The Great Western Cream Separator
Guarantees the Highest Type of Up-To-Date Construction

When you buy a cream separator you should demand an "up-to-date" machine. Don't buy a machine that was "in style" ten years ago—a high tank, exposed gears—plain bearings set in holes cut in cast iron frame are all evidences of a back number.

The Great Western is made throughout with the absolute accuracy of a high grade watch. Skims closest (hot, cold or stale milk) because it follows every law of nature. Equipped fully with imported ball bearings—guaranteeing the lightest running separator in the world. High crank, so the operator doesn't have to break his back. Self flushing, self-draining bowl—gears enclosed, which work automatically in a bath of oil. Low down tank—low down and compact frame.

The Great Western carries the strongest guarantee ever issued—it protects you for five full years.

We furthermore guarantee satisfaction to you—any kind of a trial, without one cent of expense to you, or obligation either.

CARROLL CAUGHT THE CROWD

Biggest Base Ball Excitement of the Whole Season.

WAYNE CAPTURES THE "PENNANT"

Talk about your live baseball burgo or bugs, Wayne isn't in it at all with her smaller sister cities up the branch. A month or so ago Randolph pulled off a baseball tournament that left a profit of over $800, and this week Carroll did even better taking the size of the town into consideration. The difference between Wayne and these places is simply that we are afraid to gamble any on the proposition. No expenditures are made for fear there will be no corresponding receipts. Carroll had an amphitheatre that comfortably seated 600 people and it was full of fans Friday last at two bits per. The attendance must have been over a thousand. The grounds were in excellent condition for ball players and visitors were allowed to have a good time and bet their money on the games if they wished to do so without hindrance from some over-pious ball manager. The people enjoy baseball and are willing to pay to see the games, but demand some accommodation. Wayne should wake up and have a decent ball ground and a grandstand that will seat not less than a thousand people, next year if not this.

The games at Carroll were Thursday, Carroll vs. Randolph and Wayne vs. Laurel. Carroll won easily from Randolph, having Dal. Alderman of the Sioux City league team in the box. Wayne and Laurel had a close game, being tied in the 9th and 3. In the 10th inning Wayne scored three runs ending an exciting game. Saturday Laurel played an even and good game up to the 6th inning when Laurel went to pieces, the catcher for the team had his wrist badly spiked by a Randolph player stealing to home plate. At 5 to 13 when Laurel went to bat in the 9th they got in a rally of five scores, proving that it was anybody's game until finished.

The big contest between Carroll and Wayne opened with music by the band and lots of excitement and much currency in the stakeholders' hands. Bruggeman, an ex-leaguer of Omaha was on the mound for Wayne and Hozt of Sioux City, the chap who played for Wayne last summer against the Indians, for Carroll. It was far from a pitchers' battle, however as the game ended 7 to 13 in favor of the Wayne team.

Must Have Been From Carroll.

Sioux City: This is the story of a man who had a $1,000 bill and a sense of near-humor.

The owner of the currency was a stock trader, according to the men who witnessed him as he played his little joke and lost, but his name was unknown to the principals in the aftermath of near-tragedy when he flashed his roll in the saloon.

The trader had received a large sum of money for cattle and, wishing to transfer his "wad" from one bank to another, he called for a $1,000 gold certificate, taking the balance of his check in small change.

As he left the bank he thought of the possibilities for fun with the big bill, and he stepped into Tony's Place and ordered drinks for the crowd. Clint was on duty and set out the drinks in approved fashion. Then the trader laid down his $1,000 bill in payment.

The gold certificate never feased the barkeep. He took it, glanced at it casually, and then walked to the safe as if to get the needed change.

A moment later he was back with the remark "We can't change that bill here. I never seen a bill larger than $100 since I have been in this shop."

"Ha, ha, said the jester, and "ho, ho," he challenged, with great glee "Surely you can change it."

"No surely I can't change it," said Clint, and slipped back to the highly pleased joker a closely folded gold certificate, a replica of the one that had been handed to him, save that the denomination in the trip to and from the safe had been changed from $1,000 to $20 by a clever exchange on the part of the barkeeper.

The jester, seeing his joke had worked perfectly, pulled out some small change and paid for the drinks. Then, with companions, he went over to Jack King's saloon to play the same prank.

Drinks were ordered for the crowd, and while "irrigation" was in progress the jester flashed his gold certificate on Jack King who was behind the bar. King took the supposed $1,000 bill and returned in change $19.50.

"I guess you made a mistake, didn't you Jack?" laughed the comedian.

"Not me. The drinks cost 50 cents and you gave me $20."

"Ha, ha," quoth the jokesmith.

"Look again, Jack, old boy."

"Jack, old boy," looked again, and declared that a twenty was the largest bill he had in the till and that he had only one of that denomination.

