A Wayne Story with Real Home Characters

A meeting of the church had been called to decide upon the purchase of new carpets.

The ladies—God bless 'em—had held entertainments, and worked and saved, and secured the funds, and now the male members of the congregation, who had stood by and looked wise, while their better halves were digging tooth and toe nail to accumulate the shekels, were called together to direct them were to spend the money.

Parson Goodman called the meeting to order, and asked Judge Mandamus to take the chair.

"I move," hurriedly said Deacon Titefist, "that we send to Chicago and get the carpets from Catchem & Doem, the great catalogue house."

Dr. Cureem's wife seconded the motion.

Hon. Thos. Jones rose in protest. "Brother and sister," said he, "you are making a mistake. No community can prosper that divides its forces. Its buyers and sellers must work together."

"Huh!" said Deacon Titefist, "I believe in buyin' where you can get things the cheapest."

"So do I," answered the Hon. Thomas Jones. "That is one reason why I am a Jonny-on-the-spot man, for I've learned that the home man gives better goods for the money than the catalogue man. He can't afford to sell shoddy goods to his neighbors. And competition keeps his prices down."

"It's my privilege to go where I please with my money," persisted the deacon.

"Just so; and strike your home man when you want credit," retorted Mr. Jones. "I'm not built that way. The home man gives employment to all my boys and girls. He buys my products and employs other people who consume my products. He spends his profits in building up the community in which I live. He is entitled to my support."

"He's got no strings on me," growled the deacon.

"He has if you are a fair man," declared the former Nebraska legislator. "He is a target every time you fire a contribution gun. When the church was built, you were the busiest man in town, deacon, striking business men for donations. I never heard that Catchem & Doem gave a penny."

"But these here carpets"—again began the deacon.

"You can bank on their being low-grade," broke in Mr. Jones; "made to sell cheap. All this Catchem & Doem stuff is. We have reliable, responsible houses in town. Why not buy of them? The Johnson Furniture Co. sell carpets of repute. We all know they handle the best carpets made. What more do you want? And a house as enterprising as this that carries lines of carpets, room-size rugs, lineolums, matting, curtains, draperies; a very complete stock of everything in up-to-date furniture, kitchen cabinets, pianos, room mouldings and picture mouldings, New Home sewing machines, oils, needles and supplies, is entitled to local support. The Johnson Furniture Co. has a completely stocked undertaking department and are thoroughly competent in this line."

"You can get groceries cheaper by clubbing," declared Dr. Cureem's wife.

"What kind?" snapped Hon. Thomas Jones. "Bogus spices, imitation coffee slop, canned goods, refuse stuff of all sorts! The clubbing grocery solicitor is one of the worst evils we have, and when you compare his prices with Ralph Rundell's, for pure, fresh and wholesome food articles, you'll find Mr. Rundell's the lowest anyhow. That's not all. This popular grocer offers you a clean, big, complete stock that comprises the best of every possible thing in staple and fancy groceries and fresh fruits and vegetables. Mr. Rundell calls special attention to his Barrington Hall, steel cut coffees and White House canned goods, for which he has the exclusive sale in Wayne. He has a fine line of teas, bottled and pickled goods, and makes a specialty of fresh fruits. He has a well selected stock of china and queensware. Prompt delivery, and you can order from him by phone 68, instead of writing some 500 miles away."

"I see one o' them mail order catalogues down to your house t'other day," the deacon broke in, rather insinuatingly.

"Yes," assented Mr. Jones. "The children use them for scrap books. My family, however, has no use for the catalogue houses. Did you ever hear of anyone buying a satisfactory stove or range from a mail order house? Not on your life! They sell you a cheap contraption that is a constant source of trouble. Why, you can get one of those Quick Meal ranges, a Quick Meal gasoline stove, a New Perfection oil stove, a Leonard Cleanable refrigerator, a Bartlett ball-bearing sewing machine, Heath & Milligan's paints, a Monitor furnace, McCormick mowers and binders, Beitzendorff and Webber farm wagons, International gasoline engines and Clover Leaf manure spreaders, of Neely & Craven, and keep the business at home. I find everything a housekeeper can want in the stove, tinware and kitchen supply lines, in splendid stock at Neely & Craven's, and I have confidence in the goods because I know the men behind them."

"The big cities set the fashions: why shouldn't we get our hats at headquarters?" argued Dr. Cureem's wife.

"Why shouldn't you buy your finery there?" sarcastically responded Miss Makepiece Cheviot, the fashionable dressmaker and member of the church choir. "One reason is that right here in Wayne, opposite the postoffice, is Miss B. Temple's millinery store, which provides every facility for getting everything that's new and admirable in the world of fashion. Her trimmers are quite as expert as any from fashion's centers, and they are all as well posted and have as correct tastes. Being expert designers, they give an exclusive style to hats that is never found in Catchem & Doem's goods. And having compared prices, I find that Miss Temple sells high grade millinery cheaper than the large cities. She invites the attention of the ladies of Wayne and vicinity to an elegant stock of new summer millinery. Miss Temple is now offering all trimmed hats at greatly reduced prices."

"The home merchant's prosperity does not interest me," butted in Colonel Manoeuvres.

"Then you are short sighted," retorted Mr. Jones. "Take the popular clothing store of Kate's, the one-priced out-fitter for men and boys—"The House of Good Clothes." His people consume your products. His profits are applied to improve your town. He pays taxes to help you run the home machine. He subscribes to public enterprises. He sells you clothing and men's furnishing goods and men's shoes that are honest, at prices that are economical. He carries stocks that in extent and variety are the pride of the town, just because it is prosperous. Interest you? I guess yes! Get the habit of buying Kuppenheimer clothing and high grade men's shoes at this always reliable store where they have but one price and the same price to all. The satisfaction received makes the habit a permanent one."

"The most credulous people I know of," continued Mr. Jones, "are those who send away for jewelry and watches. Cheap, unreliable grades are the stock in trade of the Catchem & Doem catalogue houses. It is so easy to fill a small order with trash and so impossible to get redress. With a house like G. J. Mines, you are safe. Back of the fact that the goods are on hand for inspection, is the guarantee of a well known citizen who could not afford, if he would, to misrepresent quality. J. G. Mines, whose store is on Main street, carries the best, grade of watches, diamonds, jewelry, sterling silver, plated ware and clocks from the most noted manufacturers, and does repairing promptly and at moderate prices. He also has a nice line of cut glass, hand-painted and fancy china, a well stocked optical department and is very successful in fitting glasses."

Col. Manoeuvres suggested that certain kinds of manufactured articles—notably harness—could be produced cheapest in the big factories.

"Nobody denies that," said Hon. Thomas Jones. "But how about the quality? That is what is vital to the buyer. There is no other product where shoddy is so freely used by unscrupulous men. The only Simon-sure cinch against a swindle is to buy of a man you know something about—a man like John S. Lewis Jr., for instance. His repute for honest material, good work and reliable representation is as the page of an open book in this community, where he has been making and selling harness for twenty-five years, and he carries a stock of harness, saddles, pads, collars, whips, lap robes, dusters, fly nets and horse furnishings of sufficient extent and variety to meet any demand. Mr. Lewis makes a specialty of handmade harness, and does all kinds of harness repairing promptly and at moderate prices."

