THE NORTHEAST NEBRASKA BANKERS MEET AT WAYNE

Gather in Annual Session. The Most Enthusiastic Meeting in History of Organization. Excellent Program

The 17th annual meeting of Group 3, comprising the bankers of northeast Nebraska was a most successful meeting at Wayne Wednesday, the attendance being the greatest in the history of the organization. Everything went off according to the program, and on schedule time. At the business meeting in the morning, following the warm welcome extended by our mayor and the happy acceptance by R. E. Burnham of Norfolk and the address by the vice president, W. A. Weston of Hartington, and the reports from the secretary and treasurer, Randolph was named as the place for the next annual meeting. The following were named as the officers for the coming year:

President, C. H. Randall, Randolph; vice president, Woods Cones Pierce; secretary, W. H. Reidesel, Randolph; treasurer, W. L. Mote, Plainview; trustees, W. T. Waldron, Verdigre, Wm. H. Campbell, Elgin; L. P. Pasewalk, Norfolk; Geo. A. Nelson, Crofton; A. G. Zuhlke, Bancroft.

The committee on resolutions consisting of C. E. Burnham, R. H. Mathewson and George J. Adams made an extended report commending the hearty welcome and royal entertainment furnished by the bankers and citizens of Wayne and expressing appreciation of their reception to the "City of Wayne, the educational center of Northeast Nebraska." Following this the committee commended the officers of the association for their successful efforts of the past year, and the program arranged for this meeting. They expressed appreciation for the presence of the city banker friends, and hoped to have their presence on many other occasions. The courtesy of the Hammond Printing Company was recognized for programs; Wm. B. Hughes, the state secretary was thanked for his timely aid and the work he has done in looking after the interests of the bankers in Nebraska, and administered a bit of kindly advice regarding his "singleness" of purpose in life, suggesting that a change could be happily made.

They paid a sincere tribute to the memory of Hon. Levi Kimball of Wakefield, who had been called from this life since the last meeting, and commended the example of his life to the members of the group and extended sincere condolence to the family of their deceased brother. Sympathy was expressed because of the absence of their president, Henry Ley of this place, and the hope expressed that he will be restored to perfect health and usefulness in the community. The thanks of the group were extended to Prof. C. W. Pusley, James M. Hurst and Hon. Halleck F. Rose for their kindness in appearing before the group with splendid and helpful addresses.

The group endorsed most heartily their worthy member, C. E. Burnham, as a member of the board of directors of the Federal Reserve bank, and pledged the united support to the end that he receive such appointment.

In relation to the placing of Nebraska in the Kansas City reserve district they unanimously passed the following resolution:

"That we as bankers, citizens and business men vigorously protest and object to the placing of the state of Nebraska in the Kansas City district by the organization committee of the Federal Reserve Banks, alleging that they have digressed from the spirit and intent of the law insofar as the establishing of such banks in the usual current of trade and commerce, and that instead of the election being divorced from politics, just the reverse is evident in an analysis of the locations, and we recommend that each bank in this Group write to the members of congress from his state, to use their best efforts in obtaining a redistricting of territory so as to include Nebraska and Wyoming in the Chicago district. While we approve the Federal Reserve Act and believe that as a whole the same will be beneficial to the business interests of the entire country, yet we feel that any effort to divert the current of trade and commerce from long established channels will mitigate against obtaining the best results therefrom."

Respectfully submitted, C. E. Burnham, R. H. Mathewson, George J. Adams, Committee.

BE IT RESOLVED: That Group Three take this opportunity of endorsing our most worthy member, Mr. C. E. Burnham, as a member of the Board of Directors of our Federal Reserve Bank, and hereby pledge to him our united support to the end that he receive such appointment.

R. H. Mathewson, George J. Adams, Committee.

The evening session was one that was pleasing to all, and was held in the commodious dining room of the Baptist church where the ladies of the Presbyterian church served a banquet fit for kings. No criticism could be made of the menu or the service, and especially when one realizes that there was an overflow table of 25 more than the regular dining room would contain, and more than 200 were cared for in that room.

Toastmaster Corkey was in a happy mood and most gracefully performed the functions of the office—and he met foemen worthy of his Irish wit in the responses. The hours were most happily passed, and no number on the program was missed. The toast "Friendship" replied to by Edward T. Kearney of Sioux City set a pace in a happy vein which prevailed till the close of the evening. He aptly quoted from one of Keiley's poems to make strong the sentiment he would express. Frank B. Knapp of Fremont responded to the sentiment, "Trees" with an able talk about these useful adornments to our great prairie state. W. D. Redmond of the Wayne normal told of "Highbrows" with the eloquence and ease of one familiar with the subject from long association. He quoted pretty verses, told happy stories which well illustrated and emphasized the good points of his excellent talk.

W. T. Graham of Laurel, spoken of as the poet of the association, made a happy talk on "Scraps" which demonstrated that a good man can build a good talk no matter what his subject may be, either by following it closely or leaving the subject to stand alone and just talking. When Charles J. Junod of Omaha was called to speak on "Sparks", he literally made the oratorical sparks fly to the amusement and entertainment of his hearer. There was a spark in every sentence—a good and happy thought in each phrase that gave much light on the bright subject assigned him.

At the close of the banquet a contribution was made from those present for "the waiters" and when it was finished Rev. Corkey on behalf of the bankers of Group 3 presented to Mrs. Bressler, president of the society, a purse of $107.38 as a token of the appreciation in which their excellent service was held. It was a graceful acknowledgement, and happily given to a worthy cause.

Thus closed what is unanimously said to be the largest and best meeting ever held of the Northeast Nebraska Bankers' Association. Wayne people and Wayne bankers were voted THE people.

Meirdiecks-Meyer

At the Salem Lutheran church southeast of Wayne Wednesday, April 22, 1914, Mr. Herman Meirdiecks of Pender and Miss Gesine Meyer, daughter of Dick Meyer and wife, were united in marriage in the presence of a large number of relatives and invited friends, Rev. Klnstnswky, the pastor, officiating. Following the wedding ceremony which was at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the wedding party repaired to the commodious Meyer home nearby and partook of an elaborate wedding supper and passed the afternoon and night in merry-making with the happy young couple.

They will make their home at Pender where the groom is most favorably known, as is the bride in the home neighborhood, where she grew to womanhood.

The Oratorio

"The Creation", by Hayden the famous German composer was given before a full house at the M. E. church Tuesday evening under the direction of Prof. Austin Abernathy of Sioux City.

The soloists of the evening were Mrs. Grace Clark DeGraff of Des Moines, Iowa, soprano; Mr. Willis Fleetwood of Wayne, Nebraska, bass; Prof. Austin Abernathy of Sioux City tenor; Mrs. Maude Britton Miller piano accompanist and Mr. L. Leo Alexander organ accompanist.

The solo work was exceptionally fine. Madam DeGraff is a soprano of remarkable ability, having a beautiful lyric voice and possesses a charming personality that means much across the foot lights. The solo "On Might Pens" was especially fine and the duets with Mr. Fleetwood were charmingly harmonious.

Mr. Willis Fleetwood is one of Wayne's young men and during the evening rendered the difficult solos with a finish and technique of a professional. He possesses a voice of fine range and exceptional power and his singing of "The Rolling Foaming Billows" was the work of an artist. Wayne is justly proud of this young man and predicts for him a big future. Prof. Abernathy was at his best in the beautiful tenor solos and in the solo "In Native Worth" gave it an interpretation which was marked by fine feeling and artistry. Prof. Abernathy's difficult double role of solo work and chorus conducting was accomplished with ease and fine dramatic effect. Mrs. Maude Britton Miller rendered the accompaniment faultless in her usual artistic manner. Mr. Alexander, as organist added much to the enjoyment of the evening in his rendition of "Chaos".

The chorus of forty voices showed what training of amateurs by a competent conductor can accomplish.

The choruses were sonorous and harmonious and the Choral Union is to be congratulated on its good work.

Tuesday afternoon Madam DeGraff in conjunction with Mrs. Murfree with the children's chorus gave a delightful matinee of children's songs. Madam DeGraff sings child songs delightfully and it is regretted that no more parents were present. Mrs. Murfree certainly has done a wonderful work with the children of the public schools.

Curt Tyler Badly Cut

Curt Tyler, a farmer near Randolph was badly cut about the legs and hips on his farm near that place Tuesday by an alfalfa disc. He was discing a field, having in his team a colt which became frightened and started the team to running. Seeing that the team was going to get beyond his control, he attempted to jump from the machine so as to light behind it, but his legs became tangled in the lines and which had a tendency to stop the team, but not before the revolving knives had literally cut the thigh of one leg to shoe strings. He was finally extricated from the machine, and placed in an automobile and a race made for Sioux City, where he was placed in a hospital and his wounds dressed. It required several hundred stitches to close the wounds he received, most of which were about the legs and hips, though his side had a gash or two that looked ugly. His brother, who accompanied him to the city said that he left him as comfortable as one could be under the circumstances Wednesday morning, and had strong hopes for his recovery.

