"Rail for Our Fred."

Scraper, Neb., Nov. 6, '08

Fried Wolf:—I desire to express my thanks to you for the kind remarks you made about me upon being informed of my election to the state senate. You remember that I told you that I would carry my county by 500. I did not quite guess it, but it was 475 just the same. In the district I have 187. This is the first time in 16 years that a democrat has been elected in this district. It is all the more gratifying when I consider the fact that Haller has always been looked upon as exceptionally strong, never being defeated, although he ran twice before. I am all the more proud of the fact that I carried my home precinct by the largest majority in history, namely 291. It gave Mr. Bryan 103. However, I am very sorry over the defeat of our Great Com-moner, but take great consolation over the act in Nebraska.

The smile is still on, but do not believe that I could be elected President even with 1 at, had I been born here, because I now live in the west. With highest personal regards.

Yours truly,
FRIED WOLF.

"The College Boy."

The College Boy is not a so called rewritten version of some antiquated, almost forgotten comic opera, or old show with a new title, but a bright sparkling up-to-date musical comedy with tuneful catchy music and original comedy. The management states emphatically the attraction is strictly moral and refined as it totally lacks that element of vulgarity and coarseness often found in similar organizations of lesser note. This is the original College Boy and the same that delighted theatre goers for three consecutive seasons and now bigger and better than ever. The College Boy has been declared by press and public as the greatest success of all successes that have gone before. Judge for yourself on Nov. 16th, at the Opera House.

A Real Romance.

Carroll Index: Our readers will be greatly interested in the strange story that has recently become known to the friends of Mrs. Elmer Lund-burg, the wife of a former editor of the Carroll Index.

Last spring Mr. and Mrs. Lund-burg, who were then living in Wayne went to Atkinson, Neb., to visit Mrs. L.'s parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shutts. While walking down the street one day they met a lady who was a stranger to them who looked intently at Mrs. Lundburg. Then she surprised them by asking, "Who are you?" Mrs. L. told her, and then the lady asked, "But what was your maiden name?" She was told that it was Blanche Shutts. Then she said: "You are Eva Bennett. I knew your mother—and you are her very image." Of course, the Lundburgs asked her what she meant, and then this strange story came out.

A family by the name of Shutts lived across the street from the Ben-nett family, in Regas Falls, N. Y. When little Eva Bennett was but two weeks old and her mother was still in bed, Mrs. Shutts went over to see the Bennett baby. The baby was sick with colic that afternoon and Mrs. Shutts asked the nurse to let her carry the baby home with her and doctor her. The nurse consented. A few hours passed and the baby was not returned, and was sent for. To their amazement and horror the Shutts home was found vacant, with no trace as to their whereabouts. Detectives were sent out and for years the search was kept up, but no Eva Bennett was found.

It has now become known that the Shutts had no children of their own, and they coveted the baby so much that they planned to steal her from her parents. Their household goods had been packed and sent away, and it only remained to get possession of the baby. That was easily accom-plished and they left the city im-mediate. They went first to Indiana, but later moved to Atkinson, Neb., where they still live. They named the baby Blanche Shutts and she never knew that they were not her real par-ents until she had grown to woman-hood. At the time of her marriage to Elmer Lundburg they strongly ob-jected, and when asked for a reason they acknowledged that she was only an adopted child and said that they did not wish her to marry Mr. Lundburg because of the character of her mother, which was misrepresented. Mr. L. was determined, however, and they were married. It was not until the day they met this strange lady on the street in Atkinson that they found out the real state of affairs. This lady told them that the father was now dead, but that the mother still lived at the old home in New York, and

Are You Satisfied With Election?

An election makes some feel that a great injustice has been done to some of the defeated candidates, and for that reason they feel dissatisfied with the returns. To all who do not feel happy over the election we would say that we will be pleased to have you call on us for relief. We have a positive cure for anyone who looks into the future with regret. We can make life pleasant for you. No matter how many different cures you have tried, don't give up until you have seen us. During thirty years experience we have never failed to give relief when our directions have been followed up. Our cure is pleasant to take and at once makes the world a more desirable place to live in. We never yet have known an affliction of any kind that could not be helped by wearing Staley Underwear. If you are wearing it you know that we are stating facts. If you never have worn it, it is im-possible for you to realize what a change it would make in your life. It is our surroundings in life that makes us happy, and when you get surrounded with a suit of Staley underwear, your nervous system is at once affected and instead of pain and unpleasant imaginations, you will smile and the world will look cheerful. No, don't think this an advertisement for Staley underwear, for we are really interested in having you well and happy, and we are willing to do anything we can to make you forget any disappointment you may have over the election. Much of our future success depends on your success, and we know that we cannot be successful if your health fails. You will enjoy better health by wearing Staley underwear than you will by not wearing it. We will succeed better by having you live a healthy, happy life, than we should if you were less successful. So you understand it is a mutual benefit for us to make you well and keep you happy. If you have any doubt about Staley underwear doing for you all we claim it will, we invite you to call and see us, and let us explain to you why we are so confident that you will receive great benefit in wearing it.

Will you come? We are ready to receive you.

A WOOLTEX BEAUCLEVE COAT

Will Improve Any Figure

Even a figure inclined to matronly fullness may show the slim, shapely back of a girl—in this WOOLTEX Beaucleve coat. It is especially adapted to add to the grace of the slender woman. The lines are excellent. The coat is absolutely plain except for the nar-row, tailored straps cleverly ar-ranged to decrease the size of the waist.

The high waist-line and full back are the latest model. Black broadcloth only.

It's tailored in the WOOLTEX way --that is, with as much attention to the hidden parts as to the surface. This is but one of the many WOOL-TEX models--all showing the same high quality of workmanship, ma-terial, style. Let us show them to you. The price will surprise you by its moderation.

Memory Lessons

By R. F. Foster. Copyright, 1908, by R. F. Foster.

Lesson No. 1.

The first and most important thing for the pupil to understand is the difference between what we call "memory" and what scientists distinguish as "recollection."

Memory is divided into two parts, one being a memory of the muscles, and the other a memory of the senses.

Recollection is the power of recalling things to the mind at will. It is this faculty which enables us to run a time that we have heard, to tell a person's name, or to do something which we have done.

