THE DEATH OF LEVI KIMBALL

Died Suddenly While Attending Meeting of Board of Trustees of Baptist College at Grand Island, Nebraska.

Wakefield, Neb., Sept. 11.—Special.—With much surprise and deep sorrow the citizens received news of the sudden death of Levi Kimball of this city, which occurred at Grand Island sometime Tuesday afternoon or evening, where Mr. Kimball had gone as a member of the board of trustees of the Baptist College of that place to attend a board meeting. He had gone to his room at the hotel soon after dinner to rest for a time and the fact of his death was not discovered until the next morning when they went to the room to call him. Apoplexy is given as the cause of his death. The body was prepared for shipment and reached the home this morning. The funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home. Burial will be made in the Wakefield cemetery.

His was a busy life, passed in a time of rapid development in this country and he well kept step to the onward march, and was a leader in his community, a man much loved and respected by all. Born at Rocklin, New York, August 19, 1836, he grew to manhood in his native state. When the civil war was in progress he enlisted in the northern army and was in active service for two years. At the close of the war he went into business at McGregor, Iowa, when that town was the market place for the surplus of grain and hogs for all northeastern Iowa, caring for the surplus of several counties. Here he was united in marriage to Miss Abigail Hill Merriell, who with two sons and a daughter survive to mourn his sudden death. The two sons, Fred of Hartington and Herbert of Spokane, Washington, and the daughter, Mrs. C. Mudge of Wilmington, Delaware, are all expected to be present at the funeral.

From McGregor, he moved to Grinnell, Iowa, where he engaged in business until 1887, when he moved to Wakefield where he has made his home since. Here he became cashier of the Wakefield State Bank—now the First National bank. He is also president of the Hartington National bank, he has been a successful business man, public spirited—retaining a lively interest in all benevolent and public enterprises in spite of the weight of increasing years, he passed as a man not yet near the four score years he had almost attained.

A Baptist in religion there being no church of his denomination at Wakefield he was a regular attendant and loyal supporter of the Presbyterian church here, and he died in the service of one of the church educational institutions of which he had for so many years been a faithful supporter, both in Nebraska and at Grinnell, Iowa. He was also a member of the Masonic lodge at this place.

The community will miss and mourn his departure, a good man has gone to his reward.

Railroad Fires

These have been busy days for the railroad section men to whom has been assigned the duty of watching for fires along the right of way, and as for the past week most any train was apt to start a blaze they have hurried from one point to another.

Thursday afternoon the city department was called out to fight back a fire started by the afternoon passenger as it went east which was threatening several residences and barns and out buildings in the east part of town.

Saturday evening there was an alarm turned in, the evening train having set fire which threatened the property of Gus Ziemer, nearly a mile west; but when it was learned where the fire was the men did not go as it was impossible to reach the fire with water. The railroad sent a crew out on an engine, and they soon had the fire under control.

Saturday evening a number of the farmers just east of town went out and backfired quite a strip between their properties and the railroad so that there would be less danger of a fire at some time when they were not prepared to fight it or when the wind might be so high as to make it much more dangerous.

The Winside Tribune says: "A spark from the afternoon passenger train ignited a hay stack on the Frank Wilson farm east of town Monday and burned to the ground. The high wind made it look as though other damage would be done, but the presence of helpers prevented this."

Off to the War Again

Saturday, the 13th, J. B. Stallsmith, adjutant of Casey Post, No. 5 G. A. R., will leave as a Nebraska delegate to attend the annual encampment of that order, which is to meet at Chattanooga, Tennessee, as previously announced in general orders, September 5th to 20th inclusive. This will be the first meeting since the organization of the G. A. R., that an encampment has been held in the real south. But we go not to renew the strife and animosity that once prevailed, but with a fraternal feeling toward the confederate, brethren, and all of the people in the south have given assurance that they will reciprocate and meet us in the same fraternal spirit and the reception at Chattanooga promises to be one of hospitality and fraternity never excelled at any encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. Let us go to Chattanooga and enjoy that welcome and hospitality that awaits us, says Mr. Stallsmith. John J. Grimsley is commander of Casey post now.

A New Lumber Firm

A deal was consummated this week whereby John and Paul Harrington become owners of the Von Seggern and Bressler interests in the Philleu-VonSegger lumber yard. The new firm will be known as the Philleu-Harrington Lumber Company, Mr. Fred Philleu retaining his interest in the property and with Mr. Paul Harrington, who returned this week from Long Beach, California, will be the managers. John Harrington will leave this week for Idaho, and go from there later to California to spend the winter. The Harringtons are not strangers here, nor are they new to the lumber business. John Harrington assisted by his son, formerly conducted the yard now owned by C. A. Chace, and since leaving Wayne the young man has been in the lumber game most of the time and in a field where they did a wholesale as well as retail business. We wish the new firm continued success.

Opening Residence District

There is in the north part of Wayne a tract of land between Main and College streets which has been held until it is nearly surrounded by residence property. This land has been purchased by Messrs. Schall & Thomas, who are plating it, opening Nebraska street through it, and will sell the 21 choice lots into which it is to be divided at auction on Saturday, September 20th. This enterprise opens for home builders some very desirable sites—and Wayne needs more residence houses very badly. Rents are so high here that it seems as though it would be profitable to build—houses are so scarce that many people who would like to make a home here for a few years do not do so because they cannot get a place in which to live, and this is a move that will tend to improve the situation. There is no more desirable part of the city unoccupied than this is, between the college and the business part of town, convenient to both the public school and the college. Read their advertisement elsewhere, go and pick out your lot and bid for it.

NORMAL BEGINS NEXT MONDAY

Prospects for Largest Attendance in History of School. New Equipment Installed. Course of Study Enlarged.

The Normal will begin its fourth year as a state school on Monday, September 15, at which time registration and classification of students for the new school year will begin. The large number of rooms already assigned in the dormitories and numerous inquiries received at the office from prospective students indicate a large attendance. New furniture and equipment have been added during the summer and every thing is in readiness for the opening of a new term.

In addition to the prescribed work of the various courses the daily program includes classes in child study, sociology, English history, trigonometry, advanced chemistry, advanced German, advanced Latin, elocution, advanced drawing, manual training, vocal music and domestic science. In the training school all grades will be represented except four and eight.

Registration will begin Monday morning at eight o'clock, and it is desirable that all students be registered and ready for work when recitations begin on the following day. Pupils of the training school will assemble in their class rooms for registration at nine o'clock Monday morning.

A few changes in the teaching force will be made. Miss Rachel F. Fairchild will spend the year in Columbia University, New York City, and her place as grammar critic teacher will be filled by Miss Lillian Jewell. To fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss McBeth, Professor Clyde U. Keckley of Alliance, Ohio, has been selected. Mr. Keckley will have charge of reading, and elocution and also direct the work in athletics. For teacher of domestic science Miss Franc B. Hancock of Chicago has been chosen, Miss Mary Pettit having resigned at the close of the year.

NORMAL NOTES

The next meeting of the board of education will be Tuesday, December 9.

Miss Irma James has recently received notice of her election to a position in the intermediate department of the Brigham City, Utah, public schools.

Ernest Samuelson was elected as teacher of manual training and agriculture at Gothenburg, and took charge of the work on Monday of this week.

David Hileman of Dakota City, graduate of the Nebraska Normal College in 1904, was a visitor Tuesday and secured his credits to present for entrance in the university of Nebraska.

Miss Cleme C. Smith, class of 1912, is employed in the primary department of the Fairbury schools. She was selected for this position by Superintendent A. L. Caviness who is also a member of the Normal Board of Education.

Miss Ida May Randall of Sioux City, Iowa, will enter the normal on September 15 and complete the advanced course at the close of this school year. Miss Randall is a graduate of the Randolph high school and she spent two years as a student in Wesleyan university.

President Conn has received official notice of his election as vice-president of the normal department of the National Educational Association for the year 1913-14. Friends of the normal are pleased to learn that the president of this school will serve as an officer in the national meeting of educators to be held at St. Paul, Minnesota, next year.

