A Norfolk Account of the Game.

After a most sensational game of football, Norfolk won its game Saturday afternoon from the Wayne high school by a score of 20 to 0. Both teams looked strong, with Wayne probably the heavier looking, when the game opened at Wayne, but it was soon evident that they were evenly matched and the pigskin was fought for in a clean battle. There was no "rag chewing" by the players at any stage of the game, and they played ball all through. The great crowd on the side lines was generous, and although there was plenty of cheering, there were no noisy abuses cast toward the visitors, who were cheered when they made good plays.

The first two quarters showed good team work on both sides and many sensational plays were in evidence. The pigskin was tussled for in the first two quarters, with Norfolk having the better of it by two points. At one time during the first quarter Norfolk had the ball on Wayne's one-foot line and a star player on the Norfolk team was tackled very hard and dropped it. Wayne got the ball on a fumble and kicked it out of danger. Wayne's punting was their feature, but Norfolk was not lacking in this play and was declared equally as good.

In the third quarter Norfolk went after things very hard and rushed the ball down the field rapidly. The ball was in their own territory about fifteen yards from the middle field when Parish, on a quarterback run, took the ball, dodging, wriggling and fighting through dangerous points, sixty-five yards through to the goal posts for the first touchdown. There were great cheers for the plucky little player and his teammates, who then got their second wind and their confidence was restored. Wayne kicked to Norfolk again and by a series of odd runs Captain Ben Willey made great gains and this time Mapes got in for the second touchdown. Willey was cheered for his sensational plays. Wayne then took the ball and Norfolk returned the kickoff, but Wayne rushed the ball down the field, gaining forty yards on a forward pass. Welch, the heavy Wayne player, took the ball and in a sensational line buck gained about fifteen yards through almost a stone wall built by Norfolk. Odiorne, however, tackled him and when Welch dropped the ball Kelleher picked it up and made a 70-yard run. Within thirty yards of Wayne's goal line he stumbled and fell, injuring his leg. Norfolk, however, kept the ball and in a series of line plunges and rushes made the third touchdown. Fisher kicked goal every time in a neat way for Norfolk.

During the last quarter Wayne rushed the ball to about ten yards of the Norfolk goal line and at every stage of the game they played strictly first-class football. Norfolk was full of ginger all through the game and it was this, with their team work, which won them their sensational game from a team their equal. Kelleher, after his fall, found it necessary to retire and he was succeeded by Logan, who played a fine game. The Norfolk line-up follows:

Next Saturday the Norfolk team goes to Madison to play the Madison high school team.

Henry Bartels Speaks a Piece.

According to articles published in some Wayne county papers it is made to appear that there are certain interests or corporations backing my candidacy for state representative. I want to state that there is absolutely no foundation for such insinuations; I have not even been approached by a representative of any interest, brewery or corporation; I am paying every cent of expense of my campaign out of my own pocket, and if elected will go to the legislature a free, moral agent to work and vote as I think best for my constituency. While I shall be highly gratified to win the election to so honorable a position, I want it distinctly understood that I am neither bound nor pledged to fill the position of state representative for other else than the advancement and welfare of Stanton and Wayne counties and the state at large. I stand opposed to county option, opposed to the repeal of the eight-o'clock closing law; in favor of the initiative and referendum; for a reapportionment of the state's representation at Lincoln and for progressive legislation. My views on these political questions did not have to undergo a severe reorganization to conform to any state platform and I am not nor will be found casting any reflection upon my fellow citizens who honestly differ with me on these matters.

Respectfully,
HENRY BARTELS.

RANGE FEUD ENDS IN ONE FATALITY

Kinkaid Homesteader Shoots at Old Enemy Who Attacks Him on the Street.

Gordon, Neb., Oct. 20.—Robert Ferrin, aged 25 years, was shot through the abdomen in the Fair store here Saturday night. He died 30 minutes after the shooting.

Charles Briley, a Kinkaid homesteader, who has been in Gordon for several weeks, fired the fatal shot from a .44-caliber revolver here Saturday night. The result of an old feud between the two men.

About six months ago Briley was assaulted in the same place by Ferrin. About six weeks ago Briley was again assaulted on the streets of this place by Ferrin.

Saturday evening while Briley was sitting in front of the First National bank conversing with friends, Ferrin approached him and an altercation ensued which Ferrin applied with a .44-caliber revolver. The next time he met Briley he "would fix him so that his friends would not be able to recognize him." He wanted him to say that he did not want to have any trouble. Instead Ferrin assumed a striking attitude. Briley then reached for his gun and fired three shots in rapid succession, none of which took effect.

Briley ran into the hardware department of the Fair store and excitedly demanded more shells for his revolver. The store clerk refused to accede to his demand. At that moment Marshal Beckwith rushed into the store, followed by Ferrin. The town marshal shot Briley, but the latter in some manner managed to get his revolver between the marshal and Ferrin and fired the fatal shot.

Ferrin refused to tell anything about his relatives while he was in the hospital. Letters were found in his pockets from a young woman, presumably his sweetheart, of Waterloo, Ia. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Briley was immediately taken in charge by Sheriff Neen and rushed by automobile to Rushville, where he is now in jail.

BIG FRAUD CHARGED IN TAKING OF CENSUS

Pacific Coast Cities Accused of Padding Their Returns in Gross Manner.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Staggered by the enormous growth shown by the census of 1910, the United States census bureau, ordered an investigation, the result of which appeared in the announcement Saturday night that gross frauds had been perpetrated.

Mr. Durand gave out also a letter from President Taft directing that persons implicated in the alleged frauds should be prosecuted.

Cities specifically mentioned as being affected by the frauds are Tacoma, Seattle and Aberdeen, Wash.; Portland, Minn.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Boise, Id.; and Fort Smith, Ark. but it is said that there are many others.

The result of a second enumeration of Tacoma, Wash., was announced Saturday. The city has a population of 28,272, an increase of 45,253 or 120 per cent over 37,715, the population of 1900. The first figures turned in for Tacoma were 116,248. In other words, the actual population was padded to the extent of 33,976, which is a percentage of a further addition of 40 per cent.

These additions were made in 34 out of 78 enumeration districts in Tacoma. In some of the districts the number reported proved to be several times greater than the actual population. In 10 districts the first enumeration showed 25,753 names, whereas the corrected number was found to be 11,846.

The statement issued by Director Durand consists in the main of a letter from himself addressed to Secretary Nagel, of the department of commerce and is in the following words: "In view of the whole case is presented to you by brief letter from President Taft to Mr. Nagel of the date of October 11.

