THE TEACHERS' MEETING WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Flood Did Not Affect Real Work of the Convention But Greatly Decreased Attendance

New officers elected: President, O. R. Bowen, West Point. Vice president, J. F. Gulliver, Bloomfield. Secretary, Lettie Robertson, Plainview. Treasurer, N. A. Housel, Madison.

"The convention of the North Nebraska Teachers association has been a great success in Norfolk, notwithstanding the flood," said President J. H. Kemp, immediately after the close of the convention at noon Saturday. "If the flood had not cut out four of the counties which expected to send teachers to the convention, the attendance record would have been broken." But the association is satisfied. The weather has been ideal; the teachers have been in good spirits; the business of the convention has been transacted to the utmost satisfaction, and Norfolk's welcome to the teachers is greatly appreciated under the handicapped condition of the city.

According to actual count by president Kemp, there were 425 school teachers in Norfolk for the convention. Many of these arrived late because of delayed railroad facilities.

Resolutions were passed sympathizing with Norfolk people in their misfortune in being in the path of the great flood and the great loss sustained thereby. The exhibit of the Norfolk schools was praised. The program was splendid and complete, and the work of this meeting must of necessity give a new impetus to the moral phase of school work.

The work of the convention over, the problem of getting home was a most serious one. Railroads were out of business, wagon roads for those near enough home, to have used them, were in bad condition with bridges out and deep mud, but where there is a will, there is a way, and most of those in attendance were home for school work the following Monday morning.

Madison teachers went home by wagon. A few went on handcars.

Below is a partial list of the Wayne county teachers in attendance:

Emma Weger, Rachel Fairchild, Mrs. Elsie Littell, I. H. Britell, Anna Fair, Mammie Wallace, J. H. Kemp, Emma Hughes, Ella Leahy, Hattie Schulthies, Katherine Lewis, M. A. Phillips, Estella Hardy, H. G. Leavens, Pearl Jewell, Blanche Gaertner, Eva Bauchemin, Jessie Strickland, Elsie Teich and Maud Grotse.

Nebraska Elections

Tuesday was the day for many city and village elections in Nebraska, and where there was a contest it was nearly always over the liquor question. The returns show that the wets had a little the best of the race, winning in more than they lost the state over. From the daily press we note the results in many places.

Lexington wet by 59 majority. Alliance went wet with an increase of 80 in the previous majority. There were 137 socialist votes reported at that place. Tecumseh was carried for the drys by a majority of 46. Bassett remained dry. Neleigh was carried for saloons by a majority of less than half a hundred.

O'Neill had a very warm contest and Hastings was very quiet, and no mention is made of the liquor question in either case.

Gothenburg went dry by about 40 majority. Broken Bow remains dry, but there was a sharp fight between the socialists and the citizens ticket. Socialism was in the minority, however.

At Bennington the contest was between business men and retired farmer candidates and the business men won out.

Springfield went wet, the same as it had been.

Nebraska City and Beatrice both elected commissioners and both remain wet.

Oxford went dry by the small margin of 16.

Tekamah remains dry. Pender continues wet without a struggle.

Sutton is on the wet list.

Flege Granted Change of Venue

Ponca, Neb., April 3. After a hearing on a motion for a change of venue in the Flege case continuing until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Judge Graves sustained the motion and granted a change to Thurston county. The case will be heard at a term of court at Pender. Ninety affidavits were presented by the defendant, and 170 by the state. The motion was argued in full by attorneys J. J. McCarthy, Fred Berry and Frank Berry for the defense, and County Attorney C. A. Kingsbury and A. R. Davis for the state.

Flege was present and was highly gratified at the court's ruling. The case will probably come up for a hearing about the middle of this month. There is much local interest in the case here.

Carroll Election

At the village election in Carroll the following were elected members of the board of trustees for two years: H. V. Garwood, James Baker, W. R. Thomas.

STATE FIRE COMMISSIONER TO ADDRESS WAYNE FOLKS

C. A. Randall to Speak at Wayne Court House Wednesday Evening, April 10th. All Will be Interested.

Mr. Randall is chief deputy fire commissioner of this state and is out doing effective work in the matter educating the people in fire prevention, and an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Also a stitch in time saves nine. Working in accordance with these sayings the officer is taking on fire prevention, first to the children in the public schools, and where possible to the older ones, as he will here at the court room.

Mr. Randall formerly represented this district in the state senate, and has many friends here who will be glad to again meet him. He is an interesting and entertaining talker, and all should hear what he has to say on this important subject, next Wednesday evening.

Criminal Carelessness

That is as mild a way as one can tell of what threatened to be a serious fire Sunday afternoon in the rooms formerly occupied by Mrs. Fox in the frame building formerly occupied by Olson & Swanson for a tin shop. The lower floor of the building is occupied by A. Sigsbey and family, the parents both blind, and three children, who came here a few weeks ago.

The family below thought that Mrs. Fox had gone to remain away, but Sunday she returned accompanied by another woman and a young fellow known as "Shorty Price" and going to the rooms proceeded to get and eat a lunch, judging by the conversation and noise made. Some time after they had left, Mrs. Sigsbey sent her husband to the room above to see whether or not everything was all right, as she felt uneasy about the house. He found a gasoline stove blazing high and not being able to shut it down gave the alarm.

A number of people along the street went at once to the scene and found that the fire was started in a gasoline stove. Frank Olson went in to shut the stove off, and found that one burner was opened full two turn of the shut-off and burning, and the other opened in like manner and not lighted the liquid running freely. Mrs. Fox had left the room but a short time before and was leaving town, in fact has not since been here. A few days before most of her furniture, which she had purchased on contract and not paid for was taken from the room. If circumstances do not point to criminal carelessness, call it something plainer.

Back From Germany

Geo. Harrigfeldt of Ashton, Idaho, who went to Germany last fall to visit his boyhood home, returned this week and stopped here to visit relatives and old friends, for Wayne county was his home before moving to Idaho. He was a member of the board of county commissioners in this county, and has a host of acquaintances here. He was accompanied home by a grand-niece who will make her home with him in the west. He was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cunningham while in this place.

Wayne County Loses Four Bridges

The past week was a busy one for our county commissioners. They had calls from every direction regarding bridges during the high water and breaking up of the ice. The result of the flood is that no less than four new bridges will have to be built and a number of others are needing repair. Of the new bridges to replace those that went three are on Deer Creek west and northwest of Wayne and one over the Logan east of this place.

Milliken-Erickson

Wednesday, April 3, 1912, at the Presbyterian parsonage, Rev. Alexander Corkey united in marriage Miss Blanche Milliken, daughter of Oscar Milliken and wife, and Mr. Fred Erickson, a young farmer living between here and Winside.

The bride and groom departed on the afternoon train for Omaha, and after a short wedding trip will be at home on the farm of the groom west of this place.

Kate Sells Clothing Store

A deal was consummated last week whereby John and Chas. Kate turned over the keys to their clothing store to S. D. Berg of Pierce, for a proper consideration in clean cash, and from now on the business will be conducted in the name of the Berg Clothing Co. Mr. Berg has been a successful clothing merchant at Pierce for ten years or more and comes to our city vouched for as O. K., and will find a welcome from all. He has secured the services of Frank S. Moragn, who is familiar with the stock and the business and knows all of the people who wear men's clothes.

In retiring from this business John Kate completes a record made by but few business men. In five months more he would have completed forty consecutive years in the clothing business—27 at Audubon, Iowa, and 13 years in Wayne. During all of these years he says he never sued a man and never was sued, that he had done an extensive credit business in the days when everyone bought on time and had lost but a small per cent in bad debts. For several years past the management of the store has been largely in charge of his son Charles, the senior Kate having another hen on, building up a successful incubator business in this place.

A Quiet Election

Wayne having settled all her differences last year, had a very tame election Tuesday. But one set of candidates were nominated, and they were elected without opposition. It would have been just as well to have declared the caucus nominees elected and saved the trouble of voting. In the 1st ward but 22 votes were cast and about 60 in each of the other wards. The officers are:

John H. Kate, mayor.
J. M. Cherry, city clerk.
H. S. Ringland, city treasurer.
H. C. Henny and I. H. Britell, school directors.
John Meister, councilman 1st ward.
Geo. Lamberson, councilman 2nd ward.
John Larison, councilman 3rd ward.

With this council we expect to see the good work started at Wayne last year successfully completed. A new city hall, a new library, new fire-protection apparatus, oiled streets (?) and every improvement that goes with a good city of this high class.

Commissioners' Proceedings.

Wayne, Neb., April 2, 1912. Board met as per adjournment. All members present. Wm. F. Ramsey is hereby admitted to the Soldiers Home at Burkett, Nebraska, on his own motion.

F. M. Hostetter is hereby appointed overseer of road district No. 41 and bond approved.

Charles E. Linn is hereby appointed overseer of road district No. 31 and bond approved.

Henry Schlus is hereby appointed overseer of road district No. 23 and bond approved.

W. I. Porter is hereby appointed overseer of road district No. 30 and bond approved.

Whereupon Board adjourned to April 24, 1912.

