Jones-Sherbahn.

One of the most fondly anticipated weddings of this autumn was the marriage of Miss Gayle Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Jones, to Mr. Geo. Sherbahn. The ceremony took place last evening at the beautifully prepared residence of the bride's parents. The whole house was artistically decorated with pink and white chains. The bridal couple stood in the bay window, a huge background being profuse in asters, bride's roses and ferns. Little Dorothy Jones was ring bearer, wearing a sweet dress of pink and white. The bride was most handsomely gowned in French organdy with lace insertion.

Miss Reba Nangle presided at the piano, softly playing Mendelssohn's march, the bride being escorted by her father, following the groom. The Rev. Thos. Osborne performed the marriage service, congratulations being showered upon the handsome, happy couple by the guests present. The punch bowl was presided over by Miss Freda Ellis, and refreshments were served by the Misses Ellen Morgan, Elsie Seace, Edna Neely, Mary Mellor, Kate Gamble and Frankie Conger.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Strahan, Mrs. Hattie Boston and Miss Carrie Wilson, from Malvern, Ia., Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Franks, Sioux City and Mrs. La Croix, Carroll.

GOT A STIFF SENTENCE Young Horse Thief Gets Seven Years

Monday Wm. Wallace, real name unknown, was sentenced by Judge Welch to seven years in the penitentiary and yesterday Sheriff Mears took him away to serve his time, about the quickest justice ever meted out to a Wayne criminal, it being less than a week from the day of his capture to his incarceration in the pen. Wallace put on a bold front. He pleaded guilty to stealing Ernest Behmer's horse at Hoskins, but never batted an eye when the court handed him the limit for the offense. Atty. F. A. Berry represented the young man in court and through the attorney's advice the fellow pleaded guilty. He gave his age as 24 years, but looked to be over thirty. Peter Kautz of Hoskins says the fellow was in that town nine years ago, also lived in Norfolk for a time. At all events the $550 was well spent, and while it is hard on the culprit it is a good example for others of his ilk.

The DEMOCRAT is told that Wallace had a bad attack of a loathsome disease, the principal reason why Atty. Berry advised him to go to the penitentiary, and that it will take about seven years to cure him.

NOT THE SAME

There is not anything that remains the same. Nothing on earth is stationary. Everything is growing or decaying. This store is not the same as it used to be. Many changes have taken place and unless you have been in and investigated it lately you fail to appreciate the change that has taken place. This store continues to grow and is getting larger and better every day. Every year shows an increase in the business and each year some improvements are made for the comfort and convenience of our customers. Have you been in lately? If you have not, you cannot know what this store is like, now is a good time to come in and look what there is here. You will need clothing for Fall and Winter use and it would be a great mistake to buy any before you have seen what this store has to offer.

You may have looked here a year ago and failed to find what you wanted, but that is no good reason why you should not look now. We are growing, not decaying, and you now will find everything up-to-date and more and better goods than we have ever had before. Come in and the boys will show you the largest and best stock of clothing you ever saw in Wayne Co. It is here and if you fail to see it before you buy you will surely make a mistake.

Both ladies will be warmly welcomed.

Married.

On last Wednesday in the Theophilus church occurred the wedding of Miss Leonora Tangeman to Mr. Henry Trautwein, Rev. A. Matzma officiating. The young couple will make their home at Winside. Mr. Trautwein owning a meat market there.

BY DAD

It's a winner. Whalen's ice cream. The Democrat may have mentioned it before, but isn't it about time to jail the impudent and obnoxious newspaper who congregates about a Wayne residence when a wedding is in progress? Even during the wedding ceremony last evening these young hoodlums, who belong to families that should keep a shingle or a board to treat them with, caused all sorts of disturbance. Why not put a summary stop to such offensive, ridiculous nonsense?

About two o'clock Wednesday morning Atty. A. R. Davis was called out of bed by a primary election inquisitor at Stanton. After going to the phone and listening to an excited voice clamor for news of how Appleby and Randall ran in Wayne county, Mr. Davis suggested that the Stantonite call up Sheriff Grant Mears, (with malice aforethought, as he knew the sheriff had gone to Lincoln with the horse thief), as Mr. Mears was running the Appleby campaign, you know. Then the voice from Stanton yelled to quit the kidding; it was Mears, the honorable sheriff and Appleby booster himself. The sheriff explained that after reaching Norfolk he heard that a mob was forming to lynch his prisoner, so went to Stanton, staying over night and from there phoned to Wayne to learn how his labor for Appleby had resulted. It is surmised that Grant did not feel any better when he learned how Randall had ripped things up the ballots.

