"A Few From H. B. Miller."

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 1st, 1909.
Editor, Nebraska Democrat.

My Dear Sir:—It is quite a while since I troubled you with any of my nonsense and knowing as I do that there is a message due from me to many of my old friends and neighbors, and knowing as I do that, I can reach the most of them through your moral sheet, I am going to torment you once more. So here goes: After my trip around the world I balanced up my books and discovered I was flat broke—less "$3.27" due from my groceryman. With that, I got a piece of bacon, a pound of coffee and a couple of loaves of bread, had taters, salt, pepper and water at home. I had loaned my pens before starting on my long journey, I got them home and put them to laying, and went to work. Last fall when I settled with my groceryman there was due me $5.15. I sold my hogs, taters and 94 boxes of my big red apples at $1.25 per box, and here I am in the metropolis of the west, "living on the fat of the land, taking life easy. Have money to throw at the birds. It costs me the same for board here that it did in Nebraska, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado and Oregon. I came over on the 15th of December. Have met quite a few old timers. Among them E. J. Sherman and Brother Merritt, who have fine homes in South Park and are living on "easy" street. Yesterday, who should come in but Nelson Grimsley and Bob Osborn. Nels is looking like a boy since he got home from a trip around the world. I don't think he would weigh as much as Fred Volpp of Lincoln, Neb. Bob's friends picked him up last fall and they never let him down until they landed him in the county house as assessor, the ran so far ahead of Taft—and Taft was not slow—he hardly knew he was running. Bob said he had been over to the capitol to a meeting of sessions. The Wayne contingent in the Chelan country are all living on the best, get three square meals a day. Many of the little girls and boys who came out when I did are ma and pa now. That is quite an industry in this western world. I had over 300 boxes of apples from my four-year old orchard, and they were dandies. I wish I could get some of them into that region. Seattle is preparing to put her best foot foremost next summer, was out to the exposition grounds, they are getting well along with the work, but lots to do yet.

One of the most brutal murders that I ever knew of was committed in this city since I came over. A man, wife and daughter had undertaken to train with the 400 class and it was not long until they were up against it. And rather than let his friends know he was at the end of the string, he murdered his wife and daughter then himself. He was a brutal coward and too proud to acknowledge to his friends that he was a poor man. Get dollars, be respectable, is the one idea, the Seattle spirit and almost the universal spirit of the rich. The exception is rare.

If more of us could have had Bryan's article written for the Ladies' Home Journal entitled, "The Beginning of Life," and gotten it by heart or committed it to memory, thousands would have avoided the breakers. The article boiled down means live within your income, or limit your expenses to your income. For the man with a family of five or six who gets but 14 cents an hour that is a hard proposition! I see our servants at Washington are trying to arrange matters so they will get along with their can run to the taxpayers fund, but it would seem that the larger their salary, the smaller the other fellows seems to get. don't it? There was some talk of a land slide last fall, it slid, but for many the wrong way.

Say, wait, you get the article I spoke of and publish it once a year while you run a paper. It certainly will cause someone to stop and think. I am going to ask the Commoner to publish it once a year. Hoping this will find all the friends as it leaves me in the best of health, I am as ever,
Yours truly, H. B. MILLER.

Chas. Nies is Still on Earth.

Java, S. D., Feb. 7, 1909.
Dear friend:—As my subscription runs out this month I thought it was time to pay up. We are all well and well pleased with our new location. The weather is fine just now, I think the storm of last Friday and Saturday must have blown all the cold away. The snow is all melting and the air is just like spring. Crops were pretty good this last year, but they could have been better, but that was the way in Nebraska a good many times. There is lots of land up here for the right kind of people, and with the two new railroads going through I don't think it will be long before this country will all be taken up. Now, be sure and send me the Democrat, and remember me to all my friends. Respectfully,
CHAS. NIES.

I have several choice bargains in Wayne Co., farms can be bought below regular price of surrounding lands if sold quick. Also some good cheap Dakota farms. W. F. ASSENHEIMER, Altona, Neb.

