Eighth Grade Graduation.

On last Saturday afternoon quite a large crowd of people from over the county gathered in the Court Room to hear Supt. Perdue's address and see the Eight Grade receive their diplomas.

The address of Supt. Perdue was along the lines of advancement our schools have made under the recent legislation and what opportunity every one now has to be somebody worth while. He emphasized the point that one should seek an education, not to make a living without working so hard, but that one may work to better advantage and thus really do more work.

After diplomas were presented to the 19 boys and 13 girls, who composed the class, Pres. Pile, as was his father's custom, presented a scholarship to the one who ranked highest in the entire class, Wm. Williams of Carroll receiving this honor.

The music was furnished by Prof. Davies and was greatly enjoyed.

Death of John Dobbin.

John Oscar Dobbin was born near Olena, Ill., Oct. 30, 1872, died at Noca, Mt. Rose county, Col., June 26, 1909. At the age of twelve years he with his parents moved to Lodgepole, Neb., where his mother died soon after. When sixteen years old he began teaching school in that county, taught two years and in the fall of 1890 with his father and brothers moved to this county where he entered the High school and graduated two years later. He taught school a year in Dist. No. 55, and then he was attracted to the gold mines in Colorado, where three years later he was married to Annie McLaughlin. He leaves to mourn his death a wife and three small children, a father, Jos. Dobbin of Hoskins and three brothers, Frank of Aberdeen, S. D., Clyde of Okaton, S. D., and Clarence of Appleton, Minn. Also a half brother and sister Jennings and Elsie Dobbin of Hoskins. Deceased has a host of friends in Wayne county who will be sorry to learn of his demise. Contributed by H. D.

Pilger 1, Wayne 0.

Wayne played a second close ball game Tuesday, Pilger winning with a single run in the third inning. Frank Morgan pitched for the locals and gave the Pilgerites few hits. Few errors were made by either team and it was a game worth seeing.

Chas. Cooper pitched for the Pilger team, put up the nicest work we have ever seen on the slab in Wayne. While a few hits were gleaned off him, and one by Ringer in the last half of the 9th that came near being a home run, Cooper fanned out eleven men in succession with as little concern as though used to it every day.

Today at Carroll Sabs and Skeen are the battery, with Von Seggern, one of our best players, in the game, an assurance that Wayne is going to win.

Wayne was defeated in a ball game with Wakefield last Friday, on the local diamond, but anyone who saw the contest will say that Wayne has the best team and they give a much better exhibition of the sport than the Wakefield boys. The local team made the first score and at the end of the ninth inning the game was 2 to 2. A bunch of errors on Wayne's part, in the first half of the 10th scored three runs for the visitors, and Wayne failed to connect in their half of that inning. Sabs pitched a splendid game and came near winning on his own individual work, the visitors making a victory by bunting the ball to 3d base where we failed to pick them up quickly enough. All the Wayne players hit the ball freely, and the fine team work of the visitors in the field saved them from defeat. Wakefield claims to have the best team in this part of the state and have been winning all their games this season, but it is easy to see that if the locals make one or two changes in position of the players that they can defeat the dry town boys and do it handily.

Fatal Accident.

Last Saturday, while working on a windmill tower near Dixon, a son of McJohnson fell from the tower, his body striking a pump-handle that ran almost through him, making a terrible wound from which the young man died at noon on Tuesday, after extreme suffering. The victim was only twenty-two years old and a hard-working boy, and his parents are prostrated with grief over the affair. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the residence east of Wayne; the interment being at Concord, Undertaker John Gaertner having charge of the funeral arrangements.

The Sioux City Journal of yesterday had the following account of the accident: Frank Johnson, an employe of a Concord implement dealer, while fixing a windmill on the C. G. Swanson farm, two miles northeast of here, met with a serious accident. While doing some repairing near the wheel the tower broke and fell and the young man fell on an iron rod which was forced about eight inches into the abdomen. There are no hopes of his recovery, and death is expected at any time.

As a little bit of Memorial day aftermath this written by Walt Mason when he lived in Nebraska, is worth while: "The little green tents where the soldiers sleep and the sunbeams play and the women weep, are covered with flowers today; and between the tents walk the weary few who were young and stalwart in sixty-two, when they went to the war away. The little green tents are built of sod, and they are not long and they are not broad, but the soldiers have lots of room; and the sod is part of the land they saved, when the flag of the enemy darkly waved, the symbol of dole and gloom. The little green tent is a country's shrine where patriots kneel and pray; and the brave men left, so old, so few, were young and stalwart in sixty-two, when they went to the war away."

Mottoes of Cliches.
 From the Detroit Free Press.
 It was the former custom to select city mottoes from the dead languages; but now they are live ones and aim to attract attention without the aid of an interpreter. Toledo is of the kind and Topeka makes a hit with Topeka, Kan. Topeka will. This not only ignores the classics but takes liberties with the much disorganized rules of spelling, and it is calculated to arouse a good humored feeling toward the pushing young city. "You'll like Tacoma," is also a late motto. It does not sound like a practical war cry, but it carries the impression of calm assurance and will give the rival city of Seattle a chance to adopt something more intense, with a vengeance. How would some of these serve: "San Francisco shakes things up," "Milwaukee never gives up," "Pittsburgh smokes and makes it pay," "New York tempers the wind to the lambs it shears," "Boston is the lustiest of the hot-buns," "Washington leads in all but baseball."

