Sewerage Contract Awarded

W. M. LANA, OF HARLAN, IOWA, GETS THE JOB

To Cost About $13,000

There was a "full house" at the council room last Thursday night when the bids on the sewerage system were opened up and compared. The bids ranged from $13,094 to $19,564, which includes the entire system, out-let and sewer district. After going over all the bids the council held a private session with W. M. Lana of Harlan, Iowa, and after due preliminaries, Contractor Lytle of Sioux City being present to assist the council in doing the business properly, a contract was made with the gentleman. Mr. Lana at present has his sewer machine and men at David City where they are completing a system and work at Wayne will commence about May 1st, considerable of the ditching having to be done by hand. Following are bidders and bids on the entire construction:

Kindergarten Teacher Employed.

It will be of especial interest to workers and all those interested, to know that the kindergarten as a department of our public schools is an assured fact, and that at the last meeting of the Board of Education Miss Abbie Manning was elected as teacher. Aside from the fact that Miss Manning is an efficient teacher, she is already very proficient along many lines in the kindergarten work, and she goes away during the summer vacation to take additional training.

Pupils will enter this department at the age of five years, and after one year of splendid training will be more fully equipped in both mind and body to take up actual grade work. Kindergartens were established in the Fremont schools last September, and one of the teachers in a recent letter says, "We think it has been a grand success in making the children both mentally and physically stronger." There are many mothers in Wayne who would gladly and willingly pay our dollar a month to a private kindergarten for the privilege of the training for their children, who, now that a splendid public FREE kindergarten is assured, will doubtless, out of their gratitude, feel like adding something to the fund. It will be a division of labor and the result will be such as to make us proud of the effort.

Now the Time to Buy.

Wayne property will go up in the next six months. Now is the time to buy and get the raise. We have some good properties listed at prices of a year ago. One choice residence with three full lots, only $1800, the price of the house alone. Some cheap "inside" lots. Residences at $1000 to $2000 close in. For particulars see JOHN H. MASSIE & Co.

A Little More of "139."

In his digression on the daylight saloon bill, at the banquet last Tuesday night, Senator Randall explained with what a dull, sickening thud it fell upon some democratic members of the senate. He said they were hard-hit, like the preacher who owned a parrot that was an inveterate user of profanity. In deprecation the parson hung the parrot's cage in a dark room to cure the bird. Still the parrot swore worse and more of it, so in a rage he took the cage and swung it around in the air as though wringing a rooster's head off. Then he jammed it onto the floor and left the room. Later he felt sorry for the bird, and going in picked it up and said: "Polly, are you hurt?" But Polly appeared dead to the world. "Polly are you hurt?" he kept repeating several times, and finally Polly opened one eye, cocked its head sideways and ejaculated: "No, but where in hell were you when the cyclone struck us?" Senator Wiltzie spoke eloquently of the Wayne "3d house" at Lincoln; that they (Wiltzie, et al) met them at every corner with their hand out, fifty times a day; they might be cold-blooded at home, but in Lincoln their continual interrogation was "won't you have something?" A legislator in Lincoln asked him how many people there were in Wayne, and upon being told replied that he supposed there must be about fifty thousand, he had met them so often. That if the "3d house," was the salt of the earth, as had been stated by his predecessor, (Mr. Britton) then the rest of the people were too fresh. However, as to being fresh, they couldn't hold a palm to Fremont. "A village down in Dodge county." In regard to Senator Volpp's rise from a green Dutchman who couldn't laugh in English to a noted statesman—that if Wayne could do that much for a German, what couldn't the Waynesites do with an American.

Hon. Thos. Rawlings was not, he said, much given to light jesting, but it was the more material and spiritual things that appealed to him. He spoke highly of Wayne, and still our city could take a lesson from her sister on the east. (No saloons). He had been a particular friend of the late J. M. Pile because both of them were Kentuckians, and a great characteristic of Kentuckians was that although they might never have met in their native state, they became most hospitable to each other in meeting away from home. He dwelt upon the great responsibility that now rested upon Wayne to make good as a state-normal school city; that it meant a great elevation of the community. Mr. Rawlings told of some of the more substantial things of life, and was given an ovation upon his being seated.

Representative John Kuhl, one of a few men whom Wayne is more greatly indebted to, explained the dire difficulties of the situation at Lincoln. It was far too late in the session when the proposition was first taken up. It had no friends in the committees. Everybody got it worked hard and faithfully to the finish. He was of the opinion that the location of the school here meant no more state normals in the state.

