

ELECTROLIER LIGHTS ASSURED

Soliciting Committee Meet Pleasant Reception and Liberal Response. More Than Three-fourths of Fund Subscribed

The enterprise of the citizens of this place was shown this week in the matter of public improvement when Messrs. Frank Gamble and John Harrington went among the business men asking that they contribute toward the installation of a modern system of lighting the streets. The committeemen tell us that they have found practically no one who has refused, and nearly all are glad for an opportunity to help the work along—but they have not yet had time to see all, as some are away from the city for the time—and it will take a bit of time to hear from a number of non-resident property owners. A few are also waiting until the next visit of the committee before fixing the amount of their offering. While only the lot owners and tenants in the district to be lighted have at this time been seen there is no law against those from outside this district who wish to see Wayne made a better town making an offering. We know that it will not offend the committee.

The plan is to install electroliers from 1st street to 4th at this time, eight lights to the block, and the city has provided to pay half of the cost from the light fund, and the other half asked from the citizens amounts to about $15 per lot, and most of the owners as fast as seen have responded, and so have tenants who occupy the places, a number of the people offering up stairs contributing. Below is the list to date:

Wayne Teachers for Coming Year

The selection, election and assignment of the teachers for the approaching school year has just been completed and is given below. During the vacation several necessary repairs and improvements to the building have been completed, and all will be ready for the opening September 6th. There is now nothing in sight to suggest anything but a successful school year: Janet Carlough, kindergarten. Delilah Mullin, 1st grade. Florence Welch, 2d grade. Belya Nickel, 3d grade. Mrs. Pawelski, 4th grade. Mrs. Alice Seace, 5th grade. Mollie Hawkins, 6th grade. Clara Burson, 7th grade. Emma Hughes, 8th grade. A. C. Lamb, Mabel Dayton, Alwine Meyer, Mrs. M. A. Phillips, principle, high school; Margaret Killian, domestic science; Eva Graves, music and drawing; O. R. Bowen, superintendent.

The Horseshoe Pitchers Report

Increased interest during the past week has been noted in the membership of the local horseshoe organization, and doubtless several of the Wayne players will enter the contest to take place at Winside at the time of the old settler's picnic. Last Thursday afternoon a reporter for the Democrat visited the mobilization camp of these battle-scarred veterans of many a hard-fought field, and the following disjointed, disconnected and impertinent field notes are the result of that visit:

John Stallsmith, the hero of the battle of Shiloh in 1862 and a leader of an invasion against Chattanooga in 1914, was among the number not missing. He enjoys the game immensely, but seems to manifest the greatest interest and keenest pleasure when he has a good lead over his opponent.

Joe Adkins has a strong leaning toward leavers. The language of the horseshoe game is constantly in his mind. Recently at a restaurant in making an order for beefsteak and eggs, he startled the waiter with these specific directions: "Pitch the eggs straight up but have the 'stake' lean."

S. Fox has a good eye, a steady nerve and an unerring aim. If his opening plays fall short of the mark, the general comment is, "Wait until Fox gets warmed up." Usually his adversaries wish they hadn't waited.

Ed. Sellers has been a little off color since his white-wash of last Saturday afternoon, but if he lives up to his past record the perpetrators of the act will be brought to speedy justice and vengeance will be sweet for him.

John Morgan has a very pronounced and a noticeably growing tendency toward ringers, which if not checked is likely to become chronic. From this it must not be inferred that John has developed a fondness for helping his wife with the family washing, for he could prove an alibi upon any such charge. He is infected with an almost fiendish desire to throw iron rings around the stake.

Dr. R. N. Donahay is a casual visitor, and a moderate partaker in the game. Some have charged that his purpose in visiting the field is simply to discover which of the players have had eyes with the expectation of fitting them with glasses. Be that as it may, the Doctor's presence on the ground always lends an air of quiet dignity to the whole performance.

The horseshoe germ has even reached "College Hill", for it comes from reasonably reliable sources that Dean Hahn, a few weeks ago, was a visitor, and that he indulged quite recklessly in the game. That evening a friend of the Dean inquired of Henry Kellogg how he had gotten along. Henry assumed one of those humorously serious expressions which often bedeck his countenance and which harmonize so completely with the balance of his physiognomy, meditated in solemn silence for a few moments, and then in tones of deepest interest and sympathy replied: "I think he had better stick to pedagogy."

Lindsay is the "Royal Arch" of the organization, furnishes seats and beautifies the grounds, and presides at all regular and special meetings. In addition to this, Archie acts as censor committee on the kind of language that can be permitted while a game is in progress, he passing upon each remark, either before or after utterance. The nearest approach to profanity so far authorized and approved is "By Shavings!" and this uttered in a low voice. Some players think there are times when it would be a relief for them to say what they think, Harry Fisher on several occasions attempting to argue the question of absolute necessity, but he didn't make it work. Such a rigid enforcement of the rules, while advantageous in many respects, does, no doubt, keep away some of the best players in town: Superintendent Kemp has not been down for nearly seven weeks and the Reverend Mr. Richardson has never attempted to qualify for membership.

The regular meetings of the club are every day in the week except Sunday, but special sessions may be held at the option of the Royal Arch. O. C. Lewis wanted to hold a session on the Sabbath but John Morgan wouldn't stand for it.

Winfield Scott Dead

Death came to relieve Winfield Scott from earthly suffering. Sunday afternoon when he passed away at the county jail, where he had been confined to his bed for more than ten weeks, gradually failing in health and strength from cancer of the stomach. He was a patient sufferer during this time, and welcomed the grim messenger. The body was taken to Carroll Monday evening and laid to rest beside his mother's grave, attended by the pastors of the Baptist and Methodist church and a number of his friends and former neighbors—for near kin folks he had none.

Winfield Scott was born in Ohio, February 28, 1852, and died Sunday, August 15, 1915, aged 63 years, 5 months and 17 days. Of his life history we learn but little. Himself and mother were residents of Carroll for a number of years, and she died there about four years ago. He was a member of the Baptist church of that place and until failing health compelled him to quit work, did draying at Carroll. Rev. B. P. Richardson conducted a short service here before the body was taken to Carroll.

All Aboard for Carroll

The Wayne commercial club has set on foot a move to officially and collectively visit the chautauqua at Carroll, and after waiting for the rains to cease and find a time when it is hoped all can go, Sunday has been fixed as the day, and one o'clock the hour for starting from Wayne. A committee has been named to look after the details of which Mayor Cunningham is chairman, and in behalf of this committee we extend an invitation to all of the automobile owners in the city and country who can do so to join in the procession and go with the Wayne bunch to visit our neighbor town. We were glad to welcome a fine delegation from Carroll to the Wayne chautauqua, and they were glad to come for they had a splendid entertainment, and so will we have, for they have a good entertainment billed for that day. Let everybody with a car go. Reciprocity is good in such things.