The Mecklenburg Declaration
 May 20, 1775
 By GEORGE H. PICARD
 (Copyright, 1905, by George H. Picard.)
THERE is at least one spot in the American Union which does not yield an undivided allegiance to the great national holiday, its citizens may, and doubtless do, manifest as great enthusiasm and extend as much money for the celebration as on that day of days as others, but in their swelling hearts there is a tender reservation. The immortal Declaration of 1776 is indeed dear to them, but there is a dearer, for they are the citizens of Charlotte, N. C., the scene of the adoption of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence. According to the historians—most of whom are particular to disavow all personal knowledge of the matter—a convention made up of delegates from every company of militia in Mecklenburg county, N. C., met at Charlotte, the county town, on May 20, 1775, more than a year before the promulgation of the immortal document at Philadelphia, and adopted a declaration of independence.
 The origin of this early declaration is enveloped in a good deal of obscurity. There has been a spirited, and prolonged controversy over the date of the convention. This fact has given rise in the minds of many persons to the impression that two conventions may have been held. The difficulty in fixing the date has also led to the conviction in the minds of others that the declaration is a patriotic myth. This skepticism, however, does not prevail in North Carolina, which has declared its faith in the matter by appointing May 20 a legal holiday. That firm stand, of course, should settle the business, but, alas for the frailty of man, there are still doubters.
 The copy of the resolutions made by the secretary of the Charlotte meeting are reputed to have been destroyed by fire. On April 30, 1819, what purported to be a copy of the original document, made probably from recollection, was published in the Raleigh Register. Some of the phraseology of the composition was so reminiscent of the language of the Fourth of July declaration that the authenticity of the Mecklenburg resolutions became a matter of serious doubt. At the present time the weight of historical opinion seems to be against the validity of the resolutions as printed in the Raleigh Register and accepted by the legislature of North Carolina. In the face of this hesitation on the part of the historians the liberty loving citizens of the Old North State have borne substantial witness to their faith in the existing declaration and its framers by erecting in front of their beautiful new courthouse at Charlotte a noble memorial shaft to the memory of the fearless militiamen who, according to the belief of their descendants, assembled there on that eighteenth century May morning and declared:
 First—Whoever aids or abets the invasion of American rights is an enemy to the country and to the inalienable and inherent rights of man.
 Second—That all political ties between the citizens of Mecklenburg county and the British crown are dissolved.
 Third—That we do hereby declare ourselves a free and independent people under the control of no other power than that of our God and the general government of the congress, to the maintenance of which independence we solemnly pledge to each other our mutual co-operation, our lives, our fortunes and our most sacred honor.
 Fourth—That we acknowledge the existence of no law or public officer, but readopt the former laws in so far as they do not recognize the authority of the crown, thus vacating all civil and military commissions granted by the crown.
 Fifth—That all military officers of the county are retained in their former commands and that every member of the convention be hereafter a civil officer with power to issue process, hear and determine all matters of controversy, preserve peace and harmony and endeavor to spread the love of country until a more generally organized government be maintained in the province.
 Although the precise words of this much disputed document may never be known, and even though a formal declaration was never made, nothing can detract from the patriotic attitude displayed by the Old North State during the period antecedent to the breaking out of the Revolution and the part taken by her in that never to be forgotten struggle. For nearly 200 years before the severance of the ties which bound her to the mother country Carolina had been developing into a freedom loving and despot hating colony. At an early day an elaborate scheme of government had been formulated by the philosopher John Locke. It provided for three orders of nobility and four houses of parliament. It was altogether too comprehensive for the Carolina planters, and they declined to accept it. Not to quibble, the population was sturdy and self-reliant and inclined to be critical of any system of government which interfered too markedly with its own ways and wishes. When they were given a governor who attempted to be more loyal to the mother country than to their interests these undaunted colonists were in the habit of sending him home. Many of the early settlers were Scotch-Irish, and Germans from the Palatinate. After the battle of Culloden (1746) many Scotch families made homes for themselves on both sides of the Cape Fear river, and they were sturdy, independent folk with ideas of their own and strong wills to back them.
 Many of the royal governors found it no easy task to keep these free spoken pioneers to their allegiance. Many of them came into direct conflict with the inhabitants. The first provincial congress of North Carolina met in defiance of Governor Josiah Martin in 1774 and sent delegates to the Continental congress. The state was the first to authorize her delegates in congress to vote for independence. When the Revolution broke out North Carolina went into the struggle with all her might. Her troops were in all the important battles of the early campaigns, and in 1781 the state was invaded by the British.
 The Old North State was decidedly averse to leaving the Union at the outbreak of the civil war and opposed secession as a matter of expediency. When her position seemed no longer to be tenable, she reconsidered and passed the separating ordinance. Once committed, she threw herself into the cause with all the energy she could command. She furnished over 120,000 soldiers to the Confederacy, more than twice her proportion. She also lost more men than any other southern state, and during the last year of the war practically fed General Lee's army.
 There ought not to be a patriotic soul in all America so ungenerous and so unmanly of the past as to refuse to join with this dignified old commonwealth in the veneration which she maintains for those intrepid militiamen who went boldly into Charlotte—no matter when, less matter how—and declared themselves absolved forever from further allegiance to the foreign oppressor. Peace be to their spirits!

This friend was giving Hennessey some good advice, saying: 'There's no use your trying to get any more of that whisky in the world.  From the Chicago News.
 Mary, the teacher of the school, was asked by some of the boys why she was so kind to them. She said: "I am so kind to them because I know they are all good boys and I want to be sure and get them all to go to college."

