Suffers Bad Injury On Train.

Miss Charlotte Larison received painful and dangerous injuries last Friday, on the U. P. train just out of Columbus. Miss Larison and Miss Frankie Conger were coming home from Grand Island where they attend school. They were passengers on the steel coach, with heavy plate glass windows that are suspended to the ceiling when opened. In some manner the window came loose and in falling Miss Larison's head went through the glass, the broken edge giving her a terrible cut across the face. The train was run back ten miles to Columbus and medical attention and every care given the unfortunate girl. Mr. and Mrs. Larison went to Columbus Saturday morning, returning the evening of the same day with their daughter.
Mr. and Mrs. Larison arrived home Sunday morning with their daughter, and friends of the family will be glad to learn that the young lady will unlikely suffer any permanent scars from the unfortunate accident. The ten mile run back to Columbus was made in all haste and fifteen minutes from the time of the falling of the window a surgeon dressed the wounds. When the window fell one excited passenger jerked the frame of jagged glass from Miss Larison's head, doing her further injury.

Daylight Saloon May First.

The city council met Monday evening and aside from allowing the usual grist of bills discussed burning questions of the hour—sewerage and saloons. City Atty. Berry was conferred with and it was decided to draft a new saloon ordinance of regulation at the next meeting, granting the license under the old ordinance. In this new bill of particulars saloons will conform to the state law of late opening and early closing—7 a. m. to 8 p. m.—with the beginning of the municipal year, May 5th. They will also be required to do their cleaning out other than Sundays.
The vote of the late election was canvassed by Aldermen Chace and Craven, and motion made by Craven and seconded by Chace that the report of their work be accepted.
The aldermen talked until a late hour over the sewerage proposition and adjourned to this Thursday evening to open bids for construction of the work.
Bills were allowed as follows:

Perkins Bros. Co. printing	82 82
J N Short, drayage	1 50

It was decided upon motion that Mr. Lytle of Sioux City be present to assist the council in taking the best bid and making contract for sewerage, Mr. Lytle not being a competitive bidder.

The Tariff Thieves.

The DEMOCRAT recognizes the fact that it appears worse than useless to even comment upon the Payne tariff bill. So long as times are prosperous—in Wayne county, Nebraska—ninety per cent. of the voters here do not care a "tinker's damn" whether the tariff is revised up or down. Although the tariff has been "revised" in every particular in favor of the trust barons, it is difficult to believe that the common people would repudiate the work of congress were another national election to be held this year. And although such strong and influential papers as the Chicago Record-Herald, that warned the people a year ago to beware of voting against the beneficiaries, were to enter a campaign again at this moment, it is equally improbable that they would publish such a drastic drubbing of congress as appears below. "It takes a thief to catch a thief," and the Record-Herald would not "turn state's evidence" were there any prospect of the "thief" being punished at the polls.

"If false pretenses in securing election to office constituted an indictable offense there would be work for a federal grand jury right now, involving republican representatives in congress. There has been a more shameful betrayal of confidence than is witnessed today on the part of lawmakers who assume to represent the people of the middle west.
The Payne tariff bill, as it is scheduled to pass the house today, insults the constituencies that made possible the organization of that branch of congress by the republicans. The voters of this section of the country trusted to the integrity of candidates who directly and impliedly stood for tariff revision in the interest of the millions of consumers living in the Mississippi Valley. In confiding their interests they appear to have coddled a nest of vipers.

The people of the middle west have been deceived by representatives they elected last November. The history of American politics affords no parallel to the consummate confidence game now approaching a climax, played by direct representatives of the people at Washington. For it is only with the assistance of republican votes from this section, either cringing to an awe-inspiring but blundering oligarchy, or else shamelessly hypocritical, that the so-called leaders have been able to create the ways for a tariff monstrosity.
That republican members of the house from this state or any other in this section who today supports the Payne bill with its schedules increasing instead of decreasing the cost of living, would have dared to state his position before election? If the voters had known before election what they know now—in the light of the experience which comes to all persons who either purchase gold bricks or are the innocent victims of a bunco game, the Cherokee strip in the house of representatives would be on the other side of the ball.

Prof. Kemp Engaged.

