Junior Class Play

The play "Esmeralda" given by the junior class of the State Normal School in the opera house Tuesday evening was well chosen, well given and well attended.

One's interest was aroused by the story of the play, in which "Old Man" Rogers and "Esmeralda" are forced to sell the farm by "Mother Rogers", who being born and raised in Elizabethtown, has the advantage of her husband and daughter. After selling the farm, Mrs. Rogers determines to take these two ungrateful charges abroad, that they may have the advantage of travel and art.

Esmeralda's lover, Dave, is left behind and the "little house" is waiting.

In Paris they meet many people, among whom are some Americans, who plainly see the plans of Mrs. Rogers. She manages to meet some royalty, and to effect an engagement between a certain Marquis and Esmeralda.

The scene between the Marquis and Mr. Rogers is interesting and pathetic but the Marquis gives up Esmeralda only because she absolutely refuses him.

Esmeralda meets Dave at the home of Jack Desmond, and against her mother's express commands tells him that she has been, and will be, true to him.

The play closes with the fortunes reversed, and it is Dave who is rich but he says his money is theirs.

Mr. Mayfield, as Mr. Rogers, is worthy of special mention. One forgot that Don was speaking and saw only "Old Man" Rogers who, for twenty-five years had been ruled by his wife.

Miss Hicks as Esmeralda left nothing to be desired. As the little country girl, afraid of her mother's scolding, in her companionship with her father, in her loyalty to Dave and disgust for the Marquis, her disgust with the pretense of enjoying Paris, she proved to the audience that the play was well named.

Miss Oman, as "Mother" Rogers, was certainly mistress of the situation. No one wondered that it was easier to let mother "sort o' run things". Her utter failure to appreciate the fact that Esmeralda and Mr. Rogers are just "home folks" was equal to their failure to appreciate her aspirations for travel, money, art and "culture". At no time and in no place did this strong-willed woman weaken, even though beaten in her own game. One who plays well such a part is certainly successful.

Mr. Wallin, as Dave, played his part faithfully and well. One's sympathy was at once enlisted in his favor.

Mr. Maun, as Esterbrook, gave an "atmosphere" to the play as well as to all details connected with it.

Mr. Bliervnicht, as Jack Desmond, the American artist, showed the caustic personality and failure to comprehend the love situation, together with kindness to a marked degree.

His sisters, Nora and Kate, Miss Hoogner and Miss Goldsmith, each played her part successfully. Miss Hoogner proved herself to be a wonderful manager of situations and Miss Goldsmith was equally good in managing her brother.

Earl Schroer, the Marquis de Montessin, was the one foreign element and succeeded in showing us just what a Marquis should be.

Thomas Musselman, alias George Drew, the speculator, almost succeeded in getting "Old Man" Rogers' farm for nothing, and while the principle was despicable, the perpetration was so well carried out by Mr. Musselman that one forgot something of the deed in watching the schemer.

Much of the success of the detail of a play depends on the part of the one who takes the part of the maid, Miss Graham, in this character, helped each situation in which she appeared.

Much credit is due Mr. and Mrs. Keckley who had the play in charge. Each one who took part showed the effect of careful training and interpretation.

A sample of the Carman No. 3 potato which Ralph Rundell is selling found its way to the editor's dinner table Wednesday, and we are free to say that when put to the final test they have few if any superiors as a table bird. Easily cooked, white, dry and mealy.

A Narrow Escape

Tuesday R. R. Smith delivered for shipment at Carroll a fat cow and fat Shorthorn bull about 30 months of age. The latter animal was a fine specimen of the pure bred Shorthorn, and a number were admiring him. Among them a Mr. McLain appeared to admire the animal and went into the yard where his lordship was cooling off from the heat engendered by a long walk, and a heat of another nature seemed to take possession of his brain, and without saying anything about it he lowered his head and started for the intruder. Escape seemed impossible with a six foot fence on all sides, but naturally the man tried, and started and ran. The bull reached him as he neared the fence and polked his nose quickly between the man's legs and with a horn under each hip, threw him into the air, and like an acrobat turning in a circus he ended over while in the air and alighted on his feet on the safe side of the fence and wholly uninjured. Mr. Smith says that while he never led or handled the bull any while he owned him he was not cross, and supposes that the long drive and consequent heating tended to make him cross for the time and object to the intrusion of strangers. He is now on the way to the packing house and if his victim wants revenge he will need to follow him but a short time.

Bankers Meet at Randolph

The annual meeting of the Northeastern Nebraska Banker's association is in session at Randolph today and all of the local banks are represented. From the First National H. S. Kingland, Bev Strahan and Geo. Roe are in attendance. Rollie Ley and Herman Lundberg represent the State Bank of Wayne and Paul Meyer and Will Jenkins are there from the Citizens' National. J. H. Kemp also went over to mingle with the bankers, a number of whom are agents under him of the Northwestern Insurance Co. W. D. Redmond, who was invited to preside at the banquet this evening went this morning with one of the cars, all of the Wayne delegation going by auto. They have an excellent program, devoting the day sessions to the business of the organization and the evening to amusement and pleasure.

A School Play and Social

There is to be a box supper given by District No. 45, Friday evening April 30, preceded by an out door play entitled "Little Heroine of the Revolution" given by the school. There will be an exhibit of the school work ready for your inspection within the school room. Ladies are invited to come with well filled boxes and men bring your pocket books.

The play will be followed by a quilt and rug sale, both articles made by the children. Come prepared to vote for the "fair lady" and the "homeliest man" and see who gets the quilt and rug.

Angie B. Fish, Teacher.

New Postmistress at Carroll

Miss Hazel James has been named as postmistress at Carroll, and is already engaged in conducting the work of the office. She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. James, and is said to be a most satisfactory candidate with the public, ably filling the place far better than the retiring postmaster, who was retarded in his work by the infirmities of age for the past few years, but was retained in the office for sixteen years, though expressing a wish to retire several years ago. He performed his duty conscientiously and to the best of his ability to the last.

Laws of Nebraska

On another page of this issue of the Democrat you will find a full list of the laws enacted at the last session of the legislature at Lincoln. It will be a good thing to file the paper away for reference, for one cannot remember all, and frequently there is a wish to know if this or that measure became a law or landed in the scrap heap.

Saturday, May 22 is the date fixed upon by Emerson people for their annual May festival. This celebration has become a fixed annual event at that place and many from away from the town attend.

Industrial Education Talk

The lecture last Friday morning on industrial education was given by Miss Edith Beechel, who chose for her subject "The Ready Made Garment Industry". Miss Beechel gave an interesting history of the development of the industry. In colonial days the work was a part of the household duties, many a family making its own coarse cloths, coatings, serges, flannels, linsey-woolsey, woolen hosiery, cotton goods, thread, jeans, muslins, checked and striped cotton and linen goods, bedticks, coverlets, counterpanes, tow linens, coarse shirtings, sheetings, towelings, table linen, and mixtures of wool and cotton, cotton and flax. As late as 1790 four-fifths of the clothing of the people was made entirely by themselves. Under such conditions children received the best sort of an industrial education right in the home. Inventions during the 18th century had much to do in taking this industry from the home to the factory, so that early in the 19th century the household garment industry was rapidly disappearing. New York is the center of the ready made garment industry in the United States, the industry having developed since 1840, and largely controlled by Jews since 1890. As the work developed in shops and factories social and industrial problems appeared. In factories the work is now highly specialized, the task system originated, wages decreased, conditions in shop and factory became unhygienic, unskilled labor increased. Of course, there were many advantages to offset these disadvantages. Then, too, the disadvantages are being removed as rapidly as possible.

The physical conditions of factories, however, should interest all. The roar of machinery, dark rooms artificially lighted, intense application, dangerous machines, long hours for fatigued workers, all these have attracted attention and efforts are being made to conserve the health of employees. Labor unions have looked after the interests of workers at the mercy of contractors and task masters. National Consumers League and White Label Shop have also helped to make possible a well-made garment free from the cost of human life. What can the purchaser of ready made garments do to help better conditions? He can help by becoming an intelligent buyer. The garments that are made in shops and factories under the best hygienic conditions bear the union or the National Consumers League or the White Label. Buy these or any other garment of standard make and you will encourage the effort that is being made to produce "well-made garments free from the cost of human life". Miss Beechel gave an excellent address in a pleasing way, and many expressed their appreciation of her efforts.

Words of Appreciation

Editor Democrat:—By quick, heroic and efficient work in the face of odds and much danger the members of the Wayne F. D. on Monday stopped a dangerous fire which, if once it had got beyond their control would have proven certain destruction to the plant of the Gasoline Supply Co. The writer of this does not believe it necessary to wait until a serious accident has happened to come to a realization of the danger of a fireman's life or his rights to public consideration and appreciation. No man responds more promptly—no man faces danger more willingly—he is entitled to the best the people can give him.

It is to be hoped that on receipt of reply to my report to headquarters I can show a more substantial appreciation by making a small donation—and do our part toward keeping the Wayne F. D. up to its present standard of efficiency.

A Good Work at Lincoln

The following letter from Lincoln under date of April 19, comes to the Democrat from the pastor of the East Lincoln Baptist church, and tells of the meetings just closed there:

Dear Editor:—Knowing that many of the friends of Rev. B. P. Richardson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Wayne, would be interested in the meetings of our church—East Lincoln Baptist—where Mr. Richardson has preached for the last two weeks, I am sending you this account of the meetings for your paper.

Rev. Richardson has rendered splendid service for this church and community, preaching twice each day through the week and more times on Sundays. He fit our situation exactly and was blessed in leading some fifty people to a decision, some of which will unite with this church. Brother Richardson is a growing man who is already a strong preacher and fearlessly presents the truth as he sees it. The meeting closed last night at high tide with nine people coming forward.

Prof. Ira Deal, the man who led the choir and sang in the recent meeting in the Baptist church at Wayne also helped us here and the two men made a mighty team for God.

We congratulate the city of Wayne and community on having such a man as Richardson in your midst; indeed, I was never in a place where brotherly love and the spirit of unity was more manifest among the ministers than in Wayne.

Rev. Richardson leaves us with our very best wishes and with high praise for the way he let God use him here.

Yours very truly,
H. R. WALDO,
Pastor East Baptist Church of Lincoln.

A Small Blaze Monday

Monday morning a hurry up call was turned into the power house of a fire at the warehouse of the Gasoline Supply Company in this city, and the fire fighting apparatus was soon in action. It was not the safest place to stage a fire, but this one was soon out, and but little damage done. The fire was started by a gasoline engine which the manager was starting, backfiring and sending fire enough out through the muffler to ignite some of the oil and grease naturally about the floor of a room used to store and distribute oil and gasoline.

H. J. Felber and family returned the last of the week from a sojourn of three months in California where they spent the last and worst of the winter with relatives and friends.

Social Notes

The Juvenile Music club met for its first annual party with Mrs. J. T. House on last Friday evening. Twenty-two were present, each member being entitled to the privilege of inviting one guest. At six o'clock a delicious two-course luncheon was served after which indoor and outdoor games were indulged in until eight-thirty. Grace Elder won the prize, a picture of Chopin, for securing the most names of the musicians whose pictures were placed on the walls. She named nine out of twelve correctly. The success of the party was due to the efficient work of the club members and the mothers who provided so generous a supply of good things to eat.