Hon. J. J. McCarthy said he was delighted to speak to so intelligent a lot of people as were present at the banquet board; he had sat with a body of senators and congressmen of the nation, and they were not one wit more intelligent than his audience on this evening. Mr. McCarthy also complimented Wayne on her hustlers; as a boy he had been enamored of the story of Paul Revere's ride, but here in Wayne, late in the evening, it was found necessary to solicit signatures to a petition to the governor, and at two o'clock next morning a Wayne booster was soliciting signatures in Ponca (40 miles away.) That northeast Nebraska was the best part of the state; we people had money to buy land or to burn. "Why," said he, "we can even raise lemons, for a man in Emerson handed me one today." "We have dug wells 2000 feet deep; for gas, for coal, for gold. We have even organized a company to raise bananas. Our best product is hogs and cattle—we come next." He dwelt upon the grandness of the Wayne college in the past; its achievements; of the rare genius of its founder; and that he had heard so many regrets, and so many good things said of the departed, that "he still lives." He humorously referred to Mr. Rawlings as a Kentuckian—and how he, Tom, could live in Wakefield. And worse and more of it, how Mr. Rawlings could be hospitable—living in Wakefield—to a stranger from Kentucky. He gave an experience he had with a Kentuckian. The subject was on how to avoid sleeplessness—when you want and need sleep. Before retiring his friend went to the sideboard and took a snort of Kentucky's best. "Then, sir, I sit down, sir, and read fifteen minutes, sir, and if not sleepy, sir, I take another drink, sir. After another fifteen minutes, sir, if not sleepy, sir, I go to the sideboard, sir, and take another drink, sir. About eleven o'clock, sir, I retire, sir, and if I do not go readily to sleep, sir, I get up, sir, and take another drink, sir, at the sideboard, sir. Later, sir, if I cannot go to sleep, sir, I don't care a damn, sir, whether I sleep or not, sir." Now, what kind of hospitality could the gentleman from Wakefield show to a real native of Kentucky? (much laughter.) He admonished Wayne, now securely in the lime-light, to never cease her efforts to stay in the fore-ground. Then Mr. McCarthy found another lemon. He said that during Mr. Wilson's speech he heard that gentleman use a word that sounded to him like "h, e, l, l" and he now wondered what that referred to. "Just what you were digging for a while ago, down at Ponca!" shouted the "Chauncey Dewey" of Randolph, amidst roars of laughter from the listeners.

Lieutenant-Governor Hopewell was then introduced, and though the hour was far past midnight, interested his hearers to no small extent. He said he had some good, old friends in Wayne; John and Dan Harrington, and Mrs. Emil Weber, who went to school, to him thirty-eight years ago in Tekamah. "And," said Mr. Hopewell, "you can imagine what a cute, little fellow Dan Harrington must have been that long ago!" In 1873 Mr. Hopewell started the first bank in Northeast Nebraska, with no capital, so he said. In 1881 he made a trip to Laporte, Wayne county, by team, to make a collection, and he remembered Bressler, Britton, D. C. Patterson and others; a most pessimistic lot. To make the collection—no money in the country—he took a mortgage on the delinquent's farm, and some time later it was paid off, but, said he, "I have always had a sneaking idea that John Bressler got that farm." "Nebraska," he stated, "was the best state in the union, and Wayne county the best county in the state." (cheers) "except Burt." "And in behalf of Burt county I thank you for your applause." Forty-five years ago the lieutenant-governor said he had driven a yoke of cattle from Ft. Leavenworth to Ft. Laramie, and he dwelt upon the wonderful progress the state had made since that time. He stated the farmers were now kings. State normals were now a necessity, and he believed there would be more of them, and he would always work to that end. He was very happy to have been of such service to Wayne in this capacity.

"Beautiful Black Ribbons."

Gregory, S. D., April 17, 1909. Thinking that a letter from this most interesting and agitated locality would be of interest to your many readers, I thought I would pen a few lines as to the conditions as I find them at present. We are having nice weather here and farmers are through putting in grain and are now plowing for corn. People that have filed or claims are already moving out on them, and soon the soil will be turned over in beautiful black ribbons.

Both the cities of Gregory and Dallas are having their population increased by people living in tents, dotting every vacant lot and on many streets; very few of those that drew numbers under 500 have dropped out, (from 500 to 1000 about 20 per cent and about 30 per cent and up to 1500, and from today about 50 per cent will drop out. All those that have filed, seemed as a general rule, well satisfied, with a few exceptions. The best of the land is gone and from now on it will be hard to please those that file. The largest per cent of those that file are actual farmers, and they have come up with horses, cattle and machinery, ready to go on with farm operations. Several new towns that have been started out in Tripp county are growing with great rapidity, and lines of freight trains can be seen going out from Dallas, loaded with lumber and general merchandise. Many queer and sad incidents happen here almost every day. Two men came from Chicago to file, both having same number and both were of same height, but the signature of one did not compare with that on the affidavit made last fall, and hence he lost out. Another man with a number below 300 got a claim with a bill on it so high and steep that he could see the top of it through the stove-pipe in his shanty. And I could tell of many others. Gregory has taken a lead since it got the land office and building operations everywhere. The new land office building will be finished and ready to be occupied by May 15th. Dallas is not far behind Gregory in her stride forward and is now a city of 3d class.

There will be great contest on hand in Tripp county as to which town will get the county seat. Colone and Lamsore are the two leading towns in the contest, and the Indian vote will decide the question as the election comes in June, before the homesteaders have acquired a residence. Respectfully, WM. ELIASON, Gregory, S. D.

An Epistle From St. Paul.

