Road and Light Movement

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Wayne commercial club last Friday evening after a long vacation things were started going nicely. Committees were named to see to the marking of the line of the Sioux City-Wayne-Norfolk road, and the work has been done both ways from Wayne.

C. E. Carhart and V. A. Senter went east Tuesday and put the black and white bands on the poles between here and the point marked to by Wakefield people. E. A. Surber took the committee who were to mark between Wayne and Winside, Rollie Ley and Frank Gaertner and they painted the poles necessary to properly guide people between those two points. It was decided that so far as Wayne people were concerned, they would not need a marked line going over, but that it might be needed for the return trip. Don Cunningham, Clyde Oman and Harry Fisher were named to properly mark the line through Wayne, and that work has been finished.

At the same meeting the question of providing electroliners for Main street was discussed and a committee composed of the following was named to meet with the council next Tuesday evening with a report of what the sentiment of the people along the proposed electroliner district is in regard to the matter. The committee consists of Phil Kohl, S. R. Theobald, Frank Strahan, Frank Gamble and J. T. Bressler.

At the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening it is thought there will be much information available as to the different styles of poles and globes and the cost of same and probable expense of installing. It certainly seems as though Wayne has reached a time in its life when it can begin to dress up and light up so that it may see and be seen. The proposed plan of asking those most directly interested to aid the city in the work is fair to those not so vitally interested. The expense should not be great and the improvement will more than compensate.

At the same meeting the hospital proposition was referred to but no reports made. We understand, however, that the committee in charge of that matter are doing good work and a start has been made that bids fair to result in rapid progress in this proposed enterprise.

Flege Verdict Sustained

Last Friday report came that the supreme court had refused to grant Wm. Flege a new trial and the sheriff of Dixon county came and escorted Flege to Ponca, from where, after the proper legal steps are taken, he was taken to the penitentiary to begin serving an indeterminate sentence of from one to ten years, that being the sentence at the time of his third and last conviction.

It is now about five years since his sister was killed, and during that time he has had three trials and was three times convicted, the supreme court twice giving him a new trial on technical points—known as "errors" in the language of the court. It is said that an effort will be made to grant the case a re-hearing before the supreme court, though it is not known that any legal steps have been taken to such action.

Wayne County Boys to Exposition

The Top Notch Farmer Club want Wayne county represented at the corn convention to be held at the Panama exposition August 5 and 6, and the Governor has written asking Representative Mears to recommend two who can and will go. The delegates will have to pay their own expenses, but going as a delegate would put one in the position to enjoy many privileges free which the common visitor would have to pay for. They would also be in touch with a bunch of the best and most progressive farmers in the land, and farmer boys from all over the Union. Boys from the farm who can go will confer a favor by applying to Mr. Mears for full particulars. He wishes to recommend some worthy boys who can and will make the trip.

Death of Mrs. Brigham

Friday, June 18, 1915, death came to relieve the sufferings of Mrs. Hannah Brigham after an illness of many months duration, at the age of 66 years, 7 months and 5 days, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Everett Lindsay.

Hannah Anderson Slater was born at Mahomet, Illinois, November 11, 1848. September 1, 1867, she was united in marriage to J. W. Thompson, and two children were born to this union, Robert, who died February 16, 1905, and Mrs. Lulu Lindsay, who survives here. Later in life she was united in marriage to Albert Brigham, who passed to his reward a number of years ago.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. E. Connell of Winside and at the Grace church at the latter church, Saturday and the body was brought to Wayne for burial in the cemetery here.

Of her life we learned but little. Her home was at Sioux City for a time until failing health made it necessary to make a home with those who could care for her, and she has made her home with Mrs. Lindsay for the past 18 months. The best of medical aid failed to prolong her life.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our most earnest thanks to neighbors and friends, for help extended in time of need during the sickness, death and burial of mother, and especially to the members of the Ladies Aid society for their rich floral offering as well as aid and sympathy.

Everett and Maud Lindsay and Family.

Visit Norfolk Commercial Club

W. E. Beaman and Ralph Rundell autoed to Norfolk Monday afternoon and were present at a commercial club luncheon there that evening. Attorney Berry, president of the Wayne band of boosters, happened to be in the city and was an honored guest. He responded to calls for a talk and gave them a few things to think over relative to the good road movement—intimating that if Norfolk expected to be the hub from which roads went to every desirable place except straight up they must work as well as talk. His pleasantry was well received. Good roads, we are told was the subject of much of the talk, and some needed changes in the law regulating the proposition of the taxes which now go to the cause of public highways. The people are beginning to consider good roads and their importance to a community—and we might add that we were told that with the exception of one drag district close to Wayne, the Wayne roads were the best of any place along the route. Let us hope this little piece of road is put in shape.

Digging a Canal at Wayne

Tuesday evening the editor was taken by the genial Vic Senter to see the ditch which is being cut on one of the Bressler farms just southwest of Wayne to shorten the course of the Logan about 80 rods by cutting across the top of a big oxbow bend, about 250 feet. J. H. Wright is doing the work, using an engine and cable and drum to load and haul the scraper, the empty scraper being dragged back by team. The opening cut at present is about 15 feet wide at the top, and has an average depth of about six feet. A sluice or box has been placed in the stream to conduct the water through and the dirt now removed is dumped over it to form the dam which is to turn the stream into the new channel. The city is doing the work, and is to have the island thus made for a dump ground—something that has long been needed, and that has been the cause of much trouble in the past.

Announcement

Chas. Edward Russell who appears on the chautauqua program, July 14th announces that he has just returned from his second visit to the war front. This lends special interest to the lecture that he will give entitled "The War and Its Lessons". You should not fail to hear this great man.

W. A. Hiscox was at Omaha last week visiting his doctor there and spending a few days at the hospital where he was a year ago. He reports that they were not able to find anything radically wrong with him—physically.

State Normal Notes

The next number of the summer school entertainment course will be a musicale by Helen Mayer on the evening of June 30.

Miss Martha J. Woosley has been elected to the department of English in the Creighton high school.

Rev. A. V. House of Danvers, Massachusetts, brother of J. T. House, was a chapel visitor Tuesday and gave an excellent address to the students.

President Conn attended a meeting of the board of education and a conference of Normal school presidents at Lincoln Tuesday and Wednesday.

Paul A. Becker has been notified of his election to the position of manual director in the Maryville, Missouri, high school.

V. F. Wilson will act as editor-in-chief of the Goldenrod during the summer session, and the business interests of this publication will be looked after by Harold H. Boyce.

Superintendent H. M. Eaton of Emerson, R. M. Campbell of Columbus, and C. N. Walton of Wahoo, members of the board of examiners for state certificates, spent Wednesday at the Normal.

Students from the various counties represented in the summer school met the first of the week and formed county organizations—Iowa and South Dakota have also organized with a good representation from each of these states.

Improvement of the grounds and buildings has been pushed quite rapidly during the week. The auditorium and recitation seats have been installed and departments are being moved into quarters in the new building. A force of men are at work putting in walks, thus adding greatly to the beauty and convenience of the grounds.

Winside Celebrates the 3d

Winside people are busy just now arranging for a big celebration of the nation's birthday. Two years ago the people of the county were invited there to celebrate, and quite generally attended, many going from Wayne and having a splendid time. Beyond a doubt a large delegation will go from here this year.

The program will begin at 10 a. m., with a street parade participated in by the different fraternal societies, calthumpians and citizens in general. There will be orations by prominent speakers, and the committee on music has been fortunate in securing Stockton's fourteen-piece band of Norfolk.

The baseball committee promises to have two of the fastest teams in this part of the state.

During the afternoon there will be games, races and sports of various kinds for cash prizes. There will also be plenty of fireworks in the evening.

It Has Been Demonstrated

That sweet clover thrives well in Wayne on numerous parkings and vacant lots. It is also said that it is a splendid dandelion eradicator, for the "yallar" of the clover is not more objectionable than that of the smaller pest. In fact, we are told that sweet clover cleans the soil of all weeds as no other plant will. It is also a great fertilizer, adding much to the richness of the soil where it is grown.

Be that as it may, the Democrat hopes to see the Wayne parkings and streets cleaned of the growth within the next two weeks, for there are many people going to visit Wayne during the chautauqua—besides we are now on the official automobile route, and as this becomes known many are the tourists who will come this way.

Weather Report

Issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., for the week beginning Wednesday, June 23, 1915.

Social Notes

Tuesday was Mrs. Emily Donner's birthday, and she was called over to the J. M. Cherry home for a short time, and when she returned found that a party of about twenty of her lady friends had taken possession of her home and were there to help her celebrate the anniversary of her birth in proper manner. The visitors brought a bountiful supper and also numerous presents as tokens of good will and esteem—in fact we are told that it looked almost like a "shower", such as is frequently given the younger ladies. All enjoyed the event, and wished Mrs. D. many happy returns of the day.

