ESTABLISHED 1884

WAYNE, WAYNE COUNTY, NEBRASKA, MARCH 12, 1914

$1.50 PER YEAR

CAUCUS HELD

Caucus Nominates All of Pres. City Officials, and Council Remains Almost Same.

The citizen's caucus held at the city hall Friday evening the following city officials were unanimously named for a place on the ballot at the spring election, which will take place early in April:

Mayor, C. A. Chace.
Clerk, J. M. Cherry.
Treasurer, H. S. Ringland.
Engineer, J. E. Huntmer.
Councilman 1st ward, two years, O. Hanssen; one year, Frank Peters.
Councilman 2d ward, G. A. Lamerson.
Councilman 3rd ward, L. C. Gildersleeve.

All but Powers and Gildersleeve are members of the present administration. When the nominations were made Mayor Chace, who had but recently come to the meeting was called upon for a speech of acceptance. Mr. Chace is no orator and he simply talked to the representative body of citizens, telling them of some of the conditions which confront the city fathers in a place like Wayne, and of the most pressing need of the city at the present time in his opinion. He made it plain that the past year had been one of heavy expenses with the installing and housing of the new boiler. He said that the city now has boiler, enough and engine enough and dynamo plenty to get along should any mishap overtake a boiler, an engine or a dynamo—but if something should happen to the city pump, which has been in constant service for the past fifteen years, our name would be "Denial". For it, there is no duplicate and upon this work depends so much of fire protection which may be needed at any moment, so much to the water consumers all over the city that he did not consider it safe to rest until the steps had been taken to secure additional pump for the city. He said that under the present law there is no way to raise money for that purpose except by bonding the city, and recommended that this be done for the sum of $2,000 for this year. But there were other things needed in the opinion of some, and an amendment was submitted raising the sum to $3,000, that an extension might be made to the stand-pipe. This was finally so amended as to read in such sum as the council deem necessary after an estimate of the probable costs.

The meeting was of much interest, and the heat of feeling prevailed, and explicit confidence was expressed in the city officials—not by resolution, but by actions which speak louder than words. If Wayne will remain united on public policy as it appeared to be Friday evening much good work can be accomplished—and we hope to see it so.

The New Crystal Theatre

R. A. Nance from Randolph was here Wednesday consulting with his son F. A. Nance regarding the building of the new Crystal with a seating capacity of 600. Work is to be started before the first of April if all goes as expected. An architect is to be here from Chicago, sent by the Decorative Supply Co., of that place. This company will furnish the plaster effect front and also assist in planning the entire building and the decorating of the same. They are known from coast to coast as authority in this line of work and their fronts are marvels of beauty. The Democrat is glad to see a building move started here with the opening of the spring, and only regret that arrangement has not been made to double the size of this play house.

Married

Wednesday, March 11, 1914, at court house in Wayne, by Judge James Britton, Mr. Wm. Swiegard and Miss Slena Witzlich, from near Winside.

Tuesday, March 10, 1914, at Wayne county court house, Mr. Hermar Waldrat and Miss Martha Dierks, both of Wausa, Judge James Britton officiating.

On Tuesday, March 10, 1914, by County Judge James Britton, Mr. Geo. W. Baird and Miss Grace Fletcher of Brenna precinct.

Oran R. Bowen For Superintendent

At a meeting of the school board Monday evening a number of applications for the position of superintendent of the Wayne schools were presented to the board for consideration, and as the result of a ballot on the applicants O. R. Bowen of West Point was elected to the position which was made open by the action of Superintendent Kemp announcing to the school board that he would not apply for the place another year, having decided to take up other work.

Mr. Bowen's selection thus early in the season will be of mutual advantage to both the board and teachers as basis from which to start for the next year. Of his qualifications for the place there can be no doubt. He was at Wayne last summer assisting at the Normal as one of the instructors during the summer school for teachers and is again engaged for that work. Of his experience and qualifications the Democrat at that time learned that he graduated from the Nebraska Wesleyan University with the degree of Ph. B., and later earned a Master's degree at the state university. After this he took special work at Harvard. In addition to his work of preparation for the duties of an educator he has had a wide and varied experience in school work from the small school to the superintendency of several larger schools, always acquitting himself with credit, and invariably declining a re-election to positions he has held to accept a more responsible place.

The Democrat feels that the Wayne people are indeed fortunate in thus securing the services of such an able instructor. Then coming with the unanimous support of the school board as he does certainly points to a harmonious school year at Wayne for 1914-15.

District Odd-Fellow Meeting

The district meeting of the Odd Fellows of Northeastern Nebraska was held at Randolph Tuesday evening and many of the members of the order from this place went to meet brothers of the order from all counties in this corner of the state. Several of the grand lodge officers were in attendance at the session which was an all night affair. A class of about twenty members were given the work, teams from the different towns taking each degree. The Wayne team put on the initiatory, Emerson the first degree, Bloomfield the second and Allen the third. Those who attended from Wayne report a splendid time and royal entertainment. The meeting next year will be held at Laurel.

The committee in charge of the Artist's Recital course wish to announce a piano recital on Thursday night, March 19, by Miss Edna Gunnar Peterson of Chicago. Miss Peterson comes in place of Silvio Scionti who was unable to appear. While we regret that any change had to be made, we are sure that in presenting this artist we are doing no injustice to our patrons. On January 11 she appeared with Mme. Tetraxim at the Boston opera house and shortly after with Mary Garden at the Blackstone, Chicago. Her work has covered a period of years spent both in America and Europe. Through the kindness of Mrs. Ingham, we have been able to provide a Grand piano for Miss Peterson's use, which will add greatly to the pleasure of both the performers and the audience. The recital will be given at the Methodist church.

Mrs. E. S. Blair,
Mrs. Austin Abernathy,
Mrs. W. H. Morris.

Ex-Postmaster Moves to Laurel

W. H. McNeal and wife visited at Laurel Tuesday, and while there leased the LeMars hotel, the leading hostelry of the town, and plan to move there to take possession April 1st. Mr. McNeal says that the opportunity seemed to be waiting him; that the house enjoys a liberal patronage and is practically without opposition. That train service is such that Laurel cannot help being a good hotel town. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. McNeal will certainly wish them prosperity in their new venture.

See u for wedding invitations.

Our Anniversary Week

With this issue of the Democrat the present owners begin their fourth year of newspaper work at Wayne. The three years last past have been very busy ones for us. We have endeavored to do a little better than keep pace with the steady growth of the place and development of the surrounding country, and not lag in the path of progress. Of our success we can best judge by the loyal support that has come to the paper from all the people of the county with whom we have become acquainted, and we have endeavored to merit the hearty support and co-operation which has been so freely given. We have shown our faith in the future of Wayne by investing all of our earnings in Wayne, improving the plant and paying for the humble office building which houses it. We are working and hoping to improve it, so that at some future time a comfortable and substantial building may be called the Democrat home.

Our readers have with very few exceptions promptly advanced their subscriptions from year to year, and now that we are beginning our fourth year among you is it expecting too much to ask that those who are in arrears make remittance for the past and a year in advance, as many have been doing during the past two months? This will entitle you to a copy of the magnificent souvenir edition of the paper which is being prepared with great care and which it is our endeavor to make a book well worth having and preserving, even though it cost the price of the year's subscription, instead of being given in addition to the regular 52 issues of the paper at $1.50.

Thanking one and all, and soliciting your co-operation for a bigger and better Wayne; for the best development of the resources of these fertile farms, and for the uplift of the community in every manner, we are very truly your fellow workers.

GARDNER & WADE.

Would Have County Own Farm.

A number of "us farmers" stood on the walk the other day while the wind played through our whiskers and discussed the merits of the big school at Lincoln and what it is doing for the farmer. One of the crowd said that of all who had gone from Wayne, not one had come back to go on the farm and help make it a better place with the knowledge acquired. He proved his assertion by citing a number of cases—more than the editor really knew of. The young men were lost to this community for a time at least. They have taken up the work of teaching and testing matters for the government—some of them—they have found what appeals to them a better or more congenial work than farming. They are passing the "know-how" they learned out to others.

At this point Farmer R. R. Smith who is a pretty thorough farmer and has had years of experience, said that he thought the county commissioners of this and other counties should purchase a county farm and place it in charge of a practical and educated manager to be conducted as an experiment station—providing work for those who might be dependent upon public charity and thus helping them to pay their way. He would have the results of the experiments tried here of free access to any and all farmers of the county. This he thinks could be made self supporting and of great benefit to the farmers of the community.

We believe that if such a farm could be established close to Wayne and properly conducted as a dairy, poultry and vegetable farm that it could easily be made a paying investment and of much benefit to the citizens of Wayne as well as to the farmers of the county. For an agricultural community we pay altogether too much freight on things shipped in which should be home grown. Perhaps three acres of celery would no more than supply the demand here, and at half the price the consumer pays for celery here there would be millions in it. We ship in onions, potatoes, beans, cabbage and all manner of vegetables. Much of it could be raised here if only some one would do it.

The Cradle

ROBERTS—Tuesday, March 10, 1914, to J. M. Roberts and wife, a son.

State Bank of Wayne, $2000.00.
A committee consisting of C. M. Craven and R. W. Ley appeared before the council and presented the following:

Extract from the minutes of Citizens caucus held March 8, 1914. A motion was carried to the effect that it be the sense of this meeting that the mayor and city council should take such legal steps as might be necessary to have placed upon the ballot and voted upon at the next city spring election the following proposition: That bonds be sold by the city for the purpose of putting in a new pump at the city pumping station and for the purpose of something in extension on the top of the city standpipe, the amount of said bond issued to be voted upon, to be determined by the city council.

L. A. Kiplinger, Secretary.

A committee of Chris Wischhoff and others also appeared before the council asking for an extension of the water main on Fourth street between Nebraska and Windom streets and then north on Windom street to Ninth street.

No further business being completed, on motion the council adjourned to Thursday, March 12th, at 7:30 p. m.

Household Goods at Auction

Having leased a hotel completely furnished, I will sell my household goods at auction at my place one block west of the First National Bank on Saturday afternoon, March 21.

W. H. McNeal.

Social Notes

The Junior Bible Circle surprised Miss Mabel Gossard at her home Saturday evening. The meeting was carried on as usual. Miss Ella Benshoof led the lesson which was the 19th chapter of Acts. The Bible Circle will meet with the Wakefield Bible Circle at Wakefield Saturday afternoon. They will return on the evening train and have their regular meeting with Mrs. Gossard Saturday evening.

The Bible Study Circle met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lucy Wells with a large number in attendance. Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve was the leader, and an interesting lesson was had and enjoyed by all. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Donner next Tuesday and the lesson will be Luke xii:18-30. All are invited who can attend.

The Minerva Club had two lectures at President Conn's Tuesday evening. Pro. Hickman lectured on "Civics and Health". Dr. House lectured on "Values". Ida Conn sang a solo and responded to an enchoire. Light refreshments were served.

