Did You "Wire" This, Closson?

Special to The Sioux City Tribune.
Wayne, Neb., July 19.—Editor Richard Closson, of the Carroll Index, asks $10,000 damages from W. S. Goldie, of the Wayne Democrat, for alleged libel. In its issue of July 8, the Democrat published an article signed by "One Who Was There," pertaining to a "fuss" between Closson and a Wayne player at a ball game in Carroll. In this statement was made, according to Closson, that it injured him to the extent of the amount asked for.

Closson is an ex-professional ball player. He was a member of the Des Moines team in the Western League several years ago.

Shut 'Em Out Easy.

Wayne is finally coming into her own on baseball. In the game played last Tuesday afternoon Pilger scored nine big good eggs, while our locals run in eight tallies. The long work at the bat was done by Witter, Abern and Ringer, two runs being made in each of the last four innings. Subs and Skeen was battery for Wayne, Cooper and Prior for Pilger.

Death of Carl Pietz.

The death of Carl Pietz occurred last Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Peter Silvers, heart disease being ascribed the cause. Deceased was a few days less than 71 years of age. He was the father of Mrs. Carl Tomson, Mrs. Silvers, and Mrs. Henry Hardy of Bopetel, S. J. Three sons and a daughter died in Germany before the family came to the States. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Matzen, of the German Lutheran church south of Wayne, Tuesday afternoon, and were largely attended.

A Little Political Buzzing.

The DEMOCRAT is somewhat surprised itself to learn that Geo. L. Miner is after the republican nomination for sheriff of Wayne county, having filed his intentions last week. Mrs. Elsie Littlell has also filed the republican nomination for county superintendent, and Miss C. M. White for the democratic nomination. A. H. Bohlander of Winside is a candidate for county clerk on the republican ballot at the primaries, and Henry Bartells will be the democratic candidate for treasurer by petition. All this begins to make it look real interesting and what is lacking is a real democratic candidate for sheriff. A first-class man can hop in and take the grapes if he puts in a game fight, just what Bartells may do to Beebe in the race for county treasurer. In the matter of county superintendent of schools the DEMOCRAT has not much to say. Everybody knows Mr. Bright makes a mighty good school boss; fact is the job looks too small for the man. On the other hand Mrs. Littlell is most highly complimented upon her work thus far, and she has all the sympathy and well wishes of the DEMOCRAT and deserves the honor of the nomination two to one. If the little woman can beat Prof. Bright in the primaries she has a walkway for an election.

A DAYLIGHT FAIR

Gates at Woodland Park, Interstate Fair to be Closed at 6 O'Clock.

Acting on the belief that the crowds see between 8 o'clock in the morning and 6 o'clock in the evening, enough Fair for one day, the management of the Interstate Live Stock Fair, Sioux City, Iowa, has decided to condense all the entertainments to be given at the Fair Grounds into afternoon programs. This arrangement will keep thousands of visitors downtown, and, as a consequence the thoroughfares of the business district will swarm with carnival throngs. The Fair Association has engaged Liberati's Band to furnish evening concerts at the new auditorium. All the theatres of the city will provide special bills and there will be various other forms of amusement. The downtown streets will be brilliantly illuminated and the stores and office buildings will be decorated in holiday garb. There will be nightly "battles" between the confetti throwers.

Choice fresh cow and a calf for sale. Ralph Rundell.

The most enjoyable ride the DEMOCRAT man has ever taken in his life time was last Monday morning when we were invited to ride home from Crystal lake with Mayor and Mrs. Ley, LeRoy and Miss Anderson. Leaving the lake at half after seven, a delightful morning, circling around and over the hills and dales about Jackson, then to Allen, Wakefield and Wayne, makes it a most delightful auto trip. Had no stops been made enroute to visit, the car would easily have beaten the morning passenger to Wayne, as Wakefield was reached ahead of the cars and nearly a half hour was wasted near Jackson. LeRoy Ley is certainly a "cocker" to run a car; just as careful and conservative over a bad piece of road, and yet making it sing along where the roadway warrants it; making most of the hills on a high gear. To one not much accustomed to autoing a morning trip to Sioux City or return is simply grand and an eye-opener as to the possibilities and pleasure of auto-mobiling.

LOST—White laprobe between my farm and Fred Wroble's. Finder please leave at Democrat office and oblige. WM. FEHRS.

F. L. Neely and wife were in Sioux City Sunday and saw the double-header ball games.

Greedy property owners at Sioux City kept filling Perry Creek up until it had to run over. That's all there is to it. Present indications are that we can make ends meet on our coal bills. At least there will not be a very long time between.

A Dispatch from Bloomington states that farm hands in central Illinois this summer are drawing in some instances as high as $3 a day and board. If true this marks the highest point ever reached by farm labor in the west. And still there are a lot of big healthy looking ludders going around the country begging for something to eat and some people give them sympathy along with the eatables.

Roosevelt has been forced to drink water out of a dirty pool. Possibly some of the innocent animals he has been slaughtering have at times been forced to do the same thing.

Look out for a frost before the month of July gets through.

