LaCroix Loses His Suit.

Sioux City Journal: The suit for damages brought by M. A. LaCroix against the Stacey Manufacturing Co., was dismissed without prejudice upon motion of the plaintiff and the costs in the action, which will amount to several hundred dollars, have been taxed up to LaCroix. The case was started last Friday. LaCroix, who was employed by the Stacey Co. in the erection of a storage tank, claimed he was permanently injured by being struck in the abdomen by a plank. To illustrate to the jury the nature of the alleged accident a scaffold had been erected in the court room.

Workmen who were engaged with LaCroix when the accident is said to have occurred were brought from New Orleans to testify. Dr. Natzinger of Wayne, Neb., yesterday told LaCroix's attorneys that he had treated the man for hernia six months before the accident, and a motion to dismiss was the result. Fred W. Sargent, who represented the defendant, pleaded with the court to enter an order so that the plaintiff could not again institute suit.

"This man LaCroix is a perjurer your honor," declared Mr. Sargent. "He knew he was perjuring himself when he began this suit. His physician is here and ready to testify to the court that he was ruptured six months before this accident occurred. Why do the plaintiff's attorneys want this case dismissed without prejudice unless they intend to try it again? And where is LaCroix? Why does he not stand up and deny what I have said?" J. W. Hallam and H. A. Evans represented LaCroix and Hallam said in reply to Sargent that they were out of the case for good and promised not to have anything more to do with it if the court would dismiss the case without prejudice.

Sholes News

By Special Correspondent: Everett Sunhahl and wife were over Sunday visitors at the Asher Hurlbert home.

Asher Hurlbert was up in Cedar county last week and purchased a sorghum mill and 10-horse power gasoline engine. He expects to plant 400 acres of sugar cane next season.

The corn harvest in this vicinity is about half done, most all the farmers reporting a great yield and No. 1 quality.

The young folks at Asher Hurlbert's gave a dance to their friends Saturday night, Sundahl Bros. furnishing the music. Willie Hurlbert was floor manager, Calvin acted as toastmaster, while Miss Ella looked after the ladies. They certainly know how to show the young people a good time.

We are creditably informed that our road overseer made a trip to Wayne last week and after taking a few doses of nerve tonic made his way to County Superintendent Littell's office and made a complaint against the principal of Sholes' schools and his subordinates, all because his little boy could not do just as he pleased at school. All other patrons are well pleased with the way the schools are being conducted, and just so long as parents take up their children's quarrels on the school ground there will be more or less trouble. If these parents will give their children a little proper training at home and let the teachers look after them while at school, they will find it better for pupils and parents and all concerned.

It Is Sensational.

Sheriff Mear took E. Roy Surber to the penitentiary at Lincoln last Friday, upon advice from the warden, and the paroled offender was to have had an audience with the governor on Saturday, but the executive had more important business to attend to and the Surber hearing was postponed.

The DEMOCRAT's account of the affair, last week, might lead some people to believe that Ted Perry employed the principals in this local drama or tragedy, but as a matter of fact Ted had absolutely nothing to do with the bunch, it being on his farm but the place being leased to David Elson.

"Doc." Surber is not very sanguine of getting his wayward nephew loose at the hearing before the governor, but says they will keep at it until he is released, and argues from the standpoint that if E. Roy has done anything wrong, it was through force of circumstances, and circumstances are to blame for it.

David Elson, tenant on the Perry farm, is very bitter against Surber, and swears they will land him where he belongs. Mr. Elson tells the DEMOCRAT that he hired G. C. Clariage and wife, the couple going to his place from L. M. Owen's. He also employed E. Roy Surber to work on the farm. Trouble ensued and he discharged Mr. and Mrs. Clariage, but Mrs. Elson kept the woman, and Clariage went a'one. Elson says it was then a pretty time they had watching Surber and Mrs. Clariage, upon one occasion finding him in her room. Then he, Elson, hung up the 23 sign for E. Roy, and the latter phoned in to a Wayne livery and got a rig with which he took his affinity to Wayne. Later on Elson re-hired Clariage, and some time ago Mrs. Clariage wrote her husband, telling him Surber was to blame for all her waywardness. Armed with this letter Clariage went to see the governor, hence the calling in of the paroled prisoner.

