County Superintendent Littell Passes Away.

It is with deepest sorrows on the death of a friend that the DEMOCRAT is called to chronicle the demise of Archie E. Littell. And one of the saddest features of this sad and untimely death of a splendid, promising young man is that he should have to suffer ten long weeks before the final summons came. From what the DEMOCRAT learned during his sickness, Mr. Littell had a continual struggle day after day, better then worse; good hopes of recovery, then the deepest concern for fear of the fateful summons. Death occurred suddenly, when not expected, at ten o'clock last Friday night, and the worn-out nurses, the weary, patient wife, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ringer, ceased their long vigils.

The funeral was held Monday forenoon, a beautiful morning, at 10.30 o'clock. Rev. Parker Smith preached the sermon, and the pall-bearers were largely from the court house, associates of the deceased in county work. There was a very large attendance, a great many remaining out on the lawn while the services were being held. The schools at Winside, Carroll, Sholes and Wayne were closed in honor of their departed superintendent, and many teachers and associates of Mr. Littell were present. The interment was in Greenwood cemetery. From Pierce were father and uncle of deceased and Messrs McDonald and Brande. Art Chapin and daughter and Harry Prescott and daughter, and another auto load came down from Winside. The K. P. lodge of Winside, of which deceased was formerly a member, sent a beautiful floral piece, and there were many other remembrances of similarity, tokens of the love and esteem in which the dead man was held.

Archie Edgar Littell was born Oct. 25th 1877 at Wyoming, Jones County, Iowa. When about 13 years of age he came with his parents to Pierce county, Nebraska, where he attended country school and worked on the farm. When the Spanish-American war broke out he enlisted in Company L. Second Nebraska Infantry at Norfolk Nebraska. He was mustered into the U. S. service at Lincoln, Nebraska, May 9th, 1898. On May 17th his regiment was ordered to Chocomauga Park, Georgia. At the conclusion of the war he was honorably discharged and mustered out of the service at Omaha. He then entered into the service of the Omaha R. R. Company as conductor. It was while thus engaged that he felt the need of a better education to prepare himself for a greater usefulness in life. With this in view and at the age of 22 he left his home and position and entered the Nebraska Normal College at Wayne, Nebraska, where he worked himself through by doing different kinds of work and at the end of one year he completed the Teachers' course. The following year he taught a country school. In 1904 he completed the Scientific course in the same institution. He was principal of the Carroll school for one year and of the Winside school for two and one-half years. In 1905 he was elected Supt. of public schools of Wayne county. On January 10th, 1906, he was married to Miss Elsie Ringer. In 1907 he was re-elected. In this office he executed his duties without fear or favor. He held a high conception of what the moral standard of a teacher should be and constantly strove to create a similar impression in the mind of the teacher. He was aged 31 years, 6 months and 19 days. He was a firm believer in the christian religion; took an active part in the Lutheran church and Sunday school. Upon every moral issue he was always on the right side, and had the courage of his convictions.

"How to Make Wayne More Beautiful."

The following is a list of the prize winners for the essays on "How to make Wayne More Beautiful," the prizes being presented last Friday by members of the Mothers' Club. In some of the grades it was very hard to decide which were the best. We believe that nothing that Wayne has ever done has accomplished more good than the writing of these essays both in regard to their school work and the zeal inspired in working for and building up our town. The 8th grade papers were particularly good, several deserving to get the prize.

10th Grade: Margueite Chace, Harold Mears.
8th Grade: Neva Orr, Harold Webber.
9th Grade: Bernice Beebe, Anthony Agler.
7th Grade: Elsie Mildner, Maurice Philcox, Henrietta Moler, Ensign Young.
6th Grade: Mary Lewis, Hays Main, Loretta Crogan, Johnnie Massie.
5th Grade: Gladys Goldie, Herschel Thomas, Vera Cox, Harold Croghan.
4th Grade: Vivian Johnson, Francis Moran, Izetta Johnson, Marion Grothe.
3rd Grade: Helen Main, Ben Peterson, Gladys Whitney, Claire Brown.
2nd Grade: Eloise Miner, Emmet Dewey, Louise Schroer, Charlie House.

