Members of the Wayne Commercial Club Meet For Annual Election of Executive Committee. Excellent Speeches Enliven Occasion.

A meeting of the members of the Wayne Commercial Club was called for Tuesday evening for the selection of the executive committee for the coming year. The meeting was called to order by President Chas. Craven and the object stated. Secretary Kiplinger read the annual report of the finances, which showed a balance on hand from all sources of a little more than $250.

The president then named a committee of W. H. Morris, L. A. Kiplinger and J. G. Mines to place in nomination an executive committee for the coming year, and later in the evening they named the following members, and they were upon motion elected: F. L. Blair, T. T. Jones, C. W. Hiscox, H. Theobald, W. D. Redmond, W. E. Beaman, T. W. Moran, E. W. Huse, H. B. Jones, H. Bluechel, L. A. Kiplinger, Jno. Wendte, C. A. Chace.

A resolution was unanimously passed pledging the support of the club to the X-Ray Incubator Company, our most successful manufacturing industry.

The president then named L. A. Kiplinger toastmaster for the evening, and he introduced, with fitting complimentary remarks, F. L. Blair, who spoke on the need of closer business relation between town and country, taking the ground that the business men are not yet acquainted with each other as they should be, nor are they cultivating the acquaintance with their patrons which they should. The factor of acquaintance is a valuable business asset and it should be used by each and every merchant—not alone for his own good but for the good of every enterprise in the place and the help of those with whom he is acquainted. He said it is the practice of this idea which has given to Lincoln the name of being the best retail trade center in the state.

Dr. J. J. Williams responded to the sentiment of "How to Improve Sanitary Conditions" with a talk showing how education and publicity had aided in making Wayne one of the most healthful and sanitary places in the state. Half of the diseases which have afflicted and buried the members of the human family in the past are preventable, and the work on this theory has greatly decreased the death rate. The enforcement of sanitary laws are important for the health of the community. In this work the doctors have done well their share and the good work is going forward.

Dr. J. T. House of the Normal faculty, gave a most excellent talk along the line of going at reforms in a practical manner. Go to experts with your troubles. Tell the doctors, the lawyers, the preachers, the teachers and others who make a study of different things, your troubles, in their particular lines, and then aid them in the solution of the same. He would not have a community made good by restraint against evil, by checking energies, by prohibitive mandates but by the proper direction of ambition and effort. To his mind the one method would dwarf and the other expand our usefulness to the world.

The toastmaster then introduced Rev. Corkey in a fitting manner with praise on his ability as a pulpit orator. He spoke on "Good Roads" from the text "Mend Your Ways" and after a few humorous remarks gave some facts in regard to the roads of Wayne county. He said that two years ago the roads of this county were almost the worst in this section of the state and there were many complaints heard on every side. As good roads are a commercial and moral asset to any community, the state of our roads finally aroused a number of the people of the county and a year ago last spring a meeting was called in the interest of better highways. At this meeting the Wayne County Good Roads Association was formed, W. H. Gildersleeve being elected president. The association at once consulted with the county commissioners and found them entirely willing to cooperate in a campaign for the improvement of our roads, especially the main traveled highways of the county. A fund was raised by the association and it was arranged to furnish drags to all the farmers who would use them, even guaranteeing the payment of any charges which might be made. Drags have been furnished to public-spirited farmers living north, south, east and west of Wayne and for the most part these farmers drag the roads carefully after every heavy rain without making any charge whatever. In addition to this the Commercial Club hired a man to assist in this work on the leading roads out of town, who also co-operates with the farmers, and improves defective approaches and "bumpy culverts." The result of these efforts is now being seen and the roads from Wayne to the surrounding towns are in better shape than they have ever been, and they are being improved every month.

W. H. Gildersleeve, the county commissioners, the Commercial Club and especially the public-spirited farmers who drag the roads regularly, are to be highly commended for their services in the interest of good roads, and if the present progress continues, Wayne county will soon be recognized throughout the state not only for the fertility of its fields but also for the excellence of its roads and the generous public spirit which is shown in this matter by its citizens.

C. H. Bright was next to respond to the invitation of the toastmaster and his sentiment was for a "Better" Wayne, if we caught the drift of his most excellent talk, for he spoke of water extension. He believes that taxation levied and collected and expended in permanent improvement is an investment, and a paying investment, and he gave the figures which showed that some of the water main extension for which he contended when on the council is now actually paying to the city a rate on investment which would make a money lender turn green with envy. He handled the question of taxation without minding his words, and he believes in taxing idle property until it will have to be made productive by the owner or turned to some waiting one who will make it productive. He commended the work of any assessor who doubled the valuation of vacant lots. He would make them put in public improvements the same as property that is improved and occupied and not stand in the way of public improvement because they were waiting for the other fellow to make their idle property valuable. He would make them keep up with the procession or make room for some one who would, and the sentiment was roundly applauded.

J. H. Kate was called upon for a speech and as he had just returned from a visit in Iowa and Illinois and had not obtained the run of the previous talks he made a Yankee guess at what had been said, then settled down to a little talk for paved streets as one of the permanent improvements which help to make life in a town worth living.

Following the talks, light refreshments were served and a well-spent evening came to a close.

The executive committee will meet at L. A. Kiplinger's office this evening to elect officers for the ensuing year's work.

Off For Honduras

Tuesday, Guy Strickland came home from Alliance where he has had headquarters while working in the engineering department of the Burlington. On Wednesday he left for New Orleans from which place he is to sail Saturday for the Republic of Honduras, where he goes to enter the employ of a new railway company that is building in that country. A friend with whom he worked while at Panama has been made chief engineer of the work, and wired Mr. Strickland a very desirable offer which he decided to accept. He had only time enough to come home for one day before leaving for the new field. But for the delay in receiving a message he might now be on the Pacific bound for China, as he but recently received an excellent offer to go to that new republic. Honduras is the largest of the Central American republics, and is a mountainous country lying between Salvador and Guatemala and the Caribbean sea and the Pacific ocean, and has 400 miles of coast line. It is rich in tropical productions and mineral resources besides being a great live stock country. Their foreign trade amounts to about $6,000,000 yearly.

We wish Guy the success he so well merits.

Fire At Carroll

A serious conflagration was averted at Carroll Monday by the efficient service of their fire department and the system of waterworks they have there, as well as by the timely discovery of the fire which started in the George Le-Croix building in the north part of the business section of the place. The building is located on the east side of Main street not far from the depot, and the wind was favorable enough to have swept both sides of the street. The building in which the fire started was pretty well soaked in some parts with oil and other inflammable liquids, and it was only by good work that the blaze was confined to that building. The damage was several hundred dollars, but the building was not totally destroyed. The cause of the fire is not known.

Williams-Pritchard

At the Presbyterian parsonage in this city, by Rev. Alexander Corkey, on Wednesday, June 4, 1913, Mr. E. A. Williams and Dora A. Pritchard were wed. Mr. Williams is a prosperous young farmer who moved to this county from southwestern Iowa a few years ago and who is making good on a farm northwest of Wayne, but he realized that it was not good for man to be alone. Miss Pritchard is a daughter of Mrs. Emma Pritchard, who recently purchased the Norton farm south of Wayne, and moved here from southwestern Iowa last February. We wish them happiness.

Anderson-Beale

At the Baptist parsonage, Wednesday, June 11, 1913, Rev. B. P. Richardson officiating, Mr. Chris Anderson of Winside and Miss Ruth Beale of Carroll were married. The young couple were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Carter of Carroll. The party came by auto and left immediately after the ceremony. They will reside on a farm near Winside where the best wishes of many friends accompany them.

Preaching Service

Rev. B. P. Richardson of the Baptist church of Wayne will preach at the school house on the farm of Andrew Stamm Sunday at 3 p. m. After the service steps will be taken towards organizing a Sunday school in the neighborhood.

Dr. Gettys Lectures at the Normal

It was a fitting opening for the summer school lecture course of the Wayne State Normal to have as the first number an address by Dr. J. R. Gettys, member of the board of education. Dr. Gettys arrived in Wayne on Friday morning and spent the entire day inspecting the work of the school and in discussing with President Conn the needs of the Wayne institution.

In the evening a large audience assembled in the chapel to listen to the Doctor's great lecture, "The Man with a Hammer." The subject of the lecture, he said at the opening, had nothing to do with knockers, but in speaking of the man with a hammer he referred to the man that breaks down doors which stand between him and victory. Life consists of two things: First, the mastery of self; and, second, the mastery of the forces about you. The young man or the young woman can achieve success in life, but it requires persistence, application, toil, effort. Many persons who are deficient in scholarship succeed because of their assertive power. Jealousy and malice the speaker characterized as the twin evils that stand in the way of success, jealousy being defined as the tribute a small soul pays to a bigger one. Each individual has a definite line of work to do and every person who does not pay his full share in moral benefits is a moral pauper.

The message was one of inspiration and helpfulness, especially to the young people and the speaker was given the closest attention from the beginning to the close of his address.

Dr. Gettys was recently appointed on the Normal board of education, and he made a host of friends in his first visit to the school at Wayne. He is a man who is thoroughly in touch and in sympathy with college life, and a close student of the problems that confront the young man or the young woman. The school and the town appreciated Dr. Gettys' visit to Wayne and extend to him a most cordial invitation to return again.