Road Improvement Good

Some weeks ago we heard much complaint of the two miles of road west of Wayne, and voiced a little of it in the Democrat. The editor was over this particular piece of road last week, and is glad to report that it is now in excellent shape, and also that it is likely to remain so for some time. Following the excellent grading given the road under the direction of the good road organization the county has installed the needed culverts and even gone one better and made concrete wings to retain the grade at ends of the culverts so that they can be graded over deep enough to get the jar out for the passing vehicle. While there was delay in completing this work on account of weather, the results justify the delay, and make it a good piece of road for others to pattern from.

Bargain in Wayne Residence

I will sell at a sacrifice price, if taken soon, my residence located one block north and one block east of the Methodist church, convenient to State Normal. Nine room house, having city water, electric lights, large filtered cistern. Good barn for team or auto. Lot and a half, 75x150 feet. Everything in good repair. Liberal terms. This property is worth investigating by any one wanting a Wayne residence, and at the price placed on it, it will not long remain unsold. Inquire of MRS. M. A. PRYOR, Wayne, Nebraska.—adv. 33-3.

Special Coaches From Winside

Arrangements have been made to attach passenger coaches to the freight eastbound next Wednesday for the comfort and convenience of Wayne people who go to Winside to the old settler picnic, and this train will be held at Winside until 5 o'clock, giving ample time for all who can attend to have a good time, and yet reach home in good season.

Weather Report

Local showers, Wednesday will be followed by fair weather for a day or so and then by showers about Thursday or Friday; probably fair last three days of week. Moderate temperature.

Pan-American Appeal to Mexico

"The secretary of state of the United States, ambassadors extraordinary and plenipotentiaries of Brazil, Chile, and Argentina and the envoys extraordinary and ministers plenipotentiary of Bolivia, Uruguay, and Guatemala, accredited to the government of the United States of America, acting severally and independently, unanimous send to you the following communication:

"Inspired by the most sincere spirit of American fraternity and convinced that they rightly interpret the earnest wish of the entire continent, they have met informally at the suggestion of the secretary of state of the United States to consider the Mexican situation so as to ascertain whether their friendly and disinterested help could be successfully employed to re-establish peace and constitutional order in our sister republic.

"In the heat of the frightful struggle which for so long has steeped in blood Mexican soil many doubtless may well have lost sight of the dissolving effects of the strife upon the most vital conditions of the national existence not only upon the life and liberty of the inhabitants, but on the prestige and security of the country. We cannot doubt, however—no one can doubt—that in the presence of a sympathetic appeal from their brothers of America, recalling to them these disastrous effects, asking them to save their motherland from an abyss—no one can doubt we repeat—that the patriotism of the men who lead or aid in any way the bloody strife will not remain unmoved; no one can doubt that each and every one of them, measuring in his own conscience his share in the responsibilities of past misfortune and looking forward to his share in the glory of the pacification and reconstruction of the country will respond nobly and resolutely, to this friendly appeal and give their best efforts to opening the way to some saving action.

"We believe that if the men directing the armed movements in Mexico, whether political or military chiefs, should agree to meet, either in person or by delegates, far from the sound of cannon, and with no other inspiration save the thought of their afflicted land, there to exchange ideas and to determine the fate of the country—from such action would undoubtedly result the strong and unyielding agreement requisite to the creation of a provisional government, which should adopt the first steps necessary to the constitutional reconstruction of the country—and to issue the first and most essential of them all, the immediate call to general elections.

"An adequate place within the Mexican frontiers, which for the purpose might be neutralized, should serve as the seat of the conference and in order to bring about a conference of this nature, we will willingly upon invitation, act as intermediaries, to arrange the time, place and other details of such conference, if this action can in any way aid the Mexican people."

Good Crop Report

Owing to the wet weather we have been able to get but few reports on the grain yield in this county. O. N. Eicher, who is running the engine for Messrs. Grubb & Longe in the southeast part of the county, was here Tuesday while it rained, and said that the grain there was of good, quality and quantity. They had not yet threshed any wheat that yielded less than 30 bushels per acre; and that the oats they had run through were yielding from 60 to 72 bushels per acre. They are threshing in the Amos Longe neighborhood.

In this neighborhood, L. M. Owen has threshed part of his wheat, but the yield is not over 10 he thinks. Henry Klopping has threshed oats yielding 32 bushels—but they went down so badly that the entire crop could not be harvested. After a week of dry weather will be a better chance to find out what the grain yield is here.

A Rochester, Minnesota, Story

H. M. Stallsmith and wife returned the first of the week from a visit at Rochester, Minnesota, where they went to have consultation regarding the condition of the lady's health, and were glad to learn that an operation was not considered necessary. Mr. Stallsmith had a bit of time to look about, and watch the incoming of afflicted, and he thinks there is truth in the saying of our noted philosopher that the man who invents or discovers the best or something better than the rest of mankind will have a path beaten to his door though in the midst of a forest. These surgeons have made an inland Minnesota town the world center for those who are afflicted. Rochester had a population of about 7,500 in 1910—their last count places the number at 10,000 and over, not counting the floating population of about 1,000 who are constantly there from all parts of the world for treatment or to learn at the feet of the great surgeons. There they have one hospital with more than 700 beds, besides numerous smaller ones and numberless rooms for convalescing people. More than 80 physicians are gathered there, many of them specialists of great repute, and the Rochester hospitals are visited by many men high in the profession from this and all foreign lands. So far as we know, their wonderful work in surgery and healing is their only advertising.

Mr. Stallsmith also noted a few things about Rochester of interest here at home at this time. The streets are nicely paved and lighted, and the people give much attention to beautifying the place with flowers, vines and handsome lawns, so that night or day it is a place of beauty.

What this hospital has done for Rochester might be done in a smaller way, perhaps, by Wayne if once we start. Rome was not built in a day, and this great place of healing simply grew by striving intelligently to be the best of its kind in the world.

A Big Gun Club Shoot

Tuesday is the big gun club event of the season when the local club will preside at a shoot in which all of this part of the state competes. There will be 12 events with $65 of added money to the winners—11 with $5 each and one with a $10 prize.

The club now has new grounds at the Andreesen park and invite the public to visit them. There is no admission—come out and see how the foreigners will get it if ever they come to Wayne with hostile intentions.