Most of the offenses alleged to have been committed against the military code of the state are said to have been committed at Fort Riley, Kan., or just prior to the departure of the guards to that place several weeks ago. The guard went to Fort Riley to participate in military maneuvers in which both regular soldiers and guardsmen from western states took part.

CRIPPEN IS FOUND

GUILTY OF KILLING

HIS ACTRESS WIFE

After Scathing Charge by the

Lord Chief Justice, Jurors

Retire and Return In

30 Minutes.

London, Oct. 24.—It was announced this evening that Crippen would be hanged November 15, less than one month after his conviction.

London, Oct. 23.—Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen, the American practitioner and medical agent, was today found guilty of the murder of his wife, the American actress Florence on February 1 last, and sentenced to death.

The jury was out 30 minutes when returned and announced it had found the defendant guilty. Lord Chief Justice Abbotstone asked the physician if he had anything to say. Crippen replied that he had nothing to say.

"I still protest my innocence," said the chief justice then donned the black cap that had rested near him throughout the trial and pronounced the sentence of death on the convicted murderer. Lord Abbotstone said: "You have been convicted on evidence which can leave no doubt in the mind of any sensible person that you murdered your wife and then endeavored to murder her body. I advise you to abstain from any further attempts to escape the consequences of your crime. I hope you will make your peace with Almighty God."

Hanged Within a Month. As the lord chief justice pronounced a policeman stepped forward and led Crippen from the dock. Crippen will be hanged on the gallows which has been fixed, but it probably will be done within a month.

The trial of Ebel, Clara Senow, has been adjourned until the murder of Mrs. Crippen will begin next Monday.

It was expected that Crippen's murder would be concluded today with the jury returning a verdict. A large crowd gathered about the New Bailey before the doors were opened. When the proceedings were resumed, Crippen's attorney called the witness Richard Muller, who had been questioned regarding the use of hyoscine, the poison with which it is charged he accused killed his wife.

Arraigned by Prosecutor. The justice directed the information that hyoscine was administered through the mouth and also imperceptibly. Richard Muller then began the closing speech for the prosecution. He said that Crippen had admitted to the jury that he had administered the poison to his wife. Counsel pointed out that the defendant had never lived for months a life of hypocrisy, making the grief of his wife's death his only friend.

The prosecutor's address occupied more than an hour. He concluded by saying that the prosecution had proved beyond a reasonable doubt that Crippen had murdered his wife. the Search for Balloonists.

New York, Oct. 23.—The Swiss balloon Azgura, manned by Emile Wessner, pilot, and Leon Giraudon, one of the contestants in the great international balloon race, for which grave alarm has been felt as it had not been reported, landed 32 miles northeast of Bisotaping, Aigoma district, Canada. News of the landing was reported to the Aero Club of America here today.

The balloons America II and Dusseldorf II still remain unreported.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 23.—Search for the missing balloonists which left here last Monday in the international race is being prosecuted by the Canadian government, the Hudson Bay company, and signal corps of the United States army, which believe that the balloonists are in the Canadian forests, unable to make their way to civilization.

Revenue cutters of the United States on the Great Lakes and North Atlantic coast have been ordered to watch for sightings of the aeronauts. It was reported by tonight that the local revenue cutters had been ordered to organize relief expeditions.

The missing balloons are the America II, with Alan H. Hawley and Augustus Post of New York, and Augustus II, with Hans Grueck, of Germany, and J. W. Perkins, of New York, pilot and aid.

The Germania, by landing at Coocoo-cush, 175 miles north of Quebec, Wednesday night, which was reported last night, is thought to have broken all distance records.

EDGAR ELLEN POE NOW IN THE HALL OF FAME

New York, Oct. 23.—Edgar Allan Poe is at last in the Hall of Fame. Years of efforts on the part of staunch supporters to get his name added to the list was rewarded yesterday by the announcement of Dr. John E. MacCracken, chairman of the board of New York university, that the author of "The Raven," with ten others, had been accorded this honor. The 11 names added to the list are: MacCracken, Harriet Beecher Stowe, J. W. Oliver, Wendell Holmes and Edgar Allan Poe, 69 votes each; Roger Williams, James Fenimore Cooper, 62; Phillips Brooks, 59; William Brewster, 59; Frances E. Willard, 55; Andrew Jackson and George Bancroft, 55 each; John Jay, 50.

The number of ballots cast was 97, and the number required for a choice was 51. Poe's vote jumped from 42 in 1905 to 65, an increase of 23 votes. An analysis of the votes shows that 37 of the 65 were cast by college presidents, 17 by professors of history and scientists, 18 by publicists, editors and authors, and 13 by jurists.

DIETZ GIRL TO HELP FAMILY FROM STAGE

Myra Will Go Into Vaudeville to Replenish Exchequer of Her Clan

Hayward, Wis., Oct. 23.—An announcement that Myra Dietz had accepted one of the numerous offers made to her to enter the vaudeville stage is a feature of the Dietz case. Myra, 17, left with her clients for Eau Claire, Atorney Rubin made the announcement that Myra Dietz had decided to go on the vaudeville stage.

"The publicity is most distressful to the girl, who is one of the most sensitive young women I have ever met," said Mr. Rubin. "She wishes to help her family and realize the needs of her family, but she is unwilling to be a vaudeville star. She has received numerous offers, but she has advised her father that she will not lower her dignity nor injure the family in any way."

It is probable that Miss Dietz will appear first in St. Paul, as several offers have come from there and the Dietz family recognize they have many sympathizers there.

BIGAMY CHARGE FOR MERCENARY HUSBAND

Man Who Married German Girl for $200 Cash is Said to Have Another Wife.

Washington, Oct. 23.—A surprising sequel to the marriage of Eugene Brown to a German girl, E. L. Brown, of this city, 3200 12th street, for a day so that she might secure a large inheritance to the fatherless boys provided in the will of her father, is being reported from Brooklyn, N. Y., by Judge Bundy, of the municipal court, saying that the picture of Brown bears a startling resemblance to high ranking husband, H. D. Dietz, formerly of Brooklyn.

A clipping from a New York paper enclosed together with a picture of her husband, which strongly resembles the photograph of Brown taken on his wedding day.

Judge Bundy, who married the couple at a license under the name of Eugene Brown, said that he had been deeply injured when informed of the identity of the parties to the marriage and declared that the marriage was invalid under the laws of New York.