Chas. W. Reynolds, Clerk.

Late Happenings

The dam at West Point has gone out and the lower part of the town took a great washing.

Robt. LaFollette carried the primary in his own state by a safe majority. In this respect he did better than the "receptive" candidate.

The Socialists were defeated in Milwaukee by a union of the republicans and democrats, except in seven wards which were carried by the socialists against the combined opposition.

Flood damages at Norfolk are estimated at $18,000.

This will be a busy spring for the bridge T-companies.

Owing to the flood and bad roads the stock shipments of the past week have been very light and consisted of one car of hogs each from Perry & Gildersleeve, Hansen & Wamburg and Simon Gorman to Sioux City and a car of hogs from Hans Otte, and a car of cattle from Phil Damme to South Omaha.

THE SOCIAL HAPPENINGS AMONG VARIOUS CLUBS

Club, Lodge and Church Social Events of Interest to Young and Old. Mrs. Arnold's Sewing School Celebrates Anniversary

The Acme club enjoyed a most excellent program at the home of Mrs. Walter Weber Tuesday. It being Educational Day for the club, the following program was carried out: "The Misfit Child" from "The World's Work," Mrs. Crawford, "A Visit to Our Schools," Mrs. J. T. Bressler, "Domestic Science in Our Public Schools," by Mrs. Britell, "Teaching Children How to Co-operate for Public Honors in School," Mrs. Hamer Wilson. Mrs. Williams then presented an interesting paper, describing the Harbison School of The Testing Fire after which Mrs. Blair read Bulletins of the Medical Inspection of Public Schools in Utah. A beautiful vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. Blair, who was accompanied on the violin by little Alice Blair and Mrs. Raymond also gave a whistling solo. The program was very interesting and the papers prepared and subjects handled showed much study and careful thought. Mrs. Cleland of Omaha was a guest of the club. Each member of the club was remembered with a beautiful souvenir card sent by Mrs. M. S. Davies, who is traveling along the coast and who expect to return about the 1st of May.

Probably the busiest little institution in Wayne at the present time is Miss Arnold's Sewing school which is celebrating its first anniversary today. In the past year 325 persons have had their measures taken, 180 different people have been in attendance with an approximate 2,300 garments cut and made. Last Friday was the banner day, when 27 were present both morning and afternoon. There are usually about eight or ten sewing machines in the room, some of them belonging to private parties and the others used by the school, having been furnished by the different dry good stores. To show that the members appreciate this kindness on the part of the merchants, with very few exceptions, the material used, has all been purchased at home, the motto of the school being, "buy it at Home." Miss Arnold is to be congratulated upon making a success of this much needed institution which has been patronized as well by many outside towns, people coming from Winside, Wakefield, Stanton, Wausa, Sioux City, Randolph and other places to take advantage of the school.

The Monday club held a pleasant session with Mrs. A. A. Welch this week. The principal feature was a spelling match which caused much amusement and apprehension. Little Easter buckets with candy eggs were given each member and when a word was misspelled the victim gave up an egg to the victor. When most of the baskets were empty the remaining ladies cut for the prize, Mrs. Kate being the lucky one. The hostess presented each with a reward of merit souvenir and then served a delicious two-course luncheon to the music of choice selections on the Victrola. The Monday club meets with Mrs. Cunningham next week.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett in the north part of town was invaded last Thursday evening by a party of more than 30, who took possession in the name of a "lucky bean party" and made themselves at home for the evening, which was spent in games and conversation. An ample luncheon was provided by the invaders and enjoyed by all, and the Garrett family now know how it seems to be surprised.

The Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church entertained its members and held an open meeting at the church parlors Tuesday. An excellent program, consisting of readings and vocal and instrumental selections was rendered. The object of the meeting was to give the people an idea of the work being done by this society.

Regular meeting of the O. E. S. Monday evening, April 8. A large attendance is desired as it is the annual election of officers. Dues will be accepted at this time.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a social hour with Mrs. Morris yesterday afternoon, nice refreshments being served by a committee of ladies.

Invitations have been issued to the ladies of the Home Missionary society of the M. E. church for an "At Home" held at the parsonage next week.

The Shakespeare club enjoyed their usual lesson with Miss Craven Tuesday evening. Light refreshments were served.

The Minerva club will meet next Tuesday with Mrs. Grothe, Mrs. Miner leading.

New Hose for City

The city has recently added 500 feet of new fire hose to the fire fighting equipment of the city. We hope that it never has to be used, but in case of need "it is a handy thing to have around," as the old woman said when she bought a coffin. A little later when a place in which to house it has been provided, we should have a chemical engine of some character, and with it many small fires could be checked without the damage that comes from the free use of water.

THE WOODMEN'S PROTEST

Modern Woodmen Much Against the Proposed Rate and Organize to Resist Enforcement

Pres.—Dr. J. V. Beghtol, Hastings.
Vice pres.—Alexander McFarland, Friend.
Sec.—P. Q. DeVoe, Omaha.
Treas.—G. W. Phillips, Columbus.

Executive Committee—F. A. Anderson, Holdrege; Dr. Cohn, Oxford; M. L. Corey, Clay Center; J. P. Thompson, Grand Island; Nathan Bernstein, Omaha.

The Modern Woodmen of Nebraska who oppose the action of the delegates to the Head camp of that organization in arbitrarily raising the rate to the degree that they did, effected a permanent organization at Hastings, March 20th, in which representatives of most of the camps in the state participated and more than 20,000 members of the order were represented. A similar meeting was held at Columbus a short time earlier, and then united with the movement at Hastings. The Woodmen are thoroughly aroused the country over, and the matter will have to do with candidates for the next legislature, and they will be asked to make known their positions on fraternal insurance. We give below the causes assigned in the resolutions and the remedy proposed, not having space to give it all in full.

CAUSES

That we believe in a capacity of a free people for self government and believe that an order like the Modern Woodmen of America, framed and organized under the law as a fraternal Beneficiary society, the membership of which are empowered to exercise their will through their chosen representatives, should be afforded all possible opportunity to express their wishes upon great questions which affect the life of the order. That the action of the special session of the Head Camp in raising the rates of the membership was ill-advised and unwarranted by the conditions confronting the society that such action was not responsive to any demand or desire on part of the membership, and that such action is generally condemned by every true Woodman in Nebraska.

That the offices of the Head Camp including the Head Consul, Clerk, Banker, and others have become so important that they should be given their undivided attention and therefore we believe it to be for the best interests of the Modern Woodmen of America that the residence of each officer should be fixed and maintained at the location of the headquarters of said order at Rock Island Illinois.

We point the fact that the delegates to the Buffalo convention were chosen without the membership being advised as to any proposed change of rates so that they might select and instruct delegates to carry out their chosen will.

We condemn the Chicago plan of the Head Camp to create a tremendous reserve fund in the Modern Woodmen of America.

We point to an admitted fact that the levying of twelve assessments per annum on the unamended rate will assure ample funds for the paying of all expenses and losses until the head camp of 1914 and that the action at Chicago was therefore unwarranted and unnecessary and in flagrant violation of the rights of the membership to speak upon the question after full and fair opportunity had been afforded for consideration and discussion.

The railroading of the rate through at Chicago under such circumstances clearly establishes an unpatriotic motive and desire on the part of the head officers to deprive the membership of their sovereign right to govern their own order.

We declare our freedom as American citizens and our belief that there is nothing in our obligation as Woodmen which takes from us the right of free speech and makes it less majestic to criticize the head officers of an order created and existing under and by virtue of a law providing for self-government by the membership. And in this connection we declare our supreme contempt for the mandate of our head consul that we dare not assemble and speak as Woodmen.

We are unalterably opposed to the so-called Mobile bill and call upon our membership throughout the state to consult candidates for the state legislature with reference to their position upon this important question which seriously affects the future of every fraternal insurance society.

We earnestly urge our membership to retain their association with us as Woodmen Neighbors and to join with us in this fight for equitable treatment pointing to the fact that the rates do not change until 1913 and that we mean to prevent their operation even at that time by plans hereinafter outlined.

We welcome the participation of the Columbus convention in this one and congratulate the Woodmen of Nebraska upon the fact that a complete and harmonious plan of action has now been agreed upon in fighting the common cause of every true Woodman.

Believing that the future of our great order depends upon the prevention of the putting into effect of the proposed rates, declaring our love for Woodcraft, its history, its purpose and our desire to hold the membership intact which cannot will not suffer this rate imposition we hereby commit ourselves to the following plan of campaign:

That the officers consist of a president, vice-president secretary and treasurer and an additional committee of five who together with the above named officers shall constitute the executive committee and that the term of office of said officers shall not continue longer than until after the next state convention and in no event longer than the meeting of the next head camp. The Columbus convention shall have the right to name the treasurer and secretary and two members of the executive committee and the chairman of this convention shall name the president and vice president and three additional members of the executive committee who shall all be ratified by this convention.