The Missionary society of the Methodist church held an interesting meeting Friday afternoon at the home of A. Bressler, where they entertained the ladies of the Winside society, about twelve of them being present. Mrs. E. B. Young was the leader, and an interesting program was given in which the ladies from Winside took an active part. Following the services an elegant lunch was served by the Wayne ladies. It was one of the best meetings of this society.

The Bible Study Circle met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. D. Erickson, with a large attendance and several visitors with us which are always cordially invited. Mrs. Dr. Lutgen led the lesson in her interesting way which we enjoyed. The meeting will be Monday afternoon next week at the home of Mrs. A. P. Gossard. Mr. Dietrick, one of the Sunday school workers will lead the lesson when we hope to see all present to enjoy his talk.

The Girl's Bible Circle met Saturday evening with Miss Lillie Goldsmith. About thirty-five members were present and enjoyed the lesson study led by Mr. Shalleross. Mr. Shalleross and Mr. Buma's singing was much appreciated. Emma Abbots solo deserves special mention. The Circle meets next Saturday evening with Miss Florence Gardner. We are expecting a delegation from the Thurston Bible Circle.

The Acme club met with Mrs. S. R. Theobald Monday afternoon. Mrs. Hamer Wilson assisted her as hostess. This was annual business meeting, with reports and election of officers for the next year. The hostess served a delicious two-course luncheon. On next Monday the annual dinner will be given at 6:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bressler. On this occasion the husbands are invited.

The Monday club met with Mrs. Moran. Members answered to roll call with war news. Mrs. Carhart gave a lesson on Kitchen appliances and conveniences. Mrs. Bowen gave a talk on the same subject. The afternoon was spent in general discussion on the lesson. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Hahn.

The U. D. club met with Mrs. John Hufford Monday afternoon. Members answered the questions on South America. Mrs. Fisher read a paper on "The Government and Court of Mexico". Mrs. Hufford read a paper on "American Industries to Mexico". Next meeting will be with Mrs. J. Woodward Jones.

The P. E. O. met with Mrs. Warren Shultheis last Monday evening after the business meeting. Mrs. Welsh read a paper on "The Guests Duty to Her Hostess". Mrs. J. Woodward Jones gave a select reading. Next meeting will be with Mrs. H. S. Ringland, May 5th.

George and Herbert Fortner entertained about two dozen of their friends last Friday afternoon, the day being fine they played games and ate supper on the lawn.

The Early Hour club will close their meetings with a 6:30 dinner next Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher.

Next Friday evening the Monday club will entertain in honor of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Zoll at the home of Mrs. Kiplinger.

Let Us Tell the People

Not long since one of our good friends and a business man of this city told the editor that he had been investigating catalogue house prices and comparing them with the prices he did and could make, and was confident that the one who patronizes a catalogue house is losing money by the transaction on at least four out of five articles he buys—and we agree with him, but the trouble with him is that he does not tell the people of what he offers as constantly and as plainly as does the mail order concern. We hope to help him present his side of the case to the people. That should help all of us.

Another merchant in conversation says that he expects patrons to buy where they can do the best, and that if they will but give the home merchant a chance he can and will meet other prices or expect the purchaser to buy where he can buy best. The firm which this man represents are constant and consistent advertisers, and have the appearance of enjoying a prosperous business. While we believe that newspaper advertising is the best for the money asked, we want to see the one who thinks differently go after the trade in his own and perhaps better manner. But the day is fast passing when a successful business will run without some manner of publicity.

How about your subscription.

When a person comes to the office to borrow a paper, (because he had not had time to read his carefully before coming to town) to read the adv. bargains, we know that he is a careful buyer, and that advertising pays in the copy of the home paper that goes to him. We were glad to show the paper.

Friday and Saturday are by proclamation of the governor designated as clean up days, and while every day for some time past has been clean up day for many people at Wayne, lets try to finish the job on those days. One man familiar with the conditions, tells us that the business section is more in need of a clean up than the residence part of town.

At Blair they are reported to be satisfied that oiled streets are a good thing. The streets treated last year came out of winter, in good shape with no mud, and there was plenty of mud on all other streets when winter broke. The Blair Pilot talks in favor of oil as being more economical than paving with nearly as good roads as a result.

W. H. Root was here a short time Monday morning on his way to Omaha on a business mission. He informed the Democrat man that he had almost connected him with a bit of school differences that had been at Sholes by mentioning his recent visit to Wayne in connection with some one else who had come on some mission connected with the school, and he wished to say that his visit to Wayne at that time had nothing to do with home school matters, and that he was not taking a part in it.

At Columbus the people who pay for the use of telephone lines and are willing to pay for the use of a line other than the one they have regularly rented are having a hard time to make the Bell people come across with a physical connection between their line and an independent line that has an exchange at Columbus. The law says that such connection shall be made, but it pleases one or perhaps both companies to have that connection made at Lincoln, so that all distance calls over one line to some point on some other line must be carried around through Lincoln. The patrons of the telephones are entitled to the best service that can be given and should insist upon having it. The case has been appealed to the railway commission.

One of the Roggenback Bros. was a Wayne visitor Saturday, bringing in a load of seed corn which had been ordered from them by different farmers in vicinity of Wayne. He says that they are finding an active demand for their corn at from $3.25 to $3.50 per bushel, the price being according to the amount ordered. He said, in answer to the inquiry of the editor, that last season they treated most of their oat seed, and found that it paid, as the little they sowed with seed not treated was not nearly as good as the treated seed—but they had not kept the parts particularly separate, to know just how much the gain was, but it was easily noted. This season they are treating all seed oats. We have asked a number of farmers to learn who are treating oat seed, and find that a few are doing so. We hope to report results after harvest.

Road Improvement Association

On Tuesday evening of this week the automobile owners and merchants of Winside met in the Merchants State Bank for the purpose of organizing a good roads club. Following the announcement three weeks back in the Tribune of the meeting held in Hoskins and the prediction made by the Tribune that an association of this sort would be organized in Winside, we chronicle the above association. There were forty parties who signed up for the order, and a possible chance for a dozen or so others. The association elected G. E. French, president; Walter Gaebler, vice president, and G. A. Mittelstadt, secretary and treasurer. Dr. B. M. McIntyre was appointed road inspector. All main roads leading from Winside to Wayne, Carroll and Hoskins will be graded where necessary and dragged when needed to the half-way mark between these points, by the association. The main road south from Winside to the county line will also be cared for by them. All the sub-roads adjoining the above mentioned roads will be added to the list if the officers of the association see fit. Meeting may be called at any time by the president for any purpose that may come before the members in regard to the road work. They adopted a resolution, whereby, the fees subscribed by the members becomes due and payable at once, thereby giving them funds in order to commence the good work at once. These fees can be paid to either the president or secretary.

While we have some of the best roads in this part of the country, it is a pleasure to reside in a community where they are at all times reaching out for better things—especially good roads. Its the good roads the farmer is going to travel when hauling loads of produce. If the good work continues over the county as it has in Hoskins and Winside, we will have roads in Wayne county, second to none in the state.—Winside Tribune.

A Japanese Letter to German Friend

The following is a letter of a Japanese to a German friend printed in the "Post", a paper of Germany. The letter is interesting as it permits us a glance into the soul of a Japanese committing harakiri in order to escape fighting against the Germans. (Harakiri is a Japanese method of suicide by ripping open the bowels in practice especially among military officers). To every American, the letter is of special interest, as the writer setting forth Japan's Asiatic policy, makes mention of America. The letter reads:

Dear Friend:—
"When you shall receive these lines, your friend, Ueda, will have rested in mother earth for a long time. It was my duty to commit harakiri.

"I am too sorry to see even my fatherland calling to the battlefields against you Germans. I can never outlive it. Many thousands in Nippon think like I and feel our being compelled to fight against Germany as indescribable sorrow. Germany, thou Heart of the World, for how much do we owe gratitude to you!

"When I told my friends of my intention to commit suicide in order to escape being compelled to fight against you, my German friends, they said, 'You are infected with German flap-heartedness.' Well, probably I am. It is beautiful to have a good heart.

"But you in Germany—I am telling you this facing my death—must as to your heart be changed, if you wish to exist in this world. You must turn harder, not paying attention to anyone. You must turn hard as iron, that is what your friend Nogie is telling you before his death.

"Look! It has been hard for our government too to undertake something against you, but the government has to do it—in such cases, every good heartedness of the private man is silent. If I as for me act as I please, I can however approve of my fatherland's great goal. You Germans are the champions of Europe, we Japanese are those of Asia. Our goal—every Japanese knows it from childhood on—stands firm:

"We are not willing to tolerate in Asia any European to be our ruler as you yourselves do not permit the rulership of the 'yellow' in Europe. Hence we shall take away from you your beautiful possessions in China. Then, we shall wake up the countries of China to a new life, take away Indo China from the Frenchmen and, finally, whip the Englishmen out of India. At last, the Russians will get their part. America is like a spaniel, barking at me but never biting whenever I went to you. Asia is and remains our domain.

"It is a great goal, which we have set to ourselves and every Japanese is conscious of it—every child with the mothermilk sucks in this great idea.

"For our ability to accomplish this great task, we also have to thank you Germans. Everybody of us who has visited you knows that you will whip and crush your enemies in this war. England, France and Russia will through you become so small as to render our dealing with them here in Asia easy. Our feelings of friendship towards you Germans will soon well up again and I believe and hope, that the day of our coalescence will approach.

"This day, I would like to see but I cannot. We should not have commenced war against you. I find it too sad—we had done better if we had fought on your side against your enemies

"Farewell and greet all acquaintances and friends in Germany. Tell them I cannot outlive the disgrace done to Germany by my government, since I am your firm, faithful friend.

"Keep me in good remembrance."

Yours, Ueda.

Long-Kopp

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the M. E. parsonage in Carroll Tuesday, when Edward Long and Myrtle Kopp were united in holy wedlock, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long being the witnesses.

After the ceremony the parties went to Wayne where they enjoyed a wedding supper at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long came home on the evening train leaving the bridal couple to drive over later.

The Tribune joins with the many friends of this newly married couple in wishing them success and happiness through life.—Winside Tribune.

In reporting the above wedding last week the name of the pastor who performed the ceremony was given us wrong, and also the initials of the groom.

General Huerta, the ex-president of Mexico, or more correctly speaking one of the many ex-presidents of that land, is at New York. He said he was not going to Mexico or Cuba, and under that pledge was permitted to land. He says that his visit is to be one combining business and pleasure.

Japan is seeking to profit in a commercial manner from the war by capturing the commerce of the South sea and Australian trade which was formerly carried on by Germany.

THE MONEY TRUST FIGHT

The big fight of the administration of President Wilson is coming, and the preliminary work which has been done thus far is but a skirmish, as people will observe before the battle is finished. The administration is not fighting the banks nor is it fighting legitimate banking—but it is fighting for the right of the government to exercise its constitutional power to issue money and regulate the value thereof. This is a power which has been usurped by the Wall street money gamblers. The ground work has been prepared in advance, as best it could in the establishment of the new banking system, which will do much to permit the government to stand between the people and the money power and mitigate the pinch which otherwise they have to endure. The Riggs bank fight now on in the courts is a part of the struggle, and an important one. Of it the Sioux City Tribune has the following to say, and we ask every reader to peruse it carefully:

The "Politics" in the Riggs Bank Fight

The fight between the Riggs bank of Washington and the secretary of treasury and controller of the currency is developing along the lines that those familiar with the antecedents knew it would develop. Already the cry has been taken up by certain banks over the country which engage in speculation, brokerage business, promotion schemes and selling "watered securities" that the fight on the Riggs bank is a scheme of democratic politicians to get control of the banking situation of the country. Newspapers, which represent this class of banks have taken up the cry in an effort to make the issue a partisan one and obscure the real issue.