The contract called for a separation of both parties, one not to communicate with the other at any time and to appear at the altar at any time during the day had the attorneys proceeded. The present plan of the court is to hear the case after the rendering of opinions on Monday.

To designate the handling of a piece of work by machinery the "one touch" system has been coined.

SILENT TRIBUTE TO LATE

SENATOR MOST NOTABLE

Nearly 10,000 People Assembled to Pay Last

Respects to Dolliver.

AN IMPRESSIVE GATHERING

WASHINGTON MEMORIAL TO SENATOR DOLLIVER.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Iowans in Washington headed by Secretary of Agriculture, James Wilson, will hold memorial services to the late Senator Dolliver Sunday next. A number of tributes will be made by local Iowans.

Fort Dodge, Ia., Oct. 21.—Of all the tributes paid yesterday to Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver, the most notable was a silent one. Amid the eloquent eulogies of distinguished speakers, one was most impressed by the expression of the grief manifested in the attendance of nearly 10,000 citizens.

The filled the spacious armory, which has a seating capacity of 6,000, those unable to obtain seats standing in the aisles. Outside was congregated a throng of 30,000, who were unable to gain admission.

That no such outpouring of sympathy and affection was manifested on a similar occasion in the state's history, not even the obsequies of the lamented Senator Allison, was the general comment.

An Impressive Scene. In the armory, the scene was of impressive impressiveness. The casket, surrounded by a guard of honor of 100 men, reposed at the front of the room, while on the platform above sat the clergymen of the Methodist church and dignitaries selected to represent the state and nation. Colleagues of the United States Senate, occupying the first row of chairs at the side of the platform, were Senator Cummins, Moses E. Clapp, of Iowa, and Senator E. C. Clapp, of Nebraska; J. C. Burrows and William Alden Smith, of Michigan. With them sat Colonel Daniel M. Randall, chief of the Iowa militia, and the funerals of two former Iowa senators, Gerrit and Allison. The delegations of the National House, the state legislature and the Iowa militia, also were seated upon the stage.

Speakers Deeply Affected. Nearly all of the speakers had been intimately associated with the late senator in his career. He had led his life that the task of eulogy lay heavily upon them. Deep emotion characterized their expression. Senator Cummins, in his address, was so affected that it was with difficulty that he could deliver his address.

McDowell is Eloquent. Bishop William F. McDowell's eulogy was one of the strongest of the address. He spoke in a glowing and impassioned manner, and made a tremendous impression upon his hearers when he spoke on "A Fallen Leader."

The fallen leader was eulogized by his beautiful ways and his gentle personality; he led by his kindly manner, perfect integrity, his unflinching hopefulness, his cheer and courage, his rare and matchless eloquence. He left no detachment himself from humanity, but by ever keeping close to him he would serve.

His first thought, I ever saw him, I was impressed by his tremendous honesty; no airs, no affectations, no pretensions. It was his putting the human note into the themes of politics and the utterance of his noblest ideas. He thought more of goodness than of glory. At last he spoke in a moral passion for the welfare of humanity. It is something more of the Senate, (turning to the speaker) that he had on the platform), to have had such a thing brought before your eyes.

Had Freshness of Boy. "He had the freshness of youth; the boy in him never had been destroyed. It was this humble, true, good, goodness, this purity of personal character, this kind of integrity that make his honor him. His tongue never blushed to tell the truth, his hand never reached for a bribe.

"And what a patriot he was! It used to be said of Gladstone that his mind was a great engine of England institutions work. Senator Dolliver believed in the republic, wanted her institutions to work. Oratory was not his passion, but his duty was his passion. His passion was his country, for which he gave his life. He used his gift of speech and his eloquence to give his country.

"A few days ago we could have called him a republican. We should have included him in a special group of men with his own party. Today he stands before us as a patriot, a man who walked in integrity, who did not forget the small differences and remember only the large matters that make for permanency.

"The truth is, however, I have been very much to the best for the past month and am now getting able to come out of the house to sun myself for an hour or two a day. My troubles have been accumulating for months, but I have been pushing them on ahead of me, but finally they got me down. Each one of my troubles consulted with me in behalf of the president, but I concluded that I could not do it. I have reformed the lines, however, and think I have them under control. I tell you, however, that it is not in the nature of me to try to do any campaigning, even in this state, as travel and speaking are so aggravating matters. I have observed that in the past few weeks you need me in Kansas. At any rate it is very doubtful whether I make a speech or am subject for six months."

Senator Bristow has not seen this letter.

DOBUEQUE LOSES TERMINALS.

Dubuque, Ia., Oct. 21.—Dubuque is objecting strenuously to the removal of the freight terminals of the Great Western road from this city to Stockton, Ill. The company insists that it is situated at the best place for a large quantity of land at the latter place and is building a roundhouse and homes for the men. The change will mean the removal of the freight terminals from Dubuque of several hundred persons.

PRESIDENT TAFT VISITS ELLIS ISLAND STATION

New York, Oct. 21.—President Taft had his first view yesterday of that wonderful piece of machinery on Ellis island, where the aliens of many countries undergo their first grueling on the road to American citizenship. He spent five hours in the one place in the United States where the rights of human beings are put to a severe test by executive action alone, while the tedious work of separating the moderately good immigrants from the wholly bad ones goes on day after day.

As a result of his studies and observations today, Mr. Taft reached a pretty definite conclusion on three points: He believes that a strong effort should be made to distribute the influx of foreigners and do away with the present congestion in New York.

He believes that heavier penalties should be exacted of the steamship companies for infraction of the immigration laws.

He believes that all male immigrants upon their arrival here should be put through an examination as to the condition of families left behind in Europe.

NAVY YARD EMPLOYEES INJURED IN COLLISION

Kittery, Me., Oct. 21.—Eighty employees of the Portsmouth navy yard, on injured today, three possibly fatally, in a collision between a heavily loaded trolley cars on the Atlantic Shore Line railway, at Fort Hill.

Falling leaves had made the rails slippery, and the trolley cars, mounting the hill failed to respond to its brakes and rolled back down the hill, crashing into another car. George Gunnison, William Foye and Thomas Sillings were the most dangerously hurt.

THACA, N. Y.—Twice in his speech last night Professor E. H. Woodcut, of Cornell university, called Theodore Roosevelt a liar, once an "unintegrated liar." His attack was made at a political rally over which he presided, and threw the house into an uproar. There were catcalls, hisses, cheers and clapping, with a steady hand behind them all of "Parker" Parker, Judge Alton B. Parker, which begged the audience to allow Professor Woodcut to be heard. The matter, and it was completed and the rest of the evening went more quietly.