Death of Ruth Wischhof

The many friends of William Wischhof and family here will learn with sorrow of the death of their youngest daughter, Ruth who passed away at their new home at Amiret, Minnesota, where they moved over a year ago. Ruth was nearly six years of age, and death came after a short illness. George Reuter, a brother-in-law to Mr. Wischhof, and William Bartling and Mrs. Fred Averman, brother and sister to Mrs. Wischhof went to their home last Thursday to attend the funeral and try to comfort the bereaved family in their affliction.

E. B. Young is reported ill with rheumatism.

VERA CRUZ CAPTURED BY AMERICAN NAVY TUESDAY

In Reply to Huerta's Defiance American Forces Take Mexican Custom House at Vera Cruz. Six Americans Killed

The last development in the Mexican situation as reported in the morning papers that all is quiet so far as fighting is concerned, and that American forces are in full possession of Vera Cruz—that no attempt has been made to capture Tampico, but that opportunity will be given for Huerta to let it be known by his conduct whether or not he wants some more of the treatment applied at Vera Cruz.

In spite of the fact that the Washington administration disclaims all desire for a war of conquest or against the Mexicans—but is simply acting to cause the Huerta crowd to cease to insult the people of this nation, Gen. Carranza, leader of the forces in rebellion against Huerta, is reported as demanding that the United States evacuate Vera Cruz else he will consider it an act of hostility against the Mexican people. It appears that he is seeking an advantage from the incident. Should he persist in maintaining this view it will mean war with both factions in Mexico. Authorities along the border have asked that the embargo on arms to the constitutionalist be restored, and it has doubtless been done.

The Mexican situation which has been in the public eye for the past two years, more or less, reached a new stage this week. The policy of watchful waiting ceased to be the proper attitude in the opinion of the men of peace who have so long and patiently maintained that attitude. It became apparent that the Huerta elements in Mexico were studiously insulting the government of the United States, and they were suddenly called to make suitable and customary apology for one of the most flagrant of their many acts. To this demand they first failed and later refused to comply, and the Atlantic war fleet was at once dispatched to Mexican waters, and a time set in which the man at Mexican capital should make amends. This he failed to do, and the president appeared before congress Monday asking that body to endorse his action thus far and further authorize him to maintain the rights and dignity of this country from insults from this source.

The lower house action acted very promptly, and the resolution went to the Senate where it was adopted after two days and two nights of argument trying to make a substitute which would suit better than the administration measure passed by the house, passed that resolution by a large majority. Meantime an emergency arose at Vera Cruz, and the president and those under him—acted well and quickly—taking the city of Vera Cruz with a loss of four American men killed and twenty wounded, contending against a stubborn resistance of the Federal Mexican troops.

Speaking editorially of the matter, the Sioux City Journal of Wednesday contained the following:

Action At Vera Cruz

While the United States senate was engaged in a leisurely discussion of the wording of a resolution dealing with the Mexican crisis, the American navy, acting under the instructions of President Wilson yesterday landed marines and captured the port of Vera Cruz.

While the senate talked the president acted to meet an emergency that called for haste. Whatever justification the senate may have had for its delay, the president has the better of yesterday's record as it appears on the surface. The example of alert activity coming so close upon the heels of watchful waiting was dramatic enough to appeal to the popular imagination.

President Wilson had hoped his Mexican program might be kept within bounds described diplomatically as "short of war." The seizure of the custom house at Vera Cruz was intended as an act of reprisal. While it was meant to be "short of war", the representatives of Huerta, undoubtedly acting on instructions from Mexico City treated it as an act of war and responded in such vigorous fashion as to dampen the dust of Vera Cruz with American blood.

The killing of four and the wounding of twenty American marines is a small item in comparison with what may follow, but at the moment it may exercise a large influence in overcoming prejudice against war in the minds of American patriots.

What is to be will be in Mexico, regardless of the punctiliousness of president or senate in the matter of language.

The present probability is that it is no short term contract which the marines began work upon yesterday in Vera Cruz.

The State Tennis Meet

The local association is moving rapidly forward with the work of preparing to entertain the tennis players of Nebraska this summer in the state meet. They have three magnificent courts practically completed on the C. H. Fisher lots in the north part of town, and one who is familiar with the tennis courts of the state tells us that outside of Omaha there is not a place in the state with as good and convenient courts as at Wayne. The state meet will bring to Wayne a fine bunch of clean, manly young business men who play tennis for the sport and the exercise, and all strive to keep it one of the clean games of the state. They compete for prizes in a friendly manner, and play on through a series of games, constantly eliminating the weaker player, until in the finals the best of those competing are matched against each other in a test for first place.

The School Entertainment

There was more general interest, perhaps in the entertainment given by the pupils at the high school building Friday evening than any other intertainment of the season—if not there should have been, for such events mean so much to the little folks, and those older are not averse to having their efforts appreciated. The editor pleads guilty of neglect of duty for failing to attend, but we are glad to say that the success of the evening did not depend upon the attendance of a few of the parents, and perhaps it is well else there would be many a failure in the school work of Wayne and many other places. We are glad that all are not so negligent as to make these events a failure.

Sneath-Leonard

Last week Wednesday at noon at the Baptist parsonage Mr. John D. Sneath of Wakefield and Miss Ada Clare Leonard were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. B. P. Richardson. The couple drove over to Wayne, unknown to friends, and were quietly married. They kept the event a secret for a few days, until they departed for Montana and then sent announcement cards to their friends. They will live on Mr. Leonard's ranch, near Lewiston, Montana.

MAKES BACKACHE QUICKLY DISAPPEAR

A Few Doses Relieves All Such Miseries, Bladder Weakness, Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism Promptly Vanish

It is no longer necessary for any one to suffer with backache, kidney trouble, have disagreeable bladder and urinary disorders to contend with, or be tortured with rheumatism, stiff joints, and its heart-wrenching pains, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly and surely relieves all such troubles.

Croxone is the most wonderful remedy yet devised for ridding the system of uric acid and driving out all the poisonous impurities which cause such troubles. It is entirely different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else ever used for the purpose. It acts on the principle of cleaning out the poisons and removing the cause.

It soaks right in through the walls, membranes and linings, like water in a sponge, neutralizes, dissolves, and makes the kidneys sift out and filter away, all the uric acid and poisons from the blood, and leaves the kidneys and urinary organs clean, strong, healthy and well.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what you have used, the very principle of Croxone is such, that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you the first time you use it.

If you suffer with pains in your back and sides, or have any signs of kidney, bladder troubles, or rheumatism, such as puffy swellings under the eyes or in the feet and ankles, if you are nervous, tired, and run down, or bothered with urinary disorders, Croxone will quickly relieve you of your misery. You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

SECOND PRIZE PANAMA ESSAY

The Following Written by J. M. Smith Won Second Prize in The First National Bank Panama Canal Contest

The Panama canal which the United States have built across the Isthmus of Panama—connects the two greatest oceans, the Pacific and the Atlantic.

This great water way which Colonel George W. Goethals superintended will save time and mileage for the steam-ships carrying on commerce between the two oceans. The building of the canal first started in 1881 after a French engineer estimated the cost at $169,000,000 to complete it. The work was started by the French and altogether the cost was about $260,000,000.

In 1904 we drew up a treaty with the Republic of Panama that we would pay them $10,000,000 for a strip of land ten miles wide along the Panama canal zone which contains about 436 square miles. Then we paid $40,000,000 for the work which the French had completed. Work was started again May 4, 1904, and was finished about January 1, 1914, nearly a year before the time the treaty allowed.

We chose a lock canal because it would be cheaper to build than a sea level canal. The canal was built between the cities of Panama and Colon being the distance of 50 miles, and to save from digging all the way they built a dam across the Chagri river making a lake about the area of 164 square miles. There are twelve locks in pairs, and the Culebra cut is eighty feet deep and was the most important feat of the whole canal.

There is a great scarcity of domestic help, if one may judge by the amount of search it takes to find women willing to work at what is called good wages at house cleaning and such work. If some of our robust young ladies will give attention to such work—learn to do it as it should be, and as wanted, they might find it more profitable than some lighter work. Not all are able to perform such work—but most of them can develop the necessary strength much easier and better than they can prepare for some less profitable but less laborous work.

William Rosicky of Clarkson and E. H. Hering of Royal, both former students at the Wayne normal, were here taking examination Saturday for certificate to teach. They will teach the spring term in this county. If young men who like the work of teaching will fit themselves for top places in the profession—in some special department there is a future before them as good as most professions offer. The demand now for manual training teachers and those competent to teach agriculture is exceeding the supply, and the demand will increase faster than the supply, in the opinion of this paper. It is a good game to get in on.

Catarrh is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Janitor Harmon, who presides over the court house and its grounds, tells us that it is now the rule that those who invade the grounds keep their feet upon their walks, and not make paths through the lawn. Some places have been worn so bear that not only the blue grass but the dandelions are discouraged. In short, you are asked to keep off the grass until the worn places get started.

C. R. Gibin tells in another place in this paper of the recent advancement made in Minnesota lands in the western part of the state, and is predicting a greater increase in land values in the northern part of the same state for the reason that one can now get land there at such a low price that he will profit by the raise which is bound to come that will place this land at the price held for land in the southern part of the state a few years ago, and then on top of that will come the raise which has been felt in the Lyon county land in the past three years, while this land will still advance.

