

Death of Margaret Wade

In the passing of Mrs. Margaret Wade of this place, which occurred Wednesday morning, July 1, 1914, following several months of failing health and three weeks of serious sickness, one of the kindest and best of mothers has been called to her reward. A resident of Wayne but three years, she was loved and respected by all who came to know her, and during the twenty-five years that the writer has known her he never saw her appear vexed or angry. Always cheerful, patient and kind, she had no enemies, and was the friend of all mankind.

Margaret McNeill was born at Rockford, Illinois, December 7, 1840, and was 73 years, 6 months and 23 days of age. In January 1866, she was united in marriage to John Wade at Freeport, Illinois. A few years later (1874) they came to Villisca, Iowa, which place was their home until the death of Mr. Wade, which occurred May 26, 1908. To this union four daughters and three sons were born, all of whom are living and were with their mother during part of her last sickness. They are Mrs. Etta Dean, Villisca, Iowa; Mrs. Mattie Phillips, Aitken, Minn.; Wm. Wade, Underwood, Iowa; Mrs. Katie Inde, Pierson, Iowa; Thos. Wade, Hiteman, Iowa; Mrs. Nellie Murray, Sloan, Iowa and Glea A. Wade of this place, the junior editor of this paper, who has shared a home with his mother since the death of her husband. She is also survived by a brother and two sisters.

For the past twenty years she was an active member of the Christian church at Villisca, Iowa, where she retained a membership until her death. Since coming to Wayne she has attended the services at the Baptist church when her health and the weather permitted her to do so.

A short service was held at the home on 2d street Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. B. P. Richardson of the Baptist church, which was attended by neighbors and friends. This morning the body, accompanied by the sons and daughters who were here was taken to Villisca, where a funeral service will be held Friday afternoon, and the body laid to rest beside that of her husband.

Thanks—The sons and daughters of Mrs. Margaret Wade desire to express their sincere thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted them in their hour of affliction, during the sickness and death of their mother.

Will Some Two Answer?

One day last week the question was put to the editor: "Why don't they have a stock show at Wayne, and stock judging contest?" and we pass the question on and ask WHY NOT? Now is a good time to plan for such an enterprise. We might tell one reason why, in our opinion, they do not, but do not care to publish family secrets to the world. We believe that there is no good reason why not which could not be overcome if the farmers and business men desire such an exhibition—then if they will add grain and other farm products and have a week of school in stock and grain judging and domestic science it need not cost any one much for tuition and the community might receive a lasting benefit—in fact could not help but be benefitted.

See Us Grow

J. H. Massie has completed a canvas of the place for the school population, and searching high and low, from one end of the district to the other, he discovers 614 young folks here between the ages of 5 and 21. Of this number 318 are females and 296 are males. The census last year said that there were 616 at that time. If we remember correctly they were then more evenly divided as to sex.

John Livinghouse Dies

This morning at 3 o'clock death claimed John Livinghouse, one of the early settlers of this place, having settled here about 25 years ago. He has been in poor health for more than a year, but of late had been able to be about the home and visit town often. Definite plans for the funeral are not now known, but the plan is for a service Saturday forenoon. An obituary will be given next week.

State Normal Notes

Ernest Samuelson, class of 1913, has been elected principal of a rural high school near Minneapolis, Minnesota at a salary of $1000 per year.

A great deal of interest is manifested in the current event club, which meets on Saturday morning of each week under the direction of Professors Lewis and Bowen.

To meet a demand from teachers of the summer session, Misses Beechel and Ryan have organized class of games and folk dances, which will meet regularly on Friday afternoon of each week.

Outside of Wayne, Cedar county with thirty-four teachers in attendance has the largest number enrolled in the summer session. Knox county comes second in the list with an enrollment of thirty.

The lecture course for the summer session of the normal as announced by the committee will be as follows: June 29, Edwin Brush; July 10, Dr. A. C. Monahan; July 16, The Allpress-Misner Concert company; July 21, Adrian M. Newsens; July 27, Normal Male Quartet and Professor Keckley.

Mr. L. V. Halbrook, formerly a student of the Nebraska Normal college, was a visitor Wednesday. Mr. Halbrook has recently received his degree from Leland Stanford in the department of civil engineering. Miss Francis Kelley, a successful teacher of South Dakota, who has spent two summers at Wayne, has been promoted to the principalship of the Chamberlain, high school at an increase of fifteen dollars per month over her salary of the past year.

Superintendent E. U. Graff of Omaha appeared for two lectures before the teachers of the summer session on Thursday of last week. For the afternoon address Mr. Graff chose for his subject, "Necessary Qualifications for a Successful Teacher." For the evening lecture, "School Discipline" was very ably presented. Superintendent Graff is at the head of the largest public school system in the state, and his experience and preparation well qualify him to bring a message of importance before the teachers of the summer school.

The summer school lecture and entertainment course opened Monday evening with an exhibition of magic by Edwin Brush. His tricks and illusions were well worked out, and so skillfully was the work done that even those who occupied a front seat were unable to explain in detail just what took place. Professor Lackey claims there was one bird cage and two canaries, while Mr. Hering contends there were two cages and four birds. Everybody admits there was only one duck, for J. G. W. Lewis counted it before the performance began. Opinions are conflicting as to whether he extracted that fresh egg from Mr. Wilson's pocket or from his left ear. In brief it was an evening of enjoyment for all present, and furnished proof of the oft repeated charge that the American people like to be fooled.

If a Good Thing, Pass It On

This week the Democrat "Points with Pride" to the handsome Wayne county Souvenir Supplement enclosed herein. We have not spared labor or expense to make this a creditable paper to represent Wayne county and its wealth of resources, natural and cultivated, and we trust that it will appeal to you as a good thing to pass on to your friends. Those who have lived here will appreciate it. Those who have friends here will be glad to know that their lot has fallen amid such scenes as are shown herein. Those who wish friends to locate here may stimulate an interest by sending them this edition. It will do a great work for this county if it can be placed in proper hands.

The edition consists of 6,000 copies, more than half of which will be circulated by the newspapers of Wayne to their subscribers. This leaves more than 2,000 copies to be disposed of, and if you think we have done our part, do not neglect to do yours, and DO IT NOW. They are of little value unless circulated and we ask all who feel that the paper is worthy of circulation to subscribe for as many copies as they think will do good. A large list has already been sent in, and the papers on this list will go forward this week. We have made an edition large enough to supply the probable demand, and if you are proud of our glorious county, help sing its praises.

With 64 well illustrated pages, interspersed with history and biography it is well worth the price asked and we solicit your co-operation in its distribution.

To the business men and professional men and the sturdy farmers of the county we wish to express our appreciation of the support that has made this edition what it is—now let's pass a good thing on.

Yours for the upbuilding of our county,

THE NEBRASKA DEMOCRAT.

Westerhouse-Thies

At the home of the bride's parents, southwest of Wayne, Thursday afternoon, June 25, 1914, occurred the marriage of Mr. Fred G. Westerhouse and Miss Hallena Thies, both from the neighborhood, six or seven miles southwest of Wayne, where they will be at home to their friends on a farm. The groom is the son of Henry Westerhouse and wife, the bride the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thies.

For the wedding ceremony which was performed by Rev. Rudolph Moehring, the bride was gowned in a beautiful white silk dress, and the bridal party was accompanied to the altar by Herman Westerhouse, Louis, Bertha and Carl Thies, and marriage was witnessed by a few friends, who then partook of an elegant wedding supper served on the lawn at the Thies home, where a happy evening hour was spent, and the best of wishes extended to the bride and groom.

Duling-Braunger

Miss Pauline Braunger was married to Anthony C. Duling Saturday morning, June 27, 1914, at 7:30 o'clock, at the Cathedral of the Epiphany, Father Moran Coglian performing the ceremony. Miss Anna Braunger, a cousin of the bride, and Raymond Duling, the bridegroom's brother, were the only attendants. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's uncle, A. Braunger. Mr. and Mrs. Duling have gone to Los Angeles, California, to visit Mrs. Duling's mother, Mrs. E. Braunger, and her brother, C. J. Braunger. They will return to Sioux City after September 1. Mrs. T. W. Moran, Mrs. E. Hunter and Miss Edna Bauff of Wayne, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Nicols, of Sioux City Center, were guests from out of town.—Sioux City Journal.

