"Harry Murphy a Free Man"

Under the above heading the papers are telling that Harry Murphy, of Sioux City, a traveling salesman, convicted of the worst crime against society, "white slaving," is free—not innocent, but free—free to continue to prey upon innocent young women—convicted by twelve men of sound judgment and turned loose upon the public by one man wearing official robes on a "technicality." And what was this great error of the court on which Murphy is turned loose? He was not in the court room in person when the first jury before which he was tried reported that they could not agree upon a verdict. This was in violation of his "constitutional rights". Are there no "constitutional rights" for innocent children to protection from such "mashers" as Murphy was known to be? The supreme court of our state and the federal judges appear to be a law unto themselves—protecting convicted criminals from receiving their just punishment without denying their guilt, but simply on some little alleged irregularity—possibly injected into the trial for no other purpose than to make grounds for new trial or reversals. We need more courts of justice and fewer judges who are hell on technicalities. "Murphy a Free Man."

Bridge Question

Tuesday afternoon at a joint meeting of the county commissioners, representatives of the city officials and the commercial club at the Kiplinger office to confer as to the best thing for all concerned to do in regard to the bridge proposition here. A 70-ft bridge is to be built across the Logan a mile east of Wayne, a place where one is needed, but where the traffic will be comparatively light. Under the law as it now is nothing less than a 20-ton bridge can be built. The bridge over the Logan just south of Wayne is rather light for the traffic, and is too light to permit of the flooring with concrete, and to keep it floored with lumber costs an average of $150 per year. The question discussed at this meeting was that of moving the old bridge to the new bridge site and erecting a new structure south of town, making it complete with concrete floor. On the lower road plank floor would last indefinitely and while it makes more expense now there will be saving in the end. The matter of the city aiding the work is under consideration.

Tennis Talk

A little walk up to the tennis courts, any of these balmy evenings will be quite a revelation to a great many who do not frequent that part of town. These three courts completely surrounded by an eight foot netting are now receiving constant care and are at the present time in splendid playing condition. The heavy spring rains have completely settled the new courts and they are in practically as good condition as the old one. Enthusiasm for the game is growing week by week and it is to be hoped that some of the local players will be able to give the visitors a hard tussle when they come to the state tournament on August 4th.

Summer School at Normal

The fourth annual summer session of the Wayne State Normal school opened June 8, and Monday and Tuesday were given over to the registration of students for the new term. The enrollment at the close of the first day was 225, and the number who reached Wayne on early trains Tuesday was sufficient to have more than three hundred present at the first chapel service. Registration will continue during the week, and it is too early in the term to give definite figures on enrollment, but the opening is highly pleasing to the management of the school and present indications are favorable for a large attendance and a most excellent summer session.

An examination of the registration blanks shows that those who have recently enrolled are teachers of Northeast Nebraska, but the two Dakotas, Iowa, and Minnesota are also represented in the attendance. A number of high school students have come to Wayne for the summer, the purpose being to make up work or to earn credit points for graduation from their home schools. Many are here to raise grades on the teacher's certificates they now hold, or to work for a higher grade of certificate. High school teachers who wish to specialize for departmental work are taking advantage of the vacation time in their own schools to take methods of teaching or to carry some special line of work during the summer. Of the present enrollment, at least one hundred were students during the regular school year. A number belong to the senior class of 1914, who will complete the work of the advanced course at the close of the summer session. Some of the juniors remain in order to make graduation possible in 1915.

It is very pleasing to note in the attendance a number of experienced school men and women of the state whose influence is always helpful in the discipline and work of any institution. Five already hold professional life certificates and enter for the completion of a course because of the prestige that comes to the holder of a diploma from a state school.

"College Hill" is a busy place. Work begins at 7:00 o'clock in the morning and continues until 4:30 in the afternoon. The training school is holding half day sessions, with all grades represented save one and eight.

Misses Jewell, Stocking, Luers and Piper were granted a leave of absence during the summer, and their places are being filled by Superintendent E. S. Cowen of Albion, Supt. O. R. Bowen of Wayne, Miss Elizabeth Ryan of Omaha, and Miss Mamie Anthony of Greenville, Illinois.

A Bob-tailed Train

Tuesday evening train No. 53 which runs from Emerson to Bloomfield, and is a mixed train came into Wayne without any hind end attached. Some where between here and Wakefield the baggage, mail and passenger coaches had broken off from behind the four stock cars and were stranded about half way from nowhere. The Sioux City-Norfolk passenger which followed a few minutes later picked up the tail end of the train and pushed it in on the siding a mile down the yard, while the conductor of the stranded cars come on the passenger and hunted up his engine and crew and tried to bring things together. There must have been something wrong with the air or the engine men would have known when they lost the cars but they drove into Wayne unaware that they were not all here.

Sholes Remains Dry

Last Saturday there was a hearing of the remonstrance of numerous citizens of Sholes against the action of the town board in granting a license for the sale of intoxicants at that place. Judge Welch, before whom the hearing was held, reversed the action of the village officials, and if they have anything wetter than the weather man provides there this season they will have to commence and go through the motions again or appeal to the supreme court of the state, and in that event they would dry out before the case would be reached.

Wm. Beckenhauer and John Surber are at Omaha this week attending in the state meeting of the undertakers.

Northrpe-Weber

A very pretty wedding of Wednesday evening was that of Miss Hazel Weber of Wayne, Nebraska, and Frank Ford-Northrpe of Payette, Idaho, which was solemnized at the home of Mrs. N. J. Sheckell, 563 E. Sixth South street, the Rev. William A. Betts officiating. June roses and syringa were used for the decoration in the parlor and the dining room, the color scheme of red and white prevailing. A cluny cloth covered the table and a basket of red roses tied with a large red satin bow mounted upon a mirror formed the centerpiece. The color scheme was carried out in the refreshments, which were served by Miss Goldie Brookings, assisted by Mrs. H. L. Pratt and Mrs. N. J. Sheckell.

The above is taken from the Herald-Republican of Salt Lake City, Utah, and the bride is the daughter of Wm. Weber and wife of this city, where she grew to womanhood and is known, and held in high esteem by a host of friends who will wish her all of the happiness that is in store for any of their friends.

The groom is also a Wayne county man, being born here, son of Frank M. Northrpe, a pioneer attorney here who came from La Porte with the county seat many years ago. They left Wayne about five or six years ago. The young folks are at home at Payton where Mr. N. has employment as engineer for some of the irrigation projects of that country.

Pioneers' Memorial Day

Col. A. J. Ferguson has received a letter from Clarence S. Paine, secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska Territorial Pioneers' Association, calling his attention to an act passed by the last legislature, which provides for the observance of "Pioneers' Memorial Day." The statute suggests the observance of the second Sunday in June of each year. Owing to the fact that several of the local churches had planned special services for June 14 it was found impossible to secure a union meeting of all the churches on that date. Hence, President Ferguson is planning for the observance of pioneers' memorial day in Wayne on Sunday, June 21. A union service will be held at 10:30 a. m., in the M. E. church and Dr. H. H. Millard of Norfolk has accepted an invitation to preach a special sermon on that day. Special music will also be provided. More definite announcement will be made next week.

June Crop Report

The Democrat is in receipt of the June crop report from the government for Nebraska and the United States. The prospect is far in advance of any previous June, and indicates a wonderful yield the country over. The prospect for winter wheat in this state is for 65,300,000 bushels while the annual average of the past five years has been 54,392,000 bushels, and this proportion holds good over the whole country, the figures being 638,000,000 in sight with the average 441,212,000. The same ratio applies to spring wheat. Corn has no report yet, but the acreage is large and stand uniformly good.

The following percentages are given for the different crops in this state: Rye 98, hay 98, clover 96, alfalfa 105, pasture 96, cabbage 94, and fruits of all kinds up to or above the five year average. There is an elegant outlook.

Eighth Grade Graduates

The commencement exercises of the eighth grade graduates here last Saturday afternoon was largely attended by the relatives of the seventy pupils who had successfully finished the course. The program as published was followed. The address by Dr. House was exceptionally good and timely, as were the words of encouragement and advice given by Supt. Kemp in delivering the diplomas to the pupils. The beneficial effects of a uniform system of schools over the state is becoming more apparent each year, and the graduating classes are increasing faster than the population of the county, which proves that a larger percentage of the rural pupils are completing the work to the end of the eighth grade, and many more are continuing high school work than formerly.

Pony votes given at this office.

Council Proceedings

The city fathers were all at their post Tuesday evening except one, and considerable business was discussed. The estimate for the coming year was made, and the total called for is $32,695.00 which is an increase of $6,391.00 over the revenue received last year. But of this sum $7000 is to be provided by the issue of bonds for new improvements, if the citizens so vote, so that aside from that the levy is less than the receipts of last year. The library report was accepted and other matters of routine work attended to.