The Monday Club will meet with Mrs. Marsteller next Monday afternoon. Roll call. "Vanishing Types of Woman, What Modern Education is Doing for the American Girl", by Mrs. R. E. K. Meller. "Woman's Progress—Civil and Domestic", by Mrs. T. W. Moran, made up the program.

Miss Clara Heckert entertained last Monday evening complimentary to her cousin, Miss Maude Heckert, of Red Oak, Iowa.

The Eastern Star met last Monday evening. Mrs. Ed Johnson sang two solos. Mrs. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Dean were initiated into the mysteries of this order. Refreshments were served and a jolly evening was spent.

The P. E. O. will have an Irish evening with Mrs. Wood Jones next Monday evening.

The Bridge Whist club will meet with Miss Reba Nangle this evening.

District Court News

The March term of the District court was almost a fizzle this time, we are glad to be able to report. Preparations had been made to give a week of time to the numerous Breuckner cases, appealed from the county court by Fred and Paul Breuckner, but the young men listened to some good advice and withdrew their appeals and settled up and the cases were dismissed, much to the relief of all.

Other jury cases were either settled or continued so that the jury men were not called in, but dismissed.

There was a decree for plaintiff in the case of Anna Conley vs. Andrew Conley.

A decree was given as prayed for by A. P. Gossard disconnecting his farm land from the city of Wayne.

The new law placing a limit upon the time in which foreigners who have taken out first papers of citizenship can have to complete the matter and secure second papers is bearing fruit, and the following have become full-fledged citizens by taking final papers: Henry Moeding, Fred Larson, Johan Anton Biegler, Peter Henry Asmus, Lewis Evan, Gustav Asmus, Rehms, Eduard Trautwein, Jens Andresen, Nils Pietr Jensen, Carl Christian Nikolaj Sorensen, Fredrick Carl Gerhard Schlake, Henry Gless, Jens Hansen, Jens Peter Hansen.

Owls Organize Here.

With a charter membership of about fifty members the Order of Owls built a nest at the Jones hall in this city last Thursday night, for the owl is a night bird. John Dorr is organizer and there is to be a meeting this evening to complete the admission of charter members. Officers from Sioux City and Bloomfield were here and put on the work of the order in approved style and to the satisfaction of all.

W. E. Winteringer was elected past president, Sam Barley president, Wm. Dammeyer vice president, J. M. Jones invocator, D. A. Jones treasurer, G. W. Frame, warden, Chas. Murphy, sentinel, Ellis Powers picket, Geo. Hofeldt, Sr., Geo. Hofeldt, Jr., and Henry Kay trustees.

How about your subscription.

Misses Violet and Martha J. Woosley, Olive Mahood, Estella Ziemer, Eugenia Madsen and Jennie Sabin of the college spent Saturday and Sunday at South Sioux City, guests of Gladys Kline and Mary Monahan. Incidentally they crossed the river to attend the Ben Hur show.

A. B. Clark left last Friday for California to spend the winter. We have had practically no winter here yet and he probably got a hunch that it was now or never if he wanted winter for an excuse for going. But it is safe to bet that we will have some of the most disagreeable weather of the winter yet.

Mesdames Herman, Fred and Henry Eichtenkamp went to Fremont and Arlington, Monday to visit relatives a few days. One object of their going was to attend a surprise party given that evening at Arlington on Mrs. L. Dunklau, a sister of one of the visiting ladies, who is well known to many of our readers.

Tod Perry went to Omaha the first of the week to look for a bunch of young cattle of just the right kind. Mr. Perry has the correct idea that it pays to put good feed into only the best cattle. He does not want any walking corn cribs about his pastures and feed lots, and he is right in the matter.

Dr. Barnes of the Albion Argus is said to be thinking of accepting the nomination for congress from the democratic editors of the district on a platform declaring that to victors belong the spoils—and that every democratic editor in the district is a "victor". That might be a big saving of campaign advertising expenses.

Under Their Auto.
Hoskins, March 6:—Alec Gabler, who owns a garage at Winside and Leo Steele of Omaha, his brother-in-law, narrowly escaped death this afternoon when their auto turned turtle about a mile and a half from here on the Norfolk road while they were driving at high speed.

Both men were pinned under the car. Charles Bernhardt, near whose farm the accident occurred, went to the rescue of the men and lifted the car enough to release them. Both were unconscious for a time and were able to be taken to Winside later.

The men were said to be driving at a terrific speed. One man who saw them declared they had made the trip to Norfolk and return in an hour.

The condition of Alec Gabler, is such that his speedy recovery is expected. Leo Steele, the other injured man, is able to be up and is suffering little from his experience. Gabler's principal injury seems to be across his chest, where the weight of the automobile rested.

It is said that the accident was due to the blowing out of one of the front tires. The car turned over, pinning both of them under it. The automobile, however, was not badly damaged, the windshield being broken and one fender bent. It was able to run home under its own power.

Recognizes Power of the Press.
E. W. Huse is now sole proprietor of the Wayne Herald. Perhaps no town in Nebraska has more creditable newspapers than the city of Wayne. Many a town lies dead in the shell for years until a live newspaper man comes into it and by putting the ideas of progressive citizens before the people of the town, wakes it into life and it becomes live, progressive and prosperous. Wayne was so fortunate as to have both its papers come into the possession of live wires only a few years ago. Its greatest progress has been since that date. (Cedar County News.)

A Real Nerve and Body-Building Medicine.
We believe Rexall Olive Emulsion is the best remedy made for toning the nerves, enriching the blood, building up wasted tissues, renewing health, strength and energy—the best medicine you can use if you are run-down, tired-out, nervous and debilitated, no matter what the cause. It doesn't depend for its good effect upon alcohol or habit forming drugs, because it contains none. It may not make you feel better in a few hours, but it will make you feel better, we are sure, just as soon as the tonic and food properties it contains have a chance to get into the blood, and through the blood, into the rest of the system. Pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites have long been endorsed by successful physicians, but here, for the first time, they are combined into one preparation which, as a nerve-food and a builder of strength and health, we believe has no equal. If you don't feel well, begin taking Rexall Olive Emulsion today, and build your health and strengthen your system against more serious illness. To convalescent, old people, puny children and all others who are weak, run down or ailing we offer Rexall Olive Emulsion with our personal promise that, if it doesn't make you well and strong again, it will cost you nothing. If we didn't have the utmost faith in it, we wouldn't offer it with this guarantee, nor even recommend it to you. We are sure that once you have used it you will recommend it to your friends, and thank us for having recommended it to you. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00. Shultheis Pharmacy. adv

Gleaned From Democrat's Exchanges

They are holding a colt and horse show at Wynot this week.

The Woodman of the World organized a camp at Wisner last week.

The University is threatening to issue diplomas to more than forty young lawyers this spring.

Stanton citizens will vote on the proposition of building sewer at the coming spring election.

Stanton will hold a market day Saturday. It is all right, too, but they should systematically advertise the fact.

A Rebecca lodge was organized at Pierce last week with 28 charter members. The Norfolk bunch put the work on.

At Stanton the Register is talking of publishing the returns on personal property made to the assessors. It will make interesting reading for the tax dodgers.

At Wisner they have a fight on change of postoffice location on, and petitions and remonstrances are going into Congressman Stephens. Better have them vote on it.

C. Sorrow of Wayne, this state, has rented the Wm. Rosenbauch half-section farm east of town and will take possession directly after the Rosenbach sale. —Wausa Gazette.

They have farmers store at Madison, and last summer, says their advertisement, they sold shoes at 25c a pair. But the advertisement is lame in not telling what they are now selling shoes at and what kind they are.

The Wynot telephone line is shifting owners frequently, and it won't make many changes before the telephone monopoly of the state will gobble it, and then it will become part of a system that is almost without beginning or end.

The Magret Mail of which Ray Burch is editor, has installed a new press, 14x20 jobber, and with a lot of new type the Mail looks like another paper. Printed a paper on that kind of a press for five or six years and know that a pretty paper can be gotten out—but it is a little slow.

Plans for the "Low Cost of Living" show, which will be held in Omaha, April 16 to 26, are an innovation. The purposes are purely educational. The object of the enterprise is to suggest ways in which the cost of living can be lowered by economic buying and preparation of food.

An innovation will be introduced by Omaha jobbers during the week of March 23, when a market week for Nebraska retailers will be given. Invitations will be sent to retailers of the state, asking them to come to Omaha and be the guests of the local jobbers. A large attendance is anticipated.

At Wynot the commercial club is collecting money with which to buy calendars and improve the roads. They should cut out the calendars and spend their advertising appropriation in the home paper. If the business men of a place will keep the roads leading to the town in good shape and patronize their home paper intelligently they will not need to buy art advertising.

Ponca city council turned down a proposition to bond the city for a light and power plant to be owned and operated by the municipality. The Journal-Leader appears to think that the bond can be legally issued, taking a different position from the council. Well, if the paper is right and will stand by its guns it can create a sentiment which will bring the officials to time in short order.

Frank Q. Stuart of Iowa, long known as a radical reformer, made the mistake of thinking that the Moose party with Perkins at its head stood for some of the reforms that Stuart does, and he joined them only to learn that they did not really mean it—they were simply trying to fool the people and when Frank learned that he quit 'em.

Dean Hahn of the Wayne Normal gave the two principal address of the day. His subject for the forenoon session was "Education or Greater Efficiency," which was presented in a clear and forcible manner and met with the approval of all. The main thought given was to give the child mental discipline and cultural training in school on subjects that will be of value to him after he leaves school. In the afternoon his subject was "For the Sake of the Child" which was directed to the parents as much as to the teachers and was a plea for the physical well-being of the child. —Pierce County Leader.

The secretary of the Norfolk commercial club is corresponding with a condensed milk manufacturer regarding location at that place. They want a pledge of the milk from 3,000 cows. If they require that at the start they will scarcely come to Norfolk this season, nor to Wayne. We read last season of the efforts of an Iowa town in a much more thickly settled and older dairying section than this where they could not make it go for lack of the required number of cows within the proper radius. Milk cannot be carried far to a condensing factory unless it be carried quickly, so it must be supplied near the factory.

Thurston county farmers with the aid of their farm demonstrator, are going to try to grow enough potatoes for home consumption at least. This is a crop of which a supply has usually been shipped in. The same is true in this county. To be sure last season was an exceptional year but other seasons the farmers of this county and other citizens have been paying freight on spuds. We know that good potatoes can be grown here, for we have seen them on the market. We have no paid demonstrator in this county, but we should at least grow our own potatoes. Get the best of seed and read up on how to treat it to prevent scab—how to fertilize for the crop and go to it for 300 bushels per acre.

Misrepresentation.