Ring-Dawes

At the home of the bride's mother Wednesday evening occurred the marriage of Laura E. Dawes and Wallace Ring, Rev. McCarthy officiating. The bride was tastefully gowned in white satin trimmed in embroidered shadow lace with pearl trimmings and a tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of orange blossoms.

The happy pair left from Pender Thursday morning for a two week's trip through Yellowstone Park and points in Colorado. On their return they will go to housekeeping on the farm occupied by the groom.—Wakefield Republican.

Recital

Tuesday afternoon at the M. E. church a very successful concert was given when L. Leo Alexander presented his talented pupil Miss Bessie M. Crockett in a piano recital. Miss Crockett presented an artistic program in a very pleasing manner showing careful and painstaking study and a splendid technique reflecting much credit upon an instructor who has a thorough knowledge of piano-forte. The composition "If I Were a Bird," Op. 2 by Henselt was especially beautiful, showing her skill in wrist work, and the Sonata Op. 13 by Beethoven showing a knowledge of shading and tempo. By application and further study we predict for this young lady a brilliant future as a piano artist and Wayne is justly proud of so an efficient pianist.

Bonds Carry for Improvement

It was a quiet election that was held at Wayne last Friday, and the voters decided in favor of the issue of $7,000 bonds for the purpose of adding a new pump to the water works plant and some water main extension and also an extension of 15 feet to the city standpipe, to give better pressure in some of the higher parts of the city. The vote stood 119 for the bonds and 47 against the proposition. We did not get the vote by wards, but the ratio was practically the same over the entire city. And the stay-at-home vote was large. The bonds will soon be issued and we hope that the new pump arrives at an early date.

In the Outside World

Yesterday the new prohibitory law passed by the people of West Virginia became effective, and the whole state is going dry on schedule time. Breweries and distilleries are being converted into factories and meat packing houses.

The heir to the Australian throne and his wife were shot by an assassin the 29th while driving through the streets of Serejevo, by a youthful Severian student. It was the second attempt to kill them. It was a plot worked up for revenge because the ruler was not favorable to the province of Bosnia, or at least a faction of the Bosnians did not think him so.

A dispatch from Cambridge, Mass. of the 30th says that eighteen persons, including Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Maine Railroad companies; Frederick C. Moseley of F. S. Moseley & Co., Boston brokers; the late Ralph D. Gillette of Westfield and the investment committees of two savings banks that city, were indicted yesterday by the Middlesex county grand jury on various charges in connection with the financing of the Hampden railroad from Bondsville to Springfield.

The Mexican situation is still complicated. Now it is disagreement between Carranza and Villa that is said to be standing in the way of more good work by the mediators, who have been patiently waiting for a word from Carranza as to what he will do for the good of his countrymen. Meantime the report is that Huerta has sent his family from Mexico and is planning to make his escape. The English have warned their subjects to leave the city of Mexico, which may be the seat of much fighting and disorder during a time when a change of government is being made, if it comes to that as now appears probable.

Dr. Alexander Corkey Going?

According to the last Sunday papers of Omaha and Lincoln, Dr. Corkey for five years pastor of the Presbyterian church at this place has resigned, and accepted a chair in the college at Bellevue and a pastorate there. Such a story was circulated a year ago, but it arose from the fact of his accepting a place at the college for certain teaching, and up to date the officers of the church at this place have no official knowledge of his intention to leave. His many Wayne friends hope that the story this year has no more foundation than that of a year ago. He is an eloquent preacher, a brilliant writer, entertaining on the lecture platform and a willing worker as a citizen. Let us hope he stays.

Sudden Death of Claus Kay

Thursday afternoon, June 25, 1914, almost without warning the death messenger came to Claus Kay, one of the pioneer farmers of this county, from heart failure at his home in the south part of this city. Mr. Kay had been on the street during the forenoon as was customary with him, talking with his son and friends. He had been in failing health for some time, yet his sudden death came as a shock to the family.

Claus Kay was born July 25, 1848, at Gadendorf, Germany, and lacked but one month of being 66 years of age. He came to America in 1868, and in 1875 was united in marriage to Barbara Lieb. He first settled in Iowa, not far from Council Bluffs, and came to Wayne county in 1885, purchasing a farm southeast of Wayne upon which he lived until 1901, when he moved to this place. Here the wife died in January, 1913. Four sons and a daughter survive him, Henry, August, John and Lizzie, (Mrs. Peterson), who were present at his funeral.

The funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the German Lutheran church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Rudolph Moehring, and a large number of his pioneer neighbors came to pay a last tribute to the memory of one who had been to them a kind friend and a worthy neighbor. The body was laid beside that of his wife in the Wayne cemetery.

He is survived by one sister and four brothers, Dietlef, August, Adolph, William, all of Minden, Iowa, who were present, and Mrs. Minnie Deitchler and her daughter, Mrs. Krouse of Mineola, Iowa, and John Bolliger and wife of Missouri Valley, who were also here. One nephew, Louie Kay, of Minden was also here to attend the funeral.

Card of Thanks—We wish to extend our sincere thanks to kind friends and neighbors for aid and sympathy, and for the floral offering in our sudden bereavement in the death of our father.

Rev. John F. Davis Leaves Carroll

For more than five years past Rev. John F. Davis has been pastor of the Welch Congregational church of Carroll, and himself and wife and children have made many warm friends there who naturally regret their departure. But as he had decided to go they gave them a good send off as some people would express it. Sunday the two Welch congregations joined in attending the church where he preached his farewell sermon, and on Monday evening another meeting was held, a sort of farewell reception, when the worthy minister was presented with a purse of $100. They go to Sioux City for a time.

One of the first, if not the first Chautauqua of the season begins at Emerson today and closes the night of the 7th. It is a new concern and is making itself known as the Jones system. They have a varied program for the five days, and music appears to be the predominating feature.

If you want to keep milk and butter cool and sweet in hot weather without ice, dig a pit about 12 or 15 feet deep and close it at the top, and make clean and tight with brick, cement or even boards if it is but a temporary one, and it can be kept as low as 70 degrees when outside temperature is above the 100 mark.

Saturday evening Wm. Brosheit invited the editor to a seat in the side car of his Harley-Davidson motorcycle for a little spin in the country. One of these cars, we would say from that brief experience would be a practical vehicle for many uses. The rural route man could make his trip in half the time or less when roads are normal—and for any one who wishes to go in a hurry and when he pleases the motorcycle is certainly it. The writer almost caught the fever and is thinking of mortgaging a year's advertising for one of them things. The condition of the bank account is the only thing which prevents giving more thought to the pretty wagon. Don't come any more, William or we may lose our head and all our money.

Mrs. A. C. Dean left Monday evening to visit her sister Mrs. C. E. Wright, at Worden, Montana. She informed the Democrat that the Wright family will move back to Nebraska and have purchased a farm north of the Dean farm, planning to return here not later than the spring, as they are not having the best of health, and it is on account of sickness of the sister that Mrs. Dean is making this trip at this time.

A. Anson the advance guard of the old soldiers coming to Wayne this week to attend the reunion arrived Monday from Iowa, where he has been visiting and will remain until the end of the show. He tells us that practically all of the soldier boys from this part of the state who are now at the home at Burkett will get a furlough to come to Wayne for this reunion. There will be room for them.

Mrs. Blair and daughters Helen and Alice start this morning for a visit in Illinois, planning to be absent from four to six weeks. They will visit at Chicago, Freeport, and the old home of Mrs. Blair, at Amboy. They will also go to Naperville, where they are invited to the wedding of a niece, Miss Florence Gibson, who has a number of acquaintances here made while a guest at the Blair home in this city.

When Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri asked for 80,000 men at $2.50 per day and board it was a hard jolt for the calamity howlers of the east where they claim to have so many idle men. Iowa, Nebraska and the Dakotas will soon want as many more, and on these boundless prairies there is room for millions more if the government will make it so that the people who work it may own the land in small tracts.

Wm. Hickenbotham, wife and their twin sons were last week visiting at the home of her parents, Peter Baker and wife. Their home is at Aberdeen, South Dakota. They visited her brother Wendel Baker who has been so seriously ill at Wakefield, and report that he is slowly recovering, and has been taken to his home. Monday morning they left for Omaha to visit her sisters at that place before returning to their home.

Wm. Wolter and wife, formerly of Wakefield, but now living at Omaha came last Friday to visit at the home of Wm. N. Andresen. Mr. Wolter tells the Democrat that he was a pioneer neighbor to Mr. Andresen's father near Oakland. Mr. Wolter came to Nebraska in 1875, and in 1881 moved to a farm near Wakefield which they left to make their home at Omaha more than four years ago. They were here ahead of the railroad and fuel was hard to get. They burned hay several winters, twisting it into a hard rope to burn. At night when they wished to keep fire over night they would tie a knot in their rope of hay and shut the stove up tight and retire and put plenty of bed cover over themselves—then start a new fire in the morning. He made his farm buildings before the railroad was beyond Emerson, hauling all of his lumber from that place, and saw many privations and endured much hardship.

The Nebraska newspaper builders are many of them great combine and trust busters, yet four out of five of the exchanges that come to our table are patrons of the worst combine—the most complete monopoly of which we know—the ready-print concern—a combination which takes [the] very bread out of the mouth of the country editor, leaving him to do the work while they reap the profit. Last week the editor of the Beemer Times stayed at home from the annual meeting of the Press association and told what the trouble with the organization is—and told it straight. The main guy sells patents he avers, and the man using patents is never given a voice in the place. He tells how the big concerns have two sets of prices for job printing and at times take it for simply enough to keep their help busy on pay that they may have them when they can get a job at their own price. He cited a sample case where he figured on a job and made a low bid, $20, and to keep the job at home offered to cut that to $18—but the city house had sent in a mail bid of $11.50. He asked permission to take the job to them for a bid in person and in his own name, and the same firm when he went to their office with the work bid $22.50, and some other job concern put the price as high as $25. Life is not all sunshine, even for the country newspaper man.

The contract for the building of the new school house at Carroll has been let to R. F. Hughes and Son of Elliott, Iowa, at $14,568.75. The highest bid was $22,320, which shows quite a difference of opinion. Foster and Son of this place had in a bid below the $15,000 mark.

Word comes from Grinnell, Iowa, of the death of Mrs. Triplett at that place last Monday. She was known to all of the people of Wayne a few years ago—Etta Cullen, who grew to womanhood here and was a student both in the public school and college. The burial was at her late home town.

H. E. Dotson, who was for a long time employed at the L. A. Fenske jewelry store, thinks there is no place quite equal to Wayne, and so he is again at his bench here. He went away last year to make himself more proficient in his work and comes back a graduate from a school of watchmaking, jewelry and optical work, which with his previous experience makes him very desirable as an assistant.

The last of the old pioneers of Cuming county was buried at West Point Thursday afternoon of last week. John Bromer, one of the first settlers, died at the home of his son, Thomas, at Pierce, on Tuesday and was brought to his old home at West Point for burial. He had been a resident of Cuming county since 1856, settling on a farm north of the city. On his retirement from the farm he went into the grain business at West Point.

The little flurry of wind that visited Wayne last week Wednesday evening was in the nature of a small twister three miles south, and at the J. H. Claussen place it damaged some of the small buildings somewhat. The rains also brought a rich coating over the pasture on the Claussen farm which is not good for the grass already grown, burying some of it in mud, but for next season or even a few weeks later it will add to the fertility of the soil.

Dr. Texley of Carroll was defendant in an action brought before Judge James Britton this week by Carl Hurlbut, in which the plaintiff asked for a judgment for $600 to pay expenses and hospital fees made necessary, he claims because the doctor did not set properly a broken leg for the little son of Hurlbut. The jury returned a verdict for $450 for the plaintiff—and defendant it is said will appeal the case, though as yet the appeal has not been filed.

All Coming to Wayne

Wayne is ready for the incoming crowds of old soldiers and their friends for the rest of the week.

There is a peanut stand on every corner, sometimes lemonade will flow as freely as blood did at Gettysberg, and as red, and no one need go dry more than a single block. The old soldiers will hold campfire at the city hall. A bowery dance will be a place for all to warm up. The display windows of the stores will be inviting—are inviting. Today we celebrate the first of a 3-day campaign. Come to Wayne—come early, stay until the next morning so as to be here again.

The famous G. A. R. drum corps gathered here Wednesday evening. From Sioux City, Lewis and Atlantic Iowa. The same old boys who have been using the fife and drums since the battle days of '61-5. Come and hear them. It will stir your blood and make you want to lick the Mexicans.

West Point Boosters

Three car loads of West Point boosters were here this morning, a band, men and women to the number of about 125 and Messrs. Elliott and Fred Hunker marched the streets with banners and parols announcing the big races meet to be held at that place July 14, 15 and 16. Their program consists of four or five races each day and there are a total of more than 150 entries. It was hard work for the train crew to get their passengers "all aboard" for they were evidently in love with this good town and very reluctant to depart, and we don't blame them. They were given a hearty welcome by our citizens, and had the knowledge of their coming been more generally known their reception would have been by more people.

Opportunity to Buy Home

Saturday, July 18 there will be an opportunity to purchase a Wayne home at whatever price you see fit to offer. Mrs. Gustafson will sell her place of a full quarter block west of M. E. church to the highest bidder says Auctioneer Cunningham. This place is a desirable property, and the neat house is so located that the lot could be divided which makes it more available should purchaser wish to sell part of the place. It is to sell—be there. Read the adv.

Coming to a Good County

With bright crop prospect here, our enterprising feeders and dealers in stock are beginning to import stock to fatten on the rich feed so abundant. L. Hanson unloaded four cars loads of lambs and sheep this morning for his place north of town, and the first of the week L. C. Gildersleeve received a car load of stock hogs.

The Old Drum Corps

Messrs. H. M. Brown, R. S. McGeehon, Byron Bair of Atlantic, Iowa, and W. W. Wolf of Lewis, Iowa, the famous veteran drum corps, reinforced by Comrade Irons of Sioux City are here to furnish martial music for the reunion. They expect to be joined by several others this evening.

The M. W. A. Troubles

The recent meeting of the Head Camp of the Modern Woodmen of America at Toledo, Ohio, and the re-election of the old Head Officers, was an enactment of the infamous Chicago convention of 1912, when the republican insurgents were annihilated by the steam roller of the Taft administration. The very same methods were employed to unseat insurgent delegates and seat the rump delegations of Talbot. The insurgents lacked the leadership of a "Tony" and did not bolt. It was a demonstration of what skillful political manipulation can do to perpetuate men in office and defeat the will of the majority. The insurgents were mollified by an apparent surrender of the faction who favored an increase in the rates of insurance. It was only a temporary abatement, however, as the rates are admitted to be too low. It is only a question of time until state or national laws will compel a raise in the rates. To add to the discomfort of the defeated and crushed insurgents, the steam roller crowd who allowed the old rates to stand, raised Talbot's salary to ten thousand dollars and the other head officers accordingly. The amissaries of the old line insurance companies will no doubt keep busy fermenting mischief among the Woodmen. This great order cannot expect to thrive under present conditions. Truth and justice must be the foundation of all American institutions. The dark shadows of dishonesty which hangs over the election of Talbot, will in time be shown in the disintegration of the gigantic order or result in the forming of a new insurgent order. Should every Modern Woodman who places principal above self, withdraw and help to found another order with a revised rate and free from the corruption of perpetuated politicians, he will find us with him. If this be the reason, make the most of it.