The weather now would be pretty good if we hadn't had what we have had.

Winside Tribune: We suggest that the hat be passed around and with the proceeds hire someone to run against Grant Means.

Whothell wants a cheap little office like sheriff of Wayne county at $1200 per year? Most any retired farmer can beat that by several hundred a year. If you don't believe it just go out and hire one to do one day's work in three.

We warn the good people of the town and community not to be misled by the high sounding names. The members of the newly organized club up the street headed by the Hon. Frick Nitz will talk eloquently about people's rights and tell you that "P. L." stands for personal liberty, when as a matter of fact so far as their intents and purposes in this organization are concerned, "P. L." stands for "Plenty of Liquor." We therefore suggest that they call things by their right name and call it the "Plenty of Liquor Club."

Fender Republic.

Well, at all events it at least stands for "prohibition limitations."

An old German was telling a neighbor how to run a motor car. He said: "Grab der veel vich in front of you firmly with both hands and put one foot on der accelerator. Now put der udder on der repeat and let der elbow chently touch der decenterizer. Keep der blow pipe connecting mit der automatic gro vistle closely between der teeth and let der right elbow be in touch mit der quadruple while der appex der left knee vas pressing against der spark coil. Keep both eyes on der road in front der vagon. Start der driving veels, repeat slowly der name of your favorite coroner and leave der rest to fate."

"The corn crop also is in conference," says the Sioux City Journal. How can it be when it has not yet ears to hear? But perhaps the Journal has been hearing the corn stalk.

We don't know whether "dry farming" is a success or not, but we do know that wet farming will not be a success in some parts of the country this year.

Tennis Base Ball The Chautauqua Ten Thousand Dollars.

Archbishop Ryan, visiting a small parish in a mining district for the purpose of administering confirmation, asked one nervous little girl what matrimony was and she answered that it was a state of terrible torment which those who enter are compelled to undergo for a time to prepare them for a brighter and better world.

"No, no," remonstrated the priest, "that isn't matrimony; that's the definition of purgatory."

"Let her alone," said the Archbishop, "maybe's right. What do you know about it?"

Sheriff Means and I settled up that ten thousand dollar damage suit the other day. Grant said he would throw off half for immediate settlement, and I just as promptly threw off the other half, so the account is now squared.

Here is the trouble—if you cultivate the habit of fault-finding, of distrust and cynicism, of dissatisfaction with your surroundings, it will finally become second nature to you and you will be poor company for yourself and a nightmare to those who might otherwise profit by associating with you. The world would never progress much if approval were given to everything that is done, whether right or wrong, but the practice of continually hunting for evil and ignoring that which is entitled to commendation is worse than to overlook in toto the blunders of men and insist that whatever is right.

Told Herman Mildner the other day that we were now in his class—on damage suits. "You'll get used to that," replied the man who owes less than a million of such debts. "At first they worried me a whole lot; couldn't sleep and was nervous about them, but now they don't cut a bit of figure with me; not a d—d bit of it."

For heaven's sake smile now and then, Don't be a grouch; Show favor to your fellow men, Don't be a grouch. Think of the thousands just as true, As honest and as fair as you— You have no cause for feeling blue, Don't be a grouch. No profit comes to those who fret, Don't be a grouch; The Lord rules over Israel yet, Don't be a grouch. Give to your friends a word of cheer, A smile, a sympathetic tear, And when inclined to knock, see here, Don't be a grouch. Though some are not of earth the salt, Don't be a grouch; No profit comes from finding fault, Don't be a grouch. If prone to slander and abuse, You are the one that stands to lose; If asked to join that crowd, refuse, Don't be a grouch. This is a beautiful world below— Don't be a grouch; Not perfect, but to make it so, Don't be a grouch. We lose by cultivating spite, By frowning much and showing fight; An easy way to set things right— Don't be a grouch. —Bixby.

See if the democrats in their next state platform do not take the credit for getting out of debt. These fellows have more nerve than any fellow.—State Journal.

Well, we'll have to hurry to skin you republicans on your "prosperity" and full dinner pail" racket. "Revision of the tariff downwards" and a party that is as badly split up as an Illinois rail fence.

Ted Perry and John Lempe of Pender had a "one-horse" law suit in Judge Britton's court on Tuesday. Mr. Perry sued Mr. Lempe for a foal bill that the latter claimed he didn't owe. It appears the mare was bred and then Lempe sold her to Shinstock of Wisner, and later claimed the animal was not in foal. As the terms of service called for the fee at once in case mare was sold, the judge found for the plaintiff, about two horses and a mule on Lempe.

We have heard of the "steam roller," but it is the press roller that rides over a printer these hot, good old summer days.

By dad, the automobile is the kind of a horse to drive. A fifty mile, happy, go-lucky ride in one, over hill and hollow, ditch and dung-hill, is the best blood-circulator yet tried. We presume Editor Closson of the Carroll Index is the only country editor who will ever be able to afford one—when he gets that ten thousand plunks out of the DEMOCRAT. But we'll all be in—hell or glory by that time.

