12 to 9

The hours for voting at the Primary election Tuesday, Sept. 1, 1908, will be from noon, 12 o'clock, to 9 o'clock in the evening. This change in the hours from a general election gives every laborer or busy voter a chance to go to the polls.

Every voter should vote at the primary. It is just as important as voting at a general election, perhaps more so, as the primary decides who our candidates shall be. Vote next Tuesday! Let's see how big a vote Wayne county can roll up. And most of all vote for the best men who want to hold office.

City Dads Asleep?

The New State telephone company has just completed its line into Wayne, having a line of poles from north of the city, running south in the first alley west of Main street. By what authority this company has made use of Wayne's alleys the DEMOCRAT is unable to learn, evidently just come in without any invitation unless it was from manager Philco of the local lines. The line of poles certainly does not add anything to the beauty of the town, and it appears to the DEMOCRAT that it would have been much better to bury one of the old lines under ground than parallel it with another row of naked poles. Aside from this view the placing of some of these "slightly" warriors of the forest close to certain residences is a positive detriment and injury.

LOCAL NEWS.

Harry Armstrong was up from Sioux City to spend Sunday with his folks.

Lee Buroker and A. G. Bohnert left Sunday for Des Moines, Iowa, to play with Reed's Military Band, the remainder of the week. The fair at that place ends this week.

Roy Fisher and wife left Sunday to take in the Des Moines fair and visit with friends and relatives this week. Roy is farming the A. A. Welch farm southwest of town this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Rennick went to Sioux City Sunday to see their son and daughter who are in the hospital at that place for appendicitis.

Mrs. Mary Chance, and daughter Blanche were Norfolk visitors Sunday. Prof. F. M. Gregg of Peru is in town this week, visiting friends. Mr. Gregg will speak at the teacher's institute here this week.

Mrs. W. M. Fleetwood was a Carroll visitor the latter part of last week. Pete Liewer of Bloomfield was in town Saturday, between trains.

Carl Grothe returned from Lincoln Sunday where he has completed the commercial course at the Lincoln Business College.

Walter Tucker of Winside spent Sunday with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Tucker.

F. A. Berry returned Saturday from Hot Springs, Arkansas, and is feeling much better than he did before he went.

Conductor and Mrs. McDonald were over Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Raymond.

Brown Palmer went to Sioux City Saturday to accompany his daughter home from the hospital.

A hotly contested game of ball between Winside and Emerson, at the latter place, last Sunday was attended by a lot of Wayne fans. The score was won to 0 in favor of Winside.

Miss Edna Neely was visiting friends at Sioux City Sunday.

Col. John Soules made a business trip to Sioux City, Monday.

F. M. Griffith was in Omaha last Saturday.

Herbert Bluechel went to West Point Monday on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. James were arrivals from North Dakota, Sunday and will remain in Wayne for some time.

Chas. Robbins was down from Carroll Monday.

C. A. Chace went to Holt county Monday for a several days business trip.

Robert Baird is "warm under the collar" over reports that he had "knocked down" funds he collected to buy a monument for the late Scotty Martin. Mr. Baird collected a little over $40 and the tombstone cost over $70, he putting up the shortage out of his own pocket. Robert threatens to sue his defamers for slander, by dad.

Emil Hansen bought two farms near Bonesteel instead of one. He paid $4800 for one quarter and $5600 for another, and says they are farms hard to beat anywhere.

C. H. Bright last Saturday bought the F. M. Northrop 40 acres adjoining the cemetery for which he paid $125 per acre.

John Weir, from Illinois, was looking after his land interests the past week. Senator-to-be Fred Volpp of Scribner was on the morning passenger going to Wessington, S. D., Tuesday morning. Fred says he has no opposition for the nomination for state senator and he expects to carry his home county by 500 majority, there being only two counties in the district. His opponent is Haller, the medicine man, and patent medicine only gets votes in prohibition counties. Mr. Volpp said they took a poll on the Elkhorn train Monday going to Norfolk, and of the 54 voters in the smoking car 37 voted for Bryan and 17 for Taft. In the other car there were 49 voters, 28 for Taft and 21 for Bryan; showing that the common people were for Bryan and the aristocrats for Taft; giving Bryan 58 and Taft 45 out of 103 voters.

Mrs. C. W. Hiscox and children arrived home Tuesday.

Miss Britton went to Sanborn, Iowa, Tuesday where she will teach.

F. E. Strahan went to Rock Rapids, Ia., Tuesday, where his horses are entered in the races.

Misses Temple and Bethune were arrivals Tuesday afternoon.

J. Wood Jones and family returned Tuesday from Denver.

C. J. Rundell's book on politics is now for sale by C. J., and is going like hot cakes. It is quite an interesting piece of literature and cheap at the price, only 15 cents a copy.

The editor of the Bloomfield Journal drove out in the country near that place last Saturday afternoon to spend a day with his best of friends, Frank Hillery, and take a little hunt. A covey of chickens were stirred up and as Editor Roberts pulled his gun up Hillery jumped up right in front of him, getting a charge of shot that tore a hole clear through the man's body, between his shoulders. The unfortunate farmer never knew what hit him and Editor

Bryan at Sioux City.

Candidate for President, William Jennings Bryan, will speak at Sioux City, Sept. 2nd, and the Woodbury county democratic central committee sends invitation to all loyal Nebraska Bryan men to attend the big meeting and help make it a monster demonstration. Mr. Bryan will deliver his address in the evening so that all who wish to attend can go over in the afternoon and return home on the Thursday morning train. Sioux City democrats will care for her visitors in the "Sioux City way." Do not pass up this only Bryan speech in this section of the country during the campaign.

Lund-Lundberg

Herman Lundberg and Miss Anna Lund sprang a great surprise on their friends last Thursday evening by getting very quietly married and slipping out of town before anyone was aware of the matrimonial mating. The wedding took place at the home of the bride between three and five o'clock, Rev. Ringer officiating. At five o'clock the couple to Winside where they escaped on the evening passenger to Creighton to visit a few days with relatives of Mr. Lundberg. Mrs. Lundberg is a most accomplished and splendid young woman, and her husband one of the best and steadiest of young men, at present holding a responsible position with the State bank. The DEMOCRAT extends sincere congratulations.

HOW TO AVOID APPENDICITIS.

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Foley's Orino Laxative cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels and restores the natural action of the bowels. Foley's Orino Laxative does not nauseate gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. Raymond's Drug Store.

Roberts is prostrated with grief. Jas. Ahern will be home from Chicago about tomorrow.

Prof. F. M. Gregg and wife left Tuesday, going to Beatrice where Mr. Gregg had an engagement to address a teachers' institute.

Jas. Leahy left Tuesday morning for South Dakota, taking a party of land seekers from Pender.

Chas. Endress was in Sioux City Tuesday.

Prof. Bright went to Hartington Tuesday to tell the teachers in institute about things in the Philippine Islands.

Ed. Stephens expects to farm the old Wm. Vincent place next year, which is now a part of the Elsing estate.

Vaughn Davis was over from Malvern, Ia., to attend the Carroll carnival and visit his folks. He returned home Tuesday.