COLLEGE NOTES

A meeting of the Board of Education will be held at Lincoln on June 16.

Superintendent C. M. Matheny spent Sunday at his home in Emerson.

Twenty-five new registrations were added to the enrollment of the school Monday morning.

Miss Clemmie C. Smith, class of 1912, is enrolled for special work in the university of Nebraska.

G. E. Cress, Ida M. Jeep and Helen J. Blair, members of the class of 1912, are taking post-graduate work at the Normal this summer.

There are fifty Knox county teachers in attendance. They met Tuesday and organized and we may expect something in the way of a special Knox county program before the close of the session.

At the request of Mr. Viele, architect Stitt of Norfolk came to Wayne last Monday and made an inspection of the school buildings. Mr. Stitt will prepare plans for a new building with an estimate of the cost and the same will be presented to the Board at the next meeting. He strongly recommends the placing of the new building on the present site of the old college structure.

Following the custom of the school, a reception was tendered to the students by the faculty on Tuesday evening. Promptly at eight o'clock the entire student body passed down the receiving line and were seated in the chapel. A short program followed, consisting of an address of welcome by President Conn; piano solo, Mrs. J. T. House; vocal solo, Miss Lula Wilcox; reading, Marjorie Kohl; vocal solo, Ardath Conn; reading, E. R. Rogers; vocal solo, Herbert Welch. Light refreshments were served in the gymnasium and a general good time was had until the winking of the lights indicated the closing time.

Last November the board of education adopted a resolution permitting students who have graduated from the scientific course of the Nebraska Normal college and who have complied with the equal requirements of graduates from the state normal school at Wayne to receive a diploma from the normal by a minimum attendance of eight weeks. Under this special ruling the following are enrolled in the summer session at Wayne and expect to complete the higher course on July 25, 1913: Pauline A. Braunger, Clair H. Coleman, Faye H. Britton, Clara M. Whitney, Mary E. Mahood, Hattie M. Shulteis and Emma H. Hughes.

Tennis Racket

At a meeting of the Wayne Tennis Association held last week, plans were made for keeping up the Gamble court by the association. An assessment of $3.00 was levied off all members and officers were elected for the ensuing year. Paul Mines was elected secretary and treasurer, and all persons who wish to play should see him. Plans were also made so that a sort of schedule will be followed on the court. Any persons who wish to play at a given time should see Frank Morgan, who was elected manager of the same and arrange for the court and in that way avoid all possibility of conflict with others who may wish to play. The court is now busy every night and it is expected that Wayne will be able to put out a team this year that will give a good account of themselves at the Northeast Nebraska Tournament at Norfolk next month.

It is also understood that Winside will hold a tournament on the fourth of July and will probably invite some of the Wayne racket wielders to compete.

Dr. Gettys of Grand Island, who lectured here last Friday evening impressed the students very favorably.

The Y. W. C. A. held an interesting meeting Wednesday evening under the leadership of Miss Edith Beecher.

Dr. Corkey gave a very interesting talk in chapel Tuesday morning, his subject being, "Have Faith."

A Tennis club was organized Monday. Tennis seems to be the leading sport among the students these days.

Professor Hunter is teaching industrial art this summer. A large class has been formed which is composed chiefly of young teachers.

A library table has been set aside in the library for the deposit of books after being read. This is to prevent the return of the books to the wrong shelves.

Thompson-Madsen

At Omaha Wednesday, June 4, 1913, Rev. C. N. Swihart, pastor of the Grace Lutheran church of that city united in marriage Miss Esther Madsen of this place and Mr. Andrew Thompson. The bride and groom at once departed on a wedding journey which is to terminate at a farm four miles southeast of Wayne where they will be at home to their friends after the 25th of this month. The groom is a son of Chris Thompson and wife, and is well known here. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Madsen and is well known as a successful teacher.

A Kensington

Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Phil H. Kohl the hostess assisted by Mesdames Von-Seggern, Bressler, Williams, F. H. Jones and J. W. Jones entertained a large number of Wayne ladies at a Kensington, marking a new record in the point of number entertained at once in this city. It was a most enjoyable event. The young ladies present enjoyed croquet while others were happily entertained. Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies.

The Nebraska State Journal has found a way to reach Wayne on the 10:20 morning train for a week or two past. If they can assure the people the morning delivery will continue they may as well get into the field for a large list at this place. The fact that the Journal previously reached Wayne at 2:10 p. m., when it came the day of publication, which it frequently did not, was a heavy handicap. The Democrat will receive and forward your subscription for this paper if you wish.

Allen's Monthly gives a nice little tale of the "Power of the Home-Spent Dollar." It takes it around the home circle complete and lands it finally with the treasurer for taxes, thus becoming the property of all the people. It is a nice picture, but it neglects to mention that on the trip it is very apt to get into the hands of some unscrupulous person who will send it to a mail order house and cut its home career short—besides they do not give the home printer a look at the money, so we are of the opinion that some merchant got hold of it and spent it for government printed envelopes.

The Thomas B. Jeffery Company, Kenosha, Wisconsin, manufacturers of the Cross Country motor car, will this year celebrate the fortieth anniversary of its entrance into the manufacturing field.

Although Thomas B. Jeffery, the founder of the business, opened his first work shop on South Water street, Chicago, before the Chicago fire, this place was destroyed so the nation wide reputation of the Jeffery products dates back just forty years. For twenty-eight years Thomas B. Jeffery was associated with R. P. Gormully in the manufacture of the Rambler bicycle and other kindred industries, while for the past twelve years The Thomas B. Jeffery Company, an outgrowth of the old Gormully and Jeffery Company, has been manufacturing Rambler motor cars at Kenosha.

The original work shop on South Water street, Chicago, occupied one room. From this modest beginning one of the largest concerns in the bicycle industry was built.

In 1900 the Jeffery factory occupied but 65,000 square feet of floor space. Today it has 104 acres of ground area and 25 acres of floor space. The present head of the company is Charles T. Jeffery.

Off For Wales

A party of Carroll ladies left Saturday to visit relatives and friends in Wales. Those going were Mrs. E. W. Jones and daughter, Miss Sadie, Mrs. Robt. Pritchard and Miss Boldwen Morris. They will sail from New York today and be on the water about twelve days. Mrs. Jones left her native land when but a young Miss, 38 years ago, and to her many things will appear strange, no doubt, and to the daughter as well. Mrs. Pritchard came to America four years ago, in middle life—to meet and marry the man of her choice—who waited for her while she paid the last debt of loving care to her parents, only consenting to come after they were beyond need of her care. Miss Morris has been in this country seven years. Their many friends wish them a safe and pleasant voyage.

The Editors Met

The decision of the Nebraska editors, that all papers in the state unite in getting out a "Boost for Nebraska" edition some time this fall; definite steps to provide a permanent secretary for the Association; and a resolution deploring the fact that the legislature did not give more money for state publicity matters were the more important actions of the Nebraska Press Association at its annual meeting in Omaha last week.

The 1913 meeting was the greatest in the history of the Association. One hundred, ninety-four real live wire editors attended the sessions, forty per cent greater than ever before. Ninety-two were accompanied by their wives and families and the entire attendance totaled more than 300.

Among the features of the meeting was the excellent program, which was filled with good things, the entertainment provided by the Omaha people, and the South Omaha business men and the Union Stock Yards company.

Iowa sent sixteen representative editors, while the Rosebud Editorial Association was represented by four, all of whom appeared to enjoy the entertainment.

Chas. Pool was named for president and H. A. Brainerd of Hebron vice president.

The address of Frank Parker Stockbridge, editor of Popular Mechanics was one of the most interesting of any talk ever made to the Nebraska Association by a foreign newspaper man. Stockbridge gave a rapid fire talk on the various phases of journalism, which elicited much favorable comment among the visitors.

Last year the city of Stanton paid out for all purposes $25,882.46 That was for light, water and improvements.

Dakota City is to have a new city hall, the contract having been let for $500. Not so very extravagant, sure.

The Columbus commercial club is trying to encourage the holding of a county fair at or near that place this fall.

There is a petition out for a remonstrance against establishing a saloon at Crystal Lake park, and no one knows who will win.

Work has been commenced on the project of damming the Niobrara river to establish a big electric plant. Run a wire to Wayne, please, when the juice is ready.

Three glandered horses were killed last week near Winnebago by order of the state veterinarian. The animals were appraised and the state pays the owner two-thirds of the appraised value.

F. S. Lawrence went from Hoskins last week to Nebraska City, to accompany home from there his little blind daughter, Lulu, who has been attending the institution for the blind at that place.

John A. Berg of Pender has been named by the governor as a member of the newly created live stock board. It is the duty of this board to fight epidemics among the live stock and assist in maintaining sanitary conditions.

Nebraska apple crop prospect is said to be good. Many of the orchards in sections that grow commercial apples will be sprayed this season for the first time, and the quality of Nebraska apples will thereby be raised to a higher standard.

F. D. Hunker of West Point, one of the prominent members of the Nebraska bar and well known to many people of this county, is planning a trip with his father and sister at Denver, to the Holy Land and other points of interest in Europe in the near future.

