Laying of the Corner Stone

Before a large concourse of people, consisting of students, citizens of the town and visiting delegations from other parts of the state, the corner stone of the new administration building was laid last Tuesday in accordance with the impressive ceremonies of the Grand Lodge of Masons. At 2:00 o'clock a delegation from the normal school met the procession at the Masonic hall and led by the band, acted as escort for the large procession that marched to the normal campus.

Grand Master, T. M. Davis, was present and took charge of the ceremonies. He was assisted by the following officers: Robert E. Evans, deputy grand master, A. H. Viele, grand senior warden; J. J. Tooley, grand junior warden; Rev. Mr. Wilson, grand chaplain; Joseph B. Fradenburg, grand junior deacon; Robert E. French, as grand marshal; J. M. Wiley, as grand treasurer; J. M. Cherry, as grand secretary; C. H. Bright, as grand orator; F. M. Duffree, as grand junior deacon; William Hansen, sword bearer; Harvey Neeley, standard bearer; C. A. Bagert, tyler.

The music was furnished by the Wayne band under the direction of Professor Alexander, by the State Normal Male Quartet, and by a large chorus under the direction of Professor Coleman. At the close of the ceremony fifteen young ladies from the normal decorated the stone with bouquets of flowers.

Rev. Mr. Wilson gave a most excellent and appropriate address.

The following lodges were represented in the attendance: Dakota City, Norfolk, Ansemo, Gothenburg, Kearney, Omaha, Pierce, Emerson, Winside, Laurel, Randolph, Wakefield, Bloomfield, and Wayne.

THE DEMOCRAT.

Pretty Home Wedding

At the home of E. L. Griffith and wife in this city at high noon today (June 25, 1914) occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss Donee to Mr. Chris W. Demel of Central City, Rev. C. L. Meyers pastor of the M. E. church officiating, and using the impressive double ring service. The home was prettily decorated, and Miss Sylvia Fritz sang "At Dawning" preceding the ceremony, and the bride and groom came to the altar accompanied by Miss Olive Griffith, the bride's sister and Mr. Ralph Demel, brother to the groom, to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus, softly played by Miss Mabel Griffith of Des Moines.

The bride's gown was white silk crepe de chine, and her traveling suit was of blue silk moire. The groom wore a suit of black.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served while bride and groom received the heartiest of congratulations. The bride and groom departed on the afternoon train on a wedding trip in the west, terminating at their new home at Billings, Montana, followed by the well wishes of all.

Both bride and groom are graduates of the University at Lincoln this year, the lady in art, her husband from the law department.

The out of town guests were: Miss Sylvia Fritz, Lyons; Miss Kate O'Connor, Lyons; Miss Jeanette Nelson, Lincoln; Mrs. Belle Neuman, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Tompkins, Bassett; Miss Mabel Griffith, Des Moines, Iowa; and Mrs. Homer Seace and Mrs. Phoebe Elming of this city.

The Wayne Tennis Tournament

Drawings have been made for the home tennis players who are to compete for the Banker's cup, and it is asked that those who are drawn will arrange with their opponents to play their matches early. With the new courts now at Wayne there is little need for any delay, and the finals should be reached in ample time to be out of the way of the state meet which is to be held here the first week in August. Below are the drawings:

Celebrate at Wayne

This year, for the first time in four years Wayne is inviting the people of the county to come to Wayne for their celebration. This year it is the plan of those in charge of the event to make it as was the last one before it—the best possible. In addition to the regular features of the birthday celebration of the nation Wayne will at the same time entertain the old soldiers of northeast Nebraska, their reunion beginning on the second and continuing until the evening of the 4th. Elsewhere in the paper is a page advertisement giving the program for the three days, and it will be seen that they are all to be good days, and the last one the best of all.

When Wayne celebrates the whole county and the four counties adjoining are welcome, and every toiler in the territory should put work aside for the day and rejoice in the birth anniversary of the greatest and grandest nation the world's history has ever known, and come to Wayne to do it.

George-Love

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. A. Love at Carroll, on Wednesday, June 24, 1914, Mr. Clark George and Miss Ella J. Love, Reverend McKinzie officiating. The democrat wishes the young folks a lovely life.

A Midnight Fire

Shortly before midnight Friday evening the fire whistle persistently called the firemen and citizens from their first nap to save property from fire. Fire was discovered in the basement of the Baughan Shoe Co's. Store, which is also occupied by Mrs. Jeffries with millinery and furnishings. It appeared to be a smoldering fire and the dense smoke made it impossible for the firemen to locate the fire at first, so it was a blind fight for a time, and much water was used that otherwise would not have been necessary. When the fire was finally reached and extinguished it was found that a pile of empty crates had been consumed and that the fire had also burned a large stock of rubber goods stored for the summer and a quantity of surplus shoe stock stored in the basement.

The loss to the Shoe Company was confined mostly to the basement where fire smoke and water ruined all the goods stored there, estimated at about $1,800, which is covered by insurance. The loss to Mrs. Jeffries was confined mostly to the smoke damage, but on millinery and such furnishings as she carried that would be considerable, and is estimated at $400.

The damage to the building is comparatively light, and consists of a bunch of joists more or less charred along the north side of the building and about half its length.

The Grand Leader the next door north had some damage from smoke and some water in cellar, and also some broken crockery in basement. The Model Pharmacy one door south had a quantity of water in the cellar, but report no particular damage.

The cause of the fire is not known, but is attributed to defective wiring of which it is said considerable has been done in this town in other days when a job of wiring did not have to pass inspection. Sure it is fortunate that the loss was kept so small, and shows the saving gained by being equipped to successfully fight fire.

Otto Voget Robbed

A news dispatch from New York to the Norfolk News tells of the robbing of Otto Voget, who left there last week to make a tour of Germany. The dispatch says that two men entered a store in New York City and asked to be shown a Panama hat, and offered in payment a traveler's check for $20 issued to Otto A. Voget. On the check was stamped in red letters "sold by the Nebraska State Bank, Norfolk, Neb., $20."

The merchants suspicion prompted him to call the police. From a New York bank the police learned that Prof. Otto A. Voget of Norfolk, Neb., who sailed on the President Grant of the Hamburg-American line Thursday, bought $500 worth of checks from them through the Norfolk, Nebraska bank. The police say one of the men, who gave the name of William Wood, said, "yes we're confidence men. We followed Prof. Voget from Chicago to New York and got the $500 worth of checks from him. We are wire tappers also. I won't tell you anything about myself, that's for you to find out. Wood's companion said he was Charles Milford of New York.

Flood Calls For Three Bridges

As a result of the downpour of rain last week Wednesday the county commissioners have decided that it will be necessary, or at least economy, to erect three new steel bridges at once over Dog Creek. Six of the nine wooden bridges that gave way before the flood waters can be restored.

The new bridges decided upon will be 50, 55 and 65 feet in length, and the average cost will be about $3,000 each. These with the bridge contracts let at the bidding will again take all of the bridge levy and a little more perhaps. The county is fortunate in securing a low bid this year, for it will make a saving of about $1,000 a bridge over what the same class of bridges have been selling for in the past.

