Mr. and Mrs. Worm and the whole family HAVE TO DIE

It is a sad day for the Worm family when you give your pigs WORMITE for worms. There won't be any mourners, either, because Grandpa and Grandma Worm and all the cousin worms will be dead, too.

But it will be a happy day for the pigs. Every time they eat there won't be several hundred worms in their stomach and intestines to eat the food and leave the pigs nothing to grow on.

There won't be any worms eating holes in their intestines and other parts.

It will give the pigs a chance to grow and gain in weight.

Remember There is Nothing That Equals WORMITE As a Worm Killer.

Democrats are Alive.

The most enthusiastic democratic committee meeting was held last Saturday at the court house, there being 33 delegates present. F. A. Berry was elected to go to Lincoln to attend the state convention. W. H. Root acted as chairman and Henry Bartells secretary. Upon motion it was decided to have five committeemen in each precinct, organization and a lively campaign for Bryan and Shallenberger to be pushed all down the line. J. H. Mitchell got right down to business by getting a unanimous motion that the committeemen practice what they were going to preach, and each divvy up a dollar towards the national campaign. Thirty dollars was tossed into Mr. Mitchell's hat as fast as he could pass it around. Mr. Berry then made a mealy Bryan speech, full of optimism and faith in an overwhelming victory for the Bryanites in November. It was the best and biggest meeting of the character ever gotten out in this county, proving that the farmers, although busy, are alive to the fact that while doing well under present conditions, are simply dividing up the profits of their farms with the tariff barons of the Cannon administration.

Among those outside of this vicinity present were Dan Maher, Henry and Fred Bartells, W. H. Root, T. J. Kinney, Thos. Lound, I. D. Brugger, John Brown, J. H. Mitchell and Dave Hegner.

THE DEMOCRAT is always pleased to fill your orders for job work. WANTED—Washing at home or away, 7th house South of Depot.

FOR SALE—My residence property one block east of M. E. church. Enquire, A. A. WOLLERT.

Two good farms to rent for cash rent. Call or address Phil Sullivan, Wayne, Nebr.

J. L. Davis is learning the art of printing and last week bought a case of old type from the DEMOCRAT. J. L. wanted to put it in a sack and carry it home, so that he has got plenty to learn before he gets his first paper out.

Mike Lower returned last Friday from Huron, S. D., near which place he has a 400 acre farm and dealing for another one. Mr. Lower says crops are fine in that vicinity, that barley will get 50 bushels per acre and corn is a big yield.

Miss Eda Myers was up from Lincoln the past week visiting friends and looking after some business affairs for her mother. Miss Myers recently finished a splendid college education and now takes a good position as teacher in the Lincoln city schools.

A brother of Sandy Taylor, son and grandson, rode from western Iowa to Wayne last Thursday afternoon in an automobile, Miss Taylor going back with them on Friday. The Iowa family of Taylors live close to where the DEMOCRAT man "was raised" and they have become wealthy in the last quarter of a century. While here they filled their machine with Rockefeller's 20-cent gasoline and said that in Iowa they bought it as low as 11 cents per gallon, showing what this trust did to Nebraskans.

Carl Grothe left Monday morning for Yanton, S. Dak., where he will enter college.

The more you eat the more you desire to stow away, is all the fault found with Whalen's creams.

Will Lessman took several premiums on Duroc Jerseys at the Sioux City Inter-State fair. Robt Pritchard of Carroll also made a fine showing and captured some blue ribbons.

R. H. James, Bert Brown and Willie Pflueger were Tuesday morning passengers to North Dakota, the latter two being prospective land buyers. Mrs. James returned to her home there last week.

Sunday's Sioux City Journal stated that the attendance at the Inter-State fair this year was below the normal. No stellar attractions, lax effort to advertise what the fair promoters did have, too much base ball and politics, no doubt made the Inter-State appear an inferior article.

Geo. Warner and family went to Ravenna last Friday to attend his mother's funeral. Mrs. Warner died very suddenly, having been in good health until quite recently. They had been planning to have a big family reunion very soon, but death made a meeting of grief instead of one of pleasure.

Mrs. Peter Waagner called on the DEMOCRAT last week and stated that the troubles of her family were not of her making and she did not just like the way the DEMOCRAT had referred to her husband in last week's issue. Mrs. Waagner said she did all in her power to make a good home for her recreant lord, and that Pete was a good enough man when sober, but too much drinking made him bad to his family, and that because a compromise had been effected by his leaving them prevented the public from ever learning just what she had to put up with. It is a sad, sorry affair for Mrs. Waagner and her daughters, making the best of it, and no doubt better for all concerned that Mr. Waagner be simply required to keep away and look after himself.