If you want to see what's coming political have Optition Vail fit your eyes with proper glasses.

A fellow who formerly worked for Dan Ertle in the restaurant here was enroute to Sioux City yesterday from the branch line, the other train being a half hour late he made a trip up town and fell into Marshal Miner's net, the result being that he was in "cold storage" when the train arrived. This is a case where the railroads are "liable" for damages for being behind time.

To people musically inclined, here is your opportunity. 715 pieces of sheet music at 6c per sheet at Hufford's Stationery store.

Two capricious Sholes young ladies planned to have some fun when a Carroll young man came to spend the evening with them. They thought it would be great sport to imitate everything he did. When the young man entered the parlor he blew his nose, which each of the girls promptly imitated, with giggling accompaniment. Thinking it a peculiar incident the young man somewhat nervously stroked his hair. Both girls followed suit. Then he straightened his collar, and the girls did the same, with boisterous laughter. But the young man was "wise" to their game by this time. Positive of his ground, he calmly stooped and turned up the bottoms of his trousers.

It is very easy for a boy or a young man to injure his reputation and lose the confidence of friends. Here is a case related by the Ida Grove Pioneer, which says: "Smart aleck boys were guilty of vandalism at the Commercial club rooms Monday that would have resulted in their arrest but for the intervention of certain members. Their malicious mischief cost one of the boys at least $100 in gold, as this particular boy had attracted the favorable attention of a certain doctor who had deposited $100 with the editor to be given the boy when he went to school this fall, the donor's name to remain unknown. Tuesday the five $20 gold pieces went back to the owner."

Taft says that if elected he will call the sixty-first congress together in extraordinary session to revise the tariff at the very earliest moment he has authority to do so. Yes, but what will congress do about it? How long since congress was in session? If there is necessity for revision of the tariff now didn't that necessity exist when congress was last in session? Didn't it? Taft's promise amounts to about as much as a gnat's eye winker.

Ida Grove, Ia., evidently has been having some experience. The Pioneer says, "Some of these 1200 chautauqua lecturers ought to be arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses."

"What Every Woman Knows" is the title of J. E. Carry's new play. Surely it can't all be put on in one night.

Bryan or Taft—or Whalen's ice cream. Even a primary election makes a mighty dull business day.

About the redeeming feature of the primary law is that it gives a lot of men a chance to earn four dollars per day and get a "full dinner pail."

Well how do you like the way the ring got busted? (N. B. The above was set in type before election was held.)

The people still appear to rule in Wayne county. When a fellow doesn't seem to fit the office they throw him out.

Campaign contributors don't seem to be troubled seriously with hay fever. At least they don't cough just like they should.

Nebraska readers of the Sioux City Journal were considerably amused Monday to read a lengthy account in that paper of a John C. Sprecher's disgust over Bryan. Such stuff as the Journal printed would no doubt have an effect or be taken with consideration elsewhere, but here in Nebraska it produces a smile of amusement. John C. Sprecher of the Schuyler Free Lance is "for" or "against" anything. A sort of a news-paper joker, who could be the "real thing" as a Bryan booster, would not be a "knooker."

Just at present, and for the past few months, he has been several leagues behind on his publication. That is to say, time that was time in July is printed as time in August. Party politicians or common voters, who know Mr. Sprecher, take him as a political joke, and nothing more. He is to newspaperdom political what every town has in mental or physical disability a fright, or something decidedly unquail. The influence of the Free Lance, as a political barometer, will affect only one vote in this state—the Hon. John C. Sprecher's—unless, perchance, republicans who read his paper arrive at the same conclusion that to do what "Sprecher says" not to do is the right thing to do.

Just what all the ladies wish is one of our fine suits for fall. Do not forget the date, Tuesday, Sept. 15. JEFFRIES SHOE CO.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger sneers at Mr. Bryan's slogan, "Shall the people rule," and declares that the people do rule. This, mind you, from a newspaper published in the rottenest city in America, where 100,000 dead men are voting every year to hold in power the most corrupt political machine ever constructed. In Philadelphia the people rule like the old woman kept tavern.

WHEN TRIFLES BECOME TROUBLES
If any person suspects that their kidneys are deranged they should take Foley's Kidney Remedy at once and not risk having Bright's disease or diabetes. Delay gives the disease a stronger foothold and you should not delay taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. Raymond's drug store.