King Solomon Takes Another Advance

Price of Stock Goes Up October 1st, or Before

Two New Veins Discovered in the Tunnel

I wish all my Wayne County friends could go with me into the King Solomon tunnel. It is a busy place. Two monster machines are pounding the rock in the breast of the tunnel. One is working in Vein No. 2 and another in Vein No. 7.

Great improvement is shown in Vein No. 4, with every shot, and No. 7 is also getting better. Rich ore shoots will doubtless be opened up in these big veins. You have all heard of the rich ore found in Vein No. 2. Work is being done in that, too, and it is still looking good. The work in No. 4 is being done by hand.

Two new veins have been discovered by Foreman Davidson. These were cut some time since but nothing was said of it at the time. One of them is between three and four feet wide and while the ore shoot has been found there is every reason to believe that it is a good vein.

Never has the tunnel looked so good to me as it does today. Not only are the veins improving with development but the breast is very encouraging and I expect soon to hear of the cutting of another good vein.

On account of these new veins that have been found—the fact that the tunnel is in nearly 2000 feet—and the fact that the stock is actually increasing in value every day it has been decided to

Furchner, Duerig & Company

Latta was the strongest man in his community.

The Citizens bank has changed to the Citizens National, a charter having been granted last week according to the daily papers.

A clerk wanted at once or a good sized boy. EPLER & Co.

J. L. Beaton has been appointed postmaster at Sholes, since E. W. Closson resigned.

Hank Wolf, a former farmer near Carroll, was visiting at the latter place last week, going back to Bonhomme county, S. D. Saturday. Hank says the land he bought there a few years ago for $15 he could now sell for $60 per acre, and he has prospered accordingly.

The Carroll carnival was a grand success both financially and in attendance. Over 4000 people were in the little city last Friday, breaking all records for the little burg. The Carroll ball team carried off the honors in the ball tournament, Blaine Skeen catching for the team.

The DEMOCRAT man saw Al Furchner twirling ball for the Packers at Sioux City last Sunday, and he is easily a phenom, defeating Des Moines 11 to a shut out.

A pair of girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Ahern, at Kankakee Ill., last Thursday morning.

J. W. Epler is quite ill with typhoid fever.

Austin Hines and wife, who left Wayne about twenty years ago, were arrivals from Tennessee Friday evening and are at the home of I. O. Richardson, Mrs. Hines being a sister of Mrs. Richardson. Mr. Hines went south with Dr. Crawford and recently sold some southern property at a big figure, it being wanted for railroad terminals.

Joe Barley was released from the asylum August 15, at Norfolk, and the DEMOCRAT understands he has gone to Denver, Col., where his parents and sisters are going to live. Joe's family have been living at Orchard.

The moving picture man was "a picture" himself as early as eight o'clock last Thursday morning. Jas Britton was unable to attend the old settlers' picnic owing to his partner's spree. The out fit packed up and left Thursday afternoon.

Only five teams and 23 people at the old settlers' picnic last Thursday so the DEMOCRAT is informed. Under the same competent management Dr. Crawford and a couple other pioneers will be all that is left of the association in another year or two.

HOUSEKEEPER WANTED—Must be at least fifty years old and a competent cook. Good wages for a good girl. PHIL SULLIVAN.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Jones have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter Gayle, to Geo. G. Sherbahn, Sept. 2d. The M. S. Davies house on main street is being furnished for their home.

The marriage of Miss Goldie Brookings, a former Wayne teacher, was a great surprise to her relatives here as well as to friends. Cards had been received announcing the marriage of Miss Mary Brookings, a sister, but the double wedding was somewhat suddenly arranged for.

Teacher's Institute.

The annual Wayne county Teachers' Institute is in session at the court house this week and a more earnest body of teachers would be indeed hard to find. The enrollment has reached an even hundred, most of whom are rural teachers of our own county.

Supt. Littell is to be congratulated in again securing such an able corps of instructors. Miss Laura Phillips, of Cedar Falls, Ia, is with us again, having lost none of her life, energy and enthusiasm. Miss Phillips has charge of the work in reading, nature study and primary methods, and is furnishing the teachers with a vast amount of material with which to begin the new year.

Supt. E. P. Wilson of our own city has charge of the work in civics, arithmetic and geography and in that thorough and deliberate manner so characteristic of him. Mr. Wilson is giving many practical suggestions for teaching besides providing the teachers many good things for individual thought.

Supt. Geo. D. Carrington of Auburn, Neb., is conducting the work in grammar, pedagogy and agriculture. Mr. Carrington's experience as rural teacher, high school principal and county superintendent places him in position to know just what the average teacher needs, and at the same time enables him to present it in an able and interesting manner.

Prof. E. M. Gregg so well known to the people of Wayne county was present Monday evening and gave his illustrated lecture on school gardens, to a large and appreciative audience. The Professor's work along this line has already become productive of much good and none who have heard his lecture fail to commend the effort.

On Wednesday evening, Prof. C. H. Bright gave an interesting and instructive lecture concerning his experiences as teacher, principal and division superintendent in the Philippines. The attendance was good and the fact that many of the teachers know Mr. Bright personally made the evening's talk the more interesting.

Mrs. Francis J. Wallis, who has charge of the elocution department of the Fremont college, will be present tonight and present her monologue entitled "In the Bishop's Carriage." Mrs. Wallis is one of the best impersonators on the American platform and will no doubt, furnish an evening of splendid entertainment.

The people of Wayne should avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy some of the good things that the institute brings to the city. The session closes tomorrow with a business meeting at which officers for the county association will be chosen and plans made for conducting the reading circle work for the year; and then the handshaking and the "good-byes" will perhaps be sufficient to lead everyone to declare that she enjoyed the institute of 1908.

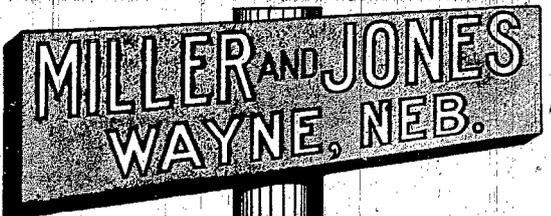

Go to Wausa.

The Wayne Commercial Club will attend the street fair and carnival to be held at Wausa, Sept. 4. This was decided at a special meeting of the executive committee of the club held for that purpose Monday evening. The Commercial Club feels that it is much indebted to Wausa for the splendid showing they made on the first day of the Chautauqua and every one is going to make a special effort to reciprocate by attending their Harvest Jubilee in a body.

There will be a special train leaving Wausa at 10 o'clock p.m. so that all those who go will arrive home at a reasonable hour.

Tom Steele President of School Opens Next Monday, Sioux City Bryan Club. August 31st.

Our old, red-hot republican friend, Thomas J. Steele, was unanimously elected president of the Bryan club at Sioux City. In "opening" his speech of acceptance Tom said: "This is truly a great honor for a person who has been a bushwhacker, like I have been, trying to push in the delinquents, and I feel my inability, but if it is your desire that I head this club I will do all in my power to promote the interests of Bryan."