The plain facts are that the demand by the controller of the currency and the secretary of the treasury that the Riggs bank conduct an honest banking business is only one of the many incidents to a fight this administration has been making to get the control of national banks and national finances out of the hands of a clique of Wall street high financiers, out of the control of politicians and back on a basis of legitimate banking.

When this administration came into power it found the treasury department filled with employees and agents of the Riggs bank—which was acting merely as the agent of the National City bank, of New York city and its affiliated banking institutions. There was no secrecy about this situation. For years the treasury department had been merely an annex to Wall street. The controller of the currency had always been named by Wall street interests, and had run that department according to Wall streets' wishes.

The national bank examiners, appointed by the controller and under this direction, were political appointees. The recent failure of the "prize honor national bank" of the United States, at Uniontown, Penn., brought out the fact that under a former controller this bank had been examined by an examiner who got his job because he had been connected with the Ohio republican state committee. Several banks he "examined" and pronounced to be safe were at that time violating nearly all of the national banking laws, and were insolvent. The Uniontown bank was one of them; some Pittsburg banks were others. But all were "republican" banks, having for officers and directors prominent republicans of Pennsylvania and liberal contributors to the republican campaign funds. So they were permitted to go ahead with their crooked banking, until they failed for millions and robbed thousands of people.

Another illustration will serve to show what conditions Controller Williams and Secretary McAdoo found and what they are trying to eliminate. During the recent campaign of Penrose for re-election, it came to light that in order to ruin a political opponent of his, who was mayor of Philadelphia, Penrose ascertained at what national banks in Philadelphia his opponent had loans; then Penrose went to Washington and had the controller of the currency send a "special bank examiner" to those banks and order them to call this man's loans.

Of course, such banking methods are crooked. There can be no defense of them. Yet such practices have prevailed in the treasury department for years. The Wall street clique of banks, through information furnished by their spies on the treasury payroll and the bludgeon used by their henchmen who were bank examiners, controlled the banking situation of the United States. The republican party, through these affiliations also kept financed.

When Williams and McAdoo came into office they came with knowledge of these crooked conditions and with experience in fighting Wall street. Williams had saved the Seaboard Airline railroad from being looted by Wall street for years—it was the best independent railroad of the country. McAdoo had fought Wall street and crooked politicians in the building of the Hudson river tunnel. They proceeded to kick out of the treasury department every employe of the Riggs bank—and immediately the fight was on.

That action was notice to the Riggs bank and its Wall street backers that the treasury department of the United States were no longer to be considered as and treated as the private property of Wall street and its affiliated politicians and crookedly financed corporations.

The latest development is only another chapter in the story. There will undoubtedly be others. Every national bank and banker in the United States which wants banking kept on a sound basis and away from speculation and political control are in sympathy with Williams and McAdoo.

What Becomes of State Money?

Few people could give anything like a definite idea of what the different state institutions are costing, for they have never been given an easy chance to know. Last week the Democrat received from State Auditor Wm. H. Smith a very complete summing up of the expenses of state which are audited at his office. We will simply give the totals for the different departments, as he has enumerated them. In nearly every instance the salary for the chief and the assistants is the largest item, and then the other items are books and printing, telephone and telegraph, mileage, postage, office supplies, traveling expenses and miscellaneous. Auditor Smith is to be complimented for taking the trouble to compile such a report for the benefit of the people who foot the bills and the Democrat is glad of the opportunity to pass it on to the people of this county. Remember that these figures are for three months, and that to multiply by four should give approximately the annual cost, or divide by three for the monthly cost:

- Governor, $2,369.08.
- Secretary of State, $3,214.13.
- State Auditor, $4,286.78.
- Attorney General, $8,035.91.
- State Treasurer, $2,871.35.
- State Superintendent, $8,194.33.
- Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings, $3,476.87.
- District Courts, $35,746.76. (This is all for salaries except $380.30).
- Supreme Courts, $16,968.43.
- Railway Commission, $11,356.79.
- Food, Drug and Dairy Department, $10,256.89.
- Banking Board, $8,076.87.
- Game and Fish Commission, $2,363.76.
- Board of Control, $5,376.62.
- State Insurance Board, $5,353.48.
- Adjutant General, $6,444.68.
- State Veterinarian, $4,113.15.
- Board of Educational Lands and Funds, $5,411.19.
- Board of Irrigation, $2,061.28.
- Board of Charities and Corrections, $1,578.20.
- Board of Health, $2,922.24.
- Library Commission, $1,747.40.
- Fire Commission, $2,825.48.
- Commissioner of Labor, $1,617.94.
- Hotel Commission, $1,337.15.
- Board of Equalization and Assessment $472.78.
- Bureau of Printing, $8,609.14. (Of this expense but $522.20 is salary).
- Historical Society, $1,866.29.
- Legislative Reference Bureau, $1,816.94.
- Stallion Registration Board, $1,543.00.
- Board of Optometry, $389.61.
- Board of Osteopathy, $95.48.
- Board of Pharmacy, $1,900.51.
- State Dental Board, $152.91.
- Board of Nurses, $194.22.

The total expenses for the departments of the state government, as indicated above, for the months of January, February and March, were $175,196.74. The various classifications are as nearly correct as it is possible to compile them from the system of bookkeeping at present in use in the auditors office.

Now Teddy and Barnes are going to have the courts decide which of the two are most eligible for membership in a real Ananias club. We will bet they both properly belong in that class.

With the balance of trade amounting to $150,000,000 monthly in favor of the United States, and such a trade balance always being the dream of the average protectionist, we fail to see what sort of a kick they can possibly have on the present tariff law.

Since the exchange on Wall street has opened again the fellows who were wont to speculate there are again busy, and we hear no more or at least but little from them about the lack of prosperity. Every day now is a busy day on change, and while much of their business is purely speculative or gambling, it helps to keep that gang busy at the only occupation they seem fitted for.

It has been reported that Teddy is going to return to his first love the republican party but perhaps not. Here is the latest according to the Sioux City Tribune: When asked whether he would return to the republican party the late leader of the Armageddonites snorted and declared that it was "a fool question." Which wasn't a fool answer by any means as it shut up the reporter without giving him the information for which he secured his newspaper undoubtedly would have given him a fat increase in salary.

The late word is that the Riggs bank case is stirring up the Standard Oil Co. No doubt of it, for while the people have been busy making a living the big banking concern has been trying to get its grasp on every industry in the land. Before this case is carried to a conclusion we expect to see the steel trust, the tobacco combine and every interest which the wall street money power can purchase or intimidate arrayed against the very idea that the government shall control the money of the country. These great interests have so long run things in their own interest that it is considered unlawful by them for the government officials to have much to say about the finances of this land, but in President Wilson and his cabinet they have found some representatives of the people who are willing to stand for the rights of the people.

State Normal Notes

The school was delightfully entertained by a reading by Miss Elizabeth Mines at the Monday morning convocation.

Mr. Joseph Paschang, class of 1914, writes that he expects to locate on the Pacific coast next year.

Mr. Glen Hickman has received notice of his election as director of manual training in the Tekamah schools. Mr. Hickman completed the advanced course of this institution in 1913 and has been enrolled in graduate work during the past year.

The senior class was in evidence Tuesday morning, at which time the members of the class had charge of the chapel exercises of the school. The scene enacted this year was intended to represent a meeting of the faculty, with a discussion of delinquent students and a consideration of many other problems supposed to come before such a body. The impersonations were exceedingly well done and those present were highly entertained by the performance.

The sixth grade is to give an Arbor Day program today. The fifth grade has been invited to hear the program. At the close of the program each grade will plant a tree.

In the eighth grade, the ranks for the six weeks' term just closed were as follows: Louie Sprague, Lucile McConnell, Edna Hanson, Netha Wright and Zora Laughlin, the rank being in the order named.

The children of the kindergarten through the courtesy of Elsie Mae Ingham, enjoyed a party Wednesday, in the kindergarten, in honor of the sixth birthday anniversary of the little hostess. It was one of the happy occasions of the year.

The ninth grade class in agriculture is very much interested in a debate on the question as to whether it is more profitable to rent or to own a farm in Wayne county. The girls advocate renting, the boys, owning.

The fifth grade is studying stories of pioneer life. The pupils of this grade have their gardens all planted. These gardens are on a lot rented of Mr. Gamble and he has offered an additional dollar to the prize for the best garden.

The pupils of the seventh grade are making maps of South America. They will enjoy a picnic at Bressler's grove Saturday. Helen Felber and Winifred Main have re-entered school in this grade, the former having spent the winter in California and the latter having visited her brother Hays at Culver, Indiana.

Fred Dean has purchased from Andrew Stamm's feed lot a fine bunch of corn-fed young cattle for the block at the Central market. The editor can remember when such stock was all sent to the east for consumption and the local butcher cut steak and soup bones from the frame of the old family cow that had outlived her usefulness as a mother, and milk and butter producer—one of the kind that showed the good strong frame under a hide that was scarcely tougher than the flesh beneath it. It was strong meat.

Master Leo Collins of Carroll, who has been ill is improving, and is visiting at the home of his grandfather, Patrick Coleman, while convalescing.

Rollie Miller of the freight house force here, was a visitor at York over Sunday. He reports a good time among his friends there. He formerly held a position in the business college at that place.

Master Leo Weber who was for a month in a hospital at Sioux City, returned last week, accompanied by his sister, Miss Martha, who spent the last two weeks with him at the hospital. He was operated on for appendicitis, and was the baby patient at the hospital at the time.

Hans Lorenzen, who recently moved to this vicinity, shipped a car of cows and heifers from South Omaha to his place this week. He started out with 27 head and when he reached here he had 28 head, one cow having become mother during the trip. We do not know that there was any extra freight charge.

Tuesday evening State Manager Tyle of the Yeomen was here to attend the regular monthly meeting of that society here. Under his direction the initiatory work was given to four candidates, who now know that they are duly installed and entitled to all of the benefits of the order. A new degree is being added to the work and the Wayne Homestead will soon be prepared to give it without the aid of the state manager.

The Ponca Methodist church burned Friday evening making a loss of about $4,000 with $3,500 insurance. Gas explosion is given as the cause of fire. The Methodist people will hold services at the Presbyterian church. It might perhaps be a good time for Ponca's good people to try a church federation—and build one good church for all and buy a high-class preacher instead of half maintaining several lesser establishments.

There are many busy places in Wayne this spring, but none, perhaps that is busier than the sewing school, where Mrs. C. M. Madden presides over from a bakers' dozen to a score of industrious women who are getting their spring and summer sewing done. Each one is working for self, and Mrs. M. does cutting, fitting and instructing as needed, furnishing machines, tables and a large airy room for the ladies. It is much nicer and not nearly so lonesome to take your sewing to the school.

Another new home is to be erected in Wayne this season. T. F. Bracken of Blair, a bridge foreman on the Omaha, has been transferred to this division, which comprises the main line from Wakefield to Norfolk and the Bloomfield line, and has purchased from A. M. Helt a lot on College street just north of the Helt home and will erect a cottage at a cost of about $3,000. Mrs. B. was here with him the first of the week to approve the location selected. They will be welcomed to Wayne.