The school board has hired Prof. Kemp of St. Edwards as principal of the schools for next year. Principal Wilson goes elsewhere, having a couple of locations in view. Prof. Kemp is a graduate from Ohio colleges and was recommended to the Wayne board very highly by Prof. U. S. Conn, he having taught at Fremont previous to going to St. Edwards. About all the present faculty have been re-engaged. Miss Abbie Manning takes the kindergarten school and will spend the summer months taking a special course for this particular purpose, although already credited with being one of the very best primary teachers. The ward school will be closed according to present plans. The board expects to hire an assistant principal for the High school of the male persuasion so that he can conduct the gymnasium. Mrs. Philipps and the Misses Wallace, Graves, Potts, Hughes, Beuchemin, Stocking and Miss Schwerin of Belden, a former Wayne teacher, complete the corps.

No Doubt About It.

The Fremont Herald of yesterday declares that Fremont interests behind the Fremont normal will consult attorneys with a view of attacking the legality of the Wayne normal appropriation on the technical point raised by the Omaha paper, provided, of course, that investigation shows such proceedings are likely to be attended by success.—Norfolk News.

Carroll News.

From The Index.
Mr. Joe Garwood has been very sick this week. Her sickness is caused by kidney and liver trouble. Her many friends wish for a speedy return to health.

Last Saturday afternoon a number of the farmers of this community met in the A. O. U. W. hall and assisted by Mr. Stewart, of Cherokee, Iowa, organized a local branch of the Farmer's Equity Society. The object of such an organization as laid out is to promote the market for farm products and the other diversified interests of the tillers of the soil. John R. Morris was elected president and D. E. Peterson, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jones and Mr. Arthur L. Tucker went to Omaha Monday morning returning home Wednesday morning.

Mrs. George Rohwer and Mr. and Mrs. James Smith were among the Carroll folks who spent last Saturday in Wayne.

B. P. Peterson and Henry Bay shipped a car hog to Sioux City Monday night that were crackers. They sold right at the top of the market. Mr. Peterson accompanied the shipment.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Candor will regret to learn that they are expected to move to Laurel in the near future. Mr. Candor has been assured the appointment to the station at Laurel. This will be a promotion as the salary is some larger at that station.

On Monday of this week little Clarence Ward, the grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Winsland, met with a severe accident. The little fellow was playing on the back porch of the Kincaid home. In some way he fell to the ground a distance of fifteen feet. The result was a fracture of the left leg at about six inches above the ankle. The injury received proper attention from Dr. Lovig and the boy is getting along fine.

The annual village election was held Tuesday. It was an exceedingly unpleasant day. A driving slushy snow falling throughout the day. From all appearances it was certainly a "Wet" day but as the shades of darkness drew on and the count of the ballots was made it proved to be the driest wet day that Carroll had ever experienced. When the final result was known everybody was more than surprised. Even the most enthusiastic "Dry" had not looked for a victory so their joy was all the greater when the count showed that 45 of the voters had voted on the head of the ticket. "Against the saloon," and 40 voted "For the saloon." The three trustees elected were Arthur L. Tucker, for a term of one year to fill vacancy and John H. Mellick and August Miller for a term of two year.

Pierce Leader: Henry Hansen was over from Wayne Monday and purchased the farm of U. G. Gaie, lying northwest of Pierce. This farm consists of three eighties and the consideration paid for the same was $11,000. Mr. Gale will farm the place this year. Mr. Hansen informed the Leader that he had no intention of moving to Pierce county, and that he had merely bought the farm for speculation purposes.

WANTED—Work by the day.
Mrs. SKELLEN.

Coleridge Blade: In the Blade's opinion a mistake was made in changing from the one saloon to none. From what we can learn the saloon here the past year has been conducted very near to the letter of the law. [Certain it is that the saloon was conducted so quietly that one would hardly know that there was a saloon in town from outside indications. Those who want their beer will go to other towns where the saloons are still running. And so far as protection of the boys is concerned, which is no doubt very important, it will require a sharp lookout to see that they don't get started on a quiet bottle in a haymow somewhere, which is the only way they could get it with a saloon running.]

Cal Ritchey was back from Gregory, S. D., the past week shipping his automobile and other personal property to that place. Cal says Gregory is simply the busiest place on the map. John Hays is running a saloon and Charley and Beach working about the town. Tom Hays has a good job with a lumber company. Cal says that four years ago he was up there and was offered two different quarter sections at one thousand dollars each. Today they are worth nine thousand dollars a piece. That is a fair sample of the boom the country is now having.

All kinds of hard and soft coal at the Anchor Grain Co's. elevator.