St. Peter's Lutheran church in Thurston county celebrated the 25th anniversary of its organization in a fitting manner last Sunday. Rev. W. H. Fricke of Madison, who organized the church a quarter of a century ago, was present and so was his successor as pastor.

Peter Meyers, the oldest man in Dakota county, died there last week at the age of 95 years. He came to that county in 1858—fifty-five years ago, and settled near Homer. They are evidently a long lived family, for he leaves three brothers, the youngest being 83 years of age. He is survived by three children.

Mrs. Louise Murfree, the efficient music director in our public school, departed Tuesday for St. Louis, for a visit with friends. From there she goes to Chicago to attend the summer school of music and will return in the fall to resume her duties in the Emerson, Wayne and Wakefield schools.—Emerson Enterprise.

Andrew Davis, father of Mert Davis, who assaulted Mrs. Welte near Homer a few days ago, and is now in the penitentiary for an eighteen year term, became insane because of the disgraceful act of his son and has been committed to the hospital at Norfolk. Thus are the sins of the son inflicted on the father and the entire family.

Ralph Daniels, son of Mrs. Daniels of Emerson, was accidentally killed near Wilmar, Minnesota, last week. He was freight brakeman, and while on top of the train was struck by a water spout which had been allowed to swing out over the track, and was instantly killed. He leaves a wife and child. The body was brought to Emerson for burial.

The business men of David City have a "get-together" dinner every Wednesday at which time and place they manage to get together on some plan for business or civic improvement. At the dinner this week they will take up the question of establishing a bargain day. At the meeting last week they considered the question of telephone consolidation and opposed it. That dinner proposition looks good—but any other time or occasion that will bring the business men together for their common good will do as well as if it brings results.

A new company of Columbus men have organized and taken over the Commercial college. New life is to be put into the school.

The agitation is going on now for a new free bridge across the "Big Muddy" between Sioux City and Dakota City. It is proposed to raise the money by taxing Sioux City and Dakota county. The Record says that sentiment is favorable to this throughout the county.

It is feared that there will be another flood in the east. The amount of water that is being wrung from inflated stocks these days is alarming to the fellows who have been building fortunes with no other foundation than the water they have pumped into their concerns.

The citizens of Dakota City—some of them at any rate—petitioned the city council to have the tent religious meetings closed in that city at ten o'clock each evening so that they may sleep. Must be rather lively meetings—for some people can and do sleep well right next listening to the preacher.

At Columbus the board of education decided to furnish all supplies to the pupils in the way of books and stationary, going a little beyond the commands of the state law. Here and in nearly all places the pupils are to furnish for themselves some of the paper they use and a few other necessary trifles.

An extension of time has been given the Nebraska Power Company in which to complete the Columbus power project. Why not let these power companies grab these rights and simply hold them so that no one else may use them—not even the people who own them. Yes, it was a court who granted them the desired extension—great is the court in Nebraska.

A great improvement is noted in many of our exchanges of last week—where the editor went to the editorial convention and let the printing office force get the paper out unmolested—and it is to be hoped that those who attended the editorial meeting will come home with some new newspaper ideas so that the improvement noted last week will, in a measure, become permanent.

A couple of professional burglars raided the dentists offices at Stanton one night last week and made quite a haul. From Dr. Bolzell they secured about $96 worth of gold and platinum and about $60 worth from Dr. Bangs office. They also took a gold ring with a tooth set from Dr. Bolzell. The offices were locked but that didn't seem to bother the thieves. A night or two later the Madison offices were entered. They might come this way.

June 1st, the new rule governing baggage checking went into effect, after it had been in suspension for a time by the state railway commissioners. There is now a size as well as a weight limit to the baggage which may be checked free. The maximum size is 45 inches in length and 72 inches for the combined lengths and depth or width. Excess of size is based on a scale of five pounds per inch oversize and also in addition this one must pay excess weight if there be any. Ask no questions now when you see Agent Moran or his assistants pulling a tape line on your baggage.

The Wynot Tribune does not think that there is any great demand for an extension of the railroad from that place over the young mountains to Niobrara except at Sioux City, and thinks that if the interests of that place demand the road they should put up the price to build. It has in the past, according to the Tribune been an annual stunt to build this road (on paper) each winter when there was nothing else to do. This season the matter appears to be coming out late—perhaps owing to the late spring or the uncertainty as to whether or not any new road could be considered under a democratic administration.

The new game law, of which mention was made last week as protecting migratory birds of all classes at all times, was not all in the account at hand at that time. The regulations imposed will prohibit absolutely the killing of song and insectivorous birds, notable member in this class are robins, blackbirds and bobolinks whose value to agriculture greatly outweighs their food value. Most of the southern states allow these birds to be shot. The migratory game birds, such as ducks, geese, swan and other shore birds will be protected from the time they mate until they are full grown, in other words, spring shooting will be stopped and only an open season during the fall and winter months. The intent of the law is not to prohibit shooting altogether, only have a closed season in the spring.

Alfalfa in Iowa

The Iowa Experiment Station at Ames has just issued a bulletin on the above subject. The number is 137 and the author, Prof. H. D. Hughes. Some of the conclusions are as follows:

"Alfalfa surpasses all our farm crops in feeding value. Each acre of alfalfa has averaged a production of 2.6 times as much protein as red clover; 2.75 times as much as corn and 4 times as much as oats.

"As a pasture for hogs alfalfa has shown a greater profit than any other crop.

"Alfalfa is one of the best crops we grow, as an aid in maintenance of soil fertility, adds to the farm each year, over twice as much nitrogen and organic matter as red clover.

"Of 1016 seedings reported from every part of the state, only 12.7 per cent were classed as failures.

"Considering every acre of alfalfa in the state, the average yield in 1909 was 2.85 tons per acre and in 1910 it was 2.7 tons.

"Sixteen seedings made at Ames since 1904 have given an average yield of 4.38 tons of field cured hay per acre. These yields indicate the returns which may be expected from alfalfa on an average Iowa soil when best cultured methods are used.

"It is useless to attempt to grow alfalfa on land which is not thoroughly well drained.

"While good alfalfa stands and yields of alfalfa have been secured on fertile soil without the aid of manure, yet these yields are in almost every case largely increased by its use. On soils of medium fertility manure is essential to the greatest success, and in soils below the average, successful stands are practically never secured without its liberal use.

"No one can afford to court failure by not inoculating the soil in seeding alfalfa.

On most of our soils an application of lime has been shown to be very beneficial and in some cases essential to the successful growing of alfalfa.

"Seed of the common American alfalfa produced on non-irrigated fields, preferably in Dakota, Montana or Nebraska, is recommended in preference to other varieties. "The surest method of securing a stand of alfalfa is to seed in the middle of August on summer fallow land.

"On many of our soils alfalfa may be seeded in the spring, putting the alfalfa in with the small grain crop.

"To keep the alfalfa free from blue grass, the field should be cultivated once or twice each year. For this work a spring tooth harrow is especially desirable."

The above quotations from Professor Hughes' bulletin sum up in a concise way much of our knowledge of alfalfa and indicate in a striking way the value of the plant in our agriculture. The bulletin demonstrates the wide interest the Iowa farmer is taking in alfalfa growing.

Do You Want Work?

The wave of democratic prosperity is running so high that it appears that Uncle Sam is having a hard time to secure suitable help on all branches of service, and just now he is giving notice that examinations will be held at various places in Nebraska July 8th for those desiring positions in stenography and typewriting, male or female. Now is the time to make application and a form and full information may be obtained at the Wayne postoffice. Of the numerous places where the examinations are to be held in this state Norfolk is the nearest to Wayne. But those taking the examination may go to any of the appointed places.

WAYNE MARKET REPORT

Following are the market prices quoted us up to the time of going to press, Thursday:

Table with market prices for Oats, Corn, Barley, Spring wheat, Wheat, Eggs, Butter, Hogs, Fat Cattle.

Wood was said by the jury to be "not guilty" of conspiracy in the Lawrence woolen mill dynamite charge.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, a staunch protection organ admits that the sugar magnates fix the price of sugar for the consumer.

With export goods more than 11 per cent above the average of the past year and much greater than the ten-year average of the past decade, and export prices almost 15 per cent above those obtained a year ago it is evident that the things are not going to the dogs so dog-on swift as some people predicted last fall when the election news was received.

Senator Townsend of Michigan when before the senate investigation committee sought to draw attention from himself, evidently, by testifying that he considered President Wilson the chief lobbyist in the tariff fight.

The scientists say that the farmers are the people who get the benefit of perpetual motion. The rain falls, the sun takes it again into the atmosphere, and as this process goes on the plant life draws sustenance from rain, air and sun, and that which is produced thereby, if returned to the soil leaves it richer than before by so much at least as has been taken up from these elements.

Senator Townsend of Michigan is assuming to believe that President Wilson is the chief lobbyist now at Washington—and the Democrat hopes he is, for if ever there was a place in the world where the people need a lobbyist of strength and power it is at Washington, and before the senate.

Supreme Court Decision

The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Minnesota rate case was in favor of the people and upheld the law which gives to the railway commission the right to make a rate which the roads must abide by unless it is confiscatory.