Henry Kellogg had a birthday this week—some where along in the 60's, we are told, and the wife invited a few friends to dine with him in honor of the event. Mrs. Emily Donner, who had a birthday a day later was among the guests, and joined in making it a sort of double anniversary celebration. One never thinks of Mr. Kellogg as growing old, except when he passes one of the annual marks. They are passed regularly by Mr. K. but to see him out with the other boys—throwing horse shoes one would forget that they were passing.

The Bible Study Circle had a very helpful meeting at the home of Mrs. J. E. Abbott Tuesday afternoon. Several out-of-town guests were present and took part in the discussion of the 145th Psalm as led by Miss Charlotte White. Mrs. Buell will entertain the circle next week when the new quarter will begin.

The members of the Foreign Missionary society will give a picnic June 30th at 4:30 p. m. in the park for the children belonging to the King Heralds and Little Light Bearers. Games will be played and supper served at 6:30. Come and bring the children. A good time is assured.

Mrs. Fred Philleo gave a party to a number of her lady friends in honor of Mrs. Swan of Sioux City, Friday evening. The hours were happily passed in social chat and games. A three-course luncheon was served.

Mrs. Mel Norton entertained a number of young lady friends of her daughter, Mrs. Trigger, who is visiting here from Canada. A very pleasant evening was passed at games, amusements and social chat over the refreshments served.

Mrs. A. H. Ellis was hostess at an informal card party Tuesday evening to the Early Hour club ladies and a few other invited guests. Dainty refreshments were served. A very pleasant evening was spent.

The Girl's Bible Circle met last Saturday evening with Miss Tina Henderson. The lesson study was led by Miss Alma Harris. The attendance was good. They will meet next week with Mrs. Hickman.

Mrs. J. J. Williams entertained in honor of Mrs. Swan of Sioux City at 1 o'clock luncheon last Thursday. The afternoon was spent in playing royalty and cards.

A Delayed Letter

Thursday evening, June 10, at Sholes hall, a three-act rural society comedy, "When a Man's Single" was presented to the public by Floyd Robinson, John McDonald, Leslie Gibson, Gail Sellen and the Misses Emeline Stevenson, Iva Root, Mabel McDonald and Ethel Burnham.

The hall was crowded to its full capacity, and those in attendance felt well repaid for coming out as the play was a rip-roaring success, many of the participators showing a decided talent, which would be a credit to a much larger town than Sholes.

The audience was entertained between acts with a reading by Miss Dorothy Gibson and instrumental music by Miss Bessie Crockett of Wayne.

Those taking part in the play and their prompters, were treated to a royal feed after the play, by some of the good ladies of the town.

Those in attendance from Wayne were Misses Pearl Sewell, Bessie Crockett, Edith Porter, Fontanelle Wright, and James Steele.

Mrs. Emma Montgomery Dies

Sunday, June 20, 1915, Mrs. Emma Montgomery died at her home in the south part of this county of the infirmities due to old age, at the age of 69 years and 3 months. She was born in Ireland, and had been a resident of this county about twelve years, and was a woman who stood high in the esteem of those who knew her best.

The funeral service was held at Grace Chapel where she had for a number of years been a regular attendant, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Connell and the body brought to Wayne for burial in the Wayne cemetery where there is a family lot.

She leaves a husband and many relatives and friends to mourn her departure, and many people from Wayne and vicinity followed the body to its last resting place to drop a tear on the grave and pay a tribute of respect to one whom they had loved.

(A more complete life history of this woman was to have been sent, but we failed to receive it—hence this brief mention.—Editor.)

More Road Marking Wanted

It has been suggested that as there is considerable automobile travel between the Elkhorn river and Yankton, South Dakota, which comes this way, it would be a very nice thing for the local automobile people of the towns along the best route to meet and agree upon a marking and pick the best road between the different places and mark it and thus be eligible to have it mapped. It was suggested that to leave the Fremont road to the northwest at Wisner, come to Wayne, thence to Laurel, Coleridge and Hartington, would be to follow the line of least resistance, and be the route traveled by those who know the best way and make the trip. The suggestion is a good one.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the kind sympathy and services, and also for the beautiful floral offerings of neighbors and friends so generously given during the sickness and death of our beloved wife and mother.

Ahern's Dry Goods, Groceries, Shoes

The Ahern store has been the center of considerable interest the past week because of a contest put on by the proprietor offering a prize to the one who could write the above words the most times on a card the size of a postal card. Several hundred cards were submitted and the judges awarded the first place to W. O. Hanssen, who wrote the words 1442 times—an' wrote them very neatly. His was one of the prettiest cards in the lot. Alma Shaller was second with 1360 times. Louise Bow with 1140 times came 3d and May Ahlvers was 4th with 1084. There were two cards written by two sisters that claimed 3335 times for one card and 3100 for the other, but the judge ruled these out because they could not be counted, nor could they be read under a powerful glass. To the naked eye they appeared like a card shaded with a pencil until there was none of the blank card that was not covered with the markings. Many hours of work was spent on these cards. S. Owen had the next best written card, but he underestimated the possibilities of others. John Larson also wrote an artistic card, a sort of a spider web formation, but it did not get very near the first place, much to his disappointment. The card plan has brought publicity to the Ahern store.

Married

Marriage license was issued at Omaha Monday to Beverly F. Strahan and Miss Mary Meister, both of this place. They were married at Omaha either Tuesday or Monday, and are expected home within a few days. Mr. Strahan is son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Strahan, a genial young fellow with business ability, who holds the position of assistant cashier of the First National bank. The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Meister, a young lady held high in the esteem of those who know her well. They will reside at Wayne.

Robert Lansing Successor to Bryan

The President has named Robert Lansing, who has long been authority on international law, and a counsellor of the late secretary of state and the president on many occasions, secretary of the state. He is a life-long democrat, and his being named is considered as a wide choice. He has accepted the responsibility, and will doubtless be confirmed when congress meets.

Some of the young people had a picnic at Bressler's grove Wednesday afternoon. They roasted weenies and made coffee and had a good time, then went to the home of Wm. Orr, where the evening was spent in dancing. Miss Tot Chapin of Winside was out-of-town guest.

Burlington Reports Corn Prospects Not Bright in Nebraska.

Omaha, June 22.—According to the Burlington's weekly crop report for Nebraska, while the excessive rains have injured the wheat crop to some extent, on the whole it is up close to the bumper point.

The Wymore and-McCook divisions retain the high standing of one week ago, but on the Omaha and Lincoln divisions, where the rainfall was the heaviest and the most damaging, there was a falling off of some 4 to 5 per cent.

Wheat over the entire territory has headed and is filling well, the apparent damage being due to lodging and some rust that has appeared in some instances on the lowlands.

The report relative to corn is not encouraging. Top much rain is what has kept the condition of the corn below the normal, the report stating: "Corn has had a bad start, as the seed rotted in the ground to some extent; some of the corn has been washed out, and all corn has made slow progress because of low temperatures and excessive moisture."

In the districts of Nebraska where sugar beets are raised, conditions are less favorable than they were one week ago. On the lowlands many fields have been washed out and the rains have delayed cultivation until the weeds have gotten an unusual start.

All over the state the meadows are covered with water and haying has been delayed. The first cutting of alfalfa is practically a failure.

Dealing with fruit, there does not seem to be much in sight, except apples, and it is asserted that they promise a good crop.

COAL CONTRACTS ARE LET

Lincoln, June 22.—The board of controlled coal contracts for supplying the different state institutions, the prices running from 2 1/2 to 5 cents lower than the contracts last year. The awards are as follows:

The H. B. Miles Coal company of Lincoln will furnish all of the coal at the institutions at Geneva, and a part at Beatrice, Lincoln asylum, Milford soldiers' home and industrial home.

The Coal Hill Coal company of Omaha gets the contract for all coal at Grand Island soldiers' home, and a part at Beatrice and the Milford institutions.

The Whitebreast Coal company of Lincoln will furnish all the coal at the Hastings insane asylum and penitentiary and a part of the coal at the Lincoln asylum.

Stickel Lumber company of Kearney gets the contract for the two institutions at that place.

Foss of Lincoln will furnish coal for the Lincoln orthopedic hospital.

JITNEY BOND TO BE $10,000

Omaha Occupation Tax Is to Be Placed at $60 a Car.

Omaha, June 22.—The city council has agreed that the proposed jitney regulation ordinance should contain a provision that each jitney should furnish the city liability insurance of a maximum of $10,000, with a limitation of $2,500 for any one death, the maximum to be increased at the rate of $1,000 per cent on cars having more than ten seats.

The occupation tax feature was placed at $60 a year for cars carrying four or less passengers, with a proportionate increase for larger seating capacity.

INSIST ON COURT ORDER

South Omaha Officials Refuse to Turn Over Records.

Omaha, June 22.—Good feeling prevailed in the South Omaha city hall when the Omaha officials made formal request for funds and records and were refused, with the explanation that the official family of the Magic City had agreed they would require a court order for the protection of themselves and to satisfy the bond companies.

The city commissioners will let the matter rest until the writ of mandamus has been secured. It is believed that officials will be in full legal control of South Omaha and Dundee.