Have you been up to see our new schoolhouse lately? It grew fast those pleasant days and is going to be an immense affair. A great deal of money could be used to splendid advantage to help furnish the building when completed and the DEMOCRAT understands the several clubs and societies have the raising of these funds in view. No better object for public giving can be found. Our children spend a great part of the time there each week. The DEMOCRAT's columns are open and free for this purpose. We hear of one man in the county who intends to donate $1,000 for this purpose.

HOW BIRDS KILLED A SNAKE.

Contest in Which Reptile Had Small Chance for His Life. Alma Correspondence Forest and Stream. Ed Neal and his sister, Miss Jessie Neal of Alma tell a strange story and vouch for the truth of it. They had been spending the last month with their father, Younger Neal, at their old home in the country near Alma, and one day last week they were out driving when they saw in the road in front of them a large snake of the kind known as coach whip. Stopping the horse in order to kill the snake they discovered that a pair of mockingbirds were flying at and striking the reptile with their beaks. First from one side of the road and then from the other. They watched the battle, as they call it, for something like half an hour, when the snake entirely ceased to attempt to avoid the angry onslaught of the enraged songsters.

NO SKIN LEFT ON BODY.

For Six Months Baby Was Expected to Die with Eczema—Now Well. Doctor Said to Use Cuticura. "Six months after birth my little girl broke out with eczema and I had two doctors in attendance. There was not a particle of skin left on her body, the blood oozed out just anywhere, and we had to wrap her in silk and carry her on a pillow for ten weeks. She was the most terrible sight I ever saw, and for six months I looked for her to die. I used every known remedy to alleviate her suffering, for it was terrible to witness. Dr. C. gave her up. Dr. B. recommended the Cuticura Remedies. She will soon be three years old and has never had a sign of the dread trouble since. We used about eight cakes of Cuticura Soap and tubs of Cuticura Ointment. James J. Smith, Durmid, Va., Oct. 14 and 22, 1906."

He Was Worn Out.

There was a certain western congressman whose "household affairs" and "political intrigues" had occasionally led him into absurd mistakes. One day, during his last campaign, as he stepped from the train at the station of his home town after an arduous two weeks of stumping and "glad-handing," his little daughter rushed up to him and kissed him. The congressman became upset and with a proud and tender parental eye.

Same Old Way.

"Oh, I don't know," said the man, feeling not a bit wiser. "I got my complexion the same way you got yours—a powder puff." And the lady went away.

Courage in the Witness Box.

From the London Daily Mirror. Man is apt to suffer in the witness box from a kind of mental paralysis.

One by the 'Vice' President.

From the Washington Star. Vice President Fairbanks, at a recent reception, said of a certain deplorable condition: "We don't need new laws to correct this condition. We simply need the old law enforced." "The old laws have been construed too mildly. It is like the state of things in the Benedictine monks' new colony in India. An Indianapolis friend of mine, writing in Spain, lunched at the monastery of the Benedictines. After lunch he took out his cigar. "I don't suppose you object to smoking here?" he said to the white-clad monk attendant. "No, sir, do," the monk answered. "There is a law against smoking in the refectory." "Then where," said my friend, "do all the cigars and cigars stubs come from that I see about me?" "From the gentlemen who didn't ask about the law," the monk replied mildly.

DOWN MISSOURI WAY.

Canada's Respect for Law and Order the Subject for Favorable Comment. Those who have visited Canada are always impressed with the strict observance that is given to the laws of the country, and the order that is preserved everywhere. The editor of the Gazette of Fulton, Nev., recently paid a visit to western Canada. He was so impressed with the conditions that he saw everywhere that on his return home he was inspired to write as follows:

"Reverence and respect for law is a dominant characteristic of the Canadian people. Wherever one goes in Canada, whether east or west, the law is supreme. The law is obeyed because it is law, seemingly, and not because violation carries a penalty. Canada enforces the law and makes every law effective. No country is more free than Canada. In name Canada is a dependency of the British crown. In fact, it is almost a third republic. All its taxes are voted, collected and expended by the Dominion and the provinces. The nominal head of the government is the governor general, appointed by the English crown. Practically his only authority is to veto the acts of parliament, which he scarcely ever exercises. Canada gives nothing to the support of the English government or the English king. She gives England the advantage in trade regulations and tariff laws, and in return receives the protection of the British army and navy. Canada enjoys the protection without sharing in the expense.