Wayne friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Raymond and their son Everett have received announcement here of the young man's graduation from the West Des Moines high school, the largest school in the city. With it came word of their plans for the summer following the close of the school work. These plans include a trip by the entire family through the east, where they will visit Washington, New York, Boston and many other places of interest. Everett had entered the high school here before moving away and would have been with the graduating class here had they remained, and the Democrat joins with his classmates here in extending congratulations to the young man upon the successful finish of high school work.

Among the Churches of Wayne

Presbyterian Church (Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

The Xenophon-Buma meetings closed Sunday evening with a record breaking attendance, five hundred persons being present. We appreciate the splendid union spirit shown all through these meetings. There was not a meeting in the series that was not represented by a goodly number from each of the other churches. The evangelists reported sixteen as the number of conversions in the course of the meetings. Some of these will probably find church homes in each of the several churches in Wayne. Indeed, preference was expressed by individuals for four of the different churches. Entertainment was provided for the evangelists and several free-will offerings made during the course of the meeting. The public, free-will offerings amounted to $155.69. A considerable number of the books were sold to individual purchasers and Mr. Carl Clasen bought twenty-five of them for the C. E. society.

All Sunday-school workers, take part in the Dietrick Sunday-school campaign.

On Sunday morning, the pastor will speak on the theme, "The Vision". The C. E. meeting at 7 o'clock will be led by Mrs. Carl Clasen. The evening service will begin at 8 o'clock and will be a union meeting under the lead of the Dietricks.

This should be a fine meeting and all are invited.

Remember the C. E. District Convention, next week. Read the strong program prepared for this convention. There is not a number on the program that will not prove attractive to some one. Ever session is open to the public and everybody is cordially invited to attend, especially are the young people of the other church societies and the young people of the normal school invited to attend just as if it was your own convention. You are invited to make it yours and get out of it all that you can.

Morning worship at 11 o'clock. The subject for next Sunday morning will be "The Kingdom Within"—Ephesians 3:14-16.

Our usual interpretation of the word Kingdom, is the territory ruled by a king or a queen. We wish to change the meaning just a little and we apply the term to man in general. We divide it into two parts, first, the kingdom without and second the kingdom within man. The kingdom without man, is made up of things which have never been so numerous and glittering as in the present day. Satan has dressed this world and arrayed it in a beauty which seems to charm man. It draws with the power of a mighty magnet. When man is involved in the world the kingdom without the inner kingdom does not develop. Paul realized this when he said, "That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his spirit in the inner man".

Luther League at six forty-five. The subject will be "History of Your Own District Synod"—Acts 15:1-20.

Mr. Dietrick speaks every night this week, excepting Monday in St. Paul's church. Sunday afternoon he will speak in the Baptist church at three o'clock. Hear Mr. Dietrick on Sunday-school work.

The Ladies Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. W. C. Martin on Thursday of this week. Election of officers will take place at that time, all members should be present. A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to worship with us.

The Dietricks are from Lincoln and are workers of national reputation. The evening addresses are wonderfully interesting and should appeal to all whether Sunday school workers or not. There will be no preaching service in the Methodist church next Sunday evening on account of the union service in the Presbyterian church conducted by the Dietricks.

Baptist Church (Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor)

After two weeks of strenuous work at the East Lincoln Baptist church, the pastor is on his home field again. In many ways the work at Lincoln was an unusually gracious work. Many people got new visions of the Christian life and entered a higher sphere of Christian service. The one meeting lasting three hours last Sunday afternoon, a number of people said, was the greatest meeting they had ever been in. A large number of people dedicated themselves anew to the deeper life, while something over fifty people definitely accepted Christ. There were some notable decisions for Christ. The converts ranged from seven years up to seventy years of age.

Mr. Deal worked heroically. He applied himself to the task with his usual enthusiasm.

The pastor never worked so continuously in any work before. Such work costs but it pays.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach, also will report the meetings more fully.

Covenant meeting on Wednesday evening. There are a few who ought to be baptized next Sunday. Announcements will be made Sunday morning, regarding Sunday evening's meetings.

Governor Vetoes Norton's Measure For Efficiency Commission.

SIGNS BILL FOR HOSPITAL.

Mrs. Davis Secures State Appropriation—Will Readvertise For North Platte Bridge—Douglas County Appeals From Judgment of Court.

Lincoln, April 20.—All bills passed by the legislature have been disposed of by Governor Morehead. Among the last bills signed were the Omaha hospital bill, the maintenance bill and the penitentiary industrial appropriation bill.

The Norton bill for a state efficiency survey commission was vetoed by Governor Morehead. The governor objects to inconsistencies in the bill itself and its encroachment on ground now occupied by the board of control. One of the real reasons for the veto, it is thought, is that the constitutionality of the bill has been gravely questioned. It carried an appropriation of $4,000.

The commission was to consist of six members of the legislature, and therein lay the objection. The constitution provides "that neither members of the legislature nor employees shall receive any pay or perquisites other than their salary and mileage." The appropriation was only for the commission's expenses. However, it is contended by some that "any pay or perquisites" might include expenses.

The governor did not exercise his power to cut specific items in either the maintenance or the salaries bill. Some minor mistakes have been discovered in the maintenance bill, involving errors presumably made in the conference committee in computing the totals of several department appropriations.

One item of $500 for the purchase of seven new typewriters, included in the supreme court appropriation, is not figured in the total. As a result the total is short that amount. Another mistake was made in totalling the appropriation for the state library making the total sum $1,000 shorter than the actual total of the various items. The library commission is short $100 on its total. Otherwise the totals correspond with the specific items. It is thought that specific items will govern and that the errors will make no real difference.

Other bills signed by the governor include the general claims bill, carrying a total of $38,402; house bill 410, authorizing attorneys for board of education to prosecute on forfeited bonds; senate bill 211, allowing incorporated cities and towns to levy not to exceed 1 mill for music and amusement purposes on a unanimous vote of the city council or board of trustees; senate bill 259, allowing maximum school levy to be raised from 35 to 45 mills where 60 per cent of voters approve; senate bill 77, carrying a general raise in pay for Omaha fire and police departments.

Deputies Raid Clubs For Liquor. Three dry towns in Lancaster county were visited by Sheriff Hyers and his deputies and in each a club was raided and liquors found sufficient to cause the arrest of the manager of each club. At Hickman, the Farmers' and Merchants' club was raided and thirty-five cases of beer taken. At Malcomb, forty cases of beer and a large number of bottles were found, while at Raymond, the Oak Creek club yielded a goodly amount of beer.

Stock Yards Wants to Raise Rates. The Union Stock Yards company of South Omaha has filed a petition with the state railway commission asking certain increases in rates. One proposed increase would charge the Cudahy Packing company $6 instead of $1 for delivering cars of stock thought to have been exposed to Texas fever to a separate and private chute. Another item would raise the switching charge from one line to another from $2 a car to $3 a car.

Mrs. Davis Secures Appropriation. The first claim before the legislature was paid, the state auditor issuing a warrant to Mrs. Elizabeth Davis for $5,000. The appropriation was voted to recompense Mrs. Davis for the death of her husband, who was stabbed to death by Prince, a negro convict convicted of murder and afterwards hanged, the last man to pay the penalty by hanging. Davis was acting as deputy warden of the penitentiary.

Fruit Prospects Are Good. The prospects for fruit in Nebraska, according to Secretary Duncan of the State Horticultural society, this year are the best for the last five years. Apple trees have a good set of fruit buds and promise a heavy bloom. Plums, cherries and pears are excellent. Peaches show winter injury. Small fruits are in fine condition. State Cleanup Days Fixed by Governor.

Governor Morehead has issued a proclamation setting apart April 23 and 24 as "cleanup" days. He urges the observance of these days, not only as a means toward civic beauty, but also as a precaution at this season of the year in the interest of health and the safety of property from fire.

Animals Must Be Cared For. The district court of Pawnee county is affirmed in holding that the United States Express company must pay for a brood sow shipped by John Herold in hot weather. The high court holds that the company did not use reasonable care in wetting down the animal so as to cool it off.

CROP STATUS FLATTERING

Burlington's Report Show West Far Ahead of Normal Condition.

Omaha, April 20.—The Burlington's weekly crop and soil report indicates a most flattering outlook for Nebraska, Kansas and Wyoming, according to General Superintendent Young, who has secured the data.

While the rainfall last week was light, the weather was warm and vegetation was pushed forward at a rapid pace, being at this time fully up to, if not ahead, of the normal.

Estimating the condition of winter wheat at a percentage of 100 for ten years, Superintendent Young places the conditions at this time at: Omaha division, 101 per cent; Lincoln division, 102 per cent; Wyoming division, 102 per cent; McCook division, 107 per cent.

Spring wheat, oats and other grains are about all in, with an acreage fully up to that of previous years.

With the ground in the best possible condition, plowing for corn and potatoes has been pushed and is pretty well along.

In the sugar beet growing districts, while no seed has been planted, it is estimated that the increased acreage will be 15 per cent over last year.

RUSH TO GET AUTO LICENSES

Applications Are Pouring In on Secretary of State.

Lincoln, April 20.—Secretary of State Pool received 515 applications for automobile and motorcycle registrations in the morning mail. The registration is effective under the new law that went into effect on April 6.

Applications for licenses have been pouring in ever since in a steady stream and has necessitated the employment of extra help in the office. The first batch of motorcycle numbers was received, running from Nos. 1 to 700. They will be allotted as the applications are made.

The automobile license numbers, on the other hand, will remain the same. The latter have been an extra expense in that the secretary cannot order the numbers consecutively, but must pick out the numbers the holders of which have not paid their license fees this year. New numbers are not required of such licensees, who are allowed to keep their old numbers, and may show their receipts to satisfy any inquiring officer of the law.

WHITE T. P. A. PRESIDENT

Travelers Choose Fremont Man and Pick Alliance as Next Meeting Place.

Hastings, Neb., April 19.—The Travelers' Protective association voted to hold the 1916 state convention in Alliance. The state's delegation to the national meeting in Omaha in June was instructed by Rev. A. A. Brooks of Hastings for national chaplain and George Begerow of Omaha for re-election as member of the national board of directors.

The following officers were elected without opposition: President, Walter G. White of Fremont; vice presidents, W. R. Gilchrist of Grand Island, Roy Jackson of Lincoln, H. A. Webber of Kearney, W. D. Beck of Omaha and A. A. Kofler of York; secretary and treasurer, Charles L. Hopper of Omaha. Membership of the body totals 2,620 for the state.

Pioneer Settler Is Dead.

Ashland, Neb., April 20.—After a lingering illness, William Alexander Sanders, the second oldest settler in Saunders county, passed away at the Selma hotel in Ashland, where he had made his home for several years, aged eighty-eight years. Mr. Sanders landed at Saline Ford, later named Ashland, Sept. 30, 1863, and had made his home here since A. B. Fuller, who still resides here, had been here a year when Mr. Sanders and his family arrived. He represented Sarpy and Saunders counties in the state senate from 1890 to 1894. Mr. Sanders was the largest landholder in this vicinity, owning 1,200 acres of fine Platte bottom land. He is survived by five sons.

Bridge Must Be Built.