"Why, you must be mistaken," quoth the jester, his face blanching.

Jack flashed the pile of bills, but the jester's $1,000 bill was not in sight. He abruptly left the saloon and bolted for Tony's Place. Clint still was behind the bar and a crowd had been waiting the hasty return of the "wad flasher." He was a wild looking comedian when he rushed into the saloon and demanded the return of the $1,000 bill.

Clint parleyed with him. He declared he must be crazy, there had been no exchange of bills. He suggested that perhaps the man had been "touched," and while the crowd restrained smiles the joker grew more and more excited.

Finally Clint went to the safe and produced the $1,000 bill, and the coat-tails of the joker were crooked for his bank as he rushed out of the saloon.

When Shooting Is Righteous.

In Nebraska a man betrays a girl, and her father carries the girl to court, where the betrayer is called upon to pay money damages, if he has any money. In Louisiana a man betrays a girl, and under the unwritten law of that southern state it is the duty of the girl's father or brother to kill the betrayer. Not long ago a Louisiana girl was betrayed by a man. The poor girl had no father or brother to avenge the wrong. The girl made a final appeal to her betrayer to marry her and save her from shame. The man laughed at the girl's entreaties. It was his last laugh. The girl, made desperate by her situation, killed the man. She was arrested. She told the jury the whole truth about the matter. She frankly admitted killing the man, and told why she killed him. Instantly the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty, and that verdict was applauded by the audience in the court room.

I have read many newspaper articles of protest against the action of the jury. The writers say the country cannot afford to encourage murder by jury verdicts of that kind. I reply that our civilization cannot afford to encourage betrayal of girls by villainous men. Murder is wrong, of course, but the betrayal of a confiding girl by a strong man is worse than murder. Let the law take its course, say those who do not approve the action of that Louisiana jury. That sounds good, but whoever heard of the law meting out justice to the betrayer of a girl? Suppose the law should give her money damages. Can money heal the scar? I do not want to be regarded as an advocate of murder as a means to redress a wrong, but I can never bring myself to believe that it is right to carry a refined and gentle girl into court, and there cause her to detail the awful story of her betrayal by a man, to the end that the devil in the shape of a man shall be made to pay a few dollars in damages, or languish a short season in jail. We call this the highest civilization in these days, but it is not as high as it should be. Our civilization will not be high until that day in which the American people shall with one accord agree that the strong man who betrays the weak girl must be blotted off the earth, no matter just how about the blotting process.—Columbus Telegram.

BRADSTREET AND DUN REPORT ON BUSINESS

More Failures in August Than in Any Month Since Last March.

New York, Sept. 6.—Bradstreet's Saturday said: Best reports as to fall jobbing trade still come from the leading western cities, and there is apparently a fairly free movement of staples and an apparent improvement in collections in the centers leading the industry of the unexampled movement of grain to market. At a few southern centers, too, there is a trifle more activity, but from some southern points, notably in the south, that early buyers have been slow and that house trade is quiet.

There were more failures in August than in any preceding month since March. The total was 8 per cent larger than in July this year, or than in August last year, though 7 per cent smaller than in August, 1918. Aggregate $1,533,759, an increase of 37 per cent over August last year, but 53 per cent below August, 1918. New York city has 23 per cent more failures than in August a year ago, but a 10 per cent decrease for the week ending with Thursday last, which compares with 25 for last week and 33 in the like week of 1918.

Dun's review of trade today says: The week's improvement in iron and steel is notable, the heavier demand for pig iron being especially a proof of improved conditions. In the dry goods trade, notwithstanding the fact that the cotton spindles, due to the high cost of production, there appears to be a better distribution of merchandise. The wool market is more active, and wool remains very quiet, with repeated bank clearings for August awaited at once by the speculative industry, and the fact of a heavy movement of produce. Railroad earnings in the week of August increased 51 per cent. The most striking event of the week was an advance in August cotton to 20 cents, the highest price in a generation, due to covering by the market. Other months were not affected, and the crop advance put the cotton condition as considerably better than last year, with a heavy advance in the condition is, however, under this last month.

BY DAD

"Tell it to Gaynor," in last week's Commoner, has "I am in favor of," by the great "I am" Roosevelt, beat a city block as a campaign slogan.

Wayne people at Sioux City Saturday say that a look at the lion killer was all they got, owing to the noise made by the hero-worshippers, who claimed that anything Teddy said was "the stuff" anyway. That's the way of it with the American people, they are mighty easily humbugged.

"Wonder how long Jack Cherry is going to drive that old horse," remarked the oldest inhabitant. "Well, it's like that other commundrum," said the dry goods box architect, "when is Miss Elkins going to marry the Count De dam Bruzzi?"