The Pioneer Memorial

The first pioneer memorial service ever held in this county was that of last Sunday afternoon at the court house lawn, when a fair sized congregation listened to an address appropriate for the occasion was given by Dr. H. H. Millard, who was a preacher among the pioneers to whom he paid a tribute rich in praise of their virtues, striking in its portrayal of their privations and hardships and eloquent in its description of the results of their perseverance and toil and privation. He made plain the debt we owe to those who broke the trail of civilization through this wilderness. Incidentally he shed some light on the high cost of living by comparison between the high living of today and the meagre fare of the pioneer. The pioneer mother did not have access the ready-to-wear clothing for the entire family. She cut, fit and made the family wardrobe. "Washed, baked, ironed and made Moses a pair of trousers" used to be considered a Monday's work for "mother" when the writer was a "kid", but they applied that term to little goats in those good old days. He told of the evolution from the cart and oxen to the lumber wagon and so on down or up to the automobile and flying machine. But for it all we must stop and pay a tribute to the sturdy pioneer. May their memory ever be cherished and placed high in the temple of memory, for there is no rival for the pioneer in the hearts of the people.

A. J. Ferguson, who was active in the planning of this meeting presided, and had charge of the excellent program from beginning to end.

Meeting of Board of Education

The Board of Education of State Normal schools held a meeting at Wayne June 23 and 24. The following members were present: A. H. Viele, T. J. Majors, W. A. George, J. J. Tooley, J. R. Gettys, J. E. Delzel and A. L. Caviness. The presidents of the other three normal schools represented their respective institutions before the board.

The plans of Architect J. H. Craddock for a new model school building at Peru were adopted and Mr. Craddock was employed to draw permanent plans for the new structure to be erected within the next year.

The matter of selecting a president for the Kearney State Normal School occupied the attention of the board at the forenoon session Wednesday, and Professor George S. Dick, head of the department of education in the State Teachers' College at Cedar Falls, Iowa, was the unanimous choice of the board for this place. Professor Dick was apprised of his election by telegraph and his acceptance received. The change in the head of the Kearney institution will take place at the opening of the new school year.

The Board re-organized for work of the ensuing year by the election of the following officers: A. H. Viele, president; J. R. Gettys, vice president; J. J. Tooley, secretary. The board adjourned to meet at Lincoln August 18, at 10:00 a. m.

The Barnett Hearing

Monday Harry Barnett appeared before Judge Britton to answer to the charge of assault with intent to do great bodily injury, Wm. Hoguewood being the victim of the assault and the complaining witness. After hearing the testimony of plaintiff, the defence offering no evidence, the court held the defendant to answer to the District court, and fixed the bail at $500, which was furnished, and also made Barnett give a peace bond in the sum of $300.

Reunion at The Kiplinger Home

This week at the home of Mrs. Kiplinger and her son L. A. there is being held a family reunion, the clan gathering from east and south to meet at the pleasant home in this city. Those present are as follows:

Mrs. Lizzie Pingree, Pamona, Kansas; Mrs. Sarah K. Hea, Freeport, Illinois; Mrs. Hattie Cook, Dallas, Texas; Mr. James A. Giles, Dallas, Texas; Mr. J. A. Shout, Milwaukee, Wis; Mrs. Nora Garlach, Elkton, S. D; Mrs. Rosalie Cohrath, Woodstock, Illinois; Mrs. Opal Moran, King City, Mo.; Mr. Giles N. Hea, Freeport, Illinois; Mrs. Frank Mason, Dallas, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Spann, Dallas, Texas; Miss Mabel Giles, Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. Lizzie Pingree, Mrs. Sarah Hea, and Mrs. Hattie Cook are sisters of Mrs. Kiplinger, and Mr. James A. Giles is her brother. Mrs. Rosalie Conrath and Mrs. Opal Morton are cousins of Mrs. Kiplinger. Mr. J. A. Shout is her uncle. The rest are her nieces and nephews.

It is needless to try to tell what a happy time they are having—relatives gathered from afar to pass a few days together—living over again the happy times of other days, comparing the life experiences since last they met before—renewing old acquaintances and forming new. May they all live to enjoy many more such happy gatherings.

New State Bank For Carroll

The preliminary organization for a new state bank at Carroll is well under way, and the plan is to have the doors open for business within a short time, not later than the 10th of July. They are incorporating for $15,000, Vaughn G. Williams, who started his career in bank work in this county, being employed both here and at Winside, is at the head of the move. He comes back to this county from Smithfield, where he has been for several years. In the temporary organization he is to be president. Mrs. Williams is to be cashier, and himself and John D. Williams and A. R. Biglow are to constitute the first board of directors. All are well known men in this county. The Democrat wishes them the success that is due every legitimate business enterprise.

A New Drink Fountain

The city has caused to be installed at the corner of Main and Third streets a pretty sanitary drinking fountain for public use. It is of the latest design and complies with the most stringent rules of sanitary regulation, and it is to be hoped that it will have a tendency to induce a large number of our citizens to become users of this crystal beverage.

Souvenir Edition Next Week

With the next issue of the Democrat the publishers plan to present their many readers with a handsome edition of Wayne county, which is to be issued jointly by the two Wayne papers. Its pages will contain more than 200 pictures of prominent men of the county and private and public buildings; more than 50 of the good farms of the county are represented, and we believe that the work will do much to fulfill one object of its publication—give a fair idea of the great agricultural wealth of this county both at home and abroad, for there are people living here who realize as little of the almost boundless resources of their home county as these in distant states. If it shall awaken home folks to an appreciation of their own possibilities it will do a greater work for the community than by inducing an influx of people. We ask those who appreciate the work to aid in its distribution with their mite toward defraying the cost of the work by its purchase and distribution.

Our Automobile Parade

There is promise of an elegant automobile parade at Wayne the 4th. The committee in charge has issued more than 100 invitations to those who have cars, and if by accident they have omitted any they will be welcome to compete for the prize just the same. As only the cars from the country are to compete for the prize, and nature has been so lavish this year in providing material for pretty decorations there should be many cars trimmed with products of our rich soil. An alfalfa car, or one decorated with clover, timothy, corn or small grain or all of those products would make a fine display, as has been suggested by this paper.

The Bond Election

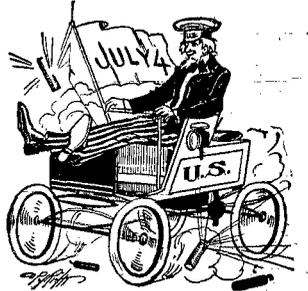

Tomorrow, the 26th is the day we vote yes or no to a proposition to authorize the issue of $7,000 of city bonds for the improvement and extension of the city water plant. To the Democrat it seems that this is a necessity in part and only just to all. Taxation without representation was fought against years ago and won. The improvements contemplated by these bonds if issued will give water and protection to some sections of the city that have been taxed for the common good without the protection. At any rate, do not forget to vote.

Wayne is going to celebrate the 4th this year. It is right but let every one in every act remember the new slogan of the railroad, "Safety First". The adoption of these two words as a motto is saving hundreds of lives annually in this hazardous work, and if applied here the 4th they may save lives and property. Remember them as applied to accident possibility and fire probability. "Safety First."

And Nebraska has an association "opposed to woman suffrage" the members of which use some argument against suffrage as silly as those sometimes used in its favor. Some of the same arguments would apply to men as well as women and the fact that practically all men vote and but few women vote should not have any bearing. Qualification should determine eligibility to vote, not the accident of sex.

It begins to look as though this democratic administration is going to furnish the weather and other conditions to make such a bumper crop of all kinds of grain as to reduce the market price very materially. WAYNE, NEBRASKA

June 25, 1914.

To the Wayne County People:—

Of course you are coming to Wayne to celebrate the Old Soldiers' Reunion and the Fourth. And while here, why don't you arrange to have your eyes examined--your sight tested--as you may need glasses.

Personally, you may think you don't need glasses. Most people think this and not a few dread wearing them, postponing an examination until defective vision makes them a necessity. Avoid this by having your eyes examined, then remedy the defect by using glasses made to the most minute detail to fit your individual defect.