Both act when the proper stimulus is applied, either of them without it. The memory acts whether we want it or not, and often in spite of ourselves.

In order to illustrate this point, the importance of which will be seen later, let us suppose that you walk around a room you have not seen for some time.

But if a friend is with you and wishes to bring something to your recollection, he must know some place to which you can go to call the place to your mind.

FOR FEMINE EYES

By Jules Claretie. Copyright, 1897, by R. F. Foster.

LITTLE GIRL'S FROCK OF SERGE. The pretty little frock here shown was designed for a small girl, and could be copied with good effect in various colorings.

JUVENILES' FASHIONS FOLLOW THEIR ELDERS' FRUIT SHADES ARE VERY FASHIONABLE

Coats for Little People Show Almost as Much Braid as to the Woman of Taste and Unsurpassed Opportunity Given This Year.

It's lucky for children and a blessing to their mothers that fashions for small people don't change as rapidly as they do for their elders.

But this season there are a few real novelties in the dressing of little girls, and boys as well.

Their mother's waist line having been pushed up several inches higher than it has been for many years before, little daughter's imaginary waist line mounds accordingly.

The skirts are no longer shirred on to these bands, however, but are carefully cut and gored or laid in gradually pleats.

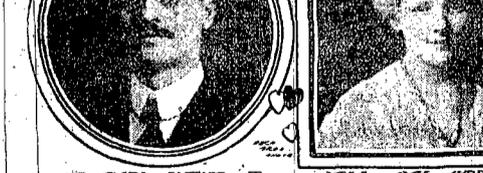

More attention is being paid this year to the fit of children's coats and skirts and a child is no longer considered well dressed whose outer garments lie in folds and bunches.

As for hats, the little girl copies her mother's mushroom or either sister's butterfly shape, turning up in front, or returns to the soft, floppy, wide brimmed felt hats, which are probably the prettiest and the most becoming to the childish face.

Old rose and green will be among the most fashionable colors, and silk scarfs will be popular for the trimming of the ordinary hat.

A ROSE THAT BUSHES. Tokyo. Japanese florists have succeeded in discovering a rose whose color is a delicate pink when the plant is in the shade, but which becomes crimson when exposed to the sun's rays.

BROTHERS TO WED SISTERS A SUMMER AUTO ROMANCE

New York, Special. At the latter end of the Church of the Atonement, October 7, Miss Florence Ahrens and her sister, Miss Amelia Ahrens, of No. 191 Edgecomb ave., the Bronx, will be married to brothers, George W. Fischer and Mr. Carl Fischer, Jr., of 292 Lenox ave.

The two couples created a sensation at the license bureau when the peculiar nature of Cupid's enterprise in this case was made clear.

The gowns of the brides at the ceremony will be exactly alike. Such plans as have been formed for the honeymoon have been kept secret.

The Crime of the Boulevard

By Jules Claretie. CHAPTER VI—Continued.

"We photograph a spurious bank note. It is magnified by the absence of light, and the proof of the alteration is found. On account of the lack of a dot the forger is detected.

The savant Helmholtz is detecting these faults. Two bank notes, one placed side by side in a stereoscope of the forger, were at once detected.

"With any one but M. Ginyori I should not dare to hope," thought the police officer, but he does not cheer himself.

"He had taken the body to the morgue. At the hour fixed for the autopsy Bernardet arrived. He seemed excited and asked M. Ginyori if since their conversation M. Ginyori had had reflected and decided to permit him to make the experiment—the famous experiment reported for so many years as useless, absurd, almost ridiculous.

"Never perhaps in his life had the police officer been so strongly moved with a desire to succeed. He brought to his table a stack of books, the renown or the possibility of advancement which urged him on.

"I see you are still enthused," said M. Ginyori. "I have thought of nothing else all night," said M. Ginyori in a tone which seemed to Bernardet to imply hope.

By his sharp voice interrupted the surgeon. "Messieurs, does not the expression of the open eyes strike you?"

"Yes," they express admirably the most perfect agony," said Bernardet. "A does it not seem," asked the examining magistrate, "as if they were fixed with that expression on the murderer?"

"Without doubt. The mouth seems to curse and the eyes to mence." "And what if the last image seen in fact that of the murderer—still remains?" asked the examining magistrate.

THE PENALTY OF REPUTATION. I guess I'll run away from here an' sail across the sea.

For no one any longer seems to care a bit for me. I want to be a pirate or a cowboy on the plains.

Or perhaps I'll be a bandit an' I'll hold up the folks. I'm sick of runnin' errands an' a-doin' of the chores.

I'm sick of gettin' off my feet an' closin' my open doors. I'm sick of everything there is, but what's a fella's got to do when he's got to do it?

It's pretty tough to be a boy that's got an awful name. For doing tricks, coz then it seems you're doin' 'em to blame.

Beoz I've broken windows, an' beoz I've chased a cat, I've been throwin' a snowball once at Deacon White's plug hat.

Whenever anything goes wrong they allus blame me. I guess they think no other boy can climb an apple tree.

An' they're allus sayin' an' so it seems most every day or two I have to take a lickin' for things I didn't do.

There's Stubby Green, as had as me, he's got a peddle. He's got a peddle. He's got a peddle. He's got a peddle.

An' he's got a peddle. He's got a peddle. He's got a peddle. He's got a peddle. He's got a peddle.

An' he's got a peddle. He's got a peddle. He's got a peddle. He's got a peddle. He's got a peddle.

An' he's got a peddle. He's got a peddle. He's got a peddle. He's got a peddle. He's got a peddle.

NECESSITY FOR LIVE STOCK. From the Chicago Live Stock World. The farmer who attempts to make a success of his business without the assistance of live stock, is like a man who attempts to do a job on his hands, for cropping will gradually take the substance out of the soil and he will soon find that his land is almost worthless.

The importance of a high degree of soil productivity in our farm operations cannot readily be overestimated. It is a certain fixed factor which must be met with whether the yield is 20 bushels of corn per acre or 60 bushels of the same acre.

The excess above this amount, which may be called the maintenance requirement, will represent profit. It is possible for a man to farm land which is so poor that he will not get a profit of $1,000, but it is equally true that a farm of 100 acres may be so productive as to net the farmer $1,000.

