TEACHERS AND PATRONS MEET

Hold Two Interesting Sessions Saturday at Court House. Great Interest Manifest at These Meetings.

The Wayne County Teachers' Association convened in the district court room Saturday at 10 a. m., with Ben F. Robinson of Sholes, as presiding officer.

The forenoon session was devoted to the study of the professional book, Colgrove's Teacher and the School, the work being led by F. E. Bicknell of Winside, and Miss Maude Grothe.

In a very able manner Mr. Bicknell covered the chapters which treat of the purpose of the school, the course of study and classification. It was agreed that education is the object of the school and that education fits an individual for complete living. The teachers were of an opinion that mental development is as useful for one person as another regardless of the vocation followed. Some even ventured to suggest that if children are correctly taught it is very possible to eliminate a large per cent of the doctors as well as the majority of the lawyers and a few of the preachers. However, they agreed later that all of these should be factors in a universal education.

Miss Grothe prepared an excellent review on the chapters which treat of the program, the moral influences of the school room, and the general work of the school. The matter of decoration of the rooms was discussed and many useful suggestions were made.

Following this, Supt. Kemp, of the Wayne city schools, addressed the teachers on "Moral Education." Mr. Kemp discussed fully the plans that are being made for the North Nebraska Teachers' Association to be held in Norfolk on March 28, 29 and 30, and urged the teachers to not only be in attendance themselves, but to insist upon their school officers attending.

The speaker also spoke of the social conditions existing in society, deploring the tolerance of false modesty in our teaching and insisting upon an united effort in eradication of impurity and vice.

In the afternoon the college male quartette composed of Messrs. Lackey, Coleman, Fleetwood and Lewis, were present and favored the teachers with two selections that received the applause to which they were so well entitled. The writer of this article is fully convinced that Wayne has some singers of whom it has just cause to be proud. Miss Izeta Johnson also appeared on the program and delighted her audience with two pleasing selections very suitable to the occasion.

Mention should also be made of Miss Olive McBeth, instructor of elocution in the State Normal, who portrayed Riley's "Old Glory" in the able manner so characteristic of Miss McBeth.

Following this the teachers and patrons took up the discussion of "Some Ideas."

Mr. Cliff Penn gave some very

District Meeting of I. O. O. F.

The Odd Fellows of Wayne are already making preparations to entertain the annual district meeting of that order for the district embracing all of northeastern Nebraska. It is expected that no less than three to four hundred visitors and delegates will be in attendance from various points in the district. The work will be exemplified on half a dozen candidates, teams from Emerson, Wakefield and Bloomfield putting on the work.

The date of the meeting is Tuesday, March 12, and it is none too early for our city to begin to spruce up a bit in honor of so many guests. We have a pretty, presentable little place any old time, but at the close of a hard winter a little brushing up will not hurt.

The Rebeccas will serve a supper at the usual supper hour, and about midnight a banquet will be spread by the Odd Fellows (by proxy) in honor of their many guests.

It might not be out of place to mention here that Wayne lodge is prospering, taking in a number of new members at each meeting. At the last meeting the goat was especially busy. At this meeting, Past Grand J. H. Kate presented the lodge with three beautiful gilded links emblematic of the order of F. L. and T.

Filing for Office

The man who is willing to serve his county is coming out in the open. The season opens early this presidential year, and there is but three weeks yet of open season, the last day being March 20, if we figure it correctly.

C. H. Hendrickson, now city attorney for Wayne has filed for the republican nomination for county attorney, and is the first to enter the race for that office. It is reported that there will be others.

F. M. Hostetter, a farmer living west of Wayne has filed for the democratic nomination for supervisor of the 2nd district. Mr. Hostetter is a successful farmer, and a man with whom we have heard no fault.

The offices to be filled at the election this fall are senator, representative, county attorney, county assessor, and supervisor for 2nd district. Speak up Mr. Voter and tell who you want to serve you.

Bell-Lawrence

At the Methodist parsonage February 21, 1912, Mr. Hugh Lawrence and Miss Lottie Bell, Rev. Wm. Gorst officiating. The bride and groom were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Chapman who had been at the parsonage on a similar mission a year before, and witnessed this wedding as a sort of anniversary of their own happy union.

Cook-Williams

At Wayne county court house G. A. Williams from Lyman county, South Dakota, and Bessie May Cook of Wayne, were united in marriage Wednesday, February 28, 1912, Judge James Britton officiating. They will live in South Dakota.

District Court Proceeding

The first week of the District Court proceedings were not very exciting, and were largely merely routine matter, though some fine legal points were brought up.

In the matter of Gustave Schwede vs county commissioners the finding was for the county. It was a matter relating to the opening of a new road.

The Mary Evans vs. Humphrey Evans and others, the referee sale was approved.

Ira Anson vs. Chris Hanson, dismissed at cost of plaintiff.

Myrtle E. McVay was granted a divorce from Fred L. McVay for desertion.

Wm. Benschopf vs. Wayne county, appealed, was dismissed at cost of plaintiff. A number of cases were settled and one or two continued.

The attention of the court was taken Monday and part of Tuesday with the case of Phil. H. Kohl vs. C. R. Munson and Henry Kellogg; an action on the part of Mr. Kohl for share of the profits from a real estate sale in which the three men were interested, and he sued for $1,600. Berry & Berry were attorneys for plaintiff and A. R. Davis and I. G. Dunn, of Sioux City for defense. The case went to the jury Tuesday afternoon and after being out several hours they found for Mr. Kohl in the sum of $1,000. Defendants filed motion for new trial.

The case of Gustav Marotz vs. C. Templin plaintiff confessed judgment in sum of $57.60. The claim was that he had made excessive charges.

The case of Siemon Goeman for cruelty to wife was continued, Mrs. G. being reported unable to appear in court.

The state cases against Siemon Goeman, George Ghenther and Sam Miller were shifted to the foot of the docket, and may not be reached this term.

State vs. Fred Brueckner, appealed from county court, appeal was withdrawn and defendant accepted the decree of lower court, a fine of $10 and costs, the latter amounting to about $50.

Wednesday the case of State vs. Fred, Paul and William Brueckner charged with resisting an officer was on trial, and went to the jury last evening, except as to Fred Brueckner, who was dismissed by order of the court. At this writing the jury is out, not having reached an agreement.

The trial of Mike O'Conner, charged with fighting in violation of city ordinance is now under consideration. Mr. O'Conner failed to appear at court this morning as directed and as under bond to do, and thus forfeited his bond.

When this case is completed several civil cases are yet docketed for the remainder of the week, and it is hoped to clear the docket so that court may adjourn Saturday.

Nelson-Lutt

At the Lutheran parsonage in Wayne, Tuesday, February 27, 1912, Mr. Otto Lutt and Miss Anna Nelson, both of Wayne, Rev. C. J. Ringer officiating. W. Lutt and Maria Nelson, brother and sister of the groom and bride, accompanied the happy couple and witnessed the wedding ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Nelson who live about five miles southeast of Wayne, and Mr. Lutt is son of John Lutt and wife from near Wakefield. After the marriage the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's parents, and the evening following a brilliant reception was tendered to about fifty relatives and friends of the contracting parties in honor of the event.

It was a happy party who feasted, danced and passed the merry hours away at the commodious home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, and congratulations were sincere and hearty.

Among the guests from away were Mr. and Mrs. G. Peterson of Beldon, Erick Nelson and wife and Mr. Hamm from Meadow Grove, and P. C. Nelson from Stanley county, South Dakota.

The newly married couple will begin housekeeping on the Lutt farm southeast of Wayne. They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Society Notes

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church enjoyed a Washington luncheon at the beautiful home of Mrs. Sherbahn last Thursday afternoon, which was artistically decorated in the national colors, flowers and shaded lights, in harmony with the occasion. The guests were met at the door and entertained throughout the afternoon by the Misses Ruth Sherbahn, Hallie Lamberson and Nora Ziemer, who were dressed in colonial costume. The dining room presented a very pretty appearance in red lights, the table having a small cherry tree and hatchet as centerpiece. A principal feature of the two course luncheon was the Martha Washington pie which was heartily enjoyed by those present. It is reported as a most delightful affair.

On February 22nd the members of the Post and the ladies of the Circle went to the home of David Moler, the commander of the post, in a group and gave the gentleman a grand surprise in honor of his 70th birthday. About thirty members were present, chiefly constituting the members of the post and the circle. The evening was spent in games and music after which a delicious luncheon was served. About a week ago the same party surprised Mr. Stallsmith, so Mr. Cunningham presented both Mr. Stallsmith and Mr. Moler with a beautiful gift in behalf of the Circle. After a number of toasts and hearty laughter the guests departed feeling that they had enjoyed a most delightful evening.

About forty members of the Baptist church called on Mr. and Mrs. Dayton, who recently arrived here from Harlan, Iowa, and are residing in the Dan Harrington home which they purchased and last Friday gave them a general house warming and reception, the ladies bringing baskets filled with good things which they served after the gentlemen arrived in the evening. A very sociable afternoon and evening was spent and both Mr. and Mrs. Dayton were made to feel that they were indeed cordially welcomed into Wayne's social circle. They met many new friends in this manner who in turn were glad to make their further acquaintance.

The P. E. O. enjoyed an interesting afternoon and evening Tuesday when Miss Bertha C. Hughes of South Omaha, who is state organizer for that lodge, was here to inspect the ritualistic work of the society. After the business meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Ellis, the members adjourned to the home of Mrs. Harry Fisher where they partook of a four-course dinner. The evening was then spent socially, Mrs. Hughes giving several excellent readings, the principal one being "The Conversion of Martha," from the book "The Sign of the Cross." Miss Hughes made a very pleasing impression.