The following persons were appointed as judges and clerks for the special election to be held June 26th 1914:

First Ward, Pat Dixon judge, M. L. Ringer and L. S. Winsor, clerks.

Second Ward, Ed Sellers judge, C. E. Sprague and H. W. Theobald, clerks.

Third Ward, C. A. Grothe judge, W. B. Vail and D. L. Strickland, clerks.

The following claims were examined and on motion allowed and warrants drawn.

State of The Trade

We have been reading much of trade depression in this and other countries and from what we learn the conditions are comparatively better in the United States than in Canada, the two countries where conditions might perhaps be most fairly compared because of the similar character of the natural advantages. That there is a depression almost world-wide is not denied—that trade conditions in this country have been better at some other time, especially in some lines, is true, but if Bradstreet tells it true we are certainly in pretty fair shape. It says:

Retail and jobbing trade better in central states and large eastern centers. Cotton goods lead in buying, wool active, woollen manufacturing active. Large sales of southern pig iron, finished steel slack, building dull. First gain in New York in fifteen months. Crops are above average and financial conditions show slight improvement over last week and also over corresponding week of the last year.

Laborers Arrive

Ten or twelve cars containing between fifty and sixty Italian laborers were switched off at this point Monday, and the process of putting in the heavy standard rails to replace those now in use, is now in full sway. A temporary switch was constructed east of the Fred Thies elevator, for the occupation of the lodging and boarding cars. They expect to remain here thirty days. Spaghetti can be seen all along the track east of town, with the exception of Sundays and Columbus day.—Winside Tribune.

Plan For Old Settlers' Reunion

A. J. Ferguson, president of the Old Settlers' Picnic Association, called a meeting of the executive committee Monday afternoon for the purpose of discussing plans for the forthcoming reunion and picnic, which will be held this year on Thursday, August 6th. A good speaker will be secured for the occasion and an excellent program will be arranged. Those in attendance last year expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the program, and it is the hope of the committee to make the meeting this year bigger and better than ever before. Remember the date and make your plans to be in Wayne on August 6th.

School Girls Overcome by Heat

Omaha, June 6.—The heat proved too much for many of the school children who remained in the middle of the hot parade ground at the public school play festival at Fort Omaha yesterday afternoon for three and a half hours, and led to many fainting spells of little girls, who could not stand the constant exposure. Over three score suffered collapse, and of these over fifty were removed to the fort emergency hospital for relief treatment before they could be carried to their homes in automobiles. None of the cases was serious, although one or two of the lassies experienced brief heart troubles. The attendance was 35,000.

Barnett Hearing Postponed

The hearing to have been held of the Barnett case last Tuesday was postponed for two weeks, the prosecuting witness, Wm. Hogewood, the victim of the attack, not being able to appear in court. He is slowly improving, and is expected to be about by the 23d when the time for hearing is set.

How about your subscription.

Wayne County Out of Debt

County Clerk Reynolds informs the Democrat man that when the county commissioners meet next week they may if they wish pay every claim against the county now outstanding and have a balance of case on hand of about $7,000. The last of the courthouse debt is paid. The first bond of this debt was paid the first year of Mr. Reynold's service as county clerk, so he has made all of the vouchers issued in payment of this bonded debt. Naturally the first thought that comes to mind is that taxes will now be lower. This is possible, but the Democrat would prefer to see some more money wisely expended on good roads. It seems as though the county should celebrate this new freedom, and we suggest that such a jollification become a part of the celebration here July 4th. Let's burn the mortgage.

Picnic at Altona

The Parochial school at Altona will close Thursday, June 18, with a picnic. The school has an enrollment of forty pupils and the teacher, Mr. W. Schmidt is preparing a program with them and judging from the ones given by them in previous years everybody is looking ahead for something good. There will also be amusements of all kinds. The Wisner band will furnish music during intermissions. The program will take place from 10 a. m., to 5 p. m. Lunch and refreshments will be served on the grounds. Everybody invited.

To Western Canada

We will have an excursion to Last Mountain Valley, about 50 miles west of Regina in Saskatchewan, Canada, Tuesday June 16th, and ask all interested to go. The fare for round trip, including board and lodging will be but $38. For particulars call on Rawlings & Kay, Wakefield.—adv.

Funeral services will be held at the home of the father, Conrad Wagner, sr., one mile north of Hadar, the scene of the shooting.

 By vote of the city fathers at Bloomfield there is to be no more blacklisting (unless by the man's wife) for those who partake too much or too frequently from the cup that intoxicates—but the marshal is under strict orders to "jug" every mother's son of 'em who takes so much that he cannot walk straight. WAYNE MARKET REPORT

Following are the market prices quoted us up to the time of going to press, Thursday:

Table with market prices for Oats, Corn, Barley, Spring wheat, Wheat, Eggs, Butter, Hogs, and Fat Cattle.

For the consolation of the Nebraska farmer who thinks the Argentine corn is going to take his corn market away from him, we wish to state that they have a short crop down there. But really if we have a good crop in this country and they have a bumper yield down there and both countries are exporting their surplus to the old world, how much difference is it going to make in our price here whether we meet them in this country or the other side of the pond? Last season we had a short crop and the little which they shipped from that country helped our feeders out to just that extent.

For a set of men inexperienced in the affairs of state, as our friends of the republican faith say of the present administration at Washington, they are doing remarkably well. A period of world wide depression is being passed without a panic. The tariff has been lowered, the currency laws modernized, the railroads coming nearer under control of law than ever before and the big monied interests can no longer make the people shake with financial fear every time they crook their finger. They too are coming under control. There should be no hint at a panic. The crops should mean a big legitimate business. Let it come.

Nothing that has happened in congress in the year and two months it has been in session has excited such resentment in conservative circles as the unanimous passage in the house the other day of an amendment to the anti-trust bill specifically legalizing farmers' and laborers unions. Nothing the radicals have said in the past ten years about the tyranny of trusts has come from fuller hearts than the discussion of this tyranny of the labor unions in some of the metropolitan newspapers. Capital feels as deeply oppressed by this sort of legislation, apparently, as does labor when injunctions bind it. Both, of course, are more scared than hurt.—State Journal.

For a man who claims to be a progressive and is said by some to be a democrat Cummins of Iowa ran pretty well on the straight republican ticket with a "progressive" man in the race for the nomination. This shows one of two things—either Albert is not a progressive as he claims to be or the standpat republicans of the state are not such stand-patters as they pretend. Knowing fair representatives of the gang we will wager that there is much truth in both propositions. Cummins has shown himself to be handy when needed by the interests, and the standpat leaders appear to care more for political power, than for principle—in Iowa, we mean, of course.

The principal fault of the New Zealand system is in its graduated feature. There it departs from the sound principle of "equal rights to all and special privileges to none." To eliminate the defects and make the system perfect there should be the same rate of taxation on the value of all holdings, large and small. As it is, New Zealand does not penalize its many small monopolists who in the aggregate may hold more opportunities out of use than one big monopolist. It is small consolation to an unemployed man to be told that his plight is not due to any favors shown a big monopolist but to encouragement offered to little ones. In encouraging Mexico to follow New Zealand's example, there should be added the suggestion to improve on it, by making it the straight single tax.

Local News

Old papers for sale at this office.

A 2.5-inch rain fell here last night and no one was really asking for it just now so far as we can learn.

Miss Ruby Ringland entertained a party of young friends Wednesday evening at the home of her parents, H. S. Ringland and wife, in honor of her 10th birthday.

Misses Edna and Lucile Seace left this morning for the west, Lucile to visit a sister, Mrs. Ralph Hoatson at Gregory, South Dakota, and Edna to join her father at Lusk, Wyoming.

At a recent meeting of the P. E. O., Mrs. J. W. Jones was elected president of the local organization, and Mrs. E. S. Blair was named delegate to the state convention which meets next week.

Mrs. Abbott entertained the Bible Circle at her home Tuesday afternoon. Miss C. M. White was the leader of the lesson. The meeting next week will be at the C. M. Christensen home.

According to announcements received at Wayne, Miss Jessie Tucker, formerly of this place but now at San Diego, California, was united in marriage last evening to Mr. Albert Frost. The bride is sister to Mrs. Harry Jones of this place.

This afternoon Otto Voget of Norfolk and his mother from this place depart for Germany. The mother will visit a daughter there and friends of other days, and the young man, who is an accomplished musician, will give a series of twenty-eight concerts in Germany, Switzerland and Italy. He plans to return in September.

