Rev. H. G. Pittenger Dead.

The following account of the death of Rev. Pittenger will be read with sorrow by old friends of the family. Mr. Pittenger left Wayne some twenty years ago. Rev. H. G. Pittenger, formerly pastor of the Whitfield Methodist Episcopal church in Sioux City, later a pastor at Sloan and Mapleton, Ia., died last night of lung trouble following an attack of pneumonia, at Pittsburg, Kan.

In April the minister had a severe attack of pneumonia, from which he never fully recovered. Tuberculosis developed the past two months and in his weak condition he was unable to withstand the ravages of the disease.

The funeral will be held Saturday at Manson, Ia., the former home of the deceased. His daughter, Miss Marguerite Pittenger, who recently graduated from the high school, will leave tomorrow morning for Manson, accompanied by Mrs. Lida Goble, with whom she has made her home for the past 10 or 12 years. Mrs. Pittenger died when the daughter was a baby.

Rev. Mr. Pittenger was an exceedingly popular minister during his residence in Sioux City. From here he went to Webster City, Ia., then filled a pastorate at Belmont, Ia., going from there to Mapleton and from Mapleton to Sloan, where he remained five years, being transferred from that charge to the Des Moines conference. He went to Pittsburg, Kan., last fall. The climate did not agree with him, but he remained steadfastly at his post until stricken with pneumonia.

Thos. Loud Stricken.

While resting in the shade of a barn at the fair grounds last Thursday afternoon, and feeling first-rate and comfortable, although it was fiercely hot, Tom Loud of Winside was stricken with a stroke of paralysis, his whole right side being affected and he not being able to speak for some time. The old gentleman was taken to the depot in an automobile, thence comfortable as possible and went home on the evening train, Miss Miller accompanying him. Mr. Loud is a man of 76 years, but of magnificent physique and never sick in his life. Before coming to America, some fifty years ago, he was a champion athlete of England. The Democrat hopes Tom will recover and spend at least another quarter century among the living, for he is a man who enjoys it and whom it is a joy to know.

Ellis Girten Married.

News from Roy Jeffery at Denver is to effect that Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Girten were visiting at that city on their wedding tour. It is presumed that the bride was formerly Mrs. Jones, who taught in the High school in Wayne a year or two ago. The Democrat extends the glad hand and hopes Mr. and Mrs. Girten will return to Wayne and receive the congratulations of their myriad of friends.

Ball Game at Carroll.

Last Thursday the Wayne ball team went to Carroll and again defeated that team, the score being Wayne 16 and Carroll 1. Sals did the pitching for Wayne and the Carroll boys were unable to connect with his curves. The boys report splendid treatment at the hands of the citizens of Carroll with the exception of a man by the name of Closson who edits Carroll Index, being the same human who pretends to practice law, teach a Sunday school class, play pool and do a little fighting on the side.

It appears that Martin Ringer, our efficient second baseman, made an attempt to steal the home plate and Closson who was trying to play 3rd base for Carroll got in his road and Martin in order to clear the way picked him up and dumped him in a heap on the hard ground and Closson, as soon as he could get on his feet, commenced his pugilistastackus on Martin, but as Martin has always been taught that it is naughty to fight, kept out of the reach of the vicious blows aimed at him by Closson until Marshal Maher made Closson let up and be good. The ragged playing of Closson at 3rd base helped in a measure to defeat the Carroll boys.

Stuck in the Mud.

That was about the condition of our ball team last Monday, when in a drizzling rain and muddy field they tried to play ball with the fast Pilger aggregation. It was a great exhibition game, great for its errors and muddy slides to a fat score for Pilger against two runs for Wayne. There was also some difficulty over the umpire's decisions, which appeared to be all caused by the local team, that lent enchantment and pleasure to the several hundreds of spectators. Perhaps the rain and mud were altogether responsible for the disappointment in not seeing something worth while, but we can at least hope that the next engagement will be a little more meritorious.

John Soules Has a Stroke.

Early Tuesday morning, while in apparently the best of health, John Soules was stricken with entire paralysis of his left side, and rendered speechless. Dr. Williams was called and it is hoped Mr. Soules will fully recover, being now considerably better.

Great Crowds at Circus.

Many People Here Plan to see Barnum and Bailey at Sioux City.

Wayne will be well represented at Sioux City on July 10th, when Barnum & Bailey, greatest show on earth will exhibit there, for a great many of our citizens have already expressed themselves as having made up their minds to attend. A glance at the list of wonders to be seen with this big show would lead one to believe that the limit in tremendous size as well as the number of novelties to be seen has finally been reached. Barnum & Bailey present this year under the city of 14 acres of tents more things new than have been offered by other shows in years. "Jupiter" the balloon horse, Karoly's troupe of 16 Hungarian coal black stallions, the musical elephants, celebrated Konot troupe of equestrians, seven groups of foreign acrobats, four troupes of aerialists and hundreds of other arenic novelties all go to complete a circus performance that has never been equaled. The big manager has been augmented by the addition of many strange beasts and is larger than all the zoological gardens in this country combined. The street parade so gorgeous and so tremendous in size, beggars description and in all is a fair index to the wonderful performances that follow.

A Fight to the Finish.

Governor Shallenberger's letter to the World-Herald, commending its utterances on the setting aside of the bank guaranty law by injunction before the law had been declared unconstitutional, has the right ring to it.

This fight for a bank guaranty law is not a mere summer's campaign. It is a fight to the finish, and the finish will never come until the fight has been won, and won by the people. At the feet of federal courts this law now lies stunned and senseless. Should the next step witness the insertion of the judicial dagger in its heart, then Governor Shallenberger promises, in effect, to call a special legislative session to enact a new law that will again embody the people's will.

This is right—and it is wise. The enemies of the guaranty law may as well understand now as later that the people of Nebraska are in earnest in this matter, and especially that the democracy of Nebraska is enlisted for the whole war. There will be no turning back, and there will be no surrender.

In the end it will be found that the people of Nebraska are greater and mightier than the national banks of Nebraska that are fighting them. It will be found that no man ever made a sillier mistake than did Banker Burnham of Lincoln when he said, boastfully to his brother bankers, "We have knocked them out in the first round, and we will give them a body blow in the second that will put the proposition to sleep forever."