In a talk on playing ball on the streets Judge Britton Sunday morning volunteered the information that we had an ordinance against it, but supplemented the remark with: "but then we all break the laws every day. Now, I am satisfied that I break six-tenths of the commundments all the time." "You mean about seven-tenths of them, don't you?" queried big Ed. Cullen of Winside. "Well, yes, probably that many at least," replied the jurist on Roosevelt park.

J. C. Rundell sold $61 worth of popcorn at the Carroll carnival and a friend estimated that he cleared at least $100. When asked how he replied: "Why don't you suppose he got $39 worth of good talking politics?"

An old friend met J. W. Toombs a few days after the latter's return from his long visit in Indiana and after a few words of welcome accosted that sterling democrat with: "Well, you got home in time to vote for Jim Dahلمان, didn't you?" A big lump seemed to come up in the old gentleman's throat; he swallowed real hard and then faintly articulated: "Yes sir!"

Sioux City wants cheaper beans. Is Sioux City the Boston of the west?—World-Herald.

Well, when they get "baked" as hard as the Sioux City Journal they are plenty cheap—for the west.

You and me are going to vote for Dahلمان, ain't we Charley?" said a joker to Charley Martin the other day. "I ain't," replied Charley, "I'd rather vote for a—(we can't put the name of the candidate in print.) "Sorry you have to vote for a republican candidate," replied the first speaker.

Here's one on Harry Fisher. Sunday morning, while waiting the west bound train, Judge Britton was accosted by a stranger with: "Say, you sell cement over there, don't you?" looking across the street towards Fisher's office. "Well, I guess so, but I don't know," answered the judge. "Ain't you Fisher?" asked the transient of the unshavened court. "No, I ain't," replied the judge, "Fisher is a real old cuss."

The practical sports at the court house are having a good deal of sport these days with constable John L. Soules, because the courageous summons server was born a neighbor to Dr. Crilpen who put the crimps in Belle Elmore.

Editor Gene Huse won't make any more street talks on politics.

A number of anti-prohibitionists were discussing Bryan, says the Lincoln Journal, when one of them remarked: "Talk about the prince of peace," said one of this number, who used to be a devoted admirer of Bryan. He gave a disdainful sniff and added: "Hell! He's the prince of war."

The Cherokee Democrat says the first hobble skirt seen in that town didn't look half as bad as what was in it.

The census enumerators evidently succeeded in Lansing, Mich. At least Lansing is awfully cut up over the returns.

Over at Dow City, Iowa, where they recently buried an old man of the town they put his pipe and tobacco in the coffin with him. They didn't put any matches in, however, evidently believing that, as he was sort of a fidel he was going to a place where he could easily get a light.

Lots of room at the top young man. Get busy and earn money enough to buy an aeroplane.

Many a man has wasted his future by lying in bed dreaming of the past.

The Sioux City News reports that in that old town gambling goes merrily on and the resorts are in full blast, with plenty of opportunity to buy beer for $1 per. Well, what's the use of worrying about it? It will always be so, unless Teddy and God succeed in making every man honest and virtuous.—Cherokee Democrat.

Manson Democrat: What has become of the old fashioned farmer who used to come to town with a lot of children sitting on a board seat in the back end of a lumber wagon? asks Alex. Miller in his Washington Democrat: Why, Alex! We are surprised at your ignorance. Where has he gone? He has gone where all the rest of the people who used to have big families have gone—to the cemeteries.

It used to be all right to have large families of children on the farm and in those days the "hired help" problem didn't bother the farmer a little bit. He got up early in the morning, called the boys four or five times a piece and finally got them out to the chores, while the girls helped their mother milk the cows and get breakfast. When they went to town there were not enough spring seats on the place to hold them, so they utilized a board and it didn't ride a bit hard, either, for there was a heap of joy in going to town in those days. Now it is altogether different. The farmer comes to town in an automobile and very few of them are bothered with very many children to fill up the seats. Like his town brother he likes to ride in an automobile, and also like his brother, he has very few children. Children come very high nowadays, just like automobiles, so its automobiles and other luxuries and very few children or none at all. Alex didn't you read about that young farmer and his wife, down in southwestern Iowa, who committed suicide not long ago because they were afraid a baby was going to be born to them? What a lucky baby that baby-to-be was! Yes, Alex, the old fashioned farmer and the old fashioned man and woman, the kind who used to produce large families are fast disappearing from the earth and all the preaching, all the moralizing and all the good advice of honest phys cians cannot stop them or stem the tide. This is a rapid age and the baby must take a back seat for pleasure and luxury. Some day, when age has killed all desire for fast living, those childless couples will live in silence and alone. There will not be the prattle of grandchildren or the patter of baby feet to sound like sweetest music in their ears. The prosaic humdrum of their embittered lives will be broken only by the song of the canary, croaking of the parrot, or yowl of the family tomcat as he hurls feline defiance at his dead enemy on some neighboring woodshed. Now don't get mad, Alex, and tell us how many farmers down around Washington have big families, for we have farmers and town people up here who have big families, but they are the exception and not the rule. Just between ourselves, Alex, what this world needs is a lot more of the old time religion, the old time manhood and womanhood, the old time honesty and virtue, the old time red blood and courage, more prayers at the family altars, more religion in the homes and less preaching and ranting in the streets, in the schools and on the house tops; more children and less deviltry.