The meeting was held a week earlier on account of the Old Settler's Picnic coming on the third Thursday in August. The afternoon was spent in tising a quilt for Mrs. Bartlett's daughter. After the business of the society was attended to, the hostess served an excellent three course luncheon. They then adjourned to meet with Mrs. Palmer on Sept. 17th.

The Buick cars appear to have all other makes beat—a city block. The DEMOCRAT cannot buy an automobile but if we had the sponduhix the Buick would get our coin.

Mrs. A. N. Matheny, Mr. and Mrs. Will McCabe and "Red" Henyon left Monday on their auto trip to Ohio. The DEMOCRAT family enjoyed a ride in the big car before they departed, and it is certainly a great machine and a few thousand miles journey in it looks easy and comfortable.

I have several choice bargains in Wayne Co., farms can be bought below regular price of surrounding lands if sold quick. Also some good cheap Dakota farms. W. F. ASSENHEIMER, Altona, Neb.

Kodol will, without doubt, make your stomach strong and almost instantly relieve you of all the symptoms of indigestion. It will do this because it is made up of the natural digestive juices of the stomach so combined that it completely digests the food just as the stomach will do it, so you see Kodol can't fail to help you promptly. It is sold here by J. T. Leahy.

A second hand furnace for sale cheap. Would be all right for a cottage or small house. In good condition. Inquire of Dr. Heckert or Neely & Craven.

D. Rees, candidate for state senator, sends the DEMOCRAT an interesting epistle today; that is it will be interesting to D. Rees when he reads it next week.

The DEMOCRAT is the best advertising medium in Northeast Nebraska. It is probably read by twice as many people as any other country week, in this section of the state.

At the council meeting Monday night the proposition of a system of sewerage was again taken up. No doubt next summer will see this much needed improvement unless we have to put in our time quarrelling over the saloon question.

The business men send a delegation to Wausa tomorrow but it is a shame it will not compare in any degree with the Wausa demonstration at the Wayne chautauqua.

The Commercial club band goes to Winslow tomorrow for a two days engagement.
Edgar Howard carried Wayne county by about fifty votes.

Mrs. Harry Luckey was an arrival this afternoon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perrin.

Mrs. Spears accompanied her daughter Mrs. Smith to Emerson this afternoon.

It is surely a shame, but now we will have to take back any mean things we have said about Hon. J. P. Latta.
Ray Perdue is making Wayne's main streets look like a real city. Every man who won't put in curbing should have a contribution taken up to pay such expense.

Well, there is nothing wrong with Shallenberger and Bryan. They will carry Nebraska 40,000 strong.

PRIMARY RETURNS SLOW

It is Safely Shallenberger, Latta, Randall, Berry, and Davis.

Returns of the primary election have been hard to obtain. The vote in the various counties will not be canvassed until tomorrow. However, it is Shallenberger for governor by thousands, his lead increases with every new returns. J. P. Latta defeats Edgar Howard for congress by anywhere from 200 to 400 votes. Randall defeats Appleby in every county for the state senate nomination except Stanton, having an immense lead in the district. A. R. Davis, republican, and F. A. Berry, democrat, are the nominees for county attorney by a bulk of the votes, their opponents having a shamefully small following in most of the precincts. E. C. Bishop is republican nominee for state superintendent of schools, and N. C. Abbott, democratic candidate J. A. Williams was nominated railroad commissioner, easily, the balance of the tickets being in doubt and the results probably not known before Saturday.

School Contract Let.
Contract for Wayne's new school building has been let to an Omaha contractor, the contract to be completed this evening.

District Court Adjourns.
There was not much doing in district court this week. As the DEMOCRAT intimated last week an adjournment was taken until Sept. 28th. Practically all that was done was issue naturalization papers to a number of would-be Bryan voters. Judge Welch will hold an equity term of court a week from Saturday, Sept. 12th, when the matter of a permanent injunction against A. B. Clark's tiling his farm, Edward Perry plaintiff, will be taken up.

Does Prohibition Injure Business?
(Communicated.)
The vital question which taxpayers are bound to consider is whether prohibition, applied alike to every county of the state, is injurious to business or otherwise; whether it depreciates the value of city or farm property or otherwise; whether or not it operates to increase the tax rate, while at the same time depreciating property values; whether it reduces the rental values of property or not; whether it reduces the amount of labor for mechanics and all classes of employes.

Nebraska has never tried prohibition as a general policy. Ever since 1881 the liquor traffic has been regulated by what is known as the license system, and since 1887 the Slocumb high license local option law has been enforced. During those years Nebraska towns have enjoyed unexampled prosperity. The value of farm lands has trebled and quadrupled. Country merchants have prospered as never before. These facts are so patent that they need only to be referred to. No man will say that the highest degree of prosperity is not possible under the liquor laws that have long defined the policy of Nebraska with respect to the regulation of the traffic.