In this connection the World-Herald desires to direct the attention of the bankers who are striking viciously at the life of this popular law to the following utterance of a Nebraska county newspaper, the Platte Center Signal, whose editor, Chris Gruenther, is well and favorably known to the people of this state. The Signal says:

It seems to us that these banks are playing an unfair and exceeding dangerous game. During the panic two years ago the banks of the state pleaded with the depositors to exercise patience and not withdraw their deposits from the banks. The public was implored through the press and public utterances to stand by the banks in their hour of grief and not withdraw any more cash from the bank vaults than was absolutely necessary for urgent business needs. The public heeded these appeals and was exceedingly patient and considerate with the banks. They took clearing house certificates and other ship plasters in lieu of the cash to which they were entitled. The depositor in many cases suffers losses because he was obliged to curtail his transaction for the reason that his funds were tied up in his bank. This the people were implored not to do. This the people did, although when the first statement was issued after the panic it showed that 40 per cent of all the deposits in the Omaha banks was in cash. Thus it became known that the banks themselves and not the public were guilty of hoarding the people's money and keeping it out of circulation in time of dire distress.

These same Omaha banks are now using the fifty-one state banks as cats-paws to nullify the guaranty law, a law which is admittedly just. A law which would prevent panics, because no man would hoard his money if payment were guaranteed by law. We don't know what the federal courts will do with the law, but one thing is certain, that if the law is nullified the banks in the end will be the principal sufferers. There will be other times of financial stringency and panic, and when these emergencies arise the people will be less prone to exercise patience, and when the people become impatient and demand their money in cash something is liable to happen.

These are plain words. But are they not worth thinking about. Mr. Nebraska Banker. What would have happened to you,

INJUNCTION AGAINST BANK GUARANTY

Judges Will Pass Upon Constitutional Question Involved at Later Date.

Lincoln, Neb., July 2.—Judge Van Deventer and Thomas C. Munger, sitting in the federal court today issued a temporary injunction against the going into effect Friday of the new Nebraska law providing for a system of bank guaranty of deposits.

The order was issued after a two days hearing of arguments. The court announced that it was not yet ready to pass upon the constitutional question involved, but would do so later.

HOW WASHINGTON VIEWS FIRST CONCERNED ATTACK ON BANK GUARANTY LAW

Washington, July 2.—It is understood that the federal authorities in Washington have taken no view as yet on the constitutionality of the Nebraska bank deposit guaranty law, but that the law, suit in progress this week at Lincoln is being watched by them closely.

When the injunction was filed, a majority of the petitioning banks were state institutions, which was regarded as evidence that the state banks, the sole beneficiaries of the law, were not themselves friendly to the measure.

REPAIRS IN WHITE HOUSE COST MUCH

Tennis Court, Which Gave Name to Roosevelt Cabinet, Done Away With

Washington, July 3.—Destruction of the far famed White House tennis court, which gave name to the Roosevelt cabinet, is to begin today, when excavations marked off the ground for the new building.

This is the beginning of the renovation of the White House and the further improvements ordered by President Taft. The tennis court, which was the evidence of the normal life of the executive residence will have been placed to the splash of white-wash brush, the roof new paint, and the rest of the repairs.

Mrs. Taft and the young people will leave Saturday evening for the summer quarters at Beverly, and the tennis court will be the last to be done. The task of concealing with fresh paint and paper and new upholstery the age of the old mansion which has sheltered every presidential family since John Adams' day.

Each succeeding administration orders a renovation of the executive residence, sometimes the changes are radical and sometimes they are conservative. The Tafts have decided to have it done on a less extensive scale. The cost of the present improvements will be but a little more than that of the changes made by the Roosevelts during their first year in the White House. Some $1,000,000 was spent in the renovation of the White House proper, and in erecting the east and west wings, including the present executive office building.

President Taft will expect no more than the usual improvements in the main building and $400,000 in increasing the size of the grounds. It was this enlargement that made the tennis court. The slight change during the Roosevelt term will be accepted by the new administration.

New York, July 3.—With Mayor McClellan at odds and uncertainty shrouding the situation, it has been many years since conditions in the New York police circles have been so unsettled as they are today. It is reported that Commissioner Bingham had refused to remove his resignation, but that the mayor had decided to remove him. It is asserted that his removal was not demanded because of any personal animosity, but because of the demands of politicians who were unable to influence his decisions in police matters.

MESSINA VISITED BY ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE

Thousands Flee Into Country to Escape Falling Ruins, Soldiers in Control

Messina, Sicily, July 3.—Earth shocks took here and at Reggio, at 7:20 o'clock this morning, creating a panic among the people of the two cities.

Walls of houses not completely demolished in the visitation of December were shaken down, and the inhabitants of the towns rushed toward the open country. A woman and a child caught under the wreckage were killed in the city. The woman will probably die.

The earth shocks have become more intense, recently. The shocks of this morning were undulating and vertical, and accompanied by a deep roaring.

The first one was followed by an explosion which lasted for ten and lasted between eight and 10 seconds.

It is said that this quake was of greater severity than the fatal one of the night of December 28. The women houses and huts erected for the accommodation of the people seemed to be thrown from one side to another.

People fled the air as the people fled into the roads.

Police Protect Huts.

Detachments of police and carabinieri are being dispatched for the protection of the wooden huts built with straw, which had not yet been distributed.

NO CHANCE FOR FINAL VOTE BEFORE SEPTEMBER

Senator Money Points Out Mass of Unfinished Work for Colleagues.

PRESENTS A LONG LIST

Washington, July 1.—There are now plenty of modest wagers that the Senate will not vote on any bill before September 1. Senator Money inaugurated a bear raid on the early adjournment stocks, when he today went to the desk and had read a list of the features of the tariff bill which have not yet even been reported by the Senate committee.

He pointed out that until these things were before it, the Senate could form no judgment worth while as to the sort of measure it was going to make. He had been approached repeatedly, he said, with requests that he join other senators in agreeing to a date for a vote on the bill, but so long as many of the most important features of the measure had not yet been agreed upon and reported by the finance committee, it seemed to him better to insist to try to agree on a date for voting.

List Is Read.

Then he had his list of missing sections read, and the Senate gasped and reached after for the palm leaf fans.

The list follows:

Countervailing duty.

Regulations as to labeling packages of imported goods.

Prohibiting goods counterfeiting American labels and trade marks.

Provisions for free entry of materials for repair of foreign ships, and of American ships under certain conditions.

Provisions for supplies with- out bonded warehouses for American ships.

Provisions covering bonded warehouses.

Prohibition of importations of an obscene nature, with penalties.

Provision for the importation, in bond, of machinery to be used for repairs.

Provisions covering the forests of the state of Maine along the St. Johns and St. Croix rivers.

Restriction of imports to American vessels, and imposition of extra duties in certain cases, in accordance with treaty provisions.

Provisions as to meat, cattle and hides.

Reimportation of American goods once exported.

Provisions respecting goods from Smelling and refining in bonded warehouses.

Convict labor provision.

Rates of duty already imported but in warehouse.

Repeal section.

Much More Work.

All of which, Senator Money pointed out, gave the Senate good reason why it yet to be done. Besides, there are a number of the Customs court provisions, the tariff commission provision, and the maximum and minimum provision, all of the very greatest importance.