A hurricane has been sweeping the gulf of Mexico, and two marines were lost from the battleships in the storm, while on their way to Mexican waters. Southern Texas was visited by the storm, which was particularly bad at Galveston—but their sea wall proved a great protection. Heavy rain accompanied the storm.

With all of this talk about not having men for war is of little moment. General Wood says that there are now more than a million men ready to go today if called upon; but he admits that there would be need of many more officers than we now have. It used to be that it was no trouble to get officers, such as they were, but since the government has become more particular about who is to become an officer, they are not so plentiful.

On the farm of Merrett Smith near Wynot they report an average of 47 bushels of good quality of wheat from one field. That is not bad for a season when everything has been ruined several times by unseasonable weather.

Pierce has city delivery of mail, and they had to put up the names of the streets at the intersection in compliance with postal regulations. The Democrat is not crying for city delivery here, but we would like to be able to direct a stranger over the place without telling him so many blocks from the standpipe or the court house or the German church. Let's include something of that kind with paving and electroliners.

Sam Davies and Fred Blair were at Wakefield Friday the 13th to witness the hoodoo ball game that day between Wakefield and Randolph in which the latter won by a score of 3 to 4. The game was too slow for such a sport as Sam and they came back to the carnival proper at the close of the first half of the third inning. They estimated the attendance at from 25 to 40 besides the players. The fact is that the country folks are a little too busy to play ball or watch the game for a few weeks yet.

It is estimated that this country has the greatest wheat crop ever grown in any country. The estimation is 966,000,000 bushels as compared with 891,000,000 bushels in 1914. The corn crop is placed at 2,918,000,000 bushels this year against 2,673,000,000 bushels last year. The oats crop in 1914 was 1,141,000,000 and this year it is 1,402,000,000. The August forecast gives better conditions on every thing this year compared with last except apples and in that crop there is an estimated decrease of 47,000,000 bushels. Even buckwheat shows a gain of 1,000,000 bushels.

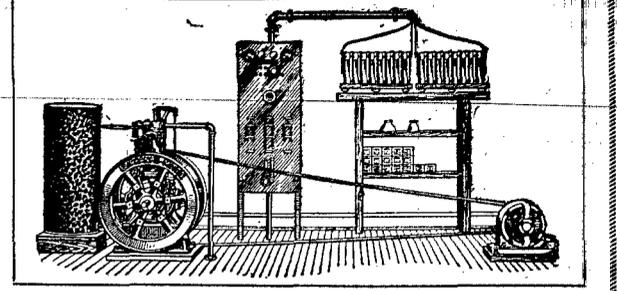

It not only "Pays to advertise," but it pays to read the advertisements, for in that way some one is constantly finding things that are offered for sale at a real bargain price. The Democrat has just received order from C. K. Giblin of Marshall, Minnesota, to discontinue his adv. of a bargain quarter section, because it was sold. But he sends an advertisement of another bargain quarter, and from what we have learned of Mr. Giblin and his land deals he knows a land bargain when he meets it, and does not call something that is not a bargain by that name. In his adv. this week he is enabled to offer 160 acre piece at $71 per acre. But then you will read the advertisement and know what it says.

While in Omaha last week William J. Bryan told a reporter of the World-Herald of the circumstances connected with the taking by him of the historic old desk in his office when he resigned as secretary of state. Said Mr. Bryan: "I arranged with the chief clerk who has charge of the property to purchase a new desk for $250 which is substituted for the old desk which if sold as old furniture as ordinarily sold would have brought a small sum. This arrangement was made with the approval of Secretary Lansing. The new desk is the same size, the same pattern, has just as many pigeon holes and is equal in every way to the old one, besides being newer. I wanted the old one for purely sentimental reasons, as it was on that desk that I signed a number of important peace treaties. The desk is now in my home in Washington. When I return to Nebraska I will bring it, as I intend always to keep it in my home."

More than a hundred varieties of drug plants are being grown in the botanical gardens of the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, in the plots laid out by Dean Bessey before his death. It is believed that, in addition to the value of the gardens from economical and study standpoints, the experiment may result in establishing a new industry in Nebraska in the growing of drug plants, in which event considerable new revenue will come. Some of the plants grown successfully this season in the university botanica gardens are rare in this country, says the Butler County Press. It is possible that some land would grow a more profitable crop if smartweed were cultivated than corn, for it is true that much money may be made by the growing of what is sometimes called weeds, and the government has a bulletin on weeds which tells of their value. We cannot recall the number or title of the report, but it is of interest and value if studied and followed.

How could a bone in my back get out of place? Stop and think of a few of the twists and turns that back of yours gets in a day. You know the large muscles on each side of the spine are all that hold each little bone in its proper place. If the muscles are perfectly developed you are safe. But there are very, very few backs that are perfectly developed. Your own reason will tell you that if a wrench does get one little bone out of place, some part of your body must suffer.

Keeping After the Coalers

The hard coal trust is slowly but surely losing its "cinch". The interstate commerce commission's order for a general reduction of anthracite rates is only one of a series of blows landed on the combine in recent years. At the outset the trust was in good condition to stand punishment, but cumulative effect is telling.

Of the country's anthracite consumption, 80 per cent is controlled by the eleven railways upon whose coal tonnage the interstate commerce commission has just ordered a sweeping reduction in rates. Originally the carriers owned the mines outright and had a monopoly of production, as well as transportation. With control of a great industry so closely centralized, it would be surprising if the community of interest principle had not developed a profitable apportionment of the market and the maintenance of advantageous traffic conditions.

The first resounding blow was administered to the hard coal trust when congress adopted the commodities clause of the rate bill. It prohibited railway ownership of the production of commodities from which a large part of their profits as carriers must be derived. The blow sounded worse than it felt, for, of course, the carriers simply transferred their mines to new corporations whose stocks were controlled by the same interests controlling the railways. The supreme court was unable to find any law to preclude this readjustment, but a lower court recently ruled that the contracts between the coal mining and the coal carrying companies were in violation of the anti-trust law and must be discontinued. Apparently either the courts or the new federal trade commission will have the right to regulate the relations between the mining and the carrying companies. This will do away with much of the advantage which might otherwise be obtained through joint control of production and transportation.