Mr. Steele told of his opposing Bryan when he was a resident of Nebraska, feeling he was a foe, but that since his nomination he has been an enthusiastic supporter of him.

Go to them Tom, and "bring them over." The DEMOCRAT will wager dollars to the hole in a doughnut that you can "line 'em up," for haven't we seen you do that many a time.

I will sell my beautiful Vose & Sons, upright piano at a very low price.
LELA OLMBED.

One Thing To Do.

There should be but one sentiment among the ranks of the men of Nebraska who favor the election of Mr. Bryan. That sentiment should call for the subordination of all things which might stand in the way of that good end.

At the primary contest on the first day of September the democrats should have in mind one central thought—namely, the nomination of candidates, from governor down to the bottom of the list, whose names on the ticket will be a help to the work of carrying Nebraska for Bryan. Personal interests should be put aside. Personal friendships should not prevail against the one paramount object in Nebraska this year.

Do you love Bryan? Do you sincerely desire that he shall be elected? Then go to the primary and help nominate as candidates for all the offices only such men as are known to be in harmony with Mr. Bryan and his views. That's the way to help Bryan carry Nebraska.—Columbus Telegram.

CURED HAY FEVER AND SUMMER COLD.

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several more medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar, it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Raymond's Drug Store.

Miss Florence Welch will teach at Pembina, in the northern part of Dakota, the coming year. Judge and Mrs. Welch will accompany her there next Wednesday and take in St. Paul and Minneapolis on the trip.

On Monday evening Jessie and Lela Tucker entertained a crowd of young women in honor of Helen and Winifred Northrop. The evening was spent in playing cards and "white en-joying" nice refreshments. The few married women in the crowd gave the other girls some useful points in domestic science gained from their own experience.

Miss Jessie Strickland has secured a good position as 4th grade teacher at Pavenna in the southwestern part of the state.

At half past six this evening the Monday club ladies at the home of Mrs. D. C. Main will serve supper complimentary to Mrs. Northrop of the Monday club and Mr. Northrop of the auxiliary "The Pumpkin Head Club." The evening will probably be spent in playing charades in which Mr. Northrop has always been the star actor. The ladies will present them with a silver baking dish to remind them of the many pleasant little meals served in the club. Mrs. Northrop is one of the oldest, best informed and most helpful members, and their going will be a great loss to the club as well as to the people of the whole town who greatly regret their departure.

Miss Neva Orr, entertained a crowd of young ladies on Monday afternoon which was her 14th birthday, an automobile ride finished up the afternoon's fun.

J. H. Yeager was locked up last Saturday night for disturbing the peace, and Sunday evening was ordered out of town and told never to come back.

THE TORCHLIGHT PARADE.

How well I remember the torchlight parades, when daddy would take me down town for the sight! In fancy once more I recall them and see, a long line of flambeaux ablaze in the night. It seems I am list'ning again with my dad, as out from the past there comes back to my ears, the soul stirring music of uniformed bands; the songs of the glee club; the crowd and its cheers. I'm standing once more with my dad on the curb, and watch the long line of the torchlight parade; I view with delight the brave army-a-foot—the red, white and blue of the oilcloth brigade. 'Twas then for the first time there came to my heart, a wish to be "grown up;" to carry a torch. O, how I would envy the club as it stood, attentive to speeches from off the front porch. They heard not the speaker; they watched but the "boss," to get his sly signal when they should all cheer; and then while the band boys played "Gem of the Ocean," the men were all served with strong stogies and beer. O, where are the days of the torchlight parades! The days when my father's strong grip held my hand—the smell of the torches—red fire, and too, the big Roman candles—the glare of the band;—the square signs, transparent, with letters in black which told the big crowd that the party was right;—Ah, well I remember the torchlight, at night, when daddy would take me down town for the sight!

LUCKY.

No wonder the little bird
Upon the branch is singing gay;
He builds a house, unscarred by care,
With neither rent or tax to pay.
—Nashville American.

Some men are often "up a tree;"
In fact, quite often I have heard
A man who pays no tax or rent
May truly claim to be "a bird."

I wish that Ross Hammond would take a whack at the word "chautauqua" with his simplified spelling.—Madison County Reporter. The editor will think of the long lecture Florence Maybrick delivered at the Fullerton chautauqua he will spell it "she talker."

They were talking of the stone woman exhibited as a curiosity in Norfolk, with an admission fee of ten cents. Said a Norfolk merchant: "I have heard of a woman supporting a man, but I never thought a petrified woman could support three." It was lucky for the speaker that the three speakers did not hear him.

BRYAN AND THE PHONOGRAPH.

The paragraphers are taking Mr. Bryan's phonograph speeches as a jest and apparently do not see the distinguished Nebraskan's motive in recording for future generations such beautiful lectures as "The Prince of Peace." We had the pleasure some time ago to put our feet under a dinner table at which sat eight other democrats, with W. J. Bryan at the head of the table. The great Commoner made us all feel at home in his presence, some of the party even venturing to address Mr. Bryan by his first name. During the progress of the meal the talk drifted to Mr. Bryan's frequent quotations from the Scriptures in his political speeches. Mr. Bryan then spoke of the resurrection and his famous lecture. "The Prince of Peace." "In Cairo I secured a few grains of wheat that had slumbered for more than 3,000 years in an Egyptian tomb," said Mr. Bryan. "As I looked at them this thought came into my mind: If one of these grains had been planted on the banks of the Nile the year after it grew, and all its lineal descendants planted and replanted from that time until now, its progeny would today be sufficiently numerous to feed the teeming millions of the world. There is in the grain of wheat an invisible something which has power to discard the body that we see, and from the earth and air fashion a new body so much like the old one that we cannot tell the one from the other. If this invisible germ of life in the grain of wheat can thus pass unpaired through 3,000 resurrections, I shall not doubt that my soul has power to clothe itself with a body suited to its new existence when this earthly frame has crumbled into dust. I wrote 'The Prince of Peace' mainly for the young men and women who are apt to scoff at religion," said Mr. Bryan. It is probably for the same reason that Mr. Bryan has given this beautiful lecture to the talking machine companies. "Will," said one of the guests, "there must be considerable satisfaction to you in making conversions to the christian faith with this lecture." "There is," said the great democratic leader with emphasis, as he thoughtfully stirred his coffee. And then he spoke of numerous conversions that had come to his personal knowledge after delivering the lecture which today stands as the best ever delivered by Mr. Bryan. Let us not, therefore, hold up to ridicule or levity the action of a sincere man, who seeks, with the aid of a scientific invention to make conversions long after he has gone to his reward in the Great Beyond—the abode of the Prince of Peace.

BY DAD

While in Washington last winter, a prominent citizen of Honolulu had occasion to purchase a trunk. The dealer was requested to have painted on one end the purchaser's initials and address, and a card with this information was furnished as follows:
X. Y. Z.
HONOLULU.

The surprise of the insular American may be imagined upon the delivery of the trunk to find that his initials had been ignored by letterer, and the following cognomen inscribed in bold characters:
"Hon. O. Lulu"

The joke was too good to spoil and the trunk still bears its original name. This week Taft is fishing down south. But he is not using the some sort of bait he will use when he comes north.

