The Storm of Last Week

That spell of Nebraska weather last week will probably go down in history as the one which made the pioneer set up and look well to his laurels as having ever experienced its equal. There was nothing bad about it except the continuous snow fall with just wind enough to pile it in the sheltered places. The weather was not severely cold, the mercury barely touching zero after the snowing and blowing was over. The snow fall here was about 14 inches—north of here it was reported to be two feet. Wagon roads were almost impassable for several days, and the rural route men could not make their entire trip.

The railroads were against a continual fight. Trains on this line of the M. & O. were kept moving, but behind schedule time until Saturday night, when the west bound passenger was stuck in the snow at Apex and remained there until morning, when another crew and train dragged them out and back to Winside and Wayne. Monday morning the road was opened through again, so Wayne only missed one day service from the west and none from the east, which is a good record.

The branch line was kept open most of the time as far as Randolph, but regular service was not maintained. But above that point there was trouble. A plow was sent out ahead of the train Tuesday evening anticipating trouble, and they found it. Wednesday they managed to get their trains and plow as far as Wausa, and then winter set in and they were unable to move either way, and it was not until Tuesday night, when a rotary plow was brought to their aid that the imprisoned crews and passengers were brought out. Superintendent Blundale was with the train all of this time, and he will fully realize what the train men had to contend with. With five train crews and more than 30 passengers stranded at the little town of Wausa and all outside supplies cut off the luxuries of life were soon exhausted and even some of the necessities were none too plentiful. But all lived to tell the tale, but none of them care to repeat the experience. Pictures of the plows and trains show little but snow, so nearly were they buried. At places the snow was more than 20 feet deep.

In County Court

The case of Goeman vs. Heffron furnished amusement and instruction for a lot of people Tuesday afternoon. The jury after considering all of the evidence introduced and the pleas of the attorney's as well as the rulings of the court found judgment for plaintiff in the sum of 59 cents. Defendant, who does not mind the amount of the verdict rather dislikes the idea of having the costs of the case amounting to about $18 go with the 59 cents, and says that he will appeal.

The questions involved in the case related to the purchase of a quarter of beef by defendant from plaintiff, which it was alleged might have been better if not so far removed from the veal stage before coming to the slaughter house. Defendant presented claims for commission for collecting some accounts said to be as old and tough as the beef, and in striking a balance between the tough accounts the jury reached the verdict before mentioned.

Lecture Course

The International Entertainers will present the last number of the lecture course Wednesday evening, March 17th at 8:15 at the opera house.

An exceptionally high class, Novelty program of magic, chalk talk, comedy cartoon, Ventriloquism and music. Do not fail to hear them. Admission 25 and 50 cents. Reserved seats on sale at Werts' Pharmacy.—adv.

Tuesday Stock Shipments

L. M. Owen went to South Omaha with a car of fat cattle; Milo Kremke went with two cars. Fred H. Walters took a car of hogs from his feed yard to the same market. On Wednesday Adam Saul was at South Omaha with a car of hogs from his farm.

Complete line children's shoes. Every pair guaranteed. Baughan's Bootery.—adv.

Death of Mrs. E. R. Chace

Monday, March 8, 1915, death came to Mrs. E. R. Chace, for many years a resident of this place, at her home at Stanton, where they moved from here eight years ago. She attained the age of 84 years, 2 months and 27 days, and the end came after six years of gradually failing health, the result of an apopleptic stroke. Friday she began to fail rapidly and the children were called to her home, and all were present before the end came and at the funeral service which was held at the late home Tuesday by Rev. Poucher of the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Klopp of the Congregational church.

She was married in her native town of Hamden, Ohio, November 30, 1851, to Edwin R. Chace who was her companion until November 15, 1912, when he died. She is survived by four sons and three daughters, C. A. Chace of this place, Charles and Nathan Chace of Stanton, James C. Chace of Pliger, Mrs. Chas. McLeod and Mrs. S. Person of Stanton and Mrs. Mark Miller of Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

Ten years after marriage they moved to Iowa, settling at Quasketon, in the northeastern part of the state, and later went to Barton county, Missouri, where they resided until 1883, when they came to Wayne, and made this place their home for nearly a quarter of a century, and where she held a high place in the esteem of all.

C. A. Chace went to her bedside last week, and Tuesday Mrs. Chace went to Stanton to attend the funeral.

The Annual Declamatory Contest

The annual declamatory contest was held in the high school auditorium last Friday evening. A large crowd of friends of the school was in attendance. The first number on the program was a group of musical selections by the school orchestra. This was the first appearance of the newly organized orchestra and they acquitted themselves well. The music was followed by the contestants, Miss Edna McVicker appearing first, her selection being the dramatic story, "One Niche the Highest." This was well presented in spite of the fact that Miss Edna had been ill with tonsillitis for a week, and not entirely recovered. Warda Randol followed with the humorous selection, "Cold Molasses"; LeRoy Owen, the oration, "Plea for Cuba"; Ralph Ingham, who had also been ill and was suffering with a sore throat, the oration, "The New South"; Virginia Bowen, the dramatic selection, "The Light from Over the Range"; Elizabeth Mines, "Keeping a Seat at the Benefit"; and Ruth Carpenter, "The Annexation of Cuba." While the judges, Miss Sellick, Professor H. H. Hahn and Prof. C. H. Bright, of the state normal were preparing their decision, the high school chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Louise Murrell, sang three selections.

First place was won by Warda Randol, who will represent Wayne in the district contest to be held at Norfolk, March 25. The work of the contestants this year was of an unusually high order and the contest exceedingly close.

Notice

A caucus of the citizens of Wayne, Nebraska, will be held at the city hall in said city on the 19th day of March, 1915, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the offices of mayor, city clerk, treasurer, city engineer, and two members of board of education; and ward caucuses of the first, second and third wards of said city will be held at the same time and place for the purpose of nominating a candidate for councilman from each of said wards, which said candidates so nominated will be voted on at the annual election of said city to be held on the 6th day of April, 1915.

W. D. Redmond, Chairman.
L. A. Kiplinger, Secretary.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to the neighbors and friends who so kindly helped us in the sickness and loss of our darling baby and we also thank the friends for the floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Roe,
Mr. and Mrs. M. Bittner.

To Change City Wards

The city council has held two meetings since the last report was published, and aside from allowing the bills listed below the most important business was the passage of an ordinance changing the ward lines so that the voters will be more equally divided between the two wards of the city. As the wards have been arranged since the city was divided into wards all south of 2d street was 1st ward territory, and the northeast part of the city, dividing on Main street was the 2d ward and the northwest part was the 3d ward. The new ordinance will move the ward line one block northwest of Main street and two blocks north on the east side of Main street and in each case extending to the east and west borders of the city on the streets designated. The normal vote of the wards as they have been was about 90 for the 1st ward and about 225 for the 2d and 200 for the 3d. The change will leave the 1st ward the small ward in point of number of votes, but the difference will not be so great.

At the meeting of February 23 the following bills were allowed:
Ringland, freight, $204.31.
Geo. Miner, salary, $80.00.
Murrill, salary, February, $90.
Harmer, salary, February, $65.
Newman, salary, February, $65.
Frank Bell, ditch work, $2.00.
Frank Peterson, Shoveling, $12.50.
Claire Lamberson, ditch work, $2.
Walter Miller, street and alley fund, $60.00.
Walt Sherbahn, work at plant, $4.50.
J. L. Payne, hay, $16.12.
G. W. Lamberson, coal $22.05, feed $36.80, total $58.85.
Chas. W. Foster, work on tank, $15.75.
Jas. G. Mines, batteries, $80.
On March 9th bills were allowed as follows:

Electric Light Fund:

Sheridan Coal Co., 4 cars coal, $320.42.
J. M. Cherry, freight paid on 2 cars of coal, $223.84.
J. M. Cherry, freight and express, $10.42.
Vincent Kenny, boiler grates, $34.20.
W. A. Hiscox, hardware, $17.40.
Frank Petersen, shoveling coal, $12.50.
W. B. Sherbahn, shoveling snow, $42.50.
L. A. Fanske, batteries, $1.15.
C. E. Conger, dray, 25c.

General Fund:

Crane Co., catch basin, $6.00.
W. S. Mott Co. real for chemical, $25.
Chas. Barham, shoveling snow, $5.00.
Nebr. Telephone Co., March, $6.40.

School Notes

The girls' basket ball team met the Wakefield girls' team in a game at the high school gymnasium Saturday evening, when the Wayne girls met defeat, the score being about 40 to 5 in favor of the visitors. From the first-play it was seen that the home team was far outclassed, and though they fought hard, they were helpless against the fine team work done by the Wakefield girls. Two former Wayne girls, Marjorie Beebe and Ida Kingsbury are members of the Wakefield team. A large and enthusiastic crowd was present to witness the game.

The high school girls' council is busy planning a social evening for all the girls of the high school, the lady teachers and a few invited guests. It is the plan to ask representatives from each of the women's clubs to be present and discuss plans for the improvement and social welfare of the high school girls.

The pupils of the fifth grade are very much interested in school gardening. They have five window boxes in which the boys have planted vegetable seeds and the girls, flower seeds. The plants will later be transplanted to gardens at their homes.

Miss Mamie Wallace was unable to be in school Monday because of illness. Loretta Croghan of the senior class had charge of the room.

Mrs. M. A. Phillips acted as one of the judges in the declamatory contest at Laurel Monday evening.

See the Democrat for wedding invitations.

Old Soldiers Oppose War

Monday there was a gathering of nearly all of the old soldiers living at Wayne—at least all who could come, at the office of A. J. Ferguson in honor of their comrade, J. W. Bartlett who came Saturday from Glenwood, Iowa, to look after his property here and visit among his many friends. About sixteen of the men who wore the blue in the days from '61 to '65 were present and enjoyed a social hour with their comrades of other days. The host provided a liberal supply of cigars, and some of the fellows who learned the art of foraging in other days added a supply of fruit and more cigars. When the host called "attention" a short program of song and talk was indulged in—both relating to the earlier days, after which the program was cast aside and old war stories and scenes were told of as only a group of veterans can tell them. The meeting was wholly informal, and that made it the best kind of a place for enjoyment. After an hour of story telling the comrades departed, but not until they had expressed their opinion of war, and that was that it was a good thing to stay out of, and there was not one of those who had been through the mill, so to speak, but that was glad that this country has thus far kept out of the struggle that is now going on in Europe, and hoped that we would long escape taking any part in war at home or abroad, for it is all that Sherman claimed it to be.

Those present were:

Colonel, Andrew J. Ferguson; Post Commander, J. B. Stallsmith; Comrades, I. D. Henderson, David Cunningham, A. J. Hyatt, R. Perrin, C. A. Bagart, J. W. Bartlett, E. Q. Sala, Samuel Houter, S. Fox, H. Rafetry, Archie Lindsay; Rev. S. X. Cross, June Conger.

The Cradle

VAHLKAMP—Thursday, March 4, 1915, to Herman Vahlkamp and wife, a son.
KREI—Wednesday, March 3, 1915, to Herman Krei and wife, a daughter.
PRESCOTT—Tuesday, March 2, 1915, to Trues Prescott and wife, a daughter.
MEYAR—Sunday, March 7, 1915, to John Meyar and wife, a son.

Roy Fisher, who has been farming and breeding Hampshire hogs in his county for several years, has accepted a place as manager of a large Hampshire breeding farm in Iowa, near Sioux City, and loaded his cars last week to move to his new home near Bronson. We notice by the Hampshire Record that he is to have a sale of Hampshire bred sows there one day next week. We are sorry to see any man who makes a success of breeding pure bred stock move from this county, but one with limited capital some times must go where things look best to him for the near future.

Members of the Wayne chess club and others interested will be entertained at the library basement Saturday afternoon and evening by F. Marshall, champion chess player of this country, who will show the Wayne bunch a few tricks. He was to have been here several weeks ago, but weather conditions made it impossible.

Remember the special revival meetings in progress at the Baptist church each evening at 7:30. The large choir under the direction of Prof. Deal is furnishing good music and the sermons by Evangelist Waldo are greatly appreciated and helpful to all who hear them.

Word comes from Sioux City that Dr. A. Naffziger, formerly of this place, underwent an operation for a pus case of appendicitis there last week. At last accounts he is doing nicely, and his recovery seems assured.

L. A. Fanske and Chas. Craven were at Winside Wednesday to see the picture production of Damon and Pythias. It is reported to be a most entertaining picture play.

W. Bittner and wife of Inman, who were called here by the sickness and death of their little grandson, Donald Earl Roe, returned home Wednesday evening.

Death of Esther McNeal

Esther, the youngest daughter of W. H. McNeal, for many years a resident of Wayne, died at their home at Laurel, Tuesday, March 9, 1915, at the age of 17 years, 1 month and 21 days, following two years of failing health.