Professor J. G. W. Lewis spent the last week of August in Institute work at Manchester, Iowa, having charge of history, civics and agriculture. While the subject of agriculture is not in Mr. Lewis' department and he has made no special preparation in that particular field, an item appearing in the Manchester Press reports a success that Mr. Lewis himself was too modest to admit when he returned to Wayne. Commenting on the work of the session, the Iowa editor says:

"Much of the interest of the 1913 session centers around the work of the classes in agriculture taught by Professor Lewis. The work is more or less new, and in the opinion of Superintendent Ribble it is certain to prove very successful in a thoroughly practical way."

Norling-Ohlund

Mr. Gust Ohlund and Miss Ida Norling went to Stanton on Wednesday of this week where they were married by Judge Conn. After the ceremony they returned to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Norling, well known and respected citizens of Stanton county, where a bounteous and delicious dinner was served in the presence of only a few relatives and friends. They will make their new home in Stanton at present in a residence owned by the bride's parents.—Hoskins Headlight.

They like their western home very much.

Herb Robson and John Mc-Chesney, both of Red Oak, Iowa, have been up here spying out farms in this good country of ours—and each has rented one of the Mellor farms for next year. Robson will live about five miles southwest of Wayne, and McChesney on a place northwest of town. It speaks well for this county when farmers will leave as good a farm country as is Montgomery county, Iowa, to locate here.

The Tammany fight on Sulzer may be hard on the governor of the state, but it will be worse on Tammany. No move which the braves have made in their history has so attracted public attention to the corruption of the organization—and the people of New York will simply put an end to their power. With a fair open fight, such as progressive citizens are demanding, the days of the political boss are numbered.

C. A. Fox and wife of south of old settlers picnic here and was among the oldest, both in years and residence, in this part of Nebraska.

She is 86 years of age and a pioneer in this part of Nebraska, and mothers' quite an army of children, children. She spent a month at this place with her son and at Pilger.

The fact that reference to the bridge condition of Cedar county has been omitted from recent issues of this newspaper is not evidence that this editor has forgotten it.
He has been forcibly reminded of it many times a day for many days. As his auto journeys over the decayed wooden bridges and caved-in culverts of Cedar county he thinks of the fine concrete structures that are being built in other counties. And nearly every farmer he calls on wants to know what can be done about it. We are thinking about it alright. But the discussion of it temporarily has been turned over to editors Stone, Weiss and Harris. And for further facts upon which the final adjudication will be made we are waiting on the state engineer, who has promised to make an inspection and report. He has not shown up as yet, but we have faith still that he will make a real investigation.

Progress is being made in the project of organizing a Commercial club for David City on a permanent, self-sustaining and self-respecting basis. Dues are to be a proper amount for efficiency and no doubt will be paid promptly without requiring time and expense to go after them each month. A paid secretary is contemplated. Proper and convenient quarters are contemplated. In fact the plan as outlined by the committee reporting at Get-Together Dinner No. 17 on Wednesday, Sept. 3, is one proposing a real, actual Commercial Club, the members of which will be not only enthusiastic but systematic in effort for development and advancement of the city in volume of business, in encouragement of worthy public enterprises looking to community welfare, and in furtherance of projects for adding to the beauty of the city. David City, already favorably known for enterprise and public spirit, is to add to that reputation. This will be profitable as well as pleasant.

Cedar county people are holding a fair this week at Hartington.
They are also having a session of the district court in that city, the game opening Monday with 44 cases docketed. Speaking of fairs, the Democrat wonders if they are ashamed of them in this country.
The cause of that wonderment is the fact that they do not advertise them. With no fair in this county, we have failed to notice an invitation in any paper in the county asking our citizens to come and visit their show. There is nothing that we can think of where a little judicious newspaper advertising pays as well as that inviting people to attend popular and instructive places of amusement. If the business men of Hartington were thoroughly alive to their opportunities they would advertise their fair in outside newspapers at their own expense rather than miss the opportunity of drawing people from outside territory.

Washington Political News

By Clyde G. Tamm, M. C.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Who would imagine that a government like the United States of America would pay $25 for an article that it could manufacture itself for $12.52?

But it has been doing this very thing for a great many years. The government is paying $25 for 4.7 inch sharpnel, the character of ammunition used in heavy field guns, and at the same time it has been manufacturing at Frankford Arsenal, Philadelphia, a portion of its supply for $12.52, all overhead charges included.

Field artillery ammunition is not an exception. The records of the War department show that the government has been paying private manufacturers from 25 to 33 per cent more for small arms cartridges, and from 33 to 50 per cent more for field artillery ammunition and equipment, than it can manufacture them for its own arsenals.

The question that naturally arises is: Why has the government been wasting the people's money in this manner? I confess that I cannot answer. I have tried to find a reason, but have run across no one in Washington as yet who could give me one. I have finally concluded there isn't any reason; that the government has simply been doing it and we will have to let it go at that.

But will the government continue to pay the private manufacturers excessive price? That depends somewhat on whether the people are interested. If the people have no objection, it is reasonable to presume the government will not get excited.

I have introduced in Congress a series of six bills providing for a total appropriation of $1,030,000 to enlarge the plant at the Rock Island Arsenal, Rock Island, Ill., so that the government may manufacture its own field artillery equipment and ammunition and small arms cartridges.

The program of the war department calls for $20,000,000 worth of field artillery ammunition. I believe the government could save $5,000,000 on this order alone.

Ball cartridges, caliber 30, for the regulation service rifles were made at the Frankford Arsenal in 1912 for $26.95 per 1,000 including all overhead charges. For the same cartridges private manufacturers are receiving $38.04.

Why should the government pay private manufacturers $1,708 for a three inch caisson when it is manufacturing the identical article at Rock Island Arsenal for $1,081 all overhead charges included?

Why should the government pay private manufacturers $3,268 for a three inch gun carriage proper when it is manufacturing the same thing at the Rock Island Arsenal for $2,341?

Gen. Crozier, head of the United States War College, expresses the opinion that in the manufacture of field artillery gun carriages at Rock Island, he could save the government approximately 25 per cent of the prices being paid private manufacturers.

The authorized program of the War department calls for the purchase of about $11,000,000 worth of field artillery vehicles, gun carriages and equipment. Twenty-five per cent of $11,000,000 is $2,750,000, or a saving of more than double the amount of the appropriation I ask for.

How much the United States government has paid in excessive prices to private manufacturers for army and navy materials in the last twenty years, I would hesitate to guess at. That the sum would equal the cost of an entire fleet of modern battleships, I have not the slightest doubt in the world.

The above letter shows the cost and waste of war and preparation for the same. Why not follow plans of a Peace Congress and save all of this money for something beneficial to mankind?

Why Not Start Right?

Some ominous figures are submitted by Charles Edward Russell in Pearson's. He shows that while in ten years the capitalization per mile of American railroads increased 25 per cent, with, of course a corresponding increase in the burden of fixed charges, in an equal period on the state owned railroad system in Prussia there was a decrease in the annual fixed charges on capital account of over 40 per cent, a reduction which is gradually forcing the capital charge toward the vanishing point.

Why are these figures ominous? Think a minute and you will see. Here railroad debt piles up. There it diminishes. Here an increasing toll must be taken each year on the volume of traffic transported to maintain the pyramid of fixed charges inverted to make bankers rich. There rates are adjusted on a downward basis, debt is paid off and the time is not distant when all transportation will be performed at the cost of service.

Transportation is life. But while we are letting private financial management roll up snowballs of debt as a burden which our business life has to carry, the keener Germans are bringing their highways steadily to the point when tolls will reflect no burden for debts and no profits for speculators but only the bare cost of service. Let new Alaska fall into the hands of the type of men who have accumulated the great and growing debts of our old railway systems, much of them mere gambles on the productivity of other folk under a policy of charging all the traffic will bear, and there will ensue what happened in the early days of our transcontinental lines, great riches for a few, squeezed out of the industry of the many.

It may be hard to undo the mistakes of the past in our older territory where values have become vested; but surely the experience of Prussia is a guide and a warning in the new land up north, where it is possible to start right.

The above is taken from the Sioux City News, and is a good history, but what about the last paragraph? What is a vested right? How is it acquired? Is a legal right a vested right?