I will be at my office throughout these days and will be pleased to meet you, to examine your eyes and tell you of your needs.

I do nothing but exclusive optical work.

Yours very truly,

R. N. Donahey

J. E. Hufford and wife were visitors at Omaha the first part of the week, going down Tuesday morning.

The Knights of Columbus initiated a class of more than 30 members into that order last week, at Hartington.

Miss Vallie Armacost went to Omaha Tuesday, where she will be a guest for a short time at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Naffziger.

Judge James Britton avers that the June crop of marriages has been far below normal during the month just closing, and as a stimulant to this infant industry the Democrat will donate one year free subscription to each couple wed in Wayne during the month of July, and five years free to the first couple to be publicly married on the speaker's platform July 4th. That is a good start for your reading the first few years of married life.

Frank Bressler and David Herner of Leslie precinct were callers at this office last week. They claim, and quite justly, too, that they live in the very garden spot of this fertile county. The farm improvements in that part of the county indicate that it is rich and has made the owners of the land well-to-do. Speaking of the recent rains, Mr. Bressler said that Leslie was good enough without such a washing as was given up this way. Rain and sunshine had been mixed right down in Leslie where so many good democrats live, said Mr. Herner, and the crop prospect is most excellent. No one can be better pleased at their prospects for a prosperous year than the Democrat. They have been for years residents of that part of the county, and to their intelligence efforts in a great measure is due the present happy condition that prevails there today. If one think differently, let him look over into the reservation which borders near there and see what intelligent cultivation has done to make the wilderness blossom as the rose.

W. L. Fisher left here Sunday morning to go Windom, Minnesota, where he is engaged by the J. T. Johnson Land Co., to travel and establish agencies. He will have the state of Iowa for his territory as well as a part of Illinois. Mr. Fisher is well informed on the land question, and is given a good contract. Messrs. Mears and Johnson have taken over his interest in the Mears, Fisher & Johnson dirt dealers of this place.

And Nebraska has an association "opposed to woman suffrage" the members of which use some argument against suffrage as silly as those sometimes used in its favor. Some of the same arguments would apply to men as well as women and the fact that practically all men vote and but few women vote should not have any bearing. Qualification should determine eligibility to vote, not the accident of sex.

It begins to look as though this democratic administration is going to furnish the weather and other conditions to make such a bumper crop of all kinds of grain as to reduce the market price very materially. Yet most farmers would prefer to have a bit of grain to sell at a low price to having to buy it at a high price.

The Rainfall For Season

Last April the college installed a rain gauge, and since that time a record has been kept there of the rainfall. The first recorded was April 25 when the instrument showed three fourths of an inch. During May there was a total of 3.58 inches, nicely distributed from the 2nd to the 29th, and ranging from one-fifth to nine-tenths inches. The rainfall for June to date is 7.27 inches. The greatest precipitation was on the 11th, and was 2.04 inches. On the 17th 1.36 and on the 24th 1.60. Last night the rain amounted to .52 of an inch. On the 5th the fall was .91, and the remainder came in small rains. The figures were received too late to tabulate them as to dates and amounts for this paper.

See us for wedding invitations.

The week has been a busy one in the stock yards. Starting in with five cars from Wm. Watson, mentioned elsewhere, the cattle and hogs kept coming for shipment. J. T. Bressler sent in two cars of cattle, and they looked good to Simon Goeman and he coaxed them away from John at $3.72 and sent them to Sioux City Tuesday night. Mr. Goeman also shipped two cars of hogs to that market the day before. L. C. Gildersleeve shipped a car of hogs to Sioux City and so did Henry Freyert. Frank Erxleben sent two cars of cattle to South Omaha and Geo. Berris one car cattle to the same market. Tuesday E. A. Chichester loaded three cars of cattle for South Omaha. This makes a total of 16 cars in first two days of week.

Three land sales reported by the Mears & Johnson real estate agency. One was the sale of the Anna Ulrich 80 acres in Wilbur precinct to Chas. H. Bright; another was a deal between Orr & Morris of this place and L. W. Ringsby of Gearing, Nebr., whereby the Orr & Morris Co., gets a farm in Scotts Bluffs county and Mr. Ringsby gets the clean-up of the Orr & Morris stock; and the other was a deal between Blair & Mulloy and H. D. Uhler, whereby Blair & Mulloy gets a section of land in Hooker county and Mr. Uhler gets several thousand dollars worth of the Blair & Mulloy stock, which cleans up their stock in fine shape.

Suffrage Department

(Under the auspices of the Suffrage League of Wayne.)

By a vote of 4 to 3 the state supreme court of Illinois has handed down its decision as to the constitutionality of the woman suffrage act. The majority opinion, which becomes the decree of the court, holds that the Illinois legislature did not go beyond its constitutional powers in granting the right to women to vote for all statutory offices, which included presidential electors as set out in the 1913 act.

The decision means that women have the right to be candidates for those offices for which they have the right to vote under the 1913 act.

Great was the joy among the suffrage leaders when the news of the decision was received. Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association, when interviewed, said, "The supreme court did what I always expected it to do. In rendering the decision confirming the right of women to vote in Illinois it has given the whole cause of suffrage throughout the world a tremendous impetus. It is not a woman's victory but a victory for humanity."

Board of Equalization Proceedings

The personal property assessments as returned by the precinct Assessors for the several precincts of the county, was examined for each precinct and allowed to stand as returned for each and every one of the precincts.

Whereupon Board adjourned to July 30th, 1914.
CHAS. W. REYNOLDS, Clerk.

Battle Creek 6, Wayne 4

In a game of both good and bad baseball, Battle Creek came out on the long end of a 6 to 4 score, and handed Wayne her first defeat.

Next Sunday Pilger comes to Wayne and another good game can be expected. Unless the attendance increases it will be impossible to keep together as good a team as we have now. Every one interested in base ball should attend these games.

SINGERS, ATTENTION—You are requested to meet at the M. E. church on Monday evening, June 9, at 8 o'clock for rehearsing some of the old songs for the program Thursday night.

Messrs. Oakley, Tonner, S. Durfee and E. B. Fanske of Pierce were visitors here Tuesday, coming to attend the cornerstone laying at the normal and the latter to visit his brother, L. A. Fanske of this place.

"Ridgeview" is the name which David Herner has given his excellent farm in Leslie precinct, and when at Wayne last week he had the name recorded at the office of the county clerk. His is the southeast quarter of section 19, 25-5.

Mrs. E. W. Meriam entertained the Ladies Bible Study Circle this week, the heavy rains preventing the country trip planned. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. E. B. Young when will occur the election of officers for the coming six months.

One of the pleasing entertainments for the lovers of music will be the recital to be given at the M. E. church Tuesday evening, June 30 at 4 o'clock, when Mr. Leo L. Alexander presents Miss Bessie M. Crockett in a piano recital. Miss Crockett is a musical student of rare accomplishment and her instructor is anxious that all of her friends and all lovers of music hear her on this occasion for it is seldom that a player of such musical talent is heard for simply the expenditure of the hour necessary to attend.

At noon today Mrs. Margaret Wade remains alive, but has lost in strength and vitality during the past week until there appears to be but a slender thread of life left. Without apparent pain she is gradually growing weaker.

New books put in the Library this week are: "Love Affair of a Homely Girl," Jean Louise DeForest; "Joyce of the North Woods," H. Comstock; "Meg and Others," H. Comstock; "Thelma," Marie Carelli; "Boy Scouts at the Panama Canal," Lieut. Howard Payne.—Librarian.

