BANKERS TO VISIT WAYNE

Annual Convention of Group Three to be held in our city April 22. Interesting Program for 250 Visitors.

The bankers of Wayne will entertain their brother bankers from all of this corner of the state on Arbor day. This is a day annually set apart for the meeting of the representatives of the banks—a keen energetic bunch of business men which any place in the territory should be proud to entertain, and we are glad to note that our citizens generally are willing to co-operate with the local bankers to give them a fitting welcome. They should be made to feel a welcome, not because they are bankers, but because they have been invited here as our guests. We hope to see the business houses display appropriate decoration in their honor, and beyond a doubt they will.

Their program may not be of special interest to all, but so far as we have been able to learn it will be most instructive. The afternoon program will consist of an address by C. W. Pugsley of the State University of this state on the "County Demonstrator Work." This is a work of great importance to every county, and is considered more of an agricultural than a banker's question, but it is one of the most vital questions that can be considered in an agricultural district, and the Democrat has regretted much that the citizens of this county had not been among the number to grasp the opportunity to secure a demonstrator this season.

"Panegyric and a Warning" will be the theme of an address by Hon. Hallick F. Rose of Omaha.

James J. Hurst of Chicago, assistant cashier of the National Bank of Republic, Chicago, will speak on a question of much interest to all, "The Federal Reserve Act."

The morning session will be a business session entirely, devoted to reports of committee, officers, etc.

In the evening the visitors will be entertained by the local bankers, who will serve a banquet, concluding the meeting with toasts and happy speeches.

Successful Pavilion

During the year just closed the Wayne Pavilion Sales Company made good, and the sales were also the means of bringing a number of people to our town to some of the pure bred stock sale who otherwise would have remained a stranger to the place. Once they come to Wayne they know the way to come again. It has also been the means of getting some new pure bred stock to this county.

Financially the concern did well, paying a dividend of 8 per cent on the stock besides spending about $50 for improvements of a permanent character.

At the annual meeting, last Saturday they re-elected F. H. Strahan president and Eph. Cunningham vice president. C. H. Fisher refusing to longer act as secretary, L. C. Gildersleeve was named for that office, and he was also re-elected sales manager, a position he has held since the organization of the association. Henry Ley was named as treasurer again. The directors elected were F. H. Strahan, Eph. Cunningham, W. H. Gildersleeve, L. M. Owen and Henry Ley.

Lapham-Kelley

At the Methodist parsonage, Thursday afternoon, April 9, 1914, by Rev. C. L. Meyers. Mr. Chas. Lapham and Miss Sylvia Kelley were united in marriage. The groom is a young man who has successfully farmed near Wayne for several seasons, and is well spoken of by all who know him. The bride is a daughter of James Kelley and wife and a popular young lady in the neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. Lapham left Tuesday for their new home at Gary, Minnesota, where he has a place onto which they will move and at once begin farm life. Both have the hearty good wishes of a host of friends who wish that they might have made their home here among them rather than in a new land.

Letters, Miss Lura Herrington, John Lurer, George Pinion. C. A. Berry, Postmaster.

The Neely-Churchill Wedding

The wedding of Miss Edna Irene Neely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Neely, to Mr. Francis Gerald Churchill took place Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents.

The marriage was celebrated in the living room before an altar and background of ferns and Easter lilies. Dr. Alexander Corkey, pastor of the Presbyterian church performing the ceremony. The Episcopal ring service was used.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Reba Nangle sang "The Song of Thanksgiving" and "Sweetheart". The wedding march from Mendelssohn was played by Miss Mary Mellor.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss Helen McNeal and Mr. F. W. Crawford. Mrs. Arthur Neely received at the door and Miss Florence Welch acted as parlor hostess.

The bride's gown was white crepe de meteor and princess lace with pearls. She wore a veil arranged in coronet fashion and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was gowned in pale green crepe de meteor with white shadow lace trimmings and carried a basket of white sweet peas.

After the ceremony a wedding lunch was served in the dining room by the Misses Edith White, Lucile Corkey and Fay Neely of Corydon, Iowa.

The living room decorations were festoons of smilax and white carnations stretched from the stairway to the altar. In the dining room the color scheme of pink, white and green prevailed with bouquet of roses and crepe paper.

Mrs. Churchill is a thorough Wayne girl and is much admired and esteemed for her sweet character by a host of friends. She will be greatly missed in Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill left this morning for a two-weeks' visit at Des Moines and other points in southern Iowa. They will be at home after June 1st at the Manitoba Agricultural College at Winnipeg, Canada. Mr. Churchill is head of the department of soils at the college.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Churchill of Corydon, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Neely of Sioux City, Iowa; Miss Fay Neely of Corydon, Iowa; Mr. F. W. Crawford of Winnepeg, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson of Winside, Nebr.; Mrs. E. W. Ebert of Grand Island, Nebraska.

More Hoskins Trouble

Theo. Schlack of Hoskins was defendant at the county court Wednesday on the charge of selling liquor to a minor, on two charges and was acquitted as to one charge and convicted on the other and a fine of $25 assessed against him. He has appealed from the lower court.

A similar charge rests against John Pofhal, but the case was postponed. There is rumor that this will lead to more trouble—that the minor who bought the liquor may be prosecuted for misrepresenting his age, and the prosecuting witness is liable to prosecution for carrying concealed weapons. It appears that there is a state of affairs at Hoskins which indicates that there is as much persecution planned as prosecution, and it is a shame that the fighting factions cannot agree at least to keep away from each other.

Today the Harry Ruhlow libel case is to come up for hearing.

City Loses Case

The supreme court of the state sustained the decision of the lower court in the case of the City of Wayne vs. George Warner for damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by Mrs. Warner on a defective walk. Mrs. Warner was awarded $500 damages, and the city appealed from the verdict. It is pretty hard to guess what a jury or the supreme judges will do when it comes to a show-down.

For Better Corn Crops

Among the Democrat callers last week was R. F. Roggenbach from the south edge of the county. He was in to secure a photograph for an advertisement in the special souvenir edition soon to be issued from Wayne. He is one of the four brothers who are conducting the home farm and giving special attention to growing pure bred corn and oats. In this they have been successful to a marked degree as is evidenced by the numerous prizes they have won in the different corn and grain shows they have entered. He says it is not for the prizes they are working though they stimulate the work and the skill required in judging what is best to exhibit is a valuable education to them—learning to properly score the corn and grain, but their prime object is to so breed up their corn as to produce the greatest possible crop for home consumption. As yet they have not even given attention to the matter of saving seed corn to market—but have been working for perfection in corn because of the extra bushels their fertile acres will produce. The Democrat believes that they should build up a seed corn business, not alone for their profit and gain, but for the benefit of those who would be glad to buy seed from some dependable grower for the same reason they are growing and using this seed—to increase the yield.

A young farmer near Wayne last season grew some extra corn and is giving farming careful attention and will make it pay well. We refer to William VonSeggern. He made an excellent showing last year, and every young farmer who gets into the game in that way is of much benefit to the community. We hope to see the boys of this county represented in the state contest this fall—and also that they will be winners. Corn is one of our great staples and it should be studied.

Bert McClary Sells Store

J. P. Baroch of Geneva has contracted for the stock of Bert McClary and the lease to the Miller building which he now occupies, and the store is closed today for invoice. Mr. McClary moved to Wayne over a year ago from Martinsburg, where he had been in business for more than twenty years, and after resting up a few months he got anxious to be doing something and put in a stock of new general merchandise last fall, in a small room opposite the Democrat office. In January he moved to larger quarters. He expects to remain at Wayne, but has not yet said what he plans to do. The new proprietor brings the name of being a live business man and says he thinks he coming to a live town.

The Oratorio "The Creation"

"The Creation" by Hanley, is one of the three greatest oratorios that have won popular favor by their historic connection, lofty sentiment, grand choruses and inspiring solos. The Choral Union of Wayne, ably assisted by Madam Grae Clark DeGraff will present this great musical production at the M. E. church next Tuesday evening, the 21st inst. It is a number of the recital course which no one will care to miss. In the afternoon of that day Madam DeGraff will give a matinee assisted by the pupils of the school. This will be a grand thing for the pupils who are making music a study, and a help to Mrs. Murree who is doing so much in the line of music for the pupils.

The fire department was called to the extreme northwest part of the city Wednesday afternoon to save property. The house occupied by Ben Sherbahn and wife was threatened. The fire evidently started from a bon-fire which spread among the trash and caught a shed stable and nearly surrounded the house. It is beyond the reach of water, but the chemical soon had the shed fire out and the spread of the fire about the house was stopped.

The greatest loss was sustained by Tuffy Will, who ran a horse to death in hauling equipment and men to the fire.

Miss Christine Anderson returned to Madison Wednesday after a visit with her parents, Eric Anderson and wife.