Duval Breaks Parole

Tecumseh, Neb., June 22.—Edward Duval, who pleaded guilty to an assault on his mother, Mrs. D. S. Ray, in February, has broken his parole and has been returned to the county jail. Judge Raper paroled Duval to Sheriff Ehnien for a period of three years. Last week he became intoxicated in Lincoln and was jailed. The judge ordered him returned to Johnson county, and he will be sentenced within the next few days.

Rock Island Hard Hit by Washouts

Fairbury, Neb., June 22.—Going to washouts at Clyde and Scandia, train service on the Rock Island through Fairbury has been paralyzed and through trains are being detoured over the Union Pacific from Omaha. Thirteen thousand feet of track at Scandia is washed out. Division Superintendent Sheban's private car is upset in the water at Scandia.

Flood Danger at Kansas City Over

Kansas City, June 22.—With both the Kansas and Missouri rivers falling slightly, all flood danger has passed for the present, according to an announcement of the weather bureau here.

Will Talk Warehouse Law With Railway Commission.

RULING AFFECTS CHURCHES.

Communion Cup Does Not Come Under Ban of State Board of Health Against Public Drinking Cups—Aviator Shaffer Is Busy at Lincoln.

Lincoln, June 22.—The state railway commission has called a conference of elevator men for June 30, at the offices of the commission to discuss the new public warehouse bill, passed by the last legislature, which goes into effect July 8.

Forms and blanks necessary to the transaction of the business will have to be prepared and the commission is desirous of getting all the information it can relative to the enforcement of the law and its requirements. Everybody interested in the matter will be permitted to attend.

Ruling Affects Churches.

The new ruling of the state board of health relative to the nonuse of the public drinking cup has made considerable trouble for the churches, which have been using the common communion cup, and as a result, on request of Rev. Mr. Heppner of Holdrege, Assistant Attorney General Rowe has handed down an opinion, in which he says that the communion cup cannot be reported in the ruling because a communion cup is restricted to certain individuals and is not therefore a public cup in the full meaning of the word, and therefore cannot be classed with the cups coming under the order of the board.

Ransom Given Low-Salaried Job.

Governor Morehead has appointed as public defender for Douglas county Frank Ransom of Omaha. Mr. Ransom was not an applicant for the office, but was seeking the appointment of another man, Ralph W. West, a young attorney in his office. However, Governor Morehead is of the opinion that the plan of good men holding offices at small salaries is one that should be passed around and so he handed the attorney of the South Omaha Stock Yards association one. He says Senator Ransom took a very active part in getting the law passed and has no right to refuse to serve.

Governor Refuses to Grant Requisition

Governor Morehead refused to grant a requisition asked for by the governor of South Dakota for the return of Roy Lovett, wanted for obtaining money under false pretenses. Lovett was present with his wife at the hearing. Lovett claimed that the deposits made in the South Dakota bank were sight draft and he asked the cashier of the bank to give the Grand Island bank if they were good, but he failed to do so.

Liberty Bell Plans.

The Liberty bell committee of Lincoln is making an effort to take a great deal of liberty with the old emblem of liberty. Efforts are being made by the committee to pull it around the streets so that everybody can see it. However, it is understood that the wheels on the Liberty bell car will not run on street railway rails and so the bell will be permitted to stay on the railroad.

Aviator Is Busy.

Chief Aviator C. W. Shaffer, instructor in aviation, who will have charge of the aviation department of the national guard officers' school, which is meeting here this week, has arrived in the city with his aeroplane and is busy at work assembling them at the fair grounds, where the instruction is to take place. Flights will be made every day beginning tomorrow.

Omaha Officers Arrive With Suspect

Detective Frank Murphy arrived in Lincoln with Ben Stinnett of Loup City, arrested in St. Paul under suspicion of knowing something about the murder of Ada Swanson in Omaha in May. Stinnett attracted attention at Sargeant, Neb., strange utterances, but when taken he insisted he had not been in Omaha for two years.

Grain Badly Lodged.

Secretary W. R. Mellor of the state board of agriculture returned from a trip to Loup City. He reports that the recent storms have lodged the small grain severely from Tamora east to Lincoln and that it is so heavy that it is doubtful whether half of it can ever be saved.

Governor Asks For Moldonado.

Governor Morehead has asked the governor of Colorado to return to Nebraska in care of an officer, Odilon Moldonado, who is accused of shooting Sarbus Bustos at Ogallala, in Keith county Feb. 18, 1915. He is being held by the chief of police at Pueblo.

Chairman Clarke Goes to Washington.

Chairman Henry Clarke of the state railway commission left for Washington, where he will assist in the argument before the interstate commerce commission on the western advance freight rate cases.

Summer Normal Attendance.

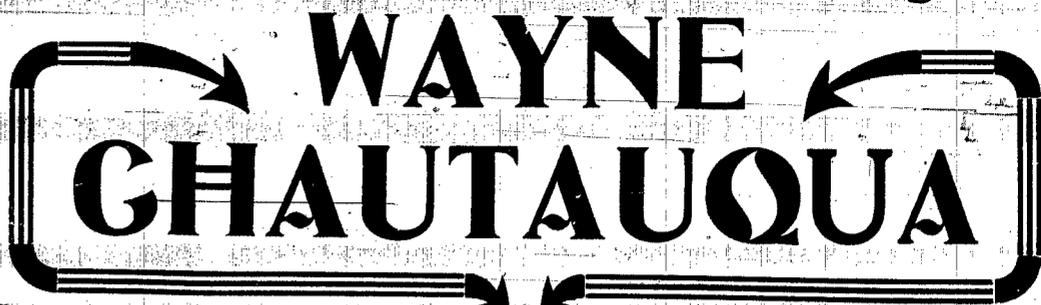

Two of the summer normal schools reporting to the state superintendent show large attendance. Chadron reports an attendance of 225, while Wayne shows something like 500.

Water Power, Its Uses

At the village of Ainsworth, Neb., electricity is manufactured in such quantities by local water power that the people do not take the trouble to meter their current. For a small monthly payment one is allowed all the current, for lighting and cooking, that he can use. The situation is similar to that in the natural gas belt where gas is so cheap that people do not take the trouble to turn out lights by day. Does this whet the appetite? On a larger scale a water power development is now under way for central Nebraska, with Grand Island men at the helm. The municipal plant at Hastings has lately been showing what is possible in the way of cheap electricity manufactured by steam power. Hastings is giving its people a rate for electricity considerable lower than Lincoln gets and very much better than Omaha gets. But now we hear that the Grand Island concern is proposing to sell Hastings electricity for 1.6 cents a kilowatt, less than one-third the Lincoln rate. This is what waterpower is proposing to do for Hastings as well as Grand Island.

What are Omaha and Lincoln going to do about it? Industry has a way of going where power is cheap. Population follows industry.

The last legislature passed the district water power bill. This is a complicated measure and its workableness remains to be seen. Apparently it is in substance the measure advocated by R. B. Howell before the legislative session of 1913 and in his gubernatorial campaign last year. This is the system in force in Ontario, whereby portions of the state may form a district for water power development under public ownership, much as a paving or drainage district is organized. It is known that water power development on a large scale in Nebraska is limited by the market possibilities. There is use only for the current which one of the several large projects would develop. It was the idea of the promoters of the power district plan that Lincoln and Omaha and as much of the surrounding country as desired should combine for the development and operation under public ownership of a water power service. The thing may be impracticable. It has worked well in Canada, though there the district does not manufacture its electricity but buy it at Niagara Falls for distribution.

Good Wheat Prospects

Fears of a wheat famine have been dispelled by the crop outlook. Although enormous quantities of wheat have been exported, it is now evident that the ends of the old crop and the new crop will meet, and the prospects are that we will have a lot more wheat to sell. Conditions on June 1 pointed to a total yield of winter wheat and spring wheat of 950,000,000 bushels. That beats last year's record-breaking crop of 891,017,000 bushels. Conditions in the wheat states have been so good since June that a billion bushel crop is a possibility. The annual per capita consumption of wheat in this country is about 5.3 bushels, which means that we will need about 530,000,000 bushels for home use. Thus the prospects are for a large exportable surplus, granting even that some unhatched eggs have been counted. Nebraska is in a good way to make a large contribution to the nation's wheat crop. We stood at the head of the winter wheat states in condition on June 1, with a prospect of a yield of 76,700,000 bushels, compared to 64,172,000 bushels in 1914.—Nebraska Farmer.

Among the Churches of Wayne

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
(Rev. Blessing, Pastor.)

Sunday School at 10 o'clock.
Morning Worship at 11 o'clock.
Luther League at 7 o'clock.
Evening Worship at 8 o'clock.
The subject of the morning sermon will be "Lot's Wife a Warning"—Gen. 19:26. When we consider Lot's wife in her flight from the doomed city, we note her body was on the way to safety, but her heart was in the doomed city. She did not want to leave it. Could she have had her way, she would have gone back to her home. "Where your treasure is there will your heart be also." She disobeyed the urgent command to flee, and not look behind. Her monument of salt stands as a warning to all those who hear God's call to salvation and then do as they please. She shows that we are never safe until we have fully reached the goal. It is possible to run well for a time and then stumble, and fall. The first step and the next and the last are necessary in reaching the mountain tops of God's deliverance. He wants men who look to the front, and who, forgetting the things behind, press toward the mark. Fix your eye on heaven's goal and keep it there.