When the application of the eastern lines for a flat increase of 5 per cent in rates was being considered by the interstate commerce commission, the anthracite lines were singled out as exceptions to the rule that the carriers were entitled to higher rates. The commission's investigations in the coal situation were sufficient to convince it at that time that the coalers were in no urgent need of help. Thereafter the commission pursued its investigations with the view of determining whether or not the existing rates and practices of the coalers were reasonable, as compared with the body of the railway fabric. The conclusion, which has just been announced, is that the anthracite rates are too high, and that various practices on the part of the coal carrying roads are designated to discriminate in favor of the allied mine operating corporations. The commission has ordered that the rates to seaboard and interior points shall be reduced, and that certain practices by which the carriers have been virtually giving rebates to affiliated mining companies shall be discontinued.

From all of which it may be seen the grip of public regulation is squeezing a good deal of the juice out of the combine which has so long dictated marketing conditions for anthracite. The public has been enjoying the procedure. Without being familiar with all the facts, the public has been able to seek control of one of its necessities by a small group of related interests, and has had little difficulty in arriving at the conclusion that this control has been used to the detriment of consumers.

At this distance it would seem to be enlightened selfishness on the part of the anthracite interests to give the consumers the full benefit of the reduced rates, even though retaining power further to postpone the necessity for accepting reduced profits. When regulation fails to deliver cash dividends to consumers, the public is apt to begin reaching for a more effective means of protecting its interests. —Sioux City Journal.

Nebraska Leads Banking Resources

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 13.—Latest reports of the comptroller of currency on banking conditions in Kansas and Nebraska, give the latter a big lead.

With a population of 500,000 less, and 953 banks as compared with 1,144 in Kansas, the bank resources of this state are $270,758,801, as compared with $248,883,934 in Kansas. The per capita resources of Nebraska are $213 while Kansas has $136.

In individual deposits Nebraska has $175,004,449 and Kansas $165,699,266 or $137 per person in Nebraska to $90 in Kansas.

Deposits give Nebraska $204,870,456 against $181,384,856 for Kansas, or $62 more per person for Nebraska.

Extract From Congressional Record

(By Congressman Clyde H. Tavenner) When Mr. Daniels, for many years editor and publisher of the Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer, was sworn in as secretary of the navy and had time to look about him, he found that the people's money was being wasted by the payment of excessive prices for armor and practically all articles required for the navy. Throughout his two years in the cabinet he has been earnestly endeavoring to rescue the public treasury from the patriots for war, who year in and year out have been helping themselves, seemingly at will, from the public crib. Secretary Daniels has saved the government some $2,000,000 which is but a drop in the bucket to the amount he could save if he could obtain government manufacture of everything.

In his first annual report for the year 1913 Secretary Daniels asked for an appropriation for an armor plate factory. I quote from that report:

"I desire to recommend the passage at the earliest moment of a sufficient appropriation to begin the construction of a government armor plant to relieve a situation which, in my estimation, is intolerable and at total variance with the principle of economy in spending government money. . . . Only three firms in this country can manufacture armor plate, and these firms have put in bids for armor plate seldom varying over a few dollars, and in many instances being identical to a cent. Asked for reasons as to the uniformity of these bids, two of the firms replied frankly that as the contract would be divided amongst them anyway, the only effect of competitive bids would be to reduce the profits made by all of the three firms.

"By manufacturing armor plate in its own plant the government will be able to keep for its own use any improvements in the manufacture or composition of its armor that may be developed. The last word has not been said in armor, and past history shows that great improvements in the manufacture and design of armor plate have been made. The greater part of these improvements were suggested by actual experience gained by naval officers. Under our present system of obtaining our armor plate from private companies such improvements become the property of all the world and can be obtained by anybody who cares to buy them. Even now the improvements in armor and the designs worked out by the navy have been embodied in the warship of another nation recently finished by the Bethlehem Steel Co., and put into commission. This is not an argument lightly to be disregarded in favor of a government armor plant, nor has it been over looked, for instance, by Japan, which has erected its own armor-making plant and surrounded it with such secrecy that none of the other nations are able to tell whether or not at this minute the Japanese armor may not be superior to any other in existence. In addition to Japan, the French government, after experimenting with a factory capable of producing only the lighter weights of armor, is enlarging its government plant so as to permit of the production of thick plates, and Russia has had its own armor-plate factory for some time.

"I do not see how it is possible for congress to justify to the people a refusal to erect a government plant, nor how it can answer the charge that will invariably be brought up—that the same mysterious providence which saved this profitable business to the steel companies three times in the past, even after the money for a government plant had actually been appropriated, is not still at work exercising its beneficent protection over these lusty specimens of infant industries, who are even now under government investigation as violators of the anti-trust law."

Lincoln Letter

The termination of the case on trial before the interstate commerce commission in Washington this week, in which the railroads asked for radical advances in freight rates, resulted in a partial increase only being granted, and as the raise of rates the railroads asked for on grain products, live stock and packing house stuff was refused the people of Nebraska have won a victory. To Attorney General Reed belongs in large part the honor of winning this victory. Mr. Reed and Clifford Thorne, of the Iowa Railway Commission, represented the shippers at the western hearing, and Nebraska's Attorney General made a strong argument against the raise before the interstate commerce commission in Washington about two months ago. Mr. Reed is the first attorney general of this state who has ever taken such action in favor of the stock and grain growing raisers of Nebraska, and that he was an able representative is attested by the result attained.

That George E. Hall, state treasurer, was working on the right lines and to the best interests of the state of Nebraska in his fight with the county treasurers of the state, forcing them to make monthly remittances of the state's money to the treasury, is attested by the following figures: On the 14th day of August, 1914, Nebraska was paying interest on $311,679.13, state warrants outstanding, while on August 12th, 1915, not a warrant was outstanding and there was $394,842.63 cash in the state treasury. On the same date in 1914 there was $106,000 normal school warrants outstanding, and $101,000 university fund warrants. At the present there is $17,618.43 cash in the normal school fund and $36,486.22 in the university cash box. These figures tell their own story and need no explanation.

During the month of July the Nebraska Board of Educational Lands and Funds, consisting of Governor Morehead, Secretary of State Pool, Treasurer Hall, and Land Commissioner Beckman transacted a large amount of business, having purchased $237,100 worth of school and municipal bonds. This plethora of cash for investment was in part made possible by making use of cash received from the state of Idaho, that state having paid off its bonds which Nebraska held.

The Sun at Work

Here is a picture of what the sun will do for you—if you work with him. Also the picture tells what the sun will do to you—if you work against him.

The sun is killing the baby; and if the baby dies its mother may die, too, of a broken heart.

Is the sun to blame? Is God to blame? Is nature created by God to blame?