When Money had finished his little lecture, Senator Aldrich promised that the tariff commission would report the provisions in as soon as possible. Meanwhile there is unlikely to be much more pressure to fix a date for a final vote.

WE SEE OURSELVES AS OTHERS SEE US

Italian Wise Man Tells of Attitude of American People Toward Plutocracy.

Paris, July 1.—Signor Guglielmo Ferrero, the Italian historian, who visited the United States last year, continues the publication in the Figaro today of his comments on the anti-plutocratic movement in America.

He calls attention to the lack of organized resistance on the part of the rich, which he explains by a general recognition on their part that the movement was not provoked by real abuses, which must be corrected.

Many wealthy people sympathize with this movement, he says, and some sons of rich men have thrown off the burden of idealism in America, where the basis of everything is the theoretical rule of the majority.

He calls attention to the fact that the attitude of the rich is recognized and the republican party, although allied to the interests of the rich, has realized that the movement is not a threat to the attitude without provoking revolt.

Signor Ferrero is of the opinion that the picture painted by Maxim Gorky and other writers of the rich in America is erroneous, as is the belief held in some quarters in Europe that the movement is a threat to the attitude without provoking revolt.

LEON LING MAY HAVE BEEN KILLED

New Theory Advanced in Attempts to Solve Mystery of Elsie Sigel Murder.

Chicago, June 30.—Twenty Chinese students, supposed to be young boys, were reported yesterday from a mission which had been conducted for several weeks in the basement of a south side apartment building by three sisters. The police were aroused to action by the complaints of the residents near the mission.

LEON LING MAY HAVE BEEN KILLED

New York, June 30.—Failure to find traces of Leon Ling caused the police to give some attention to the theory strongly revived today, that the missing man may not have killed Elsie Sigel and that he was himself the victim of the same hand that killed the girl.

This line of reasoning necessitates the return of the apartment building in which was seen Leon in the room over the Elsie's apartment, restaurant where Miss Sigel's body lay, but the authorities decline to do this. The statements have shown several discrepancies.

In considering the possibility that Leon was killed, it is regarded as probable that his body was placed in a trunk and this has drawn renewed attention to the trunk being checked to Schenectady, near where Chung Sin was found, and rechecked by a Chinaman from Schenectady to Cleveland, Ohio.

"What about the theory that Leon is dead?" Police Inspector McCafferty was asked today.

Leon was slain, we have one of the men that killed him under arrest and we can lay our hands on another in five minutes," he replied.

The police are confident that the man who murdered in Washington was involved in statements from an anonymous letter which Louis Fook, a Chinaman, who has given some assistance to the police in their work, today reported having received.

Fook says the writer of the letter which is Chinese, declares that Miss Sigel was killed in the apartment building in Washington on the afternoon of June 30. The authorities were not inclined to place much credence in the writer's statements.

THIRTY-FIRST BOMB HURLED IN CHICAGO

Missile Wrecks Two Restaurants and Causes Panic in Telephone Exchange

Chicago, June 30.—The cause of the explosion which last night wrecked a telephone exchange in the city and did $100,000 in damage, was reported today as being a 35-pound bomb, which was slightly exploded 14 others, is still unexplained.

A number of the employees of the telephone company are on a strike. The cause of the explosion was the telephone exchange, which was the cause of the explosion and some of them were severed.

THIRTY-FIRST BOMB HURLED IN CHICAGO

Chicago, June 30.—An explosion supposed to have been caused by dynamite was reported today in the business district here last night and injured two or three persons severely, and wrecked stores and windows for a block near Clark and Washington streets.

The exact nature of the explosion remains a riddle, because of the great amount of debris thrown around it. It is probable that the explosion was caused by a bomb that has mysteriously disappeared from this city for more than two years.

The center of the explosion last night was in an alley in the rear of the Central Telephone exchange. This exchange was closed for a few days. The business during the night in the restaurants facing in Clark street were blown practically into the street, food and chairs being scattered over the ground.

In this alley also was the rear entrance to Powers & Gilbert's saloon, headquarters for Martin B. Madden and his men. The building, which was largely in labor disputes at the present time and have been the subject of a private investigation.

Another place blown into the alley, which was demolished to an equal degree with the saloons, was the Cash Register store of Mont Tennes, who is a private investigator.

Times' places have been being placed, rained by the police, and another bomb was exploded there a year ago.

HEAT CAUSES TWO RAILROAD WRECKS

The men, who were said to have become demoralized under exposure to the sun, jumped into the lake. He was unconscious when rescued and died in a hospital.

HEAT CAUSES TWO RAILROAD WRECKS

Denver, June 30.—Two trains in Colorado met accidents yesterday as a result, apparently, of the intense heat, which is believed to have twisted the rails.

Three coaches of the east bound Denver & Rio Grande passenger train, No. 1, known as the "San Francisco Limited," went into the ditch at Sedalia, Mo. The train was derailed by the heat, caused by the displacement of rails. Among the injured were Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Jackson and Vida Jackson, of West Lafayette, Ind., who were slightly injured.

A few hours later the engine and two coaches of a Colorado Midland train were derailed inside the city limits of Denver. The train was derailed by the heat, which twisted the rails. The passengers and crew escaped with a shaking up. Yesterday was the hottest day in 10 years in Denver, the thermometer reaching 93 degrees.

SIX THOUSAND KANSAS MINERS GO ON STRIKE

Pittsburg, Kan., June 28.—All the miners in the north end of the Pittsburg coal field, about 6,000 in number, quit work today.

No strike had been called, but the men decided to stop work until a decision is reached in the check-out dispute, it is possible that a formal strike order will be issued tomorrow calling out all miners of the north end of the coal field. The grievance of the union men include the charges of discrimination against union employees, demands for better wages, and the installation of pull-train boards in car barns, and the announcement of layoffs and shorter runs.

BY DAD

Of course the record of deaths and accidents from the deadly fire cracker is same as usual. By dad, I never could see any sense in it, and have been scolded a good deal for not giving my children a chance to be blown to pieces or die from powder burns, but any person with horse sense ought to know, when the terrible experience of hundreds of others is put before us every year, that gun powder and dynamite should have no place in a 4th of July celebration. Think of that prominent, no doubt intelligent, man of Louisville, Kentucky, picking up a giant fire cracker to see why it didn't explode! It is remarkable what dampfires the American people are on this firecracker proposition. The suffering of one poor, little child ought to be sufficient cause for the courts to stamp it out instantly, and yet, when July 4th comes round we know there are to be about so many with fingers, hands or eyes blown out, and no efforts made to prevent the slaughter of the innocents.