Of the 361 who received diplomas from the State University this week we notice the name of Leslie A. Welch of the law department, and Wm. Forbes, Waldo Hahn and Miss Donee Griffith A. B. degree who belong at Wayne. There may be others, but we failed to spot them in the two columns of solid names.

Mrs. R. E. K. Mellor and daughters, Mary and Eva left the first part of the week for Colorado Springs, where they plan to remain with relatives until fall for the benefit of the health of Miss Eva. Word has come back of their safe arrival. In the fall they may go south, where they will be joined by Mr. Mellor, who will remain here for the summer.

Mrs. J. Towers, who for many years was a resident here, and who went to Texas from here several years ago, according to newspaper report was found at the Burlington passenger station at Omaha yesterday in a demented condition, the cause being attributed to heat. From all that the officials could learn it was thought that she was on her way to Lauro.

At time of going to press today Mrs. Margaret Wade, who has been gradually failing in health for several weeks remains with but little perceptible change—just growing weaker. Her children are all here attending to her wants and waiting the end that seems almost inevitable within a short time. She is conscious part of the time and appears to suffer no pain.

The Pony Contest

Continues to grow in popular favor, and new contestants register almost daily. The contest has yet ten weeks to run, and the boy or girl who begins now and works hard has a chance to come out at the top.

Fire in Farm Home

Sunday evening about 7:30 o'clock Geo. Buskirk smelled smoke and on investigation found fire upstairs in an unused bedroom. By the prompt use of a bucket brigade formed by the home folks the blaze was soon extinguished, but not until after damaging the room greatly and burning a large amount of clothing, jewelry and silverware, the latter being in a strong trunk. The origin of the fire is a mystery.—Wakefield Republican.

The Twinin' Mornin' Glory

Wayne, Nebr., June 2, 1914. Dear Father and The Rest of the Family, as the Case May be:

Dear Sir:—I am forced to write you this letter in regard to that infernal morning glory patch—or what in the nation you call it. I have all kinds of machinery that God has invented to work with, but he aint got a machine that will work in this dam-p morning glories—why it is enough to make the sweet come out just thinking about them, not considering the work and musel it takes to battle them. Oh, say, neger thought about the sweep—maybe it will work. Ha! Ha! Glad I come to think about that. The only objection is what will I do with them after I get the thing loaded, as you can see for yourself it will never do to dump the sweep load in the field for fear it will smother the corn wherever I dump it.

For a matter of fact, it is the last implement that I have not tried. It may be that it will do the business. Right here is the whole truth and nothing else—it takes a long-winded fellow to run any kind of a machine in that glory patch. I aint winded enough. Today I was completely exanpted and sat me down in disgust and finally thought to myself, I fix you and up to my feet I jumped, and what do you think? To my surprize I discovered that the morning glory had run up my cultivator and my team and tangled them up so I had to go and get a witness to prove the truth. Finally I began to cut them down with my knife so as to get the team loose, but while I done that I was tangled up so myself that I had to holler for help and that is where I got my witness. Yours for morning glory.

JANS THOMPSON, THEO. LARSON, Witness.

Say, Father, will you please ask Harley Jay if he wants a job to plow corn and if he does send him out—and if you can find any that has longer legs send him—big feet is also a great advantage.

EUROPEAN POLICEMEN.

Clever in London, "Sloppy" in Paris and Polite in Berlin.

In humor, in urbanity, as in perfect control of his district, the London policeman is the nearest approach to perfection, writes Percival Pollard, who in "Vagabond Journeys" has a word to say about the various policemen of the world. He adds that in looks only our American policemen equal those of London.

To the stranger the policeman seems the politest of all Londoners. Chiefly, however, it is in his control of traffic, awheel and afoot, that he is unrivaled. When you consider the narrowness of the streets you constantly marvel at the easy skill with which he solves his problem.

The Paris policeman never looks anything but "sloppy," and his notion of controlling traffic at crowded street crossings is enough to make the observer shout with laughter. No one minds him, and his attempts to regulate the speed of the Parisian cabby only result in a slanging match. Observation of Parisian street traffic is all that is really necessary to impress you with the belief that in case of need the Paris policeman would always, with much noise and melodrama, arrest the wrong person.

The police of Berlin are vastly better than those of Paris. They do not look as well, according to our notions, as the English "constables," but they are fairly smart. The men are polite, control traffic inexorably and see to it that Berlin is one of the cleanest and most orderly of cities. But as reasoning individuals the Berlin policemen are hardly to be counted at all. When anything happens to you more serious than crossing a congested street or losing your way you are fairly certain of running hard against a city ordinance, mechanically enforced by the man on the beat.

No argument or persuasion prevails. There is the regulation, and here the instrument to enforce it. The human element is entirely absent. Both Italy and France are as to their police more human.

General Sheridan's Egg.

A writer in the Nineteenth Century magazine tells an amusing anecdote of the late Prince Bismarck of Germany. During the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-1, Bismarck accompanied the Prussian forces to the front. At one of the army's camping places Bismarck had at his lodgings the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg and General Phillip Sheridan, the famous American cavalry commander, who afterward became general of the United States army. Provisions were not plentiful in that region at the time, and Bismarck, being very hungry, went out to find food for himself and his guests. He succeeded in securing just five eggs, for which he had to pay $1 each. According to the story, Bismarck said to himself, "If I take home five I must give two to the grand duke and two to Sheridan and I shall have but one." The prince evidently had too keen an appetite to be altruistic, for what he did he afterward thus told the narrator. "I ate two upon the spot and took home three, so that the grand duke had one and Sheridan had one and there was one for me. Sheridan died. He never knew—but I told the grand duke, and he forgave me."

FOR THE CHILDREN

An Intelligent Toad.

The United States department of agriculture has published a paper on the toad. It estimates that each saves to the farmer by eating the cutworms, which destroy the crops, about $20 every season.

Toads eat the common housefly, which is such an annoyance to us. A toad has been seen to snap up eighty-six flies in less than ten minutes.

Toads are sometimes kept for pets, and they are not lacking in intelligence. Once a toad-lived in a garden, and every day at the dinner hour he came to be fed. It happened that the dinner hour was changed, and when the toad came there was nothing for him to eat. Mr. Toad made up his mind that he would not lose his dinner twice. On the second day he came at the new hour, and after this he was as punctual as the rest of the family. No one could tell how he knew that in the future his dinner would be served two hours earlier.

Adjectives—A Game.

The game of "adjectives" is good to fill in a half hour. Select one of the party to go out of the room. Then each person chooses an adjective, which he or she will represent, while the one outside comes in and asks questions, trying to determine the adjective being enacted. For instance, the interlocutor may say, "Did you have a happy vacation?" and the person who has chosen the word "happy" pours forth a perfect torrent of words, describing his vacation. To another person the question may be, "Do you like dancing?" The reply should come in tearful accents that parties always make him so weary and life is such a bore, at which he begins to weep. Of course the word is "sad." This may continue indefinitely, and if the company is a responsive one it is very amusing. After one person has guessed several adjectives have another one go out.

Divisions.

Divide a color in two and get a loud cry and not high.

Divide to excavate in two and get beneath and a place where minerals are found.

Divide to dress in two and get a preposition and to weary.

Divide a maintenance in two and get to eat and a harbor.

Divide a trial in two and get a conjunction and a business transaction.

Divide a piece of jewelry in two and get a part of the body and work which is composed of fine threads.

Answers.—Yellow—yell-low. Undermine—under-mine. Attire—at-tire. Support—sup-port. Ordeal—or-deal. Neck-lace—neck-lace.

World's Coldest Town.

Where the rivers freeze to the bottom and small trees snip off from the biting force of the cold stands the coldest inhabited city in the world—Verkhoyansk, in northeastern Siberia.

It is a place of some size, stands 150 feet above the sea level and in winter boasts of a temperature 85 degrees below zero. Its annual average temperature is 3 degrees above zero.

The Russian government owns the town and is interested in having an administrative center where clever and industrious Kokuts, fur trading Jews of Siberia, carry on their operations.—American Woman.

A Strange Family.

An Indiana farmer reports an interesting case of affection between animals. When a horse of the farmer became affected with fodder poisoning recently a family cat became the companion of the sick animal. After the horse's death the cat refused to leave the stall the horse had occupied. Soon afterward it died, and the farmer expressed the belief that its death was caused by grief for the loss of its companion.

The Paper Knife.

Perhaps the earliest mention of a paper knife on record is that in Swift's work (1755): "I said to Lord Bolingbroke that the clerks in his office used a sort of ivory knife with a blunt edge to divide a sheet of paper, which never failed to cut it even, only requiring a strong hand, whereas if they should make use of a sharp penknife the sharpness would make it often go out of the crease and disfigure the paper."

How to Grow Tall.