St. Paul, Nebr., April 15, 1909. Friend Goldie:—Am sending you post-office order to amount of $1.50 to pay our subscription to Wayne Democrat. We like to get the Wayne county news as we like to know how our old friends and neighbors are getting along. We lived at Carroll for 20 years. This is a good country. We think we beat Wayne county for a climate, and we raised good crops here last year. This a good fall wheat country and is fine for alfalfa and in fact about everything that will grow anywhere will grow here. Don't suppose the daylight saloon closing law suits you very well, as I noticed in the paper you think it's hard luck for a man to go home before dark if he's drunk. We think that law is just fine. Gov. Shallenberger is all right. Yours truly, J. H. BEACH.

Quite a Drop In Gas.

Local Manager Sprague received notice last Saturday to reduce the price of gasoline from 15 to 12 cents per gallon. The late legislature changed the restrictions on the sale of gas from a 68 to 72 test to 62 to 68, the same as the Iowa regulations. Mr. Sprague says the difference in the oils will not be noticeable to consumers, and the price certainly will be. Perhaps this is one result of our not having to pay that 29 million dollar fine. The legislature also put a ban on colored kerosene, and allowed the introduction of kerosene from Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado that tests 42 or better, providing that all such oil be labeled as coming from the above states. Eastern oil will have to stand at the old test, 46.

XTRAGOOD

Every boys' suit must survive the ordeal of service. A maker can't hedge on cloth or sewing. Men seldom wear their suits out, but boys seldom wear them in. Rain and shine they're in the open raising a hullabaloo, bending, twisting, running, kneeling down in the dirt one minute, climbing a fence the next---can't you realize that if any clothes ought to be bought on the basis of quality boys' suits must.

"Xtragood" clothes for boys are sturdy---the seams are double sewed with unbreakable linen thread, and are fagoted to insure comfort. All pants have a lining all through---made with one pair of trousers inside another, so to speak. That means practically double wear, besides holding the shape doubly well. You'll like them all the better for not having found suits like them before. Mighty reasonable at that.

J. H. KATE

BY DAD

The Hartington Herald apologizes for not having space to publish "a lot of able editorials." The public is no doubt able to bear up under such a misfortune.

Mrs. Moses Horn of Sherwood, Ohio, aged 89, says the way to keep a husband is to "love, honor and obey him." She has had him 71 years. Most of the women nowadays do that, "in a horn."

This talk about the tax on stockings is making the women act like a lot of fat calves.

The latest $500 treasury note will bear the likeness of Salmon P. Chase. The chase to get hold of them will be just as hard as ever.

An exchange says: "One cheering thought for the men: We can't have the bad weather and the house cleaning at the same time." No, but it's a dust-dust sinche that we'll have to have both.

Tom Barrett, while gathering oysters at Providence, found an oyster in a pint bottle, where it had grown, solid as the stomach of a toper, until the little animal or microbe was all out of shape. There are a lot of such "oysters" all over the country---growing in bottles. Their shells are hard as glass and their insides petrified as an oyster in a restaurant soup bowl. They are neither a curiosity nor a thing of beauty.

One of the local liquor dealers tells me the Wayne Herald refused to publish his notice of application for a saloon license, when it was presented to him. Later the publisher changed his mind, probably found that it was compulsory for him to do so. Such a course, upon the part of a newspaper, is so unusual that it listens like a joke. If Editor Woodruff's temperance or religious scruples are badly shaken up, he might ease up his conscience by refusing to take any compensation for the publications; there is probably no law that will compel him to handle the tainted coin.

Of course if stockings go higher, it will make silk garters all the more popular.

"Prohibition is Marching On!" says an exchange. Well the results in Nebraska this spring look as though prohibition is marching backwards. 25 dry towns, a total population of 46,150, went wet, and 17 wet towns a population of 26,250, went dry.

Judging from the tone of New Hughes'

Pender Republic that town will make a compromise---with the devil---and have a couple of saloons this year, the wets making life so miserable for the dries that somebody is likely to go into bankruptcy if the fight continues all year.

One of the best ghouls I have heard of in a long time is on the good M. E. ladies of Wayne. Last year they got out a massive cook book, compiled by the best housewives of Wayne. They didn't condescend to even let this office get a look-in at the copy, but sent the job to Vinton, a jerk-water burg in Iowa. The Vinton printer was onto the needles in his knitting, however. After printing the number of copies required by the Wayne ladies, thousands of copies were turned out for a stove factory, and are now being given away at Neely & Craven's hardware, in this city, being identical to the book as the M. E. ladies got up, excepting the names of the contributors are missing, although recipes do say to use "Wayne Superlative flour."

The pastor of a Pennsylvania church who found a $10,000 bill in the collection box and endeavored to find who was so liberal that he might be blessed, has since discovered that the bill is like a good many people's religion, counterfeit.

Corsets that reach from the neck to the knees is the latest in the armour line for women. It is said that with these on they are worse off than Job was when sorely afflicted with boils---can't sit down. Young men will also experience much difficulty in finding the waist line.

President Taft's military aide is named Captain Archibald Willingham de Grafenreid Butt. That's considerable of a name, but if he butts in too much he may get the latter end of it knocked off.

Senator Aldrich is evidently trying to reach the hearts of women through their stockings.

In Missouri a farmer has been trying the experiment of calling home his pigs at night by means of a phonograph. Probably the pigs know that the sooner they get home the sooner the phonograph will quit.