To meet the deficit in the budget the French minister of finance suggests the doubling of the licensing fees of vendors of absinthe. This taxing of the "green peril" will, it is thought, at least give the minister anticipations that it will bring him in $2,000,000.

According to French butchers reports the average horse carcass yields 361 pounds of meat.

THE RACKET

says otherwise--about Cheyenne county--is gospel truth.

The Norfolk News says "Taft was elected and now eggs are 25c a dozen." The News should have added that since Taft was elected we have the 25 cents. Keep history straight.

Some mean papers of Nebraska are pouring salt into Bryan's wounds. Even the Norfolk News gloats over W. J.'s awful and universal defeat. Mr. Bryan, being a good Christian man, can take all his troubles to the Almighty, and find comfort and happiness therein.

The DEMOCRAT office has a couple of lecture course tickets for sale, complimentary, at half price. The very kind and reverend gentleman who left them here no doubt expects the office force to make use of them, but since we are expected to give "value received" in "free advertising" we are forced to sell them. It appears to be a sort of fixed proposition with a few of the extraordinarily good people of this town that this office lives on "complimentaries," but such is not the case. This continual use of the DEMOCRAT to do gratis advertising may look like a "good thing" to certain parties who've aimed for years to spend all their coin elsewhere, but it does some times get to be a real bore. As the profane man says, we'd hate to be in hell with no other sort of friends and calling for a little water.

I've met defeat in times gone by too numerous to trace

I've been knocked out so many times in life's unequal race,

That when the tide that brings me joy comes rolling midding strong,

I stop and pinch myself to see if something isn't wrong.

Yet I have no complaint to make, no doleful song to sing--

The Lord is good. He gives to me the winter and the spring,

The sunny skies of summertime that makes this earth more dear,

The glad green fields of waving grain, the autumn with its cheer.

And friends as dear as any friend of any--everywhit--

And this old earth is good to me as I have been to it.

When Chas. Riggs and son arranged for the production of The College Boy they evidently had in mind a form of entertainment that would appeal to all classes. That their original ideas and subsequent formation of them were based upon keen observation is known by the remarkable favor with which the offering has been received for three consecutive seasons. The song and comedy features embrace novelties that appeal to every one--from the gallery to the critics in the parquet. There is not a dull moment in the whole performance, it giving the comedian Bernard Riggs, and supporting cast ample opportunity of demonstrating their talents as singers, dancers and farriers. The plot sustains a pretty love story and the songs and musical numbers are "hits,"--every one. The College Boy comes to the Opera house November 16.

Advertising space in the DEMOCRAT is strictly ten cents per inch, and that up to a half page, which is $7; full page $12. Locals 5 cents per line. No reduction from these prices will be allowed, under any circumstances. We would rather lose the cheap-priced advertisements, if only for the purpose of treating all patrons alike. Ten cents per inch for display advertising is about the lowest in the country. The Wakefield Republican, with probably half the circulation the Democrat has charges and gets 15c per inch, so a Wakefield merchant tells us. Many small sheets of a few hundreds circulation run better than the ten cent rate.

Men Past Sixty in Danger

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Remedy should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." Agent T. W. Moran tells the DEMOCRAT there will be no change whatever in the running of Sunday trains. You see, Bryan wasn't elected. It is now up to the Wayne Commercial club to see that we get Sunday mail at Wayne, although the only occasion we have heard from that body the past year was the collecting of fees for its maintenance.

C. A. Chace says he has an old hen that refused to lay an egg from the date of Bryan's Denver nomination until Taft was declared elected, on the 4th day of November dropping a fine, large, brown egg for C. A.'s breakfast.

morning," said Marshal Miner yesterday afternoon to yours humbly. "I dreamed," continued the night sleuth, "that you bet your printing office on election with Ted Perry, and you were so mad when you lost it that you killed Ted, and then Ted's friends hung you, wasn't that funny?" concluded the marshal. Come to think about it there is nothing funny over such a chain of circumstances. In the first place if Perry got the printing office we'd feel sorry for him--as well as A. B. Clark. In the second place Ted wouldn't let us kill him, we'll bet a thousand on it. In the third place why should anyone want to hang--well it isn't a bit funny.

Conductor Frank Henderson says the hens up the branch have quit laying since Taft was elected. If Frank doesn't quit flirting with--well, there will be an old hen laying for him.

few bell." It takes some cities a long, long time to inaugurate foolish reforms. Here in Wayne we had "curfew bells" years and years ago. Now we only whistle for it.

Of course, by dad, the government (by the interests) got a knock out blow on that 29 million dollar fine against Standard Oil. What's the use of running a presidential election and paying twice for it?

O. D. Franks thinks newspaper advertising is all right when it is right, but worse than prohibition when it is wrong. A few weeks ago A. E. Kivette came back from Cheyenne county and jokingly told the DEMOCRAT man there was six feet of snow in that country. Of course it went in the paper and O. D. has been kept busy ever since explaining to his customers for western land that it was worse than a "white lie." Of course all the paper

County Option.

The advocates of county local option will be unable to get much satisfaction out of the election returns. This question was principally in issue in the great and intelligent commonwealths—Ohio and Indiana. In both the republican party had a county local option law to defend—that in Indiana having been enacted in a special legislative session called for that purpose in the middle of the campaign. And in both states the democratic party was on record as opposed to the policy.

The result was that in both states the democratic candidate for governor was elected. In Indiana a democratic legislature was also elected, while in Ohio the republican majority in the legislature was tremendously reduced. The verdict against county option appears to be reasonably plain.

In Nebraska the question was not to issue so far as platform declarations were concerned. Yet it was generally understood that the democratic party was favorable to the rigid enforcement of the present Slocumb law, while the republican party was tending toward county option. Unquestionably this had something to do with the election of Shallenberger and a democratic legislature.

To say that this means "the brewers did it" is a cheap slander of Nebraska. Nebraska is the most intelligent state, with the least percentage of illiteracy, of any in the union. Nebraska people are not to be controlled by breweries or any other influence than their own conscience, good judgment, and sound common sense.