Get the Money

We note that several of our exchanges both large and small are biting at this campaign started by the railroads and telephone trusts against government and municipal ownership.

Papers like the Saturday Evening Post will get millions of dollars to raise an issue and they will employ the best writers available and those versatile gentlemen will get up a story without really telling lies that will fool the readers as completely as if they had falsified. Make those people pay for the stuff you print. All of this fiction about how the public utilities are handled in Europe butters no parsnips here.

In many foreign countries the son succeeds the father in positions of trust and honor even if the father was a scoundrel and the son a fool. This is one of the terrible scourges of fanatical suffragettism at this moment.

The great development of the transportation companies in the United States was accomplished by men who have been dethroned and in their places financiers have been placed who have no aim but to squeeze the last dollar the traffic will bear.—Creighton Liberal.

Hog Cholera Not Far Away

Our exchanges bring to us the story of lots of hog cholera in both Madison and Cumby counties and it might be well for Wayne growers to be especially cautious, and in this connection we state that another hog cholera day at the Nebraska University farm has been set for July 8 to which every person interested is invited. No charge will be made. At the first meeting, held recently, a representative number of hog raisers were present from different parts of the state. It proved to be so popular that the program of offering instruction on vaccination and other phases of hog cholera prevention on the second Wednesday of each month will be carried out as long as the demand warrants. The visitors on July 8 will inspect the serum plant, see the different processes of making serum and virus, and witness the vaccination of hogs. They will also examine cholera infected hogs and the carcasses after the post-mortem examination is made. From the post-mortem examination the stockmen are expected to become familiar with hog cholera diagnosis. Lectures on cholera prevention, as well as on other topics of interest to hog raisers, will be given. Instruction will begin at 9 o'clock and last throughout the day.

The Farmer's Philosophy

"That's not so bad," remarked the farmer as he looked at a cream check for $23.95, "for six cows in two weeks." Then he called a halt on the editor as he pulled a ready pencil out, and says "my wife won't want you to say anything about it in the paper." But it figured that allowing that they ate a little cream and butter as most of the farmers do, the cows were paying about 25 cents each per day besides raising a calf that will easily bring $30 when a year old if we have any correct recollection of what they were selling for last spring. Then there is a bunch of pigs growing into money pretty fast on the skim milk.

"If these young fellows would buy cows and milk 'em instead of buying automobiles and being milked, this county and people would be a lot better off," was the substance of the next remark. "Nothing pays better than milking," was the next assertion, and we believe it. If this county would develop a dairy industry that would place good cows on practically every farm the fertility of the land would be increased 100 percent in a few years and the wealth of the community would increase very rapidly, and after ten years to be taken in establishing the industry the wealth of this county would pile up faster than we could spend it. We have seen it tried, and you may go to any district adapted to dairying where they have followed it and you will find a prosperous community. Get the cows and they will earn the automobiles.

Cooperative Creamery Sentiment

Delegates from the farmers' unions over the states met at Fremont and decided to establish a cooperative creamery. One hundred and thirty-eight delegates were present. The complaint was that the present old line creameries make contracts and do not live up to them, so one man from Creighton contended. That the creamery companies now operating in the state are not in bona fide competition is an open sesame. Nor are they of any benefit to the towns where they operate. They take no interest in public enterprises and conduct all their business on the tight wad methods of most "line" concerns. The only resource the farmers have to get prices that are due them is to combine and handle their own cream and eggs and similar products. The central farmers' creamery at Fremont will probably locate stations over the state and the wiser ones who are now operating these stations for the old liners will quit and take a position with the Farmers' for these farmer concerns are usually successful in recent years as the farmers are aware that they must have experienced men just as the line concerns do.—Coleridge Blade.

Mediation Results

General Huerta still holds Mexico City, United States troops occupy Vera Cruz, and the Constitutionalists refuse to declare an armistice; yet although none of the specific things demanded have been accomplished, and the Mediators threaten to throw over their undertaking, history names few more momentous international events. Here were two nations whose hearts were filled with hatred and distrust, the one covering in fear, the other swelling with contempt; war was imminent, and to some it seemed inevitable. Yet the days of mediation have been spent in getting acquainted with each other. The Mexicans are after all human beings; and the Americans—well, they are human, too. The Niagara Conference is rationalizing the Monroe doctrine, and strengthening the cause of international arbitration. Talk in time of peace is sometimes tiresome, but in time of war it is a great pacifier. So talk on, O Mediators, talk on, till we become so well acquainted that we shall be ashamed to kill each other. Mediation a failure? As well say the Golden Rule has failed!—The Public.

Union Services at Court House Lawn

As has been the custom, the protestant churches of Wayne will hold union preaching services, Sunday evenings during July and August, at the court house lawn. These services will last one hour, from 7 to 8. The singing will be led by an orchestra and the entire service will be full of life and interest.

The preacher for the evening will not be announced before hand. An effort will be made to get seats for everybody. In case of rain there will be no service. Come on time. Join in all parts of the service with enthusiasm.

The harmony which prevailed at Lincoln last week when the democratic state committee held its annual meeting indicates that the democratic party of the state is not as badly divided as the republicans hoped they would prove to be. We may not agree always as to men and some minor questions, but that government, state and national, should be for the benefit of the people and not the interests of office holders is a recognized principle of democracy.

See the Democrat for wedding invitations.

A Bunch of Baby Beef

Two cars of "baby beef" that certainly was fine went from Carroll Monday to the South Omaha market. It was a bunch of nearly 50 pure bred short horn yearlings which John Shannon bought from John Gettman near Carroll. Mr. Gettman bought them last November and put them on feed and up to the time of selling they made a net gain of 160 pounds each, and were good enough to bring $80 each for the lot. That is a good price for a yearling and shows that the money is in good cattle whether kept for hearding or fed for market.

Mr. Shannon said that part of the bunch were heifers, and depreciated the fact that the demand called for them to go the block but said so long as the farmer or feeder could get more for a yearling than for a milch cow they were not apt to retain them for the latter purpose. When yearlings sell on foot at such a price one need not look for choice cuts of steak at a very low price.

The class and finish of this bunch of young cattle shows that Wayne county is in an ideal cattle country.

This ranch consists of 640 acres, 170 acres is second bottom and in the valley of the Republican River, and is actually worth all I ask for the entire tract. This ranch is one and one-half miles from Haigler, in Dundy county, Nebraska. The improvements consist of two houses, barns and other necessary buildings all in fair condition. Ranch all fenced and cross fenced. Two good wells and windmills. The 170 acres of bottom land is in good state of cultivation, balance rolling to rough, but well grassed and good pasture land. There is some outside range adjoining. Price $8,640. Terms.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
(Rev. Blessing, Pastor.)

Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The subject of the lesson for next Sunday will be "The Laborers in the Vineyard." Regular Divine worship every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The subject of the sermon for next Sunday morning will be "A Larger Vision" Matthew 5:8. In an old English home sat a mother and her son, before the fireside. They were watching the fire embers as they softly fell and slowly became lifeless. They had a significance which calmed the minds of the mother and child, and kept them humble, thoughtful and reflective. The mother was very busy with her work, now and then she would look up and through the window to the stars as they came out and strung themselves like golden beads on the Rosary of the heaven. The boy could not understand why his mother was acting as she did, thus he said, "Mother why do you look up?" The mother answered, "I look up, my son, to rest my eyes and to get a larger vision." Has God placed us in this world by happy firesides, with visionless eyes?

Does He cause us to dwell in the land He has so richly blessed with only earthly visions? As to the mother, He has given all of us the opportunity to look up, not only to rest our eyes but to get a larger vision.

There will be union meeting in the evening on the Court House lawn.

The Ladies Aid society met at the home of Mrs. C. J. Johnson last Thursday. Though the roads were not in the best of condition, a good number was in attendance; and the afternoon was pleasantly and profitably spent. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. N. J. Juhlin, July 9th.

Choir rehearsal every Tuesday evening at the church.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to worship with us.

Methodist Church

July Fourth is a good time to declare your intentions and begin to live the new life.