Notable "news" items in Sioux City Tuesday daily Journal were "big dog kills little dog," "bull pup jumps out of window killing himself," Talk about your crude country yokels!

An exchange says that raising children is a great deal like making biscuit. It is as easy to raise a big batch as one biscuit while you have your hands in the dough. Getting the "dough," however, at present prices, makes a fellow feel childish.

No man who is ashamed to act as chauffeur to a baby carriage has any business butting into the matrimonial market.—Cherokee Democrat.

But how about the poor cuss who is required to act as chauffeur for four or five babies?

When a man's collar button gets undone in church and begins to climb the back of his neck he might just as well get up and go out, for a sermon will not do him the least bit of good.

A New Jersey minister has notified the female members of his flock that they cannot wear hobble skirts and worship under his ministrations. He thinks that any woman who wears the shotgun skirt should be spanked. Well, we judge that a good job of spanking could be done on any thing encased in a hobble skirt.

"Teddy is for Taft," is an awful mistake. Teddy is for Teddy with a cap I all the time.

A Boston Transcript man is responsible for the joke that a rooster consoled a hen whose chick had been sacrificed to feed a visiting parson, with the statement for her not to feel bad, "that her son was entering the ministry."

The Cherokee Democrat says "If it were not for the linotypes the daily papers could not print Teddy's speeches. They wouldn't have enough capital in it. That's a lead type sinche, by dad."

Ed. Ellis, about the last man in town a person would figure on as a ball player, has the other locals beat to a frazzle on hits, any way.

Theo. Mildner was up from Pilger Monday arranging to move his family to that town where he is in the saloon business with Otto Kruger. Theo says there are no "y's" in that town to make "the sun get up in a fellow's back" after an all night's walk eastward.

That Fargo, N. D., man no doubt said something that tickled the stand-patters when he publicly called Roosevelt a liar.

How to Fill Your Book Quickly

Every book holds 990 stamps, but it is by no means necessary to trade out $99 worth to get these stamps. Here are several ways to get stamps easily and if you will take advantage of them you can fill your book in such a short time that it will surprise you.

1. YOU CAN GET 10 STAMPS FREE by visiting the premium parlor at Ahern's the last Wednesday of the month. The S. & H. Trading Stamp Co. gives these stamps free just to get you to come and see the premiums often.
2. YOU CAN GET TWO STAMPS INSTEAD OF ONE for every 10c you spend by trading on Thursdays. If you buy $5 worth of goods on any Thursday we give you $10 worth of stamps. This is done to induce as many as possible to trade on Thursdays instead of waiting to come on Saturday. Our trade on Saturdays was so large that we could not wait on you satisfactorily, so we are offering extra stamps to those who will come on Thursday. Trade Thursday and get double stamps.
3. WE GIVE EXTRA STAMPS WITH MANY GOODS in order to draw special attention to them. For instance—this spring we gave 50 extra stamps with every pair of shoes sold; just to get special attention to our shoe department. We gave fifty extra stamps with every waist sold in May to call special attention to these goods; fifty with every lawn dress pattern, thirty stamps with every man's shirt, ten extra stamps with remnants and ten extra stamps with each of the many grocery specials. We advertise these specials in the newspapers and in circulars and if you'll watch them and take advantage of them you can fill your stamp book very easily. 90 Per Cent. Repeaters

My July introduction of Splendid flour proved a success in every sense of the word. Over 300 families availed themselves of the opportunity and fully 90 per cent. reported as being well satisfied and became a constant friend and user. Why Splendid is better than other flours; why it is the best all-purpose flour; why it makes whiter, sweeter loaves and more of them to the sack; why it pleases nine out of ten housewives better than other flours, I do not know. But the boss-miller knows. He has spent the better part of a life time to perfect a flour to accomplish these very things. Splendid is now one of Wayne's leading flours. It's name indicates it's quality. REMEMBER—Bring back the empty sack if you are not pleased and get your purchase money—that's my guarantee.

BY DAD

If the people of Nebraska do not see fit to retire Senator Burkett to private life, and send a representative of Nebraska people to the United States senate, then, by dad, it's time to start a fund-raising campaign to plant a monument to the memory of Joe Cannon.