T. W. Moran, for the past thirty years, more or less the ticket agent at this place, leaves this afternoon on a ten-day vacation which the "Omaha" is giving to a party of about thirty faithful agents. They have a special car and diner, and their every want is considered with out money and without price. They will be taken through the west midway between here and the Pacific. A day at Denver, another at Salt Lake and Ogden, through the noted scenery by daylight, and a five day outing in the Yellowstone National park. There is no man at Wayne perhaps who more richly deserves such an outing than Agent Moran and the Democrat joins all in wishing him a pleasant journey and a safe return.

How about your subscription.

Editors of Nebraska have been asked to set a date for the annual frolic, which will be held in Omaha this summer at the pleasure of the editors. An invitation will be extended to Iowa editors to join in the festivities and to meet the Nebraska boys.

With no base ball team, no celebrations of any sort in view or place to hold them, no Chautauqua or revivals, or other usual excitements Coleridge would be a nice quiet place to spend the summer if it were not for an occasional business failure to mar the serenity.—Coleridge Blade.

Knox county republicans have a call issued for a county convention at Center on July 7th. The call is for 107 delegates. If they all go they had better take a picnic dinner along, for we doubt if there is table room for so many there at once. No proxies are to be allowed, and delegates are to be named July 1st.

A Randolph hardware merchant has provided a rest room for the women who come to that place and would otherwise need to wait for completion of business by all of the crowd they come with. Several Wayne merchants have made a comfortable place for their patrons and others.

One of the new and interesting features of the Nebraska state fair this year will be the pure food display. Under the direction of Commissioner Harmon all the details of the manufacture, handling and production of foods will be exemplified. Special attention will be given to demonstrating the foods manufactured in Nebraska and enlightening the public as to their value.

Clay county, Iowa, has a county improvement association, and from reports we read of it it is very beneficial to the members and a fine thing for the county. Just now they are waging a successful—or at least comparatively successful war upon hog cholera. The services of the expert employed by the association are offered free to any who need them whether a member of the organization or not.

The Gates academy at Neligh is soon to be a dead one. Lack of funds compelled the board of educators to close it. The small private school is having a hard row to hoe in these days of state schools. Free school laws are the cause. And the free school is the proper system. The poor folks are as much entitled to education as the rich and we hope to see the free school system grow and improve until every one has opportunity to secure practical knowledge of the work that is to be his life work.

George Hyatt who was accompanied by his wife, returned last Friday from a few days at Sioux City where he shot in the Soo Gun Club tournament. The Randolph man shot up with the best of them and in the cup event broke a straight, tying with 30 others. On the shot he lost out. His best run was 54 straight. The first day he broke 92 per cent of his targets, 85 per cent the record day in a high wind. His average was 89 per cent, or missing eleven clay birds out of every 100.—Randolph Times.

Mr. Hyatt was at the shoot at this place Thursday last.

Open Letter No. III

To the landless man in Nebraska: The political situation in this state should interest you. Don't fail to vote for the amendment to the constitution that will permit the legislature to enact a graduated land tax or any other reform revenue law that will render it easier for the landless man to own some land and unprofitable for corporation or individuals to own so much. And let your vote be for the candidate who will pledge himself to support such a bill.

National politics don't interest you this year. Should the republicans elect the next congress it will not repeal the graduated income tax nor the new banking law, nor the law denying free toll subsidy to the shipping trust, and it is very doubtful if it would attempt to undo anything so far done by the present administration.

Your support for nomination, for the legislature will be sought by one man on the ground that he is a life-long democrat and will uphold and favor the policies of President Wilson. Another will ask your support on the ground that he favors a protective tariff and keeps awake nights to hate democrats. When this democratic aspirant asks my support at the primary I shall remind him that President Wilson is using the army and navy and all the prestige of his high office to aid the landless man in Mexico to divide the large estates among themselves. Mr. Wilson surely would not oppose such a progressive program in his own country. If he refuses to pledge himself I will refuse to help nominate him or vote for him if he is nominated.

If the republican candidate will not pledge himself to support a bill for a graduated land tax, exempting the small home on the technical plea that it is but another name for confiscation, I will remind him that Abraham Lincoln confiscated the state banks on the broad ground that their existence was adverse to the public welfare, and that he afterwards confiscated $2,000,000,000 worth of property by proclamation for the same reason.

Now then, Mr. Landless Man, if the republican candidate cannot show that society is benefitted and that it is for the public welfare that tillable land should be held for rent by one person or corporation in large holdings you have him up a tree. Every railway charter permitting the taking of land without the owner's consent and many other privileges is based upon the same principle, the public welfare.

If the democratic applicant will not promise to favor a graduated land tax or some other means of rendering the ownership of large estates unprofitable you have him up the same tree unless he is willing to denounce President Wilson's Mexican policy.

Only one question divides the peace delegates at Niagara Falls: Shall the large estates in Mexico be divided among the landless? The landlords, represented by Huerta, prefer to see the land drenched in blood, and as President Wilson stands pat for the proposition he will be compelled to witness the same sickening scene.

Omaha Tax-Shirkers Up

Oh, for a penalty for tax-shirkers. "There are more of them in Omaha to the square foot than in any other city in the land," says an official who has been making something of a study of the situation.

Anyhow, there are a lot of them, and the county commissioners, who are now sitting as a board of equalization, is doing something towards looking to the county tax-shirkers, whoever they are.

"The shame is that working men with small homes modestly furnished have to pay more taxes than rich men with great mansions elaborately furnished," declared Commissioner Harte while the board was in session the other day.

Mr. Harte said that men owning expensive automobiles and living in houses costing upwards of $5,000 frequently listed their property at a measly $300 or less than a workman in a $500 cottage with furnishings very meagre.

The penalty against tax-shirkers seems to be nothing that frightens anybody. Hundreds of men with property costing them as much as $30,000 turn in their assessment at $300 to $500.

The gross impositions of rich tax-shirkers this year is arousing a sentiment which threatens to agitate some legislation on this line that will compel men to list their property with some regard for truth.

"It is most amazing how these tax-shirkers will lie and cheat," says an official. "Men high in church and social circles will come before the board and lie like thieves. There seems to be no way of compelling these men to pay anywhere near the taxes they should pay. The best that can be done is to push some legislation that will help out on this important matter."

The above is taken from the Omaha Nebraskan, and is used to show our great need of a more fair system of taxation. The complaint above is not peculiar to Omaha or Wayne—it is state-wide. To him that hath shall be given and from him that hath not shall be taken—seems to be the rule. The injustice is most rank.

Giving It to Patrons

The Hooper Sentinel of last week had quite an article on advertising, and the story of the merchant who does not advertise so that he may give his patrons more for their money instead of paying it for advertising, and soon he has no patrons to give the bargains to, as the following shows that people wish to know where to go for their needs before they start. Read it: Here is what one farmer was heard to say a short time ago:

"Yes, we were down to Fremont trading, Saturday night. The roads looked so good when we drove up to Winslow—then there were some things we needed that we were not sure of getting at Hooper that are advertised every week in the 'Tribune', so we just ran down and did not take chances of going to Hooper."

There's your loyalty, Mr. Merchant, old 20th century loyalty—they do not take a chance to drive four miles in auto to see if you have it in stock, but will go 32 miles to where they see it advertised. See the point?

This brings to mind an experience which recently came under the writer's observation. Dealers in a given line in a town did not advertise, and an opportunity came to the editor of the paper to make a comparison in that line between his home merchants and those of several neighboring towns on one article. The town not advertising and having the least sales of any in that particular line was as large or larger than any town compared with it, and had equally as good field to cover, and here is the result in actual sales up well toward the closing season of sales for that particular article. Number of sales in town not advertising, 6. In other towns, where there were live dealers: the sales numbered up to that time 35, 26, 63, 70, 70 and 26 respectively. In the face of such a showing, (and we can give towns and figures to any who are curious to know) we claim that all merchants in the place are in a measure hurt by the neglect of those in that line of business, for when a farmer comes to town for some thing he generally needs and buys more than the one thing he came more especially for. Cooperation between merchants handling different lines of goods in advertising as well as in buying and selling might go a long way toward making a better town—and successfully competing with the mail-order concerns.