The sale of liquor is strictly regulated. None but hotelkeepers may obtain license to vend the stuff, and before a license can be secured an applicant must prove good character and provide 20 rooms in his tavern for the accommodation of guests. The bar rooms close at 7 o'clock Saturday evening and remain closed until Monday morning. The schools and churches in western Canada excite admiration. Though new, western Canada is not Godless. The finest buildings in every town are the churches. Next come the school houses."

Talking to the wheat fields of western Canada, the editor of the Laurel (Neb.) Advocate of Sept. 17, says: "I have often thought that the reason that the characters of Charles Dickens are so impressed upon the minds of his readers is because he dwells upon them so long and describes them so minutely that by the time one has waded through his long drawn out stories they are so burned into his brain that he can never forget them. It was this way with the Canadian wheat fields. Had we only seen a few of the memory of them might have worn away in time, but a long drawn out experience such as we had is sure to leave an ineffaceable impression. Never while we live shall we forget the Canadian wheat fields. They call it the granary of the British Empire and we don't blame 'em. Nobody who has seen their wheat fields can wonder at their enthusiasm."

It is worth while to record that these fields have now been harvested, and in many cases yields as high as forty and fifty bushels per acre have been marketed, while the general average has been away above twenty bushels per acre. Oats and barley have also done well, and the profits, the prices of grains being high, have paid the entire cost of the farms of many a farmer. There is now 160 acres of land given away, in addition to the 160 acres that the homesteader may purchase at $3.00 an acre. Particulars of this as well as the lowest railway rates will be given by the Canadian government agent.

He Was Looking for Her.

From the Cleveland Leader. In the course of his remarks the lecturer reviewed the agricultural prospects of a country and as an illustration told of a poor farmer who had died, leaving to his wife the farm heavily mortgaged. He said that the widow set to work with a will and needed a good deal of money to pay in paying off the entire mortgage. When he had completed his lecture, the gentleman shook hands and greeted the lecturer with a hearty "good-bye." The middle aged man finally approached him thoughtfully and began: "I say, mister, you told a story about the widow raising a mortgage on one 'Zear's crop' every year. Is that a true story? It happened only two years ago."

He Was Happy.

From the Omaha Daily News. H. H. Raldrige is an attorney who has handled a number of estates and has heard many widows tell what "lovely" husbands they had. In many cases he has heard the widow say that she had never been so happy as she was when she was married.

Official Statistics from Japan are favorable in regard to the rice production this year.

It appears that the crop will reach a record, being 18 per cent over the production of last year. The value of that crop, at the minimum price of 25 francs 35 centimes, the total value amounts to more than 2,000,000,000 francs, and this abundance will result in increased exports.

George J. W. Tips.

More suggestive of the title than the title of libraries is the all-important subject of tips, to which Mr. Russell devotes a chapter. Like all wise people, he has given up the struggle against the tip, and has decided to take it as it comes. He says that a man should be a little daily practice of this kind, with the self-examination afterward, will make an astonishing difference in your powers of retention. He says that if you follow his rules to guide you, which will be given in the next lesson, your memory should improve rapidly.

PE-RU-NA AS A LAST RESORT

Mr. Wm. F. Vahlberg, Oklahoma City, Okla., writes: "One bottle of Peruna which I have taken did more toward relieving me of an aggravated case of catarrh of the stomach than years of treatment with the best physicians."

"I had given up hopes of relief, and only tried Peruna as a last resort. I shall continue using it, as I feel satisfied it will effect an entire and permanent cure."

"I most cheerfully recommend Peruna to all who may read this."

Peruna is usually taken as a last resort. Doctors have been tried and failed. Other remedies have been used. Sanitariums have been visited. Travel has been resorted to.

At last Peruna is tried. Relief is found. This history is repeated over and over again every day in the year. It is such results as this that gives Peruna its unassailable hold upon the people. We could say nothing that would add force to such testimonials as the above. That this right remedy has been found and tried every other remedy available, and relief in Peruna, constitutes the best argument that could be made.

Too Kind.

George V. Keely, a veteran journalist of Cleveland, remembers Artemus Ward called on him, he said the other day, "the night before one of his panoramic lectures. There were some thirty or forty large rollers scurrying about my room, and they attracted his attention."