Old Butcher Blake sold me some steak and guaranteed it tender; but when 'twas fried I found he'd lied—I couldn't even bend her—the doggone stuff was so blamed tough—I badly wrecked my jaw bones; four teeth I spoiled 'round which had toiled my favorite dental sawbones. I sought his shack with feelings black and called him base deceiver; but he just laughed like H. Taft and shook his keen edged cleaver. And then I strode a-down the road and told my aunts and cousins that Butcher Blake sold cast-iron steak and they told scores and dozens. And each of these he-smote their knees and vowed with tones so wrathful. "No more I'll trade with that false blade: I'll go to Butcher Grathy." That pound of cow cost him, I trow, full forty thousand kroner that one small fib, he told so glib, turned out to be a "joker". No man is wise who tells lies to gain a bunch of shekels; for truth will show and down he'll go like other Dr. Jekylls. —Uncle Dud". —Wausa Gazette.

Money in Dairying

L. A. Berge of Walton reports that farmers who have made a careful study of dairying are making money from their herds. He declares the returns are very attractive when proper attention is given to the subject.

The Modern Gospel

Ages ago a Jewish carpenter preached the Fatherhood of God, the equal Brotherhood of Men, to laborers and fishermen; said if we would but do Justice and practice right living we need no more worry about food and raiment than do bird or beast or flower, and taught His disciples to pray for the coming of the Kingdom of Heaven on earth. "The common people heard Him gladly," but Privilege shook with fear, and priests and rulers crucified Him between thieves. Yet His Gospel of Deliverance, spread by fugitives and slaves, roused and revolutionized the world. Then Privilege railed, prostituted His preaching of Justice into a shield for injustice, and in His name consecrated inequality.

But yesterday another Jew, Joseph Fels, with heart of fire and tongue of flame, sought to teach Christianity to Christians, strove to rouse a sluggish world to realize that the wrongs which enslave women and rob even children, are rooted in land monopoly, and that the sole remedy is that which was indicated by Henry George. His dynamic energy was first felt here and in England; then stirred all Europe, and now Asia, Africa, and the isles have been aroused. Now all the world mourns his death and in every city are those who realize they have lost a friend and brother in this Lion of the tribe of Judah who let light into dark places, shook vested wrongs on their thrones, and brought nearer the day—Whittier foretold when will Earth own at last, untrod By sect or class or clan, The Fatherhood of God, The Brotherhood of Man." —Will Atkinson in The Public.

Our Home Women Have Beautiful Hair.

Next time you go to the theater or to the "movies" just notice, if you please, how many of our home ladies have beautiful hair—glossy, lustrous, and well dressed. Then, if you will pick out five or ten of those whose hair seems to be particularly pretty and will ask them what they use on it, we feel sure that at least more than half of them will say, "Harmony Hair Beautifier." It is fast becoming the rage with both men and women who are particular about the appearance of their hair.

Sprinkle a little Harmony Hair Beautifier on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil; will not change color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of scalp and hair, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly the entire operation takes only a few minutes. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores and in this town only by us.—Shultheis Pharmacy. adv

The K. P. golden anniversary celebration at Winside last Friday evening was one of the happy lodge events of the year. The opera house was engaged for the occasion, and an excellent program was put on. A number from this place had planned to attend but weather conditions were not favorable for an automobile trip, and business engagements kept others from having one of the best of times.

Whether or not President Wilson will speak in the approaching campaign is a question which is agitating some people now. He has for president, for so doing a long line of office-seeking republican precedents. If in the opinion of the president there are things which should be said by him at that time or any other, there is little doubt but that he will say them. He has that habit. He has convictions of his own, and lets all know what they are. As a rule they have been so sound as to appeal at once to the people as right.

Artemus Ward was credited with saying during the late civil war that he would put the rebellion down if he had to sacrifice all of his wife's relation. This might be counted to include a mother-in-law, hence the willingness perhaps. So it is now as to Mexico. The jingo-journalist and the owner of the yellow sheets are willing to cast the common herd into the hell of war to make their stuff sell well—to give them some real stories of horror or heroism to play up. They harp on the string so long that the general public would almost be willing for war if those fellows would only go to the front. Like friend Ward, the common people would almost be willing to sacrifice that entire bunch.

The Lincoln Bryan Club will observe the birthday of Mr. Bryan at Lincoln on the 19th with one of their famous dollar dinners. The program of toasts is not yet announced, but enough acceptances have been received to assure them that there will be no lack of orators of nation-wide reputation to provide the real feast. Mr. Bryan will be unable to attend, but not for the same reason that Washington, Jefferson and Jackson are absent from their annual birthday parties—he is not dead—not even a "jame duck." He will send an inspiring message to his friends about the board, and it will be one of good cheer. At this banquet, for the first time, ladies will be in attendance, a very tact admission of their coming to their own in matters of citizenship in this state. In the past these annual birthday parties have been one of the big political events of the country, and this year promises to be no exception, unless it be larger than any of the preceding gatherings. The Democrat sends hearty greeting.

In The Middle of The Road

At the meeting of the Modern Woodmen camp at this place Tuesday evening they repeated their resolution of some months ago favoring a raise in rates of 50 per cent above the present rate and also the 70-year plan, which gives members a payment at that age equal to the sum they have paid into the beneficiary fund. They took no action for or against the present officers, leaving the delegates to follow their inclination.

Physical Science Club

The Physical Science Club is one of the active organizations of the school. The class holds meetings on Tuesday evenings of each week, and by means of papers and discussions keeps abreast the times on all matters pertaining to science. On Tuesday evening of this week the following program was given by the club. Review of Scientific American—Minnie V. Bergman. The Electric Incandescent Light—Joseph Paschang. The Electric Arc Light—Sidney M. Johnson. Biography of Edison—Winifred Angel.

Dakota County to Have Farm Demonstrator.

A farm demonstrator, who must be expert in all branches of agriculture and ready at all times to lend advice to those in difficulty will be employed by Dakota county, Nebraska. An automobile will be furnished him.

A meeting of farmers at Dakota City Saturday afternoon decided to follow the lead of other Nebraska counties and give the demonstrator idea a chance. C. W. Pugsley, of Lincoln, Neb., was the principal speaker at the meeting. He is leader of the movement in the state.

The Mexican Situation.

There has been much said of late about the position of the administration at Washington in regard to Mexico, and every incident that can be used by those who would like to involve this county in war for their private gain is made the most of. Usually when the facts are known there is nothing to cause such a flurry except those who want to make it. The Benton incident was deplorable, but no one was perhaps more to blame than Benton. At any rate an investigation has not thus proved that he was not an aggressor, and when the truth is known there is little doubt but that responsible persons will have to pay the penalty if in the wrong.

The killing of Vergara was another of the incidents apt to happen in such a time among such people. He went to the enemy's country, according to report, with hope of making a sale of some horses and met a band of robbers who robbed and murdered him. It was wrong, and all hope to see righted as far as such wrong can be righted. When his body was recovered by his friends an attempt was made to establish that this government had knowledge of the raid in advance and that Texas rangers had been a party to the rescue, which might be construed an act of war. But here is the report of the investigation of the case:

"Investigation shows the body of Vergara was taken from the Hidalgo cemetery Saturday night by relatives of Vergara and hired Mexicans. Capt. Sanders states positively no Texas rangers crossed the border. He met the body at the landing opposite San Enrique with undertaker Convery, Sunday morning. He states there were no signs of burns on the body. Found four bullet holes. Neck chafed but not broken. Body decomposed but pants match coat left at home by Vergara. Identification seems reliable. Recovery of body said to have cost S. T. Hill, brother-in-law of Vergara $400. Body being held at request of Adjt. Gen. Hutchins. No excitement."

School Notes

Remember the school entertainment on April 10th.

A large number of pupils are absent on account of sickness.

Harold Hakanson entered the seventh grade this week and Amy the second.

At a recent meeting of the 1913 football team, Everett Hogreuewood was elected captain for the 1914 team.

Miss Huyck, the domestic science and drawing teacher, is absent this week, having a touch of pneumonia.

In the absence of Miss Huyck, Miss Nita Foster has been conducting the sixth, seventh and eighth grade sewing classes.

Mr. Becker, a student in the State Normal has been substituting for Mr. Penn in the manual training department the last week.

The high school orchestra will furnish the music for the high school declamatory contest at Norfolk on the evening of March 26th.

The Freshman class gave the following program on Friday morning. Piano solo by Marsaline Lewis; Recitation by Ruth Carpenter; Current events by Milo Hood; Vocal solo by Izetta Johnson.

State Normal Notes

President and Mrs. Conn entertained the Minerva club at their home Tuesday evening.

We regret the loss of Paul Mines, who left last week for a special course at the Bradley Polytechnic Institute, Peoria, Illinois.

Mr. J. A. Piper of Lincoln spent Sunday in Wayne, the guest of his daughter, Miss Elsie Ford Piper.

Members of the state normal faculty who served as judges in debates last Friday evening were: Denn Hahn and Dr. House at Battle Creek, and Miss Jewell at Wakefield.

The Crescent Literary Society has issued a challenge to the Philomatheans to engage in a literary contest. It is understood that the challenge will be accepted.

Joe H. Jirak of Verdigre, Nebraska, registered the first of the week. Mr. Jirak is a graduate of the Highland Park, Des Moines, Commercial college.

Superintendent O. R. Bowen of West Point, recently-elected superintendent of the Wayne public schools, will be one of the special instructors in the summer session of the normal this year.

The chorus under the direction of Professor Coleman has been doing excellent work this year. For some time the class has been at work on a cantata, entitled "The Rose Maiden" by Cowen, and a musical program will be presented to the public in the chapel on the evening of March 25.

Former Nebraskan Dead

The following extract from the Tacoma, Washington, Daily News gives a sketch of the life of William H. Doolittle, a former Nebraskan whose death occurred at his home in Tacoma on February 26:

"Colonel William H. Doolittle, a resident of Tacoma for more than a quarter of a century, for two terms congressman from the first district of the state of Washington, formerly a member of the legislature in Nebraska, and an active member of the Pierce County Bar Association, died at his home in Hyada Park, Brown's Point, last evening. He had been ill with diabetes for some time, but the serious breakdown came in November, though he continued to make occasional trips to Tacoma, and maintained his office in the Bank of Commerce building. A week ago last Saturday night he was taken worse and gradually failed.

Colonel Doolittle is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Katherine A. Redmond of Johnson county, Nebraska, and two children. He was born in Erie county, Pennsylvania. The family moved to Stevens Point, Wisconsin, where Mr. Doolittle passed his youth. His first law practice was in Johnson county, Nebraska. During his residence of about six years in that state he was elected to the legislature and was also assistant prosecuting attorney. In 1880 he removed to Washington territory and engaged in the practice of his profession at Colfax. Later the late W. H. Pritchard arrived there and they formed a law partnership. They removed to Tacoma in 1888, where they at once took a prominent place at the bar.