The World-Herald believes that, in the Slocumb law, Nebraska has the best law for the regulation of the liquor traffic of any state in the union. It offers a genuine local option. The people of a community, under that law, may vote for a system of rigidly-regulated saloons, or against it. But under the county option system the people of a county are permitted to vote only against it. They cannot establish the system by an affirmative vote. For the option then goes back to the several municipalities in the county. This is one of several objections to the county option plan—its essential unfairness.

Nebraska has done well under the Slocumb law. And there are reasons to believe Nebraska is pretty well satisfied with it, demanding, however, that it be enforced strictly, impartially and fearlessly.—World-Herald.

Matrimonial Catechism.

(United Presbyteryn.)

What is marriage?

Marriage is an institution for the blind.

Why do some people never marry?

Because they do not believe in divorce.

When a man thinks seriously of marriage, what happens?

He remains single.

Should a man marry a girl for her money?

No. But he should not let her be an old maid just because she's rich.

When a girl refers to a "sad courtship," what does she mean?

She means that the man got away.

Is an engagement as good as a marriage?

It's better.

In selecting a husband, why does a girl prefer a fat man?

Because a fat man finds it hard to stoop to anything low.

When asking papa, how should a young man act?

He should face papa manfully and never give him a chance at his back.

When the minister says, "Do you take this woman for better or for worse?" what does he mean?

The bridegroom's people construe it one way, and the bride's family interpret it another. It is very sad.

When a man says he can manage his wife, what does he mean?

He means he can make her do anything she wants to.

When a child is smart and good, to whose family is it due?

To its mother's.

When a child is bad and stupid, to whose family is it due?

We refuse to answer.

Is it possible for a married man to be a fool without knowing it?

Not if his wife is alive.

Sholes News

By Special Correspondent:

Asher Hurlbert made a business trip to Wayne last Saturday.

Elmer Closson is mourning the loss of 50 plunks on Bryan's success in Nebraska.

The 1-year-old child of Mike Halpin's was taken to Lincoln last week to be operated on for a spinal affection.

Henry Summers loaded all his earthly possessions into a car and pulled out for Lyman county, S. D.

August Lamburg is building an addition to his residence.

Ben Robinson and John Fitzsimmons are erecting a mammoth corn crib on the Wadsworth ranch southwest of Sholes.

John Jackson says he may lose his homestead in S. D., but he still has a lucky claim in Nebraska that he will try and hold down a while yet.

Calvin Hulbert claims that Nebraska's wintry blasts and spring rains are too much for him so he expects soon to take his departure for S. D. where it will be all summer to him.

Some low down degraded party or parties made a raid on Asher Hurlbert's steam thresher on Hallow'een and somewhat demolished the engine and otherwise tore things up. A few playful pranks on such occasions may be alright, but anyone that will go out and destroy property as those parties did are a disgrace to the mother who gave them birth and they certainly are a menace to the community in which they live.

College Notes.

Mr. E. L. Fix, of Norfolk, a former student of the Normal, called on College friends Sunday.

Misses Anna and Jennie Bellows spent Sunday at the home of Margaret Jamison near Norfolk.

Mrs. Pile writes that U. S. Ambassador or Reed gave a reception on election day to the American visiting teachers.

Miss Edith McCullough of Wareham enrolled this week for the remainder of the year. She will enter the elementary class to graduate in August.

Prof. Hunter gave a most interesting talk last Saturday at one o'clock. Miss Jennie Bellows will speak this coming Saturday and we are sure all who attend will enjoy it.

The special elocution class will give a play in the Chapel, Friday evening, Nov. 20th, beginning at 8 o'clock. The public is invited. A small admission will be charged.

Mr. Jones of Wynot stopped off between trains Tuesday to see how his son and nephew were getting along with their work here. They are splendid young men and are doing nicely in their studies.

Among the most enjoyable Chapel exercises of the year were those of last Saturday morning when Rev. Osborne and Mr. Ferguson discussed the question, "Is it better to be kicked upstairs than to be kicked down stairs?"

Miss Jessie Beechel came down from Plainview Saturday to visit friends. She took supper with the folks on the hill and returned in the evening. Miss Beechel is meeting with splendid success in the Plainview schools, where she has taught the last two years.

Among pleasant visitors on the hill last Saturday were Miss Nellie Clark of Wayne and Miss Morrison of Coleridge. Miss Clark was one of our students two years ago and Miss Morrison was a student with us when the school was first established.

Misses Elsie V. Dobbin, Elizabeth Olds, Ida Glenson and Ester Bengtson, all of Certificate class of '08, made short calls at the College during the past week. All are teaching and report success and pleasure in their work. They are having vacation during the corn picking season.

Ganderbone's Nov. Forecast

In the old Roman calendar November was the ninth month. Blessings fell early, and the emperors gave thanks just before the first frost; but about 700 B. C. the trusts left the people so little to be thankful for after nine months that it was decided to wait awhile and see if anything would come of the Roman elections. Numa accordingly made November the eleventh month and had Thanksgiving fall with the first snows, notwithstanding the month gets its name from the Latin novem (nine).

The frisky colt will sniff the air and hear the whistling quail, and the festive calf will indicate the zenith with his tail. The frost will paint the forest with a deep and redder dye, the hired man will shuck his corn, the pumpkin vine will die, the politicians will hit up their office-holding feud, and the modest maple tree will blush and come out in the nude.

The annual show down between city and country life will be complete by the 20th, when the farmer will have his cellar stocked with potatoes, turnips, kraut, honey, nuts, hams, side-meat, fouse, popcorn, pickled pigs feet, apple butter, lard, sweet potatoes and sorghum, and the city man will enter with his cellar stocked with ten tons of hard coal and two gas meters.

The man who made election bets, Rely on his knowledge, Will write a sad note to his son, Withdrawing him from college. The football season will wind up. The class room claim its braves, And the faculty will order flowers And decorate the graves.

A double fleece-lined coat of hair will come in style of dogs and the farmer will put on the pot and kill his latted hogs. The air will team with shots and squeals and sundry flavors sweet, the good housewife will render lard and scrape and pickle feet the spared old hens will get a note of terror in their cackling, and the children will refresh their toms with good old-fashioned cracklings.

Mr. Roosevelt's annual proclamation advancing the price of turkey 10 cents a pound will be issued about the middle of the month. He will urge us to give thanks that 55,000,000 cubic feet of earth was excavated at Panama in October.