The subject of the evening sermon will be "The Silent Partner"—Cor. 3:6.

The Ladies Aid Society which was postponed from last Thursday, will be held Thursday, June 24th, at the home of Mrs. C. J. Lund. All members are requested to be present.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society will meet at the home of Mrs. N. J. Juhlin on July 7th.

All apportionment envelopes that have not been returned, should be in by next Sunday. Please respond. A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to worship with us.

Baptist Church

(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor)

Tomorrow (Friday) afternoon the mission circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Dempsay. A way will be provided to take the people from the church to Mrs. Dempsay's.

The prayer circle continues to grow in interest and attendance. This week it will be merged into the missionary society. Let all who can be present.

The young people's hike which was postponed last week on account of the rain, is being planned for Friday afternoon. Down town young people to leave the church about four o'clock.

The new officers and committees of the young people's society have been appointed. They are making some plans for strong work during the summer. During July and August the young people's meetings will be held at the church, immediately following the lawn service at the court house.

Our first Union lawn service will be on the court house lawn, on July fourth.

"The Eternal Conflict", will be the theme for the Sunday morning sermon. This will be preceded by a brief sermon to the children.

The evening service will be one of special interest to the young people, and all who are interested in their work. It will be an installation service for the new officers of the society. An interesting program will be carried out.

Miss Rue Rickabaugh will lead the meeting at seven o'clock.

Do not become so dull of hearing, as not to hear the midweek call for prayer on Wednesday evening.

Methodist Church

(Rev. A. S. Buell, Pastor)

Last Sunday was a good day in all the departments of our church life. The large audience entirely filled the auditorium at the morning service and the evening service had very nearly as many present. Six new members were received into the church.

The pastor spoke in the morning on "The Melting Pot" as suggested by Israel Zangwill's book by that

Do not forget that Wayne Superlative Flour is manufactured every day. 40 sacks were sold yesterday to customers who know what is best. Are you using it? If not, order the next sack from WEBER BROS. Phone 131 name. The message was received by a very attentive audience. It is a real pleasure to address a Wayne audience as they are unusually good listeners. It was impossible, however, to do justice to the subject in one address and the theme for next Sunday's sermon will again be "God's Melting Pot".

At the close the call was made for special consecration and forty-six, mostly young people, responded, taking a life covenant in a three-fold form: I hereby freely and fully dedicate myself to Jesus Christ in service for others wherever, whenever and in whatsoever form of service will please Him. I will definitely seek the will of God for my life work, and covenant, to do that will regardless of cost. It was an impressive sight to see this regiment of young soldiers enlisting to follow and obey the Great Commander and Captain of their souls.

A meeting of the church for the purpose of electing delegates to the Lay Electoral Conference will be held in the church at one o'clock July 25th. Dr. E. S. Blair is judge of election.

Presbyterian Church

(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

Next Sunday, June 27th, has been appointed as the Communion Sunday for this quarter. A full attendance of the members and friends of the church is desired. New members will be received both by letter and on profession. Children of the church may also be brought for baptism.

The Christian Endeavor topic for next Sunday evening will be: "Song and its Meaning". The lesson is Psalm 53:1-5. It is proposed to make this an evening of hymns and comments. Miss Florence Welch will lead the meeting. Some announcement will be made in regard to the C. E. meetings for July and August.

The Missionary Society picnic which was to have been held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ash has been postponed to September. The meeting this week will be held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Ferguson. The roll call is to be answered by verses from Isaiah 55. Alaska is one of the topics for discussion.

Next Sunday evening the subject of the sermon will be: "Choosing a Read". This is a post-communion sermon and also one which has grown out of a theme suggested by a member of this congregation who made request that the pastor preach on a certain text. There will be special music at all the services and a welcome for you.

Binder Twine

If it is within its power everyone will want to see the pure food department take steps to see that farmers who have to buy binder twine shall not be cheated as to its quality. Of course Nebraska farmers are entitled to just as good twine as is provided for any who use twine, and if it is obtainable they ought to have it.

But this is a time when it may not pay to be too particular. It may be a boon this year for the Nebraska farmer to get almost any kind of twine. Obstructions were encountered some months ago in obtaining raw material for twine making in this country. The situation in that respect was so acute that the Washington authorities had to make special representations to the Mexican authorities in an endeavor to induce them to permit the exportation of sisal from that country, and it is from this Mexican sisal that our supply of binder twine comes. It took a long time to bring about conditions that revived the export of sisal from Mexico. Possibly since then a normal supply has been brought to this country in time to guarantee a normal supply of twine. If that be the case, it may be all right to provide that no inferior twine shall come in. If it be found to be not the case, then the imposition of restrictions upon importations of twine into Nebraska may operate to so restrict the supply that farmers may not get what they need.

Obviously it would be better to have poor twine than none at all.

In times of stress all of the twine available may be below standard, and to establish a hard and fast test at such a time might very easily make it impossible for Nebraska farmers to get any twine. Or it might enable those who may have standard grades of twine to exact high prices.

The best time to provide strict tests of twine would be in years when there is no likelihood of a shortage in twine.—Lincoln Star.

A Suggestive Letter

Don't be the man who put sit in city.

Building good houses builds a good town.

Save a little money and save a lot of worry.

Good roads lead not only to town, but to money.

Be a live one and the town will never be a dead one.

A nice front porch has prevented many an old maid.

Why should the town muzzle dogs and not knockers?

When someone plans to help the town, plan to help the plan.

The best plans a man can have to the future are house plans.

A good way to make the world better is to begin with the home town.

A town is like a perambulator: it isn't much good unless it is pushed.

Don't spend all your time telling what you could do if you had some time.

Be like a ball player. The thing he is always working for is home.

Be one of the leaders of the town, if you can; but, anyway, keep up.

If you think a cow can't laugh for joy, let somebody sell you a good silo.

Don't be a grouch. Everybody in this town wishes you well, even the doctor.

Let's not be trying to stop something all of the time. Let's start something.

A good town will do more to keep the boys at home than good advice.

A town is like a girl. It's wonderful what a little fixing up will do for her.

Opportunity knocks once at every man's door; better be at home when the lady calls.

The world owes every man a living, but the street corner is a poor collection agency.

Don't look for soft snaps; the hard snaps are the ones that have the ginger in them.

Don't spend so much time talking war that you haven't time left to talk business.

If you would like to have somebody working for you, put a little money in the bank.

It improves the soup to throw a little pepper into it. Same way with a town.

If you spend all that you earn, some other fellow is banking your money.

Many a young man goes to seek his fortune when fortune is seeking for him at home.

You've got to be a citizen in order to vote; but you've got to do a good deal more than vote to be a citizen. If you will consider the men in this town who are well off you will find that most of them made their money here.

The big things were not all done in the big towns. The greatest poem in the English language was written in a country churchyard.

There is only one better man than the man who gets behind and pushes, in an effort to improve the town, and that's the man who goes ahead and pulls.

In the olden days a young man returned home for the fatted calf, but now he usually leaves home in search for a pair of them.

A new remedy for the dandelion disease is to dig each one out by the roots on a sunshiny day, dry them on a concrete walk or some other equally hard and dry place, then put them in a furnace and burn—and your neighbors will have plenty of seed to reseed your lawn.

Nebraska seems a little slow in the matter of having candidates out and announced for the governor chair in 1916. Iowa republicans, who are always willing to take a place at the pie counter now have a campaign well under way for a nomination which will doubtless mean defeat at the polls in the fall, if the predictions of many come true.

Uncle Sam gets a revenue from the sale of liquor, and issues a permit for those who sell it to do so, which may be right and proper enough, but he would come nearer doing his full duty to the public if he would compel all who sell it to have the test of purity applied before they sell. One may not sell oil that is not up to a standard of purity, but they may do that which is worse—sell "rot-gut" whiskey. Let us have the pure article or none.

To read the news reports from Europe and its war horrors should inspire every citizen of this land, where the people may control, to appreciate much more than ever before the value of such a citizenship as he has in America, and qualify himself to live up to a higher standard of citizenship—take an intelligent and active part in shaping the destiny of his government so that such things as are now passing in Europe may never be forced upon this people.

The Republic of China is about as much of a joke as was the republic of Mexico under the reign of Diaz. It is small wonder that Japan was able to walk in and dictate terms to the ruler—for he appears to have put himself in the presidential chair with a view of staying there. Here is a specimen of the "Presidential Mandates." It makes the presidential term ten years with the president eligible to re-election and gives the president himself the right to nominate secretly for future disclosure three men, one of whom must be elected his successor. Another cinch is the mandate which forbids any member of any political party becoming eligible to membership in the parliament. The president once in power is able to maintain a benevolent despotism. China may have started on the road to popular government, but it is a long, long way to Tipperary.