That the executive committee shall wait upon the head officers of this society to urge upon them the adoption of one of the following proposals for relief from the proposed rates:

(a) That said rates be not enforced until the membership shall determine this question by referendum vote if it can be legally done.

(b) That said executive council call a special and newly elected head camp to consider and determine the question of rates if it can be legally done.

(c) And we authorize empower and instruct our executive committee to take such other and further action as they deem advisable and legally possible for the peaceful adjustment of the rate question.

(d) That in case the head officers are confirmed in their view that the membership is incompetent to determine the rates necessary for the Modern Woodmen of America and reject these proposals for an amiable adjustment of this question then, and in that case the executive committee is hereby authorized empowered and instructed to have recourse in the courts and to accomplish the aims and purposes of this convention through their instrumentality.

(e) That in case said plans, or all of them, should fail in the accomplishment of the purposes of this convention, then said executive committee is hereby instructed to call a new state convention of the Modern Woodmen of Nebraska to take such further action as the circumstances may require to secure to our membership the rights and benefits of which the head officers are seeking wrongfully to divest them.

Great Crop Prospects

Will M. Maupin, who has been out campaigning for democratic nomination for railway commissioner, makes the following observation to the public in his Weekly:

But as interested as we are in the political situation we are more interested in the crop outlook. It was never better. Nebraska is soaked to the middle. There is too much water in places, but the comforting fact remains that the high water is now, when it is doing little damage, and not nearly so likely to come when it would drown growing crops. The wheat prospects were never better. We saw thousands of acres of winter wheat that will, with two or three days of warm, sunny weather, be high enough to hide a jackrabbit. The stand was never better and the acreage never so great.

We've been in Nebraska more than a quarter of a century, and we have yet to see a crop failure following a winter and spring of unusual moisture. We'll harvest 50,000,000 bushels of wheat in Nebraska if we do not have a drop of rain between now and June 15.

In Error

Gus Seelmeyer, formerly of Altona, but now of Wisner informs the Democrat that we were misinformed when we reported that he was living at Wisner and carrying mail on the rural route. He is near Wisner, but is not delivering mail, but is in the lightning rod business and has his headquarters three and one half miles north of Wisner. He says he has the best rod out and in tending to that strictly, and did not like the kind of advertising the other notice gave him, for competitors assumed that he had gone out of business, but they well knew better, and he wants all to know that he is it.

Assessors Meet

The precinct assessors—eleven of them—met with County Assessor Witter at the court house Saturday afternoon. Owing to road and railroad conditions four precincts were not represented Saturday, and these are expected in at first opportunity to get their supplies and instructions.

Much interest attaches to assessing this year, as land is appraised this year after four years without any change, and the state authorities have sent instructions to the county assessors showing that a marked increase in land valuation will be made—if not by the county assessors and county commissioners, upon whom the law now confers new duties and new power, then by the state board of equalization or executive council or whatever name it is known by.

Assessor Witter informs us that the average assessed value of land in this county four years ago, exclusive of the improvements, was $52.80 per acre. The 1910 census valuation is $96.41, so the assessed valuation was but about 55 per cent of the government valuation. The average price according to the 1911 record of transfers is $101.11 per acre, and the table given below will show the average price in the different precincts, and will be used by precinct assessors to govern the valuation in their work.

Precinct	Acres	Am't.	Ave. Per Acre
Hoskins	2278	$ 168,880	$ 74.22
Garfield	1920	152,000	79.00
Sherman	2614	243,830	93.27
Hancock	2820	2,8,007	93.96
Chapin	758	83,488	108.00
Deer Creek	2242	220,850	98.50
Branna	800	90,800	113.50
Straban	1431	174,261	121.77
Wilbur	980	90,900	93.64
Plum Creek	520	58,200	111.92
Hunter	1952	251,600	124.00
Leslie	1874	168,072	122.24
Organ	840	95,900	113.00

There was a total of 147 transfers, involving 19,940 acres, at a total consideration of $2,016,226. The average price per acre was $101.11.

The increase here will be about $20 per acre of assessed valuation, or about $4 per acre of the taxable value; an increase of from 35 to 42 per centage.

Some counties are not making so great a raise, and they may be assured that when the rates are equalized between the different counties they will get what is coming to them, for the law is very plain and explicit, and so are the instructions to the county assessors, and we would prefer to take our chances in a county where the assessors try to do their duty than in one that leaves it to the state authorities.

The following schedule was made out for the guidance of the precinct assessors in securing something of a uniform valuation of live stock throughout the county. A study of this will help you and the assessor to understand each other when you meet for business.

Horses:—Under 1 year, $20 to $35. Over 1 and under 2, $40. Over 2 and under 3, $70 to 90. Over 3 and under 12, $75 to $125. Over 12, $20 to 75.

Stallions, $200 to 500.
Mules and Jacks:—Under 1 year, $25 to 30. Over 1 and under 2, $40 to 75. Over 2 and under 3, $70 to 90. Over 3 and under 12, $75 to $150. Over 12, $20 to 100.

Breeding Jacks, $150 to 200.
Cattle:—Under 1 year, $10 to 15. Over 1 and under 2, $15 to 20. Over 2 and under 3, $20 to 30. Over 3, $25 to 40. Fat cattle, per cwt, $3.50 to 4.50.

Sheep:—$2.00 to 3.00.
Hogs of all ages, per cwt, $6.00.
Dogs:—$5.00.

Poultry, per doz. $3.00.
Wheat, per bu. $.85.
Corn, per bu. $.50.
Rye, per bu. $.65.
Oats, per bu. $.40.
Barley per bu. $.85.
Potatoes, per bu. $1.00.
Hay, per ton, $7.00.

You are required to list the names of all male persons between the ages of 18 to 45 years subject to military duty.

A. T. WITTER,
County Assessor.

THE TARIFF TAXED CONSUMED

Clyde H. Tavenner tells Who Pays the Tax and How Much it Costs and Who Gets It

Washington, April 1.—When a woman purchases $10 worth of woolen dress goods, $4.87 of that $10 represents the actual value of the goods and the remaining $5.13 of the $10 amount of the tariff. In other words, should the same purchase be made in England, where there is no tariff on woollens, the woman would receive the same amount and quality of dress goods for $4.87 that she pays $10 for in this country.

This is because of the Payne-Aldrich ad valorem tariff of 105 per cent on this class of goods. When the democrats came into power in the House of Representatives they framed a bill reducing the tax on woollens nearly 40 per cent. Had this bill been permitted to become a law the price of woollens would have been reduced to every consumer in the United States. But President Taft vetoed the bill. The Democratic majority of the House now presents the bill again.

The President, however, will have less excuse to veto the measure than he had before. He declared the first time that a certain tariff board had not made its report; and that to permit a reduction of the duties might make it impossible for the woolen manufacturers to "protect" their workmen.

The tariff board has now reported, showing that wages in the woolen industry are as high abroad as in this country in many instances. Then there has been a strike of the woolen mill workers at Lawrence, Mass., which has revealed beyond argument and beyond contradiction that the woolen trust magnates have been fooling and cheating the public all the time.

The strike of the $6, $7 and $8 a week men, women and children in the woolen mills brought to light the fact that while the mill owners have been declaring they were "protecting" their workers by giving them fair wages and decent working conditions, they have been paying them starvation wages and treating them almost like animals.

The last leg has been knocked under the wool tax argument, and President Taft has no excuse left to explain a veto of the Democratic downward revision wool bill.

It will be impossible to fool the people again, whether they are republicans or democrats. The President vetoed the first wool bill not for the welfare of either consumers or woolen mill workers, but at the behest of the millionaire woolen trust owners who contributed to his campaign fund. If he vetoes the newly introduced wool bill it will be for the same reason, and the people will so understand it.

Anyone who thinks those millionaire woolen trust magnates at Lawrence, Mass., are increasing the salaries of their men, women and children mill workers out of the generosity of their hearts, are mistaken. They are going to saddle on the American people not only the amount of the increased wages, but every penny of the expense of the strike.

"The public sympathized with the strikers," is the slogan of the wily mill owners, "so let them shoulder the expense."

Before any wages were increased, the woolen trust magnates, who have been making profits from 6 to 75 per cent on their investment, decided to advance the cost of clothing. And as a matter of fact, the consumers began to actually pay increased prices for woolen and cotton goods in anticipation of the increased wages to be paid by the woolen trust magnates, before the announcement of the increased wages was made public.

Cotton prints, calicoes and the like have risen in prices at wholesale in New York City a quarter of a cent in the last ten days, and mill agents predict the increases will reach 2 cents a year, which would bring into the treasuries of the textile manufacturers approximately $12,000,000. This will take a difference of 5 cents in an apron, an 25 cents in the housewife's dress. Men's clothing is going up, and women's and children's woolen dress goods are declared to be next in line. Within a year it is figured the amount of the increases and the entire cost of the strike will have been more than made up by an accommodating public.

The men who perpetrate such outrages as this on both consumers and their employees are but a handful in number. They are just a few rich men who own or control the majority of the stock of the woolen trust. It is practically these few men, and they alone, who are the sole beneficiaries of Schedule K.