Judge—You are a freeholder?
Talesman—Yes, sir, I am.
“Married or single?”
“Married three years last June.”
“Have you formed or expressed any opinion?”
“Not for three years, your honor.”

Mrs. Farmer—I found this rock today and it's exactly the shape of an egg. What kind of a stone do you think it can be?
Professor Spooner—Plymouth Rock.

The debate on the question of a sane and safe Fourth is now ended. Let's have the list of killed and maimed.

Some merchant might make a hit just now with Mrs. Howard Gould by marking some hosiery down to $499.98.

Some woman by the name of Mrs. Chatfield says that "if a woman will use her brains she can dress on $3,000 a year." Possibly if Mrs. Chatfield's brains was spread out she would have as much as the average woman of her like at a fancy dress ball.

Sheriff Mears says he first thought he would decline to run for the fourth term for his office but later guessed perhaps he would. Like a "guess" from Nebraska's supreme court, Grant's last one will stand until he—makes another.

He—"In olden times woman disappointed in love used to don nun's garbs."

She—"Yes, but styles have changed. Nowadays they get into breach of promise suits."

It is reported that there are 1,000 large icebergs loafing around the shores of Nova Scotia. Wish there was some way for them to get near.

It takes Col. Ferguson to hand out the Chaucery Depey compliments. The other Sunday morning I happened to be in carshop when the gallant veteran met a lady, the mother of some half dozen boys and girls, and what do you suppose he said? He said "You look just the same as you did before you had any kids." It struck me at the time that some people would say things that they would think looked awful in print.

Williams' Hernet: It won't make any difference how respected you are in the community, how regularly you attend church and contribute to its support, how many degrees you may have taken in the different lodges, how far back you can trace noble ancestry or how influential you may be in politics, societies, society or religion, if you dodge your just taxes you are on a well lubricated incline going head-foremost into perdition. The man who burglarizes a store, cracks a bank safe or takes a led pipe and waylays a fellow man isn't guilty of a more heinous crime than the man who steals from the government that protects him, and when you sign an assessment roll that does not contain a complete list of your effects, you make an oath to a falsehood. You are not honest and should be punished for perjury if you steal from the government.

Why all these train auditors on the trains? and all youger, "Bikler"-looking gentlemen than the conductors. A railroad company or corporation that has to hire one set of men to see if the other set is honest is in hard straits, and if that is why the auditors are hired you can't blame a con for knocking down all the coin he can get.

This was the logical year for Wayne to celebrate, with a good program, well advertised. Wayne could have had ten or fifteen thousand people here last Sat. urday, and all kinds of money to spend.

There is no portion of a girl's costume to which she is more tenderly solicitous than the front of her corsage. It may be because her heart is imbedded there or thereabouts. Anyhow, more of the ingenuity of the designers of fashions and more of the care of wearers is lavished on a square foot of surface than on any yard of area elsewhere. If a woman has an extra fine piece of lace she places it on her bosom. If she has a bit of rare embroidery that is the spot chosen to display it. Nothing is too good for decoration of that favored section. And if she loves a thing, be it a pet poodle or a lover's head, she instinctively hugs it there.

A Butler county, Pa., woman who died last week at the age of 102 is said to have smoked the same pipe three hours every day for seventy-five years. That's there many people make a mistake. To secure long life every smoker should change pipes at least as often as every fifty years.

Some of these long distance walkers must do most of their walking in their sleep.

One of the country's busy scientists has received the question, "Do Dogs Think?" The one that was "sounded" in this town a few days ago didn't stop to think.

A man dictating a letter to another man with whom he had quarreled wrote thus: "Owing to the fact that my stenographer is a lady, I cannot say to you what I think of you, and, as I am a gentleman, I would not. But you being neither, can readily guess what is in my mind."

No matter what day the Fourth of July comes on, there will always be the day after.

The boys who have been shooting crackers several days in advance may be the quietest after the Fourth.

The fellow who about a year ago invented a vacuum refrigerator in which a cake of ice would keep for weeks and weeks has evidently been bought off by the ice trust. At least both he and his refrigerator seem to have created a vacuum.

Some of the corn was not knee high by the Fourth unless the knee is one which takes a very short stocking.

"Ye'r an Orangem in and an A. P. A.," said Phil Sullivan to Robt. Baird yesterday during a passage at arms between the Irishman and the Hinglishman. "That I am," retorted Bob, "and I am proud of it; and ye are a pope-ridden ! ! ! ! !!" and with that the great international disturbance was left to arbitration.

Feels now is if it would be perfectly safe to take 'em off, providing they are not stuck too tight.

What do you think of County Commissioner Eph Anderson hitting the blind baggage to ride to Wakefield?

Say, Closson, don't you come tearing down here and "attackass" the DEMOCRAT. We'd rather publish your version of the fracas.

The Commercial Club had a large delegation to meet with the County Commissioners this morning to request that a number of steel seats be placed in the Court House square.

Grand Young Nebraska.

"Of course Nebraska is a great agricultural state—one of the very greatest," said Deputy Labor Commissioner Maupin the other day. "Other states may raise a greater number of bushels of corn and wheat and oats, but Nebraska raises more corn, wheat and oats per capital than any other state. In all three of these grains our yield per acre is away yonder ahead of the general average of all the states. We've got 'em all beat in output of hay, wild, timothy and alfalfa. We have every reason to boast of our agricultural resources, but agriculture is no longer our sole dependence. It is the basis of all wealth, to be sure, not only in Nebraska, but everywhere else, but the time has come in the history of Nebraska when we may feel satisfied that our agricultural supremacy is no longer questioned or menaced, and therefore devote some time and attention to letting the world know what we are doing along other lines."

"We are doing some manufacturing in Nebraska—and when we get wise to our opportunities we will do more. In 1908 Nebraska manufacturing plants and industries turned out $151,000,000 worth of manufactured goods from raw material raised mostly in Nebraska. That was $20,000,000 more than the value of our live stock in 1908. Men engaged in mechanical pursuits, including transportation, received upward of $20,000,000 in wages in Nebraska in 1908. Ever stop to think what a great variety of articles we manufacture in Nebraska? I'll give you a partial list, and it will help you form some idea of our growing importance as a manufacturing state."