The sad faced gobbler will address His young and tearful flock, And dip for memory's sack. A small and tear-stained lock, And then, with many sighs, will lay His head upon the block.

Until the 25th, November will be under zodiacal sign of Scorpio. People born in Scorpio are cross at supper, and it is better if possible, to be born after the 25th when the month is under the sign of Sagittarius the Archer. Sagittarius people are only cross at breakfast, when everybody is.

The flower for November is the Chrysanthemum, which signifies that Japan received our feet without startling anything. The moon will be full on the 8th.

Along about the 25th The Duke of the Abruzzi Will get it all fixed up that he Shall wed his totsey totsey; And Elkins pere will dance a jig And dream of wedding cake. While everybody else makes bets On whether it will take. And then December will blow in with cold and Christmas glee, and old King Coal, the merry soul, will thunder out, "Pay me."

Go to Whalen's for a delicious cup of hot coffee or chocolate, only 5 cents, best in the city.

The Democrat understands that the theft of larceny and whips has become a common practice in Carroll, and Marshal Maher is going to put a stop to it. "ICE KING" MORSE SENTENCED TO 15 YEARS IN PRISON

While Alfred H. Curtis, Who Also Was Found Guilty, Goes Free

WRIT OF ERROR

New York, Nov. 9.—A writ of error in the case of Morse was obtained from Judge Loe today.

New York, Nov. 9.—Charles W. Morse, one time "ice king" and "steak-morse king," whose personal fortune is little more than a year ago was estimated at more than $22,000,000, was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment, having yesterday been convicted of the misapplication of funds of the National Bank of North America.

Sentence on Alfred H. Curtis, former president of the National Bank of North America, who was found guilty with Mr. Morse, was suspended.

Mr. Morse was taken to the Tombs at 1 o'clock this afternoon. At that time he announced that an application for his release on bail would be made today.

The sentence on Mr. Morse is based on the charge of misapplication of funds and making false entries in the books of the bank. It is understood that if Morse goes to prison he will be confined in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga.

Ten Days' Stay. Ten days' stay in the execution of the sentence upon Mr. Morse was granted by Judge Hough. He was paroled to the custody of Marshal Henkel, pending an appeal which may be taken during the 10 days' stay.

The scene in the court room when sentence was pronounced by Judge Hough was the dramatic one. The wife of the two prisoners, who were present early today as if anxious to cheer their husbands by their presence in the winding orb which confronted them.

Mr. Morse sat like a stone when he heard the verdict which condemned him to prison. There was scarcely a tremor of an eyelid.

Mr. Curtis, too, accepted the news which came to him—good news in his case—without a word of emotion that characterized Morse.

Women Collapse. But the strain had been too great for the women. As the truth of what Judge Hough's words meant flashed through all the trying days of the trial had preserved an unruffled demeanor, collapsed in her seat, buried her face in her hands and began to sob convulsively.

Still weeping, she was led away to an ante room, where in a moment her husband held her in his arms and sought to comfort her.

Nor was Mrs. Curtis any more prepared for the nervous strain than Mrs. Morse. When the judgment of the court was given for her husband she fainted and would have fallen had not kindly hands supported her.

Both in Tombs Cell. Morse and Curtis passed a fairly restless night in the Tombs, where they occupied a cell together. Early this morning, after a breakfast of plain prison fare, they were taken to the ante room by Marshal Henkel. They appeared to be somewhat chattered with their keepers and friends.

More than an hour before the hour set for convening, crowds began to gather in the ante room to witness the closing scenes of the sensational case. Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Curtis were among the early arrivals. They greeted their husbands most affectionately.

The lawyer who defended Morse scarcely taken their places inside the railing before court formally opened.

Ex-Judge Olcott, who had represented Morse in this trial, made a touching appeal for the benefit of his client. In the appeal he was given the active aid of District Attorney Stimson, who informed the court that the accused justice could be served by suspending sentence in the case of Curtis.

After justifying clemency for Curtis, Judge Hough pronounced sentence upon Morse.

"In the case of Mr. Morse there's not much to be said," said the judge. "As in all bank fraud cases larger sentences are imposed as a deterrent to the public's depositors' money for speculative purposes. If such a scheme were permitted to be carried out the public would be at the mercy of bank adventurers. Therefore a sentence of 15 years in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga."

Scenes of Trial. New York, Nov. 9.—Charles W. Morse, until a year ago a dominant figure in the world of finance, and Alfred H. Curtis, former president of the National Bank of North America, were found guilty in the sensational branch of the United States circuit court on charges of misapplication of funds and falsifying the books of the bank.

There is also the charge of conspiracy against the prisoners, but the jury acquitted the men on this count.

Within five minutes of the time the jury had rendered its verdict Judge Hough had refused to entertain a motion for bail and had committed the two to the Tombs' prison.

The federal statutes provide a minimum penalty of five years' imprisonment for falsifying the books of a bank, and a penalty of two years' imprisonment and $5,000 fine, or both, for misapplication of funds.

No alternative but imprisonment is provided for conviction on the charge of falsifying the books of a bank. The maximum penalty on this charge is 10 years' imprisonment.

The jury recommended clemency for Mr. Curtis, but made no recommendation in the case of Mr. Morse.

REPUBLICANS TO HAVE TWO-THIRDS OF U. S. SENATE

Some Surprises to Washington in Defeats—Kern May Be Senator

Washington, Nov. 7.—The present indications are that the republicans will have a safe two-thirds majority in the United States Senate as the result of the election, or practically the same as at present.

Of the 92 members of that body 61 are holdovers, leaving only 31 places to fill. Of these 19 are republicans and 12 democrats. Names of senators-elect in Maryland and Maryland already have chosen democrats and Kentucky and Vermont republicans. The other senators to whom successors are to be elected follow:

Republicans: Allison, of Iowa, who will be succeeded by a republican; Ankeny, Washington; Brandegee, Connecticut; Callahan, New Jersey; Hanger, of Ohio; Heyburn, Idaho; Hopkins, Illinois; Kittredge, South Dakota; Long, Kansas; Penrose, Pennsylvania; Perkins, California; Vreeland, New York; Smoot, Utah; Stephenson, Wisconsin, all of whom will be succeeded either by themselves or other republicans.