The high court holds that the Farmers' irrigation district must build a bridge across its ditch for Peter O'Shea. In so doing it reverses and remands the case to the district court of Scottsbluff county. The district had contended that the statute did not apply in this case, because O'Shea had bought land on both sides after the ditch had been dug. The court holds that this made no difference. Moreover, it says that the requirement is constitutional, inasmuch as the liability to build the bridge is part of the consideration for the valuable right of eminent domain.

Higher Valuation Stands.

The supreme court upholds the verdict of $3,910 given to Fred Grimm against the Elkhorn valley drainage district. The verdict was secured on appeal from the award of the board of appraisers, which allowed Grimm but $600.

Funeral of Fremont Veteran.

Fremont, Neb., April 20.—Joseph Bayer, a veteran of the civil war and for several years a prominent merchant of Blair and Craig, died at his home here. The body was taken to Craig for burial. Mr. Bayer was seventy-four years of age.

Will Readvertise For Bridge.

At a conference between a North Platte delegation and the state board of irrigation, held in Governor Morehead's office, it was decided to readvertise for bids for the state aid bridge to be built across the Platte river near North Platte.

WAYNE MARKET REPORT

Table with market prices for various goods like wheat, corn, and butter.

Now Teddy and Barnes are going to have the courts decide which of the two are most eligible for membership in a real Ananias club.

With the balance of trade amounting to $150,000,000 monthly in favor of the United States, and such a trade balance always been the dream of the average protectionist, we fail to see what sort of a kick they can possibly have on the present tariff law.

Since the exchange on Wall-street has opened again the fellows who were wont to speculate there are again busy, and we hear no more or at least but little from them about the lack of prosperity.

It has been reported that Teddy is going to return to his first love the republican party but perhaps not. Here is the latest according to the Sioux City Tribune.

The late word is that the Riggs bank case is stirring up the Standard Oil Co. No doubt of it, for while the people have been busy making a living the big banking concern has been trying to get its grasp on every industry in the land.

Fred Dean has purchased from Andrew Stamm's feed lot a fine bunch of corn-fed young cattle for the block at the Central market. The editor can remember when such stock was all sent to the east for consumption and the local butcher cut steak and soup bones from the frame of the old family cow that had outlived her usefulness as a mother, and milk and butter producer—one of the kind that showed the good strong frame under a hide that was scarcely tougher than the flesh beneath it. It was strong meat.

Leo Pryor was over from Creighton the first of the week visiting his mother and sister and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Chace came Friday from Stanton to spend the week end with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chace.

Mrs. Piper and Mrs. Selleck of Lincoln came Friday to spend a week with their daughters, Misses Piper and Selleck of the College.

Mrs. Stanley Huffman of Elgin has been here visiting her parents, R. E. K. Mellor and wife, and this morning with her mother went to Omaha.

Mrs. C. W. Long of Wakefield and her sister, Mrs. Chester Slaughter from South Dakota, who is visiting her, were Wayne visitors Wednesday.

Master Leo Collins of Carroll, who has been ill is improving, and is visiting at the home of his grandfather, Patrick Coleman, while convalescing.

Rollie Miller of the freight house force here, was a visitor at York over Sunday. He reports a good time among his friends there. He formerly held a position in the business college at that place.

Master Leo Weber who was for a month in a hospital at Sioux City, returned last week, accompanied by his sister, Miss Martha, who spent the last two weeks with him at the hospital. He was operated on for appendicitis, and was the baby patient at the hospital at the time.

Hans Lorenzen, who recently moved to this vicinity, shipped a car of cows and heifers from South Omaha to his place this week. He started out with 27 head and when he reached here he had 28 head, one cow having become mother during the trip. We do not know that there was any extra freight charge.

Tuesday evening State Manager Tyle of the Yeomen was here to attend the regular monthly meeting of that society here. Under his direction the initiatory work was given to four candidates, who now know that they are duly installed and entitled to all of the benefits of the order. A new degree is being added to the work and the Wayne Homestead will soon be prepared to give it without the aid of the state manager.

The Ponca Methodist church burned Friday evening making a loss of about $4,000 with $3,500 insurance. Gas explosion is given as the cause of fire. The Methodist people will hold services at the Presbyterian church. It might perhaps be a good time for Ponca's good people to try a church federation—and build one good church for all and buy a high-class preacher instead of half maintaining several lesser establishments.

There are many busy places in Wayne this spring, but none, perhaps that is busier than the sewing school, where Mrs. C. M. Madden presides over from a bakers' dozen to a score of industrious women who are getting their spring and summer sewing done. Each one is working for self, and Mrs. M. does cutting, fitting and instructing as needed, furnishing machines, tables and a large airy room for the ladies. It is much nicer and not nearly so lonesome to take your sewing to the school.

Another new home is to be erected in Wayne this season. T. F. Bracken of Blair, a bridge foreman on the Omaha, has been transferred to this division, which comprises the main line from Wakefield to Norfolk and the Bloomfield line, and has purchased from A. M. Helt a lot on College street just north of the Helt home and will erect a cottage at a cost of about $3,000. Mrs. B. was here with him the first of the week to approve the location selected. They will be welcomed to Wayne.

Wayne friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Raymond and their son Everett have received announcement here of the young man's graduation from the West Des Moines high school, the largest school in the city. With it came word of their plans for the summer following the close of the school work. These plans include a trip by the entire family through the east, where they will visit Washington, New York, Boston and many other places of interest. Everett had entered the high school here before moving away and would have been with the graduating class here had they remained, and the Democrat joins with his classmates here in extending congratulations to the young man upon the successful finish of high school work.

Among the Churches of Wayne

Presbyterian Church (Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

The Shalcross-Buma meetings closed Sunday evening with a record breaking attendance, five hundred persons being present. We appreciate the splendid-union spirit shown all through these meetings. There was not a meeting in the series that was not represented by a goodly number from each of the other churches. The evangelists reported sixteen as the number of conversions in the course of the meetings. Some of these will probably find church homes in each of the several churches in Wayne. Indeed, preference was expressed by individuals for four of the different churches. Entertainment was provided for the evangelists and several free-will offerings made during the course of the meeting. The public, free-will offerings amounted to $155.69. A considerable number of the books were sold to individual purchasers and Mr. Carl Clasen bought twenty-five of them for the C. E. society.

All Sunday-school workers, take part in the Dietrick Sunday-school campaign.

On Sunday morning, the pastor will speak on the theme, 'The Vision'. The C. E. meeting at 7 o'clock will be led by Mrs. Carl Clasen. The evening service will begin at 8 o'clock and will be a union meeting under the lead of the Dietricks.

This should be a fine meeting and all are invited.

Remember the C. E. District Convention, next week. Read the strong program prepared for this convention. There is not a number on the program that will not prove attractive to some one. Ever session is open to the public and everybody is cordially invited to attend, especially are the young people of the other church societies and the young people of the normal school invited to attend just as if it was your own convention. You are invited to make it yours and get out of it all that you can.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church (Rev. Blessing, Pastor.)

Sunday school every Sunday morning a 10 o'clock. Are you helping in the Sunday school? We need more of the parents in our Sunday school. Come, spend the hour with us.

Morning worship at 11 o'clock. The subject for next Sunday morning will be "The Kingdom Within"—Ephesians 3:14-16.

Our usual interpretation of the word Kingdom, is the territory ruled by a king or a queen. We wish to change the meaning just a little and we apply the term to man in general. We divide it into two parts, first, the kingdom without and second the kingdom within man. The kingdom without man, is made up of things which have never been so numerous and glittering as in the present day. Satan has dressed this world and arrayed it in a beauty which seems to charm man. It draws with the power of a mighty magnet. When man is involved in the world the kingdom without the inner kingdom does not develop. Paul realized this when he said, "That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his spirit in the inner man".

Luther League at six forty-five. The subject will be "History of Your Own District Synod"—Acts 15:1-20.

There will be a union meeting in the evening at the Presbyterian church. The Sunday school evangelist, Mr. P. S. Dietrick will speak. Mr. Dietrick speaks every night this week, excepting Monday in St. Paul's church. Sunday afternoon he will speak in the Baptist church at three o'clock. Hear Mr. Dietrick on Sunday-school work.

The Ladies Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. W. C. Martin on Thursday of this week. Election of officers will take place at that time, all members should be present.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to worship with us.

Methodist Church (Rev. A. S. Buell, Pastor)

This is Sunday school week in Wayne. Paul "Sunshine" Dietrick and wife are in our midst directing a Sunday school institute and rally in the interest of all the Sunday schools of Wayne. The Dietricks are from Lincoln and are workers of national reputation. The evening addresses are wonderfully interesting and should appeal to all whether Sunday school workers or not. Remember the program, a meeting each evening at 8 o'clock in the English Lutheran church including a short talk for the boys and girls in connection with the institute lecture.

Next Sunday's program is an address in the Methodist church at 10:30 Sunday morning, the hour for our regular morning worship. A Union mass meeting in the Baptist

The Methodist Sunday school meets at 11:45 Sunday morning. The school is well organized with a splendid equipment of officers and teachers. Wm. Beckenhauer is superintendent and Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve primary superintendent.

The Epworth League had an unusually helpful and interesting devotional meeting last Sunday evening. Many of the Baptist young people were present. Miss Abbott and Professor Buma each sang solos. The Misses Gossard and Gardner were the leaders.

The regular meeting of the Epworth League next Sunday at 7 o'clock.

There will be no preaching service in the Methodist church next Sunday evening on account of the union service in the Presbyterian church conducted by the Dietricks.

Baptist Church (Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor)

After two weeks of strenuous work at the East Lincoln Baptist church, the pastor is on his home field again. In many ways the work at Lincoln was an unusually gracious work. Many people got new visions of the Christian life and entered a higher sphere of Christian service. The one meeting lasting three hours last Sunday afternoon, a number of people said, was the greatest meeting they had ever been in. A large number of people dedicated themselves anew to the deeper life, while something over fifty people definitely accepted Christ. There were some notable decisions for Christ. The converts ranged from seven years up to seventy years of age.

Mr. Deal worked heroically. He applied himself to the task with his usual enthusiasm.

The pastor never worked so continuously in any work before. Such work costs but it pays.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach, also will report the meetings more fully.

Covenant meeting on Wednesday evening. There are a few who ought to be baptized next Sunday. Announcements will be made Sunday morning, regarding Sunday evening's meetings.

Governor Vetoes Norton's Measure For Efficiency Commission.

SIGNS BILL FOR HOSPITAL

Mrs. Davis Secures State Appropriation—Will Readvertise For North Platte Bridge—Douglas County Appeals From Judgment of Court.

Lincoln, April 20.—All bills passed by the legislature have been disposed of by Governor Morehead. Among the last bills signed were the Omaha hospital bill, the maintenance bill and the penitentiary industrial appropriation bill.

The Norton bill for a state efficiency survey commission was vetoed by Governor Morehead. The governor objects to inconsistencies in the bill itself and its encroachment on ground now occupied by the board of control.

Lincoln, April 20.—Secretary of State Pool received 515 applications for automobile and motorcycle registrations in the morning mail. The registration is effective under the new law that went into effect on April 6.

Other bills signed by the governor include the general claims bill, carrying a total of $38,402; house roll 410, authorizing attorneys for board of education to prosecute for forfeited bonds; senate file 211, allowing incorporated cities and towns to levy not to exceed 1 mill for music and amusement purposes on a unanimous vote of the city council or board of trustees; senate file 259, allowing maximum school levy to be raised from 35 to 45 mills where 60 per cent of voters approve; senate file 77, carrying a general raise in pay for Omaha fire and police departments.