Mr. Doolittle was elected as representative in congress from the first district of the state of Washington on the republican ticket in 1892 and served two terms. On his retirement from congress he returned to Tacoma and resumed the practice of law. He spent some time in Alaska.

In politics Mr. Doolittle has been a lifelong republican and was prominent in the counsels and services of the party. As a lawyer he took high rank and his integrity was above reproach.

Mr. Doolittle is well known in Nebraska. He is a brother-in-law of W. D. Redmond, and was for several years a prominent attorney of southeast Nebraska, engaged in the practice of law at Sterling.

Carroll Takes to Bed.

J. J. Carroll, Nick Lenhoff and Nick Funk of Randolph were in town on business yesterday. Mr. Carroll says his brother, E. H., former county commissioner, is attending to business from his bed with the same courage and good cheer that he exercised before an operation at Sioux City confirmed the diagnosis of the Rochester physicians that he is suffering from cancer and has but a short time in which to close up his affairs. Anyway, his short residence in Cedar county has been a good thing for the county, as his magnificent courage is now an inspiration to those who are intimately associated with him.—Cedar County News.

Death of A. R. Ernest

The body of A. R. Ernest, who died at Sioux City last Friday night was taken to Carroll Monday evening for burial. Mr. Ernest was injured in an elevator last January and never recovered. He died at one of the city hospitals where he was taken for an operation in hope of saving his life. He was a brother of James Ernest formerly of this place and also of Mrs. Cobb at Carroll. He was about 41 years of age and leaves a wife and three small children, whose mother died about three year ago, Mr. Ernest marrying a second time a year ago last fall. His brother James, who is now living at Page went to Sioux City and accompanied the body to Carroll, where the funeral was held from the Baptist church Tuesday.

Normal Wins Basket Ball Game from Sioux City Y. M. C. A.

The basketball game at the Normal gymnasium last Saturday proved quite a surprise to the local players. The normal team had fully recovered from the crippled condition under which it played the Bellevue game, and gave the Sioux City Journal team (last year's Y. M. C. A. team) one of the severest drubbings a team has received on a local floor for some time.

The Journal team has quite a record behind it, this season, and has won from one of the best teams in this section, including Crofton and the Big Newman Grove squad. But they met a severe defeat at the Normal. The final score was 52 to 12. Hickman and Van Norman starred at basket shooting for the Normal and every

MAKES RHEUMATISM PROMPTLY DISAPPEAR

Chronic, Crippled-up Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of New Remedy are Taken

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter all the poisons from the blood and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome urinary disorders.

Mrs. O. V. Halstead, who was neighbor to the J. H. Massie family when they lived at Schuyler, but is now living at Rogers, stopped here Monday to visit at their home while returning from a visit with relatives at Bloomfield.

Mrs. Morehouse came down from Randolph last Thursday to visit a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Weber. She was accompanied by her little granddaughter, Doratha Morehouse, who took good care of her grandmother on the trip.

The work of filling the ice house is completed this week. Quite a quantity of ice has been shipped in this season from a locality where ice formed thicker than here and in greater quantity. This was mostly stored by farmers, but the Wayne ice man took a few cars.

A. J. Laughlin went to Emerson Tuesday to visit a son living at that place. He recently returned from Kansas where he went to visit but because the weather was so disagreeable he longed for some good Nebraska weather and returned promptly to enjoy the remainder of the winter in this part of the state.

W. H. Andressen and wife went to Wakefield Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Walters who died Saturday or Sunday at that place. Her body was taken to Lyons for burial.

A. C. Dean, who is going to build a modern house on his farm southwest of Wayne this spring has nearly all of his material hauled, and work is under way for his basement. It will be one of the good farm improvements of the county this season.

George Juhlin, who has been on a farm south of Randolph for the past season or two, shipped his belongings to Smith Center, Kansas, two weeks ago where he will farm his father-in-law's farm. Mrs. Juhlin left Tuesday morning to join him there after a visit here with his parents, N. J. Juhlin and wife.

F. O. Korth writes from the north part of this county to send the Democrat to him at Lewisville, Minnesota, where he is moving to make his home from now on. Lewisville is near Mankato, and in an excellent part of the state, according to the estimate of our friend. All wish them well in their new home.

W. E. Beaman went to Lincoln Tuesday to attend the annual meeting of the Nebraska retailers. He is one of the progressive grocers of the state, and there is no doubt but that he will bring home some good ideas, and also that he will be able to tell his fellow retailers of a few good things to do in the building of a successful business.

W. I. James, who moved from Carroll to Colorado Springs about two years ago on account of the health of a little daughter, has been spending the past two weeks with relatives and friends at Carroll visiting and looking after his property there. He reports that the child, who was troubled with asthma in this climate, is well and hearty there. He did not venture to bring her with him on this trip for fear of the effect of this lower altitude upon her health.

C. W. Post, who has made millions advertising the merits of his different breakfast food preparations must have failed to live on grape-nuts and a few of the kindred productions from his food factories—or else he did—and had a close call for life. He had gone to his winter home at Santa Barbara, California, where he was stricken with some trouble which nothing but a Rochester operation was known of to cure and there was no time to spare. So a special train was made up and rushed the sick man off on a trip of 3,100 miles, and those who know the cost of such a ride say it would not cost him less than $5,500, so it was a good thing that it happened to him instead of a poor newspaper man who does not know enough to advertise—except for the other fellows.

Chris Wischhof, who filed an appeal from the decision of the commissioners of Dixon county in the matter of the expenses of county attorney and his assistant and the bills of the medical experts, tells us that we are mistaken in mentioning the name of Attorney F. S. Berry in connection with the matter. Mr. Berry was in no way interested, he says, not even as an attorney. Mr. Wischhof says that Mr. Berry had been at the county seat of Dixon county the day before the appeal was filed on another case. Mr. Wischhof is one of the heavy taxpayers of Dixon county and thinks that as such and also as a citizen he should do his part in seeing that the county commissioners use the due diligence in investigating the merits of bills before allowing them. In his opinion there is not the publicity given to commissioner proceedings that should be before the payment of bills. In the bridge matters of that county he feels confident that the board exceeded its authority in transferring large sums of other funds to the bridge fund. He also charges that board proceedings have not been published promptly, so that the taxpayer did not know of the acts of the board until after the time for an appeal had passed. The Democrat hopes to see a better condition prevail in the business affairs of the counties of Nebraska, for we believe that the tax payers in many counties have been made to foot bills that were excessive.

Among The Churches of Wayne

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
(Rev. Blessing, Pastor.)

Sunday School every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. All scholars are requested to be present next Sunday, as the teachers wish to speak about the Easter program.

Regular preaching services every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The subject of the sermon for next Sunday will be "A Universal Invitation—Come and See", John 1:46. When Phillip heard the voice of the Christ saying, "follow me", he obeyed. As he followed the Christ, he became very much impressed with Him, so much so, that he went to his brother, Nathanael, and said, "We have found Him of whom Moses in the law and the prophets wrote—Jesus of Nazareth." But Nathanael, in somewhat an uncertain attitude answered—"Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" He knew that Nazareth was not a popular city, and thus was a little uncertain as to whether any great person, as the Messiah could come from it. But Phillip says to him "come and see". Is not the same thing true in this present day? We are so well acquainted with man, we know him to be a weak and frail creature, so many people think that nothing good can come of man, and thus they say—Can anything good come of Christ. But the answer comes back—come and see.

Services every Sunday evening at half past seven. The subject of the sermon next Sunday evening will be "The Promise of Paradise", Luke 23:43.

The Ladies Aid Society met last week at the home of Mrs. Ole Hursted. The meeting was well attended and a pleasant and profitable time was spent. The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Mary Swanson, Miss Stambaugh as hostess.

Choir rehearsal every Tuesday evening at the parsonage.

Last Tuesday evening the Brotherhood had a very pleasant time discussing the various cabinet officers of the President. The first Tuesday of each month is the time of the regular meeting.

Since we failed having a quorum last Wednesday no business was done by the official board. Meeting of the stewards Thursday at 7:30.

Meeting of the Woman's Missionary Societies with Mrs. Crossland Friday, March 13 at 2:30. A large attendance is desired.

Paul Young, who is engaged in Sunday School Missionary work, located at Fremont, was received by letter, last Sunday morning.

Interest in the mission study is growing. The meeting of next Sunday will be of special interest. Leaders, Miss Laase and Miss Ben-shoff.

Sermon next Sunday morning on the "Parable of the Talents" and in the evening on the "Prodigal Son." All are invited.

At the Cabinet meeting Monday evening it was decided to have a box social, April 3rd, instead of March 20. There will be but one "April Fool" box and the securing of this box carries special privileges.

March 23 is the date of the second Quarterly Conference. You should be there if you are a member of that body. The pastor hopes all the reports will be ready.

Baptist church there.

On March 31, our missionary budget year comes to a close. Some of our people are behind on their missionary pledge. If possible let all who read this notice, give immediate attention to this notice matter.

Dr. Wilson Mills is planning to be with us next Sunday evening, having his stereotypical views of our foreign work.

Miss Ethel Kopp is to lead the young people's meeting next Sunday.

On Wednesday evening the teacher's meeting begins at 7:15 to 7:45. The prayer meeting begins at 7:45. If a teacher, you need this first meeting, if a Christian, you ought to attend the second.

Presbyterian Church
Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.

"The Goodness of God" will be the subject for the morning sermon at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. In the evening the pastor will close his series of sermons on the "Women of the Bible" with a sermon on "Mary, the most blessed of women".

The missionary meeting this week will be held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hannah Crawford. New programs for the year have been printed and are being distributed among the members of the Missionary society.

The hours of worship on Sundays are 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The Sunday school meets at 12 o'clock, and the C. E. prayer-meeting at 6:30 p. m.

A special service combining the church and Sunday School will be held on Easter morning and Superintendent J. H. Kemp has distributed among the members of the school Easter coin cards in which the offerings for Foreign Missions will be made at that time.

The annual congregational meeting will be held early in April as the church year closes March 31st. Rev. E. Van Dyke Wight, D. D., formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church of Wayne, and now pastor in Middletown, N. Y., is returning to Nebraska this summer to deliver the Commencement address at Hastings college. It is expected that he will be able to visit Wayne on his trip and meet his old friends of former days.

Although no special meetings are being held the spirit of religious revival is abroad in our midst and is manifest in deepened interest in the Sabbath services, and in increased activity in the Sabbath school work. The religious side of life has been somewhat neglected by the average citizen in recent years, but a country-wide revival is making itself felt all over the nation.

German Lutheran Church
Rev. Moehring, Pastor

Next Sunday there will be the usual services, Sunday School at 10 a. m. and preaching by the pastor at 11 o'clock. All are welcome.

Bert McClary has added a new line of the Red Wing crockery to his stock of general merchandise.

Grandma Davies is reported ill with pneumonia, and her many friends are hoping that she will recover, though her age of 89 years makes it an occasion of much anxiety for all.

