FLEGE ASKS FOR INSPECTION

Asks Court to Have His Sister's Body Exhumed for Expert Examination.

Pender, Neb., Nov. 10.—William Flege, twice convicted of the murder of his sister on the family farm in Dixon county, Nebraska, has made application to Judge Guy T. Graves, for the appointment of a physician to exhumate the body of the sister and make findings of the testimony of Dr. Meis, of Sioux City, and Dr. Graham, the coroner of Dixon county. The testimony of these two physicians differ to such an extent that perjury is charged.

Judge Graves denied the motion, but Flege's attorneys will exhumate the body anyway to get the evidence wanted. Dr. Meis testified for the defense.

The foregoing message in the Monday evening Sioux City Tribune tells of the asking and refusing by the court. As stated there the body was exhumed Monday in the presence of numerous witnesses, and the court was notified of the hour and date and asked to have a representative present which it did not do. Attorney F. S. Berry accompanied by Dr. Meis of Sioux City, Dr. O'Connell of Ponca, Drs. Blair and Williams of this place, Dr. Buis of Pender, Dr. Tomlinson of Wakefield. In addition to the above the trustees of the cemetery, Rev. Gehrke and a number of people living in the neighborhood were present when the body was taken up and examined by the physicians.

County Attorney Kingsberry of Dixon county, Dr. Graham of Allen the county coroner and Howard Paxton, county attorney for Thurston county were notified, but not present. As to the result of the examination, Attorney Berry, when interviewed, said that it was very satisfactory.

The third trial of Wm. Flege is set for the January term of the district court in Thurston county where the case was taken for the second trial upon a change of venue, and where the third trial will doubtless be held, as only defendant could be granted a change and so far as we know he is not asking for a change.

New Depot Opening

Friday evening the new depot will be formally opened to the public with appropriate ceremony. The people of Wayne and vicinity are invited to be present. In addition to the short program given below light refreshments will be served. At a meeting of the executive committee of the Commercial Club Tuesday evening committees were named to take charge of the reception of visitors and serve the visitors.

PROGRAM

Toastmaster, W. D. Redmond. Music—Commercial Club Band. Selection—Normal Male Quartet "The New Depot and Our Appreciation," L. A. Kiplinger, president of Commercial Club. Response, Henry Truelson, of Omaha.

"Street Paving Proposition—What it Means to Wayne," A. R. Davis. Relation of the Railroads to the People—Prof. C. H. Bright. Reminiscences—T. W. Moran. "Electroliers for Business Section,"—Prof. Hunter. "Observations," F. L. Wright. Music—Normal Male Quartet. Light refreshments.

"The Vision of Joy"

Under this title Dr. Alexander Corkey adds the fifth popular literary work to his credit. The editor received a copy from the author and the work is now on sale at Wayne and the other principal cities of the land. Not having found time to read the story we can but say that as a sequel to the popular book, "The Victory of Allan Rutledge," it is sure to find great favor. From our knowledge of the writings and views of this author and preacher we know that the story has an uplifting sentiment, that it will tell of the possibilities of progressive Christianity and ably present an appeal for better living—a life of action rather than repose in creed. It is a work which will tend to inspire good resolutions and right actions, and uphold Christianity.

Wayne Council Proceedings

Harry Harril was granted a license to operate a shooting gallery in the old Goldie building.

A petition was read signed by A. M. Helt and enough more of the property owners in the district to be reached, asking the formation of a sewer district in the east part of the city. The district is to comprise blocks 2 and 7 of Lales addition, blocks 2 and 10 of North addition and blocks 2 and 15 of the original town of Wayne. Petition was granted and an ordinance creating the district was duly passed to its final reading. The city engineer will prepare plats, plans and specifications for the work and make an estimate of the cost of construction.

A special improvement tax will be levied by the mayor and council to pay for the sidewalks and parking walks recently constructed by order of the council where the property owners neglected or refused to construct said walks after proper notice. The Mayor and council will meet on the 16th day of December at 7:30 on a board of equalization to pass upon the value of abutting property for improvement tax, by reason of the sidewalk tax levied.

The council issued the following appeal:

The Mayor and city council of the city of Wayne, hereby call upon the citizens of Wayne to cooperate in the matter of keeping our streets and alleys clear of obstruction and in a sanitary and slightly condition during the fall and winter months now approaching.

Citizens are reminded that there are city ordinances forbidding the piling or throwing of ashes and other refuse in the streets and alleys, which ordinance has the usual penalties attached.

There are also ordinances and procedure for securing the prompt removal of snow from sidewalks of property owners during the winter months.

However the Mayor and Council realize that the desired results can better be secured by the co-operation of the citizens and this co-operation is earnestly requested.

To this end it is suggested that each party having ashes or other refuse to dispose of, provide suitable ash pits or other receptacles for receiving the same. It is also suggested that citizens can materially contribute to the general welfare of the city and the convenience of the public by keeping the walks clear of ice and snow.

It is the purpose of the Mayor and Council to put forth their best efforts to secure the conditions contemplated by the city ordinances on the aforesaid matters.

Greenwald--Pfeil

Thursday afternoon, November 6, 1913, at the German Lutheran church, in this city, Mr. Otto Greenwald and Miss Lena Pfeil were united in marriage. Rev. Rudolph Moehring, the pastor, officiating.

The bride, gowned in white messlin overdressed in white chiffon and embroidered with crystal beads and carrying a bouquet of white roses, accompanied by the groom in the conventional black, approached the altar to the strains of a wedding march played by Miss Rosa Piepenstock. The bridesmaids, Misses Matilda Berres and Alelia Worvel were gowned in light blue crepe mull trimmed in shadowed lace. The groomsmen were Albert Greenwald and Henry Peters.

Following the solemn ceremony at the church the wedding party returned to the home of the bride's parents, Charles Pfeil and wife, seven miles southeast of Wayne, where they were joined by many guests at the reception in honor of the happy couple, and a merry evening was spent, and an elaborate wedding feast served. The bride and groom were the recipients of most hearty congratulations.

The groom is the son of Philip Greenwald and wife, and is an industrious young farmer, who with his wife will be at home on the farm of his father near Altona. The Democrat joins in extending good wishes.

Hillman--Walrath

Thursday, November 13, 1913, by Judge James Britton, Mr. Uri Hillman and Miss Blanche Walrath, both of Crofton, were married at the county court room.

The Death of Theodore Dockendorf

Theodore Dockendorf, who died at the home of C. E. Sprague and wife, his daughter, Friday, November 7, 1913, following a sickness of several months of cancer and other complications of old age, was born at Booksweller, Germany, October 26, 1835, and was therefore 78 years and 11 days of age. He came to America when 21 years of age, and in 1858 was married to Miss Louisa Bullock at Lockport, Illinois. Of the four sons and two daughters born to this union there are three sons and a daughter, surviving. Coming to Sheldon, Iowa, in 1885 he made that place his home until the death of his wife a few years ago, since which time he has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Sprague and family.

There was a funeral service at the Sprague home Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. B. P. Richardson, and Monday the body was taken to Sheldon, where Rev. Parker Smith had charge of service Monday afternoon, and the body was laid beside that of his life companion. Of his life and character, the following is contributed by Rev. Richardson:

Mr. Dockendorf, belonged to that class of immigrants from Europe which has enriched American life with many noble contributions. That sturdy manhood, rugged character, indomitable persistency was the type of man our growing country needed. To such men we today owe a debt of profound gratitude for the pioneer foundation work in the development of our country. We today are enjoying the fruits of struggle, toil and sacrifice on the part of the fathers who came before us. There is something calling forth our strong admiration for such lives, as this one, which has just departed.

Mr. Dockendorf was a man of high ideals, deep sympathy, strong convictions and noble courage. Something heroic was written in the furrows of his brow. Manhood of study worth was revealed in his words and deeds.

Naturally of a jovial disposition, he enjoyed a hearty laugh and always greeted his friends in such a way that one believed he meant what he said. Up until within a short time of his going, his hearty greetings, characteristic of his life, was a tonic to others as they came to his bedside. No doubt much of his suffering was concealed from others because he looked on the bright side of things. He knew his time had come, and told some of his friends that when the leaves would be gone he also would then go.

Having lived to a ripe age, his letting go of life was as natural, and gradual, as the loosening and falling of the leaves in autumn. His genial greeting and kindly presence will be missed by many. His influence through the lives of those left behind who knew him best will live on and on, and though he be dead yet shall he speak and live in the lives of others.

Social Notes

A large number of the friends of Conrad Frevert, relatives, neighbors and pioneer companions gathered at the home of Carl Frevert and wife at their home southeast of Wayne last Thursday to help that venerable pioneer celebrate his 79th birthday anniversary. The coming was a complete surprise to Mr. Frevert, but none the less enjoyed very much. When seven vehicles loaded with his relatives and friends drove into the place at once he became suspicious, and when he heard the gentle voice of "Dick" Hansen wishing him well he understood what it all meant.

The party, consisted of Henry Frevert and family, Herman Frevert and daughters, Ed Hageman and children, Detrich Meier and two grandchildren, Henry Meier and wife, Wm. Dammy and wife, Pat Steyers, wife and daughters, Frank Lass and family, R. H. and H. J. Hansen and wives, Herman Miller and wife, Wm. Tehrs, wife and mother-in-law, David Baier, wife and three children and Rev. Klinthwsky, the minister of the church west of Wayne.

With such a party of jovial people it is unnecessary to say that they had a happy day with their old friend whom all were glad to honor, and no one of the party enjoyed the event more than the surprised host. Of good eatables there was a plenty, and when the people returned to their homes that evening it was with the best wishes that they said goodbye to Mr. Frevert and wished him many other birth anniversaries.

The Wayne A. O. U. W. Lodge 103, held its regular meeting Thursday night, the 6th. Deputy G. M. W., J. R. Barton was here and wrote a few applications for us. G. M., A. M. Walling of David City, was present and administered the obligations. He also gave an interesting talk on insurance lines and the benefits derived from the A. O. U. W., and the rapid gain we have made, and that the financial condition of the order was never better. Our lodge has awakened and expects to initiate a class at the next meeting. Deputy Barton is with us and will officiate at the next meeting. We all did ample justice to a splendid supper consisting of oysters, pickles, celery and olives, and all went home feeling it was beneficial to have been there. Our current S. A. P. should have its effect on this lodge and let every member get an application.

The ladies of the Helping Hand society north of town entertained their families at the home of Mrs. Adam Grier Saturday evening, November 8th. About sixty-five were present. The rooms were decorated with black cats, witches and owls. A fish pond afforded much fun for the children. The guests were seated at two long tables and served with oysters, sandwiches, cake, coffee and fruit. The evening was spent in music and games. It was a very happy crowd that departed at a late hour expressing themselves well pleased with their entertainment and hoping the better halves might invite them again.

At the meeting of the U. D. club which met at the home of Mrs. Ray Reynolds this week, Mrs. Harry Jones presented an excellent paper on Oriental Rugs, giving a geography, telling where they are made. As a prelude to the discussion, Mrs. J. H. Felber gave a piano selection which was much enjoyed. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harry Craven when Mrs. Woodward Jones will give a paper on the weaving of Oriental Rugs.