Two men wish to put up a job on a rich farmer. No. 1 comes along with something that is without value, but he makes it look good, and he sells to the rich man, taking his note. The note is good if not obtained by fraud. No. 1 then sells the note to No. 2, who is the "innocent" purchaser, and he then has a legal right to collect the note; but does he have any vested right. So the railroads and other grafting corporations having much to say in the making of law have so fixed matters that they have a legal right to do a lot of unjust things and misapply the term legal and call it "vested rights."

That's a mincing little stride Where the streets are wild and wide Are you sure there's room inside Little Girl?

What will happen if you slip, Little Girl? Aren't you fearful it will rip, Little Girl?

You would better take a sack, So if anything should crack It would serve you coming back, Little Girl.

Does your mammy know your out, Little Girl?

We're afraid to go about, Little Girl!

If we met you in the sun, With your skirt so thinly spun, Why, we might all have to run, Little Girl!

Let the bottom out a bit, Little Girl! It's much too tight a fit, Little Girl!

As the matter sadly stands, You'll be walking on your hands, And in that event—my lands, Little Girl!

Norfolk and vicinity was pretty much excited Saturday morning by what was at first believed to be a kidnapping case but what proved a wanderlust on the part of Charley Drefke's 12 year old adopted son and the seven year old daughter. The boy and girl wanted to visit an aunt in Iowa, the boy had a small savings bank from which he withdrew his dollar deposit and in the faith of childhood imagined that that sum would carry them to the end of their dream rainbow. After dressing themselves in their Sunday best they slipped out of the house about 3 a. m. and to make their chance of discovery less easy walked all the way to Hoskins where they boarded the M. & O.

far points further east. The conductor was notified and he captured the youthful adventurers at Wayne returning them to their anxious parents at eleven of the same morning. There are few of us who can't recall the time when we, too, thought that our little home world was too narrow for persons of our importance and that when Dad and Mother saw us in our real realms—the bride of a fairy prince or the head of some great circus or wild west show as the sex of the young dreamer interpreted future greatness—they would wish they had given us more of our own way. And we didn't know the heartaches we caused those loved ones by our rebellious indifference to parental authority, that is our only satisfaction now. ### WAYNE, NEBRASKA

Wayne, county seat of Wayne county, has been especially favored by nature. It is surrounded by the best and surest agricultural territory in the state. The city was originally settled by the highest type of citizens, and through successive years has attracted the same high class. Its business men are wide awake and progressive, and on the alert for improvements along all lines. The city has public waterworks, electric lighting plant and sewerage system. Paving and electroliners will come next. The Nebraska Normal school, located here, is growing rapidly, and the state is appropriating thousands of dollars for new buildings and new equipment to meet increasing demands. Following completion of the new Science Hall last year, the state has lately appropriated $100,000 for a new central building. This growing institution, sustained and managed by the state, insures alone a bright future for Wayne. The city schools, in a palatial new fireproof building, are equal to the best in the state. Six churches, with substantial, modern edifices, encourage right living. They are: Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, English Lutheran German Lutheran and Catholic. New city hall and library building were erected last year. New depot in course of construction now. Many modern dwellings going up. Wayne now has 3,000 people, and is certain to grow and expand more rapidly in the future than it has in the past. That is the opinion of the most conservative business heads. Where could you find a more desirable city in which to live?

Judging from returns from the Maine congressional election, Teddy was about 60 per cent of the Progressive party. That is a pretty good showing for one man but if two members of the party like that, say Perkins and Teddy, should happen to die, what would be left of the Moosers?

The truth of the old saying, "where ignorance is bliss it is folly to be wise," was nicely emphasized in the days when "Teddy" was in the lime light a few years ago. An old gentleman asked a little girl, "how do you like Roosevelt?" and received the ready reply, "I don't know him." In fact those who do know him are few in number.

The Democrat would like to see some united effort made by the citizens and farmers of this city and county to establish some enterprise here that would enable the people to get greater returns from the land. Corn pays very well, alfalfa better perhaps—but without detracting from these great staples, a move could be put on foot to grow a thousand dollars worth of trees per acre on ten or fifteen acres of land, fruit and shade trees, vines and plants which would pay far better than corn, give employment to more people and add to the wealth of the community. Why not give the question a little study?

The reckless manner in which the New Haven road disregarded the order of public officials in regard to holding the cars of the wrecked train for inspection for public good will lead to another wreck—and that for public good. It will end in the wrecking of the tendency of the railroads to disregard the rights and safety of their patrons rather than the reaping of big dividends on watered stock.

If you wish to know what sort of a progressive senator Cummins of Iowa is you should read in the Sioux City Journal, a good republican paper, how he wanted the duty on aluminum raised about 200 per cent, and that he is employed as an attorney by that trust and when the Kenyon amendment to put the aluminum on the free list was up for discussion he was absent, and did not get back in time to vote. Albert is a good pretender.

Professor Wilson's course of study continues intact. Tariff in spring and summer we have already had. The classes have already registered for banking and currency in the fall term. Presumptuous congressmen who sought to smite a trust or two in the tariff bill are informed that trusts are on the winter curriculum and not to be thought of now. Professor Wilson's academy has one peculiarity rather disconcerting to his scholars. There don't appear to be any vacations.—State Journal.

Certain protection organs are making the claim that the tariff bill was forced through congress as a party measure, and that information was not wanted—the plan was laid and the bill built to it. Yet it is a fact that more than 2,500 manufacturers and interested people—or at least supposed to be interested—were given blanks asking for information and aid in the tariff regulation—and not 100 of that number made a reply. This shows that the agitator is and has been more interested than the real manufacturer. Labor troubles are mostly made by the walking delegate and so it seems are the tariff troubles the greatest worry to men of the same stripe.

When you pick up a newspaper and see Castoria advertised therein you may know that the publisher does not place a high value on his advertising space. Not long since the Democrat received a contract from this firm with the assurance that it was their best offer—as much as they paid any paper in the county seat class—so we figured it out carefully and found that they wanted to bind the Democrat to accept two cents and a small fraction per inch—the magnificent sum of $42 for three years—no wonder that even the babies cry for it. We told them how to come in here. It is small wonder that the Bingville Bugle gets its inspiration from a paper that would accept such a contract. It won't pay for the white paper.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch argues for war with Mexico because it would give the news (?) papers something to talk about besides "The turkey trot, the Diggs and Caminetti case, Bryan's grape juice, Andrew Carnegie's latest piece of patronizing, September Morn, etc." Certainly, a lot of papers of the Post Dispatch kind want something to print that will call public attention from the reforms that are going on in political and moral ways—though it cost the country millions of treasure and thousands of lives. Some of the graft of the owners of such papers is in danger unless the public can have something more exciting to read of than the suppression of the white slave traffic which is said to have been very profitable to certain landlords, the Tammany graft exposed by the Sulzer night, the reduction of tariff in the interest of the masses, and kindred moves, including the currency and anti-trust legislation which is bound to come—unless we can have war. Which is the better for the people is not the question considered by the Post-Dispatch, but what else will stop the economic reforms that the people are demanding?

To Water Users

The Mayor and Council request that you refrain from using water for sprinkling or irrigation purposes at all times except between the hours of 5 P. m. to 8 P. M.

This request is necessary from the fact that our pumps are inadequate to keep up the fire pressure during the unusual dry weather.

J. M. CHERRY, CLERK.

Among The Churches of Wayne

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
(Rev. Blessing, Pastor.)

Sunday school at 10 o'clock. We are looking forward to a good increase in our Sunday school before the close of the year, to get this increase, we must have the presence and co-operation of all members.

Divine worship at 11 o'clock. The subject of the sermon will be "The Christian's Walk." If you were to stand upon a street corner and notice the walk of different people, you should be able to tell, to some extent, the character of these people. The man who walks quick and dignified, you would say, is a successful man, a man of business. But the man whose walk is slow and careless, you call an unsuccessful man. Just as it is with the natural walk of men, so it is with the moral walk. The man who is careless about his moral walk, can not walk worthy of the high calling of God, but the man who gives diligence to the things which are pure.

Beginning with the first Sunday in October there will be evening services.