I want to buy a good 2 or 3 year-old stud colt, a dapple gray or black.
PHIL SULLIVAN.

With head up, chest out, stepping high and wearing a big broad smile that won't rub off, Randolph people have to look twice before they recognize our old friend, Gus Hanssen. The cause of it all is that fine 11 pound boy which arrived at his home last Thursday night. Mrs. Hanssen and the youngster are getting along fine, and it is hoped that with careful handling Gus will get back to earth after awhile. We extend congratulations.—Randolph Reporter.

Larson-Bernard.

The following clipping from a Mitchell, S. D., paper will no doubt be a surprise to the host of Wayne friends of Mrs. Wayne Bernard nee Minnie Larson:

Wayne E. Bernard and Miss Minnie Larson were quietly married at the Baptist parsonage Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. M. Jeffers just after he had finished the prayer meeting services. The bride has resided in Mitchell since last fall, coming here from Wayne, Neb., and is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson. She is a fine musician and has arranged to start a class in piano within a few months, and which she has been arranging. She is an attractive looking young lady and has won many friends in the city during her stay. Mr. Bernard is a son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Bernard, and is engaged in conducting a pantorium business at the Widmann. He is a young man of good business qualifications and is working hard to succeed in his business. The friends of the young couple will extend the hearty congratulations over the event, which came as a surprise.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Larson of Wayne, and has made a host of friends, who are sorry to lose her from their midst. She was a student of Morningside college at Sioux City, where she finished her course in the the conservatory of music last June. The DEMOCRAT joins in wishing them a most happy and prosperous journey through life.

Ike Walden Gets a Legacy.

Ike Walden, now a farmer in the suburbs of Carroll, was in Wayne last Saturday on his way to Bloomington, Ill., to assist in closing up an estate that he said would leave him seven to ten thousand dollars to the good. The estate comes from his mother's family and has been kept intact until some of the minor heirs became of age. It is a mighty nice thing for Mr. and Mrs. Walden and the DEMOCRAT congratulates them on their good fortune.

New Telephone Co. Organized.

The farmers living west of Wayne organized a new telephone company last Saturday and will build a double line to Wayne from the Kloppling school house as soon as the frost is out of the ground to permit the work. Twenty farmers are in the new organization, of which Ed. Owen is president and Henry Kloppling secretary and treasurer.

Death of J. H. Spahr.

Death finally came to J. H. Spahr last Saturday night, one of the best and noblest old pioneers of Northeast Nebraska. The old gentleman had been in Wayne only a couple of weeks previous, but a sudden, severe cold carried him over to the great beyond. The DEMOCRAT has never enjoyed the acquaintance of a kindlier spirit than Mr. Spahr. No matter what others, so-called christians, said of the DEMOCRAT, he always had a pleasant word when he called to see us, at least once or twice a year.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the Methodist church at two o'clock, the sermon being preached by Rev. Sharpe. A large concourse of friends followed the remains to their last resting place; peace to his ashes, all honor to his memory.

Among others booked this season at the opera house will be "The Two Johns" company who are always welcome in Wayne. They are scheduled for an early appearance.

The Wisner Chronicle states that the home of Chas. Gildersleeve is quarantined for diphtheria.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leuck of Wakefield spent Sunday at the home of Mort McManigall.

W. M. Lessman reports his hog sale of last Friday as being only fair, the postponement for so short a time no doubt interfering with the attendance of hog fanciers.

What is said to be the cleanest, smartest and funniest comedy on the American stage will make its appearance at the opera house on Feb. 12, when J. C. Stewart's merry farce "The Two Johns" will be presented by a company of ladies and gentlemen noted for their ability to amuse. This comedy is always new and up to date including the latest songs, of the catchy sort that will set the town to whistling. The Two Johns, Phillip and Peter, who by their great likeness to each other cause many funny situations and ridiculous complications are assisted by a bevy of pretty girls in handsome costumes.

PETER WITT.

Editor Sprecher "Sprains" Himself.