"Spitters," Do You Know

That you are liable to arrest for expectorating on Wayne's sidewalks, or street crossings after today. At a meeting of the city council last Monday night an ordinance to this effect was railroaded through that body, and by publication today becomes operative at once. Marshal Miner will no doubt have to make an example of a few unfortunates before the general run of spitters will heed the ruling. It will be a welcome reform against the loafers who congregate on corners and in front of business houses and make a sewer of the sidewalks. Don't "spit" unless you want to "cough up" a dollar and costs in the police court.

Considerable discussion was also had regarding the booze-fighters who have been to Lincoln, those who have taken the "cure" or have been shut off at the saloons, and still continue to "fight" jugs and bottles bought at the liquor houses by themselves or by "friends." It was the unanimous opinion of the city dads that this business has got to come to a sudden, imperative stop. Plans to catch the guilty parties were talked over, and City Attorney Berry was instructed to draft an entirely new saloon ordinance—that will repeal all old ones—and make special provision to sipche the parties who are guilty of procuring booze for their unfortunate friends or old pals. Members of the council emphatically stated that if any saloon keeper was caught doing such unlawful business, down would come his license to sell liquor, and judging from the temper of the "men behind the bat" they mean to score a home run in this matter if any saloon keeper or bartender throws up the opportunity.

A report not having been received from Surveyor K. C. Gaynor of Sioux City who has been taking the level of the streets for the purpose of estimating the cost of a system of sewerage, nothing further was done in the matter. Mr. Gaynor was to make a survey and furnish blue-prints of the proposition for a sum of $60. Something definite on sewerage will probably be done next meeting upon receiving the estimates on the cost.

Collection of light bills where patrons refuse to pay up promptly was referred to the city clerk with orders to shut off light at once upon refusal to pay, and it was also ordered that all transients be made to pay in advance. City Clerk Ringer will have to have his "sand" with him when he puts these requirements into practice.

Bills were allowed as follows.

Ray Perdue, crossings	$28 16
W. H. Hoguewood, dray	60
J. Short, dray	2 50

Mrs. McIntyre Burned to Death.

A message received by Alex Scott, from Watch, California, brought the terrible news of the fatal burning of Mrs. McIntyre, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott and sister of Mesdames John Sherbahn and Emery. No particulars were received excepting that the unfortunate woman was burned to death by the explosion of a gasoline stove. Dr. and Mrs. McIntyre were residents of Wayne for a year or two some five or six years ago, they then moving in California.

Dentist Heckert and Ben Elliott went to Norfolk Monday.

Raymond Larson was married a couple of weeks ago, in Sioux City, to a Pierce girl.

Banker Wilson accompanied his son, Frank, to Omaha Monday where the latter will attend college.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Northrup and children left Monday morning for their new home in Idaho.

Mrs. Jones, sister of Judge Welch and Mrs. Philleo returned to her home at Galva, Ill., Friday.

Henry Volpp and family were in town Monday forenoon, being on their way home to Bloomfield from Scribner.

Ice cream still holds good, although the straw hat season quit some time ago. Whalens' pure, delicious cream is what you want.

G. V. Patrick was up from Wakefield Monday, accompanying his daughter to the Nebraska Normal College where she takes a scientific course.

G. J. Savidge is now at work on the railroad well at Wayne and here's hoping George will find more water in his new well than the railroad carries in its stock.

The democrats of Wakefield vicinity organize a Bryan club tomorrow, Friday evening. The democrats in that dry little city are booming things for Bryan and Kern.

Frank Gaertner, O. R. Witter and Columbus Runnison (probably Munson) have been drawn to serve on the federal jury at Norfolk a week from next Monday, Sept. 28th.

O. D. Franks and party got home from Cheyenne county Monday, the Wayne parties buying about a section of land. Mr. Franks goes back to morrow with another crowd of buyers.

Ex-Representative Crockett of Knox county, a political relic of the days of populism, was in Wayne Monday on his way home from Montana where he bought land and will soon move to.