The editor has been thinking—his thoughts carried him back to the close of the campaign of 1896. A St. Louis paper that had helped to "bury Bryan" closed his political obituary with the assertion that in a year he would be forgotten—a non-entity. One who thought differently remembered the saying, and when the year rolled round a copy of the paper containing the prediction was secured and all reference to Bryan on the editorial page was cut out and the perforated page photographed, and a plate made of it and reproduced in an opposition paper. As we remember the picture it showed that fully one half of the editorial of the paper had been clipped because it referred to Bryan. So, now, he is being killed off again as he has been on many another occasion. But should Bryan be extinguished the principles which he has been advocating would stand if they are true, as we believe they are.

We believe that Attorney General Reed is doing the state a service in several ways. For one thing he is having his able assistant, Dexter Barrett, take up the matter of having the estate of John O'Connor, who died in this state, leaving an estate in Adams county valued at $100,000 go to the state. It appears that there are about 134 who claim to be heirs of the man, and it looks like a case where the state should have some claim. Why should the value of this estate, which has been largely made by the people who have settled in the vicinity of the land, not have a claim to it rather than a lot of foreigners who never saw this state, say nothing in any manner contributing to its upbuilding, be allowed to take it just because they happened to be the third cousin by marriage to the man who was owner. Our inheritance tax laws need revision so that the people may regain some of the value they have injected into lands held by a human sponge.

One of the best reasons for urging government ownership of public utilities is the fact that the manipulators of the private or corporation owned concerns cannot or will not handle them honestly. Just take a brief review of the facts leading to the recent application of the Rock Island railroad for a receivership. Here are a few of the disgraceful developments: The receivership papers were drawn 23 days before the fact was announced. The time was spent in canvassing for some one to act in the matter, for it was wholly unnecessary, and a scheme to rob the people who have invested in Rock Island stock, as we see it. The claim upon which this receivership was based was but $15,818, probably less than the cost of building any one mile of the 8,300 miles of system's road. At least two director meetings were held after these papers were drawn and at neither of them is there any record that the question was discussed. But a loan was made on such terms as to boost the price of stock from $20 to $39 per share, and while it was thus inflated the directors disposed of large blocks—practically all of the stock they owned, and then deliberately punctured the bubble and let the wind out. It is such stealing that should land men in the penitentiary and cause the government to take over the property in the name of the people and manage it honestly for them—and personally we would not see any great harm done should the government confiscate that portion of the property in the name of such manipulators, for they surely have been doing their share of confiscation. We have no time for war if we protect ourselves and the people from such thieves.

Baggage Valuation Not Required
Norfolk railroad men are waiting for instructions before putting into effect the new Cummins law requiring that baggage and freight shippers make accurate valuations of their goods.

Heretofore the railroads have had a "release" clause on all baggage handled and the limit of the liability was $100. According to the new law there is no limit to this valuation and the senders of baggage in excess to the regulation amount will have to pay according to the value of their goods but cannot collect more than the amount of their valuations in case of loss or damage to goods.

This is the intent of the new law as local railroad men understand it and they believe the only chance to senders of baggage and freight will be that they must make an honest declaration of the value of their baggage or suffer a penalty.

The only information received here regarding the new law is the following statement sent by railroad officials to their various agents:

"Under the Cummins amendment it is unlawful for carriers to limit their liability for freight lost or damaged in transit and all rules or regulations providing that rates apply subject to release, agreed or declared valuation because illegal and that the rates published subject to a released agreed or declared valuation will be applied regardless of the value of the shipment until alternative rates based on actual value are published."—Norfolk News.

No, we're not kicking—just merely grumbling to ourselves—but it seems strange to us that people expect the editor to spend time in writing up articles and then hiring printers at a good wage to set them in type, all to help some people in business that never in return help the editor. An editor does more for his town without pay than any other living human being and yet there are people who believe that an editor is only for that purpose. True, an editor should help the town and community, yea, even the state, with his editorials and locals but when it comes to individual businesses—there's where the line should be drawn, unless those individuals are loyal to the home paper and its editor.

When we see the same editorial in about three or four exchanges the same week we are forced to the conclusion that great minds run in the same channel—or that the editors get their inspiration from the same dealer in made-to-order editorials. When we are unable to express an opinion of our own in our own language we will use the shears and give proper credit.

Morris Munsinger is carrying his right hand well bandaged.—In oiling a gasoline engine last week Wednesday he caught his hand in the fly wheel in some manner and before he could get it out it made two revolutions and cut and stripped the flesh from three fingers to quite an extent. Loren O. Matthews, machine operator on the Wayne Democrat, has been a busy man in the Press office this week, overhauling the Unitype which showed some symptoms of an attack of the hook worm or of the spring fever slightly belated. A program of the chautauqua at Worthington, Minnesota, has been received here, and they there have one of the largest and best chautauquas in the state of Minnesota, and a successful one, owning their own buildings and grounds—but what we wanted to say is that they have selected practically all of the talent selected for Wayne—which means that the chautauqua here this year will class far better than any in recent years in the class and ability of the numerous orators and musicians which will entertain us.

In addition to talking paving, some of the people are reviving the talk of oiled streets. The Democrat learns from a dependable source that the oiled streets at Blair are considered far ahead of those without oil, and that the cost after the initial oiling is not greater than the sprinkle wagon. During all of these wet weeks, says our informant, the oiled streets have not been muddy or cut up and made rough. If cheaper than paving more territory could be treated should the plan be tried at Wayne.

A few years ago the publicity department of the Omaha club of commerce and the extension department of the state university and a lot of kindred institutions began systematic campaign of publicity, furnishing the copy of interest to them to the country press in the guise of news, and some of it is really good news, and information of value. But it has grown to an extent that these writers really do the greater part of the work of providing copy for some of our exchanges, and we fear that it is overworking their secretaries. Besides it makes very much of a sameness among the exchanges. It is right to use some of this dope when it is good, but they should not ride a free horse to death. The newspaper men in some cases appear to depend upon this source to supply most of their copy.

Comment From Exchanges

Reverton Review: Never mind those rumors that the anti-Bryan crowd are willing that Charlie Bryan shall have the democratic gubernatorial nomination next year, so as to make it possible for Gilbert M. Hitchcock to walk away with the senatorship. The facts are, that there will not be any such fussing, and if there is, it cannot be carried out. This fight has gone too far and has affected too many democrats to be ironed out in any such fashion. So far as this editor is concerned, we know just whom we will touch shoulders with and whom we will not—especially whom we will not.

Columbus Telegram: The country is paying too much attention to war talk, and not enough attention to home affairs. Have you noticed the recent decisions of the high courts as to the prosecutions of the crooked concerns which have been robbing the public?

One court has exonerated Steel Trust. Another high court has made the stock of the Tobacco Trust worth a premium.

Somebody connected with the great Cash-Register trust was on the way to the penitentiary, but one of the judges of a high court met him at the door and cut the manacles from his wrists.

It is all right for a nation to discuss war, and to prepare for war, but the nation should remember that the big-spoiliating interests never let their own powder get damp.

Richard L. Metcalfe: "Strange as it may seem, I think that at last Mr. Bryan is practically out of the democratic party. I have no idea that he realizes it, but I think it will dawn on him in a very short time."

"This does not mean that any one imagines that he will be without political influence. However much the public may condemn the method he adopted, the people have too much faith in him as a well meaning man for him to drop out entirely."

"But however strong may have been some of the political fortifications which Mr. Bryan has attacked during his strenuous career, he is now up against one that cannot be successfully assailed. In an international controversy there is only one leader for Americans, and that is the president of their country. In this instance there is such widespread confidence in the president that no one can even seem to contend with him and still retain public favor."

"Reverting to the Nebraska situation, I expect Senator Hitchcock to become a stalwart administration man. So far as principles are concerned, there is little difference between the president and the senator. I expect the Nebraska Federal offices to soon be filled by faithful Hitchcock men, or at least by men to whom he is willing to give his endorsement."

"The breach between Wilson and Bryan will grow wider and wider as the days go by. However many 'God bless you's' the two men may have uttered at their parting, politics has a way of its own in reaching conclusions."

Sioux City Journal: Mr. Bryan has concluded his publicity campaign without having contributed anything of importance to current peace and war literature. His "serial story" supplied a rather tame anticlimax to the excitement of last week. Undoubtedly the public's cool reception of his well-meant propaganda will be a disappointment to Mr. Bryan, who evidently planned it in the hope of being able to work up national enthusiasm over his leadership of a peace movement. It was rather unfortunate for this ambition that Mr. Taft's personally-conducted peace league took the center of the stage just as Mr. Bryan was ready to offer his plan. It is to be said to his credit that nothing in any of Mr. Bryan's recent utterances has warranted the fear that he would make a deliberate effort to undermine popular confidence in the president or indicate to Europe that he intended to assume leadership in a campaign of opposition to the president.