Democrat Lines Up Again.

THE DEMOCRAT, office and material, comes out largely "new" in many particulars. While the recent fire almost ruined the building and "piled" our forms in many instances, it was also a case of some good in a bad less for it compelled us to clean up, even scrub the floor and wash the office towel, a performance that had not taken place in thirteen years. A large amount of new type and stock is being placed in our shop and we are better than ever prepared to earn the dollars of our daddies. Come in and take a whiff of a tolerable clean printing office flavor.

Utopia.

I long to stray far to some scene that is fair,
Where never a visage is doleful;
Where nobody whistles a popular air,
And all of the music is soulful;
I long for a nook by some murmuring brook,
With an azure sky spreading above me,
And a maiden on whom 'twere a pleasure to look,
Imploping permission to love me.
I long to stray far to some glorious land,
Where the climate is always delightful;
Where a bard is a creature whom men understand,
And where 'credulous never are spiteful;
I am yearning to go to some country where snow
Never drifts when the coal pile has dwindled,
Where the breezes are soft when the blossoms should blow,
And jealousy never is kindled,
I long to be free from the cares I endure,
To live where there is freedom from scandal,
Where there's never an ill for the doctors to cure,
And never a grafter nor vandal,
But if I should find such a place, anywhere
Could I hope to find only good humor?
Some Aldrich would doubtless have plans,
Even there,
To burden the wearied consumer.

SCOTTS BLUFF IRRIGATED LAND

IS SELLING ON SIGHT.

A SUCCESSFUL SALE.

WHAT THE FIRST BUYER SAYS.
 "I think it is the very best proposition I have seen anywhere in the West, and I have been all over the Ft. Collins and Greeley district."

The first excursion to the famous Scotts Bluff irrigated lands has returned. Every member of the party is enthusiastic concerning the country, only four returning without buying, and these may buy later.

The following statement of sales speaks for itself. 1840 acres were sold in the two days the party was there, for a total consideration of $138,200.00. No one bought over 100 acres. Most of the sales were 30 acres, with one or two of 40 acres.

The men who bought this land are not speculators but farmers, every one of them. They are from Eastern Nebraska and Western Iowa and few of them had seen irrigated land before. But they know a good land when they see it and they realize that here is a great opportunity to secure splendid land at a low price.

These satisfied buyers are proof positive that the Scotts Bluff country is the coming farming district of Nebraska.

You can't afford to miss this great opportunity to buy a farm while land is still cheap. Why pay rent when the amount you pay your landlord yearly will pay for a farm that will make you rich in a few years?

Don't delay; late comers get poorest pickings. We

WHAT AN EXPERIENCED LAND MAN SAYS.
 "The best proposition I ever saw."

WHAT THEY ALL SAY.
 "I think it's all it is represented to be and more."

WHAT ANOTHER BUYER SAYS.
 "There is no question but that there is a great future for the Scotts Bluff country. I wouldn't have bought if I hadn't thought it was all right."

can take only a limited number on each trip, so if you want to join us on our next excursion, let us know at once so reservation can be made.

Speculators not wanted. This land is for farmers. We want men who are looking for homes; men who will improve the land and either live on it or rent it.

We are offering the best irrigated land in Nebraska. Men who know say it equals and surpasses the land in the famous Greeley and Ft. Collins districts in Colorado, and the price is only a third to a half.

NEXT EXCURSION TUESDAY, MAY 18, '09

It is under one of the best, largest and most substantial irrigation ditches in the United States. Experts declare there is absolutely no danger of there ever being a shortage of water in the Scotts Bluff country.

At the price we are offering this land and the exceptionally easy terms (only a fifth cash, balance one to ten years), it's the chance of a lifetime.

A regular excursion will be run every two weeks. It's to your advantage to go early.