At a meeting of the republican central committee, held in the Atty. A. R. Davis' office last Saturday, Richard Closson of Carroll was selected delegate to the state convention to be held Sept. 22d.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Surber were arrivals in Wayne last Friday from Colorado where they have been looking over the country for several months. Mr. Surber has sold most of his possessions in Missouri, to which state he moved a dozen years ago, and will make another change in his residence.

Messrs Dr. Naffziger, Geo. Griffith, Dally, E. S. Wallabam, Ralph Crockett, Delbert Carter and Dewey were among the base ball fans who automobilized to Sioux City Sunday. A. N. Matheny says they were two hours and a half coming home. L. L. Way took three men from Dixon, for which he got $20.

If you are a betting man you had better get your eye sight improved with the use of properly fitted spectacles before putting your money on Bryan or Taft. Call and see Optician Vall about it, also get a few pointers on whom to wager, for Mr. Vall travels about extensively and is therefore tolerably well posted on politics as well as optical work.

Senator Robert L. Owen, the noted Oklahoman who secured the bank guaranty law for his state, will speak at Wakefield Wednesday night, Sept. 23rd. Senator Owen is part Indian and one of the greatest "Indians" fighting for "Shall the People Rule." Wayne democrats should arrange to send down a goodly delegation and show our sister city that we are alive up here, also.

Sheriff Mears went to the sand hills last week to look for horse thieves, but says all he caught or rather all that caught him, was fleas. Grant says there is nothing more vicious, than the law can't corral, than a bunch of fleas, full grown, mixed up with hot sand. The sheriff says he also met with a lot of Bryan democrats out there, in fact there didn't appear to be much else, political.

D. S. McVicker hauled out the last load from his ice house last Friday and prospects look glum for getting anything like a supply from elsewhere. Tuesday he got a carload from Sioux City, but that will probably be the last. Mac says there is an ice famine on all over the country, from St. Paul, Minn., to Wakefield, Nebr., where they usually have a big oversupply. Even the saloons will be out in course of a few days. It looks like a warm campaign until Jack frost freezes up something.

John Sprecher, editor of the Scuhlyer Free Lance and a populist, strongly endorses Taft and gives many good reasons for not supporting Bryan, the chief of which is, he can't stand the Bryan style of hop, skip and jump from one paramount issue to another. When you have a cold you may be sure that it has been caused indirectly by constipation and consequently you must first of all take something to move the bowels. This is what has made Kennedy's Cough Syrup so successful and so generally demanded. It does not constipate like most of the old fashioned cough cures, but on the other hand it gently moves the bowels and at the same time heals irritation and allays inflammation of the throat. ## Death of Mabel Ringland Mellor.

The entire community was saddened on Monday morning on hearing of the death of Queenie Mellor, for although she was known to have been critically ill, yet such hopes were entertained for her recovery that it came as a shock to her hosts of friends. The immediate cause of her death was inflammation of the pericardium, and although suffering greatly for weeks she was conscious until the last, like a tired child she sank to sleep and the end was peaceful.

Queenie was of so sweet and lovable a nature, so thoughtful and unselfish, that she called forth in others only love and esteem for her. Although not of a strong constitution, she was ever brave and sunny, and an inspiration to others.

She united with the Episcopal church at Fairbault, Minnesota, where she graduated from St. Mary's Seminary. She continued the study of music under the best instructors in Omaha, and her talent in this line has been more than a pleasure to her friends—it has been a satisfaction and a comfort. Her rendering was especially sympathetic and soothing, and her willingness always added much to pleasure.

Queenie was twenty-three years of age on the sixteenth day of February, and was the eldest of five children. To the family in which the bond of love and home life is strong, and to the mother between whom and Queenie there was such a close tenderness and companionship, the sympathy of the entire community goes out. Short funeral services were held at the residence at ten o'clock this morning conducted by the Rev. Osborne. It seemed fitting that she who loved flowers during her brief life should at the close be so lavishly surrounded by them, for death is not the dark, dreaded thing it once seemed. Although the wrench at parting is as great, and the loving longing is as keen, yet we are learning the brighter, more uplifting truth that for each and all death is but the gateway to higher possibilities, to greater achievements. We begin the next life where we leave off in this, always a clearer and clearer vision into the thought of the Infinite, always higher and larger perceptions of truth, always a larger hope and a truer knowledge that we shall, through the divine within, work out God's perfect ideals.