When Mr. Bryan announced his purpose to discuss the causes of the war, there was a little expectation that he might, inadvertently or otherwise, disclose some inside information picked up in his official capacity. Nothing of the kind has appeared. The whole discussion has been on general lines and has dealt only vaguely with matters of detail. The announcement that a solution of the problem of bringing about peace would be offered has caused a little curiosity. Here, too, Mr. Bryan has nothing new or striking to offer. His suggestion is that the neutral governments unite in bringing pressure to bear on the belligerents in the interest of a peace conference and keep on repeating offers of mediation until the warring nations are ready to consider them. Mr. Bryan is not able, however, to offer any basis for hope that any offer of mediation will be accepted until the parliments of the great powers now at war are convinced that nothing is to be gained by continuing the struggle. Nothing but exhaustion or general conviction that the deadlock cannot be broken is likely to lead to such a situation.

Creighton Liberal: The writers of the Metropolitan papers have started an inquiry, by saying that Bryan is not a statesman.

The people are asking: What is a statesman? A twentieth century statesman goes out with the boys. He must violate with regularity, at least three of the ten commandments. By placing this kind of a hostage in the hands of the owners of the big papers that representative has his name placed on the statesman card index.

If said representative is a real high roller, and he has borrowed money, and those in charge of legislation know six months in advance how he will vote, then he is an eminent statesman. If on the other hand, he is beyond price and temptation, then he is a wind jammer. 'Tis a pity, but 'tis true.

Our German friends are swallowing the hook, sinker and line on this war issue.

The financiers who are pulling the wires that make the big newspapers jump don't give a tinkers whoop about who went down on the Lusitania. What those brokers want, is to see this government sell about two million dollars worth of war supplies. And aiding in this movement are some wealthy Germans. The greed for gold spells it all.

Nothing would suit the Bell Telephone or the Western Union telegraph companies which collect from three to five times the tolls that any nation pays than to see the U. S. saddled with a big war debt. If we are saddled with a big war debt then the movement for public utilities is greatly delayed, and the public will pay the purchase value again in excessive rates.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

In studying the advertising situation at this place with a view of helping our own business as well as that of our patrons, we noticed that certain lines of goods are not advertised here in either of the newspapers to any great extent, so we picked up the exchanges from 20 different towns in this part of Nebraska for a certain week and went carefully through them to see what other towns were doing in the same lines that to us appear sadly neglected here. We found that in six of the towns all three of the lines were advertised, and some of them were advertised in each town, but not all that week (a few weeks earlier we are confident the number of advertisers would have been greater). In one line we found 26 advertisers in the 14 different towns, and six towns where this line was not advertised. In another line there were 20 advertisements, with six towns not carrying any advertising in that line that week. Of the other line we found 21 advertisements and five towns not represented in that line. Now we want our readers to make a guess as to what three lines of business we checked up on (good respectable and standard lines too) where the Wayne dealers habitually refuse and neglect to advertise nearly the year round. We will give $5.00 worth of advertising to the first one representing either of the three lines who will name the three lines correctly, and half that amount of space to the second to make a correct reply or guess. If it is the cost of advertising that is holding you back, here is a chance to get in easy. Try it, fellows.

Carl Baker returned Saturday from Dalton, where he moved to a farm last spring early. He is much pleased with his country and says there has been no lack of moisture. During the frosty nights when alfalfa in this part of the state suffered, their crop was under a blanket of snow which protected it from harm, and they are now cutting a good crop. He has in 300 acres of small grain and it is looking well. He came for his automobile and plans to return the last of the week and will be accompanied by his sister, Miss Helena.

Advertising: An Evolution

P. T. Barnum was the greatest showman the world has ever known and one of its greatest advertisers. It is alleged he once said: "The public likes to be humbugged." Whether it was Barnum or somebody else who said it, the fact remains that for many years that notion obsessed the advertisers of the world. They seemed to feel, at any rate, that, whether it liked it or not, the public would stand for exaggeration and other forms of misrepresentation in advertising without making effective protest, and they proceeded in accordance with such a view.

William Woodhead, of San Francisco, is president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world, which will hold its annual convention in Chicago this week. He says the watch-word which will be the inspiration of everything that is said and done throughout the week of the convention and which guides the members of the organization throughout the year, is "The Truth, and Nothing But the Truth." The modern idea of advertising, as represented in that slogan, is to boost a good article for all it is worth—to boost it by appealing to the intelligence of the public and to its sense of appreciation of real merit. The idea of the square deal in advertising has developed in such a degree since the time of Barnum that it has become an axiom in the business. Fewer big words and more common sense—less floundering and more argument—less alliteration and more reason—that is the sort of advertising for which the hundreds of brainy, high priced men who will gather this week in Chicago stand sponsors.

The last few years have witnessed a wonderful development in the art of disseminating publicity. Millions of dollars which at one time were devoted by large corporations to influence lawmakers and in other unworthy ways in the mad chase for business are now being spent in legitimate efforts to mold public opinion through the newspapers and the magazines. Some of the best literature of the times is to be found in the advertising columns. Nor is this to be wondered at, as some of the best writers of the day have been won over from the editorial rooms to the business office. The possibilities of advertising of the right sort are just beginning to dawn upon men who have things to sell. They are just beginning to discover that no branch of their sales department is worthy of larger attention or more generous appropriations. Never has the world realized quite so thoroughly the truth of the old saying, "Advertising pays," and that the advertising that pays the best is the advertising that sticks to the truth.—Sioux City Journal.

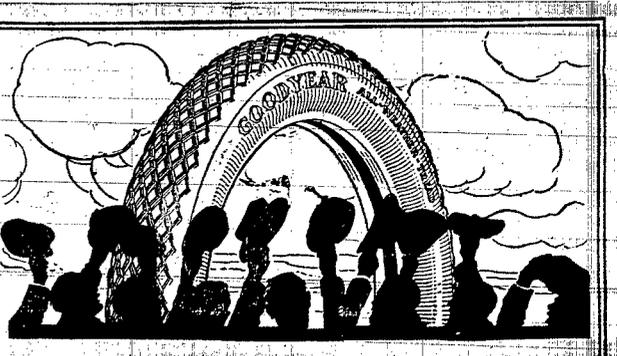

A Cause of Poor Schools

How a large proportion of farm tenants in a community adversely affects rural schools has been shown strikingly by the results of an investigation made in Texas by the state university of that commonwealth, says the Nebraska Farmer. School conditions in twelve counties having a low percentage of farm tenants were compared to school conditions in eighteen counties having a high percentage of farm tenants. In every point of comparison the schools were poorer where the proportion of tenants was large.

The average value of school property per pupil was two and one-half times as large in the counties having a small proportion of farm tenants as in other group of counties. In the counties having the small proportion of farm tenants the tax levies were higher, the average length of school term was 16 per cent greater and the average attendance was 17 per cent better. These differences are very marked.

It is significant that the counties having the high proportion of farm tenants and the poor school conditions are the oldest and best agricultural counties in Texas, the counties in which the land is highest in price. Two reasons given by the Texas investigators for the poorer schools in the counties having the high proportion of farm tenants are the frequent shifts tenant farmers must make and the opposition of many landlords to high taxes for school purposes. Tenant conditions are by no means so acute in Nebraska as in Texas, and yet there is evidence in many eastern Nebraska communities that the number of farmers whose tenure is not secure is having a bad effect on rural schools. Interference of landlords in the matter of levying school taxes is not unknown in this state. Thus we see that the solution of some of our rural problems rests upon the solution of other and more fundamental ones.

Goodyear Fortified Tires Cost Users $5,000,000 Less

Our last price reduction—made February 1st—will save Goodyear users about five million dollars this year. And that was our third reduction in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

And we shall spend $100,000 on research this year to find more improvements still.

Yet Note This

Yet Goodyear Fortified Tires embody many extras. Five are costly features found in no other tire. The rest are found in few.

They Are Yours

These extras belong to you. They mean less rim-cuts, less blowouts, less loose treads. They mean more rubber, more fabric, more mileage, less trouble. Most tire users know that, so Goodyear tires far outsell any other.

If we omitted these extras, we could save on this year's probable output $1,635,000. We could add that to our profits, yet Goodyear tires would look as good as now.

Prove it yourself this summer. It will bring you tire contentment.

This year's improvements alone will cost us $500,000 this year. All to give you ex-

Any dealer, if you ask him, will supply you Goodyear tires. Men are now adopting Goodyear tires faster than we can supply them. We have never seen anything like it.

The Teeth and Confidence

Clean TEETH are a sure index of good breeding.

They are the attributes of a gentleman or lady.

However engaging the manner or attractive the attire, if the TEETH be unclean or defective, the lack of refinement is instantly betrayed.

The consciousness of a good clean set of TEETH promotes confidence and ease in social intercourse, and the lack of them, self-conscious timidity.

Small grain is fine here, but corn is a little backward on account of so much rain and cool weather. Hay and pasture was never better on the reservation."