Omaha Tax-Shirkers Up

Oh, for a penalty for tax-shirkers. "There are more of them in Omaha to the square foot than in any other city in the land," says an official who has been making something of a study of the situation.

Anyhow, there are a lot of them, and the county commissioners, who are now sitting as a board of equalization, is doing something towards looking to the county tax-shirkers, whoever they are.

"The shame is that working men with small homes modestly furnished have to pay more taxes than rich men with great mansions elaborately furnished," declared Commissioner Harte while the board was in session the other day.

Mr. Harte said that men owning expensive automobiles and living in houses costing upwards of $5,000 frequently listed their property at a measly $300 or less than a workman in a $500 cottage with furnishings very meagre.

The penalty against tax-shirkers seems to be nothing that frightens anybody. Hundreds of men with property costing them as much as $30,000 turn in their assessment at $300 to $500.

The gross impositions of rich tax-shirkers this year is arousing a sentiment which threatens to agitate some legislation on this line that will compel men to list their property with some regard for truth.

"It is most amazing how these tax-shirkers will lie and cheat," says an official. "Men high in church and social circles will come before the board and lie like thieves. There seems to be no way of compelling these men to pay anywhere near the taxes they should pay. The best that can be done is to push some legislation that will help out on this important matter."

The above is taken from the Omaha Nebraskan, and is used to show our great need of a more fair system of taxation. The complaint above is not peculiar to Omaha or Wayne—it is state-wide. To him that hath shall be given and from him that hath not shall be taken—seems to be the rule. The injustice is most rank.

OLD FOLKS FIND NEW REMEDY RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Drives Rheumatic Pains Away, Relieves Backache and Bladder Disorders After a Few Doses Are Taken

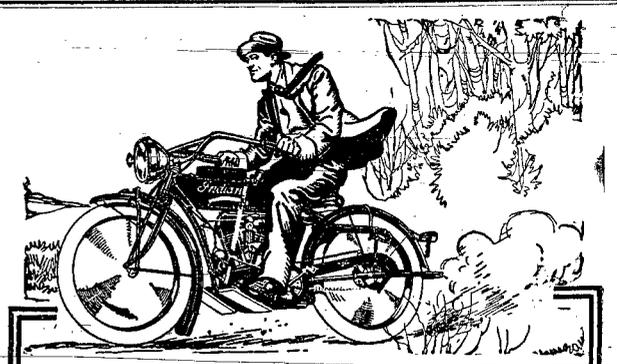

Sleep disturbing bladder weaknesses, backache, rheumatism, and the many other kindred ailments which so commonly come with declining years, need no longer be a source of dread and misery to those who are past the middle age of life.

The new discovery, Croxone, overcomes all such disorders because it removes the very cause of the trouble. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands and cells, and gives the kidneys new strength to do their work properly. It neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; and makes the kidneys filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood and drive it out of the system.

It matters not how old you are or how long you have suffered, Croxone is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work immediately and more than a few doses are seldom required to relieve even the most chronic, obstinate cases.

It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for restoring the lifeless organs to health and strength and ridding the system of every particle of uric acid, and you can take it with the utmost confidence that nothing on earth will so quickly cure such conditions.

You can obtain an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.

Give this machine the acid test of comparison at these three vital points:

Price — Equipment — Reputation

The Two-Sixty Standard Indian (illustrated) represents a motorcycle value decidedly in advance of the field today. A close examination will conclusively prove the 1914 Indian with 38 Betterments to be—price for price—quality for quality—an achievement in worth which successfully carries it beyond competition.

1914 Indian Motorcycle

equipment has been a true sensation. The Indian has nailed its flag of leadership higher up on the pole than ever before by evolving Motorcycle Electricity and putting it into efficient operation. All standard models are equipped with electric head light, electric tail light, two sets high amperage storage batteries, electric signal and Corbin-Brown rear-drive speedometer.

The Indian reputation behind every Indian machine is the greatest guarantee of reliability and sound construction that any motorcycle purchaser could have. The Indian has developed more genuine mechanical devices for the advancement of the motorcycle—including the famous, incomparable comfort feature, the Cradle Spring Frame—than all other makes combined.

GEORGE W. BERGE
Democratic Candidate for Governor

To the Tax Payers:

There is appalling extravagance in the administration of the state's business. Every time the legislature meets appropriations are increased; more offices and commissions are created; and tax burdens are growing heavier every year. We do not complain if our taxes are legitimately spent, but we do most emphatically protest against reckless extravagance.

Appropriations for all Purposes.

Years	Appropriations
1893-94	$2,208,940.26
1907-08	4,367,257.31
1911-12	6,184,552.81
1913-14	8,155,077.73

In 1893 it cost us $8.025 each day to run the entire state government, and today it costs us $11.171 each day, an increase of 270 per cent, while the population increased less than 20 per cent. The last legislature appropriated $1,970,524.92 more than the preceding legislature.

Appropriations for Salaries Alone.

Years	Appropriations
1893-94	$1,021,932
1911-12	2,598,340
1913-14	2,736,210

The last legislature appropriated $137,870 more for salaries alone than the legislature two years before. Salary appropriations are more than two and one-half times larger now than in 1893. It costs us $722 more each day now to pay salaries alone than it cost us to run the entire state government in 1893.

In 1893 we paid legislative employees $33,537.83.

In 1911 we paid legislative employees $41,460.00.

In 1913 we paid legislative employees $51,863.00.

The last legislature paid out $10,403 more for legislative employees alone than the preceding legislature paid for the same purpose.

I deny that this enormous increase is necessary. I charge most of it to frightful extravagance. The business of the state is not run on a business basis. Let me give only a few illustrations:

In 1889 the legislature paid out $4,416.40 for postage. This is enough to pay the postage on 220,820 letters or 1,660 letters for each member.

In 1895 the legislature paid out $2,383.50 for pages; $2,505 for custodians; $3,297 for janitors and $1,347.95 for newspapers for members.

The 1911 legislature paid out $5,369.50 for custodians and $2,095.55 for janitors.

The 1913 legislature paid out $7,329 for custodians; $1,280 for sergeant-at-arms; $1,779 for gate and doorkeepers; $1,063 for porters and janitors; $1,002 for watchmen, and $339 for photographs, cuts and half tones.

Just think of it, $7,329 for custodians (that hangers) to hang up the coats and hats of the members during the last session. This is about $80.00 for each day. Any wonder our taxes are going up?

A legislative committee recently reported that $15,210 would have been amply sufficient to pay legislative employees for the last legislature. That legislature, however, paid out $51,863.00, or $36,653.00 more than this legislative committee said was necessary. Just think of it, $36,653.00 of the tax payers' money wasted on legislative employees alone during one session of the legislature lasting a little more than two months. In other words $36,653.00 of the tax payers' money was taken out of the state treasury during one session with which to pay political debts. This is only an illustration. Every legislature and the entire business of the state is honey-combed with frightful extravagance. Millions of dollars could be saved if the business of the state was conducted on a business basis.

And while this appalling extravagance is going on we learn that although the last legislature appropriated nearly $2,000,000.00 more than the preceding legislature, that right now the state of Nebraska is nearly $1,000,000.00 behind in the payment of its current expenses. It is admitted by state officials that it will be necessary to levy a 1-mill special tax this year to get us out of the hole.