It is good that the sun is helping the farmer. It is terrible that the sun, which was put here to do good, should kill the baby and break the mother's heart—because man in his rather thoughtless rush for gold and more gold, has created raise conditions which force mothers to raise their babies in stuffy tenements on blistering streets in misgoverned cities—not to live, but to die.

We give the farmer credit for making the best of the heat of the sun. But had you dare blame the mother?

What can she do to save her baby and herself?

Who will see to it that her husband's wages are raised so that she can raise her baby to be a strong man or healthy woman?

Don't you pity humanity when you look at this picture, and see how little humanity appreciates the value of a baby—all of babies?

Artist Satterfield has told a great story in a little picture. All we can hope to do in these few weak words is to call your attention to the conditions which inspired the artist.—Ex.

Comment From Exchanges

Lincoln Daily News:

Every easterner who comes west brings the news that the administration at Washington has yielded to the clamor of the jingoes for a big addition to the army and a navy program that will double the present expenditure. If this is true it gives a new light upon the real reason why Secretary Bryan resigned from the cabinet. The secretary hinted, when he came home, that it was the innocent war talk around Washington that sickened him of the capital, but he did not indicate that he had discovered the president was committed to a program at variance with that which has been democratic doctrine in the past. The ill success which greeted the effort of the navy league representative in Lincoln indicates strongly just how the west feels about a big jamboree of expenditures for war purposes. This feeling in the middle west is bound to be reflected in the attitude of congressmen and senators from this section. Senator Norris is of the opinion that the country is in no such desperate state as the Gussie Gardner have been picturing it, and that the jingoes, even with the backing of the president, will have a hard job pushing through any extravagant program Secretary Daniels is the peace advocate still left in the cabinet, and his recommendations will have greater weight than those of Secretary Garrison, who is a militarist.

Nebraska State Journal:

The ease of the financial situation in the United States at this time is in marked contrast to conditions at the beginning of the war. . . . One year ago money was so scarce that the best loans commanded 7 and 8 per cent, and many good business concerns found it hard temporarily to secure accommodations on easy terms. For a few hours the banks of the leading cities were on a clearing house basis. It is interesting to recall that the banks of Lincoln refused to consider adopting this device for retaining their cash, and were able to pull through the crisis without difficulty. . . . In a few months the movement of wheat from this region eased the tension. Now the financial situation in the whole country is one of extraordinary ease. The large crops now coming on, added to the special war business, will make money still more plentiful during the winter. If the uncertainties of the war were only out of the way the time would be ripe for a business boom of large proportions.

It is not a pleasant thing to be a bound man. It is far more pleasant to be a free one. For two years and more, we have been bound by the bonds of courtesy at least, in withholding many things that ought be said. We are free to point out in no uncertain language, the things that ought be pointed out, and God helping us, we are going to say them. For the next few months the Riverton Review will be worth reading. It will handle men and their candidates without gloves. It will matter not to what party they belong—whether democratic or republican. Our business is running a newspaper—the democratic party doesn't want us to run anything else, and so we are going to run a good one. We have discovered, too, that the freedom of our pen makes us more money as a publisher, than the restricting of it, and so we are going to let it burn the parchment. There are a few democrats in Nebraska whose hides will blister when we get through with them. There are some republicans who will know that our quill has touched them.—Cecil E. Matthews, in Riverton Review.

WAYNE MARKET REPORT

Following are the market prices quoted us up to the time of going to press, Thursday:

Table with market prices for Oats, Corn, Barley, Spring wheat, Wheat, Eggs, Butter, Hogs, and Fat Cattle.

Now that "Doc" Bixby of the State Journal has an automobile and can run it to beat the band, his poetic soul is yearning to be a bird—now wouldn't he be a bird—and fly to Alaska. A year ago we thought the Doctor supremely happy—but how seldom do we find contentment, and without some contentment we cannot be happy for many moons.

Some of our republican friends are worrying for fear that Bryan will split the democratic party if one believe what he reads—but between the lines the worry is that he wont. You fellows take care of Teddy, and not let him hurt your party, and we will keep an eye on William Jennings, and see that he does not do anything which he thinks is radically wrong.

The Nebraska Journal-Leader of Ponca tells us that we were mistaken in stating that the new paper to be started at Ponca is financed by the business men of the place, and says that while that impression has been given out, it is not true. It is a one-man concern, and the business men are not favorable to the launching of the enterprise. If that be true it spells hard sledding for the new paper.

When Lord Kitchener said at the start of the war that it would last a year and a half he was thought to be giving too much time—but now many are ready to double that space of time. It takes a long time to drill a bit of sense into some of the crown heads of Europe. When it is over and settled we venture the thought that it will be demonstrated that there will be no point gained by any that could not have been gained at far less cost without war, and those who lose could have conceded what they lost far better as a peace measure than a war measure.

Ex-Governor Holcomb is suggesting that with the paving fever growing hotter and higher in Nebraska the proper thing to do with our prison labor is to make paving brick. He says that a good clay bed should be located and the business started. Wayne would certainly favor that and perhaps want the first bunch of brick put out. Independent of the matter of employing prison labor profitably this state should be able to build up an industry in that line of work. It would encourage better roads to have the material furnished at home and perhaps cheaper than from abroad.

R. C. Meader of Clay county is advocating the idea of state hail insurance, and suggests that a tax of 5 to 8 cents per acre on all of the wheat land in the state would create a fund sufficient to pay for the losses by hail. That is a very good idea, about making a tax to pay the hail losses, but why make it only apply to wheat? Why not place this hail tax on every acre of land in the state—just "little-small" tax, and with it pay for all crop losses by hail? To be sure some land is held out of cultivation by speculators, but it should not be, and less of it would be if the state government would cease to tax production and improvements as heavily as it does and pass the burden along to the speculator's land. The Democrat favors a state hail tax, and favors it on all land of the state. It may be socialistic for the state to go into the insurance business, but if it is for the good of all of the people what need to care what it is called. Let us cease to shy at the name of a thing until we know what it is. The girl who said she did not like kroust asked for a second helping when it was called "fried cabbage."

Just Talk—Did He Believe It?

It not infrequently happens that some one tells the editor how to run one of these concerns called a newspaper, and if the editor is wise he will listen patiently and absorb all of the free information given and apply as much of it as seems to him good, or as he feels that he can afford to do—for it really costs more money to run a newspaper than to just blow the ideas out like soap bubbles to float away into space, perhaps to bear fruit and possibly to fall in barren places, or where the thorns of the world will spring up and choke them. We always like to take in these ideas and apply them as we can—that is those that seem good.