The Minerva club met with Mrs. Grothe Tuesday, when answers to roll call consisted of current events. Mrs. Lutgen was leader in the subject "Suffrage" and also presented an interesting article on Woman's Suffrage. It was decided to have the meetings on Monday hereafter, and the next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lackey in two weeks.

The Library Board has arranged to entertain the children of Wayne every Saturday afternoon from three to four o'clock by appointing some one to tell stories. This week all children between the ages of seven and twelve are invited. This is a good idea and will tend to give the children proper amusement outside of school hours. Let the good work go on.

ment outside of school hours. Let the good work go on.

The Bible Study Circle had a most profitable meeting this week at the home of Mrs. Dayton. Mrs. Noakes presented the lesson in a helpful way, all discussing freely. As it was discovered to be Miss White's birthday flowers were ordered and given to her as a token of the esteem the ladies have for her. Mrs. Lutgen will entertain the Circle next week.

The Monday club met with Mrs. Marsteller this week when the subject of the lesson was current events. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Kiplinger when a study on current events will be continued and Mrs. Mellor will give a book review.

The Junior Circle will meet with Mrs. C. M. Christensen Friday evening, guests of Miss Adams, and a pleasant occasion is anticipated. All the members are especially requested to be present.

The Acme club met with Mrs. Jacobs this week. Current events led by Mrs. Brittell, occupied chief attention during the afternoon. Mrs. Ellis will be hostess next week.

The W. C. T. U. had a Mother's meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Theobald last Friday afternoon when a good attendance was present.

The foot ball team was defeated at Lyons last Saturday because two of the regular players were not in the lineup. The boys played a good offensive game but were weak on defense.

No game this week. Stanton plays here on Thanksgiving and possibly Norfolk next week.

The high school leaders conference of Northeast Nebraska will be held at the Wayne high school on Saturday and Sunday, December 13 and 14.

Mrs. McNeal and Mrs. Ellis were visitors on Wednesday.

The Domestic Science room is being equipped for cooking next semester.

L. A. Kiplinger Speaks To Students

On Wednesday morning County Attorney L. A. Kiplinger delighted the high school with an address on "Looking Backward and Looking Forward." Mr. Kiplinger said he would present a few "Old Truths" in his own way and in part he said: "It is not so long since I was a student and I greatly miss my student days. We too often don't appreciate the importance of our school life and think it a thing apart from real life. Our school life is more than a preparation for life—it is a real part of life. The stings of disappointment and the pleasures of victory in our school days are as real as in any other period of our life. What is it that counts in future? Wealth, honor and fame may be obtained but they are worth less than youth. The real happiness and satisfaction in life are in doing, not in having. What we have is of little value unless it is symbolic of what we did. We must really earn a thing to prize it. To prize and enjoy what we achieve we must be fair in the contest of achieving. Fortune and fame wrung from the hand of the helpless are but the hollow sounding mockery of failure. What we do, not what we have, brings happiness and satisfaction and will measure the sweetness of our repose when our work is finished."

Daddy's Bedtime

Story—Orpheus, The Wonderful Musician.

Orpheus Sang to the King.

DADDY was very fond of music. He liked to talk to Jack and Evelyn about the people who had written the beautiful songs and the lovely pieces that mother played on the piano.
"I don't know who was the first musician," daddy said one evening, "but one of the first we hear about was Orpheus, of whom the Greeks told wonderful stories."
"Orpheus sang the songs he made up to the music of his lyre, an instrument that must have been something like the harp. When Orpheus sang it is said the music of his lyre charmed all who heard it. The story is told that when he began to play in the forest the wild animals would gather around and listen with the greatest pleasure."
"Now, the wife of Orpheus was a lovely lady by the name of Eurydice. One day when out in the fields a snake which lay hidden in the grass bit her heel, and she died of the wound."
"Orpheus grieved and grieved for her. He no longer cared to play his harp or sing his beautiful songs."
"At last Orpheus started out, taking his lyre with him. He said, 'I will go seek my Eurydice.'
"Up and down the earth he wandered until at last he came to the gate that led to the Land of Shadows, where the souls of the dead were believed to stand. Orpheus played so lovely an air on his lyre that the grim guardian of the land let him go in. Past the shadows, who stared wondering at him, Orpheus went steadily until he came to the great field of popples that grew close by the garden of the King of the Shadows. The garden was a wonderful place, in which grew lovely fragrant white flowers called asphodel. They clustered all about the golden palace of the king.
"Orpheus passed straight through the garden, into the palace and, standing before the throne on which sat the king and his beautiful wife Persophone, sang a wonderful song about Eurydice.
"The stern king wiped the tears from his eyes, and Queen Persophone wept openly.
"Then Orpheus begged the king to give back Eurydice to him.
"And the king said she might go if Orpheus would promise not to look behind at her until they had passed out of the Land of Shadows and were safely in the world again.
"Orpheus promised, but when he had almost reached the world he forgot his promise and looked back. Then Eurydice had to go back and leave him. He grieved for her so much that it was not long until he joined her. At least that is the way I have heard their story told."

The hen is it, if one can believe that $16,000,000 was paid for poultry in New York City in one year. And then eggs are quoted at 75c per dozen there this week. We should think that biddy would crow.
Thus far the sale business is quiet—at least so far as farm sales are concerned. Prices are so high that every man who owns stock is afraid to sell it for fear he cannot buy it back again in the spring for less money.
R. L. McClure and family came last week from South Sioux City to visit at the home of his parents, J. M. McClure and wife. He returned Sunday afternoon leaving the family to enjoy their visit a few days longer.
Mrs. Dan Harrington and daughter, who have been visiting here for two or three weeks, left Saturday for Chicago, and from there they plan to continue their journey on to the eastern states before returning to their home in California.
R. Philleo and wife left Saturday morning to visit their son at Worthington, Minnesota, for a few days. On their return they will stop at Sioux City and visit their daughter-in-law and grandchildren, and then return to Wayne for a time before returning to their home in Idaho.

Turns It Over to Board.

Intimation That Other Proceedings Will Come—Dean Snodgrass Named Acting President of School Until Successor Is Appointed.

Kearney, Neb., Nov. 11.—Dr. A. O. Thomas resigned his position as head of the state normal school in this city, giving the same by telephone to President Viele of the state board.

The announcement was made to the students by Dr. Thomas, with the request that they attend to their studies as if nothing had happened and that they should act as would best serve the future of the school.

At a mass-meeting held by the students a letter of regret was adopted for presentation to President Thomas. The action by Dr. Thomas was sanctioned by the citizens' committee, who were fighting in his behalf, and at the doctor's request they will drop the matter.

It is anticipated, however, that other action will be taken within a few days. Dean M. R. Snodgrass has been named acting president and has charge of the school until orders are received by the state board.

Dr. Thomas said that he had nothing in view for the present, but would take some time for himself before going into any new position. The two reasons Dr. Thomas gives for staying in his position at the school until this time are: First, to give the state board information relative to his future plans for the school and to be present at the time of checking up the books; second, because he wanted a hearing before the board.

PLAN TO TEACH CONVICTS

Conference Held With Board of Control Over Matter.

Lincoln, Nov. 10.—Chief Justice Reese, ex-Governor C. H. Aldrich and Mr. Storm of the Lincoln Young Men's Christian association held a conference with the board of control on the proposition of inaugurating a course of study in the penitentiary for the benefit of the convicts, many of whom desire to equip themselves better after they leave the prison.

A list was presented containing the names of prisoners who desired to take some special study and the board will consider the matter. The school will be in charge of Chaplain Johnson, who has already been conducting a school there on a small scale. The success of the present school and the interest taken in it by the inmates of the prison has led those like the chief justice, ex-Governor Aldrich, Mr. Storm and others to see if something cannot be done to give the prisoners a chance to get an education, either along common school lines or in special work.

TEACHERS' PRIMARY

Miss McHugh Leads in Race for Presidency—Election by Mail Later.

Omaha, Nov. 10.—Completion of the count of ballots in the primary election of the Nebraska State Teachers' association put Miss Kate McHugh far ahead of the other candidates for president, with A. O. Thomas in second place and Chancellor Avery third. A. H. Waterhouse of Fremont heads the ticket for vice president, while J. E. Matthews of Grand Island, the present treasurer, has a long lead in the race for treasurer.

The five receiving the highest votes for each office will be placed on the ballot, which will be sent to the members of the association through the mail Nov. 31. The teachers are to vote and mail the ballot back to the executive committee not later than Dec. 5. The committee will then meet Dec. 13 in Lincoln to count the vote and declare an election.

NO PREPARATIONS YET MADE

Nebraska Has No Definite Plans for Exposition Building.

Omaha, Nov. 10.—Although the site upon which it was planned to erect a Nebraska building at the Panama-Pacific international exposition was dedicated May 7, 1912, no preparations have yet been made and no funds are in hand for such building, the last legislature having turned down a bill for a state appropriation. In an effort to get under way a popular movement which will result in sufficient money being raised to insure Nebraska representation at the world's fair, L. C. Anderson, a commissioner of the exposition, is in Omaha. He will be here during most of the week.

"I think that there is little doubt that Nebraska will be represented—that is, have a building—at the first real world's fair that the world ever has seen," said Mr. Anderson.

ALLEGED QUACKS ARRESTED

Three Medical Specialists Taken Into Custody at Omaha.

Omaha, Nov. 10.—Three men advertising themselves as medical experts were arrested by federal officers on indictments brought up by the grand jury. They are charged with using the mails to defraud and were released on bonds of $2,000 each. They gave their names as Charles A. Kemmer, E. P. Andrews and L. H. Staples. The federal authorities say another arrest may follow.

All three of these men were arrested for the same kind of practice. They are alleged to have advertised that they were medical experts, with years of experience. Although not working together under one firm, their practice was similar. Victims of supposed diseases applied for examination, which was given free, and then treated for imaginary diseases for extortionate fees.

An Expression of Appreciation. To our Christian brethren and our many friends who came so graciously to our assistance in our hour of need during the siege of typhoid with which my children and self, seven of us in all, were seized and though small and feeble as these few words may seem, as a means of expressing our gratitude for the way you all displayed your whole-souled brotherliness and friendship to us, yet we can say that we owe our recovery and return to health and strength not only to the watchfulness and care we had from physician and nurses and our wife and mother, but to your prayers, generosity and watchfulness of our every need, and we can only say, in the words of our Lord, "In as much as ye did it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye did it unto me," and may He richly reward you all.

Sincerely your friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. Clasen and family.

Can You Guess This. What does man love more than life, hate more than death or mortal strife, that which contented men desire, the poor have, the rich require, the miser spends, and the spendthrift saves, and all men carry to their graves?

The answer to the above is not carried in stock at the store of Gamble & Senter, but you must apply there for an answer.

CLIMBING THE MATTERHORN

Mania Akin to Gambling Possesses Many European Travelers, Says Wm. Boll in Letter from Switzerland.