We desire once more to ask: How long will 92,000,000 American citizens permit themselves to be outrageously taxed on every stitch of clothing they use solely for the still further enrichment of a few greedy millionaire woolen trust magnates?

"DOPERS" ACTIVE AT WASHINGTON

Drug makers and druggists' agents appeared before the pure food board in Washington, and asked for permission in certain cases to take the skull and cross bones sign off bottles containing poisonous preparations. With the death's head label off the bottle, the druggists might do more business. Imagine the surprise of the dopers when in the midst of their argument in walked Dr. Harvey W. Wiley. When he objected to the plan of the petitioners, alluding to them as "dopers," it looked for a few minutes like a free for all fight. A demand was made that Dr. Wiley withdraw the expression "dopers," which he finally consented to do. Afterwards he used the term "Manufacturers of poison." The dopers angrily demanded to know whom he represented, and he replied: "One American citizen."

SPIRIT OF THE TIMES
TYPIFIED BY WILSON

Iowa Pleased at Solution of Present Problem.

[Des Moines (Ia.) News.]

Woodrow Wilson typifies the new spirit of the times in things political. He is the embodiment of the new thought in the nation.

This clear headed and profound scholar brought to the Iowa people a message of hope and good cheer. He came carrying the standard of a progressive army of thoughtful Americans, fully determined that whatever else may happen it shall be brought about that this shall again be a government by and for the people.

In his Coliseum address the governor properly assumed that there are tendencies in American life that are wrong, that evils have grown up that we have got away from the moorings of a free government. No need to discuss these things. But what is the remedy?

He analyzed the problem with the dispassionate logic of the great university teacher before his class. He was especially happy in his characterization of the problem as one relating to "privileged business" rather than "big business," for it is not size so much as it is the enjoyment of special privilege that makes some business destructive of all that is good in commercial and political life. He was right, too, in leading back to the original source and refuge of all special privilege—the protective tariff.

Without attempting to go into details he pointed out that the remedy that we all are seeking must be secured. If at all, through agencies that are free to act. No axiom of the school books could be plainer.

Woodrow Wilson brought to Iowa people a message they hear with eagerness because they want just such a message. He spoke from the standpoint of the lifelong and earnest student of world politics, as one who has approached the subject with ripened intellect and well trained mind and following the eternal principles of truth, has reached a conclusion that cannot be assailed. Without any oratorical flourishes he held his audience entranced. He said nothing but that which he knew to be true. He made no use of merely fine sounding phrases. It was cold logic, yet told in simple and direct language.

Here, then, is the new man in politics, a man come as a prophet among us to preach the new gospel. We have come upon a new time, when things are different, when the problems are not what they once were, when the people are eager for some discussion of present day politics in the light of present day conditions. That is why Woodrow Wilson's message to Iowa people was so refreshing, so inspiring, so helpful.

Whatever else they may do, the Iowa people, without regard to the particular party tag they are just now wearing, with small consideration for the grandfathers' prejudices, owe to Woodrow Wilson a vote of thanks for the battle line and show us that which lies just beyond.

ing a political campaign, and the one now pending is no exception.

is bringing on plenty of comment,
and that is a good thing.

For a government that is down

It is said that in case of the enactment into law of the Aldrich case the question naturally arises, what two would be stangled.

It is reported that the amendment to the constitution that is to

Not many candidates for state offices to be nominated at the primary Friday, April 19th, have visited Wayne, but Floyd Seybolt, democratic candidate for state treasurer, drove across to Wayne Friday afternoon from Laurel. He states that as two or three bridges were out, they were compelled to drive west out of their way, going by Phil Most's farm, it taking five hours to make the drive from Laurel to Wayne. Mr. Seybolt has lived in Nebraska practically all his life. He was born and lived for fifteen years upon a farm. It is doubtful if any candidate who has ever fled for this most important financial office of the state, that of State Treasurer, ever had better qualifications than has Floyd Seybolt of Geneva, who has been in active Nebraska banking for 21 years.

School Notes

Hear the debate.
Don't fail to hear the debate tomorrow (Friday) evening.
All the Wayne teachers enrolled at the N. N. T. A. last week.
The Senior Class Play has been selected and work on it will begin at once.
The State Normal Male Quartet and Herbert Welch pleased the people immensely.

Ensign Young and Willis Fleetwood of our high school delighted the N. N. T. A. last week in their usual way. They were highly complimented by the people who heard them.

The total attendance at the North Nebraska Teachers' association last week at Norfolk was 325. This was nearly 100 less than last year, but considering the flooded condition of Nebraska at the time, the attendance was very good.

Our high school boys are now lineing up for base ball and track work. Our school has recently become a member of the North East Nebraska Athletic association and the boys expect to make creditable showing in this work the first year.

The art and manual work exhibited by the Wayne schools at Norfolk last week proved very popular. So much of it was asked for by the Norfolk and other visiting teachers that it didn't look like the same exhibit when it was brought home.

Marjorie Kohl, our contestant in the North Nebraska High School Decamatory contest last Thursday evening at Norfolk, was awarded second place in the Dramatic class.
Marjorie presented her selection
"The Traitor" with all feeling, grace and splendor and many felt that she merited first honors.

Tomorrow (Friday) evening occurs the Wayne-Randolph debate in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The wording of the proposition for debate is as follows:
"Resolved, That The Movement of Organized Labor For The Closed Shop Should Receive The Support of Public Opinion." Wayne maintains the affirmative and will be represented by Clement Grossland, Bernard McConnell and Tracy Kohl.
Randolph on the negative is represented by Pine Wagner, Edith Willey and Alfred Reese. This will be an interesting contest and everybody ought to hear it. Good music will be furnished by the high school orchestra and the popular State Normal Male Quartet. Come and enjoy the evening. Admission only 15 cents.

Among The Churches of Wayne

METHODIST CHURCH

(Rev. Wm. Gorst, Pastor)
No criticism whatever is offered on church attendance. The assemblages have been from good to excellent all winter. But with the arrival of spring the time is here when all can attend nearly every service and thus place the attendance, personal influence and charm of church going at high tide for three months before the depleting time of hot weather and vacations come. Just as surely as that you will expect the pastor to be in the pulpit and at his post, he will look for you in the congregation and at Sunday school regularly, and I am sure that each will do his best not to disappoint the other.

If any member of the church, congregation or Sunday school know of people who are sick, new comer to town, or for any other reason should have the special attention of the pastor and will by phone, letter or in person call attention to the case he will greatly appreciate such a service. Without such aid it is not possible for this pastor to know at the timely moment where all such needs are.
"Help just a little". Besides when you call the physician to your home why not let the other physician know that you have done so?

The W. E. M. society gave an able and very helpful and instructive program last Tuesday evening in the parlors of the church before 80 to 100 people. When we understand the wideness and merits of the work of this society it looks as though every woman of the congregation would surely be an ardent supporter in a field big enough for the gifts and graces of all.

Next Sunday is Easter. The pastor will speak on "Christ the Conqueror of Death" in the morning and in the evening the congregation will be joined in a union service by the Wayne Choral Union under the leadership of Prof. L. L.
Alexander. The program follows.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

(Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor)
The Easter services next Sabbath morning will begin at 10:30
a. m. There will be no Sunday school, all the children attending the special Easter service. The program of exercises will include songs by the children, and special music by the choir. The subject of the sermon will be "Our Greatest Question Answered."
There will be no evening service as the congregation will unite in the Union meeting at the M. E.
church, where the Wayne Choral Union will render an Easter Cantata.

The Junior and Senior C. E. Societies will hold special Easter meetings next Sunday. The Juniors meet at 8 o'clock, and the C. E. meeting will begin promptly at 6:30. The leader of the Seniors is Miss Ruth Sterling, and the subject is "The Kind of Life we will Wish we Had Lived."

It is planned to hold a Union Brotherhood Banquet this year, in which the Brotherhoods of the M. E., the Presbyterian, and the Baptist churches will unite. It is expected also to invite specially a number of people from the country, which will make the occasion one of special significance, as it will call together an influential majority of the men of our community who are interested in the best things for Wayne. The Banquet will probably be held within a few weeks.

BAPTIST CHURCH

(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor)
On last Sunday seventeen candidates were baptized. Three others await baptism. Four were received into the church by letters last Sunday.
We are gradually reaping the fruits of Evangelist Pugsley's work with us.
On next Sunday we are hoping for a great day. The band of church fellowship will be given to all those who have lately joined the church.

Sunday morning will also be our communion service. The service will be of special help to the new members. The communion address will be on "Easter Messages." Appropriate Easter music will be rendered. We hope a very large number of our members will be present.
Sunday school at 12 o'clock. The Young People's meeting will be led by Miss Ina Hughes at 6:30 p. m.

Because of the musical at the Methodist church, there will be no evening preaching service at our church, so we can join with them.

NEBRASKA NEWS

Twenty-five Trains Tied Up by Flood Given Fresh Start.