The Rural Home Society met with Mrs. Madison Bressler on Thursday, February 22nd. It being the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Corbit, everything was in readiness for the reception of the bride and groom, from the laying of the carpet from the carriage to the door to the ceremony. Hatchets and cherry tree's held a prominent place. The bride's gown was from across the water, some ninety or a hundred years ago.

An elegant three course dinner was served by the hostess and members. "It was good to be there."

The Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. Lutgen last Friday afternoon. Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve led the lesson. "A Busy Sabbath," and made the study very interesting. The next monthly meeting, March 22, will be an open meeting, given in the church parlors when a program, social hour and light refreshments will be had. The object is to give the public an idea of the work being accomplished by the society.

The Monday club enjoyed a most interesting meeting with Mrs. Maif Monday afternoon, the subject of the lesson being "My Native State," each lady giving a brief history of her native state. Mrs. Marsteller then presented an excellent paper on "Women in Civic Life," reviewing the lives of prominent philanthropic workers—such as Helen Gould, Jane Addams, etc. The club meets next week with Mrs. Marsteller.

Mrs. C. H. Fisher was hostess at the last meeting of the U. D. club which met with a very good attendance Monday afternoon. An excellent review on "Marie Claire" by the great French novelist, Marguerite Audoux was given by Mrs. Ray Reynolds. Responses to roll call were current events. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Morris.

Mrs. Marsteller entertained the ladies Union Bible Circle Wednesday afternoon. There was a splendid meeting and a large attendance. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Geo. Warner next Wednesday. A cordial invitation to all.

On last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shultheis entertained the members of the Pioneer Whist club at a six-thirty dinner. After the sumptuous spread, the remainder of the delightful evening was devoted to whist.

The Acme club met for their regular lesson with Mrs. Hamer Wilson Tuesday afternoon, the chief topic of discussion being current events. A fairly good attendance was present. Their next meeting will be with Mrs. Duerig.

The ladies of the G. A. R. will meet Saturday, March 2nd, at 3 p. m. All the ladies are requested to be present and as this is the month for the quarterly dues all are requested to bear this in mind.

The Shakespear club met for their regular lesson Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Buffington. The program was carried out in full with a good attendance.

The Ladies of St. Mary's Guild will hold another Food Exchange at Ahern's store Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Hamer Wilson entertained about twelve of her lady friends at luncheon last Thursday.

Janke-Dangberg

Adolph Janke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Janke and Miss Emma Dangberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Dangberg were united in marriage by Rev. G. F. Press in St. Pauls Lutheran church in Winside February 20th. Mr. and Mrs. Janke will live on a farm south of Winside.

A largely attended reception was given in their honor at the Dangberg home that evening, and many bestowed presents and good wishes on the worthy young couple.

Revival Meetings

Evangelist Will Pugsley of Toronto, Canada, known as the "Canadian Cyclone," is preaching to large audiences each evening at the Baptist church. He has gotten hold of things in an unusual way in a very short time. One has to hear him but once to recognize him as a man of no common strength. Pleasant in appearance, clear in his thinking, quaint in his humor, and tender in his appeals, he commands the closest attention from all who hear him. No one sleeps in his audience. Very plain and simple in his manner and style, yet persuasive in the earnestness that runs through his words.

He is a man with a message, and his message is for man. One easily understands why he is called the "Canadian Cyclone," for with his words of humor and eloquence, of earnestness and compassion he grips his hearers with the hold of a strong leader.

The people of Wayne have an opportunity of hearing Mr. Pugsley each evening at the Baptist church. Those who hear him once want to hear him again.

New Quarters for Uncle Sam

Postoffice Inspector L. A. Thompson has been at Wayne, and has tacked up a special notice on the wall of the quarters now used as a postoffice asking for bids on leasing a building adequate in size and of modern furnishings for the use of the public. The specifications ask for not less than 1,400 square feet of floor space, a central location and not over 80 rods from the depot. A suitable building does not appear to be available now, but there are plenty of available locations where such building could be built, and there is time enough to finish quite a building before the first of July, and that is, the time the room will be asked for. Who will get the postoffice building?

Carroll Men Entertained

The men of the Carroll Methodist church entertained the business men of that place last Monday evening, engaging the ladies of the church to serve an excellent banquet which was enjoyed by all. Plates were laid for 100, and after the feasting a happy and profitable hour was spent listening to numerous toasts. It was in the nature of a Brotherhood entertainment, though they have no organization there.

A Clean Scalp and Healthy Hair

Many of your friends have found that a luxuriant growth of hair—soft and glossy—and a scalp free from dandruff will result from the use of ...Nyal's Hirsutone...

This is the procedure—

Wash the hair with warm water and a pure soap—rinse thoroughly—rub the scalp with a stiff brush—apply Hirsutone—rub it in well and dry the hair before combing.

Please understand that Hirsutone is not merely a hair-wash—it is a tonic—a food.

While it thoroughly cleanses, it also prevents bacterial action—nourishes and stimulates the roots of the hair—removes all dandruff—prevents its return—and preserves the natural beauty and color of hair.

Nyal's Hirsutone should be on your dressing table. It sells at $1.00 the bottle.

Whatever a good drug store ought to have—and many things that other drug stores don't keep—you'll find here. Come to us first, and you'll get what you want.

The farmers of this vicinity will read with interest the opinion of J. G. Mr. Biller is in position to know what he is talking about, as he is familiar with this part of Nebraska, where he farmed so many years, and where his heart is yet, if we may judge by his letter. It may not be out of place to add in this connection that the farmers of this vicinity are realizing the importance of the alfalfa field, for one dealer informs us that he has sold more than a ton of this seed already this spring, if we can call February spring in Nebraska.

John B. Fogerty, from Everett, Washington, was at Wayne Friday assisting Patrick Coleman in celebrating his 80th birth anniversary. Mr. Fogerty is a member of the law firm of Fogerty, Coleman & Anderson, and was called to St. Paul on business and came this way to see his partner's father on his 80th birthday. Mr. Coleman was born in Ireland February 23, 1832, and came to America from the old sod in 1865. After living about eight years in Ottawa, Illinois, he moved to Nebraska, settling in Platte county, where he lived a dozen years, then moved to Wayne county about 26 years ago. He is now living in the northwest part of the city, hale and hearty in spite of his four score of years, and few indeed are the days when it is too bad for him to make at least one trip to the postoffice. His many friends hope that he may see many returns of the 23d of February, and that perfect health may be his portion while he remains with us.

Seed Corn Train Will be Here Soon

The seed corn special, manned by expert lecturers, will arrive in Wayne on the M. & O. railroad at 6:05 Monday afternoon, March 4th. The train will be in charge of T. A. Kiesselbach who has a lecture force of four men besides himself. The train, which carries three coaches, will be equipped with charts and apparatus for demonstration purposes. Lectures will be given in each coach, and if necessary, an overflow meeting will be held outside the coaches. Much enthusiasm is being shown throughout the state over the four specials, which will tour the state the week of February 26. The various cities along the line are in a merry scramble to see which can turn out the record crowds.

All business and professional men are urged to visit the train, and in many cities it is proposed to close the business houses during the time the train is in the city. Every one in the city should appoint himself a committee of one to see that there is a record turnout. Especially are the farmers in the community desired.

The train is running under the auspices of the State Experimental Station and was made possible by the business men of Omaha, who have raised the finances to properly equip and operate the train. The scheme is the outcome of the agitation, started by the Publicity Bureau of the Commercial Club of Omaha, to get every farmer in the state to test his seed corn before it is planted.

The lecture will be held at Wayne in the evening from 7:30 to 8:30.

How The Editor Meets Death

E. J. Orr, editor of the Nodaway (Iowa) Valley News writes for a recent paper as follows: "The senior editor wishes to thank the relatives and friends who sent tokens of remembrance that on Tuesday he reached the allotted age of man, the 'three score and ten,' and wishes to express sincere well-wishes for their future happiness and prosperity. In this connection he wishes to put on record that he approaches the end of life with no misgivings as to the life beyond. That matter was settled long ago. It now remains for him to see that every other obligation is discharged as far as possible, and to be at peace with all the world." If all would study the last sentence how much might be done, if we but learned it.

A GREAT DISCOVERY

Certain Ingredients That Really Promote Hair Growth When Properly Combined.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin, although not a coloring matter or dye, is a well-known ingredient for restoring the hair to its natural color, when the loss of hair has been caused by a disease of the scalp.

These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well-defined nourishing properties, perfect perhaps the most effective remedy that is known for scalp and hair troubles.

We have a remedy which is chiefly composed of these ingredients, in combination with other extremely invaluable medicinal agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair. If there is any vitality left in the roots, it will positively cure baldness, or we will refund your money. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in other instances we believe baldness is curable.

We want everyone troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it.

We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has effected a positive cure in 93 per cent of cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike, and we think, in every particular, better than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Wayne only at our store.—The Rexall Store, The Shultheis Pharmacy.

A Crippled Mind

Many strong minds, giant intellects, are held down and starved
out by crippled digestive power, dyspepsia and the poison absorbed
as a result of chronic constipation.
If your stomach lacks digestive power the natural and simplest thing to do is to put into it the agents it lacks. Above all things avoid strong drugs that paralyze
and irritate the stomach and bowels.
A sound, healthy stomach contains the same digestive agents Spruce Pepsin tablets contain.