Weber Bros. have the best power plant at their mill that the DEMOCRAT has ever seen. It uses crude oil, five cent petroleum, and gets 40-horse power service out of a few cents worth per day, the immense engine running as smoothly as a sewing machine. It cost a lot of money to install the plant but it looks like a profitable investment. A tank, several yards from the power house, holds some 8000 gallons of the cheap oil, which is pumped in as wanted. The time required to operate is practically nothing compared to the old style engine. If you like to see a fine piece of machinery it will please you to look over this new affair at the mill.

County Supt. Littell says he had a telephone talk with Thos. Rawlings of Wakefield last Friday in which the latter told him to stand pat on that statement about Candidate D. Rees, that Rees had told him, Rawlings that he, Rees, was for county option, etc. No one who knows Adam Pilger of Stanton will doubt but that Rees told the democrats at Norfolk that he was opposed to and would vote against county option. "Man," "mouse," or even the "offensive" term of "hypocrite," fails to do Rees justice in this matter.

BY DAD

Scared! Well, what would you call it?

Scare of Bryan's election is said to be the cause of no local supply of ice, 10 cent corn and another panic right on top of the one inaugurated by the gentlemen of Wall street who are managing Taft's campaign. What do you expect the son or grand son of a republican to about it, anyway?

In a special from Winside to last evening's Sioux City Tribune, Atty. H. E. Siman of that place says he heard one Sioux City ball fan (just after the pennant closing game) ask another fan "who's running for president, anyway?" Judging from the line of argument put up by some Taft and Sherman supporters here in Wayne the Sioux City ball fan might be well informed, for all that.

A "box of books" delivered at the Walthill station for one of the literary lights of the town was an object of interest to the station agent of the dry burg; he finally notifying the receiver that it must be removed at once as it was "leaking badly." This was no doubt one of Rev. Hughes' "brain leaks," by dad.

Although President Roosevelt recommended a bank guaranty law, and although even our beloved and soon-to-be-lamented Congressman Boyd is said to have been the inventor of the bank plank in the democratic national platform—he having introduced such a bill in the last congress—it was only necessary for Candidate Taft to denounce the proposed security to bank depositors to get some "born republicans" to argue against it. It certainly is amusing if not comforting to note how firmly a certain class of people will cling to the "grand old party of prosperity and the full dinner pail." If simply the two names, republican and democrat, could be switched from one party to the other these adherents would stick to the mere name like the hair on a dog.

Taft's advertising manager was certainly driven to desperate straits when he concocted that story about an alleged plot to assassinate the "next president." Taft doesn't need to have any personal fear of anything of that sort.

Debs gave out after making less than a dozen speeches. Making speeches is too much like work.

One of the new styles of hats for women is designated the "pill box." Come on, poor man, and take your medicine.

President Roosevelt has made his will (be known) and designates Wm. H. Taft as his political heir. That is an example of "shall the people rule" from a republican standpoint. It still remains to be seen whether the big stick will whack the voters into line under the Taft banner.

The Iowa papers state that "Father died at sea a week ago." If the preachers don't know where they are at when they die what use is there for a printer, a lawyer, a barber or a prohibitionist to worry about his hereafter?

"Bryan and Kern" are the names of a pair twin boys born in Omaha last week, and the nurse says they are both democrats. Who ever heard of a stand-pat baby, anyhow?

John Soules has a "death card" from the widow of the noted theatrical manager and artist, Tony Pastor. It may be surprising to John's friends to learn that he was a member of Pastor's first bunch of black-face comedians, and John says he is not now particularly proud of the distinction, but that Pastor did pick him up in the streets of New York, when John was a kid, and put him through a course of minstrelsy. Col. Soules has seen all phases of life, from swimming Niagara falls to ringing the church bell and crying sales.

"I am in favor of making a nice, clean town of it," said Alderman Neely Monday night when the anti-spitting ordinance came up for discussion.

"Yes, that sounds good," remarked Councilman Strahan, "especially coming from a whiskey connoisseur."

A big, brawny traveling man from Iowa cleaned up a half dozen Taft spellbinders yesterday afternoon. The speaker was an old soldier; said he voted for McKinley, for Roosevelt; but, "— — —" he was "going to vote for Billy Bryan this fall because he was the best man." This gentleman appeared to be quite a curiosity to some local Wayneites, but if they would travel around the country a few days they—the gentlemen who never get away from home—would find "the woods full of them."