Social Notes

One of the most eventful social affairs of church societies was the entertainment given the Carroll Girls' Chorus by the Junior Bible Circle of Wayne, which was held at the home of the superintendent, Mrs. E. B. Young, Saturday afternoon from 2:30 until 6. The regular program for the meeting was carried out—study of the scriptures, testimonials and prayers. The following officers were elected for the next quarter: Misses LeNore LeGrand president, Emma Abbott first vice, Nancy Steele second vice, Iva Laase secretary, Beulah Merriam corresponding secretary, Pearl Laase treasurer, Ella Benschhof, and Daisy Cooper visiting missionaries. After the meeting the Wayne girls, accompanied by the Carroll girls carried potted flowers which had been furnished by the Senior Bible Circle to some of the "shut-ins" and as they approached the homes gave them an Easter serenade. After the girls returned from their trip a two-course luncheon was served by the refreshment committee, namely Misses Mabel Hansen, Florence Gardner, Emma Abbott and LeNore LeGrand. During the luncheon a short musical program was given consisting of two vocal solos by Miss Emma Abbott, violin solo by Ensign Young, vocal solo, Mrs. Lucy Wells. Ensign Young also played several piano selections during the luncheon, among them being one of his own composition which was greatly appreciated. Mrs. Young had a rare treat in store for the girls. They were then invited to the dining room where Mrs. Young and Miss LeGrand served "missionary tea". The tea was of fine quality flavored with jessamine flowers and is seldom exported as Missionary Mains got it of the royal family in China and sent it to Mr. and Mrs. Young. The tea was served in a tea set which was painted in China expressly for Mrs. Young. The girls pronounced it better than the tea used in America. They then took their departure announcing their intention to organize a Bible Study Circle at Carroll in the near future and pronouncing Mrs. Young a splendid hostess. The following are the names of the girls who attended from Carroll: Misses Harriet Jones, Anna Griffith, Katherine Owens, Gladys Francis, Eunice Lynn, Elenore Jones, Mildred Yargan, Wilma Garwood, Edna Jones, Marie James, Gladys Jones.

Misses Louise and Esle Biegler were each presented with books as mementos of the Circle as they leave the later part of the week for Sioux City, their new home.

The Eastern Star at their last meeting elected the following officers: Worthy Matron, Mrs. Marsteller; Worthy Patron, Prof. Britell; Associate Matron, Miss Nettie Craven; Conductors, Miss Killen; Associate Conductors, Mrs. Harvey Ringland; Treasurer, Mrs. Main; Secretary, Mrs. Mines.

The P. E. O. at their special meeting last Friday initiated Misses Clara Heckert and Freda Ellis. Next Monday evening the club will meet with Miss Reba Nangle. Roll call answered by each member with an item on Modern Surgery and Medicine. Song, John Brown's Body, by sisterhood.

The Acme club met with Mrs. Jacobs last Monday afternoon. The lesson on Proper Framing of Pictures was taken up. Mrs. Jacobs served a delicious luncheon. Miss Flint who spent the winter with them was guest of honor. Mesdames A. A. Welch and F. G. Phillo were other guests.

The Minerva club met with Mrs. Hickman at their new home on college avenue Monday afternoon, the first gathering at their new home. The lesson was read by Mrs. Bright, subject was Constitutions. Daily refreshments were served. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Conn.

Mesdames Harry Fisher and Dan Kinne entertained the U. D. Club at Kensington at the home of the former Monday afternoon. A two course luncheon was served. Next meeting to be held with Mrs. John Hufford.

The Monday Club meets with Mrs. Cunningham next week. Roll call, Our Literary Ambassadors to Foreign-Countries, by Mrs. Main. Book review by Mrs. Marsteller.

The Rural Home society will meet with Mrs. Edward Perry instead of Mrs. Brown Palmer on Thursday, April 23.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Friday afternoon at the home of A. M. Helt.

Mrs. J. G. Mines will be hostess Friday afternoon at Kensington.

The End of Watchful Waiting

The powers at Washington, wearied of the slurs and annoyances—the evasive policy of the Huerta power in Mexico, have backed up the demand of Admiral Mayo in demanding that the American flag be saluted as an apology for the sins of the past. Not only has Huerta been given final warning to act or take the consequences, but the entire Atlantic naval force has been started toward Mexico waters to make good the just demands of this country.

Huerta may stop the impending doom to himself and his so-called government by ordering this public apology and promising to do better or he may refuse, which will beyond doubt mean the immediate blockade of Mexican ports and shutting the Mexicans from the outer world.

Congress almost to a man is standing by the act of the President, and is ready if need be to respond to the request for any reasonable action demanded. A nation for peace is not always to be insulted with impunity.

State Board of Education Acts

Lincoln, April 15—The State Normal Board yesterday chose Chancellor C. A. Fulmer of Nebraska Wesleyan university as president of the Kearney Normal school. He will take his place on August 1st, providing he accepts the tender. His selection ends some of the trouble which the board has held since Dr. Thomas' dismissal last fall.

The hearing before Gov. Morehead on the complaint of a Kearney citizen that President Viels of the state normal board had financial interest in the contracts for furniture sold to the Wayne normal school, which was to have been held yesterday, has been postponed until April 28th.

Wayne to Entertain Old Soldiers

At a meeting held this morning it was decided to invite the old soldiers association of northeastern Nebraska to be the guests of Wayne July 2, 3 and 4, and wind up the three days with a fitting 4th of July celebration. A wise move, and one all should and will help along in every possible manner.

At Theophilus Evangelical Church

Last Sunday was a marked day in the annals of the German Evangelical church about six miles west of Wayne. Rev. Klinsthsky is the pastor of this church and also of the Salem church of the same denomination about seven miles southeast of Wayne. At the Theophilus church Easter Sunday was observed by the confirmation of a class of eleven young people. The usual ceremony for such events was carried out and the young people took upon themselves the vows and responsibilities of full membership in the church of their parents and their choice. The class consisted of Emil Vahkamp, Frank Brune, Louise Wittler, Freda, Emma and Lottie Koch, Henry Muller, Florence Niemann, Adolph Korn, Emil Clausen and Chas. Thompson.

Beginning next Sunday there will be services at this church every Sunday, the Sunday school at 10 o'clock in the morning and the preaching at 11 o'clock, then on the following Sunday the services will be in the afternoon, and so on each week alternating the morning service with the Salem church.

At the Salem church some great improvements are under way. A new heating plant is being installed in a basement which is being made, and a Sunday school room will be finished off in the basement also. These country churches are doing much to improve social conditions among the farming communities, and their loyal membership is doing a work for the community greater, perhaps than they realize.

Animal Feature at Crystal Theatre

The London correspondent of the Moving Picture World says in the issue of December 20th:

"What is believed to be a record run for a single series of moving pictures will terminate at the Holborn Empire at the end of this month. They are the African Hunt Pictures of Paul J. Raney, which in addition to being exhibited for forty weeks' continuous run, were shown to the King at Buckingham Palace and to the German Emperor at Dantzig. These identical pictures have been secured at great cost by Manager Nace of the Crystal theatre and will be shown Monday, April 20th.

Blames The Democrat For Trouble

The Democrat is accused by one of the precinct assessors of making trouble for them. In publishing the list of valuations (which were averages, but did not distinctly say so) those who have animals—a horse for instance—worth above the average are quoting the published list in a protest against higher valuation being named than the list price. The owner of an animal that is assessed below the list is easily convinced, if he refers to the list at all.

The fire loss in this state for the past year was $2,000,000 or more, and if reports are true the insurance loss was fully as much—that is the people paid twice the fire loss in insurance premiums. This does not mean that insurance is not a good thing, but that it should be bought at nearer actual cost.

A large delegation came from Winside Sunday morning to attend mass at the Catholic church, among them we noted E. W. Cullen and family, John Jaszowski and his mother, Mrs. Mary Jaszowski, Thos. Pryor and family, J. McCoy and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Meinert of Remsen, Iowa, and Wm. and Louis Heyer and their three sisters.

The questions of school improvement are many. One question—that of dress should have some attention. The Democrat would favor a modest, comfortable uniform for pupils in the high school. There is too much attention given to dress—too much time and money spent for fad wearing apparel—in school days. Let's begin a reform.

The survivors of the Spanish war who went in Nebraska organizations and who have since moved to this state with a war record are to meet at Lincoln next week. The officers of the association have the present addresses of only one-third of the men, and it is suggested that all eligible to a place on the roll send their name and present address to Frank J. Ringer, Lincoln.

Herman Heinemann from southeast of Wayne was here Saturday with a car of 19 head of fat steers for the market, which he sold to M. Thompson & Co. at $8.15. The average weight was 1357, and they had made a gain of 375 pounds in the 128 days that Mr. H. had them on feed, making an average gain of three pounds each per day, which is counted among feeders good, and really better than an average, perhaps. It is a good car of cattle that brings more than $2,000 and this bunch brought more than $2,100.

A Wynot Poland China hog raiser last week had a car of shoats on the market at Sioux City market which averaged 340 pounds at the age of ten months, and topped the market for the day, bringing $8.40. This makes an average price of $28.56 for pig but ten months old, and goes to prove that the pure bred stock of whatever variety has qualities superior to the scrub stock. There is little doubt but this breeder had kept and sold for breeding purposes the better animals and this offering was from the culls. To be sure it might not have been possible to have secured so high a price except under a democratic administration, but we believe that the hogs have thrived equally well under republican rule.

The amount of nursery stock received at Wayne this season is perhaps greater than ever before, and emphasizes the growing demand for trees that thrive in this climate, both in fruit, ornamental and for post timber. In view of this increasing demand for trees, the Democrat wishes again to express the opinion that a nursery right here would soon develop into a paying business—not for the home trade, but to send out. Only last week we noticed a package of 1,500 catalpa trees for some one near Wayne. We do not know what they cost, but they were probably from seed two years ago this spring, and could be grown to that size on a very small tract of land—something like 1,000 square feet, which is a very small part of an acre, and at only 2c each would bring $30. Why not have the commercial club locate some man and some land for such an enterprise? A few years ago a small enterprise of this kind started in an Iowa town, and in chatting with some one from that place recently the editor was told that there are now 300 acres of land there being used for the purpose of growing young trees for sale. Again we say, why not here?