It's an expensive experiment to make mean remarks about your school teacher, as Director Ed. Young of Lancaster county discovered. The director said that Jennie Fitzgerald was "crazy" and an "unmerciful liar," causing her to lose her position. Later he tried to deny it but fifty witnesses proved that he was the "liar" and the court gave Jennie a verdict against him for $3,500 damages, and as Young is wealthy he will be forced to foot the bill. The trouble was all caused by a daughter of the director peddling tales home from school, and the purchase of a bundle of shingles by parents is always cheaper and more efficacious in such cases. We have heard some "school yams" in this county wherein parents of ill-bred children were taking long chances, and this Lancaster county incident, and incidentally the DEMOCRAT, may be worth thousands to them.—You can pay us for this advice at your leisure.

There are some business men so short-sighted that they advertise where their personal prejudice directs, instead of to get the best results. The DEMOCRAT'S list is open to your inspection, and a little investigation will prove that it is read by nearly twice as many people as any other publication in this part of the state.

Graveyard messages are to the effect that certain Wayne affinities are not at all afraid of spooks. But even a cemetery is an unsafe place for mid-night meetings of the soul-mates, although there is this advantage that should happen to be any un-written law tragedies a hearse will not be required to bury the dead.

Four feet of rain water in an hour at Lincoln, must have looked awfully good to that dry poet, Col. Bixby, of the State Journal.

The "truth seeker" of the Hartington Herald writes: "A church choir sang before an audience of insane people the other day in one of our cities and one of the patients died outright and another had a fit. The only difference between this audience and lots of others is that they were more frank in the expression of their emotions."

The editor of the Albion Democrat got into trouble knee-deep. A couple of young people, Newton Lord and Jennie Helper, got married, and the editor used the usual hypocritical heading, "Lord-Helper, in the write-up of the event."

A cat may look at a king, and a seven-dollar-a-week clerk may also price a $4,000 automobile, but he doesn't tell the salesman to wrap it up for him.

Teddy standing on a pile of dead lions would make a nice picture for the next freak stamp Uncle Sam gets out.

Judging from the appearance of many women now and the way they looked a year or two ago, they must have had a lot of rain or two ago that wasn't real flesh and blood. It seems that clothes both make and unmake a woman.

Of course the DEMOCRAT didn't mind a little fire. It was the uncounted and nasty water that failed to make a ripple of mirth with our constitution.

Des Moines, Iowa, ministers have started the work of putting a ban on Sunday funerals. This will no doubt please the hack drivers, as it will give them a chance to take in the ball games and other attractions.

If the president knew just what to do he might help untangle the tariff muddle; but he doesn't.

Africa will be a perfectly safe place for the negroes to return to when Teddy gets through with it.

The Hartington Herald remarks that "the Railroad wreck clothing sale didn't last long." Probably as long as their duds will last the uncultured buyers.

After all it's largely a matter of breeding. My mother was Scotch, from Scotland, and my father, all English, from England; everybody sympathizes with the DEMOCRAT because of a little fire. Had my parents come from Jerusalem!—what an awful fate to meditate upon!

It will be "Mother's Day" every day until the housecleaning is finished.

The report of the Woman's Club of Omaha, with a membership of 400 women, shows that once during the past year has the stork visited any member of the club. When Teddy gets back from Africa he should go to Omaha with his big stick and get busy.

One Sioux City preacher objects to the milkman delivering milk on Sunday. He should be fed on curdled milk. That would match his disposition.

Only six weeks until July 4th and we were burning coal the past week.

Street Commissioner George Heady drives the best dray team in town. But then the city has to buy the grain and hay for them.

Lincoln is now infested with "blind pigs," while the authorities do not molest the clubs that dispense liquors. The only difference is that the poor man who has to have a drink will take law-breaking chances to get one, while the clubmen will booze themselves to degradation—because the sale of the stuff is forbidden to the common herd.

Norfolk went wet last Saturday night, six saloons being granted license just for a starter.

It is not a case of Welch, in the western league, but Wichita.

Conductor Charley Shaffer, on the railroad (Norfolk and Madison) was let out of his job because the auditor found him short 20 cents with the company. Any con who will be guilty of knocking down less than 30 cents ought to be glad to change vocations.