The Epworth League will operate a stand during the Reunion.

Class meeting Sunday morning thru all the season.

Childrens day was observed last Sunday. A large audience was entertained and the program pronounced a success. Mr. and Mrs. Hendrickson's baby was baptized.

If parents will co-operate with us it will add greatly to the success of our Junior church work.

The regular meeting of the Light Bearers and Kings Heralds at 4:00 Sunday afternoon.

The mid-week prayer meeting occurs regularly on Wednesday evenings and everybody is invited.

The basement of church will be at the service of any who may desire to use it during the reunion. Any who wish to use the tables of the Ladies Aid for picnic dinners are welcome to them.

The third quarter of the Sunday school opens next Sunday. Let us make this the best third we have had in many years.

Two young ladies were immersed last week at the church, Misses Effie Dean of Thurston and Stella Vance, of Naper, Nebraska.

German Lutheran Church

Rev. Moehring, Pastor

There will be no services and Sunday school next Sunday as the pastor will preach at Winside.

Baptist Church

Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor

We had two splendid audiences last Sunday. In the evening, not only the auditorium but the side room was well filled. A spirit of deepest interest was manifested by all.

The large attendance and responsiveness at the young people's meeting pleased all. The addition of the orchestra adds very materially to the life of this meeting.

Mrs. Laughlin has added new interest to the missionary meetings. They have rightly been among our best meetings of the month. We trust our young people shall never lose the broader sympathy and wider interest in Christian work.

Do not forget the new program of the young people's work. During July and August the meeting will follow the Union Service. It will give an opportunity for many of the older people to join in the service. Let all help make these meetings effective and influential. Mr. Rogers, the newly elected president of the society will lead the meeting Sunday.

"The Sign of the Cross," will be the subject of a short communion address Sunday morning. It will be preceded by a brief children's sermon. Don't forget to bring your boys and girls.

Open Letter No. IV

To the landless man in Nebraska. Read the following editorial from the Sioux City Tribune and then do a little hard thinking for yourself, Molly and the babies.

You entertain no hope of ever owning a farm and you are raising a family to increase the present large majority of the landless.

The federal government is powerless to dissolve these large estates by taxation as England is doing as ours is an indissoluble union of undestructable states. But the legislature of a state, if its constitution permits can so apply the taxing power as to render the ownership of many farms unprofitable which would afford your opportunity to own one.

You are the majority. Let the people rule. Let Nebraska take the lead. E. J. RUNDELL

Our Own Landed Aristocracy

The decision of the supreme court validating the title of transcontinental railroads to land originally given them by the government affected land holdings by these roads in the enormous sum of $700,000,000 which we are informed by the Associated Press dispatches, is greater by seven times than the value of all the gold coin in the United States, or more than all the taxables, both real and personal, of a state like Nebraska.

We have not seen any data showing how these vast holdings are apportioned, or what is their extent by acres—or square miles—but the holdings of several separate railroads must be something enormous. According to data furnished by John Snure, The Tribune's Washington correspondent, the total land holdings of the Union Pacific railroad amount to nearly 14,000,000 acres or about one-third the size of Iowa.

Continuing Mr. Snure gives figures from court records, showing that one estate owns 14,500,000 acres in California; 182 individual owners possess one-half the state of Florida; 1,802 individual owners in seven states own 89,652,000 acres. The Weyerhaeuser Lumber interests own 1,500,000 acres, and Sentaor Stephenson, of Wisconsin, said in an interview a few days ago, said that he owned more timber land than any other man in the United States. A witness before a congressional committee a few weeks ago testified to owning 3,000,000 acres in Texas.

These figures furnish speculation. They pretend a land problem in this nation. Some of these holdings make English estates that Lloyd-George is dividing up look insignificant and they overshadow the large estates in Mexico which it is acknowledged must be divided into small holdings and possessed by the masses before any enduring peace can come to that country. No doubt the titles to all these lands are perfect; it is fair to assume they were honestly acquired. But the time will come when the moral right and the justice of 182 men owning one-half the state of Florida or one man in Texas owning 3,000,000 acres, will be challenged.

When that time comes, which it will unless the human desire for acquisition is eradicated, the people will not be balked for a solution. The precedents furnished by Lloyd-George's taxing large interests into dissolution in order to satisfy land hunger of the masses and solve the problem of increased production, or the more radical and arbitrary system of New Zealand, will point the way. While land monopoly is generally the last monopoly to go, it is also one of the most certain to go, for it is the basis of all other monopolies, in that a nation of independent land owners can defy all other monopolies.

Boys, Learn a Trade

You may have observed the scarcity of mechanics. It is impossible to get a job done that requires mechanical skill; and if an artisan is secured you will need two languages to talk to him and an unlimited balance at the bank to pay him.

American boys are not learning trades. They want to be lawyers or doctors; or failing to secure the necessary education for those professions they are preparing themselves for "lucrative position"—$40 a month or so-about town where they can wear shiny hand-me-downs and avoid muscular labor. Parents often sympathize with their ambition, or lack of it; and if they do not it makes little difference; parents have little influence with their children these days. We cannot all be lawyers, doctors or bankers. The lads who desire to possess a portion of the earth and are not too lazy to earn it should learn trades.—Sibley-Tribune.

Ladies:

Our new match—the Safe Home Match—is just being introduced.

It embodies all the knowledge that we—the largest manufacturers of matches in this country—have been able to gather.

It is non-poisonous. A child might suck the head or several heads off Safe Home Matches. He wouldn't be poisoned. He wouldn't even be seriously ill.

Safe Home Matches do not spark or sputter. They light only on the tip. They are safe matches for the home. In efficiency they are probably 60% better than any match hitherto sold. They are so much safer and more reliable than ordinary matches that the Underwriters' Laboratories put their label on every box.

You are interested quite as much as we are in the introduction of a better, a safer match. We want your co-operation. May we have it?

WAYNE MARKET REPORT

Following are the market prices quoted us up to the time of going to press, Thursday:

Table with market prices for Oats, Corn, Barley, Spring wheat, Wheat, Eggs, Butter, Hogs, and Fat Cattle.

The tariff tax has been called the painless taxation because some of the people do not know that they are paying a tax every time they buy an article. And top of the tax they are usually paying a percentage of profit to the dealers who pass it along from producer to consumer.

The city editors sometimes make sport of their rural cousins (we would not want to claim a nearer relationship) over the "silly" items sometimes given space in the country paper. And now comes the staid Philadelphia Record and takes a full half column of good editorial space to inform its readers that Secretary of State Bryan had received from one of his Florida neighbors a present of one of the largest watermelons that ever came to Washington, or that ever was raised in Florida.

The Democrat editor is feeling fine these days at the manner in which the President and the members of his cabinet and the majority in Congress are doing their best to make good on the great reforms pledged in the last national platform. There are those who honestly differ who appear to see the dark side of the question, and so when he gets too full of enthusiasm he just opens up the American Economist (the mis-named organ of the great tariff-protected interests) and peeps at the gloom which surrounds them.

Democratic prospects are looking brighter. It is announced that Hearst with his chain of yellow journals has left the party—and following this comes the sad news across the waters that Teddy has lost his voice, or at least is told by a noted London throat specialist not to make public speeches, that he already has injured his vocal organs by so doing. Then President Wilson has discovered that when he gave business men chance to talk they declare that business is better than anticipated, and that if the people will get their heads right and go to work there will be no trouble. That no combination of men have yet been able to create a panic. In time of panic the banks always had trouble to get money—now the reverse is true in some quarters, and the banks cannot find borrowers, and are even refusing interest drawing deposits. If they will make "big business" play square they can get their money out. But after the expose of the New Haven road, and the knowledge that other big enterprises are being manipulated the same way it is little wonder that the small investor dare not risk his money in the hands of such pirates as the Morgans, Rockefellers and their pals have proven to be. Democratic prospects are looking brighter—they will grow brighter still as the people come to know what honest rule means for them.