The DEMOCRAT man was in Wakefield Tuesday morning for a couple of hours and found that burg just as busy a place as though saloons had never been there, although the old landmarks, the buildings, still stand empty as sad sentinels of a by-gone day. Jos. Agler and wife were just leaving for a visit in Iowa and Paw Paw, Ill., and thence to Battle Creek, Mich., where Mrs. Agler will take treatment in a sanitarium, her general health being very poor. J. H. (Ham) Mitchell had just returned from South Dakota where he made some extensive investments in land, and was quite enthusiastic over the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gildersleeve went to Sioux City last Thursday afternoon, where on Saturday Mrs. Gildersleeve underwent an operation for appendicitis. Chas. W. Reynolds went down Friday afternoon to be with his sister.

Universal ranges are the very best. See them at Voegt's hardware.

Now that the city election is over the DEMOCRAT would like to make the statement that in its honest opinion, in Wayne there is less drinking among boys and young men than in any other prohibition town of equal size in the United States. The trouble with the average prohibitionist is they simply jump at conclusions. They take it for granted that with the saloons out of the way all drinking and carousing stops instanter, when as a matter of practical experience it only begins at this point. A good example of intelligence of a prohibitionist comes from Plainview. A man of that burg went to Randolph and reported to the Plainview paper that there was only one business man in Randolph who favored saloons, and he ran a "junk shop."

(Mr. Pill is one of the town's most progressive business men.) This of course was dashed up to the Plainviewites as gospel truth but the recent election in Randolph proved what an unmitigated liar the Plainview "dry one" was.

Deck, and upon returning to Wayne this morning a complaint was filed against Zieler, who is bartender in Peter Kautz' saloon. F. A. Berry says there was a conspiracy among a number of Hoskinsites to have Deck decked out to the bad. It appears he had had some trouble previously with Zieler and the night of April 12th he was attacked and received injuries that confine him to bed at this date. The bad blood was occasioned over the election, Deck having been dry candidate for village trustee. Sheriff Mears went to Hoskins this morning bringing Zieler back with him.

The Supreme Court of this State has just handed down a decision affirming the acts of the city council in the Tomson case. Two years ago the anti-saloon league of this place remonstrated against the issuing license to Tomson by the council. The council put in about one day hearing the evidence and the arguments of the attorneys in the case and denied the remonstrance, and license was issued. The Honorable Elmer E. Thomas of Omaha looked after the interests of the anti-saloon league and made the anti-saloon league believe that the council and City Attorney Berry had illegally kept out a lot of evidence offered by him and objected to by the attorneys for Tomson. In fact, he was given the use of the M. E. church and delivered about a two hour sermon one Sunday denouncing the council, especially the city, Mayor Ley, and City Attorney Berry, telling his congregation that the supreme court would reverse the council and that he was absolutely right and that everybody else was absolutely wrong. The anti-saloon league appealed the case to the district court and Judge Welch held that the council did right in issuing the license. The anti-saloon league, on the advice of Mr. Thomas, appealed the case to the supreme court, and the supreme court also says that Mr. Thomas in his wonderful exhortations in which he denounced almost everybody, was wrong and someone who signed the appeal bond will probably pay rather expensively for following the advice of the learned and coining getting attorney from Omaha.

By a recent act of the legislature, the property of the Nebraska Normal College becomes the property of the state, for a state normal school. As the bill was passed late in the session, it was impossible to get an appropriation for a maintenance fund. The state leases the property to the present management for the next two years, the school to be run in the same manner as formerly. Therefore, until 1911, the policy regarding the school will be the same as it has been in the past. At the end of the two years, the records, etc., become the property of the state. Fred M. Pile becomes the president, a position he is amply qualified to fill. The personnel of the faculty remains the same. An unusually large attendance is expected for the summer, as the practical courses in manual training, agriculture and domestic science offer superior advantages to those preparing to teach. This explanation is made, as many have the impression that hereafter only those having a tenth grade education or its equivalent could enter. This will correct any such impression. For further particulars, we would advise writing the president.

PAYNE TARIFF BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

Oil, Tea and Hides Go on Free List, but Lumber Falls to Make It

Washington, April 12.—The Payne tariff bill was passed by the House of Representatives last night by a vote of 215 to 161. One republican, Austin, of Tennessee, voted against the measure, and four democrats, all from Louisiana—Broussard, Eschouff, Pige and Wickliffe—voted for it. An attempt by Champ Clark, the minority leader, to prevent the bill with instructions signally failed.