Take the ten states of the middle west known as the grain belt: Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Missouri, Kansas, South Dakota, North Dakota, and Oklahoma. Four years ago these ten states owned 130,000 automobiles, the proportion of farm machines was perhaps one in ten. The number of motor cars in these ten states has quadrupled in the last three years, and more than doubled in the last two years, so that on January 1, 1915, by figures furnished by the various secretaries of state, the number of cars was 559,730. Of this immense total fully one half belong to farmers. The number in the ten states is increasing at the rate of 13,000 machines a month, 425 a day. The average value of these machines was $980.

We are glad to give our readers today a variety. The advertising part of the paper will be of unusual interest and value to the people who have to do buying. S. R. There are some real bargains offered on these pages. A half page is devoted to the Grand Leader's Dollar days. On another page you are invited to investigate the value of offerings of homes near Bismark, the best portion of North Dakota. All of these add to the value of the paper to the reader.

A Rare Art Exhibit

The students of the State Normal have had a rare treat this week in a picture exhibit sent out by the Home and School Art Shop of Chicago. The exhibit contains one hundred fifteen colored reproductions of acknowledged works of art. On Wednesday Professor Paul H. Grumann, dean of the fine arts department of the University of Nebraska, gave a talk at convocation on the importance of art, and in the afternoon spoke on the development of art, and spent some time explaining the pictures. The attendance was large and the interest excellent. The help of the club ladies of the town was very much appreciated. Mrs. Henry Ley and Mrs. E. W. Huse acted as patronesses on Tuesday, Mrs. C. A. Chace and Mrs. A. M. Jacobs on Wednesday, and Mrs. U. S. Conn and Mrs. D. C. Main on Thursday. The cultural value to the students of such an exhibit cannot be over estimated. Under the skillful direction of Miss Sara J. Killen the art department of the State Normal has not only gained a prominent place in the work of the school, but it is also filling an important place in the life of the community.

Who Will Try It Here?

Some of the largest grocery stores in Southern California have adopted the system of quoting regular prices on their goods, with a reduction of 5 per cent for cash and a further reduction of 5 per cent if there is no delivery. This separation of the price of merchandise from the cost of service has been widely discussed in the trade throughout the country, but in only a few cities have the dealers begun to make the distinction. The California dealers advertise the regular prices, with a separate column for the price after the reductions have been made. The difference is enough to tempt many buyers to pay cash and carry bundles home.—State Journal.

You can buy a second-hand Clark-Jewel gas stove, that is just as good as new, at less than half price, at Carhart Hardware.—adv. 23-2.

Some Late News Notes

At the last moment Governor Slayton of Georgia commuted the sentence of Leo M. Frank, convicted of murder and under death sentence, to life imprisonment. In doing so the governor has made himself very unpopular, and it was necessary to call the militia to protect the governor's home from the excited people. It was right and proper to commute the sentence, for from all we can learn Frank was the victim of prejudice and not evidence. There was no evidence that he did the deed—but a strong prejudice had been aroused against him, and the governor proved himself a real man in finally coming between the man and the gallows in the face of such hatred.

At last the government has won a suit—in the case of Delaware, Lakawanna and Western railroad, which will now be stopped from both owning, operating and selling coal, which is contrary to the Hepburn rate law as well as the Sherman law. This decision is considered as tending to strengthen the fight of the people against the hard coal combine. Let us hope that it restores competition in a measure at least, rather than combination.

The body of Lt. Warneford of the British army, who won a victory over a German airship and who later fell to his death while out for a joy ride in his cloud scraper, has been brought to England and buried with all military honors. We would prefer to be a live editor rather than a dead hero, who had fallen from such great heights. Many a man who might have been of much service to mankind in the pursuits of peace has been sent to an untimely grave with "military honors". How satisfying this must be to the friends.

How To Make Hired Men Work Harder

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside a contributor writes an interesting little article entitled "Premiums for Hired Men". In the following extract, taken from this article, appear suggestions as to the treatment of hired men:

"When the corn was planted and began to come up early in June we would find that it could not be plowed crosswise because the rows were so crooked. This meant dirty corn and a large decrease in yield. 'I tried the plan of offering the man on the planter $5 if the rows were straight both ways. That evening I found him out fixing his machine and wires, and have never had trouble since.

"Was this $5 well invested?"

"I also promised the man that every pig weaned over 240 would be 50 cents for himself. The consequence was that the man raised and weaned 310 pigs.

"On one cold stormy night there were 52 pigs born. These the man carried in warm boxes into his kitchen, and when he phoned me in the morning he had been up all night and had saved 47.

"I had the pleasure of paying him a bonus of $35.

Advertising—Publicity

This week there is a great meeting at Chicago of those interested in advertising—both from the standpoint of the advertisers and the people who sell advertising. The effect of advertising has been sadly discounted in the past by those who have deceived people in the name of advertising. Happily that is fast becoming a thing of the past. Advertising is becoming educational—it tells of quality, service, desirability. Many papers and magazines now reject advertising that is not up to a certain standard of truth. Others go so far as to guarantee the statements made in their advertising columns to be dependable. Advertising is in its infancy yet.

Women as Executives.

David Grayson, writing "Hampfield" in the American Magazine, says: "I think sometimes that women are far better natural executives and organizers than men. To keep a great household running smoothly, provisioned, cleaned, made sweet and cheerful always and to do it incidentally, as it were, with a hundred other activities filling her thoughts is an accomplishment not sufficiently appreciated in this world. The true women of the race have this capacity highly developed. They have a real genius for orderliness, which is the sanity if not the religion of everyday life."

Mrs. J. W. Ott, who has been here from Burkett spending a month with her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Welbaum, left for her Burkett home Tuesday. Herself and daughter enjoyed a short visit from their old friend, Mrs. A. B. Conyers of Minneapolis, who came last week to visit them. Mrs. Conyers formerly lived near Carroll in this county, and is now visiting her son, F. G. Conyers and old neighbors there.

Grandma Fox came from Randolph Tuesday to visit her son, Allen Fox, who is reported quite ill at his home south of Wayne. He appears to be afflicted with kidney trouble.

F. O. Martin went to Ogalalla the first of the week to look after his land near that place, returning Tuesday afternoon. He reports that there is an abundance of moisture there at present.

Rev. Klinthwsky, who was formerly pastor of the German Lutheran churches in the country south and west of Wayne, accompanied by his wife, came from Tilden last week to visit former friends among his congregation and to assist Rev. Fischer at the Mission Fest services there Sunday last. He reports that he likes his new field of labor well.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Davies were arrivals from Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, for an extended visit at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. S. Goldie.—Wilmington (California) Journal.

O. P. DePew went to Sioux City Tuesday morning and in the afternoon the wife and daughter went to join him there, expecting to return in a new automobile of late make and high power.

Thomas Pryor was over from Winside Sunday, and was accompanied home that evening by his little daughter, who had been visiting her grandmother here, and his sister, Miss Marguerite Pryor.

The first report of 1915 potatoes from home gardens in this vicinity comes from H. E. Griggs, who broke into his patch for a mess the 20th. That is not bad, considering that the tops were frozen off once.

H. A. Moler was out from Sioux City Saturday and Sunday to visit his father and his daughters, both of whom are now here. He reports that his father is quite poorly, and shows little signs of improvement in his visits from time to time.

The sheriff of Custer county thought he had gobbled the man who is supposed to have committed the Anderson murder at Omaha—the man in blue—but he was simply an innocent tourist—working his way west. The sheriff's victim lives at Loup City, and had been at Omaha during the winter, but did not even know of the murder.

Miss Hilda Larson, who has been at Omaha attending the school for the mute children of the state, came home Wednesday for the summer vacation. Next year she expects to finish the course and graduate. They are taught many useful arts there besides the sign language, in which they become very proficient. On the train with her were four others from the school, one Gertrude Horne going to Sholes, and Helen and Edmond Bauman and Albert Krohn, of Wausa. In their farewell talk with each other at the station here eyes and fingers were kept busy, and they appeared to ask questions and answer them as quickly as those who are blessed with ears to hear and therefore the means of learning to speak.

There is a vast difference between natural and artificial wealth. The artificial is made by man with the aid of the natural. The artificial decays—the natural endures forever and a day. Land, water and the air are natural, all things made by man are artificial. They should in a great measure belong to the maker. The natural wealth should belong to all.

Mrs. L. C. Thomas of Alliance, came this week to visit at the home of her mother, Mrs. Liveringhouse, and with other relatives and friends. Mr. Thomas is one of the firm of excellent newspaper men who are making of the Alliance Herald a paper second to none on our exchange list—a paper that is doing much to put Alliance not only on the map of the state, but of the nation.

Alfalfa is said to make a good pasture for colts when the blue grass begins to get short. It is also good for work horses if they can spend their nights in an alfalfa pasture. We have seen work horses kept in a barn on summer nights after a hard day in the field, when the temperature in the barn was not below 90 during the night.

Mrs. Thomas Cherry and two daughters, and Mrs. I. Easter from Belwood, Pennsylvania, and Mrs. G. W. Glasgow from Pauxstowney, Pennsylvania, relatives and friends and former neighbors of J. M. Bressler and wife, have been here for a week's visit. It is their first visit to Nebraska and Wayne, and they are much impressed with the magnitude of the farm operations here—so different from those of their home state. They like the country well.