Once upon a time, one of these free and easy talkers was telling how to do it, and what powerful lever publicity was with which to move the public—and even the "tite-wad" and make him loosen up and come across like a real public man. That publicity and power of the press talk went right to our heart—we knew it, but began to fear that the people were slow to catch on. So there was apparent harmony of views about the power of publicity. Then we did what was the logical thing for a newspaper man to do in such a time—such an opportunity could not be passed—we simply suggested that it would be a mighty good thing for any man's business to buy a bit of newspaper space and come in with the editor and reap a benefit from the use of this powerful lever in building up his business—but that was not the kind he wanted. He wanted it, like salvation, free as the raindrops that come unbidden to gladden the earth and the farmer with his grain in the shock and his alfalfa cut but not stacked—and the editor moved on down the line and is still doubting whether or not this business man really believed what he was saying. When put to the test, he did not act like it.

No, Dear Reader—we did not say this happened at Wayne.

Landis Flays White Slaver

Chicago, August 18.—Robert Larson, an engraver who lived with Miss Pearl Gallagher of Fairmount, Nebraska, for several months without the formality of marriage and who visited at the girl's home representing that the two had been married, was sentenced to two years in Fort Leavenworth prison by Judge K. M. Landis after the court had severely scored the man and told him the Mann white slave act was made for just such persons as he. Larson had parted with his wife when he met Miss Gallagher, a cashier at a moving picture theatre.

An acquaintance resulted in apartment life in different parts of the city and finally a journey to a farm near Fairmount, Nebraska, where the girls' parents lived. There the two represented themselves as man and wife and Larson was arrested upon his return on April 3 of this year.

Scored by Landis

"So you went with this woman to Fairmount farm and passed yourself off" to her parents as her husband?" commented Judge Landis. "You stuck your guilty legs under this honest farmer's table and partook of his food, having lied to him about your relations with his daughter. Not only that; you were unprincipled enough to take his money to pay the fare of the woman and yourself back to Chicago where you acted as a procurer for the woman."

At this juncture counsel for Larson interposed:

"Don't you think that this woman was as much to blame as Larson?"

Defends the Woman

"Whenever there is a dirty, nasty case opened up in this court," responded the judge, "they come into court here and tell me that the woman is to blame. I'm getting tired of it. Where did you get the money on which you lived with this woman after you came back to Chicago?"

"My father sent some of it to me and the woman paid some of the room rent. I don't think I am any more to blame than the woman is."

"The woman—it's always the woman," said the judge. "I suppose that you hold her blame-worthy because she ceased to support you. This is one of the worst propositions of its kind that ever came before me. The case combines all the elements which the Mann act was designated to cover."

"But the woman," the defendant began again.

"Oh sit down and keep still," the judge said firmly. Two years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth.

Isn't It Queer

The coal man is a sly old fox. In fact, he's quite a paradox. For coal he always makes us pay, and yet he gives his coal a weigh.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

The British transport Royal Edward, conveying troops to the Dardanelles, was sunk by a submarine in the Aegean sea. About 1,000 men were lost.

All along the line of the eastern front in northwest Russia and Poland the German armies, according to Berlin, again are in full swing against the Russians, who everywhere have been driven or repulsed in attempts to make stands. Little fighting of a sanguinary character is in progress except in the east, although there has been a hand-to-hand engagement near Bagetelle, France, for an excavation made by the explosion of a French mine, a resumption of bombardment by the French and a counter attack by the Germans against Semlin and Panscova, in Servia, and battling on the Gallipoli peninsula and in Asiatic Turkey, with the Turks claiming the advantage in the former region against the allies, and the Russians asserting that in the latter zone the Ottoman forces have been defeated.

While Petrograd claims that the Russian troops have driven back the Germans in the region of Riga and that in the vicinity of Kovno the Teutons have temporarily abandoned their attacks. It is admitted by Petrograd the towns of Sokolow, Siedlie and Lukow, strategic railway points to the east of Warsaw, have been evacuated and that between the Narow and the Bug rivers the Russians, through their counter attacks, have been helped further in their retreat toward the newly chosen positions.

Of the fighting in the region of Riga the Russians are admitted by Berlin to have made repeated attacks against Field Marshal von Hindenburg's forces, but it is claimed these were without success.

Concerning the Kovno battle, where the Germans are trying to break through toward Vilna, Berlin asserts that the Germans have made further progress, thus controverting Petrograd's statement. Aside from this discrepancy, the official communications show that the Russians are gradually being pushed back, but not without giving battle to the Teutons.

The Germans say they have occupied Lukow, forty miles northwest of Ivangorod, and Zambrowa, and that the Russians are in retreat along the entire front between the Bug and the Parazew, with Field Marshal von Mackensen following them. Vienna also adds its claim to continued victories in the Vleprz and Bug districts. Of the situation near Riga, Berlin asserts that it remains unchanged.

On the western front there has been little fighting except artillery engagements, although in the region of Nieuport a German infantry attack was put down, according to Paris.

Further successes by forces of the entente allies in the Kamerun, a German colony, in western equatorial Africa, are reported from Paris.

Although the Montenegrins claim that in Bosnia nad Herzegovina they have achieved successes in artillery and infantry engagements near Garasda and Gasko, it is in the Russian report that the most momentous happenings are chronicled. Petrograd declares that the Germans in the Riga district of Northwest Russia near Kovno and in the Vleprz and Bug regions have been repulsed by the Muscovite forces near Ostrow and along both roads between Chelm and Viadova with heavy casualties.

Former Premier Venizelos of Greece has returned to Athens, where the pronouncement of his policy, expected to have an important bearing on the Balkan situation, is being awaited.

The German Baltic fleet has occupied Libau as a naval base. A large force of experts is working night and day fortifying the harbor works. Berlin reports a French airship raid on Zweibruecken and St. Ingbert, in Rhenish Prussia, in which eight persons were killed by bombs dropped from aeroplanes.

Sinking of the British steamer Jacong, two other British craft, the steamers Osprey and Summerfield, and the Norwegian steamer Aura, presumably through attacks by German submarines, is announced. Three persons, including one woman, were drowned.

Military activity is increasing along the Austro-Servian frontier. Exchanges of artillery fire at Belgrade have been followed by Servian bombardment of defenses before the village of Dobra, on the Danube. Heavy concentration of Teutonic forces on the edge of the Balkan region is reported.

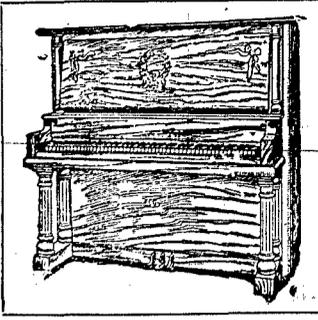

French and British aeroplanes have flown over Constantinople. They threw bombs on Galata, causing heavy casualties.