Enrollment and Attendance in Public Schools

The enrollment in the public schools for the year just closed was 252 boys and 295 girls or 547 in all. This enrollment is 40 short of last year's total which is at least partly due to the fact that fewer changes were made this spring.

The enrollment in the high school was 109 and the daily attendance 98. Of the 109 enrolled in the high school 41 were boys and 68 girls.

Last year's enrollment in the high school was 103 and the attendance 93. The per cent of attendance for the year just closed was 96.13 and the per cent of punctuality was 98.83.

Contract Let For Setting New Boiler

At a special meeting of the city council the evening of the 7th bids were opened for the installation of the new boiler which was shipped some time ago and is expected to arrive at any time now until it comes.

Rebuilding a Boiler

There are boiler makers at the power plant installing a new fire box and a few new flues and some other worn parts in the smaller of the two old boilers, and it is said that when this work is finished, which will not be many days, this boiler will be practically the same as a new one.

The meeting of the Bible Circle with Mrs. Dayton on Tuesday was one of special interest to the large number present. The lesson study conducted by Mrs. Winterstien on "Jacob before Pharaoh" finishes the study of Jacob and leaves with us many commendable traits of character well worthy of emulation.

Dandy Jim

By ALICE CHEEVER

Dandy Jim, as he was called from the fact that he was occasionally seen wearing a boiled shirt, was a very good man, but he had very bad luck. He was walking on a trail in the Rocky mountains from a prospecting tour to Denver and was feeling very happy because he had dug up some quartz that he believed to be valuable and was going down to the city to have it assayed.

Besides a pocketful of nuggets, Jim had considerable dust about him, and he made up his mind that as soon as he reached the stage road he would look out for a coach and buy a ride. But before he got there he met a man on an iron gray horse, and the idea occurred to him that he would buy the animal and ride to Denver.

"Want to sell that critter?" he asked the rider.

"What you want to give for him?" "Twenty dollars in dust." Jim offered that to start a trade. He thought the horse worth three or four times that amount.

"Done!" said the man, nimbly leaping off the horse.

Jim looked his beast over and could not find anything the matter with him, so he mounted and continued his journey. He hadn't gone more than a mile before he was surrounded by a dozen men, each man pointing a revolver at him and calling on him to surrender.

"Get off my horse!" said one of the men.

Well, to make a long story short, Jim had paid for a stolen horse. But it didn't avail anything for him to tell how he came by it, for he was not known to any of the party, and what he said was considered a very thin story. He was taken down the mountain to a town where the owner of the horse and the rest of the party lived to be dealt with, if not according to law, at least to be tried before Judge Lynch.

Dandy Jim was a good looking chap and not over twenty-five years old. He was confined in a room in the house of the owner of the stolen horse, and a young girl hanging up clothes in the garden saw him standing at the window looking melancholy and handsome. Either of these features in a man is enough to win a girl's heart, and the two together are irresistible.

How this young woman, who was the niece of the owner of the house and was called Mag, made the acquaintance of Dandy Jim was considered a mystery by the simple people of the town, though it is easily accounted for on the theory of "love laughs at locksmiths." Be this as it may, she had a conference with him unknown to any one and set her wits to work to free him from his sad condition. Jim was to be given a fair trial before Judge Lynch the next morning, which meant that he would be swung off by noon.

That night Mag made a second theft of the horse—though she put him back in the stable before any one knew of his having been taken—and rode five miles to the sheriff of the county and begged him to interfere in the illegal trial and hanging that were to take place the next morning. Mag's notification was not official, and the sheriff was not disposed to save the necks of horse thieves unless compelled to do so officially. When Mag failed in this she begged the sheriff to give her an order for the body of Dandy Jim, and the sheriff to get rid of her granted her request. The officer was not an educated man and asked Mag to write the order. She wrote, "Give the body of the horse thief to the bearer," and he signed his name as sheriff to it, with his official seal.

Mag rode back with her paper and the next morning knocked at the door of a young man who had recently come to town from the east and had hung out his shingle as an attorney. She told him that she had been to the sheriff to ask him to interfere, but had failed. All she could get out of him was an order for the horse thief's body that she might bury it decently. Couldn't the lawyer do something to save the man's life?

The young man asked to see the order for the horse thief's body, and as soon as he had read it he sat up and took notice.

"This is a habens corpus," he said.

"A what?" asked Mag.

But the lawyer made no reply. He sat down by a table and sprinkled a lot of Latin words over the order, put in the horse thief's name—which he got from Mag—and his own name, and when he got through with it it was the most formidable legal document that had ever been seen in those parts. He had scarcely finished when through a window Dandy Jim, was seen being led to a shed near by for trial.

He was convicted before the lawyer could get ready to go to his defense and the judge was pronouncing sentence when the former approached the court and said:

"Your honor, I hereby present an order of habens corpus in this case from the sheriff."

The sheriff's name, backed by his seal and the sprinkling of Latin words was too much for the committee, and it surrendered the prisoner.

Two days later the real thief was brought in and was swung off in Dandy Jim's place.

This story ends as all such stories should end, with a wedding between Dandy Jim and Mag.

A Remembered Grudge.

Queen Wilhelmina when a small girl found it hard to learn English and perhaps for that reason did not love England. The first map of Europe she drew showed an enormous Holland, a fair sized Belgium and France, but an almost imperceptible Great Britain. To draw particular attention to the diminutive island representing England she wrote below it, "Land of Miss S." (her English governess). Years later the young queen said to the minister plenipotentiary of England:

"Be sure to tell her majesty Queen Victoria that I love Englishwomen—all Englishwomen." To which the minister bowed, and the queen added: "All Englishwomen who are not governesses!"

Sunday school at 10 o'clock. We were glad to see such a good attendance at Sunday school last Sunday and hope the interest will continue. Remember that the Sunday school is not only for the children, but also for the grown people. The Bible is filled with spiritual truths and though we may live to a good old age, we can not exhaust its store house of truth.

Morning services at 11 o'clock. The subject which will be discussed will be, "A Throne for a Prince." Everything of any value in this world has a price attached to it. If we wish to gain that which is of the greatest value to mankind, the throne which is above all thrones, we must pay the price and that price is "Service."

Choir rehearsal Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. Julius Knudson last Thursday. The meeting was well attended and a very pleasant and profitable afternoon was spent. The ladies are very industrious and willing. They voted to place curtains in the Sunday school room. We are glad to note the extreme interest taken in the meetings.

The pastor will be in Emerson Thursday night, as the members of the Emerson congregation will give a reception for the pastor and wife. A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to worship with us.

Baptist Church

Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor

On last Sunday evening the services were in the hands of the Sunday school people. They gave us a splendid children's day program. All available space in the entire building was taken by an appreciative audience. The platform was converted into a veritable flower garden artistically arranged. The program was as full of interest throughout, consisting of songs, recitations and class exercises. But perhaps the most impressive scene was the closing number, an emblematic piece, presented by eight young ladies. Its purpose was to reveal the truth that nothing satisfies the human heart but Christ. At a certain part in the piece, two gates swung open and a fountain was revealed, flowing from the cross, over which was written "Free Salvation." By means of colored lights the picture of the satisfying water of life was very impressive. Too much credit cannot be given the faithful committee, Misses Ethel Huff, Pearl Hughes, Rue Rickabaugh, Hazel Norton and Ina Hughes. Those who furnished flowers deserve our thanks.

Sunday morning the preacher will preach on the subject, "The Ageless Life." It will be a practical application of the truth of personal immortality.

The Sunday school classes last Sunday were well attended, especially the young people's class. We cordially invite the normal students to all our church services.

Next Sunday evening the subject of the young people's meeting will be "Favorite verses from Proverbs" led by Miss Ruby Hughes. At 8 p. m. the pastor preaches on the subject, "Unconscious Elements."

The Ladies Union reports an excellent meeting with Mrs. Hall last week. Through the kindness of Mr. Dayton and Curtis Foster, conveyance was made for all.

On next Wednesday evening we shall continue our study of the church covenant, taking the second paragraph.

We cordially invite everyone to our different services.

Methodist Church

Rev. P. R. Clotfelty, Pastor

You are planning to attend the Epworth League reception and social for the normal students. Don't forget the date, Friday, the 13th, at the church. A good time for all. Everybody come. Everybody welcome. Reception free to all, refreshments, the usual rate. A good program is being prepared.

Evangelist Lindgren in Bible Readings on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday nights. For every body. All remember him from the last winter meetings. He is visiting this time. Greet him with your presence. He will be with us also Sunday, so we understand, the nature of the services to be arranged for.

Were you at class meeting Sunday morning? A splendid time for all present. We were pleased to see so many young people at this service. Sunday school was well attended Sunday morning. A class for every age. A welcome for all. Children's day will be observed on Sunday, June 22, by a program at 10:30 a. m. A feature of this service will be the baptism of infants. Will the parents hold this in mind and plan for the same.

The Women's Missionary society meets with Mrs. Marsteller Friday afternoon at 2:30 prompt. Election of officers and other important business to be attended to. This is the time to pay home dues and pledges.