Little Katherine was learning to swim at Crystal Lake and after several hard, earnest trials explained: "Oh mamma, this water is too tippy."

Bixby says: "Goslow on ice water."

Bixby is talking to his own kind of people, prohibitionists.

Somebody asks: "Do you remember the hot winds of 1894?" Yes, and we remember something else about 1894. Those were lively days if we did have hot winds and no crops.

A rat, two switches and a pomp, A big pad and two lesser; Half of my wife sleeps in the bed, And one half on the dresser. —Cherokee Democrat.

If half of my wife slept on the bed, And other half on the dresser, Which then would be my better half, If one wished to caress her?

The way hogs are going up they will beat us to the air ships. An Indiana woman has just married her tenth husband. They must have all been Missourians, by-dad.

The cheap, anti-saloon excise, board of Lincoln are certainly cutting a hot prohibition caper. If a resident of Lincoln happens to have more liquor in his cellar than looks right to the cheap skate of a prohibitionist, then the resident is hauled into court to give an account of himself. There is only one adequate cure for the disease: plenty of tar and feathers and an investigation of the private life and moral record of the prosecutors. If the latter plan is followed it makes an awful stink, as a rule, and there is no red liquor to disinfect the premises.

Norfolk Press: A Norfolk bride of three months, who has theatrical and other wild notions, spent a night in the city lockup last week and all because a naughty policeman objected to her having a mate guardian who was out of town. The husband paid her fine and forgave her and will give her a chance to reform. He would be justified in horse-whipping her and killing the affinity. But it is better so. Let us hope that she will appreciate his position and bring no more disgrace upon him.

Norfolk affinites should pattern after Wayne's anti-stork parties and take the cemetery for it. This is "on the dead."

Atchison Globe: No man is really free from sin, but so many lesser evils are tolerated that a man should hesitate long before becoming a dead beat. Criminals are despised and abhorred, but to the dead beat all that is coming, as well as the contempt of his fellow men. There is something at once so mean, and so little in taking advantage of the confidence which comes with friendship, that the band of every man is turned against a dead beat, as soon as his reputation is well established. The dead beat may fondly imagine that he is living easy, and making money without work, and of course he takes no account of the confidence he violates, and the hardships he inflicts on others. But, that aside, he really has a harder time than the man who is honest and fair. He is compelled to move a good deal, and peace of mind he knows not. Like other crooks, he does not prosper, and his finish is more unpleasant than the beginning.

Manson Democrat: It is refreshing to note that the Panora Patriot man has raised his voice against what he terms the "tipping evil." He would be closer to the mark if he would call it the "tipping outrage" or the "tipping hold-up." But what is he going to do about it? If he does not tip the waiters and porters, what kind of service is he going to get? Has he the nerve to sit in a dining car or a cafe with a score or more of people around him, and stand for the looks, sneers and roasts of the nigger waiters? If he has he has more nerve than the average man. We have felt like simply wiping up the earth with their rotten, monkey-shaped carcasses and smashing their ape-like features into some resemblance of a white man's, but what would have been the use? Nine-tenths of the people in the vicinity of the mallee would have sympathized with the poor, down-trodden nigger and roared us for being a cheap skate. We would rather lose a dollar any day than tip a waiter ten cents, but we simply have to do as others do or take the worst of it in every way. There is one good feature about tipping, however, and that is if you give a nigger a liberal tip you can have the pleasure of abusing him like a dog and see him bow and scrape and almost turn somersaults to do your bidding.

That may be the trouble here in Wayne, but it isn't likely the telephone's month piece.

It is given out by Mayor Jim of Omaha that if any attempt is made to cram a county option plank into the democratic state platform, Douglas county will be on hand to prevent it if it takes from next Tuesday until Christmas to do it. Mayor Jim will take the part of Horatius at the bridge to protect the breweries of his city and all his city's gods. If the other fellows are willing to say nothing about the temperance issue this year, Dahlman will be glad to let it go that way, but if they want to make a declaration he intends seeing that it suits Douglas county.

Congressman Hitchcock's paper proposes Judge Sullivan for the supreme bench and immediately the politicians figure out that Hitchcock wants Sullivan off of the senatorial track. That is the World-Herald's penalty for having an office-seeking owner. The paper may speak honestly for the state's good, but no politician can believe it speaks for anything but Mr. Hitchcock's interests.

This week's touch of dry wind seems almost welcome to Nebraska. It means the garnering of the second alfalfa crop, as well as the oats and the balance of the wheat, in prime condition. The corn is now at a stage where winds can dry its roots very little. Winds may bend the tops of the stalks that now make up the jungles called corn fields, but the air for two or three feet next the surface is as calm as the waters in ocean caves. If anybody doesn't believe this let him try taking an afternoon nap in the midst of a forest of corn-stalks.

It puzzles visitors to the suburb of College View to see the people building up so attractive a town when they are all so certain that the "second coming" is to be in 1914, or thereabouts, and that the world will end about that date.

"They are going to a lot of trouble out here if things are to end so soon," said a man on a car the other evening.