Gompers is going to take a long trip through Europe at the expense of the American Federation of Labor. It seems too bad that these labor leaders have to work so hard.

"We have noticed," says the Topeka Capital, "that the girl who can't pick up her own handkerchief before she is married finds it possible to hold the baby with one hand and wash the dishes with the other after an experience of a few months in matrimony.

In regard to the new tariff only the thing that seems to be positively fixed about it up to date is the assurance that no person will be satisfied with it.

Mitchell, S. D., has just passed through the most spectacular and exciting saloon fight ever pulled off. One year ago the city went dry, and although the mayor was a strict observer of the law, the same man the prohibs elected Tuesday, conditions during the dry year were so bad, that the town changed to the saloon system Tuesday. The anti's, like your Wayne Reubens, over-did the job. To vote, a man had to wade through columns of screeching females, anywhere from 5 to 60 years old. Parades, showing a woman in lickered duds and her six children in like condition, depicting the horrors of the drunkard's home, and other "stalls" of similar construction. The dries did a little quiet work, and they hired the band for their one meeting, but the prohibs got the band to keep silent and one was gotten from another town. The dries then got up a counter attraction to get the crowd away from the wets. It was largely like the fight on in Wayne a couple of years ago, only worse. South Dakota towns in general voted the license system, proving beyond peradventure that if the people of a community want booze they are going to get it and that prohibition only prohibits where the people do not use liquor and are opposed to it by a large majority.

Taft's messages to congress will no make a bulky volume, but when he gets through he will probably have said about as much as his predecessor.

In Chicago the other day Judge Landis fined a man one cent for a technical violation of law. That's quite a drop from $39,000,000.

Senator Tillman visited the president at the White House a day or two ago, for the first time in seven years, and asked why he had not called before, exclaimed: "I waited until a gentleman got there." It will also be noted that Tillman waited until Teddy was in Africa before opening his mouth.

Now, if Patten could only run the price of flour down as quickly as the bottom fell out of the corner on wheat. It doesn't take long for the millers to learn that wheat goes up, but when it goes down in price they are as slow to catch on to the decrease as some flour is to raise when you put yeast in it.

A "chief of police" in a metropolitan city is just as likely to be the chief grafter and thug.

"He ought to be prosecuted!" is what I heard a Wayne party say of a Wayne man, the other day, and if half is true that is told the people who hire this man should be examined as to their sanity. You may hire a poor lawyer, trade with a wormy grocer, take a bum, bad newspaper, get clothes from a shoddy clothier, etc., but when your life is threatened with disease, or you have an accident that may terminate fatally if not properly handled, you want a doctor who knows his business, and if he hasn't any more brains than a rabbit, how do you expect him to keep you out of Kingdom Come.

Editor Harris on the Dutch: Many Germans as well as other Americans will resent Coleridge going dry. Many of them who perhaps never or very seldom went to the saloon at all will resent this action on the town's part. They feel like this---that if they want to buy anything in town that the town is here to sell to them; that if it picks out some one thing and refuses to sell that to them that it is a reflection on their judgment implying that they do not know their own business and that it is unwarranted assumption of superiority for the town to tell them what they can and can't buy in it.

On the other hand the German is not particularly vindictive. He fights in the open and drops it. He says what he thinks but he is no Spaniard to carry a dirk and stick a man in the back as some very "respectable" townspeople try to do sometimes under a church cloak.

He will perhaps go to Laurel, Hartington and Belden more than he has been going, because if he wants a glass of beer he will take Coleridge at her word and go to those places where they are not trying to reform everybody else but themselves, and get his beer. However, business is business and the German respects the dealer who attends to his business right.

Madison Post: A California man writing to an Omaha friend says, "I hope to get a chance to see Jeffries and Johnson fight for a $75,000 steak. Beef must be higher there than it is in Madison."

More probably the Californian figured on about 40 "rounds," which would make the "steak" less than the usual price of one "round steak"---in Omaha.

A Hand-Out to the World-Herald

(Sixty in State Journal.)

To the World-Herald---Dear World-Herald: For the love of heaven come out of it. The war is over, what is to be, is to be, and the state of Nebraska has only to adjust herself to the new ordinances and be glad the operation requires no sacrifice or moral principles, nor the surrender of privileges that may be accounted God-given.

The governor made a little talk at Beatrice the other day, and from the Sun's report of what he said he must have casually admitted that the big delegation from Omaha who came up to protest against letting the people rule, was not as welcome as the receipt of a letter with money in it would have been.

For saying that, you cry out against the governor as one opposed to the right of petition. That is unfair to him and to the truth. You know, and so do I, and so does Tom Allen, that a mighty crowd was sent up from the metropolis not to protest against a threatened act of injustice but to block a state-wide measure of reform; to overawe the chief executive by mere show of numbers, and prevent him from doing his duty by nothing less than a great big bluff.

You berated him soundly for doing the only thing an honest governor could have done, and now you are at it again because he expressed himself as not being flattered by having the representatives of the amalgamated brewing and retail booze interests all bearing down upon him at once and making his suite of rooms in the capitol all stuffy and stinky with tobacco smoke.