(From Red Oak Sun)

Zermatt, Switzerland, June 25— This village is one of the most noted in the mountain region of this country, because it lies at the base of that famous peak, the Matterhorn, whose ascent while extremely perilous is attempted by more people than probably any other in Switzerland, and the fatalities are numerous, because "fools rush in," etc., in the hope of being able to boast of having conquered the awful monster. There live at Zermatt many professional guides and they earn anything but fabulous sums ($20 to $30) to pilot people to the top and back again. But they will not take everyone. Their own lives as well as those they take with them are in danger and one whose nerves lack steadiness or who is not apt to be able to endure the fearful hardship is refused. Two or three days are generally required to make the ascent and decent, and if a storm should come as they often do detention in one of the several huts may extend the time to a week or more.

The Matterhorn is peculiar in that it stands almost isolated from all other peaks, that is, a view of it from almost every side is unobstructed by other peaks and its contour is such that it seems inaccessible. A student of solid geometry might be able to tell its shape in one word. This I cannot do. It is only about 600 feet higher than Pike's Peak, but the last 5000 feet forms a pyramid of three faces whose base seems too small for its height and one side of which is almost perpendicular. The other two sides are not far from 65 to 75 degrees. A guide sitting next to me in the train going up a mountain opposite the base of the Matterhorn told me the space at the top was not much larger than the seat we were occupying, there being room for four or five persons standing close together. In the uppermost extremity of the peak there seems to be a twist suggestive of the legendary flaming sword, which gives it an appearance most sinister and forbidding.

Mountain climbing, I have been told, is a passion somewhat akin to gambling. Once indulged it is followed until the habitue is either killed in an accident or his nerves go back on him. It would seem that the propensity is one which had its origin in primitive man, when his necessities compelled him to traverse dangerous places in search of eggs and of animals for food. With the activity, endurance and curiosity of the monkey in his native jungle, so did man in his primal state scurry over rocks and rills in quest of sustenance. And today there are those who, when they come hither to rest and recuperate from the toils of civilization hear and succumb to the irresistible "call of the wild."

A railroad six miles long now goes to the top of a neighboring mountain (the Gornergrat), whose height is 10,200 feet. This line is used now for about three miles by those ascending the Matterhorn, and from information gained while sitting by the side of one of these guides I am able to guess that these sturdy men embody the gentleness of the lamb, the courage of the lion, the endurance of the ox, the swiftness and eye of the eagle and the cunning of the fox. They possess more than these excellent qualities. They have an abounding faith in the goodness and mercifulness of God, for while they will undertake to pilot people on Sunday they will under no circumstances do so until they have attended divine services in the forenoon. Rough and sturdy people as one might expect to find them there is nothing that is loud or profane in their demeanor conversation. They are small, spare, blonde men, with the brightest of blue eyes in which there is a merry twinkle, but hidden behind the kindly features one may detect a reserve force which tells of faculties sharpened by dangerous perils calling for quick wit and prompt action.

I remembered reading a good many years ago in Harper's Magazine an account of a frightful accident on the Matterhorn in which several lost their lives and of the founding by English people of a cemetery for the victims in Zermatt. We looked up the cemetery. In it are the graves of a score or more persons, some of them women, who at that time and since lost their lives in that region, the tombstone in each case giving a brief history of the sad event. There is also in the cemetery a small English church in which regular services are held, since there are always many persons from England in Zermatt. The little cemetery is kept in excellent order and abounds in beautiful shrubs and fragrant roses and other flowers.

The Gornergrat railway is an electric line of the cogwheel variety. It is six miles long and so steep throughout its length that if a person were permitted to walk its track it would be like climbing the roof of a house. It goes quite a long distance above timber line and at its terminus is above the vegetation line. During its last two miles there are immense tracts of snow and glaciers visible on both sides, though the line is high above the glaciers. The glaciers are in fact frozen rivers with a more or less variable current, owing to the warmth or coldness of the seasons. In July and August the movement may be several feet each day, but the total movement each year is pretty accurately calculated. The bodies of travelers who have been lost in crevices reappear after so long a time at the place where the glacier opens into the valley. The appearance of the glacier from above is very much like that of a flowing stream, but of course the surface is partly covered with snow and stones, or glacial drift, as it is called. At the confluence of two glaciers there is plainly visible the joining of two currents, they melting into each other much as does water.

Zermatt is reached by rail from a small town in the Rhone valley called Visp. The ascent of this railway is so great that for more than half its length of 22 miles it is of the cogwheel type. The town of Visp is small and primitive. Few people stop there unless they fail to make connection with the line to Zermatt. Mrs. Boll and myself preferred to pass part of an afternoon and one night there. It paid well to do so, for besides affording rest from the rather long railroad ride to the place it gave opportunity to visit two very old churches and to see old houses, some of them dating back a thousand years. Here we met also a young man from London who had walked over a pass and had been in a snowstorm. It was his sixth visit to the place, and through his kindness we were enabled to learn many things concerning Visp that usually escape the ordinary traveler.

For instance, the young man suggested that a visit to the cemetery which encircles one of the churches was especially interesting to him. He offered to accompany us. In the basement of the church and at its rear there is a large vault open to public view. In this vault is a rick of human skulls, so neatly stacked up that the number in each row, as well as the rows can be easily counted. I counted them. There were 50 in a row from side to side. The tiers were 10 skulls high and there were three tiers. Multiplying these figures gives a total of 1500. Then from a dozen to a score of skulls were lying loose ones being placed there until there should be enough to start another tier.

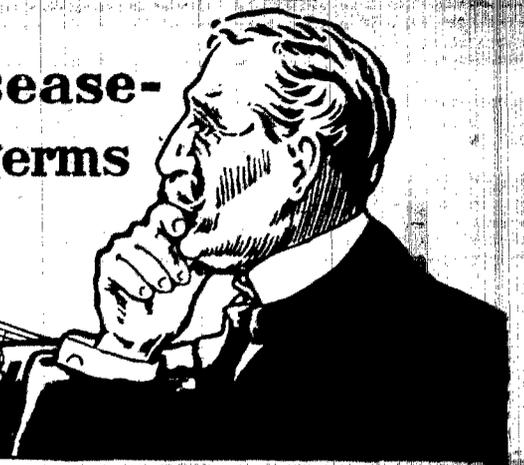

Of course no one knew how many decades had elapsed since the placing of skulls in the vault had begun, but from the size of the town and cemetery it would not seem that much over eight or ten persons could be buried each year, so that probably 50 years have elapsed since. The age of the town is probably not less than 500 years, judging from the architecture of the church, so that there are probably other recesses about the structure which contain their quota of skulls. The ascent to the bell tower in this church is up four flights of stone steps through a passageway so narrow that I could just get through without walking sidewise. The walls are as smooth as glass from the up and down goings of the persons whose duty it has been all these years to ring the bell and great holes are worn in the steps.

In a letter I wrote from here four years ago I alluded to the custom of digging up old graves and burying on the same ground over and over again. The statement was questioned by some. It is true, nevertheless, although there are some localities where it is not practiced. The rule is general, however, that bodies are not placed in family lots, as they are in America, but a grave is made today alongside the one filled yesterday, the first grave being made in one corner of the cemetery and thus continued until the ground is all occupied. When this has been accomplished, as there is no ground available for enlarging the cemetery, the digging of graves begins again in the corner where it originally commenced, 20, 30 or possibly 50 years previously. Very naturally skulls and other bones are uncovered and these are stored in the church vaults.

While inspecting the church at Visp we were surprised by the sudden appearance of two men and

To prevent disease— resist disease germs

SMALLPOX is prevented by vaccination — the injection of vaccine.
DIPHTHERIA is prevented by the injection of anti-toxin.
These enable the body to produce substances which prevent the growth of smallpox and diphtheria germs in the blood.
There are many other diseases, nearly, if not quite as dangerous, and far more common — typhoid fever, the grippe, bronchitis, pneumonia, catarrh, rheumatism, and a score of others — that can be prevented less painfully and more easily by making the body strong to resist germ infection.

Is designed for the prevention as well as the relief of disease — by enabling the body to overcome the germs. It, at the same time, strengthens and tones the nerves, nourishes the blood, puts the entire system into a proper healthy condition to combat and successfully resist disease.

Every person not in perfect health has incipient germs of some distressing ailment in his or her system.

Cold weather, over-work, excesses of any kind, are liable to bring about just the conditions under which those latent disease germs will get the upper hand, and put you on your back "down sick."

You who are run-down, tired-out, nervous — You who, though not sick enough to give up, still don't feel good —

You who are apparently well, and want to stay well — Take home a bottle of Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion today, and use it as a means to get well and keep well.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is a real nerve-food tonic.

In this it is different from most other so-called "tonics" which either have no food value and do nothing more than temporarily stimulate you, leaving you in a worse condition than before or, having food value, still are so unpleasant to take that many people can't keep them down.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is pleasant to take. The Hypophosphites it contains tone the nerves. The pure Olive Oil nourishes both nerves and blood.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion strengthens you, puts snap and ginger and vitality into your system. It makes you feel better and stronger. It improves your digestion and your bowel action.

It contains no alcohol nor any dangerous or habit forming drugs.

It is guaranteed to be just as represented above — to do all that is claimed above — to satisfy you in every way, or your money back without quibble or question.

Enough for full two weeks' treatment, $1.00.

a woman. They proceeded to close doors and locked up things. Two English women and the young Englishman with us said the natives feared we might steal something. The people had overheard us conversing in English. When Mrs. Boll and myself addressed them in the Swiss dialect of that district they were reassured and seemed glad to give us all the information we wished. They said they had suffered much by people swiping things and had to be on the lookout. The mania to wanting souvenirs has given English speaking people a bad reputation. The deck steward on the Berlin in one afternoon lost 17 silver spoons and he complained that he would have to pay for them out of his own pocket, but he never got the spoons back. Souvenirs are cheap. Why not buy them instead of stealing them?

The locality spoken of in this letter lies in the south central part of Switzerland, among the highest of mountains. The Matterhorn is on the Italian line. Recently there has been built a railroad leading from Bern and intersecting the railroad near Visp. This new road passes through a tunnel 15 miles long, with probably 100 other tunnels ranging from a few yards to five miles in length. It is said to be an almost complete underground railroad, passing as it does through the most formidable of the Bernese highland region. The opening of this new line was first announced to take place June 1 and we expected to be able to avail ourselves of it, but the time has been twice postponed. We were therefore compelled to take the longer route by way of Bern, Lonsanne, Montreux, etc., on the lake of Geneva, following the Rhone from the latter lake almost to its source.