Federation Celebrates Nebraska's Forty-Seventh Birthday.

PURE ICE WATER ON TRAINS.

State Board of Health Orders That All Sources of Such Supply Must Be Investigated and Passed Upon by Chemists—Claim Allowed.

Lincoln, March 10.—The Federation of Nebraska Retail Dealers opened its annual session in the Lincoln Auditorium this morning. Governor Morehead and Mayor Zehrung delivered addresses of welcome and the officers made their annual reports. John A. Green of Cleveland, O., secretary of the national association of grocers, delivered an address.

J. R. Moorhead of Lexington, Mo., secretary of the National Federation of Retail Dealers, on Wednesday, will address the convention on "A Reasonable Restraint of Trade." The show is something in the nature of a celebration of Nebraska's forty-seventh birthday and the industrial development of the state.

Reason for Pullman Ride.
D. C. Rich, an Omaha detective, has written a letter to State Auditor Howard, explaining why he charged for Pullman day service while bringing back prisoners to Nebraska. Mr. Rich put in a claim for $5.75 for day Pullman chairs. Mr. Rich says that he has received notice from the governor's private secretary that the claim is held up by the auditor and explains that the train was so crowded that they could get no seats except in the Pullman. The voucher has not yet been returned to the auditor, so he cannot draw the warrant for Mr. Rich's claim for Trip Allowed.

The board of control of the state allowed the much-held-up claim for $42.50 presented by Mrs. Pearl Barber, former superintendent of the Kearney tubercular hospital, for a trip to Chicago for Duket goat serum for the use of the hospital. The claim was held up pending a decision which state board had jurisdiction over the claim. The auditor will now draw a warrant for the payment of the claim.

Bank Loses 79 Per Cent.
The final chapter in the failure of the Chamberlain banking house of Tecumseh, which occurred in 1902, is being written by A. O. Shaw, receiver for the concern, who was at the offices of the state banking board making his final report. Since the failure of the bank it has had four or five different receivers, Mr. Shaw being appointed about four years ago. In settling up the affairs of the bank he reports that the loss to depositors was about 79 per cent.

Tax on Interstate Line.
Frank A. Barton of Pawnee City desires to know of the attorney general if an electric line running from that place to Summerville, Kan., just across the Nebraska line, is subject to taxes in this state. The Pawnee City Electric Light company furnishes the current, but the line was built by the Kansas people. Mr. Barton has been informed that the line must be taxed in Nebraska.

Status of Populists.
The secretary of state is in receipt of a letter from County Clerk G. E. McCullum of Chase county, desiring to know if the People's Independent party still has a right to a place on the ballot. The secretary of state is of the opinion that the Populists will have the same rights as the other old parties.

Pure Ice on Trains.
The state board of health has issued an order that all railroad trains shall be prohibited from taking water or ice unless the source of supply has been examined by the state bacteriologist and the water and ice shown to be pure.

Hall Given Place.
Railway Commissioner Thomas L. Hall has received notice from President T. B. Finn of the National Association of Railway Commissioners that he has been appointed to a place on the committee on express service and rates.

WYMORE MEN IN JAIL

Four Charged With Assaulting Beatrice Debaters.
Beatrice, Neb., March 10.—Ben and Tom Crum, John Fuller and Earl Fulton were brought here from Wymore and lodged in the county jail on the charge of disorderly conduct and assaulting the Beatrice debating party at Wymore, after they had boarded a Burlington train to return home. Four others comprising the attacking party escaped when they learned Sheriff Scheik and Deputy Sheriff Acton were after them. The men now in jail will probably be given their hearing today.

Alleged Bootleggers Bound Over.
Broken Bow, Neb., March 9.—Enis Crist of this city and William Kennedy of Merna, charged with the illegal sale of liquor, have been bound over to the district court. Both men waived preliminary hearing and furnished bonds in the sum of $500 each.

Broken Bow Wins.
Ansley, Neb., March 10.—Broken Bow and Ansley high schools met in joint debate at Ansley. The league question was argued, Ansley taking the affirmative, Broken Bow the negative. The decision was unanimously given to the Broken Bow team.

WOMEN TO FIGHT SUFFRAGE

Form First Association in Nebraska to Oppose "Votes for All."

Omaha, March 9.—Mrs. Edward Porter Peck was elected temporary chairman and Mrs. William Archibald Smith secretary of the first anti-suffrage organization in Nebraska at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Peck. The policy of the new organization, as voiced by one of its members, will be directly opposed to that of the suffrage organizations. "Instead of speeches, arguments and unladylike conduct, we will go quietly, on our way, seeking only to convert those that we meet in our daily rounds," she declared. The only plan of action so far decided upon was the distribution of anti-suffrage literature, although a suggestion was made that opposition arguments be placed before the working girls in the large factories.

KEARNEY AFTER GUN RANGE

Tract of Ground Near Old Fort Kearney Offered the State.

Lincoln, March 9.—Kearney wants the location of the new rifle range to be bought by the national guard, and W. O. Dungan of that city called on the adjutant general and made the offer of the range near old Fort Kearney. The range embraces 600 acres, lying along the Platte river, and can be secured for $20 an acre and possibly less.

Adjutant General Hall was much impressed with the offer and will go to Kearney to look the situation over. The range was used a few years ago as a state range in connection with the encampment of the guard, which was held that year at Kearney.

PAY INTEREST TO MARCH 10

Bank Guaranty Law Called Into Play for First Time.

Lincoln, March 10.—Interest on deposits in the failed State Savings bank at Superior will be paid up to March 10, according to instructions given Receiver Seaman by the state banking board.

This is the first time that the state guaranty law has been called into play to reimburse depositors, and there was some controversy whether the law would permit of the payment of interest up to the time the bank was re-opened or only to Jan. 1, the time of the semi-annual interest payment, but the board finally agreed on March 10 as the time.

HOOPER DIED ACCIDENTALLY

Coroner's Jury Finds Weapon Was Discharged in Own Hands.

Omaha, March 10.—That J. H. Hooper, alleged forger, came to his death by the accidental discharge of a revolver held in his own hand, as he struggled with Detectives Edward Fleming and Frank Murphy, was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury after twenty minutes' deliberation. The officers were completely exonerated of any blame in the affair.

No new evidence was revealed aside from the fact that $135 in cash was found with the papers and gun scabard on the dead man.

Blair Stirred by Grand Jury Call.

Blair, Neb., March 10.—The first grand jury to be called in this county since 1885 was impaneled by Judge Leslie of this district, and is the cause of a sensation. Charles Ross, secretary of the Civic league, who is said to have evidence of liquor law violations, and other disorders, is expected to be the star witness. He spent two hours in presenting his story. Emmet Bolt, transient officer, was called to tell the jury of the sale of tobacco and cigarettes to minors, and Guy Hellman, joint agent of the Northwestern and Omaha railroads, and E. C. Rauehm of the American Express company, have been asked to produce copies of their records for the last eighteen months, to show to whom liquor has been consigned.

Farmers Ready to Start Work.

Omaha, March 10.—Sam North, district passenger agent of the Illinois Central, in from a tour of Nebraska, asserts that farmers everywhere are anticipating an early spring and that they are preparing to begin work on the farms as soon as the ground is in condition. Talking with farmers and others he learned that all animals on the farm have come through the winter in fine condition and at an expense greatly below the normal minimum. In many localities farmers have much of their coarse feed left over.

Point for Recallers.

Lincoln, March 9.—The recallers in the petition for the recall of Commissioner O. J. King of Lincoln won another victory in the district court when Judge Stewart overruled the motion of City Attorney Foster for a new trial in the case of a recount of the names upon the petitions for the recall. The recallers went into court to compel the city clerk to count names on the petitions thrown out by him and for some other acts of the clerk which they deemed out of his jurisdiction, and the court held for the recallers.

More Warrants Called.

Lincoln, March 9.—The state debt got another slash when State Treasurer George issued a call for warrants amounting to $138,000. This will take in all numbers running up to 6,230 and is made for March 12. The office is still redeeming outstanding warrants in the hands of the original owner from the university extension fund and has taken up $32,738 worth. The new call will reduce the outstanding warrants to about $450,000.

These Altona merchants propose to give their mule team a rest and freight between Wayne and their town with the automobile, making a saving of the time that has heretofore been put on the road. Some morning we will wake up and find some of our Wayne merchants delivering with a puff-wagon. Wm. Dixon of Sioux City was out to see that the new truck started right and took a load to Altona on it Tuesday.

E. W. Splittgerber, who has been among his home folks here looking after Nebraska property, left Tuesday evening for his place at Van Tassel, Wyoming. Mr. Splittgerber came to this part of Nebraska when a small lad, and after they had been a year or two in America. Being the oldest of the children and learning our language quickly he always acted as interpreter for his father, who never acquired mastery of English, when dealing with those who could not speak German. This gave him an early insight in business matters which was much to his advantage in business matters of his own. A pioneer here is again among the early settlers of the Wyoming district where so many have gone from this county.

Art. Koenigstein, county attorney of Madison county, was at Wayne Monday on legal business and called at the Democrat office to greet his friend, A. C. Gant, who is making headquarters here part of the time while working up material for a souvenir edition of the Wayne papers. The editor had a pleasant chat with the Norfolk attorney of whom we had heard so much. Speaking of the congressional situation in this district and the fact that the friends of Mr. Koenigstein are urging him to ask the democratic nomination, he admitted that he would be glad to make the race if his brand of democracy was acceptable to the democrats of the district, but has not announced himself as a candidate. He has many warm supporters in this district who hope to see him make the race, believing that he is a logical candidate, having made an enviable record as attorney for the county, and being a young man of wide acquaintance over the district.

Minnesota Potatoes

Burbank, Carmans, Endurance and Early Ohios at Rundell's Grocery, Ohios, 90c the bushel in 10 bushel lots.

At the regular meeting of the Crucible club Monday evening in addition to the unfinished business relating to the completion of the constitution and by-laws there was round table discussion of interest to all. Two vacancies in membership were filled.

Gus Bohnert and wife leave today to make an extended vacation trip richly earned by several years of close attention to a most exacting business, having persided over the destiny of the Union hotel for the past four or five years, adding to the size of the house and making it into a comparatively modern house by installing a good heating system. They will first go to Texas where they have property and see what it looks like. Then they will set their faces toward the setting sun and stop at tide-water in southern California. Here they will visit relatives and friends in vicinity of Los Angeles, then go north to San Francisco, and on into Oregon and Washington, making numerous stops and some side trips. On the home trip they will visit in Idaho, and beyond a doubt be glad to get back to Wayne and settle down at some business again, for it is doubtful if they will see anything on the trip which will surpass northeastern Nebraska. Their children will remain here and continue their school work while the parents are away.

