There was something funny doing out at Chan Norton's place last Thursday night. Some of the young folks of the household got home very late and found a stray team and buggy in the yard. "Horse-thieves," was their first thought and they at once got into the house and began to call up the neighbors. Wat Williams and Henry Stumphf were among the first to respond. After a sufficient force had gathered they surround the top buggy and found a farmer from near Wakefield fast asleep in the rig. It appears the fellow had tarried in Wayne too long for a dry town patron—and in trying to get home landed in Mr. Norton's place, fast asleep. He was sent on his way rejoicing while the other parties stacked their arms and talked over other scares they had participated in.

Banker Crosby of Hoskins was in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Worm and the whole family HAVE TO DIE

It is a sad day for the Worm family when you give your pigs WORMITE for worms.

There won't be any mourners, either, because Grandpa and Grandma Worm and all the cousin worms will be dead, too.

But it will be a happy day for the pigs. Every time they eat there won't be several hundred worms in their stomach and intestines to eat the food and leave the pigs nothing to grow on.

There won't be any worms eating holes in their intestines and other parts.

It will give the pigs a chance to grow and gain in weight.

Remember There is Nothing That Equals WORMITE As a Worm Killer.

More Horse Stealing.

Sheriff Mears went to Carroll Tuesday to look up another case of horse stealing, a pony having been stolen from Geo. Shirts of Chapin precinct. Sheriff Mears says horse-stealing is epidemic at present, he having not less than a dozen notices of such thefts, offering rewards, most of them in this part of the state. One case from Fremont tells of the taking of a $300 mare for which a large reward is offered. Some of the stealing is done in Iowa, but the numerous thefts makes it plain that a large and probably not organized band of men are in the business. About the only sure cure is a strong piece of rope handled by a vigilance committee.

M. L. RINGER.

A. P. Gossard tells the DEMOCRAT that the cream station is running nearly $5000 worth of business per month or about $50,000 per year. Many of the best butter makers have quit and now sell their cream. A. P. says that if he could just make butter as a side issue, for local demand, it would be a fine thing for patrons, especially townspeople, and the product would be cheaper if not better than at present.

Rev. Karpenstein was in Dakota City Monday to officiate at the funeral of a child of a former parishioner.

John Powers of the college went to Lincoln Tuesday to attend the state University.

Rev. Karpenstein went to Glenville, Neb., Tuesday morning to attend the synod of the German Lutheran church, expecting to be absent about a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Elisinger returned Tuesday from Omaha where they attended the funeral of a sister of Mr. Elisinger.

Sam Winsor and son Lou were in Norfolk Tuesday. Although much better Mr. Winsor still shows the effects of his serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ellis were arrivals in Wayne Monday evening.

Out of twelve or fourteen coaches, comprising the special and regular trains to Sioux City Tuesday morning, there were hardly more than two coaches full of passengers, all told, or even less people than the regular train often carries. It looks a bit frosty for the Inter State from this section.

Miss Funston went to Omaha Tuesday morning.

Rev. J. C. Ringer left Tuesday morning for Hardy, Neb., to attend a ten days session of the synod of the Lutheran church.

Among visitors to the fair at Sioux City Monday were F. E. Strahan, Will Lessman, Adam Grler Richard Carpenter, Gus Hensen and Messrs Lee Buroker and A. G. Bohnert who spend the week playing with Red's band.

Peter Liet of Hoskins was in Wayne Saturday and made this office a pleasant call, full of it.

Wm. Buening returned last week from Iowa and reports crops in that state not half as good as in northeast Nebraska.

Mrs. Gus Wills, Miss Mabel Wills and Rudolph Wills went to West Point Monday on a visit.

Fred Woolstin was in Wayne from Omaha.

Mrs. Homer Skeen and daughters returned to Cody Sunday evening.