"These fellows quote cut prices on patent medicines," said Deacon Titefist, referring to the Catchem & Doem catalogue.

"Some kinds," said Jones. "Shelf-worn goods bought in job lots. When I use medicine I want the best, and to be sure of getting it I don't patronize a mail order house. We all know J. H. Felber's drug store of quality to be thoroughly reliable, and are assured of getting the genuine quality of the goods we get. He carries full lines of everything known in the realm of pharmacy, and makes a point of having it fresh and pure. Health is too precious to take chances with. I want to know that the man is skilled and reliable who deals out my medicines. Mr. Felber makes a specialty of filling physicians' prescriptions and family recipes. He carries a fine line of wall paper, box stationery, toilet articles, perfumes, base ball goods, etc. His ice cream soda and soft drinks are delicious."

"The merchant himself doesn't always stick to the home-made idea," declared Judge Mandamus.

"That does not hold good when speaking of William Dammeyer's cigars," flashed back Mr. Jones. "For every first class dealer in Wayne sells them, William Dammeyer's Lincoln (5c) and Luxus (10c) brands are as prime cigars as can be rolled from tobacco for the price. If, however, the majority of cigars that are smoked in Wayne were made here it would add thousands of dollars to the trade of merchants through the patronage of the cigar-makers and others, who would benefit by keeping the money in circulation at home. Smokers should remember this and call for William Dammeyer's cigars. All cigars made by William Dammeyer are high grade workmanship, under sanitary conditions."

"Many dollars have gone for cheap buggies" spoke up Farmer Muchland.

"There is only one way to get general quality," said Mr. Jones. "Buy of a firm you know—a firm like Meister & Bluechel. They carry lines of the best vehicles in stock, that include many styles, and their goods are here for inspection. Their carriages and buggies, farm implements and wagons are sold on the honor of a reputable house, and you stand to get what you pay for. Their work is known as the best that money can buy, and includes the Henney, Anchor and Capital City buggies and carriages, Peter Schuttler and Buerkens farm wagons, Moline, Emerson and Janesville plows, Standard mowers, the Wills, Jr. wagon stacker, Acme harvesting machinery, DeLaval cream separators, Fuller & Johnson and Lawson gasoline engines, Great Western manure spreaders and Ludlow standard binder twine."

"Satisfaction is a much abused word," said Joseph Hustler. "It represents what you don't get at the mail order house and what you do get when you buy any kind of goods at Miller & Jones' big double store. Dry goods, dress goods, cloaks, skirts, Warner Bros' rust-proof corsets, gloves, hosiery, stylish trimmed hats and millinery, rugs, carpets men's and boys' clothing, hats, furnishings, Brown Shoe Co.'s reliable shoes for both sexes and all ages, a varied stock of staple and fancy groceries, including E. B. Millar's choice, coffees, teas and spices and Ivy Wreath canned good—anything and everything bought from Miller & Jones' big double store represents Satisfaction with a big S. Just a little more than a dollar's worth for a dollar, both in quality and quantity, is Miller & Jones' motto, and they live up to the motto every business day of the year. Their prices, too, are always reasonable. I have always said that they ought to put up a sign reading, 'Miller & Jones' Store of Satisfaction.'"

"It is a source of pleasure to me to work with good tools," said Joseph Hustler, the well known contractor and builder "and I find that every man on the job does better work, when he has first class tools to work with. In fact, I am slow to employ a man who does not carry the best tools. No Catchem & Doem mail order kit will ever be found on my jobs. I cannot afford to have a man laid off several hours by the breaking of a cheap, unreliable mail order tool. The best is none too good, is my motto, and my own preference in tools and cutlery is for the Keen Kutter line. I buy them of Barrett & Dally, who carry a complete assortment. Mrs. Hustler uses the Keen Kutter shears and scissors, and Joe, Jr. is mighty proud of his Keen Kutter pocket knife. When you buy a Keen Kutter article, you know what you are getting for your money. Barrett & Dally sells the famous Majestic ranges, Jewel gasoline stoves, Perfection oil stoves, One Minute washing machines, Keen Kutter lawn mowers, garden hose, Lincoln absolutely pure paints, oils, varnishes, stains, Herrick refrigerators, Sharples cream separators, and a full line of builders', shelf and heavy hardware."

The special committee having in charge the construction of the new church parsonage, reported that they had contracted with John Harrington for the material. Hon. Thomas Jones expressed satisfaction. "That is a man," said he, "that always gives the glad hand to every public enterprise, and I am pleased that this church appreciates it. His business reputation is a guarantee of square treatment, and his facilities in the way of a complete and extensive stock of best quality interior finish, sash doors, lime, cement, building and roofing paper, lumber and building materials are equal to the demand of the community. John Harrington sells Royal wire fencing and excellent hard and soft coal. Phone 148 and you will get prompt attention."

"For more than 20 years," said Judge Mandamus, "Dan Harrington, Wayne's leading contractor, has supplied myself and our sons with reliable, stylish and every way satisfactory clothing, and, in fact, has fitted us out with everything that we wear, from head to foot and I have always found Dan Harrington's store reliable, and we have never found it necessary or desirable to send away, or go away from Wayne for anything in his line. Many of my neighbors have dealt with Dan Harrington ever since he began business in Wayne, and we are unanimous in the belief that he is a good man to tie to. He is a pleasant man to do business with, and extends all accommodations possible. He sells high grade goods at reasonable prices. Dan Harrington is the home of Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes. He also sells the Florsheim men's shoes, Gordon hats, Munsing underwear, Broadwinner overalls, and everything in up-to-date men's furnishings."

"June is often called the month for weddings," said Parson Goodman,

"and it is a fact that very many marriages take place in this month. I hope no young man of my congregation, or of Wayne county, will stand up before me to be married in a suit of clothes made away from Wayne Schroer & Fielding, the up-to-date tailors over the state Bank, carry a large line of latest style cloths in stock, and can fashion as stylish and well fitting a dress suit or business suit as can be made in Sioux City or Omaha, and at a more moderate price. Clothes may not make the man; but a suit of clothes made by Schroer & Fielding make a man feel perfectly at ease with the best dressed people he meets."