How different was the effect of general prohibition in Iowa for more than ten years of its history! Prior to 1894 Iowa struggled with prohibition, finding it disastrous to business and to property interests. In that year the people voted to change the policy to one identical with Nebraska's law to license and control the traffic. There are thousands of men in Nebraska who lived in Iowa under prohibition. They know what it did to injure business and to impair property values. Many of them became bankrupt and moved to Nebraska to retrieve their fortunes. Many of them who were not taxpayers found conditions under prohibition intolerable.

In June, 1887, under prohibition, there were 1,381 vacant houses within the city limits of Des Moines, and in the suburbs there were 340 more. Des Moines' population was then 33,000. The local papers were full of advertisements offering property at 50 per cent of the former rental; 64 large brick stores on the best streets were vacant. An immense amount of bad liquor was sold in Des Moines, but the public treasury was deprived of the revenues from the legal tax of the traffic. The condition of Des Moines in those days was typical of many other Iowa towns. The facts cannot be gainsaid and they are easily ascertainable.

Editor A. H. Mertz, who publishes a magazine at Moline, Ill. has just completed a tour of Kansas and Oklahoma, made for the purpose of investigating the situation as to the enforcement of prohibitory laws. He said: "My investigations in Kansas and Oklahoma for the last two weeks convince me that prohibition is a greater evil to society than the licensed saloon under strict regulation. There is no prohibition in Kansas. In Kansas City, Kan., I found the streets at high noon deserted. I never saw a city of 100,000 people so depopulated on the main thoroughfares during business hours as is the case in Kansas City, Kan. In Topeka I found forty-nine stores, man clubs and numerous joints doing an extensive business. In Wichita I found the moral and financial conditions bad. There is a barload of confiscated liquor in the city hall. In both Leavenworth and Atchison conditions are bad. Down in Oklahoma I discovered a system of professional bootlegging."

Iowa and Saloon Regulation.

(Communicated.)
Many men are of the opinion that Iowa for years enforced the policy of prohibition through an irrevocable amendment to the constitution. Such, however, is not the case. The amendment for the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of liquor was adopted June 27, 1882, by a vote of 155,436 for the proposition, and 125,877 against. This amendment was in force and effect only about six months. The Iowa supreme court declared in a decision rendered Jan. 18, 1883, that the amendment was invalid. Notwithstanding this adverse decision, the state legislature passed an act in consonance with the spirit of the abrogated amendment and thus gave the state statutory prohibition a year later.

For ten long years, or until 1894, Iowa tried to enforce statutory prohibition, but the failure was so pronounced that the people became intolerant of conditions and demanded a change of policy. That demand was met by the legislature, which on March 29, 1894, enacted the mulct tax law, legalizing the saloon under certain conditions. Ever since that date, or during the last fourteen years, Iowa has regulated the liquor traffic under the high license local option law, which has worked to the entire satisfaction of the people of communities wherein statutory prohibition has failed. The principles of the mulct tax law are identical with those of the Slocumb law of Nebraska, yet the two laws differ in minor details. Under the terms of either law any city, town or village may regulate the liquor traffic at will; it grants the largest measure of home rule and prevents the people of one or more towns from dictating to a given town in the matter of the regulation of the liquor traffic.

This brief statement of facts shows conclusively that Iowa after more than ten years of experience with statutory prohibition, completely reversed its policy in respect to the regulation of the saloon by adopting the salient features of the Slocumb local option law of Nebraska.

Exterior Renovating
There is no better time for exterior painting than in the fall, and that more painting is not done during the fall months is due largely to the national habit of "fixing up" in the spring. Many buildings that have been hurriedly painted in the spring or early summer might have been better painted the preceding fall, when the painters were not so busy and when the buildings were in better condition to receive the paint. At this season of the year when there are fewer rains, and the painters are not so rushed, and (most important), when the life is not baked out of the newly applied paint by the scorching rays of the summer sun. This is the very best time of year to paint, the cold weather that follows allows the paint to dry gradually, and by the time warm weather comes again the paint is in the best condition to withstand the heat.
We are exclusive agents for the famous PAT-TONS SUN PROOF paint. Without question the best mixed paint on the market. Will cover 25 square feet more surface than any other paint.
To those who contemplate papering your rooms this fall, we wish to say that we have several remnant patterns which will be sold at a liberal discount.
See us for your paint and wall paper.