When I was running a newspaper in Columbus, and trying to live at the same time, the city had thirteen saloons and four newspapers, and the complaint was general that they had too many newspapers. The "business interests" couldn't stand for this excess of literature, but the loss of a booze joint would have been accounted a public calamity. Every afternoon about four o'clock the saloon-keepers would go to the banks to fatten their deposits, and as often as they could work up nerve enough to endure the ordeal of being thrown down and kicked a couple of times, the newspaper men would go to the banks and try to borrow enough to tide-over the terrible emergency, the reputation of which was as certain as the coming of another sunrise.

It was at this awful ordeal that Ed. Rogers, as the secretary and promoter of the "Business Men and Bankers' association" came to Columbus to organize a local branch of that liberally-loving and business-promoting institution. He invited me to become a charter member, but I respectfully declined on the ground that the preamble, which declared something to the effect that prohibition of the liquor traffic would be a menace to the prosperity of the state, was illogical and untrue. Afterward there was a threatened boycott of my valuable paper, but the idea of "boycotting" a newspaper in Columbus struck me as so ludicrous a proposition that I almost reconciled me to stay on and starve as I had been doing for many months.

All these vagrant thoughts come

SCOTTS BLUFF COUNTY

UP THE

FAMOUS NORTH PLATTE VALLEY OF NEBRASKA

Best Irrigated Lands In the West

Thirty thousand acres fertile land in a splendid climate, watered by one of the biggest irrigation systems in the country. No Nebraska land of equal area will support more families.

Men from the Greeley district of the South Platte country say the advantages of the North Platte are superior---and the prices are one-fourth to one-third. Read again: Think.

Tuesday, April 27th, we begin the sale of the famous Tri-State land at Scotts Bluffs, Neb., said to be the finest single body of irrigated land in the United States, embracing 30,000 acres of which 10,000 acres will be sold immediately.

This land is owned by the Tri-State Land Company, of which E. A. Cudahy is president, and is under the Great Tri-State Canal, one of the largest systems of irrigation in the west, constructed at a cost of $2,000,000. Six four horse teams, 24 horses, can stand abreast across the bottom of the canal, which for the first five miles is ninety feet wide at the bottom. It is half again as large as the immense government Pathfinder canal. Its headgates, dams, intakes, wasteways and drops are wholly constructed of steel and re-inforced concrete. Its every part represents the highest achievement of modern engineering skill and workmanship.

The Tri-State Land Co. has practically the first water right out of the North Platte river, and for an immense amount of water. When it is also remembered that the south Platte waters all the Colorado irrigated land at Fort Collins, Greeley, Fort Morgan, Brush, Sterling and Julesburg, and supplies only one-fourth as much water as the North Platte, the sufficiency of water under the Tri-State canal can never be questioned. It is this fact that is bringing so many of the Greeley, Fort Collins and Fort Morgan farmers to the Scotts Bluffs country, who all declare its land and water equal to or superior to any thing in Colorado, while the prices are only a fraction of the Colorado prices. This magnificent body of land at Scotts Bluffs represents the best there is in irrigated land. The two big canals, the government and the Tri-State, represent a combined cost of nearly $4,000,000, which is an evidence of the value of the lands.

Speaking of the irrigated land, just remember:

First---Irrigated land produces the maximum every year. Your Eastern Nebraska and western Iowa land never produces the maximum, because even if you get just enough rain at the right time for one crop it would destroy part of another.

Second---On your eastern land you raise 40 bushels of corn on an average at 40 cents a bushel, at a cost of $8, leaving you $8 clear profits. We will take you to many men at Scott Bluffs who raised 250 to 400 bushels of potatoes per acre and sold them at 40 cents, this year considerably higher than that; 15 to 25 tons of beets at $4.50 to $5.00; 4 to 5 tons of alfalfa at $8.00 per ton; 100 bushels of oats at 40 cents per bushel.

Third---It is a singular thing that while the majority of farmers who buy irrigated land know nothing of irrigation, you can never interest an irrigation farmer in other kind of land. He doesn't have to understand all about irrigation to succeed. The ditch rider knows and the farmer soon knows.

Fourth---While your Eastern Nebraska land will go up to $150 per acre, it may then stop, or it may go back to $50 or 75, like the same land did in Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York. But your irrigated land, increasing its fertility and producing power each succeeding year, will do like the other irrigated land in this country and Europe---go on up to $200, $300, $400 and $500---per acre, and will not simply "keep you," but will make you rich.

This land lies so perfectly that a flat price of $70.00 per acre has been fixed on all uncultivated land and $80.00 upon cultivated land; hence the first excursionists have the choice of the entire tract. Our first excursion on Tuesday, April 27, will be made especially attractive, and each agent is limited to two buyers. A regular excursion will be run every two weeks.

One price to all---$70.00 per acre for uncultivated, $80.00 for cultivated. First come, first served, no favorites.

Irrigated Lands advance steadily to $300 and $500 per acre; they never go back. Think once more; act.

TERMS, one-fifth cash, balance in nine annual payments, commencing at the end of the second year, at 6 per cent interest. The profits annually from the crops on this land will more than pay the deferred payments and interest.