UNION PACIFIC FIRST TO OPEN

Receding Waters Show Devastation Which Has Been Wrought—Property Loss Is Heavy at Some Points in State—Provision Trains Rushed.

Omaha, April 3.—The Union Pacific was the first road to get its trains to operating over the flood-stricken district out of Omaha. Ten passenger trains, which have been tied up here for the last two or three days, were started west in a procession about fifteen minutes apart.

Other roads hope to have bridges and washouts repaired so that trains may be running today.

When the outgoing Union Pacific trains reached Fremont, the fifteen trains which had been marooned there were started east.

Trains on several of the lines are still being detained, with no particular regard for time schedules, and several days will have elapsed before conditions are back to normal.

As soon as the congestion of passenger trains was reduced, freights were started out from Omaha, carrying food, provisions and coal to the sufferers along the Union Pacific in the flooded sections.

Receding waters in the flooded districts along the Platte and Elkhorn reveal a scene of vast destruction, the worst in the history of Nebraska. Streets in the stricken towns are littered with debris, and in some places the topography of farms has been entirely changed. Water stands, and in some instances is still running in the lowlands, and several days will have elapsed before commerce and traffic is restored to normal.

Fremont to Act Quickly.

A report comes from Fremont that along the Platte river the low farm lands were badly damaged by the strong current and floating ice and in places covered from six inches to a foot with sand. Damages to bridges and roads in Dodge county may reach $120,000. A special meeting of the county board is ordered for today and the state will be asked to help to replace the longer bridges. A part of the dike built by a drainage district to cut the water off from the north channel is gone and the channel, which runs across Fremont island, looks like a permanent one.

A conservative estimate of flood damage in the business section of Norfolk is $18,000. Madison county bridges were damaged to the extent of $6,000. In other towns the damage is much greater.

INDICT SOUTH OMAHA MAYOR

True Bills Against Trainor, Good, Pivonka, Caldwell and Ryan.

Bribery—Indictments against J. J. Ryan and Joseph Pivonka, South Omaha fire and police commissioners, and Mayor P. J. Trainor, who by virtue of his office is the third member of the fire and police board, were returned by the Douglas county grand jury.

The men are charged with accepting a bribe. Indictments charging giving the bribe were returned against three persons, two of whom are City Clerk Frank H. Good and former Justice of the Peace P. C. Caldwell.

Sol Goldstrom, agent of the South Omaha retail liquor dealers several weeks ago was grilled by the grand jury and confessed that a slush fund to "fix" the board of fire and police commissioners was made by the dealers and paid to Good and Caldwell, who were to pass it on to the board members.

WOODMEN OUTLINE CAMPAIGN

Insurgent Executive Committee Holds Session at Hastings.

In accordance with directions given at the recent state convention in Hastings the Nebraska executive committee of the Modern Woodmen outlined a plan of action to prevent the enforcement of the increased rates ordered by the head camp of the Modern Woodmen of America at the national meeting in Chicago.

The resolutions adopted by the state convention contemplate, first, an effort to secure relief by peaceful means, and, second, if necessary, to resort to litigation to test the legality of the head camp's order.

Another meeting of the committee has been called to take place at Lincoln, Thursday. The committee named to prepare the petition to the head of officials is expected to report at that time and probably the petition will be taken at once to Head Consul Tabor.

Citizens' Ticket Wins in Pender.

Pender, Neb., April 3.—The liquor question was not voted on here, so the town will stay wet. The citizens' ticket and the Socialists had it out and the former won out. Heyne, Conway and Albertson were elected for the board. At this time it is not known who will be appointed mayor.

Bancroft Remains Wet.

Bancroft, Neb., April 3.—The initiative and referendum were voted on here for the first time. There were 126 votes cast and the town went wet by a fifteen majority. The three new members elected for the board were Republicans.

FINDS BRIGGS SHOT BLUNT

Trouton and Sheriff Myers Held to Have Been Accessories.

The coroner's jury at Springfield in the inquest over the body of Roy Blunt returned a verdict recommending that Chief of Police Briggs of South Omaha, his special deputy, John C. Trouton, and Sheriff Myers of Lincoln be held to the district court for the killing of Roy Blunt and that Sheriff Grant Chase of Sarpy county be censured for not preventing the shooting which resulted in Blunt's death.

Chief of Police John Briggs of South Omaha and Sheriff Grant Chase of Sarpy county were important witnesses of the day.

Briggs frankly admitted having used two rifles, both of large caliber and also that he went into the fight with a determination to end the path of the fugitives and shoot to kill, at the same time declaring that he took every possible precaution to avert injury to young Blunt.

Sheriff Grant Chase, sheriff of Sarpy county, declared that one of the convicts fired the shot which killed the young farmer.

READY FOR LOUP PROJECT

Work on Power Plant Will Begin When Weather Permits.

F. M. Currie was at Lincoln trying to ascertain whether public ownership talk had so influenced the board of irrigation that it was likely to interfere with filings for water rights and was informed by the engineer in charge that he did not see how the board could in any way interfere with filings made and prosecuted in good faith. Mr. Currie says that himself and E. D. Bennett, together with other New York capitalists, were all ready to go to work on the Loup river project near Broken Bow and were only waiting for the weather to permit actual work. The money to carry the project through is all raised and there are no adverse filings to hamper in this case. His plan contemplates tapping the Middle Loup near Comstock, where 2,500 horsepower will be developed. The generating plant and distribution system is estimated to cost $500,000 and will furnish light and power for Grand Island, York, Aurora, Broken Bow and other towns in that section.

MURDER IN PENITENTIARY

Tom Davis Stabs John Strong Just as Convicts Leave Breakfast Table.

Convict Tom Davis stabbed and killed Convict John Strong at the state penitentiary while the inmates of the prison were leaving the breakfast table. Davis is a half-breed Indian and negro convict sent up from Omaha, Feb. 12, for burglary. John Strong, colored was sent up from Sioux county, Oct. 25, 1906, for murder. Strong was serving a life term.

Davis is said to have been frequently threatened by Strong and claims that he killed the negro to safeguard his own life.

Guard Number Complete.

When Major Penn, regular army inspector of the Nebraska national guard, made his annual inspection of the guard this winter, owing to intense cold in January and storms in February and March, not enough men responded for inspection to entitle the state to the full federal aid appropriated for the guard. For the last four days members of the guard who were not present for inspection have been coming in to the adjutant general's office and furnishing excuses for non-attendance. Enough of these have been reported and excuses accepted to bring the guard up to the required number.

Canvass Comes Any Time.

In response to inquiries of county clerks and after consulting with the attorney general, Secretary Wait has written officials that the returns of the primary election can be canvassed at any time after they are all in the hands of the clerks. The old law under which the primaries were on Tuesday, provided the canvass should be held the Friday following the election. The new primary law makes no such provision and as the primary is held on Friday, if the old law was followed, it would be a week after election before the canvass.

Jury Says Boy Shot After Threats.

The coroner's jury held an inquest over the body of Joe Teahon, who was killed by Frank Bayers, near Anselmo returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a bullet from a pistol held in the hands of the defendant, Frank Bayers, and fired by him because of fear resulting from threats Teahon made against defendant and family. Bayers still remains in the custody of the sheriff and will now have to answer either to the charge of murder or manslaughter.

Fairbury to Have Co-operative Store.

On the theory that it will be possible to reduce the high cost of living, a movement has been started in Fairbury to operate a co-operative store. Shares are being sold at $10 each. As soon as sufficient capital is secured, a stock of groceries and other articles will be purchased. The movement is backed up by the wage earners of Fairbury, assisted by the Socialists.

North Platte Fireman Killed.

Walter Hinkley, a fireman on the Union Pacific railroad at North Platte, was instantly killed at Julesburg. He was leaning out of the cab window while the train was moving at a slow rate of speed when his head struck one of the iron pillars supporting the coal chutes, crushing his skull and face.

Miss Charlotte M. White went to Winside Monday morning to attend the Sunday school convention being held there.

Mrs. Aug. Walters went to Norfolk Monday morning to attend the district meeting of Ben Hur's. She reports a splendid meeting and that 100 new members were initiated.

Rev. Leahy of St. Louis was here the first of the week visiting home folks. He delivered an excellent sermon at St. Mary's church Palm Sunday and in the afternoon addressed the young people of that church.

Two of our city Nimrods while hunting last week are said to have almost bagged a jack rabbit. But after each had taken a shot the game made bolt and escaped nearly running over both hunters. However, they were out for ducks and so did not care for the jack.

Mrs. Mary Wallace, who has been spending the winter with a son at Wahpeton, North Dakota, arrived at Wayne Tuesday and will visit a while here at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. O. Gardner, before going to her home at Villisca, Iowa.

F. Philleo and Horace Theobald left early Monday to try for a few ducks down on the reservation. They went south from Wakefield by team. The duck rather has it on the hunter this year, as the law protects them after tomorrow, and the winter did not invite them north until a few days ago.

Winter is drawing to a close, evidently. The snows are not so heavy as before, in fact the sleighing has gone in spite of the snow on Saturday and Sunday nights. The ice is out of the streams and the roads and fields begin to show a few dry spots on the surface, so that the farmer will soon be in the field full force.