W. Elfert, of Lester, Iowa, has been held to the federal grand jury on a charge of having sent indecent post cards through the mails. I don't know anything about the specific charge against Elfert, but if every person who sends indecent post cards through the mails were to be prosecuted and punished Uncle Sam, to get jail room, would have to build a high wall around a section of land in every county in the United States.

"The man who invests in an air ship gets quicker," "returns" than the speculators in automobiles—because the automobile is an "goes hence."

It won't be long before you fellows who can't make a living in politics can get a good job in the cornfield.

Sherrman was quite short in his acceptance, but then it will match up with the votes he gets.

What would you do if you were the coal man, buy early as the railroad men advise, or wait until you get a good ready? Last year those who followed the advice of the railway men got stung, and this year they are "up a stump" to know what to do when they are getting the same advice. Some of us consumers are also "up a stump," but it isn't so much a question of policy as it is a question of money.

If we all had the money or the credit or the cheek to buy our winter's supply of coal right now, the coal man would know just what to do. Just the same as the ice man. If he could tell just about how warm next summer is going to be and how many "joints" would need cooling and just how the ice cream cone business would keep up he could tell how much ice to put up this winter. He could make a pretty close estimate as to how much mud that came off last winter's crop he would have to take out of the ice house to make room for the new crop. If a man could take a bull by the horns and look him in the eye and tell what beef will be worth next April he would be lolalacoola, wouldn't he? The trouble with business men is that they can't see into the future with their hindsight. It is easier to tell what one ought to do after he has failed to do what he ought to have done after what he did do, ain't it?

The Union Pacific makes a rate of 1 cent a mile to the state fair at Lincoln, and the Burlington 1 1/2 cents a mile. These are the same roads that couldn't carry 30,000 people to the big democratic doings at Lincoln because Nebraska had a two-cent fare law for any less than that figure. A big cut, however, was made to allow the republicans to hear Taft's speech of acceptance. How many votes for the r. o. p. is this discrimination going to make, in Nebraska? Do you republicans all work for the railroads, or do you work for your own welfare? It's a pretty small hole the railroads are putting you in, but all the real large men will crawl out, by dad.

The DEMOCRAT is told—by republicans—that Candidate Rees, for the state senate, is in favor of county option for this state. If that be true, Mr. Rees would like to hear from you personally on the matter. Be a man or a mouse. A prohibitionist or a democrat. No man can be both.

Mrs Howard Gould wants only $50,000 damages for being insulted by a creditor presenting his bill. That creditor must be simply crushed.

"Here is your little burden of sin," said a young girl to a revivalist, down in Missouri, as she laid her—and his—month-old baby at his feet. The rest of the story is that "the light of ecstasy fled from the exhorter's face, terror taking its place," while the revival broke up in a great row. Such is life in—Missouri.

About the time Ray Perdue got ready to put in a cement gutter on the east side of main street, all the property owners having agreed to it, Ellis Gorton of the boyd balked the whole job by changing his mind. The funny part of it is that Gorton ever considered the improvement, but the incident has again revived talk of a new hotel. It is argued that now is the time to secure a proper site and the city needs a good hotel more than anything else, being at least a generation behind all progressive towns in this respect. If the commercial club would stop and consider a "live one," this hotel proposition would go through—to the building. Advertise for a party to build it and give him bonus, is the easiest way to solve the riddle. By hustling up a bit we might get one built before Brother Gorton gets home from Idaho; just to surprise him, don't you know?

Everybody Given The Glad Hand

to how much of a majority vote he would need in Stanton county to elect him state representative. Mr. Pilger is strenuously opposed to county option, and speaking about D. Rees, of Norfolk, democratic candidate for state senator, stated that Mr. Rees declared at a meeting of the democrats in Norfolk, prior to his filing for the nomination, that he would if elected vote against county option. Some republicans have been reporting that Mr. Rees was tother way which, and if any of them can bring any proof that Mr. Rees has so declared himself the DEMOCRAT would like to make it public. We have no use for hypocrites in the democratic party on this proposition. They all belong in the prohibition ranks or "rank"

It is reported that the fall hats will be smaller, but the big bills for the big, old hats, are still with us.

Two thieves robbed a newspaper office at Gayville, S. D., and got two cents. Among newspaper men there will be wonder how the editor came to have so much money on hand at one time.

Wow! Doesn't it make the cold chills crawl up and down your spinal column these chilly mornings and evenings to see girls and women going about with not enough clothing on above the breakfast food line to strain milk through? But then it makes business for the doctors.

An exchange remarks that there are plenty of other bargains advertised, but some people would like to see a great glash in sheath gowns. Yep, the sheath gown must go if it is all ripped up the back.

The Alaska wheat fake is no fake at all. The fellow who invented it gets $5.00 a pound for 50,000 pounds of it. The scheme is about as "full of wheat" as a little job an enterprising yankee put up on the colony of H. M. in western Iowa, some 28 years ago. He filled his wagon full of corn of any grade, took some fine wire and hung five cars on one stalk—for a sample—and sold the entire load to the "bloody linglish" at $10 per bushel.

It was a "bad Indian" who wrote this story: Two Indian girls were going to school together. Like most other folk they sometimes disagreed. On one occasion they engaged in hair-pulling and flesh-chewing contest. Afterward one of them remarked that the other one had the toughest hide she ever say. Her teacher corrected her and told her she must not call it "hide" but "skin." Soon after, another girl came through the room singing, "Hide Me, Oh My Saviour, Hide Me," whereupon the girl who had just been corrected threw up her hands in horror and said: "You should not say 'Hide Me, Oh My Saviour, Hide Me,' but 'Skin Me, Oh My Saviour, Skin Me.'"

Here's an old one, but it gets better with age, like the whiskey. Some idea of the kind of whiskey sold in the prohibition state of Maine may be gleaned from what a "manufacturer" of the Maine article told an English distiller the other day as to his method of procedure. He said he took a gallon of wood alcohol and put a wineglassful of glycerine in it to mellow it, then ground down some plug tobacco and strained it through a cheese cloth to give it a flavor, and then united the whole with a gallon of water. He added that it was called "squirrel whiskey," because those who drank it "talked nutty and climbed trees."

A horse, near Lindsay, was so badly scared of an automobile that it dropped dead in the road. If some people were intimately acquainted with got next to an auto they'd drop dead, too—financially.

After seeing the automobiles chase about on Sioux City's streets it would appear that Wayne was a little hard on her chauffeurs. On the residence streets in Sioux City the autos go at any old speed, from 10 to 50 miles an hour.

Chautauqua associations in Iowa advertise Senator Burkett as "the man who defeated Bryan for the United States senate." This must be one of Senator Burkett's "Big I's," used for advertising purposes only, as he had just as much to do with defeating Bryan as a yellow dog. Why not change it to "as the man who beat Uncle Sam out of Chautauqua postage?"

Best in the state—Whalen's famous ice cream.