No, we never had any idea how much dirt there was in the DEMOCRAT until a fire came along and loosened it up.

"A ten acre farm in Florida will yield more than 120 acres in Iowa," reads an advertisement in the Sioux City Tribune. More lies, yes.

While Teddy is killing off all the lions in Africa the reporters are not slow about getting the news.

Those Wayneites who have thought that if their houses presented a "Queen Anne" front, a "Mary Ann" back was alright, will have to change their ideas, and if they don't know how they can call for some of the school children's essays.

A town boy went to work out on a dairy farm and there were a lot of pumpkins for the cattle. He was told by the boss to break up the pumpkins and feed them to the cows, giving the biggest pumpkin to the best milk cow. When the boss came around to see how well he had done the work he found the biggest pumpkin stuck up on the pump.

Most of the people who buy an automobile soon get to thinking they are expert chauffeurs; but from the reports in my exchanges I notice that none of them have as yet advanced far enough so they can make a car climb a tree or a telephone pole.

They were talking about Billy Shinn's lightning rods the other day when W. O. Gamble remarked that he had known Billy ever since—well, before Billy was born.

Britt Tribune: We met the poorest man the other day we ever saw in our life. When asked to subscribe for our paper he said he hadn't had enough money in three years to pay for it a week. When told his credit was good he said if Britt was for sale for two cents he couldn't buy a shingle off a barn. When we told him that on account of his poverty we would let him have it a month free on trial, he said he couldn't do it if postage stamps were thicker than lice in Egypt and sold for two cents a trainload. We finally asked him if he kept a dog and he admitted that he had four because he couldn't afford to buy powder and shot to shoot them. He owns 320 acres of Iowa land but he can't afford to give it away as he has no money to pay for making out the papers.

Patronize Home Insurance Companies.

The DEMOCRAT is much pleased to announce that it received prompt and equitable settlement with the State Insurance Company of Omaha. There was no vexatious delay in getting an adjuster here to fix up the loss, and there was no hair splitting argument. The DEMOCRAT has heard a great deal about the difficulty of getting a square deal from an insurance company after a loss by fire has occurred, about as annoying and disagreeable procedure as having to personally stand for the entire work of a fire, but we can heartily recommend the State company as being on the square. J. C. Ecker of Winside is farm adjuster for this company, and farmers will do well to look up their insurance policies, and if necessary make a change that will undoubtedly save them lots of grief and inconvenience, if not money, by going into the State, a safe and reliable home concern.

An Appeal to Reason and Justice.

I would like to ask some of the people of Wayne, if they have done by me as they would wish to be done by? We have been accused and advertised as knowingly spreading the smallpox. I have no idea where I contracted the disease, but I have not been out of town, so I contracted it here. Does it seem reasonable if I knew I had a contagious disease I would let my mother and sister, who are both in poor health, come to my home and contract the disease? That does not seem human to me say nothing of being christian.

I will state facts and you can draw your own conclusions, but I ask you to be reasonable with a defenseless woman and children. I had a doctor and a nurse. Dr. Blair made four visits and the nurse was with me till I was able to be up. When they did not say it was smallpox, I do not feel that I am to blame for not knowing it. I had three fevers on my face. I opened them and they healed up. The nurse spoke of them as fever sores. My face often breaks out more than that. The two children did not have eruptions either. The last case was the only one that had eruptions, and I asked the marshal to send a doctor, but no doctor came. It has been reported that the children went to school when they had the eruptions. Only one of them had eruptions and she did not go to school.

Some say they think I ought to be fined, some serve sentence. I believe the law says, a person must be considered innocent until proven guilty. If my accusers will prove one tenth of what they have said, I will gladly pay fine or serve sentence if that will stop the wagging tongues.

I have suffered more now from gossip than I possibly could from any court sentence. My mother and sister seriously sick, and my sister's family all sick, and whenever I used the telephone to find out how they were, I could hear someone calling me all the nice names they could think of, (the telephone lines were tangled up.)