THE RAILROAD SOLUTION

Those interested in freight rate advancement on the Illinois Central railroad held a meeting at Sioux City one day last week and boosted for an increased freight rate—showed that it was necessary, owing to the high cost of living—that the railroads were unable to equip as they should and keep pace with the times—therefore, we pray thee do not block our scheme to increase the freight rate. We have known, or at least imagined, all along that it was coming to this—the private companies owning and operating the railroads are convicted by their own plea of being unable to furnish adequate service. If one will but read their argument for higher rates he can see that. What is the solution? They propose higher rates, which would again increase the cost of living and in turn make necessary another advance. But that is not the solution which the people will demand—it is not the logical solution. The railroad job is too big for the calibre and capital of the corporations—they have to pay too much salary to the big officials who control a majority of the stock, and they pay too small a wage to the man with a shovel, a baggage truck, a pen at the office, or a broom or a conductor's punch on the train—too much to the money-bags, too little to the brawn and brain—too much for interest on bonds; too little for equipment—too much in dividends on water, too little for modern safety appliances and good road bed. In short, it is the people who furnish the sinews of war—the people who pay freight and passenger rates—and the people should own and operate the railroads in the interest of all instead of the interest of an incompetent corporation—and their inability to produce results means government ownership. It has been a satisfactory solution in other countries and we are as smart and energetic as the best of them. The logical answer to the perplexing question as discussed at Sioux City by the fellows who came in a special train across two states to confess their inability to meet the situation is government ownership.

Representative George Jackson of Nuckolls county is out with a unique taxation plan, and one that has considerable basis for commendation. Mr. Jackson would have Nebraska tax the big mail order houses of Chicago and New York for the privilege of doing business in our state. In his letter to the state revenue and taxation commission he writes: "They should be taxed on the volume of business done with the people of this state. I do not believe this step can be taken just yet, but we are undoubtedly drifting toward that very thing. It can not be done too quickly." That the big mail order concerns take hundreds of thousands of dollars out of our state is beyond question, and that they do not pay one penny to support our school, our roads or our state is just as true. A tax for the privilege of doing business in Nebraska is no more unreasonable than that eastern insurance companies should be taxed for a like privilege. Randolph Times

By initiative of Congressman Charles H. Sloan, of this state, appropriation of $75,000 was made by congress for effort, in co-operation with state authorities, in extermination of hog cholera. Some of the appropriation will be spent in Nebraska. Co-operating with the state, the United States Department of Agriculture has formed a special district composed of Johnson county and the north half of Gage county for systematic effort to eradicate hog cholera. Men will be placed in the district to work with serum and virus where it seems advisable and to counsel and co-operate in methods of preventing spread of the disease. Much good from their efforts is confidently counted upon.

Election day passed over very quietly in Nebraska this year, but there was no election. From the way everything went democratic the democrats missed a good chance by not having an election. But then it will be all the better next year, for the conduct of affairs at Washington is daily adding strength to the democratic party.

IN THE HORSE BARN.

Cooling off suddenly is always attended with risk of catching cold, and the result is often fever. Covering a horse with a blanket will prevent this. If it is possible every horse should go unshod for a time to get the benefit of the frog pressure. Never allow a shoer to rasp off the outside natural varnish of the foot. This practice will ruin the best and strongest foot. If the horses have had hard, straining work or hard driving when put in the stable the legs should be well rubbed. It is also a good plan to wind woolen bandages around the legs. In training your colts teach them to back as willingly as to go forward. If a thin horse stays in that condition after generous feeding and is generally unwell try clipping. It often cures certain forms of indigestion.

SHEEP ON THE FARM.

They Flourish on Fodder That Would Go to Waste Without Them. No one knows definitely what it costs to keep the farm flock, by farm flock meaning the small flock, twenty-five to seventy-five ewes, on farms from 100 to 300 acres in size. They will clean up much that would otherwise go to waste, and they will save much by consuming what should be destroyed. In early spring they will clean the weeds out of the oats, even helping the oats, some state; they will not hurt the meadows when well started after cutting; if not pastured closely, nor will they hurt the new seeding in the wheat stubble if not kept on too long; lambs can be run in standing corn some time before they and the ears, thus saving the lower leaves that would otherwise go to waste; they may be pastured on the rye in winter; they will clean up any out of the way places, and wherever they go they leave the land richer and with anything like decent handling make their owner money. When we come to proper handling of the farm flock it becomes necessary to decide what is economical and what is not. The man who raises pure bred sheep for sale for breeding purposes cannot give too good care nor too much attention to feeding. He is looking for extraordinary income from his sheep and to secure

The Cheviot is a Scottish breed of sheep and considered by many the most beautiful of all breeds. Cheviots have been bred for over a century in the Cheviot hills of Scotland. They were first brought to this country in 1838, but not many were brought until much later, and even today not many high class flocks of them are bred on this side. They have undergone wonderful improvement in the last few years, most particularly in the fleece. For mutton form the Cheviot is splendid. And their pure whiteness, alertness and neatness make them most attractive in a green pasture. Their utility and beauty are the reasons for their growing popularity.

this the extra attention is necessary. But when it comes to the man who uses no grain, and in some grass sections this is economy, the sheep naturally are not going to get as much attention.

Take the man who has kept a farm flock continuously for a period of ten years, who has cared for his flock intelligently, who has maintained his own flock up to fair size, never jumping to extremes in size, with young stuff of his own breeding; who has learned to know his sheep individually season after season, and who has culled closely, who has used good rams, did anybody ever hear him kick about the sheep business? Every time he will say that sheep are the most dependable and best profit makers on his farm. The kicker is the careless sheepman, the in and out type, none one year and a lot the next.

Meat on the Farm. There are few animals that increase as fast as swine. Starting with a bred gilt one can soon have hogs enough to supply the family table with pork, bacon, hams, sausage, etc. It requires feed and some pasture to produce cheap pork, but it is worth while for most farmers to raise their own meat.

Feeding Cattle. Clocklike regularity in the feeding and watering of cattle on full feed is of the utmost importance. If possible the same man even should always do the feeding, and it is important that this be the most intelligent and trustworthy man on the farm.

Profit in Dairy Cows. Dairying in connection with farming helps the manager to distribute labor and enables him to have labor when it is in great demand. A few cows, where one is in reach of a creamery, will produce the living for the family.

State Normal Notes

Friday, November 14 will close the first quarter of the present school year. Glen E. Hickman, class of 1913, and at present principal of the Thurston schools, has been made happy by the completion of a fine high school building with excellent equipment. The October issue of the Goldenrod has just been received. It is a very excellent number and Miss Schemel, the editor-in-chief, and the other members of the staff are to be congratulated in their efforts to make this publication a live school paper. Plans for the issuance of a senior annual have now been completed and the senior class met on Thursday evening of last week and elected the following to constitute the editorial staff: Editor-in-chief, Harold Weber; associate editor, Gladys Kine; business manager, Tracy Kohl. The debating club met last Monday evening and had under consideration the Mexican situation. At the next meeting the question for discussion is "Resolved, That the president of the United States should be elected for six years and should be ineligible for re-election." The number of advanced electives in the normal is increasing every year. Four members of the present senior class are preparing along elective lines in order to enter as juniors in the University of Nebraska. They are Paul Mines, Tracy Koh, Harold Weber and Herbert Welch. The game of football with Bellevue college on the home field next Friday afternoon will be the big game of the season. The school greatly appreciates the action of the business men of Wayne in their agreement to close all places of business from 3:00 to 5:00 o'clock on the afternoon of November 14. Five members of the Normal team live in Wayne and a large attendance from town will be a great encouragement to the boys when they meet the strong team from Omaha next Friday. An enjoyable event of the meeting held at Omaha last week was the six o'clock dinner at the Carlton hotel by the alumni and other friends of the Wayne state normal school. Among the prominent school people of the state who were guests of the association were: Deputy State Superintendent Robert I. Elliott, Lincoln; Superintendent F. E. Bicknell, St. Edward; Superintendent A. M. Vance, Emerson; Principal Mattie A. Phillips, Wayne; Superintendent E. D. Lundak, Wakefield; Superintendent E. O. Blackstone, Battle Creek; Superintendent J. H. Welch, Stanton; Superintendent O. R. Bowen, West Point; Superintendent C. L. Wright, Beemer; Superintendent J. H. Kemp, Wayne; Superintendent H. G. Leavens, Dakota City; Miss Helen Piper, Lincoln; County Superintendents A. L. Burnham of Stanton, Elsie Littell of Wayne, Fred S. Lecron of Platte, J. M. Matzen of Dodge, and A. F. Duger of Rock. Last Friday morning at convocation the seniors took charge of the exercises and carried out the usual order of business by impersonating the various members of the faculty. Harold Weber made a most excellent president of the normal, and the fatherly advice he administered to faculty and students should, if properly heeded, be reflected in their general conduct; Conrad Jacobson uttered gems of wisdom resembling some of the educational theories of Dean Hahn; Ivil Montomery was happy in his "take-off" of Dr. House; and in the matter of leading the singing Professor Coleman was there in a delightful impersonation by J. E. Beach. It is said that the lady members of the faculty were especially flattered by the array of youth and beauty that represented them. The performance was arranged without any definite plan or practice but it was successfully done, and will make Friday, November 7, a memorable chapel event of this school year. The resolution adopted by the board of education relating to the duties of the president and registrar of the various normal schools of the state will require little, if any, change in the management of affairs at Wayne. While there has been a uniformity in the system employed in the different schools, the details of office work have varied quite materially in each of the four institutions. At Kearney the work of the registrar has been entirely with registration and grade records. The handling of the institution cash and the keeping of the appropriation fund records had the personal attention of the president. The intent of the resolution adopted at the last meeting of the board was to free

A Crop Report The government has arranged for the immediate delivery to the country press of detailed and accurate crop reports, and from the first one just received by the Democrat we glean the following figures relative to the crops of this state this year and last. The showing is not as good for 1913 as was the last year showing: Corn yield per acre this year 15 bushels, last 24, quality 78 and 79 per cent respectively. The production this year was 114,135,000, last year 182,616,000 bushels. According to the report there is now on hand more than twice as much old corn as at this date a year ago. The old corn in Nebraska now exceeds 6,500,000 bushels. The potato yield this year is 48 bushels per acre as compared with 80 last year. The crop for 1913 was 5,664,000 bushels. Apples are as 48 to 60 or four-fifths of the crop of the year before. Clover seed yielded 2.2 bushels per acre this year, last year 2.1. The prices to producers November 1 averaged higher than the year before for the great staple farm crops, though wheat was five cents higher than now.

Nearly every mercantile house in the place has agreed to close from 3 to 5 p. m., for this game. It is well to take a little recreation occasionally if you can and this is to be the opportunity to those who enjoy football.

Alex. Scott and wife went to Sioux City this morning with their daughter, Miss Kate, to get a specialist's opinion as to the cause of her ill health. The young lady has been sickly for several months.

We are having fine weather for corn husking and the work is well toward completion. The yield is reported from 25 to 35 bushels generally, and the quality good. An occasional field returns more, and a few are reported less than the 25 bushel mark.

Mrs. Clark of Sholes, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Hattie Clark of this place, went to Sioux City this morning, the elder lady with a view of locating there so that she might be with a younger daughter while she completes her schooling.

Dean Hanson autoed to Ponca last Thursday returning Friday, bringing back Mrs. Hanson and the children who have been visiting there. Miss Marie Sutherland came home with them to visit for a few days at the Hanson and Buetow homes. She is a niece of Mrs. Buetow.

Special sale next Saturday at the Variety store of Pure Spun Aluminum Ware. Every housewife agrees on the excellent quality of aluminum ware but generally think the price is higher than she can afford. She will change her opinion the minute she examines OUR PRICES.—adv.