Spruce Pepsin tablets will digest fermenting, decaying food that lays like a lump in your stomach. We have proved this thousands of times

JOHN H. MOREHEAD

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR OF NEBRASKA.

Sketch of Man Who Has Made Good
in Every Endeavor.

The life story of John H. Morehead is the story of a man who has succeeded by his own efforts, not only in reaching a high place in the estimation of his fellows, but in achieving a fair measure of business success.
Born on an Iowa farm in 1861, Mr.
Morehead endured the hardships of pioneer farming and secured the rudimentary of a common school education in the then poorly equipped district schools of a pioneer state. He came to Nebraska in 1883, locating in Nemaha county, where he taught school for two years. Having saved
a little money he engaged in the general merchandising business at Bar-ada, Richardson county. Early in 1895 he was nominated for county treasurer by the democrats, and elected by a majority of 235 votes in a county then overwhelmingly republican. Two years later he was re-elected by a majority of 835—an evidence of his popularity and good service to the people. In 1900 he was elected mayor of Falls City. In 1908

he was delegate to the Denver convention from the First congressional district, and at the election in the same year was elected to the state senate from the First senatorial district. He was elected president pro tem of the senate, and is now acting lieutenant-governor. In the senate he at once became a leader recognized for his ability, his conservatism and his industry. In 1899 Mr. Morehead was elected cashier of the First National bank of Falls City, serving for nine years. He is now president of that institution and of the State Bank of Barada. Although interested in the banking business, Mr. Morehead is even more interested in farming and stock raising, to which he devotes much of his time and attention. He knows the farming and live stock industries thoroughly, and is well acquainted with their needs. Because of his high business standing and qualifications, and because he has not been allied with any faction or clique of his party, Mr. Morehead was asked by thousands of democrats to become a candidate for the nomination for governor. After due deliberation he consented, and his candidacy has been filed. If nominated and elected he will give Nebraska the same kind of a business administration that he has given to his own affairs with so much success. Free from any and all influences that might hamper his candidacy, Mr. Morehead is desirous only of giving Nebraska a clean, business-like administration, marked by absolute fairness to all legitimate interests. Senator Morehead would make a strong candidate, and one well calculated to lead the ticket to success.

Mr. Morehead at Home.

John H. Morehead certainly has cause to feel proud of the high compliment paid him by the voters of Richardson county at the last general election. Neighbors and friends could not pay any man a higher compliment than the home folks paid to Mr. Morehead at the election on Tuesday. Every time Mr.
Morehead goes before the people as a candidate the result is the same and the people are for him regardless of party politics. He is clearly the first choice of the people of Richardson county.—Falls City News.

A Strong Man.

We believe that Hon. John H. Morehead is the proper man to nominate for governor, because his record as a business man and his character as a citizen are both as sound as any man's in the state, and if nominated there would be no past dark records to bring forth by the opposition.—Plattsmouth Journal.

A Business Man Needed.

Lieutenant Governor Morehead of Falls City was in Hastings last week making brief calls to meet the democrats before the primaries in April.
Mr. Morehead is a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, and strikes us as a man to be dependent upon, if elected, for a business administration of the state's affairs, something that is needed in these times when state warrants are being hawked about among private brokers for lack of state funds with which to cash them.—Adams County Democrat.

Farmer Co-operation

A short time ago we quoted J.
G. Biller from the Cedar County News, and this week we give the remainder of the letter of which the News then only gave a part:

To the Cedar County Farmers Institute: It is not because of lack of desire that I am not with you during this institute and although far away I will be thinking much about the institute during the time it is in session, just as I have been thinking about it much of the time since I have been here.

I hope that a few words from me will be no intrusion for there are two or three things that I want to impress on my Cedar county friends and neighbors.

The first thing is alfalfa. I have looked at many alfalfa ranches since I have been here. They sell for $300 to $600 per acre. They cut six or seven crops a year. These crops will not average any more than they will in Cedar county.

If the Cedar county farmer will cut his alfalfa at the same development that the California rancher does, he can raise four crops per year. In California alfalfa hay sells from $10 to $15 per ton delivered and generally baled. Baling costs $2 per ton. In Cedar county it will sell from $5 to $8 per ton. What is your land worth if you raise alfalfa on it? You raise two-thirds as much hay and get one half as much for it. Therefore if a California alfalfa ranch is worth $600 per acre a Cedar county farm in alfalfa is worth $200 per acre.

But we will not stop here. Cedar county can raise as good a quality of alfalfa seed as can be raised anywhere. If you raise sixty bushels of corn to the acre and sell it for fifty cents a bushel, you think you are doing fine, but did you ever stop to think that with alfalfa you can cut one crop of hay that will generally make you from one-half to two tons to the acre, then get a crop of alfalfa seed that will come as near making $30 per acre as your corn crop will? And the best of all is that the alfalfa is not only feeding your pocket book better than the corn is, but it is also making your farm richer every year. If you raise corn on a piece of ground for ten years and get as much corn the tenth year as you did the first, you feel that you are a first-class farmer. But did you ever consider that you could have raised alfalfa on that same piece of ground for five years then raise corn on it for five years and get nearly as much corn on that ground
as you would in the ten years.
Twenty-five acres of land that will raise eighty bushels of corn per acre is a good deal better to you than fifty acres that raise fifty bushels per acre. I fully believe that if every Cedar county farmer would put one-fourth of his land in alfalfa and take care of it properly
that this alone would in five years
increase the wealth of the county
fifty per cent.

The other thing want to speak to you about is the advisability of the meat growers forming an association, (don't laugh) I never thought of this till I visited California a year ago and saw what the Citrus-Fruit Growers association was doing, what the nut growers association was doing, and the more I thought about it, the more I became convinced that a meat growers association could be formed and could be handled so that the farmer would get his share of the profit. There is no question but what some one else gets the most of it now. There is much more that I would like to say, but I am afraid that I have already made myself tedious, and will close with kind wishes to you all.

Your friend,

J. G. Biller.

There is wealth enough in this old world to make us all comfortable, but it is so unequally divided.
That is what makes it hard for poor folks, of whom there are so many. Of the rich there are but few, and there will be fewer of that class in ten years if the present "grab-all" game continues, for the very rich are beginning to gorge themselves by feeding on what those with plenty have accumulated. When that is swallowed up, the trouble will begin to see which of the rich rich can fatten
on the other's riches.

practical and helpful suggestions on primary work, illustrating his talk by exhibitions of work done
in his own school northwest of Wayne. Mr. Penn very clearly demonstrates that it is possible
for a man to be a successful primary teacher.

Miss Alice Philleo, of the Carroll schools, then told in an interesting and pleasing manner some things that she is accomplishing with pupils in the higher grades. Her note book experiments in agriculture, history and literature and her methods of creating an interest in these subjects indicate that Mrs.
Philleo has the enthusiastic spirit which characterizes the true teacher. Others whose names did not appear on the program stimulated
the interest by asking questions concerning things that perplexed them. When one young lady asked if a teacher should take a day out of the school week to clean things up, Mr. Auker replied, "Yes, take the whole week if necessary." The applause which greeted the reply showed that the teachers appreciated the stand the gentleman took.

The address by Prof. C. H. Bright
of the College, on "Co-operation"
was a very fitting close to the days program. Perhaps very few men are so well qualified to speak on the above subject as is Mr. Bright, who has seen the various phases of educational work as they exist in the rural school, the village school,
the county superintendency, the division schools of the Philippine Islands, and the Normal college.

The speaker said in substance
that the important thing in co-operation is the view point. Quarrel arise because we do not get each others view point. There are two sides to every question and a rational being must recognize this and be willing to concede something to the other fellow. Mr.
Bright pointed out by pleasing illustrations that things look different when we know "folks." Teachers and parents should know each other and consult each other often.
He told of a certain lady of this county who was very positive that her child could read just as well and some one else's child and therefore ought not be put back in her work. All arguments of the teacher to the contrary were futile until the mother consented to visit the school and see for herself. When this was done she saw her mistake, begged pardon of the teacher for her unkind remarks and insisted that the child be put back. This is only one instance of how things are made right through coming to an understanding.

Mr. Bright mentioned the importance of home training as a factor in education and declared that the best people do not always come from the so called best homes.
In the Islands, he says, education is considered a privilege and not a duty and in this respect the brown boy is often ahead of the American boy. But a wrong attitude is the result of a wrong conception, which may come as a result of remarks made by parents and others. Don't tell the boys that school is a place of oppression and the teacher the fellow that "licks 'em," but that it is a place to learn and have a good time and the teacher the fellow that helps them.

After dwelling for some time on these and similar topics, Mr.
Bright closed his address by emphasizing the well known fact that the desire and aim of parent and teacher should be to make happy, contented and useful citizens of the youth of our land, and since only virtuous women and honorable men constitute a real state, then, teacher, parent and patrons should labor long and faithfully together
in the accomplishment of these ends.

The poorest economy in the world
is economy in advertising sales.
A few dollars in newspaper advertising is sure to bring a few more buyers than would otherwise attend your sale. One bidder would easily raise the price of a horse or cow enough to pay two to five dollars to the newspaper, and leave a handsome margin of profits. Don't lose money by keeping quiet about your sale.—Nebraska Journal.

The Tecumseh board of education has elected the present superintendent, Prof. V. L. Strickland, for a term of three year. The professor is to give all of his time—twelve months each year to the school work. In the summer Prof.
Strickland, who is a good mechanic, will devote his time to preparing for the work in manual labor, doing work about the school buildings, on the play grounds, etc.
Heretofore, the superintendent has been giving but the time required for the school work, nine months each year. Prof. Strickland is to receive $1,600 per year for the three years.