The Choir will hold their rehearsal on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. Henry Hansen on Thursday of this week.

The pastor will organize his catechetical classes soon, all those who have children to be confirmed please speak to the pastor.

Methodist Church

Rev. P. R. Clotfelty, Pastor
Sunday services were well attended last Sunday considering the heat and vacation. We were pleased to note a good many visitors among our people which speak well for our people's interest in the church.

A fine company of young people greeted us at the League rally service and a number of new members were enrolled. Would like to have as many more new ones next Sunday, when Brother Jacobson leads the meeting. A fine time to rally to our League work the bracing days of autumn. The Leaguer will hold an acquaintance social for our new Normal students on Friday, September 19th, at the church. It is further planned that during October a series of conference meetings will be held preparatory to a week of special meetings in November. This will all be under League direction. Let our young people "be swift to answer Him."

Next Sunday is the last Sunday before conference. All claims ought to be in by that time. Regular services all day. Let us pray that it may be a "high day" in the hosts of the Lord.

The Ladies' Missionary societies meet at the parsonage this Friday at 2:30 p. m., September 12. All ladies are invited. These societies are bringing in a fine report this year, showing that interest and work can accomplish much when directed in the work of the Master. The children's societies held their monthly meeting at the church Sunday afternoon.

Baptist Church

Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor
We had a very good service last Sunday morning. It was our monthly communion hour. It was characterized by a quietness and a spirit that makes it the last service of the month. Let us remember this monthly service and try to be present every time.

The pastor has arranged for a series of sermons concerning the church and its work and its problems. He wishes all the members to respond as heartily as possible to these Sunday morning services.

Next Sunday morning the subject will be "Does the Church Pay?" Shall we let the church go, or shall we stand by it?

This is the time of the year when we want to rally to all departments of our work. Put a little more energy, enthusiasm and activity in the work. The advisory board took an important step in this direction the other evening. They have planned, with the help of their wives to entertain the members of the church and congregation at a sociable in the near future. They hope to have every member as their guest that evening. It will be worth your while to be present. On Friday evening, September 19, the young people of the church and Sunday school have prepared to hold a reception for the college students. We are glad to have them return to us and intend that this opening reception will help them feel at home among us.

It was our good pleasure to have Brother W. W. Theobald with us last Sunday and have him assist in the communion service. In many ways he still lives in our church life. Our state convention meets this year at Lincoln, October 11-16. Several of our people want to go. Begin planning now. Last year we worked hard to help the others enjoy the convention. This year let us go and enjoy it as delegates.

Sunday evening at 7 o'clock the young people will meet, lead by Mr. Glea Wade. We had a splendid meeting last Sunday evening. Let us make this another such a meeting.

At 8 p. m., the pastor will preach on the subject "No Room for Christ." The warm evenings will not last much longer.

Wednesday evening at 8 p. m., our prayer meeting will be held. A splendid meeting last week. Were you there?

Presbyterian Church

Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.
Communion service and the reception of new members will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning. In the evening the series of sermons on present day themes, which was postponed last Sunday evening will begin. The first sermon in this series will be "Is the World getting better or worse?" There will be a prelude on "What is a good man?"

The morning service begins at 10:30 and the evening service at 8 o'clock. The Sunday school meets at 12, following the morning worship.

The music in the evenings will be in charge of a chorus choir under the leadership of Miss Edna Neely.

In the mid week services the people are now taking up the study of the Apostle Paul's First Letter to the church of God at Corinth. This important apostolic message deals with live topics in the church of today, such as "class spirit in churches," "litigation amongst church members," "impurity of life amongst professing Christians," "marriage," "order of worship," "the right way to observe the Lord's Supper," "the tokens of a real church of Christ," "the resurrection of our bodies," "benevolence and collections in the church," and kindred topics. The inspired teaching in regard to these important matters will be set

Of the quality of wheat grown in this vicinity this year Marcus Kroger says that he selected a car of velvet chaff wheat and shipped last week, and returns came back classing it No. 1, and that is good enough for any country. That is the quality which it pays best to raise.

C. E. Paul, editor and owner of the Emerson Enterprise, was a caller at this office Tuesday. He has leased his paper for the school year to J. R. Taylor, a newspaper man of experience in this part of Nebraska, and Mr. Paul will be at Lincoln attending the law department of the state university.

Barrett & Dally have been installing a fine lot of new shelving along the north side of their hardware store room, more than doubling the capacity of the shelving and yet making it very handy to get at. When the contemplated changes are completed you will mark much improvement in the room.

Men and women take a chance at lottery on something which they do not need and do not care for, because of the fascination of taking a chance, of not getting it perhaps, and we wonder if some of the lands being offered or about to be offered by Uncle Sam for homestead are of such worthless character that it is impossible to get them sold by other and more honorable methods.

Fred Volpp and wife of Scribner left their home Tuesday to visit the western coast. Mr. Volpp is state banker of the Nebraska Sons of Herman, and goes to San Francisco to attend the national meeting of that order as one of the Nebraska delegation. After the meeting closes they will go to Seattle to visit a sister, and there Mrs. Volpp is planning to remain until next month.

There have been some good improvements made recently on the farm of Anna Ulrich ten miles north of Wayne, where her son, Frank Ulrich lives. A good concrete foundation has been put under the barn giving that building a new lease of life. The house was improved and a fine cellar dug and walled beneath it. In addition to this a new corn crib has been erected, all adding to the value of the place.

Paul Thiel, the tailor, is fitting up his store room opposite the Union hotel and getting his stock out for opening business here next week. He is now unable to fix a date for an opening day because of uncertainty of time of arrival of new goods now on the way. He has in stock now much which is desirable in general furnishings, and is ready to take your measure for anything you may need in tailor made garments. Having served his apprenticeship in his native land, and with eight years city experience at Omaha and six years work at Crofton he feels confident of his ability to please and satisfy all. He guarantees his output as to fit, workmanship and quality. Pressing, cleaning and repairing promptly done.—adv 1.

During the "Eternal" Range Exhibit at the W. A. Hiscox Hardware, Oct. 2 to 8, a $10 set of aluminum ware will be given away free.—adv.

A. J. Ferguson and wife returned home last week from their visit at Lake Osakis, Minnesota. They enjoyed three weeks of nice cool weather there. Mr. Ferguson says that they have wonderful crops there—hay and clover and a good crop of corn. He talks more fluently however, when telling of his fishing experience. Says that he got a 14 pound bite there one day, but did not land the fish, but he saw by the scales that it was not less than a 14-pound bite. Aside from this they had all the fish they wanted. Mr. Ferguson says of Lake Osakis that it is a pretty body of water from two or three miles wide and about fifteen miles in length and that there is no bottom to be found in places, at least.

The Estacada (Oregon) Progress comes to our desk this week with the familiar name of Nina B. Ecker, Editor and Manager, at the head of the editorial column, and elsewhere in the paper is the announcement that Mr. Boyle, who went from Winside last spring to edit and manage this paper has gone to Montana, and Mrs. Ecker has taken the place made vacant. With all respect to her predecessor on the job, the Democrat predicts that The Progress will progress under the able management of Mrs. Ecker if she will be given the support which will enable her to do her best. She is a writer of experience and ability, and well knows how to successfully manage a local newspaper. Wishing the new editor success.

Meeting at McEachen School House

A meeting will be held at the McEachen school house next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock when Rev. Alexander Corkey will preach. He will deliver his sermon "Seeing the World as it is," or "The Deceptive Appearance of Things." It is expected also that a Sunday school will be organized to continue for the fall months.

Ladies Aid Resumes Activities

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church will resume its customary activities next week. The first meeting for the season will be at the home of Mrs. J. T. Bressler next Wednesday afternoon. At this meeting plans for the coming fall and winter's work will be discussed and arrangements made to promote an increase in the membership of the society and new interest in the work.

Meeting of Niobrara Presbytery

The fall meeting of Niobrara Presbytery will be held next week at Elgin, Nebr., beginning on Tuesday evening. The local Presbyterian church will be represented by the pastor and one of the elders. The greatest religious interest in the Presbytery was at Wakefield where Evangelist Lindgren held tent meetings in August. His success was remarkable, arousing more interest with his preaching of the Gospel than the Wakefield Chautauqua aroused, attracting people to the meetings for a radius of eight or ten miles. The closing service was a real pentecostal season of apostolic religious fervor, and all the churches in Wakefield have been quickened in new life and activity.