Esther was born at Wayne January 18, 1898, and spent all but the last year of her life here. She attended the public school until two years ago, and was of bright happy disposition and a favorite with all her playmates. She was a member of the Presbyterian church of this place and a faithful worker among the young members while she had strength to attend services. Her two years of sickness were passed in patient suffering, and when she knew that her days would be few on earth she was resigned to go, and her last words were of solicitude for her friends rather than herself. Her mother passed from earth as she came, but she has had a mother's care since she can remember from the step-mother who was with her until the last, and who with the father, and her sisters, Miss Helen McNeal of this place, Mrs. Pingrey Hughes of Norfolk, Mrs. Roy Klopping of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Mrs. Herman Knight of Laurel, mourn her early death.

The body was brought here for burial beside her mother, and the funeral was from the Presbyterian church this forenoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Cross, and was attended by many of her former classmates and neighbors. All join in extending the most sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

A Word to the Many Patrons of The Wayne Bakery

We have our troubles at times the same as the housewife. Cold flour, poor draft on oven, weather colder, and many other things which tend to charge our routine of daily work, and in such times as these, kindly bear with us and should some fault appear not to your liking, kindly tell the proprietor, and he will tell the baker who in return will do his best to make each and every patron a satisfied customer by making you a fine, white and better tasting loaf than you have ever had. We will continue to make a full line of bread stuff, always fresh, it being our aim from now on to have bake goods out in time to furnish warm bread, pie, rolls, etc., for dinner each day.—adv.

Notice of Dissolution of Partnership

We will dissolve partnership, on April 1st, 1915. All persons knowing them selves indebted to us will please call at our office and make satisfactory arrangements for payment of their account.—adv.—10-3.

DRS. ZOLL & HESS.

Old papers for sale at this office.

Social Notes

March 21st, the beneficiary department of the Society of Royal Neighbors will have rounded out twenty years of successful work, and every camp is preparing to celebrate the event in some way. As the 21st occurs on Sunday, the 17th has been chosen as the day for this celebration by the Royal Neighbors of Wayne. The business session will be at 2 p. m., sharp. Neighbor Nora Kidder of Fremont will come up from Winside and be with us during the afternoon, and favor us with an address. Then will come the program and all neighbors not belonging to this camp are cordially invited and all members of this camp are to come and bring a friend. At this time the member-getting contest will close, the losing side to furnish a banquet for the class adoption on April 6.

The Acme club held their regular meeting with Mrs. Charles Carhart last Monday afternoon. Members answered roll call by giving quotations from English authors. Mrs. Mines read a paper on "The White Tower of London to 1500 A. D." Mrs. Jacobs read a paper on "Tower of London to Present Time from 1500 A. D." Current events were discussed by club, after which the hostess served a delicious two-course luncheon. On next Monday evening at 6:30 at Mr. and Mrs. Hamer Wilson's the club will have a hard time party.

The U. D. club met with Mrs. Harvey Ringland Monday. Members responded to roll call with current events and quotations. Mrs. Green read a magazine article on "In the Wake of Ancient." Mrs. Jones read two magazine articles, "Map Study of Mexico," and "Ancient Races." The hostess served refreshments. Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Harry Jones will entertain the club next week.

The Early Hour club met at the home of Mrs. Chace Monday with Mrs. Harrington and Mrs. J. J. Williams were hostesses at a six o'clock dinner. The evening was spent in playing "500." Mrs. Henry Ley and Mrs. Rollie Ley will entertain the club this evening at the home of the former at a 6 o'clock dinner, and will be a St. Patrick's evening.

The Monday club met with Mrs. George Hess Monday afternoon. Mrs. Chace read a paper on Makers of Moving Pictures. Mrs. Carhart read a magazine article on John Bunny. The club meets next week with Mrs. Ed Johnson.

The N. M. N. S. met with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Shultheis Wednesday evening. The members spent the evening playing "500." Dainty refreshments were served.

The Young Ladies Bible Circle will meet with Mrs. Beckenhauer Saturday at 7 o'clock.

The Norfolk Press is demanding a cleanup campaign for the streets and allies of that city in one column, and in another they want sixty mothers to join hands and clean up a lot of the other kind of filth—the stench of which reaches to high heaven—both good suggestions, but why suggest the dirtier of the two jobs for the women?

Clem Crossland was here from University Place over Sunday and Monday visiting his parents. He was named as a delegate from the W. O. W. camp at University Place to the state camp in session at Norfolk this week, and came this way to have a Sunday at home. He reports that he is enjoying his school work, and we hear that he is making good, and has qualified for a place on the debating team of the school.

The question as to whether or not it will be safe to shoot ducks this spring is answered in the negative. The gun might kick—but the serious risk is in the violation of the federal game law which protects migratory birds in the spring when they are going to their nesting haunts, and it is right that it should do so. It is reported that they are on their way to the north and are due here as soon as this snow is converted into water.

A large number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ahlers on Sunday, February 28, 1915, in honor of the 25th anniversary of their wedding. All the friends had a good time and at midnight a lunch was served. At about 2 a. m. Monday they departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ahlers good luck and prosperity in their future life. Many nice and beautiful presents were given them by their friends.—Pender Times.

A. R. Hatfield, who has just moved from near Wayne to a farm near Carroll, returned Monday evening from a visit of a week at Lincoln and York. He would not have stayed a week but for the fact that he could not get home sooner on account of snow. He reports that they had more snow in the south part of the state than here. He was accompanied on the trip by O. C. Crawford of Lynch, a relative who stopped to visit him. They went on to Carroll Tuesday.

Charles B. Wing, of Ohio, an expert in the matter of alfalfa, says that the Turkestan variety of alfalfa which has in times past been quite extensively advertised has proven a very inferior kind for this country, and that it should be called the dwarf alfalfa from the size crop it produces. The seed can be bought in quantity, he asserts, at a very low price, and there is a big profit in its sale. He recommends the seed known as Grimm alfalfa as especially good, and a plant that does well in places where there is a hardpan or rock near the surface, as it has a root that tends to spread rather than grow down to any great depth. The Grimm seed is sold rather high for the reason that it has not been generally grown in the country best adapted to producing alfalfa seed.

Word came last Thursday evening to the home of Bert McClary and wife of the death of Mrs. Margaret White, mother of Mrs. McClary at Martinsburg that evening. Mr. McClary and family started Friday to go to their former home, but being unable to complete the trip, returned on the evening train and started again Saturday afternoon. With them was Mrs. White, a daughter-in-law of the deceased, who arrived here from there almost at the same time that word came of the death of Mrs. White. She was moving to Spencer, and came with the children to visit here while their goods were being shipped through and when she left Martinsburg, Mrs. White who has been in poor health for several weeks was pronounced better and considered out of immediate danger. Mrs. Margaret White was about 73 years of age, and had been a resident of Martinsburg for more than 40 years, living continuously on the same farm all these years. The funeral was held Monday or Tuesday.

Comment From Exchanges

Blair Pilot:
Look now. The president of the United States, his cabinet, the house of representatives by an overwhelming majority and even a majority of the senate are all in favor of the shipping bill, yet a leather-lunged minority is allowed to kill the bill by the aid of Senator Hitchcock and six other democratic senators who claim to be wiser than all the others, through a foolish rule allowing unlimited debate. Putting might against an allowing "senatorial courtesy" when there is no courtesy, Senator Norris has offered an amendment to the archaic rule to limit debate to not over three hours to any one man. That ought certainly to be a plenty, but the very fact that a vote must come in time would forever settle the hash of the leather-lunged filibusterer. This is a country of majority rule, and this should apply in the United States senate as well as elsewhere. When a majority of the senate is elected by the people this rule will be adopted, if not before.

Columbus Telegram:
I expect to live to see the day in which every farm house and barn within one hundred miles of Columbus will be illuminated by electricity from a state water-power plant, near Columbus. I know that many who have been hypnotized by the big interests are laughing at my proposal to have the state harness the waters of the Loup river and make them work for the whole people of the state. But I also know that these same persons hooted at the very suggestion of the parcels post. But while the hypnotized persons were still hooting the parcels post became a fact. So it will be with state ownership and operation of water-power plants on the Loup, Niobrara, Elkhorn and possibly the Platte river.

Humphrey Democrat:
The farming interests of this community cannot place too much emphasis upon the advisability and necessity of making every foot of ground productive to the highest degree.

With nearly the whole of Europe unproductive there will be a tremendous demand made upon America for food stuffs in the months to come, and this demand must be met or those people will starve.

This does not necessarily mean that America will be called upon to feed Europe gratis. Europe will pay in gold for what it gets from us, dollar for dollar.

A duty and an opportunity confronts us.

Duty demands that we produce to the limit, that the hungry across the water may be fed.

Opportunity knocks at our door, in that there will be a ready market at high prices for every ounce that we can sell. Even now the hand of Europe is outstretched across the water for American bread.

It is an opportunity for the building up of this agricultural community, for the enriching of our people, for an influx of foreign gold such as we have never known before.

For Europe must eat, and to eat Europe must buy food stuffs we have to sell.

Let every foot of ground produce something for the financial wealth of this community.

Norfolk Press:

Some of the liquor dealers—the short-sighted ones are rejoicing over a prospective amendment to the Slocumb law which proposes to make it more difficult to recover damages from a liquor dealer. While it is true that in some cases the present law has worked a hardship on the dealer it is also true that this law has stood the test of time and is admitted to be the best law on the subject ever devised and any change will be resented by the people and will be likely to bring on a fight that will wipe out the entire Slocumb law and place a prohibitory law in its stead. A number of states have recently abolished the sale of booze and it is thought that Nebraska is in line for a similar action—and the brewers are mostly to blame for the existing sentiment. The bill was drawn, it is said, by a Lincoln attorney who has often been interested in cases for the liquor dealers' association and was introduced by Senator Mattes, of Nebraska City, who shows on the senate directory as a "manufacturer" but who has all his life been interested in the brewery and saloon business.

Sioux City Tribune:

Chairman Hilles—who predicted Taft's election the Sunday before the last presidential election—says he is convinced after consulting manufacturers and business men that "not until a republican president is returned to the White House can there be a return to prosperity." The head of the steel industry in the United States has already announced that the greatest era of prosperity this nation has ever experienced is already beginning. The annual report of President Wood of the American woolen trust, head of the textile industry of the United States, is just out, and says, among other things, that "during the period of the Underwood tariff growers of wool in the United States have received higher prices than when there was a duty of 11 or 12 cents a pound on wool." Looks as though Chairman Hilles were just as ignorant of real business conditions now as he was of real public sentiment, in the fall of 1912.

Butler County Press:

A smooth scheme to gain free advertising from county papers in the older settled sections of the country is worked by commercial clubs and associations of real estate dealers in some of the far Western states, notably Idaho and Washington. A form letter, type written, giving glowing account of climate, scenery and opportunities for homes and investments is signed by a visitor or a new comer from Nebraska or some other older state and sent back to the home paper for publication. It is a booming letter all right, and nothing else. The Press has received several such, but did not "fall" for them. Instead, such letters fall directly into The Press waste basket, where they nestle up against various other fruitless efforts to gain free advertising.

Ponca Journal-Leader:

Apart from the religious value of Lent, to very many people who observe it with becoming spirit the season has a real health value. After the many feasting from Christmas on, the body gets jaded, digestion is impaired, and the mental faculties dulled. The forty days of comparative abstinence from social life gives both mind and body, to say nothing of soul, a chance to get rested and refreshed. It is quite as efficacious as a month's treatment in a sanitarium and a great deal less expensive.

Some people have the idea that they are good citizens if they obey the law. A man is only half a citizen who contents himself with that. Good citizenship is more than passive in its character. It displays itself in active ways for the furtherance of the well-being of one's country, state and town. As usual, Washington's birthday has been suitably observed, but Washington would not be enshrined in the memory of the whole country if he had contented himself in the stirring days of old with a passive citizenship and living a quiet planter's life on the banks of the Potomac. He is affectionately remembered because with rare self-denial and sacrifice he put his splendid qualities at the service of his country. Many a man whose citizenship is of the negative sort and who yet professes to be enthusiastic over Washington, would give better proof of his citizenship by imitating him.

A daily paper for $2, when the regular price is $3. That's a special offer made only now by the Lincoln Daily News. In fact, they will mail the paper from now until April 1, 1916, for only $2. This gives you all the important work of the legislature; will give you the most complete war news with all the excitement of battles and if a settlement comes before the year is out, the arrangements of peace will be a most absorbing subject. A series of special articles are being prepared on the subject of co-operation and the more economical methods of marketing. Certainly some way should be devised to have the producer get a larger share of what the consumer pays or else reduce the cost to the consumer. A high grade novel is printed in daily installments. The one running now sells in book form at $1.20. Five or six novels appear each year, giving you in this one feature alone twice the cost of the paper for the year. It has a laugh on every page—clever cartoons and comic features. In addition you will receive the weekly Independent Farmer a year. This is a high-class 50 cent paper. Send $2 today to the Lincoln Daily News and the papers will be started at once and will be stopped when your year is up. If you add a dollar we will include the big Sunday State Journal.—adv.