The Wayne postoffice has for several years been of a class which was entitled to free city delivery should the citizens wish it and comply with the few other requirements necessary—the numbering of the buildings and labeling the streets, and this latter should be done anyhow. But there is little demand for city delivery here, owing to the time of arrival of the mails. A comparatively light mail arrives from the west at 8 o'clock in the morning. Then at 10:20 comes a mail bringing morning papers from Omaha and Sioux City as well as the letters of the day before from the former place. At 2:42 is another mail from the west, bringing Norfolk papers and some mail from the east and far west as well as the south. Then at 6:40 in the evening a mail from the east brings Sioux City evening papers, Chicago morning papers and much mail from the east. With but two deliveries a day which is the usual number, it would be hard to go time them that most of the business men would not rather call for their mail than wait for a carrier. Without the mail of the business section to care for there would be little else than walking for the carriers to do. The college mail is the only considerable amount that goes outside of the down town business district.

THE NEAL TREATMENT

Offers A NEW CHANCE IN LIFE

For LIQUOR and DRUG Addicts

The men who have been raised from the depths by the Neal Treatment; who have been reinstated in the ranks of clean, industrious, sober-minded citizens; represent a host sufficient to populate a city three times the size of Omaha.

These thousands of liquor and drug addicts were a constant grief and shame to their relatives and friends, until as a last resort the Neal Treatment, (which provides a rest for dazed, over-stimulated nerves—a genuine tuning up of tired body-tissue—a new perspective) was tried and the result was a new-born energy and vitality; a destroyed appetite for artificial stimulation and a vigorous mind and body. The men who have been cured by the Neal Treatment will gladly testify to its efficiency. They will tell you that the Neal Treatment and methods are based on scientific certainties which eliminate from the treatment the slightest illness. Our Institute is situated in a big modern infirmary building where privacy for those who wish it is assured—where an air of refinement prevails.

We solicit the closest investigation and will appreciate the opportunity to tell of Neal Treatment in detail. Write for booklet

In his autobiography in McClure's Magazine, S. S. McClure pays a tribute to the character of Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson. He says:

"The more I saw of the Stevensons the more I became convinced that Mrs. Stevenson was the unique woman in the world to be Stevenson's wife. * * *

"Mrs. Stevenson had many of the fine qualities that we usually attribute to men rather than to women: a fair-mindedness, a large judgment, a robust inconsequential philosophy of life, without which she could not have borne, much less shared with a relish equal to his own, his wandering, unsettled life, his vagaries, his gypsy passion for freedom. She had a really creative imagination, which she expressed in living. She always lived with great intensity, had come more into contact with the real world than Stevenson had done at the time when they met. Had tried more kinds of life, known more kinds of people. When he married her he married a woman rich in knowledge of life and the world. Mrs. Stevenson's autobiography would be one of the most interesting books in the world.

"A woman who was rigid in small matters of domestic economy, who insisted upon a planned and ordered life, would have worried Stevenson terribly. In his youthful tramps he liked to start out with no luggage, buying a coat here and a shirt there as he needed them. In managing his affairs he had, as he often said, no money sense. I remember hearing him tell how he and Mrs. Stevenson once went to Paris for a pleasure trip. They had a $500 check and some odd money, and they meant to have a thoroughly good time and stay as long as their money held out. After a few days they found their funds running short; they couldn't imagine what they had done with it all, but there seemed to be very little money left, so they decided they had better get home while it lasted. When they got home they found the $500 check among their papers. They hadn't cashed it at all and didn't even know they hadn't."

WEATHER FORECASTS.

Method of Tracing the Direction and Speed of Storms.

Most of the severe storms do not originate in the United States. They come to us from the Philippines, Japan, Siberia, Alaska, Canada or the gulf of Mexico. Our weather bureau gets cable, telegraphic or wireless notice of a foreign storm. Station after station of the weather bureau and vessel after vessel in the path of the storm report its arrival, so that the general direction and the speed with which it travels can be very nearly determined. Some storms can be foretold as much as ten days in advance of their arrival at a given point.

When a storm from Siberia drifts eastward around the north pole and reappears in Alaska the speed with which it has covered that section of its course is made the basis of the calculation of the time when it should appear in Washington and Oregon, when it should get to the great lakes and finally to the Atlantic coast, and each section is warned in advance. Unexpected conditions may delay the storms or divert them from the course. Tabs are kept on the cold waves in much the same manner. The weather reports from Canada, Iceland, Europe, Russia and Siberia are studied and predictions made as to when the cold waves from these countries will reach the United States.

To predict floods information is recorded as to the amount of rainfall at headwaters of streams. As the rain reaches the main channel the height of the water is recorded from gaugings. Records show what a height of twenty feet at Dubuque, Ia., will produce at Davenport, eighty miles down the Mississippi. This plan is followed on all the large rivers, and at each station full allowance is made for the effects of water from tributaries and from additional and local rainfall.—Lestie's.

The First Revolver.

The credit or discredit of the invention of the revolver belongs to a Swiss of Valtherie, Jean Francois Grobet, who in 1814 fashioned, with the collaboration of his son, the first "six shooter" which as a matter of fact attracted the attention of the then minister of Russia at Zurich, Count Capo d'Istria, who sent a specimen revolver to Czar Alexander I. The royal recipient rewarded the inventor with a valuable ring, which it is to be presumed Grobet pawned, for he died a few years later in poverty.—London Telegraph.

Figuring It Out.

"The marquise is much thinner than I am, isn't she? What would you think our ages were?" "Well, she seems ten years older than she is, and she's ten years older than you. Then you seem years younger than you are, so that makes thirty years' difference between you."—Pele Mele.

Make Believe World.

"Harold, you mustn't eat all of those peanuts, even if you are pretending to be a monkey. You must give your sister some."

"But, mother, I'm pretending she's some kind of animal wot doesn't eat peanuts."—Life.

Between the Acts.

He—Well, how do you like the play tonight? She—Oh, it's awfully nice and jolly, but do you think it's quite the sort of piece for a first night show?—New York Post.

CHILE'S HANGING GARDEN.

Wondrous Beauty of Santa Lucia Park, In Santiago.

Santiago, with its 400,000 of population, fifty miles inland from Valparaiso, is the capital of Chile. It lies in a great amphitheater forty miles long and eighteen miles wide and is enclosed by walls of lofty mountains covered white with snow. Outside of Rio de Janeiro, no capital in the world has a finer situation. Standing in the central plain, it looks out on one side over fertile fields, sloping toward the coast range and on the other it looks up to the gigantic Cordillera 19,000 feet above it, furrowed with deep gorges and covered with snowy wastes.

There are beautiful drives and parks and pleasure resorts on every hand. The Alameda Avenida Dehollas, 600 feet in width, runs the entire length of the city. The finest private houses front on this wide boulevard. They are built in Spanish style with courtyards full of flowers and shrubs. The city has sixty-seven miles of electric car lines. Most of the streets are paved with asphalt. The policemen carry swords. The city has an air of law and order. A beautiful park was given to the city by Senora Isadora Cousina. It is called the Quinta Normal.

But the park of parks in Santiago is Santa Lucia. For striking and picturesque beauty it is scarcely equaled anywhere else in the world. It is a steep and rocky hill rising 500 feet right from the center of the city. The original scanty soil has been added to by skillful gardeners until it has become an exquisite park, lifting its verdurous masses like a hanging garden high above the city. Flowers and creeping vines trail over rocks in wild profusion. Fountains glimmer in the sunshine, marbles gleam against the green. Grottoes invite you to their shade and winding paths allure the traveler to the very summit.

Here, at the top of this green rock, a splendid vista of the city lies at your very feet. You hear the hum of traffic and the buzzing wheels of commerce and out beyond you see a fertile plain, while on the far horizon the mighty summits of the snow capped Andes cut their silhouettes against a sky of blue. Beautiful for situation is Santiago, unique and fortunate in its Santa Lucia park.—Peter McQueen in National Magazine.

Three Atmospheres.

The atmosphere is divided by scientists into three parts. The first extends from sea level to about 10,000 feet high. In this layer are almost all the water vapors or clouds and all the dust. In it all the storms take place. The temperature tends to decrease, but very irregularly. The second layer extends to between six and seven miles high. In it are the "cirrus" clouds, and the temperature decreases uniformly. Man cannot go beyond it.

These two layers together are called the troposphere, because in them all the vertical movements of the air take place. Beyond them is the stratosphere, in which occur any movement of the air in planes parallel to the earth's surface.

Strathcona's Romantic Marriages.

The marriage of Lord Strathcona was a romance. He met the lady when he was twenty-nine and living on the coast of Labrador. She was a widow and had a little son. There was no priest or church within 1,000 miles and the marriage was a simple contract without ceremony. It was for this reason that when the high commissioner became a peer in 1897 a remarriage was held to be necessary and it was solemnized with the full ritual of the Church of England. The Labrador marriage was, however, ratified by special act of parliament.—London Tatler.

Whistler as a Courtier.

Most of the stories of Whistler are rather "waspyish," but one recalls a story that shows him in the light rather of a graceful courtier.

It happened that the then Prince of Wales paid a visit to an exhibition of pictures that was held by an art society of which Whistler was the president. Whistler received the prince at the door, and as they entered the gallery his royal highness asked:

"What is the history of your society, Mr. Whistler?"