"Who's your banker?" was a question asked by Farmer Muchland, and then he proceeded to answer his own query. "The First National Bank of Wayne does my banking business," said this well known Wayne county pioneer farmer. "I have done business with them for 29 years since they first opened their doors in 1880 as the Logan Valley Bank. My business with them in the early days consisted largely in borrowing. And to their broadminded and accommodating policy I am indebted largely for my prosperity. Whenever I wanted to buy an additional 80 or 160 acres, this bank let me have what money I needed and allowed me to pay in installments, thus reducing the interest. The Logan Valley Bank was nationalized in 1885. I am gratified to know that the First National Bank's business has developed and kept pace with the growth and increased prosperity of the community, and it is recognized as a rock of financial strength wherever known. They accord all accommodations consistent with safe banking principles, and pay 4 per cent interest on time deposits. They rent safe deposit boxes at $1.00 a year. I am happy to say that I graduated from the ranks of the borrowers some time ago, and since then the First National has been paying me interest on my surplus funds. Their capital is $75,000.00 and surplus $25,000.00, and total resources $473,548.95. Frank E. Strahan is president; John T. Bressler, vice-president; H. F. Wilson, cashier, and H. S. Ringland, assistant cashier. These officers, with Robert E. K. Melior and George Bogart, comprise the board of directors."

"There's one business the catalogue men do not meddle with," said Parson Goodman, "the butcher's."

"But the packer does," said Mr. Jones. "His agents slip around and take private orders for cured meats. They get no encouragement from me. Hanssen Bros. supply my table. Their market is always stocked with prime meats of every description that I know to be of first class quality. And their weights are honest, and prices graded to the lowest market notch. It pays to trade with Hanssen Bros., of the Central Meat Market. They make a specialty of home grown meats, their own make of sausage, sell pure lard, fine ham, bacon and other meats, and always have a fine lot of poultry and other extra nice meats for Sunday dinners and fresh fish for Fridays. Goods delivered. Phone 67."

Dr. Curem's wife called attention to a Catchem & Doem catalogue house list of books and said she couldn't get them for any such low prices at home. "I fear you are not very well posted on Wayne dealers' goods and prices," asserted Mr. Jones. "Take any legitimate edition published and J. E. Hufford's bookstore, will sell it to you at as low or lower price than you can get elsewhere, and the books will be fresh, clean and no broken bindings. Mr. Hufford will show you as nice a line of fine stationery, fancy china, cut glass, athletic and baseball goods, all the popular magazines, wall papers of correct designs, Patton's Sun Proof paints, oils, varnishes and stains, as can be found in this section. Mr. Hufford sells the renowned Chickering Bros' pianos, Edison phonographs, and has the late and most popular records."

The committee on arrangements for the annual June festival, to be given for the benefit of the members of the Sunday school, reported that they had made a contract with Howard Whalen, up-to-date bakery and confectionery, for all the plain and fancy confectionery, fruits and ice cream and baked goods needed for the occasion. They had looked over Mr. Whalen's stock, and found that his candies were fresh, pure and delicious, and his ice cream was made of the very choicest materials. They were entirely satisfied with Mr. Whalen's goods, and found him generous in his prices. The committee praised his exhibit of confectionery novelties, much of it artistic and dainty boxes. Mr. Whalen makes a specialty of pure ice cream for weddings, parties, receptions, and by the single dish. His ice cream parlor is handsomely furnished with individual tables, and is a popular resort for ladies and children. Delicious ice cream soda, with crushed fruits and pure fruit flavors, and all the popular soft drinks, are served at the fountain. Mr. Whalen manufactures all the popular makes of bread and does fancy baking to order. He will soon be doing business in his new brick building on the west side of the street, where he will be better able than ever before to turn out the highest class goods in his line. Phone 140.

"I was in J. P. Gaertner's furniture store a few days ago," said Parson Goodman's wife, "assisting our daughter to select a book case. We decided on the Gunn sectional book case, because from time to time other sections can be added at little expense, as the new books accumulate, and yet the beauty and symmetry of the book case will be retained. In looking over Mr. Gaertner's excellent stock of furniture, it occurred to me how very many really useful and beautiful articles can be selected from his stock. Every article will last for years, and be of permanent value. I saw beautiful articles of furniture of every kind, the Strober pianos, White and Free sewing machines, carpets, artistic rugs and art squares, linoleums, matings, lace curtains, and draperies, pretty framed pictures and a great variety of mouldings for framing pictures to order, Bissell's Prize and Gold Medal carpet sweepers, mattresses, couches, easy chairs, china cabinets, buffets, kitchen cabinets, and the popular davenport. There is scarcely an article in J. P. Gaertner's store that would not make a valued gift for any occasion.

"I always pull fair with the man who's hitched in harness with me," said Judge Mandamus. "The man who helps me to tote the burden of home affairs, who pays taxes, chips in bonuses, helps to back home enterprises—he's the man who gets my money. You've never heard, I reckon, of my patronizing any of the non-responsible insurance agents. All the money they pick up goes. But agencies like A. J. Ferguson & Co.'s, illustrate my idea of mutual benefit. They represent well known standard companies and write all kinds of risks—fire, lightning, wind storm, automobile, plate glass, etc. A. J. Ferguson & Co. make a specialty of long time term loans, at lowest rates of interest, with optional payments. They have great money making propositions in lands in the Scott's Bluff irrigation district, next the Wyoming line in Nebraska. This will pay to investigate."

Deacon Titefist continued to growl, and was heard to mutter that the "home man has no mortgage on me." Hon. Thomas Jones concluded to administer a knock-out blow.

"Maybe not," Mr. Jones retorted. "But who pays taxes to keep up community expenses? Who's the first man you strike with a subscription list but the home merchant? Who helps you to keep up the schools, churches and charities? The catalogue house of Catchem & Doem, or men like the Jeffries Shoe Co. And yet you'll propose to send away for shoes when you should know you can get better quality for the money right at home. That's blindness, deacon. Here's the Jeffries Shoe Co. carrying an elegant stock of the latest styles of the best shoes in creation, and you ask me to ignore them and take a dead sure chance of getting soaked by a concern that never spends a cent here. Deacon you insult my intelligence. The Jeffries Shoe Co. carry an up-to-date stock of millinery, ladies' suits, skirts, shirt waists, hostess, belts and neckwear."

"When I want something extra fine in perfumes," said Miss Makepeace Cheviot, the fashionable dressmaker and member of the church choir, "I do not have to send away from Wayne for them. Leahy's drug store, next to the Boyd hotel, carries a large and varied stock of perfumes, which includes the highest grade goods and something to suit every taste, or caprice. In toilet requisites and necessities for a lady's bath, he has a complete supply." Dr. Cureem tells me that J. T. Leahy has a very complete stock of drugs, and that he can commend him for promptness and accuracy in filling prescriptions. He has a 1909 stock of wall papers, sells Sherwin-Williams stains, oils and varnishes. He carries high grade stationery, and manufactures and serves pure ice cream, which is deservedly popular. His ice cream soda and soda fountain drinks have a high reputation.

"When my barn was burned four years ago, it became necessary for me to build another, one at once," said Farmer Hardluck. "One of my neighbors suggested that I might save money by figuring with a mail order concern on the lumber. I am not much of a figure, but I know that two and two make four. And after getting prices from the mail order house on the bill of stuff I wanted, and finding out just what the freight charges would be, I took the result to Fisher & Dickerson, and much to my surprise and satisfaction found that I could save more than the freight bill by buying of them right here at home. They supplied me with everything I needed in the way of building materials and gave me excellent quality and entire satisfaction. They make a specialty of high-grade Canadian shingles and guarantee that there are none better. They sell everything in lumber and best grades of hard and soft coal, and make right prices. Phone 78."