Democrats: Clay, Georgia; Gary, South Carolina; Gore, Oklahoma; Milton, Florida; Overman, North Carolina, all of whom will be succeeded by democrats.

The only senatorships remaining in doubt are those of Ohio, Indiana and Oregon, who are now represented by Senators Foraker, Hemenway and Nelson, respectively. In Colorado, Missouri and Nevada, represented by Senators Teller, Stone and Newlands, democrats.

Kern May Be Senator. It Indiana should send a democrat in place of Hemenway it is supposed here that John W. Kern, the defeated vice presidential candidate, would be chosen, and he would be the first democrat to succeed to a senatorial seat from Indiana since 1899, when David Turpie surrendered his office to Senator Beveridge.

The final figures regarding the result in the House probably will show little change in numbers on the respective sides, but there will be a considerable shifting of the personnel of that body. A number of seats already have been recorded and probably the most pronounced will be the defeat of Representative Hepburn, of the Eighth Iowa district. Mr. Hepburn has been chairman so long and as chairman of the Interstate commerce committee has been so prominent that he had come to be regarded as almost a fixture in congress so long and a supporter of the president's policies.

Surprises. Washington was quite unprepared for the retirement of C. B. Landis and Jesse Overstreet, of Indiana. Both hold high positions and have been long in the service.

That General Sherwood, the independent democrat from the Ninth Ohio district, who sprang into office during the last session, will be succeeded by one of his soldier colleagues, General Keifer, should be retired is not so surprising as he was elected in 1896 by a majority of only 100 in the district which had hitherto been overwhelmingly republican.

The defeat of J. T. McCleary by Mr. Hammond in the Second Minnesota district has been a surprise, inasmuch as McCleary had resigned his position as second assistant postmaster general to make the race.

Republicans generally are delighted with their gain of two members from the new state of Oklahoma. The changes will give the republicans three of the five members of the House from that state.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 7.—Along the Pacific coast sharks often attain a large size. Recently a monster shark was captured in San Pedro bay, Southern California, which is declared to be the largest creature of its kind ever captured in the world. When first drawn out of the water and killed, this vertebrae measured 47 1/2 inches long, and weighed 4,000 pounds. It measured from tip to tip just 32 feet, and the circumference of the body just forward of the huge dorsal fin was 15 feet.

The dorsal fin was bifurcated, the upper part being the partial mouth—horizontal when open. It was two and a half feet, while from the tip of the snout to the point of the lower jaw it was 10 feet 6 inches long.

This monster shark became entangled in the net of two Italian fishermen, which resulted in its capture finally.

Returns compiled early today from every county give Taft a lead over Bryan in Missouri of 67 votes. The same tables give Taft a lead of 479 votes in Arkansas, making his election over Cawley an absolute certainty.

Unofficial returns from 114 out of 115 counties, 88 of the counties being completely given to Taft, show that the republican plurality is 15,153. Only an official count can decide the complexion of the electoral vote.

According to returns from all the congressional districts, with the exception of Missouri, the next national House will consist of 215 republicans and 172 democrats.

The missing county is Morgan. The republican state committee claims this for Taft by a plurality of 360 votes, two less than received by Roosevelt over Parker four years ago. On this basis the republican vote is not yet counted. In the absence of complete figures this result is far from decisive.

Stone or Folk? Stone has seemingly defeated Folk by a safe plurality for the democratic nomination, and the chances are that Governor McKimlin has ordered the republican primary over his nearest opponent, Richard C. Kerens. The latter refuses to concede this, however. He issued a statement at noon declaring reports thus far are inaccurate, and that the official figures will disclose his nomination. Folk claims the complete returns from county dis-

To the student's surprise, the president displayed a thorough familiarity with the game, and the student asked earnestly as though it had been Greek or mathematics. Indeed, his treatment of the topic brought out so many points that the student, who had been told that the youth was moved to remark to his hostess:

"Well, this talk with President Flint has shown me how true it is we never meet any one from whom we can't learn something!"

MARYLAND AND MISSOURI CLOSE

Results Will Not Be Known Until Official Count Is Made

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5.—Bryan the morning after the election telegraph to President-Elect Taft.

"Please accept congratulations and best wishes for the success of your administration. (Signed) William J. Bryan.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Mr. Taft today replied to Mr. Bryan's telegram of congratulations as follows: "I thank you sincerely for your cordial and courteous telegram of congratulations and good wishes."

Baltimore, Nov. 5.—Steady republican gains shown in the official canvass of the vote, begun at noon, apparently indicate that Taft has carried Maryland by a safe plurality, although the electoral vote in all probability will be divided.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon unofficial returns from every county gave Taft a lead over Bryan in Maryland of 1,134 votes.

Baltimore, Nov. 5.—The official canvass of Maryland's vote began today but it will be several days before the count is complete. Nothing definite has been received from the pluralities for one or the other as figured by the local correspondents.

Using these figures Taft's vote in the state and city combined is 11,345 and the republican vote is 10,211. The precincts reported on, Taft has 60,832 and Bryan 49,682, giving the city to the former by just 1,150.

Michigan. Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—With a few county districts still to hear from, part of the Detroit vote is yet counted, practically certain today that Governor Warner has been re-elected for a third term by about 8,000 to 9,000 plurality over Honors (democratic).

Wisconsin. Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 5.—The total vote in Wisconsin will not be known for several days. Aside from two leading parties, the social democrats and the progressives, the republican party vote in Milwaukee county shows gains over four years ago of 2,000 and 1,000 over two years ago. The probability vote in Milwaukee county probably is 10,000 for Taft and 9,000 for Bryan.

Nebraska. Omaha, Neb., Nov. 5.—Senator Francis G. Newlands (democratic) has been elected by a safe majority of 2,000 and 3,000. The democrats will control both branches of the legislature.

Georgia. Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 5.—Votes of all parties were counted at 10 o'clock. The republican party, 29,000; republican, 29,000; people's party, 17,200; prohibition, 750; independent, 55.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 7.—Pluralities reported by counties complete except as to Custer, show that the republicans have carried all counties in the state with the exception of Aurora and Brule. OLD-FOES ARE AT OUTFIGHT AGAIN

Germany and France Spar Over What is Called "a Strained Situation"

Paris, Nov. 7.—It is rumored here this afternoon Prince von Baudin, the German ambassador, has been recalled. The report cannot be verified.