At David City the First National Bank has just moved into an elegant new home—a building valued at about $30,000, of which all David City folks appear to feel justly proud, and doubtless wish that more such buildings could be erected within the borders of the city—and it makes one wonder how much in taxes this enterprising firm will be fined by the state, county and city authorities for improving the city. According to the law they should have to pay taxes on $6,000 for this improvement, which at the rate which is apt to prevail in cities of the class of David City would not be less than $480 annually, or $40 per month. Now the banker can afford it no doubt, but the question arises, is it a wise system of taxation that imposes such a fine upon an enterprise desired by all? The tax question is looming up big in Nebraska and all of the states, and we want people to study—to be able to adopt the best system.

Another organized political machine is that one opposed to the removal of the University buildings from their present location to the site of the state farm, and they are claiming now that the question is so framed on the ballot that the removal cannot be made, as it will require 88,088 to carry the measure, and its defeat in default of the required number of votes will be a victory for the buildings to remain on the present site. It is largely at present a fight of the real estate interests at Lincoln, but the people of the state should decide the question on its merits regardless of the owners of dirt at Lincoln who concededly have more interest for the dollars it means to them than the good of the school. To apply a bit of single tax legislation to the situation giving increased values of land to the public that makes them rather than to individuals who want them, would clear the controversy of some of the greed that is now pulling for a big rake off.

Many democrats feel that they are peculiarly afflicted this fall. They have four candidates from which to select the strongest and best. Three of them perhaps very evenly divide for popular favor of the voters. Two weeks ago we told briefly for what Metcalfe stands—last week we gave place to the plea of candidate Berge. Governor Morehead, the third man of the trio, has not that we have noticed made any specific declaration of the principles and platform on which he is making the race. In fact, upon his record as governor the past two years he most naturally appeals to the voters. His record is the best perhaps, of any executive who has filled the chair in recent years as a business executive. He has made some appointments that were not popular with all—and even Wilson has done that. Another thing urged against the governor is the pledge of one term which he voluntarily made two years ago, and which he doubtless meant at the time and adhered to until the pressure of his friends in all parts of the state made him feel that there was a call for him to remain in the office another term. The pledge which some now think should bar him we would consider of small moment in view of the present situation.

One of the missions of the Long Pine meeting of the Elkhorn Valley editorial association last week appears to have been to pass a non-partisan resolution condemning Congressman Stephens for his attitude toward the country press. Of course, we naturally believe that the men who run a newspaper and hold it loyally to the principles of democracy are entitled to recognition in some substantial manner. We believe that any man who becomes a party to a primary plan of any kind places his case with the people, and is by that act estopped from any kick at the man who originated the primary plan, unless he can prove that he was unjustly discriminated against. If we went into an election plan and had fair treatment we would be game enough to take the medicine and smile and smack our lips and call it good. We do not see how the men who became a candidate for the people's votes can consistently kick at Dea for what the people did. If they felt that the postoffice by right was theirs and that the congressman was the proper man to give it, they should have demanded their right and rejected the primary plan instead of becoming a candidate. The Democrat is willing to consider the attitude of our congressman on any public question fit subject to pass upon in the primary contest—including his views and manner of settling postoffice troubles, but we do not see how he can be held responsible for the decision of the people who accepted his primary plan of selecting postmasters.

NEBRASKA NEWS

Eight Are Cut For Republican Nomination In First District.

COUNTIES REPORT VALUATION.

Increase of Little Over Three Hundred Thousand In Sight—President Dick of State Normal School at Kearney Arrives In New Home.

Lincoln, June 30.—The filing of C. F. Reavis of Falls City arrived at the office of Secretary of State Wait. Mr. Reavis is the eighth candidate to throw his hat into the Republican congressional ring. He is an attorney of the Richardson county town.

The other candidates are Crawford Kennedy, Frank E. Edgerton, James E. Delzell and George Tobey of Lincoln; Charles Marshall of Nebraska City; W. W. Anness of Dunbar; Mat thew Gerling of Plattsmouth. Each man has tipped it off to his friends that he has a sure thing on the nomination, which makes the situation all the more complicated.

State Board Harvests Wheat.

The Nebraska state board of agriculture is harvesting its wheat crop. Superintendent William Foster and his men began cutting. The wheat was planted last fall on the twenty acres which is used for a tractor exhibit east of the fair grounds. The stand was heavy, the growth rank. Some of the wheat lodged during the heavy rains of the last two weeks. With this exception the results promise to be ideal.

Superintendent Foster displayed a number of heads of wheat which yielded sixty-four grains of wheat to the head. A conservative estimate for the whole tract was an average of forty bushels to the acre.

Court Suspends Sentence of Brown.

The supreme court suspended sentence in the case of Thomas J. Brown, convicted of cattle stealing by the Cherry county district court. Andrew J. Morrissey and Allen J. Fisher made application for the suspension on the grounds of error in the court's instructions to the jury. Brown was convicted of stealing seven head of cows, valued at $210, the property of Thomas Byron. He was given an indeterminate sentence of from one to ten years.

Harman Wins Case Against Butcher.

Food Commissioner Harman received notice that he had won out in the prosecution of Mike Svantner, a St. Paul butcher, whom the department had accused of unsanitary and unlawful methods in the handling of hogs for sale over his counter. The butcher pleaded guilty on six counts and was fined $500. The cases were prosecuted by Inspectors Kemble and Mayo of the pure food department.

Commends Boys' Camp Idea.

Paul Cathcart of Gresham is the city delegate from York county for the state fair boys' school encampment. Walter M. Barbee, living near the same town, is the rural delegate. In sending in the names of the two representatives, Alice Florer, superintendent of York county, takes occasion to commend the boys' camp idea as an important branch of agricultural education.

President Dick Goes to Kearney.

Professor George S. Dick, selected by the state normal board as president of the Kearney normal school, arrived in the city from his Iowa home and took luncheon at the Lindell hotel with members of the state board who were in the city. Accompanied by Mr. Caviness of the board, he went to Kearney to look over the situation.

Complaints of Charge.

J. W. Shortliff, secretary of the Nebraska Farmers' Co-operative Grain and Live Stock association of Hampton, has filed a complaint with the state railway commission against the South Omaha Stock Yards association, claiming that the stock yards company makes yarding charge of 8 cents on hogs when but 6 cents is charged by Kansas City and St. Joseph.

Two File For Senate.

Con McCarthy of York filed for the Democratic nomination for the state senate from the Seventeenth district. W. L. Weesner of Red Cloud, who served in the lower branch of the 1911 session of the legislature, has filed for the Democratic nomination for the state senate from the Twentieth district.

Pullman Pays Tax.

The Pullman Sleeping Car company sent its corporation tax to the secretary of state in the amount of $250. The company is incorporated for $120,000,000, but bases its tax on the amount of its property in Nebraska, which is represented to be $655,482.

Lahners Makes Filing.

Thomas Lahners of Belvidere has filed for the state senate from the Fifteenth district on the Republican ticket, comprising the counties of Thayer and Jefferson, represented in the last session by John Heasty.

To Arrange Camp.

Adjutant General Phil Hall and Major Haysel left for Des Moines to make arrangements for the encampment of the Nebraska national guard, which this year will camp with the Iowa guard at Fort Dodge.

Counties Report Valuation.

Twenty-seven counties have reported to date on the assessed valuation to the secretary of the state board of assessment. In comparison with last year, there is an increase of $328,000.

CROP CONDITIONS PERFECT

Weekly Railroad Report Most Optimistic Yet Issued.

Omaha, June 30.—The weekly crop reports from Nebraska points received by the railroads are the most optimistic of any heretofore issued this year, all indicating that the yield of small grain is the largest in the history of the state and that the corn is coming on rapidly, giving promise of being a bumper crop.

The Burlington's crop report shows that the wheat harvest is well along over the entire country south of the Platte and is in progress farther north. In the extreme south part of the state threshing has commenced and, according to the report, east of Oxford the yield is from twenty-five to forty bushels per acre.