Nebraska Water Power Activities to Receive a Boost.

AFFECTS BABCOCK CONCERN.

Attorney Strode Returns From a Chicago Conference—Station Board Names Several Employees—Bankers to Meet in Lincoln.

Lincoln, Sept. 9.—Promises that the water power situation in this state is to be measurably increased in point of interest has been made by Attorney Strode of this city, afflicted for the past two years with the Babcock-Doherty interests. Mr. Strode has just returned from a trip to Chicago, where he has been in consultation with other attorneys who are concerned in the transfer of the Doherty rights to another financial firm, which will hereafter be associated with Mr. Babcock. "Our report for next month," said he, referring to the monthly construction reports made to the state engineer on money expended in actual work, "will show many thousands in advance of the report for the past month. The initiation of the work of building the big diversion dam will be accomplished this month—an item which will add greatly to the construction activities being undertaken by the company."

The company which is to become a new factor in Nebraska water power development is not a new one to the promotion field. However, its heads are men who are young and anxious to demonstrate what can be done in Nebraska. The firm is said to have made $3,000,000 in the past three years on some of its completed developments and hydro-electric plants in the middle west. Secrecy is still preserved around the names of the financiers and it is not probable that details of the business arrangement will be forthcoming until late in the month.

Meanwhile H. E. Babcock of Columbus, who claims the distinction of being one of the first Nebraskans to express unbounded faith in the power of the streams of the state, is said to have been canvassing the field among users of power in the hope that a market could be found for the energy which will be generated by his company's plant. The Illinoisans who are to be interested with him are said to own enough plants in Nebraska to provide for the disposal of considerable current as soon as their project is put in working order.

Will Not Fill Place Now. Fire Commissioner Ridgell will not recommend to Governor McPherson the immediate filling of the vacancy created through the death or disappearance of Paul Thompson of Grand Island. There have been several applications for the place, but all are likely to be held up several days. Commissioner Ridgell believes that Thompson is still alive, but that he will not turn up for duty unless the mysterious cause of his disappearance is cleared up. When decision is made a new man is reached it is not improbable that a change will be made in the requirements and a man of legal training will be placed in the department.

Appoint Stallion Experts. Members of the stallion registration board have announced their allotment of places with that division of the state government. A dozen inspectors were named who will work on a per diem basis and who will be given territory adjacent to their places of residence. Those selected were: J. C. Bowman of Tecumseh; J. A. Boyd of Mason City; A. A. Eddingfield of Plainville; I. W. McEachern of Geneva; I. W. McGinnis of Grand Island; H. L. Prouse of Allen; W. H. Randall of Geneva; L. Reed of Cody; A. W. Sprague of Crawford; J. D. Sprague of Davitt City; M. Sprenger of Hastings and J. S. Vinndage of Ord.

Plan for Inspection. Plans for the inspection of high schools, which are to benefit under the provisions of the Shumway act of the last legislature, were outlined at a conference held by State Superintendent Delzell, High School Inspector A. A. Reed, Principal H. B. Bradford of the state agricultural school, P. E. Barker of the agronomy department and Dean Burnett of the agricultural college. Nineteen schools in all have been designated to receive aid from the $15,000 fund provided in the Shumway law. The amount each receives will depend upon the extent to which the work is undertaken at each institution.

Bankers to Meet in Lincoln. Bankers of the city are preparing to entertain the State Bankers' association, which holds its sessions here Sept. 25 and 26. Much attention is going to be given the Glass-Owen currency bill and every phase of that measure is likely to be taken up for discussion by the financiers. State Fair Board Pleased Over Results. The state fair directors held a session at the office of the secretary in the state house, endeavoring to clean up matters relating to the fair. Secretary Mellor said that take it all around, the board was very well satisfied with the result of the fair.

Uni Medical School Starts. Omaha, Sept. 9.—The University of Nebraska's medical college opened this morning at its new building at forty-second and Dewey avenue with an enrollment of about 100 students.

RAIN FALLS IN SOME PLACES

Some Parts of the State Are Visited by Good Showers.

Omaha, Sept. 9.—Some rain fell in parts of Nebraska, but in no wise was it general, according to the reports to the railroads. Railroad men who study the crop situation say that it is now too late for rain to be of any benefit to corn, but add that a heavy down-pour would revive the pastures and put the ground in condition for plowing for fall wheat.

Superintendent Allen of the Burlington, who has kept in close touch with the condition of the corn crop, sees practically a failure of the crop in Nebraska. In his soil and crop report for last week, just issued, he puts the corn yield in Nebraska the lowest in years.

The weather has seriously affected the potato crop and now the yield is placed at about one-half of the normal. Pastures continue to dry up and in many localities feed for animals is becoming scarce.

THINK HE IS OLD CRIMINAL

Negro Waters Is Measured and His Record Being Investigated.

Omaha, Sept. 8.—William I. Devereux, registrar of the local Bertillon record, of criminals, has obtained complete measurements of Joe Waters, who died at South Omaha Thursday, and who is supposed to have been guilty of the double murder at Fremont. The similarity of the Villisca murder horror, when the Moore family of six and two guests were killed with an axe on June 10, 1912, to that of Fremont led the authorities at the former place to request a complete description of the negro.

That Waters was a degenerate was quite apparent from the countenance of the corpse as it lay in the Larikin establishment at South Omaha.

METCALFE MAKES ADDRESS

Governor of Zone Making Hit in Panama by Speeches.

Lincoln, Sept. 9.—According to reports received in Lincoln from the canal zone, Governor Richard L. Metcalfe has already begun to make his influence felt in that locality. Recently a committee from the Gatum Young Men's Christian association called on the governor and asked him to speak before a meeting of their association, and his address was so well liked that more calls have come to Governor Metcalfe for his assistance.

Land Dispute Up to Secretary Interior.

D. S. Osgood, county attorney of Grant county, has intervened in the case from that county in which a quarter section of school land belonging to the state is involved. Some time ago Floyd White took the land as a homestead and secured an injunction before Judge Paul in the district court preventing the lessees of the land from gathering the crops thereon or cutting the hay. The case was taken before the land department, which decided that the land was school land. It has now gone to the secretary of the interior for a final decision.

Two Paroled Convicts Escape.

Two paroled convicts, James Lille, sentenced from Gage county for highway robbery, and Robert Day, sent up from Cheyenne county for burglary, have escaped from the places where they were working on farms near the city and have not been apprehended, though trace of them has been gathered at St. Joseph. The men were paroled on request of Chaplain P. C. Johnson, who, for the third time, has been made the victim of misplaced confidence within a short period.

Dimer Boy Was Shot by Rys or Self.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Better Tone to Beef and Feeders Are Stronger.

ANOTHER HOG ADVANCE SCORED

Liberal Run of Sheep and Lambs—Killers 10@20c Lower—Feeders at Least 20c Off—Market Late in Opening.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Sept. 9.—About 6,000 cattle arrived, making 17,500 head for the two days. The market for western grass beefs was active and stronger for anything at all desirable in the way of either feeders or beef. Values are right around 10@15c higher than they were at the close of last week and dressed beef men complained that they could not get as many cattle as they wanted on account of the activity of the feeder buyers. Cows and heifers were also in better demand and strong to a dime higher than Monday. In stockers and feeders the demand was keen for desirable stock of all weights and prices pretty close to a dime higher than Monday all around.

Cattle quotations: Choice to prime beefs, $8.60@9.00; good to choice beefs, $8.20@8.50; fair to good beefs, $7.80@8.15; common to fair beefs, $7.00@7.85; fair to choice yearlings, $7.25@7.50; good to choice heifers, $6.25@7.25; fair to good cows, $5.25@6.00; canners and cutters, $3.25@5.00; veal calves, $5.75@9.75 bulls, stags, etc., $5.00@6.50; choice to prime feeders, $7.50@8.25; good to choice feeders, $6.85@7.25; fair to good feeders, $6.25@6.75; common to fair feeders, $5.75@6.25; stock cows and heifers, $4.75@6.50; good to choice grass beefs, $7.25@7.75; fair to good grass beefs, $6.50@7.00; poor to fair grass beefs, $5.50@6.25.