John H. Kate, Wayne's popular clothing man, says he measured the biggest man, last Monday, that he had ever met in 38 years business, Frank Wholer, from the south county line. Mr. Wholer weighs 325 pounds and measures 56 inches around the body, beating Frank Spahr two inches. Mr. Kate says 60 inches is the limit with the clothing houses, and therefore if Mr. Wholer gets much bigger he will have to wear a blanket.

Hebert Welch is in Sioux City taking in the fair, having returned from North Dakota.

E. H. Gould, father of Andrew, left Monday for Detroit, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ellis of Pilger were in Wayne Monday visiting his brother, Ed. Ellis, and being on their way to Miller, S. D.

Ex-Senator Hale was a passenger to Minnesota Tuesday morning. Mr. Hale stated prospects looked bright for Bryan polling a heavy vote in Nebraska towns, but he was uncertain how the farmers would vote this fall owing to the present high prices and scarcity of grains in a large section of the country. That class of people whose politics is only affected by their pocketbooks is always an uncertain quantity.

Emil Sydow, son of Chris Sydow, who lives south of Wayne, was operated on for appendicitis last Tuesday night, a specialist from Sioux City and Dr. Leisenring performing the operation.

Another cheap, improved farm for sale if taken soon. J. Wingert, Agent.

Miss Agnes Richardson is teaching school at Cook, Neb.

Pat Moy, the tailor who has been running a shop over the Millinery store, moved to Sioux City Tuesday.

Messrs C. M. Craven, Elmer Buroker and Park Mabbot assisted the Randolph band at Bloomfield Tuesday and Wednesday.

The fall festival at Winside last Friday and Saturday was a very successful and splendid attraction. The business men's parade, put on each day, was simply beyond all expectations and equal to an Ak-Sar-Ben pageant. The only disappointment was in the speakers, neither Robbins nor Shallenberger filling their engagements. Local talent endeavored to fill the vacancy. The ball games were red-hot contests Norfolk defeating Emerson, and Walthill besting Stanton, each game being 3 to 0.

Much of Wayne county's corn crop is now out of the way of Jack Frost, probably the larger part of it. Monday some samples were brought to town that were well filled and hard to beat. It is the best crop ever matured in this section of the state, and from all reports the best in the United States. The yield is estimated from 40 to 75 bushels per acre.

Geo. Mellor of Malvern, Ia., has been looking after his Wayne county farms this week. Mr. Mellor says he has just returned from St. Paul, and the big crops are confined to the northwest corner of Iowa and Northeast Nebraska. The corn crop in the usually big corn section of Iowa is very poorly owing to dryness in the latter part of the spring and dryness in the latter part of the summer. It doesn't matter much whether Bryan or Taft is elected so far as the price of corn is concerned. If the farmers elect Bryan and help kill off the Wall street gamblers the price will not only be high but steady.

FOR SALE—My residence property, on a block east of M. E. church. Enquire, A. A. WOLLERT.

Wm. Thies, who resides in Cuming county, about ten miles from Wayne, was visited by burglars last week, the thieves taking his Sunday suit of clothes, new shoes, two watches and a bunch of keys. Mr. Thies has no clue to the maulers.

M. T. Healy was in Wayne over Sunday, going to Winside Monday to visit before returning to South Dakota.

Miss Florence Henion commenced a term of school near old Laporte last Monday.

Mrs. Henion left Sunday for a two week's visit at Stanton.

June Conger now has a 40-horse power auto.

Will Finnerty was a Sunday evening arrival and Monday morning Mrs. Finnerty accompanied him to Sioux City.

A second hand furnace for sale cheap. Would be all right for a cottage or small house. Is in good condition. Inquire of Dr. Heckert or Neely & Craven.

Mrs. Geo. Tharp and children and L. W. Tharp and wife left last Friday for her home in South Dakota.