When the company grows weary of idle talk ask some of the boys if they wish to be instructed in the art of looking tall. It is a funny optical illusion that must be tried to be really realized or understood, yet it is very simple. It merely consists in raising the shoulders, and it is astonishing to see how the simple movement will add to the appearance of height.

Secret Places.

I think the fairies made our house. It's full of hidden nooks That one can hide some cookies in— Or one's best story books.

Right in our garret 'neath the skies There's many a handy spot To tuck a note for fairy eyes: I'm going to write a lot.

One little chink right in the roof Is where I mailed a letter Straight to the queen of Fairyland. Could you have found a better?

I know the carrier dove flew down And took it in his bill And flew straight off to Fairyland O'er field and wood and hill.

Do I expect an answer soon? Why, yes, of course I do! But when or where or how I'll come I know no more than you.

Delicious!—Cooked by Electricity

"This is the finest steak I ever tasted." "Why, Harry, it's my 'Hughes 33.'" I find new things about it every day. Now this steak is broiled on top with live, radiant heat. The juices can't run off before the surface is seared. The broiler slips right out and I turn it over. Then when it is done, I turn off the current and it keeps nice and hot in the oven till you get home."

Hughes Electric Ranges

The Hughes Electric Range, Mr. Master-of-the-House, not only saves hours of work each day—not only brings a cool, clean, sanitary kitchen, but adds the perfecting touch to cooking.

The heat is uniform—always the same so it cooks evenly and thoroughly. It really roasts and broils meats where other ovens bake. The live, red heat by direct contact sears the surface and retains the flavor.

Remember that a Hughes Range preserves health and beauty. The foods are heated—not the kitchen and the cook. The fire is absolutely soil-less. And the kitchen is as cool and pleasant as the parlor.

Come into our office and see this range. We will give you facts that will astound you.

The Democrat gets frequent notices of a great—a killing event perhaps—which is to be staged at a city not a thousand miles from here, asking a column of free advertising—because their expenses have been so great. Better add another dollar or two to the expense account for advertising if you hope to make the stunt pay—and that is what it is put on for.

For fear that the ornamental wall which comes to a peak on the front of the Citizens Bank building might be blown off on some passing people it was taken down yesterday. While the wall appeared weak and wobbly, we notice that it requires a lot of real work to loosen it, and judging from the effort required to pry it off nothing less than a cyclone would have wrecked it unless the support gave way beneath and let it come down bodily.

There are a lot of Nebraska citizens who would like to see R. L. Metcalfe in the governor's chair in this state. And they may some time, but perhaps not the next term. He has other important work for the present, and we may have to wander again in the wilderness of republican rule for a time before people are ready to appreciate the need of some of the reforms this man stands for.

Later—Since the above was in type Mr. Metcalfe has thrown his hat in the ring.

In South Creek school district in Dixon county, the pupils under their teacher, Miss Lillian Connell, are planning to continue their club work through the summer. By club work they mean the study and practice of farming for the boys and cooking and sewing for the girls. This work has been conducted during the year with a result of awakening much enthusiasm in the special work as well as all studies. Make the schools practical and there will be less trouble—more work and less grumbling among the little folks.

C. E. Sprague has received from his sister and brother-in-law, D. O. Doekerdorf and wife of Sheldon telling that they fared badly in the cyclone that visited that vicinity last week. The only piece of furniture they have left is an old chair which hung in the cellar—the rest of it left for parts unknown, including a piano and all such furniture. They escaped by going to the cellar with but few bruises. They lost a horse killed and another crippled while all of the horses were cut up more or less. Their cows escaped unharmed.

On Sunday June 21st the Sons of Herman at this place and generally over the state will observe as Memorial day, and visit the graves of their deceased members, strewing flowers thereon. It is a fine idea to thus observe one day each year to remembrance of those who have gone before. The same date is designated by the Knights of Pythias of the nation for like purpose. The local lodge of that order may decide to observe some other day this year, as that is the day named by the governor as Pioneer Memorial day, and it is to be remembered here.

A difference of opinion as to our needs is apparent. Last Friday one farmer, long a resident of this part of the state said in substance that he wished it would rain—we need it—there is not enough moisture for the crops unless we get more. Two hours later another pioneer farmer looked at the clouds and said that he was afraid it would rain and spoil the alfalfa haying—but he hoped not as he wanted to finish his alfalfa, and then it was wet enough—more rain not needed. It is perhaps a good thing that man does not rule the weather. But it rained an inch just the same.

Ye editor accompanied Dr. Reid several miles over into Wayne county Wednesday afternoon and certainly found the farmers improving the opportunity of this fine weather and making every movement count. The waving fields of wheat, oats and alfalfa was indeed a glorious sight while fields after field of corn with the ground just recently plowed and the corn from four to eight inches high with a splendid stand and many fields with scarcely a weed in them, we can truthfully say that never did we see the prospects at this time of year as flattering as at the present time.—Pilger Herald.

Last Thursday evening Mrs. E. B. Young, accompanied by Misses Ella Benschhoff, Mabel Gosard and Florence Gardner went to Winside to attend the second meeting of the Junior Bible Circle of that place. The meeting was held at the home of Rev. O'Connell. Mrs. Young returned the following morning and the girls remained until the afternoon train, guests at the homes of Mr. Benschhoff and D. C. Hogue.

Mrs. J. Ludwickson of Hull, Iowa, is moving to Wayne this week, occupying the residence vacated by Mr. Carhart in the east part of town. She came from Sholes this morning, where she has been for a time caring for her sick mother, Mrs. Knud Larson, who died Saturday. Mrs. Larson was 77 years of age and had lived in this country but a few years. The funeral was held Tuesday from the home and the body taken to Belden for burial.

W. C. Martin has sold his feed mill, flour, poultry and egg business to J. L. Payne, who a few years ago was in charge of the same kind of business—in fact, he sold his business to Mr. Martin's predecessors. Mr. Payne will continue the same lines so well known in connection with this place, and will be assisted by his sons. Mr. Martin has an eye on the west, having property in Washington, and may decide to go to look after it before locating again in business.

Wat Williams and wife of Lakeside, Minnesota, came Tuesday evening to visit friends in this county, going first to Carroll to visit at the home of W. T. Evans and wife, Mr. Williams' sister. They were accompanied by William Jones and wife of Red Oak, Iowa, a brother-in-law, and the four had been visiting together at different points in Iowa for the past two weeks. Mr. Williams says that they like their new home very well, and that crop prospects are good there as well as at the different points they visited in western Iowa.

Mr. Will Forbes, now with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, spent the week end at the home of his parents J. C. Forbes and wife. Mr. Forbes now has charge of the co-operative dairy work of the middle western states, his field extending from Ohio to Colorado. He spent the two weeks prior to his visit at Wayne, at the University of Nebraska, completing his work for an advanced degree. He left Monday morning for Lincoln to be present to receive his master's degree in Arts on Thursday, after which he will leave for Washington, D. C. Mr. Forbes informed us that he had been asked to judge the Guernsey cattle at the coming National Dairy show in Chicago, which is held in October and is the biggest dairy show that is held in this country. He also has several state fairs scheduled during the coming months.

Several weeks ago in connection with a news item referring to the controversy before the railway commission between the patrons of the branch of the "Omaha" to Wynot and the company the editor jokingly remarked that the people should not complain of the long time on the short line of road, for the company would bury free of expense all passengers who die of old age between the terminals of the road. These lines appear to have been taken by some of the railway officials seriously. We can assure them that no disrespect was intended, but that it was simply working in an old "wormy chestnut" that used to be told almost daily on a train in Minnesota where seven hours was the schedule for a 49 mile run. From the story reported as told before the commission by patrons of the road it brought to mind a trip once had over the Minnesota road and the story. It is probable that the service on the Wynot branch is as good as the volume of business warrants, but not such as to satisfy some of the patrons who may at some time have lived at some large place on a main line of the road where the service was better because there was business to warrant better service.

RICHARD L. METCALFE CANDIDATE

The Monday morning papers announced that Richard L. Metcalfe had decided to listen to the urging of his many friends and enter the primary race for the democratic nomination for governor of the state. It has been known for some time that he was considering this step seriously, and now that he has taken it he will make his position on public questions plain and leave it to his brother democrats to decide who is most worthy to make the race for the high honor.