These are busy day at the normal. Preparatory for beginning work on the new administration building it will be necessary for departments now occupying rooms in the old college building to find temporary quarters elsewhere. President Conn has secured the old ward school building from the board of education to be used while the new structure is in process of erection. At present the old college is occupied by the training school, and by the departments of commerce, shorthand and typewriting, German and music. The basketball season for the year will close on March 20. Following that date partitions will be placed in the gymnasium and that large room converted into class rooms for the accommodation of the pupils in the grades. The other departments will be assigned temporary quarters pending the completion of the administration building.

Foreman John Riddle of Creighton has moved his family to Wayne and has set April 1st as the date on which the wrecking of the old building will begin. It is his opinion that thirty days will be required to remove the old structure and make the excavation for the new. The contract calls for the completion of the building on January 1, 1915, and the school will thus be abundantly able to care for the students at the time of the largest attendance in the year 1914-1915.

St. Patricks Day Dance

On the evening of the 17th there will be given the third of the Wayne orchestra dances at the city hall. This is to be a strictly Irish event, and all the "shanty" Irish are invited. Seventy-five invitations have been issued, and a really fine time is planned. The Nance orchestra will furnish the music, which is a guarantee that it will be of the best. The fifteen numbers of the program are each and every one popular.

Flanagan's Boy
Story of St. Patrick's Day
By CLARISSA MACKIE

"Larry will never be coming home," sighed Dennis Flanagan as he looked out into the March twilight. "It's five years since he went away to seek his fortune, Molly, and do you never wonder what he's found?"

Molly Delaney looked at her uncle through unshed tears.

"I am always wondering that, Uncle Dennis," she answered.

"Light the lamp, Molly, and read his latest letter," requested Dennis.

When the lamp was lighted it disclosed a comfortable sitting room, clean and cozy and warm. It showed Dennis in his big rocking chair, his helpless rheumatic feet propped on a stool. Lovely Molly Delaney, with her misty black hair and her Irish blue eyes, sat down at the table and opened the worn envelope that contained Larry Flanagan's letter and read:

Dear Father—Although it's five years since I left you with high hopes in my heart that my returning would be soon, I fear that I must wait a little longer before seeing your dear face again and feeling the hearty clasp of your hand. Gold is an alluring jade. She has led me a pretty chase in this bleak, cold country, and now she is only just in sight. Please God, when next I write it will be to tell you that I have struck it rich, that I am coming home to buy a grand house for you and Molly, and we will all be happy together. Remember that I promised Molly that when I came home I'd bring her a bunch of emerald shamrocks, the real jewels, and now they are just within my reach. A boy from Hazenville is due here tomorrow, and with his comb I expect to hear direct news from you both. With love from your dutiful son, LARRY.

Molly lifted her eyes and looked across the table at Dennis Flanagan.

"Uncle Dennis, I'm afraid that Larry will never come home," she whispered. The old man lifted a tremulous hand.

"Tush, child; I've a feeling that Larry will come back to us. I had a dream last night. I thought there came a knocking at the door and I opened it to see our Larry. Instead of wearing fine clothes and a silk hat, poor Larry was in rags. And instead of pinning a bunch of emerald shamrocks on your bosom, where they'd be out of place on that flimsy cotton gown, my dear, our poor Larry carried a little pot of the living green plant from old Ireland. And then I woke up."

Molly was sobbing softly.

"I don't care how poor he is, Uncle Dennis, if he will only come home to us."

"No more do I, childie," whimpered Dennis.

"Don't sorrow, Uncle Dennis," comforted the girl, slipping to her knees beside him. "Larry will soon come home. If this last quest for gold should prove useless, I can see him turning about and coming back to us. Between the lines of his letter I could read that he was hungering for the ones he had left behind."

"God bless you, daughter," smiled Dennis more cheerfully.

The Alaska twilight had fallen swiftly like a dull gray blanket tossed over the frozen world; then a ghostly moon appeared over the eastern mountains and revealed bleak expanses of glistening snow and the dark masses of pine trees.

Under the shoulder of the bill crouched a little cabin, and before the blazing fire on its hearth two young men were sitting. The "boy from Hazenville" had arrived, and Larry Flanagan was listening to his story of home and the home folks.

"And my old father helpless with the rheumatism?" repeated Larry incredulously. "Why, Mike Dolan, the old scout never wrote a word of it to me! But, thank heaven, the railroad stocks will keep him comfortable, but—"

Mike Dolan looked at the big framed man, whose brown hair was graying on the temples and whose handsome face had taken on new lines of doggedness during the past five years. Was it possible that Larry did not know that the little western railroad had blown up and that old Dennis Flanagan's stock was worthless?

"Larry," he interrupted soberly, "didn't you know that the railroad busted and your father lost every penny?"

"You lie!" cried Larry savagely, for he was struck to the heart by the news. Mike Dolan smiled pityingly.

"It's all true, Larry, and what's more true is that your little cousin Molly is a wonderful girl. When the bad news came the lass opened a millinery shop, and with her clever fingers she certainly has made money hand over fist. She's taken good care of your father, and—"

"Whisht, man," cried Larry in an agonized tone, "I cannot bear to hear any more! Look at me, Mike Dolan! Laugh at me! I came away to make my fortune. I said when I returned I would bring Molly a bunch of shamrock made from emeralds, with diamond dewdrops on 'em, and look at this!" He swept his arm in a gesture that included the four corners of the rough cabin. "Me, still striving to make good that promise, and Molly—sweet little Molly Delaney—not bothering her dear head about emeralds or diamonds, but doing her duty day by day! Laugh at me, Mike Dolan, for I am a blind fool!"

But Mike Dolan did not laugh.

On the 17th of March Dennis Flanagan and his niece sat down to supper.

All day long Dennis had listened for the postman's ring at the doorbell, but in vain. There came a newsboy from his old home in County Antrim, Ireland, but beyond that there was nothing. Always before they had received some word from Larry in his faraway home, and though the delay might be attributed to the mails and the heavy snowstorms reported in the northwest, Dennis was heavy hearted.

"May the blessed Saint whose day it is protect him wherever he is!" sighed Dennis as he took a cup of tea from Molly's hand.

"I'm sure we will hear from Larry in the morning," cried Molly hopefully.

"Look, Uncle Dennis, at the sweet pot of shamrock I brought home."

Dennis looked at her keenly.

"Molly, lass, and do you not pine for the real emeralds, the jewels that Larry promised?" he asked.

Molly laughed scornfully. Her cheeks flushed rosily, and her blue eyes shone with love for the absent lover-cousin.

"Uncle Dennis, you make me ashamed! Don't you believe I'd rather see a lad who has two green eyes—eyes the color of that bunch of shamrock—than all the jewels in the world? Those emerald eyes of Larry Flanagan's are the only jewels I would wear against my heart!" She hung her head in sudden sweet shame.

Dennis' wrinkled hand was stretched across the table toward her.

"Then, Molly, lass," he whispered, "maybe it'll come all right, for again I dreamed the dream of Larry coming home, poor and needy instead of rich and—"

"Who wanted him rich, Uncle Dennis?" cried the girl hotly. "We were satisfied, you and I. We pleaded with him not to go away and leave us. But there; perhaps it was for the best, but there is an ache behind it all!"

"What is that?" Dennis lifted his head.

"The music of the band. The knights of green are parading. Shall we go down to the corner of the street and watch them, Uncle Dennis?"

"Yes," "I wasn't so many years ago that I marched with 'em myself on St. Patrick's day, and Larry—I hoped by this time he would be back among them, brave in a green and gold uniform. Help me on with my overcoat, dearie."

So the old man, leaning on the arm of the slender, upright girl, went down to the corner and with swelling heart watched the passing of the gallant knights who marched in honor of the good St. Patrick.

As the tail of the procession passed out of sight Dennis Flanagan and his niece turned toward home.

Molly knew that the old man's heart was far away in Alaska with the beloved son, who was vainly seeking the will o' the wisp, gold.

Tonight gold and the luxuries it brings seemed a tiny thing to the girl with the aching heart.

Again they were seated about the glowing little stove in the sitting room when there came a soft knocking at the door to the porch.

Molly crossed the room and opened the door only to fall back against the lintel white lipped and staring.

"Uncle Dennis, Uncle Dennis, I'm seeing visions!" she sobbed, pointing to the snow covered porch.

Dennis hobbled to her side and saw the form of a man huddled on the door mat.

"Poor soul!" he muttered, turning the face toward the light, and then he fell back with a startled cry.

"Heavens, Molly, it's our own Larry! 'Tis my dream come true!" he moaned.

Molly recovered her courage when she realized that she was actually needed to allay suffering. She rubbed the cold face with snow and poured a strong stimulant through the white lips. After awhile Larry opened his eyes, smiled, shook himself and slowly staggered to his feet.

When he was safely inside, supported on either side by father and sweet heart, he looked down at them from tender green eyes that were rarely beautiful.

Dennis and Molly looked at him hungrily.

Larry, who had gone forth so gallantly to seek his fortune, who had promised to bring back emerald shamrocks to deck his sweetheart's breast—Larry was shabby and obviously poor and undeniably hungry, for he was thin and pale and worn.

But he was Larry, come home to them once more!

Clasped in his father's trembling arms, Larry soothed the old man's excitement, while Molly hurried to and fro making a pot of strong coffee and broiling a piece of beefsteak.

When she had set the table with the meal Larry's eyes beckoned her across the room, and she came and stood before him.

"Molly, darling," said Larry in a low tone, "my fine promises are for nothing. I come home poorer than when I went away, and the emeralds I was to bring home, lassie"—his voice shook—"are missing. I had you have been as a daughter to my father. My heart is broken with the shame of it all, and—"

Molly's soft hand closed his lips.

"Be still, Larry," she smiled at him, while Dennis chuckled in his corner. "Be still, Larry. You have brought home jewels to me worth more than emeralds. Your true eyes of emerald green are my jewels, and your love and constancy shall always grow green in my heart, and the little bit of living green yonder"—she pointed to the shamrock on the table—"is more to me than lifeless gold or cold gold."

While Larry held her close to him Dennis nodded his head at his son.

"'Tis true, lad. A good woman is above rubies, but our little Molly is far above rubies and gold and emeralds."

We Have Faith In This Stomach Remedy.
A woman customer said to us the other day "Say you ought to tell everyone in town about Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. I would myself if I could." That set us to thinking. So many people have used them and have so enthusiastically sounded their praises both to us and their friends that we had an idea you all knew about them. But in the chance that some of you who suffer from indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia or some other stomach complaint don't know about them—we are writing this.

They contain Bismuth and Pepsin two of the greatest digestive aids known to science. They soothe and comfort the stomach, help to quickly digest the food and convert it into rich, red blood, and improve the action of the bowels. We believe them to be the best remedy made for indigestion and dyspepsia. We certainly wouldn't offer them to you entirely at our risk unless felt sure they would do you a lot of good. If Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets do not relieve your indigestion, check the heartburn, and make it possible for you to eat what you like whenever you like, come back and get your money. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only at our store. Three sizes, 25c, 50c, and $1.00—Shulthies Pharmacy, Wayne, Neb.