"I am very fond of roaches," he said. "I have my own home. I found a roach struggling in a bowl of water. I took a half walnut shell and put him in it. It made a good boat. I gave him a couple of toothpicks for oars. Next day he had fastened a pair of hair to one of the toothpicks and had evidently been fishing. Then, overcome with exhaustion, he had fallen asleep. This sight made me weep for him. I washed him and let him go. That roach never forgot my kindness, and now my home is full of roaches."

New York city has 20 more school buildings for the opening of the new school year than there were last year. They will accommodate 26,000 children. Before the close of October there will be four more schools for 6,500 pupils. The total enrollment this year is 610,000.

"There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until a few years was supposed to be incurable. Lesson No. 3.

The intellectual difference between a man like Ralph Waldo Emerson and an immigrant who can neither read nor write is probably greater than the intellectual difference between the immigrant and a hen. The difference between the men who control affairs, who manage large interests and who legislate, and the men who shop or earn their living as clerks is a difference of mind. Their physical powers may be equal, but their mental powers may be as wide apart as the poles.

We are seeking for wealth and power, for social advancement. The most pronounced characteristic of the successful man, and of all great minds, is the power of attention. The man who has the attention and energies upon a given subject, to the exclusion of all others. This power of attention is the dividing line between the trained and the untrained intellect. The man who has the attention and energies upon a given subject, to the exclusion of all others. This power of attention is the dividing line between the trained and the untrained intellect.

Nothing can be remembered unless we pay attention to it. Our attention may be attracted by a sudden flash of lightning, or it may be that easy attention which is called spontaneous. It is no trouble to stop and look at a fire or a dog fight, but it is not so easy to learn the performance of the man who has the attention and energies upon a given subject, to the exclusion of all others. This power of attention is the dividing line between the trained and the untrained intellect.

THIS YOUNG MAN PROPOSED TO GIRL WITH HIS FINGERS

Many students who have attended Columbia university have had at least one or two proposals to have their fingers educated. These love affairs are designated by the young people as "cases." Most of the affairs are between the men and women of the university. A few young men, however, are won by the hearts of some girl attending one or the other of the two colleges exclusively for girls. This latter was the case of William Butler Bushyhead of Tahlequah, Okla., did. The young woman who possessed sufficient charms to lure the descendant of a prominent Cherokee chief away from the wife of a university cood was Miss Nina Ribby Walker, of Pleasant Green, Mo. The young women of the two girls' schools each had chosen the art of talking on their fingers. Now the two people received their childish accomplishment and while the favored young lady sat on the window sill of her room in the college building her lover was in the window of his room across the street. Every move Miss Walker made with her fingers was closely followed by the eyes of young Indian who immediately signaled back his answer and then asked a question of his own. It was during one of these signal talks that he proposed that their fingers be made into one and with a joyous nod and furious working of fingers she answered in the affirmative.

When their school days were over they returned to their respective homes and told the news to their parents. All Columbia college and university society was deeply interested in this novel and unique proposal. The young man and woman were both graduates of Cumberland university, where he matriculated and she of Missouri university. He is admitted to the Oklahoma bar and is practicing law at Muskogee. Miss Walker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walker, of Pleasant Green, Mo. He is a wealthy stockman and the young lady is related to some of the most prominent families in Missouri. The young man has been married to a girl in this fall and will go to live on the old Bushyhead ranch near Tahlequah, where the fortunate young man is building a large modern house for his bride-to-be.

Too Luxurious. August Belmont, in the smokeroom of the liner that brought him back to America—it was an English liner, and these boats have "smoking" instead of "smoking" rooms—told one afternoon many interesting things about London. Mr. Belmont described the street near Tottenham Court road where second-hand clothes are sold. "A discussion I overheard in that street," he said, "will give you some idea of the price of a young man's suit. 'I say, said a young man, 'what price these boys?' 'And he held up before the dealer a pair of plaid trousers. 'I can let you have 'em, my son, for sixpence,' the dealer answered. 'The other three the trousers back into the window. 'I don't want a pair for Sunday. I want 'em for workin' in.'"

College Notes

There was no school on Thanksgiving Day but all classes resided at the regular time on Friday following.