A California Letter

H. C. Grovijohn, who went from Carroll to the eastern coast writes an interesting letter to the editor of the Index, from which we call a part. After telling of their trip and safe arrival, he says:

We landed here on Thursday, went out on the pier Friday at 5:00 a. m., and caught a nice mess of perch. Have been out fishing as early as that every morning, except Sunday; that is my day off. They have forty churches of different denominations here and about twenty people preaching at the mouth of the pier each afternoon, so you see there is plenty of religion here and if any one from Long Beach goes to h—l it will certainly be their own fault.

This is certainly the land of sunshine. I am feeling fine; have gained four pounds since arriving. If I keep on improving the way I have so far it will not take me two years to reach the two hundred pound mark.

Business is good here so far; have had good success so don't think my wife will run that peanut stand just yet. It is a pleasure to get out early in the morning for a walk. We are, at present, stopping at the Ophir; have two furnished rooms at $15 per month, one block from the ocean front. We can sit on the porch and watch the waves. Sea gulls are beautiful, but one is not allowed to shoot any of them as they are considered a sacred bird.

There are about thirty thousand people on the pike along the ocean front, Sundays. The band plays every afternoon and evening, except Mondays. The city pays them $30,000 a year.

On our way we also stopped at Los Angeles, the busiest city on earth.

We liked Salt Lake City fine and if we ever leave Long Beach to live any where else, Salt Lake will be our choice. Frank Barnes, formerly of Stanton, is out here with his auto to take us for a ride so I must close for this time.

Gleaned From Democrat's Exchanges

Laurel is putting in a sewer system this spring.

T. S. Wellington of Allen, a pioneer of Dixon county and civil war veteran, died at the home of his son, Harry at Allen, Monday, April 13, 1914. He was eighty years of age.

The Laurel Milling and Grain Company of that place started the flouring mill machinery there this week after a shut-down of several months. Albert Steckling is the miller.

They have a fondling at Norfolk—some innocent little victim of some one's sin, perhaps, was found on the doorsteps of a South Norfolk home one morning last week. It may find a good home, perhaps.

County Superintendent Teed of Dixon county was married at Ponca Wednesday, April 15, 1914, to Miss Gail Fields of Ponca. Mr. Teed has many friends and acquaintances in this place who will wish him long life and happiness.

The Osmond fire department paid a big dividend last week when they saved the light plant of the city from burning, although the fire was well under way before it was discovered. The service was out of commission but one night, owing to the quick action of the firemen.

At Coleridge they want an auditorium and at a meeting for the purpose of getting action along that line there was lots of people, but only about $2,500 cash in sight for an $8,000 proposition. But they are not quitting yet, and may make it as the farmers are to be appealed to for aid.

In telling of the teachers elected for the coming school year at Hartington, the News gives seven of them as graduates from the Wayne normal. They are the superintendent, C. L. Cutler, Geneva Donaldson, who is in the high school and lives at Norfolk, Adarath Conn, daughter of President Conn of the school, Bernice Beebe of Wakefield, Nellie Strom of Randolph, and Miss Linda Winter of Norfolk.

Laurel is beginning to agitate the question of getting some of the money Carnegie has fished from the public with which to build a public library. It is probably a wise thing to get back the little that can be obtained for this worthy purpose, but it should never have been allowed to accumulate to one man in such quantity—but with the aid of a protective tariff and lack of proper safeguarding public property as it should have been guarded he now has a title and with true Scotch thrift he is very careful on what conditions he lets any of it get from his control.

Some of the Nebraska towns are having much trouble to find the means for maintaining water works—and it is possible that St. Paul has discovered the means of raising the coin for improvements. The town is considering the advisability of establishing a municipal saloon. Some contend that it will be better in every way than to delegate the mission and the profit to some one for a paltry license fee. If the places where they think there must be a saloon would take the matter over and furnish the drinks pure and true to name, and carry on the business strictly in accord with the state law there is out little doubt but that it would be an improvement over the average saloon.

Just now care should be taken in changing farm animals that have been on dry feed all winter to green feed. The change should be made gradual, and not all at once. Cattle and horses or colts should be given a satisfying ration of hay and grain before being turned to grass for a few days in this part of the season, otherwise they are very apt to eat too freely of the grass which in some cases has proven fatal.

If the farmers would plan to reduce the cost of next winter feed for his stock he should plan to raise a root crop. It is yet too early to put it out, but none too early to plan for it. Sugar beets, mangles, rutabagas, turnips, carrots and the like make excellent feed for all farm animals. There is frequently much to gain by getting away from the almost exclusive corn ration so common in this community. Hogs are less subject to cholera, cattle, horses and sheep are better for some root food. Many of these crops are easily raised too.

Closing Meeting of Literary Society

During the past winter there has been a successful literary society conducted at the Gemmill school house, southwest of Carroll, and the closing meeting was held last Friday evening. The schoolhouse was crowded, and a very pleasant evening was spent. The program was opened by two selections by the society's male quartette, which were heartily applauded, and then Rev. Alexander Corkey was introduced, and he gave his lecture, "The Best Crop on the Farm". The lecture is fitted to inspire young people who have been brought up in the country, and is a tribute to the contribution which the farm makes to the life of the nation. In discussing the subject of country life the lecturer declared that in the middle west over 70 per cent of the population live in the country, while in the eastern section of the United States the cities have the greatest prestige. In Nebraska the farmer is the real ruler and what the farmer wants "goes" in Nebraska. Speaking of the "best crop", the lecturer said that it was the human crop, not only the children, but also the farmer himself and his wife, and every year ought to see the farmers growing into finer specimens of manhood. Otherwise a farmer is a fizzle. Just because a man raises good hogs is no sign he is a successful farmer. He must grow on his farm a real man, with self-knowledge, self-respect and self-control. The farmer should regard himself as engaged in the noblest occupation, for he raises the food-stuffs that feed the world, and no work is more essential for human life and progress. A man's success in these days is rated only by the value of his life to society.

At the conclusion of the lecture a closing song was rendered by the quartet and a collection was taken to defray the expenses of the meeting. After a unanimous vote of thanks to the lecturer of the evening the meeting closed, and the society adjourned until next fall.

The Baseball Investment

The Democrat is not against baseball—it is a manly sport when played in a manly manner—but it is not favorable to the idea of mortgaging all of the prospective amusement income of a place to hire expert or semi-professional players. The editor may be behind the times, probably is a little slow, but he would like to see a home team and see it compete with the home teams of other places—and let the gate receipts go to the necessary expenses. But when a game costs $50 for each team and only takes in half or a third of that sum it is not running on a self-supporting plan, and seeing the following from the Coleridge Blade shows that there are others who have watched the game as it has been played in this corner of Nebraska for the past few seasons:

"No town of its size has spent more money on base ball than Coleridge. And a town could not have less to show for the money spent. There is not a permanent benefit to point to as a result of semi-professional baseball. As an advertising proposition it was no good for where are the results? What industry is here as the result of base ball? What new business of any sort ever located here as the result of baseball? None of the business men did enough extra business to pay their monthly contribution and let them out even, with possibly two or three exceptions. The money spent for baseball would insure us a hotel. It would give us a canning factory. It would build us an electric light plant, for general use. It would insure an opera house in which people would not fear being roasted. For there has been a lot of money spent in Coleridge on baseball in the past twenty-five years. Baseball is alright as baseball but as the chief product of a town it is a drug on the market."

President Wilson's Method

"How does the president manage to accomplish so much?" is heard on all sides.

First, his work is his chief concern, and not what the papers and the people are saying, nor what society thinks of his declination to figure, or to be figured, as a central object.

Then his method and strict adherence to it. It is said in Washington he is the most inaccessible president within remembrance—for a caller on other than important business, according to the San Francisco Star.

President Roosevelt with his press bureau right there, saw every one, and the report of his hand-shakings, sayings, and eye-twinklings were his delight, and the people got to like it, too. But he spent so much time performing he failed to accomplish as much in seven years as President Wilson has accomplished in one.

MINNESOTA LANDS!

In opening another season in the sale of Minnesota Lands, I come to you with a proposition that I believe to be a better proposition than any life-insurance, accident insurance or any interest bearing notes or bonds

The proposition that I would make to you is this: That you buy at this time a tract of land in Itasca county, Minnesota, any number of acres from 40 to 1000. You can pay it all cash, or you can pay $1.50 per acre cash and have TWENTY YEARS time on the balance at Five Per Cent Interest per Annum. The price of this land at present ranges from nine to fifteen dollars per acre for splendid agricultural land.

But in considering this proposition as an investment let us take a glance at the statistics showing the growth of Itasca county for ten years.