ALLEGED GRAFTERS ON TRIAL IN SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 21.—The trial of State Senator Stapton C. Pemberton, of Oakland, and Representative Joseph S. Clark, of Vandavia, charged with conspiracy in connection with the letting of the contract last January for new armaments for the house and senate began at 10 o'clock this morning in the Sangamon county circuit court.

This was the first case to be brought to trial in this county, resulting from the bribery investigation carried on by State Attorney Burke last summer.

WHEELS OF JUSTICE BLOCKED BY GAME

Chicago, Oct. 21.—An extraordinary incident in the world's championship game occurred in Judge Scanlan's court.

The judge having ascertained that the members of his jury were more interested in a game than in the case at bar, he sought to right matters by having the score by innings read to the court, dismissed the jury, and the game was resumed.

The jurors looked so melancholy in the court room, that the panel of the day, explaining that in the circumstances it was impossible for the jury to spare enough attention from the game and its results to hear any more evidence.

Madison has a woman who is willing to dye for a man, says the Post. That's nothing. Wayne has a woman who goes to the cemetery for one. No, you needn't make googoo eyes at me.

This is a good time of year to break a woman to hobble skirts. She might fall and break her leg and you know she couldn't recover in time to do any Christmas shopping.

A Kansas City man is asking for a divorce on the grounds that his wife came home late one night wearing a strange bit mark on her neck. Those Kansas City husbands are getting particular since the days of Jack Cudahy.

They say we'll soon be able to send a letter for a cent, but we will always scent a graft in two-thirds of the letters that come to the Democrat, aside from the postage.

Too bad Wellman didn't lose his gas and save The American, instead of saving his gas and losing the balloon.

They say Crippen only "put his foot in it" on the witness stand, but the judge slipped it up to his neck and the hangman will do the rest.

Won't the Omaha Bee and the Columbus Telegram make funny looking bedfellows after election? Judge Howard will certainly know that he is a long way from home, and Victor will feel as mean as he did in the notorious days of his union "suit."

An exchange says the new $5 bills will be very small. Suffer the little ones to come to us on that overdue subscription account.

A Madison woman uses 119 hair pins to hold on other peoples hair, according to the Post.

Holdrege Progress: Gilbert M. Hitchcock, the democratic candidate for election as United States senator, is a man with qualifications so far superior to those of his opponent, present Senator E. J. Burkett, that there should be no hesitation in the minds of the people of this state as to which their choice will be. Burkett, in his silk-lined coat is going up and down the state practicing a great deception on the people as only the smoothly-talking, many-sided, many-faced Burkett can. Burkett after voting to maintain or raise every tariff schedule on every necessity of our every day lives has the smiling nerve to come out and ask us to hand it to him again, to send him to Washington to serve the "system" in the name of the common people of Nebraska. Burkett's nerve is so strong, his sense of the fitness of things so perverted, that his continued campaigning in the state is an insult to the people who have been victimized by him and other masters of the tariff revision fiasco. That such men are tolerated in public life and service is so disgusting to the layman that he becomes discouraged and comes to view with dissatisfaction and distrust the most sacred institutions of government. Burkett is the political Judas of our day.

One "professor" has been discovered who Woodruff it with the colonel.

And don't, in the heat of politics, forget the corn show. Get your prize-winning exhibits in order.

Of course we'll all go to the corn show after Dahlman is elected.

"I shall never retire," declares Sarah Bernhardt. That makes two of them. Can you, on the spur of the moment, recall the name of the other one?—Sioux City Journal.

You bet. Ballinger, by dad.

Next Monday night is Halloween. Take everything in the woodshed and padlock the door, not forgetting to anchor down the closet.

D. E. Thompson, former ambassador to Mexico, and who owns about one-third of the city of Lincoln, states there are at present 1500 empty houses in Lincoln and that he will pay $50 for each empty house less than that number if the prohibits will agree to give him one dollar each for all the empty houses. Lincoln is going to give a big majority vote for Dahlman for governor. Watch the returns for it.

The day for executing Dr. Crippen has been advanced a week and is set for November 8. The peculiar cruelty about this is that it denies the doctor the privilege of hearing the election returns from the United States.—World-Herald.

But then there are others, a few in Nebraska, for instance, such as Edgar Howard, for example, who will wish they were hung like Crippen, by dad.

Oil Inspector Fred Pratt was here yesterday between trains. Fred says Edgar Howard is despised by the democrats in Platte county as elsewhere in the state and they are laying for the Columbus editor to crack him if he ever comes above water; that Howard has not disappointed any one very much where he is well known, because he always was a bad Indian.

If Von Phul can't find that lost balloon a couple more could be secured in Omaha and Columbus to join in the search.

No matter what your politics vote for Phil Kohl for state senator. Down in Stanton the democratic paper is putting in its best, long ticks for the republican candidate, Chas. McLeod, because he is a Stanton man and a good fellow. If the democrats of Stanton can support a republican candidate because of home pride what are you Wayne republicans going to do when you have ten times as much at stake in Kohl's election as a Stanton democrat has in the election of our good friend McLeod. By dad, out out your partisanship this occasion. We need a lot of republican votes to elect the man who saved us all on the state normal school deal. Defeat Kohl this election—by Wayne county's vote—and there will not in many years to come be any probability of Wayne county pulling all together on a proposition vital to all of us.

The corn show follows election but it will not leave any bad taste in your mouth.

Bronchos Brought Him Across.

Fessed Up to Escape the Heels of Bucking Bronks, Says Hi Oman.

Hi Oman lives on a rented farm near Winside and Mr. and Mrs. John VanSoik keep house for him. Hi was in Wayne yesterday and told a hard-luck story that would excite the sympathy of any one unless it be the parties who were directly and indirectly the cause of his humiliation. Hiram is a nice young man who has been farming and going to college between times and the Democrat has known him for a number of years as an honest man. His story is that VanSoik some days ago accused him of trying to be very intimate with Mrs. VanSoik, in fact about $300 worth, but if the long green was forthcoming there would be nothing further doing about it. Hiram spurned any such compromise so John came to Wayne last Saturday and with the aid of County Attorney Davis and Sheriff Mears had poor Hiram behind the doors of the Mears palisade the evening of the same day. Mr. Oman states that on Monday the county attorney went to Winside and after learning the real facts in the matter refused to prosecute the case and Oman was released. Just how such a course as the above could be followed the Democrat is at a loss to understand, and Mr. Oman says he purposes to find out what authority there can be for locking him up on the mere demand of VanSoik.