The Wayne District Sunday school convention was held in the Baptist church last Sunday afternoon. The speakers were Miss Lundquist from Carroll and Mrs. Homer Sease of this city. Several others took part in the discussion. Mr. Kimberly, who was to have been here from Lincoln, was unable to get here, being stranded by the high water at Norfolk Junction. Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Sease, president; Mrs. G. W. Crossland, vice-president; Miss Ethel Huff, secretary.

Chas. Huff of Bancroft was at Wayne Tuesday, visiting old acquaintances and feeling the political pulse, for he is a candidate for the democratic nomination to the state Senate from this district, making the race against Phil H. Kohl of this city. His card announcing his candidacy says that he is a farmer; lived in Cumings county for 28 years; has served two terms in the legislature and asks the voters to look up his record in the legislature and give him the support that he has earned, according to the opinion of the voter. We were remembered with a very pleasant call.

Bayers Released on $1,000 Bond. Broken Bow, Neb., April 3.—Frank Bayers, the young man who shot and killed Joe Reaction last week near Anselmo, waived examination before County Judge Holcomb on a charge of murder in the first degree and was bound over in the sum of $1,000. Several prominent people in the neighborhood of Anselmo signed the bond and Bayers was released pending his appearance before Judge Hostetter at the coming term of the district court.

Mrs. Thomas Hayes returned to her home at Gregory, South Dakota, Monday, after a visit with relatives in Wayne.

W. H. Kimberly, representing the State Sunday School Association was in town Monday conferring with Sunday school workers. It was arranged that Mr. Wm. Beckenhauer fill out the unexpired term as president of the county association and Miss Woosley take the place of secretary. These offices have been very acceptably filled by Mr. Elmer Lundquist and Miss Lundquist of Carroll, who are soon to remove from the county.

Sermons on Genesis

Last Sunday evening Rev. Alexander Corkey continued his series of sermons on the first book of the Bible, taking up Chapter three, which records the story of the introduction of sin into the world. The speaker began by saying that the first two chapters of Genesis would be spared from the sacred record as the universe in which we live, and our knowledge of ourselves plainly teaches men of God's existence, our likeness to Him, and our lordship over nature. The teeming millions who have never heard of the Bible know as well as we do that there is a God, for the invisible things of God are clearly manifested in the things which are made. However, in the third chapter of Genesis we begin to see the absolute necessity for a revelation from God, as this chapter begins the story of man's sin, which makes it impossible for men without the Bible to really know the character of God. Apart from revelation men have supposed the sin of the world reflected the character of its Creator, and the non-Christian religions are universally defective on this account, some of them blasphemously so. From the sacred record we see that sin came into the world by the abuse of man's free will, who chose evil instead of good. Sin was defined as something abnormal in this world, as it is very plain this world was created to be inhabited by good, clean people. Sin is really the fundamental problem of humanity. Amongst a race of high-souled, and noble people there would be no problems such as the vice problem, the race problem, the economic problem, etc. The world's wisest men from Jesus down have always recognized this. In conclusion the speaker paid a high compliment to the literary genius, as well as divine inspiration back of Genesis 3, as it teaches us better than any other writing in literature, the nature of temptation to evil.

NO CAUSE TO DOUBT

A Statement of Facts Backed By Strong Guarantee

We guarantee immediate and positive relief to all sufferers from constipation. In every case where our remedy fails to do this we will return the money paid us for it. That's a frank statement of facts, and we want you to substantiate them at our risk.

Rehall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity. Rehall Orderlies are unsurpassable and ideal for the use of children, old folk and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evil. That's why we back our faith in them by our promise of money back if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three sizes: 12 tablets 10 cents; 36 tablets 25 cents and 80 tablets 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rehall Remedies only at our store, the Rehall store, Shulthies Pharmacy.

AHERN'S

"Dr. Miles' Nervine Completely Cured Our Little Boy of Fits."

A family can suffer no greater affliction than to have a child subject to fits or epilepsy. Many a father or mother would give their all to restore such a child to health.

"I am heartily glad to tell you of our little boy who was completely cured of his fits. He commenced having them at 15 years of age and had them for four years. I tried three doctors and one specialist but all of them said he could not be cured, but Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills made a complete cure. He is now hale, hearty and gay. It has been three years since he had the last spell. I shall give Dr. Miles' medicines praise wherever I go. You are at liberty to use this letter as you see fit and anyone writing to me I will gladly answer if they enclose stamp for reply."

Dr. Miles' Nervine

is just what it is represented to be, a medicine compounded especially for nervous diseases, such as fits, spasms, St. Vitus' dance, convulsions and epilepsy. These diseases frequently lead to insanity or cause weak minds. Dr. Miles' Nervine has proven most effective in relieving these dreaded maladies.

Sold by all druggists. If the first bottle fails to benefit your money is returned. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

A man by the name of Grover P. Miller, of Harlan, Iowa was arrested at Randolph last week on the charge of white slavery. He is said to be one of three men who enticed a 17 year old girl to Omaha to be used for immoral purposes. Miller is well-to-do and claims the charge is a trumped up scheme to get money from him and that he is perfectly innocent.

Joseph Tehon, a farmer 40 years old, was shot and killed near the town of Anselmo by Frank Bayers, aged 20, a son of Mrs. Mary Bayers. Young Bayers, who came here and gave himself up, says Tehon attacked his mother and it was in defense of her that he shot. Tehon formerly lived at the Bayers home. The sheriff and coroner have gone to Anselmo to investigate.

During services at the First Methodist Episcopal church at Hooper a boy came running into the building crying that the roof was on fire. The congregation marched out in fairly good order. It was found that sparks had started a merry blaze over one corner of the structure. The chemical wagon of the fire department was called into service and small damage was done.

An over-production of potatoes in Germany in recent years has set the ingenious Germans to devising methods to use the surplus to advantage and potato flakes are the result. These flakes are dried and are used for feeding stock, for distilling alcohol, for making starch, etc., same as the natural potatoe, and are ground and bottled to make potatoe flour. This flour is a yellowish-white product, rich in carbohydrates, and is used principally by bakers for adding to rye and wheat flour in making bread. It is claimed that the addition of potatoe flour gives the bread a good flavor, makes it more digestible, and keeps it fresh longer.

Facts About Indigestion and Its Relief That Should Interest You

Although Indigestion and Dyspepsia are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their cause and cure. There is no reason why most people should not eat anything they desire—if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly. Many actually starve themselves into sickness through fear of eating every good-looking, good-smelling, and good-tasting food, because it does not agree with them.

The best thing to do is to fit yourself to digest any food.

We believe we can relieve Dyspepsia. We are so confident of this fact that we guarantee and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to every one who will use it, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results which it produces. We exact no promises, and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely, nothing could be fairer. We are located right here and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want every one troubled with indigestion or Dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and buy a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial, according to directions. Then, if not satisfied, come to us and get your money back.

They are very pleasant to take; they aid to soothe the irritable stomach, to strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, and to promote a healthy and natural action, thus leading to perfect and healthy digestion and assimilation.

A 25 cent package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets furnishes 15 days' treatment. In ordinary cases, this is sufficient to produce a cure. In more chronic cases, a longer treatment, of course, is necessary, and depends upon the severity of the trouble. For such cases, we have two larger sizes which sell for 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store, the Rexall Store, Shulthies Pharmacy.

DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR

A Money Maker and Saver

The Cow's Best Friend

If you are still skimming milk by the old-fashioned "setting" system you are losing about one pound of cream in every four and you are not giving your cows a square deal.

With a De Laval cream separator you would get 20 to 35% more, and much better, cream, and besides would have warm sweet milk to feed to your calves and pigs.

We know that the De Laval will give you better service and last twice as long as any other separator and will be a money-maker for you.

Ask any of your neighbors who use a De Laval what kind of service their machines have given them. If a De Laval will save cream and make money for your neighbors it will do as much for you. Why not give it a trial?

Easiest to turn, easiest to wash, skims the cleanest, lasts the longest

APOPLEXY AMONG FOWLS.

It's a shame when a bully big rooster drops dead in the grass or heavy hens are found stiff under the roost or fruitful Biddy is found unconscious in the nest beside her last egg. A sort of mystery when birds die so quick. Is it heart disease or what?

It's generally apoplexy, other diseases nearly always showing some premonitory sign. Nine cases in ten the fowl drops dead as a "dead fall." About the only external change after death is a dark purple comb, as in the picture.

Doctors tell us that apoplexy is the rupture of a blood vessel on the brain and the pressure of the escaped blood on that organ.

You have noticed that human victims of apoplexy are generally very stout. They drop after a hearty meal, violent exercise, fright or excitement. Hens struck by this lightning killer generally go under like conditions.

The hen found under the roost is nearly always overfat. The one dead on the nest died from rupture of a blood vessel while straining to force an egg through overfat organs. The

NOTE THE DARK COMB, cock that dropped in the grass may have been chasped by the dog or some rooster bully.