Population.....	1900	4,573
	1910	17,208
		Increase 276%
Number of Farms...	1900	217
	1910	830
		Increase 282%
Acres in Farms....	1900	27,541
	1910	108,380
Total Farm Values..	1900	$338,747
	1910	$2,201,580
		Increase 550%
Assessed Valuation..	1901	$ 5,353,774
	1911	$25,449,577
		Increase 375%
Iron Ore Shipment..	1901
	1911	4,918,513 tons
No. of Schools.....	1901	20
	1911	92
County Road Fund...	1901	$4,904.47
	1911	$52,244.18
Density of Population		5.7 to square mile

As you glance over these statistics of state and nation and with my assurance from personal knowledge, that two thirds of this development has taken place in the last three years of the decade for which statistics are given. Cannot you with your vision penetrate the future far enough to realize the wonderful development that lies just before ITASCA COUNTY at the present time, and cannot you appreciate the greatness of the opportunities awaiting those who invest their money there, for this land that I am offering for $15 per acre and less is as fertile as the valley of the Nile, and while it is true that most of the land must be cleared before it can be cultivated, yet the man who buys now for an investment, need never clear it for the actual settler will want to buy it within three years for double the price you are asked for it now. The growth on this land ranges from alders and willows to poplars and birch, mixed hardwood, cedar and heavy pine stumps.

Study has been made of the cost of clearing by explosive and a bulletin has been issued by A. J. McGuire of the experiment farm that gives the results of a large number of tests. E. L. Buck of Cohasset, who has cleared from forty to eighty acres a year for the last six years finds that it costs him all the way from $6 to $7 an acre on brush and up to $20 and $25 an acre on heavy stump land. Clearing is the one hindrance, but when by an expenditure of not exceeding $25.00 an acre, these Itasca county lands can be brought to a degree of cultivation equal to that of Iowa lands that are valued at $150 and $200 per acre, and when this Itasca county soil excels in fertility, in freedom from drought, in certainty of harvest, in proximity to market, and in crop profit, clearing ceases to be a drawback, for the poor man can invest his labor in clearing and win a splendid farm, and I would say to the settlers and investors that Northern Minnesota is the last great strip of fertile land remaining undeveloped. When they tell you of western North Dakota, western South Dakota, Montana and Wyoming they are telling you of a country where rainfall is insufficient and crops are not sure only under irrigation; but in Minnesota the rainfall has ever been abundant and crops sure and large, and remember that Itasca county is no longer a wilderness for it contains 92 schools, many churches, several good towns and the farthest any of this land is from a railroad town is eight miles, and most of it adjoins a well built county road.

Billions of feet of lumber have been cut from the stumps in Itasca county and minor products, ties, posts, small lumber and some birch are left in the woods where the big lumber men are done.

Iron mines discovered and developed are valued above $50,000,000, though exploration has hardly begun. Yet more wealth is to be had from the top foot of soil than from all the forests above, or the mines beneath, and greater wealth than all is the contentment and prosperity of the people. All give the same report of the land: The best country on earth for a poor man.

I also have for sale some good farms in Lyon, the banner county of the state, at very reasonable price and on easy terms; and some good bargains in improved farms in Central Minnesota.

And in conclusion, pardon these few words in my own behalf. Four years ago I started talking of the land in Lyon county Minnesota, to you people of Nebraska. I told you then, in truth and candor, that every acre of land in Lyon county would double in value within five years. But many of you were skeptical then and would ask if it is such good land why is it so cheap now? And others would ask, what is going to make this great raise in price? Time has answered both those questions, for it was only a matter of population, and we have lived to see the price of every acre of Lyon county land double and more than double in value, and it is only four years.

I suppose many of you will ask the same questions when I make the statement that every acre of land in Itasca county will double in value within the next three years, but time will answer as it has answered in Lyon county. It is only a matter of population and Minnesota is gaining in population today as never before.

And as I look over those four years of experience in selling Minnesota land I can do so with the consolation of these facts. That I have never asked any man to buy a piece of land in Minnesota but what would have made him a substantial profit if he had bought it, and I have never sold to any man a farm in Minnesota but what is worth more on the market today than what he paid for it. And as I turn from this backward glance to look forward to the future of Minnesota I can do so with the confidence of intimate knowledge of the state and its resources, and with a firm belief that the bargains I am offering in Minnesota lands today are as good, as sure and as profitable as any I have offered in the past, but will you wait as so many have done until the raise in price has actually taken place and then say as they have said, "I wish I had bought when I was up with you", or "I wish I had went up with you and bought when you asked me to go."

I am asking YOU to go NOW. The land is right, the price is right, the terms are right. NOW is the time to go. The opportunity is yours. IT IS UP TO YOU.

C. R. GIBLIN, The Minnesota Land Man
Wayne, Nebraska

It was up to President Taft to "follow" the Roosevelt fashion. It had been promised that he would, but he was too yielding and good-natured. He couldn't shove a man out with a guffaw when he got through with him. So he was always behind and in a mess at the end of the day, week and month.

President Wilson works, and "receives" on schedule time, with clock on his desk before him. The hour and the minute is tabulated, and he allows himself and the others no elasticity in the matter.

The senator, or representative, or cabinet officer down for 10:35 will be admitted promptly at the tick of the clock; the man who came in at 10:15 understands his time is up and goes.

The president's secretary waits upon the majority of callers outside his official family and those from the distance whom it is his pleasure to meet.

Press correspondents have their hour, and they are they who know how to make the most of it. The president has told the newspaper men that he could almost count on the fingers of one hand the persons who had come to him with their business well prepared in their own minds.

Evening calls, and calls at the White House are upon his invitation. Saturday is his holiday, and it is the plain truth when Mr. Tumulty says the president is "not in".—Ex.

Cedar County Bridges

The authorities of Cedar county are having a state engineer inspect the bridges built in that county in the past three years. It is perhaps not going to enable them to get back any of the money they may have paid in excess of the worth of the bridges, but it will be some satisfaction to have the people know how much they have been bilked. Another thing which makes it difficult to get at the truth is the fact that no record has been kept as directed by law whereby they can tell what was paid for any particular bridge. Nor can they tell when the bridges were built. The first bridge examined, says the Cedar County News, was pronounced defective and not what would be classed a safe bridge, and one that should not have been accepted at any price.

It is very probable that this is but a sample of many. Wayne county tax payers will watch with much interest the result of this search, and perhaps profit by it.

Under the new law the state engineer makes the specifications, and the material now on hand in Cedar county does not much resemble the material in the old bridges—being much heavier and planned for a deal better structure. It is to be hoped that the counties of Nebraska will get more for their money in the future than they have in the past when dealing with the bridge combine.

THE CITY BEAUTIFUL

THE BEAUTY SPOTS OF HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA.

Point Pleasant Park and the Public Gardens—Notable Examples.

Point Pleasant park in Halifax, N. S., has been left in a wild state. Beyond keeping the roads in excellent repair and thinning out the undergrowth as needed no attempt has been made to improve on nature.

DRIVEWAY IN POINT PLEASANT PARK.

In the city. Just inside is the park keeper's lodge, a stope cottage, which in summer is embowered in flowers. Motorcars of all descriptions are barred from this park, as the steep and winding roads would make their operation unsafe to the riders as well as to other frequenters.

Straight down the road a mile from the Young avenue gate is the second beauty spot of Halifax, the public gardens. This is an area of some twenty acres in the very heart of the city.

Rarely is so much variety to be found within so small an area. The center is the band stand, where concerts are given in the summer. Around it are grouped the principal flower beds, from June to September a blaze of rich and varied color, a continual feast for the artist's eye.

Cemeteries Abolished. By an ordinance adopted by the board of supervisors provision is made for the removal of cemeteries within the city and county of San Francisco. The ordinance requires lot owners to make removals within six months from the time it becomes effective.

EVERY TOWN NEEDS THOROUGH CLEANINGS.

Village Improvement Societies Should Be Organized For Co-operation.

Even if you live in a well kept town there is much that can be done this spring to make it still more attractive. Work that you do with trees, shrubs, grass and the tin cans back in your alley will increase the value of your property and give you a good appetite.

"Have a cleanup day to begin with. Get the people interested in keeping the streets and especially the alleys clean. Dirty alleys breed flies and disease. Plant shrubs and trees and sow grass seeds in the parkings.

"A village improvement society can be organized to look after the different phases of the work. Encouraging the better cultivation of flowers, fruits and vegetables will be one of its duties. The society can give an annual flower show and demonstrate the artistic possibilities of each flower.

REAL CIVILIZATION.

City planning is the application of wise foresight to the control of a city's destiny. City planning attracts industries, commerce and visitors. It produces better transportation facilities, improved hygienic conditions and more adequate and less expensive living quarters and food supplies.

Pittsburgh Fog Prevention.

Scientists are experimenting in Pittsburgh the prevention of fogs. The French method used in Lyons, France, has been tried. It consists of covering the river with a thin film of oil which acts as a blanket and keeps the fog from enveloping the city in cold weather.

The Billboard Must Go.

In every state in the Union the billboard nuisance is being suppressed. The Missouri supreme court has just upheld the validity of the billboard ordinance of St. Louis, and a thousand illegal billboards are to be torn down.

Electric Sign Booms City.