The committee on securing transportation for the members of the society to the ice cream and strawberry social at Farmer Muchland's reported that they had been given very satisfactory terms from W. A. Hiscok's livery, sales, feed and feed stables. Parson Goldman expressed satisfaction. Mr. Hiscok has steady, reliable drivers and good teams, and has nothing undone for the comfort of his patrons," declared the parson. "Liverymen may come and livery men may go and liverymen may go but W. H. Hiscok, proprietor of the White barn, is always to be relied upon to serve the public. He has arrangements for funerals at very moderate rates, and does business on the live and let live basis. Calls answered day or night, phone 101."

We are very fortunate," said Cora Sureshot, "in having the best plumbing establishments in our city, which are carried on by experts in their line. When my house was re-modeled was urged to give the heating and plumbing contracts to outside parties, but Wayne plumbers are good enough for me. There are no jobs of plumbing or heating that Otto Voegt is not capable of doing, whether it is in a modest private residence or a big public building. He supplies the most modern sanitary heating and plumbing, and he sells systems, and his work is done on honor. He sells bath tubs, sinks, pumps, pipes, closets, brass goods, garden goods, the Universal ranges, Perfection oil stoves, Herschel lawn mowers, Motor high speed and Dexter washing machines, Lowe Bros.' high standard paints, oils, varnishes, glass, Beatrice woven wire and is the Wayne sales agent for the popular Krell pianos."

"Speaking of banks," said Parson Goodman, "induces me to express my hearty approbation of the motto of the Citizens National Bank of Wayne, 'Safety and a Square Deal.' If more things than banking were conducted on the basis of 'Safety and a Square Deal,' the people of the nation would be infinitely better off. We all know that when such reputable men as are at the head of the Citizens National Bank of Wayne, promise their patrons a square deal, the pledge will be carried out. This bank was established in 1885, and has a reputation of 24 years of successful and honorable business life. The reputation of the officers of this bank for integrity is so well known that it is superfluous for me to refer to the subject. It pays 4 per cent. interest on time deposits, and offers the use of its safe deposit boxes at a moderate price. It grants all accommodations which any safely conducted bank would be justified in doing. A bank is an institution which deserves the encouragement and hearty co-operation of every person in the community. A bank account tends to make the young man more self-respecting and a better citizen, and makes the young woman independent and teaches her lessons of economy and thrift. The capital of the Citizens National Bank is $60,000.00 and resources $481,544.05. A. L. Tucker is president; H. C. Henney, vice president; D. C. Main, cashier and H. B. Jones, assistant cashier."

"One of the queer things in the question of home trade," said Hon. Thomas Jones, is the tendency of citizens to injure their grain market. Take the matter of flour. Here's the Wayne Roller mills, Weber Bros., proprietors, that manufactures the most superb flour—every good house keeper in the community will admit that she never had any flour better than their Superlative and Snow Flake brands—yet some citizens order flour made elsewhere and which frequently fails to give satisfaction. Occasionally a farmer, who expects these mills to buy his wheat, and pay the highest market prices, uses foreign made flour. Mills like these bring farmers to Wayne from a wide territory, who otherwise would trade elsewhere. Business men especially should encourage such an enterprise by selling and using products, and most Wayne men do this. Weber Bros. invite an investigation of their record as to the prices they pay for wheat as compared with the prices paid in other towns in this section of Nebraska. In nearly every case and almost at all times it will be found that farmers get better prices here than elsewhere. The mill phone is 131."

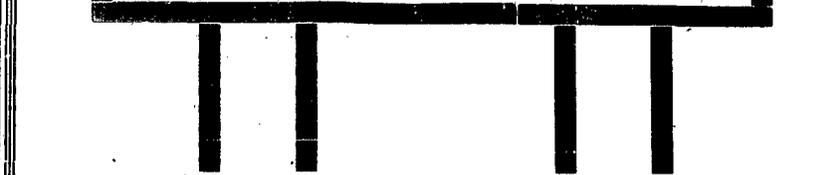

"It somehow became known that we intended buying a piano when we moved into our new house," said John Harmony, leader of the church choir, "and we were deluged with circulars from Catchem & Doem mail order houses. But Mrs. Harmony and I believe in buying everything obtainable at home, and in making a purchase of such magnitude we wanted a responsible home man to look to, should anything go wrong. We turned down the outside salesman and bought our piano of F. M. Jones' music house, and we are more than pleased with it. We not only got a first-class piano, but saved money by buying of F. H. Jones, who sells the Harden, Everett, Crown, Tryber, Davenport & Tracy and other high grade pianos and organs, small musical instruments, musical merchandise, Victor talking machines, a large line of records and sheet music, Eastman kodaks and supplies, Spalding athletic goods, hammocks, late copyright books, magazines, hand painted and fancy china and the latest designs in wall papers."

"I like to go to headquarters when I buy," pompously asserted Deacon Titefist. "Do you send to Washington for postage stamps?" asked Mr. Jones. "I tell you that the retailer in Wayne can sell to you as cheaply as the retailer in Lincoln or Omaha or the catalogue house any where, and he is here to back up his goods and correct mistakes, when you buy of a catalogue or mail order house in a distant city, you invariably lose in quality. Their prices frequently appear attractive, but when you inspect the goods you find they lack in quality, and the goods in many instances are of a character that you would not accept from your home dealer. Take the dry goods and notion department of Orr & Morris Co.'s store, for example. They buy in the best markets. They know how to buy close. They are alert to meet all competition. Their dry goods, dress goods, suits, shirts, cloaks, Kabo corsets, Topsy hosiery, gloves, wash dress goods, muslin underwear, men's furnishings, rugs, carpets, etc., have the guarantee of an honorable firm. If they are not headquarters for high quality and square dealing, I don't know what the term means. Speaking of quality, reminds me that this firm makes quality its watchword early and late. Goodman said that they frequently charge double the price that a home man like W. B. Vail, the Wayne optician charges, and that they often sell glasses that prove a positive injury to the eyesight. A home man like W. B. Vail, who has had years of experience in fitting glasses, and possesses modern scientific apparatus for testing eyesight is a good man to have prescribe and supply your glasses. Eyesight is too precious a gift to let strangers experiment with. The state optometry law is bringing about a needed reform, as it permits only those who are qualified to sell or fit glasses. Mr. Vail was at one time chairman of the examining board of opticians of the state. He is in his office at Wayne at all times except Tuesdays, when he visits Cole-ridge, Laurel, Wakefield and other towns, where he may be consulted."