In his statement which accompanied his letter of acceptance of the petition of his friends, already filed at Lincoln, he states that if nominated he will make a vigorous campaign for election, going upon the stump and upholding the administration at Washington, and if elected he will use his best endeavor to give the state a wise and economical administration. He rightly maintains that the opportunity of the governor for service to the people is the greatest of any in the state. He would use that opportunity for the best interest of the people as he sees it. He would practice economy, and there should be no "pork barrel" legislation with his approval, and adds after speaking of opportunity to serve:

"I should say, however, that the opportunities in the broader fields would relate particularly to improved taxation laws to the solution of the irrigation problem in the sections which while now non-productive await only insurance from drought to become the garden spots of the state; and in the development of Nebraska's exceptional water power and the control of that power for the general welfare. These three great problems provide opportunities for genuine service and the administration that even lays the foundation for their solution would win for itself and its party a high place in the history of the state.

"No one man can tell just what ought to be done in the way of bringing about these or other essential improvements; but all that any man may reasonably promise, I promise, and that is that if this honor should come to me I would accept it as a sacred responsibility.

"Although I would rather be governor of Nebraska than hold any other office, I have hesitated to submit my name to the primaries. I know that Nebraska is not normally a democratic state and that the greatest care must be exercised by the rank and file in selecting the candidate who will serve as the leader in the coming campaign. However attractive the office may be to me personally, the task which the successful candidate must assume is not an inviting one. The campaign to follow will demand the hardest sort of work. It is important, however, that Nebraska shall register its approval of Woodrow Wilson next November. I do not mean to say that I would measure up to the requirements for leadership in this campaign. Some members of my party think I would and I have decided to submit the question to the primaries.

"This is a time when, more than at any other time, the leader should be chosen by the rank and file of the party. He should be chosen after the most careful consideration, first in point of capacity for the discharge of the duties of the office and next with consideration for his ability to win votes from other political parties at the general election."

The enrollment by divisions is as follows: Corn Club $10, Potato Club, 150, Gardening Club 245, Cooking and Sewing Club 820. The registration, however, is considered only incidental, by the leader in charge, as compared to the successful completion of the work. Each month the young people receive lessons to be studied. These lessons are prepared not only to aid them in their present work but to inspire them to higher ideals of agriculture. Parents and teachers are asked to encourage the members in their work and thus make it more effective.

Open Letter No. 1

To the Landless Man in Nebraska—The friends of the single tax in lieu of our present system are agitating the question in this state. They claim that system of taxation will render the ownership of large land holdings unprofitable and thereby aid the renter to purchase the farm he now rents.

Wayne was favored with a lecture from one of their speakers who hails from Pueblo, Colorado, a city that has adopted the single tax and all but land speculators are pleased with it. But before Nebraska can adopt that or any other system intended to benefit landless men the voters must amend our constitution. An amendment for that purpose was submitted at the last session of the legislature, and as the landless men and small land owners outnumber the owners of large estates the amendment should win.

The land question leads all others. In Mexico the peon is trying to establish his right to a piece of land with a Winchester rifle, and his effort has the sympathy of three-fourths of the American people, including President Wilson. Two hundred and twenty-two thousand (222,000) Texas farmers rent from overlords, paying one-third of the grain and one-fourth of the cotton plus $5.00 per acre in cash as rent. A majority of these renters are white and their condition is little better than the Mexican peon except that they have schools for their children provided by the state. The school fund of Texas exceeds that of all of the other states combined, and can be used to build houses and pay teachers.

The railroad, oil and land companies and overlords with their purchased newspapers are making a desperate effort to defeat for governor a candidate who stands for a law that will make one-third of the grain and one-fourth of the cotton a minimum rental. Governor Hogg secured a law that required all lands denuded of timber to be sold on or before 1916. If the corporations win with their attorney for governor this magnificent school fund will be loaned to purchasers of these millions or more acres of "cut over" lands at fabulous price. A nomination by the democrats in Texas is equivalent to election, and if the friends of the renters lose out it will be owing to the refusal to permit a Negro to vote at a democratic primary.

G. J. RUNDELL.

Mexico And Single Tax

Since Mr. Knapp spoke here on the single tax question there has been more or less discussion of the question and it is by discussion that we form opinions and learn of economic questions. The land and tax question is said to be the cause of much of the revolution in Mexico, and the following from the Sioux City News will be of interest, and the fact that it criticizes a graduated land tax advocated by some may give it added interest:

"President Wilson sees the remedy for Mexican land monopoly by some such means as that followed in New Zealand. New Zealand's method is taxation of land values. Its system is not perfect. Its law makers were pioneers in application of the remedy and made some serious mistakes that should be avoided where its good example is imitated. But no matter what may be the immediate result of President Wilson's suggestion, to him belongs the honor of being the first president who, while in office, called attention to the fundamental character of the land question and to the use of the taxing power as the means of solution.

The New Zealand tax laws—in which President Wilson sees a suggestion of what Mexico should adopt—are unnecessarily complicated. The central government derives about 13 per cent of its revenue from land and value taxes. Unimproved and holdings are taxed one penny to the pound. This rate is progressively increased on holdings of over 5,000 pounds in value up to 200,000 pounds. Then there is a surtax levied on the holdings of non-residents. In some cases the tax is said to be as high as 3 1/2 per cent on residents and 6 per cent on non-residents. Municipalities in New Zealand have home rule in taxation and many of these have taken advantage of this power to apply the single tax for local purposes.

The Women's Missionary Societies will meet at the parsonage at 2:30 o'clock Friday. Election day. All the members should be present. Sunday school board will meet on the 15th. We would like to have every one present.

The Junior church has 29 earnest, enthusiastic, energetic, wide-awake members and every one of them willing to work.

Interest in the Epworth League is improving and attendance increasing.

Third Quarterly Conference at 8 o'clock Saturday evening. Let every report be in and every member of the conference on hand.

Rev. Hosman will preach Sunday morning, and administer the sacrament.

Children's day on the 21st. Everybody invited.

Buffalo convention July 1-5. Our league should be represented.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church

(Rev. Blessing, Pastor.)
Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Regular divine worship at 11 o'clock a. m., and 8 o'clock p. m.

The subject of the morning sermon will be "The Progress of the Divine Life in the Soul" Mark 4:26-29. The parable recorded in these verses occupies the same position as the parable of the tares recorded in the 13th chapter of Matt., but is not to be identified with it. It teaches us that Divine life, like ordinary seed, requires time for its development, that its growth is unnoticed and but little dependent upon human interference, and that it will have a glorious consummation.

The evening sermon will be based upon Matt. 7:12. "Life, a Career or a Mission."

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Victor Carlson on next Thursday afternoon.

Choir Rehearsal every Tuesday evening at the church.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to worship with us.

Baptist Church

Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor
Sunday will be a day of special importance at both our services. In the morning we shall observe "Family Day." We have planned something good for this service. The attendance of the children along with the older people, will be an interesting feature. A short story sermon will be given to the children. Some special children songs will be sung. A brief sermon will also be for the grown people. Let every one who reads these lines help make this service mean something to all our families. There is great need today of connecting the home and the church close together. Each needs the other, and our children need both. Be sure to sit together in family groups.

Children's Day service Sunday evening. A special program "The Fountain of Life", will be given by the children. The entire program will be full of life and movement and interest. Miss Pearle Hughes is chairman of the committee directing the work. The families that are connected with the Sunday school are especially invited.

The young people's lesson study will be lead by the pastor. The subject will be the practical application of Christian principles.

Remember our special prayer-meeting evenings during June. Such meetings are worth while.

Presbyterian Church

Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.
Rev. A. B. Marshall, D. D., president of the Omaha Theological Seminary will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and evening. Dr. Marshall is one of the best known preachers of the denomination in the middle west, and it is expected that this visit of his to Wayne will be of exceptional interest to the church.

The morning service begins at 10:30, and the evening service at 8:00 o'clock. The Sunday school follows the morning service, beginning at 12:00, and the C. E. prayer meeting begins at 7:00.

During July and August of this year the usual custom of having union evening services on the lawn of the court house will be followed.

These services will be of unusual interest this summer as several out of town ministers will take part in them. The churches uniting in these union services are the M. E. church, the Baptist, Presbyterian, English Lutheran and German Lutheran churches.

The children's day exercises which were held last Sunday morning were greatly enjoyed by the church and Sunday school. A very large congregation gathered and the day was propitious. The decorations were in keeping with the day, and were elaborate and complete. The program was carried out as announced, and all of those taking part acquitted themselves in a most excellent way. There were nine graduates from the Cardle roll to the Primary department; Alice Berry, Prudence Lucile Bush, Helen Lucile Noakes, Laura Ethel Hansen, Izetta Fay Buetow, Loreta Mae Buetow, Stanley Arthur McChesney Bernardino Sherbahn, Walden Tucker Felber. At the ordination of infant baptism seven children were baptized. A special offering was made to the cause of Sunday school work in America.

In the evening the pastor gave his closing sermon for the summer, taking for his text and parting benediction the expressive words: "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Spirit be with you all."