Deputies Raid Clubs For Liquor. Three dry towns in Lancaster county were visited by Sheriff Hyers and his deputies and in each a club was raided and liquors found sufficient to cause the arrest of the manager of each club. At Hickman, the Farmers' and Merchants' club was raided and thirty-five cases of beer taken. At Malcolm, forty cases of beer and a large number of bottles were found, while at Raymond, the Oak Creek club yielded a goodly amount of beer.

Stock Yards Wants to Raise Rates. The Union Stock Yards company of South Omaha has filed a petition with the state railway commission asking certain increases in rates. One proposed increase would charge the Cudahy Packing company $6 instead of $1 for delivering cars of stock thought to have been exposed to Texas fever to a separate and private chute. Another item would raise the switching charge from one line to another from $2 a car to $3 a car.

Mrs. Davis Secures Appropriation. The first claim before the legislature was paid, the state auditor issuing a warrant to Mrs. Elizabeth Davis for $5,000. The appropriation was voted to recompense Mrs. Davis for the death of her husband, who was stabbed to death by Prince, a negro convict convicted of murder and afterwards hanged, the last man to pay the penalty by hanging. Davis was acting as deputy warden of the penitentiary.

Fruit Prospects Are Good. The prospects for fruit in Nebraska, according to Secretary Duncan of the State Horticultural society, this year are the best for the last five years. Apple trees have a good set of fruit buds and promise a heavy bloom. Plums, cherries and pears are excellent. Peaches show winter injury. The small fruits are in fine condition.

Governor Morehead has issued a proclamation setting apart April 23 and 24 as "cleanup" days. He urges the observance of these days, not only as a means toward civic beauty, but also as a precaution at this season of the year in the interest of health and the safety of property from fire.

Animals Must Be Cared For. The district court of Pawnee county is affirmed in holding that the United States Express company must pay for a brood sow shipped by John Herold in hot weather. The high court holds that the company did not use reasonable care in waiting down the animal so as to cool it off.

Omaha, April 20.—The Burlington's weekly crop and soil report indicates a most flattering outlook for Nebraska, Kansas and Wyoming, according to General Superintendent Young, who has secured the data.

While the rainfall last week was light, the weather was warm and vegetation was pushed forward at a rapid pace, being at this time fully up to, if not ahead, of the normal.

Estimating the condition of winter wheat at a percentage of 100 for ten years, Superintendent Young places the conditions at this time at: Omaha division, 101 per cent; Lincoln division, 102 per cent; Wymore division, 102 per cent; McCook division, 107 per cent.

Spring wheat, oats and other grains are about all in, with an acreage fully up to that of previous years.

With the ground in the best possible condition, plowing for corn and potatoes has been pushed and is pretty well along.

In the sugar beet growing districts, while no seed has been planted, it is estimated that the increased acreage will be 15 per cent over last year.

RUSH TO GET AUTO LICENSES

Applications Are Pouring In on Secretary of State. Lincoln, April 20.—Secretary of State Pool received 515 applications for automobile and motorcycle registrations in the morning mail.

The first batch of motorcycle numbers was received, running from Nos. 1 to 700. They will be allotted as the applications are made.

The automobile license numbers, on the other hand, will remain the same. The latter have been an extra expense in that the secretary cannot order the numbers consecutively, but must pick out the numbers the holders of which have not paid their license fees this year.

New numbers are not required of such licensees, who are allowed to keep their old numbers, and may show their receipts to satisfy any inquiring officer of the law.

WHITE T. P. A. PRESIDENT

Travelers Choose Fremont Man and Pick Alliance as Next Meeting Place. Hastings, Neb., April 19.—The Travelers' Protective association voted to hold the 1916 state convention in Alliance.

The following officers were elected without opposition: President, Walter G. White of Fremont; vice presidents, W. R. Gilchrist of Grand Island, Roy Jackson of Lincoln, H. A. Webber of Kearney, W. D. Eck of Omaha and A. A. Kofar of York; secretary and treasurer, Charles L. Hopper of Omaha.

Membership of the body totals 2,620 for the state.

Pioneer Settler Is Dead.

Ashland, Neb., April 20.—After a lingering illness, William Alexander Sanders, the second oldest settler in Saunders county, passed away at the Selma hotel in Ashland, where he had made his home for several years, aged eighty-eight years. Mr. Sanders landed at Selma Ford, later named Ashland, Sept. 30, 1863, and had made his home here since. A. B. Fuller, who still resides here, had been here a year when Mr. Sanders and his family arrived. He represented Sarpy and Saunders counties in the state senate from 1890 to 1894. Mr. Sanders was the largest landholder in this vicinity, owning 1,200 acres of fine Platte bottom land. He is survived by five sons.

Bridge Must Be Built.

The high court holds that the Farmers' Irrigation district must build a bridge across its ditch for Peter O'Shea. In so doing it reverses and remands the case to the district court of Scottsbluff county. The district had contended that the statute did not apply in this case, because O'Shea had bought land on both sides after the ditch had been dug. The court holds that this made no difference. Moreover, it says that the requirement is constitutional, inasmuch as the liability to build the bridge is part of the consideration for the valuable right of eminent domain.

Higher Valuation Stands.

The supreme court upholds the verdict of $3,910 given to Fred Grimm against the Elkhorn valley drainage district. The verdict was secured on appeal from the award of the board of appraisers, which allowed Grimm but $600.

Funeral of Fremont Veteran.

Fremont, Neb., April 20.—Joseph Bayer, a veteran of the civil war and for several years a prominent merchant of Blair and Craig, died at his home here. The body was taken to Craig for burial. Mr. Bayer was seventy-four years of age.

National Vacuum Washer

ADVANTAGES

It runs so easy that any child can operate it. It will not tear the most delicate fabric. It will wash heavy fabric as well as light. It will wash one piece as well as the regular amount. It can be run by hand, water, gasoline and electric power. It costs much less than two cents per hour to run the electric machine. It will wash so clean that there is no more use for a washboard, no rubbing. It will pay for itself in a very short time by the saving in clothes. It will last longer, because the tub and dasher is made of galvanized metal or copper sheets. No hoops to fall off. Can be left anywhere without fear of falling to pieces. It is made with a round metal, making a very large capacity. It is absolutely guaranteed against defects for five years.

Why You Should Use a National Vacuum Washer

BECAUSE; it washes much quicker, does it much cleaner and with a great deal less work to the operator.

Why Does It Wash Quicker

BECAUSE; the rapid action of the dasher driving the hot water and suds through the soiled clothes forces the dirt out. The agitation of the hot water makes the dirt respond immediately. Two to six minutes will remove the dirt from any fabric that can be cleaned with soap and water.

Why Does It Wash Cleaner

BECAUSE; by the vacuum principle the dirt is all forced OUT instead of rubbing part of it into the fabric.

Why with Less Work to the Operator

BECAUSE; by the vacuum principle it requires only power to handle the water, not the clothes. This eliminates the wear on the fabric and makes the machine run much easier.

In order to fully appreciate the real value of THE NATIONAL VACUUM WASHER, YOU MUST GIVE IT A TRIAL.

There is a new report of peace. According to rumors Italy is to be the mediator, and in that event the move for peace will be very soon if at all, in the near future. They might as well have had peace before they began the needless killing as now if the rulers are rulers and had so desired.

A number of the graduated students from the Otto Voget conservatory of music at Norfolk have organized a concert company and are said to be giving some excellent concerts in this corner of the state, and Wayne is said to be on the list for a date. Some of the students formerly of Wayne.

Jenkin Davis, an old settler at Carroll is dead. He had been in poor health for some time, and was taken to a hospital at Columbus for treatment and an operation for tumor, but did not have sufficient vitality to withstand the ordeal and passed away at the hospital. He was past 73 years of age and leaves to mourn his death several sons and daughters. The funeral services are at Carroll today.

O. P. DePew, wife and daughter Audrey, who have been absent from Wayne nearly a year, touring California by automobile returned Tuesday evening, and are stopping at Wayne for a short time at least. Mr. DePew says they had a splendid time, traveling more than 6,000 miles by automobile. They were over in Mexico for a time, and returned by a southern route, through Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and other states. Speaking of the future, he said that he thought he would soon locate at something in this part of Nebraska.

The home of Herman Wruck and wife at West Point was burned at an early hour Tuesday morning and his dead body was found in the home and seen by those first at the fire. He sat up in a chair, dead and his clothes and the room spattered with blood. No trace of the wife was found and the home and contents were consumed. It was reported that he had planned to start for Oregon this week and had his packing for the trip completed. Several theories are advanced. One was murder and arson to hide the crime. Another was murder and suicide, as himself and wife had not lived happily.

Today is Arbor day, which was invented by Mr. Morton who was a great man in his time, and had quite a political pull with the powers at Washington during the reign of Grover I and II. His home was at Nebraska City, and it has trees planted about the house to such an extent that it resembles a forest from a little distance, and the stately house is almost completely hidden from view. The bankers of this great state observe this day annually for their district association meetings, and call it a holiday because they can close their banks on that day and let the interest continue to draw on their loans just the same as a work day, so the banker don't lose so much on a holiday as some folks do unless he spends it, for he cannot stop the interest for holidays or Sundays—it works all the time, says Johnnie.

One conversant with the scriptures may be able to find a few lines to uphold in most trying times, as did the good wife as cited here: One of our citizens who, occasionally wipes the dishes for his wife, became tired of his job and refused, saying that "it is not a man's work." Not feeling disposed to lose his help she brought the Bible out to convince him of his error and read, as follows from II Kings, 21:12: "And will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down." It is needless to say that he is still doing his occasional stunt.

Come on People, Clean Up the Town at Once!

DOCTOR SOUNDS ALARM FOR ALL

He Tells How Dust Causes Throat and Lung Trouble.

ONLY STRONG CAN RESIST.

Chaff From Hay Wagons, Dirt Dropping From Contractors' Loads, Etc., a Distinct Menace to Any Community. Prompt Reports to Authorities Necessary.

"In the many small streets in the poorer parts of towns and cities," writes a prominent doctor, "where nuisances occur, a considerable time often elapses before they are reported to the proper authorities. The nuisances continue unabated during this time and may result in infection of some kind. That is not willful negligence. It is simply because it seems to be nobody's business to report those nuisances, which continue until the tenant complains to the real estate agent or it reaches a local department in some other roundabout way.

"Why could not a department of public safety use inspectors and police officers and have them report every occasion if they found that garbage was scattered over the street or was not properly covered, that a main was broken, a drainpipe stopped or that any such nuisance had occurred?"

"When excavations are made throughout a city a great deal of the dirt blows about and fills the air with dust. The children of the neighborhood, too, play in the dirt and scatter it about. Why should not the excavated material be covered with a tarpaulin so that the dust would be minimized? Another preventable cause of the dust and dirt comes from the hay wagons which trail their loads through the streets, dropping dust and chaff along the way. Finally, there are the drop bottom carts of the contractors, which carry dirt and refuse from one place to another. Often one sees a trail of earth sifting from the improperly closed trap bottom of these wagons to be scattered and blown about the streets.

"All these and many more things go to make up the dust which especially in the summer makes a haze which the eye can discern. Smoke often causes part of this haze, particularly in damp weather, when it descends in clouds, but dust is largely responsible for it.