Legislative Notes

That Nebraska voters will have a chance to vote on at least one constitutional amendment in two years from now is certain, the amendment providing that all supreme judges shall be elected by districts instead of in the state at large as at present. The bill has already passed the Senate and is certain to be acted upon favorably in the House.

The bill intending to place more power in the hands of the Railway Commission and for which Thomas Hall has been so persistently lobbying met its defeat in a rather novel way. After amending the bill it was reported out for passage by that committee. One of the introducers of this measure moved that it be indefinitely postponed and it was so ordered without taking the regular course of going through Committee of the Whole.

Another bill governing public utilities which was introduced by Osterman of Merrick and vested more power in the people of each county rather than in the Railway commission, was recommended by the committee to be indefinitely postponed. The committee gave a public hearing at which a large number of attorneys and professional men presented their opinions on this bill.

The House has passed a bill providing for a Supreme Court Commission to assist in clearing the docket which is now overloaded with cases.

A bill has passed the House and been sent to the Senate which compels the State Railway Commission to furnish the county boards of equalization and assessment with the figures showing the physical valuation of the railroads, telegraph and telephone lines of the state.

The three big railroads of Nebraska occupied the front of the stage at the state house on last Wednesday evening, when the presidents of the Union Pacific the Northwestern and the Burlington endeavored to show by figures and argument that they must have 2 1/2 cents a mile for passenger traffic. One of these gentlemen explained that the railroads were proceeding on the plan of "the people be shown" and were trying to take them into their confidence. It is doubtful if one vote was made or lost by their coming but all members agreed that they appreciated having these men, who in the past have dictated from their office chair, come down from their "high horse" and talk with the law makers as man to man.

For the first time this session matter has been expunged from the record. Hockett of Lancaster after losing in a fight between the railway commission and the attorney general presented a resolution attacking the character of Arthur F. Mullen. Henry Richmond of Douglas came to the rescue as a pacifier of troubled waters. Mr. Richmond in very forceful language persuaded the house that in justice to Mr. Mullen whose character has been unjustly assailed and in the interest of harmony, (which is so much talked of in the democrat party just now) that the proper thing to do would be to wipe out all the record on this matter. He spoke of the great amount of work before the House and of how impossible it would be to accomplish this work if the members engaged in personalities or failed to work in harmony with each other.

The first copies of Nebraska's "Blue Book" were delivered on Friday to members of the senate and house. The work has been in process of preparation for two years, provision having been made for the same in the 1913 session. Comments are very flattering for Addison E. Sheldon, the compiler of the work. It is certainly a book that every Nebraskan who takes an interest in affairs of the state will want to possess. The Legislature made provision by resolution for the distribution of 1,000 copies, one going to each of the high schools and to each of the court houses in the state.

The past week has witnessed more real legislation than in any of the previous weeks this session. Perhaps the most far reaching bill to pass the Senate was the county unit plan for apportioning school funds, providing for any county in the state adopting the system after it has been submitted to a vote of those concerned. The senate has reported from committees nearly all of the bills introduced in that body. Those that have not as yet been reported will have a mighty hard time getting through. One hundred bills have been passed by the Senate and are now before the house. The house has passed one hundred and fifty, indefinitely postponed about the same number and have on general file 132. A sifting committee will soon be appointed to sift out the meritorious bills for general file.

The Broad Way Leads to Goodyear Tires

Try it a little while. It has carried some 400,000 motorists to the haven of content. It is traveled by more users than has any other tire. That has been so for years.

We can't win you to Fortified Tires by asking you to try them. The tires themselves must win you.

But our plan is that you should try the tires that countless men found best. There must be a reason as you know, why Goodyears dominate like this. Last year men bought about one Goodyear for every car in use.

Men Like You

This Goodyear army is composed of men like you. They want quality, safety, endurance. They want trouble-saving. They want

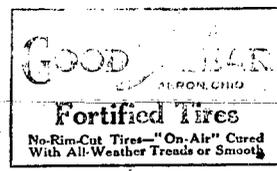

In five costly ways, they offer unique protection. They combat five troubles—rim-cuts, blowouts, loose treads, punctures and skidding—as is done in no other tire.

Price Reduction

On February 1st we made another big price reduction. That makes three reductions in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

Today Goodyears, more than ever before, offer you most for the money. They offer you the utmost possible in tires, measured by cost per mile. Doesn't their top place prove that? The following Goodyear Service Stations will supply you:

The religion of some people consists of simply not working on Sunday—others attend church also.

It is now proposed to neutralize the Dardanelles in event of the defeat of Turkey. It should have been done centuries ago, and also to Gibraltar and other strategic points.

In Belgium people are said to be starving because of war. The same is reported from the city of Mexico. The same will be true of hundreds of places all through Europe if war continues. The men responsible for the war will have much to answer for if there is any tribunal where such sins against the human family are made to pay the penalty.

Sioux City has been sowing the wind and they are now reaping the whirlwind. Corruption became so rank, thugs and burglars so bold, prostitutes so lewd that the common decent people could endure it no longer, and the expose that has followed the lifting of the lid that was shielding the rotten mess was such that none could be decent and try to longer ignore it.

For the real standpatter go to Delaware, where the legislature has just refused to repeal the law authorizing the public whipping post. They have stood pat on that law since Columbus discovered America, and the members of the W. C. T. U. are said to have sat in the galleries of the legislative hall and applauded the result of the vote. Small wonder is it that Delaware is a small state?

One of the laws that will tend to elevate the people of this nation, or rather to save them from degradation, is that relative to the sale of cocaine and kindred drugs. It will tend to put a stop to a traffic that was destroying thousands annually in every state in the Union. The drug habit was the cause of more crime, we believe, than the liquor habit. When it is over and the effects it has been responsible for are a thing of the past, we shall begin to realize what it was doing to the people.

There is a plan to start an organization to be known as the "American Legion" for the purpose of satisfying those who think this country is not as well prepared for war as it should be. According to the plan outlined, about 250,000 men who have had some military training will thus be organized to repel an attack should one be made. Col. Teddy has offered himself and his four sons on the altar. It is perhaps all right to get a few fighters organized—or allow them to organize, but we think it will be a long time before they are needed if this government asks only what is just from other countries. Had not the nations of Europe now at war been so well prepared to fight that continent might now be at peace and no one the worse off for it.

If the president is to again be the candidate of the democrats for the office he now holds the action of the henchmen of the shipping trust in rejecting the ship purchase bill has given him the best card he could have—the joker. The majority of the people believe that the president was right in his attitude on the question, and for a few of the representatives of the big interests who happen to have been listed as democrats when they were running for office to join a minority that were known to be representatives of special interests, will put those professed democrats in the class to which they belong and the democratic party will be infinitely stronger with them out than in. While we regret the defeat of the measure, we do not consider it other than a gain to the party to be placed in a position to make the fight on that issue.

There is usually two sides to a question. The railroads have been presenting their side as to rate raise, and if the present rate is lower than the cost of production, economically administered, it should be granted. But if it is but a plea made because in common with other business it is hard sledding due to war and other conditions, then it should not be granted. The railroads should not be aided because of a general business depression, for that would make conditions worse for others suffering from the same cause. The Democrat wants to see the railroads and all other business prosper, but we do not want them to have a prosperity at the expense of other business. If an increase is granted it should be with the distinct understanding that it is not to become permanent, and used as a basis for issuing more stock when business is better for the railroads in order to make it perpetual that it may pay a dividend for all time to come. A business that is regulated as is the railroad business, because it is of necessity in the nature of a monopoly, should be so regulated as to give both the company and its patrons a square deal. It is an important question.

Among the Churches of Wayne

German Lutheran Church
Rev. Moehring, Pastor
Regular services at the church next Sunday. Sunday school at 10 o'clock and preaching services at 11 o'clock.

Methodist Church
(Rev. A. S. Buell, Pastor)
All of the regular mid-week meetings have been called off for this week on account of the special revival meetings in the Baptist church. Professor C. H. Bright gave a very interesting description of missionary conditions and needs in the Philippines, last Sunday evening.

At a called meeting of the Sunday school board steps were taken for the organization of a Boy Scouts Patrol to include the boys in Brother A. P. Gossard's class. Mrs. Buell was elected teacher for the college girls class and expects to organize the girls into a Phalathia class soon.

The theme for next Sunday morning's sermon will be one of the Passion Week Series, Tuesday, the last and greatest day of Christ's public ministry. This series will continue on Sunday mornings until April fourth when they will culminate with the Master sermon. The subject for the evening sermon will be "The Autograph Album" or the book of life.

Baptist Church
Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor
Our meetings began Monday evening with a fine spirit. A splendid audience responded heartily to Rev. Waldo's cheerful message and to Prof. Deal's enthusiastic song service. Both men were tired, when they came, but with the heroic spirit of Christian service, they threw themselves into the work. A wide interest is already manifested. Christians of all the churches are getting in touch with the meetings.

Prof. Deal wants to enlarge the choir—he knows how to get people to sing with real heart and life. Those who hear him once want to hear him again. Bro. Waldo is going to meet the demands for a pleasing, practical, true preacher of the gospel message. There is a clear ring to his preaching—a note of positiveness, but sympathetic rather than harsh. These two men will have charge of the services. Announcements will be made at each service for the day following. We hope our afternoon meetings will prove helpful to many, who cannot get out evenings. Come tomorrow to the church at 3 o'clock and you will enjoy a good hour.

The Sunday services will be as usual with Brethren Waldo and Deal in charge. Perhaps we shall have a meeting Sunday afternoon. If so, it will be announced Sunday morning.

Ward Randol will lead the young people's service at 6:30 Sunday evening.

At 7:30 Prof. Deal will conduct a song service, followed by a sermon by Bro. Waldo.

Pray for these meetings, talk about them, work for them and you will receive a blessing in these meetings.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
(Rev. Blessing, Pastor.)
Sunday School at 10 a. m.
Morning Worship at 11 a. m.
Luther League at 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship at 7:45 p. m.
The subject of the morning sermon will be "The Surrendered Life" Luke 5:5-11. You may have heard the story of the young student in the studio of Michelangelo. The great painter realized that the young man had ability, but he was extremely limited in his conception, and cramped in his outlook. On one occasion Michelangelo entered the studio and finding a painting of the young man's upon an easel, he daubed it out with a paint brush and wrote underneath the disfigured picture, the Latin word "Amplius". When the younger man looked at his marred picture with the word "Amplius" written underneath it he knew that he needed larger conceptions, more depth, and more breadth. He needed to surrender to the master painter. If men would look over the account of their lives, many would find written under them the word "Amplius," the need of larger visions of life. A life surrendered to the Master of men.

In the evening the pastor will use the subject "Christ and Pilate" Matt. 27:22.

The topic for Luther League will be, "The Inner Life". Leader Mr. Julius Hurstad. We welcome the young people to the Luther League meetings. We want them to come. Keep in mind our Lenten services which begin Palm Sunday and last until Easter Sunday.

The Ladies Aid society will meet in the Sunday school room of the church on next Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. All members requested to be present.

Catechetical class meets Saturday afternoon at half past two. There will be special music at our church services. Come, you are welcome.

Presbyterian Church
(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)
In fullest harmony with the movement in Evangelism in all the Wayne churches, we desire to announce a series of gospel meetings. These meetings we hope to start on Sunday, March 28th. The services of Evangelist Wm. J. Shallcross of Omaha have been secured for these meetings. Mr. Shallcross will do the preaching and Prof. S. S. Buma, tenor singer and chorus leader, of Chicago has promised to be here to lead the singing.

Along the line of efficiency, we are pleased to be able to present on Thursday and Friday evenings of next week, Mr. Albert F. McGarragh of Chicago, who will lecture both evenings. Mr. McGarragh is an efficiency expert in all lines of church work. Remember the dates: Thursday and Friday, March 18th and 19th, at 8 o'clock. You will be interested, whatever your attitude toward the church or church work. You are cordially invited. Admission free.

Regular services at usual hours next Sunday. "United Service" at 10:30 sharp. The morning sermon will be on: "The Proving of a Man." The Sunday school part of this service begins at 11:30. The entire service lasts exactly two hours. You will be interested in the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6:30, if you come. The evening sermon will be on: "The Pure in Heart." Everybody is invited to any and all of the services of the church.

Members of the church are reminded of the prayer service on Wednesday evening of each week. One hour is devoted to this service—from 7:30 to 8:30. The topics appointed by the general assembly are the topics that guide us in prayer and testimony at these meetings. If you have not yet received the handbook, there are still a few copies of our complimentary ones and we would be more than pleased to supply you.