I would be pleased to talk with anyone on the subject of my guilt or innocence, who are manly or womanly enough to come to my face and not throw mud behind my back.

I telephoned the city physician and asked him about the quarantine law. He said, "Considering the feeling there is toward you, you may make up your mind to remain in quarantine forty days." I appeal to justice. Is this not a free country? Can a person be convicted, sentenced and punished without first being tried? Must the children suffer for a parent's faults?

MAY HOUSE.

The Mothers' Meeting.

Those present at the Mothers' Meeting last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. A. Chace enjoyed a rare treat. The program consisted of practical talks by Miss Helen Pile, and Prof. Hunter, Manual Training teacher at the college. Miss Pile who has spent much time in recent years in the study of Domestic Science, outlined the various divisions of the work and then talked entertainingly of foods and their values, and cooking, also sewing. The many questions asked evidenced the keen interest on the part of the ladies, and brought out many interesting points.

Prof. Hunter's talk was keenly appreciated. He spoke of the purposes and plans of Manual Training and outlined the various steps he dwelt strongly upon the fact that it is meeting the moral, the intellectual, the industrial, and the educational needs of today. Every point was so strongly and so tellingly brought out that many expressed the wish that it might be heard by all who have boys and girls to educate. The mothers decided to visit the Manual Training department at the College at an early date and gave a most hearty vote of thanks to Miss Pile and Prof. Hunter for a very instructive afternoon.

The various committees reported on the prize essays and all were pleased with the effort that had been put forth and by the sincere co-operation of Supt. Wilson and his teachers. The essays, showed that our students have some wide-awake, earnest and practical ideas along the line of civic improvement and if many if these could be carried out, our beautiful town would grow more beautiful and attractive and artistic, more clean and pure, and wholesome. We love Wayne and we will therefore set our mark high for the attainment of all that is highest and best in her growth and development. And we want to say to these boys and girls of ours, don't stop thinking and planning, now that the essays are done—but use your influence for Wayne's highest civic and moral beauty. There is no good thing we can not accomplish if we set about it in the right way. And we will make our little city, without and within, a place of which we shall all be proud.

Obituary.

The friends of James McIntosh were greatly shocked to hear of his sudden death, which occurred at his home near Hinkley, Minn., where he had lived for the past three years. Prior to that time he had resided in both Concord and Dixon, where he was well and favorably known. The body, accompanied by his wife, arrived in Wayne Saturday evening, when it was immediately taken in charge by the Masons, of which lodge he has been an honored member for many years. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and was attended by a large circle of friends from here and other places where he was known. It was in charge of the Masonic Fraternity, many of them coming from Concord and Dixon.

The beautiful floral offering brought by the Royal Neighbors of Dixon, showed the love and esteem that they had for him.

James W. McIntosh was born in Canada, Nov. 8th, 1867, and died of a hemorrhage May 13th, 1909, at Hinkley, Minn.

Besides his wife, he leaves a mother, brother and two sisters, to mourn his loss.

Death of Miss Ida Williams.

Ida, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Williams of Randolph, was buried in the Wayne cemetery Wednesday afternoon, a large number of sympathizing Wayne friends attending the funeral. Miss Williams was taken ill with pneumonia ten days ago, and being of delicate constitution fell an easy prey to this often fatal sickness. She was a young woman twenty-four years of age, of splendid character and a social favorite. Having attended college here a couple of years many Wayne people became acquainted and attached to the young lady. She was born in Platte county, had spent nearly all her life in Randolph, a great many people coming from there and Magnat to attend the funeral. F. H. Williams from Lincoln, G. R. from Omaha and A. J. from Magnat, brothers of E. R. and Dr. J. J. Williams, and two brothers of Mrs. E. R. Williams, uncles of deceased, were in Wayne to attend the sad obsequies. A son and daughter are left to comfort the sorrowing parents; two children having previously been laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery.

Winside News.

From our Correspondent.

The following officers have been elected in the Winside Masonic lodge for the ensuing year: George Farran, worshipful master; W. T. Prince, senior warden; I. E. French, junior warden; Walter Gaebler, secretary; and Thomas Prince, treasurer.