"The effect of these dust particles laden with all sorts of disease bearers depends simply on the resistance of the individual who breathes them in with the polluted air. They are responsible for many cases of conjunctivitis and, I think, are an important cause of catarrhal and other head, throat and pulmonary troubles."

A TIMELY WARNING.

The arrival of hot weather always brings with it an increase in infant mortality.

The typhoid fly and other germ carriers breed and multiply in piles of waste matter and refuse of almost every kind.

CLEAN UP AND SAVE THE BABIES' LIVES.

These deadly insects just dot on alighting on the babies' milk bottles and foods. They are responsible for thousands of deaths a year. Destroy their breeding places and you will be aiding in a great, grand cause.

CLEAN UP AND KILL THE MOSQUITOES.

"Cleanup time is here, and so is mosquito time. Gird on your swatting armor and go forth. One moment, however, before you go—the female is more deadly than the male."

"Among mosquitoes the members of the 'fair' sex are fierce bloodsuckers that inject an irritating poison into our skins, and they may accompany the dose of toxin with a few fever germs. The males lead a comparatively tame existence, subsisting on the juices of plants and fruits." So says a member of the University of Wisconsin biology department.

"The speckle winged anopheles, the malarial mosquito," he continues, "hibernates during the winter in our attics, cellars and closets." The presence of many lakes, swamps and ponds often makes mosquitoes an intolerable pest.

"The female mosquito gorges herself with blood in order that the eggs may have abundant nourishment. She deposits her little egg raft on the surface of quiet water during the night, and it floats there until the larvae hatch. The larvae are the 'wigglers' or 'wiggletails' which are seen in ponds and rainwater barrels the world over. Though mosquito larvae always develop in water, they must breathe air and frequently come to the surface. After a few days the larva sheds its skin and becomes a big headed pupa, which rests at the surface until it splits up the back to allow the adult mosquito to emerge.

"The best way to get rid of mosquitoes is to destroy their breeding places. This not only means draining swamps and filling in ponds, but gathering up tomato cans, putting netting over horse troughs and rainwater barrels and watching the eave troughs. If it is impossible to get rid of standing water near your premises, oil placed on ponds will kill the larvae. Kerosene or any light fuel oil will serve for this purpose. About one ounce of oil will cover fifteen square feet."

THE TOWN BEAUTIFUL.

Movement to Distribute Flower Seeds Should Spread.

In Nebraska several public spirited communities have adopted the practice of distributing flower seeds to children in connection with the cleanup and paintup propaganda.

The children are instructed in the planting and care of flowers and also in the simple methods of digging gardens.

The practice is known as "the town beautiful movement." Many a yard after being cleaned up becomes a spot of real beauty when a flower garden decorates it. Even a back yard can be made a pleasure to the eye in this way.

VALUABLE HINTS ON DISPOSING OF REFUSE.

How Pits With Covers Aid the Cleaners of Streets and Walks.

When streets and sidewalks are cleaned by hand sweeping there should be provided receptacles of appropriate design and suitable capacity for the reception of the street sweepings awaiting removal.

A useful form of such receptacle would be one which could be removed without being emptied, another being left in its place for the next day's sweepings. The same method is equally applicable for small garbage and household refuse.

There are other receptacles for street refuse that may be sunk in pits. They are made of steel with a dumping bottom, and the removal cart is provided with means of lifting them out of the pit to the top of the cart, which is covered with a top having special openings so that the contents of the cans may be dumped into the cart without being scattered by the wind.

After being so dumped the cans are lowered again into place in their pits. In order to avoid handling such cans pits are located in the sidewalk near the curb, and the street refuse is swept directly into them, small hinged flaps bridging the gutter. The pit is, of course, provided with a cover. The removal of all town street sweepings and garbage refuse should be done in wagons invariably having covers in order to prevent the passing public and the workman from escaping particles. It is better, however, to have it removed in the original cans, leaving empty cans in place, as this is an absolute protection to all concerned and gets the wagons off the streets sooner.

GOOD IDEAS FOR CLEANUP CAMPAIGN.

Various localities where cleanup and paintup crusades are waged appoint special committees of women and girls to aid in the work.

Also many schools organize their pupils into bands of dirt annihilators. The young folks are found to be especially effective in this sort of activity. Most of them like to feel that they have become old enough and big enough to assist the grownups in doing the grownups' work.

CLEANUP POSTCARDS.

An Effective Novelty First Used in a St. Paul Crusade.

Cleanup postcards are a novelty introduced in St. Paul.

No less than 40,000 were mailed to persons a year ago, and this year probably double that number will be utilized. The cards, with appropriate illustrations and text or with text alone, prove very effective in getting volunteer cleaners into action.

The cost of printing them is very low. They can be either mailed or distributed by individual workers.

SPOILING THE WILDWOOD.

The wind blows free, and the hovering mist

Gives way to the sun's bright glow. The sighing oak by the zephyr kissed Has a song that is sweet and low. Afar in the valley the stream extends Like a ribbon of silver bright.

And the birds that build where the willow bends

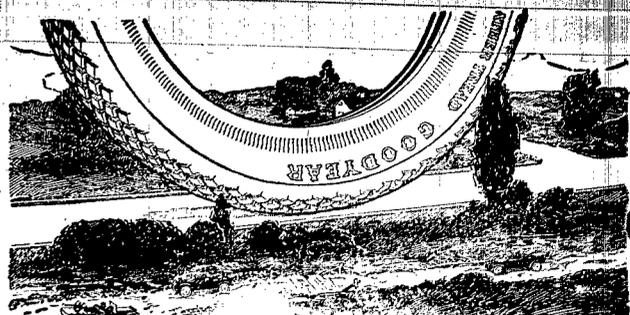

Are happy from morn till night. Along come people who bring their lunch. And they scarcely regard the scene. The chipmunk sits and observes them munch

A picnic or a sardine. Oh, Nature, with all her splendid plans. Anger must surely feel

As we strew the landscape with old tin cans

And paper and orange peel!

Farming a Complex Business

No business needs better management all around than farming. So many chances for failure are present that it is the exceptional farm that is strong in every particular. Most farms succeed in spite of certain weakness. Some of these weaknesses can be corrected; others are due to conditions that can not be improved, such as naturally poor soil, short growing seasons, steep hills, etc.

Much worthy effort is expended in producing good crops, but oftentimes a gain in the best of crops is lost by feeding to inefficient live stock. There is no surer way of losing money than by feeding crops to animals the products of gain from which do not pay the cost of feeding.

Some men attribute their success to the particular kind of crop they grow or the particular way of feeding live stock. More likely their success is due to a good sized farm business, good or average crops, and a good quality of live stock.

On fourteen farms in southern Pennsylvania where the receipts per cow were less than $40, not a farm made as much as $1000 labor income. On twenty-four farms in the same district, with only a slightly larger acreage, but with the receipts per cow between $101 and $115, only three farms made a labor income of less $1000. Half these farms made more than $1500. The reason is perfectly obvious. The first group of farmers were growing fair crops, but they could not possibly succeed when the other part of their business was so weak. The second group not only produced good crops, but they utilized them efficiently.

Another way in which some farmers fail is in the use of labor, both man and horse. Everything they do seems to take about twice as long as it should, hence they receive only half pay for their work. Farming does not pay for inefficient work any more than any other business. An acre of hay normally requires about ten hours of man labor for each cutting. Some men will waste nearly this much in just getting started. They may grow good crops and have good stock, but their inability to work lessens their chances of success.

Successful farming calls for the best of judgment. It means good crops, good live stock well fed and handled, and a thoroughly balanced business in every way.—E. H. Thompson, in Farm Management Monthly.

How clearly the above sets forth what Hoards Dairyman is all the time talking about—the necessity with every farmer to increase—and that means improve—the producing quality of his cows. This can be done only through better breeding, wiser feeding, and a more rigid selection or culling out of poor, unprofitable cows. Of course, we may keep saying this till doomsday, yet there are thousands of farmers who somehow, strangely enough, don't seem to sense it. And you will find such farmers right in the most advanced and prosperous dairy communities.

We have long believed that the creameries held it in their power to stir up their patrons to better ways if they would annually take a cow census of every herd in their patronage. Hire a good man who has tact and good estimating judgment and send him out to the farmers to get just the farm side of the year's work. Get the average number of cows for the year, the kind and cost of the feed they consumed, the breeding of the cows, and all real and pertinent facts of each herd for the past year. That will make up the cost side of the milk production. Then take the creamery books of the amount of milk received, the pounds of butterfat, and the cash received by that herd for the year. Square one by the other and get the earnings per cow.—Designate each herd by a number; tell the owner what his number is but tell no one else. Then tabulate and summarize those figures and print them and give each patron two or three copies so he can study the same. It will put him in possession of facts that he knows nothing of. It will give him a chance to compare his herd with those of his neighbors. It will show him where he is lame and deficient in his cow management and where he is losing money while his neighbors maybe are making money.

Let this be a regular part of the cost of carrying on the creamery each year. It will pay the creamery management a big profit to do this thing for it will stimulate the dull and indifferent to better action. Every creamery is anxious to add another patron to their test for they want to do more business. Why not in this way get the patrons they now have to produce better cows and more milk. That will bring profit to the patron as well as to the creamery.

A new record has been made by a girl typist in the eastern contest, which was held at Boston last week. Miss Mary Brewen wrote an average of 130 words per minute for one hour, and made but 44 errors, and for each of these five words were deducted, so that in reality she wrote 210 words more than the 130 per minute credited, or more than 133 words per minute. Comment From Exchanges

The Commoner:

Washington correspondents say that the big republican politicians are seriously considering Senator Root as the next presidential nominee, because they believe Colonel Roosevelt might be induced to accept the man he thought so much of that he made him his secretary of state. Just how far Mr. Root would get as a nominee may be determined by recalling that he refused to run again as a candidate for the senate from New York because he did not have sufficient faith in the intelligence of the rank and file, who now name senators, to believe they could act with discrimination. Imagine a man who holds to that opinion appealing to the average American voter.

When the government policy of conservation of natural resources was first established, westerners who had seen their neighbors grow rich from the free use of government lands and who feared they would not be able to enjoy a like opportunity, protested vigorously. The annual report of the government chief forester, made public not long ago, states that after eight years' trial, stockmen are well satisfied and that over nine million sheep and cattle were pastured last year on forest reserve lands. The government received a million dollars for the grazing privileges. Those protests that were based on selfish greed were apparently justified.

A beet sugar factory in Nebraska, in settling its account with growers at the end of the recent financial year for that business, found that it had made so much money that its owners voluntarily paid to the growers 50 cents a ton more than they had agreed at the beginning of the planting season. The beet sugar factories of the country, it will be remembered, were all to have been compelled to close down as soon as the democratic tariff law went into effect because nobody would be found to grow the raw material for the prices they could afford to pay under the new schedule.