When Your Back Aches.
 It is a Warning That the Kidneys Are Sick and Need Help.
 A bad back makes every day a dull round of pain and misery. It's a sign that the kidneys are sick and cannot keep up their never-ending task of filtering the blood. Lame back, backache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders are warning that must not be overlooked.
 John M. Burwick, R. F. D., Dayton, Tenn., says: "Three years ago kidney disease fastened itself on me. I failed rapidly until I had hardly enough strength to totter about. My back ached, the urine passed scantily and with pain, and my legs seemed almost lifeless. I lay for three weeks in mortal agony, wishing death would end my sufferings. At this time I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, discharging the doctor. I grew better and in a month's time was out again. In two months I was as well as ever in my life."

A Very Old Chestnut.
 From Lippincott's.
 Of all the yarns that ever came down the line regarding deep mud the following should be entitled to the blue ribbon. It happened in the place where mud originates.
 A man was walking along the roadside one summer day and noticed a fairly good looking fat out in the road. Reaching out with his cane he gave it a shove and was startled to hear a voice exclaim:
 "Here what the deuce are you doing?"
 He made the astonishing discovery that the owner of the headpiece was under the hat up to his ears in mud.
 "Great heavens!" exclaimed the man who had hit the hat. "That mud is deep as that."
 "Deep?" cried the victim. "Why, man alive, I'm standing on a load of hay!"

Frog Swallows 40 Ducklings.
 From the New York Press.
 South Norwalk, Conn.—George W. Tobey, an Easton farmer, has been missing his young ducks. They would be found in a pond, but when they would suddenly flap their wings, give a squeal and disappear from view. Tobey thought at first they were taken with cramps, but when about 40 had gone in the same way he started an investigation.
 Patient watching at the side of the pond finally revealed the truth. A huge frog had a mouth that opened easily three inches in diameter. He would pull a duckling to the bottom of the pond and then swallow it whole.
 The frog showed such cunning, poisoned ducks he sprang; rifle bullets he ducked and his sharp eyes seemed to detect a fishhook. Tobey finally found the frog and caught it in a trap which is now on exhibition in a local fish market. It weighs five pounds and is by far the largest frog ever caught in Fairfield county.

The Expert Shoemaker.
 The expert shoemaker is in his way a sort of Sherlock Holmes; he can tell by looking at a customer's shoes something about where the customer lives, and this not by mind on the shoes, but by the absence of it, or any such commonplace evidence as that, but by the manner in which the shoes show wear. But he is not infallible.
 Here, for instance, is a woman who wears the soles of her shoes very thin up at their forward end, at their very tips, there, at the toe, and to her shoe expert, in the country, says the shoe expert.
 "No," says the woman, "I live in the city. Why did you think I lived in the country?"
 "Because your shoes are worn so at the toes. I thought you walked on macadam roads."
 So here the expert slipped, misled in this case by not making due allowance for a habit of these shoes' wearers; but usually he can tell.

Polly's Fourth of July
 Even a Parrot Can Cry, "Hurrah for George Washington!" at the Proper Time.
 From St. Nicholas.
 Polly was a middle aged parrot, whose early days had been spent in the great forest of Canada in Central America. I had long tried to teach Polly to speak, and had taught her to say a few short sentences.
 "About eight months ago the Fourth of July was celebrated in Central America. I had long tried to teach Polly to speak, and had taught her to say a few short sentences.
 "Hurrah for George Washington!" she would repeat it after me. Then I thought it might be too long to say all at once, and I divided it into two parts, so that she could say it all at once. I tried to teach her to say it word for word. But no; she wouldn't say a word of it.
 "Yet she listened attentively when I repeated it. Then I got disgusted and gave it up a week or so before the Fourth; then I tried to make her say it, but she would not listen to me now. When the morning of the Fourth came I went out to Polly. She said 'Hello.' I answered 'Hello, Polly, can't you say 'Hurrah for George Washington' for me?' Then she became furious and flew to the other side of her cage and would not look at me, so I finished feeding her. I went into my room and got my firecrackers, went outside and was shooting my fireworks away when another effort to come in for luncheon. After luncheon I had to stay in the yard, so I went and got Polly and hung her up on the veranda. I put up her cage and was reading St. Nicholas when along the street comes the street band playing 'Star Spangled Banner.'
 "Then all of a sudden Polly became restless and as loud as she could cried 'Hurrah for George Washington!'"
 This is the story of Polly's Fourth.

Reflections of a Bachelor.
 From the New York Press.
 The way for a woman to manage a man is not to be married to him.
 A man's conscience hardly ever cries out if he is any longer a man to hear of there are two kinds of fools—just plain, ordinary fools and highly educated fools.
 A girl shows a heap more than she will let on about everything except how she can help mother about the house.
 If you have much company in the house the servants won't stay because it makes too much work; if you don't have any, they won't stay because they have no social position.

 A woman can take pride in her husband being a good looking fellow, but it won't do for herself.
 The more men a girl could have married the more she learns she was an idiot to pick the one she did.
 A man is pretty hard to draw anything in a church affair and have to give it up to be raffled over again.
 The two things that make a girl's wedding a success are: a fine dress and a shiny weather and for the names to be spelled right in the newspapers.

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
 Lindley, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removed a cyst tumor of four years growth, which three of the best physicians declared was incurable. I was told that only an operation could help me. I am very glad that I followed a friend's advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it has done me so much good. I am strong and well now, and I shall recommend it as long as I live."—Mrs. MARY FRY, Lindley, Ind.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once.