WAYNE MARKET REPORT

Following are the market prices quoted us up to the time of going to press, Thursday:

Table with market prices for Oats, Corn, Barley, Spring wheat, Wheat, Eggs, Butter, Hogs, and Fat Cattle.

Ex-President Roosevelt has at last said he will accept, if nominated. He has also said that he would not accept the Annias club gets a new member either way you look at it.

The sheriff is in charge of the Oakland Mail, holding it for the benefit of the creditors. Perhaps the editors did not advertise. It is the business man who does not advertise that finds the sheriff in charge.

With Roosevelt in the ring, if Taft has a bit of fight in his make-up, the republicans will have troubles enough of their own to look after, leaving the democrats to settle their troubles among themselves.

A Pender hog grower sold $500 worth of good hogs to two purchasers, because he advertised. It pays the farmer to advertise even better than it does the merchant, for he has fewer competitors who use printer's ink.

Supt. A. V. Teed has inaugurated a seed corn contest in the country schools of Dixon county, and the responses he is receiving in the form of names of contestants, is convincing evidence that the subject of seed corn is a live topic at this time in our country.

Just suggest to a crowd of republicans that their leading candidate for president is sure to win the nomination and see how quickly they divide as to which is the leading candidate. It promises to be a great running. The President is pretty fat, but he may beat the great hunter to the first base in the presidential race.

Will M. Maupin asks the democratic nomination for railway commissioner, and he plainly says he wants the office for the salary and thinks that he can earn the same as well as the next man. It is certainly a novel way to announce his aspiration for the office thus frankly. Maupin has the good common sense to know that the people are not fools; and we believe that he has honesty and common sense enough to make a good official if nominated and elected to the position.

Some one whispers to the prospective investors in the proposed road from Sioux City to the mouth of the Niobrara that they had better investigate before they buy, it is the safer plan. The road will be a big thing for the country if built as proposed, but those who put their money into the scheme should be assured that they will not be frozen out after the money is spent. The promotion company may easily be thrown into the hands of a receiver, the property sold and the men who sacrificed to build are not in it after the pioneer days of hardship have passed. We know of a farmer road built in just that manner, and those who put up the greater part of their earnings for stock now have the almost worthless stock certificates and the experience and the pleasure of seeing the cars go past. The next legislature should eliminate the legal sale of a lot of blue sky.

Pure English. 'My dear, I wish you would speak more carefully,' said a stickler for pure English to his wife. 'You say that Henry Jones came to this town from Sunderland.' 'Don't you see that it would be better to say that he came from Sunderland to this town?' 'I don't see any difference in the two expressions,' rejoined the lady. 'But there is a difference in the two expressions—a rhetorical difference. You don't hear me make use of such awkward expressions. By the way, I have a letter from your father in my pocket.' 'Oh, dear! Is my father in your pocket?' inquired the wife. 'You mean that you have in your pocket a letter from my father.' 'There you go with your little quibbles! You take a delight in harassing me. You are always taking up a thread and representing it as a rope.' 'Representing it to be a rope, you mean, dear.' And then he grinned a sly grin and wished he had never started the discussion.—London Answers.

Advice to the Trustee. In handling other people's money, the principal must be kept intact. If, as a trustee, those to whom you are responsible insist upon an income which you in your heart know cannot be obtained without taking some slight chance, give up the trust without hesitation, says World's Work. There is no more bitter experience through which an honest trustee or executor can pass than the rendering of an accounting for a lost or depleted trust. No reason or excuse can weigh for an instant against the actual result which he faces. A single slip in the handling of funds like this may doom all future generations of that family to lives of poverty. This is the greatest responsibility ever laid upon a trustee, an executor, a banker or an adviser, and no honest man should assume it unless he is prepared to endure for the sake of the future all the criticism that may center upon him on account of extreme conservatism in the present.

Reminders of Napoleon. 'I never knew Missouri was filled with reminders of the Napoleonic wars until I took a trip over the Missouri Pacific's river branch to Boonville,' a traveling man remarked. 'Thoughts of the great struggle in France commenced to dawn upon me when the brakeman went through the train, calling 'Napoleon.' I recalled the career of ambition of the great Corsican general and was allowing my thoughts to wander in that vein when the next station was announced—Waterloo. I began to recall further incidents and thoughts of the victorious general who blasted Napoleon's hopes of a great empire. Imagine my surprise when I found the next station was Wellington. The next stop had nothing to do with the French wars, so I thought to the incidences were over. But I wanted to learn the why of it all, so I asked the conductor. He didn't answer. He was Grouchy.'—Kansas City Journal.

A Chinese Printing Office. The difficulties of making up a font of Chinese types are very great. Kang Hsi's dictionary, the standard and most comprehensive work of its kind, contains 40,800 characters, but it has been found that for all practical purposes a font need contain only about 7,000. With a font of this size the Chinese printer, in the course of setting up a book, will frequently find that he lacks a dozen or so unusual characters, a difficulty which he meets by having these missing symbols hand cut on blank type by skilled engravers. Although practically all Chinese newspapers and books on modern topics are now printed from movable metal type, books pertaining to old China, such as the Confucian classics and the commentaries on them, are still produced by the time honored method of printing from wooden blocks.

Press Enterprise in the Early Fifties. A bit of up to date enterprise on the part of the Pleyune in 1853 was the early publication of the president's message. Printers were sent on a steamboat to Mobile by the paper to secure the message. As soon as they arrived there they boarded the Northern steamer, which, of course, reached Mobile before New Orleans, and put the message in type on their way home aboard ship, so that on arriving at the office of the Pleyune it was all ready to be printed.—From B. F. Zeller's 'Recollections of the Early Fifties,' in New Orleans Pleyune.

A Philosopher. 'My! You wanted fried potatoes, didn't you?' said the careless waitress as the customer in the restaurant finished his meal and rose to leave. 'That's all right,' answered the patient man. 'I've wanted so many things all my life that I didn't get that I'm used to it.'—Newark News.

Wonderful Man. 'Where is he from?' 'I don't know, but I think he was raised on a desert island.' 'What in the world makes you think that?' 'He says no woman ever made a fool of him.'—Houston Post.

Study and Discipline. By the toilsome road of study, a scholar learns to get joy out of books and stones and trees. By the hard road of discipline a man learns to get joy out of everyday living.

He Saw It. 'There was a terrible accident at our house last night,' said a wag. 'As I was sitting in the dining room I happened to look out, and I saw the kitchen sink.'

School Notes. The first examinations for second semester work will be given Thursday and Friday. Miss Grothe now has charge of the second grade and work is moving along nicely. The total receipts of the school entertainment last Friday evening amounted to one hundred dollars. Miss Hardy has resumed her work in the high school after an absence of two weeks, due to illness. Miss Callhoun who substituted in her absence returned to her home in Ashland Monday morning. A very interesting basket ball game took place in the gymnasium Saturday afternoon between the Norfolk and Wayne high school teams, the Wayne boys gaining the victory by a score of 16 to 17. The Norfolk high school sent a large delegation of rooters. Tuesday evening after school hours, witnessed two games. One between the Normal third and our second team; the other our third against the Normal Midgets. The high school boys won both games, the former by a score of 21 to 19, and the latter 10 to 7.

Meeting of Democratic Committee. There is to be a meeting of the members of the Democratic County Central Committee at the court house at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, March 2nd, to which all members of the committee and those interested in the cause of democracy are requested to be present.

Miss Minnie Relman of Winside returned home Sunday after a week or two at the home of G. S. Mears and wife in this city.

Several weeks ago Wm. Snell who had been employed on the Hoguewood dray line asserted that he had received word that his mother was ill at Orchard, and borrowed money to go to her bedside, but he did not get there, and his mother was not sick as reported. But he left a wife and children here in destitute circumstances and numerous unpaid bills. Last week this wife and children went to the home of her parents, and is planning to leave the children with their grandparents while she resumes teaching. It is reported that there was another woman in the case who is yet a resident of Wayne, and if all that is reported of her is true, there should be action taken by the authorities in the interest of her children if for no other reason.

The Most Remarkable Suicide. The most curious suicide in the annals of self destruction occurred at Chiquete, N. B., in the spring of 1890. Before committing the deed the self murderer, who was named W. R. T. Jones, dug his own grave and placed a rough coffin of his own handwork at the bottom. The dirt from the opening was kept from rolling back into the excavation by boards held in place by a trigger to which a string was attached. Everything in readiness, the deliberate Mr. Jones, as subsequent developments revealed, got in the coffin, took a dose of poison and then pulled the string, burying himself beneath tons of earth. This has been put down as one of the most unique and successful cases of self destruction on record.

Just as Guaranteed. Jones answered an advertisement and sent a dollar for four pairs of socks. When they arrived Jones looked them over and then wrote the advertiser:

'Socks received. The patterns are vile. I wouldn't be seen on the street with them on.' Back came the answer: 'What are you kicking about? Didn't we guarantee that you wouldn't wear them out?'—Judge.

Garden SEEDS. Grass Seeds. All New and Fresh. Craven & Welch.