There was a peculiar fire in Wayne last Friday afternoon, peculiar because about all the damage resulted, from putting the fire out. It was about five o'clock that Henry Schorer came running down from his tailor shop in the State bank building, his arms full of cloth and his face full of terror. It appears that Mr. Schorer kept an open can of gasoline a few feet from his hot stove. The gas sent a flame shooting across to the can and the blaze from the can shot up to the ceiling. A bucket brigade soon formed from the hydrant at the Boyd hotel and the fire aside from the gas-can was soon out and little damage done. It was about this time that Henry Cozad, a farmer, got the still blazing big can of gasoline on a stick and he, unmindful of the possibly disastrous consequences, gently dropped it out of the window onto the pavement below. Luckily the can struck tolerably square on its bottom, throw the oil all around it, and making a fierce blaze that sent the flames to the top of the building. There seems to be a difference of opinion as to whether Henry did the right thing or not. However, had anyone been within reach of that oil when it flew out, or had the can struck on its edge and the stuff been thrown any great distance, there would only be one opinion on the subject now and no doubt a fatal burning to chronicle. As it was, however, the store front was badly scorched and the plate glass cracked. The fire department was called out but not called into commission. Mr. Schorer's loss is about $40.

College Notes

Many teachers who have attended a term or two each year for several years will be able to graduate with the classes at the close of this school year. All grades are put on record and count towards a diploma and state certificate. In this way, teachers can do well without much loss of time from teaching.
The Normal will have a good orchestra this year. Several good performers are now in school and have begun practice. This is a splendid opportunity for young people to advance in music without any expense. Last year the orchestra added much to various school entertainments. Young people interested should write us.
Laurel has for her primary teacher and supervisor of drawing Edith Beechel and we are safe in saying that she is one of the strongest teachers along these lines in the entire state. She has had several years' most successful experience along these lines. Her many Normal friends are pleased to know she is within our territory.
J. M. Paul, Teachers' '96, was nominated for county attorney of Dixon county on the democratic ticket at the primary election, September 1. After leaving this school, Mr. Paul spent several years at the state university and graduated from the Law school this year.
On September 3d, 1908, occurred the marriage of Henry Raubach, Scientific '02, to Miss Olga Corbin, who had charge of our short hand department last year. They will be at home after October 1st at Creston where Henry is principal of the schools. The Echo joins with their many friends in congratulations.
Miss Margaret Jeffrey, who spent the past year with us, returned to her home in Lakeside, Wis., at the close of the school year. She received diplomas from both the Music and Commercial departments. Miss Jeffrey was very popular with her fellow students and her large circle of friends regret that she will not be in school this year.
M. M. Hofer, Teachers' '03, is now the leading physician in that enterprising little city of Dallas, S. D. "Mike" as he was always called by his friends, graduated from the Northwestern Medical college in Dallas where he has been most successful and has built up a large practice.
A. F. Dugger, Scientific '05, is now serving as principal of the Bassett schools. After graduating from the N. C., he taught one year and then entered the University. Those who know Mr. Dugger are sure he will prove to be one of Nebraska's strongest school men. All the members of his class are well located in good positions.
Butte has chosen Lela Olmsted of last year's Scientific class for assistant principal. She was one of the strongest in her class when she graduated from the Wayne High school. Such a record she has maintained as teacher and later as a Normal student. That she will lead as a teacher is expected by her many friends.
Prof. Saunty will be assisted in the Commercial work by Pat Saunty and Dan Burress. Improvements have been made in the work and no school in the west equals this department which is always interesting and practical. During the year, many will complete the full course.
Edna Blackman, Teachers' '00, is giving very good satisfaction as county superintendent of schools in Wheeler county. Miss Blackman has been teaching since she graduated eight years ago and is well qualified for her present position.
A number of the Normal folks have good positions as stenographers and bookkeepers in Sioux City and Omaha as well as in smaller cities. Edna Relyea, Henry Pieper and Clara Beauchemin are among those meeting with excellent success in Sioux City. Thorough preparation secures good positions.