The Sioux City Tribune says all Congressman Latta of Nebraska is capable of doing in congress is to vote right. What did the Tribune's political pet, Hubbard of Iowa, ever do that anyone has ever heard about—excepting the imaginative ear of the Tribune? Would Boyd, Joe Cannon's man, who always voted wrong, and who was badly frozen out by an outraged and disgusted constituency two years ago, suit the frank Tribune better?

Bryan claims that Roosevelt has now stolen all his Bryan feathers. May be so, but Taddy hasn't caught the pip (prohibition) yet.

If you have read President Taft's St. Paul speech on conservation and digested every word of it, you are a d-d good republican alright and entitled to believe that Joe Cannon is an improved edition of Abraham Lincoln.

The defendant acknowledged that he hadn't spoken to his wife in five years and Judge Brewer took a hand from the bench in examining the witness. "What explanation have you," he said severely to the defendant, "for not speaking to your wife in five years?" "Your honor," replied the husband, "I didn't like to interrupt the lady."

The Canonized democrats of the south, are falling, under public condemnation, like the public looters of the g. o. p. in this section of the country. Aldrich, Cannon, Depew and the other big scamps must be nearly ready to die, anyway.

Wonder how the elections of last Tuesday set on the stomachs of the local standpatters. They should send a note of condolence to Ballinger's victim, President Taft.

It's up to every voter in Wayne county to do all possible for E. H. Kohl's election to the state senate and any man, irrespective of politics, who labors for the other candidate, is cutting off his nose to spite his face. Ask any one of the several gentlemen who went to Lincoln to assist in the sale of the college whom it was who did the real fine work to make that difficult transaction, and you have the reason for voting for Kohl for senator. It is not that we want P. H. to reward him nor to satisfy any personal ambitions he may entertain—he would have been most happy to have campaigned for any other Wayne man—but because we have most urgent need for a political wire-puller of his ability in the next legislature. All northeast Nebraska needs him and more of his kind to force a reapportionment from the hogs of the south Platte country. The Democrat has no political nor financial interest in the election of Kohl aside from the benefits to be secured by Wayne and the whole district through his superior knowledge of the political game and the earnestness with which Mr. Kohl puts into such work for his constituents. Wayne county should go solidly for Mr. Kohl as was generally conceded it would do eighteen months ago when there was less politics and a more united policy among Wayne people. We'll never have a better opportunity than we have this fall of doing ourselves some good and the campaign should be started early and kept warm and winning to a successful finish.

Merchants Play Ball.

A long story might be written on the ball game of last Monday, but it would be lame, half and blind like the game. The east riders thought they had the game cinched before it opened, but the headgear of the battery proved a fifteen score puzzle, the score board being full of figures for the west-siders, 27 in all. Ed. Ellis for the sun-setters and Jim Pile for the early risers were the grand stand players of the whole aggregation, Jim stealing bases like a game poacher and Ed. getting a cheer from the tender sex for his numerous long, hard hits to center field. Ex-leaguers Fisher and Meyer were about a stand off in the pitchers' box, but Allys. Berry and Rooney as receivers did not get their hands on anything that came along as they do in a law suit. The box office receipts was the most satisfactory feature of the game—to the management, being about $75.

Just remember when you have anything to advertise that the Democrat covers from two to five times as much territory as any other paper in Wayne county.

A ride out in the country this time of year, especially in the grand good looking Wayne county, fills the soul of a live man with joy and admiration for the rich works of the Almighty. Ted Perry took the Democrat man on a trip of eight or ten miles northwest of town last Tuesday afternoon "to see how the corn looked." There has been some talk of there being a poor crop this season, but it is certainly all talk. On the Perry ranch of 800 acres there is 250 acres of the best or as good corn as this writer ever saw, and we had an intimate acquaintance with that cereal for a great many years, with hoe, cultivator and 50-bushel wagon. Mr. Perry thinks his corn will go as high as 75 bushels per acre, and it looks it, and will be out of the way of frost in a week or ten days. The Perry ranch is where they do things on a big scale. Hundreds of cattle just going on feed for December market and droves of hogs following the beavers. Corn cribs are still full of last year's crop. Meadows with some fifteen hundred tons of hay. Everything raised on this big farm is always fed up, and Tuesday two manure spreaders were at work cleaning out the yards before starting fall plowing. That's what makes corn in Nebraska. Get your corn experts beat a city block in getting money-making crops. Mr. Perry is a farmer who farms the farms alright and his ranch is one of the best looking places—for financing the country—that can be discovered in the whole state.