During the pastor's absence from Wayne the Presbyterian pulpit will be supplied by three distinguished ministers. Next Sunday Rev. A. B. Marshall, D. D., president of the Omaha Theological Seminary will preach, and on the following Sunday Rev. H. W. Siebert, Ph. D., pastor of the First German Presbyterian church of Newark, N. J., will begin a month's work in Wayne, after which Rev. Robert Corkey, Ph. D. pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Monaghan, Ireland, will take charge. Dr. Corkey of Ireland will be accompanied by his wife. He is enjoying a three month's visit to the New World which he is visiting for the first time. He will sail on his return trip to Ireland from Quebec late in August.

Late News Notes

The supreme court of the United States has just rendered a decision of importance. It upholds the power of the interstate commerce commission to make their rate hold good over the rate of a state commission that might make a higher rate. This has a tendency to come more nearly putting the rate control under one head instead of many.

The past week has been one of violent disturbances. There has been numerous cyclones, the most destructive of which we have heard being at Sanburn, Iowa, where in addition to a great property loss three persons were killed and a number others injured.

The Mexican situation has had its ups and downs the past week. The mediators at Niagara have been hampered with many contentions. Caranza was asked to become a party to the matter and he made a disrespectful reply and threatened to become a stumbling block, but is now showing a bit more respect for the tribunal. The shipping of arms to Tampico for the constitutionalists came near being the cause of trouble. Huerta ordered a blockade of the port, and sent a couple of his gunboats to enforce the order. Uncle Sam wanted Tampico to remain an open port, and said so and sent two boats a bit better than the Mexican crafts to follow them, and it looked for a time like trouble, but perhaps Huerta remembered Vera Cruz and concluded not to monkey around the business end of one of our gunboats. At any rate he recinded his order and peace yet prevails. Meantime legitimate business is realizing that war is not wise, and the peace sentiment is growing, and the task of creating a war demanding situation is becoming more difficult daily. Let us hope that the wise policy of peace will prevail.

Another feature favorable to the peace program is the assurance that the United States will not demand indemnity from Mexico for expenses and losses sustained at Vera Cruz cannot help but make that nation feel that we are not seeking to profit by their misfortune.

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE - RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After A Few Doses Are Taken

Backache, urinary disorders, and rheumatism, are caused from weak, inactive kidneys, which fail to filter out the impurities and keep the blood pure, and the only way on earth to permanently and positively cure such troubles, is to remove the cause.

The new discovery, Croxone, cures such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; it neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the tender membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, lifeless kidneys so they filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to cure the worst case of backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and overcome the numerous other similar conditions.

It is the most wonderful preparation ever made for the purpose. It is entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth to compare with it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You can obtain an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed to cure you.

Nebraska Harvest Estimated at 90,000,000 Bushels This Year.

INCREASE OF TWENTY MILLION

Burlington Railroad Experts Place This Year's Yield Over a Fourth Larger Than That of 1913—Smaller Acreage in Corn.

Omaha, June 9.—A 20,000,000 bushel gain over the wheat crop of last year for Nebraska is the prediction of several experts who have made a report to the Burlington railroad, estimating the state yield this year at 90,000,000 bushels.

The copious rains just at a time when needed and the increased acreage in wheat are given in explanation of the outlook for the extraordinary yield.

In the three eastern divisions of the state the harvest will be enormous in point of average bushels per acre, while in the western portion it is going to be proportionately heavier.

The prospects for a big corn yield, however, are not so good and the acreage planted this year is said to be noticeably smaller than in 1913. Farmers were more or less discouraged with the crop during the droughts in the semi-arid portions of the state and instead of planting the yellow cereal this year, smaller grains and meadows were seeded.

In behalf of corn's condition the report says: "Corn is in the most excellent condition and is being diligently cultivated where the ground is not too wet to get into the field. Now that the planting has been completed it would appear that the acreage is considerably less than in recent previous years. There is more wheat this year, more alfalfa and more oats. The increased acreage of these crops must be, for the most part, subtracted from the corn acreage."

D. DAY BACK IN LINCOLN

Veterinarian Investigates Hog Cholera Conditions in Scottsbluff County.

Lincoln, June 9.—Dr. Day, special veterinarian for the state live stock sanitary board, is back from his trip to Scottsbluff, where, with Dr. Ring of the state farm, he investigated the hog cholera conditions in that county. According to Dr. Day the disease does not seem to be so fatal in that locality, which he lays to the high altitude and plenty of sunshine. The disease was brought there by hogs being shipped in and local organizations are being formed to suppress the disease and also to prevent the shipment of any hogs which have not been properly treated for the disease.

Young Women Campaign for Funds.

The names of 2,000 young women in Nebraska have already been entered in the contest to win a trip, with expenses paid, to the Panama-Pacific International exposition. ### Protest Against Big Trains.

It is reported that farmers out in the western portion of the state are raising a protest against the railroads for carrying too heavy trains, a couple of men from North Platte stating that the westbound trains on the roads carry from seventy-five to 100 cars while the east-going trains have only the way from eighty to ninety cars. On account of the heavy trains regular time cannot be made and stock shipped to the markets are much delayed.

PLEASED WITH TAX RULING

Court Decision is Satisfactory to State Board of Assessment.

Lincoln, June 9.—The action of the Douglas county district court in upholding the injunction preventing the collection of taxes which were readjusted by the county board of assessment after the twenty day limit in which the board had been given to sit as a board of equalization is very satisfactory to Secretary Henry Seymour of the state board of assessment.

It has been the habit of some boards in certain counties to take their own time in meeting, claiming that the law meant that twenty days could be used in equalization work, instead of meaning that the board must finish its work twenty days from the first Tuesday after the second Monday in June, which the court holds is the proper interpretation of the law.

The action of the boards in holding over the prescribed time has in the past delayed the work of the state board of equalization to a degree which has worked a hardship on the board, and now that the Douglas county court has held that twenty days means twenty consecutive days after the above date, it will make quite a difference in the completion of the state board's work.

WANT PRISON REFORMATORY

Urge Expenditure of $150,000 For New Institution.

Lincoln, June 9.—The Nebraska conference of charities is determined that the state board of control shall spend the $150,000 appropriation voted by the state legislature for a prison reformatory, and in support of such a movement five members of the executive committee called on the board of control and insisted that the board should go ahead and build the institution.

They call attention to the fact that the last report of Warden Fenton of the state penitentiary shows that out of 450 inmates of the institution, 308 are between the ages of sixteen and thirty years and 360 were first offenders.

According to the warden's last monthly report 144 of these are already out on parole and furlough, and if the system is continued, which seems to be the policy of the present administration, there would seem to be very little call for a reformatory, because the class of prisoners who would naturally go to a reformatory would come under the parole system.

NEW SCHOOL LAND VALUES

Increase of Seventy Per Cent is Made in Sherman County.

Lincoln, June 9.—New valuations being made on schools lands by the state department of public lands and buildings, under Commissioner Beckman, show that in Sherman county the increase in valuation amounts to $23,654.65 on 6,501 acres, an increase of about 70 per cent. The new valuation is $57,596.57, while the old was $33,941.92. In Valley county, the old valuation was $19,864.10, while the new valuation is placed at $33,688.80, an increase of $13,804.70 on 4,291 acres. This makes an increase annually in the rental of $328.28 in Valley and $1,410.27 in Sherman.

Mrs. Kenny is Dead.

Blair, Neb., June 9.—Mrs. F. W. Kenny, aged sixty-one years and a pioneer of Blair, died at the family home of cancer. She was the widow of the late F. W. Kenny, who at his death was president of the Blair State National bank. Mrs. Kenny was widely known throughout the state, having been state department president of the Woman's Relief Corps and president of the local crops for six years. She was past regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution and past matron of the Eastern Star.

Federal District Court Starts Session.

Kembel Appointed Secretary.

Grand Island, Neb., June 8.—State Chairman W. H. Thompson of the Democratic committee announces the appointment of E. C. Kembel of Lincoln as secretary to fill the vacancy in the secretaryship caused by the resignation of Leo Matthews. He also has called a meeting of the state committee at Lincoln on June 20.

Weeping Water Academy Closed.

Weeping Water, Neb., June 8.—The Weeping Water academy closed its doors after twenty-nine successful years of work. The trustees of the academy feel the necessity of closing the school because of the lack of attendance and, while the academy is in debt, it is far from bankrupt.

Farmer Shot by Boy is Dead of Wound

Norfolk, Neb., June 8.—Jacob Wagner, the farmer who was mysteriously shot by Philip Fink, aged fifteen, died from his wounds. Fink is in jail at Pierce. He declares the shooting was accidental. Before his death Wagner said Fink shot him twice.

Metcalfe to Run for Governor.