The day was filled with excitement from the moment the session began at three o'clock until the adjournment at midnight.

The members were kept at the highest pitch, and a preliminary roll call was held to determine the strength of the bill.

When the bill actually passed the members cheered lustily, some shouting and waving their arms and putting their fellow members on the back.

After adopting a resolution that until further orders the session shall be held only on Mondays and Wednesdays, the House adjourned at 8:20 o'clock.

Beats Dingley Bill.

With more deliberation and promptness than has been shown by the House in the Payne bill, it was passed in fewer days than the Dingley bill. It was passed upon after being in power in the House. The Payne bill was introduced on March 17, reported to the House by the Ways and Means committee on the following day and was ordered generally passed on March 16 days.

The Dingley bill was under consideration in the House for two days longer than the Payne bill, but the House was not in session for the consideration of the latter measure. All during the general debate on the Payne bill the House sat at least an hour each day, and was finishing a record for that body. Mr. Olmsted, of Pennsylvania, presided as chairman of the committee of the whole House on the matter of the union through out the 20 days that were given to the bill.

Important Changes.

One of the principal changes effected in the Payne bill since its introduction was the placing of petroleum on the free list. This change has been seriously contested since the introduction of the amendments. Speaker Cannon during the debate to reduce the duty took the ground in defense of the higher rate of duty.

Although an amendment to place oil on the free list was lost Thursday, a similar amendment offered by Chairman Olmsted, which provided for a 10 per cent duty on oil, was passed.

Among the other important amendments that have been made since the bill came from committee were those striking out the provision for a duty on coffee, and the duty on coffee, and the elimination of the maximum duty of 20 per cent on coffee contained in the maximum and minimum section of the bill was also significant.

With Great Skill.

Patten is unloading his wheat with great skill. Many of the big shorts, chiefly Wall street men, are hard pressed and are willing to pay almost any price for May wheat. Realizing this, Patten was given large quantities at a price which is prevailing.

This appears to be Patten's system to sell heavily while the market is at a 125 or over and to stop selling at once when the market falls to 125. Having such an enormous quantity of the crop he can thus control the market at will.

The man who today holds the wheat market by the reins of steel moves it upward or downward at will has not followed the usual course in wheat corners. He has bought the wheat, has held it for a long time, and as a result he has the visible supply sale in elevators, and those who want it for delivery in accordance with contracts must go to him for it. No one else has any settlement day draws near the anxiety of those who have sold short becomes more intense.

Collected Own "Doing."

Mr. Patten knows something about the wheat market. He has made about $10,000,000 in speculation in the last three or four years. Last year he engaged in a campaign in corn, and when it was over he was $2,000,000 richer than when he began.

His present wheat campaign was made only after careful investigation. Experienced and trustworthy men in his employ visited all the wheat growing regions, and made reports on the present investigations. They came back with facts and figures that confirmed Mr. Patten's ideas that the crop would be short. He knew that corn would be plentiful in the United States, and as well as in the great wheat growing sections of the United States. All these things were before him before he bought the first bushel of wheat.

Passes Up Government Figures.

Mr. Patten's figures disagreed with those of the government. Of course that did not affect his views nor his actions. Last October he began buying wheat and he bought steadily until the present. The price has risen from 75¢ to 125¢, and the advance was so slow that Mr. Patten and his associates got most of the wheat they now control at a price ranging around 81¢. Of course they continue to buy after the price went higher. That was necessary to put the price where they wanted it, but the capital invested in the high-priced wheat has not been considerable.

And now with the settlement day near, Patten is taking his profits. He is letting those who agreed to deliver wheat to him for a bushel have the wheat to their hearts' content.

Looks Like Farmer.

Patten is a big man physically and looks not unlike a farmer. He wears clothes that cost him not more than $30 a suit. He knows scores of men who have made money in the wheat market but who have profited by his advancing the price of the cereal. For advances forced by Patten for the real wheat, the grain is actually devalued, and his business life as clerk in a small store in Sandwich, Ill. His wife has social ambitions at which Patten smiles. But when her desire for a

Cleared of Murder of Her Husband

MRS. GEORGIA SAMPSON.

London, N. Y., April 12.—Mrs. Georgia Sampson, who has been on trial since Monday on the charge that she had shot and killed her husband, Herbert Sampson, on the night of last night, was cleared of the murder today by the jury. She was acquitted on all counts, and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty on all counts.