The humorous side of the affair is told with a good deal of relish by Hiram. He has a team of very mean bronchos and he had warned VanSoik to keep out of their stall. Since Hi went home he caught John hung up in front of the vicious horses calling for help to get out. Hi says his first thought was to let John get kicked or stomped to death, but he finally agreed to help him get out of his perilous position if he would admit that he had lied about him. Hiram, and the woman in the case, and Hi says that John said it was all a put up job to make Hi loosen up for the three hundred.

Wischhof—Roebor.

The wedding of Miss Alma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Wischhof, to Mr. August Roebor, took place Thursday afternoon at the Lutheran church northeast of Wayne, Rev. Karpenstein officiating. In the evening a large number of guests were invited to the home of Mr. Wischhof and enjoyed a dancing party, a Wayne orchestra furnishing excellent music.

Don't miss the foot ball game at 3 p. m. Friday.

Mr. A. Lansing of Omaha entertained our high school last Friday morning with a couple of vocal solos. Mr. Lansing's singing was a great treat to us all.

Visitors within a week were Mesdames Elming, Roe, Brown and Graves. On Friday the Senior class gave the following twenty-minute program, with Alfred Lewis presiding:—Piano solo, by Rolfe Miller; A brief description of the Geographical features of Japan, by Ruth White; A description of the people of Japan, by Vera Thomas; Customs of the Japanese people, by James McEachen and a piano solo, by Eugenia Palmer.

Did you examine the first six-week report brought home by your child last week?

On Wednesday morning Rev. Gorst of the Methodist church addressed the high school on "Why Go to School?" He forcibly impressed upon his audience the necessity of knowledge in order to fill the command which is upon all people, "Have Dominion." Mr. Gorst's words were very enthusiastically received and will be a great help to both students and teachers.

Saturday afternoon always being a busy time, many who would like to see the football games cannot get out, so we have arranged for one game on Friday afternoon. Tomorrow, Friday afternoon, Oct. 28, 1910 will occur probably the only Friday game on the local grounds this year. Don't miss this game. Neligh vs. Wayne. Neligh has a good team and so have we. Game is called at 3 o'clock. Come and help us win.

Geo. F. Theis bought a full blood, high grade team from Theo. Johann. They don't have a pedigree yet but will be entitled to one in a year or two.

Theo. Johann finished threshing the cane, Tuesday, for Gus Seelmeyer who has been raising it all summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant wears took their boarders, Henry Hogrefe and Roy Oman, out to get a "sniff" of the good old country air, Sunday. Hogrefe wanted to get some winter clothing but found that his hair had already taken possession of it, so the poor fellow will probably have to freeze while the other one snuggles up close and "pulls the blankets over his head."

F. H. BENSHOOF.

Messrs John Brady, from Ohio, William from Independence, Io., and James from Sioux Falls, S. D., were in the city over Sunday, guests of their nephew, C. A. Chace. They had all been at Stanton for a little reunion at the home of their sister, Mrs. E. R. Chace.

The Wayne men home from Alamosa, Col., are enthusiastic over that country, and planning to go again. Clyde Oman says crops were immense in the valley; oats yielded 110 bushels per acre, wheat over 60, the biggest crops of hay and alfalfa he ever saw in his life. But the climate and water is what discounts all other considerations.

E. A. Dickerson, son of W. S. returned to Omaha Tuesday after a visit in Wayne. Mr. Dickerson is a republican but an ardent Dahlman man. He can give any doubting Thomas a bill of particulars as to why Jim Dahlman has made Omaha the best mayor the city has ever had, both as an economical executive and from a moral standpoint. All the business men, manufacturers and wholesalers of Omaha are for Dahlman, while the red-light districts are strong for Aldrich. Of course you could not make the prohibs and preachers in this part of the state know the reason why.

Rev. Wm. Keam was the guest of Rev. Walsh of Battle Creek, last week. Rev. Walsh has just returned from his trip to Europe.

A reader expresses the opinion that there is nothing smart about the by dad column. He is eminently correct, but we are living in hopes that where so much is written we might accidentally say something smart just by accident, some day.

Bixby in the State Journal says that "as an explorer Edgar Howard is a few points ahead of Dr. Cook," but we don't believe it. The doctor left his records on a mountain high and cold, but Edgar left himself in a colder place than Cook's records.

Burkett refused to meet Hitchcock because, as Burkett says, Hitchcock lied about him. Say, is there a five year-old kid in Wayne who would make that kind of an excuse because another boy lied about him? If there is we'll bet a block of real-estate that the little coward is the son of an Elmer Burkett standpatter.

Theo. Roosevelt just had time to telegraph that on account of pressing engagements he was unable to attend the Dolliver funeral. Other notable citizens gave up their political appointments. Of course there wouldn't be much chance for Mr. Roosevelt to make a spectacle of himself at a funeral.

"Just fifty-six years ago today that we sailed from Liverpool," said Sam Barnes last Saturday, and with that the old gentleman fell into a reminiscent mood and said that it took them just eight weeks to reach New York City. Eight days of bad winds kept them in sight of the shores of old Ireland, and after the same number of days beating about the American coast they were pulled into the bay by a tug. There were three deaths and five births aboard ship—and it was a memorable trip. Mr. Barnes was thirteen years old at that date.

An amusing story about Roosevelt has just come to light after many years of darkness. During the honors at the White House to an English guest, the president regaled the latter with stories of his prowess during the Spanish-American war. Kermit, who had been an attentive listener to the monologue, finally broke in with the anxious query: "Say, popper, couldn't you get anybody to help you llok the Spaniards?"

That girl in Kentucky who is sweating glass must have been hard-up for a mirror. The doctors swear they saw it so it must have been looking glass.

Old Violins

And How They Are Made

It is claimed that the violins of the 17th century are the finest the world has ever known for tone quality. Why? The old violin makers selected trees from the upper Alps in Switzerland. After cutting the logs in proper lengths, they dropped them in skidways sliding down for two or three miles. The friction created from contact with the skidway caused the logs to become heated to such an extent that when they dashed into the water at the bottom the sudden change in temperature completed the preparation of the timber to be cut into thin strips for violin making. The claim is that this is what gave the tone to the timber or material from which they are made. Now a few words about

Wayne Flour

And How It Is Made

The most essential thing about the manufacture of flour is to procure raw material of superior quality. This we have done. The best KIND of wheat. The best QUALITY of wheat. The MOST PERFECT berry. Having all the necessary material with which to make flour, we proceed by thoroughly separating, cleaning and washing the wheat before grinding, after which it is bolted, dressed and ready for the packer. The flour is pure, pearly white, having no superior and few equals. It makes flaky bread, splendid rolls, fine grained cake. Try it now.