Deputy Labor Commissioner Maupin then fixed up the following list:

- Automobiles, alfalfa meal, aprons, artificial stone, awnings.
- Best sugar, beef, buttons, brooms, baking powder, boots, boxes, brick, breakfast foods, butter, barrels.
- Carrriages, creamery supplies, candy, caps, crackerjack, cornice, crackers, canned goods, cigars.
- Dental supplies, dusters, divans, dressers.
- Engines—marine, locomotive and stationary; electrical supplies, envelopes.
- Fire escapes, fences, flour, foundry goods.
- Gloves, garments, garden tools, gas machines.
- Hatness, hats, hardware novelties.
- Incubators, isinglass, ice.
- Jellies, jewelry, job printing, jams jumpers.
- Kalsomine, knit goods.
- Leather goods, loose leaf ledger, lightning rods, liquors.
- Machinery, marble goods, mattresses, mineral waters.
- Neckwear.
- Oversalls, optical goods.
- Pickles, putney stone, paints, paper, patent medicines, mill products, pavements, planing.
- Quince preserves (out of real quinces).
- Rugs, roofing, rubber stamps.
- Stoves, shoes, shot, Saratoga chips, saddles, shades, signs, soap, suspenders.
- Trunks, tinware, tags, tools.
- Underwear, umbrellas.
- Valises, vinegar.
- Whisky, washing machines, wagons, whips, wire goods.
- Xcellent ice cream in car load lots.
- Yacht engines, yeast.
- Zweibach.
- "Try a new game some evening," suggests Mr. Maupin. "Just take this list and see how many things you know are made in Nebraska that you can add to it."
- "We stand at the head of the educational column, yet we foolishly ship our raw hides to Massachusetts and buy them back in the shape of shoes, mauling ourselves for the freight charges both ways and leaving all the wages on the Atlantic coast. Same thing with the millions of pounds of wool annually clipped from the backs of Nebraska sheep. Why not tan Nebraska hides in Nebraska and make this Nebraska leather into shoes by Nebraska labor in Nebraska factories? Why not do the same thing in regard to wool? Don't whine about not having cheap fuel for power purposes. Just harness the millions of horse power going to waste in the Missouri, Platte, Loup and Niobrara rivers. All the wheat that is raised in Nebraska and not exported ought to be ground in Nebraska mills and the Nebraskan who neglects or refuses to insist upon having Nebraska ground flour in the kitchen lacks some of the needful elements of state pride and patriotism. Everything made in Nebraska and put on exhibition, anywhere ought to be labeled "Made in Nebraska."

"When you are not standing up for Nebraska you are missing an opportunity to boost yourself as well as your state."

Sewerage Work Commences.

Work on Wayne's system of sewerage commenced today, workmen now being busy driving grade stakes and getting ready for the big machine that will cut the ditches. One good feature of the work means the clearing out of the alleys and removal of buildings, fences and poles in the right of way.

Notes on The Base Ball Game By a Fan.

When two ball teams play a nine inning game, with the final score 1 to 0, two things are apparent: both teams are playing good ball and both pitchers have the opposing batsmen pretty much at their mercy, such a game was our first game with Pilger, when but two safe hits were made off each pitcher.

When the same two teams get together again within a week and play a game 12 to 2 there is some cause responsible besides the lack of ability on the part of the players or pitchers. What was the cause of our defeat Monday? Without any question the wet, dark day was all to the disadvantage of our boys. Our pitcher depends mostly upon curve balls and not upon speed to puzzle the opposing batter, and anyone who has ever played ball knows that it is almost a physical impossibility to curve and control a wet, soggy ball. So instead of being able to send up a deceptive curve he was obliged to put them across and the visiting batsmen pounded the ball from start to finish. Many of the balls they hit could have been easily fielded under normal conditions but the mud and wet grass made it impossible to move with any speed or certainty and almost any batted ball went for a safe hit. The pitcher for the opposing team on the contrary rules on speed and not on curves for his effectiveness and he found the dark day and dark ball a big help in his work. The last four innings were played in twilight and a dark ball put over with lots of speed was very hard to see.

Men of our team who hit the ball almost every time at bat during the first game were helpless Monday, this goes to prove that the unfavorable conditions had everything to do with their failure to hit.

Our team showed up miserably in fielding compared with the Pilger team but bear in mind they were compelled to field 5 balls to the Pilger team's one and you have the reason for this.

The Commercial Club felt very bad to think the day was so unfavorable to our boys, we are convinced that our players have the ability because of the fine showing made in all their previous games and we had expected to please everybody by some fine playing in their game. But Pilger will return for a game probably week after next and we are sure that our boys will defeat them.

Monday's game was the fifteenth game Pilger has played this season. It was our boys fourth game. Quite an advantage for any team.

Every man on the Wayne team is a Wayne man. We could hire outsiders and strengthen the team of course, but we feel that we have good material and that, practice and experience will develop it and we will be all the more proud of our team when it wins.

The game Monday was marred by the incompetency of one of the umpires. A play at third base was decided by him without his having seen the play and the manner of making the decision was so unjust that both teams were thrown into a turmoil for some minutes. Let it be said to the credit of the captains of both teams that they used every effort to resume play without any friction or hard wind, and with the idea of pleasing the spectators rather than getting the game by forfeit our boys gave in and played it out.

The Pilger boys are fortunate in having a man for captain who is a credit to his team and his town. We will be glad to see him bring his players for a return game.

Three of our boys looked ridiculous when they let that high fly drop between them back of second base. But that was good base ball just the same. When the ball hit our captain immediately called for the center fielder to get it.

There was nothing for the second baseman and right fielder to do but stand back and let him have a clear chance. But with a bucket of mud on either shoe and slippery grass to run in he could not reach it in time. We know he could have had it easily under ordinary circumstances because in the Carroll game he made two catches for more difficult than that one.

Did you ever see people turn out to a ball game in the mud and rain and keep up the good valued enthusiasm which was exhibited Monday. It was a remarkable tribute to the great American game and a loyal showing to our town. The Pilger boys feel very grateful to every one who attended and if you'll just stick we'll play our heads off to show you good ball every time you come.

Henry Bartels, Democratic Candidate for County Treasurer.

Friends of Henry Bartels are boosting him for the democratic nomination for county treasurer, and if Mr. Bartels concludes to get in the race there will be considerable life to the fall campaign and nothing sure about the outcome until the votes are counted. The DEMOCRAT hopes Henry will get in the race and his long residence in the county, good record as an all round citizen of unimpeachable character and residence outside of Wayne, will make him a candidate for the deepest consideration. What we want now is a live man to run for sheriff. It doesn't hurt the county's interests to have a little competition in the scramble for local offices, nor does it hurt to change 'em once in a generation.

Selecting Brood Sows.

The farmers should supplement the work of the professional breeder, the improvement of swine selecting, feeding and caring for his hogs. In this connection the selection of the brood sow is of the greatest importance, and many farmers make a grave mistake in choosing the second or third class sow pigs for breeders, because they can get them for less money, under the erroneous impression that they are getting them cheap, when in reality they are the dearest pigs they could buy. The brood sow is a potent factor in keeping up the fertility of the soil and for producing pigs to consume the gross product and convert it into a finished product; therefore the utmost care should be taken in the selection of the brood sow. If we select the runts and second and third class sows; like will beget like, and in a short time we have the farm stock with a very inferior class of hogs, which will be several years behind in improvement. But if we select the best sow pigs for breeders and pay twice or three times as much money for them we will soon be stocked up with a very desirable and valuable class of hogs. It is hard to pay much for a real valuable sow, she is of more value on the farm than the brood mare, as she produces so many more pigs in a given time. Another common error of farmers is to use cross bred animals for breeders. Nothing but pure sows of either breed should be used.