Mrs. Sampson was trembling when she stepped from the courtroom and smilingly welcomed the embraces of her family and friends. She thanked the jury and her friends. She thanked the jury and her friends. She thanked the jury and her friends.

Joseph Gilbert, a cousin of Mrs. Sampson by marriage, prosecuted the case vigorously. He said today that he was satisfied with the verdict.

HASKELL ET AL GET IMMUNITY

Tulsa, Okla., April 12.—Gov. McCall has granted immunity to Charles H. Haskell, Oklahoma's first chief executive, and the six other prominent Oklahomans indicted by the federal grand jury charged with fraud in the acquisition of public lands.

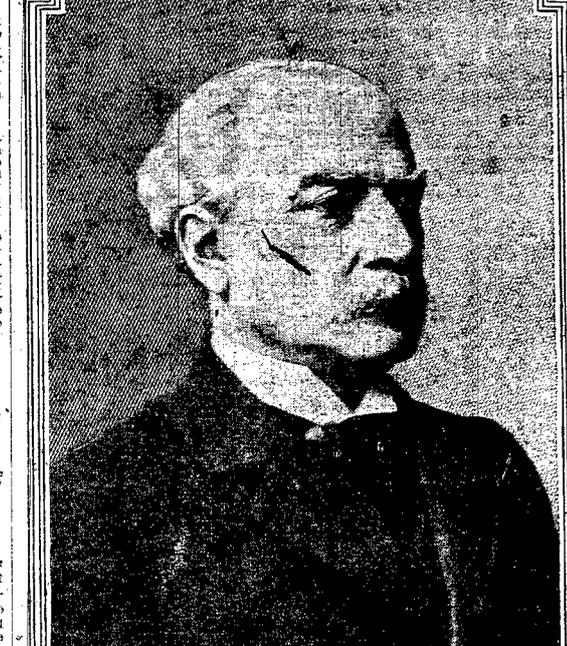

The motion of the defendants to quash the indictments was upheld here today by Judge John A. Marshall, of Tulsa, in the United States court.

The court in its decision, which was very lengthy, quashed the indictments on the ground that they were issued in violation of the federal law instead of by a jury of 12, as provided for by the Arkansas law, which was held to be in force in the Indian territory by federal courts at the time when the alleged frauds were committed.

The aggregate wealth of the seven men is said to be over $2,000,000. The indictments against them numbered 12, and they were returned by grand jury after a lengthy grand jury investigation, conducted by Sylvester Rush, of Omaha, witnesses being brought to the state from Chicago, Michigan and other western states.

The indictments charged alleged conspiracy to defraud the federal government and the Creek Indian nation in connection with the securing of Muskogee town lots in 1892.

VETERAN EX-SECRETARY DIES IN WASHINGTON

E.A. HITCHCOCK.

Washington, April 12.—Ethan Allen Hitchcock, secretary of the interior under Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt, died here this morning at 11 o'clock, aged 74.

Hitchcock had been ill for some weeks. He contracted a severe cold while in the west and his condition became serious. He hurried to Washington to place himself in the hands of specialists who have attended him during his official career here. He suffered from a complication of kidney, heart and pulmonary diseases. Ever since he reached here he has been confined to his bed and constantly attended by his physicians and trained nurses. With him, at the home of his son-in-law, Lieutenant Commander Sims, of the navy, the formal naval aide of the president, were his children, Mrs. Sims and her two daughters, Mrs. Margaret and Miss Margaret Hitchcock. His condition had become steadily worse during the past few days and last night all hope for his recovery was abandoned. His strength had become exhausted, his advanced age had prevented any rally. Through the early morning hours his death had been momentarily expected.

Events of Career.

His passing marked the close of a career whose pre-eminent feature was an administration of the interior department by Governor Hadley today here from St. Petersburg, where he had served as ambassador under an appointment of President McKinley.

Hitchcock was almost immediately plunged into a vortex of complications growing out of vast frauds and charges of fraud and counter-charges growing out of the acquisition of public lands in the western states. Mr. Hitchcock directed the most sweeping investigations, arousing the enmity of powerful political interests. That work is recalled today as one of the most unswerving and relentless inquiries in the annals of government prosecutions.

He prosecuted cases against numerous men in public life and private business including United States Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, who was convicted and died not long afterward; former Congressman Binger Hermann, who had served as commissioner of the general land office and who was acquitted; former United States Senator Dietrich, of Nebraska; Representative Williamson, of Oregon; and John A. Benson, a millionaire real estate broker, of San Francisco. Mr. Hitchcock was a target for attack on the floors of congress and in protests filed at the White House.