INTERNATIONAL Harvester manure spreaders have a score of good features in their construction. Each one is the result of careful field experiment. An I H C spreader is low enough for easy loading, yet it has plenty of clearance underneath. The rear axle is well under the load, rear wheels have wide rims and Z-shaped lugs, insuring good traction under all conditions. Frame, wheels, and all driving parts are of steel. Apron tension is adjusted by a simple device. Winding of the beater is prevented by large diameter, and beater teeth are strong, square and chisel-pointed. International manure spreaders are built in several styles and sizes, low or high, endless or return apron, for small farms or large. Examination will show sturdiness of construction in every detail. Repairs, if ever needed, may always be had of the local dealer. Examine International spreaders at the dealer's. We will tell you who sells them, and we will send you interesting catalogues.

Sunday was a great day. Dr. Essert gave us a splendid sermon in the morning from 1 John 3:2. Next Sunday the League will meet for the last time at 6:30 as the time is here for the spring change. May 3rd evening services will begin half hour later. Some of the important business for the cabinet of the League is to be transacted at the parsonage next Saturday evening. Dr. Essert spoke before the Presbytery at Wakefield on Tuesday afternoon. All persons who have sung in the choir, or will now begin, are requested to meet for rehearsal at the church Thursday evening. The Ladies Aid Society will have a tea and talk at Mrs. Rollie Ley's Thursday April 23rd. Men especially invited. When the days of spring grow more and more beautiful does your need of religious exercises decrease? The present indebtedness of the Foreign Missionary Band is only $88,488 against $138,361 of a year ago. Methodism began in the hearts of two young men in England in 1729. Philip Embury began work in America in New York city in 1766 which resulted in the founding of John Street church. The first conference was known as the Christmas conference of 1784. There were 83 preachers and 14,988 members. In 1914, 20,395 preachers and 3757,508 members. Now there are 15 bodies of Methodists. The figures refer to the Methodist Episcopal church. Sunday morning the pastor will preach from Gen. 1-1, and the evening from Luke 15-5. Plan for the following events—Children's Day June 14, Mother's Day May 10, Anniversary of the Epworth League a week or two later and the District Sunday school convention May 28 and 29. We suggest the organization of a law and order league for Wayne, the purpose of which will be, with other things, to distribute literature on the White Slave Problem. Do Methodists understand paragraph 57 of the Discipline? "If the residence of a member who has removed cannot be ascertained for one year the words 'Removed Without Certificate' shall be written opposite the name in the record of church membership, and such name shall not be counted in the return of statistics; but no member shall be so entered unless his postoffice address shall have been unknown to the pastor for at least a year." Last spring 67,000 persons were so listed. Does this account for a fraction of the small increase in membership?

Sunday School every morning at 10 o'clock. Again we urge the members of the congregation to bring their children to Sunday school, for if you keep your children in Sunday school and follow up the work which it does you will find that it saves your children from many of the dark blots of the world and save yourself from many heartaches. Regular preaching services every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and in the evening at a quarter of eight. The subject of the sermon next Sunday morning will be "The Day of Opportunity", Eccles. 9:10. Looking back over the years just past and noting the opportunities of our forefathers, we find that they were not as great as the opportunities of the present. It has not been so very many years ago since man tilled the soil with a sharp stick and harvested his grain with a sickle. Since he hauled his grain to market in wagons pulled by oxen and ground his flour at the old mill on the stream. But today, great steam engines, pulling seven or eight plows turn under the soil; man cuts his grain with a machine; he sends it to market by the train load and has his flour ground at the steam roller mill. Is this not a day of great opportunities. But there is still a greater opportunity than all of these, the opportunity of salvation. "How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?" The theme for Sunday evening will be "The World's Greatest Battle Field", Prov. 23:7. The Ladies Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. C. J. Lund on last Thursday. There was a good attendance and a splendid meeting. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. Cedwick Swanson, Thursday, April 30th. Miss Nellie Johnson will entertain. Choir rehearsal every Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to worship with us.

"The Ascension of Christ: Why the Church Teaches the Doctrine" will be the subject of the morning sermon at the Presbyterian church next Sunday. As a prelude to the sermon the pastor will speak on "The Prayer Chain—Shall we break it?" In the evening the pastor will speak on "The Ten Virgins." The morning service begins at 10:30 and the evening service of worship at 8:00 o'clock. The Sunday school meets at 12:00 and the Christian Endeavor prayer-meeting at 7:00 p. m. Niobrara Presbytery, met this week at Wakefield. There were representatives from all sections of the Presbytery, which extends from Valentine to South-Stouix City and from state line on the north as far south as Pender. The local church was represented at the Presbytery by the pastor and Elder W. A. K. Neely. Under the auspices of the Brotherhood of the church an entertainment will be given on Monday evening, May 4th, by James Barkley, the well-known cartoonist and clay-modeler. The Sunday school and its efficiency will be discussed by the congregation on Wednesday evening of next week. As the Bible is an outlaw, even in the public schools of a Christian community like Wayne a tremendous burden is placed upon the churches in connection with the Sunday school, and this silent influence of the exclusion of the Bible from the day schools makes the work of the Sunday school difficult and disappointing. The whole situation will be discussed at a public meeting of the congregation on next Wednesday evening.

Dr. Essert's lectures contained a timely message for all our people. We hope every member of our church heard him once, at least. Everything that touches the life of man should interest Christians because it belongs to the Kingdom of God. All these humanitarian movements of today are but another way of magnifying the spirit of Christ. The law of love is very wide in its application and has many methods of work. Yet underneath and behind all the movements for the uplifting and helping humanity we find the church as not only furnishing the leaders but very largely the supporters. The church is the spiritual dynamo, these unselfish organizations are but the focus point of the light. They are the natural fruit of the branch, grafted into a living union with Him who went about doing good. "The Cross in Daily Life" will be the subject of the sermon next Sunday morning. The cross represents a principle and that principle is fundamental to the Christian's life. What is it? Sunday evening, the pastor will preach on the subject: "Sources of Help". The young people's lesson, under the direction of the missionary committee, will be a study of mission work through the Sunday school. Next Wednesday evening will be the time for our regular covenant prayer-meeting. We wish there might be a large attendance. Tomorrow (Friday) evening the young people of the church and Sunday school will have a sociable in the church parlors. Come and get acquainted with one another. When did you invite some one to church? When did you speak to some one about Christ?

Sunday was a great day. Dr. Essert gave us a splendid sermon in the morning from 1 John 3:2. Next Sunday the League will meet for the last time at 6:30 as the time is here for the spring change. May 3rd evening services will begin half hour later. Some of the important business for the cabinet of the League is to be transacted at the parsonage next Saturday evening. Dr. Essert spoke before the Presbytery at Wakefield on Tuesday afternoon. All persons who have sung in the choir, or will now begin, are requested to meet for rehearsal at the church Thursday evening. The Ladies Aid Society will have a tea and talk at Mrs. Rollie Ley's Thursday April 23rd. Men especially invited. When the days of spring grow more and more beautiful does your need of religious exercises decrease? The present indebtedness of the Foreign Missionary Band is only $88,488 against $138,361 of a year ago. Methodism began in the hearts of two young men in England in 1729. Philip Embury began work in America in New York city in 1766 which resulted in the founding of John Street church. The first conference was known as the Christmas conference of 1784. There were 83 preachers and 14,988 members. In 1914, 20,395 preachers and 3757,508 members. Now there are 15 bodies of Methodists. The figures refer to the Methodist Episcopal church. Sunday morning the pastor will preach from Gen. 1-1, and the evening from Luke 15-5. Plan for the following events—Children's Day June 14, Mother's Day May 10, Anniversary of the Epworth League a week or two later and the District Sunday school convention May 28 and 29. We suggest the organization of a law and order league for Wayne, the purpose of which will be, with other things, to distribute literature on the White Slave Problem. Do Methodists understand paragraph 57 of the Discipline? "If the residence of a member who has removed cannot be ascertained for one year the words 'Removed Without Certificate' shall be written opposite the name in the record of church membership, and such name shall not be counted in the return of statistics; but no member shall be so entered unless his postoffice address shall have been unknown to the pastor for at least a year." Last spring 67,000 persons were so listed. Does this account for a fraction of the small increase in membership?

NEBRASKA NEWS

State Troops Could Start for Mexico in Few Hours.

MANY INQUIRIES ARE RECEIVED

Major Sterricker Has the Omaha Battalion Completely Organized and in Readiness to Start—Only Waits Word to Go.

Lincoln, April 21.—Nebraska troops are ready for the fray. That is practically so, according to Adjutant General Hall, who has not allowed the guard to lose any strength since the trouble in Mexico began months ago. On the other hand, he has two regiments of well drilled companies, which can be made ready in a few hours' notice for mobilization at any point in the state, and a third regiment, unorganized, which in a week can be ready for service.

Added to this is one of the most efficient and best equipped signal corps in the country and a hospital corps under most efficient management.

Numerous calls from commanders of companies over the state to the adjutant general anxiously inquiring what chances there were for a call to arms indicates that the present membership in Nebraska's guard is just as anxious to make history as were the members of that first Nebraska which went to the Philippines.

The force of state militia stationed in Omaha could be ready to move for Mexico within six hours if the word were given. This is the assurance of Major E. B. Sterricker in command of the battalion in Omaha.