The following statement with regard to the present situation was secured this afternoon from an authoritative source:

The situation is very strained. Minister Cambon yesterday communicated to Herr von Schoen, German foreign secretary, the refusal of France to export wheat to the study of her officers and soldiers at Casa Bianca. Herr Schoen reserved Germany's reply, but at the same time he intimated that the situation might be relieved.

In an effort to avoid breach, France sent a note to M. Cambon embodying a conciliatory formula made public after the cabinet meeting today. This was accompanied by the following words:

"We await Germany's response, confident that this formula must appeal to the German government, which frankly wishes to reach an understanding with France."

Russia and Great Britain fully support the attitude of France. The viewpoint of Germany in the Casa Bianca difficulty was explained officially by the foreign office this morning.

"All we demand," said the official, "is a simple expression of regret from France for the violence employed against the German consular officials at Casa Bianca. If this is forthcoming there would be no objection to conducting further negotiations. We cannot permit this point to be submitted in arbitration, for we regard it as a matter of honor that such a regret should be expressed."

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 7.—To plead a woman's beauty as excuse for having embraced her on the street, after overpowering her escort with the aid of his pocket knife, was the plea which had never been heard before, but it failed to make this plea of sufficient weight with his judge to escape a fine of $100. The judge said that fine with the cheerful assurance that the defendant was a woman of good character and that it was a bargain were the evidences of a buoyant disposition which Leonard Lusculo, 327 South Fourth st., had shown yesterday morning, after a hearing before Magistrate Moore upon a charge of assault upon Charles Devers, 417 McKean st., the escort, and "promiscuous hugging" of Miss Rose Dubin, 417 McKean st., the woman, who was charged before Magistrate Moore upon a charge of assault upon Charles Devers.

Miss Dubin and Devers had been returning from a ball about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, when Chifon Jack Lusculo came in sight. "Oh, look who's here!" they exclaimed, and before Devers could utter a word of protest, Miss Dubin he had been overpowered by Lusculo and reached port on Monday morning unable to pay it he was sent to Moyamensing.

Atlantic Liner on Her Maiden Trip is Fearfully Mauled. New York, Nov. 7.—Carrying 675 passengers in her steerage and nearly 100 in her cabin, the Italian liner, a new steamship of the Italian line, arrived here on her maiden trip from Naples after encountering a terrific storm.

For forty-eight hours Captain Giovanni Origo did not leave the bridge, and all that time heavy seas tore across the ship, the seas wrenched the vessel from the crew and washed into the sea everything movable on deck. The gale lasted from the Azores westward for more than 700 miles. Passengers were battered about in the cabins and saloons, dishes were smashed, and there was a general uproar. Following the worst part of the storm the vessel made her way without mishap and reached port on Monday night of Saturday, as had been scheduled.

Among the passengers was Federico di Palma, formerly a member of the Italian cabinet and now a director of the Rome National Review, who comes to this country to wed Miss Agnes Williams, of Lowell, Mass., whom he met in Rome last year. He is returning to Italy, and will make their home in Rome. Four years ago he was elected to the Italian parliament by the Independent Union congress, which was held in St. Louis. He will again be a candidate for the chamber of deputies in the spring.

Litigation Raises Cost of Pair of Shoes to $175.75. Birmingham, Ill., Nov. 7.—This trading war will go on when his stubborn side is aroused, and there is a chance to win through litigation, is a case in the law courts of this city, just received from the county court.

James H. Galbreath, an employe of the Illinois Central, purchased a pair of shoes for $3 from a local firm. After wearing them for a few days he returned and was sued. He lost his case in the justice court, costs being assessed against him of $85. He appealed to the county court and lost there, his costs being $100. Still confident of victory he has appealed to the circuit court, and may go to the supreme court.

He spent yesterday less of time in attending the various trials, his attorney fees, those of his opponent, court costs and other expenses in the case, have aggregated $175.75. The other side shows any disposition to quit.

The King Solomon

HEARTILY ENDORSED

"Will Double in Value Within a Year," Says the Mayor of Frisco.

Have you read the last "Little Miner?" It is a double number and tells lots of good things about King Solomon.

"Profit and Loss," one of the best Mining Magazines in the country, sent a mining expert up to Frisco to look over the camp and especially over King Solomon. His opinion was written for "Profit and Loss," and is copied in the "Little Miner." It covers three pages, as the writer goes into every detail. Here are a few sentences.

"This energetic company has driven a crosscut tunnel over 2100 feet into the steep side of Royal mountain, which contains some of the strongest true fissure mineral veins in the state of Colorado."

"No property in the Frisco district is worked in more modern, scientific fashion than that in which the King Solomon is being operated now."

"So the King Solomon is not a prospect but a real mine. The work on the property has been done with a view to making future heavy mining operations easy, and a large tonnage can be mined with facility when the company once gets ready to extract its ores."

Speaking of the management the writer says:

"It is conservative as as could be desired, and has shown rare business judgment to date in handling the company's affairs."

Conclusions of the Mayor of Frisco.

In answer to an enquirer the Mayor of Frisco writes a strong endorsement of King Solomon. You should read his letter; it is in "The Little Miner." Here is one sentence:

"In conclusion, allow me to state that your holdings in the King Solomon Tunnel & Development Company, in my opinion, are gilt edge, and I believe will double in value within a year."

A new design for $5 gold pieces is out. Here's hoping they are shaped so that we will be able to pile up a lot of them.

Let's have a little rest before we try to figure out what will happen in 1912.

It is possible that some day Joe Cannon will die. He will go off before the tariff is revised by the republicans to benefit the common people.

We are ready now for them to tell us where they got their money.

Happy as a clam is a hungry man who stops at Wealen's for hot chocolate, coffee or a delicious sandwich.

A Wayne county farmer in town Monday morning was kicking about a drop of four cents in the price of corn.

Such a protest is of little consequence in face of the 40 cent drop if Bryan had been elected.