OMAHA, NEBRASKA

back to me as a result of reading the editorial which spoke of the anti-daylight delegation as "business" men. Why not confess that there are no interests at stake in this early-closing proposition except the booze interests, allied to which are the allurements of the tenderloin, the gambling games on the fourth floor and the activities of the midnight sandbag brigade. Speaking of booze, as the old farmer says:

"Say what you please, it's a disease; I know because I've drank a lot, and what you pay you throw away. And what you get you'd better not."

I am glad to hear you say you are in favor of making the law effective when the time comes. That is the real spirit of patriotism and the sure mark of a statesman. We can't establish the millennium by law, but cheerful obedience to the statutes of the state and nation will strengthen and dignify our citizenship to a wonderful degree. If you acquiesce in the law, which gives over a portion of the twilight hour to sobriety, let me suggest that you now be tolerant of the governor who signed the bill, and do not blame him if he objects to having untrammelled advisors in more imposing delegations than car lots.

I like when friends drop in for lunch. Some six or seven dozens. But when four hundred in a bunch of uncles aunts and cousins. Pour on me like a flock of sheep. Though pressed for food and bedding, I bear it all and never cheep---But it is damhard sledging.

Let me call your respectful attention to another important thing, viz.: The position of governor of a great common-wealth is a peculiarly trying one because of the fact that every time he turns around he is called upon to take off his hat and make a speech. He is called upon to attend farmers' institutes, college commencements, old settlers' picnics, and every sort of public gathering you can think of, and he is expected to make the welkin ring wherever he goes. Take into account the fact that the man who talks a great deal is bound to say some things that were better left unsaid, and you see what a chief executive is up against. Carping critics have a never-ending string of material to work upon. Perhaps it had been wiser had the governor admitted in his Beatrice speech the keen disappointment he felt that only one train-load of protesters came up from Omaha when his heart panted for at least two train loads and written regrets from as many more. No doubt he himself can now see how impolitic it was to speak the truth when the only effect was to still further irritate the booze (business) interests of Douglas county. Whether he was entirely justified in saying what he did or not, the best thing you can do is to forget it.

As the poet says:
"The past can never be recalled,
However deep the grief or sin;
The present is too swift to spend
In thoughts of what might have been."

There is this to console under the most trying circumstances of our fiere commercial and political activity, Omaha is always treated with courtesy and kindness when she comes down to Lincoln to see the governor or to visit our great educational and eleemosynary institutions. Outside of a few trivial differences of opinion, the relations between these two great industrial and educational centers are amicable and affectionate. May this spirit abide, should be the prayer of all good citizens.

So let us not o'er trifles fret,
Nor raise our heels and kick;

And of Nebraska. BIX.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mrs. Chas. Reynolds was seriously ill last week, but is now recovered.

Mrs. Wm. M. Wright was an arrival in Wayne from the west last Saturday.

Anyone that can bring in a load of cobs or two, phone Grant Mallory at the DEMOCRAT office. Phone 145.

C. L. Carpenter, one of Wayne's popular knights of the grip, had an unfortunate experience at Niobrara ten days ago, a sneak thief stealing his grip containing personal belongings. The piker proved to be Wm. Dick, an ex-Sioux Falls convict, and upon running a bluff on him Mr. Carpenter succeeded in recovering most of his property and the fellow getting 30 days in jail, the grip, however, being lost in the round-up, probably cached somewhere with other stolen stuff.

Get your saws sharpened or your sewing machine supplies at Wm. Hroschett's novelty works, north of the German store.

The Bible Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. E. Hunter next Wednesday afternoon, April 28th at 2:30. All are invited.

The Walden of Carroll, Frank Mettlen, John Dimmick and Frank Weible of Winside, Mrs. Will Gildersleeve and Miss Gildersleeve, Mrs. W. H. McNeal, J. M. Ross and daughter, Mrs. Chas. Beebe, Oliver Gamble and daughter, Frank Martin and daughter, were passengers to Sioux City this morning. Miss Ross goes to a hospital for treatment, while most of the others visit the sick or do some shopping.

Universal ranges and cook stoves at Henry's.

Postmaster McNeal thinks there will be no question about Wayne being a city of the second class after the post office business for 1909 is figured up. It came within a couple hundred dollars of filling the requirements last year. This will give the town mail delivery and necessitate street numbering, etc.

All good dressers will be delighted with the spring patterns and styles of Tailor Schroer's 1909 stock. Mr. Schroer has the cream of the clothes for his customers.

There is a little "depot talk" about a new depot, but the DEMOCRAT believes it is all talk. We asked one of the railway magnates, here a couple of weeks ago, and he laughed at the very idea. Some changes are contemplated in the interior of the old building.

D. A. Jones, when he boarded the train for Chicago last Saturday, said he would get $7200 for his cattle. Yesterday he showed the DEMOCRAT man the pay check, $7,214.67. "Doc" says they made up in weight what he lost in price.

The social at the P. Pryor home was attended with a jolly crowd of young and old Friday evening.

For sale, at a bargain, once building 10x12 ft. and set of wagon scales. See GRAVES & LAMBERSON.

Mrs. Spears was in Carroll the first of the week.