The czar of Russia has offered Prof. Louis G. Michael of the Iowa state college at Ames a salary of $5,000 a year to teach the peasants of Russia how to raise corn. That will be better than raising school.

Anna B. Dam and Chas. I. Gosh were married in Dubuque recently and those who heard the minister go through the marriage ceremony said it sounded like a steamboat mate talking to the deck hands.

A band of gypsies is a dangerous nuisance to have come to any town. Under pretense of telling fortunes and begging the light fingered ones get many opportunities to steal and embrace them.

You can always tell a young husband from an old one by the way he acts when he goes after a bucket of water, says Uncle Hiram. Three months married he swings the handle, whistles and smiles and casts covert glances at the house as though some one were looking at him from the window. One year married, he swings the pump handle more slowly, smiles occasionally, and is annoyed because the meal is late. Two years married, he looks sour and grim, kicks the cat over the coal house and looks at the house as though he could choke somebody. Three years married he sits on the doorstep and smokes while his wife works the pump handle.—Ex.

The Columbus Telegram says there are too many professional booze fighters in that city and says that if it was a dry town it would be planned on to boot leggers. What is true of Columbus is true in many towns, but that class of undesirables are not noticed often in a wet town.—Stanton Register.

That is a frank statement for a prohibitionist to make. Editor Pont, but never-theless a true one.

The Tribune tells of a Winside woman who took a "tom cat" home with her and the next day "he" had kittens. We have an idea some of those Winside women would drive a "tom cat" to do most anything.

A Wayne lady is delivering a lecture entitled, "What Every Woman Ought to Know." We know that a woman ought to know not to tell everything she does know, but does anybody know of anything else that she ought to know that she doesn't know she knows already.—Winside Tribune.

Well, it appears that "What Every Woman Ought to Know" was known to every woman before this Wayne lady told them what they ought to know, and that the lecturer didn't know what every woman ought to know, or she wouldn't have tried to tell them what they ought to know, before she knew what women ought to know, you know!

Can you make a cherry pie? I was 88 in the shade at seven o'clock yesterday morning. That ought to make corn.

Don't you wish you was a democratic editor, so you could go up to Crystal Lake and sponge off editor W. E. Goldie of the Wayne Democrat who has built a summer cottage there and will live like a king. Of course he could not tolerate a republican editor—unless he would agree to reform which is unlikely and hot to be expected.—Lyons Mirror.

Well, Warner, we wouldn't care a fish hook about the tariff nor Bryan's brand of democracy, if the republican editor would take to democratic bait, and we never have met one who didn't—when away from home.

Here's a load item, from the Winside Tribune: "A Norfolk man attended a Masonic meeting in Omaha and when he got home his pockets were full of dried peas. He evidently slept in the bin where the feed for the goats is kept. Some brother with a proper fraternal spirit should have loaned him the price of a bed."

Seven men were arrested in a New Jersey town this week for beating their wives, the cause being all laid to the heat. There was quite a fracas on the street in Wayne Tuesday night but lack of wind put the best man out of fighting commission. Marshal Miner had three of them in the flunk keeper before daylight yesterday.

The Sioux City Journal of yesterday was one of the greatest editions of modern journalism. Being democratic this Democrat has never found favor with the Journal on the exchange basis, but as a reader of the Sioux City Journal over thirty-five years we must confess that as a "boon edition" the Journal of "yesterday," of the last sixty years, is a wonderful exhibit of the genius of newspaperdom. All hail the Journal! and its pioneer publisher, Hon. George D. Perkins.

Mrs. Woodhill was an "affinity" all right, all right, only it was up hill business.

Sam Temple has a regular garden of Eden back of his cigar store, all but Eve and the fig leaves, but Temp says he could use some of his cabbage leaves if he just had an Eve to fill the engagement. Ought to have taken all those lessons in your boyhood, Temp.

When you see a man with a box or small grip, boarding the cars for Carroll, you can make a sniche bet that he is carrying wet goods home to the thirty ones. Nothing like being a good samaritan.

"He fights mit Sigel!" ought to be here now to put those pig-tailed pipe-bitters on the spit.

The appointment of Jas. Brimack as county judge led an old timer to remark to Clerk of Courts Feather that there now would be something doing, as in old Laporte long years ago when these two pioneers held all attention of the natives as the worst practical jokers in the state. "That reminds me," began Squire Feather, "of an awful hot day in Laporte. Britton got a buffalo robe and placing it on the court house floor lay down on his back and was soon lost to the world. One-eyed Tom Berry, a brother of Mrs. Pat Dixon, got the big bucket of water and in position to put out the fire, and I got the big firecracker and placed it on Britton's billowy bosom. I was just in the act of striking a match when, gew-willikens! down came the deluge, completely soaking both of us. I took after Berry and the whole town turned out to enjoy the trick he had turned on me. But Britton and I later fixed Tom Berry. Tom had been given a government job to carry the mail to Wisner, and the day before making his first trip put in the afternoon fixing up and oiling his spring wagon. That night Jim and myself pulled the wagon over the steps into the courthouse yard, around to the back door, where we filled it with ashes, (by dad, I question this part of the joke) and then Britton took the spring seat into the outhouse and put all the spring in the vault. Tom, full of importance, drove his team around next morning just in time to start with the mail. Tom could swear right down to a fine art, and finding his wagon not where he had left it, he started in by easy stages and soon was going like a mad man. Finally he traced the wheel tracks to the ash pile and load, Britton and myself following the crowd and offering our sympathy to Tom and helping him exorcise the miscreants. When the spring seat came out the blue smoke curled to high heaven, and Squire Feather says it was noon before the mail man left on his trip, and Tom was dead-scared that he would lose his job.