School Notes

School organized Monday with a larger enrollment than usual. Following are the numbers enrolled in the respective grades: Kindergarten 34; 1st grade 47; 2d 44; 3d 55; 4th 44; 5th 42; 6th 42; 7th 98; 8th 88; High school 88.

From these figures it is evident that the grades are somewhat over-crowded, but when the normal opens a number, probably fifty, will be assigned to the model schools.

Teachers and pupils alike are enjoying the beautiful statue (Diana) placed in the main hall by the good women of our city, who are decorating our beautiful school building artistically and systematically. We hope to do a great deal toward decorating the building during this year.

Work is moving along very nicely in all departments. Come and see, and help us make this the best year of school Wayne has ever had.

The Score Keeper's Story of It.

Following is an account of the Carroll ball games, written by the official scorekeeper for the Democrat:

In spite of Shannon's ball players, gathered from three or more different states, and a local umpire by name of Richard Closton, he of the $10,000.00 fame, Wayne journeyed to Carroll Friday and grabbed off the bacon, after defeating Laurel in an exciting 10-inning game on Thursday.

Thursday's game with Laurel was a hair-raiser from start to finish. Altho luck broke against Wayne in the early innings we managed to tie the game in the ninth and then scored three runs in the tenth, winning the game and the privilege of beating Carroll, which team bested Randolph 3 to 1, due to the superior pitching of Dal Alderman of the Sioux City Packers. In the Laurel game Wayne outbatted their opponents 12 hits to 7, and while our team made a number of bad errors superior knowledge of base ball and the timely hitting of Ringer and Landers enabled Wayne to win the game. Three times in the first nine innings Landers hit safely with one man gone, and each time Ringer scored him with a good clean hit, the last one occurring in the ninth and tying the score. In the tenth Neno led out with a two-bagger, Depew following with a single, going to 2d on the throw home, Neno scoring. Ahern fied out to the 2d baseman, then Sparger scored DePew with another clean drive; then Simon scored Sparger with a hit. Landers and Sabs were easy outs. Laurel was easily retired in their half, the best they could do being to get a man to 3d, and the hearts of the Wayne aggregation resumed a normal beat.

On Friday the immense throng of Wayne rooters who had fallen over each other in various efforts to get to Carroll witnessed the wholesale slaughter of Carroll, which team has not won a game from Wayne in recent years. The Carroll team as it played Friday was composed of five home men and five from the various teams in and about Sioux City. The game was a swiftest from start to finish, Wayne gathering 13 hits to Carroll's 7 and outplaying them in every department of the game. Many thanks are due Mr. Hoyt of Sioux City for his generous assistance, he officiating in the box for Carroll. Braggeman for Wayne pitched a good game in the early innings and only let down the bars in the 8th when Wayne had the game well in hand.

Neno, the first man up for Wayne, sized one over 1st base for a 2-bagger; DePew struck out and Ahern skied to Donahue. Sparger singled, scoring Neno and stealing 2d; Simon (doubled to left field, scoring Sparger, but was caught trying to make 3d. In their half Carroll got a man to 3d on an error but he did not get away from there. In the second inning Wayne got a man to 2d with two out and then Braggeman knocked an easy grounder to 2d and was thrown out at 1st. In the third first man up for Carroll got a hit and was advanced to 2d by Tiff's single, Roe knocked a grounder to Ahern and Carter was called out for interfering with Ahern fielding the ball. Nairn knocked a grounder to Neno and was thrown out at 1st. Tiff scoring on Landers' bad peg home. The next was an easy out. In the fifth Neno again started the circus, getting on 1st on an error by the 2d baseman; Depew got to 1st on an error by the 3d baseman, then Neno scored on a fielder's choice batted by Ahern. Sparger and Simon fied out to 1st baseman and then Landers scored DePew and Ahern with a hit; Sabs striking out. Carroll got a 0 in her half. Wayne got one more in the sixth on a walk-for-Ringer and a hit by DePew. It was in this inning that Umpa Closton was seen to stride towards the Wayne players' bench, pointing his index finger at Cent-fielder Sparger and exclaiming loudly "get out of here! Go to the bleachers or I'll call this game!" About the time he reached the bench he lost his nerve and turned his wrath on the scorekeeper who sat beside Sparger. To save annoyance the scorer walked to the bleachers and then walked back again to his seat on the bench. Carroll got one run in the sixth on two hits. In the seventh Sparger hit for 3 bases and scored on Landers' sacrifice fly. In the eighth Wayne got three and Carroll four; Wayne sinching things with three more in the ninth while Carroll called for another egg.

King Solomon's Annual Big Success

O. A. King returned home Sunday morning from his trip to the annual meeting of the King Solomon Tunnel and Development company feeling as fine as a young colt. He reports the most enthusiastic meeting ever held and everything went off as harmonious as wedding bells. Mr. Dinsmore was re-elected president, Mr. Alexander vice-president, W. W. Theobald secretary and O. A. King treasurer.