We will give each newly married couple a sack of Superlative flour with the compliments of the Mill. Application must be made in person at the Mill.

ANOTHER VETERAN IS GONE.

Mark Stringer Passed Away Last Tuesday Night.

Although a survivor himself of one of the cruellest wars this old world has ever seen, no soldier on the battle field ever put up a braver fight against certain defeat than did our fellow citizen and friend, Mark Stringer, Sr., who died Tuesday night about ten o'clock.

Everyone in the community knows of the long, pathetic, hopeless struggle the dead hero made, but none save the inmates of that bereaved household can have any comprehension of the sufferings of the dying, nor the severity of the duty enforced upon the living. For nine years deceased was a victim of a cancer, which first appeared on his lower lip, and although strenuous efforts were made to effect a cure, and at various times it was thought the infection had been eradicated, it always reappeared. For two years the patient, long-suffering man was confined to the house and bed, fast the past twelve months. Up to four months ago Mr. Stringer spent 30 odd weeks in an Omaha hospital, since then under the care of his daughters and nurses in Wayne.

Mark Stringer was born in St. Chrysostome, Quebec, Can., June 5, 1841. When a boy of 14 he went to Chicago; two years later to Decorah, Ia., then to Kansas for a couple of years and back to Decorah where he enlisted in the 16th U. S. Infantry, Co. I. He served about three years, being badly wounded at the battle of Shilo, which necessitated his discharge from the army. September 1865, found him the first mechanic to go to work in the Union Pacific shops at Omaha, later going west as far as Sydney to assist in the survey to Cheyenne.

In '68 he went to Ponca and where he was married March 28, 1869, to Miss Matilda Dygert, of Dixon county. The family came to Wayne in 1880 where Mr. Stringer prospered, owning some good farm lands and enjoying a lucrative blacksmith and machinery business. No man within the confines of Wayne county was more respected than Mark Stringer. He served as mayor of the town most acceptably, and his family took a leading part in the duties of the church and society. The sudden death of Mrs. Stringer in 1902 was a grievous bereavement and shortly thereafter Mr. Stringer and his two daughters moved to Lincoln where the latter attended the state university, Miss Carrie Stringer occupying a high position among the teachers of the state, while upon her younger sister devolved the care of their sick father.

Mr. Stringer was the last member of a family of eight children. His children all survive him, being Richard Otis, who farms near Wayne; Caroline, who is principal of a ward school in Omaha; Mark S. of Arlington; George H., our townsman, and Alice, who has been a guardian angel to her father of late years.

The funeral will take place tomorrow, Friday, at the Presbyterian church, deceased having been a member of it since the early days of Wayne. Owing to the absence of the pastor Rev. Ringer will have charge of the services.

County Sunday School Convention A Success.

The County S. S. Convention held last Friday and Saturday in the Baptist church was a success from every point of view. The attendance, however, should have been at least twice as great. There was eleven schools represented by delegates and there was seven parties present.

The Elementary department work received an important place in the program and was ably presented by Miss Margaret Brown, State Elementary Supt. A very interesting address, "The Sixth World's Sunday School Convention," was also given by her.

The Adult department work was presented by General Secretary Chas. H. B. Lewis in his practical and original address.

Other interesting addresses were given by Prof. House, Rev. Alexander Corkey, Rev. Shacklock and Mrs. E. B. Young. The music was furnished Friday evening by the Men's Choir of the M. E. church, and solos were also given by Willis Fleetwood and Mrs. E. S. Blair. The Convention was an inspiration and help to all that attended. The following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas we, as delegates of Wayne County S. S. Convention have received many suggestions with regard to our work in the Sunday School, We are resolved first with God's help to bring our Sunday School work up to the Standard as fixed by the International S. S. Association, so as to come in touch with every man, woman and child in Wayne county that is not yet in the Sunday School Second, To thank Rev. Chas. H. Lewis and Miss Margaret Brown who have been so helpful to us in giving us inspiration for better work. Third, To the Wayne people who have furnished the music and also those who, have so kindly entertained us; we tender our warmest thanks.

"I had suffered with catarrh of the kidneys and bowels, but now I am much better and feel real strong."

Completely Pauperized. Albert W. Hebbard, New York's charity expert, said at a recent dinner:

"The great danger of charity is its pauperizing effect. This effect must be avoided, or the recipients will all become Jack Hanches."

"Jack Hanch, on the score of bad health, never worked, and the pastor of the Methodist church, a man whose heart sometimes outran his head, sent the idler and his family weekly gifts of food and clothing—supported the whole crew, in fact."

"A church visitor, after listening to Jack's complaints one day, said: 'Yes, of course, you have had bad health, we know that; but one thing at least you ought to be thankful for, and that is our pastor's kindness in sending you all this bread and meat and jelly and blankets and so on. Don't you think it is good of him to look after you so well?'"

"Good of him?" said Jack, impatiently. "Why, what's he for?"

Easy for Her. An extremely corpulent old lady was entertaining her grandchild at luncheon when she found occasion to reprimand the little girl for dropping some food on the tablecloth.

"Of course not," replied the child; "God gave you something in front to stop it."

WISE WORDS.

A Physician on Food.

A physician, of Portland, Oregon, has views about food. He says: "I have always believed that the duty of the physician does not cease with treating the sick, but that we owe it to humanity to teach them how to protect their health, especially by a hygienic and dietetic laws."

"With such a feeling as to my duty I take great pleasure in saying to the public that in my own experience and also from personal observation I have found no food equal to Grape-Nuts, and that I find there is almost no limit to the great benefits this food will bring when used in all cases of sickness and convalescence."

"It is my experience that no physical condition forbids the use of Grape-Nuts. To persons in health there is nothing so nourishing and acceptable to the stomach as Grape-Nuts when the stomach is too weak to digest other food."

"This is written after an experience of more than 20 years, treating all manner of chronic and acute diseases, and the letter is written voluntarily on my part without any request for it."

"Goodby," she called. "Goodby. You also have kept us safely. I shall always remember!"

I dared not look back. I felt that I was forever leaving a spot more dear and sacred than home itself. So I strode blindly on, hurrying myself savagely at the underbrush, until the very faint light of my exertions seemed to exhaust the three miles I had within.