H. W. McClure and family returned Monday from a trip to Holt county, where they spent a week. Mr. McClure says that it has been years since he has seen bottom lands of that country so inundated as they are now. Automobile travel he found impossible. He tried to make the trip to Chambers in a car, and had to hire a team to take the car back to place of starting and another to take him forward. Crop prospects are correspondingly poor. Wayne county people certainly have nothing to complain of—for while we have had quite a plenty of rain it has come slow enough to be properly cared for by the regular waterways.

Wayne is putting its name on the trade map of this part of Nebraska in bold face type—each week a little more emphatic than the one before. Those who are in position to notice say that they see people who are almost strangers from a distance shopping here. This week the Democrat announces a series of three Dollar Day bargains that are in line with the best offered at any time or place, and it will pay you to read of these days. They are not like the dollar proposition we recently heard of, where a purchaser paid a dollar for an article, and found upon opening the same that the price printed on the label as the selling price was only 60 cents. Had it been our purchase we should have sought an explanation from the person who sold it. Possibly it was a mistake—perhaps the article was packed in the wrong box—the war may have made it necessary to advance the price while it was packed in the box marked at the former price. At any rate an explanation is due for the good of the purchaser, the seller and the other business men of Wayne.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

Athens reports great activity in the allied fleet at the Dardanelles, from which it is assumed a general attack on the straits is planned. Fighting on Gallipoli peninsula is being carried on vigorously, with offensive movements on the part of both the Turks and allies, but neither side has been able to break the dead lock.

The battle of Piava, on the Isonzo front, is still in progress, the Austrians making repeated efforts to drive back the Italians across the river. An official communication from Rome says these attempts have failed.

The Austro-German forces are closing in on Lemberg, capital of Galicia. The German war office announced the capture of Rawa Ruska, thirty-two miles northwest of the city. Emperor William has assumed personal command of the operations in Galicia.

Further successes in northwestern France, to the north of Arras, as well as in Lorraine and in the Vosges, were reported by the French war office.

The Turkish force on Gallipoli peninsula took the offensive, an official announcement from Constantinople says, and inflicted heavy losses on the Franco-British left wing.

Berlin and Vienna record a series of successes still unbroken in the Galician campaign. The latest report from Austrian headquarters announces "a new and complete victory." The Russians, however, are still fighting obstinately on the line of the Wereszyca river, in the region of Grodok, a short distance west of Lemberg.

French and British are keeping up a continuous offensive in the La Bassee and Arras districts of northern France, in Lorraine and in the Vosges, with varying fortunes. On the Italian front bad weather is again interfering with operations.

Petrograd admits the Austro-German forces have made a further advance in the Dniester district.

Rome asserts that numerous Austrian positions along the Isonzo have been taken by assault.

Unofficial advices are to the effect that the Serbians have occupied Durazzo, Albania.

Fragments of the torpedo or mine which damaged the American steamer ship Nebraska off the southern coast of Ireland in May are in possession of the state department at Washington. They arrived in a mail pouch from the American embassy at London. The pieces of metal were sent to be examined by experts in the hope that they could determine definitely whether the Nebraska was blown up by a mine or a torpedo.

The Zeppelin raiders who visited the east coast of England, causing the death of five persons and the injury of forty others, were turned back at Woodford, eight miles from the heart of London. On their homeward journey, they did considerable damage to Gravesend and shipping at Tilbury.

The Corriere Della Sera of Milan publishes a report that Prince von Radolin, formerly German ambassador to France, and Princess von Radolin were arrested in Berlin on a charge of espionage against Germany the latter part of April. The German censor forbade publication of the incident, according to the report.

That a powerful underground movement for the conclusion of peace in Europe is in progress is the prevailing opinion in Washington. The movement is being directed by the representatives of European neutral nations, aided by high officials of the German government.

The German admiralty has published a confirmation of the long standing rumors that the submarine U-29 was destroyed by a British tank steamer which, flying the Swedish flag at the time, rammed the submarine after it had been ordered to stop.

The allies' attack upon the Dardanelles faces practically insurmountable obstacles. This is the consensus of opinion in well informed circles at Constantinople, where it is believed that unless some unexpected factor develops, the campaign to force the strait is doomed to defeat.

GERMANY RETALIATES

Will Make French Prisoners of War Cultivate Swamps.

A Berlin news agency says: "In spite of repeated representations through American and Spanish diplomats, the French government refuses to mitigate the brutal treatment being accorded German civil and military prisoners in tropical Africa."

"This is particularly true in Dahomey, where well educated white men are under negro control, without proper clothing, nourishment or protection against disease. They are compelled to perform the hardest manual labor and they are subjected to the worst of indignities by the negroes."

"Therefore the German government has concluded to retaliate by compelling French prisoners of war to cultivate swamps in different parts of the country. The government will not, however, neglect anything necessary for the well being and health of these prisoners."

In a long review of recent operations on the eastern front the Russian war office admits frequent retirements before superior numbers, but declares the Russian attacks left the Austrians and Germans so exhausted that the Russians often were able to resume the offensive.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Choice Beeves Steady and Others a Little Lower.

HOGS ARE 5 TO 10¢ LOWER.

Dime Advance in Lamb Prices and Sheep Steady to Possibly Dime Higher—Active Trade All Around. Most Spring Lambs at $9.60.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, June 23.—There was a very good run of cattle yesterday, some 5,200 head. A few strictly choice cattle sold at prices that were fully steady and possibly firm, as compared with Monday, and the big bulk of the offerings sold about a dime lower. New high marks for the year were registered—yearlings at $9.25 and heavy beeves at $9.20. There were no new developments in the market for cows and heifers and dealers were generally quoting values fully steady with Monday. Cornfed grades were in vigorous request and firm. Veal calves were in active demand and fully steady. The outlet for bulls, stags, etc., was fairly broad and prices much the same as recently. As far as it went it was a steady deal in stock cattle and feeding steers, the demand being rather in excess of the supply.

Cattle quotations: Good to choice yearlings, $8.75@9.25; good to choice beeves, $8.50@9.20; fair to good beeves, $8.20@8.40; common to fair beeves, $7.25@8.15; good to choice heifers, $7.00@7.75; good to choice cows, $6.75@7.50; fair to good cows, $5.75@6.50; canners and cutters, $4.00@5.50; veal calves, $8.00@10.25; bulls, stags, etc., $5.25@7.25; good to choice feeders, $7.60@8.20; common to fair feeders, $6.25@7.00; stock heifers, $5.75@7.00; stock cows, $5.50@6.50; stock calves, $6.00@8.00.

Hog receipts totaled 17,000 head. With receipts the largest for several days, the market was a little slow in opening. Prices were generally 5 to 10¢ lower. Bulk of the shippers' sales landed at $7.40@7.50, the latter price, which was paid by both shippers and packers, being the day's top. Most of the packers' purchases were made at $7.80@7.35.

Sheep and lamb receipts amounted to 9,000 head. Trade was active all around, with prices steady to a dime higher than Monday. Spring lambs moved at $6.90. Ewes sold at $5.35. No fed yearlings showed up, and the best range stock touched $7.50.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, good to choice, $7.75@8.35; lambs, fair to good, $7.00@7.75; lambs, spring, $8.50@9.60; yearlings, fair to choice, $6.50@7.50; wethers, fair to choice, $5.00@6.00; ewes, good to choice, $4.75@5.25; ewes, fair to good, $4.00@4.75.

The State of Trade

The Bradstreet review under the above heading shows a mixed state of affairs, due largely to the weather which was rather too wet, cold and unseasonable. Retail trade was wisely restricted by weather. Wheat has been slightly advanced by the same cause, and the fact that corn generally has not been showing to the best advantage. Small fruits have been damaged by the wet. All are calling for a cessation of rain.

In Texas the wheat and oat harvest now under way are all that could be expected in quantity and quality. Reports of the cotton crop are favorable except in Alabama, where the boll weevil is at work.

The stock market has been rather fluctuating, on account of the situation over the water and the uncertainty here. Steel mills are running at 80 per cent of capacity.

Trustee's Sale

By virtue of a judgement rendered in the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, on the 2nd day of March, A. D., 1914, by Hon. A. A. Double Service AUTOMOBILE TIRES
Guaranteed 7000 Miles Service
ABSOLUTELY PUNCTUREPROOF

Double Service Tires are double the thickness of the best standard make tires.

This 100 per cent greater wearing surface naturally gives that much more mileage and service. The average of 12 miles of tough fabric and one inch surface tread rubber make these tires absolutely puncture proof.

These tires excel all others for use in the country over rough and rugged roads as well as on hard pavements. They are as easy riding and resilient as any other pneumatic tire—the air space and pressure being the same.

They are the most economical and "care free" tires made and are used where tires must be depended on and tire troubles cannot be tolerated.

Many Double Service style tires are in use in the United States government and European War service.

Our output is limited to a certain amount, but for a short time we offer the following reduced special offer as an Introductory Offer:
