EIGHTH GRADE GRADUATES

Address by Rev. Corkey

Sixty eighth grade graduates and many of their relatives and friends were at the court house Saturday afternoon when the graduates from the different schools met to receive from the county superintendent their certificates of graduation. The graduates represent twenty-nine school districts of the county, and as a result of the year's school work, a class of 60 are now eligible to enter a high school, and every one of them who possibly can go, should do so.

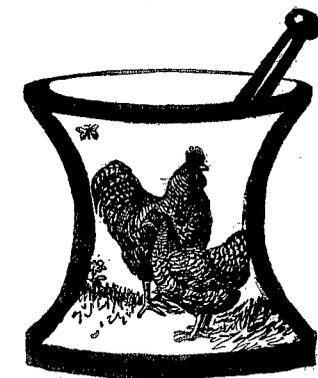

On the program for the afternoon was a solo by Miss Ina Hughes, which was well received and most beautifully given. Willis Fleetwood, accompanied by Mrs. Ed Johnson, sang in his usual charming manner.

Rev. Blessing offered invocation and Rev. Alexander Corkey made an address on "Making the Most of Opportunity" that was full of good thought and sparkling with the wit for which he is so noted.

President Conn of the State Normal presented the diplomas and in a few timely remarks advised the pupils to improve every opportunity to secure education because of the many advantages it gives. He urged them to complete the high school course and enter college.

Following is a list of the GRADUATES

A. L. Bixby at State Normal

Last evening a large audience, considering the rain, nearly filled the chapel at the State Normal to hear the words of wit and wisdom that came from A. L. Bixby of the Lincoln State Journal. "Doc" Bixby, as he is most generally known, is not an orator, but he has a message, and it daily goes to many people in the "Daily Drift." But last evening we had it first hand. Mr. Bixby was secured as the first attraction for the college lecture course, of which there will be two other numbers.

Of "Things Worth While" he placed health first, and assured us that if we would care for ourselves as well as work animals are cared for, most of us would have this blessing.

Character is also worth while, hard times help build character. Courtesy is another little thought of things that is worth while, so with kindness and cheerfulness and determination and life; and, lastly, death is worth while when it comes to those who have remained on this side of the river until the friends of their youth and prime have gone before, leaving one lonesome and perhaps dependent, the grim reaper is welcome.

Into his talk he sandwiched a little of personal experience, pioneer history of Nebraska and Minnesota and his popular verses. A vein of humor and kindly sentiment permeated his address and no one could listen and not be helped.

He left this morning to spend his annual vacation amid the scenes of his boyhood in Minnesota.

Sonnenberg-Fleer

Mr. F. W. Fleer was united in marriage with Miss Johanna Sonnenberg Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the German Lutheran church at Wayne. Rev. J. H. Karpenstein officiating. Both of the contracting parties are residents of Winside. Mr. Fleer is the youngest partner of the mercantile firm of Fleer Brothers. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Sonnenberg of Winside. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. Paul Sonnenberg and Miss Anna Langenberg. Both of the young people are well known for their sterling character and have the best wishes of the community.

The bride was gowned in white chellis and the groom wore the conventional black. The newly wedded took the afternoon train and left for Owensville, Mo., to visit with the relatives of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Fleer will be at home to their friends at Winside the latter part of the month.

Enrollment of Wayne Public Schools

The enrollment in the Wayne Public Schools for the year 1911-1912 was 272 males and 315 females making a total of 587. The average daily attendance was 216 males and 253 females, making a total of 469. The average daily attendance was nearly nine per cent in excess of what it was the preceding year when it was 434. In the high school the enrollment was 103 and the daily attendance 93. In the high school the enrollment and attendance were 12 and 13 in excess respectively of the enrollment and attendance respectively. Of the 103 enrolled in the high school 43 were males and 60 were females.

The Villisca Tragedy

At Villisca, Iowa, Sunday night occurred a deed that for cold-blooded, premeditated murder has few if any parallels in the criminal history of the country, unless it shall develop that it was the work of a maniac. During the night Joseph B. Moore and his entire family, a wife and four children, and two girls from the country near by, who chanced to be passing the night at the Moore home were most brutally murdered, their skulls being crushed by an ax as they slept, and the fiend who did the deed had it planned with such cunning that not the slightest clue to his identity has been left beyond a few bloody finger marks upon the ax he used and about the house in a place or two. One reads of similar deeds committed in the heat of passion or jealous anger, but such slaughter of innocent people without any known provocation is almost unheard of.

To the proprietors of this paper who knew each and every victim of the tragedy as a friend and neighbor, who know the aged and stricken parents of Mr. Moore, the fond parents of his wife, whose children were playmates of the little ones slain, and personal friends of the parents of the visiting girls who were among the victims, it comes as a personal loss and bereavement. To those bereft, we can but extend our heartfelt sympathy, and trust that they may have the satisfaction of knowing that the guilty one has paid the full penalty for the deed—not as a revenge, but as justice—a lesson that may tend to show the extent of public disapproval of such malicious deeds.

Of the great crime we need not speak, for few there are, who have not previously read the sickening details, for its very enormity has caused it to be told throughout the land. May there never be another like it.

Lee Minor Gets Broken Leg

There was a sudden halt in the merry proceedings that were going on at the "Human Roulette Wheel" here Saturday evening when Lee Minor, who with others was trying to "stay with" the revolving floor, came off in such position that those following fell on him and broke one bone in his leg a few inches above the ankle.

The Roulette is a device that is designed for lots of fun in connection with a carnival, but it is rather rough sport, and from above results, a little dangerous. It was reported that several were bumped pretty hard here, the complaint being that there was not room enough on the stationary platform which surrounds the revolving platform.

The injured leg is getting along very nicely, we are told, but it will lay the young man up for some weeks yet.

Lively Stock Week

The past week stock shipments reported from Wayne amount to 26 cars. They were divided between the Sioux City and South Omaha markets, and were sent out by the following:

To Sioux City, W. L. Gildersleeve 2 cars hogs, Perry & Gildersleeve 1, Hanssen & Wamburg 1, Strahan & Kingsbury 1, S. Goemann 1, Ray Robinson 1, L. Ulrich 1, Dan McManigal 1, Andrew Stamm 1, H. Meyers 1, W. H. Beutow 1, and John Shannon 2 cars of cattle.

School Picnic

Why not get the picnic spirit? Set aside your toil, join and have a good time at the school picnic at the Lutheran church grove at Altona, Nebraska, on June 21st. All kinds of amusements and refreshments are provided for this occasion, an excellent program will be rendered by Professor W. R. Schmidt and his scholars. Program will begin at 1 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the Germania band from Rock-Creek. Everybody is welcome.

May-Perske

Wednesday, June 2, 1912, at the German Lutheran church at Hoskins, Mr. Adolph Perske and Miss Martha May, Rev. John Aron, officiating.

Social Notes

One of the most successful social events of the year was the entertaining of the city club by the Minerva club at the Henry Ley home Tuesday afternoon, June 11th. After the assembling of guests, hand painted program booklets in the form of the club flower, the pansy, were distributed and the following program carried out: "Words of Welcome" by President, Mrs. House. She called the afternoon gathering a celebration of the successful club year just past, and called attention to the fact that each club was sharing in the event. Mrs. Johnson of the Tuesday club then gave a beautiful vocal solo which was highly enjoyed by all. Mrs. Mines of the Acme club then gave a humorous dialect reading on the two permanent presidential candidates, Bryan and Teddy, which evinced much merriment. Mrs. Beebe of the Monday club responded to the words of welcome. She gave some excellent ideas upon what an ideal club woman was, and, in behalf of the other clubs expressed their appreciation of the meeting. Miss Killen of the Shakespeare club then delivered her lecture on art, which so pleased the Minerva ladies when given at one of their recent evening lectures. Those present not only enjoyed the lecture but were profited by it as well. A short recess was then held during which four little pansy girls, the Misses Alberta Brown, Racheal Gorst, Dorothy Hughes, Eloise Minor, served the guests with punch. Mrs. House then gave a beautiful instrumental selection which was followed by Mrs. Morris of the U. D. club, who pleased her listeners with one of her charming vocal solos. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in a general social way during which the guests were invited to partake of refreshments in a room most tastefully decorated in the club colors, yellow and lavender, club flowers and banner, the refreshments also carrying out the color scheme. Seventy-five guests were served. Everything worked in favor of a most successful afternoon, even the sun coming forth after its many days of absence.

The ladies of the Winside Bible Class entertained a number of the Wayne ladies Tuesday at a dinner at that place. The Wayne ladies invited were members of the Bible Circle of this place. The following members of the circle went over on the morning train: Mesdames J. A. Winterstein, the president, Likes, Barker, Gossard, Young, Clasen, Lamberson, Graves, Crossland, Nelson, W. L. Fisher and Earl Lewis and Miss Grace Steele.

They first studied the lesson, and enjoyed a short program, after which a splendid dinner was served, at the hall hired for the meeting. The afternoon was happily passed, and light refreshments were served before the evening freight came along to bring them home.

The ladies with one accord voted that the Winside women are royal entertainers, in fact they do not know how the occasion could have been made more enjoyable.

The meeting of the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church is being held today at the home of Mrs. C. S. Ash, south of town. Every year Mrs. Ash entertains the society, inviting all the ladies of the church and congregation. The usual program is first given, and then a social time is enjoyed and refreshments served by the hostess.

The members of the P. E. O. society of Pierce arrived here last Saturday and pleasantly surprised Mrs. S. E. Berg and family. The ladies then remained over until Sunday and enjoyed a house-party with their hospitable host and hostess.

The Bridge Whist club met for an evening at cards with Miss Helen McNeal Tuesday evening. Delicious candy was served. The Misses Ross and Howard were guests of the club.

Mrs. Phillip H. Kohl and Mrs. Harry Jones entertain the ladies of the Bridge Whist club at the home of the former at a dinner this evening at six-thirty.

The Shakespeare club has adjourned their regular meetings for the season, but will during the summer hold a number of social meetings.

Council Meeting

Wayne, Nebr., May 10, 1912. The city council of the city of Wayne met at the council room in regular session on Monday, at 8 p. m., the following being present: Bright, Kingsbury, Larrison, Lamberson, Meister, McVicker, councilmen and Mayor Kate. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved and signed by the Mayor.

The following claims were examined and allowed and warrants ordered drawn on the Light and Water fund:

- Interstate Electric and Mfg. Co., supplies, $12.20.
- Interstate Electric & Mfg. Co., supplies, $10.40.
- John T. Bressler, meter returned, $17.00.
- C. H. Fisher, slack, $14.00.
- The following claims were examined and allowed and warrants ordered drawn on the General fund: C. H. Fisher, lumber, $25.90.
- W. H. Powers, Bill of Exceptions, $54.90.
- Wayne Herald, printing, $12.25.
- Ray Perdue, cement crossing, $23.82.
- U. S. Fidelity & Guar. Co., premium superseeds bond, Warner vs. City, $10.00.
- H. C. Lindsay, filing fee, $10.00.
- Nebraska Democrat, printing, $9.50.
- E. C. Perkins, repair, $5.30.
- Glenn Minor, burying dogs, $2.50.
- C. A. Riese, special police, $3.20.
- H. Tangeman, hay, $20.73.

The claim of Interstate Electric & Mfg. Co., for $24.77 was examined and allowed and warrant ordered drawn on City Hall fund. The street commissioner filed his report of the condition and repair of such sidewalks as are beyond repair and recommended that new walks be constructed according to law.

The council accepted the street commissioner's report and passed a resolution instructing the clerk to notify about sixty property owners to get busy and put walks in. The order is sweeping and when all walks ordered are in there will be fully a mile of new concrete walk at Wayne. The vote of the council was unanimous, and if they will now order new walks in a few down town streets where the old walks are saucer-shaped and have walks put in from which the water will run off as it falls they will earn the lasting gratitude of many; and add not a little to the good appearance of our city.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Education at Kearney on June 28. The new organization will be made at this time. A. L. Caviness of Fairbury, taking the place of Dr. B. L. Shelhorn.

The Philomathean literary society has decided to continue its work during the summer. The program committee has arranged two public programs, the first to be a musical given during the month of June and the second a drama for the closing of the term.

Mr. Arthur E. Hughes received notice Tuesday of his election as principal of the Iman, Nebraska, schools at a salary of $80 per month. Mr. Hughes has taught with marked success in the rural schools of Wayne county and his friends are pleased to hear of this well deserved promotion.

A lecture course has been arranged for the summer session. Dr. A. L. Bixby of Lincoln was secured for the first number, which will be followed by a lecture by Dr. I. F. Roach on the evening of June 20 and an entertainment by the Normal Male Quartette, assisted by Miss McBeth, the date to be announced later.

At the call of Miss Beechel, the students in attendance from Cedar county held a meeting Monday morning and planned the observance of Monday, June 17, a Cedar county day at the Normal. At this time the chapel hour will be turned over to Cedar county people, who are planning a special program for the occasion. County superintendent W. E. Miller will be the guest of honor. Stanton, Knox, Dixon, Thurston, Antelope will also organize and have their special days during the session.

Quality Down or Price Up

After two months trial at the Vibber Cafe, the popular place to eat, the proprietor finds that owing to the advancing prices in meats and all other high-grade eatables he must lower the quality of meals or increase the price, and has determined to do the latter, and notice is now served that on and after Saturday, June 15, 1912, the price of meals will be 35c, but the quality and quantity will be there. Thanking the public for the liberal patronage the past two months, I am respectfully,

J. H. VIBBER.

FOR THE FANS

Bristow 1--Meek 3.

Bristow lost a nineteen inning ball game to Meek Saturday, 3 to 1.

Meek scored in the fourth on a hit and a muffed fly. Bristow tied the score in the seventh on a hit, two stolen bases and an error.

From that time until the nineteenth inning, both teams were held runless. In the nineteenth inning, Meek made two runs on three hits and a pass to first by being hit by a pitched ball. Bristow came back strong in their half, but punk base running lost a chance to tie the score. Diers pitched a remarkable game, striking out thirty-one men, and allowing ten hits. Arrow pitching for Meek, also pitched a good game only allowing eight hits, but he fanned only nine men.

Wisner 1--Bancroft 0.

Wisner and Bancroft had an 18 round contest at Wisner in which but one score was made in the game, and that by Wisner. Summary--Batteries: Wisner, Walrath and McMullen; Bancroft, Farley and Driggs. Struck out, by Walrath 18, by Farley 5. Bases on balls, off Walrath 3, off Farley 3. Hit by pitched ball, by Walrath 2, by Farley 3. Three base hits, Driggs and M. Thompson; two base hits, Munneke. Double plays, Ryan to Munneke; Tighe to Frank Vogt. Left on bases, Wisner 11, Bancroft 10.

Laurel 2--Norfolk 0.

In a snappy and exciting game on Thursday afternoon, at Norfolk, the Laurel team defeated the Norfolk aggregation by a score of 2 to 0. A few safe hits in the eighth inning brought two scores in for Laurel, winning the game. Denton pitched the game for Norfolk. The Norfolk team plays Tilden at Tilden Friday afternoon.

Battle Creek 10--Stanton 7.

Battle Creek defeated Stanton in the opening game of league at Stanton by a score of 10 to 7. Base hits: Stanton 8, Battle Creek 11. Errors: Stanton 5, Battle Creek 4. Stanton made seven runs in one inning and then went to sleep. Batteries: Doerning and Hoffman; Lassen, Dunnway and Hopper.

LeMars Defeats Emerson

The Emerson team went to LeMars, Iowa, last week and started a good game, but did not hold out to the end. No scores were made during the first four rounds, but when time was called it was 12 to 3 for LeMars.

Wisner ball players last week defeated a Fremont team by a score of one to their get-some.

Ermott won a game from Bassett last week in a 12-inning game and a 1 to 2 score.

A New Era in the Automobile Industry

One of the indications of a big change in the movement of the automobile industry is the reorganization of the sales end of the Studebaker Corporation. The Studebakers have a sixty-year perspective in the wagon industry and since their entry into the automobile field have held a manufacturing pace that has made automobile history.

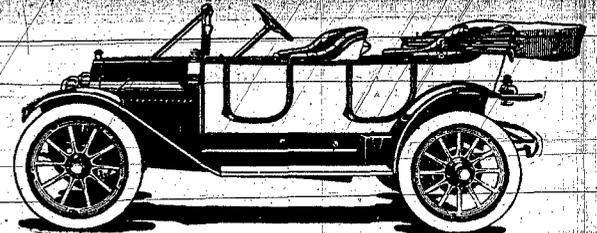

"The Automobile business," said Mr. Studebaker, "can't be run in the future as it has in the past. The automobile is no longer an experiment, a novelty or a toy. It is an immensely important mechanical feature of our natural life. The Wild Cat times are over. Mushroom growths are at an end. The rush into automobile manufacture, the craze for flash and novelty, the systems of making and selling, the reckless disregard of after service in a car, will not be tolerated by the car users of the future--and careful manufacturers have got to think about the future."

"Our re-organization is based on the new need of the business as we see them. We want the highest standardization in manufacture. Maintenance service to car owners has never received sufficient attention in the industry as a whole."

"In fact," continued Mr. Studebaker, "business methods as well as manufacturing methods need standardization of public confidence is to be maintained, and practical economy to be conserved."

"The future of the automobile? That's too big a subject. You can make a guess from this: The cars sold by the Studebaker Company this season if placed end to end would reach from New York to Boston, a distance of 214 miles."

The wheat fields of this country average 80,000 square miles. No wonder they have to harvest from the first of June until the first of October to get it all. The harvest hands are now cutting wheat in Oklahoma and Kansas, and will gradually come north and end the season in North Dakota so far as the United States is concerned; but many of those who follow the work go on into Canada.

Speed with safety-- power with easy control

The Cartercar has speed for the good roads and plenty of power for the bad--with such easy control and comfortable design--that it rides and drives easily at all times. A tremendous pulling power is provided by the friction transmission. It has no gears and is jerkless and noiseless. You also have any number of speeds--controlled with one lever. This adapts the car especially to country conditions. The self starter makes driving very delightful--especially for ladies. Full floating rear axle, chain-in-oil drive, three strong brakes and many other features combine to produce the remarkable Cartercar efficiency. Five splendid models, touring cars, roadsters and coupes. Priced at from $1200 to $2100. Let us send you complete information.

What is Your Time Worth?

If your time is worth more than fifteen to twenty cents an hour, you can make an IHC gasoline engine pay for itself in a very short time. Many farmers have written us that their IHC engines paid for themselves in cash, to say nothing of the hard work saved, the first year. How?

IHC Gasoline Engines

have no specified working hours. They are ready for any work within their capacity, at any time. They require little attention, and that of the simplest. They make no strain on your time, temper or pocket-book. Get an IHC catalogue or see your local dealer and find out what ten cents' worth of gasoline will do, working in a thoroughly tested general purpose IHC engine. Made in every style and in 1 to 50-horse power sizes. Kerosene-gasoline tractors, 12 to 45-horse power.

The Staved Indian

Washington, June 10.—While the United States government has been paying out thousands of dollars annually for the care and support of the Indians, most of which money goes for salaries of clerks and officials appointed to "care" for the Indians, these wards of the nation are gradually sinking into a condition of disease and poverty that is alarming.

Of the 250,000 Indians now in the country it is estimated that 30,000 are afflicted with tuberculosis. This does not include those in the five civilized tribes, which constitute one fourth of the Indian population. Some of the tribes suffer terribly from trachoma, a dangerous and infectious eye disease, and the ravages of this malady are constantly extending.

Martin J. Bentley, a recognized authority on Indian subjects, recently testified before the Senate Committee on Indians that in some of the Western tribes that are so sorely afflicted with the two dread diseases, the main cause is extreme poverty. These Indians, Mr. Bentley said, are neither sufficiently housed nor clothed nor fed; the full blooded, or timber Indians in some localities, had become so reduced that their food consisted largely of rabbits, roots and bark.

The annual gratuity appropriations of Congress for the support of the Indians are paid out principally in salaries to the upwards of 60,000 employes of the Indian bureau, by far the greater part of the money appropriated for this purpose going in to the salary checks of the bureau clerks and officers, and for the maintenance of the offices in which the bureau officials do their work.

It is a curious fact, supported by government figures, that as the number of employes in the Indian bureau have increased, the Indian population has diminished. The Indians' wealth has been taken away from them, and the members of this once prosperous race have deteriorated mentally, morally and physically.

To state a fact briefly, the Indian is gradually being starved to death, in many localities, while his own funds and these appropriated for his up keep by the government, are being used without his consent to pay a vast army of Indian bureau employes whose principal work is to draw their own pay while watching the Indian sink deeper and deeper into his misery.

Chairman Graham, of the Committee on Expenditures in the Interior Department, who has been investigating the Indian situation for the past year, has made a number of important disclosures, and with the convening of the next Congress he will seek to have laws passed for the relief of these Indians.

The Real Plunderers

Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly denounced "boss rule" during his campaign. He has held up to scorn the Penroses, the Lorimers and the Coxies and other bosses not for Roosevelt as typifying the evils of present day politics.

Every one admits that such men as these should be ousted from power. But are these men, after all, really the greatest danger to this republic?

John D. Rockefeller who has hoarded a fortune of $900,000,000 through sharp practice and legislative favoritism is not a boss.

Andrew Carnegie is not a political boss. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is so anxious to have Roosevelt nominated, was never accused of being a political boss. George W. Perkins, who organized the illegal harvester trust and is financing Roosevelt's campaign according to sworn statements of the Roosevelt campaign committees, is not a boss. The millionaire owners of the woolen trust and the sugar trust and the steel trust are not "bosses."

The boss issue is largely a false issue. The men who are plundering the people directly and making the common people dissatisfied with the way things are going under this form of government are chiefly the multi-millionaire owners of the tariff trusts, now engaged in financing the Roosevelt campaign, in order to return the colonel to the White House so that he can give instructions to his attorney general not to start suit against illegal trusts like the harvester trust until he gives the word.

Rockefeller Gets Million a Week

Administration of the government by Republicans is a good thing for John D. Rockefeller. Through the collection of rebates from railroads, a practice that his competitors were not allowed to indulge in, and aided by a tariff wall which enabled him to build up a monopoly without fear of competition from abroad, he has built up his $900,000,000 fortune. From the oil industry, and subsidiary industries, which the high tariff advocates still refer to as "infants" yet in need of a protective tariff, Mr. Rockefeller derives an income of approximately $2 a second. The Rockefeller income at the present time, as near as financial experts have been able to estimate it, is $60,000,000 a year, $5,000,000 a month, $1,153,846 a week, $164,735 a day, $6,863 an hour, $114 minute, or $1.90 a second! A girl working in a store for $5 a week would have to labor 4,438 years to earn as much as the unequal, unfair and unjust laws of this nation permit Rockefeller to draw down every week.

William Wood, president of the woolen trust, testified in court not long ago that he had no idea as to the number of automobiles he owned. J. P. Morgan, it was recently announced, now has an art collection worth $60,000,000. Andrew Carnegie, it is well known, has "lost all track" of his wealth.

These are the plunderers of America. In order that they and the hords of lesser millionaires who enjoy their privileges under the law may pile up such fortunes, every reader of this article, whether he is a man, woman or child, must pay tribute. This tribute is paid in the form of unnecessarily high prices for food, clothing and shelter.

A New Kaffir Corn

Some of the circulars issued by the agricultural department are somewhat startling. One of the latest in discussing the grain sorghums, such as kaffir, durra, broom corn, and sorghum, says:

"The grain sorghum belt to which these crops are especially adapted comprises the central and southern portions of the Great Plains, and it is in this region that these crops are looked upon as standard by reason of the ease and the reasonable certainty of their production—their general utility for forage, and the value of the grain for feeding stock and for human food, surpassing both corn and wheat in these respects."

That kaffir corn surpasses both corn and wheat as human food will be news to the Kansas farmer's who have been raising it so extensively. That it can grow where corn cannot be raised as it requires but little moisture has long been known, and for that reason it has been largely planted in the semi-arid districts, but the use of it for human food is something new. The department also announces that, by breeding, it has established a dwarf kaffir that may be gathered with an ordinary harvester, that the yield is phenomenal and that it is so early in maturing that it can be harvested before any insects are developed or drouth attacks it, that it will grow luxuriantly as far north as South Dakota, and that in one crop is found forage and grain for both man and animals.

The new variety is not so much a drouth resister as an evader of drouths as it matures before the dry season sets in. It is predicted that whole semi-arid regions will soon become valuable on account of this new crop. More kaffir corn can be raised to the acre than of common field corn and it can be gathered at much less expense.—World Herald.

A Stock Train

Monday afternoon branch train was more like a stock special. It pulled in a little late with 14 cars of cattle in front of the coaches. Eight loads of stock were from this county. John Shannon had two loads of heavy cattle billed for Chicago. Jas. Evans was going in to look after them. S. Davis had two loads, Enos Davis and T. J. Thomas each one load, all from Carroll, and Elmer Closson from Sholes had two loads. All except the Shannon cattle were billed to South Omaha.

Prizes For Wheat Growers

Omaha June 12.—To promote growing of more and better winter wheat, prizes will be awarded by the Nebraska Improvers' association to the wheat growers of Nebraska who produce the best five acres of this wheat.

Three years ago the South Platte Millers' association donated a $20 silver trophy to be awarded annually by the Nebraska Corn Improvers' association to the most successful producer. In addition to this trophy $50 will be distributed in four cash prizes.

Memorial Day in Oregon

A. J. Ferguson hands up a roster of the old soldiers who are buried in the various cemeteries at and near Portland, Oregon, and a program of the Memorial day exercises. The program was sent to him by Elmer R. Lundberg, who was a Wayne boy, but who is now in that country and a member of the U. S. W. V. His name appeared on the program to give Lincoln's Gettysburg address. There are nine G. A. R. posts at Portland and seven of the W. R. C. corps. Many old soldiers are buried there, as well as veterans of the Mexico war and of the Indian wars in Oregon and Washington. Peter Lundberg, Co. D., 3rd Minnesota Infantry, who formerly lived there is now resting in Riverview cemetery. The day was most fittingly observed, and a worthy tribute paid to the memory of worthy men.

Newspaper Announcements

There never was such a time in the history of this country for newspaper reading, and it is important to read a paper of impartial views—one that is free from any office-seeking or office-holding influences.

The important thing to a great newspaper like The Lincoln State Journal is to get trial readers, as it has no trouble holding them by its quality. The cheapest way to get new readers is to make a special price, which we now do—only $2 for the daily and Sunday paper until January 1, 1913—much less than the regular price. At that time the paper will stop coming unless you order it continued and pay in advance for it. You really cannot afford to be without this capital city paper when you can secure it at such a price. Send $2 to the Lincoln State Journal today and the paper will come to you regularly the remainder of this year. It will be a lively year, too.

The safety razor is not the popular kind in Cuba while the negro revolution continues.

Of 108 contested places Taft got 107; the other one went to the only living Ex-President.

Dr. Abbott is quoted as saying that Roosevelt drinks—as many as five glasses sometimes—of milk at a meal.

“And this was given to Taft also” is the short form of reporting the result of a state contest at Chicago. It saves telegraph tolls, you know.

Perhaps the Lincoln quotation that Teddy believes least is that in which the martyred president said that it was impossible to fool all of the people all of the time.

Banker Morse must have been playing possum before he was released from prison by President Taft; and they have told us that William is very fond of the animal when well roasted.

The commerce court of the United States is dead. It appeared to be born only to stand between the people and the railroads, an impediment to justice trying to reach railroads and officials.

The report of the President's campaign expenses in Ohio primary fight show that he spent $66,473, so who can blame him for wanting at least the delegates at large from the “Buckeye” state; nor can one wonder that he wants a six-year term. Too expensive. And Brother Charlie only gave $3,850.

We do not wish to wear the subject threadbare, but we are yet of the opinion that no one thing that can be so easily accomplished will do more to upbuild Wayne in a paying, permanent manner than the organization and proper conduct of a loan and building association, as we have remarked once before.

The good road movement will pay good dividends every day in the year if properly encouraged. Now is the best time to do road work. If delayed until fall it does not get in proper condition for winter, and much of the work will have to be repaired in the spring. Do it when the most lasting results are obtained.

If a farmer has a machine that costs more to run than what it produces will sell for, he throws it away, if he is wise. If he will test the butterfat produced by each animal in his herd of cows he will soon fatten a lot of them and get his money out of them and keep only those that produce enough butterfat to pay. By this process of elimination, carried on over the state, Nebraska can double her butter production without increasing the number of cows. That will more than double the profits from butter. Better weed out the skim-milk cows.

McPherson county will have the best roads in Kansas if the plans of the county commissioners are successfully carried out, and it rains often enough. The county has been divided into districts, each commissioner having direct charge of the roads in his district. Contracts will be made with the farmers in each district for the working of the roads after each rain. Each contractor is to have charge of six miles of road. He will receive 75 cents a mile for each time the road is worked after rain, not to exceed $10 a mile for the total.

METHODIST CHURCH
(Rev. Wm Gorst, Pastor)
Next Sunday morning the Pastor will deliver the third in the series of sermons for June on Ecclesiastical Finance.

In the evening the Sacrament of Baptism will be administered to young children in connection with the Children's Day services.

An excellent Children's Day program is in preparation and every patron of the Sunday school is most cordially invited to be present at 8 o'clock to enjoy it.

Members of the quarterly conference will please take notice that the third for the year will be held on Monday evening June 17, at 8 o'clock. District superintendent Hosman will be present. This will be an important meeting and there should be a large attendance of the members.

Mrs. P. C. Crockett will go to Omaha next Tuesday as a delegate to the state Sunday School convention.

Below is given the program for the meeting of the Woman's Missionary societies of the M. E. church which will be held at the home of Mrs. Oliver Graves at 2:30 p. m. Friday, June 14. It is very earnestly desired that every member of the two societies shall attend the meeting.

BAPTIST CHURCH
(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor)
Worship and preaching at 10:45 Sunday morning. The subject of the sermon will be “The Call of the Future”

If the weather permits our school will observe Children's Day at the time of the evening service next Sunday.

A very interesting program has been arranged which, in a way, will show what we are endeavoring to teach your child. We especially desire the presence of parents.

Prayer meetings Wednesday evening at 8 p. m. The subject to be studied is: “Confessing Christ,” Luke 12:1-12.

The young people's society meets at 7 p. m. Arrange to be present next Sunday.

Beginning with the first Sunday in July and continuing on through August, there will be a union vesper service on the courthouse lawn and an effort is being made to provide a sufficient seating capacity for all who attend. Further notice about this will be given.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH
(Rev. Floyd Blessing, Pastor)

Services next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Subject of sermon, “The Persistence of Jesus Christ.”

Sunday school at 10 o'clock. The ladies aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. F. Hurstead, on Thursday, June 13.

There will be a congregational meeting next Sunday morning. The matter of calling a pastor will be presented to the congregation.

There will be choir practice Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

We welcome you to our services.

CHAS. W. REYNOLDS, Clerk.

Three good ball games were among the entertainments at Wayne last week during the carnival. The Wednesday game was not played because of the heavy rain that night before. Thursday Wayne won from Carroll 8 to 3 in a nicely played game. The line-up was as follows:

Friday Stanton and Wayne met and both played to win, but the visitors were not quite swift enough. Wayne made four scores, to the visitors two. It was a good game all through.

On Saturday Wayne was defeated by the Winside club in a 3 to goose egg score, and it was the best of the three even though we lost.

The opening of the base ball season has been marked by interest in all northeast Nebraska, and reports from over the district published elsewhere in this paper indicate that this will be a great record breaking season.

Of the carnival there is little to say beyond the fact that the Savidges are making their theatrical features stronger and better than ever, and their evening plays were the best attended attractions of the week.

Five games next week. That ought to be enough to show just how good a team we have. Monday we play at Winside, Wednesday Norfolk plays here. Thursday we go to Carroll, Friday Madison plays here and Saturday we play at Laurel. Who says we won't win four out of the five?

The rain hurts. The boys can't even practice and we need batting practice badly. Any team does at the beginning of a season. We can't win without hitting, we have got the hitters once they get going. By the end of next week five members of the team ought to be hitting .300 or better. Watch next week's paper for the averages.

The best team don't always win as is clearly shown by that score Winside 2, Wayne 0. We made 8 hits to their six but—well Shelly is going to make his feet behave next time and several other things are going to happen. Watch us Tuesday.

Do you know base ball? Figure this out. The first man up hits a 3 bagger in a close game where a score means a great deal. What should the next batter try to do?

And here's another—the bases are full with no one out in a game where one score means a great deal. Three generally weak hitters are next at bat. What should the first two of them try to do?

Both of these plays came up in the Winside-Wayne game and both teams missed their opportunity. What was it?

In the Stanton game with the bases full and one out J. M. Strahan hit a short infield fly over the pitcher which no one caught. The man on third scored and J. M. was safe at first, at least he was not called out. You ought to know.

Why is Shelly so expert at going through that wire fence after those long hits. Ask anybody who owned a watermelon patch last summer between here and Wakefield. They know.

Martin Ringer will not play second regularly during the balance of the season and the management wants it known that they regret it more than anybody. We would rather lose any man on the team than Martin. He has given his time and his best efforts free for four years and has been a credit always to the team and the town. His work claims his time now but when he can spare a day to play we will be mighty glad to have him.

Have you noticed how free from kicking and “crabbing” all the games have been. The management of all the teams seem to have the co-operation of the players in trying to make the games clean and sportsman like as well as attractive to the lady fans.

Don't forget. We play Norfolk Wednesday and Madison Friday on our own grounds. The grand stand is free to ladies.

Next Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock a special service for parents and children will be held at the Presbyterian church. The service will begin promptly at 7:00 and will dismiss in one hour. The subject of the pastor's sermon will be “Boys and Girls in the Church.” At this time also a report of a young people's convention, held last week at Lyons, will be given by Miss Henrietta Moler.

Miss Mary Howard of Columbus, Miss Ross of Illinois and Miss Wents from Aurora are guests at the home of John T. Bressler and wife, to remain and attend the wedding of their daughter, Miss Ruth, to Mr. A. Claycob of Illinois, which takes place Saturday, the 15th.

Mrs. C. A. Chase arrived home from Boston Sunday after spending about three months with her sister, Mrs. Wheeler and other friends. While back east she had the extreme pleasure of hearing both Taft and Roosevelt. Although she had a most delightful visit and enjoyed so many good things on her trip, she says she was very glad to get back and that Wayne looked very good to her.

Extra Service Overalls

Here are Extra Service Overalls.

They are cut longer and wider in the seat. And wider in hips and legs. At the same time they are cut to fit. Gloveralls probably fit better than any overalls you ever wore.

This extra largeness, while requiring more material, nevertheless means greater wear and comfort for the reason that all strain is removed. For most comfort and service you should insist upon

Gloveralls

Tens of thousands of well pleased farmers and workingmen in all parts of the country are wearing them. Their cost is a trifle compared to the satisfaction they render.

Hereafter ask for Gloveralls. Let us “show” you.

Royal Neighbors Meet

Mrs. Gronenger of St. Louis, a national speaker of the Royal Neighbor fraternity, and Mrs. Stevenson, supervising deputy of Broken Bow, were the principal speakers at the big meeting of the local camp of the Royal Neighbors held in the Odd Fellows hall at Norfolk Wednesday night. Mrs. Gronenger spoke very interestingly of "Fraternalism" and Mrs. Stevenson took up the Woodman rate question.

Ten out-of-town camps—including Wayne, Madison, Plainview, Scribner, Winnetoon, Creighton, Meadow Grove, Stanton, Tilden and Battle Creek—were represented. The Wayne camp featured in a fancy drill, while the local camp took charge of the initiations and entertained at a sun bonnet drill. Light refreshments were served by members of the local camp at the close of the business session of the meeting.

Memorial Services

Next Sunday, June 16th the Wayne lodge Sons of Herman will observe their annual memorial day. The members of the lodge will assemble at 2 o'clock at their hall and march in a body at 2:30 o'clock to the cemetery to hold memorial services on the graves of their deceased brothers and to decorate the last resting places with flowers. The committee in charge hopes that every member of the lodge will be present and urges especially those brothers who on account of business reasons cannot come to the regular business meetings, to be at least present next Sunday afternoon to pay this loving tribute to the memory of their departed brothers and friends.

Flag Day, Friday, June 14

Tomorrow being designated as "Flag Day" it is the request of A. J. Ferguson, patriotic instructor, that all public buildings, school houses, churches, and city buildings within the county display the flag of our country. He also suggests that all business and private houses that possibly can do so, display the national emblem. Why not place the emblem in public on this day? Carelessness only prevent many from doing this little many who would do great deeds and dare all things to defend it.

To Whom It May Concern

This is to certify that I carried $675.00 Policy for hail insurance on growing crops with Hazard & Chesley, and on May 26th, they were damaged by hail. In just three days from the time that I notified them their adjuster, T. M. Sharpe and their agent, F. H. Ben-shoof came out and settled to my entire satisfaction. I have carried hail insurance with them for three years and have had a loss each year and I have always been treated fine. I do not hesitate to recommend them to any one wishing reliable insurance.

Total Mellette County Filings

Out of the first four thousand names called at White River for the choice of land open to settlement in Mellette and Bennett counties, there were a total of 1122 selections made. Of this number 150 failed to file and 194 selections were in transit. Up to last Thursday 682 had made their first payment on the land but the total of the filings made will probably not be known until sometime next week. The remaining land may be thrown open to "squatter" settlement and the remaining four thousand numbers may not be called in the fall. The department will determine this matter after looking over the remaining available homestead land. Gregory Democrat.

Automobile Rules for Pedestrians

Rule 2—Pedestrians, before turning to the right or left, must give three short blasts on a horn at least three inches in diameter.

Rule 3—Pedestrians must, when an experienced automobile driver is made nervous by a pedestrian, hide behind a tree until the automobile has passed.

Rule 4—Pedestrians shall not carry in their pockets any sharp substance liable to cut automobile tires.

Rule 5—Pedestrians shall not, in dodging automobiles, run faster than twenty miles an hour.

Rule 6—Pedestrians will not be permitted to emit cigarette smoke on any boulevard in a manner offensive to passengers in gasoline automobiles.

Rule 7—Pedestrians must register at the beginning of each year and pay a license fee of $5. Numbered license tags will then be issued to them. No rebate will be allowed if they do not live through the entire year.

Rule 8—Pedestrians, before license tags will be issued to them, must demonstrate before an examining board their skill in dodging, leaping, crawling and extricating themselves from machinery.

Rule 9—Pedestrians not wearing numbered license tags will be held responsible for damages done to automobiles or their occupants by collisions.—George Fitch in Collier's.

Advertising Talks

A man once said that the reason why we prefer hen's eggs to duck eggs was because the hen cackles and advertises the fact that she has eggs. That may be stretching a point, but nevertheless the manufacturer and salesman of today will tell you it pays to advertise. For: If you toot your little tooter and then lay away your horn, There's not a soul in ten short days will know that you were born, The man who gathers pumpkins is the man who plows all day, And the man who keeps a humping is the man who makes it pay, The man who advertises with short and sudden jerks Is the man who blames the editor because it never works, The man who gets the business has a strong and steady pull, He keeps his trade and paper from year to year quite full, He plans his advertisements in a thoughtful honest way, And keeps forever at it until he makes it pay, He can rest assured that the farmers reads his ads, too, And when he toots his little tooter he will find the farmer an attentive listener if his horn has the right sound to it.

EBRASKA NEWS

A. Simmons of Dawes County Resists Paying Borrowed Cash.

SETS UP TECHNICAL DEFENSE

Van Dusen's Friends Will Take Cornhusker Case to Board of Regents.

Lincoln, June 12.—A case which on account of its peculiar conditions created considerable comment is an appeal from the district court of Dawes county to the state supreme court made by William Alfred Simmons, wherein he was the defendant on a judgment obtained by his sister, Julia Sarah Simmons, for money claimed to have been loaned him.

Julia alleged in the district court that she had loaned William $800 in good English money, the transaction taking place in London, England, said sum being in United States money, $2,885. The only agreement was an oral one to pay on demand. No note was given, but William gave her a receipt, which he now refuses to pay, claiming that under the English law the receipt did not contain certain stamps in the amount required, and also that the receipt was not written on "officially stamped paper," a requirement in transactions of that kind under the English law. He admits receiving the money, but that under the law over there it would not be considered a fraudulent act and, therefore, he cannot be made to pay.

The district court of Dawes county found for Miss Simmons for the full amount, with interest, which makes the judgment $4,497.17.

Will Take Case to Regents. Chancellor Samuel Avery will have a fight on his hands if he attempts to deprive Dana Van Dusen of Omaha or any other member of the Cornhusker staff of their credits, or any student who fails to return his copy of the book, according to Colonel John G. Maher, who issued a statement, saying that if any attempt is made to prevent Van Dusen from graduating, he and other Lincoln business men, together with a delegation from Omaha, will appear before the board of regents and protest.

Then Preaches Sermon to Students. Rt. Rev. J. Henry Thien, bishop of the Catholic church, delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the members of the graduating class of the University of Nebraska. He chose as his text, "Truth and Love." Bishop Thien preached the doctrine of universal brotherhood, saying that love of truth and charity toward mankind should characterize the life of every university graduate.

CROP CONDITIONS IMPROVE

Railroad Man Sees Bright Prospects for Good Yields.

Omaha, June 12.—In their predictions relative to a winter wheat and small grain crop, railroad men are optimistic as they were three weeks ago. A. DeBernard, general superintendent of the Missouri Pacific, was in Omaha on his return from a trip that took him over every mile of the company lines in Kansas and Nebraska, and in speaking of the crop outlook said:

"My trip was for the purpose of learning the truthfulness of the reports that the small grain crop of Nebraska and Kansas had been seriously injured by dry weather. After a thorough investigation and a careful observation I have no hesitancy in saying that throughout the country tributary to the Missouri Pacific in Nebraska and Kansas the winter wheat crop will be fully up to the average. Where spring wheat is raised it is in splendid condition and the same is true of the oats and the barley. Corn looks well, but it is too early to make any predictions on the crop. However, corn has not been damaged by outworn to the extent that has been reported. The stand is good. It is free from weeds and at this time appears to be in the best possible condition."

Bride's Leg Broken by Charivari Party

Beatrice, Neb., June 12.—Word was received here from Peck-a-Boo, Ida., stating that Mrs. John Robertson, formerly of this city, who was married at that place last week, had been seriously injured as a result of a charivari party. Upon the couple's return to Peck-a-Boo some of the members of the party placed them in a cart and was drawing them through the streets when a bolt in the vehicle broke and caused the occupants to fall to the ground. Mrs. Robertson's leg was broken in two places below the knee and she was severely bruised about the body.

Given Judgment for Boy's Death

Broken Bow, Neb., June 12.—The $10,000 damage suit brought by S. A. Coen, a farmer of this county, against the Central Telephone company has been brought to an end before Judge Hostetler in the district court. Some time ago Coen's small son was found dead in a pasture through which the telephone wire extended. The contention was that the horse upon which the boy had been riding got tangled up with the wire in some way, thereby throwing the rider and killing him. After being out all night the jury returned a verdict in favor of Coen, giving him $1,750.

'CORNHUSKER' OUT OF MAILS

Authorities Appealed to at Lincoln to Stop Its Circulation.

Lincoln, June 11.—H. A. Evans, who was appointed by Chancellor Avery to receive the Cornhuskers returned by the students to be rebound, with the objectionable joke features eliminated, admitted that less than 180 books-out of the entire issue of 1,500 had been returned.

Matters were further complicated when Postmaster Sizor announced a ruling temporarily barring the Cornhusker from the mails until the department at Washington had examined the book and passed on the so-called "objectionable matter."

County Attorney Strode also rendered an opinion holding that the book contained features rendering its publisher or circulators liable for prosecution under the state laws for circulation of obscene matter. The opinion was rendered on the request of the chancellor.

The sole topic of conversation in Lincoln and in university circles continues to be the Cornhusker. Sentiment is very much divided over the retention of the chancellor and it is currently reported that Lincoln business men will appear before the board of regents and ask that the boys be cleared of the censure passed on them.

FORM NEW POWER COMPANY

Lincoln Capitalists Back Koenig's Columbus Project.

Lincoln, June 11.—The Commonwealth Power company filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state with a capital stock of $7,500,000 fully paid up. It took a fee of $3,751.25 to get its articles filed.

The articles of incorporation show that the corporation expects to do a general business in acquiring and developing water power for heating and lighting purposes and water for irrigation. Headquarters of the company will be in Lincoln, but the power will be secured from the Loup river above Columbus. This is the power site which is in controversy before the supreme court and is known as the Koenig company.

Enforcing Law as to Eggs

Food Commissioner Hansen issued the following regarding the sale of ancient eggs: "A meeting was held at the Lincoln hotel of the egg dealers of the state for the purpose of discussing the handling of eggs. Commissioner Hansen, in his talk to the egg dealers, said that he would vigorously prosecute buying and selling of rotten eggs, that candling would have to be done by buyers and that he expected to be kept informed of the condition of eggs received; that his inspectors had been instructed to be busy in looking up bad egg shipments, and if found the shippers would be prosecuted. He also stated that producers, merchants and egg buyers must candle eggs and reject the spoiled ones. Rotten eggs shipped have placed Nebraska eggs in bad repute on the eastern market, and the producers are losing large amounts of money, as they are compelled to accept low quotations on Nebraska eggs."

Kanert Seeks New Trial

The case of Fred Kanert, a Grand Island business man, who was convicted of a statutory assault on Mary Waddick, a fourteen-year-old girl, was up for hearing before the supreme court. Kanert was found guilty in the Hall county district court and sentenced to a term of seven years in the penitentiary. He appealed to the supreme court. One of the reasons for an appeal was that testimony was allowed showing that Kanert's wife died last September in Macon, Ill., and that he did not attend the funeral, which testimony prejudiced the jury and was not proper evidence. He sets forth again that the court room was filled during the trial with men and women who were allowed to laugh and sneer at the evidence and that such acts prejudiced and influenced the jury against him.

Thompson Files Complaint

F. S. Thompson, president of the Albion Commercial club, has filed with the railway commission a complaint against the Union Pacific Railway company. He complains that the railway service between the capital city of Boone county and Columbus is poor and insufficient. He asks that the commission look into the matter and see if the present service cannot be made better and a motor car put on in addition. He also sets forth that the depot at Albion is not up to date and that something should be done to give Albion a depot that will be a credit to that city. Albion very recently appeared before the commission with a like request regarding train service and inadequate depot privileges on the Northwestern at that place, but as yet the old service stands.

Injury in Garage

An interesting case was heard in the federal court, wherein John G. Rhode sues the R. A. Huff company of Nebraska City for injuries received in the automobile garage of the latter. On Jan. 11 of last year Rhode was having some repairs made to his car in the garage of the defendant and asked direction to the toilet room. He was directed to the back part of the building, which, he claims, was poorly lighted. There were two doors leading out of the room, neither of which had any sign on them. By mistake he opened the door into the cellar and fell ten feet, sustaining injuries which has crippled him permanently. He claims that the company was negligent in not having a warning upon the door.

HEAVY RUN OF HOGS--5c LOWER

Dead Lamb Market--Trend Is Downward--Bulk Consists Largely of Grassers--Good Run Showed Up From Oregon and California.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, June 11.—Another very moderate run of cattle showed up today, about 2,400 head being received. There was another advance of fully a dime in fat cattle prices and market is all of 15¢ to 25¢ higher than it was the latter part of last week. Choice 1,400-pound beefs brought $8.85. Prices for cows and heifers averaged fully a quarter better than last week. Veal calves continue very vigorous and quotably firm, while there was a broader market for bulls, stags and rough stock generally. There was a strong market for stockers and feeders, but with a very small volume of business. Some fleshy steers brought $7.00.

Quotations on cattle: Choice to prime beefs, $8.50@9.00; good to choice beefs, $8.00@8.40; fair to good beefs, $7.50@7.90; common to fat beefs, $6.50@7.35; good to choice heifers $6.75@7.50; good to choice cows, $5.75@6.75; fair to good grades, $4.50@5.65; canners and cutters, $3.00@4.25; veal calves, $4.50@8.75; bulls, stags, etc., $4.00@7.00; choice to prime feeders, $6.25@6.75; good to choice feeders, $5.25@6.25; fair to good feeders, $4.75@5.25; common to fair feeders, $4.25@4.75; stock cows and heifers, $3.50@4.85.

Receipts of hogs were estimated at 20,000 head, the largest run at this point in two weeks and prices were steady to 5c lower. Best heavy hogs on sale brought $7.60, same as Monday's top, and bulk was more or less scattered within the $7.35@7.50 spread.

About 7,000 head of sheep and lambs arrived today. Compared with Monday's saggy trade, prices ruled steady to unevenly lower. Oregon wethers brought $4.75, ruling firm, while other kinds of stock were hard to move at various declines. The coast lambs were especially slow, as too many arrived for killing requirements that have become very modest during the past few days.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Spring lambs, $6.00@8.35; shorn lambs $6.25@7.50; shorn yearlings, $5.00@5.50; shorn wethers, $4.50@5.00; shorn ewes, $3.00@4.50.

Strawberries in Shakespeare's Day. Strawberries have improved very much in flavor since the fifteenth century. Until then the only strawberries eaten were wild strawberries, of a kind which would never find a market nowadays. By 1480, however, they were beginning to be cultivated, for Holshush records under that date a particularly fine crop grown by the bishop of Ely in the grounds of his palace, now covered by Hatton Garden. He quotes the Duke of Gloucester as saying to the bishop: "My lord, you have very good strawberries in your garden in Holborn. I require you to let us have a mess of them." This speech was copied almost verbatim by Shakespeare in "Richard III." Still, even the bishop's fruit would not appeal much to the modern connoisseurs, for the garden strawberries at that period were only transplanted wildlings, the plants being sold at about fourpence a bushel.—London Chronicle.

Her Grace. An Englishwoman of rank, a duchess, was very apt to forget to pay her bills. A milliner, whose large bill had been repeatedly ignored by the duchess, at last determined to send her little girl, a pretty child of ten years, for the money which was so much needed. "Be sure to say 'your grace' to the duchess," said the anxious mother, and the child gravely promised to remember.

When, after long waiting, she was ushered into the presence of her grace the little girl dropped her a bow of courtesy, and then, folding her hands and closing her eyes, she said softly: "For what I am about to receive may the Lord make me truly thankful."

As she opened her eyes and turned her wistful gaze on the duchess that person turned very red and without delay made out a check for the amount due her milliner.

How to Win at Monte Carlo. One man discovered an infallible system for winning at Monte Carlo. It can only be tried very now and then, and it needs very little capital—three halfpence will do. You take up your stand near some one who is playing high and who is enjoying a run of luck, and you drop your purse open, with enough in it to make a good deal of jingling on the floor. One is not allowed to poke about under tables at Monte Carlo, so you mention your misfortune to an official, who immediately summons assistants with brooms. These will sweep all round where you are standing, and, with ordinary luck—there is generally a good deal of fallen money about the floor—you will get a nice little pile of silver and possibly gold coins in addition to your original three halfpence.—Peterson's Weekly.

The Truth

IS WORTH REPEATING

—And it is nothing but the truth when we tell you that you can save by buying in our place BECAUSE we buy most of our goods from wholesale catalogue houses, eliminating traveling agents. BECAUSE we do not deliver. Cost of delivery is added to the expense account of a business and the expense account is added to the price of the goods. It raises the price and is an injustice to those who take their goods home with them. BECAUSE we do a cash business, thus securing better prices and bigger bargains. By avoiding loss through bad debts, etc., we can sell cheaper. BECAUSE we give special values in addition to general all around low prices. BECAUSE we rely on quick turns and not on large profits. Therefore, come to us and save the difference.

Harness and Collar Talk...

The only harness that will give absolute satisfaction is one sewed by hand, the old fashioned way and made of pure oak tanned leather, tanned by pure chestnut oak bark. Such harness wears longer than any two sets made by a machine.

Likewise Collars. My collars are manufactured from the best of pure oak tanned collar leather and sewed with pure oak tanned thongs. As a result the sewing does not give away and it does not become necessary for you to have them repaired after a few montes service.

The only place to purchase harness and leather goods of this high merit is

This is one of the weeks when it will pay to read the advertisements in the Democrat early, otherwise you might be too late getting there to get the goods. It pays to see who is inviting you any time before you go shopping or you may have to go again when you find some bargain offered that you did not know of.

Miss Mabel Dayton arrived at Wayne last week to spend the summer here with her parents, W. S. Dayton and wife, who recently moved here from Harlan, Iowa. Miss Dayton has been teaching for the past two years at Tulare, California, and is invited back for another year, but thinks that she will be asked to accept work in a larger school at a better salary.

Edward Zilmer, Andrew Spence and George Pue were here from Stanton Wednesday accompanied by attorneys Ehrhardt and Chace to attend a hearing before Judge Welch concerning damages for a new road opened along the county line between this and Stanton counties. The land condemned had been appraised at $50 per acre, which was not satisfactory to the owners and was raised to $97.50.

H. B. Hetrick of Lincoln is here to establish an agency for the Bankers Life of Lincoln. On June first the Bankers Life had $487,000 in force on citizens of Wayne county. This great company sure deserves the business, too. When the fellow representing an eastern company, any one of them, comes to you, ask him to show you settlements of policies taken 10, 15 or 20 years ago, at your age and maturing now. Then compare them to Bankers Life settlements. You will find that they are only about 60 per cent of what a Bankers Life dividend is. Bankers Life dividends are for Bankers Life policy holders. Keep your dollars in Nebraska. Build up your own state, not some eastern state. Bankers Life money stays at home.

One of the interesting features of the Memorial Day race of 500 miles at the Indianapolis Speedway which was run in less than six and one-half hours was the rapid manner in which tires were changed. With one exception all the cars to finish were equipped with Michelin Tires. One Michelin was changed on the winning National in thirty seconds, hardly giving Dawson, the driver, time to get a drink of water. Two men in the press stand timed a change on De Palma's car in twenty-three seconds, and if this is true another speed record was established. The Michelin company has followed racing closely and with marked success. Tires must wear out in the strain of a 500-mile race in which cars are traveling at a speed of eighty miles an hour but it is no less significant that the winning cars in long-distance races are nearly always appointed with Michelin.

The Bible in the Public Schools

Last Sunday evening Rev. Alexander Corke gave an address at the Presbyterian church on the Bible in our Public Schools. In spite of the bad weather there was a large congregation, including many of the teachers attending the Normal summer school. The speaker began his address by saying that he spoke on the subject because there was a growing movement in all parts of our country in favor of having daily bible readings in all of the public schools. This movement was not originated by the churches, but was the result of observant patriotism. This movement should have the support of every patriot in America because it was a return to the practice of the fathers in the best days of our republic, and it was a practice in harmony with the entire spirit of our institutions. The chief advocates for this improvement in the curriculum of all our public schools were the leading educators who are in charge of our schools. The speaker paid a high tribute to the public school teachers and declared that they were faithful to the trust given to them by the people, as they took the deepest interest in the development of the boys and girls, not only mentally, but physically and morally as well. Teachers realize the need of heeding the solemn words of George Washington in his farewell address in which he declared that "religion and morality were indispensable supports to political prosperity," and he called on politicians, even if themselves devoid of piety, to cherish and respect them. As our nation is founded on the Bible, as Andrew Jackson so forcibly declared, and as it was the book held in the highest veneration by all the leading founders of America, it should have a place of prominence in every educational institution supported by the State. "Daniel Webster once declared," said the speaker, in prophetic words the intimate relation between the Bible and our nation. If we and our descendants abide by the teaching and authority of the Bible we shall go on (as a nation) conquering and to conquer, but if ever we, or our descendants neglect its teaching or authority, no one can tell how sudden a catastrophe will overwhelm us and our glory in profound obscurity." The speaker then proved that educators were calling for this improvement by referring to the resolutions of the National Teachers' Association in Minneapolis in 1902 and the Michigan State Teachers' Association in 1911, as well as by quoting leading Nebraska educators, including Hon. James E. Delzell, the present State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Supt. J. H. Kemp, President of N. E. Nebraska Teachers Association. In his own experience as a teacher in the public schools for twenty-eight years State Supt. Delzell opened his schools every morning with a reading from the Bible, declaring that he believed it was the most helpful thing he could do for the morals of the children. The speaker then took up the objection that our Supreme Court had ruled the Bible out of the public schools. "This is the basest kind of a slander on our Supreme Court," he said, with emphasis. "Not only has our Supreme Court in Nebraska never made such a foul, ignorant and disgraceful decision, but on the contrary here is the very language of our Supreme Court in regard to this very matter." The speaker then quoted from the Court's decision in 1902 as follows: "The law does not forbid the use of the Bible in the public schools; it is not proscribed either by the constitution or the statutes; and the Courts have no right to declare its use to be unlawful." Further commenting on this case the Supreme Court says in regard to the Bible: "Its contents are largely historical and moral. Its language is unequalled in purity and elegance. Its style has never been surpassed. Among the classics of our literature it stands pre-eminent."

Since such a book is in our possession to give daily readings from it in every public school in the land is the solemn duty of our people and it is very treason to our country not to give it this pre-eminence. In concluding his address the speaker said there was only one objection ever made to daily Bible reading in all our public schools which was ever thought worthy of attention by intelligent people and this was that the public school teachers might possibly use the Bible to teach sectarianism. The speaker indignantly declared this to be a disreputable slander on our public school teachers. "No one wants sectarianism in our public schools," he insisted. "The teaching of sectarianism in our public schools has always been anathema in our republic, but it is our patriotic duty to cherish morality in our schools, as this is the prop on which our political prosperity depends. Since we make blasphemy a crime amongst us, we are in duty bound to teach the children reverence. There is as much sense in refusing to allow Lincoln's Gettysburg speech to be used in our public schools because some teachers might possibly use it to teach partizan politics as there is in objecting in any way to daily reading from the Bible because, forsooth, some teacher might use it to teach sectarianism. The objection is childish, and it is the only objection ever entertained by any intelligent American to this much-needed improvement."

From the Canal Zone

Guy Strickland, who went from here last winter to accept a position in the engineering corps of the Panama Canal force in writing to his father here recently, stated that he is enjoying his work greatly. That work in his department is drawing to a close, but that he has not yet received any notice that his services will not be needed, though it is expected that many of those in the engineering department will be laid off before long. He told of going swimming once in the Atlantic and once in the Pacific ocean on the same day. He enclosed a clipping that told of a shower that had taken place shortly before he wrote that the rainfall was 7 inches in the one night. But it has to rain there sometimes hard to keep up the reputation of nearly eleven feet annual rainfall—130 inches. The water level in one lake there raised 7 feet in three weeks, and the government figures show a difference of 5 feet in the water level of the largest lake between the high and low water levels. From another paper we take some interesting figures regarding the magnitude of the work this young man is taking a part in: The dry glaciers of the Culebra cut, the mighty masses of earth and rock which are sliding down in to the big ditch that Uncle Sam is gouging out of the Andes. It is hard to understand them without being on the ground. But if you will go with Colonel David D. Gaillard, the famous engineer who has charge of the Culebra division, we shall go through the cut and look at them with our own eyes. There are plenty in sight. There are two places near by where more than 1,000,000 cubic yards of earth and rock are now moving. The material in action is equal to a solid block 300 feet square and 300 feet high, built it up as a cube and its base would be more than two acres and it would rise to the height of a thirty-story flat. That enormous quantity of rock is advancing at the rate of almost two feet per day, and since the beginning of our digging we have had thirteen or fourteen times as much as that mass to take care of. The total has been over 13,000,000 cubic yards, or enough material to make a wall three feet thick as high as a two-story house reaching all the way from New York to Chicago. It would make four mighty pyramids as big as Gizeh, and, all told, considerably more than the excavation we have yet to make. In other words, had there been no slides the excavation for the canal would have been done long ago. As it is we have 11,000,000 cubic yards to dig and of this something like 4,000,000 are the direct result of the slides.

Order of Hearing and Notice on Petition for Settlement of Account

In the County Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, Wayne County, ss.
To the heirs and all persons interested in the estate of Henry Hodson, deceased:
On reading the petition of Sam Barnes, Administrator with will annexed praying a final settlement and allowance of his account filed in this Court on the 10th day of June, 1912, and for distribution of the residue of said estate it is hereby ordered that you and all persons interested in said matter may, and do, appear at the County Court to be held in and for said county, on the 5th day of July, A. D., 1912, at 2 o'clock p. m., to show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted, and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Nebraska Democrat, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.
(Seal) JAMES BRITTON, 24-3 County Judge.

Order of Hearing

The State of Nebraska, Wayne County, ss.
In the County Court.
Whereas, on this 6th day of June, 1912, William Woehler and Doris Woehler, Grandfather and Grandmother of Olga Melcher, Minor, made and filed in this office their sworn statement, duly attested, and stated that they desired to adopt Olga Melcher as their own child, both parents of said Minor Olga Melcher being dead, I have therefore appointed the 15th day of July, 1912, at 2 o'clock p. m., at my office in Wayne, as the time and place where a hearing will be had in said matter, at which time and place all persons interested may appear.
It is ordered that a copy of this order be published in the Nebraska Democrat, a newspaper published in Wayne County, Nebraska, for four successive weeks prior to the time set for hearing.
JAMES BRITTON, County Judge.

GREEN BACKS in STRAW STACKS

The wastage of grain by the average Threshing Machine is far more than many suppose. The Operator usually knows it, but he can't help it with that kind of machine, so he covers it up all he can and lets it go at that. The Farmer suspects it, but thinks he has to put up with it, and much of his hard-earned money goes over into the straw stack.

This great wastage is the result of employing an incompetent type of Threshing Machine that rushes the straw to the stack, but does not beat the grain out of it.

It is up to you Farmers to say what Machine will thresh your grain this season. You have worked hard to grow the grain and you pay the bill for threshing it. You can't afford to divide your profits with the straw pile, for every bushel that goes into the stack is money right out of your pocket.

You Can Save Your Thresh Bill by Hiring a Red River Special to Do Your Threshing

It will save the grain for you; it will waste less of your time, will do your job quicker; it will clean your grain better; it will pay you all around. It is the only Threshing Machine made that uses the true and sure method of separation by beating the grain out of the straw just as you would do with a pitchfork.

The Big Cylinder, the Man Behind the Gun, and the Shakers that toss the straw up and beat it as you would do with a pitchfork, save the grain that others waste, whether it be wheat, oats, rye, barley, flax, peas, rice, alfalfa, timothy or other grains or seeds.

THE RED RIVER SPECIAL WORKS ON AN ENTIRELY DIFFERENT PRINCIPLE OF SEPARATION FROM ANY OTHER MAKE. It beats it out while other makes hurry the straw to the stack and expect the grain to fall out, which it does not do.

Have your threshing done this year by a Red River Special. IT WILL SAVE YOUR THRESH BILL.

Write us or call on our Branch House or Dealer for the proof.

POTATO SCAB

A New Jersey Correspondent writes: "I find that my potatoes are badly infested with what seems to me to answer the description of potato scab." In treating potatoes for scab it is best to use one pound of formalin to thirty gallons of water. This treatment should be given the seed before the potatoes are cut, and after treating they should be scattered out and allowed to dry unless you are ready to plant them immediately. After using the solution for two or three hours it should be replenished, because when left open it loses its strength very rapidly.

We can see no reason why the kerosene barrels would in any way hinder this treatment. We believe it will be all right to use them in treating your potatoes. As far as disinfecting the planter is concerned, we do not believe this will be necessary if you treat the seed properly.

The fungus disease called scab has been known to live for at least six years in the soil, even though no potatoes were grown in that field. Because of this, it is a good plan to rotate your crops and to plant your treated seed in fields where potatoes have not been grown for at least four or five years.

The soil that contains an acid is injurious to the growth of potato scab, hence the application of sulphate of ammonia, sulphate of potash, kaffir, or acid phosphate will tend to free the soil of the scab fungus. On the other hand, the presence of lime, wood ashes, or large quantities of stable manure, will aid or encourage the growth of potato scab.

LITTLE THINGS ABOUT THE HOUSE

By GRACE MARIAN SMITH of the I. H. C. Service Bureau

Time was when people who could not afford expensive jewelry and real lace, owned no jewelry and wore their garments untrimmed. Our ancestors, with a foolish pride supposed to indicate birth and breeding, eschewed imitations. This was a protest against pretense, but the medicine became worse than the disease. Gaudy, cheap, shoddy material is an offense against good taste, but inexpensive things need not be inartistic. Because you cannot take a trip to Europe is no reason for refusing a day's outing. You cannot afford the original Angulus, but you can have a good print of it, and most of us with untrained eyes will see quite as much in the print as we would in the original.

There is a difference between the inexpensive and cheap, so don't let us deride a thing simply because it didn't cost a mint of money.

How many things are you going without that you could buy for a very modest sum? Suppose it is nothing more than a sharp knife for paring vegetables and you have wasted time, wasted vegetables, spoiled your own temper, and annoyed the men folks by trying to get an edge on a knife that was worn out years ago. Yet for ten cents—ten cents—you can buy a paring knife that will last at least a year.

You have spent hours beating up eggs with a fork. A Dover egg-beater costs a quarter, and a whip ten cents. You are short of pans, of crocks, of kettles, which can be purchased for from ten to thirty-five cents. You are going without spoons enough to set the table when there are guests, because you can't afford to pay eight dollars for them, but you can buy artistic spoons of white metal which no one unless accustomed to seeing them would distinguish from real silver. Sometimes it is china towels—you are using worn, lousy rags; you can get all the towels you need for ten cents apiece. Or, you are wearing an old dress, too heavy and warm, instead of the cool, fresh-looking one you could buy ready-made for from sixty cents to one dollar.

No, I am not advising cheap, shoddy things. Always buy the best you can afford. If your means are limited buy the inexpensive yet most satisfactory articles that you can. Only don't make the mistake of complaining because these inexpensive things don't last as well as the more costly ones.