"You don't get the idea," responded his seat neighbor, "when the world comes to an end only the wicked will perish. The righteous will live and enjoy the nice homes they are erecting, with so much pains in the present life."—State Journal.

Responsibilities gravitate to the person who can shoulder them, and power flows to the man who knows how. —ELBERT HUBBARD.

Wahlen's Opening Next Saturday at 2:00 p. m.

$23,000 paid to Henny, the spectacular California prosecutor, last year for no services rendered the government, makes him look like the prince of gratters to we common dubs who cannot earn that much in a life time at hard labor.

FOR SALE—Good 80-acre, improved farm, four miles west of Winside, only $80 per acre. A bargain in a small farm. For particulars call on DEMOCRAT.

Mrs. Howard Gould says she will raise onions and potatoes on her Virginia farm. Anything to make a stink, Katherine. Keep it up.

Bixby in State Journal: Because W. J. Bryan signed the total abstinence pledge, Leslie's Weekly takes it for granted that he has become a prohibitionist, and is moving to become the first choice for president of the army at odds with the legalized liquor traffic. The judgment of the New York paper is unsound. Mr. Bryan is nothing if not a democrat, and he is not a democrat, and the mark recorded in the book of brands. With him total abstinence is no experiment. All his life he has abstained from the use of stimulants as a beverage, not from a sense of obligation because of a pledge to pursue that course, but for the reason that he believed it better for a man to abstain from stimulants and narcotics, particularly if he would develop his physical and mental powers to their highest capacity. In this he reasoned correctly, and when asked to sign the pledge, it was not hardship for him to comply with the wishes of those who made the request. And the act was without political significance. He is just as much of a democrat as he ever was, though there be members of his party who view the signing of a total abstinence pledge with a horror that can not be portrayed in type-written words. The news of it gave Sir William Kennedy the impression that Mr. Bryan had it in for Omaha, and Fred Metz didn't like it at all. Some of the democrats had fits, and while others simply had the blues; The countenance of old Nick Fritz Grew ghastly when he read the news. "I like dot conduct, aber mt," "Vy dit he sign already yet Der pledges yes? it makes me sick." Is it lady wonder that Harry Thaw is "crazy by spells," after hearing Evelyn's numerous hot air stories? Bixby says to "remember that a wet towel about your neck will promote sleep." Yep! and if the ends of the towel are properly twisted you'll never wake up—in Lincoln a wet towel about your head, would come nearer the mark in the capital city these days of prohibition. Now let the hot sun gayly boil— Why should we feel forlorn?— It heats the air, it warms the soil And that's what makes the corn. —Bixby.

Of course we'll let her gaily boil Our "corn," our feet, our heads; But when the sun has gone to rest, Why does it "boil" our beds? "I can hear most anybody over the telephone," said a Madison man yesterday morning, "but central, and she talks too close to the mouth piece."—Madison Post.

A Plea For the Birds. When it was found that locusts were eaten by nearly every bird in the region, and that they formed almost the entire food of a large majority of the species. Within certain limits birds feed upon the kind of food that is accessible. Thus, as a rule, insectivorous birds eat the insects that are most easily obtained, provided they do not have some peculiarly disagreeable property. It is not probable that a bird habitually passes by one kind of insect to look for another which is more appetizing; and there seems little evidence in support of the theory that the selection of food is restricted to any particular species of insect, for it is evident that a bird eats those which by its own method of seeking are most easily obtained. Thus, a ground feeding bird eats the insects it finds among the dead leaves and grass; a flycatcher, watching for its prey from some vantage point, captures entirely different kinds; and the woodpecker, and the warbler in the tree top select still others. It is thus apparent that a bird's diet is likely to be quite varied, and to differ at different seasons of the year.

In investigating the food habits of birds, field observation can be relied on to a limited extent only, for it is not always easy by watching to determine what a bird really eats. In order to be positive on this point it is necessary to examine the contents of the stomach, when birds are suspected of dining in the western states; jury to field crops or fruit trees a few individuals should be shot and their stomachs examined. This will show unmistakably whether or not the birds are guilty. Serious complaints have been made against crows, black-birds and rice birds on account of the damage they do to corn, wheat, rice and other crops; also against cuckoos, grosbeaks and thrashers, which are generally admitted to be beneficial, but whose true value as insect destroyers has never been fully appreciated. The practical value of birds in controlling insects pests should be more generally recognized. It may be an easy matter to exterminate the birds in an orchard or grain field, but it is extremely difficult to control the insect pests. It is certain, too, that the value of our native sparrows as weed destroyers is not appreciated. Weed seeds form an important item of the winter diet of many of these birds, and it is impossible to estimate the immense number of noxious weeds which are thus annually destroyed.

If birds are protected and encouraged to nest about the farm and garden, they will do their share in destroying noxious insects and weeds. A few hours spent in putting up boxes for blue birds, martins, and wrens will prove a good investment. In this state birds are protected by law. It remains for the agriculturists to see that the laws are observed.

Dr. Geo. J. Hess, First National Bank Phone 369. Country calls answered promptly.