All of this is astounding, and I say drastic steps are necessary to put a stop to it all. My battle in this campaign is to help clean up the state house and put the business of the state on a business basis. I am in favor of liberal appropriations for all legitimate purposes, but I am unalterably opposed to waste and extravagance. This is my fight in this campaign and I ask the taxpayers to help me.

Comes now Detlef Kai and says that for the year 1913, he was assessed with a valuation of $2,816 on north half of southeast quarter and east half of the northeast quarter of section 32, township 25, range 5, which tax amounts to the sum of $78.85 which is out of proportion to the land in the same section. That he paid the tax under protest and filed an affidavit with receipt attached and asks that the board refund the sum of $9.77 of the above tax. The board after considering the same refunds the sum of $9.77 as an erroneous tax.

Comes now A. G. Johnson and says that for the years 1912 and 1913 he was assessed with improvements on a part of southwest quarter of southwest quarter of section 35, township 26, range 2, being two acre tract. That no improvements exist on the above mentioned tract and that the tax on the improvements for 1912 amount to the sum of $7.36 and for the year 1913 the sum of $7.76 that he paid said taxes under protest and filed affidavit within the thirty days and now asks a refund of tax amounting to the sum of $15.12. The board after due consideration refunds the tax of $15.12 for the reason that it was erroneously assessed.

Comes now F. S. Berry, city attorney, and says that for the year 1912 there exists a tax of $34.86 with interest on lots 1, 2 and 3 of block 21, of the original town of Wayne. That said lots belonged to the city of Wayne and thereby were not taxable under the law. The board after considering the same orders the treasurer to strike from the 1912 tax list the tax figured against lots above described.

Comes now W. T. Fisher and says that for the year 1913 he was assessed with a tax on a part of lot 2, section 11, lot 1, section 14, and lot 2, section 23, and lots Land 2 in section 26 and lots 1 and 2 of section 35 all of 26-5 amounting to the sum of $12.78, that this tax was paid under protest on the ground that he should not be obliged to pay the tax for the reason that these lots are cut up by a road running full length of the strip, used by Wayne and Thurston counties, with no chance for revenue. That he filed the protest with affidavit within thirty days and asks a refund of the above tax. The board after considering the same reject the claim in full.

Comes now Lester R. Bellows, and says that for the year 1913, he was assessed with improvements on lots 5 and 6 of Robinson's addition to Carroll, with an actual valuation of $1,000. That no buildings or improvements existed on said property on the first day of April 1913. That the house was completed along about September 1, 1913. That he paid the tax on improvements only amounting to the sum of $17.50 under protest and filed this affidavit within the thirty days as required by law and asks that this board refund the sum of $17.50. The board after considering the same orders the treasurer to refund the sum of $17.50.

Comes now J. W. Nelson and says that for the year 1913, he was assessed with a valuation of $1,500 actual on two sets of buildings situated on lots 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, block 1, Roosevelt Park addition to Wayne, that in June 1912 one house burned down, which he figures was about half the value of the two sets. That he paid said tax under protest and filed his affidavit within the time required by law and now asks that the sum of $14.10 be refunded him. The Board after considering same orders a refund of $14.10 for the above reason.

Comes now Ottilie E. Sebald and says that for the year 1912 she was assessed with an assessed valuation of $500 on a part of southeast quarter of northwest quarter of section 13, township 26, range 3, which tax amounts to the sum of $40.50, that the tax is too high and she asks that the board refund the sum of $10.50. The board after considering the same rejects the protest.

Comes now Ottilie E. Sebald and says that for the year 1913 she was assessed with an assessed valuation of $500 on a part of southeast quarter of northwest quarter of section 13, township 26, range 3, which tax amounts to the sum of $47.00, that she paid the tax under protest and filed affidavit within the time as required by law, and she now asks that the board refund the sum of $17 on the grounds that the same is too high. The board, after considering the same, rejects the protest.

After July 1, the proceeding will show the claims taken up in the order filed; the funds drawn on; and when a claim is laid over from time to time, it will be so shown, so that one in following the laid over claims will at all times be able to see just what claims are on file against the county and not allowed.

Whereupon board adjourned to July 7, 1914.—Chas. W. Reynolds, Clerk.

THE GLORIOUS 4th

WE should never forget it. While we celebrate once a year in some way, we should always keep it before us, what it has meant to those who have lived before us and to those now living. It's an emblem of freedom with a big "F."

Before you celebrate, be sure to get the right kind of material to celebrate with. One of the most essential things is a sack of Wayne Superlative Flour. It can be bought anywhere in the country. Don't forget this, best order it today, in fact, right now.

Gun Club Held Big Shoot

Last Thursday the Wayne Gun Club held one of their semi-annual shoots, and it was one of the best in point of numbers competing and good shooting of any they have held. There were forty men in the contest, and they shot a total of 5,150 shells, the shot alone in this number weighing more than 400 pounds. The cost of the shells was more than $100. The prize money paid out amounted to nearly $400, and the entry money put in by the contestants amounted to practically the same amount. Of the 5,150 clay birds shot at 4,728 were broken.

We were unable to secure the proper address of those who took part and will therefore run the score without the postoffice address of those shooting, but there were men here from Norfolk, Fremont, Randolph, Wausa, Stanton, Sioux City, Hooper, Scribner, Morris Bluffs, Wisner and Wayne. The home club had twelve men competing. The day was fairly good and there was a constant crack of the guns both morning and afternoon.

The following entered in the twelve events and broke out of 200 birds the number following their names:

- Bende 125, Koyen 183, Weber 154, VonSeggern 176, Ellis 169, Sasse 187, Wiley 185, E. A. Reetz 180, Fairbanks 164, Robertson 174, Laudenburg 174, Nagle 172, Morse 166, Severson (Slim) 182. In this class Sasse of Stanton stood first and Wiley of Wayne second.
- Helt broke 110 out of 175.
- Miner 143, Fiehn 160, W. F. Reetz 182 out of 170.
- Kolb 138, Bodecker 129, Hyatt 137, Robinson 112, out of 160.
- Devore 82 out of 125.
- Phillips 79, Reynolds 75, Emley 83, Kauffold 67, Ammons 78, Heyne 78, Clover 66, Wingert 76 out of 100.
- McClure 51 out of 110.
- Morgan 64, Fleetwood 53 out of 75.
- Schmidt 52, Wriedt 38, Perdue 55 out of 70.
- Eike 53 out of 60.

State Committee Ratifies Appointment of Secretary Kemble.

COREY TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.

Populists Decide to Keep Party Alive and Will Celebrate Twenty-fifth Anniversary—Bank Values Less in Antelope and Richardson Counties.

Lincoln, June 24.—The Democratic state committee at its meeting here selected M. L. Corey of Clay Center as temporary chairman for the state convention, July 28, and chose Columbus as the city in which to hold the state convention on the basis of one delegate for every 100 votes cast for Wilson and Marshall in 1912.

On only one proposition was there a lack of unanimity. That was on the ratification of Secretary Kemble's appointment. Several of the committeemen insisted that the appointment was only an interim affair and was subject to committee action. Chairman Thompson held that it was effective until the state convention chose another committee.

The difference in opinion centered on a suggestion that A. P. Sprague of York be named for the place.

The York man's friends, with C. S. Blecknell of Cook as spokesman, moved that the committee proceed to the selection of a secretary. A. S. Tibbets of Lincoln insisted that the motion was out of order. In the end Chairman Thompson ruled that way.

Sprague's friends did not appeal from the chairman's ruling. Instead, J. C. Byrnes of Columbus, after pointing out possible dangers in Thompson's ruling, insisted that no appeal be taken as it would be a slap at Chairman Thompson and a blow that would seriously disarrange harmony of the party.