A big crowd of Wayne people went to Sioux City this morning to see Buffalo Bill, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Shultheis, Miss Leila Tucker, Bert Brown, L. M. Owen, Geo. Denlinger, Fred and James Pile.

The DEMOCRAT is taken to task for supporting Edgar Howard's candidacy. In the last legislature Jas. P. Latta voted against the child labor law; against a direct primary; was the only dissenting voice on the pure food bill; refused to vote on bill to prevent railroads going into federal court, and enjoining state from collecting taxes. Is it any wonder Mr. Latta is a prime favorite without colonies in either party? Also the railroad boys are booming him and the county option advocates, and that won't go down with this DEMOCRAT.

BRYAN ON THE TARIFF; FIRST GUN OF THE CAMPAIGN

Des Moines, Ia., Special: Comparing the attitude of the two dominating parties on the tariff question, William J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate for the presidency, last night before a vast audience, fired the first gun in the campaign... He attacked the republican promises of tariff revision.

Mr. Bryan received an ovation as he rose to speak... He said in part: 'The republican platform is a bundle call to every beneficiary of a special privilege...'

With reference to the tariff, the class of the tariff revision, with a two-thirds majority in the Senate and nearly 60 majority in the House... Bryan argued that the tariff should be lowered.

The Democratic platform says: 'We welcome the belated promise of tariff reform...'

The administration has claimed credit for the Standard Oil Company... Bryan argued that the Standard Oil Company was a monopoly.

The republican platform says: 'The republican party declares unequivocally that it is in favor of tariff reform...'

Secretary Taft refers to this speech only briefly in his notification... Bryan's speech was a direct challenge to Taft's tariff policy.

It will be noticed that the republican party has abandoned the earlier argument... Bryan argued that the republican party was inconsistent.

I submit that the democratic platform accurately reflects the republican position... Bryan argued that the republican platform was a betrayal of its principles.

ARCHBOLD REFUSES TO PAY FOR BURIAL OF BOY HE KILLED

New Bedford, Mass., Aug. 25.—After spending three days at the bedside of the 10-year-old (Gina) child who had been run down and fatally injured by his auto in which he was riding at the time, John D. Archbold, Jr., son of the late John D. Archbold, Sr., refused to pay the bill incurred at the cemetery lot. The bill for the burial of the child was $28.00. The father's lawyer, J. S. Williams, who prepared the body for burial, has retained lawyers to arrange a settlement. The bill for a burial lot, and it is that item to which Mr. Archbold's attorney objects. He is willing to pay the rest under any condition, his lawyers say, but he will not pay for a cemetery lot.

PUNISH HAZERS AT WEST POINT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—An announcement was made that the secretary of War Wright has recommended for the punishment of the army officers who were suspended from duty for the academy for having been approved by Mr. Roosevelt. The order to be issued by Secretary Wright, based upon the president's approval, will also suspend the academy's two first class men. The suspension, Wm. T. Russell, Jr., son of Colonel Wm. T. Russell, of the engineering corps, and Harry S. Weaver, of Illinois, will be without pay for a year for the six members of the third class. The action of the president and the secretary of War is being taken by army officers to be perfectly adequate punishment of the cadets, although regret is expressed that it was deemed necessary for the academy to be suspended absolutely. Dismissals, Russell and Weaver.

FORMER ATHLETE, NOW WRECK, WANTS $25,000 FROM HIS EMPLOYERS

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 25.—Richard Deane was 20 years old when he started to work for Carroll Rose, a shoe manufacturer, 12 years ago. He was known as the "pride of Bullitt street." At that time he was the champion of his year, and at most every other kind of athletic sport he led. After 12 years of collecting odd carpets and working them into rugs for the home of his employer, he became a consumer. He is broken in health to such an extent that he can no longer earn his livelihood. The young man has a wife and two children, and they have brought suit against his manufacturer for $25,000 damages.

WALSH OFF EFFECT OF SNAKE POISON

Washington, Aug. 25.—After a steady fight for 66 hours against the maddening effects of the diamond rattlesnake in the Zoo, Rodney Rose, curator of serpents, said at the Emergency hospital with good cause to believe that the snake bite would not prove fatal. The fight for Rose's life turned on keeping him awake and the success gained so far is attributed to the pluck shown by the patient. Though the greatest danger from snake bites is considered past after 36 hours, even then Rose was allowed to sleep only an hour at a time. He is now in a coma, and his breathing has increased swelling in his arm. The pain, he said, had lost much of its intensity.

LONGWORTH STILL IS WOOLING ALICE

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Nicholas Longworth, who is visiting his father at Sagamore Hill today, received the large diamond necklace Beauty stole from her husband. She drove to the depot to get them and explained to a friend that when Beauty stole the necklace she had sent her a box of flowers every day, no matter where she may be. It has been some time since Mrs. Longworth was in New York, and her girl friends held a reception in her honor. When the flowers came she laughingly referred to the devotion of her husband as an indication that her marriage was a perfect match.

EVELYN THAW NOT "BROKE," LIKE HARRY

She is Looking for a "Nice Little Country House on the Hudson"

New York, Aug. 25.—Evelyn Thaw is not suffering from the hard financial condition that is alleged to have driven her husband into bankruptcy. She was in a real estate office on Madison street yesterday, looking for a "nice little country place," as she put it. She wore a gown of royal purple, a big-bellied hat with a mass of black feathers, high-heeled, low-cut shoes which showed stockings and a pair of gloves. "I would like a little house on the Hudson," she said, "somewhere near Nordonia. I may want to try my voice in the place. I've real estate experience in a special department, and I've sold a Pittsburgh address.

UNCLE SAM PETITIONS FOR REHEARING OF STANDARD OIL CASE

Federal Attorneys Criticize Appeal Court for Trying to Knock Out Commerce Act.

POINTS IN PETITION.

Judge Landis, $28,840,000 fine not too severe.

Ignorance of shipper about law due to willful neglect, no defense.

Each carload a separate shipment.

Reversal of appeals, in criticism of Judge Landis' rulings, does him great injustice.

Judge Grosscup, in a previous decision laid down a rule exactly contrary to the one laid down in the Standard Oil case.

No court short of the supreme court of the United States should reverse the decision of the Interstate Commerce act from the statutes.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—The government's petition for a rehearing by the United States court of appeals of the case against the Standard Oil company of Indiana was filed today. The government's attorney stated the administration's attempt to save the "Elkins" act from complete commerce law from becoming a dead letter. The government's attorney marked the appearance of Attorney General Bonaparte in the case.

Lincoln, Neb., August.—(Special Correspondence)—This has been the quietest week Lincoln has experienced since the latter part of June, when the first Denver delegations began stopping off on their way to the mountain city. This has enabled Mr. Bryan to devote considerable time to the speeches he has arranged to deliver. With his secretary Robert F. Ross, he has diligently worked on the speeches, but has taken time to hold long distance consultation with Chairman Mack, and to answer a valiantous correspondence. Mr. Bryan left on Wednesday evening for Des Moines, Iowa, where he delivered a tariff speech on August 5. From there he went to Chicago and spent Sunday, seizing the opportunity to consult with the national committee. From Chicago he went to Indianapolis to attend the Kern notification. He will make one and possibly two speeches in Minnesota during the last week in August, then go to Topeka to speak on the bank guarantee question. Labor Day he will deliver the address of the day in Chicago. This celebration is under the auspices of the Chicago Trades and Labor Council and will be held at Sportsman's Park.