The financial report showed $101,231.63 on hand, without a dollar of indebtedness, and the crowd who were there to see the mines were so enthusiastic about it that nearly a hundred thousand shares have been sold since the annual meeting.

They now have nearly a mile and a half of underground workings, and several hundred tons of ore on the dumps. Not a mine in the state of Colorado is more advantageously located than the King Solomon and they are now in position to make of it one of the big producers of the state. We understand that the stock of the company will soon be withdrawn from sale and that the company will continue to develop the property and block out ore so that when the time comes for a mill to be erected they will have sufficient ore in reserve to keep the mill running for many years. All of this work is being done under the advice of the best government engineers that can be had. It is Mr. King's intention to stay in Wayne and direct the office of treasurer from this end of the line.

...Peter Schuttler Wagon...

About the Building of a Schuttler Wagon

Some men are so constituted that whatever they do must be done right. They can no more slight any part of their work than they can change day into night. Everything must be made as good as they can possibly make it.

That's the way the original Peter Schuttler did his work, and PETER SCHUTTLE'S SONS HAVE BEEN MAKING WAGONS IN THE SAME CAREFUL WAY EVER SINCE. And today the name "SCHUTTLE" on a wagon stands for the highest possible QUALITY, just as it did when the first Schuttler wagon was made.

Quality is the only thing known around the Schuttler factory. The cost of building a wagon is never considered in the beginning, but every wagon is made just as good as it is possible to make it, and the selling price fixed afterward.

This explains why, in the face of the ever increasing scarcity and consequent advance of wagon material on one hand, and a constant demand for lower prices from the consumer on the other, Schuttler wagons retain the same high standard. Their makers don't know how to make them otherwise. The difference between a Schuttler wagon and a common wagon is only a few dollars, so why take chances on a common wagon, when you can have THE BEST WAGON MADE.

During the progress of the game Stanton's scrapper, Hopper, started a nasty row, caused by the beating that town was getting. Hopper ran into Johnny Ahern, knocking the latter off his base, and when Johnny started to remonstrate with him the big duffer struck at the Wayne player. Then the town marshal, on equally sore sport, took our man off the field instead of the scrapper, and it was some time before peace could be restored. The boys say that Sals pitched the game of his life, the fielding of the locals was air-tight, and that it would have been a shut-out for Stanton had the row not been forced on the local team. Manager John Hufford also got a buff, but it was on the leg, from a foul ball.

Big Enamelware Special

On our last buying trip, from which we have just returned, we had the opportunity to buy a big variety of goods for greatly reduced prices. Although we could realize a fancy return on all of them, we would rather take our profit in the advertisement, which the unusually low prices will give us, than in hard cash. For that reason we shall begin next Saturday to offer these goods in regular weekly bargain sales at such low prices that you cannot help taking advantage of them. The goods will be changed every week, the prices will be about half our usual sales prices and will hold good on those respective articles for the respective week only.

Next Saturday

We shall begin with this weekly special feature in offering you the following goods for 28c each, for one week only, or until this special is sold.

Methodist Mickey and the Breweries

You say you cannot support Jim Dahlman on moral grounds. Wait a minute. In what particular has Jim Dahlman been more immoral than the average man of your acquaintance? He drinks liquor. Yes. So does the average man, but the record shows only one instance when Jim Dahlman was intoxicated. He played cards for money in days gone by. Yes. So has the average man, but the record shows that Jim Dahlman was never a cheat. You say he is supported in this campaign by the brewers. Yes. But the record reads that when Governor Mickey was a candidate against W. H. Thompson the brewers practically conducted Mickey's campaign and nobody denies that every brewer in Nebraska contributed to the cause of Governor Shallenberger when he was elected. I am not approving any immoral step Jim Dahlman ever took upon the path of life, neither shall I hear him maligned without a protest by democrats or republicans who in years gone by have seen their own favorites supported by those same potent influences which now support Jim Dahlman. As a man Jim Dahlman is of better fibre than the average man. I don't like some of his Omaha company. Neither do I admire those purists who are now protesting so loudly against those brewery interests which just a little while ago were carrying their own favorite candidates into the same office to which Jim Dahlman will be elected in November. Many a worse man than Jim Dahlman has occupied the chief chair of the state in Nebraska.—Columbus Telegram

The Democrat distorts, magnifies and imputes the wrong meaning to a harmless remark casually dropped by the writer in the course of private conversation mentioning different candidates for governor.—Wayne Herald.