Members of the Populist party in this state are not ready to give up the ghost this year. The state committee of the party met here and so decided. The party will have a ticket in the field this year, will hold a state convention at Hastings July 28, and will continue plans for a quarter centennial celebration in this state in 1917.

Bank Values Less.

Antelope and Richardson counties, which filed their assessment reports with the secretary of the state board of equalization, show a falling off in bank valuation of $20,000 in the former county and $52,000 in the latter. The total assessed valuation of Antelope county has increased, being given as $5,358,565 this year, as against $5,283,142 last year. Richardson county has fallen off, the assessment this year being $7,427,581, as against $7,682,241 last year.

Hearing on Ice Rates.

A hearing was held before the state railway commission covering rates on ice from Maywood and Curtis in the Burlington to different points in the state. The Crete mills, which owns the ice company, makes the claim that the rates are excessive.

Robertson Files For Place.

A. A. Robertson of Duff has filed for the Progressive nomination for the state senate from the Twenty-eighth district, composed of the counties of Cherry, Sheridan, Dawes, Box Butte, Rock, Brown and Sloux, represented in the last session by Senator W. H. Reynolds, a Republican.

REAL OUTING FOR EDITORS

State Press Association Transacts Very Little Business.

Lincoln, June 22.—The session of the State Press association is showing more of the spirit of an outing than any other previous meeting. This is probably due to the fact that camping is more conducive to the pleasurable side of life than to the business part. However, there is lots of time until Wednesday night to pull off what business the association may have to transact.

The ball game was won by the South Platte club by the score of 13 to 11.

Nearly Loses Nose When Cow Kicks.

Madison, Neb., June 22.—Joseph Moline's horses ran away, pulling Moline over the dashboard and dislocating his shoulder. Several days ago Moline almost lost his nose. He was removing a funnel from the hind foot of a cow when the animal kicked him, the rough edge of the funnel cutting his nose.

Superior Saloon Licenses Approved.

Superior, Neb., June 22.—After a hearing on remonstrances to saloon petitions lasting a week the city council approved five saloon licenses by a vote of 5 to 1 in each instance. The cases will be appealed to the district court and saloons will be closed pending the decision.

Woman Files For Register of Deeds.

Kearney, Neb., June 22.—A novelty in the primaries comes before the voters of Buffalo county this fall, a woman candidate, Miss Esther Stock, having filed on the Republican ticket for register of deeds. This is the first time a woman has filed for office here.

HARVEST MEN IN DEMAND

Railroad Offices Deluged With Calls For Help From Farmers.

Omaha, June 23.—Letters, telegrams and inquiries in every conceivable form are deluging railroad offices in Omaha, asking for men to assist in harvesting the crops of the state of Nebraska. Thousands of men are now working in the southern Kansas wheat fields, and it is estimated that by July 4 harvest in the southern section of Nebraska will be in full blast.

While the railroads have not issued orders to carry harvest hands to the wheat fields free of charge, the stampede from the east to the west has been so great that special agents have found it impossible to keep the would-be harvest hands off from freight trains. On one line of railroad out of Kansas City as many as 200 men were taken to Kansas each day, none of whom paid railroad fare.

The harvest in Kansas will hardly be completed by the time Nebraska wheat is ready to cut, and this fact is causing much apprehension among Nebraska farmers just now.

On the Burlington, between Orleans, Neb., and St. Francis, Kan., alone, it is estimated that 2,500 men will be required to harvest the wheat crop. Harvest on this division will probably start June 30. The farmers in this section are so anxious to secure harvest hands that they have offered to board free all who arrive there too early. When harvest starts they will pay workers $2.50 a day and board.

TWO MEN SERIOUSLY HURT

Bursting Tire Causes Auto to Turn Over Near Fremont.

Fremont, Neb., June 22.—An automobile occupied by five Lyons men turned turtle and landed in a ditch beside the road five miles northwest of Fremont. Two members of the party were seriously injured and three escaped with bruises. The seriously injured are: Frank Deman of Lyons, chest crushed, ear torn; Robert Freeman of Lyons, five ribs broken, body badly bruised.

The car was running at about thirty miles an hour, it is said. A bursting tire caused the accident. One of the rear wheels went down and the car turned over. Hjalmar Larson, one of the occupants of the rear seat, was thrown thirty feet, but was not badly hurt. The others of the party were Willis Smith and Loren Southwell.

HAVE CLOSE CALL

Auto Containing Four Carried Thirty Feet by Train; None Hurt.

Oxford, Neb., June 22.—An automobile driven by Dr. Lee of McCook was struck by the rear car of a Burlington train as it was being sidetracked. The accident occurred on the middle town crossing. The automobile, which carried four passengers, two men and two women, was struck squarely in the middle, and is a complete wreck, but none of the passengers was hurt beyond slight bruises. The machine was carried about thirty feet, and reduced almost to kindling wood. In view of the condition of the automobile the fortunate escape of the party riding in it seems almost miraculous.

North Succeeds Hammond.

Omaha, June 23.—After six years of service in that capacity, Ross L. Hammond formally turned over the office of collector of internal revenues of the district of Nebraska to Edward W. North, formerly his chief deputy. Mr. Hammond is a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination on the Republican ticket. Mr. North has been in the department twenty-one years, having started there under his father, the late James E. North.

Kenyon Talks at Omaha Banquet.

Omaha, June 23.—Nebraska Republicans turned out in force to attend the harmony banquet at which Senator William S. Kenyon of Iowa spoke. Senator Kenyon spoke frankly of the differences that had divided the party in 1912. He spoke of bossism, and pointed out that bosses necessarily arise in every party, but that it is not the part of duty to leave the fate of the organization to them.

N. T. Dudley Is Dead.

West Point, Neb., June 23.—N. T. Dudley, one of the best known men in northern Cumming county, died at the family home at Wisner, at the age of seventy years, of heart failure. Mr. Dudley had retired from the farm and was living in town. He was a veteran of the civil war. He is survived by five grown children. He was one of the few remaining members of Plunkum post of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Man Run Down by Car Is Dead.

Grand Island, Neb., June 23.—A high wind swept over portions of Buffalo and Sherman counties and several injuries to persons are reported. An unidentified man at Rockville was hit by a car blown down the tracks. Refusing to divulge his name to the last, the injured man died.

Pickard Case Is Continued.

Omaha, June 23.—The case of the state of Nebraska against Frank M. Pickard, Burns' detective employed here by an Omaha newspaper, has been continued for a week in the court of Justice Britt, at the request of the attorney for the defense.

New School House for Sidney.

Sidney, Neb., June 23.—The school bond issue carried, 169 for to 41 against, in the election and Sidney will erect a new high school on ground near the present one. Many women voted.

The End Of a Duel

It Came in the Beginning

By RUTH GRAHAM

During the middle of the last century, when the old plantation system was an institution in the southern states, there were customs which have now become a thing of the past.
Among the most notable of these was settling disputes according to the code duello.

In the north at the opening of the century the sacrifice of one of the most gifted of American statesmen, Alexander Hamilton, gave dueling its quietus. In the south it lasted much longer. In Tennessee long after the Hamilton-Burr tragedy Andrew Jackson fought under the code. It remained for a girl to show the people of that state by a few caustic words how far the world had gone beyond a custom advocated by one no less notable than a president of the United States.

It was shortly after the Mexican war that Miss Belle Conway went to Tennessee from Ohio to take the position of governess in the family of Colonel Rathbone, a retired planter. That was before it became customary for young ladies to earn their own living. Miss Conway had been educated in Connecticut—western girls and boys usually went east in those days for an education—and had evinced a superior mind.
She had not long returned from school when her father died, leaving his family without an income. There was then a field in the south for teachers, and northern graduates were sought after.