About 4,800 hogs were received today. The market opened around a dime higher and was very active at the advance, becoming 10@15c higher and in some cases individual loads possibly sold 20c higher. The bulk of the supply went at $8.00@8.10. As high as $8.65 was paid for the best hogs here.

Another large run of sheep and lambs showed up today, over 48,000 head. This makes about 104,000 for the two days. On account of the heavy receipts the market was quite slow and killers were 10@20c lower, while feeders were at least 20c lower than Monday's close. This means that the market on feeder lambs is 40@50c lower at least than the close of last week.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, good to choice, $7.25@7.40; lambs, fair to good, $6.85@7.25; lambs, culls, $5.00@6.00; lambs, feeders, $5.75@6.70; yearlings, good to choice, $5.50@5.75; yearlings, fair to good, $5.25@5.50; yearlings, feeders, $4.75@5.50; wethers, good to choice, $4.15@4.35; wethers, fair to good, $4.00@4.15; wethers, feeders, $3.75@4.15; ewes, good to choice, $3.80@4.00; ewes, fair to good, $3.65@3.80; ewes, feeders, $3.00@3.65; cull sheep, $2.00@3.00.

The traditional Hamlet of our stage is a lean, ascetic young person, an idealized, etherealized, heroic creature evolved for the delectation of the matinee girl. He is a horrid sham. Is it credible that such a man would have lacked the determination, the purposefulness, to put his revenge into operation pat upon the discovery? It is all very well to argue about his mental balance. It was his sluggish liver that staved him and hampered him. Hamlet's father was a fat and lethargic man by his own account.

Sleeping within my orchard, My custom always of the afternoon, he says in his ghostly interview.

We may then look for some clew to Hamlet's character as soon as he is alone on the stage. What are his words?

Oh, that this too, too solid flesh would melt! It is a keynote that may not be glossed over as a beautiful thought, for the same idea bursts out some lines farther on, where he says of the world: Things rank and gross in nature Possess it merely.

Is it credible that such thoughts are there for any purpose save to guide us as to the nature of this prince? They serve a double purpose. Not merely do we learn that Hamlet was a fat man, but also that he was an unhappy fat man. Hamlet was a man to whom his bulk was an affliction. He was handicapped by it and knew that he was. Some such idea is discernible in every one of the great soliloquies. He scorns himself for a sluggard.

What is a man If his chief good and market of his time Be but to sleep and feed?

His mind, unlighted or not, is obscured by fatness, and in the mad turmoil of emotions after he has slain Polonius his thoughts run: We fat all creatures else to fat us, and We fat ourselves for maggots.

It bursts out again in the "Oh, what a rogue and peasant slave!" hurangue. Ere this I should have fatted all the region's kites With this slave's offal.

And who but a fat, lethargic man would have said in the "To be or not to be" speech: Who would fardels bear To grunt and sweat under a weary life. Does not the phrase bring to mind at once the picture of a fat man toiling at some loathsome task?—London Express.

GRASS LINED BOOTS.

They Are Worn by the Nomadic Lapps. Who Never Get Cold Feet.

White-clothed men suffer intensely from cold feet every winter. The Lapps, living in the far north of Europe, has no such trouble. A traveler writes: "Their boots are made of reindeer skin and are worn very large, and the toes are pointed and curve upward so as to be easily slipped into their slits. The Lapp usually fills his boots half full with a peculiar green grass, into which he thrusts his naked feet. He then packs the boots full with more grass, tucks the ends of his trousers inside and binds them tightly round with many turns of a brightly woven braid. With these precautions they never suffer from cold feet, and chilblains, corns or such like civilized complaints are an unknown horror to them."

Concerning other customs the same writer says: "The Lapps are essentially a nomadic race and spend most of their lives wandering fancy free among the wild and glorious scenery of their northern home. However, at times no doubt the stillness of the frozen mountains becomes too still, and they turn their herds and start toward their nearest meeting place. Twice a year they hold these general gatherings—at Easter and midsummer—when they congregate and hold a general fair. It is on these occasions that they celebrate their weddings and funerals. The revelries last only about ten days, but many marriages take place between couples who perhaps have never met previously.

"As soon as a Lapp can afford to buy enough reindeer for himself he leaves the parental tent, takes a wife and rooms away wherever his heart or reindeer dictates. There are no social distinctions in Lapland. Should a man have no reindeer or possibly have lost what he had he travels with a rich man and helps him tend the herd, but he lives and feeds with them in the same tent and is quite on a social equality until he can afford to start off with his own herd."—Chicago News.

TURKISH VENGEANCE.

It's a Perilous Matter to Endanger the Life of a Sultan.

Within two weeks after the assassination of Mahmud Shekfat Pasha, the grand vizier of Turkey, thirty-two men were put to death for taking part in the conspiracy. According to Turkish custom handed down from the time of Mohammed, there is no limit as to the number of lives that may be taken as a penalty for the murder of one man. Even those interested in the remotest degree are liable to the sultan's vengeance. It is not so much the number the ruler of Turkey is authorized to put out of the way, but rather where the line is to be drawn.

The Turks have a story of one of the earlier successors of Mohammed whose life was only endangered because of a rock falling down a declivity near which the sultan was riding with his retinue. Half a dozen of those in charge of the trip were put to death as an ordinary matter of course, then half a dozen more who might have remotely known something about the facilities afforded by the road for killing the sultan. Finally all the members of a secret club or lodge were ordered executed because it was ascertained that one of the responses to a password was "Will you roll down the stone?"

Despite the protestations of the club members that the words had no significance at all with respect to the sultan or the sultan's trip along the road, they were ordered to the scaffold. They numbered 118 in all and died bravely, assuring their executioners to the very last that they were innocent. Later a eunuch who told how the falling of the rock was merely an accident was also put to death for daring to say so.—New York Sun.

Killed by Light.

Those who have studied the strange inhabitants of the Mammoth cave in Kentucky say that the celebrated blind fish from that cavern when placed in illuminated aquaria seek out the darkest places, and it is believed that light is directly fatal to them, for they soon die if kept in a brightly lighted tank. The avoidance of light seems to be a general characteristic of the sightless creatures dwelling in the great cave.

Starting Something.

"While you are in asking papa for my hand in marriage, Philip, I'll be playing something lively on the piano," said the sweet young thing.

"No, I wouldn't do that, Jessien," replied the young man. "You know some people can't keep their feet still when they hear lively music."—Yonkers Statesman.

Sometimes They Are Wrong.

"A woman never admits that she was wrong." "I don't know about that," replied Mr. Meekton. "A number of them seem particularly anxious to prove that they showed pretty poor judgment in selecting husbands."—Washington Star.

Enough to Make Him Rave.

"What is the editor of the health hints department raving about?" "A rich woman writes that she gives private moving picture shows in her home, and she wants to know if they will injure her peevish eyes."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Its Limitations.

A sweet disposition is a great institution as a general thing, although of little assistance in driving mules.—Atchison Globe.

Still They Come to a Good Town

Saturday, September 6, 1913, while their many friends supposed that they were attending the Nebraska state fair, Mr. Fred Young of Syracuse and Miss Agnes Ganzel were not there. They had gone in search of a good place from which to start on life's journey as husband and wife, hence they came to Wayne, where they knew no one and no one knew them. They were married at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Glatfely Saturday, September 6, 1913, and then left for a trip to the Minnesota lakes and after a short honeymoon there they will be at home in Syracuse. The Democrat wishes that it be a happy home.

WATCH FOR THIS ECLIPSE.

It Will Come In 1991 and Will Be a Remarkable One.

For long distance predicting Professor David Todd of Amherst has made his mark, for he has expressed the opinion that on July 11, 1991, on the mountain peak of Popocatepetl or Orizaba, in Mexico, there will be a great gathering of astronomers and other scientists, possibly a greater gathering than any one of the sort ever taking place before that time. He has determined that on that date there will be the finest eclipse of the sun ever known since eclipses were first predicted with certainty, and these peaks will be the choicest grand stand seats for the performance.