Prof. Fred Pile will give the one o'clock lecture Saturday. Prof. Bright delivered a most interesting address on "The Dream of Two Lovers" last Saturday.

The results of the examinations held last week show splendid work on the part of most of the students. The Graduating classes are large and the student body as a whole is stronger than usual.

The girls of the Young Women's Christian Association are making arrangements to hold a bazaar in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Saturday December 5th. Each member has donated one or more articles which will be sold; also pennants will be on sale at that time.

The social Saturday evening in charge of the different graduating classes was among the most successful of the year. Each class did its "stunt" and the young men gave several musical selections.

Miss Julia Davis of Emerson, who completed the Teachers' Professional course last year, made a short call on the Hill between trains Saturday. She teaches near Emerson, boards at home and is finding things real pleasant.

The play "Diamond and Hearts" which was given by the special elocution class, Friday evening in the Chapel was well attended and a neat little sum raised for purchasing books for the elocution library.

Among new students to enroll this week for the winter are: George Rockwell of Hubbard Floyd; Mott of Laurel; Eugene Anderson of Mariaville. All these young men have been here before and have returned to complete a course.

A mission study class was organized last week, consisting of both young men and women. The work will probably not begin until after the holiday vacation, as it will require some time to get the books. The book to be studied first is "The Future Citizens of America."

Miss Margaret Jamieson of Norfolk spent Saturday and Sunday with college friends. We are sorry that on account of her mother's poor health, it is impossible for her to be in school this term, but we hope she may return in the spring and graduate with the class.

Was Mrs. Elmer Lundburg Stolen?

The DEMOCRAT is in receipt of a mass of "literature" concerning the alleged abduction of Mrs. Elmer Lundburg in the early days of her babyhood. In it are lengthy articles from the Atkinson Graphic, denouncing the writer of the abduction story, and vindicating the foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Shutt, of that city. There is also a letter from the pastor of the church at Malone, N. Y., where the infant was baptized, June 10, 1877, showing no sponsors. A personal letter to Mr. and Mrs. Shutt from Mr. Lundburg, before his marriage to their adopted daughter, showing that he knew the entire history of the young woman's life—years ago. And last but not least a purported copy of the adoption papers. Why the "abduction, hot air story" was published this paper cannot say, unless to tickle the public with a "real romance," the Shutt family being the only injured parties.

The Graphic says in part: The sensational article appearing in the Norfolk Daily News and the Carroll Index in which Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Shutt, well known and respected residents of this city, are charged with the crime of kidnapping Mrs. Eva Blanche Lundburg, nee Shutt, thirty three years ago, from her mother, Mrs. Sarah Bennett, of Malone, Franklin county, N. Y., and kept her from her lawful heritage of a good home and the kind influence of a cultured, loving mother all these years, are not borne out by the facts, reluctantly given to the Graphic after Mr. and Mrs. Shutt had read the accusations against them. In 1875 Mr. and Mrs. Shutt, residing at Malone, N. Y., when some charitably inclined ladies persuaded her to accept the care and responsibility of rearing a little two weeks old girl, a waif of the county, abandoned by its mother, Sarah Bennett, and raise it to womanhood; having no children of their own they accepted the charge, bringing her to their home on the first of July, 1875. They continued to live there two and one-half years, from that date when they moved to Lyons, Iowa, where after a residence of nearly eight years they came to Atkinson and made their home, keeping up a correspondence by mail with former friends and relatives at Malone. When they arrived here Blanche was given their name and treated as a daughter as can be attested to by all of their neighbors. She was given all the advantage that our schools permit graduating from our high school with honors.

In 1903 she became engaged to Elmer Lundburg, the editor of the Carroll Index, and was given in marriage to him by them at their home after Mr. Lundburg had been informed of the existing relations between them. That Blanche appreciated their loving care and kindness is shown by the appended letter written by Mr. Lundburg in answer to one written by them to him disclosing her parentage. The following adoption papers bear out the truth of their statement and sympathy for this aged, kind hearted, couple whose act of charity brings grief and sorrow to them in their declining years, is freely expressed by their friends and neighbors who have known them for the past twenty years and it is hoped that the press who have given prominence to the false accusation against this worthy couple will make amends by making known to their readers the facts in the case as they appear to be.