"Banking by Mail is an alluring phrase, said Joseph Hustler, but how about a little accommodation when the necessities of business demand it? Is it your home banker or the distant city banker that takes care of you when you want a few hundred dollars for a short time for any purpose? The banking by mail concerns are all willing to take care of your money, but when you want to use any of theirs, that is another story, as Rudyard Kipling says: "I find the State Bank of Wayne always ready to afford any reasonable accommodation. They pay me interest on time deposits, and I am personally acquainted with its officers and know them and the bank to be thoroughly reliable. The bank's safety deposit boxes are a great convenience and are offered free to regular patrons. The State Bank of Wayne is conceded to be one of the leading financial institutions of the county. It was established in 1892, and by conservative and intelligent methods has built up a large and constantly increasing business. This bank's deposits are over $350,000.00 and they always carry a large reserve. You will find them at all times courteous and accommodating. Henry Ley is president; C. A. Chace, vice-president; R. W. Ley, cashier; and Herman Lundberg, assistant cashier."

"The most amazing proposition I have struck lately," volunteered the Hon. Thomas Jones, "is an offer of the mail order house to supply monuments and grave-stones. I had the curiosity to investigate at the Wayne marble and granite works, R. Durrin & Co., proprietors, and am satisfied that they will sell any grade of marble or granite at the Chicago price list, and save the purchaser materially on fright and cost of placing in the cemetery. More than this: Here you get, as we all know by observation, artistic work with names spelled correctly, whereas the work of the Catchem & Doem mail order house is generally out of proportion and abounds in errors. The Wayne marble and granite works have the facilities for the economical working of marble and granite, and carry a large and superior stock of completed work, both in domestic and imported granite. Original designs are a specialty with this firm."

"Furchner, Duerig & Co., proprietors of the German store, the pioneer dealers, corner of Main and Third streets, are men who at all times give you a square deal," said Gus Roener. "For many years we have bought our supplies of them and they have taken our butter, eggs and poultry in exchange, always giving us the highest market prices, a square deal, and honest weight and count. They have a reputation for reliability and enterprise that has gained the good will of the farming community and of our citizens generally. Their stock includes well selected lines of staple and fancy groceries, men's and boys' clothing, hats, caps and furnishings, Hardknox and Glover overalls (there are none better) of which they have the exclusive sale in Wayne, shoes for big and little folks, and dry goods, skirts, notions and dress goods. Phone 139."

"The principle of home trade is one that underlies the successful growth and progress of any community," reaffirmed Hon. Thomas Jones. "When I want a nice made-to-measure suit of clothes I don't send in my order to a Catchem & Doem mail order house. I walk into E. C. Tweed's tailoring establishment, over the postoffice, look over his latest style goods in the piece or sample, and I am sure of finding something that gives me perfect satisfaction. Then at the time appointed I go again and try on the coat, and the result is I get a perfect fit of stylish well made clothes, made right here in Wayne, at a moderate price, and my money returns to me again in the channels of local trade, for E. C. Tweed pays it out in the community. He does cleaning, pressing and repairing. His motto is: 'Your money back if not satisfied.'"

"While we are throwing bouquets to our Wayne business firms," characteristically remarked Joseph Hustler, "I don't want I. E. Ellis' City cafe forgotten. When you want a meal, a lunch or a delicious piece of strawberry shortcake, Ed will serve you in such a manner that you feel at peace with all mankind, and can even witness the approach of the tax collector without a tremor. One of his favorite rules of life is 'Be sunny.' And it is dead easy to follow this precept, after eating at Ed's Place. His lunches help make the home happy. The City cafe serves nice lunches and meals, day or night, and make a specialty of strawberry shortcake and the delicacies of the season. They have fresh baked bread for sale at all times. Phone 142."

"There is no economy in putting up a cheap, temporary fence," said Farmer Grotschke, "My fences are put up to stay, and they are made of American field fencing and good quality posts, all bought from F. G. Philleo & Co. They buy this fencing by the car load, and it has a wonderful sale, and I never know a man to use it but who believed it to be the best fencing he could buy. It stands like a stone wall. Better buy your fence for years to come, instead of having to rebuild every little while. The American fence turns hogs, cattle, hogs and pigs. It is made of big, heavy wires, with hinge joint, good galvanizing, and has the exactly proportioned quality of steel, that is not too hard nor too soft. F. G. Philleo & Co. sell all kinds of lumber and hard and soft coal, and are pleased to make estimates. Phone 147."

"It was quite a problem with father what to give me for my twenty-first birthday," said Robert Muchland, the only son of Farmer Muchland. "He has plenty of land for Sister Sue and I, and I have a horse and carriage and a saddle horse. He had often expressed an aversion to automobiles, looking upon them as a passing fad. But when Uncle Robert brought his family out from Omaha in a Buick, and had induced father to take several rides with him, father became quite interested; and admitted that automobiles were something more than a plaything. Much to my surprise, he very mysteriously invited me to go to town with him early on the morning of my birthday and took me to the Wayne Automobile and Garage Co.'s sales room, where a fine Buick car was presented to me as my birthday gift. The Buick is a high grade car at a moderate price. The Wayne Automobile and Garage Co. sells them, does repairing, and runs an automobile livery and garage. Phone 61."

"In most cases," continued the Hon. Thomas Jones, "It is thoughtlessness that leads people into seeming forgetfulness of home enterprises. Merchants themselves, who should of all others appreciate a strict observance of loyalty, sometimes stray after false gods. They use foreign printed stationery, oblivious of the fact that they can do just as well right at home. Take for instance the job department of the Democrat. It has equipment and facilities for all kinds of commercial job printing and turns out first class work. It is loyal to all home enterprises and receives, as it deserves, the support of Wayne business men."

"It is a shortsighted policy that ignores resident dealers."

"I low I have been converted, Brother Jones," contritely acknowledged Deacon Titefist. "I withdraw my motion."

Mrs. Dr. Cureem agreed with the deacon.

And that's why Catchem & Doem failed to receive an order for the church carpets, and which instead was given to the enterprising home dealers, The Johnson Furniture Co.

"The Cowboy, Indian and Lady." Presented by Blondin's big show is without doubt the best theatrical show under canvas ever produced. The play is better adapted for a tent show, giving better satisfaction than anything ever attempted by a tent show. The manager has studied what the people want and has secured this great play to give the public something better than they have been seeing with usual tent shows, so don't fail to attend the best one. Of Wayne County People on

CHEYENNE COUNTY NEBRASKA

One of the Richest, Best, Cheapest, Farming Counties in the Middle West.

I want to say to all my Wayne county friends that I went out to Cheyenne county last summer with the Kivett Land Co., and was delighted with the country. Soil is about the same as in this part of Nebraska; no alkali, or gumbo; black loam soil and clay sub-soil; fine, healthy climate and just the place for the farmer of moderate means who wants to own his own farm. ADOLPH KIEPER

This is to certify that I have been out in Cheyenne county and was well pleased with the country in every respect. Soil is good and climate don't think it can be beat anywhere. It looks like the country for a man of moderate means to me, alright. G. SHABRAM.