Hear the chickens squawk? Every bird of them that reads McClary's price for chickens in his advertisement simply say we have got to go to market now. Just think of us being worth 12c the pound—and that is what the advertisement says, but that is not all that it says that is of interest to buyer and seller.—adv.

On Saturday there is to be another real estate auction at Wayne, O. P. DePew putting up a well improved 5½ acre tract in the east part of the city. He sold his business here nearly a year ago and is now planning to locate elsewhere, and prefers to take his property in money. An advertisement elsewhere tells of the place.

At the moving picture show—the Crystal, tonight or Friday night Art Graham, the Colorado apple man, will give the patrons of the play a view of some of the orchard and packing scenes at his home, Paonia, where a vast amount of choice fruit is grown. If that does not suit, you can see the real fruit near the depot, where he has a car of it.

Mrs. J. A. Farnsworth, who has been visiting here for the past few weeks was called to Sioux City last week by the death of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Fowle. Mrs. Fowle has been in poor health for several months and but a few weeks ago went to Arizona as the only hope of life, and died in that state November 4th. The body was brought back to Sioux City for burial and the funeral services were held at that place last Monday afternoon. Miss Laura Conover went over Monday morning to attend the funeral services.

Art Graham, the Colorado apple man, is here with a car of fruit of his growing which he wishes to sell to the people without having you pay so many middlemen. He claims that his apples are true to the label on the box and marked as they will grade. He has orchards at Paonia, Colorado, one of the great apple and peach fields of that state. He promises to come here next summer with a car of peaches direct from the orchard, and follow that again with apples in the fall. He especially invites the ladies to visit the car near the depot this week and be satisfied as to the quality of his fruit.

The city now has its system of storm sewer for the relief of flood water on Main street completed. Starting from 1st street the water is carried underneath the railroad tracks and south to the next corner, thence east until the piping empties into an open ditch east of the stock pavilion. This work was necessary now because of the building of the new depot made it necessary to divert the water from lower Main street this way. It formerly followed an open ditch along the north edge of the railroad right of way, and was not on public property, so it was but a question of time when it would have to be changed, and now it is permanent.

There is not an article that will please a housewife better than one of those Aluminum cooking Utensils on sale now at the Variety Store. Every piece is guaranteed for 15 years. Would it not be a good idea to get a few pieces now and lay them aside for Christmas. Nothing would make a more practical gift.—adv.

The people of Nebraska are willing to accept the resignation of Senator Hitchcock. If he is right he is on record and can say "I told you so." But he should not claim to be larger than his party and try to stay in the party. If he favors the republican measure on money he should not mask as a democrat.

C. F. Rhine, an experienced Unitype machine man and a printer as well, arrived here from Villisca, Iowa, Monday evening to "hold cases" in the Democrat office. Besides his accomplishments as a printer, Mr. Rhine has won something of reputation as a musician, and is welcomed by the members of the Wayne band on practice evenings.

Kelly Gossard of Hay Springs has been having tooth trouble, and came to his home folks at this place for treatment. A wisdom tooth was making the trouble, and did not stop after it was extracted. The gum closed at the top before the bottom of the wound had healed, and then trouble began in earnest. Monday morning his father accompanied him to Sioux City, where he was taken to a hospital. He was given an anesthetic, the mouth forced open, for it was so swollen that he could not open it, the trouble located and relieved by a lance. The wound is now being carefully treated, and he is rallying from the operation and five days enforced fasting because of being unable to take food.

General Daumesnil's Leg. General Daumesnil's wooden and iron leg is in the Paris military museum. The warrior is question lost one of his legs at the battle of Wagram, and when he returned to Paris it was replaced by a mechanical contrivance of timber with iron springs. Although crippled, the old soldier remained in active service and was in command of the Vincennes fort in 1814 when the allies were in Paris. It was to the troops of the anti-Napoleon coalition that General Daumesnil said when called upon to give up his fort, "Let me have my leg and then you can take Vincennes." The old general died in 1832, deprived of his mechanical limb. It had been taken off while he was ill in order to be repaired by a smith named Brou, living in Vincennes. Brou kept the article and handed it down to his family, from whom it subsequently passed into the ownership of the municipality of Vincennes. The councilors of the artillery borough handed it over to the war department, and it is among the most honored relics of French armies of the past.

Subdued the Peer. In her reminiscences Lady Dorothy Nevill said that in her younger days parents were very particular about the matrimonial alliances made in their families, and she told an amusing story of one old peer who was greatly surprised to be told by his sister that she had developed a great affection for a well known scientist of humble birth.

The peer sent for him and said brusquely, "Now, sir, I should like to know something about your family." "I think it will be sufficient," replied the scientist, who was of Semitic extraction, "to say that I descended from the illustrious blood of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob." The peer was taken aback. "Oh," he said, "of course, my family has nothing to compare with that. Therefore, if my sister really likes you, you'd better take her." And the scientist did.

Assistance Necessary. The first field glasses taken to the New Hebrides sorely puzzled the simple minded natives. A traveler tells how one of the mission clergy was walking along the shore, when a native at his side pointed out a figure in the far distance. "There goes one of my enemies," said he. The white man, drawing out his field glasses and focusing them, handed them to his companion, who, gazing through them in amazement, beheld his foe apparently close at hand. Dropping the glasses, he seized his arrows and looked again. The enemy was as far away as at first. Once more he snatched the magic glasses, once more exchanged them for his arrows and once more was baffled. A bright thought suddenly occurred to him. "You hold the glasses to my eyes," said he to the missionary. "and I can shoot him!"

A French Comedy. When John Ruydard was building his famous wooden Eddystone lighthouse he was much harassed by the depredations of French privateers. Thus on one memorable day all his men were surprised while at work and borne off in triumph to France as prisoners of war, the captors thinking they had done something very smart. But Louis XIV. did not approve at all and promptly ordered the men's release. "Their work," he said, "is for the benefit of all nations. I am at war with England, not with humanity."—"Lightships and Light-houses."

The Democrat office is improving in appearance—the painter making our front look like new. But it does not make us proud—in fact nothing can add to the pride we feel in the good town in which we live and do business, and the happy feeling that comes over us when we read of the good work that has been done by the democrats at Washington. We really should have painted it red.

Gleaned From Democrat's Exchanges

Teachers and pupils of Allen practice fire drills frequently.

At Carroll they are planning to start the pavilion sales December 6th.

The electric light plant at Randolph has been laid up for repairs
the last week.

The city of Randolph is putting some galvanized tile for waterway at street crossings.

The Dixon Journal is getting ahead some. They have changed their issue day from Friday to Thursday.

South Sioux City charges the telephone company an occupation tax of six dollars a month which just pays for the telephones the city uses.

The mayor of Allen is getting his ire up, and proposes to prosecute those who sell intoxicating liquors there as well as those who use them and become boisterous as a result.

Robert Pritchard of Carroll shipped a 700 pound Duroc Jersey hog from his farm at Carroll to Iowa, to help bring up the standard of low swine herds toward that held by Nebraska.

At Randolph they have a public library but no library building.
They should ask Andrew to give enough money back to them before he dies to erect a monument
there to his great fortune building ability.

The widow pension act is again being invoked in Cedar county. This time two widows were granted relief to the amount of $30 per month each for the winter months and half of that sum for the summer months.

A copy of the Estacada Progress comes to our desk occasionally, and from one just received we note that Mrs. Nina B. Ecker, formerly of the Tribune at Winside is editor and manager, a position which she is ably qualified to fill. The locals are bright and newsy.

A number of the business and professional men of Hartington celebrated Hallowe'en night in the county jail. Theirs, however, was voluntary imprisonment, for they went in there and locked the jail officials out and had a banquet, partaking of many good things. It was a jolly party.

They are getting wise in Madison county and filling the approaches to their bridges with earth, where they formerly built an approach of lumber set on piling. But lumber is too high, and does not last long enough. If their waterway under the bridge is large enough the earth approach is the best.

The treasury at South Sioux City has about $250 of money collected from automobile speeders for exceeding the speed limit, and do not know what to do with it, as there is no provision for it becoming a city fund in their ordinances. They had better make a new ordinance and date it back. The money will probably go to the school fund of the state.

The field of newspaper advertising is almost without limit. Two rival cemeteries at Sioux City are advertising their good points to a waiting public. One advertises perpetual care of the grave as an inducement to die and be planted there, while the rival cemetery does that and offers the free use of their chapel for funeral purposes to those who own lots in their tract. Now is the time to invest —they may form a combine like the undertakers if you don't get in on the "ground floor."

Fake vaccine peddlers have made their appearance in various parts of the country selling what they represent to be genuine tested high serum to be used in inoculating hogs against the ravages of cholera.
An examination has shown the stuff to be the worst kind of a fraud. These fakirs travel through the country selling direct to the farmers. No farmer should purchase the serum except through a reputable person or firm; don't buy it of a stranger.—Laurel Advocate.

Fremont Tribune: Some of the big eastern papers are taking a whack at Governor Metcalf of the Canal Zone, claiming that he lacks executive experience and ability, that he has provoked friction in canal management, and a few other things. At this distance it looks as if the principal offences of Governor Metcalf to date were to inaugurate a few reforms concerning prison management and to grant clemency to prisoners in some deserving cases. If Governor Metcalf makes any mistakes they are pretty sure to be made on the side of greater humanity to the unfortunate.—Ex

The International Stock Show
which begins at Chicago the 29th of this month promises to be the biggest and best of all the shows ever held under that name, and the fact that a car of cattle from Wayne will compete for a prize should not fail to create more than usual interest in the show. As the Democrat said last week, the members of the Commercial Club or the farmers or both, should see that Wayne banners decorate this car and the stalls in which the cattle are placed for exhibition. They are excellent cattle and will make Wayne known to thousands of people as the home of good cattle and enterprising feeders. It is an opportunity not to be missed.

The supreme court has reversed
the case of Wilbur F. Bryant vs.
Jared Runyan. In the above case Bryant sued Runyan for attorney fees for defending his son, Charles N. Runyan, who was charged with shooting a man by the name of Rose at St. James a few years ago. The case was tried before Judge Dodge in the county court and was decided in favor of the defendant. It was then appealed to the district court and the jury decided in favor of the defendant.
When tried to the supreme court,
the case was reversed on the ground that the jury had no other alternative than deciding for the plaintiff and the only question involved for the jury to decide was the question of the amount of the judgment.—Hartington Herald.

Last week the Democrat received a copy of the special edition gotten out by the Cedar County News of Hartington, and there is no disputing the fact that it is indeed a special edition, and there is a class to the work both literary, artistic and mechanical. Hogs, corn and the handsome ladies so much admired by brother Kelley have a place on the front page of the cover, which is printed in two colors. The number tells well the story of Cedar's greatness in agricultural and other industrial lines.
The illustrations convey to the reader a fine impression of the farm and city improvements of the county. The good which this number can do for Hartington and Cedar county is hard to estimate, and if it brings results it should convince the good folks of that county of the value of printer's ink properly applied. In our opinion a regular edition of a good home paper is worth as much, according to its cost as an advertising medium as the best special number ever gotten out. The constant advertiser receives a value from his work that the spasmodical advertiser will never realize.