No, the climate isn't changing in Nebraska. Some winters are dry and mild, some snowy and severe, and this has been the case since the first settlers came. Precipitation varies with the seasons. There have been summers when crops suffered from lack of moisture; others so wet as to seriously interfere with the wheat harvest. Precipitation largely depends upon the force and direction of prevailing winds during a given season. Local ponds, and rat-sloughs, and artificial reservoirs, would have about as much effect on the mighty air-currents as the shooting of a popgun would have in deciding the issues of a mighty battle. Diversified farming should be the slogan of Nebraska agriculturalists, and this idea faithfully carried out will come as near making everybody rich as anything you can think of.—Bixby.

FRED GILBERT TO BE HONORED

500 Gun Clubs in Nation-Wide Celebration Arranged for Veteran Trapshooter

A conservative estimate shows there are at least one-half million trapshooters in the country and it is safe to say that the history and records of Fred Gilbert, the greatest trapshot who ever entered the game, are familiar to all. Twenty years ago, in October, 1895, to be exact, Fred Gilbert, a product of the prairies around Spirit Lake, Iowa, and entirely unknown and unheard of outside of his own precinct, made his debut to the shooting game at Baltimore, Md., and in the contest for the world's championship he vanquished a field of the best shots ever gathered together and instantly ascended the ladder leading to the topmost niche in the hall of trapshooting fame, from which, it is conceded by all, he has never been removed, as, in all the years that have passed, his equal has not been produced, and very likely never will be.

As a man and a shooter, Fred Gilbert is in a class by himself. Quiet and reserved, gentlemanly and courteous to all, he has gone on through the twenty years of his career, shooting in every state in the Union, in most of the provinces of Canada, and even in England, Scotland and on the Continent, earning the respect of all who saw him by his wonderful marksmanship, and endearing himself to hundreds and hundreds of sportsmen who were fortunate enough to come in close contact with him. Honors he has won, enough to turn the heads of a dozen men, and yet through all the victories and midst all the honor he was never anything but "Fred" Gilbert to his friends, the shooters, and they are legion, and scattered broadcast throughout the land. To properly commemorate the twentieth anniversary of Mr. Gilbert as a shooter, a gigantic nation-wide celebration has been arranged in his honor. On March 17, he will attend a complimentary shoot and dinner in Wilmington, Del., at which a large number of prominent trapshooters will be present from all sections of the country. To give the gun clubs throughout the country, where Mr. Gilbert is so popular, an opportunity in participating in the affair, a silver loving cup, suitably inscribed, has been offered as a prize to clubs that will hold a "Fred Gilbert" shoot on any date during the period from March 13 to March 20, both days inclusive, and have at least ten shooters, each shooting a minimum of 100 targets, and the local gunners have made application for and received one of these trophies and will hold a shoot for it, as will 500 other clubs throughout the United States and Canada.

Mr. Gilbert has long been known as "The Wizard of Spirit Lake," and a wizard with the shotgun he has been. His records covering the twenty years he has been a shooter have never been equaled, and for six consecutive years he won the high average for the year, over thousands of other shooters, an unapproachable feat. Year by year Mr. Gilbert's records and averages were:

| Year | No. targets shot at          | No. targets broke | Pct.   |
|------|------------------------------|-------------------|--------|
| 1895 | Averages not compiled.       |                   |        |
| 1896 | Averages not compiled.       |                   |        |
| 1897 | 3,290                        | 3,056             | 92.90  |
| 1898 | 3,060                        | 2,742             | 89.60  |
| 1899 | 2,875                        | 2,700             | 93.90  |
| 1900 | 3,790                        | 3,585             | 94.60  |
| 1901 | 4,285                        | 4,015             | *92.70 |
| 1902 | 7,800                        | 7,406             | *94.90 |
| 1903 | 9,205                        | 8,655             | *94.20 |
| 1904 | 17,015                       | 16,179            | *95.08 |
| 1905 | 17,845                       | 17,065            | *95.06 |
| 1906 | Sick all year—did not shoot. |                   |        |
| 1907 | 9,195                        | 8,817             | *95.80 |
| 1908 | 10,195                       | 10,402            | 95.03  |
| 1909 | 12,630                       | 12,079            | 95.63  |
| 1910 | 2,000                        | 1,896             | *94.80 |
| 1911 | 2,100                        | 1,995             | *95.00 |
| 1912 | 4,600                        | 4,413             | 95.93  |
| 1913 | 5,940                        | 5,615             | 94.53  |
| 1914 | 3,800                        | 3,517             | 92.55  |

*Indicates high average winner for year. Mr. Gilbert won this honor six consecutive years, eliminating 1906, when he did not shoot, a feat never before nor since accomplished by any shooter, amateur or professional.

**The averages these years were figured only on targets shot at in Interstate Association tournaments. As one prominent shooter expressed himself, "Iowa has no prouder boast, no more popular toast than Fred Gilbert, the Wizard of Spirit Lake." Cup is on exhibition at Carhart Hardware Store. The date of the match has been fixed for Wednesday, March 17, at 1 p. m., and no one except members of the Wayne Gun Club will be eligible to compete here.

Wayne Cleaning Works

Are still caring for all dry cleaning and repair work offered at the Pantorium, where Mr. Stanley Woodworth is in charge, and work will be promptly and properly cared for there until our new equipment arrives and can be installed at our larger and better place. Any outfit consisting of all that is necessary to supplement that we now have and make it complete for turning work out quickly and economically is on the way. This will make us the best plant of the kind in northeastern Nebraska, and the work of this territory will be properly looked after. We are already receiving work from both home and outside towns, and giving it careful attention.

It will soon be time to clean the lace curtains of the smoky and coal stains of winter, and we solicit such work.

To be Correctly Dressed

Fashion plays an important part in the life of every woman. She need not be a slave to it; but every woman who cares about her personal appearance likes to be correctly dressed.

This does not necessarily mean the frequent buying of new things. It does mean the choosing of fabrics and garments that possess the correct style features and of a lasting quality.

WE ARE CAREFUL TO OFFER FOR SALE ONLY THAT WHICH IS DEPENDABLE.

Refined, conservative styles in Coats, Suits, Skirts

Materials and tailoring are of the very highest character. Examine the garments closely. See how well they are made, with all the character of the skillful tailoring that you usually find only in custom-made garments.

The fabrics have been fully shrunk, insuring the shapeliness of the garments. The styles are correct and the colors are permanent. Yet these garments are very reasonable in cost.

SKIRTS.....$ 4.50 to $12.50
COATS.....$10.00 to $22.50
SUITS.....$22.50 to $30.00

More New Waists

From $1.00 to $3.50 you can find almost any quality waist and they are all correct in style and neatly made.

New Undermuslins

Corset covers, drawers, skirt combinations and corset cover and drawer combinations very dainty and pretty.

New Spring Embroideries

The new spring embroidery is winning lots of friends. We are showing an unusual lot of the very sheer effects a money saving prices.

Lloyd Rubeck, who is returning to this county after two years near Granite Falls, Minnesota, and will farm one of the Wightman places near Carroll, arrived here last week after a stormy trip of five days on the stormbound road, and the car could not be taken to its destination at Carroll, so the stock was uncared for to give them a rest from life in a car. He was taken sick while on the road, and was ill for several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown. He is able to be out again, and is getting settled in his new home.

James Miller, who was storm stayed several days at Bonesteel brings back some startling stories of the storm there, where it snowed continually for five days and nights. He said though a rough county the hollows were so filled with snow that it appeared nearly level. In walking he stepped from the beaten path and immediately dropped in up to his armpits, and it was no easy task to regain the beaten path where the snow was packed sufficiently to hold him with his head above water. At Dallas a dentist out with a companion seeing the sights fell into a drift more than 20 feet deep and was smothered before he could be rescued.

P. S. Houston and son Ross came last week from Gem, Kansas, to visit at the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. S. A. Lutgen, and the lad remained for a time for his uncle to treat his eyes. Mr. Houston, who returned the first of the week says that his part of Kansas (in the wheat belt of the western part of the state) is very prosperous for they had a good wheat crop last year and it brought a good price. When he read of the snow extending down over his country he said he meant another good crop almost sure. He has been in that country since the early '80s and has seen many a failure and many good crops. At first they had to learn how to farm it and what was the best crop to raise. Now with these questions worked out they are meeting with much success. In addition to winter wheat they grow a little corn, but more of cane, kafir corn and maize. It is a large country and the farms are mostly large, so when they got their bumper crops it counts into money fast. On the other hand a failure means the loss of a lot of time and money for seed.

According to the recent ruling of the postoffice department, heretofore and until the close of the European war, the two cent letter rate to all the European countries is withdrawn and all the letters must now bear 5c postage as heretofore. The cause of this order being issued by the postoffice department is that there are now no direct connections with those countries and that, therefore, it takes more time and labor to handle the foreign mail.

The styles in skirts this season are said to be those of 100 years ago in France—not that we are that far behind the times in style, but this particular style is dictated for the year 1915, which helps to prove that there is nothing new under the sun.

Mrs. Jack Liveringhouse, who has been here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Panabaker, returned to her home at Des Moines the first of the week. She planned to go Saturday, but train service was so delayed and uncertain that she postponed the start.

Mrs. Elmer Noakes, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at Rochester, Minnesota a few weeks ago, returned home Sunday. Mr. Noakes and her sister, Miss Bessie Lauman, went to Sioux City to meet her and accompany her home from that place.

C. C. Brown of Wayne, who last fall opened a pantorium in Randolph, and this winter was forced to close his place of business, will start up again Monday, in the building occupied by Bert Casey. Mr. Brown will have his father with him for a short time and they will be prepared to handle all business in that line satisfactorily and with greatest of care. Mr. Brown, Sr., recently sold his establishment in Wayne.—Randolph Times.

Now just a word in regard to field seeds. Don't send away. It isn't necessary. Just come in with your money, hand it to us in advance, and wait a week or so for the seed, pay for the sacks and bring nothing back, and we will meet the price, grade for grade, any place on earth. Carharts.—adv.

O. J. Olson and family from Elk Point, South Dakota, who are going to spend the summer on the Henry Peterson place near Carroll, were storm stayed here from Saturday night until Monday noon. It gave them a chance to get acquainted at the county seat of the county they are expecting to live in for a season or more.

The Norfolk Press is demanding a cleanup campaign for the streets and allies of that city in one column, and in another they want sixty mothers to join hands and clean up a lot of the other kind of filth—the stench of which reaches to high heaven—both good suggestions, but why suggest the dirtier of the two jobs for the women?

Clem Crossland was here from University Place over Sunday and Monday visiting his parents. He was named as a delegate from the W. O. W. camp at University Place to the state camp in session at Norfolk this week, and came this way to have a Sunday at home. He reports that he is enjoying his school work, and we hear that he is making good, and has qualified for a place on the debating team of the school.

The question as to whether or not it will be safe to shoot ducks this spring is answered in the negative. The gun might kick—but the serious risk is in the violation of the federal game law which protects migratory birds in the spring when they are going to their nesting haunts, and it is right that it should do so. It is reported that they are on their way to the north and are due here as soon as this snow is converted into water.

A large number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ahlers on Sunday, February 28, 1915, in honor of the 25th anniversary of their wedding. All the friends had a good time and at midnight a lunch was served. At about 2 a. m. Monday they departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ahlers good luck and prosperity in their future life. Many nice and beautiful presents were given them by their friends.—Pender Times.

A. R. Hatfield, who has just moved from near Wayne to a farm near Carroll, returned Monday evening from a visit of a week at Lincoln and York. He would not have stayed a week but for the fact that he could not get home sooner on account of snow. He reports that they had more snow in the south part of the state than here. He was accompanied on the trip by O. C. Crawford of Lynch, a relative who stopped to visit him. They went on to Carroll Tuesday.

Charles B. Wing, of Ohio, an expert in the matter of alfalfa, says that the Turkestan variety of alfalfa which has in times past been quite extensively advertised has proven a very inferior kind for this country, and that it should be called the dwarf alfalfa from the size crop it produces. The seed can be bought in quantity, he asserts, at a very low price, and there is a big profit in its sale. He recommends the seed known as Grimm alfalfa as especially good, and a plant that does well in places where there is a hardpan or rock near the surface, as it has a root that tends to spread rather than grow down to any great depth. The Grimm seed is sold rather high for the reason that it has not been generally grown in the country best adapted to producing alfalfa seed.

Word came last Thursday evening to the home of Bert McClary and wife of the death of Mrs. Margaret White, mother of Mrs. McClary at Martinsberg that evening. Mr. McClary and family started Friday to go to their former home, but being unable to complete the trip, returned on the evening train and started again Saturday afternoon. With them was Mrs. White, a daughter-in-law of the deceased, who arrived here from there almost at the same time that word came of the death of Mrs. White. She was moving to Spencer, and came with the children to visit here while their goods were being shipped through and when she left Martinsberg, Mrs. White who has been in poor health for several weeks was pronounced better and considered out of immediate danger. Mrs. Margaret White was about 73 years of age, and had been a resident of Martinsberg for more than 40 years, living continuously on the same farm all these years. The funeral was held Monday or Tuesday.