Don't plant seed corn that won't grow. Men from the state experiment station who have examined samples of the best seed corn exhibited at the local corn shows, short courses and farmer's institutes all over the state say that only from 10 to 60 per cent of the samples submitted will grow. Corn for seed purposes is in a worse condition than has ever been known. A grave situation exists. If we are to have a corn crop next year, every ear of corn should be tested to see whether it will grow, before it is planted. Suppose one dead ear is planted. The planter fails to get one thousand stalks of corn—almost twelve bushels of corn lost. Leading corn authorities say that no man can tell whether corn will grow or not, without making a germination test. Particularly this year, corn that looks good on the outside may be dead in the germ, and positively will not grow. The business men of Omaha appreciate that business prosperity depends upon the success of the corn crop, and are therefore making this effort to arouse the state to the necessities of the case. If in any community there is more than enough seed corn to plant your own farm, please let us know, that we may secure the additional supply for other parts of the state. Address, PUBLICITY BUREAU, COMMERCIAL CLUB, OMAHA.

The Best Grain Feed

There is no grain feed so good for nutrition, muscle-building and blood making as good, sound oats. They are easily digested and not heating. Corn is used a great deal, but it is not so easily digested, is heating, and causes the animal to sweat too freely. Many horses have the dyspepsia, caused by being driven or worked hard immediately following a full meal.

Fleck's Stock Powder

added to the regular feed once or twice per day will save corn or oats and keep your horse in extra good condition.

Use Your Directory

Did it ever happen that you didn't look in the Directory before you called a number, and the wrong bell was rung and an innocent subscriber disturbed?

When the wrong party answered, probably you said "Central gave me the wrong number." Of course she did. If you called the wrong number, why shouldn't you get it?

Another time, perhaps, you thought you remembered and you called the wrong number.

Probably the next moment the right number came to mind. You quickly signalled "Central" and asked for the correct number.

Meanwhile the party of the number you first called answered when his bell rang. He got no reply. You were to blame.

Won't you, in the interests of better service to yourself and others, look in the Directory and be sure you have the right number before you make a call?

Seed Specials Attract Big Crowds All Along the Way.

DEPOTS MADE LECTURE ROOMS

Care Provided in Many Places Prove Too Small to Accommodate Large Numbers That Gather to Listen to Experts Expound Seed Corn Gospel.

St. Edwards, Neb., Feb. 28.—The seed corn special was greeted by over 400 farmers and citizens, making a fitting close for the days' trip, in which they have addressed over 3,400 farmers in eight towns in this part of the state, beginning with a crowd of 400 at Madison and stopping at Humphrey, Geneva, Fullerton, Belgrade, Cedar Rapids, Spalding and St. Edwards.

The speakers have had more listeners at every station than their special train would accommodate and have found it necessary to convert depots into lecture rooms.

The train met with no special demonstration during the day and most of the audiences have been farmers who are really interested in the work. The questions asked have done much to bring new lines of talk from the management.

EDITORS MUST WAIT AWHILE

Amendments Will Not Be Printed Until Later in Season.

Lincoln, Feb. 28.—Governor Aldrich is in receipt of many letters asking why the publication of notices of the constitutional amendments has not been commenced, as the date of the primary is approaching. He calls attention to the law which says the notices shall be printed for thirteen consecutive weeks preceding the November election, which would make the date of the first publication some time in August. The papers which will print these notices will be designated by the governor and this will be attended to in due time.

Royce Comments on Banks.

Lincoln, Feb. 28.—H. F. Royce, secretary of the banking board, looking over the reports of the condition of Omaha national banks, as evidenced by reports from the recent call, commented on the increase of practically $5,000,000 in deposits in those banks, as compared with the last preceding statement, and said it certainly indicated a strong condition for Nebraska banks, especially if other national banks in the state showed up in the same light.

Labor Commissioner Complimented.

Lincoln, Feb. 28.—Labor Commissioner Guye has received a letter from the Greek charge d'affaires of Greece at Washington thanking Mr. Guye for his efforts in behalf of the Greek boys employed in the shining parlors in Lincoln and elsewhere in Nebraska, and saying he would report the facts to his home government, and was certain some steps would be taken there to put a stop, or at least a check, on such conditions by watching more closely emigrants from that nation.

Defendant Snowbound.

Lincoln, Feb. 28.—John F. Harris was to have been tried in the district court on the charge of murder, but the case was not called on account of the non-appearance of the defendant, who is out on bail. He has been at his home in Illinois and the storm delayed the trains. He is to be tried for the killing of David McFry, June 24 last. The men were employed by the Beatrice Creamery company.

Fire at Geneva Damages Stores.

Geneva, Neb., Feb. 28.—The Boston store, C. M. Pierce proprietor, was burned, the stock being almost a total loss. The postoffice, in an adjoining building, was damaged, but all mail was saved and all government property is safe. The Nebraska Signal printing office was injured by smoke and water. The local independent telephone plant sustained some damage.

Hastings Case Appealed.

Lincoln, Feb. 28.—James A. Benson, who says he was elected police judge of Hastings, filed his bond and asked to have it approved so he could take the office, but the mayor and council refused, alleging there was no vacancy in the office. Benson sought a mandamus writ and the lower court granted the request, but the city has appealed.

Snow May Cause Death of Game Birds.

Lincoln, Feb. 28.—One effect of the heavy snowfall is expected to be a heavy loss of quail. These game birds have a habit of bunching up and remaining quiet in such storms until they are buried, and then smother. It is feared, especially if cold weather should follow the storm, a large portion of these birds will perish.

Nebraska Makes Higher Score.

Lincoln, Feb. 28.—The University of Nebraska rifle team scored its best mark of the season in a by-mail shoot with St. Thomas, totaling 874 points, or thirty-four points more than it made in its last shoot.

Killed Trying to Board Train.

Ashland, Neb., Feb. 28.—Allen W. Dale, believed to be of Denton, was killed in the yards while attempting to board a Burlington train.

SENTENCE LAW ATTACKED

Assistant Attorney General Answers Arguments in Wallace Case.

Lincoln, Feb. 28.—The constitutionality of the indeterminate sentence act passed by the last legislature has been attacked in a case submitted to the state supreme court from Buffalo county. Assistant Attorney General Edgerton has just prepared and filed his brief in reply to the attack, the case being that of Robert J. Wallace against the state. In his defense the state official sets out the following:

"The first objection urged against this law is that it is an attempt to delegate to the prison board judicial powers, in that it permits this board to fix duration of the sentence. There is no merit in this objection. The duration of the sentence for a crime is not fixed by the court, but by the legislature. The court must sentence as the law prescribes. The law has said this crime of hog stealing shall be punished by imprisonment of not less than one year nor more than five years. This was the sentence given Wallace. The indeterminate sentence act is one approved by all students of prison discipline. Its constitutionality is supported by the overwhelming weight of authority."

STILL SEEKING AGENT BROWN

Second Requisition Made for Him on Colorado Governor.

Box Butte county officials have obtained another requisition for the return from Colorado to Alliance of Raymond Brown, the former requisition having been denied by the governor of Colorado. The refusal was based on the ground that the previous one did not state what was an extraditable offense under the law of Colorado.

It is thought the new one will meet this objection. Brown is accused of defeating the ends of justice by removing from the state certain records of the Colorado Lumber and Fuel company, doing business at Alliance and Hay Springs, the intent of the removal being, it is alleged to defeat the prosecution of a conspiracy indictment.

EGGERS PLEAD GUILTY

Assailants of Revivalist Given Minimum Fine and Costs.

About 200 people came down to Kearney from Elm Creek to hear the evidence in the "egging case," which was brought before Judge Drury.

The case was the outcome of an attack upon Professor Thomnes, a revivalist. Eleven men were arrested in all and fully fifty witnesses were at hand when the case was called to trial. Hundreds of listeners crowded into the court room with the expectation of hearing some startling evidence brought out. They were disappointed, however, as the prisoners pleaded guilty and were given the minimum fine and costs.

AINSWORTH LAWYER NAMED

Attorney General Appoints A. W. Scattergood in Sellers Case.

Attorney General Martin has named A. W. Scattergood of Ainsworth to represent the state before the Cherry county grand jury which met at Valentine Monday. The appointment grows out of the lynching of Charles Sellers and the pleading guilty of four young men to a charge of murder.

The charge is that guilty parties, have been shielded and that there is much more to the tragic affair than has yet come to the surface. Mr. Scattergood is a practicing attorney at Ainsworth.

LABOR OBJECTS TO WINNETT

Central Union of Lincoln Doesn't Want Him in Car Hearing.

The Central Labor union of Lincoln has protested against Dr. Winniett sitting in judgment of the Lincoln 5-cent fare case when it comes up before the state railway commission, on the ground that he had previously expressed an opinion on the merits of the case and for the further reason that before being elected a member of the railway commission he was employed as physician by the street railway company.

Epworthians to Meet in Sutton.

The cabinet of the Epworth league of the western Nebraska district selected Sutton for the annual district convention. It was also decided to maintain a missionary in China, at a salary of $1,000, to be paid by the league of the district.

Wilson Men Called.

A call has been issued for a meeting in Lincoln March 5 of the Wilson Democrats. This is a counter-move on the Harmon men, who recently met in Fremont and formed an organization to push the candidacy of the Ohio governor.

Seed Corn From Beatrice.

The first really high grade seed corn that the pure food department has tested yet is a lot sent in from Beatrice. It is from 100 bushels of seed purchased by one of the inspectors for his own use.

Mason Held for Death of Beeson.

The coroner's jury called at Ericson to investigate the death of Oryille P. Beeson has returned a verdict that it was caused by a shot from a revolver in the hands of David F. Mason.

Another Switch in Ticket.

Another switch has been made in the La. Follette-Roosevelt ticket. Judge A. G. Wray of York, candidate for district delegate, has retired and George W. Neal has taken his place.

(Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor)

The Sunday School begins at 9:50 a. m. with a song service, led by Miss Kate Gamble. Preaching service at 10 o'clock. The Juniors meet at 3:00 and the C. E. at 6:30 p. m.