Apoplexy is mainly caused by over-feeding, especially of stimulating feed. It is seldom seen where hens are fed properly and exercise for their grain. Occasionally a victim has a slight stroke, and a tablespoonful of salts may relieve, but such birds are subject to vertigo and are worthless as breeders. Apoplexy is a case where prevention is worth all the cure and then some.

DON'TS.

Don't expect an editor to whitewash you if you advertise a No. 1 and sell what is bum.

Don't put all the big eggs on top of the basket. Put all the big eggs in one crate and get a higher rate.

Don't expect hens to lay in winter without exercise, and always have some grain in the litter to reward the hen that works.

Don't make it a fowl house when it should be a fowl house, up to date, clean, a comfort to the hens and something for you to crow over.

Don't let the chickens bother the horses and cows at feeding time nor roost and lay in the manger. That bughouse way never did pay.

Don't neglect to spray the henhouse and the fruit trees. If the pests are kept off the hens and the trees you'll make more profit to crackle about.

Don't keep fowls in a house where water freezes solid and expect to get eggs, for all their feed will go for heat to keep them from freezing to death.

Don't throw the straw or sawdust from a foreign crate into the hens. It may contain disease germs, mites or ticks and breed a nuisance or a pestilence.

Don't make the poultry house part of that new barn. Mites may infest the roosts and stables and cause a runaway, or a barn fire may destroy your poultry.

Don't forget that a fair return is no boarding. If the next farmer has been boarding your turkeys all summer he should have a share of the turkey or the selling price.

Don't build the henhouse right against the barn. Build it out separate so it gets sunshine on all sides and fresh air for ventilation and may be surrounded by yards.

Don't expect people to spend their time patting you on the back. While genuine praise is sweet and men must commend if you do well, the testimony of a good conscience should give most satisfaction.

Don't look on machinery as a luxury, but rejoice that these time, labor and money making wheels within wheels have emancipated us from the age when truth was trod out by oxen and ground by hand between stones.

COULDN'T BLUFF THE EDITOR.

Up on a limb a gobbler sat,
High in a walnut tree,
And gobbled till his face got red,
"Oh, woe—oh, woe is me!"

He was a sly old bird, that turk,
And had in some fowl way
Escaped the turkish massacre
Wreaked for Thanksgiving day.

But now he felt his doom was sealed—
The preacher had been round
And asked the farmer of it and o'er,
Where turkeys might be found.

"There, take that bird!" the farmer cried,
"Consider him a gift.
You'll find him tender, big and fat
When you his carcass lift."

But that old turk was awful sly,
For when he got to town
He hung right off that he was turk
And hung his head way down.

"Alas," the hungry preacher cried,
"The turkey will die;
An editor looked o'er the fence
And gave him this reply:

"Oh, no, my chicken eating friend!
That whole thing is a bluff.
If you read our week's 'Poultry Notes'
You would be up to snuff."

With that he pulled the old turk's snoot.
The turk let loose the yell:
"Oh, who could bluff an editor?
Run for the ax! I'm well!"

But was that ed. invited round
To feast on turkey breast?
Oh, no! That preacher just forgot—Forgot him, like the rest.

C. M. BARNITZ.

KURIOS FROM KORBESIDENTS

Q.—How long does it take for pigeon eggs to hatch, and how may I tell if they are fertile? A.—Sixteen to eighteen days. After three days' incubation hold eggs before light and you will find the fertile eggs opaque.

Q.—I have a pair of pigeons here that are mates, but they lay no eggs. What is wrong? A.—Hens is either barren or not matured. Let them sit on fertile eggs from another nest, as the hatching and rearing of the squabs may arouse the natural functions of the hen so she will lay. If this does not follow she is barren and good only for potpie.

Q.—Is there anyway, beside caponizing, to keep a male bird's flesh tender and sweet as a capon? A.—It is claimed that cockerels of the large breeds if kept in celibacy until ten months old dress as tender and taste as sweet as a castrated fowl.

Q.—How can I induce my Plymouth Rocks to exercise in winter? They get so fat, lazy and lay so few eggs. A.—First cut down their feed and get them real hungry. Have a place covered with straw so deep that they can not get their grain easily; cut out corn until you get down their fat and feed them a variety consisting of grains, greens and byproducts, but only let them fill up at night and thus their hunger will keep them moving and their blood circulating all day.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.

The farmer who grades his eggs is up to snuff. The majority of poultrymen get good sized eggs, and these should bring more money than small or mixed sizes. The larger the egg the more it costs to produce.

The farmer often gets no high-priced winter eggs simply because his hens have nothing to do all day but loaf and eat. The old style slat corncrib is a poultry pantry and shells out corn all day, and the hens just lie around and lay on fat and lay few eggs.

Those fanciers that sell eggs of solid colored breeds which always hatch chicks in two colors, like Minoreas, for instance, should always speak of this peculiarity of the breed in writing to customers to save themselves a cussing from some know-not when the eggs hatch.

We notice those system promoters that humbugged so many with their hot air advertisements that especially appeared in some poultry journals, magazines and Sunday school journals are now invading England. From what we read in the London poultry journals, they aren't going to catch as many suckers on that side the pond as they did on this.

It is remarkable how fast red mites breed. The fowls of a neighbor refused to roost in his henhouse, and an investigation showed the place alive. Spraying the interior with kerosene drove them outside, and they were there on the boards thick as dust. He sprayed the house in and out, roof, floor and all; literally soaked it with oil before the bugs were destroyed.

Grant of a city of 7,000 inhabitants shipping to market 1,440,216 fowls and 7,159,481 dozen eggs in a year! That's what Petaluma, Cal., does. Her 2,000,000 hens make $457 worth of finished goods per hour, ten hours a day, 365 days in a year, and yet there are towns hunting industries and getting caught by wildcat promoters. Better go to Petaluma, you board of trade!

People naturally take to chickens from childhood up. At one of our shows we met a fancier eighty years old who had been breeding Cochins for fifty years. Did he know Cochins? Well, a whole lot and some more. That old sport told us that his father started him with bantams when he was but five years old, and from that time, seventy-five years ago, he had been a confirmed chicken crank.

To many turkey raisers profits loom big as they see the beautiful birds roaming the orchards and meadows. They drive them in and begin to fatten them for market. Then a terrible, mysterious disease kills them off like flies. But there's no mystery about it, except that breeders expect turkeys to thrive and live on a solid grain ration, a complete change from the mixed natural food gathered here and there on range.

Treated Her to a Speech.

I remember Winston Churchill as a young fellow, very much in society when he wished to be and as any cousin of a duke could be, but an infant terrible to many a hostess, leaving his manners at home when he went out to dine and apparently some place else when guests came to his mother's house. Shortly after his return from South Africa he offered to show me his interesting souvenirs of the Boer war. But when we were en tete-a-tete he became so absorbed in discussing the question of the Boer government that I found myself to my amazement, listening to an oration of three-quarters of an hour. He turned his back upon me, striding over to a long mirror to deliver to his own reflection there, with numerous gestures and facial contortions, wheeling around at the finish to say, "It just occurred to me what a capital speech that would make in the house of commons some day." (This was before he had ever won a seat.) "I wanted to get it fixed in my mind before I forgot it."—From "Intimacies of Court and Society," by the Widow of an American Diplomat.

General F. D. Grant at a Washington's birthday dinner in New York some years ago told a story about a young Boston Tory.

"This Tory," he said, "fought during the Revolution neither on one side nor on the other. He took a pleasure trip on the continent and he didn't come back home again until the war was over. He was treated very coldly by society on his return, and this grieved his good old mother to the heart. The dear old lady tried to explain the matter one afternoon to a Boston belle.

"Naturally, as the head of the family," she said, "my son could not take part in the war. To him fell the duty, perhaps the more arduous duty, of protecting his mother and sisters and looking after the interests of the estate."

"Oh, madam," said the belle, with an icy smile, you need not explain. I assure you I'd have done exactly as your son did—I'm such a coward!"

Thrifty Papa and His Son.

A young Scotch friend of mine of high literary reputation generally spends once a year a month with his family on the outskirts of Edinburgh. His father is a minister occupying a very enviable position. On the day of his departure my friend invariably finds on the breakfast table by the side of his plate a little paper carefully folded. It is a detailed account of the meals he has had during his visit to his father's house—in other words, his bill. But the son is as thrifty as papa and does not part with his coin before he has ascertained that all the items are accurate and the addition correct.

"Why, father," said he, "I see you have marked the bacon and eggs for my yesterday's breakfast. I assure you I did not touch the eggs."

"You were wrong not to do so, then, my boy. They were on the table. Why didn't you help yourself?"—Paul Blouet (Max O'Rell).

Jealous Fishes in a Duel.

"Fish are liable to the same passions as you and I, and they fight and love as we do," said Dr. Francis Ward. "I can show you a photograph of a rainbow trout in what would have been a fight to the death if I had not interfered. In a pond were a big female trout and her partner, who resented the intrusion of another trout. Suddenly one fish charged the other and seized him by the jaw. He shook his opponent as a dog shakes a rat and kept on until his enemy floated to the top. Then I took the fish out and revived it with a little weak whisky and water."—London Mail.