Comment From Exchanges

Blair Pilot:

Look now. The president of the United States, his cabinet, the house of representatives by an overwhelming majority and even a majority of the senate are all in favor of the shipping bill, yet a leather-lunged minority is allowed to kill the bill by the aid of Senator Hitchcock and six other democratic senators who claim to be wiser than all the others, through a foolish rule allowing unlimited debate. It is putting might against right and allowing "senatorial courtesy" when there is no courtesy. Senator Norris has offered an amendment to the archaic rules to limit debate to not over three hours to any one man. That ought certainly to be a plenty, but the very fact that a vote must come in time would forever settle the hash of the leather-lunged filibusterer. This is a country of majority rule, and this should apply in the United States senate as well as elsewhere. When a majority of the senate is elected by the people this rule will be adopted, if not before.

Columbus Telegram:

I expect to live to see the day in which every farm house and barn within one hundred miles of Columbus will be illuminated by electricity from a state water-power plant, near Columbus. I know that many who have been hypnotized by the big interests are laughing at my proposal to have the state harness the waters of the Loup river and make them work for the whole people of the state. But I also know that these same persons hooted at the very suggestion of the parcels post. But while the hypnotized persons were still hooting the parcels post became a fact. So it will be with state ownership and operation of water-power plants on the Loup, Niobrara, Elkhorn and possibly the Platte river.

Humphrey Democrat:

The farming interests of this community cannot place too much emphasis upon the advisability and necessity of making every foot of ground productive to the highest degree.

With nearly the whole of Europe unproductive there will be a tremendous demand made upon America for food stuffs in the months to come, and this demand must be met or those people will starve.

This does not necessarily mean that America will be called upon to feed Europe gratis. Europe will pay in gold for what it gets from us, dollar for dollar.

A duty and an opportunity confronts us.

Duty demands that we produce to the limit, that the hungry across the water may be fed.

Opportunity knocks at our door, in that there will be a ready market at high prices for every ounce that we can sell. Even now the hand of Europe is outstretched across the water for American bread.

It is an opportunity for the building up of this agricultural community, for the enriching of our people, for an influx of foreign gold such as we have never known before.

For Europe must eat, and to eat Europe must buy food stuffs we have to sell.

Let every foot of ground produce something for the financial weal of this community.

Norfolk Press:

Some of the liquor dealers—the short-sighted ones are rejoicing over a prospective amendment to the Slocumb law which proposes to make it more difficult to recover damages from a liquor dealer. While it is true that in some cases the present law has worked a hardship on the dealer it is also true that this law has stood the test of time and is admitted to be the best law on the subject ever devised and any change will be resented by the people and will be likely to bring on a fight that will wipe out the entire Slocumb law and place a prohibitory law in its stead. A number of states have recently abolished the sale of booze and it is thought that Nebraska is in line for a similar action—and the brewers are mostly to blame for the existing sentiment. The bill was drawn, it is said, by a Lincoln attorney who has often been interested in cases for the liquor dealers' association and was introduced by Senator Mattes, of Nebraska City, who shows on the senate directory as a "manufacturer" but who has all his life been interested in the brewery and saloon business.

Sioux City Tribune:

Chairman Hill's—wh predicted Taft's election the Sunday before the last presidential election—says he is convinced after consulting manufacturers and business men that "not until a republican president is returned to the White House can there be a return to prosperity." The head of the steel industry in the United States has already announced that the greatest era of prosperity this nation has ever experienced is already beginning. The annual report of President Wood of the American woolen trust, head of the textile industry of the United States, is just out, and says, among other things, that "during the period of the Underwood tariff growers of wool in the United States have received higher prices than when there was a duty of 11 or 12 cents a pound on wool." Looks as though Chairman Hill's were just as ignorant of real business conditions now as he was of real public sentiment, in the fall of 1912.

Butler County Press:

A smooth scheme to gain free advertising from county papers in the older settled sections of the country is worked by commercial clubs and associations of real estate dealers in some of the far Western states, notably Idaho and Washington. A form letter, type written, giving glowing account of climate, scenery and opportunities for homes and investments is signed by a visitor or a new comer from Nebraska or some other older state and sent back to the home paper for publication. It is a booming letter all right, and nothing else. The Press has received several such, but did not "fall" for them. Instead, such letters fall directly into The Press waste basket, where they nestle up against various other fruitless efforts to gain free advertising.

Ponca Journal-Leader:

Apart from the religious value of Lent, to very many people who observe it with becoming spirit the season has a real health value. After the many feasting from Christmas on, the body gets jaded, digestion is impaired, and the mental faculties dulled. The forty days of comparative abstinence from social life gives both mind and body, to say nothing of soul, a chance to get rested and refreshed. It is quite as efficacious as a month's treatment in a sanitarium and a great deal less expensive.

Some people have the idea that they are good citizens if they obey the law. A man is only half a citizen who contents himself with that. Good citizenship is more than passive in its character. It displays itself in active ways for the furtherance of the well-being of one's country, state and town. As usual, Washington's birthday has been suitably observed, but Washington would not be enshrined in the memory of the whole country if he had contented himself in the stirring days of old with a passive citizenship and living a quiet planter's life on the banks of the Potomac. He is affectionately remembered because with rare self-denial and sacrifice he put his splendid qualities at the service of his country. Many a man whose citizenship is of the negative sort and who yet professes to be enthusiastic over Washington, would give better proof of his citizenship by imitating him.

A daily paper for $2, when the regular price is $3. That's a special offer made only now by the Lincoln Daily News. In fact, they will mail the paper from now until April 1, 1916, for only $2. This gives you all the important work of the legislature; will give you the most complete war news with all the excitement of battles and if a settlement comes before the year is out, the arrangements of peace will be a most absorbing subject. A series of special articles are being prepared on the subject of co-operation and the more economical methods of marketing. Certainly some way should be devised to have the producer get a larger share of what the consumer pays or else reduce the cost to the consumer. A high grade novel is printed in daily installments. The one running now sells in book form at $1.20. Five or six novels appear each year, giving you in this one feature alone twice the cost of the paper for the year. It has a laugh on every page—clever cartoons and comic features. In addition you will receive the weekly Independent Farmer a year. This is a high class 50 cent paper. Send $2 today to the Lincoln Daily News and the papers will be started at once and will be stopped when your year is up. If you add a dollar we will include the big Sunday State Journal.—adv.

Legislative Notes

That Nebraska voters will have a chance to vote on at least one constitutional amendment in two years from now is certain, the amendment providing that all supreme judges shall be elected by districts instead of in the state at large as at present. The bill has already passed the Senate and is certain to be acted upon favorably in the House.

The bill intending to place more power in the hands of the Railway Commission and for which Thomas Hall has been so persistently lobbying met its defeat in a rather novel way. After amending the bill it was reported out for passage by that committee. One of the introducers of this measure moved that it be indefinitely postponed and it was so ordered without taking the regular course of going through Committee of the Whole.

Another bill governing public utilities which was introduced by Otterman of Merrick and vested more power in the people of each county rather than in the Railway commission, was recommended by the committee to be indefinitely postponed. The committee gave a public hearing at which a large number of attorneys and professional men presented their opinions on this bill.

The House has passed a bill providing for a Supreme Court Commission to assist in clearing the docket which is now overloaded with cases.

A bill has passed the House and been sent to the Senate which compels the State Railway Commission to furnish the county boards of equalization and assessment with the figures showing the physical valuation of the railroads, telegraph and telephone lines of the state.

The three big railroads of Nebraska occupied the front of the stage at the state house on last Wednesday evening, when the presidents of the Union Pacific the Northwestern and the Burlington endeavored to show by figures and argument that they must have 2½ cents a mile for passenger traffic. One of these gentlemen explained that the railroads were proceeding on the plan of "the people be shown" and were trying to take them into their confidence. It is doubtful if one vote was made or lost by their coming but all members agreed that they appreciated having these men, who in the past have dictated from their office chair, come down from their "high horse" and talk with the law makers as man to man.

For the first time this session matter has been expunged from the record. Hockett of Lancaster after losing in a fight between the railway commission and the attorney general presented a resolution attacking the character of Arthur F. Mullen. Henry Richmond of Douglas came to the rescue as a pacifier of troubled waters. Mr. Richmond in very forceful language persuaded the house that in justice to Mr. Mullen whose character has been unjustly assailed and in the interest of harmony, (which is so much talked of in the democrat party just now) that the proper thing to do would be to wipe out all the record on this matter. He spoke of the great amount of work before the House and of how impossible it would be to accomplish this work if the members engaged in personalities or failed to work in harmony with each other.

The first copies of Nebraska's "Blue Book" were delivered on Friday to members of the senate and house. The work has been in process of preparation for two years, provision having been made for the same in the 1913 session. Comments are very flattering for Addison E. Sheldon, the compiler of the work. It is certainly a book that every Nebraskan who takes an interest in affairs of the state will want to possess. The Legislature made provision by resolution for the distribution of 1,000 copies, one going to each of the high schools and to each of the court houses in the state.

The past week has witnessed more real legislation than in any of the previous weeks this session. Perhaps the most far reaching bill to pass the Senate was the county unit plan for apportioning school funds, providing for any county in the state adopting the system after it has been submitted to a vote of those concerned. The senate has reported from committees nearly all of the bills introduced in that body. Those that have not as yet been reported will have a mighty hard time getting through. One hundred bills have been passed by the Senate and are now before the house. The house has passed one hundred and fifty, indefinitely postponed, about the same number and have on general file 132. A sifting committee will soon be appointed to sift out the meritorious bills for general file.

The Broad Way Leads to Goodyear Tires

Try it a little while. It has carried some 400,000 motorists to the haven of content. It is traveled by more users than has any other tire. That has been so for years.

We can't win you to Fortified Tires by asking you to try them. The tires themselves must win you.

But our plea is that you should try the tire that countless men found best. There must be a reason as you know, why Goodyears dominate like this. Last year men bought about one Goodyear for every car in use.

Men Like You

This Goodyear army is composed of men like you. They want quality, safety, endurance. They want trouble-free tires.

Goodyears best met these wants. They met them because they are Fortified Tires.

In five costly ways, employed by no other maker, they offer unique protection. They combat five troubles—rim-cuts, blowouts, loose tread's punctures and skidding—as is done in no other tire.

Price Reduction

On February 1st we made another big price reduction. That makes three reductions in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

Today Goodyears, more than ever before, offer you most for the money. They offer you the utmost possible in tires, measured by cost per mile. Doesn't their ton place prove that? The following Goodyear Service Stations will supply you:

The religion of some people consists of simply not working on Sunday—others attend church also.

It is now proposed to neutralize the Dardanelles in event of the defeat of Turkey. It should have been done centuries ago, and also to Gibraltar and other strategic points.

In Belgium people are said to be starving because of war. The same is reported from the city of Mexico. The same will be true of hundreds of places all through Europe if war continues. The men responsible for the war will have much to answer for if there is any tribunal where such sins against the human family are made to pay the penalty.

Sioux City has been sowing the wind and they are now reaping the whirlwind. Corruption became so rank, thugs and burglars so bold, prostitutes so low that the common decent people could endure it no longer, and the expose that has followed the lifting of the lid that was shielding the rotten mess was such that none could be decent and try to longer ignore it.

For the real standpatter go to Delaware, where the legislature has just refused to repeal the law authorizing the public whipping post. They have stood pat on that law since Columbus discovered America, and the members of the W. C. T. U. are said to have sat in the galleries of the legislative hall and applauded the result of the vote. Small wonder is it that Delaware is a small state?

One of the laws that will tend to elevate the people of this nation, or rather to save them from degradation, is that relative to the sale of cocaine and kindred drugs. It will tend to put a stop to a traffic that was destroying thousands annually in every state in the Union. The drug habit was the cause of more crime, we believe, than the liquor habit. When it is over and the effects it has been responsible for are a thing of the past, we shall begin to realize what it was doing to the people.

There is a plan to start an organization to be known as the "American Legion" for the purpose of satisfying those who think this country is not as well prepared for war as it should be. According to the plan outlined, about 250,000 men who have had some military training will thus be organized to repeal an attack should one be made. Col. Teddy has offered himself and his four sons on the altar. It is perhaps all right to get a few fighters organized—or allow them to organize, "but we think it will be a long time before they are needed if this government asks only what is just from other countries. Had not the nations of Europe now at war been so well prepared to fight that continent might now be at peace and no one the worse off for it.