Omaha, June 8.—Richard L. Metcalfe has announced his decision to enter the race for governor of Nebraska this fall and has forwarded to the secretary of state at Lincoln his acceptance of the petitions filed in his behalf by his Democratic friends.

The Great Burlington Route

The Burlington operates about 9,300 miles of road in 11 states east of the Rockies, with Billings and Denver on the west, Chicago, St. Louis and Peoria on the east, St. Paul and Minneapolis on the north and Lincoln, Omaha, Sioux City, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Des Moines and many other important points between. About 1,600 cities and towns are located along its lines, 38 of which have a population of more than 10,000 each, and 7 of more than 100,000 each.

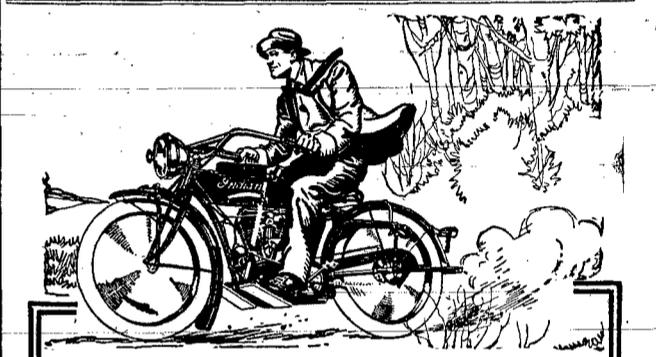

The Burlington has an average of about 47,000 employees. It operates trains over 19 steel bridges across the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. In round numbers, its equipment consists of 1,800 locomotives, more than 1,300 passenger service cars and 60,000 freight cars. In its Commissary are more than 40 dining cars and 400 employes. More than 70 complete trains are required to make up its through passenger service.

Every midnight there are 42 through passenger trains moving over Burlington rails between the great cities of the Middle West. Its passenger trains run an average of 49,000 miles and carry an average of 63,288 passengers daily—an annual total of over 23,000,000 passengers.

Some of the best known passenger trains of the country are operated over the Burlington—The COLORADO LIMITED, The PUGET SOUND LIMITED, The GREAT NORTHERN EXPRESS, and the CHICAGO-OMAHA-DENVER LIMITED, with the wonderful record of arriving Denver 138 consecutive days "On Time" and 355 days out of one calendar year "On Time."

It is obvious that such train operation means integrity of road-bed, ample power, perfect mechanism, intelligence of command and of obedience—an organization that co-operates.

Corn is all right for the fattening steer or hog, but it should be fed sparingly to pregnant farm animals.

Sac and Ida counties, in Iowa, last year produced 500,000 bushels of popcorn, or more than is grown in any other state in the Union.

Present appearances in a weather way would seem to indicate a favorable maple sugar season. The warm days, cold nights and "sugar" snows give promise of a good flow of sap from the sugar bush.

According to the latest census reports, Iowa leads all other states in the number of fowls kept within her borders, the number being 23,482,880. Of this number three-fourths are estimated to be egg producers.

Arnold Thompson of Canby, a Minnesota lad, who some time ago took a course in corn breeding and judging at the local high school, recently captured $125 worth of prizes for exhibits of the Silver King variety of corn.

A strip of zinc put on the live coals in the stove or furnace will help materially in ridding the flues and chimneys of soot. A handful of damp salt put on the fire when the chimney is burning out will tend to stop the blaze.

In the copper mines of Michigan rats seem to be viewed as benefactors rather than pests, as they are most everywhere else. In the mines they serve as scavengers. They are protected by the men and are often fed from their dinner pails.

Poultry experience seems to point to the fact that seldom is it profitable to keep hens after they are two years old. A pullet will lay more eggs than a hen in her second year, but as a rule the chicks hatched from such eggs are not so vigorous as those from the older birds.

Dusty and midewy hay is credited by veterinarians with responsibility for the death of many horses during the past two years in several sections from so called blind staggers. The specific organism responsible for the disease has not been isolated, but there seems to be a very close connection between eating food of the above character and prevalence of the disease.

Plowing may be straight so far as the furrow is concerned, yet be pretty poor work as regards the condition in which it leaves the soil. Good plowing not only means straight furrows, but that which is deep enough for the requirements of the crop to be raised, the character of the soil and the amount of moisture which will be available. Furthermore, good plowing should be such that it will cover all vegetable matter turned under so that subsequent disking or harrowing will not disturb it.

While it is well to lay a good deal of stress upon sowing or planting the best of seed and of giving proper cultivation after a crop is up, it is just as necessary that the soil in which the seed is to be placed should be in the best possible condition. Probably in a majority of cases where poor crop yields are received the busy and ill preparation of the seed bed is doubtless chiefly responsible. This is a very natural error and is one that the farmer who has too many acres and too little help is likely to fall into.

We usually think of the corn belt farmer as the one who makes big profits on porkers. There are others. J. K. Smalley, a farmer living eighty miles south of Spokane, Wash., paid $30 apiece a year ago for three Berkshire pigs at the Lewiston (Ida.) stock show. He returned to the same show a year later, and his young pigs won six blue ribbons. As a result of their quality he sold fifteen of the pigs for $35 each, or $525. The owner is now making a tour of the country on the proceeds from these pigs.

Secretary Houston of the federal department of agriculture has announced that a new bureau is to be created in the department which is to be devoted to the development of labor saving power and devices for farmers. The bill as introduced by Congressman Rainey, which provides for the new department, proposes that the new bureau shall investigate into all matters pertaining to methods of furnishing power on farms and all labor saving machinery, including the use of electricity, gasoline and steam in electric farm vehicles and in operating plows, reapers, mowing and thrashing machines, etc. It will look into best methods of heating and lighting farm homes and other buildings as well.

Most any day when the sun shines warm in the south windows of shop and office a stray box elder bug will lumber up enough to crawl around in a sluggish, lifeless manner. Just how the bug has survived to the present time with nothing to eat is a bit mysterious.

Potato growers the country over will be interested in a recent bulletin put out by the department of agriculture under the caption, "Potato Wilt, Leaf Roll and Related Diseases." It can be had free on application to the United States department of agriculture at Washington.

Caked udder in milk cows is not always, but is nevertheless usually, brought on by catching cold. This follows lying down on a damp stable floor or on the cold ground outside. With good cows as high priced as they are, it is shortsighted in the extreme to allow such preventable cases of caked udder.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that it is a risky proposition using coal tar as a material for painting the wounds of young fruit trees. In a number of instances which the writer has run across lately trees so treated a year ago are practically done for now, and this is particularly true where the coal tar was used freely and the trunks completely covered with it.

That it is a very easy matter for so called experts to get mixed up in the scenery was proven in a rather tragic manner the other day when a woman who claimed to have unerring judgment in the matter of distinguishing between poisonous and edible varieties of mushrooms died shortly after partaking of some of the "harmless" mushrooms. Folks who don't have a keener knowledge than this woman should feed the cooked product to the cat first or let the stuff alone entirely.

Apple sauce cake is much enjoyed by those who have eaten it. The following recipe is one that is published by a lady at Black River Falls, Wis.: One egg, well-beaten; one cupful of granulated sugar, one and one-half cupfuls of sweetened apple sauce, one scant half cupful of lard, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg and one and one-quarter teaspoonfuls of soda, dissolved in apple sauce; one cupful of seedless raisins and two cupfuls of flour. Beat well and bake in moderate oven.

Poor condition in aged horses as a result of a bad condition of the teeth is a common thing. Occasionally the same thing is responsible for unthrifty condition in a growing hog. The writer remembers the case of two hogs that were of the same age and ate out of the same trough, yet one flourished and the other was thin and poor. When cornmeal was substituted for shelled corn the runt began to pick up immediately. The natural inference from this was that its teeth were out of whack.

Scores of young orchards are going to pot every year because the owners think they can work the tracts as a calf pasture proposition before the trees get to a bearing age. The two things don't go together, and if the calves are to have the right of way it would be better to quit monkeying with the trees and take a grub hoe and dig them out. If, on the other hand, they are counted on to become something beyond sticks for the calves to scratch their backs on the bovines would better be pastured elsewhere.

The old, old law of growth, "To them that hath shall be given," holds just as truly in the feed lot and hog pen as it does among trees in the forest, among men in business or in the case of the individual in the building up of physical, mental and moral forces. Because of this fact precautions should be taken to see that the weaklings have a place where they can get the feed they need unobscured by older and stronger animals. Unless such aid is given one might just about as well knock such runts on the head.