According to a card from the Omaha postoffice John Owen and family have "gone away and left no address." An employe of the Democrat says the whole family are now living at Gothenburg, Neb., where Mr. Owen is grading railroad.

Prof. Otto Voget and his sister leave July 26 for Seattle where Otto has a six weeks engagement as solo player in the auditorium.

Judge Hunter Passes Away.

The court house flag at half mast last Friday morning was notice of the demise of County Judge E. Hunter, who passed away at four o'clock that morning. The apparent betterment of his condition Wednesday and Thursday was only the reaction before the death summons. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the residence, the M. W. A. and Masonic lodges attending in state and hundreds of other old friends and neighbors crowding the walks leading to the residence. Interment was at old Laporte, where the parents and three children of decedent have for many years resided.

Many people came from all about the country to honor the dead. From Carroll, Winside and Wakefield there were brethren of the lodges or old friends of a third of a century ago, all to prove the worth and high esteem in which Judge Hunter was held.

Jadhe-Kai Wedding.

On June 29, 1904, at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Leslie precinct, Wayne county occurred the marriage of William Jadhe and Miss Meta Kai. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Bornemann, after which an elegant dinner was served to about five hundred guests.

The bride's gown was ivory taffeta silk, and the groom wore the conventional black. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Detlef Kai, of Leslie precinct, Wayne county, an accomplished and highly esteemed young lady and a great favorite in the social circle in which she moved.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jadhe of Thayer precinct, Thurston county. He is an industrious and highly respected young business man of Pender.

The bridesmaids were Miss Emma Kai, sister of the bride and Miss Mary Jadhe, sister of the groom. The groomsmen were Harry Schlumbohn, cousin of the groom and Albert Kai, cousin of the bride.

A number of beautiful and useful presents were received:

Miss Mary Jadhe, china berry set; Miss Rose Jadhe, sofa cushion and chino salad dish; Mr. and Mrs. Amos Long, set of silver knives and forks; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Breitkreutz, china fruit dish; Miss Ida Lühr, card tray; Miss Anna Schlumbohn, table scarf; Ole Swenson, set of silver knives and forks; Miss Della Long, silver coffee pot; Miss Nellie Long, silver tea pot; Arthur Long, toothpick holder; Eddie Long, salt and pepper shakers; Clarence Russell, cake plate; Mr. and Mrs. Rofge, set of teaspoons and tablespoons; Mr. and Mrs. H. ### From the Wayne County Teacher.

There have been 30 applications in Wayne county for free high school tuition, the bulk of these going to Wayne and Carroll.

The graduating exercises of the 8th grade will be held in the District Court room on next Saturday, June 26th, at 3 p. m. Deputy State Superintendent Perdue will address the class.

The teachers of the various schools have selected pink and green as class colors and "Push Onward" as the motto for the graduating class.

The directors are now busy taking the school census. The law provides that this shall be taken within ten days preceding the annual school meeting. Since three-fourths of the state money is divided per capita it is of advantage to each district to get a complete census. The number of children in Wayne county as reported last year was 3174, and it ought not to be less than that this year.

How Spend My Vacation?

This is the time of year, teachers, when you can take time for a little self-culture. All during the year you have been working and planning for someone else and have scarcely had time for any re-research work for yourselves. It pays to study, for teachers frequently lose positions, or are unable to secure satisfactory ones, when, perhaps, by the careful study of one or two good books, they could so increase their stock of learning and power as to insure a good position. If you are in attendance at some summer school let me urge you to take up some study in advance of anything you have ever had. Constant review will take the life from any subject and while, very often, a review is necessary and beneficial, often times the same thing would be accomplished by an advanced study along the same line. You'll teach arithmetic 50 per cent. better for having studied algebra; United States history, for having a knowledge of German or of English history and so on to say nothing of the joy and pleasure you will receive from the new lines of thought opened to you.

If you are spending your vacation at home you can accomplish as much for yourself as you choose. Get interested in something you have never studied before—the flowers and weeds, or the birds; make a more careful study of some one writer or historical character than you ever did before. Do something to grow broader and deeper mentally than you have ever been. Some people seem never to have learned that one can improve without a teacher. While there is nothing that compares with the inspiration one desires, from the personality of a true teacher, hundreds of our great men have been mainly self-educated. Economy in preparation is extravagance in results from both financial and educational points of view.

The Wayne County Eighth Grade.

Out of 76 who tried the 8th grade examination this spring, 32 passed. This is about the same average as last year regardless of the fact that the requirements were higher, a grade of 75 being required this year. However, more should have passed from this number and I am inclined to think that quite a few had not entirely completed the 8th grade. Teachers ought to guard against this for it does not reflect credit on one to send in two or three eighth graders and have them all fail.

William Williams of district No. 63 ranked the highest of all the 8th grade graduates in the county. This is the first year that a pupil from a country district out-ranked all from the towns. As has been the custom President Pile will present a scholarship to Mr. Williams. The following are the 8 highest with their averages:

William Williams	88
Ida Mauck	86
Frank Hughes	86
Garmann, Grotch	85
Gladys Moss	85
Bessie Leary	85
Aison Cobb	85
Keeley Allensworth	85

To Directors and School Officers.