Don't forget, Mr. Republican, when you read Roosevelt's glowing words on Taft, that the president has also canonized Joe Cannon, the greatest escape-goat of this generation, and that the president also sang praises of the Aldrich money measure, the most damnable piece of financial legislation ever enacted.

An exchange tells how nervous headaches can be cured with an empty bottle. Why not use an empty bottle the night before and avoid getting the headache.

After all it looks as though the automobile would not displace the horse to the extent the bicycle did a few years ago. Ninety days "behind the auto" has about "cured" some Wayne people. The fellows who passed up the gasoline burners will be in the best position to tackle the air ship.

Tuesday's Sioux City Journal said: "Miss Bessie —, of —, Iowa, who by fame as the first exhibitor of a heifer at the first fair of the Inter-state association six years ago, arrived yesterday with her father." Hope Bessie has good success with the old man.—Cherokee Democrat.

It is announced that Taft will speak in Iowa before the close of the campaign. Why? There isn't any question about how Iowa will go, is there?

Debs is out giving his views on the country's needs. The principal thing is how to get a living without working.—with Debs.

A New York woman freely admits she prefers dogs to babies. If she had any babies they would certainly be wishing they were dogs.

The Waverly Democrat says: In our town nobody with $200 in cash and a bellyache is safe over night. If a doctor is called in he will have the patient in the hospital, and his appendix cut out before daylight—for the $200.

Candidate Taft, who was not even going to make speeches to white people—because he wasn't so windy as Bryan, you know—is now going about making piteous appeals to the "niggers," telling them his innermost sympathies have been with the black race ever since the days of his childhood. Say, if Bryan would make any such specious pleas as that; Bryan, the biggest, brainiest, world-wide statesman and scholar, and citizen of Nebraska, foremost state of the union; why some of you followers of Joe Cannon and Corporation Sunny Jim Sherman would want to disfranchise every democrat in the state.

Dr. Summers of Omaha was called here Tuesday to perform an operation on a Miss McManigall, at the college, a grandchild of Dan McManigall, whose parents live in South Dakota. The patient is recovering nicely.

Atty. H. E. Siman of Winside returned from Sioux City Tuesday where he saw the Packers put the finishing touches to the Omahogs, and won the Western league pennant. Harry says it "was for blood," on the square, and that Sioux City simply had license to put Omaha away to the bad.

The DEMOCRAT notes by an exchange that F. Chrischilles, who left Marsteller and Peterson a couple of years ago to get rich in North Dakota, is now back at Randolph, Iowa, working at his trade.

Millions of bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar have been sold without any person ever having experienced any other than beneficial results from its use for coughs, colds and lung trouble. This is because the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package contains no opiates or other harmful drugs. Guard your health by refusing any but the genuine. Raymond's drug store.

John H. Weatherholt was a visitor from Hoskins Tuesday and the same day left for Gordon, Sheridan county, where he has bought a ranch and will go to farming for a few years. Mr. Weatherholt says he has some of the finest best soil land out of doors, raises the biggest kind of crops aside from corn, and that the climate is as good as Colorado's. His family will go there in October.

What Experience Saves

You save a lot of trouble if you buy machinery that has been fully tested. You may save your life if you employ an experienced doctor. You may save a crop by using only tested grain for seed. Life is not long and much too valuable for anyone to waste in experimenting with everything that we need.

We have had more than thirty years experience in the clothing business, and you will save a lot of trouble and some money in trading here. There is no untried goods for sale in this store. When you buy anything here you have the satisfaction of knowing that you have bought the best and at the right price. We have recently arranged our clothing so you can see everything we have without the assistance of a clerk. This gives you a chance to look at everything in course of a few minutes. You will appreciate this new arrangement very much when you see it. No wrinkles in clothes; every suit looks the same as it did when it came from the tailor.

We are now ready for you to look at the latest styles, and we have the largest stock in town. Fall style hats are ready for you. The Hawes hat is found on the heads of more good dressers than any other make. Every hat is warranted, to give satisfaction or you get another hat. Buy your shoes here and you will save a lot of trouble and some money. We have had twenty years experience selling this same make. If your feet hurt, see us, we can give you comfort. Our experience in the clothing business makes it necessary for you to see what we have, if you want the best and want to save money on your clothing bill.

It certainly will be an expensive mistake to buy any clothing before you look here. You will please us to look and you will please yourself.

Why I Wear Wooltex Suits

"I can't afford to wear any but WOOLTEX garments," said a woman who is always noticeably well-dressed.