The financial statement, which has been issued, for the year 1911 shows that the finances of the Presbyterian church are in good condition. The current expenses of the congregation have been promptly met during the year, and the gifts to the benevolences of the church have increased.

The Sunday school and congregation of the Presbyterian church lose a very faithful member and worker in the removal of Miss Emma Schwerin to Lincoln, where she has gone to assume a larger work in the public schools of that city. Miss Schwerin was not only remarkably successful as a teacher in the day school, but an efficient helper in the work of the church.

METHODIST CHURCH

(Rev. Wm. Gorst, Pastor)

Chancellor C. A. Fulmer of Nebraska Wesleyan University will speak to the Methodist men of Wayne and to invited guests from surrounding towns at a banquet to be given on the evening of March 21, in the interest of that school. No collections or subscriptions will be taken for the endowment at the banquet. It will be a very social time and is purely instructive and educational in the interests of the school. It is also expected that Judge Dryden of Kearney, one of the trustees, will be present and make an address.

The official Board has been cordial and truly generous in this interest by an earnest endorsement of the move and has appointed C. A. Grothe, Theo. Duerig, J. E. Marsteller, W. D. Redmond and Geo. W. Crossland a committee to carry out the banquet in all its details. When the matter was presented to the ladies of the aid society a week ago they instantly saw the need and assured the committee that they would serve the banquet without charges or cost to anybody.

This is the kind that comes only once in a life time and we therefore trust and confidently expect that every man in the congregation will take in the banquet. Fulmer and Dryden are as well worth hearing as any two men in Nebraska.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. Bert Brown on Friday afternoon, March 1, at 3 o'clock.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on the theme "Christians Out of Church." Sunday School at 11:45.—Epworth League services at 6:30; Miss McBeth leader; topic, "God's Purposes Inspired by Love," Hos. 2: 16-23; John 3:16.

In the evening the congregation will join in the union evangelistic services at the Baptist church.

The School Entertainment

It was good to see so large an attendance at the school entertainment as was present at the high school auditorium last Friday evening. The door receipts showed an attendance of 400, and they were the "400" too. Parents, pupils and their friends. The program consisted of drills, music, singing, recitations, etc., and gave one a new insight into the methods of instruction of the present day, and if one compares it with the methods of 45 years ago a vast improvement is noted. In those days the boys and girls were taught their letters, than the "Ab" ab, progressing on and up to "cat," "dog" and similar words, and at the end of the second year a bright child was expected to be able to read three letter words. Then a little later spelling was taken up, and writing and learning to read writing. And thus the child was led on up through the different readers until work called him from school.

The exercises Friday evening showed how vastly superior are the present day methods. In the kindergarten and primary rooms they are taught drills, something of singing and reading. As the next higher grades appeared they showed more and better training and along more advanced lines. They gave difficult drills nearly perfect, sang sweetly and played numerous musical instruments well. The public school of today teaches many things that were only to be acquired by private tutor a few years ago. The little folks of this day have many advantages, and to their credit be it said that the great majority of them are improving their opportunities very faithfully.

The school entertainment of Friday evening tells of more than an hour of entertainment; it tells of a great training that is fitting the rising generation for a greater work than the present generation has accomplished, and they have done much if the improvement in methods of education measured all that they have accomplished.

Manual training and domestic science will be developed to a greater extent in the near future, and then when these branches are perfected the average pupil may leave school well prepared indeed to do some useful life work.

A New Epoch

Tuesday marked the opening of a new epoch in the juvenile history of Norfolk, when, through the splendid efforts of County Commissioner Taft, County Attorney Nichols and County Judge McDuffee, at least ten boys and girls were saved from a life of misery, want and ignorance, and started in the pathway of good citizenship. Too many parents have forgotten that they owe more to their children than their mere birth and a livelihood. Too many men and women forget that instruction for good citizenship must begin with the children if they would have results. But the people are waking to the cause of humanity, and, as a speaker at the country life commission put it, "We have studied bugs and beetles, birds and animals, long enough, and it is high time for us to turn our attention to the study of human beings." The children must be saved, and the efforts in that direction of the officers of Madison county are to be commended.—Norfolk Press.

Word comes from Long Beach, California, of the sudden sickness of Dan Harrington, who went from Wayne to that place in the early winter. Reports are not quite clear as to the nature of his trouble, but from all that we can learn it appears to be of an apoplectic or paralytic nature. The latest reports indicate that he is rallying from the attack. His many friends here most anxiously wait news, and hope that it may be good news.

Frank S. Morgan, who gave up work on the road three years ago and accepted a clerkship at the Kate Clothing store, has severed his connection with that store and will make headquarters at Wayne as the representative of two large eastern tailoring houses that make a specialty of made-to-measure suits. Mr. Morgan has thoroughly learned the clothing business during the past three years and with his previous experience on the road thinks there is a good field in Wayne and this part of Nebraska for him. He has room with C. A. Berry.

Next week William Roberts moves to the McClusky farm southwest of Winside from one of Robt. Mellor's farms near Wayne, where he has been a fixture for the past thirteen years. He thinks he has remained on the same farm longer than any of Mr. Mellor's numerous tenants, and we doubt if there are many renters in all Nebraska who have remained longer on one farm and with one landlord. It tells of nearly satisfactory treatment on both sides where two people hold the same relations so long.

Remarkable Success of these Talented Physicians in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases

Offer Their Services
Free of Charge

The Associated Doctors, licensed by the state of Nebraska for the treatment of deformities and all nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of medicine. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

These doctors are considered by many former patients among America's leading stomach and nerve specialists and experts in the treatment of chronic diseases, and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard indeed to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, kidneys, or bladder, rheumatism, sciatica, diabetes, bed-wetting, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long standing, deep seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physician should not fail to call.

According to their system no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter or certain forms of cancer. They were among the first in America to earn the name of the "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with knife, with blood and with all pain in successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

If you have kidney or bladder troubles bring a two ounce bottle of your urine for chemical analysis and microscopic examination.

Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit this time may help you.

Remember, this free offer is for one day only.

Married ladies must come with their husbands and minors with their parents.

Washington Political News

By C. H. Tavenner

Washington, Feb. 26.—The amount of business being done by the railroads, steel mills, manufacturing and banks of the country at the present time is considerably in advance of that of a year ago.

The gross earnings of the railroads for the first week of February were 9.81 per cent better than a year ago. For the fourth week of January the reports from forty-four roads indicate a gain over last year of 12.27 per cent. Reports for December show an increase of net earnings over December, 1910, of not less than 7.83 per cent.

Bank clearings last week were better than a year ago.

Foreign trade in January was very large. The exports exceeded those of any preceding January except in 1908, and the imports were larger than for any preceding month with a single exception.

Financial arrangements have recently been made by several railroads for raising $90,000,000 to be used in extensions and improvements. The Erie railroad, for instance, plans to expend $10,000,000 in the next ten years for completing the double-tracking of its main line between New York and Chicago. The Atchison is raising $50,000,000 for new work and equipment, and other companies are preparing to put smaller amounts into improvements.

All this does not look as if business is standing still simply because the House of Representatives is Democratic, nor that business fears the election of a Democratic president. The pre-election threat, made to intimidate voters, that the stagnation of business would follow immediately upon the election of a Democratic House, has not been fulfilled.

Some of the illegal trusts which have been throttling competition and boost in the prices of the things the people must have in order to live, are perhaps not particularly enamored with Democratic procedure, but legitimate business understands thoroughly that it has nothing to fear from Democratic ascendancy, and welcomes it.

PROTECTION VS. TARIFF FOR REVENUE

Workmen in Germany are "protected" by a tariff wall like our own Payne-Aldrich tariff wall. In England the workers are not so "protected."

According to Aldrich, Smoot, Guggenheim, et al., the German workers ought to have more ideal conditions than the Britons. But let us see how much benefit the German really gets from protection:

Brick layers in free-trade England receive $9.72 per week and are required to work but 52½ hours. Brick layers in "protected" Germany receive $7.50 per week and are required to work 59 hours a week.

This is not an isolated case. In all industries the English worker receives higher wages than the Germans, and works fewer hours.

And this is not all: The cost of living is much higher in protected Germany than in unprotected England. Where a Briton pays $1.20 in rent a German pays $1.47.

Where a Briton (unprotected) spends $1.20 on food and fuel a German (protected) spends $1.41.

The American working man is being outrageously tariff-taxed on everything he eats, wears or uses on the theory he is being "protected," when as a matter of fact the only thing that is being protected by the tariff is the monopolies of the tariff trusts on the necessities of life.

LA FOLLETTE NOT DITCHED

There has been in existence a general conspiracy all over the east seeking to make the people of the country believe that Senator LaFollette is out of the race for the nomination for President. The conspiracy was pretty largely successful, because many people believe LaFollette has quit. Senator LaFollette is not that kind, however. He will go down fighting, if necessary, but he will not run up the white flag.

The following extracts of a telegram sent by Senator LaFollette personally to North Dakota republicans shows where the Wisconsin senator personally stands on the subject of "laying down."

"The report that I have withdrawn as a candidate is false, and the statements regarding my health are gross misrepresentations. They are part of the pressure brought to bear to force me from the contest, which I willingly undertook at a time when no one else could be induced to make the fight.

"I want delegates who are ready to win, or lose if need be, in the interest of a great cause. Let me through you assure the voters of North Dakota that I shall as always keep faith with them, and shall remain a candidate steadfast to the end."