Beloved, what of your home reading? Do you buy daily papers and trade reports and do without your church and religious periodicals? They cost less. Do you patronize the libraries and then neglect The Book? Can your ways be equal if such is true? Paul exhorted to "watching in all perseverance and supplication for all the saints." (Eph. 6-18.) Can you move in unison and pray accordingly if you know not even your own? Think on these things.

The choir will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Thursday evening for rehearsal. This goodly company, who spend from two to six hours per week, preparing for the Sunday service, is the strong support of the pastor and should be the pride of the congregation, for no one does more service without pay than do they, hence every word of approval and every act of appreciation and co-operation will lighten the burden of some of these, make all their hearts glad and render more joyous their efforts.

We were pleased to see so many of the normal students in all our services Sunday. It made our hearts glad and we trust they were also gladdened by our joy for them. We welcome all our own, and all others who find not a home in our community, to all our services at all times.

Presbyterian Church

Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.

"Seeing the Invisible" will be the subject of the sermon by the pastor at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning. In the evening the congregation will unite in a union service at the M. E. church at which time Evangelist Lindgren will preach.

The Presbyterians united this week in their mid-week service with the other churches in attending a bible reading which was given by Evangelist Lindgren as he is very kindly remembered by many members of the church whose spiritual life he quickened in the meetings held last winter.

The Ladies Missionary society is holding a country social this afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. S. Ash. This social in the country at the home of Mrs. Ash is an annual event and is always greatly enjoyed by the society.

The lawn social which was postponed this week will be given next Monday evening on the lawn of the Presbyterian church. Prof. J. J. Coleman and the normal band will furnish music and the young people will serve ice cream and cake. Everybody is invited as there will be a charge of 10c for the refreshments.

F. H. Jones and Rev. Alexander Corkey are expecting to attend the annual State Sunday School Convention which meets next week at Lincoln on June 18 and 19. Prominent Sunday school workers of the state and nation will be present.

The Junior Bible circle led the meeting at the C. E. prayer service at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening. There was a large attendance and the meeting was of great interest. After the bible study there was a testimony meeting and a number of the young women declared themselves as ready to go out as missionaries, if God willed it, to any part of the world where they may be sent. The influence of the circle has been a remarkable power for good in the lives of a number of the younger girls of the community. Mrs. E. B. Young, who is founder of the circle, was present at the meeting and spoke enthusiastically of their work and prospects.

Tennis Championships at Omaha

Omaha, Neb., June 10—An event of international caliber will come to Omaha this year and will bring people from all over North America. It is the National Clay Courts Tennis Championships, which were held in Pittsburg last year.

Already visitors are promised from California, New York, Ohio, the southern states, and the Canadian Provinces. The third week in July, has been definitely decided upon and the exact dates will be determined next week.

Many of the national champions will attend this meeting and a large number will make their first visit to Nebraska for the event. We expect that some of Wayne's crack players will be in attendance.

Wm. House and wife spent a day or two at Omaha this week.

A Wholesale House for Wayne

A company is incorporating with Wayne as headquarters and principal place of business which will greatly add to the volume of business from this city and we hope prove a help to all and a source of wealth to the projectors. Messrs. J. A. Ireland, J. C. Wendel and F. C. Zol are the incorporators, and the handling of oils, both illuminating and lubricating, gasoline and oil specialties will be their mission, and all of northeastern Nebraska and other parts of the earth their field, and it will be their object to supply this territory with products of quality without increase of price corresponding to the increase of quality.

The incorporators have acquired by purchase, the name and rights of the Hylo Oil Company of Marshalltown, Iowa, and are incorporating for $25,000 with $10,000 of paid up capital, and they still have a little stock to sell to interested persons. One of the incorporators tells us that they now have enroute four cars of oils and specialties for immediate sale and delivery, that most of their products are from the Pennsylvania oil fields, which all know are the oldest and best in this country. They also have eight 12,000 gallon storage tanks enroute for use here and at various sub-stations and distributing points.

The Democrat hopes that Wayne people will realize the importance of having such enterprises locate here and do all that they reasonably can to aid in firmly establishing the business here, for it may mean the location of other wholesale business.

Postoffice Election at Neligh

Last Saturday the patrons of the Neligh postoffice took a hand in the postoffice game and decided by a majority of ten votes that they preferred T. A. Davis to Editor E. S. Scofield, the two men being the only candidates who remained in the fight until the close. There were 570 votes cast, and the news dispatches say that there was no ill feeling manifest. If that be true, we feel confident in saying that the question has been settled well, for we never knew a fight by the old method which was not followed by much dissatisfaction. Often bitterness was engendered that lasted for several campaigns. There is much criticism of the election plan by party workers, and Congressman Stephens has doubtless left some very sore partisans who plan to get his hide when the next primary comes round, but that is a natural result when one brings a new rule into practice. Be that as it may, and the effect what it will on the future of Congressman Stephens, the election of postmasters will surely come. The day of the politician who depended upon the distribution of pie rather than service to the people is drawing to a close. The people are defying the party bosses from one coast to the other and evidence all tends to show that the people are demanding service, not wire-pulling.

Returning to Visit Gerin any

Tuesday afternoon H. C. Paulsen and wife from Carroll passed through this place starting to visit their old home in Holstein, Germany, from which place they both came to America 30 years ago. They will visit for a time at Omaha and vicinity, where they lived for a time prior to coming to Wayne county about 22 years ago. They plan to stay in the mother country until fall, unless they get homesick before that time. They have seen many changes in this country and expect to find it changed there.

J. H. Chichester went to Excelsior Springs, Missouri, Tuesday, where he will try to part company with rheumatism which has been bothering him for some weeks this spring.

NEBRASKA NEWS

Physical Valuation Man Says Has New Idea.

WILL AID TAX BOARD MEN.

Soon to Be Given to That Body in Hope Will Settle Railroad-Farm Property Valuation Squabble—Control Board Will Visit Iowa.

Lincoln, June 10.—Solution of the vexatious problem of obtaining correct valuations on railroad right-of-way property for taxation purposes and of obtaining valuations on adjacent farm and city property, which would represent as high a percentage as railroad property and would equalize the two classes, is thought to have been worked out by E. W. Reed, right-of-way expert with the engineering department of the state railway commission.

The plan contemplates the use of topographical surveys of the state, which never change, and of certain land values, which vary according to years and according to the sections of the state in which they are located. Mr. Reed has spent many days and nights in thinking it out and he expects to have it worked up in such shape by the time the state tax commission becomes an actuality that he can explain it to them in such a way that they will give it thoughtful consideration in their activities between now and the 1915 session of the legislature.

If the plan measures up to expectations it will alleviate many troubles of the state assessment board. Railroads have complained year in and year out that they were taxed at 100 per cent valuation on right-of-way, while adjacent lands of farm and city were on the big books at from 40 to 80 per cent of their value.

Mortgage Tax Case.

Final decision in the mortgage tax case recently argued before the state supreme court is looked for within a few days, although the recent re-argument of the matter was only on a motion for a rehearing of the case. The high tribunal is expected, if it inclines its ears to the state's plea in the litigation, to merely modify its original finding in such a way that the state and not the banks involved will be the victors. The original decision found in favor of the banks and excluded real estate mortgages from taxation as bank property. The decision would take much taxable property off the state rolls.

Towns' Contributions Small.

Nebraska towns have not contributed so readily to the Gettysburg fund as was anticipated by state officials at the time of the issuance of the statement asking that Memorial day collections be made to help the old vets return to the July peace celebration to be held on the famous battlefield. Of about forty towns—which have reported, a trifle over $500 has come in thus far.

U. P. Pays Tax.

The Union Pacific railroad's corporation tax under the present law was received by the secretary of state. It amounted to $200 and under a decision of the attorney generally will apply for the present year. Had the company waited until after July 16 to have sent in the sum the size of the remittance, under the Potts corporation tax law, would have had to been boosted to about $1,250.

General Hall Returns.

Adjutant General Hall has returned from his trip to Waterloo, Valley and other points in east central Nebraska and is now prepared to put the finishing touches on his plans for the summer maneuvers of the national guard. He will go into consultation with the headquarters force at once and details of the movement are expected to be forthcoming within a short time.

Will Visit Iowa.

Members Kennedy and Gerdes of the state board of control made plans for a visit to the Iowa state board of control, where they will go over past experiences of the Hawkeye officials, in handling the fifteen institutions of that state. During the absence of his colleagues in Iowa Judge Holcomb will attend to office affairs here.

More Warrants.

State Treasurer George has asked the holders of some $158,000 worth of registered state warrants to come in and get their money. Interest on the numbers called for will terminate tomorrow, so holders thereof will profit nothing if they continue to keep them in their possession beyond the date set out by the state official.

Union Labor to Invoke Referendum.

An effort will be made by union labor to secure sufficient signers to invoke the referendum at the next election to repeal senate file No. 151, introduced by Senator Dodge of Omaha, which provides for the employment of convicts in building roads throughout the state and in the erection of state buildings at public institutions.

Another State Bank.

The Citizens' State bank of Royal was licensed by the state banking board to do business. The capital at the outset is given as $15,000. L. O. Pantney and A. H. Rundquest are the officials of the new institution.

Condemns More Mules.

State Veterinarian Bostrom returned from Smithfield, where he superintended the extermination of glander-affected mules.