Praise For Our Hotel

From the Ponca Journal, November 22, 1882:

In going and returning from Norfolk recently we passed through the Logan valley, so pleasantly decorated by the young towns of Wakefield and Wayne. Both are prosperous and both are nicely located; but the writer prefers the site upon which Wayne is built.
The main street of Wayne is the handsomest of any town we passed, not excepting Ponca. All the buildings are new, substantial and uniform. Our former townsman, H. B. Boyd met us at the depot, and after a few inquiries about friends in Ponca, at our suggestion he showed us through the hotel he is building, and which is nearly completed. It is no exaggeration to say that when the hotel is completed it will be such a one as the commercial man, the casual traveler, tourist and the farmer will like to stay in, because of its cheerful appearance, its bright and commodious rooms, halls and parlors.
It is a credit to the town of Wayne and to the man who built and owns it.

the opening chapters of Arthur Stanwood Pier's fine serial story paper over carefully, bearing in mind that there are fifty-two such numbers for a year's subscription of $2.00, we are sure you will say that a better present could not be chosen, whether for a young person or for an entire family.

For the year's subscription of $2.00 there is included a copy of The Companion Practical Home

You Have Neighbors
Who Use
Home-made Acetylene
For Lighting and Cooking

For the asking you can have the name and the address of the nearest one. Then you can, if you wish, make an evening call and get the facts first hand.

All told we have sold no less than six thousand Pilot
Acetylene Plants to the people in your state.

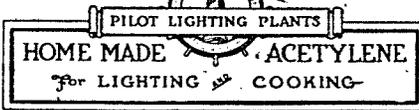

These people are our friends. Anyone of them will be proud to show you just how these Pilot plants work—how they automatically mix the gas producing stone, Union Carbide, with plain water. How they make just enough Acetylene to keep the lights and the range going—no more,
no less.

They will show you also how the Pilot starts making this gas, when the lights are turned on —and stops when the lights are turned off. How this gas is piped to handsome light fixtures in every room in the house—as well as to big, round safety lights in all barns and out-buildings.

The women folks in these homes will be glad to show you too just what a boon the Acetylene range is—how it furnishes heat on top that can be regulated with a little valve—how it does away with handling wood, coal and ashes and makes the kitchen work easy.

You cannot judge the Pilot Acetylene Light Plant by what you have seen and heard of other Acetylene plants.

You must see a Pilot plant and talk to the people it works for. Then you will have a clearer understanding as to why over two hundred thousand country families now find home made Acetylene indispensable.

The Pilot makes Acetylene the right way—makes it so well that it provides country homes with even a better light and fuel than the gas which twenty million city people enjoy ing.

After you have inspected a Pilot plant we will leave it to you to say whether it doesn't make the whitest, the most brilliant, and most beautiful light you have ever seen.

We will leave it to you also to say whether or not stationary Acetylene fixtures are not much safer than oil lamps, which can be tipped over.

As a matter of fact—only two accidents have been charged to the misuse and abuse of Pilot Acetylene, while ten thousand accidents have been charged to oil illuminants in a single year.

That is why the Oxweld Company, makers of Pilot Light machines, has grown to be the largest concern of its kind in the world.

Complete Pilot Light Plants may be purchased from dealers in Oxweld Acetylene Company products. These dealers are permanently located in some three thousand different towns.

In this district the undersigned distributors of Pilot Plants will be glad to mail you the Oxweld Company's free advertising books, telling the whole Acetylene story—with full details about the installation of the Pilot, its cost, economies, etc. Just address a postal to—

DELICIOUS LEMONADES.

NO beverage is more effective in quenching the thirst than a good lemonade.

In making lemonade if is convenient to keep a good supply on hand. One of these may be made as follows: Boll together for ten minutes five pounds of granulated sugar and three quarts of water. This should be skimmed and strained and kept in the refrigerator.
Two tablespoonfuls of it will be enough to sweeten a glass of lemonade.

Wholesome New Beverage.

Maple Lemonade.—For a refreshing drink, make ordinary lemonade and sweeten with maple syrup instead of sugar.

Milk-Lemonade.—Dissolve four ounces of loaf sugar in one-half gill of boiling water, then add a gill of sherry and juice of two lemons. Stir well together, then add three-quarters of a pint of new milk. Stir all well; strain through a jelly bag until clear.

Daintily Flavored.

Pineapple Lemonade.—Pare and grate a ripe pineapple and pour over this the strained juice of five lemons. Make a syrup with one pound of sugar and one pint of water boiled together for ten minutes. Mix all the ingredients and add one quart of water. Strain through muslin, put into well corked bottles and keep in a cool place. When serving pour it over broken ice and put a candied cherry in each glass.

Shake Well Before Serving.

Egg Lemonade.—Allow one fresh egg to each glass. Beat until nearly light and then whip into a plain lemonade and serve cold. To make this drink richer than usual allow four lemons to the quart and squeeze in the juice first. This same beverage may be made like the usual lemonade and sweetened with light brown sugar and lemon peel cut in very fine slices and served with each glass, but should be shaken in a glass jar before serving.

Among The Churches of Wayne

Presbyterian Church

Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.

Next Sabbath will be Temperance Day at the Presbyterian church, and a special program has been prepared for the morning service. The subject of the sermon will be "The Presbyterian Church and the Liquor Traffic." The Sunday School service will also be devoted to the same subject and a branch of the Presbyterian Temperance Union will be organized in Wayne. In the evening the pastor will preach on the subject, "Wayne Now Has Prohibition: What Next?"

The C. E. Meeting is held at 6:30 p. m. on Sunday evening. Francis Jones is the leader for next Sunday evening. The subject is, "Temperance Facts and Figures."

The morning service begins at 10:30 and the evening service at 7:30. Sunday school meets at 12:00 o'clock.

There will be a joint meeting of the elders and trustees at the church next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

Dr. W. W. Tait, of Randolph, will give his illustrated Temple Lectures in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of next week, Nov. 19-20-21. These lectures are illustrated with a model, which is built up in the presence of the audience. The lecture appeals especially to all Masons, and to everyone interested in the Temple at Jerusalem, and the rites and ceremonies of the Jews. The Christian application and meaning of these rites is also interpreted. The lectures are popular and everyone is invited. There is no admission charged, but on the last night an offering is taken for the lecturer.

Announcement has been made that Billy Sunday will visit Omaha about a year from this time. Already preparations are being made for his coming and the cause of evangelism is being promoted by the leading church workers of the city.

Baptist Church

Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor

"What We Believe About the Bible," was heard by a large and interested audience last Sunday. A large audience heard the first of the evening sermons on the series of, "Men Who Lost Out."

One young person accepted Christ at the evening service. These two series of sermons, one on "Fundamentals of Christian Belief" of mornings, and the other on "Men Who Lost Out," will continue until December 14th.

"What We Believe About God," will be the subject of our sermon next Sunday morning. It will be an effort to put in plain statements the Christian view of God.

"The Prince who Lost His Property," will be our subject Sunday evening. These evening sermons are object lessons on failure.

The ladies of the church wish to thank the public for the hearty support given them last Thursday. They had a successful day both in serving meals and in the apron sale. They endeavor to give value received but also appreciate the public's patronage.

The church extends its sympathy to Mrs. Sprague and family on the loss of her father. Such experiences as these are our opportunities to do good.

Our prayer meetings each Wednesday evening depend in its spiritual power. It is a necessary and vital part of our church life.

The pastor is away this week at Verdel, Nebraska, preaching at the church there, which he recently helped organize. He will be back in time for Sunday. This is a great field for Christian work.

The topic for the young people's meeting Sunday evening is Temperance. This is the day of great temperance advancement. Come and learn what is being done.

If you are an orphan religiously, make your home with us.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church

(Rev. Blessing, Pastor.)

Sunday school at 10 o'clock. It has been said "to make a church active there must be a strong Sunday school." To get a strong and active Sunday school it takes both the young and old, therefore let every one work.

Regular services Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The subject of the sermon will be "The Higher Rock," Ps. 16:2. As the shipwrecked mariner, upon a troubled sea, looks for a rock high above the boisterous waves upon which he can climb to safety, so man upon life's troubled sea, looks for the higher rock as his refuge. The troubled soul will never rest until it rests in God.

Evening services at 7:30. The sermon will be based upon the letter the church in Thyatira, or

"A church revealing Christian Excellence." Rev. 2:25.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. F. E. Sederstrom next Thursday afternoon. All members are requested to be present as there will be some important business.

The ladies will hold their bazaar the 6th of December.

The Bible Study class which was just recently organized will meet at the parsonage Wednesday evening at 7:30. We welcome all who wish to attend this class.

Choir rehearsal Friday evening at the parsonage.

The catechetical class will meet Saturday afternoon at 2:30. If there are any who have not enrolled in this class who are thinking of doing so we would be glad to have you.

Holy communion will not be held next Sunday as announced but will be held the last Sunday in this month.

Methodist Church

Rev. C. L. Myers, Pastor

We hope to see every member of the church out Sunday. The steam will be turned on sure.

The Epworth League has lost out on the time for "Win My Chum Week," but we hope to do the work later.

Everybody get ready for the simultaneous campaign. All the churches will hold special two weeks services beginning the last Sunday in November. Plan to attend.

Don't forget the Sunday school convention to be held in Wayne Nov. 24. Will you entertain a delegate?

A Sunday school meeting of the nearby churches will be held in Randolph on the afternoon of the 18th. Class organization and teacher training will be discussed.

A class of boys of high school age is to be organized for Sunday school work. Will you join us? The minutes of the annual conference are out. Twenty-five cents a copy.

Sunday morning the pastor will preach on Cornelius and in the evening on "Make your calling and election sure."

"The Gospel in the Temple"

Solomon's Temple has always been an interesting study for Christians and especially to members of the Masonic Lodge. The Temple itself was a remarkable building, and the rites and worship of the Jews stand apart from anything else in all the history of men. Dr. W. W. Tait, of Randolph, has made a life-long study of the Temple, and has constructed a wooden model which enables all to understand the kind of a building the Temple was, and his lectures make the Jewish forms of worship clear to all. An eminent churchman, after hearing him, said, "His Temple lectures are unique. When a man has gone to the bottom of a subject like the wonderful Temple of Solomon has done something worth while; but when he builds the model in your sight, what more is to be said, or even asked for?"

These lectures have been given in all parts of the country, and it will be a privilege to hear them. This opportunity will be afforded the people of Wayne and vicinity next week at the Presbyterian church. The opening lecture will be given on Wednesday evening, November 19th, and the lectures will be continued for Thursday and Friday evenings. There is no admission charge.

McChord Wins at Tilden.

The Norfolk News says: At the postoffice primary at Tilden Saturday 520 votes were cast, nine of which were thrown out by the judges. Clyde McCord received 381 votes, John Kiely 66, and William Dahnke 64. The successful candidate is a member of the M. E. church and has for several years been employed as clerk and tinner in the hardware store of A. N. Snider. Intense interest was shown prior to the contest, but not the slightest trouble occurred during the balloting.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Beef Fully Steady, While Feeders Are Some Lower.