More Farmers Coming

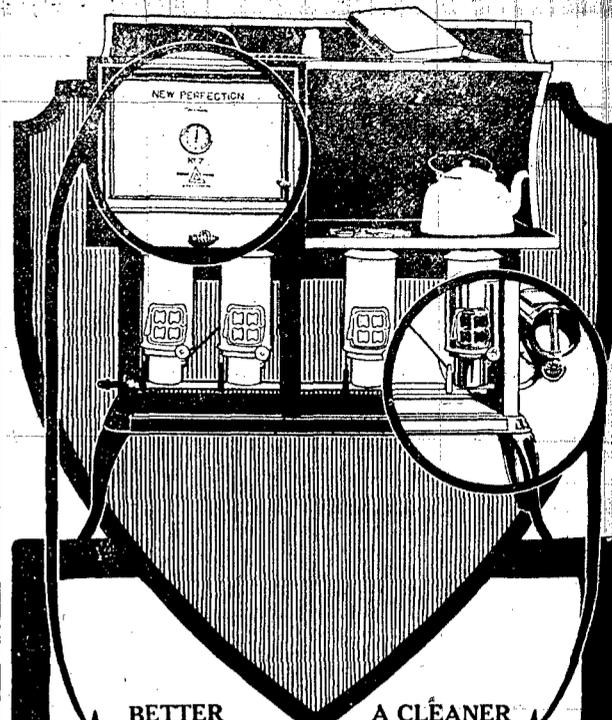

More farmers in Nebraska is bound to be the result of several conservative campaigns that are now on for getting greater efficiency out of the land that is now farmed on the ranch plan. A local real estate man who is interested in this kind of work told the writer recently that inquiries are coming daily. An undercurrent of some sort seems to be driving the people westward and it seems that a good class of people are coming this way.

The state of North Dakota has begun to put into operation a plan which should bring thousands of new settlers within the next year. The legislature has appropriated $60,000 for the promotion of immigration in the next two years. R. F. Flint, commissioner of agriculture, has given an impetus to the plan by asking the co-operation of all of the country newspapers in the state to induce their readers to write personal letters to old friends "back home". Those farmers who are well situated and who have prospered are urged to write their friends and relatives in the older states, in the cities and in Europe, to, telling them of their success, of the resources of the state, how they raise corn, clover, alfalfa, cattle and hogs and in fact, to try and induce those friends to break away from the cities and the older communities and settle in North Dakota.

The plan seems to be a good one and could be made to result in a great gain in the population of this section. But the plan need not be confined to that state alone. Any prosperous rural community can benefit itself if its energetic men and women will help to spread the gospel of country life. Almost every one of our readers can think of some friend or relative now struggling along in some town or city who, if transplanted to a modest farm, would be healthier, happier and more prosperous than they are at present. Let our readers try the plan. Write to your friends, tell them what you are doing and what you mean to, point out to them that farming today is not what it was 40, 30 or even ten years ago. Write to your old home town newspapers and let your old friends and neighbors know how well you are getting on. Pass a good thing along. You will be doing your friends a favor and you will be helping the community.—Norfolk Press.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Beef Fairly Active and About Steady.

HOGS LARGELY 5 TO 10¢ UP.

Ewes and Lambs Smash All Records. Prices 10¢ to 15¢ Higher Than Ever Paid at These Yards—Seven Car Lamb at $10.75—Ewes Top at $8.50.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, April 21.—A very good run of cattle arrived yesterday, some 5,200 head. While there was quite a little more life to the fat cattle market than on Monday, there was not so very much change in prices. Choice yearlings sold at $8.25@8.40. Choice heavy beefs sold around $8.00@8.15. No material change was noticeable in the market for cows and heifers. There was a healthy demand for anything that they could use, so that there was a good outlet for practically all grades of the stock. Veal calves were in the usual vigorous request and notably firm. Business in stockers and feeders was reasonably lively and the tone to the market strong for anything at all desirable regardless of weight.

Cattle quotations: Good to choice beefs, $7.90@8.40; fair to good beefs, $7.50@7.90; common to fair beefs, $7.00@7.50; good to choice heifers, $6.75@7.75; good to choice cows, $6.60@7.10; fair to good cows, $5.50@6.50; canners and cutters, $3.75@5.25; veal calves, $7.00@10.00; bulls stags, etc., $4.75@6.50; good to choice feeders, $7.10@8.00; fair to good feeders, $7.00@7.40; common to fair feeders, $6.00@7.00; stock heifers, $5.75@7.25; stock cows, $5.50@6.75; stock calves, $6.25@8.25; stock bulls, $5.25@6.50.

Some 10,200 hogs showed up yesterday. The market opened out brisk, shippers paying prices that were in most cases 5¢ to 10¢ higher. Their purchases, which came close to accounting for half the supply, were largely at $7.40@7.45, and a sprinkling up to $7.50. Packers paid a big nickel, and in most cases 5¢ to 10¢ higher prices. Most of the killing hogs sold at $7.40.

Sheep and lamb receipts totaled 8,300 head. All previous records of high prices for both ewes and lambs on this market were broken yesterday. Prices on both sheep and lambs were fully 10¢ to 15¢ higher. About eight cars of Colorado-Mexican lambs brought $10.75. This price was never before paid at these yards. Some Belmont ewes went at $8.50, a new record in the history of the market.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, light, $10.50@10.75; lambs heavy, $10.10@10.50; lambs, shorn, $8.35@8.85; yearlings, light, $9.00@9.35; yearlings, heavy, $8.75@9.00; wethers, good to choice, $8.00@8.50; wethers, fair to good, $7.75@8.00; ewes, good to choice, $8.00@8.50; ewes, fair to good, $7.50@8.00.

Never Washed Herself.

Benevolent Old Lady (to little girl)—My little dear, do you wash your face and hands every morning?

"No, mum."

"Good gracious! That's perfectly dreadful. Do you wash your face in the middle of the day?"

"No, mum."

"Dear me! When do you wash yourself?"

"I never washes."

"Horrible! It is shocking how depraved the lower classes are. I must organize a society to see that the children are properly washed. Tell me, little one, do you really never wash yourself?"

"No, mum. Mamma washes every morning."—London Telegraph.

Experiments With Sand.

A very interesting fact about the ordinary sand of the seashore is that a pint of dry sand and half a pint of water when mixed do not make a pint and a half, but a good deal less. If you fill a child's pail with dry sand from above the tide mark and then pour on it some water the mass of sand actually shrinks. The reason is that when the sand is dry there is air between its particles, but when the sand particles are wetted they adhere closely to each other; the air is driven out, and the water does not exactly take an equivalent space, but occupies less room than the air did, owing to the close clinging together of the wet particles.

Evolution of Advertisement.

The word "advertisement," which meant special notice, was not used in our modern sense until about 1660. The term adopted was "advice." The fees were distinctly heavy, and a curious fact is that it does not seem to have occurred to the promoters to charge for space or the number of words. Important "advices" or those by important people seem simply to have been put in capital letters and allowed more space without regard to price.—From "A History of English Journalism," by J. B. Williams.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

Fighting at various isolated points from western Belgium to the Vosges mountains has resulted, according to London and Paris, in defeats at several places for the Germans.

In the eastern war zone, up to the Carpathian peaks and passes, somewhat of a lull seems to have fallen on the operations of the Russian, German and Austro-Hungarian armies, while in Galicia and Poland almost complete quiet prevails.

To the south of Zillebeke, in Belgium, a hill which dominates the country north and northwest has been captured and consolidated by the British, says London, after a sanguinary engagement with the Germans.

According to Paris, a further advance in the Vosges by the French has been made on both banks of the Frecht river, the Germans evacuating Eselbrucke and abandoning large stores of war materials.

The British army has begun another drive at the important section of the German line which holds conquered Belgium. Sharp fighting occurred in Belgium and the official French report states that the British captured 200 yards of German trenches.

Lieutenant Roland Garros, one of the best known of French aviators, whose exploits during the war won him fame, has been captured by the Germans.

Authenticity of official French and British war reports is challenged by the German war office, which characterizes as inventions their claims to victories.

Abandonment by the German general staff of plans for a general offensive in France is inferred in Rome from information received there. It is said this decision is indicated by official communications to the Italian cabinet.

A Geneva dispatch gives the impression that the Austrians and Germans have decided to concentrate their energies on the eastern campaign.

Field Marshal Baron Kolmar Von Der Goltz has been appointed commander in chief of the first Turkish army. Confident assertions from Berlin last week that the Russian advance in the Carpathian regions had been halted are offset by the claim of the Petrograd war office that the principal chain of mountains, comprising a seventy-five-mile section of the front, is now in possession of the Russians and that 70,000 Austrians have been captured in the last few weeks.

Count Alvaro de Romanes, former premier of Spain, has made a public statement that a "solemn declaration" should be made by Spain to show where its sympathy lies in the war. He points out that Spain's relations with the triple entente has been more and more friendly during recent years.

Travelers from Asia Minor say that the situation in Smyrna is terrible. They state that bands of Mussulman brigands are committing all kinds of outrages, killing and taking hostages, pillaging and burning property.

That cotton is being kept out of Germany and Austria just as effectively as if it were declared absolute contraband is the tenor of a reply addressed by British Attorney General Simon to a conference of chemists and engineers who raised the question whether the action taken by the government was sufficient to make it certain that no cotton reaches those countries.

That Germany intends to make a direct issue with the United States of the continued exportation of arms and munitions of war to the allies was disclosed at Washington.

Activities in the Dardanelles are taken to presage an important movement any day now against the Turkish position on the straits.

As a result of a railroad accident Swiss customs officers discovered that a sealed car marked "vegetables," shipped from Cenoa to Germany, was loaded with Maxim guns. The artillery was sequestered.

The London Times says that the cargo of cotton of the American steamer Navajo, intended for Bremen, is being discharged and stored at Maryport.

A Russian summary of recent fighting in the Carpathians announces the principal chain of mountains, seventy-five miles long, and 70,000 prisoners taken.

Fighting continues in the Vosges, Lorraine and Alsace.

A British submarine, E-15, operating in mine fields in the Dardanelles, ran aground. Seven of the crew are missing and twenty-four were made prisoners.

British airmen dropped bombs on the Turkish encampment in Egypt near the border.

The allied offensive on the western front is developing. According to the allies, the offensive movement has been in progress for several weeks at strategic points from the sea to the Alps, with successes.

Russians and Germans and Austrians appear to be deadlocked around the Uzsok pass, the pivotal point of the Carpathians.

A French aviator shelled Freiburg, killing six children, a man and woman. Several more children were injured.

Again the allies have assumed the offensive on the western line of battle and, according to Paris, have made gains in Terrain, capturing officers and men and guns and expelled German counter attacks.

In the eight months of fighting from August to April 11 the total casualties among the British forces were 139,347 men.

Sock and Buskin.

In the early ages theatrical performers disguised their faces with wine lees or a rude pigment. Aeschylus, the famous tragic poet, introduced masks, which were of various kinds, expressing every age, country, condition and complexion. All were constructed with the greatest nicety and precision. The dresses were also adapted to the characters assumed by the actors. What was known as the buskin was a hunting boot. Those worn by tragedians had soles three inches thick, composed of layers of cork, and were laced up in front as high as the calf. Sandals were also worn, and many of these had thick cork soles. The colors of the foot coverings were various, red being the favorite hue for warriors and purple for other characters. Slaves wore a low shoe bearing the name of sock, which was also the ordinary footwear of comedians. From this circumstance arose the well known phrase of "sock and buskin," so generally associated with the drama.

Trifles

A friend once called upon Michelangelo, who was finishing a statue. Some time after he called again and, looking at the figure, said, "You have been idle since I last saw you."

"By no means," replied the sculptor. "I have retouched this part, polished that. I have softened this feature and given more expression to this lip."

"Well, well," said the friend, "but these are mere trifles."

"It may be so," answered Michelangelo, "but recollect that trifles make perfection, and perfection is no trifle."