JUGGLING THE FIGURES

Here is a business secret: If you are running your concern at a big loss, but wish to make the figures show a big surplus, simply put off paying heavy bills until after the reports of the receipts and expenditures are made up for the year.

This is the system by which Postmaster Hitchcock put the postoffice on a "paying basis," according to charges made by W. D. Brown, formerly a government auditor, whose expose of the situation is so obviously true Mr. Hitchcock has failed to reply.

Mr. Brown shows that the alleged balance of $219,118.12 announced at the close of the last fiscal year to the credit of the postoffice department in reality does not exist at all, but instead there is really a deficit of $7,000,000.

RELIEF FROM EXPRESS COMPANIES

A charge of 25 cents, instead of $1.32, for the delivery of a 11 pound package on rural free delivery routes, is in prospect, as the result of the action of democratic members of the house committee on postoffices and postroads in incorporating in the appropriation bill revisions for a tentative parcels post system. The committee members also agreed upon a general domestic rate of 12 cents and a maximum package of 11 pounds. This is the present international parcels post rate.

TAFT TARIFF BOARD TO GO

The democrats have suggested to them away to kill off the infamous Taft tariff board. The plan is to pass through the house a bill for the creation of a bureau of tariff statistics that shall be responsible to the legislative branch of the government, instead of to the executive branch alone, and that shall investigate and report on facts at the request of the House, which has authority to initiate revenue measures. There will then be no necessity for an appropriation for the tariff board, permitting that body to die with this fiscal year.

Leahy Drug Store, Sole Agents.

A Great Hog Sale

At the Moderow Duroc Jersey hog sale at Wisner last week all previous records were broken for prices in that place. The offering of 44 head brought an average price of $88.35. The top price was for No. 1, and was $310. The next highest was $300, and two others were above $200. The lowest price was $45. It certainly pays to grow hogs that will command such money. J. J. Kane also had a sale at that place and his offering of 48 head brought an average of $51.45. Highest price brought by his herd was $150. Even at that price there is a strong temptation to get to growing fancy hogs.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing, and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless, and colorless. Combined with other well-known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not grip, purge, nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons, and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in three size packages, 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Schultheis pharmacy.

Maria's Fishing

She Had a Novel Way of Doing It

By CLARISSA MACKIE

"Taint no fishing weather today," said Captain Barnabas Fish when I expressed surprise at his idleness one crisp October morning.

"Too much sea?" I inquired. He nodded and scratched his gray stubby beard. "Wind's been east for three days now, and that there oily roll would turn my dory hull up'ards in no time. No, ma'am, you can tell Miss Weeks"

"You can tell her yourself, cap'n," came Miss Maria's sharp voice from the gate. "Here I be!"

"There's some roll on today," he said, looking away over the greenish gray waters of the bay.

"First time I ever suspected you was a fair weather sailor," sniffed Maria scornfully.

"It ain't me; it's the fish," explained Captain Barnabas hastily. "I ain't afraid of weather."

"I shouldn't think the fish would be either, they being more used to the water than you are."

"They won't bite," explained the captain with dignity.

"Fiddle!" snapped Maria so sharply that Captain Barnabas jumped in his sea boots. "How is it I've smelt fish frying over at Lucy Drake's every night this week? Somebody must catch 'em—I'll find out who it is."

She turned away and went up the gravelled path to the little white house that faced Quince harbor. After she had slammed the side door I stole a glance at Captain Barnabas Fish.

Leaning against the picket fence, his hands in the pockets of his blue flannel trousers, his blue eyes squinting across the bay at the black line of breakwater, Captain Barnabas seemed indifferent to the anger of the plump little woman toward whom I was sure he nourished a secret attachment.

"Somebody must catch fish for Lucy Drake," I whispered softly. "I wonder who it is!"

A red flush crept from the captain's sunburnt neck up to his ears and disappeared. "Miss Telham," he said solemnly. "It's me!"

"I thought—you said—the fish would not bite!" I gasped indignantly. I was loyal to Maria, for she was a fine soul in spite of her affected crustiness. Lucy Drake I did not like. I turned to the gate, but the captain lifted a huge brown hand to check my departure.

"It may seem queer to you, ma'am, after my promising Maria I'd bring her the first ketch of fish, but I had to take them fish to Lucy Drake!"

"Why?" I asked bluntly.

"'Becuz," he said, with discouraging brevity.

"You could easily have brought some to Miss Maria as well," I said, disapprovingly.

"Luck was ag'in it," he returned gloomily. "You may not believe it, Miss Telham, but I been out every day for a week past, and I ain't caught but one fish each day—and that there fish I had to give to Lucy Drake."

"Then you have been out fishing this morning?"

"Do I look like a fair weather sailor, ma'am?" he asked coldly. "I went out at daybreak, and I caught one fish, same as usual, and I suspect that you and Maria will soon be catching the smell of frying fish from Lucy Drake's."

I turned my head toward the neat white cottage next door to Maria's. Surely I could detect a smell of frying fish!

The whistle of the floor mill smote the stillness of the day.

"It's dinner time," observed Captain Fish, and, with the same nervous haste exhibited by all Quince Harborites at the hour of noon, he nodded briefly and plunged down the beach toward the dory drawn up on the sand.

He slept and ate and made his home on board of his schooner, the Indus, named after a ship in the Calcutta trade of which he had once been master.

A half hour afterward I went up the path into Maria's house, sniffing rather guffily at the smell of frying bluefish, which seemed to emanate from Lucy Drake's little kitchen. To my surprise I caught a glimpse of Lucy Drake's thin nosed face at the window, and she was dabbing a handkerchief against her eyes.

When I entered Maria's house I was instantly hungry. On the oval table in the low dining room was a platter.

On the platter was still sizzling a delicious looking bluefish, brown and crisp from the frying pan. There were a plate of corn bread and a dish of creamed potatoes and other good things.

Miss Maria flew in from the kitchen, her cheeks a bright crimson and her black eyes snapping with some inward excitement.

"I was just going to call you to dinner, Miss Telham," she said shortly. As we sat down she bobbed her head and uttered a hasty and rather ungracious benediction over the fish platter.

"Have some fish?" she asked shortly. "If you please. So you got one, after all?" I remarked.

"Yes, I got it," she said significantly. "With a silver hook I suppose." I said, with an attempt at humor.

"I caught it with father's old boat hook, and I fished for it from the buttry window," returned Maria demantly.

I stared. "From the buttry window?" I repeated incredulously.

"Yes," she said crisply and closed the conversation with that monosyllable.

As the meal progressed I noticed that Maria did not eat any of the fish. In fact, she ate very little dinner, but she drank several cups of strong green tea. I could not help associating her gloom with the advent of the bluefish on the table. There was a mystery connected with the catching of this fish that tantalized me.

As I sauntered around the frostbitten garden I became aware that Lucy Drake was moving listlessly among her gorgeous chrysanthemums. Her delicate face, with its long, thin, pink nose, was dolorous enough. I went out of the gate and walked along the fence by Lucy's flowers.

"Your chrysanthemums are lovely, Miss Drake," I ventured sociably.

Lucy turned toward me. "They are pretty," she admitted, her weak eyes filling with tears.

"You have a cold?" I asked.

"No, oh, no; but I have suffered—a loss." She came close to the fence and leaned over, speaking freely as though glad of a listener.

"I am sorry, Miss Drake. May I ask what it is?"

"My fish," she whispered. "The loveliest bluefish you ever saw. The cat stole it!"

"What cat?" I asked mechanically.

"I am not sure whether it was my Snowball or Maria Weeks' Ginger. You see, it was all ready to fry for dinner—setting right on the shelf in the buttry window, and the window was wide open. When I went to get it it was gone." She spoke as tragically as though she had lost a dear friend.

"A bluefish?" I was thinking gully of the one I had eaten at dinner, and I had a mental vision of Miss Maria leaning from her buttry window and coolly fishing for Lucy Drake's fish with the late Mr. Weeks' boat hook. I wanted to laugh, it was all so funny and so unaccountable.

"Why should Maria steal—Maria's cat steal your bluefish?" I asked to cover my embarrassment.

"To eat. I would not have cared if it was gone," Lucy blushed painfully and turned away her head.

"It is too bad. Perhaps Captain Barnabas could catch another one," I suggested.

"He doesn't seem to have very good luck fishing," she said and hurried into the house without ceremony.

I walked down to the end of the row of low, comfortable houses that straggled along the beach road, and then turning went back to my boarding place. Dinner would be cleared away by this time and Maria taking her afternoon nap. I wanted a nap, myself.

When I reached the front door the gate clanged noisily and I turned to see Captain Barnabas tramping heavily up the gravelled path. He came up the steps and stood, grim and unsmiling, beside me.

"Miss Weeks to home?" he asked impudently.

"I believe so. Come in and sit down, captain." And I ushered him into Maria's sitting room.

To my surprise she was in there, sitting very pale and unhappy looking in a big rocking chair.

"Maria!" thundered Captain Barnabas. And when I would have fled Maria beckoned me to remain. Therefore I hovered near the door, feeling very uncomfortable.

"Don't you 'Maria' me, Barnabas Fish," said Maria coldly.

"Miss Weeks, what did you do it for?" he demanded, fixing his bright blue eyes on her snapping black ones.

"Do what for?" Maria's tone was surprised.

"You see my schooner down there?" Captain Fish pulled back the window curtain and pointed a horny forefinger at the graceful lines of the Indus, anchored opposite the Weeks cottage.

"Yes, I see it. I don't see how I can help seeing it, planted right there in front of Lucy Drake's cottage." Maria was jealous. Now I began to understand.