SHARP REACTION IN HOG VALUES

Broad Outlet for Fat Sheep and Lambs—Market is Steady to 10@15c Higher—Feeders Strong and Active.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Nov. 11.—About 5,500 head of cattle arrived today. The corn fed cattle market was in very good shape today and prices were fully steady with Monday. Some good heavy beefs sold up to $9.00. Western beef steers found a ready sale at steady to a shade stronger figures. Cows and heifers were in vigorous demand from all sources at somewhat stronger prices, but the trade in stockers and feeders was dull and slow to fully a dime lower than Monday for nearly everything in this line.

Cattle quotations: Choice to prime beefs, $8.00@8.90; fair to choice yearlings, $5.25@9.25; good to choice beefs, $3.40@8.60; fair to good beefs, $7.90@8.25; common to fair beefs, $6.75@7.75; good to choice feeders, $6.75@7.50; good to choice grass heifers, $6.85@7.25; good to choice cows, $6.20@6.60; fair to good cows, $5.25@5.75; canners and cutters, $4.00@5.00; veal calves, $6.50@9.75; bulls, stags, etc., $4.75@6.40; choice to prime feeders, $7.50@7.85; good to choice feeders, $6.75@7.25; fair to good feeders, $6.25@6.75; common to fair feeders, $5.75@6.25; stock cows and heifers, $4.75@6.75; choice to prime grass beefs, $7.60@8.00; good to choice grass beefs, $7.30@7.60; fair to good grass beefs, $6.85@7.25; poor to fair grass beefs, $6.00@6.75.

Hog receipts amounted to 9,000 head. Movement was slow all the way through and prices were all of 10c lower, and in some cases 10@15c off. The bulk of the sales was made at $7.50@7.70, and the best price paid was $7.75. A large supply of lights brought a sharp reduction in pig prices, sales being quoted anywhere from 10c to as much as 25c lower.

Sheep and lamb receipts amounted to about 28,000 head. There was a good, healthy demand for fat sheep and lambs at prices steady to 10@15c higher. Some native lambs sold as high as $5.00. Most of the range ewes went around $4.75. The supply of wethers and yearlings was light, there being not enough to make comparisons. Strength and activity featured the market on most all feeding grades. Inquiry continued good and prices showed no material change in either direction.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, good to choice, $7.50@8.00; lambs, fair to good, $7.00@7.50; lambs, culls, $5.50@6.00; lambs, feeders, $5.50@6.50; yearlings, light, $5.75@6.25; yearlings, heavy, $5.00@5.75; yearlings, feeders, $4.50@5.40; wethers, good to choice, $4.75@5.00; wethers, fair to good, $4.50@4.75; wethers, feeders, $4.00@4.50; ewes, good to choice, $4.50@4.85; ewes, fair to good, $4.25@4.50; ewes, feeders, $3.25@3.50.

A Square Farm Sale

A crowd of about one hundred interested persons met at the farm of Christensen Brothers just north of Wayne Saturday afternoon to witness a farm sell at auction and possibly purchase the same if there was enough margin between worth and selling price. At any rate there were men of means plenty who would not have stood by and seen the farm given away, unless it was to themselves. C. M. Christensen introduced the auctioneer, Mr. F. L. Wright, who was assisted by Don Cunningham of this place, after stating the reasons for selling the farm in this manner, the terms, etc.

Mr. Wright made a short talk upon the auction method of farm selling and land values in a country such as northeastern Nebraska and near as good a place as Wayne. And it might be well to mention that in advertising this farm sale as they have, Christensen Brothers have given this county and neighboring farms a nice bunch of advertising which has not cost them anything, and which they should appreciate. When the auctioneer began to take bids they came thick and fast from $140 per acre up to $155, then some of the enthusiasm began to drop out, but raises came until $164 per acre was reached, when all stopped. The man who had bid that price was no doubt glad that there was no one else who cared to pay more, for he had his limit at $175, and when it was over it was learned that F. Jarvis, an auctioneer from Carroll was bidding for August Loburg, a prosperous Wayne county farmer who knows land values here, and who wanted a home near the county seat and the Normal school.

There seemed to be an impression or a suspicion among some of the people who were present that there was some one by-bidding or that there would be a reserve bid given out before the hammer fell, but there was nothing of the kind. The sale was as square as possible for it to be, and there were but three interested persons there who knew who was getting the farm when it was declared sold. While the land should have sold for more money in the opinion of many who were not bidders and as the owners thought, yet they made no holler, and stood pat for a square deal, and by so doing did much to establish in this community the fairness of an auction as a means of selling land, and their fairness in business.

Mr. Christensen expresses his appreciation of the fact that many of the business men of the place took the time to be present and witness the sale.

One of the features of the Democrat this week is a "Daddy Bedtime Story," for the little folks, and those who take the trouble to read it to the little ones will be pleased with the interest they will take in the story of "Orpheus, the Wonderful Musician." It is our plan to have one of these stories each week until Christmas, and if there is demand for them they will be continued as long as we can coax "Daddy" to write them.

Terms, two fifths of grain and five hundred and sixty dollars cash for hay, pasture and alfalfa ground. Address, Wayne Farm, care of Democrat.—adv. 45-2.

Miss Harriet C. Long, second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Long of Madison, has been elected county librarian of Kern county, Calif., at the salary of $1,800 a year and will take up her work at Bakersfield, Dec. 1. Miss Long was born and reared in Madison, was graduated from the Madison high school in 1903, from the university of Nebraska, with the bachelor of arts degree in 1907, and from the New York State Library school, with the degree of bachelor of library science, in 1910.

Dr. T. T. Jones is the owner of a Stradavarius violin with a date of 1730 and the name of the maker there in "Antonias Stradavarius," on it, and it may be seen by those interested at the Gaertner & Beckenhauer furniture and music store. There are but few of the violins of this famous musician in existence now, and they are commanding prices that it takes four figures to write. There is a bit of story as to how the Doctor came to own this musical instrument, but he will not release it for publication. He has refused some offers for the instrument which make a common fiddle look cheap.

Ohio Prison Reform

The following story of the forward move in Ohio should be made to apply to Nebraska, where our prison conditions are far from being a credit to the state.

The greatest penitentiary in the world is not going to be a penitentiary at all! It is to be a "prison" without walls! It is to be a great industrial institution in which a great state will manufacture MEN!

This unique, arresting experiment which, penologists declare, forecast an earth-wide revolution in the practical treatment of criminals, is to have its start in Ohio. Governor Cox is sponsor for adopting the great idea—an idea which was born in the head and the heart of Rev. Harris R. Cooley, director of Cleveland charities under Tom L. Johnson.

"The state of Ohio is going to explode all the old ideas of treating its criminals because it is tired of coining gold out of the errors of unfortunates. We will operate on a business basis, of course, but we will save men FIRST!"

The new "penitentiary" of Ohio is going to be a great 1600-acre farm, modeled after the Cooley farm at Warrensville, which is used by Cleveland instead of the orthodox "workhouses" of other cities.

In this new kind of penitentiary the "prisoners" will sleep in white iron beds—NOT IN CELLS!

They will work outdoors without guard!

They will go to school to learn the interesting things they have never heard of!

They will be taught trades so when they leave they can earn an honest living out in the world!

They will get exercise, medical attention and the best of foods.

They will get the benefit of all the latest discoveries in scientific penology.

"This innovation of ours is bound to become nation-wide—yes, world-wide," says Governor Cox. "For any man who approaches the prison question in the spirit of the jailor soon finds he must take to the woods. If there is anything that society has tried and made a complete failure of it is the old-time method of dealing with the so-called criminals—really a relic of the dark ages.

"We have tried to cure 'criminals' by making them work for contractors, by beating them, by stringing them up by their wrists for hours, by giving them the water-cure and by even worse methods. And they have gone out worse criminals than they came in!

"At last science recognizes that there is no 'Criminal class.' We have defectives and delinquents—men whose mental powers are weak. Most of them can be helped into a right course. We are going to do this for them in this new kind—THIS RIGHT KIND—of penitentiary. This penitentiary, which is not a penitentiary at all—but only a great institution to make men out of those who have gone wrong."

Better to Be A Homesteader

Mr. Editor—I often wonder why so many people that were raised on the farm, prefer to live in the small towns and work for wages and a bare living when in three years' time they could own their own farms and become independent. I have worked in both small and large towns and have seen many a man try to support a family on from $1.75 to $2.50 a day. They just live from hand to mouth and at the end of the year have nothing to show for their work.

There is still good government land to be had in Nebraska, Wyoming and the Dakotas. For from $14 to $20 they can file on land. A sod house and barn will furnish comfortable shelter for themselves and their stock. A wind mill will make a garden possible every year. A cow or two will furnish a large part of the living and add one or two calves every year to grow into money. A flock of chickens will bring an income the year round. Here's luck to the homesteader and the little sod house on the claim.

F. M. Hamilton, Perkins county, Nebraska.—Ex.

Miss Merie Bluechel, who for the past two years has been the efficient Unitey operator at the Democrat office, resigned her position last week to enter the law office of A. R. Davis, where she will take up the duties of stenographer. We join with many others in wishing her continued success in her new line of work.

Hampshire Boars For Sale

I have for sale a number of young Hampshire hogs, at my place near Winnebago—good individuals and of the best breeding. While this breed of hogs is comparatively new in this county, their history shows they are good. Come and see them—study them—buy them. Roy Fisher, Winside, Neb.—adv.

Parcel Post Wonders

Assistant Postmaster General D. C. Roper estimates that there will be 1,600,000,000 pieces of parcel post handled during the current fiscal year and says: "This immense volume of mail is being dispatched and delivered promptly without any congestion or delay to the other mail."

He asks newspapers to call attention to the fact that the increase to twenty pounds in parcel post packages, opens a market for farmers and market gardeners to a distance of 150 miles in every direction. Twenty million people are now reached by an express service through parcel post and rural routes that have never had one before. The mails will now carry 20-pound hampers. Such as market baskets might contain for instance, 2 pounds butter, 2 dozens of eggs, 2 spring chickens, 2 quarts of strawberries, 2 quarts of green peas, a half peck of spinach, and a supply of onions, lettuce, radishes and rhubarb.

Such a package can now be received by any householder in Omaha delivered at his residence, direct from the farmer with the speed that mail is delivered from any point within 150 miles of the city for the sum of 24 cents; that is, at perhaps a less cost than it could be delivered by the farmer near the city himself, and as to the farmer, the package can be insured against loss and the price be collected and returned to him for a small charge.

The postoffice department is certainly doing its part toward reducing the high cost of living.—World Herald.

Your Hair May Be Your Fortune

Beautiful hair has made the fortune of many a woman, by adding charm and loveliness to an otherwise plain face. Nothing means more to good looks than beautiful hair. It adds to the attractiveness of every feature. Without it you can't be beautiful; with it you will be at least pretty.

To have beautiful hair, use Harmony Hair Beautifier. It will improve the beauty of your hair, taking away the dull harshness and stringiness, softening and polishing every hair in your head and making it soft, silky, glossy, easier to put up and keep in place, and at the same time giving it a rich and lasting rose fragrance that will delight both you and those around you.

Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—the Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.—The Shultheis Pharmacy, Wayne.