Mr. Berry was defeated in the recent election for county attorney by J. J. McAllister, the democratic candidate, by the narrow margin of seven votes, and believing that a careful canvass will show more than that number of defective ballots he has filed a complaint in the Dakota county courts demanding a recount, which will be held before Judge Stinson some time before December 10.

A few days later her best fellow John called to spend the Sabbath afternoon, so Mary, who was not much posted on cowology, having only taken one agricultural course at the Wayne Normal, took John out to see the young critter that was soon to be part his'n. "Isn't it a dandy little cowlet?" queried Mary, rapturously. "Humph! I don't know about that," replied John rather dubiously; "pears more like a bullet to me."

The latest returns are to the effect that it cost close to two million dollars to elect Taft. But as most of the amount was contributed by trust magnates and tariff beneficiaries the common people will not feel the effect directly, no matter if they do pay it in the long run. DISPERSION SALE OF LOGAN VALLEY HERD OF SHORT-HORNS

C. W. BABCOCK & SON will sell over 100 head from their well-known herd, consisting of Glosters, Floras, Potts, Emmas, Orange Blossoms, Imp. Louisas, Wild Eyes, Paris, Barrington Dutchesses, Young Marys, Phyllises, Vellums, Fawsleys and Rose of Sharons, on Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 30-Nov. 1

A series of circumstances has influenced me to sell my farm, consequently we must dispose of our Logan Valley herd of Shornhorn Cattle, which will embrace upwards of 100 head, besides some sixty calves, which will be sold with their dams. There will be some fifteen young bulls of serviceable age in this offering, balance beings cows and heifers. Cows are mostly sired by either Baron Gloster 133091 or King Abbotsburn 185254, both pure Scotch bulls, followed by young Contractor 217260 and Queen's Champion 305660, which are also Scotch bulls. Queen's Champion and Councilor, his own brother, are included in this sale. These cows are a useful lot of milking and breeding cows, practical workers, as will be seen by the number of calves. These cattle will be sold directly off pasture, without grain, consequently are thin in flesh and will sell for much less than their real value. CHARLES McMONIES

A Little By Dad, By Dad.

I understand that the Methodist minister, Rev. Sharpe, gave the Wayne Herald a great bunch of flowers and a paying advertisement last Sunday a. m., claiming that it was equal to the best religious publications; always on the side of right and working for the best interests of the church; advising his congregation to subscribe, etc., etc. We have nothing to say against the Herald, and no doubt it is all that Rev. Sharpe claims it to be—as to its religious inclinations. We like the editor of the Herald even more than we do his paper, for he is a mighty good business neighbor. Rev. Sharpe said nothing against the DEMOCRAT, for which of course we are duly thankful; we could stand a scoring, however, much better than a chunk of taffy. Nevertheless it may surprise the reverend gentleman to know that the DEMOCRAT is something of a reform sheet, itself, and he may be still more surprised to learn that a very estimable lady, a member of his church, stated some years ago that the DEMOCRAT had done more good in Wayne than all the churches combined. That, of course, was before Rev. Sharpe's day—in Wayne, but it was probably no exaggeration, for so strenuously did this paper fight the evil-doers and grafters—one or two notable instances where the latter class occupied front pews in the M. E. church—that the result even terminated in more or less of a reformation of the DEMOCRAT. While the Herald is pro-church very strongly, even the people who do not love this paper—because it has never been a church organ—must and will admit that it has always called a spade a spade, and some "knaves" it has put in the limelight have either reformed or skidoed. The DEMOCRAT has always been a friend to the poor, and, by dad, a thorn in the side of the bull-doing rich; it has tried in its best, if only weak way, to help the oppressed and bring a message of cheer and sympathy for the sorrowing. We have, ourselves, not been immune to a word of kindness—the strongest weapon in the hands of God's teachers, but often used the least.