If the president is to again be the candidate of the democrats for the office he now holds the action of the henchmen of the shipping trust in rejecting the ship purchase bill has given him the best card he could have—the joker. The majority of the people believe that the president was right in his attitude on the question, and for a few of the representatives of the big interests who happen to have been listed as democrats when they were running for office to join a minority that were known to be representatives of special interests, will put those professed democrats in the class to which they belong and the democratic party will be infinitely stronger with them out than in. While we regret the defeat of the measure, we do not consider it other than a gain to the party to be placed in a position to make the fight on that issue.

There is usually two sides to a question. The railroads have been presenting their side as to rate raise, and if the present rate is lower than the cost of production, economically administered, it should be granted. But if it is but a plea made because in common with other business it is hard sledding due to war and other conditions, then it should not be granted. The railroads should not be aided because of a general business depression, for that would make conditions worse for others suffering from the same cause. The Democrat wants to see the railroads and all other business prosper, but we do not want them to have a prosperity at the expense of other business. If an increase is granted it should be with the distinct understanding that it is not to become permanent, and used as a basis for issuing more stock when business is better for the railroads in order to make it perpetual—that it may pay a dividend for all time to come. A business that is regulated as is the railroad business, because it is of necessity in the nature of a monopoly, should be so regulated as to give both the company and its patrons a square deal. It is an important question.

Among the Churches of Wayne

German Lutheran Church
Rev. Moehring, Pastor
Regular services at the church next Sunday. Sunday school at 10 o'clock and preaching services at 11 o'clock.

Methodist Church
(Rev. A. S. Buell, Pastor)
All of the regular mid-week meetings have been called off for this week on account of the special revival meetings in the Baptist church. Professor C. H. Bright gave a very interesting description of missionary conditions and needs in the Philippines, last Sunday evening.

At a called meeting of the Sunday school board steps were taken for the organization of a Boy Scouts Patrol to include the boys in Brother A. P. Gossard's class. Mrs. Buell was elected teacher for the college girls class and expects to organize the girls into a Phalathia class soon.

The theme for next Sunday morning's sermon will be one of the Passion Week Series, Tuesday, the last and greatest day of Christ's public ministry. This series will continue on Sunday mornings until April fourth when they will culminate with the Easter sermon. The subject for the evening sermon will be "The Autograph Album" or the book of life.

Baptist Church
Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor
Our meetings began Monday evening with a fine spirit. A splendid audience responded heartily to Rev. Waldo's cheerful message and to Prof. Deal's enthusiastic song service. Both men were tired, when they came, but with the heroic spirit of Christian service, they threw themselves into the work. A wide interest is already manifested. Christians of all the churches are getting in touch with the meetings.

Prof. Deal wants to enlarge the choir—he knows how to get people to sing with real heart and life. Those who hear him once want to hear him again. Bro. Waldo is going to meet the demands for a pleasing, practical, true preacher of the gospel message. There is a clear ring to his preaching—a note of positiveness, but sympathetic rather than harsh. These two men will have charge of the services. Announcements will be made at each service for the day following. We hope our afternoon meetings will prove helpful to many, who cannot get out evenings. Come tomorrow to the church at 3 o'clock and you will enjoy a good hour.

The Sunday services will be as usual with Brethren Waldo and Deal in charge. Perhaps we shall have a meeting Sunday afternoon. If so, it will be announced Sunday morning.

Ward Randol will lead the young people's service at 6:30 Sunday evening.

At 7:30 Prof. Deal will conduct a song service, followed by a sermon by Bro. Waldo.

Pray for these meetings, talk about them, work for them and you will receive a blessing in these meetings.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
(Rev. Blessing, Pastor.)
Sunday School at 10 a. m.
Morning Worship at 11 a. m.
Luther League at 6:45 p. m.
Evening Worship at 7:45 p. m.

The subject of the morning sermon will be "The Surrendered Life" Luke 5:5-11. You may have heard the story of the young student in the studio of Michelangelo. The great painter realized that the young man had ability, but he was extremely limited in his conception and cramped in his outlook. On one occasion Michelangelo entered the studio and finding a painting of the young man's upon an easel, he daubed it out with a paint brush and wrote underneath the disfigured picture the Latin word "Amplius". When the younger man looked at his marred picture with the word "Amplius" written underneath it he knew that he needed larger conceptions, more depth, and more breadth. He needed to surrender to the master painter. If men would look over the account of their lives, many would find written under them the word "Amplius," the need of larger visions of life. A life surrendered to the Master of men.

In the evening the pastor will use the subject "Christ and Pilate" Matt. 27:22.

The topic for Luther League will be, "The Inner Life". Leader Mr. Julius Hurstad. We welcome the young people to the Luther League meetings. We want them to come. Keep in mind our Lenten services which begin Palm Sunday and last until easter Sunday.

The Ladies Aid society will meet in the Sunday school room of the church on next Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. All members requested to be present.

Catechetical class meets Saturday afternoon at half past two.

There will be special music at our church services. Come, you are welcome.

Presbyterian Church
(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

In fullest harmony with the movement in Evangelism in all the Wayne churches, we desire to announce a series of gospel meetings. These meetings we hope to start on Sunday, March 28th. The services of Evangelist Wm. J. Shallcross of Omaha have been secured for these meetings. Mr. Shallcross will do the preaching and Prof. S. S. Buma, tenor singer and chorus leader, of Chicago has promised to be here to lead the singing.

Along the line of efficiency, we are pleased to be able to present on Thursday and Friday evenings of next week, Mr. Albert F. McGarrath of Chicago, who will lecture both evenings. Mr. McGarrath is an efficiency expert in all lines of church work. Remember the dates: Thursday and Friday, March 18th and 19th, at 8 o'clock. You will be interested, whatever your attitude toward the church or church work. You are cordially invited. Admission free.

Regular services at usual hours next Sunday. "United Service" at 10:30 sharp. The morning sermon will be on: "The Proving of a Man." The Sunday school part of this service begins at 11:30. The entire service lasts exactly two hours. You will be interested in the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6:30, if you come. The evening sermon will be on: "The Pure in Heart." Everybody is invited to any and all of the services of the church.

Members of the church are reminded of the prayer service on Wednesday evening of each week. One hour is devoted to this service—from 7:30 to 8:30. The topics appointed by the general assembly are the topics that guide us in prayer and testimony at these meetings. If you have not yet received the handbook, there are still a few copies of our complimentary ones and we would be more than pleased to supply you.

No, the climate isn't changing in Nebraska. Some winters are dry and mild, some snowy and severe, and this has been the case since the first settlers came. Precipitation varies with the seasons. There have been summers when crops suffered from lack of moisture; others so wet as to seriously interfere with the wheat harvest. Precipitation largely depends upon the force and direction of prevailing winds during a given season. Local ponds, and rat-sloughs, and artificial reservoirs, would have about as much effect on the mighty air-currents as the shooting of a popgun would have in deciding the issues of a mighty battle. Diversified farming should be the slogan of Nebraska agriculturalists, and this idea faithfully carried out will come as near making everybody rich as anything you can think of.—Bixby.

FRED GILBERT TO BE HONORED

500 Gun Clubs in Nation-Wide Celebration Arranged for Veteran Trapshooter

A conservative estimate shows there are at least one-half million trapshooters in the country and it is safe to say that the history and records of Fred Gilbert, the greatest trapshot who ever entered the game, are familiar to all. Twenty years ago, in October, 1895, to be exact, Fred Gilbert, a product of the prairies around Spirit Lake, Iowa, and entirely unknown and unheard of outside of his own precinct, made his debut in the shooting game at Baltimore, Md., and in the contest for the world's championship he vanquished a field of the best shots ever gathered together and instantly ascended the ladder leading to the topmost niche in the hall of trapshooting fame, from which, it is conceded by all, he has never been removed, as, in all the years that have passed, his equal has not been produced, and very likely never will be.

As a man and a shooter, Fred Gilbert is in a class by himself. Quiet and reserved, gentlemanly and courteous to all, he has gone on through the twenty years of his career, shooting in every state in the Union, in most of the provinces of Canada, and even in England, Scotland and on the Continent, earning the respect of all who saw him by his wonderful marksmanship, and endearing himself to hundreds and hundreds of sportsmen who were fortunate enough to come in close contact with him. Honors he has won, enough to turn the heads of a dozen men, and yet through all the victories and midst all the honor he was never anything but "Fred" Gilbert to his friends, the shooters, and they are legion, and scattered broadcast throughout the land. To properly commemorate the twentieth anniversary of Mr. Gilbert as a shooter, a gigantic nation-wide celebration has been arranged in his honor. On March 17, he will attend a complimentary shoot and dinner in Wilmington, Del., at which a large number of prominent trapshooters will be present from all sections of the country. To give the gun clubs throughout the country, where Mr. Gilbert is so popular, an opportunity in participating in the affair, a silver loving cup, suitably inscribed, has been offered as a prize to clubs that will hold a "Fred Gilbert" shoot on any date during the period from March 13 to March 20, both days inclusive, and have at least ten shooters, each shooting a minimum of 100 targets, and the local gunners have made application for and received one of these trophies and will hold a shoot for it, as will 500 other clubs throughout the United States and Canada.

Mr. Gilbert has long been known as "The Wizard of Spirit Lake," and a wizard with the shotgun he has been. His records covering the twenty years he has been a shooter have never been equaled, and for six consecutive years he won the high average for the year, over thousands of other shooters, an unapproachable feat. Year by year Mr. Gilbert's records and averages were:

| Year | No. targets shot at          | No. targets broke | Pct.    |
|------|------------------------------|-------------------|---------|
| 1895 | Averages not compiled.       |                   |         |

| 1910 | 2,000                        | 1,896             | 94.80 |
| 1911 | 2,100                        | 1,995             | 95.00 |
| 1912 | 4,600                        | 4,413             | 95.93   |
| 1913 | 5,940                        | 5,615             | 94.53   |
| 1914 | 3,800                        | 3,517             | 92.55   |

*Indicates high average winner for year. Mr. Gilbert won this honor six consecutive years, eliminating 1906, when he did not shoot, a feat never before nor since accomplished by any shooter, amateur or professional.

**The averages these years were figured only on targets shot at in Interstate Association tournaments.

As one prominent shooter expressed himself, "Iowa has no prouder boast, no more popular toast than Fred Gilbert, the Wizard of Spirit Lake."

Cup is on exhibition at Carhart Hardware Store.

The date of the match has been fixed for Wednesday, March 17, at 1 p. m., and no one except members of the Wayne Gun Club will be eligible to compete here.

Wayne Cleaning Works
Are still caring for all dry cleaning and repair work offered at the Pantorium, where Mr. Stanley Woodworth is in charge, and work will be promptly and properly cared for there until our new equipment arrives and can be installed at our larger and better place. Any outfit consisting of all that is necessary to supplement that we now have and make it complete for turning work out quickly and economically is on the way. This will make us the best plant of the kind in northeastern Nebraska, and the work of this territory will be properly looked after. We are already receiving work from both home and outside towns, and giving it careful attention.
It will soon be time to clean the lace curtains of the smoke and coal stains of winter, and we solicit such work.

To be Correctly Dressed

Fashion plays an important part in the life of every woman. She need not be a slave to it; but every woman who cares about her personal appearance likes to be correctly dressed.

This does not necessarily mean the frequent buying of new things. It does mean the choosing of fabrics and garments that possess the correct style features and of a lasting quality.

WE ARE CAREFUL TO OFFER FOR SALE ONLY THAT WHICH IS DEPENDABLE.

Refined, conservative styles in Coats, Suits, Skirts

Materials and tailoring are of the very highest character. Examine the garments closely. See how well they are made, with all the character of the skillful tailoring that you usually find only in custom-made garments.

The fabrics have been fully shrunk, insuring the shapeliness of the garments. The styles are correct and the colors are permanent. Yet these garments are very reasonable in cost.

SKIRTS.....$ 4.50 to $12.50
COATS.....$10.00 to $22.50
SUITS.....$22.50 to $30.00

More New Waists

From $1.00 to $3.50 you can find almost any quality waist and they are all correct in style and neatly made.

New Undermuslins

Corset covers, drawers, skirts, corset cover and skirt combinations and corset cover and drawer combinations very dainty and pretty.

New Spring Embroideries

The new spring embroidery is winning lots of friends. We are showing an unusual lot of the very sheer effects a money saving prices.

Lloyd Rubeck, who is returning to this county after two years near Granite Falls, Minnesota, and will farm one of the Wightman places near Carroll, arrived here last week after a stormy trip of five days on the stormbound road, and the car could not be taken to its destination at Carroll, so the stock was uncared here to give them a rest from life in a car. He was taken sick while on the road, and was ill for several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown. He is able to be out again, and is getting settled in his new home.