Everybody has their best bit and better on today. It is a record-breaker in Wayne's history.

Don Martin and Johnny Dobbins were visitors from Carroll this morning. The latter took home a big basket of cherries and Dan, he had a package under his arm that looked good to us. Can she make a cherry pie, Johnny?

By Nieman is visiting old friends in the city. Doc has got to looking like a "kill" since he left Wayne; about forty years younger.

Mrs. Margaret Carroll gave a splendid entertainment at the college last evening that was attended by a large number of Wayne people. As an eloquent Miss Carroll is most supremely in a class of her own and better far than the ordinary chautauqua entertainer.

Mr. Rosscorne home from Sioux City this morning and reports his daughter as having gone through a very critical double operation. The patient is very low today but there is hope of her recovery. Owing to her being suffering by surgical means had through with the operation before Mr. and Mrs. Rose arrived there yesterday.

The Royal Neighbors will hold a food exchange for the next three Saturday afternoons. It will be conducted by Mrs. Schroer and Mrs. McNeal next Saturday afternoon, July 24, at 2:30, at Barrett & Dally's hardware store. Different articles of food will be on sale.

Markets today are wheat $1.18, corn 88, oats 34c, flax $1.38.

A few bushels of good ear corn for sale. Call at this office.

C. Ecker, one of the pioneer newspaper men of the state, was an east-bound passenger this morning. Speaking about that "$10,000" J. C. said it was the thinnest, most ridiculous proceeding he had ever heard of in all his experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Richardson of Battle Creek, are in the city to attend the chautauqua.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dobbins came down from Hoskins this morning to hear the governor.

One of the social events of the season was the 6 o'clock porch dinner given at the Matheny home by the ladies of the Minerva Club Thursday, the event being in honor of Mrs. J. D. King and Mrs. Frazer, charter members of the club. The spacious porch was beautifully decorated with flowers, ferns, and the club colors, lavender and green; the tables tastefully arranged and decorated, and the elaborate dinner served by the Misses Mattie Shultzeis, Zoe, and Mary Melior. After the dinner the hostess treated the entire party to an auto ride. Covers were laid for Messrs and Mesdames J. D. King, B. Brown, C. A. Grothe, Lambert Roe, Forcher, Dr. and Mrs. Lutgen, L. M. Owen, Prof. and Mrs. Puffer, Miner, A. N. Matheny, Chas. Shultzeis, Burlington, Mrs. Kohl and Mrs. Frazer.

Mrs. Lily Gildersleeve went to Fullerton yesterday to spend a couple of weeks with her parents.

Miss Taylor from Omaha, Iowa, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Jas. Leahy.

FIFTY MEN WANTED—At Wayne, Neb., for sewer work $2.25 per day, or by the yard. Pay every Saturday. W. D. Youso, Foreman.

Yellow and green, we presume means a green-horn with a yellow streak in him. Well, there is nothing "yellow" about the Wayne Commercial club, and there is nothing "green" about Wayne people. If this "Governor's Day" reception isn't about as near right as such events ever succeed in being, then we are bankrupt on that proposition.

What's the matter with Shallenberger for president in 1912?

Jas. Britton has a lead pipe sinche on the county judge's office. Jim can now figure that he has a life's lease on the job. When he quits we'll all be looking to a Higher Tribunal for what's coming to us.

The Misses Richardson and brother Elmer came home the latter part of the week from Gregory, S. D., where they have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Paul Killian.

Mrs. Clark of O'Neill, was in the city the last of the week calling on her friends while in the city, being the guest of Mrs. P. Dixon and Mrs. P. Pryor. Mrs. Clark was a resident of Wayne several years ago.

Mrs. J. H. Bruggier and little daughter visited her parents the first of the week.

Mr. Shannon arrived home from Sioux City Friday evening where he visited his son.

Mrs. Stanton of Carroll was the guest of Mrs. Pryor Saturday.

Wahlen's Opening Next Saturday at 2:00 p. m.

Mr. Neely of the American Insurance company was in Wayne yesterday on business connected with the recent fire in the Democrat office. The State Insurance Co. of Omaha kicked on the pro-rate of the loss between the American and itself and has held the matter up sixty days. From a personal experience the State Insurance company of Omaha is "one grand bluff" as viewed by this office. After the loss here was adjusted by their adjuster they took every opportunity to bulldoze and escape paying for the damage sustained while the American sent in the coin by first mail on a report of the loss by the States adjuster. The Democrat hereby recalls any bouquets we have handed the State. A week ago the company claimed, in the World-Herald, to have paid every loss adjusted, but while this loss on the Democrat building was sustained May 10th, the loss has not yet been paid, proving the company, one grand, damned liar.

Wahlen's Opening Next Saturday at 2:00 p. m.

Good for Nebraska.

The legislature of Nebraska believes that the educational interests of the state should be kept clean. It has voted not to allow the professors of the state university to accept the crumbs that fall from the table of divs; no Carnegie pensions will be accepted for the faculty of the university. Their objection to the proffered aid was that the institution which is justly the pride of the state should not be dependent on outside help, especially not on plutocratic help.