"I was sitting out there just before dinner, and I had the glasses. I was looking at your house. I was—Captain Barnabas blushed and cast about for an excuse for his lover's foolishness. "I was wondering if Miss Telham had gone for a walk. I was looking, when I saw you, Maria Weeks, steal Lucy's fish off her—with a boat hook!" Did Captain Fish chuckle?

Maria blushed and then paled. "It was my fish," she said obstinately. "You had promised it to me."

"I promised one to her every day until—until she collected her interest money. She's been hard up. Fish ain't so terrible hardy, but they're brain food anyway, and you know Lucy Drake ain't got any too many brains."

She needs all the fish she can eat." The captain was trying to cover his own kindness with a clumsy joke. "I promised her a fish every morning. I thought it would be easy to ketch a plenty of 'em, but drat it all, I never caught but one every day, and she needed it, Maria!" His tone ended in an apologetic note.

Maria Weeks arose, conscience-stricken. "I took her fish—and she's hungry. I must go and see her at once. She must come to supper and—"

"I will go and ask her, Miss Maria," I said hastily, and as I went I heard Captain Fish's voice growling out some question and Maria's smothered shriek of dismay.

"Oh, Barnabas! I could never keep house on that schooner!" I knew Maria had caught another sort of fish this time.

Carroll Notes

From Index.

Carroll held a successful Farmers' Institute which was largely attended, and much interest manifested.

The Cemetery Association cleared the nice sum of $79.80 at their dinner and supper held on Institute day.

Why don't someone take up the proposition of an electric light plant in Carroll. If the business people would all take lights for stores and a portion of the residence district, a good plant would be supported and no doubt would be taken up, the little town of Magnet is supporting one, why not us.

B. E. and Eddie Young shipped their car of farming utensils and household goods to O'Neill this morning where they will make their future home on a farm. Ed will be missed in the church work by many while B. E. will also be missed by the I. O. O. F. boys. They leave many friends in Carroll who wish them the best of luck.

Miss Vera and Rose Hennessy, cousins of the bride were maids of honor. William Ahern, brother of the groom and Michael Finn were best men. After the ceremony accompanied by friends and relatives they returned to the bride's home where they partook of a bounteous wedding dinner.

Winside Notes

From the Tribune

Mrs. Wm. Beautin, wife of Wm. Beautin died quite suddenly Tuesday afternoon. Death was caused by inflammation of the veins. Mrs. Beautin has been sick for about six weeks but her condition was not considered serious. She leaves a husband and four children to mourn her death.

The C. O. S. leap year dance given by the members of that club at the opera house last Saturday evening was considered by all who attended to be the best ever. Never has a crowd of young people assembled at a social function in Winside in which the pleasure of the evening could be compared with this event. Thirty couples were in attendance when the doors were closed at 9:15 according to instructions.

The school mates of Miss Agnes Waddell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Waddell surprised the young lady last Tuesday evening by coming to her home to spend the evening. As Miss Agnes will soon move with her parents to Winside her friends took the opportunity of giving her a farewell party.

Sixteen couples congregated at the D. J. Cavanaugh home last Friday night and with well filled baskets, tables and etc., proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Prescott. The intention of the company was to surprise that couple and to all appearance they succeeded in doing so. The occasion being the twentieth anniversary of their marriage.

F. E. Bicknell who handed in his resignation last week as professor of the Winside public school, has accepted the professorship of the high school at St. Edwards, Nebraska, at a salary of $120 per month. While we dislike very much to see him leave we cannot blame him for wishing to go where he can receive a larger salary for his services.

The local lodge of K. of P. entertained the ladies at a banquet which was given as their annual entertainment in memory of the forty eighth anniversary of the order, in the M. W. A. hall last Tuesday evening. The program consisted of songs by the Pythian sextet, motion picture slides and dissolving views, an illustrated lecture pertaining to the principles on which the order is founded, also an illustrated song by I. M. Hills, the scenes with this song being particularly touching. Other photographs produced upon the screen were "Smith, Fempin, Shaw, Siman, "Chef" Brown and others. These pictures were hand painted by our precise artist Herbert Lound who is also the lodge electrician.

Congressional Plagiarism.

The custom of "lifting" a brother congressman's bills without sanction or permission has resulted in a warm discussion concerning the ethics of legislation. In newspaper work, novel writing or any other strenuous employment the appropriation or use of another man's words or ideas entitles him to credit and legal protection. Not so, however, in the legislative hopper. If one man falls to have a resolution or bill passed another takes it up, transferring such paragraphs and clauses or ideas as he wishes, without credit, and labeling the result with his name in such a way as to secure full and undisputed possession.

The only question considered is, "Will it pass?" for if it does not pass it represents only so much white paper snugly tucked away in pigeonholes until the advent of the next legislator whose inclination runs to fathering bills. The pigeonholes and crypt at the capitol are filled with documents suggestive of the faded hopes of many an enthusiastic congressman whose bill failed to "get by" and is ready for the appropriation of another ambitious legislator.—National Magazine.

Butter From Birds.

A century ago butter birds were killed to beat the band by the natives of the northern part of South America. In midsummer the Indians went into the great caverns where these strange birds had builded, and with long poles the nests were broken and destroyed, something like the way the Yankee boys in barns used to break up the homes of mud daubers and barn swallows. Butter birds builded nests in the tops of the caverns in niches and holes worn ages ago by water. A poke or two with a pole and the nest of gray clay looking like a big cheese came falling down, the young birds scattering on the floor of the cavern. The great lumps of fat between legs and under the tail of the nestlings were torn from them and piled into earthen pots and melted down into bird butter. The butter bird is about as large as a chicken and so sweet is the bird butter that it keeps a year or so without turning rancid. It is oily, clear and without smell.—New York Press.

Decay of Diplomacy.

Diplomacy is not a career which encourages the growth of a strong personality. The diplomatist is necessarily the tool of other men. Wandering from capital to capital, he is the mouth-piece of successive ministers, to whose divergent policies he must adapt himself with the good grace that leads to swift promotion. If he develops decided views of his own or allows himself to cultivate embarrassing sympathies he is apt to be marked as a dangerous and uncomfortable subordinate, for whom there will presently yawn some obscure and distant hole in a South American legation. The great ambassadors lived in the days when no telegraph had yet been invented to make bureaucracy omnipresent. It wants only some further perfection of the long distance telephone to abolish the diplomatist altogether.—London Athenaeum.

Gems of Oratory.

Here are some gems of oratory from the Austrian parliament:

"I have already said all I wish to say and therefore willingly withdraw all I might still say."

"I cannot longer keep silent without saying some words."

"Locomotive engineers stand with one foot in crime and with the other gnaw the rags of hunger."

"A funeral procession always has something mournful about it, especially when the decedent was a human being."

"If I am a parliamentary deputy I am still human."

You know THE shoe for exclusiveness, style, smartness and beauty of design bears the J. & K. brand. It's the favorite shoe of the favored classes.

It is one of our leaders and it is certainly leading.

Postoffice Humors.

I have received a rather delightful narrative from a correspondent in the Holy Land, says a contributor to the London Watch Dog. He went into the postoffice and asked for ten post cards. "But, honored sir," said the Turkish official, "why should you carry on your correspondence with cards? You can write at greater length in a letter. Besides, every one can read what you say on postcards."

"I have very little to say, and they suit me better. Kindly give me ten."

"But, dear worthy sir, you are not of those poor people who have to use postcards. Rather write a fine long letter."

"Will you or will you not give me ten postcards?"

"Honored sir, I would willingly give them to you, but I cannot."

"Why on earth not?"

"Because I have none. I have had none since the week before last. If you really insist upon having some you will have to go to Joppa for them, seventy miles away."

This reminds my correspondent of a visit he once paid to a postoffice in Damascus to ask for letters. "But, respected sir," said the postmaster, "you had some letters only last week, and now you are asking for more."

Saved His Leg.

"Fighting Bob" Evans was severely injured in the last attack on Fort Fisher. He was taken to a hospital, where the surgeon in charge informed him it would be necessary to amputate his leg. Evans was by no means reconciled to this idea, and in the absence of the surgeon procured a big navy pistol. When the doctor came back with his instruments the patient asked him innocently what he proposed to do.

"I'm afraid we shall have to amputate your leg," said the surgeon, reaching for his tools. When he returned to the attack he was looking into the muzzle of the navy pistol.

"Drop that knife, you!" cried Evans, and really there was nothing else for the surgeon to do. "Now I want a word with you," said the patient. "That leg doesn't come off, do you understand? The first one of you who makes a move to take it off will get a load of lead."

Nor did it come off. It is true that Evans carried a limp through life, but his timely assertion of his personality had saved his leg, which afterward proved quite useful.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Cold, Heat and Drowsiness.

Why do we feel drowsy when coming out of the cold into a very warm room? The effect of cold upon the body is to contract the surface blood vessels, drive the blood to the internal organs and slow and weaken the circulation. If this is prolonged the lessened circulation to the brain will produce a lethargy which may end in death. To prevent this we instinctively clap our hands, run or perform some other active exercise to stimulate the circulation. When going into a very warm room from the cold the surface capillaries are dilated and there is a rush of blood to the brain which produces a momentary congestion. We have here three causes for the drowsiness—more or less fatigue from the activity in the cold, the enervating effect of heat and the congestion.—New York American.

Just Like a Lady.

Lola, aged five, had spent the afternoon at a neighbor's. "I hope you behaved like a lady," said her mother when she returned. "Sure I did," replied Lola. "Every time I yawned I put my hand over my mouth."—Chicago News.

Poetic Justice.