A device invented by the Italian engineer Quarini, which makes it possible to drive torpedoes out of their course and explode them, has satisfied tests, says a dispatch from Rome, and arrangements are being made to supply the device to the allied fleets.

Carranza Will Not Delay Note. Assurances that General Carranza will not obstruct delivery of the Pan-American appeal to Mexico reached the state department at Washington in a message from C. B. Parker of the American embassy staff in Mexico City, saying General Pablo Gonzales, Carranza's commander there, had "promised safe conduct to the messengers who are to carry the appeal to General Zapata and others."

V. A. Senter left Tuesday evening for Tilden, where he told the Democrat snoop that he was going to make hay, having a quarter section near that great hay shipping port. S. E. Auker returned Tuesday from Rushville, Nebraska, in Sheridan county, where he was called ten days ago on account of the sickness of his father who died and was buried last Sunday. Commissioners Rethwisch and Farran were at Pender Tuesday meeting with the commissioners of Thurston county adjusting payments on some county line bridges, put in by two counties jointly. Thurston county had gotten in a bad way, financially, and have been trying to remedy the matter—and have helped it. The voters elected to issue $58,000 of county bonds and thus reduce the interest on their indebtedness and put the county in shape to do future business practically on a cash basis. This will mean better prices for what they must buy, and undoubtedly more economy in what they purchase.

A lot of those fellows who are living on the eastern coast of this country and are afraid that some European power will land an army of 1,000,000 men on our shores and capture all of the states from Virginia north to Maine had better move to Nebraska, for here we have a militia competent to protect the mouth of the Platte and the Logan from invasion. Did they figure how long it would take them to bring a million of men and their equipment across 3,000 miles of water? It would require 1,000 transports, and what would happen to them when they tried to land? If you fellows cannot sleep, come to Nebraska.

The Apollo Club concert given Monday evening was well rendered, although not a very large crowd was in attendance. The solos by Willis I. Fleetwood were well applauded showing the appreciation of that young man's talents. The solos on pipe organ and piano of Mr. Albert Morgan of Sioux City were also well rendered showing the mastery of both instruments. About twenty dollars was cleared from this performance and will be kept in the treasury for the purpose of helping purchase a power pump for the pipe organ. Although this amount is only about a third enough it is a "nest egg" and the club has intentions of keeping at the wheel until enough has been raised. While this club is composed mostly of those affiliated with the Methodist church it is not their intention to bar other denominations from the pleasure of hearing them and they welcome invitation from other churches or towns to render their services, and they feel that they should be encouraged.

Concerning the rottenness of the Rock Island road's financial condition the inter-state commerce commission's report of an investigation of the Rock Island's financial affairs made public Wednesday shows millions of dollars in losses in stock transactions, charges the railroad officials with misrepresentations in their reports to stockholders, discloses great profits to promoters of the Rock Island holding companies and arraigns the syndicate operations which begin in the early '90s. The department of justice has been awaiting to go over the report. The interstate commerce commission broadly suggests action by the legal branch of the government.

That paving contractors throughout the country will watch with interest and some of them with apprehension as the pavement is laid on South Third street in Norfolk, is indicated by the following extract from a letter written to C. E. Burnham by George J. S. Collins, a consulting and contracting engineer of Omaha:

"P. S. The bid on your paving was very cheap but I trust you will not get a cheap job. I did not bid on it on account of the hydrated lime being specified in the mix. I have just had an experience on some such an untried specification which was not conducive to good work. Guaranteeing an untried specification is not good business." A prominent and responsible Sioux City contractor refused to bid on the job, because he contended that the paving specified could not be guaranteed, but Foreman Cusick of the paving company doing the work says the pavement will be all right.—News.

The Army and Teeth

Military authorities recognize that a soldier is not of much value, with missing or defective teeth, and will not enlist him. Uncle Sam has dentists enlisted as surgeons, whose duty it is to care for the teeth of soldiers and assist surgeons in operation upon the jaws.

The conclusion is obvious. If it pays Uncle Sam to hire a dentist to look after the teeth of his soldiers, it will pay you to look after your own.

Among the Churches of Wayne

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
(Rev. Blessing, Pastor.)
Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Arrangements have been made to hold the annual Sunday school and church picnic on the 25th of August. Further announcement will be made Sunday.

Regular divine worship next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The subject of the sermon will be "A Religion that is Worth While"—Romans 8:10, 11, 14. In the words of our text, Paul is not speaking of the religion of the ancient Jew, to which he at one time held. Neither is he speaking of the religion of the heathen world. But he is speaking of the religion of Jesus Christ—or Christianity. Previous to the conversion of Paul, he thought that the religion of the ancient Jew was the only religion worth while. He thought that by it man could attain the highest in life, but he now knows different. He is certain that the only religion worth while is the religion founded by Jesus Christ the Saviour of men, for he says "God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ".

Union services will be held on the court house lawn at seven o'clock if the weather will permit. Luther League will be held in the church after the union service on the court house lawn. Do not miss Luther League. The subject will be "Putting the Bottle to the Neighbors Lips"—Habakkuk 2:15. The meeting will be led by Miss Anna Eichoff.

The Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. Henry Hansen this week on Thursday.

The pastor is beginning to gather his catechetical class. All having children for the class please speak to the pastor as soon as you can.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to worship with us.

Baptist Church

The association was up to our highest expectations in every way. The attendance was really larger than we had expected. There were about sixty delegates and visitors altogether and all were well cared for. We want to thank the many homes that so generously opened their doors to these guests and made their stay so delightful. One of the finest of Christian graces is that of hospitality. We found every one ready to help in any way in making the meeting a success. In another part of this paper a fuller report of the association will be found.

The church will remember the many messages delivered, the appeals made and the higher ideals of Christian service presented by the various speakers. We all felt that our work as Christian people is a great work, taxing our resources to the limit and challenging us to our highest and best. The messages brought by Bro. Fouele were of a high quality.

"The Overthrown Buildings" will be the subject of the Sunday morning sermon. The scripture is found in Mark 13:1-2.

Rev. J. B. Burkhardt, pastor of the Congregational church at Pierce, will be the preacher at the union lawn service Sunday.

Our young people will meet at the church Sunday evening at eight o'clock.

This afternoon the ladies union meets with Mrs. M. Norton. Tomorrow afternoon the prayer circle meets with Mrs. Kopp.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening.