To Draw on Guaranty Fund.

It will take $54,526 of the state guaranty fund to satisfy the claims of the First State Savings bank of Superior, according to a report made to the state banking board, and Assistant Attorney General Edgerton was at once sent to Harvard to make application before Judge Hurd for an order authorizing the banking board to draw on the guaranty fund for that amount.

The total amount of deposits in the institution at the time it closed was $122,953. The bank had $20,221 when it closed and the receiver has since collected $48,208 more. Proofs of deposits have been received amounting to $120,380. There will be left in the guaranty fund after the amount needed is taken over $800,000.

Box Cars Are Held Up.

Sheriff Hyers went down into the Burlington railroad yards and "arrested" half a dozen box cars belonging to the Erie railroad. The cause of all of this activity was that a judgment had been secured by the executrix of the Baeschlin estate against the Erie company for $500 for damages to a car of poultry being shipped to New York and the court had ordered an attachment of any property which might be within the jurisdiction of the court. Just at this time it was discovered that the Erie cars were in the yards and Sheriff Hyers got busy.

Saloonists Must Pay Damages.

The judgment secured by Angela A. Roach against Charles Day and Joseph Wolf, two saloon keepers of Long Pine, in the sum of $5,000 has been affirmed by the supreme court.

Mrs. Roach sued for damages in the Brown county district court on account of the death of her husband, whom she alleged had been sold liquor by Day and Wolf, from which he became intoxicated and wandered onto the track of the Northwestern railroad and was killed by a train. Suit was brought for $25,000 in behalf of herself and infant daughter.

Crews Files for House.

J. M. Crews of Culbertson has filed for the Democratic nomination for the lower branch of the legislature in the Sixty-ninth district, comprising the counties of Hitchcock and Dundy. This district was represented at the last session by L. C. Rudistl, appointed by the governor to fill a vacancy caused by the death about a month before the session began of W. Z. Taylor. Mr. Crews makes a personal filing for the Democratic nomination and files for the Populist nomination by a petition signed by twenty-eight voters of his district.

Laundrymen to War Upon Chinamen.

The state convention of laundrymen elected the following officers, after discussing the Chinese laundry situation with the object in view of beginning war on the Celestial washshops: President, L. B. Hoagland of Hastings; vice presidents, J. A. Westling of Fairbury, E. B. Arnold of Aurora and W. Hainline of Grand Island; secretary-treasurer, W. W. Tatum of Nebraska City. The next convention will be held at Hastings.

Two Rate Hearings.

Two rate hearings will be held by the railway commission this week. The first will be held at Hastings today, being an application of the company at that place for a raise in telephone rates. The second will be held at York on the application of the York Gas and Electric company for permission to issue stock in the amount of $83,408.61 of preferred stock to cover indebtedness and improvements.

Business Files Again.

Senator Berton K. Bushee, who represented the Twenty-seventh senatorial district in the last legislature, will file in a few days for a chance again to represent that district in the next session.

CROP AND SO'L REPORT

Plenty of Moisture All Over State. Range in Good Condition.

Omaha, April 21.—The Burlington's weekly crop and soil report indicates that practically every portion of Nebraska has been visited with drenching rain. The ground is reported to be in excellent condition and spring work progressing rapidly on the farms. The condition of winter wheat all through the southern part of the state is estimated at 100 per cent and 99 1/2 on the McCook division, in the extreme southwest corner, from whence reports of a lack of moisture come. Most of the plowing for oats has been done and a goodly portion of the acreage seeded. Fruit promises well and no frost damage is reported.

The range is said to be in good condition and the grass coming along rapidly, furnishing an abundance of feed for all kinds of live stock.

CAPTAIN HAS BREAKDOWN

F. C. Stewart of the Militia Is Taken to Asylum at Lincoln.

Omaha, April 21.—Overwork and worry, laboring under the additional mental strain occasioned by the possibility that the Nebraska national guards might be ordered to Mexico, Captain F. C. Stewart of company D, Fourth battalion, of Omaha was taken from his home at Twenty-fifth and Dodge streets to the asylum at Lincoln and his condition, though improved, is said to be yet critical.

Although his friends decline to discuss his trouble in detail, it is said that he became so violent that he compelled his wife to polish the shells in his revolver belt, and clean his revolver, while he repeated to himself, over and over, "We've got to go to Mexico."

MEXICAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Kills Self at Omaha After Reading Mexican War News.

Omaha, April 21.—P. R. Lomberara, laborer, was found dead at the Arcade hotel with a bullet wound through his heart. Lomberara was a Mexican and it is presumed by the authorities that the recent war situation preyed upon him to such an extent that he temporarily lost his mental balance and committed suicide. On the bed beside him was a copy of an Omaha paper and on his left arm was a piece of crepe. No documents or anything explaining the man's act were found. His body was discovered by a maid who heard the shot.

Grand Island Is Horse Market.

Grand Island, Neb., April 21.—The Northwestern is handling a special train of twenty-two carloads of heavy draft horses out of Grand Island, destined for Chicago and cities farther east. The horses were bought at the Grand Island horse market last week and at one of the weekly public sales. Grand Island has come to be one of the largest primary horse markets in the world. The market was established in 1904 and during that year 7,084 horses were sold. In 1913 the sales aggregated 23,322 head, the animals going to all parts of the United States. Most of the horses handled are raised in Hall and nearby counties.

Walter Miller Takes a Tumble

Walter Miller, who works for the city, got a fall with a 20-foot light pole this morning. He was cutting the wire from the pole to make clear way for a house to pass along, and as he clipped the last wire the pole fell, carrying him with it. He kept on top, but the cross-arm swiped him under the chin cutting a gash which required several stitches to close. His heels were terribly bruised when he struck, and he is suffering most from them. Examination showed that the pole was entirely rotted away except a shell.

A Train of Cattle

Sixteen cars of fat cattle were started from Wayne Saturday for the Chicago market. They were all good ones, too, and though market quotations were 10 cents lower Monday when they were on the market they brought good prices, averaging well above the $9.00 mark.

John Shannon had five cars, Ted Perry four, W. H. Gildersleeve four, Andrew Stamm two and William VonSeggern one. Without knowing just what the bunch sold for it is safe to say that it totaled more than $30,000. The cattle men are handling a bunch of money this year, owing to high prices, but it is safe to say that they are not really making much, for feeders and feed were both high.

Do Both Go Down Together?

In South Sioux City, according to the Dakota County Record is a fine building which was first built for court house at a cost of perhaps $30,000, and a few years ago this building was remodeled into a brewery as a plant of the Kruger Brewing Co. which evidently failed to pay dividends—and last week Tuesday it was sold at sheriff sale to Henry Wood at $2900, which is not quite 10 per cent of the appraised valuation of $2,351.20. This was the third sale of the plant in an effort to get the appraised value. Better let the city buy it for a school if it will not pay as a brewery or court house. If they will set it down in Wayne we will assure them a better price for it.

Spring Spraying

The first spraying of apples should be applied at the time the blossom buds show pink and the cluster commences to open. This spray is directed against apple scab, rust, curculio, canker and worms. The materials used are Bordeaux mixture (3 pounds Blue-stone, 4 pounds lime, 50 gallons water), as an insecticide combining the two in one solution. Apply in fine mist and use care that every part of the tree is covered with a thin film.

Pears should be sprayed same as apples.

The first spraying of plums and peaches should be about ten days after the petals fall or when cawls are shedding using commercial lime, sulphur solution (11-3 gallon) to 50 gallons of water, in a combined solution.

Grapes should be sprayed at least 4 times. The first spraying should be applied when the lowers buds are commencing to swell. The materials used are bordeaux mixture (4 pounds Blue Stone, 5 pounds Lime, 50 gallons water) arsenate of lead (2 pounds to 50 gallons water) in combined solution.—If we have prospect of fruit here it should be sprayed.

English Sheep

The argument that sheep cannot be raised in this country because of the high price of land falls to the ground when the fact is considered that sheep raising in England on land many times more valuable is a great industry and very profitable. The Sheep Breeders' association of Yorkshire, England, recently held a meeting at which it was stated that sheep breeding is one of the most important live stock industries of the United Kingdom and that it was of as great importance to improve the standard of mutton and wool as it was of horses, cattle and pigs, especially in the cases of flocks owned by small farmers.

From an examination of the books of the different associations it was found that a very large majority of the flocks in England are very small, running from six and eight sheep up to 100, with very few above the latter number. The business is in a very prosperous condition. The number of sheep in 1912 in the United Kingdom was given as 28,967,495. When one reflects on the number of sheep raised and the smallness of that country, which could be put down in taxes two or three times and leave fringes all around, and the high price of land there, he will abandon the idea that sheep cannot be raised at a profit on high priced lands. There are three principal breeds of sheep handled in England, the Oxford Down the Shropshire and the Leicester. Very few of these sheep are to be found in the United States, almost everything runs to Merino strains, but they are the money makers. They furnish large quantities of wool, but the money making part of them are those famous English mutton chops.—Omaha World Herald.

General Attorney Wright Opens Discussion at Lincoln.