The famous Minnesota trick-gate, presented to Mr. Bryan by Minnesota Democrats, arrived in Lincoln this week. "Minnamascot" was the name selected by Mr. Bryan for this animal, but after a starting experience at Fairview the name "Major" was added. This was in honor of Major Dickinson, the veteran correspondent of the New York Herald, who volunteered to be the first to ride the animal. As a result of the effort Major Dickinson spent a couple of days in bed, and "Major Minnamascot" was put to the prosaic task of hauling a lawn mower.

The re-nomination of Governor Johnson of Minnesota was very pleasing to Mr. Bryan, and he wired his congratulations to both the governor and the convention. "It is a great compliment to Governor Johnson to be nominated a third time," said Mr. Bryan, "and I think his candidacy will help the national ticket in Minnesota."

The announcement that the New York World had come out unreservedly for the democratic ticket and platform was welcomed at Fairview. While expressing his pleasure at the World's announcement Mr. Bryan refused to be interviewed on the subject.

Fifteen years ago the Northern National Bank of Big Rapids, Mich., closed its doors. On August 3, 1908 the depositors, tired of the long delay in securing a settlement of their claims, held a mass meeting for the purpose of taking some action looking toward the ascertainment of the exact status of affairs. The receiver says he cannot make settlement until pending litigation is settled. The facts of this case will be used by the national committee as an object lesson showing the necessity of a law guaranteeing deposits. Incidentally it might be remarked that it took some ten or twelve years to settle under the present order of things, the receivership of two or three Lincoln banks that failed in the early 90's. A comparison of these incidents with the Cosgate, Okla., bank settlement will be interesting to the people of the country.

Hon. E. E. Brown, a pioneer resident of Lincoln, and one of Mr. Bryan's warmest friends and most active supporters, died last week and was buried Saturday. Mr. Brown was one of the pallbearers. Mr. Brown was a republican until 1896, when he allied himself with the "silver republican" party, and afterwards registered as a democrat. He was connected with one of Lincoln's largest banks and was accounted one of the wealthiest of Lincoln's citizens.

From every quarter comes the most cheering news of the political situation. This is especially true of the big industrial centers where the labor vote is large. Several official organs of trades unions and labor organizations have come out unreservedly for the democratic ticket. One of these is the Weekly Bulletin of the Clothing Trades official organ of the United Garment Workers' Union, and another is The Trackman, official organ of the Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen. The Central Trades and Labor Councils of Washington, Chicago, Philadelphia, Lincoln, Denver, Pittsburg and other centers have endorsed the American Federation of Labor's political program, which is an endorsement of the Denver platform and ticket. The Colorado Federation of Labor at its recent meeting endorsed the democratic platform and ticket. The International convention of the Glass Bottle Blowers' Union, representing 150,000 members, endorsed Bryan and Kern. The Brick-masons' convention took similar action. John Mitchell has publicly announced his support of Bryan, thus setting at rest the claims of the republican press that the great labor leader had "reneged" since his appointment as arbitrator for the Civic Federation. In a private letter to the writer an organizer of one of the strongest trades unions in the country says he has just completed a tour of West Virginia and is absolutely sure that that state will give Bryan and Kern a handsome majority.

Congressman Pollard the republican representative from the First Nebraska district, addressed the Taft club of Havelock, the Burlington shop suburb of Lincoln one night last week, and undertook to prove to the railroad men that Taft was their best friend. He explained that the failure to adopt the injunction bill asked for by organized labor was due to the fact that there was a street car strike on in Cleveland. "If a little strike in one city will prevent a republican congress from doing justice to the whole body of wage earners, in God's name when will we get justice from a republican congress?" exclaimed a Brotherhood man after the meeting.

To many, it may seem that the hope of carrying Ohio for the democratic ticket is a dream, but Mr. Bryan is in receipt of hundreds of assurances that the democratic ticket has more than a fighting chance in the Buckeye state. Ohio democrats are united as never before, and the republican are engaged in factional fights that are even warmer than the republican scraps in Iowa.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger sneers at Mr. Bryan's slogan, "Shall the people rule?" and declares that the people do rule. This, mind you, from a newspaper published in the rottenest city in America, where 100,000 or more head men are voting every year to hold in power the most corrupt political machine ever constructed. Philadelphia is republican by an enormous majority.

John W. Tomlinson, chairman of the committee on club organization, has asked all precinct, city and county committeemen to proceed at once with the organization of democratic clubs and have the same perfected on or before September 15. The names and address of all campaign organizations, their officers and committeemen, should be sent to John W. Tomlinson, chairman of committee on club organization, democratic national headquarters, Chicago Ill. No special form of organization or by-laws necessary.

Noting the fact that the railroads granted a special rate to the Taft notification and refused a special rate to the Bryan notification, the San Francisco Star says that it is not to be wondered at. "People should remember," says the Star, "that the railroads are not in the habit of charging regular rates for their own construction materials or for their employees." It will be admitted that the Star explains what might, at first blush, look like a discrimination.

In a carload of watermelons received by a Lincoln wholesale house from Oklahoma last week was a melon inscribed with the name of Bryan, and carrying a card asking that it be delivered at Fairview. The wholesaler sent it out as requested. It weighed sixty-one pounds. This is a few pounds more than the famous Texas melon weighed—the one Mr. Bryan divided with the newspaper correspondents while the convention was cheering the name of the democratic leader.

—WILL M. MAUPIN.

If there is anything going on in the Third congressional district that will make Edgar Howard vote it is this sort of slush from the Fremont Herald newspaper under the thumbscrews of Chairman Dan Stephens:

Editor Howard would certainly look well singing that old familiar song called "Sympathy."

After the primaries Edgar Howard will write a book entitled "The Earliest Frost of Which I Have Any Recollection."

The next most popular pamphlet to be published will be entitled: "Foul Play, or How I Vainly Tried to Put Third District Democracy in the Land of Topsy-Turvydom, Where Nice is Naughty, Naughty Nice, Where Vice is Virtue, Virtue Vice."

"A Stanton Republican" writing to the Norfolk Press, republican, says: "C. H. Chase, a prominent lumberman and livestock dealer of Stanton, was in Norfolk yesterday. 'No able man than R. Y. Appleby has ever gone to the state senate from the Eleventh district,' said Mr. Chase, 'and if he is nominated and elected, Mr. Appleby will be found to be a conscientious, broad-gauged, efficient senator, working constantly in the interests of the people of this district.'"