James Miller, who was storm stayed several days at Bonesteel brings back some startling stories of the storm there, where it snowed continually for five days and nights. He said though a rough county the hollows were so filled with snow that it appeared nearly level. In walking he stepped from the beaten path and immediately dropped in up to his armpits, and it was no easy task to regain the beaten path where the snow was packed sufficiently to hold him with his head above water. At Dallas a dentist out with a companion seeing the sights fell into a drift more than 20 feet deep and was smothered before he could be rescued.

P. S. Houston and son Ross came last week from Gem, Kansas, to visit at the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. S. A. Lutgen, and the lad remained for a time for his uncle to treat his eyes. Mr. Houston, who returned the first of the week says that his part of Kansas (in the wheat belt of the western part of the state) is very prosperous for they had a good wheat crop last year and it brought a good price. When he read of the snow extending down over his country he said that meant another good crop almost sure. He has been in that country since the early '80s and has seen many a failure and many good crops. At first they had to learn how to farm it and what was the best crop to raise. Now with these questions worked out they are meeting with much success. In addition to winter wheat they grow a little corn, but more of cane, kafir corn and maize. It is a large country and the farms are mostly large, so when they got their bumper crops it counts into money fast. On the other hand a failure means the loss of a lot of time and money for seed.

According to the recent ruling of the postoffice department, heretofore and until the close of the European war, the two cent letter rate to all the European countries is withdrawn and all the letters must now bear 5c postage as heretofore. The cause of this order being issued by the postoffice department is that there are now no direct connections with those countries and that, therefore, it takes more time and labor to handle the foreign mail.

THE BOY FARMER

Or a Member of the Corn Club
By ASA PATRICK

Copyright, 1915, by American Press Association.

SYNOPSIS.

Sam Powell, inspired by a government agent, plans to make a scientific farmer of himself and to compete for prizes awarded to the Boys' Corn Club.

Sam works hard cleaning up and fertilizing the worn-out farm. Miles Fagan ridicules scientific farming, but lets his boy join the corn club.

While blowing out stumps Sam saves Joe Watson's life. Sam plans his contest acre of corn and other crops and the stocking of his farm with cattle.

He prunes and sprays the old trees of the orchard, improving them greatly, and his successful farming astonishes Miles Fagan and other slow going neighbors.

Sam's careful study of scientific agriculture and his up to date methods of seed selection are rewarded by splendid crops.

CHAPTER VI.

SAM'S well fertilized, well cultivated acre of Irish potatoes surprised the neighbors with the amount it produced. Two hundred bushels were what he harvested from the patch, and, selling them at 60 cents per bushel, he had $120 to show for the first crop. It was only the 1st of June, so he immediately prepared the land and planted the acre again in June corn.

After that the work came thick and fast. The cane was ready to be cut. He moved it, let it cure and stacked away two tons of fine hay in the barn. He could have gathered another crop of cane if he had let it remain, but the pumpkin yams must be planted. So he prepared and bedded the ground, and one cloudy day just before a rain he pulled the potato slips from the bed where he had grown them and planted this acre also with a second crop.

The cotton then had to be plowed, and when that was finished the four-acre cornfield, in which he was also growing a flourishing crop of pumpkins, was calling for him.

The peach and plum crops were very short this year, owing to a late frost, but the Powell orchard never suffered in this respect. The old trees had a bumper crop. Prices being good, after Mrs. Powell had preserved what she wanted, Sam sold $40 worth of plums and $110 worth of peaches, making a total of $150 income from the fruit, not to mention the preservings for family use.

Early in the winter, before the family moved, Sam had made arrangements with a breeder of a fine strain of Plymouth Rock chickens to get ten sittings of eggs. For these he was to pay $1.50 a sitting. Mrs. Powell already owned a mixed breed flock of fifty hens, but Sam's plan, with which his mother heartily agreed, was to replace the mongrel stock with the thoroughbreds. The first of these sittings were hatched while it was yet cold, and before summer came on, with its excessive heat and insect pests, the whole ten had been brought off and more than 100 thrifty young Plymouth Rocks were running about the farm.

The ample range and shade and the rye sown in the orchard made the income from poultry almost clear profit. Chickens require little food when they can get green stuff and insects. Besides the Plymouth Rocks Mrs. Powell raised six dozen common breed fryers, which she sold at $3 per dozen, or $18. From the thoroughbred flock, after selecting seventy pullets and five roosters to keep, she sold the culls for $15, roosters at $1 and pullets at 50 cents.

The egg market was very low during the summer months, but even at a few cents a dozen $20 worth were sold this year and the family had all they could consume at home. Finally, in the fall, the old flock of common chickens was sold, bringing 25 cents each or $12.50 in all. Surplus milk and butter from the two cows brought $50 for the year.

But this wasn't all. The acre of watermelons, cantaloupes and vegetables contributed its share. Sam's watermelons were a long white variety, with black seed and blood red meat, sweet as sugar. These melons always brought something above the regular market price. In all the young farmer sold $40 worth of melons and vegetables.

The June corn made a fair crop. Sam sold the roasting ears at one cent each. These brought him $30. Then he cut and cured the stalks for feed. The ground being once more cleared, he plowed, harrowed and planted it in turnips.

Sam found that a little farm of fifteen acres can keep two or three people very busy, especially when the farm is made to hump itself, growing one crop right after another. Hardly a day passed that he or his sister didn't have to drive to town to sell something. Whenever it could be arranged Sam always let Florence go, for then he could be hurrying the heavy work forward.

September came and Florence entered the high school, but Sam, badly as he wanted to begin, found it impossible to do so until after Christmas. However, he began studying at night, and for all the hard work he did he see how you do it. Of course I know now that it's a good deal in the way you work the land, but I didn't think anybody could raise crops like this. And you never let up—fast as you get one crop off you've got another coming on."

"Yes," said the boy farmer, "I'm doing pretty well. Everything's been favorable, though, and we've had plenty of rain. As for growing more than one crop, you've got to do that if you want to make any money. Besides, land needs something on it all the time to keep down the weeds and keep humus in the ground. When I get my corn and cotton gathered I want to hire you again to plow this land and sow it with some kind of a cover crop for the winter."

"All right," agreed Bill. "I'll do it. And since you mentioned it I guess I'll sow my field in something—wheat or rye. I could use it for pasture, too, couldn't I?"

"Certainly," replied Sam. "It would not hurt to pasture it even if you were going to let it stand. But speaking of land producing stuff, why, man, this place hasn't done half what it can be made to do. Here's something I clipped from a farm paper. It'll give you an idea what land produces when it's handled right." Sam took from his pocket a little slip of paper and read:

"There are few who know the possibilities of the soil when well manured and watered. One acre has produced

The Two Put Off Down the Creek to Fish For Perch.

216 bushels of corn, and three bales of cotton have rewarded another man. On Long Island 400 bushels of Irish potatoes is not an excessively large crop, and at Greeley, Colo., 400 bushels is not an uncommon yield. In the Sacramento valley, California, Mr. Cleek has for the past thirty years made a good living and saved an average of $400 per year from one acre. On the island of Jersey rents are as high as $200 and $300 per acre, and near the city of Paris they are higher still. Near San Diego, Cal., there is a colony of "littlelanders" who believe that one acre is enough, and many of them are making good with their small farms. With good soils, plenty of manure and all the water needed, the possibilities of the soil are enormous, and one crop follows another in rapid succession.

"What do you think of $200 and $300 an acre for rent?" Sam asked when he had finished reading. "They've got to raise something on that land, haven't they?"

"I should say they have!" exclaimed Bill.

"That afternoon at 1 o'clock Bill Googe came by for Sam, and the two put off down the creek to fish for the perch and cat that were to be found in the blue pools of the little stream. Bill had intended to take his shotgun along, but found that he was out of powder and so had to leave off that part of the sport.

They hadn't gone far when an old quail with her brood of young ones, just old enough to fly, rose out of the grass in front of them with a loud whir of wings and sailed off into a nearby thicket.

"They're going to be some good-bant-in' here this fall and winter," Bill Googe remarked.

"You're a farmer, aren't you, Bill?" Sam asked.

"Of course, a kind of one. But what you askin' that for?" Bill inquired, surprised at the question.

"Well, a farmer ought not to kill a farmer's friends, ought he?"

"Sure, he oughtn't!" George replied.

"Well, you just take it from me that these quails and nearly all the other birds that live around here are good friends of ours. We ought not to kill them, and we ought not to allow others to come on our places to kill them."

"Why, I didn't think a quail was any good to us except to eat," said Bill.

"So far as any one knows," Sam explained, "they're the only bird that destroys the potato beetle. They eat all they can find, and they do us a good turn every time they gobble one. More than that, every single quail eats thousands upon thousands of boll weevils. Some people used to argue that a quail didn't eat anything except grain. But we know better now. They eat insects of all kinds, as well as weed seed."

"If that's so they ought not to be killed," said Bill.

"Of course not," said Sam. "We don't have any idea how much good they do us. It ought to be against the law to kill a quail at any time. As it is, they say insects destroy one-tenth of all we produce. If we were to kill all the birds there'd be such a plague of insects that they'd kill everything—all the trees and vegetation of all kinds."

Further on Bill saw a woodpecker hammering lustily on a dead tree. He stopped and pointed with his finger. "Bet I could knock 'im off with a rifle from here," he said.

"Don't ever do it," cautioned Sam. "He's another friend."

"What?" exclaimed Bill. "A woodpecker kills trees."

"No, he doesn't," said Sam. "He saves trees. A woodpecker never bores a hole in a tree for fun. He's after worms or making himself a home, and he makes his home in dead trees. When he bores into a green tree he's after a worm every time, and he always gets him. The hole the bird makes will grow up, but if the worm stays it'll kill the tree. One woodpecker will go over 600 trees in a day and examine them for bugs, egg deposits and worms. It doctors the tree inside and out. I saw a woodpecker go over nearly every tree in our orchard."

"Well, now, I didn't know that," said Bill. "I been knowin' woodpeckers all my life, but I never paid no attention to 'em. Guess I won't shoot no more of 'em."

"To tell the truth," Sam went on, "there are mighty few birds or animals but what do more good than harm. I believe the common old house cats kill more birds and chickens than all the varmints put together. I think it's a good deed to kill a cat whenever you find one. There are two kinds of hawks—the cooper and the sharp shinned—that are bad to kill birds and chickens. These two hawks look alike. They are small. The females are a mottled brownish color, and the males are a dull blue. It's a good thing to kill them whenever you get a chance. The other hawks and owls don't do much harm, and they do lots of good because they live mostly on rats and mice and such things. Once in awhile an owl will bother chickens, but it's only when its regular food is scarce.

"It's pretty much the same way about the fox, mink, weasel and skunk. Once in awhile one of these varmints will get to be bad after chickens. But we could hardly do without them because they keep down the swarms of field mice, rabbits, grasshoppers, crickets, hornets and wasps."

"Where'd you find out these things?" asked Bill. "I know they're true when I hear you say 'em, but somehow I never did think of 'em before."

"I've learned a little by reading," Sam told him, "but mostly by keeping my eyes and ears open when I'm out in the woods and fields. Sister and I like to study plants and animals, especially plants. We're going to take a correspondence course in botany next year in the state university. Florence says she's going to be a florist, and I want to know all about plants, so I can farm."

"During the long afternoon Sam and Bill fished and talked, every now and then throwing out a blue cat or a goggle eye to add to their strings that they kept fastened to the edge of the water. It was cool and shady along the creek. Birds sang and squirrels chattered in the branches overhead. The two farmers enjoyed the quiet coolness after the hot days in the field.

Late in the afternoon they wound up their lines and went home, each carrying a long string of fish. Sam sat on the doorstep in the gathering dusk and breathed the perfume from the honeysuckle that clambered over the yard fence. He saw the stars coming out, one by one, and the moon creeping up behind a big oak. He heard the "who-who-who" of an owl away off on the creek. Then suddenly stars, moon and owl all vanished. He smelled fried fish and heard his mother calling him to supper.

"Postmaster, Francis W. Brown, Lincoln, Nebraska, is in receipt of information from the First Assistant Postmaster General, Washington, D. C., stating that it has been decided to add Lincoln to the list of offices at which lists are published of the names and addresses of producers, who desire to sell country produce direct to the consumer by means of the parcel post. All farmers desiring to have their names placed on the list should forward their name and address to Postmaster Brown at Lincoln, Nebraska, stating the kind of produce they have for sale, which should be listed under three heads: Butter, eggs, and general produce. When a sufficient number of names are received they will be compiled, printed and distributed upon application or by the city carriers to persons, who would likely make use of such lists."

Respectfully,
Francis W. Brown,
Postmaster.