Cheyenne county, Neb., is just what the Kivett Land Co. told me it was, the place for a man to grow up with the country and make some money from the beginning. Crops are good out there and I see no cause for failure in the years to come. I would advise my friends looking for a new location to visit Cheyenne county first. It looks mighty good to me. D. J. CAVANAUGH.

WAYNE, NEB., MAR. 20, 1908.

Having recently returned from Dalton, Cheyenne county, Nebraska, I will say to anyone who have money to invest in land that they will not regret the time or money spent by investigating the land for sale by the Kivett Land Co. of Bancroft, Neb., and Dalton, Neb. LINK H. JONES.

I, Robert Shippy, can truthfully say that Cheyenne county, Neb., is as good as O. D. Franks claims it is and would advise any man that wants to invest in land to go look at the country before buying elsewhere. ROBERT SHIPPY.

I can only say that I bought land in Cheyenne county several months ago, that I was pleased with the country and consider a land purchase out there at this time a mighty good one. The soil is first-class; good water, and I found the people who have lived there a number of years very prosperous. NEAL THOMPSON.

The only way for a land seeker to learn the good qualities of Cheyenne county is for him to go and see it for himself. I have thoroughly investigated the country and don't believe there is anything better anywhere. It has all the merits of Wayne county and a climate that beats this all hollow. Every man who sees it is ready to buy, and land is going up every day. JAMES A. THOMPSON.

In these days when people are going to Dakota, Minnesota, Idaho or elsewhere, it is a good idea to see first what we have in our own state. Cheyenne county, Neb., it is as good as any other locality I have looked over. It has the climate for the hayfever and consumptive. It is also one of the best crop countries in the west. Any man looking for a change should make a trip out there and see for himself. Every proposition will be found just as Mr. Franks put it up to me. DICK CARPENTER.

I expected to find a desert, and I saw an eldorado in Cheyenne county. The country is as represented by the Kivett Land Co., and worth while for any man to go and see it who is looking for a new location. WILLIAM BAKER.

I wish to say to any interested that Cheyenne county looks good to me. I went out there skeptical as to the country, but found it just as represented and what I consider a good place to invest. Soil and climate can't be beat even in Wayne county; land is very reasonable and will, I believe, make a big advance in price in the near future. MRS. W. A. WILLIAMS.

Cheyenne county is just as good as Wayne for farming, and the climate is far ahead of this. They raise good crops out there on one-third of the money you have to invest in a Wayne county farm. I found no alkali nor gumbo, but a rich loam soil, and the air—you Wayneites ought to get a whiff of it, you would use no other. W. A. WILLIAMS.

Having personally examined Cheyenne county, I consider it by far the best new country I ever saw. The land is level with a clay sub-soil and very productive, water fine. O. S. GAMBLE.

To my friends in Wayne county—go out to Cheyenne county and see what a fine farm you can get, with the best of soil, water, climate and good markets. I for one don't believe it can be beat any way you look at it, and I have knocked around enough to have learned a little something. The Kivett Land Co. certainly gave me a square deal in every respect and I expect to make big money on my investment. JOHN W. BANISTER.

I want to say for Mr. Franks' benefit, who took me out to Cheyenne county, that that country is just what he told me it was in every respect, and that I believe it is the best, money-making place on the map today. JNO. LARISON.

To my Wayne county friends I can say that I bought land in Cheyenne county last August, and am well pleased with the country. I have been out there since and I like it even better than upon my first trip. Farmers appear all prosperous and land is going up all the time. Old settlers all doing well; haven't missed crop in ten years. One party who has lived there 22 years told me the average corn crop for ten years had been 30 bushels per acre, and it is not supposed to be a big corn crop country. Wheat runs from 15 to 42 bushels per acre, oats an average of 44 bushels for years past, and as high as 62 bushels per acre. I asked one man if he would take $15 per acre for his farm, which adjoined land for sale by the Kivett Co. at that price, and he said it was not for sale at any figure. E. A. CHICHESTER.

I, the undersigned have been out to Cheyenne county, Neb., with O. D. Franks and find the country as good if not better than Mr. Franks claims it is. The land lays fine and the climate could not be better and the water is all good, the soil cannot be beat and the price is cheap. The average crop list is 30 bushels of corn, 25 to 40 bushels of wheat, 40 to 60 bushels of oats. Go out and look at the country. Yours truly, W. A. HUNTER.

I want to say to those that are looking up a location or have money to invest and want to put money in land that in my opinion will thrive in value in a very short time, look up Cheyenne county, Nebraska. It is just what Wayne county was twenty-five years ago. Anyone who has or will go and look the country over will certainly be pleased with the country. Sincerely yours, D. A. JONES.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA

Commercial Club Active.

The Executive Committee of the Wayne Commercial Club held their first meeting of the new year at the First National Bank June 3rd. Officers were elected for the year. A committee of three, Messrs Ringland, Duerig and Hanssen were appointed to audit the books of the secretary and treasurer of last year. A report of the receipts and expenditures of the club the past year will be published in detail as soon as an audit of the books has been returned.

A contract was read and ordered entered into with Mr. Buroker to lead the band for the coming year. Two nights instruction are to be given each week and the band leader's services are at the disposal of the Commercial Club for Commercial Club entertainments.

The matter of trying to secure a Carnegie Library was taken up and personal experience of several of the committee developed the fact that to secure a Carnegie library involves such a great burden of perpetual, as well as immediate expense for a town, that we had better not undertake it. Instead of a Carnegie library it was voted to give any help we could to our own public library, whose service is a credit to the ones in charge. A committee of two, Messrs Hufford and Duerig were appointed to confer with the managers of this library and report at next meeting. The new depot project was taken up and a committee of two, Messrs S. R. Theobald and Theo Duerig, appointed to investigate and report the chances for securing a new depot. Wayne is one of the best stations on the Omaha road. Our college has brought a great deal of passenger business to the rail and this business will increase right along. This is also a great receiving station for freight and Wayne deserves a first-class depot.

The Committee is preparing to take action in arousing northeast Nebraska to prepare for a campaign in politics that will have for its object the re-districting of this part of the state. To secure representation in the legislature. Commensurate with our population and the taxes we pay is a matter of greatest importance and the plans should be laid now that will elect men from this part of the state who will go to the legislature with this purpose in view. Upon motion it was voted to invite Mr. Jas Britton to attend our next meeting and assist in laying out working plans along this line.

Upon motion the secretary was instructed to look up last correspondence with Wm. V. Allen in regard to securing a postoffice appropriation for Wayne. It is only by continued effort that we can secure this appropriation. Commercial Club committees for the past three years have worked at it and this year's committee will keep at it. To secure an appropriation from the next legislature for paying the running expenses of our college, was the next matter discussed and C. M. Craven and J. J. Ahern were appointed to investigate and report what work the Commercial Club could undertake to promote this project.

Wm. V. Orr and Chas. Craven were appointed a committee to investigate the prospect for securing a new city hall.