"I don't want to run the risk of purchasing an inferior style. I know that WOOLTEX styles are correct and always in good taste.

"I haven't the time to sew on hooks or buttons or repair linings—so I buy WOOLTEX—they are sewed to stay.

"I know WOOLTEX materials are pure wool-tested and thoroughly steam-shrunk—so I am not afraid to wear them in any kind of weather."

"I've only a limited amount to spend and I know that each WOOLTEX garment I buy will give me good service for two seasons—sometimes longer."

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

From Wayne County Teacher:

At this date Wayne county is not short one teacher. We have had 30 calls from other counties for teachers during the past two weeks.

A large number of the Winside taxpayers have expressed their appreciation of our stand in preventing an unqualified man to take up the work as principal.

Miss Mable Templeton who taught successfully in Wayne county for the past two years has been elected as intermediate teacher of the Westington, S. Dak., school.

Supt. Ned Abbott of Tekamah received the endorsement of the Democratic voters for the nomination for state superintendent. Deputy E. C. Bishop has the lead on the Republican ticket.

Teachers who failed to get supplies for the year should notify this office at once. Some who were in attendance at the institute all week have asked us to mail them. Looks as tho they were tardy or absent at least four times.

Please bear in mind that during the school year that our office day is Saturday. You may or may not find us in during the week, but do not depend upon it. I have been out of the office a part of one Saturday during the three years I have held this office.

"Lack of space" caused the Wayne Herald editor to overlook mentioning Supt. Geo. Carrington as one of the instructors of our institute last week. However, the vote received by Supt. Carrington in this county ought to serve as a gentle rebuke to such policies.

Prof. F. L. McNow, the principal of the Winside school, comes from Arlington, Nebr., where he has served several years in a like position. We believe that Winside was very fortunate in securing the services of Prof. McNow.

A report will be required from every high school in which pupils are taking advantage of the free high school law, showing that each pupil is keeping up his work, if not such pupils can no longer draw on the high school fund for tuition. In other words a district will not be liable for tuition for those who are not "making good" in their work. A point worthy of consideration.

Few teachers are so fortunate to enter a district in which they are not tempted to "take sides" in some former school trouble, or perhaps some neighborhood quarrel. Too often a teacher will thoughtlessly drop some remark that will be wrongly construed and the result need not be mentioned. Your duty as a teacher is to ignore all such matter. Say nothing, and treat everybody the same, even tho you may be convinced that a certain faction is in the right. Be a good listener and when it comes time for you to speak change the conversation.

These first days of school a teacher can do much toward insuring her success. If she will show an interest in the boys and girls of the district not in school. Call at their homes and ascertain why they are not in school. It may be that you can get them interested in starting sooner than they otherwise would. You can at least get acquainted in the home.

Considerable has been said in regard to changing the boundary lines of district 13. A part of this district is in the town of Wakefield. Many have transferred their taxes to the Wakefield district; others have asked the district (number 13) to make a levy to pay high school tuition for the children under the free high school law. It has been suggested, also that the north part of district 13 be annexed to district 60 of Dixon county, and the balance to be annexed to district 59, thus making a consolidated district. This latter suggestion seems to be a good one provided, the school house site be changed, and the people of these districts "get together" in the matter.

If you have no curtains at the windows, or the floor needs oil, speak to your director about the matter—he will be glad to do anything to help you get the best results. The cost of these two items is hardly worth mentioning, but when the cost of being without them is computed it is enormous, especially if you know their real value.

The Mystic Legion of America will have a big initiation of candidates tonight, Chas. W. Irish of Omaha being master of ceremonies.

A New York maiden of great wealth offers $200,000 for an acceptable husband. At that the "acceptable" would probably get the worst of it.

An old maid with her age marked down from 38 to 22 isn't always a good bargain.

Oh, man, man, man, of happiness here's a taste: a woman way back in New York has invented a "hookless waist."

The other evening I saw a man holding a skein of yarn while his wife wound it into a ball. Didn't suppose they ever did that anymore.

Uncle Sam is getting down to pretty small business. Nothing but pennies are being coined at the Philadelphia mint.

It looks more and more every day as if this is the proper year to turn the rascals out.

Look out for a big advance in the price of coal. The United States circuit court has decided that the anthracite coal trust may remain in business.