MATTER OF INTERSTATE RATES

W. T. Thompson, for Grand Island and Hastings, Urges That Order Be Not Put in Effect—Sets Apart Day to Plant Trees.

Lincoln, April 15.—It is not so much a question of local rates in Nebraska as it is of interstate rates, according to General Attorney Wright of the Northwestern in his argument before the state railway commission on the proposition of putting into effect modified rate schedule No. 19 as prepared by the commission.

On account of the large number of railway representatives, commercial club secretaries and others the hearing was transferred to the supreme court room, where Attorney Wright opened the argument for the railroads.

He said present conditions regarding the short hauls from terminal points had become something to be considered, and cited one case in which auto trucks were being used to carry freight out from a certain town to a distance of ten or fifteen miles.
Such conditions took away some of the earning capacity of the roads and he thought the commission should take cognizance of that fact. In another case he cited that during the hearings a month ago someone had criticized the Missouri Pacific road because its showing of maintenance was too high according to the ideas of the critic.

The road representative had shown that the maintenance was something short of $1,000 a mile.
"There is not a member of the commission, or anyone else, who would want to ride on any railroad where its cost of upkeep was less than $1,000 a mile," said Mr. Wright. "One trip would be all that would be necessary to show its condition."

Thompson Talks for Cities.

W. T. Thompson, representing the towns of Grand Island and Hastings, challenged the legality of modified order No. 19. In support of this charge he called the attention of the commission to section 222 of the railway commission act, which condemns and declares illegal any act of the railroads which would result in the discriminations the rates named in the order would produce.

He pointed to the fact that if the law prohibited the carriers from making discriminatory rates, the commission could not, through the adoption of a schedule of rates produce the results the law intended to prevent. He argued that the rates proposed would discriminate in favor of Omaha and Lincoln and the commission could not legally put in effect any such rates.

Mellor Back From 'Frisco.

W. R. Mellor returned from San Francisco. Mr. Mellor together with Lieutenant Governor S. R. McKelvie and Commissioner Peter Jansen left on April 1 and during their stay thoroughly examined into the present condition of the project and performed the ceremony of laying the cornerstone for the Nebraska building, which they hope to have the citizens of the state erect from funds secured by private subscription. Thirty-four of the states of the union have already signified their intention of erecting state buildings.

Cattle Shipped to State for Grazing.

Ten thousand two hundred and seventy-two cattle were shipped into Nebraska for feeding and grazing purposes from Jan. 1, 1914, to April 1, 1914, according to a report being made ready to be filed with the governor by State Veterinarian Kigin. In reporting on the diseases which the department has had to handle, Dr. Kigin says that tuberculosis of cattle and hogs and hog cholera are the serious propositions which the department has to handle.

Take Up Potato Rate.

This week representatives of the state railway commission will go to Chicago to be present at the potato rate hearing before Commissioner Mc-Kenna of the interstate commerce commission. An attempt is being made to make a raise in rates on tubers which will amount to about 15 per cent and the commission will endeavor to prevent the raise.

Instructing Demonstrators.

Five farm demonstrators are receiving instructions from C. W. Pugsley at the state farm for the work for the summer. These are V. S. Culver of Merrick, J. F. Coupe of Thurston, A.
H. Beckoff of Seward, O. H. Liebers of Gage and Val Kuska of Madison. It is understood that Dawes will have a demonstrator although not represented at this time.

Hunter Pleads Guilty.

A letter was received by State Game Warden Rutenbeck from one of his deputies, S. A. Bowen at Pullerton that a hunter had been arrested for killing geese near Yutan and had pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $200.
His case has been reported to the government authorities and the man may be prosecuted under the federal game laws.

Complain of Rates.

The Holdrege Ice Cream company has filed a complaint with the state railway commission against excessive express rates charged on ice cream and fruit out of that town to Haigler and other points.

WINTER WHEAT IS UP TO PAR

Burlington's Crop Report Gives the Conditions in the State.

Omaha, April 14.—The Burlington's regular weekly soil and crop report has been given out, covering conditions in Nebraska for the week ending last Saturday. In dealing with the winter wheat situation it places the conditions as 100 per cent on all divisions, except McCook, where it is 98 per cent.

Spring grain is being sown and the acreage will be about the same as last year. In many localities potatoes have been planted. Meadows and pastures are beginning to show green, indicating that the grass was not seriously injured by the dry weather of last summer.

With the exception of peaches, the report asserts that the prospects for a fruit crop are excellent.

STOCKMEN ON LONG TRIP

Delegation Leaves South Omaha for Billings, Mont.

Omaha, April 13.—A delegation of stockmen and stock yards employees left South Omaha over the Burlington today for the northwest. The trip will not end before April 26, when the squad is expected to return. The trip takes in all the big cattle and stock centers of the northwest and ends at Billings, where there will be a convention.

Conventions all along the route will enable the delegation to get together with the stock growers. Secretary-Traffic Manager A. F. Stryker is in charge of the outfit.

Schedule Committee at Work.

Hastings, Neb., April 14.—The schedule committee of the state league began the preparation of the clubs' itinerary for the coming season. Following the plan of opening one year in the southern towns and the next year in the northern, it was decided that the opening games, May 18, should be played in Superior, York, Beatrice and Hastings, but the pairing of teams for these and other series remains to be fixed. Fourth of July games will be played in Columbus, Grand Island, Superior and Hastings and receipts will be pooled. The season will close Labor day.

Pawnee Boy Corn Growers Dined.

Thirty-five of the city Pawnee county boys who have entered the W. M. Thompson corn growing contest were guests of Mr. Thompson at a dinner given at the Exchange hotel in this city. Every precinct in the county was represented at the dinner and the event served to stimulate the interest which the contestants, as well as their parents and friends, are showing in the contest.
After the dinner the boys listened to short addresses by speakers whom Mr.
Thompson had invited to talk to his guests.

Farmer Charged With Stealing Cattle.

Broken Bow, Neb., April 13.—Sheriff Wilson arrested and brought in from Table Rock John Hovick, a farmer of that vicinity, charged with stealing ten head of cattle from Henry New and Harry Purcell, also farmers in that neighborhood. Hovick had made arrangements with another party to buy the cows and it was through the latter that he was located. When arrested Hovick admitted that he had stolen the cattle. The prisoner has a wife and four children.

year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

A braid of hair was caught in the cog against the machine.

Sets Apart Day to Plant Trees.

According to custom Governor More-

GRADE LAMBS FOR FALL FATTENING

To buy lambs soon after weaning and turn them out to graze on stubbles and pastures and eventually into the cornfields is a good practice and should prove profitable, writes John Pickering Ross in Farm and Fireside. At all events, it is the cheapest and best way to get rid of the weeds and to improve the land.

Success will greatly depend on the lambs bought. Some one may say, "Of course mine are just 'grades,' good, bad and indifferent," and it is just at this point that danger seems to threaten. Of course you will buy none but grades of one of the mutton and wool breeds—Shropshire, Hampshire or Southdowns—and the nearer you can come to buying all of one type and breed the surer you will be of getting their full market value, for the buyers always pay most attention to the even looking lot. It is well to bear in mind that a few poor lambs in a bunch of good ones is always used as a pretext to pull down the price, while a few good ones in a poor lot have no power to raise the price of the whole. It is therefore far Shropshire sheep are popular in this country as well as in England, and they are one of the best breeds known for mutton production. In appearance the sheep is well proportioned and built on symmetrical lines, being compact in form. The wool is close and longer than that of many other breeds. Specimens of this breed have been made to weigh 25 for the male and 15 for the female, and the meat is of excellent flavor. As a bearer of lambs few sheep surpass the Shropshire.

better to have nothing to do with "indifferent or bad ones," though you should have to pay from 50 cents to $1 more per head for a nice, even lot, all docked and the bucks altered. A few long, dirty tails or uncrated bucks will often spoil the sale of an otherwise nice bunch of lambs.

It is desirable to find out if the lambs have already been used to a grain ration. If they have it will pay to continue it for a short time, gradually reducing it from, say, a half pound per day and resuming it a month before you propose to ship them. If you grow oats you can put them to no better use than to feed them to your lambs with a little bran or oilmeal. You do not want lambs to run over seventy-five to eighty pounds by November, and they should be fat and well finished at those weights by then.

FEEDING THE PIGS.

When Youngsters Begin to Eat Provide a Separate Trough.

Thrifty, growing pigs will at the end of three weeks begin to try to eat shorts slop with the mother. Then a separate pen or creep where the sow cannot reach their trough should be provided for them, says H. I. Cottle in the Kansas Farmer. Here they can be fed twice a day, feeding only such amount as they will clean up. The troughs must not get sour from accumulated feeds. The troughs must be shallow. Young pigs climbing over a six inch side to get feed from the trough are in danger of rupture.

Pigs correctly cared for are ready to be weaned at eight or ten weeks of age. They thrive better when separated into bunches of fifteen or twenty, and the feeder can more easily observe each individual. Crowd the pig in his growth and at nine months he will top the scale at 275 to 300 pounds or better.