Corn Exposition announces for this year, and a long list of prizes will be offered for sewing and work in home-decoration. The woman's department this year will be known as the Domestic Science and Art Department.

To direct this important and interesting department, Miss Jessica Besack has again been selected by the exposition management and Miss Besack has many plans for the young women. Though she is now "going to school" herself at Columbia University, New York City, Miss Besack announces that she has made the same arrangements as last year to care for "her girls." When they come to Omaha in December to take the short course, and attend the exposition they will be provided free of charge with high class dormitory accommodations where they can live for two weeks just the way as at the best girls boarding school in the country. These dormitories, under the care of the churches of Omaha, are so selected that young women take the car at the exposition grounds and get off at their temporary home without change. Miss Besack maintains an office in Omaha and her assistants at working out the plans while she is working in the laboratories and art department at Columbia.

Col. S. R. Burch of the Department of Agriculture, who has charge of the government exhibit at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in Seattle, has been spending a few days in Omaha arranging to bring the exhibit from the various bureaus of the department, to the National Corn Exposition in December. The exhibit is making a decided hit at Seattle and Nebraskans feel thankful that the display may be seen within the borders of their own state by the thousands of visitors who attend the corn show.

Resolutions.

Whereas, the death messenger has once more invaded our camp, and has taken therefrom our worthy and esteemed neighbor and efficient camp clerk E. Hunter, therefore be it

Resolved, first, that we the neighbors of Logan Valley Camp No. 1076, have in the death of neighbor E. Hunter lost a worthy and efficient neighbor; and that we will miss his help and council.

Resolved, second, that we recognize and hereby give expression of our appreciation of the faithful service rendered to this camp by him, as its efficient clerk for years; and always looking well to the best interest of our camp.

Resolved, third, that we herewith express our deep sympathy to the bereaved family; and pray our Heavenly Father to comfort them in this their deep sorrow.

Resolved, fourth, that a copy of these resolutions be recorded in the minutes of our camp; and a copy be sent to the bereft family; and also published in the Wayne papers.

GENERAL INTEREST

As usual we have had several examples of the teacher who failed to keep things "up" during the last of the term simply because he or she did not intend to teach in Wayne county again. They drew their pay to the last hour of the last day, but their work was slighted whenever and wherever possible. We get a little satisfaction, however, when the county superintendent of some other county writes us for our private opinion of such people. You may be sure he gets it.

When a person who lacks all the qualifications of a teacher, mental, moral and physical, and yet wants to be allowed to teach because he needs the money, we are compelled to refuse such charity. It seems to us a charity that would not be repaid in heaven.

Tennis Tournament.

"The best and closest games ever played in Northeast Nebraska," is the report on the tennis tournament held in Wayne Tuesday and Wednesday. The contests were pulled off on the Gamble court and attracted no small attention. Wayne came close to winning the final doubles, making a tie with Allen on two games and the fifth going to Allen by a very close margin. The next session will be held at Wakefield or Wayne.

Following are the winners:
Champion Singles—Chas. Mathewson of Walthill. Runner up, Albert Haskell, Wakefield.

Consolation Singles—Jas. Miller, Runner up, Dr. Eby, Hartington.

Consolation Champion Doubles—Rev. Drullinger and Mr. Shackelford, Allen. Runner up, Rev. Osborne, Jas. Miller.

Consolation Doubles—Beebe and Gamble Runner up, Haskell and Powell, Wakefield.

Best game of singles was between Miller and Mathewson, deciding set 13-11.

Democrat County Convention.

There will be a mass convention of the democratic voters of Wayne county, held at the court house in Wayne Saturday, July 24th, 3:00 p. m., for the purpose of selecting a delegation to the state convention and a county Central Committee.

CONVENTIONS ARE RESTORED UNDER THE NEW PRIMARY

State Committee Calls Convention to Make Platform Before the Nominations.

Lincoln, Neb., July 15.—The calls issued by the republican and democratic state committees for conventions the latter part of the month is an indication of the direct primary that is intended to restore a function of party government that was partly destroyed by the first primary law. Under that law the county committee elected each county delegate to the state convention and the latter made the platform. All of this was done after the candidates had been nominated by the Under the new law the state committee takes the initiative, call a convention made up of delegates selected in any way the county committees may decide upon, chooses a state committee, and formulates a state platform. The primary will be held and candidates can tell whether they want to run on the kind of a platform and whether they want to be nominated. Under the new law there is no limit.

SHEPHERD DOG IS ARDENT FIRE FIGHTER
Callaway, Neb., July 14.—As a present from the Loop Valley sheep, a dog named "Archer" was presented to the Callaway fire department, as a "masot." The animal runs to meet the companies as soon as they appear, and barks and bays and enjoys getting in line with the hose and taking a bath. At the celebration July 3, a water fight was pulled off between the dog and a fireman. The dog was on the ground running from one fireman to another and offering encouragement to each individual. A non-fireman, who was in the purchase of the animal which was at once turned over to the fire department. The dog will be fitted out with a suitable collar and city authorities will be guarded with special care.