"The above clipping from the Norfolk Daily News of the 19th is an evidence as to what extremes the supporters of Mr. Appleby are going to encompass his nomination. Mr. C. H. Chase was not in Norfolk as stated, for the very good reason that he is in one of the western states with an ailing wife. Had he been in Norfolk there is no doubt but that he would have expressed himself as quoted in the News, since he is a close personal friend of Mr. Appleby and with him purchased the Stanton Picket about a year-and-a-half ago, for political reasons. It was at his home that Joseph Crow was a guest when he came to Stanton to locate a senatorial candidate. That Mr. Chase is a worthy citizen of Stanton is undisputed. That he is capable of selecting the best legislative material in the district is another matter and admits of question."

The Men of Brooklyn.

From the columns of our enterprising contemporary, the New York Sun, we glean the following piquant little item of news:

"I was calling on a friend today," said a Brooklyn woman, "when she showed me some beautifully embroidered pillow tops. The work on one of them was particularly fine. It represented a bunch of roses and each flower was shaded. When I had admired the different pieces my friend said: 'Who do you think did that?'"

"Why," I answered, "your daughter, I suppose."

"No," she said, "it's my husband. He is not fond of reading, and when he finishes his newspaper in the evening he takes up embroidery to pass the time."

They're making progress, in Brooklyn. A few years ago the widely advertised occupation of the Brooklyn men was the wheeling of the baby carriages through the parks. Now they have reached the stage where they do embroidery work in the evenings "to pass the time."

Naturally, the chain of cause and effect is unbreakable. But think what "time" is like, in Brooklyn, when men are doing stunts with a needle in order to pass it! It must be a hilarious old burg, sure enough! And it must be inhabited by a sturdy and red cupped lot of men!

Great oaks from little acorns grow. The next time your wife wants you to wheel the baby buggy, point her to Brooklyn and Brooklyn's men. Then ask her to choose. It might help some.

Strikes from the Tribune

In Blue Grass Valley—A young man who resides in Winside and has an auto was seen in this vicinity a week ago last Saturday taking the young widows and married women for a ride. Now Tucker, you had better look out.

Lawrence Longnecker ran down a grasshopper last week to trade horses and finally traded. Come again, Lawrence.

A fellow by the name of Andrew Anderson had his leg nearly cut off in a barbed wire fence last Sunday, northwest of Winside. It seems that he, with some other fellows, had been running horses that afternoon, and when he started for home, his horse became unmanageable and ran away with him, going so close to the fence that his leg just above the ankle was nearly severed by the barbed wire.

Fred Pepperkorn, a German farmer living one and one-half miles east of Winside, has bought C. Benschhof's residence property where Curtis now resides. The Tribune hears that Mr. Pepperkorn will not move to town, however, until another year. Mr. Benschhof will move to Gordon, Nebr., near which place he has a large ranch.

Dave Leary got the contract for janitor at the school house for the next nine months, at a salary of $21 per month.

Mrs. Antone Jensen tells us that she expects to join Mr. Jensen at Herrick S. D., by the first of next month where the family will reside.

The TRIBUNE was informed that Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ramsey will return to Winside to reside. He has proved up on his claim at Phillips, South Dakota.

Winside News.

Special Correspondence.

Mrs. Grace Cavanaugh is in Omaha this week.

Oscar Franks, the genial land man of Wayne was in town Tuesday.

G. E. French returned Monday night from his trip to the coast.

R. H. James, formerly of Wayne but now located in North Dakota was in Winside Tuesday.

L. S. Needham and family have returned from their summer vacation in Michigan.

A number of Winsideers were at Carroll last Friday attending the Carnival and ball games.

George D. Carrington, candidate for State Superintendent and Ben Robinson our former Prof. were in Winside Tuesday night.

Wiley and Harry McCluskey arrived in Winside Friday night and started on their return trip to North Dak. Sunday afternoon.

The Winside Carnival is progressing finely, four of the fastest ball teams in North East Nebraska have been secured—the celebrated lady umpire, Miss Amanda Clements will umpire the games and Mr. Shellenberger and U. S. Senator Burkett will deliver the addresses on the political issue of the day.

Last Sunday our lads framed up a base ball team and went to Emerson for the purpose of trimming the aggregation at that place and the way they did it was something beautiful from a base ball standpoint, the final result being one to a goose egg in favor of Winside.

Our babies, Siman and Carter, officiated in the box and back of the bat for Winside and Smith and Heffernan performed like services for Emerson. Siman struck out ten of the opposition and allowed but four dinky singles, and only one Emerson man got as far as the third sack at any time during the game. In the fourth inning Pryor, the Candy Kid, secured a pass to first and took second on a pass of Mr. Heffernan, Weatherholt followed and after three swings sat down and then Tubby Scherwin took the kinks out of one of Mr. Smith's curves and sent a daisy cutter past the short gentleman of Bloomer fame responding to the euphonious name of Hincks, scoring Pryor, after which there was nothing doing on either side. There was no time during the game that Emerson had a look in or that Winside was in any danger. In the 9th in looked squally for a minute when Smith the first man up got transportation and stole second, but the situation was relieved when the next man got to talking to himself after waiving his bat three times without connecting with anything followed by the next who was retired at first by our Candy Kid unassisted and then Kerwin, upon whom Emerson's fate depended struck a high one over second which looked good for a time but our "Tubby" wobbled in that direction and having been raised on that kind, speared it and the game was over. Taking it all in all and it was the fast game played in these parts in many moons. Emerson got real provoked because they couldn't make some scores and the little man who plays short—Master Hincks, he was real provoked also and was real put out about it.

Hoskins News

From the Headlight.

Rev. Grueber Sr filled the pulpit of the Lutheran Church at Winside Sunday.

Peter Kautz and family went to Allen Saturday to visit relatives for a few days.

Miss Ollie Elliot returned to her home at University Place Sunday evening after visiting friends here for some time.

Harry Ziemer went to Wayne Monday to attend Teachers Institute this week.

Mont Shinn of Sioux City was a welcome guest at the Leslie home Wednesday.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Martha Scheurick and George Smith, to take place Thursday September 3rd.

Carl Grothe, an old schoolmate of the writer, stopped over Sunday with us on his way from Lincoln to his home at Wayne.

A dance will be given at the Wetlich Hall next Saturday night August 29th. Music by the Norfolk orchestra. Every body come as a good time is assured.

Bert Temple and Tom Green attended the last day of the Carnival at Wakefield last week. Tom said he saw a ball game, a foot race and a fight but Bert refused to make any statements as to what he saw.

Although his countenance had been slightly disfigured, the latter part of the week, as the result of a "push-a-mobile" ride, Frank Phillips had recovered sufficiently by Sunday to make his usual Sunday evening trip to Norfolk. His face seemed to be greatly improved Monday.

Mr. Terwilliger of Wakefield was in town Monday.

Mr. Schultz of Wayne visited his sister Mrs. John Pofoll Wednesday.

Artie Weatherholt assisted Winside in a ball game at Emerson Sunday which they won 1 to 0.

Miss Fenske was a guest at the Nelson home Sunday and left for Wayne Monday morning to attend Institute this week.

George Losey of Battle Creek and John Krantz of Norfolk were in town Monday; being called by the theft of the Behmer horse.