Exclusive corn diet produces fat, uncleanly and ill developed hogs. Along with corn should go shorts slop and alfalfa. I feed good ashes, charcoal and salt also. These are preventives of disease and promoters of health. About twice a week I feed the government hog tonic. This is an excellent tonic and keeps the hog free from his greatest enemy—worms. Beware of the majority of remedies and stock foods. Mix brains with the hog feed.

Flaxseed For Calves.
Ground flaxseed meal may be fed to young calves in several ways. It is quite common to pour boiling water over it and cook it for a short time, making the mixture about the consistency of good cornmeal mush. To start with, young calves may be fed about a teaspoonful of the flaxseed meal mush, gradually increasing to about a table-spoonful. This may be mixed with milk. It is advocated by some of the best feeders that the raw flaxseed meal gives just as good results if mixed with the milk, and the danger of the flaxseed becoming sour by mixing with water is eliminated.—Hoard's Dairyman.

The Milkmaid Needs Rest.
The dairy cow should be rested between lactation periods. If she refuses to dry up of her own accord use some method of getting her dry so she can have a little chance to build up for her next milking period.

HOGS AND SHEEP.

Some folks predict a sheep famine in this country within a few years. This should be a hint to every farmer to put on a few sheep.

If sows are to be changed from one pen to another, lead them out with a pail of slop or grain. Corn scattered in the ground as a guide is a good way.

A scare in the sheep flock is worse than three days' fasting, and poor feeding foreruns failure.

At mating time the boar and sow should be in the pink of condition to produce the best results.

The more rapidly the lamb is grown the more delicious the meat.

In this era of cheap woven wire fences there is absolutely no excuse for narrow, ill smelling hog houses near the house.

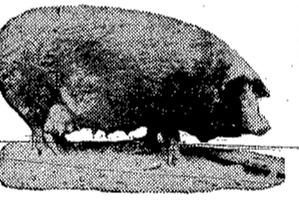

HEREDITY IN A PIG.

Difference Between Pure Breds and Scrubs is Greater Profits.

What is the difference between a well bred pig and a common scrub one? Without entering into the scientific principles of the thing, we would say a well bred pig is one that responds quickly to feeding, writes a correspondent of the National Stockman. He is so built, so shaped and so blocked out that he grows broad and deep and long in the proportions to make weight; that what he eats and digests is assimilated into muscle and fat and a contented grunt, and not into gristle and flabby skin and a shrill squeal, having the common name of razor-back.

In five months time what is the difference in your two pigs? I'll tell you. I once had a bunch of pigs which were well bred, and to fill out my pens I purchased a bunch of the same age to a day, five weeks old. At this age there was not such a striking difference between the two as to size, but at five months things were different. Both had the same care and all they ought to eat. My well bred ones averaged 160 pounds each, while the others averaged eighty-seven pounds.

I don't care what the breed is. If you fancy one of the old standard breeds tie to it once for all, although some other may be as good. If you do not want to get pure bred stock get good, kind and quiet sows whose ancestors are known for large litters; then coax a few of your neighbors into buying a real good pure bred boar if you do not want to purchase one alone. "The sire is half the herd," is an old expression among farmers, but in this case I think he is about two-thirds, for pigs shape up after the sire more than from the dam.

The peculiarity of the mulefoot hog is that it has a solid hoof. In color this breed is usually black, sometimes with white spots. It is claimed for the mulefoots that the pigs are harder and freer from pig diseases than pigs of other breeds. They are great rovers, hustling for themselves from a few weeks of age. The sows are prolific and have great capacity for milk production and are fine sucklers. The illustration shows a pure bred mulefoot sow.

If there is one thing discouraging and unprofitable in farming it is to put grain and labor into a poor pig and see poor results, and yet many farmers do it. Why? For the same reason that they keep poor cows and scrub bulls and breed from them and plant small and culled potatoes in the spring and wonder why they do not get good results.

FEEDING THE CALF.

Little and Often Is a Safe Rule to Follow in This Matter.

Great care should be taken not to feed roughage to the new born calf, and as it grows see that it eats only the choicest and finest of forage and that the quantity taken is small. Indigestion also comes commonly from feeding more milk at one time than can be properly cared for in the fourth stomach or feeding milk that is soured, fermented, decomposing or from dirty, contaminated vessels. It is important to copy nature as far as possible.

A young calf takes a little milk of two big "messes" of milk a day will be all right. Then the calf scours and dies or has fits and dies, and the feeder wonders what is wrong. Give a little milk often at first and always from clean, scalded and sun-dried vessels.—Farm Journal.

Worms In Horses.
Horses do not suffer from stomach worms, but from intestinal worms. As often advised, give a tablespoonful night and morning of a mixture of equal parts of salt, dried sulphate of iron and sulphur in the feed. Continue for a week, then skip ten days and repeat. Omit the iron for a pregnant mare. Avoid feeding swale hay or giving contaminated drinking water.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Beef Steers Again Lower, 15 to 20c Off in Two Days.

HOGS VALUES POUNDED HARD.

Sheep and Lambs Practically Steady. Market Fairly Active—Receipts Fairly Large, but Quite a Percentage Are Feeders.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, April 21.—Cattle receipts totaled 4,900 head today. The fat cattle market was very slow again today, and prices were mostly 10c lower on the fat cattle, and yearlings were nearly steady. For the two days values are 15@20c off. Demand from all sources was fairly vigorous for good heifers and light weight cows, and these found a ready sale at fully steady figures, while, as usual of late, the heavy and plain cows were slow and uneven sellers. Veal calves were just about steady, and bulls, stags, etc., steady to a shade lower. There was a very fair inquiry today for desirable stock cattle and feeding steers and anything that was attractive enough to bring out competition sold at fully steady figures.

Cattle quotations: Fair to prime yearlings, $8.00@9.00; choice to prime heaves, $8.60@8.85; good to choice heaves, $8.20@8.60; fair to good heaves, $8.15@8.35; common to fair heaves, $7.40@8.10; good to choice heifers, $7.25@8.25; good to choice cows, $6.75@7.25; fair to good cows, $6.00@6.75; canners and cutters, $4.25@5.75; veal calves, $7.75@10.50; bulls, stags, etc., $5.25@7.50; good to choice feeders, $7.75@8.00; fair to good feeders, $7.25@7.60; common to fair feeders, $6.50@7.25; stock cows and heifers, $6.00@7.50; stock calves, $6.50@8.25.

About 13,000 hogs arrived today. Demoralized conditions in the provision market during the past few days put the hog trade in bad shape and a sharp break was reported from all points today. The local market was dull, and killers were largely 20c lower, while shippers bought a few at prices not over 5@10c lower. Bulk of the supply went at $8.30@8.40, and tops reached $8.45.

Sheep and lamb receipts amounted to 11,000 head. The market was quite active today and prices were practically steady with Monday on both ewes and lambs. A spread of $7.95@8.15 included the bulk of the Mexican lambs, and the fed western grades moved around $7.50@7.85. Fed western ewes ranged at $6.30@6.50. A sprinkling of shorn wethers went at $5.75, and some shorn ewes at $4.75.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, Mexican, $7.85@8.15; lambs, good to choice western, $7.40@7.90; lambs, fair to good western, $7.15@7.40; lambs, shorn, $6.50@6.90; lambs, cutters, $5.50@6.50; yearlings, light, $7.35@7.40; yearlings, heavy, $6.75@7.35; wethers, good to choice, $6.70@6.90; wethers, fair to good, $6.25@6.70; ewes, good to choice, $6.45@6.65; ewes, fair to good, $6.00@6.45.

Turning the Tables.

When Sir Henry Lucy was writing for a well known newspaper under the famous management of the late Sir John Robinson, the latter frequently complained of Lucy's terribly bad handwriting.

One day Mr. Lucy, as he then was, received a very heated note from Sir John, again complaining of his handwriting. Now, Sir John himself wrote an execrable "list," and there were three words in that note that Mr. Lucy could not possibly decipher. He cut holes in a sheet of paper and covered the whole of the note except these three words. Then he went down to the office, showed Sir John the shrouded note and asked him if he could interpret the cryptic words.

After prolonged examination Sir John could not. Veteran proofreaders were called in, and they also failed. Then Mr. Lucy uncovered the note and showed Sir John that it was his own.—London Answers.

American Humor.
Frank Gould says that American humor is like nothing else under the sun—so droll, so grotesque and often so solemn in expression.

Mr. Gould gives this account of a half minute comedy enacted in one of the corridors of a Chicago hotel.

It was played by two millionaires. One of them, waiting for the elevator, was struggling into his fur lined coat. The other, an acquaintance, took hold of the coat and assisted him into it.

"The first man turned, saw who it was, gravely put his hand into his pocket, took out a dime and handed it to his helper, who, with equal gravity, pocketed it. Then the first man went down in the elevator, and the other passed on to his room. Not a word had been spoken and neither man smiled, except inwardly.

Would a foreigner have understood the pantomime, even if he had known the standing of both men?—Buffalo Express.

Superabundance.
"Did that manager discover any humor in your play?"
"Yes," answered the gloomy author. "He said the whole thing was a joke."—Exchange.