The Dope Fiend's Waterloo
For some thousands, or hundreds of thousands—or is it some millions?—of our most unfortunate American citizens March 1, 1915, was a fateful day. It marked the caking effect of a national prohibitory law on drugs of the habit forming sort.
A few years ago there lived in a certain little town a certain doctor whose practice was the largest in all that countryside. People who could get no relief from others went to him and had their pains relieved at once.
"Dr. Anodyne," they would assert as they discussed the matter afterwards, "took away my pain after all the other doctors had just simply failed. He knows his business!"
In that same little town there are many now who wonder how they are to live. For Old Doctor Anodyne has given them the habit of using the soothing drugs which finally destroy the wills of their victims, and at last their lives and souls.
Old Dr. Anodyne has gone to whatever reward he deserved, but the victims of his practice still live—and many of them wish they could die. The new law may kill them, in the most dreadful agony known of suffering humanity.
The law taking effect March 1 is entitled "An act to regulate the production, importation, manufacture, compounding, sale, dispensing, or giving away of opium or coca leaves, their salts, derivatives, or preparations;" but it may possibly be entitled to the name of "an act imposing the death penalty on drug fiends."

Are drugs a menace to the people of the United States?
People connected with the drug trade declare that the use of habit forming drugs has increased 10 per cent in the last year. At this rate of increase the thing is a menace. For it is as much worse than alcoholism as alcoholism is worse than the coffee habit.
In the future, every doctor and every druggist dispensing the drug will be required to do so under such rigid federal inspection that nobody except the most reckless will break the law. If the law is efficiently enforced, not a single ounce of opium, morphine, cocaine, codein, heroin, or any of their sister dopes will be dispensed in the United States except under such conditions that the inspectors can trace the matter down and find out whether the dispensing has been done legally.
If your banker, pastor or lawyer goes suddenly insane after the 1st of March and blows out his own or somebody else's brains, it may be because of this law. No one is too high in station to be a drug fiend. And as for the thousands of poor outcasts who drift from one coke joint to another in the cities, without friends and without money, who knows what will become of them?
Maybe the smugglers know.

Talking of Farm Advertising
The American Breeder has the following good advice in its columns:
You believe in advertising—in publicity. You describe what you have to dispose of and openly offer it for sale (or for trade), over your own signature. Do you know that there are people so short-sighted as not to realize that the one who does not advertise, does business by word of mouth and has no written or printed statements out by which he is bound. You know that those who try to do a "gum shoe" business, picking up accidental customers here and there as best they can, have their stock longer on their hands than anybody else, and necessarily their feed bills, rent and other expenses, are larger in proportion to the business done. The man who buys of non-advertisers gets to pay this extra expense. In your business you answer the inquiries of a lot of good people who may not realize this fact. Wouldn't it pay you well to protect yourself from "pussy foot" competition by printing on all your letterheads, catalog or circulars, something like the paragraph below. Any printer can put it on for you, and you should never write a business letter excepting on paper on which is printed your name, address and business—and this truth about the advisability of buying from advertisers:
Buy From Advertisers
"Remember that the prices and quality of advertised stock are more sure to be right than any others, for advertised animals are sold faster, sold more direct and sold in more open competition than any others, and the seller's printed advertisement in an honorable publication obligates him to those who answer the same. Always mention the Democrat when writing advertiser."

The North Nebraska Eagle of Dakota City calls the good people of the county to arms to repel a possible invasion of thugs, slugs, saloon-keepers, prostitutes and the like who are to be put out of business in Sioux City in a few months now by the repeal of the mulct law. Especially does the Eagle think the citizens of South Sioux City do not want a repetition of the days of Covington. One thing is sure, if such characters are allowed to find homes in the small border cities of Nebraska it will hasten the day when this state will go dry, for there are lots of people who think the sale of liquor legitimate who do not want too much of what they might term a good thing.

Columbus Lets Paving Contract
As paving is one of the questions which will have to be solved at Wayne shortly, the following from the Columbus Telegram may be of interest, as showing the probable cost of such improvement. Here is the report and some of the bids:
After devoting two long evening sessions to the consideration of bids, submitted by seventeen different firms on five kinds of pavement, the council last Wednesday evening awarded the contract for paving the business section of the city to the William Horrabin company of Des Moines, Iowa, on its bid of $1.94 1/2 a cubic yard for bitulithic. At the same time the local firm Myers & Luers, was given the contract for installing the concrete curbs and gutters. Its bid was 3 1/2 cents a cubic foot, or nearly one cent a cubic foot lower than the nearest competitor.
Bids on brick pavement ran from $2.13 a square yard to more than $2.35. The two low bidders on the bitulithic were the Horrabin company, at $1.94 1/2 and Atel & Roberts, of Lincoln, at $1.84. Those on asphalt concrete and granite concrete were lower, but these two pavements had not been seriously considered.
In executive session the council discussed the merits of the various pavements and bids until 12:45, when adjournment was taken till Wednesday evening. After another executive session Wednesday evening the bidders were admitted, and the motions awarding the contracts were made in public.
Bitulithic pavement is a combination of lake asphalt and Sioux Falls granite. It is laid on a five-inch base of cement and crushed rock. The wearing surface, composed of ninety per cent of granite and ten per cent of the asphaltic preparation, used as a binder, is laid three inches thick and then rolled with heavy rollers to a thickness of slightly less than 2 1/2 inches. The patent is controlled by the Warren company, of Boston, and the Horrabin firm, of Des Moines, buys the right to lay it. Representatives of both companies were present. They declared that bitulithic has never before been laid for a price as low as $1.94 1/2. Grinnel, Iowa, paid $2.13 for the same pavement. Columbus was given a low bid because this will be the first bitulithic pavement laid in Nebraska, and the companies controlling it were exceeding anxious to break into the Nebraska territory. The cost to the city of the entire contract for 50,134 square yards will be approximately $97,500.
Laying of the concrete curbs gutters and crossing approaches at the Myer & Luers bid of 3 1/2 cents a cubic yard will cost the city approximately $4,000.

Some of the western towns have inaugurated a "Payup" day, when a special effort is made by all to square up all accounts. One small town tried the plan and wiped out more than $8,000 of debts in the single day. It no doubt did not take more than half of that amount of cash to do the deed, for in many cases the cash might be used to pay several debts, by being passed on and kept moving. It is suggested that we try it here. The Democrat is willing that any may try it on us who wish.

Carl A. Baker, who purchased a half section one and one-half miles south of town last spring, arrived here Saturday from Wayne, with a car of live stock and other moveables, and has taken possession of his place. Mr. Baker met his wife and family at Sidney, yesterday morning, and they are now at home on the farm south of town. Immediately after unloading his car Mr. Baker subscribed for The Delegate and is duly credited upon our books for one year from the date of this issue.—Dalton Delegate.

Mrs. E. D. Lundak left Tuesday for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walton, of Winneton.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Anderson fell from a chair and broke both bones in her right forearm.

The Wendel-Sarcuelson Auto Co. have sold their garage to Wm. Kay, who took possession the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kruse and daughter are visiting at the home of Mrs. Kruse's mother, Mrs. W. H. Terwilliger.

At a meeting of the board held Wednesday, E. D. Lundak was re-elected superintendent of the schools with an increase in salary.

Miss Caroline Marriott, who is teaching at Madison is enjoying a three days' vacation at home. Miss Gertrude Lutz of Madison is her guest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Corram, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Will Ellis, returned Monday to their home at Weasington Springs, South Dakota.

Arlene Matilda, the 4 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Erickson died Sunday morning. The funeral services were held from the Lutheran church Tuesday afternoon.

The P. O. P. I. F. E. O. social held in the Presbyterian church parlors Friday evening proved to be an evening of "plenty of pure innocent fun, for every one" of which the letters are significant.

The village lighting plant changed hands last week and is now owned by H. H. Childs, Ira Wilhelm, G. W. Anderson and Gus Wendt. The new company retains the name of the Wakefield Light and Power Co.

Eighteen cars of stocks were shipped from Wakefield Friday. Those having shipments of cattle were, Ed. Gustafson, Will Miner, Aug. Lubberstedt, C. A. Kinney, G. A. Sundell, Henry Anderson and Ole Dahlgren.

Mr. John Brudigan and Miss Lena Test were married at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Test, Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. Rev. Borneman officiating. They will go to housekeeping on the old Brudigan farm south of town. Their many friends wish them joy and happiness in their new home.

About thirty ladies enjoyed a pleasant afternoon Saturday when Mrs. J. D. Haskell entertained at a "pantry" shower for Miss Minnie Fredrickson, a bride of this week. The feature of the afternoon was the presentation of the gifts by five young ladies who "looked fourteen in their little girl's costumes." Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fredrickson at high noon Wednesday occurred a pretty wedding when their daughter, Miss Minnie Harriet and Mr. Edward Sandahl jr., were united in marriage. Rev. Seel of the Presbyterian church officiated. The attendants were Fred Sandahl, Roy Fredrickson, Ernest Sandahl, and the Misses Weberg, Nettie Sandahl and Edith Jacobson. The bride's maid wore a gown of a white chiffon, over green. The bride wore a beautiful dress of white crepe de Leter with silk lace trimmings. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and hyacinth. Her veil was caught up with sprays of smilax. After the congratulations were extended the sixty guests found places at three long tables where a bounteous four-course dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Sandahl left the same evening for Lincoln and after April first will be at home to their many friends on the groom's farm southwest of town.

Mrs. Bright and Mrs. Conn went to Sioux City Monday to see the play "Daddy-long-legs." This play, taken from Jean Webster's book of the same name, has been played for several nights in Chicago and leading cities. It has proved very popular.

Miss Beechel and Miss Woosley entertained the unmarried lady members of the faculty at a Kensington Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Selleck. An interesting feature of the entertainment was a contest, in which the blindfolded ladies were asked to draw "Moon faces". The work of Miss Selleck was voted the most artistic, and she was awarded the prize.

On Friday morning Professor Hunter gave the third of the series of vocational addresses. His was a worthy successor to the excellent talks given by Drs. Blair and Heckert. The subject was "Building Construction." Professor Hunter is an enthusiast in this work and presented his material in an animated manner. He used the relectoscope in illustrating the various processes of building.

Miss Marjorie Selleck, who is conducting the work in German during the absence of Miss Kingsbury, gave at chapel Tuesday morning a very interesting account of the experience at Stockholm on the day that war was declared. Her entire party of which her father, Hon. W. A. Selleck of Lincoln, was a member, were ignorant of the state of international relations, and saw the mobilization of Swedish troops and their review by the king and royal family before they learned of the upheaval in Europe. For three weeks thereafter they were in Sweden waiting for the opportunity to return to America.

Ordinance No. 230

An ordinance dividing the City of Wayne, Nebraska, into three wards, fixing the boundary and territory within each ward and to repeal ordinance No. 48, entitled "An ordinance to divide the Village of Wayne into wards for the purpose of electing the officers of a city of the second class at the next annual election."

Be it ordained by the Mayor and Council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska,

1. That the said City of Wayne, Nebraska, hereby is divided into three wards to be known as the first ward, second ward and third ward.

Audited and Allowed Claims, But No Warrants Ordered:

1027 for $3000.00, 1028 for $3000.00, 1029 for $4000.00.

Comes now C. E. Jones and says that for the year 1914 he was charged with poll tax, which was certified up by the village clerk of Carroll to the county clerk, to be spread on the tax list; that he paid said tax under protest for the reason that he is past 53 years of age and therefore not subject to poll tax, and asks that the treasurer be ordered to refund to said C. E. Jones the sum of $2.50. The board after due consideration orders treasurer to refund the said sum of $2.50, so paid under protest.

Comes now John Kay and says that for the year 1914 he was assessed with a valuation of $1925 on eleven hogs, which makes said tax amount to $11.45; that he paid said tax under protest, which was assessed to him in Logan precinct; that an error was made in the assessment at this figure and he now asks that the sum of $10.29 be refunded him, as the difference in the tax and the amount agreed on with the county assessor, which valuation is fixed at $198.00, which makes $1.16. He now asks that the county treasurer be ordered to refund the sum of $10.29 to the said John Kay or so much thereof as seems just and equitable to the board of county commissioners of Wayne county, Nebraska. The board after due consideration orders the county treasurer to refund the said sum of $10.29 so paid under protest.

Comes now John Kay and says that for the year 1914 he was assessed on eleven hogs in Logan precinct at $19.25 actual value, or $385.00 assessed value; that he paid said tax under protest, amounting to $11.45 for the reason of a gross error in assessment; that the assessment should be $198.00 actual value, or $39, assessed value, which would make said tax on said hogs figure $1.16, and he now asks that said tax or difference in tax, amounting to the sum of $10.29, be refunded him, and that the county treasurer be ordered to refund the said John Kay the sum of $10.29. The board after due consideration rejects said protest, being a duplicate.

Whereas, on January 6, 1915, James O'Neal appeared before the board and made request for county aid, and upon motion was allowed, until further notice, the sum of $4.00 per week for groceries and wearing apparel, and the county to furnish coal. The board no orders said allowances discontinued from this date.