Prof. Puffer is proving to be the most thorough and popular science teacher the Normal has ever had. He has charge of the classes in biology, chemistry and physics. All of the Scientific take both chemistry and biology this term. A number are taking the physics work, some are members of the graduating classes while others are preparing for county examinations.
The faculty reception and social on the evening of the 5th was very enjoyable and enabled the students to become acquainted with the faculty as well as with each other. The reception was managed by the officers of the Christian associations and the social by the Crescent literary society.
President J. M. File gave the first Saturday faculty lecture on the 5th. He impressed upon the students their duty as students and as men and women. These lectures are very helpful. Miss Kingsbury lectures the 12th and Prof. Bright the 19th. Miss Bellows, Prof. Puffer, Mrs. Bright and Prof. Saunty follow.
The graduating classes for this year are of good size and well prepared for strong work. Graduates from the high schools of Columbia, Ponca, Wayne, Hartington, Wakefield, Pilger, Battle Creek, Emerson and others are enrolled in the classes. The daily classes in the advanced subjects are well filled and all the work starts out nicely.
Prof. Bright has charge of the review classes in grammar, arithmetic, civics and didactics. His experience as principal, superintendent and county superintendent makes him a most practical and valuable man for this line of work. He is most popular wherever he is known.
A valuable as well as popular department of the school is the Manual Training. This department occupies a room 36 by 75 feet and is well supplied with the best and most modern tools and fixtures for the accommodation of the large number who take the work. Prof. Huntermer is one of the most successful teachers in the west.
Harry Ziemer, Scientific '08, was elected by the school board of Corsica, S. D., to take charge of their schools for the coming year. That he will make good his friends don't doubt in the least. As a student here, he was always glad and willing to do all in his power to aid his fellow students.
W. F. Richardson, Scientific '07, has taken up his work as principal of the Pilger school. This is his second year at Pilger where he met with the greatest of success. Pilger is building an excellent new school building.
Chadron's new superintendent of the city schools is Robert I. Elliott, Scientific '00. We congratulate this growing West Nebraska city on securing so able a man for the schools, and congratulate Mr. Elliott on his opportunity for great good.
The Athletic Association has been placed on a more substantial basis with Prof. Saunty as president and Prof. Huntermer manager. These with the presidents of the different clubs—tennis, base-ball, basket-ball and others—make up the board of directors who will have general oversight of all athletic exercises. This will secure a more regular exercising than former arrangements.
Prof. and Mrs. File attended a meeting at Lincoln on the 3d, of all College and Normal school presidents of the state. The board of examiners for state certificates attended. The subject of certificates and courses of study were discussed and made for a more uniform work in all the institutions. The proceedings will be issued in pamphlet form.
More students than usual have entered the music department. The work of this department last year attracted deserved attention. Miss Hewins continues as director and we expect the best year of music we have ever had on account of the excellent reputation of the department. Miss Hewins is a splendid teacher in both instrumental and vocal.

The DEMOCRAT doesn't know much about the Wagner family troubles but all our sympathy is with "Big Pete." A MILLION ACRES OF CHOICE LAND TO BE ALLOCATED IN OCTOBER

An Empire Will Be Offered to Those Who Are Willing to Take a Chance Among 200,000 Others

Gregory, S. D., Sept. 5.—One million acres of the fertile lands of the northwestern part of the state will be thrown open to homestead settlement in Trippe county, South Dakota, in October. President Roosevelt, after a few days ago and the news was flashed over the wires that the rich and fertile lands of the Rosebud country in Trippe county, South Dakota, were being brought to a vast number of anxious and waiting citizens all over the state.

More than three years ago the legislation for the opening of Trippe county began to take definite form and resulted in a bill being passed at the first session of the legislature in the month of February, 1907. This bill provided that the unallotted Indian claim lands of those members of the Rosebud tribe who had been allotted to them by the government be returned to the state and that the lands be opened to homestead settlement.