When any hard-shell republican tells you "corn will go to 20 cents per bushel if Bryan is elected," demand that he put up the corn; buy it on the spot for future delivery. Down in Platte county this was about all the noise the few republicans there could make—but they have quit it. A number of well-to-do farmers called the bluff; said they would not only take all the corn the republicans had to sell—if Bryan was elected—but were anxious to make the price 45 cents per bushel for next May delivery. That's the way to take all the hot air out of the Taft management, and when you get the wind out there is nothing left.

Pete Kautz and family left for Deadwood, S. D., Monday evening for an extended visit with relatives.

Fred Schroeder returned from an extended western trip last week. He traveled over a large part of Colorado and is well pleased with the country. In places where irrigation has been developed the crops are the very best.

Pete Kautz expects to put up a good sized building on the lots north of his house. The work will be commenced at once and when the structure is completed it will probably be used for a business building.

Tuesday morning Robt. Templin returned from Bloomfield where he had been to see Mr. Crosby who is at that place suffering with an attack of Typhoid fever. He is very sick but seems to be holding his own quite well. His many friends here hope that a speedy recovery will be his.

Mrs. Frank Puls had an accident early Saturday morning that may prove to be of a very serious nature. In walking across the floor she stumbled in some way and as she fell one limb was twisted in such a manner as to break it just above the knee. Medical aid was at once summoned from Norfolk and the fracture reduced. As Mrs. Puls is about sixty years old and the fracture a serious one it will probably be some time before it will heal. At present the sufferer is doing nicely and her friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Rev. Grueber Jr. and family departed for their home at New Prague, Minn., Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Grueber have been in Hosking for ten years and in that time have made many friends.

How Georgia went Dry and how it's Working.

(From an article by ex-Governor Peck of Wisconsin in the Milwaukee Sentinel.)

After doing Tennessee and watching its thousands of express packages marked, "Glass, handle with care," and seeing the packages placed in the extra cars, I got on the same train and rode to Atlanta, fearing all the time that if the front end of the train should meet another train those express cars loaded with liquid dynamite would telescope our chair car, and I would be cut with broken glass and, drowned in squirrel whiskey and be carried home smelling like a rectifying establishment; but nothing happened and I got into a state that is all dry, according to law, but quite damp in places, owing to the kindness of neighboring wet states.

Prohibition came to Georgia like a clap of thunder out of a clear sky. The state had local option, which many thought was not a half bad idea, because country communities which could not afford much police protection could prohibit the sale of intoxicants to those who misused the stuff. All was going along smoothly; cities that could regulate the sale and protect the people from injury at the hands of those who would drink too much were open and wet and then the legislature met. The members of the legislature had not been instructed to pass a prohibition law and none of them thought of such a thing when they left their homes and convened in session at Atlanta a year ago. Suddenly a bill for entire prohibition in the state was introduced and soon the trouble began.

Though there is a state law against lobbying in or about the capitol building, the prohibition forces took possession of the legislature, men, women and children. They held prayer meetings in the building and even in the legislative halls: sung hymns and buttonholed the members until life became a burden to the poor lawmakers. They were labored with; men and women got on their knees before the members and implored them to vote dry; children were brought in and they sang and cried; preachers and congregations camped on the trail of the poor representatives; escorted them to their boarding places and back to the capitol, and, being somewhat emotional, as most southern gentlemen are, they wound up by passing the dry law, so that nevermore would there be a drink of budge or foaming suds in dear old Georgia.

The members went home kicking themselves and the drys sang and prayed on the streets, and gave the people of the late wet cities the merry "ha-ha," and Georgia began to chew on what the fanatics had bit off for them. Saloons and bars were closed, or kept open for the sale of alleged soft drinks, boiled eggs, and other non-intoxicants. Drinks, containing cocaine, it is said, are sold freely to negroes and children, and a kind of beer containing so little alcohol that it would not intoxicate a rabbit, are allowed to foam out of a beer bottle, and it is drunk all the time, rattle stomach pop or any old thing, with an occasional squirt of old rye injected in by the bartender if he knows you, and knows that you need it for what ails you.

Under the old local option laws, saloons in cities were regulated better than the soft drink joints are now. The saloons were not allowed to have tables and chairs, or serve a lunch with drinks, and no women were allowed in any room connected with a saloon, the men being compelled to stand up to a bar and "take it or leave it," and the saloons had to close at an early hour nights and remain closed on Sundays, if I am rightly informed.