The Hitchcock family was well known in Washington society, where it frequently entertained at smart functions on the bedside when the late and young Mrs. Hitchcock, the three daughters, Lieutenant Commander Sims and a nephew, George C. Hitchcock, of St. Louis, formerly serving their Sunday night. The funeral will be held Monday, the interment being at the Bellefontaine cemetery in that city.

PATTON IS MAKING MILLIONS ON WHEAT

Dictator in May Option Is Disposing of 20,000,000 Bushels Bought at $1.

Chicago, April 12.—James A. Patton, the new king of the wheat market, is taking profits of $1,000,000 a day from the wheat market. He has been doing so for five months, and the same time is causing the speculative market for the cereal to reach new high records. He sells about 3,000,000 bushels a day. Patton has insisted all the time and he still insists that it is not a wheat corner, that he has merely bought wheat because he believed it would sell higher after awhile. That after awhile it has come and he is disposing of the 20,000,000 bushels of wheat he holds at a profit of 20 to 30 cents a bushel.

With Great Skill.

Patten is unloading his wheat with great skill. Many of the big shorts, chiefly Wall street men, are hard pressed and are willing to pay almost any price for May wheat. Realizing this, Patten was given large quantities at a price which is prevailing.

INSANE MAN WITH REVOLVERS AND BOMBS

London, Ill., April 12.—John Anderson, a plumber, became suddenly violent today. Arming himself with two pistols, a shotgun and three bombs which he fastened to his person by means of a harness, he went to the home of his neighbors, a man who had been a habitant of a city block in which he said malicious gossip concerning himself had been circulated. He killed one woman, narrowly missed slaying her husband, wounded another woman and then committed suicide.

The dead.

JOHN ANDERSON, committed suicide.

JOHN JOHN MYCKER, shot through the heart as she ran toward room where her child was playing.

The injured.

John Mycker, scalp wound.

Mrs. John Beiford, flesh wounds, arm broken from pistol bullet.

All in Terror.

Anderson's violent manner and his insane make-up terrorized the scores of neighbors who announced his intentions. That his already weakened mind had completely given way was obvious. Doors were locked and barred and women and children fled in terror as they saw the man walking along the street, scrutinizing the different houses as if undecided where to begin.

Anderson's first stop was at the home of Mrs. John Mycker, probably his oldest and best friend. With a pistol in each hand, Anderson began firing. The first bullet grazed Mycker's arm, and the second struck her toward the kitchen where her four children were playing. She fell dead across the threshold with a bullet through her heart.

Mycker, satisfied, Anderson left the place and proceeded to the home of John Beiford, a few doors distant. Anderson's resentment was centered in Beiford, who had announced his intention to sue without shadow of reason, of circulating slanderous stories about him. Mrs. Beiford and her mother, Mrs. Amanda Minton, 30 years old, and their four children fled toward the open street, without shadow of reason, one bullet inflicted a flesh wound and another shattered her arm.

Then Kills Self.

By this time the neighborhood had become aroused, and men were gathering in the street. Anderson walked to the window and peered out. Then he returned to the center of the room, where he shot himself in the chest, on which he had calmly placed it, and blew his head off.

Mrs. Minton, in moving blindly about, fell and was upon a couch. Anderson's headless body fell across it. To the fact that he fell on this yielding surface is due the failure of the bombs, which were strapped to his person, to explode. He had only one other weapon, and it is believed were carried by Anderson in order to make sure of his own death in case of accident to his other weapons.

Judge Quashes Indictments of Seven Oklahomans on Basis of Technicality.

ASK CONGRESS TO PROBE RATE LAW

Jefferson City, Mo., April 12.—That congress will be asked to direct an investigation of the Missouri state railroad situation by the Interstate Commerce commission and that the circuit attorneys throughout the state should institute suits similar to that filed at St. Louis last night, asking for an injunction against the increase in passenger fares, were indicated by Governor Hadley today in a discussion of the latest step taken by the state to avoid the enforcement of the new schedules.

"I feel that it is unfair for the railroads to attempt to impose upon the people of Missouri a higher rate than is charged in the contiguous and sparsely settled states of Kansas, Oklahoma, Iowa and Nebraska," said the governor. "Therefore I have today forwarded to Senators Clark and Barthold figures showing the disproportionately high earnings in interstate traffic in Missouri as compared with the earnings in the other states. I am sure congress may through the Interstate Commerce commission institute an investigation. I have also presented the matter to the state warehouse and railroad commissioner.