In the northwestern section of Nebraska, up in the Alliance country, while the wheat will not be ready for harvest before the last of this week, the yield promises to be immense, the condition at this time being estimated at 110 per cent.

In many sections of Nebraska corn has been laid by on account of it having grown to such a height that it can no longer be cultivated. It is nearly ready to tassel and is said to be ten days ahead of the season. Over practically all of Nebraska the condition of the crop at this time is put at 100 per cent.

The meadows are yielding an immense quantity of feed for live stock and the second crop of alfalfa is about ready for cutting.

The railroads are all receiving reports of a scarcity of men for carrying on the harvest and in many sections of the state the ruling daily wage is $3 with board and lodging.

BOARD HEARS COMPLAINT

Omaha Road Is More Solicitous Regarding Cattle Than People.

Dakota City, Neb., June 29.—Inadequate facilities for getting in and out of Sioux City was given as the reason for the remonstrance of citizens of Wynot, Neb., and other towns along the Wynot division of the Omaha railway heard here by the Nebraska state railway commission.

The remonstrators were headed by E. A. Sullivan, a Wynot banker. Claim was set up that the Omaha road paid more attention to the promptness of cattle shipments than it did to its passengers and the schedule of passenger trains. The allegations were based on the mixed passenger and freight service run on the passenger schedule of the Wynot division. Freight cars are carried on passenger trains and passenger coaches on freight trains, it is charged.

OLD LANDMARK IS BURNED

Plant of Amboy Milling Company Destroyed by Fire.

Red Cloud, Neb., June 30.—An old landmark, familiar and serviceable, a light to the pioneers of the Republican valley, was removed when the property of the Amboy Milling company of Amboy, Neb., was destroyed by fire and lightning. From a small beginning in the early days the property was gradually enlarged and improved to meet the demands of the community, until it represented an investment of about $20,000, which was a total loss. There was no insurance on the building or contents.

Pigs Successfully Treated.

Stella, Neb., June 29.—Dej Harbaugh, manager of the Miles ranch in this county, has marketed 1,700 hogs since the first of the year. This entire number of hogs were all cholera immune. Says Mr. Harbaugh: "Our rule in handling these hogs is to give the pigs a preparatory dose of anti-hog cholera serum when four weeks old, and then at twelve weeks the double treatment is given, which makes them immune. This is a safe and sure method by which hog cholera may be stamped out."

Murder Charge Filed.

Plattsmouth, Neb., June 29.—County Attorney Calvin H. Taylor filed a complaint in the county court, charging George Barr with having committed murder in the first degree by the shooting and killing of Abraham Meeker. At the preliminary a continuance of the case was granted the defendant until July 6. The prisoner was taken back to the county jail in Omaha for safe keeping, as the new Cass county jail is not completed.

Killed by Kick of a Horse.

Anselmo, Neb., June 29.—Frank Fleischman, aged thirty, living with his parents in Dale Valley, ten miles from here, was fatally kicked in the stomach by a horse. Besides his parents, he leaves several brothers and sisters. One brother was killed two years ago by the bursting of an emery wheel and another brother died of mountain fever in Montana last summer.

Rummel Killed When Train Hits Auto.

Battle Creek, Neb., June 30.—George Rummel of Omaha was killed here by a Northwestern train, which struck his car at a crossing near here. Rummel is in the employ of the Ritchie Sand company of Omaha and Meadow.

Body of Bushhouses Recovered.

Ravenna, Neb., June 30.—The body of George Bushhouses, who was drowned at the mill dam in Beaver creek last week, was found half a mile below. The body was floating when found.

Hoagland Out For Lieutenant Governor

North Platte, Neb., June 30.—Senator Walter V. Hoagland of this city filed as a Republican candidate for the office of lieutenant governor.

Don't Go Into Debt on a Rented Farm. Get into the dairy business on your own farm. I can put you in touch with the owners of fine prairie lands of rich soil, from 300 to 400 miles west of Omaha, which can be bought on very easy terms at from $15 to $40 per acre. You are sure to make money by modern dairy practice, because the silo is the solution of the dairy problem and feed crops are heavy on these lands. If you haven't money at first to build a silo, dig one. Good farmers with proper equipment and feed can secure cows on time. These owners make these special terms to dairy farmers, because they know that a good dairy farmer will make money by CORN-SILO farming and will soon clean up his obligations. Then hogs and poultry fit right in and round out the profits. These 160-acre tracts are located among improved farms in established communities. Give me your name, let me help you become the owner of a dairy farm, no matter whether you want to buy one on easy terms in Nebraska or Eastern Colorado, or whether you want to homestead a 320-acre Mondell tract in Wyoming.

Boosting Nebraska

What was perhaps one of the best addresses that has been given so far during the week session was the talk given by Mrs. Marie Weekes of Norfolk, on "Boosting Nebraska." The talk was given during the round table discussions of the morning on that subject. In part the speech of Mrs. Weekes follows:

"Boosting Nebraska is one of the easiest and most agreeable occupations one can find. Every country editor has a great advantage in that he can make his paper a booster for his state as well as his community. An article columns in length is not needed for the purposes of boosting. Short, pertinent, and to the point, paragraphs are all that are necessary.

"Too often do we find the average country editor afraid, to boost the state or other communities other than his own, for fear of hurting the ethics of his business office never realizing the indirect value to the state and to himself by publishing publicity matter of communities other than his own.

"Correspondents should not wait until some large murder story or bit of scandal "breaks" in their respective communities before sending it to their various papers.
They should find the cleaner, booster stories and the boosting of the accomplishments of the farmers of their various communities."

She especially urged the association to take steps by adopting resolutions to set the standard of natural journalism by refusing to exploit the unfortunate happenings in the various communities.

"The time will come," stated Mrs.
Weekes, "that the accomplishments of the farmers of the many communities will be of greater importance to the public than the work of the district congressman, and when the newspapers will advocate greater agricultural development than the development of the armies.

"It makes no difference to me," stated Mrs. Weekes, "whether the state university is moved or whether it remains on its present site so long as its advantages are carried into every country district, and every hamlet and town. Give us university extension," declared Mrs. Weekes, "so that we can make university education the necessity of the poor instead of the luxury of the rich." In closing she pleaded for the newspapers to forget the petty politics with which they were taking up the space in their papers, and to work together for a bigger, better and greater Nebraska.—Lincoln Daily Star.

Letter About Francitas, Texas

Palacios, Texas, June 2, 1914.
Nebraska Citizens:—I live joining the Francitas, Texas, land tract. The climate is fine. The soil, of the Francitas land, is productive. Few Nebraskians understand the true conditions of things there. I have several tracts which are scattered.—The Francitas Land Companies do not bunch, trade or sell tracts of land for us. No person can make a good living on 10 acres of this land. Many 20, 10 and 5 acre tracts are being sold from 50 to 150 dollars each. The land companies will freeze us out.
We will be compelled to sell at their price or they will get the tracts back by tax title.

There is nothing to show for the four or five dollars each landholder gave for public improvements except a three roomed school building. A few did not donate their share from the sale of the public buildings at the time of the opening, but no one has received their money yet. Not to my knowledge.
I have not received mine. Have you?

We will loose every dollar we put into it unless some one will lend a hand. I am not a land agent but will bunch my tracts my self. The land company has refused to give up the names and addresses of the thousands of Francitas land holders. Send me your numbers and I will do what I can for you. I would advise anyone to buy joining tracts or sell out if you cannot bunch them. You can not use them as they are.

I will answer questions for any one sending me a stamped envelope.

(a Nebraska Citizen). Box 252,

Farmers' Union Locals

It will not be long till the farmers of Cedar county will be asking a man to take off his hat and see if it bears the union label before they will hire him to work on the corn plow or in the harvest fields.
Cedar county is rapidly being "unionized". Within the last week several new "locals" have been formed. On Friday night of last week at the Leise school house, Paragon local was organized and Joe Arens was elected president and Ely Nordby secretary-treasurer. On Saturday night at the North Star school house the local organized with Ben Hendricksen as president and Joseph W. Leise as secretary-treasurer. Of the local with headquarters at the Hahn school Sam Scheger is president and Peter Dreesen secretary-treasurer. Others are being formed from day to day, or rather, from night to night. Give the pass word and show your card—or you can't get in.

local of the farmers' union are

In Sweden only 75 out of 2,000 exchanges give night calls.