COLLECTS NINETY CENTS

Labor Commissioner Pool Takes Part of Working Girl.

Lincoln, June 10.—Collection of the modest sum of 90 cents for a working girl, who threatened to lose it through the disinclination of an employer to play square took half a day of Labor Commissioner Pool's time, and gave him and Hotel Commissioner Ackerman an opportunity to learn something about conditions in this city.

At first the man, whose business makes his name well known in this city, attempted to bulldoze the state officials and make them believe that they had no right to interest themselves in his affairs. Glancing over the girl's complaint, however, Mr. Pool found that she had been working for some time at a wage below the minimum which the head of the concern had certified to the labor commissioner, was paid at his establishment. When this was referred to the manager came down off his high horse and grudgingly paid the difference between the amount due the girl and the amount she had been given at first.

Hotel Commissioner Ackerman acted as a deputy to the labor commissioner in the matter. The two commissions will work hand in hand over matters where this can be done and will endeavor to bring helpful cooperation between the two departments. Particular attention is to be paid to conditions surrounding female labor.

HARMAN TO ISSUE PERMITS

Dealers Must Secure Licenses Under Pure Food Law Before July 1.

Lincoln, June 9.—Food Commissioner Harman is getting ready to issue permits to all dealers and others who are expected to secure licenses of every nature under the pure food law. The list includes all except dealers in stock foods and commission firms.

Manufacturers of imitation butter will be required to pay a license of $50; wholesaler dealers, $25, and retail dealers, $10. Creameries with an output of less than 100,000 pounds of butter per year will pay a license of $5, with an additional $1 for each 1,000 pounds. Testers and samplers will pay a license of $1 each, wholesale ice cream manufacturers and dealers, $5 each; retail ice cream dealers, $1; pop manufacturers, $5, all of which is due before July 1.

NEBRASKA NABYS TO MEET

State Association of Postmasters Convenes at Lincoln This Week.

Lincoln, June 9.—The state convention of the Nebraska Association of Postmasters, to be held in Lincoln this week, promises to be one of the best attended in the history of that organization. More members of the association have paid their dues in advance than last year.

Tomorrow morning there will be meetings of the postmasters of the different classes. The association will have its opening meeting at 2 p. m., the business being especially that of the different classes of offices.

Auditor Collecting Reports on Crops.

Lincoln, June 10.—Auditor Howard has instituted a crop report department in connection with his office. "I am continually getting letters," said Mr. Howard, "inquiring about the crops and I concluded that it would be a good thing to know something about it myself, so as to inform these people, so I have notified all my examiners to report to me when they make their regular reports as to the conditions of the different kinds of crops in the communities where they are working. They will cost nothing extra and will put me in a position to answer their questions."

Commission May Act.

The present week will likely see some definite action taken by the state railway commission in the matter of the Omaha, Lincoln and Beatrice Interurban company officials' application for permission to issue stocks and bonds for the completion of that road from its present terminus at Bethany to Omaha. Several hearings have been held in the case and all the information necessary to gauge the company's projected plans has been placed at the disposal of the state officials.

Marshall Not Worried Over Locusts.

Secretary Marshall of the state board of horticulture has returned from an inspection of his orchard at Nebraska City, which is infested by the seventeen-year locusts. Notwithstanding the locusts are exceedingly numerous, Mr. Marshall is not worrying over the prospects, as the orchard is an old one and he has been informed that damage can only be done to young and growing trees.

North Bend Priest Acquitted by Jury.

Fremont, Neb., June 10.—James Moriarty, priest of North Bend, accused by the village of North Bend of using water to sprinkle his lawn contrary to a city ordinance "out of house," was acquitted by a jury in the district court. At North Bend a justice fined the priest $5 and costs. The case has been hanging fire a year, causing much bitterness.

Saturday Is Flag Day.

Governor Morchard has designated Saturday, June 14, as flag day and in accordance with the law has issued a proclamation requesting that the people of Nebraska on June 14 display the national colors on all state, municipal and school buildings.

Lucy McBride, Shot by Husband, Dies.

Omaha, June 10.—Mrs. Lucy McBride, who was shot by John Jacobson, her divorced husband, died at St. Joseph hospital.

FIGHT AT MAKRES

Many Killed in Battle Between Serbs and Bulgars.

SERVIAN POSITION IS STATED.

Premier Says His Country Must Retain All Territory Now Occupied by Its Troops—More Fighting is Considered Probable.

Many Servians were killed in a serious encounter between Servian and Bulgarian troops near the small town of Makres. News of the encounter came in a special dispatch to the Belgrade Journal. Further conflicts are expected in the same vicinity, as the Servians on Monday sent a note to the Bulgarian commander, giving him until 7 o'clock in the evening to evacuate the town of Volodan, failing which the Servian general declared he would bombard Itsp, now occupied by the Bulgarians.

The Servian minister of war declared that the question of war or peace between Bulgaria and Servia would be decided in two or three days. Servia, he said, must retain all the territory which has been occupied by its troops and the European powers must persuade Bulgaria to modify the treaty of alliance entered into with Servia before the war with Turkey. Otherwise, he concluded war was certain.

JAPAN RAISES A NEW POINT

Note Says Anti-Allen Act Violates Fourteenth Amendment.

The reply of the Japanese government to the United States' note on the subject of the California alien land ownership legislation reiterated that the land bill passed by the California legislature vacates the spirit of the Japanese-American treaty by discriminating against a friendly power.

It points out that even if the question is an economic one, it enters the domain of international relations and therefore becomes a political question.

The note says the California land legislation violates article 1 of the Japanese-American treaty of 1911, which authorizes subjects or citizens of the contracting parties to own or lease houses which are inseparable parts of real estate.

It also declares that the new bill violates the fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution, requiring states to grant equal protection under its laws to all persons within its jurisdiction.

JAP SUSPECTED OF SPYING

Well Educated Young Man Taken From Water Near Fort Wadsworth.

Kato Osako, a well educated man and suspected of being a Jap spy, was picked out of the waters of the New York bay, a short distance from Fort Wadsworth and is now detained at the immigration station on Ellis island, pending an investigation of his case. The fact that Osako spoke excellent English when rescued, together with the fact of the assertion of his rescuers that they saw Osako throw a package of papers overboard shortly after they pulled him into their boat, has caused the authorities to regard the man with considerable suspicion.

WOOD IS ACQUITTED

Head of American Woolen Company Cleared of Dynamite Charge.

The jury acquitted President William M. Wood of the American Woolen company of the charge of conspiracy to injure the textile strikers at Lawrence by "planting" dynamite. A disagreement in the case of Frederick E. Atteaux was reported. Dennis J. Collins, who turned state's evidence, was found guilty on two counts.

Judge Crosby ordered an investigation of the published statement that an attempt had been made to influence Morris Shuman, one of the jurors.

Cowboys in Race for $1,000 Prize.

A fifteen hundred mile cowboy race for a prize of $1,000 started from Kansas City. Miller Hawk of Spur, Tex.; William Benton of Sierra Blanco, Tex.; and T. O. Henderson of Coahoma, Mex., are the contestants and their destination is Winnipeg, Can. Each of the riders has a pack pony besides his mount. They will go by the way of Omaha, over the same route to Minneapolis. There each will choose a separate trail.

Autos Are Causing Numerous Deaths.

Coroner Hoffman began an investigation of conditions which are responsible for the deaths of forty-four persons who were struck by automobiles in Chicago during the first five months of the present year. This total is more than double the number of fatalities for the same period in 1912. He believes there should be a law under which careless drivers could be convicted for manslaughter.

Woman Who Stops King's Horse Dies.

Miss Emily Wilding Davison, the suffragette, died of the injuries received last week, when she rushed up on the racetrack and stopped the king's horse in the derby at Epsom.

2 Killed When Train Runs Into Horse. Two persons were killed and twenty injured when a Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train struck a horse and was derailed at Hailley, Okla.

Headache is not a disease of itself as many seem to think. It is only a symptom of multiple origin, the same as a fever, which signifies a derangement of the system somewhere. A localized pain in the head may be due to local irritation. It may be of reflex character and take its origin in any disturbance of the bodily functions—circulatory, digestive, respiratory, eliminative or excretory. It may accompany acute or chronic infection, or take its origin in the nervous system— from fright, in injury, from hunger or fatigue, from eye strain, from diseases of the sexual organs, from nasal irritation, from bad teeth, or from anaemia or hysteria. Persons who live in overheated and ill ventilated rooms are subject to headaches. Among the most common forms of headache are: The Nervous headache—usually an acute pain in the top of the head or as a band drawn tightly about it. Headache from eye strain—felt either in the front or back of the head and especially after use of the eyes in close work as sewing or reading. (After a night's rest the pain disappears.) Headache from constipation accompanied by coated tongue—a dull, throbbing, pulsating pain made worse by movement. Nasal headache—radiating from the root of the nose across the entire head. It is greatly increased by coughing or bending. As before stated, headache is merely a symptom and those suffering from such should consult some physician as to what is the real cause.

Nebraska republicans are planning to try to get together at a meeting to be addressed by Chas. W. Fairbanks at Omaha the 23rd. Don't believe that Charlie can warm 'em up enough to make them fuse, but he may freeze them together. The ex-v. p., is said to be as warming as a refrigerating plant.