Registration points have been designated by the president, the places being Gregory, Chamberlain, Dallas and Presho, S. D., and O'Neill and Valentine in Trippe county.

Of these registration points Gregory and Dallas are the only ones lying along the reservation border and as such will have the greatest part of the business which has been expected in the northwestern and are new towns in the Rosebud country which was thrown open in 1904.

Registration points have been designated by the president, the places being Gregory, Chamberlain, Dallas and Presho, S. D., and O'Neill and Valentine in Trippe county.

Qualifications for the Great Lottery

The lottery system will be used by the government in opening the Trippe county lands. Homesteaders will register for the drawing in the places specified and names placed in a big revolving churn. The names drawn will determine the order in which the settlers will be allowed to settle upon the land.

Every unmarried citizen of the United States, male or female, over 21 years of age will have the right to register for the big drawing. Also the head and shoulders of every child under 21 years of age has the right to register for the drawing. No person who owns more than 160 acres of land or who has a homestead anywhere in the United States will be allowed to register.

Special Privileges to Soldiers

Soldiers or sailors of the United States service, or ex-soldiers or ex-sailors, are permitted to register for the lottery through an agent and if successful in drawing are permitted to file simply a declaratory statement which will give the name of any family member who is homesteaded for a period of six months within which time he must regularly file upon the land. A charge of only $2 is made for the filing of such a declaratory statement.

Requirements of Homesteaded Land

When a person files upon a claim in Trippe county or any place else under the homestead law he will have six months from the date he files upon which to clear the land. He must then reside upon and cultivate the land for a period of five years. However, at any time after 14 months continuous residence upon and cultivation of the land he may prove to the government that he is in possession of the land by paying the balance due to the government for the land and by proving his residence upon and cultivation of the land for a period of one year.

Cost of the Land

It is estimated that at least 200,000 persons will register for the Trippe county lands. Each settler will be allowed to take a quarter section of 160 acres. The lands filed upon within the first three months after the first three months and within the next three months will cost $200 per acre. Upon all lands remaining after the first six months from the date of filing the price will be $250 per acre.

WILTED IN HIS YOUTH

HE HASN'T SPOKEN A WORD IN 30 YEARS

Middletown, Pa., Man Clings to "Anti-Talk" Vow—Won't Tell Why

Middletown, Pa., Sept. 5.—For 34 years Edward Landis, who has a most modest little home with his mother two miles outside of this town, has not conversed with friends or relatives because, it is reported, he was filled by a girl whom he loved devotedly with a youth.

It is the price he has chosen to pay that he might live up to an "affinity" code which was different from the sensational "affinity" code and doctrine of Ferdinand Pinney Earle, the artist, of Middletown, N. Y., who was the first to introduce the "affinity" code.

Apparently illogical, he tried to forget that there ever had lived such a girl as Fannie Gingerich, and he went West, hoping that his affection might be lost in the excitement of a mining camp or a prairie ranch. For several years he lived near Kansas City, Mo., but finally he came East, and returned to his mother near Middletown.

His mother had not died, but he was a far different Ben Landis than the one who went away a few years before. Relatives declare that he "became a different person" after he had been away for a long time. He then planned to take the steamer Harvard last night for New York and the parts of the body overboard.

Accidentally killed his wife Thursday night at a prairie ranch. For several years he lived near Kansas City, Mo., but finally he came East, and returned to his mother near Middletown.

Lincoln, Nebr., September 7.—(Special Correspondence)—The Democratic Campaign Text Book is now ready for delivery, and may be had by sending twenty-five cents to the Text Book Committee, care democratic national headquarters, Auditorium Annex, Chicago. And it is well worth sending for. John E. Lamb of Indiana, Josephus Daniels of North Carolina and Richard L. Metcalf, editor-in-chief of the commoner, were the members of the Text Book Committee, but Mr. Lamb and Mr. Daniels cheerfully admit that Mr. Metcalf performed the bulk of the work. The national committee is a unit in declaring it the best Text Book ever issued by the party. It is crammed full of interesting facts and figures, presented as only a first-class newspaper man can present them in printed page form.