Why Not at Wayne?

Wm. P. Forbes spent Sunday with home folks near this place. Mr. Forbes is not in one place now long enough to call it home, so Wayne is still his home, with headquarters at Washington, D. C. He is in the employ of the agricultural department of the government, and is now engaged in the dairy department, it being his duty to establish testing stations among the dairy farmers, and he will doubtless be at Chicago in the interest of that branch of the work during the International Stock show. In various communities they are establishing cow testing stations. About thirty farmers unite in securing an expert who comes to the community and puts in a day at each members place teaching him to test the milk of each individual cow, weighs the ration given her and the milk returned as well as testing its quality. In this way the cow that is not profitable can go to the block and the calf of a good cow be tried in her place. This system of testing has demonstrated that many of the cows kept on the farms for dairy purposes do not pay for their feed. It would pay the dairy farmers of this community though few in number to test their herds and weed out the unprofitable ones. So we say, why not at Wayne?

Thorne Presents an Argument for Owning Railways

Washington, D. C., Oct. 30.—Before the national convention of railway commissioners, State Commissioner Clifford Thorne declared today the government could purchase all outstanding securities of American railroads at prevailing market prices, borrow money at three per cent and make a net saving of $464,000,000 annually.

While he disclaimed that he was committed to government ownership, Mr. Thorne's staggering figures were generally accepted as a government ownership argument. They caused a great stir in the convention.

Mr. Thorne pointed out that the increased freight rates demanded by the roads could be paid twice over and $100,000,000 increased pay allowed employees without an additional cent of cost to the public if the government took over the roads.

He showed the market value of the railroads were over $1,000,000,000 under their capitulation and securities. Declaring his figures conservative and calling attention to the increasing government ownership sentiment, Mr. Thorne said:

"I prophesy that before the national appraisal just begun by the federal government shall have been completed, the government ownership of railroads will be one of the great political issues of the day. And nothing will hasten that day quicker than a gradual ascending scale of freight rates under the sanction of the Inter-state Commerce commission."

The Red Polled Cattle

Monday Emil Hansen, one of the pioneer farmers of this county was at the station shipping a Red Polled bull to his son-in-law, Carl Hagerman at Pierson, Iowa. In reply to a few questions from the Democrat man, Mr. Hansen admitted that he keeps a little stock of the pure-bred Red Polls—and says that he likes them because they are easy keepers and good milkers. Does not claim that they are as large as the Shorthorns; but says his cows weigh from 1200 to 1400 when in just good milking condition—and that is heavy enough for pretty fair beef if they are wanted on the block. He has spent ten years culling his herd by getting his milk from different cows tested, and always keeping the best milkers. In this way he has a nice bunch of cows of good size, and excellent milking strain. He has several cows that make a record of more than 30 quarts a day while fresh and on good feed. There is good points in most all breeds, but when a farmer ties to some good breed and then tests and culls his herd of cows he is getting in shape to know what returns he will get from his feed if given to the cows. The Democrat hopes to be able to report more good herds in this vicinity. Our dairymen should find out what they can from Mr. Hansen's method and profit thereby.

Late News Notes and Comments

The president may not be much of a politician, but he keeps the wheels pretty well oiled and recognizes merit even if it has strong political backing. A Washington dispatch announces the nomination of Dudley Field Malone to be collector of customs at New York would be sent to the Senate during the day. Mr. Malone is now third assistant secretary of state and fought the Tammany ticket in the last campaign. He is a son-in-law of Senator O'Gorman.

The strip of Uncle Sam's domain east of Chicago and north of the Ohio river has been under a blanket of snow and in the grip of a blizzard all of this week.

The Des Moines, Iowa, school board is waging a fight against the cigaret among the pupils. They should have the Nebraska law and enforce it. It is effective where enforced.

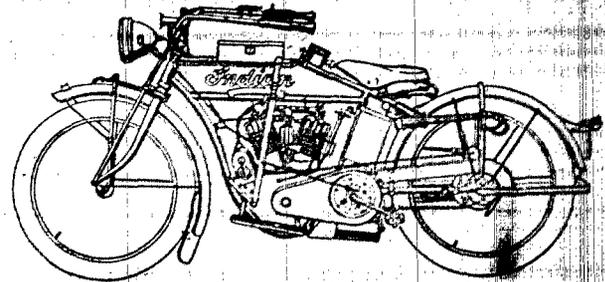

Now the actors are in trouble. The box office has instructions to hold out what is coming to Uncle Sam as income tax from those who have contracts exceeding $3,000. We do not see many of that kind at Wayne.

Sixty negro families from Parsons, Kansas, are going to migrate to gold coast of West Africa. They claim that they do not have a fair chance in the home of the free. If not legally discriminated against, they say the unions bar them from many industries. We hope they make good.

38 Betterments in 1914 Indian Motorcycles

Complete electrification of the motorcycle is successfully accomplished for the first time in the 1914 Indian models, which include an electric starter, electric lights, electric signal, and rear drive speedometer, as the leading features among 38 betterments incorporated in this famous make for the coming season. In addition to being the pioneer exponent of the electrically equipped motorcycle, the Indian also is the first to carry standard equipment, such a complete assortment of the very latest accessories. By these two tremendous forward steps, the Indian maintains easily its pride of place as the long recognized fashion arbiter of the industry.

The Indian Electric Starter

In the development of a successful electric starter for arduous motorcycle service, the Indian engineers equalled their triumph of 1913—the Cradle Spring Frame. The Indian electric starter is a powerful, multipolar type, motor-generator, small, neat and compact. It is mounted on the left side of the engine, and always is connected with it. Therefore, should the rider stall the engine in traffic, or on a crossing, it can instantly be restarted by throwing a switch, which brings the starter into action.

Another decided advantage of the Indian electric starter is its high operating speed, spinning the engine at 500 r. p. m., so that the latter begins firing very quickly after cranking commences, and effecting a saving in battery current. As soon as the engine begins running, the starter automatically becomes a generator, and renews the energy taken from the batteries for starting, lighting, signaling and ignition.

The battery equipment consists of two sets of specially constructed, high capacity units. Injury which might be caused by too rapid charging, or over-charging, is prevented by a magnetic current regulator placed in the feed line. An automatic cut-out prevents the batteries discharging through the starter. Leakage of battery solution is prevented by special design, the construction of which is patented.

The Indian 1914 line will consist of seven solo models, a side car and a quick delivery van. All machines will be chain driven, and six models will mount twin engines of seven horse-power. As 90 per cent of the Indian output of 35,000 machines in 1913 was composed of twins, it is anticipated by the Hendee Manufacturing Company that no less than 98 per cent of the tremendous output of 60,000 Indians for 1914 will be required to meet the overwhelming demand for twin models. Bearing its name, the 1914 Indian will, as usual, be finished in red only.

Other 1914 Improvements

Other prominent features of the new models are: strengthened frames and forks with drop forged fittings throughout, longer wheel base, more secure engine fastening, new cam design, giving increase in power, heavier motor shafts and inlet valve rocker arm mechanism, new trussed handlebar with irreversible binder post, heavier driving members of two-speed gear and improved change gear control, larger tires, new padded saddles, new channel steel rear stand, new luggage carrier, new metal tool box with large capacity and spring lock.

Always foremost in the rendering of prompt and efficient mechanical service to Indian owners, the Indian organization has perfected plans whereby Indian users exclusively, wherever they may be located, will enjoy overnight service the coming season. Seven American branches and 2,500 dealers will enable the Indian mounted motorcyclist in 1914 to command 24 hour service, the quickest and most complete ever offered the legions of motorcyclodom.

Many of our private and public buildings are having furnace heat installed this fall. The M. E. and Welch churches are both heating by this method.

Carroll is becoming famous for its checker players and quilt pitchers. We have two well-organized gangs, but they are a little on the interlocking directorate plan—some of our citizens being active in both games. At Pilger last week the Carroll men met in glorious defeat with horse shoes and won a signal victory at checkers. Then to seek consolation for their defeat they decided that they might find an easy bunch at Wayne and came here with Messrs. Linn, Young and Atkinson, or some proxy if the list is not quite correct, and failed to find consolation. At Pilger the visitors were defeated by a score of 14 to 5, and at Wayne the proportion of winning was but little better. But our checker players cleared the board at Pilger winning more than half of the games and making thirteen draws.

Winside Notes

(From the Tribune)

Dad Waddell of Hoskins, was on board the 1:48 passenger Friday on his way to Wayne to be present at the Brueckner hearing. Mike Lyons left Saturday for Omaha and from there will go direct to Los Angeles, California, where he will spend the winter and probably longer. Mike has been talking a good deal about this trip and upon his return one will hear some great narratives about the glass bottom boats, the Catalina Islands, the exquisite scenery of the coral islands and the startling journey up Mt. Lowe.

The near approach of the final completion of the Winside High School breathes an air of comfort to the teachers, and pupils, who have been waiting patiently so long. The carpenters have been compelled to abandon their work during school hours owing to annoyance to study and for the past few weeks worked a night shift.

Seville's Tower of Giralda

From its great antiquity alone it from nothing else it is plain that the Giralda at Seville could not have been studied from the tower of the Madison Square Garden in New York, which the American will recall when he sees it. If the case must be reversed and we must allow that the Madison Square tower was studied from the Giralda, we must still recognize that it is no servile copy, but in its frank imitation has a grace and beauty which achieve originality. Still, the Giralda is always the Giralda, and though there had been no Saint Gaudens to tip its summit with such a flying footed nymph as poises on our tower, the figure of Faith which crowns it is at least a good weather vane and from its office of turning gives the mighty bell tower its name. Long centuries before the tower was a belfry it served the mosque, which the cathedral now replaces, as a minaret for the muezzin to call the faithful to prayer, but it was then only two-thirds as high.—Harper's Magazine.

Cultured Hindus

In Bengal there are about 70,000,000 of people, and they boast of perhaps the best culture in India at the present time. The language as a written language is only fifty years old. Though for over a thousand years it has been a dialect, there is in Indian history unfortunately no trace of Bengali having been an important literary tongue. The language originates from Sanskrit, the mother tongue from which every other Indian language has borrowed its alphabet, grammar and vocabulary; but, unlike the others, Bengali never shrinks from gathering new materials. There are numerous Persian, French, Arabic and English words incorporated in it, and the wonder of it is that, instead of having been degraded into some vulgar form like pidgin English, Bengali has become the most literary, scientific and perhaps the most philosophic of modern Indian languages.

Shrewd Sexton

Among the tourists who travel through France a considerable number visit the cathedral at Rheims, a magnificent example of gothic architecture. In the tower there is an enormous clock, and it is the sexton's business to wind it every day, a very trying job, as the weights are naturally extremely heavy. The sexton, however, is a very shrewd fellow. Whenever he shows the trippers this wonderful piece of mechanism he remarks, "Ladies and gentlemen, if you do not believe me regarding the heaviness of the clock weights try for yourselves." Each of the trippers immediately give a turn or two to the wheel, and as there are some 200 visitors a day the trippers unconsciously and eagerly wind the clock for him and in addition give him an extra tip for being allowed to do his work.—London Onlooker.