"Sir," replied the artist with a courtly bow, "its history begins today!"

Noah and the Animals.

Few people will say that Noah took more than two of each kind of animal and fowl into the ark, yet here is the Bible on the subject (Genesis vii. 2): "Of every clean beast thou shalt take to thee by sevens the male and his female and of beasts that are not clean by two—the male and his female;" (Genesis vii. 3) "Of fowls also of the air by sevens—the male and the female to keep seed alive upon the face of the earth."

Cellar Champion.

A seven-year-old boy coming from school one day informed his mother that half his class had been promoted. His mother asked him whether he had been one of the number.

"No," said he, "and I'm glad I'm not, 'cause I'm the smartest one left."—New York Post.

Too Much Mental Tax.

"What is your objection to slang?" "To be perfectly candid," replied Miss Cayenne, "what I most object to is the constant study required to keep up with it."—Washington Star.

Conscience in the soul is the root of all true courage.

If a man would be brave let him learn to obey his conscience.

LIFE IS ALWAYS DYING.

And Just as Soon as We Cease Dying We Cease to Live.

Living is a continuous process of dying. When we cease to die we cease to live.—One can readily understand this by means of a very concrete example. Suppose you arise some cold morning and find the fire in your furnace has "gone out." It will do no good to utter malicious invectives against the poor furnace. Just philosophize as follows: "My furnace has ceased to die. In other words, it has ceased to consume that very expensive article called coal. The continual consumption of coal is fire or life in the furnace. When the consumption or dying ceased the fire or life ceased." Accordingly you proceed to make the furnace "die" some more.

What is true of the furnace is true of ourselves. All organic life exists in a state of continuous decomposition and rebuilding or a continuous state of dying and living. As soon as decomposition ceases reconstruction ceases, or, in common terms, as soon as we cease dying we cease living. Certain poisons, if swallowed by a human being, destroy life by annihilating the decomposing or dying process which is necessary for life. When they enter the system a chemical compound is formed which resists decomposition. Upon examination of the dead body it will be found that putrefaction does not take place. With these poisons in the body there is no process of dying; hence there is no life.

The same truth holds in regard to our mental and moral existence. If we cease to struggle or think and are content to live a purely animal life the activity of our brain powers quickly ceases and we are mentally dead. Struggle, action, aspiration, is dying, but it means living. Introduce the poison of vice and there is a cessation of mental life as fatal as that caused to the body by arsenic.—New York American.

ONE OF OUR LITTLE GUNS.

It is in the War Department and Has an Interesting History.

Visitors to the war department in Washington may see a little old fashioned cannon occupying a position at the right of the god of war standing near the main entrance of the department.

The chances are, however, that the majority of visitors will pass it by with only a superficial glance, for it is a mere pygmy in comparison with some of the modern guns, being a bronze six pounder, a little less than six feet in length and with only a three and a half inch caliber.

But if visitors suspected even part of the gun's interesting history they would not pass by it without pausing to pay it more respect. The little gun was built in Holland in 1741 for King George of England. It was brought to America to be used in quelling the rebellion of the king's subjects here and from that time has been closely connected with our national history.

Tradition tells us that Benedict Arnold led a band of American riflemen up Lake Champlain, invaded Canada and captured the British post of St. Johns.

Among the spoils he took was this cannon, upon whose barrel Arnold had cut the story of its capture, which may be read to this day. Because of the scarcity of guns of this kind among our fighting equipment in the Revolutionary war it is very probable that this, the first gun captured from the British, was used by our army in fighting against its former owners all through the war. Thus the gun which was made by the Dutch for the king of England to be used in fighting against the French and Americans, then captured and turned against its former owners, has come to occupy a place of honor and respect at the very throne of war in our national capitol.—Wisconsin State Journal.

Easily Made Salad Dressing.

Beat two eggs well, add half a pint of best vinegar, butter size of a hen's egg and half a teaspoonful of salt. Put this into a granite pan and set on stove. To prevent curdling stir rapidly and continue until it thickens like custard, then remove from stove, and while still hot stir in half a teaspoonful of made mustard thinned in as much vinegar, a sprinkling of pepper and, for those who like it, a teaspoonful of olive oil. Stir thoroughly until well mixed and set it in a cool place. Use the same as any dressing.—National Magazine.

"Bath House John" is no gentleman or he would not compete with a lady for a position—oh, yes, we forgot for the instant that the lady by the new law is claiming equality with the men—hence no favors asked.

Our republican exchanges are again predicting trouble in the democratic political camp. They apprehend that the habit of this administration of settling questions by principle rather than policy as has long been the habit of this predecessors, unless it was some little power where force could be safely used, will make trouble.

Republicans of Maine refused to endorse Teddy as their presidential candidate—in fact they did not endorse any one—just a condemning affair, blowing all of their hot air in denouncing the democrats. —That is the right thing for a republican convention to do—no matter if many members of their own party are voting for the measures endorsed.

Elsewhere in this issue we tell how the farmers of Ohio have been getting money by a method similar to building and loan plan, and we call attention to it to emphasize the fact that Wayne needs a building and loan, and also to advance the idea that the scheme might well be worked among the farmers and town people together as well as by either separately.

Not all women think they wish to vote. Down in Boston is an organization of women who are against suffrage. They are publishing statements which tend to show that as a voter a woman is a failure. This may be true, and beyond a doubt such a showing could be made regarding the men. It is not to be expected that the giving to women their right of suffrage will at once right things that never have been right. They are human, and to err is human.

The baby show is on at Omaha this week, in connection with the "low cost of living show." It is said that the baby end of the show will eclipse the other end, as about 350 juveniles will compete. A baby show is a sure way to please a few and leave a lot of sore spots unless there are prizes enough to go round. Even as public patronage is a weakness to a party in power because of the disappointed aspirants for opportunity to serve their county so every mother who is not a winner will feel a little miffed.

During the year 1913 there was in this land of ours $169,000,000 in round numbers bequeathed to charity—a vast sum indeed, amounting to about $1.69 cents ahead for our entire population. But in Manhattan which is but a part of New York City, it is said that one monopoly took $156,000,000 from the people. So one can see while we have people who are generous on their death bed they are real hoggish while living, and take from others more than is properly due them. If we had more justice there would be less need for charity.

The republican press is telling of the shipment to Vancouver, B. C., (this means British Columbia, not before Christ) of 1,000 tons of eggs from China. Let's see, that would make fifty car loads—almost seven million eggs, and the story further says that the most of these were consigned to the United States. Well, if they are good we will probably consume them. But this does not appear to have very badly depressed the market for home made eggs, for in spite of a warm winter which has had a depressing effect on the price, the egg price this season has averaged higher than it did a year ago. The chances are that the hen of our country will be able to meet the egg from China fairly successfully on our own shore.

Teddy played the hero a few years ago and encouraged rebellion in Columbia whereby they lost Panama—a government being set up over night and recognized by President Roosevelt before breakfast the next morning, and now the people of this country must pay $25,000,000 to Columbia and give them free tolls through the canal. And we are now settling the trouble under this administration for less than Columbia would accept under the administration which they held to be responsible for their division, for they then refused to ratify the terms of a similar treaty.

The authorities of this state—or at least those deputized for the work by the officials of the state are begging pennies from the school children with which to make a creditable advertising exhibit at the Panama exposition: Let every pupil in the state put a penny in the box, and then put this inscription on the building: "Beggd from the school-children of Nebraska, by state officials." If the enterprise is worthy of consideration it is worthy of appropriation for the building—if not worthy, why ask it at all? Let the children furnish an exhibition of their work—and let the state pay for the buildings needed would certainly be more creditable to the state as a great, progressive commonwealth.

Please follow directions closely: Tie one hand behind you, smear over the other some grease, machine oil or most any dirt, which you will find an easy thing to do. Now go to a pan of water and wash the filth off the hand without the aid of the other hand and you will have one of the jobs of your life. Release the other hand and put it in action and you clean up so easily that you don't realize the trouble. This shows what true co-operation will do and how helpless you are without it. Co-operation between the people of a community—town and country will work much the same way. Why try to do things with one hand tied? Why not co-operate? It means a better and stronger community—more wealth made—more saved. Wayne should be the place to start something new along the line of co-operation.

Council Proceedings.

The city fathers met in regular session Tuesday evening and made a canvas of the vote of the week before. The official canvas showed that C. A. Chace was elected by a majority of 10, his vote being 104 to 94 for Don Cunningham. The vote by wards was practically as given in this paper last week. Certificates of election were issued for C. A. Chace mayor, H. S. Ringland treasurer, J. M. Cherry clerk, E. J. Huntmer city engineer. Councilmen, 1st ward, W. O. Hanssen and Frank Powers; 2nd ward, G. A. Lamberson; 3rd ward, L. C. Gilderseave. Members of the school board P. H. Kohl and W. M. Orr. There were scattering votes for numerous citizens for the different offices, A. T. Witter being the only one not mentioned above who received more than two votes, and he received 13 for a place on the council from his ward.

On motion the city engineer was directed to prepare estimates for the construction of an extension of the water main on First street, west from Sherman street 396 feet with one hydrant. On the alley one block west of Sherman street, on Second street, north 712 feet with two hydrants and on Third street, from Nebraska street, east 396 feet to Windom street, thence north 2376 feet to Ninth street, thence west 396 feet to Nebraska street with 7 hydrants, also for 25 feet extension to standpipe, a new water tower of 50,000 gallon capacity, also a new water pump of 500 gallon per minute capacity, both steam and motor drove pump. Ordinance No. 222 an ordinance providing and levying an occupation tax upon various kinds of business and amusements, was read the first time.