Andy Anderson who was injured last week by having his leg cut in a wire fence is still in Winside, under a doctors care and is doing as well as can be expected.

Winside has decided to hold their Carnival September 4th and 5th. Street Attractions and base ball games will be furnished sufficient to guarantee a good time. Hoskins expects to furnish her share of the crowd.

According to the Norfolk press about 200 druggists in the State will be prosecuted for selling headache cures containing acetanilid without the proper brand on the wrapper.

Among the list is one Norfolk Druggist who was found handing the medicine without the brand.

Last week Fred Schroeder left for an extended western trip. He expects to visit Colorado and Idaho among other places. He spent a few days in Colorado awhile back and as the higher altitude seemed to improve his health he decided to try it again.

We are very sorry to learn that Rev. Grueber Jr has accepted a pastorate at New Prague Minnesota and will move his family there soon. Rev. Grueber has been the pastor here for ten years and the removal of him and his estimable family will be a great loss to our town.

Last week Aug. Rublow, Richard Winter and Gus Schwede closed a deal at Norfolk for a new threshing rig of the Garr Scott make. The two old engines and one separator, belonging to Mr. Rublow were traded in on the new machine.

The Beg a nine and a team from the north crossed bats on the home grounds Sunday. The game was a little one sided as Bega seemed to have the best of it all the time; winning by the score of 12 to 4.

After this game the home team played the winners a five inning game; winning it at the rate of 3 to 4. The game was exciting from start to finish being interspersed with sensational slides, tumbles high dives and various other performances to numerous to mention.

For the Tripp Opening.

Dallas and Gregory, S. D., will be hot numbers Oct. 5th to Oct. 17th, when Uncle Sam will begin a chance game for 5,200 valuable farms in Tripp county, S. D. Affidavits will also be allowable at Chamberlaine and Presho and at Valentign and O'Neill, Neb., and forward them to either Dallas or Gregory to Judge J. W. Witten, law officer of the general land office, who will have charge of the opening. This arrangement is made in order that it may not be necessary to congest so great numbers of people at Dallas and Gregory. The drawing will begin October 10 and continue till enough numbers have been taken out to assure disposal of all the lands.

Under this plan it will not be necessary for any applicant to appear in person either for registry or the drawing. Applications for registration, if mailed, must reach Judge Witten before 4:20 p. m. October 17. Blanks for registration may be had of any notary public at either of the places of registrat.on named.

All lands entered before June 14, 1909, will be charged for at $6 per acre, of which one fifth must be paid in cash on entry, balance in five equal annual installments without interest.

The department has not decided when actual occupation of the lands will be required to be in March 1 next is the tentative date not accepted, but it may be made a month later. It is the purpose to allow people to postpone until spring actual occupation of the lands so they may not be subjected to winter rigors in an undeveloped country. April 1 is likely to be the date finally fixed.

Caught the Horse Thief.

Sheriff Bauman of Dodge county, Fremont, telegraphed description of horse that tallies exactly with animal stolen from Ernest Behmer at Hoskins. Sheriff Mears left this morning for Fremont to bring back the horse and the thief. Sheriff Bauman will get, if capture is correct, $550 reward; $500 from the anti horse thief Association and $50 from Wayne county. Now, if we could just do something—$550 worth—to the thief?

Perry Gets a Verdict.

Judge Welch yesterday granted a temporary injunction, asked for by Edward Perry, restraining A. B. Clark from running water onto the roadway and hence over Perry's land, by means of tiling. The court held that the law forbids the secretion of an unnatural body of water; that it must be directed in its natural course. For instance if land is tiled to drain it must carry off the surplus water in a natural water way—or something to that effect. The case has created considerable personal feeling and will no doubt remain in the courts indefinitely.

Court May Adjourn.

Judge Welch will convene district court next Monday for equity term but may continue the jury term until Nov. 23rd. The attorneys want a continuance and if no serious objection arises a continuance will be taken.

"Ye Gods," the Truth.

New York, August 25—Ill. half blind, criticising the church on the score of untruthfulness and insincerity, and declaring that he could not worship "America's trinity—success, pleasure and gold"—the Rev. Albert H. Trick killed himself in a room in Mills hotel today. He was once pastor of a Presbyterian church in Chicago, and later had a charge at Saratoga, N. Y. The former pastor left a letter to Charles N. Dowd of this city, which in part follows:

"I have never been able to conquer an inborn contempt for the place money has in this world, though knowing so well how absolutely a fair amount of it at least is necessary to all of us. I could never adapt myself to methods by which it is made. They are so transparently selfish and more or less unscrupulous, whether used by the church or the so-called world.

"I could never worship America's trinity—success, pleasure and gold. I rejoice in the better day dawning, when society with its superstitions and errors, like all the other religions of men, shall have passed away and religion itself, free and simple, religion that has a passion for truth, justice, love and liberty, purity and humanity, shall prevail.

"Ye gods, what does the church care for these things; for truth, etc.? It twists all the facts, philosophy, etc., to make them square with the petty traditions of a day. The day will soon come when the world will prove that, sacred as the place that Jesus holds in the world's esteem, they are no more bound by what he taught, did and thought than they are by the precepts of Robert Ingersoll, and the modern church more nearly follows this exemplary and kindly and honest American than they do the Oriental."

Directoire vs. Hoop Skirts.

They are making a deuce of a racket about these directoire dresses, but what is the cause for commotion? Do you remember the old fashioned hoop skirt? When a whirlwind came along it took two fellows with all the skill they could master to keep one of them within bounds, and "bounds" meant most anywhere, so long as the girl remained inside of them. They were the peekaboost contraption that were ever invented, and that outlandish sizes that were worn. Mrs. Lincoln wore the most pronounced set of crinoline of any one of her day. Look at an old magazine or book printed in the early sixties, and see a picture of her, and it is nothing but a little set of fat cheeks above an expanse of crinoline at least six feet in circumference. And then fancy a waltz with a girl in one of those togs. She had to lean back as far as she could in order to keep dry goods from soaring away in the blue vault of heaven, and that is what our mothers and grandmothers wore, and they were the best people on earth, and you know it. There was less "snugging up" those days; the hoops were not conducive to close communion. When a girl waltzed she was accorded at least ten feet square in order not to "crowd." This directoire gown will let a girl slide through a space that you couldn't roll a set of those old hoops through edge-wise. The use of crinoline was started by the Empress Eugenie because she was getting rather thin and wanted something to create diversion and the hoops did it. Neither of these togglements can stand wind, they are both intended to wear in a calm but of the two the sheath dress has the best of it in a gale, for the wearer can sit down and hold her raiment without help, and that is more than can be said of the old crinoline. A woman would create twice as much of a sensation if she would put on one of those old gowns and appear on the streets, as she would in the new arrangement. A dress made at that time would have material enough in it to make about three sheath gowns, and then some. We would like to see our girls come down dressed for the street in one of those old 1861 gowns and see what their mother would say, but she used to be in the height of fashion in one of them and we really thought at that time that she looked passably well. It is all in getting used to a dress, for we simply decline to get enthusiastic either for or against a dress until we know who is in it.—Britt Tribune.