Men of superior judgment and skill have been at work for one hundred years or more in improving Berkshire hogs, and the farmer who would buy a Berkshire and raise her with another breed will thus practically destroy the work of one hundred years of improvement. In selecting the brood sow the farmer should study the pedigree, and select not only the sow of superior merit herself, but be sure that she is descended from a long line of meritorious ancestors, and also that she is recorded. She should be selected, if possible, from large litters and usually when a pig, I have found by long experience that it is the best to select the pig to make the brood sow when a pig. The professional breeders, as a rule sell their pigs when young and price them according to quality, and as there are a few wide-awake farmers that know the best are the cheapest in the long run, buy all the first choice pigs when young. The brood sows should have two litters a year and given the best of care to keep them in good breeding condition.

Book Treasures.

Colonel John L. Martin, sergeant-at-arms of the democratic national convention, lives in St. Louis, where he built a fine house. He thought it well to have a library, and went down to a book store, where he ordered some books, according to an apocryphal story.

"What kind of books?" asked the clerk.

"The books," said the colonel, "Books, you know, reading books."

The books came and were installed in the library. Soon after, the colonel's servant, Hugh O'Neill, came up to look over the books.

"Here, Hugh," said the colonel, "is my library. Here is where I love to get with a book and a pipe and forget the outside world."

O'Neill is somewhat of a book sharp. He took down a book, looked at it and put it back; took down another, looked at that and put it back, and repeated the process several times.

"Then he asked: 'John, where did you get these books?'"

"Oh," replied Martin, "I picked them up here and there. Whenever I found one I liked I bought it. It has been the work of many years."

"But, John," commented O'Neill, "isn't it strange that you should have bought 600 copies of McGuffey's Fifth Reader?"

It is believed to have committed suicide.

"An itching humor covered both my hands and got up over my wrists and even up to the elbows. The itching and burning were terrible. My hands got all scaly and when I scratched, the surface would be covered with blisters and then get raw. The eczema got so bad that I could not move my thumbs without deep cracks appearing. I went to my doctor, but his medicine could only stop the itching. At night I suffered so fearfully that I could not sleep. I could not bear to touch my hands with water. This went on for three months and I was fairly worn out. At last I got the Cuticura Remedies and in a month I was cured. Walter H. Cox, 10 Somerset St., Boston, Mass. Sept. 25, 1908."

"We're on, we're on," they yelled in glee. "Now turn us loose and you shall see."

"How quickly we will go and find The great big game you have in mind."

Mad Mullah grinned, for he knew What hunting stunts his hand could do.

"You hot Somalis," said he then, "Now scatter and come back again."

"With that big game, for if you fail The bunch of you shall go to jail."

"You said you would not stir my ire, You know how I despise a liar."

"You'll have a cooking time, I hope, And bring him blither on the lope."

The hot Somalis bowed and skipped, Resolved to have the big game dipped.

Mean People.

From the Washington Star.

Henry Russell, the head of the Boston opera, was describing his former town in a search for talent. He said of the singers of a certain city, "I could do no business with them. They thought only of money."

At another place he said: "They were as bad as the man who discovered the Blank theater fire."

The first intimation the box office had of this was that the end of the third act, from a fat man who bounded down the gallery stairs, stuck his face in at the ticket window and shouted breathlessly:

"Theater's afire. Gimme me money back."

Seumas McManus at Home.

From "Just Irish," by Charles Battell Lummis.

As I got off the train at Donegal a heavy hand clapped me on the shoulder, and, turning, I saw Seumas McManus, whose Irish stories are so well known in America. He was from Mount Charles, a village lying three miles from Donegal. Next day we walked up there, meeting more pretty girls returning from mass than it seemed right for us to meet when there were so many people in the world who seldom see a pretty face.

McManus has a bungalow on top of Mount Charles, and that his feet lie seven counties. The furthest land that is his to look at on a clear day has 100 miles to the south.

Such a view ought to stimulate a man's noble thoughts, and was not surprised to learn that McManus is a member of the Sinn Fein (Shinn Fane) society. It is a society of men who want one might call bloodless revolutionists, although it comprises much of the best blood and the youngest blood in Ireland. McManus is an ardent believer in a glorious future for Ireland when she shall have shaken off the shackles that bind her.

"I'm a good American. I wrote in his great book 'My Ireland come to her own before'

AN OLD TIMER

Had Bad Experiences.

A woman who has used Postum since it came upon the market knows from experience the wisdom of using Postum in place of coffee if one values health and a clear brain. She says:

"At the time Postum was first put on the market I was suffering from nervous dyspepsia, and my physician had repeatedly told me not to use tea or coffee. Finally I decided to take his advice and try Postum. I got a package and had it carefully prepared, finding it delicious to the taste. So I continued its use and very soon its beneficial effects convinced me of its value, for I got well of my nervousness and dyspepsia."

"My husband had been drinking coffee all his life until it had affected his nerves terribly, and I persuaded him to shift to Postum. It was easy to get him to make the change, for the Postum is so delicious. It certainly worked wonders for him."

"We soon learned that Postum does not exhilarate or depress and does not stimulate, but steadily and honestly strengthens the nerves and the stomach."

"To make a long story short, our entire family continued to use Postum with satisfying results, as shown in our fine condition of health, and we have noticed a rather unexpected improvement in brain and nerve power."

"Increased brain and nerve power always follows the use of Postum in place of coffee, sometimes in a very marked manner. 'There's a Reason.'"

Look in packages for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

A Pious Error.

Edmund Tarbell, the Boston artist to whom the first mass in Pittsburg, condemned at a dinner in Boston, the disfiguring of beautiful landscapes.

"The proper plate for the advertisements is the newspaper," said Mr. Tarbell. "There only it does good, creating the interest and leading to definite, instead of only creating scorn or derision."

Landscape advertisements too frequently cause advertisement. Mr. Tarbell went on: "When an individual sets without due caution in public places, may fall of their elevating effect."

Thus a certain John Jones, the leading citizen of New England seaside town, donated a number of benches to the boardwalk. On each of these benches the plots Mr. Jones caused to be painted.

"Gift of John Jones. The sea is His, and He made it."

The Life of a Nation.

By John Elsie.