"The first thing you forget about an article is what you paid for it." So if it is something you are going to keep, something really worth while, or something which is costing you almost as much as the better article, buy the best. But at the same time it is not a good policy to get along without something that will help you in your work just because you cannot buy the most expensive made.

Hay at the present market prices, or even considerably lower, is a very good money crop. Farmers are now planning on feeding corn fodder and selling their hay. I believe this is a good plan. Don't you?

GRASSES

Reply to inquiry received from E. T.

Bostwick, Marshall, Colorado: "Will you be kind enough to furnish me with what information you have available on the subject of grasses suitable for this location; best methods of seeding; preparation of the soil, etc.?"

In the vicinity of Marshall, Colorado, the best grass for hay purposes is timothy. A much better combination is made by using timothy and alsike. About 15 pounds of timothy and 5 or 6 pounds of alsike make a very good mixture.

Besides these two crops, brome grass, or Bromis Inermis, does well in your locality. Upon the farm of Louis Fick, situated within a short distance of your farm, brome grass has been doing wonderfully well. Meadow Fescue will do well also in your locality.

From our experience with the grasses and from an observation of the native vegetation, we would say that the timothy and brome grass are the two best members of the grass family for your locality. The brome grass will thrive with timothy and alsike under good conditions of irrigation which usually prevail on the developed farms of that community.

A disk grain drill with grass seeder attachment is as good a tool to be used as any. The soil should be prepared by deep plowing. The plowing should be followed with the disk and peg-tooth harrow, if possible the same half day, in order to work the furrow slice down into a good, well-mellowed seed bed before it has time to dry out or lose its tilth. If seeded alone, about 20 pounds of brome grass should be used per acre. If seeded with the other combination, the amount varies with the proportion it is desired to obtain. A very good combination is brome grass 15 pounds and alsike 5 pounds. Another good combination is brome grass 12 pounds, timothy 10 to 12 pounds, and alsike 5 to 6 pounds. It is well to harrow lightly after the drill.

The land should be well irrigated but should not be kept flooded. There is a notion prevalent in the vicinity of Marshall that hay can only be grown where it is kept flooded. This view is erroneous. The land should be well irrigated, then the water should be withdrawn until the crop is needing moisture when it should be irrigated again. Although this is contrary to the views of many ranchmen, it is borne out by experience and experiment.

FEEDING CALVES

Reply to W. T. TURNER, Chilo, O.

We have your letter of recent date in which you ask for some information on feeding calves, but you do not state how old your calves are. Young calves should be fed on whole milk for some time, and changes in their feed should be made gradually. After a week or ten days the whole milk feed may be changed to one of half skim and half whole milk. Decrease the whole milk until you are feeding the calf entirely on skim milk. It is well to have a quantity of grain convenient so that the calf will have an opportunity to learn to eat as early as possible. It probably will not learn to eat grain for some little time. This may be hastened, however, by mixing a small amount of bran with the milk, or you may add a small quantity of low-grade flour.

Skim milk contains some more protein and carbohydrate than whole milk, so for feeding it is best to pick a grain that will not supply large quantities of these materials. In some instances calves may do very well on highly-concentrated feed, but these feeds are usually very expensive, and there are other substitutes that are just as good. Usually no better results can be obtained from high-priced concentrates than from feeding such grain as corn, kafir, corn, sorghum, barley or oats. The following mixtures have been found to give very good satisfaction:

Whole oats and bran.
Whole oats, corn, barley, and bran.

A mixture of 15 pounds of whole oats, 9 pounds of bran, 3 pounds of corn meal, and 3 pounds of linseed meal is also a very good feed for calves.

Together with these concentrates the young and growing calf should have plenty of fresh water, and be allowed to play in the sun. It should also have free access to good clover or alfalfa hay. If these are not available, timothy hay and corn fodder are perhaps the next best. If you have a silo, small quantities of ensilage will keep the calf in good condition during the winter months.

If the calf does not gain when taking the whole milk it should be weaned. Try half skim and half whole milk for a while. Sometimes the addition of a spoonful of lime water to each feed will correct the difficulty.

Calves may suffer from scours when put on grass but usually there will be very little difficulty if they are allowed to feed but a short time at first, then gradually increasing the period each day until they become accustomed to the change. Sudden changes of feed are not good and should be avoided.

ROTATION OF CROPS

Reply to a Michigan Correspondent

"I am growing sugar beets and my land seems to be decreasing in production. What rotation can I use?"

In some localities it has been found that beets do best following alfalfa, corn and small grains. A very good rotation is as follows: First, wheat; second year, beets; then clover for two years, last crop being plowed under; then potatoes, and the rotation repeated. If alfalfa can be grown in your locality it is a good plan to include this in the rotation.

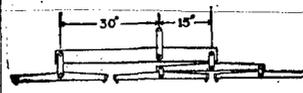

In Montana the best rotation for beet raising is as follows: Wheat, clover, or alfalfa, sugar beets, barley and peas. In Utah the following rotation gives good satisfaction: First year, sugar beets; second year, peas and oats for forage; third year, sugar beets; fourth year, oats, seeded to alfalfa; fifth year, alfalfa.

THREE-HORSE HITCHES

A Kansas correspondent writes: "In making a three-horse evener for a disk, I would like to know where the hole should be bored. Should two-thirds of the evener be given to the single horse to make an even distribution of the pull, or should it be measured from the outside of the singletree?"

You will experience but little difficulty in dividing the load equally among the horses if you take into consideration the fact that the amount of work each horse does is in proportion to the lever arm of the portion of the doubletree given to him. In the case of three horses the third horse, or one which works singly, in order to do the same amount of work as the other two, should be given twice the length of lever arm as the team. The length of the evener and also the length of the singletrees will depend upon the size of the horses and also whether you desire working them close together or somewhat spread out. For summer work the horses will stand the heat a little better if given plenty of room. This is advisable where conditions are such that more room can be given and at the same time not hinder accomplishing the work satisfactorily.

You will note in illustration No. 1, that the third horse is given thirty inches of the lever arm, while the other two are given only fifteen. This distance is satisfactory for medium-sized horses. Where larger teams are to be used, it should be increased accordingly.

A common three-horse evener

Sometimes it is necessary in working young animals, or light horses, to give them an advantage. This can be done by increasing the length of the lever arm. There is no set rule for determining the amount of advantage to be given in the case of small horses. The most satisfactory way is to use a number of holes and simply shift the clevis until the small horse is able to carry the load the entire day without becoming more fatigued than the other horses. Some claim that the amount of lever arm or advantage given the small horse should be in proportion to the weight, but this is not always satisfactory because it is not taking into consideration the physical condition of the horses, which is a very important factor. However, to begin with, this method of adjustment does very well; other changes can be made as occasion requires.

DISEASES OF CUCUMBERS

Reply to C. V. Fox

"I have trouble with my cucumbers dying too early. They get some kind of yellow spots in the leaves and the vines die before they get done bearing. I have been using Bordeaux mixture. I used blue stone. Is this the same as copper sulphate? When should lime be added to the soil?"

The disease attacking our correspondent's cucumber vines is known as "downy mildew," a parasitic fungus. Bordeaux mixture is the best remedy you can use; but this will have no effect if the fungus has gained considerable headway. Bordeaux mixture should be made as follows:

For young plants—3 lbs. copper sulphate, 6 lbs. lime to 50 gallons of water. When the plants get older, use 4 lbs. copper sulphate, 6 lbs. lime to 50 gallons of water.

Blue stone is the commercial name for copper sulphate.

The beneficial element in lime is calcium, and it should be applied on soils that are acid in nature. On soils that are not in this condition, lime will be of little or no benefit. The acidity of the soil may be determined by the use of litmus paper, which may be obtained at almost any drug store. Press the moist soil around the blue litmus paper for ten or fifteen minutes. If the paper is now red or pink in color it will indicate that your soil is acid.

There are eight or ten different kinds of commercial lime, but where it is possible to obtain finely ground limestone, this is the most desirable form to use. It supplies the necessary calcium, and yet the action on the vegetable matter is not as severe as it is with other forms of lime.

We regret to say that the Service Bureau does not have Farmers' Bulletins for general distribution, but you will be able to obtain these by writing the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Division of Publications, Washington, D. C.

If we can be of further service at any time, we will be pleased to hear from you.

$500,000.00 TITANIC LOSSES

...PAID BY THE...

Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Co.

Milwaukee, Wisconsin

It might seem that a half million in Titanic claims would be a large drain on a life insurance company, but for a company like the Northwestern, that has weathered three large financial panics and which has a record of 55 years of successful business, it is scarcely noticeable, while many a small company might under like conditions be forced to the wall. You will never regret to place your insurance with a company like the Northwestern that is able to take care of such large death claims.

The Northwestern had on January 1, 1912 the sum of $285,575,219.44 in admitted assets which are largely secured by first mortgages on real estate and loans on policies issued by the company. The company has the sum of $280,600.00 in first mortgages on Wayne County land which is as good as gold. Over $6,000,000.00 first mortgages on eastern Nebraska farms. No funds loaned on sandy land. The public's money is always well cared for with such security in the Northwestern.

The Northwestern has made a record breaker on two vital points especially over that of 206 old line insurance companies doing business in the United States. It paid in 1911 the sum of $1,780,117.00 more in dividends than in death claims--it being careful in selecting good clean risks. It paid $6,718,846.00 more in dividends than its actual cost of management --it being economical in business management.

The Northwestern issues over 30 different kinds of policies and you can get anything you want in the insurance line. If you want a straight life policy it will pay you to investigate the Northwestern and get my figures or those of any of my agents before placing your insurance with orders or assessment companies whose rates will sooner or later raise.