STATE BOARD RESTRICTS BONDING COMPANIES
Lincoln, Neb., July 15.—The bonding companies are engaged in a deadlock with the state board, which has legislative authority to regulate the industry. The board has decided that a 25 per cent rate is ample. The companies say that 50 cents is about right. The board reports that the bonding companies are not doing as well as when there was no combination of companies, and the companies say that while that was true the business didn't pay and so they raised it.

WIFE MURDERER REFUSES PARDON
Lincoln, Neb., July 15.—Pardoning him in his way going to get convict Jake Frahm out of the state penitentiary, "Dutch Jake" was sent up from Deuel county 15 years ago for murdering his wife. He made a moral prisoner, and several times the other men have suggested that they would help him get a pardon, he informed them that he was well satisfied with his job and that he would not accept a pardon. Governor Shaltonberger thought this a little odd, and on the fourth of July included Jake as one of the two long term men who are entitled to pardon. The officials have reached a compromise. Jake has agreed to take the pardon and Warden Smith has agreed to pardon him. Jake will be put in charge of the trustees who are used to work in the new box. Some apprehension is felt by state house people that the pardon will be granted to Jake after it is granted to prisoners so rewarded by being set on guard over their state companions they will be a big delivery some day.

WOMAN HELD ON ACCUSATION OF STEALING BIBLE

Wealthy Farmer Accuses His Daughter and Divorced Husband of Taking Book
Hastings, Neb., July 15.—Mrs. Sarah Merkle, of Hanover township, has been bound over to the district court for trial on the charge of stealing a bible from the home of her father, Claus Lay, a wealthy farmer. The bible was taken from Mr. Lay's home on the night of June 24, and on the following day an employed an attorney to file complaint, charging burglary, against his daughter and her divorced husband, John Merkle. The police arrested the couple several days in the county court and at the conclusion of arguments Judge Burton announced that while no case had been made against the divorcee, she was held on the charge of stealing the bible. Judgment was reserved until today, in order to give her time to find surety for her bond, which will be fixed at $500.

MAN RESUMES USE OF CHILDHOOD NAME
Lincoln, Neb., July 15.—Twenty years ago Harry W. Stone was a paving contractor in Lincoln. When the bid was made in Colorado, while here he made a host of friends, and yesterday many of those were the recipients of a most interesting letter. The letter was signed by A. L. Ingram. In it the writer said that years ago, when a farmer boy, he ran away from home. Not wanting his father to follow him, he changed his name to Harry W. Stone, and by that was known until recently, in Denver, he had his name changed by legal decree, to Harry W. Stone, which was his true name, Ingram, which was his true name, the one which he bore as a child.

He said that the city is in violation of its power when it jurisdiction in civil and criminal cases in Chicago was taken from them by the state law establishing municipal courts. Many justices of the peace have officiated in Chicago and county.

WOMAN STEALS $3,000 WORTH OF "GLAD" CLOTHES

Goes to Prison for Purloining Dresses Which Were Later Given Away.
Lincoln, Neb., July 14.—Apparently unable to realize that she had done anything wrong and without any fear of the consequences, Mrs. Madeline Green, who lifted $3,000 worth of goods from Miller & Palmo, where she was employed as a head fitter in the suit department, pleaded guilty to grand larceny. One dress made by her employer, Senator Miller, the court made the sentence last, a year in prison. Within 48 hours after being arrested, she was in the state penitentiary. She nonchalantly bade her relatives good-bye, while they all wept. She had worn but two of three of the many articles of apparel she purloined. She had given away to relatives about $400 worth, and kept the remainder of it in her rooms and closets, where she could go and look at it and gloat over pieces of clothing.

Mrs. Aldrich was ordered to pay $10 a week for the support of the child. Mrs. Aldrich asked nothing for her own support. The divorce was granted by a motion in the nature of a cross petition in her husband's suit against her for divorce on the ground of desertion. Mr. Aldrich's petition was dismissed by Judge Ketchum in the district court. The case was not contested.

PEACH BASKET THAT IS FATAL
New York, July 14.—"If you put that peach basket that on the roof of that house," said John Clark to his cousin, Mrs. Mary Foreman, after she returned from a shopping expedition in a grocery store. The man took the hint, thinking the revolver in Clark's hand was unloaded. Picking the hat on his head, he shot the woman. Clark leveled the gun and pulled the trigger. There was a report and Mrs. Foreman fell to the floor. Clark was probably fatal. Clark was arrested and charged with the murder of Mrs. Foreman.

PARROT GIVES FIRE ALARM; SAVES HOUSE
South Norwalk, Conn., July 14.—A parrot owned by Manuel T. Hatch not only discovered a fire and sounded an alarm, but later offered consolation to the people of the house. The fire broke out in the parrot's room. The parrot, named "Polly," screamed the alarm. It was a favorite expression of the bird, but it was given with such frantic appeal that Mrs. Hatch rushed out on the fire. The fire was extinguished. Polly, as he stood on one foot and with the other pointed to the roof of the house of George A. Whipple, next door.