Last Friday night Mr. Bryan was shocked to learn of the sudden death of Alexander Troup, editor of the New Haven (Conn.) Union. For the past twelve years Mr. Troup has been one of Bryan's closest friends and most trusted advisors. The friendship between these two men has often been remarked, for they were men of almost identical ideas. Mr. Bryan was overcome when the news reached him and was unable at the time to give expression to his high regard for the dead editor. Mr. Troup has been high in the councils of the party in the east, and the New Haven Union was admittedly one of the strongest of the democratic dailies on the Atlantic coast.

Herman Ridder, editor of the New York Staats Zeitung, called at Fairview last week and brought glowing reports of the political situation. According to Mr. Ridder New York is already in the democratic column, the republicans losing ground every day.

"Democrats were never so united as they are now," said Mr. Ridder, "and every day sees an increase in enthusiasm and determination to give New York's electoral vote to Bryan and Kern. The leaders are engaged in a good-natured contest to see which can do most for party success."

Mr. Ridder was on his way home from a brief visit to the Pacific coast, and he said the situation in that section was most encouraging.

"It looks like victory, and it looks better every day," said Mr. Ridder.

Last Thursday Governor Crawford of South Dakota spoke at the state fair grounds in Lincoln, making a radical republican speech. It was the big day of the fair, 35,000 people passing through the gates. Governor Crawford spoke to about 3,000 people. On Friday, the last day of the fair, Mr. Bryan spoke. The attendance on Friday was less than 12,000 owing to the closing of the fair and the tearing down of the exhibits. Mr. Bryan's speech was non-partisan, and he spoke to 6,000 people—all who could get within seeing and hearing distance of the stand in the big auditorium.

This is mentioned merely as a "straw." Speaking of "straws," have you noticed in any of the big republican dailies any reports of "straw votes" on railroad trains? Four and eight years ago these papers were forever giving the results of "straw votes," but they were all favorable to the g. o. p. then. The absence of these votes this year is noticeable—and it is a safe bet that if they were not unfavorable to the g. o. p. the administration organs would be full of them.

A Nebraska banker called at the Commoner office last week, and it so happened that several of the eastern correspondents were present.

"Can you give me, off hand, the names of any men who have heretofore been voting the republican ticket, but who are now supporting Bryan?" asked one of the correspondents.

"Yes sir, I can," was the banker's reply. "Four years ago of the seven bankers in my town I was the only one who supported the democratic ticket. This year five out of the seven are supporting Bryan," and the banker gave their names. "There are five ministers in my city, giving their names, and all five of them have always voted the republican ticket. Not one of them ever supported a democrat for president until this year. Now four of the five are supporting Bryan, openly and enthusiastically." And the banker gave the names of the four. Then he proceeded, off hand, to name a dozen or more republicans who are today supporting Bryan. The correspondent was convinced.

Forty editors of as many official organs of trades unions attended a conference in Chicago on September 1. They decided that the interests of organized labor demanded support for the democratic platform and ticket. Of the forty editors present only two dissented from this decision, and these two favored independent political action—the formation of a "labor party."

Here are two or three samples of how the tariff is "fixed" in the interests of the rich: The man in humble circumstances who is compelled to buy the cheaper grades of flannel underwear finds that the grades he buys is taxed 144 per cent. "The first grades of flannel underwear are taxed 86 per cent.

The ordinary grades of woolen blankets, such as the average workingman buys, are taxed 85 per cent. The extra grades, such as the rich and well-to-do buy, are taxed 71 per cent.

Knit fabrics worth 36 cents a pound are taxed 141 per cent; those worth $1.07 per pound are taxed 96 per cent. The tariff is a tax on consumption, and the burden falls heavier upon the poor man than upon the rich, for the simple reason that the necessities of the one are the necessities of the other—and the poor have least to buy with and pay the most tax in proportion.