Eph Beckenhauer is building a fine new residence on his farm three miles north of Wayne. The new building is to be two full stories in height and is 30x32 feet. Wayne county has some of the best farm homes in the state and when the time comes that these farms are divided into smaller farms this country will be one of the greatest and richest that ever was.

The fixtures formerly used in saloons at Wayne have been sold, and the last bunch is being crated today for shipment. Those who claim to know think this will end the annual elections on the license question at this place. If the place is to be without saloons it is well to have it settled for these annual elections on this question keep the subject open to the detriment of all.

The newspaper publicity law has been held by the supreme court of the United States to be valid—which means that not even the yellow journals are greater than Uncle Sam. This law demands the publication of names of owners of newspaper stock, bond and mortgages, as well as editors and a circulation statement from daily papers. Paid editorials must also be marked as advertising.

Stanton voted to remain wet at their election Tuesday, by a vote of 171 to 126. The council may grant as many licenses as they wish at $500 per. The choice was between three saloons at an annual license of $1,000 and the old ordinance which made the fee but half of that amount and permitted saloons without limit as to number. There are several remonstrances against some of the former saloon men being given another permit.

The McBrien Lyceum bureau is now getting a little belated advertising. The ex-superintendent of public instruction conceived the plan of bringing the lecture men of Nebraska into the lime light at an earlier day and in a different manner, but they are now getting the publicity without the profit of a crowded lecture room. Many of the prominent lecture men signed and gave their notes for commissions they were to earn but the opportunity to pay the note in words never came and the heartless bankers who bought the paper are now asking their pound of flesh. An able speaker is not necessarily a sound business man. The net caught them from Governor Aldrich up, and many ministers and school men will have to pay up. Among those best known at Wayne are Bixby, Metcalf, Corkey, Bright and Delzell. I. F. Roach of Lincoln was the only man who got enough talking to pay his note.

Wayne, Nebr., June 6, 1913. Board met as per adjournment. All members present.

Aug. Dangberg having paid his 1912 personal tax under protest for the reason that a threshing machine belonging to both he and Wm. F. Dangberg was assessed to both parties, that he protested the assessment on this machine which was assessed at $70.00 assessed valuation, and he asks that the sum of $1.57 be refunded him. Board after due consideration orders that the county treasurer refund to the said Aug. Dangberg the sum of $1.57, the said tax paid under protest.

Humphrey Griffiths having paid his personal tax for the year 1912, under protest, for the reason that he was assessed as within the corporate limits of the Village of Carroll, thereby being assessed with the village tax, when he should have been assessed as in Deer Creek precinct. He asks that the sum of $7.43 be refunded him, this being the amount of Village Tax. Board after due consideration of the facts in the case, orders the treasurer to refund to the said Humphrey Griffiths the sum of $7.43; tax paid under protest.

Herbert Lound having paid under protest the tax on improvements on lot 10, block 2, B. & P. 1st add to Winside, amounting to the sum of $16.20 for the reason that no improvements existed on said premises at the time of assessment or rather of April 1st, but that said house was completed along in the summer or fall, and he now asks that the sum of $16.20 be refunded. Board after due consideration and being advised in the premises orders that the treasurer refund to the said Herbert Lound the sum of $16.20 being amount of tax paid under protest.

R. F. Kitterman having paid under protest the tax on improvements on lot 27, block 3, original town of Winside, amounting to the sum of $29.80, for the reason that the 1911 tax was unjust for that prior to the assessment the building was destroyed by fire and that it went on the assessment books at the same valuation as the year before, and he now asks that the sum of $29.80 be refunded. Board after considering the claim orders a refund of $22.35.

J. G. Bergt having paid under protest the tax on improvements on lots 22, 23, 24, block 1 of the town of Altona, for the reason that no improvements existed thereon in 1911, which tax amounted to the sum of $2.10 and he now asks that the sum of $2.10 be refunded. Board after due consideration orders the treasurer to refund to the said J. G. Bergt the sum of $2.10 so paid under protest.

J. E. Marsteller & C. A. Grothe having paid under protest the tax on improvements for the year 1911 amounting to the sum of $15.44 for the reason that, the improvements included stock on hand, etc., and recognized as stationary stock, when as a matter of fact the Farmers Co-operative Creamery company was paying on this same stock, and they now ask that the sum of $15.44 be refunded them. Board after due consideration orders treasurer to refund to the said J. E. Marsteller and C. A. Grothe the sum of $15.44, tax so paid under protest.

Ernst Behmer, Sr., having paid under protest the tax on a mortgage for the year 1912 amounting to the sum of $8.68 which was listed with and part of the s w 1 of the n w 1 of section 27-25-1 for the reason that he turned the amount of this mortgage in for personal assessment, not knowing of the new law in regard to the assessment of mortgages and was not at the time so informed, and he now asks that the sum of $8.68 be refunded. Board after due consideration order treasurer to refund to the said Ernst Behmer, Sr., the sum of $8.68, tax paid under protest.

W. S. Fisher having paid under protest the taxes of 1912 amounting to the sum of $12.89 on a part of lot 2, section 11-26-5, lot 1, section 14-26-5, lot 2, section 23-26-5, and lots 1 and 2, section 26-26-5, and lots 1 and 2, section 35-26-5, for the reason that it is unjust to pay on these lots since they are cut up by a road running full length of the strip, with no chance whatever for revenue to be derived, and asks that the sum of $12.89 be refunded. Board after considering the claim, rejects the same in full and orders treasurer to distribute the funds.

Jens Englert having paid under protest his poll tax of 1909, for the reason that he was out of the state at the time of assessment, and he now asks that the sum of $2.50 be refunded. Board after considering the claim rejects the same in full and orders treasurer to distribute the funds.

Board after due consideration rejects the claim and orders treasurer to distribute the funds.

The Cross Country is a Manufactured Car

Find out before you buy any car whether it is a manufactured product or only an assembled car. It makes a big difference in the long run.

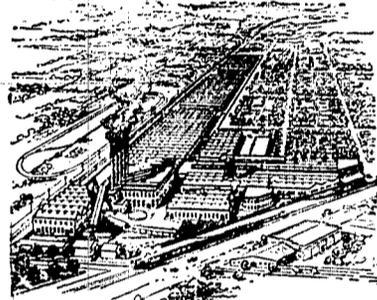

Ninety-six per cent of all Cross Country parts are made in the Jeffery plant and the company maintains a one-half million dollar stock of duplicate parts for the benefit of owners.

There are 25,000 Rambler cars on the road and you can get an extra part to replace any one ever used in this car within twenty-four to forty-eight hours.

You may never need the extra part but it's a great satisfaction to know that you have a car made by a company that is in business to stay.

You will never know the meaning of Jeffery service until you get a Rambler.

Have you seen the new Cross Country at $1875?

Name five buildings in the United States and five in Europe which are noted for their architectural beauty.
For the United States, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, Madison Square Garden, the Pennsylvania railroad station and the Grand Central station in New York city and the capitol, Washington.
For Europe, Westminster abbey and Windsor palace in England, St. Peter's church in Rome, St. Mark's in Venice and the Invalides, (where Napoleon's tomb is located) in Paris.

Which weighs the more, ten gallons of milk that tests 550 or ten gallons of milk that tests 450?
If tested for fats the latter will weigh more than the former. Water is heavier than fat, and in consequence pure milk—i. e., milk that contains the most cream—will weigh less than the same quantity of skimmed or adulterated milk.

Is salt ever adulterated?
Yes. It is frequently mixed with cornstarch and other substances to keep it from solidifying from dampness. Often it contains natural impurities also.

Are the so called "air plants" really alive, or are they only chemically treated moss?
The genuine air plant is really alive, but doubtless imitations have been sold from time to time. If so, however, the latter probably do not keep their "alive" appearance, more than a few weeks at most.

What is the form of government in Norway, Russia, Portugal, Greece, Turkey, India, Cuba, Egypt, and who is the present ruler of each?
Norway, Russia, Greece and Turkey are limited monarchies. Cuba and Portugal are republics. India is a British colony and has also a local representative government. Egypt is a dependency of Turkey.

King Haakon VII., Czar Nicholas II., King Constantine I. and the Sultan Mohammed V. are respectively the rulers of Norway, Russia, Greece and Turkey. King George V. of England is emperor of India. Manuel de Aringia and Mario Menocal are the presidents respectively of Portugal and Cuba. Abbas II. is khedive of Egypt.

How long was it after Thomas A. Edison commenced to study music that he perfected the phonograph?

While the extent of Mr. Edison's musical knowledge is not generally known, it can safely be said that this knowledge, even if he had it, would have added him little in inventing the phonograph. The phonograph is merely a device to record and reproduce sounds accurately by means of the vibration of a diaphragm of exceedingly thin metal, and it will reproduce records quite as distinctly as it will the finest operatic music. For a description of the instrument see any good dictionary or encyclopedia.

How many of the Chicago anarchists who participated in the Haymarket riot were hanged?
Four were hanged, one committed suicide in prison, two were sentenced to imprisonment for life and one for fifteen years, and three were pardoned in 1893.