The following claims were examined and on motion allowed and warrants ordered drawn on the General fund:

- Nebraska Telephone Co., $6.00.
- H. S. Ringland, freight and express, $1.08.
- H. Bodenstadt, burying dog, 50c.
- Geo. Hoguewood, special police, $4.00.
- Duncan Electric Mfg. Co., meters, $66.00.
- C. S. Copp, cleaning walks, $2.35.
- Huse Pub. Co., election supplies, $5.25.
- Election expenses, 30.50.

FIRST PRIZE PANAMA ESSAY

The Following, Written by Clara Madson, Won First Prize in The First National Bank Panama Canal Contest.

Almost since the settlement of America and especially since the settlement of the western coast, there has been a great need of a canal at Panama.

The French government attempted to construct one but were unsuccessful. The United States purchased their works and got a perpetual lease from Panama on the necessary land in which to build it.

The first thing our government did was to make it habitable for the workmen.

The canal is about forty miles long and is furnished with locks as it is not a sea level canal, these raise and lower the ships. They will be worked by electricity and will handle a ship one thousand feet long.

The Gatun dam makes a lake of the water from the Chagres river. The Culebra cut at the western end of the lake is where the largest excavations are being made. The worst hindrance there is the slides. The total excavation, when complete, will amount to about two-hundred million cubic yards.

Often fogs arise from the Culebra cut. These will probably make navigation difficult were it not for lights placed along the cut. Colonel Goethels deserves much credit for his work as chief engineer and hopes to have the canal complete in 1915.

The population of Wayne cannot increase very rapidly if the town has not houses enough for the people to live in. Why not get busy?

The 1914 Chautauqua

We heard the Chautauqua program outlined at the Chautauqua meeting Monday night. Harry Minor, assistant manager of the Redpath-Horner circuit was in town and met with the committee to explain the plans for next summer.
He says the dates will be from August 21st to 27th. A shift of a day or two may be made in the next week or so, but that is not probable. The location will be the same as last year.
The plan of the program, as outlined by Mr. Minor, is a bit unusual. It is, however, an extension of the Redpath-Horner program of last summer in its emphasis of these four factors: The church, school, community interest and playground.
The Horner idea is a purpose program or nothing. They believe in entertainment, and an abundance of it, but that the greatest good will come from the Chautauqua if even the entertainment can be backed by a strong element of purpose.
"We are going to bring in seven of the highest grade musical numbers that will step onto the Chautauqua platform this summer," Mr. Minor said, "but I want to tell you more about the other features before we discuss the musical and entertainment numbers."
"An important factor is your churches. We are sending out a man who has done big things in church work to discuss church problems to church people who comprise the greater part of your Chautauqua backers. His name is Roy B. Guild. He is one of the greatest religious workers in the country. His latest big office was as secretary of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, which swept over the country with such effectiveness a few years ago.
"Every one of you parents and patrons of the public schools realize the responsibility in the education of your boys and girls. And the success of your public school system is largely dependent on the amount of thought and intelligent interest given to it by those who are patrons and supporters of it.
"You expect to grow here in the next few years. And as your town grows, your schools must grow in like proportion. And the men who decide upon the plans for a larger growth of your public schools will make up the Chautauqua audiences next summer. The man we are sending out is a man who understands more about the school system of a town and county like this than those in the big centers down east. He comes right out of Missouri where he has dealt with the difficult problems of small city and rural education and made it go. His name is Uel W. Lamkin. He was at one time president of his state education association and has served as assistant to the state superintendent of education.
"The next is the playground. In this work we have only begun. We want clean, supervised play in every town; and we find the people wanting it and are eager to know more about it. The man who goes out this year is Dr. Dickinson, associate secretary of the playground association of America; an able speaker, and a scholarly, at the same time practical man.
"The community interest problem will be handled by General L. C. Boyle of Kansas City. The secretary of the national retail merchants' association urged us to employ General Boyle for this work because he believed him the best man in America. He headed the committee from the Retail Dealers' Association who recently interviewed President Wilson on the amendment to the Sherman anti-trust act which is for the protection of small dealers in their struggle against big monopolies. He is now a civic worker in Kansas City and prominent throughout the country as attorney for the Retail Lumberman's Association and as an advocate of better conditions favoring the dealer in the smaller cities and towns."
The boys' and girls' part in the Chautauqua will be greatly simplified and improved and will be a big feature.
Other attractions which were named were: Charles C. Gorst, the Boston Birdman in an address on "Our Feathered Creatures—their part in Agriculture"; Alton Packard, cartoonist, John G. Woolley, "America's greatest orator"; the Military Girls, six girls in military costume singing military airs; the Muehlings, in a popular-classical musical program; Thomas Brooks Fletcher, inspirational lecture; Katherine Oliver McCoy, Dean of Scotch Readers; Judge Manford Schoonover the Kansas City Symphonic Orchestra with W. Lenge, director; the Riner Sisters, Chautauqua quartette; the Cavaliers; the Christine Giles Company and Ralph Bingham, humorist.

Among The Churches of Wayne

German Lutheran Church Rev. Moehring, Pastor

There will be no services at this church next Sunday, nor until further notice is given, as the church building is undergoing some needed repairs—paper and paint are beautifying the interior, and as soon as work is completed so that the building is ready for services announcement will be made.

On May 14 to 17 the Northern Conference of the German Nebraska district of the Lutheran general synod will hold their annual session at this place, and it is that the church may be in its Sunday dress for this occasion that the work is being undertaken now. Announcement will be made of the future services of the church.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church (Rev. Blessing, Pastor.)

Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. We urge every member to attend Sunday School and to render his assistance in the work.

Servives every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The subject of the sermon will be "The Victory of Faith", John 20:28. We have had in the history of mankind, victories of force and victories of peace. Among the victories of force are such as came to Wellington at Waterloo and to Grant at Appomattox. Among the victories of peace are such as came to Christ in the wilderness, in His contest against the Pharisee, and as He gains into the heart of man. But one of the greatest victories ever brought about, was the victory which faith gained over the blind power of unbelief, brought out in the simple expression "My Lord and my God."

There will be a union meeting Sunday evening, Dr. F. H. Essert, lecturer for the International Anti-White Slave Association, will be the speaker.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. C. J. Lund, on next Thursday afternoon.

If there are any who would like to have a picture of the catechetical class, please speak to the pastor. A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to worship with us.

Baptist Church

Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor

Our evening services last week, were especially good. The Easter season brought us into a close fellowship with the heroic spirit of Christ. Easter religion is good for every day in the entire year. Let us all be aware of the danger of an "occasional religion." A religion that vanishes when the particular season has passed.

Through the kindly services of some of our ladies the church last Sunday was beautifully adorned with flowers. Flowers speak messages of life, and joy and hope. Thus, most fittingly do they symbolize the Easter truths. He that fashioneth the lily is He by whom our lives are being shaped day by day.

"The Redeeming God" will be the subject of the sermon next Sunday morning. From what and to what does God seek to redeem his people? After nineteen hundred years, the great fundamental truths of Christianity are often sadly misunderstood.

The young people will study a most important subject Sunday evening. It is the sacredness and use of time. Time lost cannot be recovered.

Sunday evening there will be a union service at the Baptist church. Dr. Essert, a national lecturer on social conditions will be the speaker. See elsewhere a full account of the series of lectures he will give in our city on Sunday and Monday. The Norfolk pastors highly endorse Dr. Essert and his methods.

On account of the banker's banquet at the church next Wednesday evening, the prayer meeting will be held in the pastor's study.

Beginning Sunday all evening services will begin at 8 o'clock (except young people's) instead of 7:30. Remember the change.

Presbyterian Church

Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.

"The Motive for all Christian Activity" will be the subject of the sermon at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning. The service begins at 10:30 o'clock. There will be no service in the evening as the congregation will unite in a union meeting at the Baptist church where Dr. Essert will speak.

Sunday school will meet at 12:00 o'clock next Sunday, as usual. The C. E. prayer meeting will be held at 7:00 o'clock and will close a little early so as to allow the young people to attend the union meeting at the Baptist church.

The cradle roll of the church now numbers over 50 members, and the superintendent, Mrs. A. A. Welch, is assisted by Mrs. W. H. Morris in her work in connection with this youngest department of the church life.

At the congregational meeting of the church on Wednesday evening of last week reports were heard from the different societies in connection with the church and all of the reports showed that the work is progressing successfully in every department. The pastor reported a total membership of 245, and the 12 new members added since that time makes the total membership now 257. The treasurer's report was also a prosperous one, and the offerings to current expenses and benevolences are generous, almost every member contributing towards both funds. The Ladies' Aid society reported that it was raising money to add a kitchen and parlor to the church equipment, and they have already large sum on hand. Messrs. F. G. Philleo and A. J. Ferguson were elected as ruling elders for a term of three years, Mr. Philleo succeeding himself, and Mr. Ferguson succeeding Mr. A. H. Perry. Messrs. J. T. Bressler and H. S. Ringland were re-elected as trustees for a term of three years. Mr. W. M. Orr presided over the congregational meeting and Mr. Philleo acted as clerk.