Editor Sprecher, of Schuyler, who a year ago beat George Wertz on a libel suit will have to stand another trial, the supreme court deciding that an editor must not only tell the truth about a man, but must show cause for abusing one, also. This is a blow that will almost kill Mr. Sprecher off.--Wayne Democrat.

"The above from the pen of Editor Goldie is not only misleading, but it is unfair and unjust and an editor who will go out his way to so use another in his same line of work is not doing a very great act.

"Goldie is a democratic editor who probably is like other democratic editors of the state and don't like the political course of the Free Lance, so takes advantage of this one instance of the Wertz matters to show a little ven m, as such democratic papers like the Omaha World-Herald, Fremont Herald, O'Neill Democrat, Rushville Standard and others have. When the Free Lance supported democratic candidates for office it was alright, but when it don't and prefers such republicans as Taft for president instead of Bryan, Sheldon for governor instead of Shallenberger, Reese for supreme judge instead of Loomis, then a flood of democratic abuse is the result.

"As one who has read Goldie's paper for some years, we suggest that he ought to have little to say as to alleged newspaper "abuse," and he should at least be fair for the sake of fairness.

"In the first place a supreme court decision as to libel is of interest to all publishers for it directly affects them and especially an editorial writer like Goldie who occasionally indulges in "abuse" himself.

"Nebraska's supreme court had already handed down an opinion relative to libel and in an opinion written by Judge John J. Sullivan. Sullivan held that the truth of an article was all that was necessary, and that is common sense. Now comes this new supreme judge, Jesse L. Root, who was recently appointed by Governor Sheldon, and he writes an opinion and virtually sets aside John Sullivan's opinion.

"Root holds that "the truth alone is not ample defense in a civil action for libel, but if the defendant justifies, he must further allege and prove that he published the alleged defamatory with good motives and for justifiable ends. That opinion may read well, but it will not bear inspection. It is ridiculous and a real lawyer would never so hold. How are you going to prove "good motives" as to a publication or "justifiable ends?" What one person would consider good motives and justifiable ends another would not and who can properly judge? How is any judge or jury to determine, when there is no standard to go by? The defendant would always allege good motives and justifiable ends and the plaintiff would deny and then a jury would decide upon its prevailing prejudices. If one will think such a proposition over he will at once see the ridiculousness of it all. No one but a judicial ass would consider such an opinion as sound.

"This Wertz decision not alone affects the Free Lance editor, but it affects Editor Goldie as well and all other editors. This opinion of Root simply means that no editor can publish any matter concerning a person which is objectionable to the person in any way, but that the publisher is subject to whether a jury considers that the article was published with good motives or for justifiable ends or not. And how is a jury to know what a publisher's motives were? He may have the best of motives and consider it his duty to expose some rascal and yet a jury finds him guilty of libel. Such a supreme court opinion is without reason or justice and is the product of anything but intelligence and knowledge. And the editor who gets any satisfaction out of such an opinion simply lets his vindictive nature run away with his common sense."

Editor Sprecher then publishes a column or two about his law suits with Wertz, winding up with:

"And this "blow" wont "almost kill Mr. Sprecher off," even if a hide bound partisan like the Wayne Democrat editor would like to see it, regardless of right and justice, a thing he ought to be more than interested in, not alone as a citizen who loves fair play, but as an editor who must come under the ridiculous opinion of Judge Root.

"As long as we edit a newspaper we shall be out-spoken as to public men and measures and whenever we find a corrupt official or a public steal shall not hesitate to talk in plain English as to them. And whenever we find a fellow like George Wertz aspiring to office we shall oppose and denounce him and do all possible to defeat him, even if we have to fight libel cases all the rest of our natural life.

"It is bad enough to run across a prejudiced district judge who is so unfair and biased as not be just and it is worse to have a supreme judge hand down ridiculous opinions, but it is infinitely worse to realize that there are editors who are so narrow and prejudiced in their partisanship that they will glorify in a matter like this as Editor Goldie does. He ought to be big enough to stand up for a newspaper man who exposes an official crook and to say that that is a part of a newspaper's good work. And he ought to be big enough to denounce the work of a court that tends to destroy the usefulness of a newspaper in that line by encouraging libel cases as a result of publishing detrimental facts concerning rascals, by any "good motives" and "justifiable ends" qualifications where truth alone should be in itself sufficient."