Wendell Baker arrived home from Tripp county where he visited his son Wendell who was one of the fortunate ones who drew a farm last spring.

Furniture for sale—Several pieces. Enquire of Mrs. J. W. McGinty.

August Dangberg won that $400 piano at Otto Voget's hardware for being the best customer the past year. Several others were close after August in the race, showing on the whole a fine run of business.

Mr. J. A. Page, of Omaha, will be in Wayne shortly after April 19, tuning pianos, cleaning and repairing organs. Persons wanting work done of this kind may leave orders with Mr. J. W. Johnson at the furniture store or with the Gaertner furnishing company.

Mrs. J. W. Bartlett left yesterday to visit her daughter at Glenwood, Iowa.

John Sherbahn was in Sioux City yesterday on business.

Prin. Leo Pryor came home from Tripp county Friday where he filed on his farm, and departed for his school at Magnet Monday morning.

Mrs. Dixon left Tuesday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Charles Slaughter, who lives in North Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rogers were in Sioux City Monday to see a specialist about an old ailment of Mrs. Rogers. Yesterday they returned to a hospital at Sioux City, a slight operation being necessary to remove the complaint.

Jerry Hays, a former Winside business man, now of St. Paul, Minn., visited in Winside and Wayne the past week.

GIRL WANTED--To do housework. $5 a week. Enquire this office.

Affaire, clover and Timothy sold at the feed mill.

In speaking of the sale of the college to the state, there is one unostentatious individual in Wayne, who has never, the DEMOCRAT believes, received any public notice for his good offices in this respect. No, sir, we are not going to refer to any party who has two or three lots to sell at fictitious prices because they have to be purchased. Mr. Bartlett, it appears, had a couple of relatives in the legislature from a part of the state that have under their thumb the deal. Without saying a word to anybody, Mr. Bartlett went quietly to Lincoln and rounded them up on Wayne's side of the issue, as one of the "3d house" put it, a very necessary addition to the vote in the lower house. Take your hat off when you meet Mr. Bartlett, and thank him for his modesty as well as his generous interest in behalf of the state normal.

I have several choice bargains in Wayne Co., farms can be bought below regular price of surrounding lands if sold quick. Also some good cheap Dakota farms. W. F. ASSENHEIMER, Altona, Neb.

Looking into the future darkly, is like going without the kind of glasses your eyes demand. It costs a big piece of money to see a so-called "specialist" in the city, but Optician Vail, here in Wayne, can do you as good or better service and charge you only a reasonable price for the spectacles.

Chas. Millers' farm team made a lively get-away from near the German store last Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Miller were dumped and the wrecked buggy turned over, the team leaving on automobile time.

P. H. Kohl is seriously considering the erection of about a $5,000 residence. F. G. Philleo has already commenced work on a modern home of about equal cost. It looks like a decidedly busy season for Wayne.

Mrs. E. A. Gildersleeve is recovering finely, at a hospital in Sioux City, and will be home in a few days.

The Wayne Roller Mills are paying two cents above market price for good milling wheat.

"Uncle Dick" Hodgson is going to open his new restaurant, in Winside May 1st. Hungry visitors in that town will be glad to the ribs to again feed at Hodgson's table.

D. A. Jones sold his five cars of cattle in Chicago at $6.40 Monday, the market being slack.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sherbahn came home Tuesday from Malvern, Io.

The DEMOCRAT, in publishing a list of teachers for the high school the coming year, unintentionally omitted Miss Monte Theobald, a teacher in the primary department, for which we offer due apology.

County Superintendent Littell is now considerably better, from a fever, but is troubled greatly with rheumatism.

R. H. Skiles has bought the Henry Hansen house which he will occupy May 1st, leaving the R. Perrin residence for rent.

What are you going to burn in the furnace next month?

Say, this is an awfully hard season on the "is-it-hot-enough-for-you" idiot.

Hoskins Headlight: Dr. Williams came up from Wayne Friday night to investigate the alleged case of smallpox at Dr. Schemel's. He gave the case a very thorough and careful investigation and decided that it was only chicken pox. Hence our small pox scare is without foundation.

Probably same kind of smallpox we have down here. Better have an expert Schmel it.

Get your shoe repairing at the Novelty Works.

From The Hoskins Headlight:—Wm. Woolschlag and Miss Gussie Gehm of Hadar were married last Monday; the wedding taking place at the home of the bride's parents. They will live on their farm east of town. We are glad to hear that Mrs. Kautz is slowly improving from her serious illness. While improvement is very slow the danger point seems to have been passed and her ultimate recovery is assured. In an article entitled "Bad Row at Hoskins" the Wayne Democrat, in speaking of the trouble between August Deak and Fred Ziemer, states that a conspiracy had been formed to have Deak assaulted or as he puts it "decked out to the bad." This we know to be an absolute mistake as the trouble that led to the fight had occurred only a few minutes before and there was no conspiracy of any kind formed. Seeking to even things up for what had taken place in the saloon Fred met him on the street and made the assault.

