. Father Nugent is a man of immense physique, with a deep, penetrating voice, and the air of a man who is intensely in earnest.

The ceremonies took place in the open air and there was no shade over the platform. After Mr. Bryan had been speaking a few minutes the sun came from behind a cloud and beat fiercely on his head. He paused, smiled at the audience and reached for his hat. Just then Chairman Norman E. Mack raised an umbrella and held it over the speaker's head. He was afterwards relieved by a newspaper man, who matched Mr. Bryan in size. Mr. Bryan read his address from manuscript—something unusual for him, but he thought it necessary in order to avoid the danger of being misquoted. An intimate friend, however, says Mr. Bryan read it so he would not yield to the temptation to diverge.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Bryan entertained the notification committee and such members of the national committee as were in the city, at luncheon at Fairview, the tables were spread on the lawn, Mr. Bryan presiding at one, Mrs. Bryan at another, and Congressman Henry D. Clayton at the third. Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, Miss Grace Bryan, Mrs. Tom Allen, Mrs. Roy Spangler and Mrs. Will Schwind officiated as waitresses. It was a most informal affair and was hugely enjoyed by the guest.

The evening before the notification Mr. Bryan was a guest of the Lincoln Typographical Union at a banquet tendered by the union to Humphrey O'Sullivan. At its last meeting the union made Mr. Bryan an honorary member. The banquet was attended by a number of visiting democrats, including John W. Kern, Governor Sheldon, also an honorary member of the union, was a guest. The banquet was held at the Lincoln hotel and was one of the most successful social affairs ever enjoyed in Lincoln. There were 122 at the table. The banquet was tendered by O'Sullivan in recognition of his splendid services to the International Typographical Union. Mr. Bryan's humorous reference to Mr. O'Sullivan's business, that of manufacturing rubber heels, brought great applause. He said he wanted it understood that while paying tribute to the distinguished guest he wanted it understood that it was not because of his business for this no shoe campaign. When Mr. Bryan paid tribute to the Typographical Union because of its conservatism, its splendid discipline and its efforts in behalf of brotherhood the eighty union printers came up and sang and cheered him to the echo.

“I am not eligible to membership in this union by reason of being a printer,” said Mr. Bryan, “but I am an eligible member in any union at all I presume it is the Typographical Union, for I have given printers more work to do than perhaps any other man in America.”

Time and space prevent a detailed statement of why the printers love Humphrey O'Sullivan, but it is enough to say that he has them on his staff for fair. When he arose to speak he was given a reception that made the great stone hotel building fairly rock. O'Sullivan is a democrat, and he made no bones of telling the printers what he thought of their political duty, and as a result he made a red-hot democratic speech. As 90 per cent of the printers are enthusiastic Bryan men, the speech was warmly applauded.

One day last week all the “distinguished visitors,” representatives of the press and campaign officials who went to Fairview found themselves unable to get to Mr. Bryan. He had one visitor who received all of his attention. This was a man from Wyoming, a man who had cast his first vote for Andrew Jackson and who had often met “Old Hickory.” The old gentleman reached Fairview just as Mr. Bryan was at lunch. Being unable to find any one, the old veteran walked down to the press tent and asked permission to sit and rest, saying incidentally that he was bitterly disappointed in not having seen Mr. Bryan. “I'll fix that,” said one of the newspaper men.

He took the aged visitor back to the house and got word to Mr. Bryan. For two hours Mr. Bryan entertained his visitor, ignoring all other callers and asking a hundred questions about Jackson, and about his visitor's experience. The old gentleman is a veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars. He went away carrying a cane cut on the Hermitage grounds for Mr. Bryan, and he is today the proudest man in America. “What a wonderful experience is covered in his span of life,” said Mr. Bryan, referring to the visit.

Mr. Bryan has completed the tariff speech which he is to deliver at Des Moines on August 21, and is working on other speeches. Now that the notification is over he expects to have more time to devote to his work, the rush of visitors to Fairview showing a falling off. It is not yet decided that he will visit the Pacific coast. Mr. Bryan is bent upon regaining at home as much as possible during the campaign, but the pressure brought to bear on him for speaking dates is something terrific.

Senator La Follette spoke before the Epworth Assembly at Lincoln on notification day, and during his speech paid a high tribute to Mr. Bryan, which brought a great shout of applause from the 12,000 people in the huge auditorium. Senator La Follette handed out a lot of “lemons” to his republican colleagues. While here he refused to discuss his own availability as a presidential candidate in 1912.

Richard L. Metcalf, who is compiling the campaign text book for the committee, expects to have the copy ready for the printer before August 20, and the printed book will be ready for distribution by September 1. The writer is somewhat familiar with the contents of the book and is quite willing to guarantee that it will be the best book ever issued by a democratic national committee. A better selection than “Met” could not have been made.

Havelock, a suburb of Lincoln, is the site of the big Burlington shops. There it is a Bryan club in Havelock that has more active members by seventy-five than there are registered democratic voters in the city. It is claimed that there are more republicans in the Bryan club at Havelock than there are in the Havelock Taft club. There are over 400 republican members of Lincoln Bryan club. Early this week a poll was made to three different organizations in Lincoln and over three hundred men asked to express their political affiliations and choice for president. Of the entire number only five declared for Taft although one-third of the number are republicans. These are straws which may serve to show the trend of the political wind, especially in Nebraska.

The report that Chairman Mack has received $300,000 that was left over from the 1904 campaign is denounced by him as a silly lie. The Hearst organs seized upon the report to intimate that some of the predatory interests were backing Bryan, and had used this as a subterfuge to hide their contributions. The national committee, instead of carrying a surplus over from the 1904 campaign had in reality a deficit, which was taken care of by generous members. The Hearst story is bound to react upon the perpetrators.

When Mr. Bryan heard that the Oklahoma republicans had denounced his appeal to the people for campaign contributions as “undignified,” he smiled and said: “Well, I am of the opinion that it is better to be honest than dignified.”

A big delegation of Otoe county, Nebraska farmers called on Mr. Bryan last week and in addition to handing in a substantial donation to the campaign fund, presented him with a huge “big stick” gourd. Mr. Bryan said the gourd really looked like the pictured representations of the “big stick,” and was just about as hollow as the promises of the republican party.

After having made a reduced rate to Nebraska state fair the last of this month, and refusing to grant a reduction to Lincoln on notification day, the railroads have heard something. They granted a reduced rate to Cincinnati when Taft was notified, but refused Lincoln's request on the ground that they had to conform to the 2-cent fare law. As the same law obtains in Ohio they have served notice that the reduced rate to the state fair is withdrawn. All this is not at all likely to injure democratic chances in the west.