Cure for "Blind Stagers"
A total change of feed and forage is the only effective method of contending with "blind stagers" in horses. Government experts have issued a bulletin declaring that there is a direct connection between the green forage, exposed pasturage and newly cut hay which the horses eat and this disease. A complete change of feed and forage is the treatment recommended. Moldy baled hay has caused the death of many horses. Many horses have been slain as the result of using fake cures advertised by unscrupulous persons. It is reported that in Nebraska "black-leg vaccine" was used on 1,600 unaffected horses. Nearly 1,500 of these died as a result of this treatment.

EXPERIENCE WITH DUAL PURPOSE COWS

In the beginning of my career as a milkman I thought the dual purpose cow was best suited for the dairyman because she gave large quantities of milk and was ready to be devoured by carnivorous animals of the human family at any time. But my customers began to complain of the lack of cream on the milk. So I purchased a few Jerseys with the expectation of sacrificing quantity for quality. To my surprise the Jerseys gave as much milk in the year as the Shorthorns and Red Polls, writes E. Brown in the National Stockman. The dual purpose cows gave a large quantity of milk in the first six months after freshening, then took a long and much needed rest, while the dairy breeds continue to give full measures of milk and sometimes are hard to get dry at all. Comparing the bunch of single purpose breeds with the dual breeds I came to the conclusion that the former were the more profitable, as they consumed less feed for the amount of milk produced.

A. W. Garver of Maryland says of dual purpose cattle: "We have a herd of pure bred Shorthorns which we term dual purpose cattle. The cows give a good amount of milk from nine to ten months a year and raise calves that bring from $75 to $125. We leave the calves on the cows from three to six months and then milk them until they go dry. After the cows go dry they take on flesh very fast and are in fine shape when they calve. One of our cows gave forty pounds of milk a day during the fourth month after freshening."

Of course "one swallow does not make a summer," neither does my opinion prove the fallacy of dualism. However, when a man is farming a rundown farm and every nickel looks big to him he tries to get at the source of profit. I have great respect for Professor Shaw and like to read his articles, but I think he is in error on this point, as it has been proved many times that single purpose breeds will produce enough profit so the owners can buy their beef with the extra money over what the beef breeds would yield.

WHEN THE FOALS COME.

Suggestion For the Prevention of Navel Infection.

Cleanliness of stables where pregnant mares are kept must be insisted upon. This is especially necessary where outbreaks of navel ill have been known to exist. Mares in the last stages of gestation should be placed in a box stall which has previously been cleaned and disinfected.

The foal when dropped should be placed on clean bedding. In any event the cord of the foal should be washed in a disinfectant solution and tied at about one and one-half inches from the navel with a band or string which has previously been soaked in a disinfectant solution. The navel cord is then severed about one-half inch below the band with a sharp pair of scissors and again disinfected. The ligature should, however, not be tightened until pulsation of the vessels in the cord has ceased. The stump of the cord is then painted with strong carbolic acid solution, tincture of iodine or a mixture of equal parts of tincture of iodine and glycerin. The stump should be washed daily with a disinfectant and either painted with iodine mixture or carbolic acid or dusted with some reliable antiseptic healing powder. The parchment like dried stump may be cut off after five days and the navel wound washed with a disinfectant solution and dusted with powder until healed.—United States Department of Agriculture.

The Colt's Feet.
Every colt should in its weaning form be gentled so that all of its feet may be picked up without any fuss. Get the colts up on the barn floor. If the hoofs have grown long, cut away the projecting portions with a chisel and mallet and then rasp the ground contacting surface of the wall level. Keep the toes moderately short and round off the edges with a rasp so that they will not catch on uneven going and splinter the hoof. Let the frog alone and never use the knife.

The Bedding Problem.
The problem of bedding for the farm stock is one that is assuming considerable importance. One way to take care of this is to share all of the fodder that is not used in the silos and after the cattle have eaten what they will put the balance under them for bedding. It is a good way to get the stalks back on the farm, and at the same time it economizes some of the crops that would otherwise go to waste.

LIVE STOCK BRIEFS.

Feeding a little linseed meal occasionally to stock is beneficial, keeping the system regulated. Water the calf often. He will not be so liable to gorge himself with milk if you do. Buy a boar of some reliable breeder who has been working for years to get the correct shape of a pig and who is prepared to furnish the shape you desire. Don't forget to provide plenty of salt for the sheep. Also mix in some good worm powder. Experiments have shown that the greatest gains in fattening are made by young stock when two to four months old. Keeping the cold out of stables by excluding all fresh air is endangering the health of stock. Fresh air, without cold drafts, is what is desired, though it is some trouble to secure such conditions.

DISEASE PREVENTION.

Cleanliness a Prime Factor in Heading Off Hog Cholera.

Best way to prevent hog cholera is to keep the hog clean. Have a clean, warm, dry place to sleep in winter and damp, and cool in summer, says an Ohio farmer in the National Stockman. Don't pen the hog. Keep on pasture in summer. In winter keep the hog out of the mud and keep clean and dry. Give different kinds of food. The hog must have pasture in summer. In winter cut alfalfa, cut fine and feed in slop made of shorts, bran, ground corn and oats. If alfalfa is not at hand cut clover hay or timothy and feed with slop.

The hogs must have rough feed and different kinds of grain. Can't be kept well on one kind of feed and fed kept in an unclean place. They must be dipped to keep vermin off. Must have rings in the nose to keep from rooting. Farmers had best reforest for the benefit of the hog. Set out different kinds of fruit and forest trees for them to live in. No serum or medicine will reach man or beast unless the feed, way of life and surroundings are favorable to the health of the body and mind.

GROWING FINE WOOL.

Climatic Conditions That Tend to Produce the Best Fleeces.

The climate has an important influence upon sheep raising. There are some sections of the country where fine woolled sheep can be raised to better advantage and other sections where mutton—sheep produce the greatest profits, says the Iowa Homestead. In order to develop a good coat of wool an animal must not be limited in the quantity of food, but the food should be of a dry character. Wool of the finest staple and produced in the greatest quantity with the least amount of work is obtained when the following considerations are met: Good, fine woolled stock must be had to begin with. In the second place, the sheep must be grown in a warm climate. In the third place, dry, nutritious herbage must be provided, and in the last place a dry soil must be had on which the sheep may run. It is apparent, then, that an arid country is best for raising fine woolled sheep. Experiments in many parts of the world have proved that this is the case. Where there is a great deal of dampness the fine woolled sheep do not do well. They do not thrive as they should and they do not produce wool of the highest quality. This is the big reason why Australia is so popular as a sheep breeding country. The arid climate in certain parts of Australia seems to be just exactly right for the production of fine wool. In fact, some go so far as to say that this is the best place in the world for raising fine woolled sheep.

The Rambouillet, or French Merino, is popular in Ohio, Michigan, Wyoming, Oregon and California. It is a fine woolled sheep, producing a fleece of the best quality. It is also a fair mutton sheep, but is not so good in this respect as the English Down breeds. The Rambouillet, like all of the Merino breeds, is unsurpassed in the amount and quality of its wool. The Rambouillet ram here shown was champion at the last International Live Stock exposition.

There are several sections of the United States, however, which have climates much resembling that of Australia. In certain parts of California fine woolled sheep thrive well.

Hungarian Road to Slimness.

This is a method for reducing that is practiced in Hungary. At night just before retiring fill the bathtub with hot water and in this dissolve three pounds of epsom salts. Get into the tub and lie with the body as flat as possible. Keep the hot water faucet open all the time so that the water never cools. Remain in this bath for fifteen minutes; then take a cold shower or spray. At first the baths may be enervating. If so, take one every second day. The oftener they are taken the quicker the reduction will be. They are said to be quite harmless, though a bit strenuous at first. Practically the same method is used for curing a severe cold in the head or chest, except that only two pounds of epsom salts are used, and a very hot drink, preferably a toddy, is drunk before getting into the bath, as it aids in inducing perspiration. After the bath go directly to bed and put on all the covers possible. In two hours the bed will be quite damp from the perspiration, or should be.—New York Sun.

Siberia's Growth.

Omsk, Siberia, has become the outfitting point for an extraordinary migration, estimated at 2,000,000 people annually, which pours into the country bordering on Mongolia. Nothing in Europe or Asia has ever been quite so like the springing up of the great cities of the American middle west as is the growth today of new towns in Siberia. Except that the tide is moving east instead of west, the movement has many parallels to the wonderful migration which won the west for America. There are, however, two striking differences. The first is that the pioneering is comparatively luxurious compared to the American movement, while the natives instead of being swept aside are being absorbed by intermarriage with the settlers. The ten day journey up the Irtysh river from Omsk into the promised land is made by steamboats which are the last word in the luxury and convenience of river traffic.—Chicago News.

War and a Window.

In the days when Louis XIV., "Le Grand Monarque," was dazzling Europe his minister, Louvois, was superintending on the king's behalf the building of the palace of the Trianon in the park at Versailles. Louis inspected the buildings one afternoon and declared one of the windows to be out of shape and smaller than the rest. This Louvois denied, and the king had the window measured, with the result that he was proved to be right, and he openly before all the court ridiculed Louvois. But the minister had his revenge, for, with the angry ejaculation that he would find better employment for a monarch than that of insulting his favorites, he embroiled France by his insolence in a quarrel with the powers, which only ended years later in the peace of Ryswick after a war which entailed the loss of many lives and the expenditure of large sums of money.

English Prizefighters.

There was a time when nearly every prominent prizefighter had a nickname more generally used by admirers than his real name, and some of these were picturesque. William Perry, a famous fighter of early Victorian days, was "the Tipton Stasher." William Thompson, who won the championship in 1835, was known as Bendigo. The Australian mining town was named after him, and although some of the inhabitants managed to have it rechristened Sandhurst, the new name never caught on. Other nicknames borne by heroes of the ring were "the Gasman," "the Sailor Boy," "the Chelsea Snob," "the Bold Smuggler," "the Great Gun of Windsor" and "the Pride of Westminster."

When Kelvin Slipped.

Great scientist though he was, the late Lord Kelvin sometimes failed to do simple addition or subtraction sums correctly. Once on a blackboard at Glasgow university he made two and two five and, hearing the delighted laughter of the class, hastily altered the five to a three. On another occasion he said "Seven times nine, Mr. Macfarlane, are a hundred and what?" (Pause.) "But, no," continued the scientist, "seven times nine cannot be a hundred and anything, for the square root of a hundred is ten."

Only One She'd Heard Of.

Fogg reports that he overheard this in the book department of one of our big stores: Customer—Have you Arnold's poems? Salesgirl (turning to head of department)—Miss Simpson, have we Benedict Arnold's poems?—Boston Transcript.

Disappointed.