Aug. Deak and wife were visitors from Hoskins Monday. Mr. Deak tells a hard luck story, and he looks harder than truth or fiction. His face was still all blue and black from the pounding Young Blacker of Hoskins gave him some weeks ago. He also complained of internal injuries, and was in Wayne to see the county attorney as to further prosecution of his assailant. Mr. Deak's story is that Ziemer jumped on him after dark, pounded him and kicked him after he was down, that the assault was premeditated and the intent was to do him great bodily injury. County Attorney Davis, so Deak says, told him to wait awhile and see how he recovered; the presumption being that if he didn't die or wasn't crippled for life, there could be nothing made of it but a simple case of assault and battery. Of course there are always two sides to a story of this kind, and there may have been circumstances connected with this case that led the Hoskins marshal, the police court, the county attorney and others to believe that Mr. Deak needed almost killing for some offense he has committed; as the DEMOCRAT understands it, refusing to sign a petition for the Hoskins saloon. If Mr. Deak's account of the trouble is true, it is certainly putting a premium on crime, and a pretty raw exhibition of political favoritism and friendship for the authorities to allow his assailant to escape with any such inadequate punishment as a few dollars fine.

The DEMOCRAT man was in Carroll last Friday and found that little burg considerably stirred up over the late city election, that resulted in ousting the town's only saloon. It is difficult to determine who is the "maddest," the drys or the wets, the latter now trying to make the drys fired of their job. The wets are going into the boycott business, to the extent of coming to Wayne to trade, so a number of them informed the DEMOCRAT. Carroll has enjoyed a great run of business the few years and the general complaint is that the season cut little figure, that it is the personal scrap over it that is so detrimental to the town's best interests. The DEMOCRAT man was sorry to find our former townsmen, Chas. Robbins, in rather bad shape. Charley felt so good after getting out of the hospital that he over-did himself and is now scarcely able to go about at all. Carroll Alenworth is doing a nice business at the hotel and earning all the patronage he gets. Druggist Koester has his store stocked up as it never was in the old days. Francis Bros. are doing a "land office business" in farm machinery. Carroll has also quite a promising manufacturing plant, "The Best-Out Stock Waterer Co.," making watering troughs that do not run over nor freeze up, patented by W. H. Morris. Link Jones is associated with Mr. Morris and they have quite a plant that consists of a planing and saw mill and a big stock of the product. Theo. Mildner, who has been in the saloon business, says he is coming back to Wayne and asked the DEMOCRAT man to get him a job here as city scavenger. Mr. Breedemeyer, former mayor of Wayne, is doing a good general business, and Trautman Bros. are very busy cutting up pork steaks and acting as though the saloon issue cut no ice in their business.

Joseph Leahy Killed.

Joseph Leahy was greatly shocked last Sunday to receive word that his brother Joe, at Burke, S. D., had been killed, his death being due to being crushed by a piano falling on him, while moving the instrument on a wagon, Mr. Leahy being on the vehicle, steadying the instrument, when the team cramped the wagon, a front wheel dropped in a rut, and piano toppled over, carrying the unfortunate man to the ground. He got up, but almost immediately said he was done for, and died in half an hour or so. Dr. Leahy and "Gene of Jackson, and James went to Burke Sunday coming to Wayne Monday afternoon with their brother's remains. Deceased and his family, wife and three children, moved to Burke from Wisner three years ago.

The funeral was not held until Wednesday, at 11 a. m., owing to the late arrival of relatives. It was conducted by Father Kearns, Father Mc Namara of Bloomfield, and Father Byrn of Ponca, the latter being formerly from Wisner, a friend of the family, preaching the sermon. Relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. H. O'Connell of Kenebec, S. D.; Mrs. P. Collins, a sister, from Oklahoma, Miss Ella Leahy, Grand Junction, Col.; Dr. Leahy and "Gene Leahy of Jackson, Frank Leahy from Lamore, S. D.; also T. O. Kane and R. R. McGuire and families from Wisner, Mr. and Mrs. P. Carvey, Hartington, brothers and sisters of Mrs. Joe Leahy from Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Noyes, Harlock, Neb. After services at the home, the church the remains were laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery. Joseph Leahy was forty years old, born in Peterborough, Can. His parents moved to Iowa when he was an infant. He leaves a wife and three children, suddenly bereaved by an apparently immaterial accident. His is the first death in a family of ten children, six sons and four daughters. Joe was a good-hearted, kind husband and father, and his sudden taking off necessarily a great shock to the family and friends.

Everybody on the hill is busy, as a large garden will be planted this spring. The lawns are in fine shape, as are also the streets.

The new spring term which opened this week has brought many new students. Several have enrolled from the nearby counties and some have come from Dodge county.

Miss Richardson, of Battle Creek, formerly a student of Kearney Normal, has enrolled for the remainder of the year.

The Misses Surber and Miss Mahood have been elected to positions in the Oskdale public school for next year. Each one of the young ladies has completed the scientific course and hold a life certificate.

We have received calls from a number of high schools for teachers. According to law, only those holding life certificates, or professional first grade certificates can contract for a position in high school.

Miss Bessie Eaton, Scientific 1906, has been re-elected principal of the Stuart schools for the ensuing year. Miss Bessie was a faithful student at the N. N. C. for four years. She has been very successful in her work.