Your nation may have art, poetry and science, all the refinements of civilized life, all the comforts and safeguards that human ingenuity can devise; but if we lose this spirit of personal and local independence, it is doomed and deserves its doom. As President Cleveland has well said, it is not the business of a government to support its people, but of the people to support their government, and for a loss of this spirit of independence is as dangerous as to little with some highly narcotic poison. Of the two opposite perils which have perpetually threatened the welfare of political society—autocracy on the one hand, loss of self-government on the other—Jefferson was right in maintaining that the latter is really the more to be dreaded because its beginnings are so terribly insidious.

Regulating the Auto.

From the Chicago Tribune.

The relation of automobile traffic to the highways is an important consideration at a time when the automobile highway building is growing apace. The experiences of New York state have not been satisfactory. The character of the surface of the highways is a matter of constant study. The fast moving machines of many horse power have introduced new problems in construction.

The regulation of the automobile is a subject which has a great part in legislative halls at the present time. The eastern states, particularly, have been considering the matter with much care.

The Pennsylvania law has received the signature of the governor and is to go into effect on January 1, 1910. Its principal features have interest.

A motor car registered in this state is to be registered according to horse power. A machine of 20-horsepower will be registered for $5, and a motor car of 25-horsepower will be registered for $15, and intermediate ones for proportionate rates. A motorcycle will require $2 as a fee. Each chauffeur will have to have a license at a cost of $1.

A visitor in the state will be allowed to use his machine without registration if his stay does not extend beyond 10 days. On a motor car a mile per hour test is to be made in a mile in five minutes will be the minimum.

The law provides for "joy riders" in the streets. It is to be used another machine without permission there will be a penalty of $100 and the added punishment of a year in the penitentiary. If any one runs a machine under a license and is found to be operating for the same heavy fine and additional imprisonment is provided.

These regulations probably represent the contour of the law which will be put into effect in the near future. They appear to be reasonable and seem to cover the essential matters which have been brought to public attention.

It is accepted by everyone that the automobile has come to stay. The new problems it has made prominent must be solved. They relate to the wear and tear on the roads and to the safety of people everywhere.

The Pennsylvania code is likely to be copied by the legislatures of other states, and it is to be hoped that there is a body of automobile law adequate to meet all cases that arise.

JOAN OF ARC.

By Thomas De Quincey.

What is to be thought of her? What is to be thought of the poor shepherd girl from the hills and forests of Lorraine, that like the Hebrew shepherd boy from the hills and forests of Judea, rose suddenly out of the quiet, out of the safety, out of the religious inaction, rooted in deep pastoral solitude, to a station in the war of armies, and to the more perilous station at the right hand of kings? The Hebrew boy inaugurated his patriotic mission by an act, by a victorious act, such as no man could deny. But so did the girl of Lorraine. If we read her story as it was read by those who saw her nearest. Adverse armies bore witness to the boy as he acted, by a victorious act, such as no man could deny. But so did the girl of Lorraine. If we read her story as it was read by those who saw her nearest.

Love's Threads of Gold.

In the night she told a story. In the night, and all right through. While the moon shone in her glory. And the branches dropped with dew.

"Twas my life she told, and 'round it she wove a golden thread of gold. In the world's great heart she found it, 'twas a child asleep."

In the night I saw her weaving. By the misty moonbeams gold. With a sacred thread of gold.

Ah! she wept the tears of sorrow, Lulling tears so mystic sweet; 'Twas my life she told, and 'round it she wove a golden thread of gold. And her web lay at my feet.

Of my life she made the story. 'Twas my life she told, and 'round it she wove a golden thread of gold. In the world's great heart she found it, 'twas a child asleep."

Sicily's Wheat and Fruits.

From the New York Press.

Sicily was the granary of Rome in former days. Wheat grows to an enormous height, and the ears seldom contain less than 50 grains. The rice is the finest on earth. I buy it at 10 cents a pound to make that famous dish—riso e buttero (macaroni). No other answer the purpose. The most beautiful crops of Germany and France, of England and Austria-Hungary, present to the Sicilian the image of sterility. A Sicilian watermelon is a dream. No Georgia rattlesnake variety is in its class. Indian figs and apples are wonderful. The former sort reaches its highest perfection along the southern coast, and is shipped to all parts of the world under the name of "pomelo" in honor of the Punic war; it was brought from Carthage into Italy by the Romans.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

From the New York Press.

A woman can stand living in most any kind of a house by calling it an estate.

The greatest disappointment about owning your own house is you haven't any janitor to cuss over.

If there was any other way to be so sentimentally foolish, not nearly so many girls would get engaged.

The steam heat that you can't find in the flat during the winter discovers itself in the ice chests in the summer.

The reason the janitor picks out the middle of the night to yell is his proud father wouldn't believe it if it was in the daytime when he was at the office.

Miss Esther Cleveland in Rome. From a Home Letter to the New York Times.

One of the most charming among the many afternoon receptions given by Americans who have crowded Rome during the last few weeks was given by Mrs. S. L. Loring at her home in New York, at the new Palace Hotel. Miss Esther Cleveland, a daughter of the late ex-president, looked after the comfort of the guests and spoke with great interest of the recent audience the pontiff had granted her.

These Facts May Open the Eyes of Many Discouraged Ones.

Mrs. Matilda Lindemann, 4233 Westworth Ave., Chicago Ill., says:

"From my own experience I believe the worst of women's troubles originate from weak kidneys. For years my health failed gradually. Pain in the back and a feeling of heavy pressure over the abdomen, poor appetite, dizziness, nervousness and dizzy spells made life a burden. The Kidney Pills were my only relief. I could hardly move a muscle without severe pain. I was a physical wreck when I began taking Dodd's Kidney Pills. The change was wonderful. Since using them my trouble is gone. I have a good appetite, weigh more and feel well."

Level of Comfort in America.

From Scribner's.

People with an average income of from $1,000 to $3,000 a year live in far more comfortable houses in America than in England. The matter of water, heat, lighting, suitable kitchens and laundries, is insisted upon with us, and is lacking in an appalling extent in English country or even town houses, and also in the more pretentious country houses themselves. The houses of the poorer classes, laborers, clerks, servants and the like, are more comfortable with none of the conveniences to which Americans even of the poorer classes are accustomed. Hundreds of thousands of Americans live in houses admirably equipped as to bath, gas, lighting and heating conveniences, and the like, where hundreds are thus housed in England. Indeed, America is in a class quite by herself, so far as mechanical contrivances for personal comfort are concerned, as compared with England, or any other country in the world.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

From the New York Press.

One reason women have such a good time talking so much is they have so little to say.

The more subscriptions you make to charities, the more the people who drag the money out of you act as if they supported them.

A man's idea of comfort is when his wife thinks it would be a disgrace to have for any other men who call on him to see him dressed that way.