"Am I going too fast?" I asked, pausing and turning to her, for her foot-steps told me that she was close at my heels.

"No," she said, "but you must be tiring yourself terribly, and to little useful purpose. I do not require a path so wide as the one you have been making."

"It was the brute fighting itself out," I explained, "exhausting itself by bruising and trampling down those poor, innocent things."

"And it quit exhausted?"

"I trust so. Do you never have an impulse to destroy things—to rend them apart and shatter them to bits?"

"Sometimes," she admitted, laughing. "It's like a thunderstorm, isn't it?—All fire and fury while it lasts, but leaving one cleaned and purified. Oh, laughing again as she caught my glance, 'as you would have seen for yourself long ere this had you been of an observing turn. Is this so far as we go through the bushes?'"

"No," I answered, checking the words which rose to my lips, and I set off again, nor paused until she had again left me a mile behind us.

"Now, we can rest," I said, and sat down at the edge of the bushes. She sat beside me and leaned her chin upon her hand as she gazed down into the valley. The sun was sinking to the west and the road seemed the merest yellow ribbon between its green hedges. Far ahead, I could see that the country again was a level plain, with a low range of purple hills closed in the horizon.

As we sat there silent, a cloud of dust appeared far down the road, and I was again in the cover of the bushes, fearing that it was another regiment which approached. But it was only a flock of sheep driven by three shepherds in the distance.

"That explains why there are no longer any flocks in these pastures. The Republic has swallowed them, and has swallowed so many other things."

"We watched them until they passed from sight on the horizon behind a cloud of dust, which rose and rose until it hid the sun's face."

"Yonder behind that cloud lies Thouras," I said.

"And a league beyond is Coulanges—and another league added, and I am possible."

"Always thinking of that!" I rejoined bitterly.

"Yes—of safety and home! How I shall delight to be there once again!"

"Home! And I do not even know where that is! Why is it, mademoiselle, that you have told me nothing of yourself? Do you mistrust me, or do you distrust the Republic?"

"What an absurd question. But there is so little to tell."

"And you refuse to tell me even that? I know you exist, for you gaze down at me. How am I to find you again, if fate is indeed kind to me? Where am I to look for you?"

"A perfect lover would have trusted his eyes, and you speak of fate!"

"But since you do not, you may as well know that the Chateau de Chambray is two leagues south of Pottiers."

"I said, 'I shall not have far to go for it.' I pray heaven it may be my fortune to seek you there."

"I could see by her sparkling eyes that the spirit of mischief had sprung to life again."

"We shall be very glad to welcome you, my father and I," she said, without permitting me to finish. "Perhaps we can even persuade you to bring your betrothed with you. Why not spend your honeymoon at Chambray, monsieur?"

"I should like to spend it there," I retorted, "but with another woman."

"It was her turn to redden, and she did so in good earnest."

"Do you think fortune will favor me that far, mademoiselle?" I persisted.

"Then she arched herself and struck me a savage blow."

"No," she answered, quickly. "I think fortune will hold you to your promise and that you will soon forget to rail at her. Your heart is exceedingly inflammable and will burn none the less ardently when it is lit by the spark of your betrothed who applies the spark."

SAVAGE IS ONLY MAN WHO HAS NO REGRETS

Minneapolis Man Has Paid Fabulous Prices, but Has Won Out on His Horses.

Minneapolis Special. M. W. Savage, of Minneapolis, conspicuous at the present time as the man who is running a corner in two minute pacers, is unique in the history of the harness horse racing game. He enjoys the distinction of being the man who has paid more "long prices" for famous horses than any other lowly man, and has not yet bought a "gold brick."

Every one of the great horses that Mr. Savage has bought has "gone on," and most of them are still going.

His horses, however, have been regarded as a questionable asset. The faster the horse the more delicate his mechanism and the terrific strain of his work, the more often they than not, is liable to resist in serious injuries. More horses that have been bought for big sums have proven bad investments than otherwise and many a man has been ruined by the process.

"Whether it is luck, and many will claim that it is, or good judgment in the purchase, the treatment, training, and care of the horse, is a matter of fact remains that Mr. Savage stands alone as the man who has bought horses at fabulous prices and never been sorry."

When the Minneapolisian bought Dan Patch for $50,000, his friends shook their heads and it was whispered that "another good church member had gone broke." Mr. Savage, however, thought that the men who sold Dan were not entirely sure but they had "unloaded" something.

At the time of the purchase, Dan Patch had a record of 1:57.2 for the mile and had improved the first year of the ownership and his successive reductions of world's records until he had a mark of 1:55.2 for the mile. It is too well known history to need repetition. Besides, Dan paid for himself the first two years and since that time he has earned many times that amount. He has refused every offer of $150,000 for the horse and will not part with him for any price.

When the time of the purchase, Dan Patch had a record of 1:57.2 for the mile and had improved the first year of the ownership and his successive reductions of world's records until he had a mark of 1:55.2 for the mile. It is too well known history to need repetition. Besides, Dan paid for himself the first two years and since that time he has earned many times that amount. He has refused every offer of $150,000 for the horse and will not part with him for any price.

NEED MONEY FOR GOOD WORK

Plans of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

What "A Million for Tuberculosis from Red Cross Seals" will do in providing some of the 275,000 beds needed at once in the United States for consumptives, is explained in a recent bulletin of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. There is just about one bed for every ten indigent consumptives, and if all tuberculosis persons in the country are counted, both rich and poor, hardly one for every 25 or 30. If sufficient hospital accommodations are provided only for those who are too poor to pay the full price for their treatment fully 275,000 more beds in special institutions for tuberculosis will be needed at once.

The immense outlay necessary to provide and maintain so many beds in hospitals, makes it imperative, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis declares, that such institutions be erected from public money, either municipal, county or state. In order to get appropriations for public hospitals for tuberculosis, agitation is necessary, and in order to create a campaign of agitation, organization is demanded. But in order that an organization may carry on an effective campaign, funds are needed.

These funds it is proposed to secure in as many communities as possible from the sale of Red Cross seals.

The Most Noticeable Change. "So you have lived in Europe for 25 years? That's a long time for a man to be away from his own country."

"Yes, it is, and I'm mighty glad to be home again."

"I suppose you notice a great many changes?"

"Yes, many."

"What, if I may ask, is the greatest change that has come to your notice?"