Now the soft joints are open all the time, tables and chairs are allowed, and women and men, regardless of whether they belong to each other, or ever saw each other before, sit together and enjoy the soft stuff, and eat and drink until they have to be helped up from the table, if the kindly barkeeper is wise to the wink the man gives him on the sly and puts in a thimbleful of "dope."

In addition to the other troubles in dry cities, nickel theaters spring up where saloons go out of business, and are crowded with men, women and children, who swirl soft stuff and laugh at stale shows that are bawdy, and the photograph plays "We Won't Go Home Till Morning," and they don't. They say, even a nickel theater job is pretty bad.

And now, what is going to be the result of prohibition in Georgia? Already the people are getting tired of it, and men who served in the last legislature from country counties are being retired or beaten at the primaries by men who are for local option, but not state-wide prohibition, who believe in allowing a large city to decide whether it shall be wet or dry, and not allowing a county to decide for a city what it shall do.

Savannah is in very bad shape, her business, which was so great up to a year ago, is so crippled that the people are actually frightened at the outlook. Savannah is one of the greatest shipping ports in the south, and was formerly the busiest city to be found anywhere, but it feels the trouble, and all business men wear an anxious look instead of the carefree look of old. The Savannah chamber of commerce has taken up the question of prohibition and has issued some resolutions on the liquor question which are too long to cite here.

The resolutions call upon the business men of Georgia to rally against prohibition as it now exists in the state, says that "the present law of Georgia unwisely and unnecessarily operates against the welfare and material interests of the state in that it forbids the manufacture and sale of malt beverages and domestic wines;" and then the last resolution says "that, in the opinion of this chamber of commerce our state laws should be so framed as to discriminate against malt and fermented beverages on the one hand and distilled spirits on the other, so as to permit of the manufacture of beers, ales and native wines, under proper regulations as to their purity and wholesomeness, while prohibiting all distilled spirits and liquors of every kind," etc.

I heard fifty men at least in Atlanta, who favored prohibition a year ago, say in effect: "We were unable to believe that we would save the negro from getting liquor, but he can get it better than ever, while we go about wanting a drink occasionally, but ashamed to take one, and our throats are parched and we are cursed hypocrites, and now we favor good beer and wine, and hereafter I will vote for beer, and would not be afraid to see a negro drink beer, because instead of driving him crazy it makes him smile, and puts money into the collection plate at his church, while whiskey makes him want to hold up the sexton and steal the collection plate."

Citizens of Georgia tell me they never saw such a change in sentiment on prohibition as there has been within the last two months and no one would be surprised to see the next legislature do something that will show that Georgia is not a state of emotional cranks, but that they are going to size up old Georgia beside New York, and demonstrate that she is capable of self government, by reasonable people, and that her people are not small beer politicians, or people that a soda water jug makes dangerous. The time is passing when the people of Georgia will be sad and smileless. Now you see few people who laugh because they like laughing.

Kodol will, in a very short time, enable the stomach to do the work it should do, and the work it should do is to digest all the food you eat. When the stomach can't do it Kodol does it for it and in the meantime the stomach is getting stronger and able to take up its regular natural work again. Kodol digests all you eat. It makes the stomach sweet and it is pleasant to take. It is sold here by T. Leahy.

A. E. LITTELL,
Co. Supt.

There is no question about county option being the main issue in Nebraska politics this fall and the prohibs will make a strong play to get a dry plank into both the democratic and republican platforms. County option is simply an alias for prohibition and the voters should not be fooled thereby. While the DEMOCRAT is not for prohibition, the real article is much preferable to any make-shift like county option. Make the latter a law in a county and it gives twenty-five per cent of the voters rule over the majority. Prohibitionists admit that it is the big wedge that drives the state into prohibition. If the majority of the voters in Wayne county want prohibition we ought to have it, but the people should not be tricked into forcing an obnoxious law upon themselves if they do not want it.

PASSED EXAMINATION SUCCESSFULLY

James Donahue, New Britain, Conn., writes: "I tried several kidney remedies, and was treated by our best physicians for diabetes, but did not improve until I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. After the second bottle I showed improvement, and five bottles cured me completely. I have since then passed a rigid examination for life insurance." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures backache and all forms of kidney and bladder trouble. Raymond's drug store.

The Norfolk News states that a farmer near Pierce "was shot in the melon patch." That is a little ambiguous but then the News was no doubt trying to run it into politics.