A petition with the required number of names has been filed with the village clerk, asking the town board to call a special meeting for the purpose of submitting the question of the town installing a gas plant.

A Woodman of the World camp was organized in Winside, it being No. 296. The following officers were elected to pilot the infant to success: Nels Iverson, council commander; F. G. In an item that appeared in the DEMOCRAT a couple of weeks ago concerning the filing of suits of Moritz Esche against Wayne saloon men for $5,000 each, the DEMOCRAT perhaps unnecessarily brought one of our business men into the case, as per "a little jollification over the marriage of Jas. Leahy." Mr. Leahy has made no complaint to the DEMOCRAT, but it would have been only fair to have stated that all Jim did or had to do with the "jollification" was to give the boys who participated a piece of money for any kind of a time they might care to make of it, a common practice when one of the "good fellows" becomes a benedict. O. A. King seems to be getting good news from the West every few days of late. The latest is a rich strike in the East drift of vein No. 4.

The first of the week they encountered some shipping ore very much like in vein No. 2, showing the yellow copper and gold very strongly.

The streak is widening out every shot and as we go to press, is nearly two feet in thickness. Samples from the shipping streak sent to four or five different assayers ran as follows: $33.20, $36.40, $40.70, $24.17, $50.30. While samples from the milling streak showed as follows: $9.32, $2.80, $6.40, $14.51, $8.92, $20.95 and $16.42. When you take into consideration the fact that ore now days assays $3 and $4 is mined at a profit, this certainly looks good for the King Solomon people.

The famous Homestake ore only averages $3.70 a ton.

It looks as though they would have ore enough, when it is properly blocked out, to supply a mill for generations to come.

A number of mining men have been up to the King Solomon the past week inspecting the new veins and drifts, so we understand, and all give a very favorable report, while one went so far as to say they had a mine in vein No. 4 alone. While this may be putting it a little strong, should it continue to show up as it has the past week, it will demonstrate that he is right.

They also found shipping ore on the surface of this same vein several hundred feet above them proving that the ore was either continuous or that there are several long ore shoots. They also tested the last vein with acid and the lime was so strong that it boiled. The fact that the lime and porphy show up in such quantities is one of the best evidences of strong ore shoots that is found in any vein, so mining men claim.

O. A., tells us that the breast of the tunnel is also showing signs of approaching a vein, showing considerable mineral and good quantities of water.

The success of this enterprise is going to mean a great deal to this community, as so many people all over the county are interested in it.

Society Notes.

The party was a complete surprise, as everyone could easily see, but it was none the less appreciated, and the exquisite Bohemian brooch of rubies presented by the ladies, will be most highly prized and cherished. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served by the visitors, and a lovely afternoon spent in visiting, every one feeling that it was well to be there and lending an uplift from the reverence of the occasion. Coleridge Blade: Some of the very fresh young pupils of the Hartington High School disgraced themselves and their town and their school while in town last Saturday and the guilty ones might very properly be taken into dad's wood shed and have a red cedar shingle applied to their "seat of intellect." They purloined a number of good silver spoons from G. E. Leuchtenberg at the hotel and from G. G. Moore at the restaurant. When accosted at the train by the marshal they tried to crawl out on the "souvenir" dodge. The marshal explained to them, what is evidently not taught in the Hartington schools, that if they wished souvenir spoons that the town would try and provide them a bunch the next time they come but that these spoons were private property and taking them was nothing short of larceny.

All but three or four of the spoons were recovered and the ones not recovered were displayed with much gusto by some of the fresh ones about Hartington. On Monday Landlord Leuchtenberg received a package from Hartington containing a lot of cheap spoons. The young folks up there seem to be in the spoon business all over. Another mark of brilliancy was displayed by one of the largest boys of the Hartington High in the hotel dining room, where, after eating, he tipped back his chair, drew forth a cigar, lit it and proceeded to puff forth clouds of smoke into the faces of his admiring compeers. If the Hartington parents and Hartington school authorities have lost control of these pseudo-educated young barbarians, it would be for their future welfare should the public take them in hand and run the whole caboodle, professor and all, into the calaboose the next time they come here to a field meet and instead give private and street attractions.