"I went to hear 'Il Trovatore' last night." "Fine opera!" "Oh, shucks, man, the hand organs have been playing them tunes for years! I recognized 'em all!"—Pittsburgh Post.

Hard Natures.

There are morose hard natures in which cheerfulness cannot be planted or engrained. Such natures are like shadows of life—the clouds that blot out from our view the beautiful sun.

Making Faces.

Sauce—I saw a man in a window making faces today. Symple—What was he doing that for? Sauce—For a couple of clocks. He is a jeweler.—London Mail.

Speak Distinctly When You Telephone

The majority of "wrong numbers" are due to indistinct enunciation and to the confusion of figures that sound much alike. If one does not talk slowly and speak clearly, the operator is likely to confuse such numbers as, eighty-three and thirty-three, twenty-two and thirty-two.

Separate Telephone Figures

Enunciate very clearly when you talk over the telephone, with your lips about one inch from the mouthpiece. Always separate the figures of a number. As for 1340, say—"one-three-four-oh," and be careful to correct the operator if she repeats the number in error.

Hoskins News

Fred Miller received a car load of Buicks last Thursday.

Spring arrived at our general stores. Sign—seeds on display.

Mrs. Leo Ramyer, nee Lillith Foster of Omaha, visited at the Gus Schroeder home Saturday.

Farmers of this neighborhood are making preparation for a general spring field work next week.

Our public schools have had a small attendance the past two weeks on account of sickness.

Mr. Krauz of the Bowman-Krauz Lumber Co., has been looking over the firms interests at Hoskins the past week.

Heinic Parchen left for Tripp county, S. D., Wednesday to assist in making improvements on the Parchen Ranch, 6 miles south of Jordan, S. D.

The Dimsdale Brothers are holding a clearance sale, preparatory of letting Frank S. Bensen have the building in which Mr. B. will open a general store about April 1.

Miss Caroline Parchen went to South Norfolk Wednesday to meet her friend Miss Irene Bloomer of Dodge, who will be her guest a few weeks at the Parchen home at Hoskins.

Jno. G. Foster, who moved to Arvada, Colo., last fall is reported to have started a large chicken ranch and will try to increase this business in case it pays. He claims poultry raising in Colorado is a profitable business.

Arthur Ziegler's family was quarantined last Thursday on account of scarletina. The quarantine was raised Monday as no more of the family showed any signs of contracting the disease. Only the 5-months old baby was afflicted with the disease.

The witnesses in the Hoskins vs. Brockner's case were pleased last week to hear that the Brockners settled the case out of court. This case was to be tried in District Court this week at Wayne. To testify in court is one of the most disagreeable ordeals to mankind.

If we were to mention all those under the doctor's care this week it would fill several columns. So will pass it up by saying that the sudden changes of weather the past two weeks caused a great deal of sickness, mostly in the form of La Grippe, with sore throat and tonsillitis.

The friends of Mrs. Anna Foster were pleased to hear of her victory over the Life Insurance Co. controversy decided in District Court at Wayne last week, giving her a judgment for the full amount of the insurance on her brother's policy. Frank Sine, who died in Nevada about two years ago, and had willed his insurance to his sister, Mrs. Foster.

A great many democratic editors of the 3rd congressional district are lamenting over Stephens' fake primary election of postmaster. Now we do not wish to criticize these editors, but for their information wish to say that the Stephens primary from a republican standpoint is a joke and not a fake and the joke is on the democrats, and these jokes are turned on the republicans in the form of civil service. Republicans can elect any democratic postmaster they desire. Democratic influence can name any democratic postmaster they desire so the joke works more than one way.

Some excitement was caused last Friday when a telephone message from the farm of Edward Barnhart was sent to Hoskins for medical aid, stating that two men were killed in a runaway near the Barnhart home. Chas. Linn with his auto got our doctor and the village marshal to the farm in twenty minutes after the accident, and on examination Mr. Alex Gabler was found unconscious from concussion of the brain and a cut on the jaw which a stitch was repaired, other restoratives used and in an hour he awoke from his daze. His head was quite badly bruised and Mr. Steele, his brother-in-law, was only slightly injured. They claim they were running their car 25 to 30 mile clip, when meeting a team they turned out at that rate, and the car turned over landing on both of them and Ed. Barnhart no doubt saved their lives by extricating them immediately after the accident and phoning for the Hoskins doctor.

Carroll and Vicinity

(From Index.)

Mrs. R. C. Peterson passed through an operation at the Norfolk hospital latter part of the week and is now reported to be improving.

George Loeb received a dispatch Monday telling of the death of his father at Madison, South Dakota. He left on the noon train to attend the funeral.

Word was received here Friday from St. Charles, Iowa, announcing the arrival of an eight pound baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Anson.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Marshall had the misfortune to have an ankle broken while playing about the place the latter part of last week.

The two weeks old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shufeldt died Monday at noon and was buried the following day. The parents have the sympathy of the entire community in their sorrow.

Mrs. John Beach left Monday for Valley, Nebraska, where they will reside. Mr. Beach having preceded her a week ago. Sam Hurlbert accompanied her and will attend to more business matters at Valley and Omaha. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Young are keeping the six year old son.

According to records, the Index, with this issue sets forth upon its fourteenth year in existence. But some of the older inhabitants here say the paper has been in existence about twenty years. At any rate we are going to endeavor to make this the banner year, and any assistance rendered us in the way of news, advertising or job work, will be greatly received.

A phone call to R. C. Peterson Saturday morning told of the death of Mrs. Good at her home in Logan, Iowa. Mrs. Good was a sister of Mrs. Peterson and was here the evening before the latter's leave taking for treatment at Norfolk. She died quite suddenly with heart trouble and is thought that her visit here and her extreme anxiety in regard to her sister's condition was indirectly the cause of death at this time.

Winside Notes

(From the Tribune)

At the county spelling contest at Wayne last Saturday, our little 8th grade girl, Carrie Nielson stood 3rd. It was an honor to be proud of when you take into consideration that the best grade spellers of the whole county were in the contest.

Died, at the home of her son, William Beistline, March 4th, Mrs. Mary Beistline. She was seventy-five years old and the later years has been a constant sufferer. The family is scattered and the interment will be put off as far as possible for relatives to arrive. Mrs. E. A. Berger, of Avoca, a daughter, came last night.

In a private letter, of recent date, from Mike Lyons at Los Angeles, Cal., we extract a few lines which might be of interest to his friends. "I am feeling fine and dandy and having a good time. Every day is summer and sunshine and flowers the year around. Wylie McCusky is with me but will start next week, by auto, for Mexico. I will start on ship in the morning for San Francisco, which will be an eighteen hour trip.

The following was taken from a private letter from Jens Jensen who now is sojourning in San Francisco, California. "Have had a splendid winter out here this year, some rain but not bad. Nice warm climate, all fruit trees in full bloom. Mountains and valleys have on their nice coat of green. Everything is just lovely here, but not as beautiful as Santa Barbara. Hope you have not had a severe winter back there. Will be home for a visit to dear old Winside before long and wonder if the town has changed much since I left in 1911."

Miss Edna Gunnar Peterson, pianist, played the Mendelssohn 'Rondo Brilliant' with orchestra. The sum and substance of her work is precision colored with beauty. She is strong enough to be effective. Being a woman she has not that excess of brute force that leads mere man to batter the faithful piano into senseless, rumbbling aphasia. So she contented herself with supple speed, lucid legato, shimmering scale, and well-pointed phrasing. At the M. E. church, March 19.—adv.

Wakefield News

Mrs. Julia Long went to Omaha Thursday on business.

Prof. Borg of Coleridge was the guest of E. D. Lundak Saturday.

The Mission Study Class met with Miss Bessie Berth Monday evening. Japan was discussed.

Mrs. E. D. Lundak left Sunday for Lincoln for a ten days visit with her sister, Mrs. Danielson.

Miss Edna Sundahl was pleasantly surprised by a number Tuesday evening in honor of her 17th birthday.

Rev. J. D. Leck of Batavia, Ill., will fill the pulpit of the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening.

Miss Florence Rubeck returned Sunday evening from Sioux City, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. J. E. Meyers of Ponca and Mrs. D. L. Mershon of Sioux City were over Sunday visitors at the home of Henry Crane.

Miss Ruth McMaster went to Sioux City Friday to see Ben Hur. She spent Sunday with her sister at Onawa, returning home Monday morning.

Mrs. L. A. Russell, who visited her sister, Mrs. G. W. Packer, returned Monday to her home at Tekamah. Mrs. Packer accompanied her home and is spending the week with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schwedhelm and Mr. and Mrs. William Berth were hosts Thursday evening to a company of friends. Cards and dancing formed the evening's entertainment, course, at the conclusion of which a dainty two-course luncheon was served.

The last number of the lecture course will occur at the auditorium Friday evening, March 12, when the Strollers' Quartette will be the entertainers. This quartette comes to us highly recommended and an excellent entertainment is anticipated.

Mrs. Henry Anderson entertained about a dozen friends in honor of her sister, Mrs. Ray Worth, who leaves soon to make her home near Scotts Bluffs. The afternoon was spent in visiting and fancy-work. A delicious two-course luncheon was served by the hostess.

A district mission meeting is being held at the Lutheran church this week. The out of town pastors taking part are: Rev. Pearson, Concord; Rev. Borg, Wausa; Rev. Richards, Dallas; Rev. Becklund, St. Edwards; Rev. Johnson, Bristol.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan was the scene of a jolly evening Thursday when the neighbors with well-filled baskets drove to their home. Mr. Morgan's health has been failing and he and his wife expect to leave soon for New Mexico where they hope the change of climate will restore his health.

The committee appointed to investigate the lighting proposition gave their report Thursday evening and recommended the granting of a franchise to install an electric light plant. Acting upon their recommendation it was voted to grant such a franchise. The members of the town board drove over to Wayne Tuesday evening to investigate their electric light plant.

Why This Bank Does Not Exclude Small Accounts

Every one with an income needs the assistance of a bank in order to administer it.

People who begin to bank in a small way often develop into clients whose transactions are large.

It is most difficult to carry forward one's enterprises if he handles his funds in currency.

When this large, strong bank extends its facilities to the small depositor it helps build two successes—its own, and the depositor's.

Call and open an account, even if it must have a modest beginning.

Pure Bred Poultry Pays

It more than pays to raise pure bred poultry, they do not eat any more than the scrubs, they grow into money faster, they fill the egg basket oftener, and put on flesh and are ready for the market quicker than the scrubs.

The best and easiest way to raise poultry is with the Incubator and Brooder, and the Incubator and Brooder that will raise the largest percent of chicks from each hatch is the best machines to own.

The Best Judge of An Incubator

Is the man who uses them. I know from actual experience that the GYPHERS INCUBATORS and BROODERS and the famous X-RAY INCUBATORS and BROODERS will hatch and raise to maturity a larger percent of strong healthy chickens than any other machines on the market.