In the language of that king of critics, Roosevelt, you are a cheap liar. The absolute facts are that a few gentlemen were discussing the primary election, the day after it was held, when you butted your superior wisdom into the crowd to tell them something that you alone were capable of knowing, to wit: "That Jim Dahlman was a great deal better man than the general public knew him to be. That Aldrich was a great deal worse than the public was aware of, and that Cady was by far the best man of the three." These may not have been your exact words but they cover your statement without exaggeration in the least degree. If you demand further proof that the Democrat did not "distort," "magnify," nor "impute the wrong meaning" we will publish affidavits next week from other parties who heard your declaration. The Democrat explained previously that you made this frank acknowledgement when it was believed that Cady was the republican nominee. Lots of better men than you are have talked too much before thinking in presence of newspaper reporters. The joke was on you and you ought to be man enough to abide by it and "crawl out of it" in more becoming fashion than attempt to discredit the veracity of a competitor—when there were so many more reputable witnesses present.

The Sioux City Tribune has our permission to despoil any chance Senator Burgett has to be re-elected to the United States senate, but when it comes to defeating Dahlman for governor the esteemed Tribune might as well beat its breast and brains. James C. Dahlman is going to be elected and will be the governor by the grace of all parties, all creeds, and of people of all forms of servitude. Undoubtedly the brewers will assist in his election. Do you suppose the beer makers would be protesting for a prohibition candidate?

The Democrat would advise the Wayne Tribune that a careful scrutiny of the record will show that Wayne owes her state normal school to the live business men of all Northeast Nebraska and not to Governor Shallenberger. While the governor's course was not taken well by some Wayne people, democrats or republicans, it was some letters that he wrote democrats a few days before the primary was held that started a revolt against him. In these epistles the chief executive took the credit of Wayne getting this school largely upon his shoulders; stated that he could not name certain Wayne men on the state normal board for it would raise a storm of protest from "the prominent democrats of Wayne;" that he wanted us to understand that he was going to be nominated and re-elected governor of Nebraska, and further that he had placed this school here and we would need to have it supported, etc. The Democrat man read these letters and construed the meaning thereof as an intimidation, a threat and an acknowledgment of the governor's own weakness in this community. But what of other north Nebraska counties? Why not censure Cedar county, Dakota county and several others where Shallenberger's vote was badly demoralized. No effort was made in Wayne to cut down the governor's vote. His small majority was solely due to a light vote and Dahlman's excess due to republicans throwing him their almost united support. If there is any just criticism to pass upon Wayne, therefore, it is rather up to the republicans to carry the weight of it.

The Sioux City Tribune castigates the Commoner for the latter's commendation of certain congressional candidates. The Tribune, however, on Nebraska politics, is the most ridiculous proposition given the public and never taken seriously this side of the river. Where it gets its political material from is no longer a mystery to its Nebraska readers, at least not to those who also read the "Bingville Bugle."

The editor of the Norfolk Press, who claims to be a democrat, is badly worried over the fact that this paper was not a red-hot supporter of Shallenberger because the Democrat was designated by the governor to publish a legal notice for the state. Taking the Press man's judgment for it we infer that he "supported" Shallenberger in hopes of landing such a fat pick-up. Probably there are lots of papers that can be bought for a few dollars, especially those that are always on the brink of bankruptcy. The Democrat is sorry to inform the Norfolk Press that we were so indifferent in this matter as regards supporting the governor upon such questionable demands that we had not even thought of it at all.

Papillon Times: Our disappointment over the defeat of Governor Shallenberger is not due to a lack of faith in the ability, integrity or efficiency of James C. Dahlman. Mr. Dahlman has served the city of Omaha as its chief executive during the past four years in a manner which has forced his most virulent opponents to admit he is the best mayor Omaha has ever had. Not even a suspicion of graft has attended his conduct of the affairs of that office. Those same qualities would undoubtedly make him an excellent governor. His views on the liquor question are extreme and do not coincide with ours, but the views of his republican opponent are no less extreme and come no nearer our views than do those of Mayor Dahlman. In all other respects he is far superior to his republican opponent, Chester A. Aldrich. The interests of the people of Nebraska will be safely cared for with James C. Dahlman in the governor's chair.

Proposed Constitutional Amendment

Section 3. (Adoption) If such amendment shall be approved by a majority of all electors voting at such election, said amendment shall constitute section one (1) of article seven (7) of the constitution of the State of Nebraska.

Approved April 1, 1909.
 J. Geo. C. Junkin, Secretary of State, of the State of Nebraska, do hereby certify that the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Nebraska is a true and correct copy of the original enrolled and engrossed bill, as passed by the thirty first session of the legislature of the State of Nebraska, as appears from said original bill on file in this office, and that said proposed amendment is submitted to the qualified voters of the state of Nebraska for their adoption or rejection at the general election to be held on Tuesday, the 8th day of November, A. D. 1910.