The World-Herald says an Englishman who came to this country to observe and study the political campaign went insane. He must have been giving pre-election prophecies as to Bryan's electoral vote.

About the only way left for Bryan to play even with Teddy is to get up a counter attraction in Africa. William Jennings might find the light in Darkest Africa.

From the way other state republican authorities are alighting on Victor Rosewater, the latter gentleman had better go way back to Jerusalem.

There were 2410 voters in the election in Wayne county Nov. '03, the biggest vote ever polled in the county. Last year there were 1901, and in 1896, the year of white horses and big parades, there were 2300.

Have you paid your taxes?

Somehow the trusts are all "good trusts" just before an election.

Some one send word to President Roosevelt that the election has taken place.

John A. Johnson of Minnesota would have received a far worse beating than Bryan got---outside of Minnesota.

Nothing at all funny about Gov. Sheldon's threat to force prohibition on Nebraska. Sheldon's long suit is making spectacular stunts that mean nothing.

The supreme court of Nebraska has affirmed the verdict of the lower court in fining Peter Tomson, a former Wayne saloon keeper, for selling liquor to minors. It was for refusing to revoke Tomson's license that the Wayne city dads were called before the governor by Elmer E. Thomas, and it was because the governor refused to fine the councilmen that Thomas got his dander up, and it was because Thomas got "mad" that he told the prohibs to vote for Shallenberger, and it was because the prohibs voted for Shallenberger that Gov. Sheldon was not re-elected, and it was because Sheldon was not re-elected that he now threatens the state with a prohibition law---and the green grass grows all-round, all-round, the green grass grows all-round.

The Cherokee, Iowa, Democrat aptly puts it: Goodbye, Bill, until 1912. The people seem to love you, but damen, they wont vote for you, not yet.

Wm. Dammeyer went to Sioux City last Friday, taking a box full of hats. Bill said some had to be made smaller, particularly John Nicols, who lost all his money betting Taft would carry Nebraska. Then he also had one of Fred Volpp's that had to have an extension put in the band, and another for a saloonkeeper in the First ward who voted for Morris, Randall and Taft, which had to be blocked to a peak at the top.

This appears to have been a poor year for the Berrys. Fred Berry was defeated for county attorney of Dakota county by J. J. McAllister, whom Berry defeated two years ago, by just seven votes.

A "well known" Iowa farmer reports to the press that his three cows, which for ten days had been hanging onto their milk, gave down four quarts more than they had been accustomed to ever giving, as soon as Taft was elected. That looks easy to some Nebraskans. Over here it was "our whole summer's wages"

The Columbus Telegram last week printed Gov. Elect Shallenberger's picture, and beneath said: "Look at this face. It has always been a good face in Nebraska. It looks better now than before. The owner of the face was elected to the highest office in the commonwealth. Much will be anticipated at the hands of the new governor, and he will meet all expectations. He has promised the people that he will govern his official conduct in harmony with his party platform. He is a strong man, a firm man, a true man. He will make good. Nebraska will be proud of Governor Sheldon." That ought to even please the friends of defeated Gov. Sheldon.

Judging from what Walter Wellman found in Ohio, Indiana and New York states prior to Nov. 4th, 1908, it would be easy for him to find the North Pole and land it in Washington.

Afterward.

It is not the purpose of the Telegram to predict evil for the country under President Taft. He will be the president of the whole people, and he cannot adopt a policy which will injure democrats, without at the same time carrying injury to the great majority of republicans. And so we shall join with our republican friends in the wish and in the hope that under President Taft the country may enjoy every blessing promised in his name.

But we deem it not inappropriate at this time to express opinion as to the forces responsible for the defeat of Mr. Bryan. He was opposed by every corporate interest which seeks special privileges under the government. Those interests are powerful. They have dictated the policy of every national administration since 1889. They are securely entrenched. It is believed by many men of probity that the great money power of the nation will never permit the election of a president unfriendly. We do not mean to say that money power bought the votes of the American people as men buy cattle, but rather that the great influence of money was employed to awe weak men---not the awe of the citizen in the face of the footpad---not the awe of the weak woman in the face of the strong brute---but rather that more shameful awe which the craven feels under threat of injury to his property interests.

Bryan's greatest strength was also his greatest weakness. His advocacy of guarantee of bank deposits won him the intense loyalty of the masses who had sufficient intelligence to understand, but it also won him the bitter opposition of the criminal banking interests of Wall street, and that the opposition was backed up by a campaign fund sufficient to accomplish its purpose. The same may be said of his plea for the election of United States senators by direct vote, publicity of campaign contributions, and the criminal rich, and they defended their stolen castles with an energy worthy a better cause.

But what of the great leader who fell in the fight for humanity last Tuesday? We know he has been discredited in the gaze of many. We know that the Tammany tiger cursing him, and saying we might have won a victory with some eastern democrat in the leadership. The Telegram is ready to admit that we might have elected some democrat to the presidency on one condition---namely, that he had been more satisfactory to the criminal rich than was the republican nominee. But what would have been the value of such a victory to men who believe in real democratic principles? Nothing. It would have been a victory at the sacrifice of everything which a natural democrat holds dear, and the democrat who wants that kind of victory is not worthy the name.

What of Bryan in the days to come? We know they say his star has set. We know they predict that never again will he be a force among the American people. But wait a minute. They have said that before. They have carried him to the grave in other days. They have heaped the stones of abuse upon his tomb, and they have sung hell's own requiems in the presence of his downcast friends. But other days dawned, and the dead came forth from the grave and drew to himself and to his cause the mightiest following of unpurchasable humanity that ever followed in the train of any man upon the earth. Will Bryan come again to his old place? Indeed, has he lost that old place of affection in the hearts of the common men of America? No man may safely prophesy as to what the years may have in store for such a man. He may never again lead in capacity as a candidate the cause of the people of the land. He may never again seek or accept a nomination for office. But his star will not pale. His influence will not disappear. God does not raise up such a man for naught. In the hour of defeat he is as dear to every true lover of humanity as he could be in the hour of a personal victory. Bryan and Bryanism are not dead. Love for Bryan the man lives in the hearts of millions of men in this republic, and will live. Love for and devotion to his principles lives in those same hearts, and will live.---Edgar Howard in Columbus Telegram.