"The greatest change, it seems to me, is to be found in the fact that the vice-president of the United States succeeds in getting his name in the paper nearly as often as he might if he were a baseball player or a promising lightweight prizefighter."

on the side of the house where winter blasts strike hardest always has a lower temperature than the rest of the house. There are times when it is necessary to raise the temperature quickly or to keep the temperature up for a long period. PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless which can be kept at full or low heat for a short or long time. Four quarts of oil will give a glowing heat for nine hours, without smoke or smell.

An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not screw on; but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached by a chain and cannot get lost.

An automatic-locking flame spreader prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that it can be cleaned in an instant.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be unscrewed in an instant for reworking. Finished in Japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental. Has a good trade.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Black Duck, Minn. "About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my household work. My sickness was called Reformation. When I would sit down I would get up again. I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and did just as you told me and now I am perfectly cured. I have a baby boy."

Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 19, Black Duck, Minn.

Consider This Advice. No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear witness testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

PROPRIETOR

The Nebraska Aldrich must be a limb of the Rhode Island variety. He gets what he goes after if he has to have it made to order—or rather disorder.

Norfolk Press: John C. Sprecher, of Schuyler, was in town last Tuesday. He reports that he is making good progress in the Omaha law school, where he has been a student during the present school year, and intends to locate in Schuyler, some day and practice law.—Columbus Telegram.

Madison Star: It was Joe Bartley, the banker, whom Congressman Hitchcock borrowed the money from and not Joe Bartley, the state treasurer. Can one Norris Brown now a member of the United States senate from Nebraska say as much?

Monday evening's Sioux City Tribune said: "This ominous silence in Nebraska may portend that Joe Bartley is getting ready to let Edgar Howard erupt in a new place," and sure enough in Edgar's mouth-piece, the Omaha Bee, on Tuesday morning, appeared a piper-dream to the effect that James C. Dahlman "was out of it" and that he was being ditched to elect Hitchcock senator. Readers of the World-Herald will no doubt swallow this effusion of Edgar's just as readily as they would car-bolic acid. Several columns daily to boosting Dahlman for governor—in the World-Herald—does look suspicious.

One of the most intelligent and best-read men in the town, a gentleman who has enjoyed the benefits of a college education; has a head large enough to assimilate a more comprehensive study of social and political subjects than the ordinary individual, tells the Democrat that he was simply disgusted with Slippery Elmer's talk at the opera house two weeks ago and that he could find a ten-year old boy who could put up more consistent argument than the senator did; that he had read the Wayne Herald's account of the Burkett meeting, and the Democrat's version of it, and he was simply amazed to know that there were standpatters so densely ignorant or partisan as to stand for such butterine butter as Slippery Elmer was spreading on for them.

The strongest boost Dahlman has received is the endorsement of his administration by the leading men of Omaha irrespective of party. Nearly every big concern—bank, wholesale house and retailer—signed a statement complimentary to Dahlman as an administrator of public affairs—Pender Times.

And the hardest knock is from a number of preachers. Now, the parsons are all right in their way, but you Wayne people can well remember when they got in everyone else's way here in Wayne. Let see, the Wayne preachers referred to all the old pioneer business men, who had charge of civic affairs for the past twenty years, as "being in league with the devil." It is easy to understand, therefore, that the preachers are unduly excited in Omaha; some of them. They get crazy spells once in a while just like ordinary individuals, and Jim Dahlman isn't any more an object of the Omaha pay-cors' wrath today, than Henry Ley, C. A. Chace, Link Neely, Chas. Craven and other Wayne men were of the Wayne preachers some four years ago; fact is they are not as severe on Dahlman as ours were on the local business men.

Talcott, Too, By Dad.

Pender Times: The Wayne Democrat thinks that the citizen of North-eastern Nebraska who refuses to vote for Phil Kohl for state senator don't know which side his bread is buttered on. That's all right, Phil's all right and every word of the above is true over in the Wayne district, but we people over in the eighth district are going to vote for Dr. J. M. Talcott for senator. By the way, Talcott and Kohl will make a great team in the senate.

An Independent View.

Coleridge Blade: Now haven't we a pretty kettle of fish in state politics? Hitchcock tangled up with Bartley and the misappropriation of state funds and permitting an honest debt to outlaw to beat it. Burkett on record in the state legislature as a friend of Bartley and now the beneficiary of Bartley's disclosures. Aldrich, posing as the mother and church candidate, admits paying money to an adventuress hired to lure a man into a liaison that evidence established for divorce proceedings. And Jim Dahlman, wild and woolly, the brewery candidate a peach of a bunch! In spite of his associations, Dahlman begins to look like the whitest one in the bunch. He has posed square. His record is no Sunday school legend but such as it is he told and got there first. Above all types that men dispise is the doddering, smirking, two-faced old whited-sepulcher of a hypocrite. Dahlman is frank to audacity and bad as some of his faults are they are half-condoned in his blunt admissions. No one could imagine Dahlman giving money to a lewd woman and then pleading injured innocence. He is just what he is, and pretends no more, and had or not, that's a thousand times better than being a fancy step artist.

(2) That in the event of an appeal being taken by any of the claimants whose names are herein set forth, to the district court of Wayne county, Nebraska, on account of the rejection in whole or in part, of any claim for damages filed herein, by this Board of county commissioners, then a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by the county clerk of Wayne county, conditioned to save said county of Wayne harmless and fully indemnify said county against any judgment which may hereafter be entered in such appeal in favor of such appellants in the district court of Wayne county at the final termination of such litigation, in excess of the sum or sums herein allowed, and against any and all necessary court costs and expenses occasioned by such litigation, shall within thirty days after the perfecting of any such appeal, be duly filed by one or more of said petitioners with said county clerk of Wayne county, Nebraska.

"Evangelism."

Four of the Wayne churches will hold a Union Mass Meeting at the M. E. church next Sunday evening. These churches are the M. E., the Baptist, the English Lutheran and the Presbyterian. This union meeting will be held in the interests of evangelistic work amongst our churches. The acceptance of Christ as Savior and Lord being the first step in the Christian life, the importance of Evangelism, or the effort to increase the number of Christ's followers and believers, is now recognized by all churches. Without evangelistic effort Christianity would soon become weak and powerless even in Christian countries, and the churches of the future will be those who devote themselves most efficiently to the work of gaining new disciples to the ranks. Several of the Wayne churches have already arranged for these aggressive services this fall, as this is believed to be the best year Wayne has had for religious work for a long time. The speaker at the Union Mass Meeting will be Rev. D. E. Jenkins, D. D., of Omaha, one of the leading Christian workers in the state of Nebraska. The subject of his address will be "Evangelism."