The following was published in the June number of the Teacher last year, but is so good it will bear repeating:

Did you ever stop to think what your boys and girls were doing the hour and a half that they were away from their books, also the half hour or more each morning before school opens? Did you ever pass or visit a school where the foundation had been removed from under the corner of the building, seen the coal house battered and splintered up, the out buildings looking as though they had withstood many showers of bricks, and upon closer inspection find that the walls of the buildings were huge autograph albums and running commentaries? Did you ever hear of fires being started on the school grounds by the boys gathering in the purpose of building at playtime for the sake of learning to smoke? Did it ever occur to you parents and school officers that these things and many others too numerous to mention were being carried on by the children in your district? Do not console yourself by thinking that guilty parties belong to your neighbor, because in all probability yours are the ring leaders.

We must remember that youth is the time of activity and that the average child is going to do something, and if there is not some good to do he or she will do the next best thing in order to use up some of the surplus energy, regardless of whether it be good or bad—it is human nature.

Allow me to ask if YOU can afford to have the character of your boys and

More About McCoun.

Bloomfield Monitor: The following clippings tell of more trouble for Ike McCoun, who is well known to many of our older residents as a former Bloomfield blacksmith. He will be more readily recalled as the man who killed Wm. Merritt, of Niobrara, several years ago on account of family trouble. Mike Maloney, alias Ike McCoun, formerly of Niobrara, was arrested Wednesday charged with the murder of John Gooden and W. D. Toney, of Sioux City, Near Kadoka, S. D.—Niobrara, Tribune.

Ike McCoun, who was arrested at Niobrara some years ago on a murder charge, is again in the toils of the law. He is under arrest at Kadoka, S. D., charged with the murder of two men for whom he was working, threw their bodies in a well and left the country. After committing the murder he took their property and sold it. One of the men had a bank account in a Sioux City bank, his bank book showing a balance of $600. This McCoun is alleged to have raised to $6,000 and checked against it in the dead man's name. He went to Cottonwood, S. D., where he bought land and town property amounting to about $7,000. He was captured at Cottonwood while asleep. McCoun lived at Niobrara some years ago and worked in Holan's blacksmith shop. While there he killed a man named Wm. Merritt, and was in jail at Center several months. The trial did not produce sufficient evidence for a conviction, he claiming self defense, and he was released. McCoun seems to have a checkered career and has passed under several aliases.—Creighton, News.

Deputy State Superintendent, Perdue was a College guest Saturday. He made the address for the eighth grade graduating exercises in Wayne.
 Miss Grace Peterson, of Neligh, was made happy by her brothers who came to visit her this week. Miss Peterson is a member of the graduating class.
 Wendell Nies, Scientific class of 1907, visited the College Tuesday. Mr. Nies is principal of the schools at Jara, South Dakota. Besides teaching he is looking after the farming of a section of land in that garden of the northwest.
 Wm. Von Seggern, who was prepared here for Phillips, Andover, was a visitor Wednesday. Mr. Von Seggern reports a pleasant year and will return again in September.
 Only five more weeks of school this year. The work being done this term is most excellent in every way. Classes are large, and the interest is on a par with the size of the classes. Already many reservations have been made for next year, which we trust will be as large as any preceding year.
 One of the most unique and at the same time most entertaining special affairs of the school year was the German social given by Miss Kingsbury and her German students last Friday evening. The German Clubs of town were invited. Only those who spoke or understood German were present. Miss Kingsbury is a most popular teacher and is herself the authoress of several German books.

Knocks the Bank Guaranty Law.
 The supreme court has held up the bank guaranty law; granted the protesting national bankers a temporary injunction until July 30th, when it may be made permanent. You can put it down in your little old bonnet that there will be no bank guaranty law nor non-partisan judiciary in Nebraska so long as we have a partisan supreme court.

Boys get a little weak on "inside" baseball and at the bat, but a few more good games will develop the team work and hitting ability sufficiently to put us on a par with the best teams around us. We are not very far from that point right now. Both the games with Wakefield and Pilger were anybody's games until the last inning was played when you consider the fact that Wakefield and Pilger have both been playing ball all spring and that their teams are composed of men who have played together the past two years, it certainly looks good to us to have our boys hold them to so tight a score in the first games we have played.
 With continued good attendance at the games and just as good baseball as we know our boys can play the Commercial Club promises lots of good entertainment for the whole summer.
 Stanton, Wisner, Pilger, Laurel, Carroll, Randolph and Bloomfield all have good home teams that we hope to play. The baseball diamond will be put in first class shape, a grand stand built, uniforms bought for the team, and good clean base ball that you'll enjoy will be provided every week.
 Your attendance at every game is vitally necessary to the success and continuance of these entertainments. We have no salary team but rent care of grounds, expenses of visiting teams and advertising require a considerable expenditure.
 The Commercial Club Base Ball Committee desires much credit for their activity and also for the good management of the games.
 They expect to realize enough from the games to pay expenses and for the uniforms and balance will be carried over to next year to be used for more baseball. So let us all turn out to the games, show the players and management we are with them.
 We the undersigned are going to close our places of business Monday, July 5th, at 1 o'clock and take our wives and the kids to the ball game and celebrate the rest of the day. Better come along. It was thought best to give up the trip until a future celebration. We are ready and anxious to show Wausa our appreciation of the generous way in which her Improvement Club has always responded to our invitation, to Commercial Club Day at our Chautauqua and will await an opportunity more favorable to our sister town.

JUDICIARY LAW

UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Republican State Committee Scores Against Act of Legislature.