Unsound in Law.

Kansas City, April 12.—Frank Hagerman, leading attorney for the 18 railroads entering Missouri, in a statement made here today declared that the state's injunction suit filed yesterday to prevent the railroads from returning to the 3-cent fare basis, was unsound in law.

"Governor Hadley's St. Louis suit," said Mr. Hagerman, "seems to be based upon two grounds, both of which are unsound. (1) The railroads are returning to the 3-cent fare which violated the anti-trust statute. (2) The issue of mileage books is a discrimination.

FAIL TO AGREE: STRIKE UNLIKELY

Philadelphia, April 12.—The anthracite operators and miners who have been holding conferences in this city considering wage conditions in the coal field, failed today to reach an agreement and have adjourned finally.

The operators rejected the modified demands presented yesterday by the miners. The answer of the operators was given to the mine workers today in a conference which lasted more than an hour.

The officials of the United Mine Workers of three anthracite districts are holding a meeting this afternoon to decide upon a course of action. The operators, having headquarters in New York city, left for home this afternoon.

According to the mine workers' officials, there will be no strike despite the disagreement. Any danger of suspension of mining, they say, arises from the possibility of the refusal of the operators to permit the miners to work without an agreement.

PETROSINO'S BODY ARRIVES; FLAGS FLY AT HALF MAST

New York, April 12.—Flags flying at half mast above the city hall and police headquarters today marked the arrival on the steamer Slavonia of the body of Lieutenant Joseph Petrosino, of the New York police department, who was assassinated in Palermo, Sicily, on March 12, while engaged in a specially important task of protecting America against Sicilian criminals. The police department, city officials, Italian societies and citizens will unite in giving further expression of tribute to Petrosino on Monday, when his funeral will be held.

Emotional honors expressive of the city's appreciation of Petrosino's courage and devotion to duty will be shown at the funeral on Monday.

FIND A $10,000 BILL IN COLLECTION PLATE; SURELY A MISTAKE

Washington, April 12.—It was advertised in a local paper yesterday that there had been found in the collection plate of the Roseco Methodist Episcopal church near here, after the collection last Sunday night, a $10,000 bill, and the church officers think the donor made a mistake. The yearly collections of the church do not average much more than this amount, and the officials said the advertisement stated that they will return the money to the owner if he wants it back and can prove he inadvertently dropped it into the plate.

LUCKY BALDWIN'S ESTATE WORTH CLOSE TO $24,000,000

Los Angeles, April 12.—As uneventful as the settlement of a $600 estate was the probator in the superior court of the E. J. Baldwin of the millions of the late E. J. Baldwin. H. A. Urruh, business manager of the famous turfman during his lifetime, was named by him as executor of the will.

Mr. Urruh fixed the value of the real property at $23,000,000 to $24,000,000, and of the personal property at about $127,500. The net annual income from the property, said the executor, has been only $19,000.

STANDARD'S PROFITS NOT SO ENORMOUS

When Large Investment Is Considered, Says Attorney Milburn.

St. Louis, Apr. 12.—Attorney Milburn, heading the Standard's array of lawyers in defense of the government's new celebrated suit to have the great corporation with its many millions of capital, declared illegal as a violator of the Sherman act, yesterday resumed his arguments before the distinguished judges of the United States circuit court, sitting en banc, are following the new lawyer's address with keen attention, but do not hesitate to propound perplexing questions to him when his meaning is not quite clear to them. His answer, however, is always ready and apt.

This morning Mr. Milburn devoted several hours to replying to Special Attorney General Frank B. Kelogg's charges that Standard had earned the enormous profit of over half a billion dollars upon a capitalization of $37,350,000. This $700,000,000 Mr. Kelogg charges was both enormous and unreasonable. That the defendants had made either enormous or unreasonable profits, Mr. Milburn denied at the commencement of today's argument by an unbroken series of figures. The profits exceeded the sums paid out as dividends, the attorney said was true, but that such surplus had been used in the extension of and construction of other properties.

Another statement was that the value of the properties owned by the Standard of New Jersey, which the government seeks to dissolve, was $25,000,000, really possessed interests worth not less than $200,000,000.