The simple downright truth of the political situation is that the managers of the democratic campaign dare not believe the reports that come to them—they are too good. The managers are simply dazzled by the rosy reports that come from every quarter. There are scores of things that are having a bearing on the present struggle, one of the most important being in the west. The tariff is cutting a big figure in the east, and strange as it may seem, a lot of manufacturers who are working up an expert trade are foremost in demanding tariff revision along democratic lines. The union labor vote is tending solidly towards Bryan. Another influence is at work that it may not be well to mention; but it is heard on every side, discussed quietly: It means thousands of votes.

Mr. Metcalf, who has just returned to Lincoln from a three weeks' visit in Chicago, where he was consulting with the democratic managers, says the advices from all sections are simply amazing in their uniform optimism.

While in St. Paul last week Mr. Bryan stepped into a music store and asked to have a phonograph grind out some of his own and Mr. Taft's speeches. Mr. Taft's speech was run first and Mr. Bryan listened with interest. Then on his own speeches was put on the cylinder and Mr. Bryan listened with a smile. When his own speech was concluded Mr. Bryan turned to the throng about him and with a broad smile on his face said:

"Gentlemen, I am convinced."

Another straw: One day last week the writer "snuck away" from work and ran down to his old home in Missouri for a day's fishing. While there he talked with an old friend, a democrat, who proceeded to give the situation in his own locality. He gave the names of thirty-five republicans in that one county who were supporting Bryan. Of the thirty-five the writer knew twenty-five personally, and knows that they have always been staunch republicans.

Howard, "The Man."

It is customary on the part of a successful candidate for a political office to express his thanks to those who won the victory for him.

From the reports received from the late primary contest it would appear that I shall not be in position to express thanks to my friends for a victory achieved.

But it remains for some men to be thankful beneath the shadow of defeat, as well as when the effulgent sun of success is shining full upon them.

While the congressional nomination has not been conferred upon me, yet in my heart of hearts I am thankful for the marvelous vote of confidence and respect given to me by my home city. To receive, as I received, practically the unanimous vote of the democrats of my home city, must be accepted by me as a wreath to be worn through all the years with as much display of pride as ever shown by a gladiator under the laurel of his emperor in Rome, or by a member of the Old Guard who bore upon his breast a badge of honor direct from the hand of Napoleon. Thankful! It is a weak word. Grateful! The word is all limited in its scope to measure the wealth of gratitude I owe to the people of Columbus.

How shall I pay the debt I owe? I do not know that all of mine is here dedicated and devoted to anything or anybody bearing the name of Columbus, the best city, made up of the grandest and kindest people on earth.

And to those democrats who like a stone wall against the blandishments of the enemy in the other counties of the district—fighting in my cause without hope of fee or reward—repelling slander and sounding praise—well, boys, it is true that the world is wide, but pathways made by the feet of men do cross sometimes, and maybe we shall meet at the crossing some day, and then—command me.

NEELY & CRAVEN

Rees is Riled.

Norfolk, Nebr., Sept. 2nd, 1908. Editor Nebraska Democrat,

Sir—I have just read today, September 2nd, your remarks concerning myself in your issue of August 27th, and it is very evident to me, and to every other candid Democrat, that you are for the success of the Republican candidates, neither one of which have declared themselves on the county option issue with as much frankness as the writer has. But it was to the candidate of your own party that you applied without cause the offensive designation of "hypocrite," and the "man or a mouse" term. Entirely unnecessary and uncalled for language, showing how utterly unfit you are to conduct a county paper.

I have not promised to vote against county option, and if any man thinks I have, let him here and now learn differently. Neither have I promised to vote in favor of county option, and do not propose to do so now. I intend to be governed by the platform of the Democratic party on this and all other issues, as far as I can consistently, and this platform is not yet agreed upon, and will not be until the latter part of this month. Meanwhile, let me call your attention to your statement that no man can be a Democrat and a Prohibitionist. What about Senator Patrick of Sary county? The Democratic leader of the last senatorial session, and a candidate for re-election. A Prohibitionist and still a Democrat, and one of the brightest and brainiest men in the state.