The first step that should be followed in restoring the fertility of a run-down farm should be to increase the number of animals kept on the place. Cattle, sheep and hogs are better than none, but the dairy cow is the best fertility restorer of the lot. Every effort should be made to increase the manurial product of the farm. Another aid is to grow the clovers as green manures. After this a crop should be raised which will require clean cultivation and dispose of the weeds. Clover should be sowed again and plowed under or may be used as a meadow for one season and then plowed under with a cultivated crop following. As the soil becomes richer the clover crop will not have to be produced so often.

Hog feeding experiments which have been carried on by the Iowa experiment station during the past six years seem to prove conclusively that as a general rule the time spent in grinding corn for hogs is worse than wasted. From weaning time until late in the fall lots of spring pigs on pasture were fed rations of dry ear corn, soaked shelled corn, dry cornmeal and soaked cornmeal. The amount of feed required for 100 pounds of gain in the different lots was as follows: Dry ear corn, 440 pounds; soaked shelled corn, 468 pounds; dry cornmeal, 546 pounds; soaked cornmeal, 529 pounds. In making rapid gain the dry ear corn was also the most economical with the pigs up to 200 pounds in weight. For pigs larger than this the cheapest gains were made on soaked shelled corn.

A QUERY ABOUT ONIONS.

A reader makes inquiry as to the matter of raising onions. The land intended for the patch should be as free as possible from weed seeds, and it is better if it was plowed last fall. Onions are heavy feeders on soil fertility and for this reason the land on which they are to be grown should be rich. As soon as the frost is out the land should be given a shallow plowing or thorough disking and then harrowed and floated. The seeder should be regulated so as to put the rows about sixteen inches apart, while the seed gauge should be set so as to sow the seed from an inch to an inch and a half apart. Before deciding how thick to sow the seed it is well to test its germinating power. In his own experience the writer has found it more satisfactory to sow the seed a bit too thick and thin when the plants were three or four inches high, than to sow sparingly and have from half to two-thirds of a stand, for it takes just as much time to cultivate a part of a crop as a full crop. One should start the cultivation as soon as the slim green rows can be seen, and this should be kept up at frequent intervals and particularly following heavy rains, and with soil that is likely to pack and bake. Where the soil is none too rich it may be well to apply fertilizers. For this purpose a mixture of 825 pounds of tankage, 850 of bone meal and 325 pounds of muriate of potash has been found to give very satisfactory results. This should be supplied with the drill close to the seed rows. Some onion growers give a second application when the plants are about six inches high, the fertilizer being scattered close to the rows. In deciding what varieties to grow, one should be guided by the preference prevailing in the markets one would be most likely to ship to. One of the most popular varieties is the Red Globe, but it is not only fetches a good price, but is a good keeper and is prized by the housewives who use them. For the northern portions of the country, where there is danger of early September frosts, every effort should be made to get the seed in as soon as the condition of the soil will permit so as to insure early ripening. A dollar or two, more or less, in the initial cost of the seed is a small matter in a crop that will gross between $200 and $300. Hence none but the best seed should be used. If it is good and has strong germinating power three pounds will be ample to sow an acre of land.

CARING FOR BROOD SOWS.

The Kansas experiment station has been carrying on some experiments during the past three years along the line of the care of brood sows that should be of definite practical value to hog raisers everywhere. In 1911 from thirty-three of the station sows litters averaging 7.6 piglets were raised. The next year twelve Duroc-Jersey sows weaned ninety-six pigs. Last year, an equally good showing was made from a still larger number of sows. The care of the litters was started when the sows were bred. The mothers were forced to take a moderate amount of exercise every day during the period of gestation. The feeds given during the period included corn, shorts, wheat bran, tankage, oilmeal and alfalfa hay. For the early portion of the period the ration consisted of a little corn, some shorts and tankage and all the alfalfa hay the sows would eat. Bran and oilmeal were added the last few weeks. The aim in feeding was to bring the sows to farrowing time in a laxative condition and in good thrift and medium flesh.

WAS HE WORTH IT?

Farmers of those conservative sections where the idea seems to be deeply rooted that the way their grandfathers did agriculturally is plenty good enough today and where no effort is made to hide contempt for the county agricultural expert should be interested in the following record of ten months' work of such a demonstrator who is in the employ of Merrick county, Neb. In the period mentioned he traveled 9,040 miles in answering the calls for assistance which he received from the farmers, in the course of which travel he visited 543 farms. He had 478 callers on Saturdays in his office, had 2,000 telephone talks, received 200 letters from his employers, the farmers, wrote them 800 letters and spoke at twenty meetings, at which 2,000 farmers gathered. In addition to numerous field demonstrations he vaccinated over 2,000 hogs, valued at $17,000, among which there was a loss from cholera of but 3 per cent. He spotted forty cows that were of the star border stripe and weren't giving milk enough to pay for their feed. Did this man earn his salary?

POOR SEED CORN AGAIN.

H. M. Cottrell, agricultural commissioner of the Rock Island lines, has lately sent out warnings to the farmers of the middle western states that the seed corn that is available in much of the territory tributary to this system is of very low grade this year. He states that there is very little good seed in southern Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and northwestern Texas, seed from last year's crop being unsafe to plant and much of the 1912 crop showing poor germination. He further warns farmers against buying seed corn outside of their own counties and particularly from any considerable distance, as a reduced yield is almost sure to result.

Something About Government Ownership
No. 6

Considerable has been said about government ownership of telephones—about its efficiency and low cost of service.

Every government owned telephone system considers the Bell System as a standard, uses the Bell operating methods and either uses Bell apparatus or copies it.

Yet there is not another system in the world that gives an approximation to the facilities that the Bell System gives, or gives as good or as cheap service on the same basis of accounting, franchise conditions and wages paid.

The reason is that there is no such a thing as economical government administration; that low cost of government operated utilities is, as a rule, due to lack of quality, or to the fact that deficits of operation are being supplied out of the public treasury.

Bell Telephone Service Has Set the Standard for the Rest of the World.

If our government should be in need of volunteers and, if we should judge by the crowd which assembled at the opera house on Decoration day, to pay respect to the memory of the departed boys in blue, it would be our women and girls who would answer the call to arms. The hall was packed, but, by actual count, there were only twenty men present!—Bloomfield Journal.

Why not let her vote, then maybe she will stay away from such places and give the men room—for no self-respecting man would crowd himself in and keep the women out unless they be granted equal rights.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Slow Trade In Beef and Market Steady to Lower.

HOG MARKET STEADY TO 5 OFF

Lambs Continue on Upward Trend Market Strong to 10c Higher Shorn Lambs Bring $8.90 and Shorn Ewes at $5.90.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha June 9.—A rather moderate run of cattle showed up today, some 3,000 head in many respects the trade in fat cat today was simply a repetition of Monday's market—slow, with prices steady to a little lower all along the line. Fair to good 1,000 to 1,400 pound beefs went largely around $8.10@8.40. Packer discrimination against grassy cows is becoming more pronounced every day. Corn fed stock was scarce today and anything at all attractive in this line found a ready sale at firm figures. On the medium and common grades, in fact, on anything showing grass, salesmen were compelled to shade prices more or less and it was an unevenly lower deal all around. Veal calves were in good demand and firm, and there was a good outlet and steady market for bulls stags, etc. There was very little doing in stockers and feeders today. Trend of values were lower and the tone to the trade is decidedly bearish.

Cattle quotations: Choice to prime yearlings, $8.50@9; choice to prime beefs, $8.50@8.75; fair to choice beefs, $8.20@8.50; good to fair beefs, $8.20@8; good to choice heifers, $7.50@8.25; good to choice cows, $7@7.75; fair to good cows, $6.50@7; canners and cutters, $3.50@5.75; veal calves, $8@11; bulls, stags, etc., $5.75@7.75; good to choice feeders, $7.75@8; fair to good feeders, $7.40@7.75; common to fair feeders, $7@7.40; stock cows and heifers, $6@7.75; stock calves, $6.50@8.25.

Some 6,800 hogs arrived today. The hog market opened about steady and a good many loads sold that way, but closed weak to 5c lower than Monday's market. Bulk of the sales was made at $7.87 1/2@7.95, and tops reached $8.05.

Sheep and lamb receipts were light only 3,300 head received. Most everything was shorn lambs, and the market was strong to 10@15c higher. Shorn lambs went around $8.40@8.90, the latter price being a new record for shorn lambs this year. What shorn ewes were here sold largely at $5.60@5.90.

Quotations on sheep and lambs—Shorn stock: Lambs, good to choice, $8.50@8.90; lambs, fair to good, $8.25@8.75; yearlings, good to choice, $6.90@7.15; yearlings, fair to good, $6.50@6.90; wethers, good to choice, $5.65@5.90; wethers, fair to good, $5.40@5.65; ewes, good to choice, $5.75@5.90; ewes,