Now, as a matter of absolute fact, the DEMOCRAT had no thought of injuring Editor Sprecher in the least degree. We understood that this continual "warfare" he has had with Wertz was a bad proposition and that although Sprecher was in the right, as one of his, Sprecher's friends here in Wayne put it, it would about ruin him. The DEMOCRAT takes the same view of all this matter as does the Free Lance. We are also sincerely sorry for the difficulties Mr. Sprecher is having in "giving the devil his due." However, he might hop onto the "best governor Nebraska ever had" for a share of the blame, and not this writer. Supreme Judge Root is a Sheldon product, Supreme Judge Sullivan is a man of Gov. Shallenberger's stamp of judicial integrity. Again, we are sorry for you, Editor Sprecher, and you have our deepest regrets that you ever bumped into the law as interpreted by an appointee of the late, lamented Geo. L. Sheldon, whom you not only, as a democrat, helped into office, but made most strenuous efforts to keep him there.

Our Lincoln Letter.

Lincoln, Feb. 9.--(Special Correspondence.)--The date for the joint convention of the two houses of the legislature to be addressed by Hon. Wm. J. Bryan has been set for next Wednesday, Feb. 17th. Mr. Bryan has been absent from the state for several days past, and an earlier date could not be secured.

There have been several bank guarantee bills introduced in the two houses, but in order to get up one that will meet all the requirements a sub-committee has been appointed by the two committees on banking, and Judge I. L. Albert of Columbus has been employed to assist the committee in drawing a bill that will not only be satisfactory but one that will stand the test of the courts as well. This is the procedure which it was expected would be followed after the various measures had been introduced by the individual members. Judge Albert, who has been employed to assist in the work, is a former member of the supreme court commission and stands high as a lawyer.

A bill has passed the lower house which, if it becomes a law, will give the assessors of the state the power to inspect the books of bank and building and loan associations for the purpose of ascertaining who has the money on deposit and how much they have. A comparatively small per cent of the money in banks is assessed under the present system, but with this proposed law in force there would not be much that would escape.

The committee on railroads in the senate has reported favorably on a bill to prevent drinking intoxicating liquors on trains. The bill, it seems, has a good show of becoming a law. Another measure which has been passed by the senate designates the governor as the official to have charge of the publication of constitutional amendments. It will be remembered that a few years ago quite a furor was created because it was believed the secretary of state had delayed the publication of amendments for the deliberate purpose of defeating them in the courts in the event the people should have adopted them. It will also be remembered that when that secretary of state came up for re-nomination he was defeated in the convention. Originally the governor had charge of the publication of these amendments but on one occasion when there was a fusion governor and a republican legislature the law was changed so that a republican secretary could throw them to his party newspapers. The legislature has now simply placed control over them back where it was originally.

The bill by Representative Sink of Hall county providing for nine foot sheets seems some what ridiculous to those who are not familiar with the conditions which were the cause for its introduction, but practically every man or woman, who is in the habit of stopping at hotels is in favor of it. While the linen on the beds in all the better hotels is usually changed daily, yet the quilts, comforts and blankets remain until they are practically worn out. By the use of the long sheet the top of it may be turned back over the ends of the quilts, etc., it is argued, that have been coming in contact with humanity for--the bed bugs only know how long--and as a result future guests protected from the germs with which the bedding may be infected. A similar bill was first adopted in Texas but it has been gradually working its way north, having been adopted in Oklahoma and Kansas since Texas first took action on it.

One of the most eloquent speakers in either branch of the legislature is the brilliant young Senator J. A. Donahoe of O'Neill. He isn't in the habit of speaking every time something is up, but when he does speak people throughout the corridors and committee rooms are attracted to the senate chamber by his eloquence, and he receives the closest attention throughout.