H. P. Fisher and Jas. Jeffries were appointed as permanent grain committee to keep in touch with the prices paid for grain in surrounding towns as compared with Wayne and report at each meeting. The grain committee last year did good profitable work. It was through the efforts of the Commercial Club that the Wayne grain market was kept up in good shape and the committee this year will work to accomplish the same result.

Wm. Hanssen was appointed a committee to wait upon the county commissioners and request that suitable equipment and provision be made for raising the flag on the court house upon appropriate occasions. The present arrangements make it a dangerous task to put up the flag.

The secretary was instructed to write the Omaha Bee, World Herald, Sioux City Journal and Lincoln Journal in regard to furnishing them with correspondence from Wayne.

A petition signed by eighteen of Wayne's best baseball players was read. This petition requested of the Commercial Club ground and uniforms for a home ball team to be composed of home players. The club to have charge of the gate receipts at all home games, and the visiting teams' expenses to be paid out of these receipts and the balance to go into the Commercial Club's treasury. Upon investigation it was found that $115 would be required to provide grounds and uniforms. It was estimated that the expenses of visiting teams would average $15 to $20. It would require 80 paid admissions to each game to pay these expenses. With any kind of interesting baseball these games should draw a much larger crowd than 80 people, and the Commercial Club should realize upon their investment without a doubt. It was decided, before advancing this money, that the public sentiment for baseball should be tested and also the playing ability of the men who signed the petition.

Upon motion it was voted to challenge the petitioners to a matched game, the Commercial Club to furnish a nine that will put up a good, fast game in order to make the ambitious would-be ball team show their talent. If the public turns out a good crowd to this game and the players show up well the Commercial Club will finance the season's team.

Upon motion a vote of thanks was extended to Henny and C. H. Sweet, the retiring president and secretary, for their active and efficient work the past year.

Upon motion it was decided that the executive committee should hold bi-monthly meetings instead of monthly meetings. There is a great deal of work to be done and the committee is enthusiastic and willing to undertake it.

In an article on the political situation in Nebraska, the Sioux City Tribune indulges Mayor Jim Dahlman, of Omaha, has had an inspiration. He wants to be governor and he wants to run as the liberal candidate. Under the new primary law he can enlist every republican liberal in his behalf at the democratic primary. He has seen the point, and has announced his candidacy. The republicans are practically pledged now to county option, and republican liberals will be wasting their votes in any primary fight over candidates. What Dahlman expects them to do is to enter the primary fight between himself and Shalhbarger through the open primary door, nominate him as the democratic candidate and then elect him.

While the Democrat has no license to speak for these "liberal republicans" who will vote for Dahlman at the primaries, we'd like to meet one face to face just to size up the curiosity. If there are any republicans or democrats outside of Omaha who are going to vote for Dahlman at the primaries in preference to Shalhbarger, it is a foregone conclusion that they are members of the brewery or saloon interests.

Still They Come.

Another valuable addition to Wayne's professional men comes in the person of Dr. G. J. Hess, who arrived in the city last Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Hess and little daughter. Dr. Hess tells the Democrat that he has been in practice for a number of years, spending the past winter in New Orleans where he took post-graduate work in nose, throat and other special surgery work. The doctor has leased the large and commodious residence belonging to Sheriff Mears, one block west of Miller & Jones' store, which he will transform into a sanitarium of modest specifications, keeping a trained nurse and matron to assist him in his work. This institution will be open to the sick and ailing in a course of ten days. Dr. Hess is a man of good address and a very pleasing gentleman to meet; speaks German, and although the field here looks well-filled will try and make himself a much wanted addition in his profession.

The Wayne Roller Mills are paying two cents above market price for good milling wheat.

Neighbor Williams of Atkinson, Neb., who has been the guest of Neighbor Lamberson, formerly of that place, was present, and gave an interesting talk on the general work of the camp. She is an earnest worker and an able speaker, every one present felt more encouraged by her enthusiasm. All will be pleased to see her again. A special assessment of fifty cents was levied on each and every member, payable in July, for the purpose of furnishing the camp room. A special meeting is to be held Saturday afternoon, June 12, for the adoption of candidates. After camp closed ice cream and cake was served, then the members attended a social at the home of a man here, and then water. And doesn't it beat all how the public travels to Whalen's for ice cream? "Drat the cat?" "What's the matter girl?" "Oh, the cat went to sleep on my new hat and I wore her down town and back. She was hidden in the foliage."

People who have been advocating the conduct of wars in a more humane manner will be discouraged to learn that a military phonograph which can be heard several miles has been invented.

It is announced that Harvard is to have a magazine that "will print only the truth." That's the first lie.

After you have been fooled once or twice by the transients who only want your money, you will get correct information on eye trouble from Optician Vail, who makes his home here and whose reputation as to honesty is worth more than a day's good business.

An Ohio centennarian attributes his length of years to the fact that he always minded his own business. But what fun was there in living so long?

He piled his dollars wide and high His buildings reached up near the sky, And he was laying money up To beat the very dickens! But now he's broke and down and out—

He went to raising chickens! The other day it was told in the newspapers that an Irishman had been run down by Miss Gould's automobile. She sprang out to help him. "Poor man!" she cried. "Are you married?" "No, ma'am," he replied "this is the worst thing that has ever happened to me."

The cheaper the automobile the noisier it is, just like people.

Have you heard about the young lady who went into one of our stores and remarked to the gentlemanly clerk: "I am looking for something pretty for a young man." The clerk politely replied: "Why don't you look in the mirror?" and she purchased several articles she didn't want before she left the store.

"What consummate fools the majority of our millionaires are!" says John Arbuckle, the millionaire. "They developed, both physically and mentally, by work, and now they don't want the wind to blow on their sons. These sons after going through college, have very little more education than when they entered, and, as they travel around Europe with money to burn, make Americans the laughing stock of all sensible people in the world." That ought to make some of the freaks sit up and take notice for a moment.

Ten or a dozen Norfolk boys have recently been consigned to the reform school or penitentiary. Wayne boys are probably not that far along yet, but judging from the actions of a few they are headed that way.

It is to be hoped that the eastern college man who is getting ready to telephone Mars will not forever disgrace this planet by opening his conversation with "Hello, who is this?" —Madison Post.

He won't if he has as much horse-sense as some professors here in Wayne, but will no doubt open negotiations with: "Hello! Is this you?" The schoolboard at Fort Collins, Col., advertised for a school ma'am with a cork leg, one who could not dance, and Iowa editors, according to exchanges, have been feeling about their respective towns to find one. It's a corking proposition but country editors are equal to any occasion.

Cascade Pioneer: The manner in which some of the congressmen are scrambling for a piece of the pork out of the protectionists' barrel recalls the story told by Congressman John Allen of Mississippi. One of his constituents had a sheep, and whenever a tariff call came up this constituent would write to his congressman and urge him to keep the tariff on wool. Finally a letter came saying: "Bill's dead. Vote as you damn please."

"Give me five cents worth of sliced boiled ham" said a patron at Hanssen's shop the other day. "Shall I take the bones out?" queried the courteous proprietor.