Miss Conway was comely, but not beautiful. She possessed character, and it showed itself in her personal character in her was allied with good sense. She was more self-reliant than most of the southern girls of that day, whose intellectual and practical faculties were not readily developed under a system wherein their slightest requirements were attended to by their servants.

Miss Conway was treated as a member of the Rathbone family, and where they were invited she was invited. She did not capture those she met as some dazzling southern beauty would have done in the north, but from the first there was a steady growth in her favor. Girls of her own age were not jealous of her; they rather admired her for the possession of those traits which they did not possess themselves, for with them beauty and coquetry were more in keeping with their surroundings than intellect. As for the young men, they saw in her something different from that to which they had been accustomed and were gradually attracted to it.

Fortunately there was no son of Colonel Rathbone of an age to fall in love with the governess. The man who was most thrown with her was Archibald Dabney, who had recently returned from the University of Virginia, where he had studied law, rather with a view to using it in political life than as a profession. Mr. Dabney was just the man to be attracted to such a girl as Miss Conway. While she was northern born and bred, he was representative of the best there was in the south.

Mr. Dabney found Miss Conway companionable. He loved to talk with her—express his opinions to her and get hers. While he did not realize it she was magnifying his views on many subjects, and this is doubtless a reason why he found her interesting, for he had that caliber of brain which is capable of development and could recognize a better position than one he held and step up on to it. Nevertheless, as a typical southerner born and bred under the peculiar systems then in vogue in the south, he could not step over that gulf of ideas which separated him from a progressive north.

Mr. Dabney's pleasant intellectual companionship with Miss Conway received a sudden shock. A planter, Markland Carr, a few years older than Dabney, a widower who was looking for a wife, saw her and, benefiting by the experience of a married man, was struck with the idea that Miss Conway was exactly the woman he wanted to preside over his household. He straightway began a courtship as a widower would naturally conduct such an affair.
He did not dally, and he did not make undue haste; he planted his foot firmly on each step and, when he considered it advisable, took another step.

The moment Mr. Dabney realized
Mr. Carr's intentions a great revolution sprang up within him. It had suddenly been revealed to him that he could not spare Miss Conway. His manner toward her changed at once. From an intellectual companionship he stepped into friendliness, and from friendliness became tender. Indeed, considering the rate at which his rival was proceeding,
he felt that he had no time to lose.

Both suitors were prevented from making a declaration by the fact that they met with no definite encouragement from the lady. Mr. Dabney was uncertain; Mr. Carr did not recognize a sign indicating an invitation to speak.
Each suspected the other's intentions and each supposed that the reason he did not get the requisite encouragement was that the other had the preference.
All this made the usual bad blood that exists between rivals. Unfortunately, Mr. Dabney was just entering the field of politics as a Whig, and Mr.

Carr had for some time been a prominent Democrat. The election that landed one of the two leaders in the war with Mexico in the presidency was coming on. Carr supported Lewis Cass and Dabney entered the field for Zachary Taylor. There was nothing in this to antagonize the rivals, but both wanting the same woman, it helped to do so.
One evening at a social club when politics was being discussed Dabney cast an aspersions on Carr's motives in supporting his candidate, and Carr gave him the lie.

In those days to call a man a liar was to receive a blow in return. But these two men understood each other,
both knowing that Dabney's aspersions upon Carr's political status was a notification to him that if he wanted Miss Conway he must fight for her, not with his fists, but with the weapon commonly used among gentlemen in those days, a Derringer pistol. Dabney made no reply to Carr calling him a liar, but later sent a friend to him demanding a retraction and an apology for the insult. Carr refused either to retract or apologize, and a meeting was arranged between the two men.

The political discussion that had taken place between her two suitors and the insult one had given the other soon came to the ears of Belle Conway, for it was public property. Indeed, it was commented upon by every newspaper in the county. No one but the principals in the affair knew the real cause of the difficulty behind the one that was put forward to the world. There was no mention in the journals of a probable duel between the two men, but there was an expectation of one.

Miss Conway saw a mention of the trouble in print, but had no idea of its purport. She neither realized that so slight an affair would lead two men to try to kill each other nor had the faintest suspicion that she was the real cause of it. She could not understand how so gentlemanlike a person as Dabney could accuse another gentleman of impure motives or how the other could fling back the accusation in a way she considered fitted only for a rowdy.
Nevertheless she knew enough of southern customs to realize that no gentleman there could call another a liar without serious consequences.

During the morning a carriage was driven up to Colonel Rathbone's house, and a lady alighted. A few minutes later a colored servant came to Miss Conway, who was at work with the children, and said:
"Missy Belle, Missus Dabney down in de parlo' and wants to see yo' right away."

Miss Conway looked at the messenger with astonishment. Why should the mother of Archibald Dabney wish to see her and so hurriedly? Leaving the children and their lessons, she went at once to the parlor. There she found the caller evidently moved by a great emotion.

"Miss Conway," said the latter, "are yo' aware of the cause underlying this quarrel between my son and Mr. Carr?"
"I am aware of no cause except a political difference."
"That is merely a pretext. Yo' are the real cause."
"I?"

"Yes, yo'. Had yo' shown a preference for one or the other this unfortunate affair would not have occurred."
"Why is it so unfortunate?" asked Miss Conway anxiously.
"My son and Mr. Carr are going to fight a duel!"

"Fight a duel? When—where?"
"I don't know."
"I must see these men, and together
I will decide between them at once."
It would be impossible for Miss Conway to see them together. There was but one way for her to act in the matter. Mrs. Dabney promised to find out if possible when and where the affair was to take place, and Miss Conway was to be there and make an effort to stop it.

The next morning at sunrise in an open space in a wood near Murfreesboro, while seconds were pacing off the ground for their principals to fight on a carriage containing Miss Conway drove up, and the lady stepped out.
She was greeted with astonishment by the dueling party.
"Gentlemen," she said, "you men of the south are men of honor. As such I ask to know if in any way enter into the cause of this affair."
The question was received in silence.
"I have the word of one whom neither of you would question that if I had shown a decided preference for either of you this affair would not have occurred. If my informant is correct and you will drop this quarrel I will decide between you."
Though there was no reply it was evident that both principals assented to the proposition.
"Do you promise?" asked Miss Conway.

Both men bowed an assent.
"Very well. I would not on any account ally myself with either one of two men who would fight for me instead of making me the sole arbiter between them."
She turned and re-entered her carriage.

Neither of the men helped her into it, each giving way to the other. When the lady had gone Dabney said to Carr:
"Mr. Carr, as the aggressor in this quarrel I feel it incumbent upon me to recall what I said to you at the club."
It was subsequently announced that explanations and apologies had passed between Messrs. Dabney and Carr.

After this affair there were no duels between persons of prominence in the south. The custom died as it had died in the north. But Dabney after a time renewed his suit with success.

School Picnic at Altona
 The German English Parochial school near Altona closed its school year (1913-14) with a picnic on the 19th. The school had an enrollment of forty pupils, all of who will again attend this school the coming year. When we mention the word "picnic" we not only mean what is generally termed "An Outing" but a picnic which we, with right should term a concert, at which young and old find great amusement.
 This was also accomplished the past week. Our open air concert was, indeed, of such a rarely is given in our surrounding counties. At this celebration hundreds of people from near and far gathered. Many of the visitors from far were from the cities of West Point, Wisner, Pilger, Pierre, Wayne, Wakefield, LaPorte, Thayer and others.