SUCCESSFUL MEETINGS

The meetings last week which were conducted by Rev. S. McComb, D. D., of Sioux City, at the Presbyterian church were very successful, and the closing meeting on Friday evening was particularly impressive. Dr. McComb preached on "The Passover", and at the conclusion of of the sermon the ordinance of baptism was administered and eight new members were received into the church after which the Lord's Supper was celebrated, the pastor being assisted by Dr. McComb in the service.

At the close of the exercises an informal reception was given to Dr. McComb, who, although a veteran of seventy-five years, has the vigor and hopefulness of youth, and is a powerful preacher of the Gospel message. He has been preaching for fifty-five years and those who heard him could easily tell that he knew what he was talking about when he preached the Word.

Methodist Church

Rev. C. L. Myers, Pastor

We are not far from the silver anniversary of the Epworth League. Shall we celebrate the day, Leaguers?

"They shall look on Him whom they pierced." Obituaries of the Bible are usually written in few words, not so with the obituary of Jesus Christ.

Julius Ceasar was assassinated in the interest of Roman liberty. Louis XVI guillotined in behalf of Revolutionary ideas. Charles I, beheaded because he was embarrassing to constitutional rights. Jesus Christ was crucified because He was dangerous to political leaders. Bran, the hermit, in the Lady of the Lake summoned to arms the men by the fire blackened and blood sustained cross, so Jesus being lifted up draws all men unto Him. Jesus was crucified by a people 2,000 years ago and His side pierced by a Roman soldier. We crucify Him afresh by doing the things which displeases Him. He expiates for us.

Epworth League will be led next Sunday evening by Mabel Gossard and Pearl Laase. All the young people are urged to be present.

The mid-week prayer meeting is one of the oldest institutions of the church and while it is not as popular as of old it will always be an institution of power.

The Children's mission program Sunday afternoon was well attended, there being 60 children and 40 adults present. The lesson was on Japan and of special interest. The interest shown by the parents is very helpful. Come again next month.

Mr. Cook, recently from Oklaoma enjoyed the morning class with us.

The Oratorio, the "Triumph of David," was rendered by the choir Sunday evening. It was highly appreciated by a large audience. The splendid rendition was due to the long hours of practice under the direction of Prof. Alexander. W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Helt Friday at 2:30.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on "Cleanliness is Next to Godliness." Rev. Essert of the Colorado conference will address a union meeting on the White Slave problem.

The Tea and Talk by the Aid at Mrs. Oman's last week was quite a success. A fine social time was had by all.

A Home department is now being organized under the direction of Mrs. Noah Williamson. We prefer to have you in the school but if you can't attend then join the home department.

Another Tea and Talk at the home of Mrs. Rollie Ley Thursday, April 23.

Banner Day For English Lutherans

Last Sunday was the greatest day in the history of the St. Paul Lutheran church of this city since its organization. The services were attended by so many that the seating capacity of the church was not sufficient to contain them all. A class of 25 members was confirmed and received into the church, and in addition to these were eight others who joined on confession, making a total of 33 new members to partake with the others of the Holy Communion, which was administered to nearly 150 people.

The mission offering was liberal, totaling more than $56.

In the evening the Sunday school had a program and successfully ended a most eventful day in the history of this church society. Rev. Blessing, the pastor, and his worthy wife have been quietly working for success and have attained it in a marked degree.

Lecture at Gemmill Schoolhouse

On next Friday evening, April 17th, a lecture will be given by Rev. Alexander Corkey at the Gemmill schoolhouse, District 62. The lecture will begin promptly at 8:00 o'clock. There will be an admission charge of 15c and 25c. The lecture is given under the auspices of Miss Louise Wendt, the teacher, and the pupils of the school. On this occasion, Dr. Corkey will give his well-known lecture, "The Best Crop on the Farm."

Imposing Upon People.

Officer Soules tried to do a benevolent act last week, providing a poor woman and her baby transportation to the home of her mother, because the husband and father will not work to provide for them, leaving it for the county and those who are charitably inclined. After the money had been raised to pay her fare home and the freight on a little bit of household goods and she was at the depot ready to start her love of the husband became so strong that she backed out and refused to leave him. Now if he has a spark of manhood or ambition he will get busy and provide for this wife and child and prove that he is worthy of the love and devotion she has bestowed upon him. If he does not do so, there should be some way to found to start him doing something and the proceeds of his labor given to his family. This is written on the supposition that the man is in good health and if he is ill he should be cured. Mr. Soules said he got the exercise of soliciting funds and returning the money to those who gave when it was not going to be used as expected.

Preaching Service at the McEachen Schoolhouse

The Sunday school will meet at the McEachen school next Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, and at 3:00 o'clock there will be preaching services. As there were no Easter services at the schoolhouse on last Sunday a special program has been prepared dealing with the great Easter doctrine, and the meaning of the day.

E. W. Johnson and family moved here from Lincoln last week, going into the McNeal residence, which was purchased by Frank Gamble. Mrs. Johnson is sister to Mr. Gamble, and as Mr. Johnson is traveling salesman, on the road much of the time, the wife preferred to live near her mother and brother, rather than in a city away from relatives.
H. W. Kruse came last week from Livingston, Montana, to visit at Wayne and vicinity. He is son of Gustaf Kruse and wife, and was once a boy here, but went west 18 years ago, and did not visit home folks for nearly sixteen years, coming back for a visit first three years ago. He is plumbing in that country, and likes the west well. Tuesday he accompanied his father to Hoskins where they visited at the home of his sister.
One item which escaped us last week was mention of the return of A. M. Jacobs and wife and their friend, Miss Flint, from California, where they had spent the winter. Mr. Jacobs, who frequently spends the summer on the Atlantic coast in Maine, says that he prefers the east to the west, in many ways. He likes the fish of the Atlantic better than those caught and served in the west. He spoke of the great rains of California, and said they were just what was needed, and to him did not look so much like the time of Noah as the papers made it appear.

In another place may be seen the advertisement of W. O. and Gus Hanssen, who have taken an agency for the "Old Line Accident and Health" insurance of Lincoln, and are busy writing policies, already having more than a score in force here. This is a popular insurance, protecting in case of accident or sickness from loss of pay for enforced idleness. If one is not ill, but quarantined for cause they may draw pay for time. It will pay for those desiring this popular kind of insurance to investigate the merits of their policy. Hanssen Brothers are well known over he country and are easy to find if you hint that you are interested.—adv.

James Steele of Sioux City passed through here Sunday evening with a gang of Sioux City boosters. Mr. Steele got off the train to greet a few old friends and invite them to come to Washington and eat oysters with him as soon as he takes his seat as a member of congress from the 11th Iowa district as a democratic representative.
Miss Zeola Merriman who remained at Wisner to finish her school work there with the class of 1914, returned to that place after a visit with home folks during vacation week. The Norfolk News came to hand last Saturday with a most creditable booster edition, gotten out in honor of the 25th anniversary of the establishment of the paper by the Huse family. It made a splendid showing of their plant as it is today, fully equipped for all classes of printing. The edition was gotten out in the size of their regular paper, and contained 24 pages of carefully selected matter and advertising. Nothing aids a community more than a judicious distribution of printer ink.
Mr. and Mrs. John McCoy are stricken with grief over the loss of their baby boy, who was born last Monday and died soon after his birth. The remains were taken to Remsen, Iowa, Wednesday morning for burial as many of their friends are buried in the Remsen cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. McCoy are having their share of grief as five members of the family have died in the past year, among them Mr. McCoy's father and mother. They have a large circle of friends in Winside who sympathize with them in their trouble.—Winside Tribune.

Dr. F. H. Essert to Visit Wayne

On next Sunday, April 19th, Dr. F. H. Essert, International lecturer for the Anti-White Slavery association, will give two addresses under the auspices of the Wayne Ministerial association. Dr. Essert is the conference evangelist of the M. E. church in Colorado, and is well-known minister and lecturer. He is making a series of addresses in the churches of Nebraska on a subject of which he is a master, and which demands immediate attention in our land. As a graduate of Wesleyan university, of Lincoln, Nebraska, and a classmate of Rev. C. L. Meyers, the pastor of our local M. E. church, Dr. Essert has already many friends in this part of the state, and his work as a lecturer is gaining him a national reputation. During his visit to Wayne next Sunday and Monday the program of his meetings will be as follows:

Sunday, April 19th, at 3:00 p. m., a meeting for men only, subject, "A National Peril, How it Affects the Tax payers of Wayne." This meeting will be held at the English Lutheran church.

Sunday evening at 8:00 p. m., a mass meeting to which all are welcome. Subject, "The Blackest Crime in History—White Slavery." This meeting will be held at the Baptist church.

On Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock there will be a meeting for women only at the Presbyterian church, at which time Dr. Essert will give his lecture, "The Scarlet Man." The closing meeting of the series will be held in the M. E. church on Monday evening at 8:00 p. m. This will be a union mass meeting to which everyone will be admitted, but is especially for fathers and mothers. The subject is "The Sacredness of Parenthood."

Dr. Essert has spoken in some of our largest churches in Nebraska, and is recommended by such men as Prof. Fulmer, of Wesleyan University, and the ministers of the state generally. His message is vitally religious, and is based on the essential teachings of Christianity on a glaring and hideous evil, which is so vile that its very putrescence has shielded it, but a justly aroused public opinion demands the exposure and punishment of the violators of human and divine laws. The orgies of the pagan world were not so culpable as the black monstrosities which, so far, we have permitted to flourish in our Christian civilization until the peril has become imminent, and no one is safe. Dr. Essert's addresses for men only and for women only should be heard by both sexes in the interests of public decency to say nothing of Christianity. No boy or girl under twelve years of age will be admitted to these afternoon addresses, but the evening meetings are open to all. After speaking recently in Holdrege, Nebraska, Rev. C. G. Whitsett, secretary of their Ministerial Association, wrote Dr. Essert in the name of all the ministers in Holdrege commending the messages as "master addresses" and adding that his "language is such that any person, no matter how refined, may listen and be delighted with his choice of words" in dealing with the most difficult subject which a public speaker can handle, but, at the present time, the frightful evil which must be openly fought and destroyed in the name of Christian civilization.