The large snake called "Big Jim" belonging to the Sanger shows died Wednesday evening. He was valued at $1.50.—LeMars (Io.) Globe-Post.

There must have been a grievous depreciation in the values of the Sanger curios since they left Wayne two weeks ago. "Big Jim" was valued at $1.98 when showing at this point.

A Madison county farmer got 60 days for beating his wife, from Judge Welch. Next time this farmer will no doubt prefer to beat the carpet.

Winside Tribune: "The Boyd hotel which was recently burned in Wayne," says the Plainview Republican, "is now thought to be the work of an incendiary." In Wayne it is known to be the work of a liar.

The Madison Post says: "Now comes a man who is going to erect a statue of Adam. In connection with the movement the people are grateful that the style of clothes at the time of Adam was such that the sculptor cannot represent the first man posing with his right hand thrust carelessly into the bosom of his coat. If the old stories are true, Adam didn't even have a pants pocket into which to thrust his hands." Well, if they can't pose Adam as a statesman, they'll have to build him as a soldier brave, with a gun in his hands. But pro-ably nobody cares Adam about it at this late date.

The DEMOCRAT man made his first visit to Crystal lake last Sunday, although a resident of Wayne county for nearly twenty years. First impression of the "Ley resort" is rather disappointing. The "shade trees" are cottonwoods of a diversified quality; the water in the lake is very low, and there is some alarm lest the thing dry up out to the old bed of the Missouri; the fishing is bum because, as we were told, the island squatter had probably seined out all the fish. However, after a person has perambulated about the "beach," had a soft drink and a good cigar at Finnerty's; rowed out in the lake and inhaled a few million feet of the "salt sea breeze;" gazed admiringly upon the mermaids the little-mades and kars sporting themselves in the water, and finished up with a muchly-wanted, appetizing dinner at Mrs. Ley's table, then, by dad, you are in prime condition to talk to the plutocrat who owns the lots-for-sale and the cottages-to-rent, with a view to spending a few hot, summer days there. The DEMOCRAT is of the opinion that if Crystal lake is taken care of it will in a few years be a fine resort and valuable property, but the icemen who empty the lake in the winter, and the fishermen who seine out the fish will have to be put out of business.

Get a Line on Base Ball.

The following young men met Tuesday night and organized the Wayne Ball Club, a team composed entirely of home players, who will play teams from the surrounding towns this summer and fall. Here is a bunch of our best boys, good ball players, every one of them, who will furnish us plenty of good, clean baseball. The Commercial Club will furnish grounds and uniforms if the public sentiment is in favor of baseball. In order to test their sentiment and get a line on the ability of the different men in this Commercial Club has challenged these boys to a match game which will be played Tuesday at the Fair grounds. Let everybody turn out and show that there is a strong public sentiment for base ball and we'll have a first-class ball team, good grounds and plenty of fine entertainment all summer.

The members of the club secured so far are: Martin Ringer, F. S. Morgan, R. J. Reynolds, J. H. Meister, C. H. Fisher, George G. Sherbahn, R. R. Hartford, Blaine Skeen, Chas. E. Scaee, Jas. H. Pile, I. W. Woodruff, H. M. Armstrong, Arthur Abern, Wm. Mellor, C. R. Witter, captain.

The Commercial Club will have a good team in the field and first-class game of ball is expected. Turn out Tuesday.

Judge Hunter Near Death.

The Judge came near dying last night, is unconscious today, and not expected to live but a few hours, so the DEMOCRAT is informed today.

"A Real Good One."

Blondin's Big Show, under canvas offering a grand novelty "The Cowboy, Indian and the Lady." It's the newest play from a writer of real successes. It is a genuine western comedy with a plot of much historic interest. The scenes are western and true to life, with an unusual amount of pathos and a raft of comedy by the Chinaman and negro character of the most amusing sort, with a distinguished quality of naturalness that pleases both old and young alike. The show as a whole is entertaining, instructive and strictly moral; not found on dime novel lines, and nothing better could be asked for, at Wayne Thursday, June 17.

The Local Talent Play.

"Rebecca's Triumph" given at the opera house last evening by fifteen of Wayne's young ladies proved a decided hit, and those in attendance pronounced it one of the best. We have not space or time to mention each one's individual efforts, but each member of the cast did credit to themselves and to the character which they portrayed. The songs of the club girls were bright and catchy and many rounds of applause were given them.

"Hear that agen!" cried the delighted father. "An', noo, Tommy," he proceeded, picking up the family teapot, "what gender is this?" "Neuter," said Tommy.

Only One Obstacle.

There is only one obstacle in the path of Mr. Bryan to the United States senate and that obstacle is himself. He can be elected, if he shall become a candidate. If it shall be known that it is his desire to be elected, then it is absolutely certain that no democrat will contest with him for the nomination. It is true that there has been considerable talk about other democratic candidates, but that talk has come largely as a result of republican inspiration. The majority of Nebraska people, no matter whether they be republicans or democrats, want to see this state represented in the senate by Mr. Bryan. They believe he could in that capacity accomplish many needed reforms. The Telegram directs attention to the Nebraska editorial opinions, printed on this page, and particularly to the opinions of the Howells Journal and Stanton Register.

We believe the editors of those two democratic newspapers have collectively expressed the views of the democrats of Nebraska in large measure. We do not wish to stand in the attitude of opposing the ambition of the many able democrats whose names have been mentioned in connection with the senatorship, but we do desire to be understood as taking the position that Bryan is the logical candidate. Happy indeed would we be if we could see Nebraska represented in the senate by W. H. Thompson, Judge Sullivan I. J. Dunn, Richard Metcalfe, Governor Shallenberger, C. J. Smythe, Will Green, Roderick Sutherland, or any one of the many democrats whose names are synonyms in Nebraska for best democratic principles. But we know that all the splendid men here mentioned, together with all faithful democrats in the state, are agreed that if Mr. Bryan shall signify a desire to become the candidate of the party, nothing else will be needed to make him the candidate, and nothing else will be needed to make him successor to Senator Burkett. Perhaps Mr. Bryan may refuse to become a candidate. In that event it will be a free fight between other candidates. In that event Gov. Shallenberger must stand as a candidate for re-election as governor, and his strength will make easy the election of a democratic state ticket. Governor Shallenberger has made the real state issue in Nebraska. He must not be considered in the senatorial race next year, even though Mr. Bryan shall not be a candidate. Nebraska needs him in the governor's chair. The democratic party needs him there—Columbus Telegram.

The Carroll Index need not worry about the DEMOCRAT misrepresenting its town nor its people. This paper simply stated that certain farmers said they came to Wayne to trade because they were not able to get a bottle of beer in that burg. There was no intimation in this item of the DEMOCRAT's that these certain farmers had any other reason for coming to Wayne. Some of the best merchants in the county are in business in Carroll and because the farmers cannot buy a bottle of beer in that village is not at all their fault, if it is anyone's fault.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rohrer left Monday for a summer's visit in the west which includes Butte, Mont., George's old stamping ground, and Seattle.