The DEMOCRAT is for everything that builds up, and for the good of Wayne, even though our judgment on some matters may not be good as that of our neighbors. Not afraid to be iconoclastic for what needs tearing down—the paper that is read by more people than any other in the county—the paper that is not only read by those who subscribe but many who borrow. Now is the

The trial of Ted Perry for assaulting A. B. Clark, on the Perry farm, a few weeks ago, was heard in police court at Ponca last Friday, Perry being found guilty and being fined $30 and costs, a expense of about $150. A. B. Clark had to be taken to the depot in a wheel chair, and was unable to come home after the trial was completed. Surveyor Jones, Chas. Madden and several other witnesses gave evidence in the case. A feature of the trial was the fainting of A. B. Clark, on the witness stand, attendants reviving him. At the conclusion of the trial, at 12:30 at night, the judge stated that he would make up his docket next day and send the defendant the bill for payment. Atty. Wilbur objected to this procedure which got some pointed remarks from the defendant for the prosecuting attorney. Mr. Clark went to Omaha from Ponca for medical attention, arriving home Monday morning.

HOTEL PORTER STEALS $40,000 IN DIAMONDS

Reckless Case Containing the Sparklers and Caught Before He Claimed Them.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 23.—Within five hours yesterday Charles Leonard, baggage man at the New Henshaw hotel, after checking a $40,000 trunk of diamonds and jewelry to Mrs. E. St. Joseph, was indicted by the grand jury, was arrested as he stepped from the train at St. Joseph, and has been indicted by the grand jury, admitting that he committed the theft single handed.

The treasure trunk belonged to Philip T. Hartshorn, treasurer for Kremnitz & Co. of Newark, N. J. Searching baggage checks on the trunk was the method Leonard adopted to secure possession of it.

The first suspicion of the disappearance of the jewelry arose when Mr. Hartshorn attempted to claim it at the union station by presenting the duplicate tag which Leonard had given him.

A telegram to Kremnitz & Co., Friday evening notified them of the disappearance of the trunk, and their speedy recovery and the capture of the thief.

Charles Leonard is between 22 and 25 years of age and had been working for the Henshaw hotel as a porter, porter and baggage clerk for several months.

Comets From The Commoner.

Mr. Cannon says he has won a great victory. That much will be conceded. There is one consolation about it all—the change from the big stick to the golf stick.

Naturally, and of course, the trusts took the first whack at prosperity by advancing prices.

Says "Uncle Joe": Present Taft may call a special session to revise the tariff, but I'll be there, all right."

The Outlook announces that "Mr. Roosevelt's contributions will be necessarily restricted in length and frequency." Huh!

A whole lot of papers that four, eight and twelve years ago "buried Bryan" seem to be worrying a whole lot over Mr. Bryan's future.

"But remember," observes the Wall Street Journal, "that the revision (of the tariff) is to be carried out by its friends." It is just that fact that gives no hope of relief to the victims and causes rejoicing among the beneficiaries.

Having rounded them up before, Mr. Hitchcock will be made postmaster general in order to keep them rounded up after.

"What shall we do with our ex-president?" is a question that no longer worries the country. It has been succeeded by one of greater moment: "What will our ex-presidents do to us?"

That heavy rumbling sound from the east is merely the happy tread of protected trusts marching on to Washington to help revise the tariff upward.

Some of these days American voters who express a willingness to die for a principle will not be deterred from supporting it by the threat of being deprived of a few meals.

A few more letters on things in general and the new associate editor of the Outlook will have run out of topics before he mounts his editorial tripod.

Is it venturesome to predict that the work of revising the tariff will be begun by the appointment of a commission to consider the matter for a few years?

The Washington Herald suggests that Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan render it "Maryland, Our Maryland," as a duet. Will the Herald kindly strike the chord—A minor, please.

They are making! so much noise over the Morse conviction in New York that a lot of fellows worse than Morse are likely to escape notice. And that may, perhaps, be the game.

Major Minnamascot is quietly eating alfalfa at Fairview while awaiting a definite answer to the oft-repeated query, "Who gets the mule?" New York City having been eliminated from the equation the answer is slightly simplified.

Seems strange that to date no one has suggested that perhaps the ex-president will be ex-officio a member of the Taft cabinet. But does anyone doubt that he will be?

Having refused to play the presidential game according to White House directions, Mr. Gompers is now to be deprived of the inestimable privilege of fondling the White House doll rags.

The shelving of Gompers is loudly demanded by a lot of republican organs that know very well the continued ascendancy of their party depends upon the party's ability to deceive the workingmen.

And now comes the report that they have struck an underground lake on the site of the Panama canal's largest dam. There seems to be a whole lot of underground trouble about that canal job.