Here is a Practical Plea

The following is taken from a letter to the Cedar County News, and a part of it at least touches a vital spot. Our laws are not just as between husband and wife: "I have been reading the stories about woman suffrage lately. I am not acquainted with any of the—whatever you call them anti-suffragettes or woman suffrage advocates—but I agree with the latter. How many a man and wife have started out with nothing, the mother milking cow, slopping pigs, tending chickens, and whatever is to do—and mothering a brood of children from one to fifteen. Then as fast as they grow big enough to help the father in the field, they are kept there from early morn till late. Then the mother has nothing to say, or the children when the father goes to town, and spends from a nickle to a dollar, for his lager beer or whatever you call it—he can stay all night. And if you correct him, he is spending his own money. Now, I would like to ask anti-suffrage who helped to make the money? If the mother and children are not entitled to some credit? There are many such families in this country, if the truth were only known. If the father dies first the mother gets one-third and the children get the rest. If the mother dies first the father gets all, and can do as he pleases. He can spend it all for booze or whatever he feels like—after mother gave her strength and the children part of theirs. Is that justice? I hope woman suffrage will be coming soon in the automobile with the throttle well turned on.—One Who Would Vote."

Referee's Sale of Real Estate

Notice is hereby given that by virtue and in pursuance of an order of the District Court of Saunders County, Nebraska, made and entered on the 28th day of March, 1914, in an action pending therein, wherein Harry F. Malloy is plaintiff, and Joseph J. Malloy, Louisa J. Malloy, Edward P. Malloy, Maud B. Malloy, Anna E. Griffin, Robert J. Griffin, Jane R. Smit, Louis E. Smit, Raymond T. Malloy, Mable M. Malloy, Charles A. Denesia, Harry F. Denesia, Charles E. Denesia, Mable M. Denesia, Agnes Pearl Denesia, Lillian Josephine Denesia, and Mary M. Malloy are defendants. The undersigned referee in said action will on Thursday the 14th day of May, 1914, at the hour of one o'clock, p. m., at the front door of the Court House in the City of Wayne, Wayne county, Nebraska, sell for cash to the highest bidder therefor, the following described real estate, with all the appurtenances thereunto belonging, to-wit: The Northeast Quarter (NE $\frac{1}{4}$) of Section fourteen (14), Township twenty-six (26), Range two (2), in Wayne county, Nebraska. Said real estate will be sold in tracts to suit the purchaser and will be sold subject to the taxes thereon, and subject to a lease thereon, which expires March 1st, 1915, and said sale will be kept open one hour.

Former Wayne Man in Accident

The following from a Des Moines paper tells of an accident in which J. H. Kate, formerly of this place, ran his automobile over a stranger in that city, which reminds us that Mr. Kate has told how he was once run over in that city—the first time he visited it. Perhaps he is now even. Here is the story: W. C. Landrum of Norfolk, Virginia, was knocked down and run over by an automobile driven by J. H. Kate, 1603 West Eighth street, early today. Landrum said he had started across the street at West Fifth street and Grand Avenue, and on account of the wind was unable to hear the auto coming. Both wheels passed over his body. Mr. Kate stopped his car immediately and picked the injured man up. He was taken to the Mercy hospital by George C. Hunter of 3721 Cottage Grove avenue. It was found that several ribs were broken. It is not thought Landrum is injured internally.

Insurance Socialism

The figures given out by the state insurance department showing twice as much money collected in premiums in Nebraska as paid out on fire losses would indicate that our fire rates are too high. Here is a place where the Commercial club and the Associated Retailers could well join hands to force concessions.—Omaha Bee.

The figures published by the life insurance companies showing the New York Life and other companies paying out less than one third of what they collect all tends toward state socialism and it is not surprising that there are so many substantial men suggesting that the state enter this field.

The fire insurance companies seem to forget the lesson taught the express companies and are rushing headlong to their doom.—Creighton Liberal.

Where Ohio Farmers Borrowed $12,000,000

V. K. Haymaker of Defiance county, Ohio, whose rural credit plan for farmers was discussed recently in Farm and Fireside, has been continuing his investigations as to facts, and in the current issue of Farm and Fireside the following results are recorded: "In the state of Ohio over twelve million dollars are now out on loan to farmers from building and loan associations. This is over sixteen per cent of all the farm loans in the state. Only six counties do not have these associations, which are virtually farmers' land banks. "The plan is extremely well developed, is now twenty years old, and, in Mr. Haymaker's opinion, needs leadership more than legislation."

Water Carrying Expense

If a value of 20 cents an hour is placed on a woman's time, she wastes enough time in a year by carrying water a few rods each day to pay the costs of piping the water into the house. In a few years, besides undergoing the drudgery and exposing herself to sickness through inclement weather, she wastes enough time for a simple water system.

To meet the demands of rural and village communities, the department of Agricultural Engineering of the Nebraska University Farm has designed several systems, the plans of which may be obtained free in Bulletin No. 18 of the Bulletin department at Lincoln.—Save the mother all you can.

Kuhl for Senator

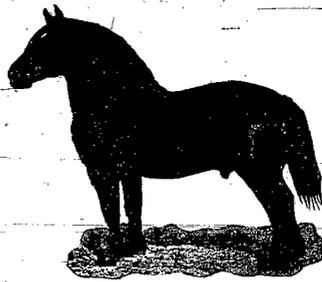

Several weeks ago Hon. John Kuhl of this city decided to file for the democratic nomination for state senator from the district of Knox and Cedar counties. Last week the Hartington News brought out the name of E. B. Hirschman of Hartington as an aspirant for the position. Mr. Hirschman has been county treasurer for the past five years and with these two in the race for senator the democratic primary will be of some interest. A few contests in the primary adds interest and gives the voter an opportunity of a choice.—Randolph Enterprise.

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE-RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After A Few Doses Are Taken

Backache, urinary disorders, and rheumatism, are caused from weak, inactive kidneys, which fail to filter out the impurities and keep the blood pure, and the only way on earth to permanently and positively cure such troubles, is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, cures such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; it neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the tender membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, lifeless kidneys so they filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to cure the worst case of backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and overcome the numerous other similar conditions.

It is the most wonderful preparation ever made for the purpose. It is entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth to compare with it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You can obtain an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed to cure you.

Bridge Notice
Notice is hereby given that bids will be received at the county clerk's office for Wayne county, Nebraska, for the furnishing of all necessary material and labor for the erection and completion of the following bridges, or so many thereof as shall be ordered built by the county commissioners for the year 1914.
One 70 ft. steel span, situated west of the northwest quarter of section 17, Township 26, Range 4 East.
One 60 ft. steel span, situated south of southwest quarter of section 23, township 27, Range 3 East.
At the same time and place as herein specified bids will also be received for the repair of all bridges, which may be ordered repaired by the county commissioners for the year 1914. All such bridges to be built in accordance with plans and specifications furnished by the State Engineer and known as the Standard Plans, and adopted by the County Board of Wayne county, Nebraska, on December 9th, 1913, and heretofore advertised and bids received thereon on January 16th, 1914, and all bids rejected, and the board now calling for further bids on the plans and specifications.

Bridges to be built within ten days from notice by said county to construct the same and in case any new bridge is to be constructed where an old one stands, contractor to tear down said old bridge and remove and pile all old lumber in such bridge; this to mean also the removal of all pile along with the lumber in such bridge, and to deposit the same safely near the site thereof, such lumber and piles to remain the property of the county. Said bids to be filed with the county clerk of said Wayne county, Nebraska, on or before 12 o'clock noon of the 8th day of May 1914.

Said bids for the building and repairing of bridges will be opened at 12 o'clock noon of the 8th day of May 1914, by the county clerk of said county in the presence of the Board of county commissioners of said county at the office of the county clerk of said county.

No bids will be considered unless accompanied by cash or a certified check for $1000.00 payable to Chas. W. Reynolds, county clerk of said county, to be forfeited to said county in case the bidder refuses to enter into contract with the said county if same is awarded to him. Successful bidder will be required to give bond to the county with two or more good and sufficient sureties, in such amount as the Board of county commissioners may designate, for the faithful performance of contract awarded to him.

Also bids will be received for all of the above work at same time and place and under all conditions as above set forth, the county to furnish all material delivered at nearest railroad station, excepting piling which will be delivered either at Wayne or Carroll.

The plans and specifications as adopted, and also the bidding blanks are furnished by the State Engineer, of Lincoln, Nebr., who will upon request furnish copies of the same. Bidding blanks will also be found in the office of the county clerk.

The Board of county commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.
Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, this 8th day of April, 1914.

GRAIN MIXTURE FOR DAIRY CALVES

The period of time from birth until the calf is four weeks old has been called the delicate age, and pains should be taken to see that it gets the first milk, or colostrum, which nature has prepared in a manner to produce a laxative effect and thus put the digestive organs of the calf into perfect working order.
From one to six months may be called the skimmilk age, says Professor G. C. Humphrey, Wisconsin Agricultural college. The whole milk should be gradually changed to skimmilk during the fifth week and the amount gradually increased so that the calf will be getting fifteen to eighteen pounds daily by the time it is eight or ten weeks old.