Lincoln, Neb., June 23.—Judge Cornish held the nonpartisan judiciary law passed by the last legislature invalid today on the ground that it makes unreasonable requirements of candidates.

This is in the test case brought by the republican state committee which desires it knocked out. The cause will be appealed at once to the supreme court.

At the last session of the legislature the non-partisan judiciary law was enacted, and this takes out of the primary all nominations for office and robs it of its statewide character.

The governor, holding that this was a state officers to be nominated did not issue proclamation or give any notice to the county clerks, and the 60 days has passed in which he can do this.

McElrath alleges in his answer that when he gave the information to the superintendent of Wayne county he did so under duress and under the threat of duties and obligations as state superintendent, that he has no malice nor ill will and sought merely to subserve the interests of education in general and the schools of Wayne county in particular.

MOON PLANET CAPTURED FROM SPACE, DECLARES OFFICIAL STAR-GAZER

Berkeley, Cal., June 23.—That he had mathematically proved a discovery that the moon was a planet captured by the earth from space and not a detached portion of our globe, was the announcement made last night by Professor T. H. See, astronomer in charge of the naval observatory at Mare Island, and president of the Astronomical society of the Pacific.

He rejects entirely the long accepted theory of Laplace and Sir George Darwin, according to which the origin of the moon, and declares his discovery is supported by rigorous mathematical proof, based on the methods of Hill, Poincare and Darwin.

Professor See's announcement was further developed of his discovery announced last January that all planets and satellites are captured bodies, whose orbits are reduced in size and rounded up under the frictional action of the nebular resisting medium once pervading the solar system.

AUTOIST DEFENDS SUIT FOR $25,000

Back of It Lies a Case Wherein He Is Charged With Manslaughter.

Lincoln, Neb., June 23.—According to William Oon, the automobilist who is being sued for $25,000 damages for the death of Miss Smith, the collision with his machine, he did not run into the woman—she ran into him. He declared on the witness stand that he was going at about four or six miles an hour when Miss Smith and her sister had passed beyond the trail his machine was following.

Just as he got within 10 feet of the crossing, the car suddenly stopped. He issued a warning that if the machine jumped back right in front of and against the machine. He explained that the reason why he did not stop until 25 feet beyond where he struck the woman was that the exciter can be probably forgot to put on the brake.

The case has brought out a curious mass of evidence. A dozen men and women who saw the accident, which occurred at noon on a downtown street crossing, swore positively that it was moving rapidly and that no horn was blown. The witness who testified that the car sped because they remarked it in the crowded section of the city.

At least as many witnesses, equally reputable, swore that the machine was going at not to exceed 10 or 15 miles an hour and that the horn was sounded twice between the two street intersections.

DESERTS HIS OWN WEALTH FOR THAT OF DECEASED WIFE

Leaves Real Estate and Runs Away With $1,000 Bequeathed to Him.

Lincoln, Neb., June 25.—Judge Cosgrove didn't admit the will of Mrs. Franklin W. Earl to probate today. Instead, an attorney, who once represented Earl, submitted to him a petition for probate of the will of his late wife. Earl said that he had been advised that as he was the sole heir of his wife it was not necessary for him to probate the will, but that he should draw out the money she had in the bank, sell the household goods and skip with the proceeds. He wrote that he had done so.

The queer paper put by Earl is all the more unusual because he left behind him a piece of real estate valued at several thousand dollars, which was willed to him by his wife, but which he remained to his former husband's name. No reason is known why he should leave $1,000 worth of personality and married him that much real estate.

SUIT IS FILED TO RESTRAIN THE BANK GUARANTY

Attorneys Seek Also to Prevent Banking Secretary From Taking Position.

Lincoln, Neb., June 24.—John L. Webster, of Omaha, and former United States Senator W. V. Allen, attorneys for the banking interests of Nebraska, opposed to the state bank deposit guaranty law, yesterday filed a suit in the federal court here for a restraining order against the banking board and Samuel Patterson, its secretary.

The petition asks that the state board be forbidden to levy an assessment to guarantee bank deposits. It also asks that Patterson be prevented from taking the position of secretary.

Fifty-two banks, national and state, have joined in the pleading. It is alleged that the new act is confiscatory, taking property without the process of law and requiring the property of one bank to pay the liabilities of another; that its assessment provision is so indefinite as to permit an unlimited number of assessments to be made against the banks and that the provision for immediate payment of depositors is illegal and impossible of fulfillment.

The petition also asks that the law be declared unconstitutional and void. A further contention is raised that the law violates the contracts which the states have entered into with private banks by requiring them to become incorporated after chartering them for a definite period without such requirement. The section of the act which authorizes part of the proceeds from the guaranty tax to be used for securing convictions of criminals is attacked as an unlawful use of the funds.

BOY TRIES BLACK HAND LETTER METHOD AND IS LATER KILLED

Chicago, June 23.—Rudolph Berndel, a 14-year-old boy, who tried to imitate Black Hand methods and secure money by threatening letters, was shot on a lonely street corner last night and killed.

There were found a bloody sheet and mattress and portions of the woman's clothes, partly burned. These have been taken away and having belonged to Mrs. Woodrill.

Two Letters Found. There were also found in the bungalow a pair of corsetry trousers in the pocket of which were two letters. One bore the name of Mrs. Woodrill and the other to have some connection with the meeting at Royal Oak, was dated June 16, and said: "Can't come down. Haven't even had my morning ablutions and I know how men late waiting. Why I would be afraid you would wear out the rug, plus street lamps, if you tried it. It is only an intermittent delirium anyhow and you had better go and wash your dishes." Even without an imagination you must know I am thinking of you. This was signed "Dolly Baby."