In 19 cases out of 20 the marriage purports to be shattered by some innocent wife, or some active, healthy, intelligent woman, rather than by a heroic fidelity to an ideal.

| July is the month of human progress       | 1  |
| As there can be no progress unless every  | 1  |
| body is hot and mad, so it is to July     | 1  |
| that we must look for getting anywhere    | 1  |
| at all. "Heaven for climate, but hell     | 1  |
| for company," said the prophet. June      | 1  |
| forever, but July for growth, your Uncle  | 1  |
| Ganderbone.                               | 1  |
| The ancients esteemed July above all      | 1  |
| the other months. To Rome it gave         | 1  |
| imperial Caesar, the fighting man who     | 1  |
| ever lived. Marc Antony, who changed      | 1  |
| the name of the month from Quintilis to   | 1  |
| July, said that if Caesar had spent his   | 1  |
| anywhere else, the calendar he probably   | 1  |
| would have been a mollycoddle and         | 1  |
| Rome would have had woman suffrage.       | 1  |
| The Celts, who have made fewer mistakes   | 1  |
| than any other race, made July the        | 1  |
| beginning of the year, and John Han-      | 1  |
| cock, who was first to sign the Declara-  | 1  |
| tion of Independence, said that credit    | 1  |
| for the stampede at that historic revolt  | 1  |
| did not belong to him, but to the weath-  | 1  |

| The lowly worm                            | 1  |
| Will take a brace                         | 1  |
| And slap the robin                        | 1  |
| In the face.                              | 1  |
| The liquor man                            | 1  |
| Will utter cries                          | 1  |
| And kipper half                           | 1  |
| A dozen dries;                            | 1  |
| The hot consumer,                         | 1  |
| What with trouts                          | 1  |
| And blows, will kill                      | 1  |
| Himself some frusts.                      | 1  |
| And the swimming pupil,                   | 1  |
| Burned and red.                           | 1  |
| Will chase his dad                        | 1  |
| 'Round the shed.                          | 1  |
| To all of which nobody much can           | 1  |
| make the least objection. We never        | 1  |
| shall get anywhere except in that         | 1  |
| direction. We never shall do anything     | 1  |
| to Aldrich and his tariff until the meek  | 1  |
| insurgents rise and take somebody's hair  | 1  |
| off. We never shall reform a thing        | 1  |
| until we have a reaction in which we      | 1  |
| get our dander up and compass some        | 1  |
| destruction. And while most everything    | 1  |
| is out with a chip upon its shoulder; we  | 1  |
| wish that money would somehow become      | 1  |
| a little bolder. We'd like to have a      | 1  |
| dollar bill jump out upon and fight us,   | 1  |
| or a hundred dollars, we will say, come   | 1  |
| close enough to bite us. It's been a      | 1  |
| good while now, too long, the common      | 1  |
| people find it, since money did not run   | 1  |
| on sight, with its tail jammed down       | 1  |
| behind it.                                | 1  |
| However, and be as it may,                | 1  |
| The tadpole in the bog                    | 1  |
| Will think whatever gods may be           | 1  |
| For making him a frog.                    | 1  |
| The boobling will dwell upon              | 1  |
| Such bliss as we are in,                  | 1  |
| And the sun will sail the summer skies    | 1  |
| With the perspiration in his eyes         | 1  |
| And dripping from his chin.               | 1  |
| Upon the Fourth, as patriots and pa-      | 1  |
| triot's descendants, the usual burst of   | 1  |
| feelings are due to independence; and     | 1  |
| having shot each other up to our own      | 1  |
| satisfaction, and shown the foreigners at | 1  |

hand just how we look in action, we'll pile the victims in a heap, unfurl a flag above it, and ask Japan and all the rest if they want any of it.

The chance that they will be scarcely worth elaboration. If we could shoot like that in only decent celebration of what some friends of liberty long laid upon the shelf, once did for us, what would we do for liberty itself?

This will be about the last year that the Fourth of July will be observed to any great extent. Fireworks are already forbidden in many cities and within another year the movement will probably have spread wherever parents desire to preserve their children. There is, in fact a much better day in the month which can be observed without injury to anyone and to much better purpose. This is St. Swithin's Day which comes on the 15th. The object of St. Swithin's Day is a concerted prayer for rain, and if the prayer is answered it is supposed to rain daily for the next 40 days. Whether St. Swithin's has been observed in this country, it has already become a formidable rival of the Fourth. Indeed, it is said that they do not compare for enthusiasm, which is not surprising, for as a rule what we really need in this country in July is rain, and not liberty at all.

After the 23d of the month will be under the influence of Leo the Lion, the fifth sign of the zodiac, and a day or so later it will also come under the influence of Sirius the Dog which begins rising with the sun and dashes in the dog days. While Leo the Lion, Sirius the Dog and Teddy the Bear are settling it among themselves, Congress and pretty nearly everything else will adjourn to its hole and occupy itself with prayer and occasional peek but.

And then or thereabout the month of August will be due.

Of August will be due.

And the wicked get a warning taste

Of where they're going to.

Coleridge Blade: E. R. Gurney writes the Blade editor saying that he has no thought of beginning a political career and that while he deeply appreciates the kind words so freely given him by the press and cannot express his gratitude for the confidence so generously expressed, yet he is just now getting his own affairs to the place where he wants them and could not think of entering the race for congress. As Mr. Gurney is undoubtedly sincere in the statement of his position, those who had hoped for an opportunity to vote for him will be disappointed—and the woods are full of men, up this way, where he is best known, who swear by Ed. ## Try It on The Hills

Test this car at half speed on a hill or sand road where power and every ounce of it is needed. Notice how steadily and powerfully it pulls when running slowly under load. The capacity of the Rambler engine for doing this extra work is most noticeable at low engine speeds. This is because of the offset crank shaft.

Rambler

The Car with the Offset Crank Shaft

All that power which in other engines is lost through friction on the bearings and cylinder walls, is added to the driving force by the Rambler offset crank shaft. It reduces friction, eliminates hammer on bearings, gives more power. This straight-line drive delivers the power directly and with least friction loss to the rear axle. Let us demonstrate these features and the silence and comfort of this car. Let us call at your home, and take you to your place of business some morning in a Rambler.

How About Those Walks?

The season is nearly here for cement sidewalk building. This year I shall be better prepared than ever for this work, and will be pleased to get your orders early that the work may be done when desired. I have made some of the best walks, gutters and crossings ever put in Wayne. Call and see me at the Phil-Lumber office if you are going to have any cement work done. RAY PERDUE.

Someone wishing to rod their buildings with the W. C. Shinn Lightning rod, call on me or write me and I will do it right. I have the agency for the Wayne territory. I have handled this rod for 8 years and understand it perfectly. CHRIS LARSEN.