Frying Out The Fat.

The combine of big bankers is going after the deposit guarantee law like the republican national committee goes into a presidential campaign. In other words, they are out after the money. A committee representing five big national banks, with the Omaha National at the head, and five state banks, every one of which is regarded as a "me too" for one of the big banks in Omaha, has addressed a letter to all banks in Nebraska, soliciting funds with which to fight the new Nebraska deposit guarantee law in the courts. How much money do you suppose it takes to kill a bank guarantee law in Nebraska. This committee modestly asks each bank to remit an amount equal to one dollar for each thousand dollars of the capital stock of the bank. That will secure a fighting fund of $13,500.00 from the national banks in Nebraska, and $10,850.00 from the state banks. What will become of the money? How will it be spent?

Well, that's a difficult question to answer. It is difficult to tell just what a big banker in Omaha will do with a big bunch of expense money. We remember that a few years ago a very large sum of money was placed in the hands of a big banker in Omaha. If memory serves well this money belonged to the school fund of Nebraska. Somehow the banker got it mixed up with his own private affairs, and—well, the school children of the state never saw the color of that money. We recall another case where a large lump of money was placed in the hands of a big banker in Omaha at the eve of a presidential election. The orders behind that money were to see to it that a certain candidate for a national office should carry Douglas county. The orders were obeyed.

But how will the committee spend all these thousands of dollars in asking the court to pass upon the legality of our new guarantee law? Will all those thousands be given to some lawyer as a fee for making an argument to the court? We believe the lawyer is always entitled to his fee, but $24,340.00 look like a larger sum than is usually paid to a lawyer for making a talk to the court.

And the funny part about it is that while the big bankers are frightened at the very thought of having to put up a small guarantee fund under the new law, they have the audacity to ask every banker in the state to extract from his cash drawer $50 or $100 and give it to the fighting committee for the purpose of inducing the courts to kill a law which has been passed in response to the almost unanimous sentiment of Nebraska people.

Once upon a time a man owned a goose which laid golden eggs. The man got foolish and killed the goose. Let the big bankers who are raising the big pot of money for fighting purposes remember the story of the goose which laid the golden egg.

And you little country bankers who are sneezing every time some big banker in Omaha takes snuff—well, perhaps you might profitably read that excellent and appropriate fable about poor dog Tray.—Columbus Telegram.

Commenting upon the DEMOCRAT's suggestion of Gov. Shallenberger for United States senator in 1910, the Columbus Telegram says: It is still our opinion that Governor Shallenberger is the logical candidate to succeed himself in the governor's office. The fight made upon him because he signed the daylight saloon law raises a new issue in Nebraska and Governor Shallenberger is the natural and recognized leader in behalf of the new issue. That's why we say he should not be a candidate for the United States senate, and that's why we say he must stand for re-election as governor. Of course we thank the Wayne editorial friend for trying to make a governor out of Edgar Howard, but indeed it would be difficult for Howard to fill the office of governor and the office of congressman at the same time. We will stand for Phil Kohl as a candidate for governor, or for anything else he may desire, but he must wait until Governor Shallenberger shall have served another term.

Chicago Record-Herald: ROOSEVELT, as usual, is confounding his critics. The people who complained that he was going to Africa to shoot inoffensive wild things must be ashamed now when they read that he never raises his gun until the lion or leopard has crouched for a deadly spring, making it necessary for the eminent hunter to shoot in order to save the lives of his companions.

Roosevelt must have reformed since he went Africa. While in this country he hit 'em with the big stick whether they wanted to bite or only bicker.

When on the supreme bench Judge Sullivan gained an enviable reputation for his ability to see a point and to adorn his discovery in smooth, clear, cutting language. His work on the express cases is right along this line. Such findings, compared with the work of Judge McPherson, for instance, indicate that the legal profession embraces a variety of philosophy so divergent that it might be divided into two different branches.—Lincoln Star.