What about the so id South? You must admit that they are mostly all Democrats down there, and it seems they are also Prohibitionists.

Let me also say further, Mr. Goldie, that as far as your paper is concerned, I do not solicit your support, but I do ask that you publish this letter.

Very respectfully,
D. Rees.

The DEMOCRAT is sorry to have to print such a letter as the above—not for Rees, we have no earthly use for a hairpin of his calibre, but for the democratic party of this senatorial district. The DEMOCRAT admits making a rather sharp demand upon

Mr. Rees to state where he is at on county option, (about the only issue before the people in state politics) and it evidently hit him a solar plexus blow. In explanation of the DEMOCRAT's position in this matter: There were a number of Wayne democrats who wanted to vote the republican ticket at the primaries so they could get an anti-county option candidate for state senator. The writer had talked to Representative Pilger of Stanton as to where Rees stood on the proposition and Mr. Pilger said that Mr. Rees had stated before the democratic committee meeting held in Norfolk that he, Rees, was opposed to county option and would vote against it. Rees was the only democrat who "wanted to run," and it was no doubt upon the strength of his statements to these democrats that they agreed to have him run. Therefore the writer made the plain statement to the Wayne democrats that Rees was just as good an opponent of county option as Appleby. One morning Mr. Rees was in this office, as was also County Supt Littell. Both were going to Wakefield, the former telling the writer that he wanted to see Tom Rawlings (staunch prohibitionist). At ten o'clock Mr. Littell returned and his first words were: "That man Rees of yours is a darn liar." We asked why and he replied: "Rees told you he was opposed to county option and he," "No," we interrupted, "Mr. Rees told us nothing of the kind." "Well, he told others he was," continued Littell, "and then he told Tom Rawlings at Wakefield that he was for county option" to get Tom's help, etc., etc. Mr. Littell made a good deal of the matter in spreading the report. Firmly believing that Rees was on the square and it would redound to his benefit to put it up to him in like manner the item that riles him up was published.

As to the notation that a democrat cannot be a prohibitionist, the DEMOCRAT never meant it in that sense, although when a democrat talks prohibition he is not democratic. Amusing, too, how Mr. Rees, after being such a sympathetic friend of the DEMOCRAT should all at once discover "how utterly unfit" we are to run a county paper. His statement that this paper is "working for the success of the republican candidates" will also be news to the readers of the DEMOCRAT. As a matter of fact both Randall's and Appleby's position on county option was frankly stated, while Rees, according to reports, was working both ends, "man," "mouse" or "hypocrite," whichever he prefers.

Just now, while we are asking republicans to vote for William J. Bryan, because it is the right thing to do, is probably an opportune occasion to shake off such dead party weights as Mr. Rees, and since Mr. Rees does not "solicit" the DEMOCRAT's support, and so urgently desired the publication of his "letter," we'll certainly try our darndest not to do him any good.

Many people suffer a great deal from Kidney and Bladder troubles. During the past few years much of this complaint has been made unnecessary by the use of DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They are antiseptic and are highly recommended for weak back, backache, rheumatic pains, inflammation of the bladder and all other annoyances due to weak kidneys. They are sold by J. T. Leahy.

It is estimated that Chapman Hitchcock's republican "polls" will cost $600,000. The way the money is said to be coming it will require a good many "pulls" to pay for the "polls."

WILL INTEREST MANY

Every person should know that good health is impossible if the kidneys are deranged. Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure kidney and bladder disease in every form, and will build up and strengthen these organs so they will perform their functions properly. No danger of Bright's disease or diabetes if Foley's Kidney Remedy is taken in time. Raymond's drug store