FIND BODY OF HUNT; A DOUBLE DROWNING
Sturgis, Mich., July 17.—The body of a man was recovered from the bottom of Klinger lake about 100 feet from the spot where the body of Miss Mary Loretta Davey, of Chicago, was recovered. The young farmer's body was recovered with a dragnet. While the recovery of Hunt's body conclusively shows that the tragedy was a double drowning, and excludes the possibility of a double disappearance, the cause of the drowning doubtless never will be fully explained, as nothing was seen of the couple from the time they entered the row boat. Miss Davey's body was found floating in the lake.

J. HILL IS OPTIMISTIC
Washington, July 17.—"As soon as the tariff bill is passed, the Hill railroad magnate, who yesterday was one of President Taft's callers, 'this country will enjoy a prosperity which will at least equal that of the McKinley administration. Last month I traveled extensively through the West and I never saw such activity among the farmers. Everywhere I made inquiries and learned and saw that the crops were abundant and that the farmers were satisfied. Signs of financial depression of 1907 are fast fading."

PRESIDENT DECLARES HE WILL INSIST ON REVISION DOWNWARD

President Announces He Proposes to Carry Out Party's Promises.

Washington, July 20.—President Taft's emphatic declaration yesterday that he regarded the republican platform as a means, and the sentiment of the whole people as demanding "revision downward," collapsed in interest all who expected the president to stand stonily in all circles here today.

The statement issued late in the day after a delegation of congressmen had argued to the president for the maintenance of protection upon raw materials, particularly iron ore, wool, hides and lumber, purported to be an official report of the discussion which took place during the president's reception and especially of what the president said to the visitors. But the fact that such a statement was issued at all is regarded as a confirmation of the president's intention to stand stonily in all circles here today.

The president's statement followed the announcement of the republican platform, and it was regarded as a confirmation of the president's intention to stand stonily in all circles here today.

"DEMS" LICK THE G. O. P. AT BASEBALL 26-16

Uncle Joe's Rules Powerless to Stop Onslaught—Full of Star (?) Plays.

"FAN" TAFT PASSES IT UP

Representative Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, failed to live up to his advantage. He presented a nifty appearance in his golf trousers, but his other acquaintances with the ball bases, got a base on balls once, and then in the last half of the seventh showed a flash of rare speed when he beat out a hit. The official ball game, however, was a rout. The ball was a couple of feet tips and several long runs after two batters slammed out by the democracy. The official score looked like a game of a house tariff bill coming out of the Senate committee on finance to be presented in full. The republicans stuck to their original lineup throughout the game, but the democrats tore themselves out making 26 runs in the second and after that substitutes were called on till increasing frequency and the losing order was shifted every inning.

The nearest fielder's scorers could come to the base hits and errors was 26-16. The democrats were credited with 20 hits and nine errors. The republicans were credited with 10 hits and one error. The Norfolk News of Saturday contained the following item: While driving in their buggy near Hoskins last evening, the 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. Carl Mittelstadt of Hoskins leaned out to pick a sunflower, and while holding on to one was dragged under the wheels of the buggy, which passed over the child's head and cut a bad wound above the eye. Dr. Holden, who attended the victim, says twelve stitches were necessary to close the wound. Mrs. Mittelstadt and her three children were in the buggy. After the girl was run over the horse took fright and started to run away. Mrs. Mittelstadt jumped out and escaped injury, but one 3-year-old boy was thrown from the buggy and was injured about the face. The other 5-year-old boy jumped out from behind while the horse was running away and also escaped injury.

Order of Hearing on Probate of Foreign Will.

STATE OF NEBRASKA, ss
Wayne County,

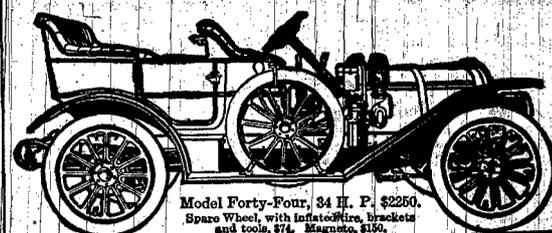

At a County Court, held at the County Court Room in and for said County of Wayne on the Seventh day of July, A. D. 1909.

Present, James Britton, County Judge. In the matter of the estate of Morris Wadsworth, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of T. J. Hysam, praying that the instrument purporting to be a duly authenticated copy of the last will and testament of said deceased, and of the petition of the county of Montgomery, state of Iowa, and this day filed in this court, may be allowed, filed, probated and recorded as the last Will and Testament of said deceased in and for the state of Nebraska; and that letters of administration with will annexed be issued to Oliver P. Worley, as requested in said will.

Ordered, that July 28th, A. D. 1909, at 2 o'clock p. m., is assigned for hearing said petition, when all persons interested in said matter may appear at a county court to be held in and for said county, and show cause why the prayer of petitioner should not be granted; and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof, be given to all persons interested in said matter, by publishing a copy of this order in the Nebraska Democrat, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, for three successive weeks prior to the said day of hearing.

JAMES BRITTON, County Judge.