Too Realistic.

"Ma," said the little boy, "will you let me take baby out in the perambulator? Rob Curr an' Billy Pitt an' me we're goin' to play at a railway accident. The perambulator is to be the train, an' baby's to be the passenger who's pitched out on his head, an' he's to be saved from bein' run over by another train just in time." Three hours later when the baby was safely in bed the little boy was released from the coal collar.—New York Journal.

Fast Time.

An Irishman while standing on the deck of a steamship which was bound for America was interested in watching the descent of a diver. Upon the arrival of Pat in New York he was astonished to behold a diver just appearing above the surface of the water. Going to the rail of the vessel, he shouted to him, "Faith, sor, and ye got over as quickly as meself!"—Exchange.

A Lingering Regret.

"I think it is disgraceful to be enormously rich."

"Oh, so do I! I was brought up to think that way. But, say"—

"Well?"

"Don't you wish once in awhile that you weren't so blamed respectable?"—Toledo Blade.

The Verdict.

Prisoner—I didn't steal the horse. I only took him from the fellow what stole him.

"Shure! I phoned that to the vigilance committee, but it's no go. They phoned me to hang up the receiver."—Life.

One Day.

Fligh every day and be done with it. You have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities no-doubt crop in. Forget them as soon as you can.—Emerson.

Wise men change their minds if they grow wiser.—Life.

Notice for Construction of Re-Enforced Concrete Culverts

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the County Judge's office in Wayne county, Nebraska, for the construction of three re-enforced concrete culverts, described as follows:

One of said culverts of the following dimensions: Length 24 ft. roadway; arch 9 ft. long, 6 ft. high; wings 16 ft. on the west and 14 ft. on the east, situated west of the n w 11-25-2.

One of said culverts of the following dimensions: Length 20 ft. roadway; arch 9 ft. long, 6 ft. high; east wing on the south side 12 ft. long, west wing on the south side to be 4 ft. long, wings on north side 4 ft. long, situated north of the s e 1/4 34-27-2.

One of said culverts of the following dimensions: Length 18 ft. roadway, arch 14 ft. long, 9 ft. high; wing on west to be 12 ft. long, and on the east 10 ft. situated west of s w 1/4 17-26-2.

Bidder to furnish all material therefor and construct said culverts in the proportion of five parts sand to one part cement, of the thickness and in conformity with the plus and specifications on file in the office of the county clerk of Wayne county, Nebraska. Separate bids to be made upon each of the above described culverts, said culverts to be completed and ready for travel on or before July 1st, 1912; said bids to be deposited with the County Judge of Wayne county, Nebraska, on or before 12 o'clock noon of the 25th day of April, 1912, and said bids to be opened by the County Judge in the presence of the County Commissioners and County Clerk of Wayne county, Nebraska, at one o'clock p. m. of April 25th, 1912, and thereupon filed in the office of the county clerk of Wayne County, Nebraska.

No bids will be considered unless accompanied by cash or a certified check, to the amount of ten per cent of the bid, made payable to Chas. W. Reynolds, county clerk, of said county, to be forfeited to said county, in case the bidder refuses to enter into contract with said county, if same is awarded him. The contractor to tear down or remove old bridges or culverts, and remove or pile all old lumber in such bridges or culverts, and to deposit the same safely near the side thereof, such lumber or other old material of which said bridges or culverts may be constructed to remain the property of the county. The successful bidder will be required to give bond to the county with good and sufficient sureties, in the amount of $500.00, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract awarded him.

It being further understood that the party to whom contract is let are to build a temporary bridge, so that the construction of these culverts will not in any manner hinder or impede travel.

Board will also receive bids at the same time and place, and under the same circumstances for the moving of 2000 yards of dirt, for the purpose of making a fill for the bridge and a roadway, this work to be done at the culvert or bridge to be constructed west of n w 11-25-2.

The Board of county commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, this 19th day of March 1912.

PEOPLE BELIEVE IN GOV. WILSON

Courage and Skill Show His Fitness For Presidency.

REGARDED AS SECOND TILDEN

President of North Carolina College Outlines Career of New Jersey Executive and Declares He is the Man Who Will Get the Most Votes in the Right States.

By L. L. HOBBS, President of Guilford (N. C.) College. Governor Wilson's career has been such as to reveal his powers both intellectual and administrative, and his course as governor of New Jersey—a very difficult position to fill—has been so marked by courage and skill that his fitness for the presidency came into the minds of the people all over the country with the belief that a second Tilden had arisen.

This was no sudden bursting forth of his powers, for the distinguished scholar had risen in an orderly way, step by step, to eminence and fame. He was known to the world of scholars as a man who expressed and who was expected to express in the clearest possible terms the best sentiment and the profoundest philosophy on all problems of education and of educational interest in this country. His literary productions in the way of American history and his work "The State," used as a textbook in many colleges, have been in a field of learning that will be of the greatest use to him and the country in case he becomes president.

Clearness of Utterance. Governor Wilson's intellectual penetration is not surpassed by any man in public life, and his power of speech is scarcely equaled in this country. Generally clearness of utterance follows clearness of perception. The fact that his work in life has been mainly in educational fields, so far from being a hindrance, as some pretend to think, must necessarily be helpful in fitting him in the adjustment of means to special ends. As president of a great university and as governor of a great state he has had a good field in which to display his executive ability.

Moral courage. The president of our great nation needs to be man of the utmost integrity of character, a man whose judgment in respect to right and wrong has become keen by a life of uprightness that is so well known that the people will know that when he speaks he means what he says. Cleveland is the shining example of this virtue in American history. Governor Wilson's public and private life leads me to believe he possesses that sterling integrity of character that would be the greatest possible relief to us in this day of vacillation and uncertainty in respect to public utterances.

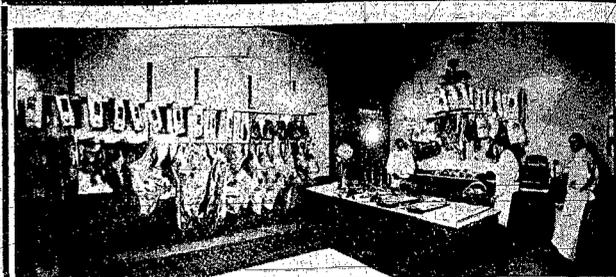

He is Calm and Thoughtful.

At this time, when we behold an aspirant to the office of president who several years ago declared in explicit and unmistakable terms that he would under no circumstances allow himself to be considered a candidate and who today in terms just as unmistakable announces himself for a third term—at such a time it would be an infinite relief to have the opportunity of casting a ballot for a man who is calm and thoughtful and who cannot be moved from the path of simple honesty and integrity any more than the sun can be turned from its course. Such a man I think Woodrow Wilson to be.

The controlling reason should be that, all things considered, Governor Wilson will be the strongest candidate the Democrats can name—that is, the one who will be most likely to win the contest for election. We are not by any means to conclude that a nomination means an election, and the great problem for the Democrats now is to find the man who will get the most votes and get them in the right states. In my judgment Governor Wilson has the best prospect of success in case of nomination for the simple reason that he is well known to be a man of vast capabilities, both intellectual and moral. He can be depended upon more than any other man in America at this time to say the right thing at the right time and to follow his words by corresponding action.

THE PEOPLE LIKE WOODROW.

(Sharpsburg (Ky.) World.) Here are some of the reasons why the people like Governor Woodrow Wilson, who ought to be nominated for president by the Democrats: He is democratic. Believes in the rule of the people. Practices what he preaches. Is man enough to acknowledge his mistakes. Not afraid to change his mind. Wears no man's collar. Broke the power of both political machines in New Jersey. Refused the aid of Wall street. Declined to "play politics" with Henry Watterson. Cannot be bought, bluffed or frightened. Calls a spade a spade. Is thoroughly progressive. An honest man.

Paint Durability

DEPENDS UPON

Purity, Formula and Grinding

Adulterated Paint is short lived. B. P. S. paint is a pure lead, zinc, and linseed oil paint. No "quick-process" or adulterated lead; no "new process" oil or petroleum mixture, common in ordinary paints.

Guess-work formula means repainting. B. P. S. paint is made on a formula which is known to give satisfactory results—that is giving satisfaction to-day, and has for years. No guess work by theorists—but practical paint making by practical paint men.

Coarse, gritty paint is not durable. Lack of proper mixing and grinding means poor working, covering and wearing qualities. Powerful steam paddles mix B. P. S. Paint with absolute thoroughness, and the pigment is then crushed to the finest possible degree in especially constructed machinery. This produces a smooth, fine material, free from lumps and grit, that gives the best possible results in easy-working qualities, covering and spreading capacity, fine finish and durability.

B. P. S. Paint, on account of its durability, is the most economical that can be secured.

Ask for B. P. S. Sealed Evidence (paint costs, color card and plates of colored houses)—FREE.