"And," declared Mr. Milburn, "with marked emphasis, 'the government has no right to require the Standard to pay forth in the petition, is unusual in law and does not accord with business principles or the facts of human experience. It is a violation of public policy, such a proposition with patience.'

The attorney pointed out that the fundamental fallacy in the government's position was that it failed to take into account the enormous cumulative effect of compound interest.

Taking as a basic proposition that the properties of the Standard in 1882 were worth $70,000,000 would reach the sum of $1,000,000,000 in 1906, at 7 per cent. Assuming that this 7 per cent had been added to the capital, irrespective of dividends, Mr. Milburn suggested it might in a way explain the rapid growth of the Standard's assets.

"It's but a matter of a pencil, a bit of paper and a school boy to figure it out—no lawyer is required," added Mr. Milburn.

Even taking the value of the properties of the defendant in 1882, $55,710,000, as claimed by the government, the attorney said, it would reach $1,000,000,000 in 1906, at 7 per cent. Assuming that this 7 per cent had been added to the capital, irrespective of dividends, Mr. Milburn suggested it might in a way explain the rapid growth of the Standard's assets.

FOUR SCORE, BUT WILL WED AGAIN

Divorced From Wife of 70 and Will Now Take Bride of 50

Des Moines, Ia., April 10.—Nine months after his divorce from the 70-year-old wife of E. Thompson, who has seen the light of 82 summers, will be the principal in a marriage this afternoon. Justice of the Peace Livingston will perform the wedding, which will make him the husband of Mrs. Mary Cowling, aged 50.

Before the marriage license could be issued it was necessary for the aged man to secure permission from one of the district judges to marry within a year from the time he secured his last divorce. Judge Brennan, who granted the license, said that he was glad to see a man who had been divorced and who will make his wife become a widow again.

In applying for this dispensation, Thompson said that he was without relatives or friends, and that he needed someone to care for him. He said that his intended bride had done this for the last three years and was perfectly willing to continue to do so when she became his wife.

Mr. Thompson came to Des Moines from Boone, Ia., where he owns a considerable amount of property. His wife had accused him of marrying her for the purpose of getting his property and of treating him in a cruel and inhuman way. A divorce suit was filed in a cross petition and by an agreement the wife was given the divorce and a part of the property.

INSANE MAN WITH REVOLVERS AND BOMBS

London, Ill., April 12.—John Anderson, a plumber, became suddenly violent today. Arming himself with two pistols, a shotgun and three bombs which he fastened to his person by means of a harness, he went to the home of his neighbors, a man who had been a habitant of a city block in which he said malicious gossip concerning himself had been circulated. He killed one woman, narrowly missed slaying her husband, wounded another woman and then committed suicide.

The dead.

JOHN ANDERSON, committed suicide.

JOHN JOHN MYCKER, shot through the heart as she ran toward room where her child was playing.

The injured.

John Mycker, scalp wound.

Mrs. John Beiford, flesh wounds, arm broken from pistol bullet.

All in Terror.

Anderson's violent manner and his insane make-up terrorized the scores of neighbors who announced his intentions. That his already weakened mind had completely given way was obvious. Doors were locked and barred and women and children fled in terror as they saw the man walking along the street, scrutinizing the different houses as if undecided where to begin.

Anderson's first stop was at the home of Mrs. John Mycker, probably his oldest and best friend. With a pistol in each hand, Anderson began firing. The first bullet grazed Mycker's arm, and the second struck her toward the kitchen where her four children were playing. She fell dead across the threshold with a bullet through her heart.

Mycker, satisfied, Anderson left the place and proceeded to the home of John Beiford, a few doors distant. Anderson's resentment was centered in Beiford, who had announced his intention to sue without shadow of reason, of circulating slanderous stories about him. Mrs. Beiford and her mother, Mrs. Amanda Minton, 30 years old, and their four children fled toward the open street, without shadow of reason, one bullet inflicted a flesh wound and another shattered her arm.

Then Kills Self.

By this time the neighborhood had become aroused, and men were gathering in the street. Anderson walked to the window and peered out. Then he returned to the center of the room, where he shot himself in the chest, on which he had calmly placed it, and blew his head off.

Mrs. Minton, in moving blindly about, fell and was upon a couch. Anderson's headless body fell across it. To the fact that he fell on this yielding surface is due the failure of the bombs, which were strapped to his person, to explode. He had only one other weapon, and it is believed were carried by Anderson in order to make sure of his own death in case of accident to his other weapons.