As eclipses are the only opportunities for studying certain qualities of the sun and sunlight and the energy from the sun, which supports all life on earth, is arousing more and more study because of the possibilities for human progress it offers, he feels certain that in 1991 there will be even more interest in eclipses than there is at present.

One reason why it will be a remarkable eclipse is that it will be total for 7 minutes 10 seconds. The longest one ever known was 6 minutes 20 seconds, while the longest one that can ever happen can only be 7 minutes 58 seconds.

Another advantage is that the sun will be directly overhead, so that there will be the least possible amount of interference from the atmosphere. The great interest in an eclipse is the corona, a hoop of light that appears when the moon entirely hides the sun. It is from the corona that many of the most important secrets of the sun have been learned.

Professor Todd has found that in the next 300 years there will be nine total eclipses of the sun visible in Mexico, many of them fine ones, though none so valuable for study as that of 1991.—Saturday Evening Post.

Hog Cholera Preventative

The prevalence of hog cholera or some destroying disease commonly called by that name will make the following letter, written by J. B. Dague of Osceola, Iowa, of much interest at this time. The remedy is simple and cheap, and unless some one can answer his challenge is well worth trial. He writes: "I notice that Mr. Brandes of Atlantic has lost 200 head of hogs from cholera after they had been treated with the cholera serum, and that the disease is not understood. Now for over thirty years I have been preaching charcoal for hogs and never lost one in my life from disease, nor knew of any person losing one where he fed charcoal, say once in two weeks. The old theory was the disease was worse after commencing to feed new corn. But that fallacy is certainly now exploded, as the disease is so prevalent before the new corn is ready.

A hog is essentially a scavenger, and after eating food, will and drink, swarming with worms and other living germs, it is no wonder he becomes diseased himself. But even then he can resist their bad effects if he gets the proper food to keep their bowels loose, such as clover, alfalfa, bran, oil meal, a variety of grain, etc.

The life of a hog averages less than one year, and it seems to me there is gross neglect for the millions of dollars loss every year when with proper treatment he can so easily be put on the revenue side.

And it would be different, too, if any man anywhere, who had practiced feeding charcoal could say it was a failure. But I know many farmers who feed it as often as every two weeks, from pigs up, and have yet to find a single failure. And it is easily understood. A hog with a ring in his nose or on a tight floor soon becomes constipated and wormy and the charcoal cuts the worms all to pieces and they pass out, as plainly seen in his droppings, making him healthy and able to throw off and resist disease.

It is the simplest remedy on earth, but the hardest to get people to adopt, as many say:

"Yes, we feed slack or stone coal," which is the very worst thing they could possibly find, as it has a tendency to constipate or bind them up. It is even worse than the ring in the nose. Dr. Calkins, our veterinary here, cut open some hogs that had died of "cholera," which had been vaccinated with the serum, and found them swarming with worms from six to eight inches long. They were crawling out of the poor hog's nose and mouth. They had penetrated the poor hogs nose and mouth. They had penetrated the intestines and a half dozen were crawling and tunneling through its live. Less than one dollar's worth of charcoal per head would have saved all such hogs.—Ex.

It Does Pay to Advertise

Milford (Ill.) Herald: The man who conducts his business on the theory that it doesn't pay and he can't afford to advertise, sets up his judgment in opposition to that of all the business men in the world. Says an experienced advertising authority: "With a few years' experience in conducting a small business to few thousands of capital, he assumes he knows more than thousands whose hourly transactions aggregate more than his do in a year, and who have made their millions by pursuing a course that he says doesn't pay."

If advertising doesn't pay why is it that the most successful merchants of every town, large or small, are the heaviest advertising? If advertising doesn't pay, who does the most business? If it does not pay why is it that the most successful business firms in the world spend millions in that way. Is it because they want to donate these millions to the newspaper and magazine publishers, or because they don't know as much about business as the six-for-a-dollar merchant who says money spent in advertising is thrown away or donated to the man to whom it is paid? Such talk is simply ridiculous, and it requires more than the average patience to discuss this proposition with that kind of a man. His complacent self conceit in assuming that he knows more than the whole world, is laughable, and reminds us of the man who proved that the world doesn't revolve by placing a pumpkin on a stump and watching it all night.

The Water Question

Wayne county is beyond doubt one of the best watered counties in the state—not perhaps by running stream—though nicely supplied with small streams of living water; but we had reference to the wells. This most severe of all dry weather waves in recent years has developed but comparatively little well trouble. There are three kinds of wells in this vicinity, the shallow dug wells, which have been the first to feel the effect of the dry weather—the drove well, which is good for plenty of water as a rule until the point becomes corroded or stopped in some manner, and the drilled tubular wells, which are the most dependable. The tubular wells are put down to a bed of coarse gravel which carries an endless supply of good water, and it is reached at depths varying in depth of from 150 feet to 250 feet and the water invariably raises to a height of more than half the depth of the well, and in some to within forty or fifty feet of the surface. Where it does this it is as easy to pump as from a shallow well. The first strata carrying water is about thirty feet below the surface, but as it is a sort of quicksand it is difficult to so wall or curb it as to keep the sand from filling in.

During this dry season a number of shallow wells in Wayne and vicinity have "gone dry" and some of the points on the drove wells are not working well, having no doubt become too much clogged to draw the water as far as necessary when the supply is less than normal.

The city wells are drove wells, there being something like thirty points sunk for the supply, and thus far they are meeting the demands, but it might be well to be as saving with the water as possible, for in case of fire it might be needed. Many people are yet using water to sprinkle lawns, which at this season of the year is not necessary unless it be a lawn just started. In view of the water famine in many places no one could do otherwise than commend the city council should they order all irrigation of lawns or gardens discontinued.

What Alfalfa Does

According to an expert of the agricultural department there are 50,000,000 acres of alfalfa in the United States and that for a series of years it has yielded a little over five tons to the acre. He says from the roots and stubble of an acre there can be gathered twenty pounds of phosphoric acid, thirty-eight pounds of potash and ninety pounds of nitrogen; that as a gatherer of nitrogen from the air it is superior to the celebrated Scandinavian electric plant of which so much has been written in the technical journals and daily press.

Alfalfa entered the United States by way of the Pacific coast and its merits pushed it over the Rocky mountains and out over the plains until it crossed the Missouri and Mississippi rivers. It will not be long before it will cross the Alleghenies and appear along the Atlantic coast.

Wet season or dry season if there is any rain at all there is a crop, or more correctly, there are three crops in the wet season and at least one in the dry season. Then it is of more value per acre than any other crop. Farmers are very conservative and are prone to stick to the ways of their fathers but those who first took up alfalfa raising now have automobiles, herds of cattle and hogs or sell milk and butter by the ton. The testimony of the experiment stations is that it will grow almost anywhere in these northern states. The accumulative evidence is forcing the old standpat farmers of the eastern states to take notice.—World Herald.

The Democratic Committeemen adjacent to the postoffice at Wayne, together with all candidates for the office are hereby called to meet on Saturday, September 13th, 1913, at 3 p. m., at Court House for the purpose of arranging for a primary and any other business that may come before them.

The Only Way to Bust the Trust

Last winter we opposed the passage of a law permitting counties to build and operate telephone lines. Later developments have convinced us that we were in error and we are now glad that the bill passed. We need just such a law to aid us in fighting the telephone trust.—Howells Journal.

Fry Wins in Winside Primaries

At the primary held at Winside last Saturday to determine who the people wish to serve them as postmaster at that place during the next four years the result was as follows:

Clint Fry 130; E. W. Cullen 90; I. D. Brugger 10.

The committee and candidates voted to have an open primary, and no one should say that the people have not had their day in this postoffice fight.

Romance of a Gainsborough.