Mr. Roosevelt advocates the coinage of gold with depressed faces. But wouldn't that be a mournful reminder of the visages of those who suffered from a "republican panic" under his administration?

If Senator Elkins is weary of all this fuss about the duke and the daughter he can end it with a jar by mefely showing that he has lost all his money or that he isn't going to let go of any of it.

The Century Magazine suppressed an entire edition at the request of Emperor William who did not want to stand for an interview printed in the magazine. We see the Outlook of the future doing anything like that!

Now that their demands for free wood pulp and print paper will not sound so much like a democratic demand for tariff revision, a lot of republican organs will resume their fearful pleas for a removal of the tariff on the articles they have to purchase in quantity.

Sherman presiding over the senate, Cannon presiding over the house, Payne chairman of the ways and means committee, with Datzell to help him apply the brakes—and the republican party promises "unequivocally" to "immediately" revise the tariff. No, those western earth-quakes were not caused by shivers of fear shaking the eastern trust magnates.

Today the treasury of the United States is called upon to meet $14,000,000 of the three per cent bond issue of a year ago—the issue made to "move crops" when republican prosperity was rampant, confidence restored, more money in circulation than ever, a tariff in force that was a sure preventive of panics. Remember how the republican organs damned Cleveland for a bond issue? And remember how they praised the statesmanship of Roosevelt for a bond issue that did not have a tittle of the cause that brought on the Cleveland issue.

You can cure dyspepsia, indigestion, sour or weak stomach, or in fact any form of stomach trouble if you will take Kodol occasionally just at the times when you need it. Kodol does not have to be taken all the time. Ordinarily you only take Kodol now and then, because it completely digests the food without the aid of Kodol. Then you don't need Kodol any longer. Try it today on our guarantee. We know what it will do for you. Sold by J. T. Leahy.

Men Pay Sixty in Danger

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Remedy should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy I feel better than I have in twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." W. E. Gleason came down from his S. Dakota home last Wednesday to be at home for about two months. He has his buildings completed and has found things very pleasant. The weather has been warm and aside from being a little lonely Mr. Gleason finds homesteading a very good occupation.

We understand that one of the schools at Wayne has been closed on account of small pox. There are only a few cases but some children went to school while suffering from the disease.

Stella Weatherholt and Freda Korth came down from Norfolk Sunday to visit friends.

L. Carr and children went to Wayne Saturday to spend Sunday with relatives.

The death of Mrs. Wm. Pfeil occurred at the home of her son Ed last Thursday afternoon. She had been sick about six weeks and her death was due to the infirmities of old age. Mary Winter was born in Germany eighty four years, two months and six days ago. In 1846 she was married to Wm. Pfeil and in 1882 they came to America and took a homestead near Hoskins and made this their permanent home. To this union were born eight children: six of whom are living, three daughters and three sons. Ed., Charley, Fredinard, Mrs. Schermer, Mrs. Lohleman and Mrs. Petzold, all being present at the funeral except Mrs. Petzold, who lives in S. Dakota. The services were conducted from the Lutheran church of which the deceased was a member, by Rev. Brauder of Hadar, after which interment was made in the Lutheran Cemetery west of town. The vast throng of friends of the family that attended the last sad rites bespoke the esteem in which she was held by those who knew her. The sympathy and condolence of the community goes out to those upon whom this death has caused sorrow to come.

Messrs. Saulsbury, William Mellor and Perry Theobald were passengers to Sioux City this morning.

W. L. Roberts and his nephew Bert Roberts left this morning for Savana, Ill, to visit W. L.'s parents. His father is 93 years old and his mother 92, a hearty old couple, and the son and grandson will enjoy a visit after several years absence.

Mrs. Henry Schorer is entertaining her parents and a sister and her husband from Norfolk.

Frank S. Perdue has been selected as deputy state superintendent.

Mr and Mrs. Fred Berry and Miss Edna Relyea came up from Sioux City last night for Thanksgiving.

Frank Nangle was an arrival from Iowa last evening to eat turkey with his mother and sister.

Messrs. Will Buetow, Jas. Finn and Jake Wingert got home last night from South Dakota.

W. S. Slaughter and wife were arrivals this morning.

Roy Jeffery is again paring whiskers at Rickabaugh's. He will move to town in the spring.

Mrs. King, who visited her son O. A., returned to Newell, Io., yesterday.