What is the average salary paid to librarians and library assistants?
This question is too general to be answered adequately here. What would be true in one locality would not be in another. In the larger cities the chief librarian of the principal library frequently receives a very handsome salary, often as high as $7,000 or $8,000 a year. His assistants receive from a few hundred annually up to $1,800 or $2,500, according to their branch of work and length of service. A good average for assistant librarians in cities would probably be from $800 to $1,200 a year.

What was the date of the Haymarket riot in Chicago, in which seven policemen were killed?
May 4, 1886.

What is the color of a Scotch collie, and how is it marked?
There are two varieties of Scotch collie, the rough haired variety and the smooth coated. The rough haired collie has a tapering muzzle, a heavy coat except on head and legs, with mane and frill about neck very abundant. Color ranges from black and tan to tan and white or all white. The smooth coated collie has the same general characteristics, except that it has a dense, short, flat coat of good texture and varies in color and in its distribution more than the long coated one.

What was the date of Pope Leo XIII's death?
Pope Leo XIII. died on July 20, 1903, at Rome.

When did Caruso make his first public appearance in this country?
Nov. 23, 1892, the opening night of the 1902-4 season, when he sang the role of the duke in Verdi's "Rigoletto," in the Metropolitan Opera House, New York city.

What will make an orange tree bear flowers and fruit on the porch or in the house?

This is a question for an expert horticulturist, and the answer would be governed by specific conditions. A letter to the secretary of agriculture in Washington might bring the desired information.

Should a sealed envelope have a corner torn off while in the possession of person holding or delivering same? Is there a law on this point?

There is no law which requires that a sealed envelope be torn in any manner by the holder. When the postoffice has delivered a letter properly—i. e., to its correct address—its responsibility ends.

What is the value, if any, of a bound volume of the New York Mirror covering dates from July 4, 1835, to June 24, 1837?

The value of the volume is purely arbitrary. If desired by a library or collector for historic or other purposes it might command a fair price, according to the condition it is in. On the other hand, its value as a curiosity is not great, as, while necessarily scarce, bound volumes of that famous old weekly are by no means a rarity.

Do the four seasons of the year start on the last day of March, June, September and December respectively, and is the same system employed everywhere, regardless of winter or summer weather?

The four seasons, in accurate computation, begin at the two equinoxes and the two solstices. These positions of the sun may be determined to the very moment. Thus the time when each season begins is a matter of nice mathematical calculation. The days you mention are the common dates for the beginning of each season. In the south temperate zone the inhabitants commonly reverse the names of the seasons to suit their own reversed climate. You will hear July spoken of as midwinter.

What are the names of three of the best known living American novelists; also three living English novelists?

Richard Harding Davis, Ilex Beach, Robert W. Chambers, Arnold Bennett, Rudyard Kipling, Sir A. Conan Doyle.

Kindly let me know if it is more correct to use the bride's or the bridegroom's monogram on a wedding gift?
Wedding gifts, if marked at all, should bear the bride's initials unless the gift is a personal present to the bridegroom, to be used only by him.

What is the correct way to eat green peas—with a spoon or fork?
Peas should be eaten with a fork.

Give a sketch of Edmond Rostand's life.

Edmond Rostand, French dramatist, was born in Marseilles, France, April 1, 1869. His father was a journalist. He wrote his first play in 1894, followed by "Cyrano de Bergerac" in 1897; "L'Alceste" in 1900; "Chantecler" in 1910. He married Rosmonde Gerard, author of "Les Pipeaux," a volume of verse crowned by the French academy. Rostand himself was elected to the French academy in 1922.

When did the Iroquois theater fire in Chicago take place?
Dec. 30, 1903.

What is the history of Japan as a colonizer?

In 1895 Japan acquired her first colony, the small island of Formosa. Since then she has obtained the island of Sukhalin by the treaty of Portsmouth and Korea by annexation. She also has in her possession, through a lease from China, the small province of Kwangtung, which includes Port Arthur, and a long, narrow strip of land along the Manchurian railroad. The Japanese are constantly increasing in number in these territories. They are born colonizers, and Californians and Americans in the Philippines and in Hawaii, recognizing this characteristic, do not look with favor upon the Japanese. For example, the Japanese population in Hawaii numbered 22,000 in 1896, 50,000 in 1900 and 80,000 in 1910, according to the census figures.

Where does the phrase occur, "What can't be cured must be endured?"
It is an old proverb, origin not known, but Shakespeare in "Merry Wives of Windsor," act 5, scene 5, says, "What cannot be eschewed must be embraced."

How do the seven wonders of the ancient world measure up to modern standards?

The seven wonders of the ancient world were provincial and unimportant compared with many achievements of modern times. A year or two ago an attempt was made to poll 1,000 scientists in America and Europe regarding the seven wonders of the modern world, and it resulted as follows: Wireless telegraphy, 244 votes; telephone, 185; aeroplane, 167; radium, 165; spectrum analysis, 126; X ray, 111; the Panama canal, 100; anaesthesia, 94; gothic chemistry, 81.

The Fourth Class Postmasters

By Clyde H. Tavener
Washington, May 31—Members of Congress have little to do in connection with the filling of fourth class postoffices.

Civil Service examinations will be held for the filling of each fourth class office, and these examinations will be open to all including the present postmasters.

It would not appear from the copy of the Civil Service Commission's instructions to applicants for fourth class postmaster examinations that the tests are very severe, and yet, experience shows that there are not a few who fail to pass. The subjects covered by the examination and the credits given are:

1. Elementary arithmetic and accounts (simple tests in addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of whole numbers and common and decimal fractions and statements of a postmaster's accounts,) 40 credits.

2. Penmanship (the legibility, neatness and general appearance of the competitors' handwriting in the subject of letter writing,) 19 credits.

3. Letter writing (a letter of not less than 125 words on one of two subjects furnished), ten credits.

4. Copying manuscript addresses (a simple test in copying accurately addresses given) ten credits.

5. Facilities for transacting postal business (based on the location of the postoffice site, the convenience of office arrangements, etc.) thirty credits. Total 100 credits.

The examination in the first subject consists of five questions along the following lines:

In question 1 the competitor is given eight whole numbers to add and from their sum he is required to subtract another given whole number.

In question 2 the competitor is given the value of the stamps canceled at a certain postoffice; the amount of money received for newspaper and periodical postage, and from the sale of waste paper, twine, etc.; also the box rents collected. He is required to enter the figures in a given form, and to compute the salary of the postmaster for the quarter in accordance with the directions given in the form.

Question 3 consists of multiplication and division of decimals, and also the reduction of a fraction to a decimal.

Question 4 is a practical application of measurements, such as finding how many postoffice boxes of a given width are required to cover a floor of a given size, etc.

In question 5 the competitor is given the amount and fee of each money order issued and the amount of each money order paid at a given postoffice for a certain month. From this data he is to make a statement of the postmaster's account with the government in a prescribed form and to balance the statement.

All persons securing an average of 70 will get their names on the eligible list, and from the three highest the postmaster general will select the postmaster. In the case of persons honorably discharged from the military or naval service by reason of disability from wounds received or sickness incurred in the line of duty, an average of 65 will be sufficient and such applicant will be given preference over all others in appointment.

Where the office pays more than $500 persons over 65 years are made ineligible. Where women are declared by statute of full age for all purposes at 18, they are eligible to examination and appointment.

The examination in each case will be held at the most convenient point and will be conducted when possible, by local examining boards. Marking of the papers will be done by the Commission.

It will be necessary for every applicant to fill out an application blank which may be obtained from the postmaster, and notice of time of the examination will be served a few days before it is held. In every case the character and record of the applicant must be good and the applicant vouched for by at least five persons.

At two o'clock a program and address was given at the Baptist church. The orchestra and male quartette rendered music fitting the occasion, and Rev. R. J. Children's Day Observed at the Presbyterian Church

Last Sunday morning Children's Day was observed at the Presbyterian church and the exercises were of an exceptionally high order. The church was artistically decorated with flowers and also with the flags of various nations, making the platform a beautiful setting for presence of the children as they appeared on the program. Mrs. H. S. Ringland had general charge of the preparation for the services, being assisted by Mrs. H. Theobald and the other teachers in the primary department. An impressive part of the service was the administration of the ordinance of baptism, at which time the following children were baptized: James David Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris, Charles Woodrow Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Berry, Rebecca May Beckenhauer, daughter of Mrs. Eph Beckenhauer and Marjorie Ruth Noakes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Noakes.

The musical part of the program was well rendered and the recitations by Grant McEachen, Floyd Carpenter and Faith Philleo were highly appreciated by the congregation.

The calling of the cradle roll and the presentation of each member with a bouquet was in charge of Mrs. W. H. Morris, who also presented diplomas to the following little folks who graduate from the cradle roll into the primary department of Sunday school: Virginia Louis Cunningham, Carl Sidney Clasen, Isabelle Genevieve Adams, Willis Bush Perdu, Paul Jones.

The singing of the congregation during the service was led by a special choir made up of the girls of Mrs. Mines' class. The pastor gave a short talk on "Dreams" and the offering for the work of the Sunday school in our home land was then taken up, amounting to nearly $17.