A great dealer, now dead, once told me that sauntering into an auction room he observed the portrait of a boy in a hat, ascribed to Gainsborough. He had that power of eye which can pierce through superposed paint, and, looking deep down into that picture, he felt certain that the hat was an addition and the boy a girl. He bought the portrait for a song, to find that his dream had come true. It was a true Gainsborough, and the likeness of a beautiful girl. What had probably happened brings a drama before us. Some old Squire Western had disinherited an eloping daughter, had pulled the Gainsborough down and sent it to a country dauber for transformation. "Dash his wig and buttons" (only the oath was worse) if he would ever look on the unfaithful, ungrateful baggage again. The picture had cost good money and must be kept, though bad she had proved. It should be a boy.—Walter Sichel in T. P.'s Weekly of London.

CAUSE OF BAD FLAVORS IN BUTTER

Bad flavors in butter come from two sources. They may be absorbed from odors, and they may be caused by the presence of bacteria.

Odors may get into the milk in the barn, coming from the cow, the milker, the utensils or from the food or dust, says the Kansas Industrialist. The second source is in the milk house, from the separator or containing vessels. If the separating is done in the barn, so much the worse for the cream; if done in the kitchen, food flavors are absorbed. The churn is the third source of bad flavor. When not properly cured for it soon grows musty. A churn that is not well cleaned before and after using affects the taste of butter.

Butter churned too soft cannot be properly washed and so contains a great deal of buttermilk. Buttermilk contains, besides water, the solids casein, albumen and milk sugar. Milk sugar is used as a food by the ferments which are secreted by the organisms. These ferments destroy casein

The American Guernsey Cattle club was the first organization of its kind to establish an advanced registry on the basis of a year's production of butter fat. No animal of any age can get into this advanced register that does not produce more than 600 pounds of butter fat in one year. The average of the thirty-five leading Guernseys in the 1912 list was over 707 pounds of butter fat. Not everybody can own such cows because they do not exist in sufficient numbers. Yeska Sunburst, the Guernsey cow shown, is one of the good ones. She is owned by H. D. Griswold of Wisconsin.

and albumen in the buttermilk contained in the butter and so cause rancid or putrid butter.

Fermentation begun in cream does not cease in butter. It may go far enough to break up the butter fats, causing ill flavored butter.

Odors get into the butter, or they may get into the milk or cream and then be imparted to the butter. The greatest source of bad flavor is from cream that has not been properly cared for. Milk, cream or butter absorbs odors if kept in a fruit or vegetable cellar or in a musty, ill ventilated room. Even musty wells or ill ventilated caves impart peculiar flavors. One of the most common disagreeable flavors is known as "weedy." The cause is laid to feed, but in most cases it is due to rapidly growing organisms which get into the cream from unclean surroundings.

To prevent bad flavors in butter great care must be used in milking, in handling the milk and cream and in making the butter. Everything used must be kept in a sanitary condition.

Milk in a clean, well ventilated barn, using care not to raise dust. The milker should wear while milking a clean apron or a pair of overalls. Utensils, including the separator, must be washed and scalded after each milking. Use milk utensils with no open seams.

The milk must be removed from the barn immediately after milking. Cream will keep best if kept in a clean, well ventilated room, preferably a separate milk house. Warm and cold cream should not be mixed.

HAMS OF FINE FLAVOR.

Directions For Curing and Smoking According to a Famous Recipe.

After the hogs have been killed and the meat thoroughly cooled the fresh surface is sprinkled with fine saltpeter until the meat is white, says the Farm Magazine in describing a good recipe for curing hams. About three or four pounds of saltpeter are used to 1,000 pounds of hams. Fine salt is then rubbed over the entire surface, and the hams are packed in bulk not deeper than three feet.

In ordinary weather they should remain thus for several days, at least three. Then break the bulk and re-salt with fine salt and again pack. Each ham should remain in bulk at least one day for each pound of weight. The hams are then hung up and gradually smoked for thirty or forty days with hickory or red oak bark.

When the smoking is complete they should be re-peppered and placed in canvas bags to guard against vermin. The hams cured as indicated improve with age, and are considered about perfect.

Hogs Need Much Water.
Water is as essential in the production of hams on a hog as is grain. If grain fell from the sky and we had to grow water our estimation of their value would be reversed. For the reason that water is free and everywhere available the failure to supply plenty of it fresh for the hogs in summer is absolutely inexcusable. With two inches of fat all over his body the hog does not need 90 degrees temperature to keep comfortable. In summer he suffers much from the heat, and his greatest relief is in water. It thins his blood, cools him off and makes him happy. A happy hog grunts. A grunting hog is contented. A contented hog is profitable.

Backing Up the Purchaser

If we didn't have an eye to the future, and if we didn't care what you or anybody else was going to think of us, we could sell engines and other machines for much less money, but we could not put I H C quality into them. The kicks would start coming in right away, and soon there would be no market for I H C engines.

I H C engines stand for everything that is opposed to such a policy. The I H C way is to build always for the respect and good will of the American farmer, and to that end it has been successfully working for many years. The dealer who sells you an I H C engine expects on its merits to do business with you again. The purchaser of an buys security and safety with it. He banks on the many years of square dealing and the reputation back of all I H C machines. He knows it is the best engine bargain because it gives him efficient service in all kinds of farm work — pumping, sawing wood, spraying, running repair shop, grindstone, cream separator, etc. He knows that I H C responsibility for it lasts as long as the engine is in service on his farm. I H C oil and gas engines operate on gas, gasoline, naphtha, kerosene, distillate, and alcohol. Sizes range from 1 to 50-horse power. They are built vertical, horizontal, portable, stationary, skidded, air-cooled and water-cooled. I H C oil tractors range in size from 6-12 to 30-60-horse power, for plowing, threshing, etc.

Mere Mention of Events

The Norris amendment to the new tariff law taxing unearned wealth to death failed to pass. The measure had points of merit, and something like it will no doubt have a place in legislation at the regular session.

Jerome was not found guilty of gambling and the court apologized for its part in the humiliating experience with the attorney.

Down in Maine the republicans elected, by about 500 plurality, John A. Peters to congress from the 3rd district. The vote for Wilson in that district last fall was 14,692; the vote Tuesday for Pattangall the democratic nominee was 14,553; the progressive vote fell off from 13,236 for Teddy to 6,637, and the vote for Taft last fall 7,159. The returns show that the democratic party vote is practically the same, but the Monse vote is going back to the stand pat faction of the party.

The tariff bill passed the Senate Tuesday practically as it was reported from the committee—all amendments being voted down. It was a most remarkable victory of the people, and the holding in line of so small a majority through such a fight shows a unity of purpose among democrats to do the will of the people and keep platform pledges. The bill will now go to a conference committee from house to senate and is promised for a final vote this month.

Tariff Bill Passes Senate

Washington, Sept. 10—The democratic tariff revision bill passed the senate yesterday by a vote of 44 to 37, after all amendments had been defeated. Senators La Follette, republican, and Poindexter, progressive, voted for the measure. Senators Ransdell and Thornton, democrats, voted against it.

The tariff bill as it passed the senate retained the principal house provisions, including free sugar and free raw wool, but revised other rates still downward. The average advalorem rate in the bill now is approximately 26 per cent, a decrease of 28 per cent from

The Reasons Why

We Invite You to See our Southern Minnesota Lands

- 1st—BECAUSE the price is one half less than is asked for no better lands just across the state line in Iowa.
- 2nd—BECAUSE they are convenient to the best of markets, and a lower freight rate means from 5 to 7 cents more per bushel on the grain you market.
- 3rd—BECAUSE it is a good corn country, a good grain country, a good grass country, a good stock country and a good dairy country.
- 4th—BECAUSE the black loam soil over a clay subsoil insures that the present fertility can be maintained. It is a well watered land with the best of water for man and beast.
- 5th—BECAUSE it is well drained, but not too rolling: It is the kind of land that needs little if any tilling and does not wash to excess.

For these and other reasons we believe that those who buy from us in southern Minnesota are buying in a country that today is selling below its real value as compared with any land situated as well, as productive and desirable—hence we are selling bargains, and on easy terms—5 to 5 1/2 per cent on deferred payments and long time.

We also have listed some choice Wayne county farms which may be had at bargain prices and on easy terms.

Asking you to come and see us, take a 5-hour ride to the garden spot of Minnesota and see the offering, we are yours for business,