During the time a calf is six to twelve months of age it is very much neglected. If this age occurs during the summer it is often turned to pasture and made to rustle for itself, which is a mistake. A calf is best kept in a clean stable during the first year of its life, provided it is well fed. The mixture of oats, fifty parts; wheat bran, thirty parts; cornmeal, ten parts, and oilmeal, ten parts, has been used at the University of Wisconsin for dairy calves for the past ten or more years and is a sample of what may be considered a good mixture for dairy calves.

Jersey cows will produce more profit for the feed consumed than any other breed in the world, says R. S. Delano in Rural New Yorker. They are persistent milkers, giving a good flow of rich milk and holding out well for ten or eleven months of the year. The breed as a whole, I think, will compare very well as to the production of milk for a year with their distant cousin, the black and white, also Jerseys are the handsomest cows on earth. The Jersey bull shown is a fine specimen of the breed.

Pure fresh water should be given to calves as soon as they have learned to drink.

Salt should be kept where they can have free access to it at all times.

All changes in feed should be made gradually.

Foam which forms on separator skimmed milk should never be fed, as it will cause indigestion and scours, bloat or other troubles which follow.

Calves should be separated or fastened in stanchions at the time they receive their milk and fed dry grain immediately after drinking the milk, which will tend to prevent the bad habit of sucking one another.

The stables should be cleaned regularly and kept dry.

In summer it is well to darken the stable to give protection from flies and to make it as cool as possible.

Young calves should never be exposed to a hot, scorching sun.

Watch calves and keep them free from lice.

Aim to do everything possible to keep calves gaining in live weight at the rate of 1.5 to 2 pounds daily.

WATER FOR LIVE STOCK.

Filtering Tanks Responsible For Many Cases of Disease.
There is too much stagnant water used in summer on the farms of the corn belt, says the Iowa Homestead. It is an every day occurrence to find water tanks covered with a green scum, from which source comes the entire supply of water for cattle, horses and hogs.

It should be sufficient to simply call attention to the risk that is run in using this kind of water. Digestion troubles invariably result from this form of pollution, and it is all brought about thoughtlessly, though in some cases it may be the result of an attempt to economize in the water supply. The tank is not cleaned simply because the water must not be wasted at all hazard.

A peck of lime in the bottom of a ten or fifteen barrel water tank will keep the supply sweet, though it goes without saying that all tanks should be cleaned out every two or three weeks during the period of hot weather.

Diluted lime water is not injurious to any class of stock, but on the other hand, the results of using it are often exceedingly beneficial, particularly so in the case of hogs. Lime is comparatively inexpensive and can be used in this way to very great advantage.

Give the Pigs a Run.

Is it any wonder that pigs lose their thriftiness and constitution and become weak in the back with crooked legs when they are confined in an 8 by 10 pen that is cleaned but once a year and then only when the owner has time? Stop and figure the losses that result from pigs that do not do well and are squealing when they want to be comfortable and contented. The chances are all they need is the run of a nice clean pasture where they can leave their droppings to the benefit of the soil.

AROUND THE DAIRY.

Nothing opens one's eyes to the quality of cattle he has in his dairy barn quicker than the scales and the Babcock test together.

The calves should be given fresh locks of early cut hay as soon as they will eat them.

Some folks run away from bad news—a fact that explains why some folks don't want to know how poorly their cows are doing.

Buy the best sire you can afford. Have him possess good individuality. Have his breeding of the best.

Feed the heifer that is bred carefully and liberally, remembering that she has further growth to accomplish, also the nourishment of the foetus and, still further, the preparation for the coming milking period.

WORKING YOUNG HORSES.

Care Must Be Taken Not to Overload Them in the Beginning.

Be careful and not overwork the animal at the start. It is a comparatively easy matter to overwork a young horse the first few days he is put to work, says the American Cultivator.

Understand the draft of the machine he is hitched to so as not to work him beyond his capacity. Some people seem to have the impression that a young horse can do as much work as an old horse, during his first year, but this is a mistake.

If possible do not allow the young animal to pull a heavy plow the first season he is put to work. If he is well matured a limited amount of heavy work will not do any harm, but the evil comes when he is worked beyond his strength.

The way a collar fits has a marked influence on the working disposition of any horse, be he young or old. It is a difficult matter to fit a collar to a young horse so it will draw properly.

It is a good practice to use an old collar when starting him to work. A new collar cannot be properly adjusted to the conformation of the shoulders and in almost every case will cause chafing.

Do not allow the draft on the shoulders to come too low at first. Let it be as straight as possible until the collar has adjusted itself to the conformation of the shoulders.

Attention should also be paid to the length and width of the hames. Improperly adjusted hames will chafe the shoulders much more quickly than a poor fitting collar.

If the young horse is put to plowing he should be given the advantage of the other horse. Allow him to rest frequently and do not put him in long hours. If the weather is very warm, as it often is in the spring, care should be taken not to overheat his blood.

Never allow him to sweat very much the first season when working, for it has a tendency to irritate and develop nervousness. Keep the animal up in good flesh. Keep a good ration of grain to encourage taking on flesh rather than falling off.

THE FRESHENING COW.

Animal Needs Particular Care at This Critical Period.

The cow should no longer be left to get along the best way she can when her calf is born. For a week or two before the little one comes she ought not to be given any heavy feed, writes E. L. Vincent in the American Cultivator.

It is important that her body shall be as cool as possible, and meal and such hearty food tends to create more or less of a fever.

Then, too, it is a good thing to give the cow a dose of salts very shortly before she is to be confined. The reason for this is that, with the bowels well emptied, she is more likely to pass her ordure without serious difficulty.

Close watch should be kept of the cow as she nears maternity, and when the time is fully come place her in a good, roomy box stall. Better do this several nights rather than to miss it.

The floor of this stall ought to be well covered with straw—not long straw, for that might trip the calf up as he struggles to his feet, but short, fine straw. All that might injure cow or calf ought to be removed from the stall.

To warm the cow up and tide her over the crisis after the calf is born, a good mash of wheat bran is a fine thing. This, being laxative in its nature, starts the bowels in the right direction.

No cold water ought to be permitted for a day or two after the calf is born. Whatever water is given should have the chill taken off it. Nor should too much be given at once. A painful now and another a little later and so on until thirst is assuaged is better than to let the cow gorge herself and incur the danger of "milk fever."

Rules For Feeding Cows.

Feed one pound of grain mixture for each three or four pounds of milk produced daily.

Feed as many pounds of the grain mixture daily as the cow produces butter fat per week.

Feed all the grain mixture the cow will eat without gaining in weight.

Feed the average cow all the hay, fodder and straw she will consume without wasting it. If corn silage or roots are available feed from twenty to forty pounds daily in place of some of the roughage.

Alfalfa has a feeding value about equal to bran or oats. When it is fed the quantity of grain mixture can be cut down.

Farmers in our vicinity are trying to catch up with their spring work, and by appearances are succeeding wonderfully. A great deal of wheat and oats are already in the ground and waiting for more rain and sunshine.

Malted Calf Food is now being used by over fifty farmers with successful results. At a cost of 3c per day malted calf food may be fed with separated milk or water with results equal to whole milk feeding. To demonstrate this fact simply call at the store and secure a 30 day trial pail. Security calf food supplies to the calf what malted foods does to babies. A trial is sufficient. Ralph Rundell.—adv.

Mrs. H. A. McCormick of Wynot returned home Wednesday after visiting at the homes of her former schoolmates, Mrs. Walter Weber and Mrs. T. W. Moran. She accompanied her daughters, Misses Ruth and Helen, where they will attend normal.

G. P. Brookings and wife came Wednesday evening from Tekamah to visit at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Wm. Weber. They will be joined here by their son, Frank from the north, and Walter Weber and family from Crofton will be here, making quite a family reunion of the family before Mrs. Weber and son leave for their ranch in the west part of the state.

Oscar Harmon arrived here the fore part of the week from Dawson county, Montana, for a visit with his father, J. E. Harmon, who has been in poor health for some time. Mr. Harmon says he does not have to go back on his claim until next fall and also states that every one is so badly tanned by the sun there that they resemble Indians. He went to Norfolk Wednesday evening for a visit with friends and relatives.

John Benning and wife returned from a two weeks visit with their son at Pipestone, and their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hefti, at Russell, Minnesota. Their grandson, Clarence, who has been attending college here for the past five months returned to his home with them. Mr. Benning says that they have a nice country in Minnesota, but he does not like the spring weather they had while there, nor did they like the idea of having to wait all night at Sioux City because the railway connections appear to be so arranged as to strand many people there about twelve hours who come into that place from the north and east.

The Democrat editor had the pleasure of recommending to a stranger who dropped in between trains asking for alms to help fix his back, that he go before the proper authorities and show that he was worthy and get a statement to that effect before he paraded the town. This he did not have time to do as his train was about to leave. He may have been worthy of aid, but if so he did not need to be in such a rush to get out of town on the next train. He had a long list of donors from up along the branch line. He did not like the idea of being asked to prove his case. It is but just to worthy unfortunates that every one who comes to ask alms in the place be made to establish his case as a worthy one before he is given a penny. Many of the people who make a business of begging are better off than those who donate to them.