In Austria less than 2% of the exchanges give all night service. In Germany all small exchanges close during the night, and larger exchanges charge extra for night calls.

In England small exchanges are only open during the day. In France small exchanges are closed at 7 p. m., two hours at noon, and after

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Cattle Trade Steady, With Best Grades Strong.

HOGS GENERALLY 5C HIGHER

Lamb Market Weak to 10@15c Lower. Mutton Steady to a Shade Off—No Choice Stuff on Sale.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, June 30.—Some 4,000 head of cattle arrived today. To all intents and purposes the fat cattle market was steady with Monday, and there was a good healthy demand for desirable offerings, both heavy and light. Strictly choice heavy beefs sold up around $8.90@9.50 as far as the dry lot cows and heifers were concerned the demand was weak and the market active and strong. On the grassy and medium to common grades the demand was indifferent and the trend of values lower, some dealers quoting prices 15@25c lower than at the best time last week. Veal calves were just about steady, and bullocks, stags, etc., were notably unchanged. There was very little noticeable change in the market for stock cattle and feeders. Good to choice grades, both fleshy and thin, found tolerably ready sale at full recent quotations.

Cattle quotations:—Choice to prime beefs, $8.70@9.15; good to choice beefs, $8.35@8.70; fair to good beefs, $7.50@8.30; common to fair beefs, $7.20@8.25; good to choice heifers, $6.75@7.50; fair to good cows, $5.75@6.50; canners and cutters, $3.75@5.75; veal calves, $7.50@10.50; bullocks, stags, etc., $5.25@7.65; good to choice feeders, $7.50@8; fair to good feeders, $6.75@7.50; common to fair feeders, $6.25@6.75; stock cows and heifers, $5@7.25; stock calves, $6.50@7.75. Hog receipts totaled 8,800 head today. The market was rather slow today, but prices were generally a nickel higher, and in some cases 5@10c up. Bulk of the sales was made at $8.20@8.25, with a top of $8.32 1/2.

Sheep and lamb receipts amounted to 8,000 head. Trade was slow, as on Monday, and prices were weak to 10@15c lower on lambs and steady to a shade off on yearlings, wethers and ewes. The range of lambs moved largely at a spread of $8.50@8.70. A bunch of Oregon wethers sold up to $5.30, and some Idaho ewes moved at $4.60@4.70.

Quotations on range sheep and lambs: Lambs, good to choice, $8.75@9.10; lambs, fair to good, $8.40@8.75; lambs, feeders, $5.75@6.45; yearlings, good to choice, $6.35@6.60; yearlings, fair to good, $6@6.35; wethers, good to choice, $5.30@5.50; wethers, fair to good, $5.15@5.30; ewes, good to choice, $4.50@4.80; ewes, fair to good, $4.25@4.50.

ELBA AND ST. HELENA.

Napoleon's Comic Opera Empire and His Grim Island Prison.

An "empire" eighteen miles in length and twelve miles in extreme width, such is the Mediterranean Isle of Elba, to which Napoleon was consigned by the victorious allies and where he received the homage of his new subjects. Elba, long a place of pilgrimage for tourists from all nations, lives chiefly in the memories of that ten months of comic opera, when the man who had all but mastered Europe aped his vanished royalty and, like a child with a new toy, issued foolish decrees which began, "Napoleon, emperor, sovereign of Elba, to his people."

Utterly devoid of a sense of humor the emperor must have been to take his new position so seriously. It was a huge joke that the powers played upon the Corsican by permitting him to retain the title of emperor and awarding him a "kingdom" that placed him on the same footing with the sultan of Sulu and the king of the Canibal Isles.

If Napoleon had remained there he would doubtless have become what his enemies intended he should become—an object of derision, the butt of the world's sneers and jeers. But he did not stay, and the glory of the "hundred days," the brave carnage of Waterloo, the culminating tragedy of St. Helena, restored Napoleon to a place among the world's heroes.

St. Helena was grim and terrible. There humanity pictures Napoleon "with his hands crossed behind him, gazing out upon the sad and solemn sea"—a caged lion, feared by all the world. Elba was trifling, pitiful, petty, insignificant, and there Napoleon was a caged monkey to be laughed at. —New York World.

ECCENTRIC CHESTERTON.

He Doesn't Mind How He Dresses, and His Wife is His Guardian.

There is one English author at least who admits quite frankly that he is practically dependent on his wife, and that is big G. K. Chesterton. Like most geniuses—and G. K. Chesterton is too much absorbed in the details of his creative work to bother much with mere business and social ones, and how many of his commissions would be executed and how many of his appointments kept if it were not for Mrs. C. goodness only knows. She acts as his "business conscience" and goes with him on almost every journey.

It is on record, however, that once when Chesterton had a journey to make visitors arrived, and Mrs. Chesterton, being called upon to play the part of hostess, was unable to accompany her husband. However, she started him off with the words, "Now, Gilbert, you know where you are to lecture and what your subject is," and Chesterton went to the railway station. Arriving there, he banded down a sovereign at the booking office and said, "A ticket."

"Where for?" asked the astonished clerk.

"Free Trade hall," replied Chesterton.

"Oh, Glasgow, then?" said the clerk, and Gilbert, assenting, received a ticket for that station.

Stepping into the street at Glasgow, he was hailed by a friend: "Hallo, Chesterton! What are you doing here?"

"Oh, I'm lecturing at the Free Trade hall."

"Oh, no; you're not," said the friend.

"Oh, yes; I am," protested Chesterton. "I booked the engagement some months ago."

"But you cannot be," maintained the friend, "for the place is being renovated and the painters are in."

It slowly dawned upon Chesterton that he was at the wrong place, and he, further to justify his claim to greatness, sent a telegram to his wife: "Am here. Where ought I to be?"

Even Mrs. Chesterton, however, apparently cannot always compass the feat of having her rotund husband costumed according to Hoyle. I remember quite vividly a soiree which I once attended at the Chestertons' flat in Overstrand Mansions, Battersea, and even more vividly how G. K. C. was dressed. Part of his costume consisted of trousers and waistcoat of a brown mixture and a dark red tie, and with these he wore—it is almost incredible, yet true—a dinner coat! He was in great form that evening and kept us all well edified and entertained. I don't suppose he had the faintest idea what he had on!—Hayden Church in Philadelphia Ledger.

There are moments when a man would sooner be anywhere than where he is.

Take the case of the young man who was talking with an heiress who can write checks with five figures.

"Which do you consider the most conducive to happiness, Mr. Gigglesworth, money or beauty?" she asked.

What could he say?

The heiress is as plain as the law permits heiresses to be.

If the young man said "beauty" the lady would be offended. If he said "money" she might consider it a proposal.

Then he rallied.

"Having neither," he said, "I'd rather not be quoted."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

He Saw the Joke.

A hearty laugh had gone almost around over the story of the fisherman who, to locate the place on the lake where he had good luck, cut a nick in the side of his boat. "Almost around," for the Englishman sat solemn and silent. About five minutes later, however, he awoke with a roar of laughter, and when asked the trouble, replied: "Well, wouldn't it be a corking good joke if that fisherman got a different boat the next time he went out?"

Deep Breathing.

"Learn to sit or stand erect and breathe deeply," says a health expert. "Remember that your blood cannot be properly washed with half a lungful of air any more than you can take a proper bath in a few pints of water." Everybody must know what a joy there is in the deep breathing of the pure air of the morning. The lungs respond to the stimulus much as the body reacts from a dash of cold water.—Columbus Dispatch.

Driven to it.

"Can you make me a bureau with a secret drawer?"

"Yep. Place to hide a will, eh?"

"No; I just want to have a place where I can keep a few clothes. My wife's things occupy all the visible space."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