POLICY OUTLINED FOR RIVER MEET

Kansas City, Mo., June 23.—According to E. C. Ellis, president, and Lawrence M. Jones, member of the executive committee, Kansas City will send a large delegation to the Missouri River Navigation congress, at Vankton, S. D., July 8.

Preparations are being made for a great meeting at Vankton, S. D., which will be held on the Missouri river, and will mean much for the future of Missouri river interests, as it will afford opportunity to the convention to consider the recent unfavorable report of the board of engineers.

If the declarations at Vankton are clear and strong for a sane river improvement policy of practical depth, the matter will be a great help to the development of the report of the engineers will do us no harm.

The DEMOCRAT was misinformed last week regarding Wayne's new attorney. The name is W. P. Rooney, not Hewling, as we had it, and only this prompt correction saved the fighting editor an engagement strenuous and fierce. Mr. Rooney is a "sandy" appearing gentleman and will make plenty of business for himself if he follows in the footsteps of his predecessor—nay, nay. Welcome, Mr. Rooney.

It's gwin to be the finest in the state—Whalen's new ice cream parlor. Commissioner Stanton was down from Carroll Monday looking up some bridge matters south of town. Jim is nearing the close of his term as county commissioner and has the satisfaction of seeing the county finances in vastly different shape than when he took up his duties, a case of being in the mire of deplorable indebtedness to wiping the slate clean with a prospect of a much lower levy next year. It would, in this respect, be rank partisanship in the DEMOCRAT not to accord Commissioner Geo. Farran equal credit for the reforms, economies and good judgment that have prevailed, and no criticism to make of Eph Anderson who has been a member of the board a few months. Nobody wants a man of poor judgment at the head of county business, and of all things deliver us from the "tightwad party partisan." The DEMOCRAT hopes Mr. Stanton will stand for a re-nomination, and we don't believe the county can afford to put an untried, new man in his place.

"Someone wishing to rod their buildings with the W. C. Shinn Lightning rod, call on me or write me I will do it right. I have the agency for the Wayne territory. I have handled this rod for 8 years and understand it perfectly." CHRIS LARSEN.

As the DEMOCRAT stated several weeks ago Wm. J. Bryan will not be a candidate for the United States senate. Gov. Shallenberger is about the only democrat in the state who can defeat any republican who comes before the primaries.

The Wayne Roller Mills are paying $1.20 per bushel for good milling wheat.

Good authorities state that 30 per cent of all the pigs that die in the "corn belt," die of worms. WORMITE is death to these worms. Felber's Pharmacy.

Emil Hansen had a pair of colts in town last Saturday that looked mighty good and worth big money. A three-year-old weighed 1540 and a two-year-old, to a day, 1390. As Emil says, it takes the "Dutch to raise good horses."

Atty. Siman was a passenger to Ponca Monday morning. Harry was feeling very good over the decision in a rehearing before the supreme court in the cases of John T. Bressler, et al vs. Wayne county. Three or four years ago County Assessor Ziegler insisted on assessing the Nebraska Land Co., a local corporation owning thousands of acres of North Dakota land, with P. H. Kohl as salesman; other stockholders being Messrs Bressler, C. M., H. B. and R. Craven, Wrightman and others. The company resisted taxation and in a trial before District Judge Boyd defeated the county. County Attorney Siman appealed to the supreme court and the lower court was affirmed. After going out of office Mr. Siman was employed by the county to follow up the case. He asked for and was granted a re-hearing with the result that the supreme court reversed itself. The DEMOCRAT is told that the same "legal mind" is responsible for both "guesses" from the supreme court. Under the decision—if another reversal isn't registered—the stockholders will now have to dig up several hundreds of dollars back taxes, which amounts to a double assessment on their holdings, as the land is of course taxed in North Dakota. County Assessor Witter did not assess the corporation this year, but if it is up to the supreme court he need be in no hurry about it.

What Rambler Economy Means

Here is what Mr. C. F. Showalter, 1626 Wirt Street, Omaha, Nebraska, writes:

"I believe I have them all beat for mileage and small expense. I bought my Rambler March 9th, 1908, and drove it until November 12th. During that time I had covered 24,600 miles. A great deal of this was over country roads, and quite often with six or seven passengers. The expense of my car during this time would not amount to over $25.00 at the most; this does not include tires and fuel. The four-cylinder Rambler has them all beat for simplicity, durability, and economy."

Rambler

The Car with the Offset Crank Shaft

The great economy and efficiency of this car is due to such exclusive Rambler features as the offset crank shaft, straight-line-drive, safety spark retarder, Rambler Spare Wheel, etc. Let us prove this to you. ## Plymouth Binder Twine

SAVES TIME AND GRAIN

Twine is a small item, but good twine saves a lot of expense in harvest time. Every time your machine is stopped the delay costs you money. Time in harvest season is always valuable, and sometimes extremely precious on account of the condition of weather or grain. Be sure you use the best twine—PLYMOUTH TWINE. Then you will be safe from the annoyances, delays, expenses, which ordinary twine causes. Plymouth Twine works perfectly in every machine. More of it is made and used every year than any other kind, because it is known to be the best and has been for years. Binds more sheaves with less expense, no knots, no breaks, and is guaranteed full length and extra strength. Get Plymouth Twine from the local dealer. Look for the wheat-sheaf tag.

Use Plymouth Rope. It has the same high quality as our twine.