Presbyterian Church

(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)
About 40 new subscriptions were secured for the "Continent" in this parish this week.

We expect the Rev. W. O. Harper of Laurel to preach at the usual service hour next Sunday morning.

The attendance in the Sunday school is keeping up finely during the summer months. Help by your presence.

A petition was circulated last Sunday morning asking "Billy" Sunday to come to Wayne for a day's meeting during the Omaha campaign.

The Juniors had a delightful time picnicking at the home of the Junior superintendent, Miss Mabel Dayton, last Wednesday. It was a day of enjoyment.

The new Y. P. S. C. E. topic cards should be ready for distributing at the Sunday evening meeting. A very nice card has been selected by the committee. Come and get yours.

Dr. Jesse B. Burkhardt of Pierce will speak on the court house lawn Sunday evening. His subject will be "Why We May Believe in a Life After Death". Dr. Burkhardt is said to be a very fine speaker.

The pastor has been asked to receive your subscription for the Assembly Herald. The price is 25c per year in clubs of ten or more. We will have more than ten. Subscription envelopes will be furnished for asking.

Why cannot the Christian men of Wayne and vicinity join in a Union Brotherhood, regardless of sect or denomination as far as requirement for membership is concerned? Such an organization could do a great deal of real Christian work which at present is undone in this community.

German Lutheran Church

Rev. Moehring, Pastor

There will be the regular services at the church next Sunday. Sunday school at 10 o'clock and preaching at 11 o'clock. The pastor will preach at Winside in the afternoon.

Methodist Church

We arrived home from Beatrice last Saturday morning.

We desire to thank the many Wayne friends for their kind sympathy in our sore bereavement; mother died as she had lived; confidently trusting in her Savior. She was one of God's pure ones and we may only hope to live to be worthy of her confidence and love.

We were at the Assembly only a short time but the program was even better than usual. This great summer encampment is certainly growing in interest and usefulness. Those masterful, instructive, and inspiring messages each morning by Dr. Clarence True Wilson of Topeka, Kansas, on the temperance reform, and by Bishop Homer Stuntz on Evangelism were important features of the program.

It is an interesting experience to cross the state each summer and compare the crop conditions of the various sections of the country. Other summers the parched fields of the southern part of the state have been in contrast with the better conditions of the north-eastern section. This year after the excessive rains the northeastern section is still in the lead. We may justly pride ourselves of Wayne county over her bountiful harvest.

We were delighted Sunday morning to have with us Dr. Fred Berry of Lincoln, State Mission Secretary for the Baptist church. He preached a splendid and helpful sermon from Rom. 14:17: "For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost." Professor J. J. Coleman sang a beautiful and helpful solo.

Consider the great surprise of pastor and congregation when a delegation of forty-five members of the Madison Methodist church marched into our morning service to visit their former pastor and his family. We have heard of pastors returning to visit their former congregations but this is the first time that we have ever known of a congregation going to visit a former pastor. This large delegation which twice before had started and had been rained back came as a complete surprise. Even when the first load arrived they gave no intimation that others were coming. A part of the group had had a blow-out and were delayed somewhat though all were in time to hear a good sermon. Our Wayne people courageously invited the guests home with them for dinner only to learn that they had brought well-filled baskets with them, and with the addition of a few gallons of coffee from Fisher's bakery, a sumptuous dinner was served in the church dining room, with their former pastor and his family as decidedly happy guests of honor. In the afternoon the eight carloads of visitors took a tour of the city and State Normal school buildings, one of their number at least, deciding to return in a few weeks to become a student in the college. The party, which had come via Stanton and Pilger returned via Winside and Norfolk, the young people being anxious to reach Madison in time for their Epworth League devotional meeting, and the sacred concert they were to give that evening.

A committee Sunday, circulated a petition for Rev. William A. Sunday to come to Wayne. We shall be glad to have this greatest evangelist of today turn the search lights on in Wayne. No man can see deeper into actual conditions, or speak a stronger denunciation of sin, or proclaim a truer gospel of Christian redemption than Mr. Sunday. Doubtless even a single message would be far reaching in its results of good to all.

The church year is rapidly drawing to a close. The Annual Conference meets in Omaha the third week in September. There is much yet to do in closing up the work of the year. The presenting of our benevolences met with many inter-

Homey Items for Women

For linen dresses there is nothing prettier than the straight full skirt.

When washing delicate curtains, stiffen in a little gum Arabic water in place of starch. Plaster of Paris and white lead paint is a good cement to use for mending cracks in lavatories, bath tubs, etc.

Children who suffer from worms should be given a dinner once each week of onions, boiled or roasted.

Princess dresses are coming back into fashion, it is said, and one indication of this return is the front panel cut in one piece for waist and skirt shown on some of the new lingerie frocks. This gives a good chance for embroidery, which is so much used this summer on net and other lingerie frocks.

It's Only Too True

When Mark Twain was editor of a Missouri paper, a subscriber wrote to him saying that he had found a spider in his paper and asking him whether it was a sign of good or bad luck. The humorist wrote him as follows:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good or bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he might go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead the life of undisturbed peace forever after."

Oh, Shux!

Old Noah crawled out of the hay. And to the deck he made his way. He looked around and to his son He said, "I see the wets have won."

But Shem, his son, said to his dad: "You spoke too soon, the world's in bad."

Dry spots I see, that larger grow. The wets, I fear, will soon go slow."

ruptions and we hope that no one will fail to do their best for the many worthy interests of the church. A committee has been selected who will call upon you in the near future. Let us each and all do our utmost in this great day of opportunity and need.

The Fourth Quarterly Conference will be held in the church at 8 p. m. August 24th. Every official member of the conference is expected to be present. All departments are urged to have their written reports ready and all members of the church are most cordially invited to be present at this important meeting of the church.

The subject, for next Sunday morning's sermon will be "The Dynamic of Christian Brotherhood" Sunday school at 11:45. Epworth League at 8 p. m. Union open air service on court house lawn at 7 p. m.

The Meeting of Baptist Association

Last Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the Northeastern Baptist association held their annual meeting with the Baptist church of this city. Attendance was larger than usual this year, there being about sixty delegates and visitors present. These represented churches in Creighton, Verdell, Tilden, Battle Creek, Norfolk, Pilger, Ponca, and Carroll. In addition to these delegates, there were also present, Rev. Fred Berry, Rev. J. D. Collins and Mrs. Wilson of Lincoln, Dr. Wilson Mills of Omaha, Rev. W. I. Fowle of Grand Island, and Miss Tenhaven of Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

All the various interests of the denominational work were well represented. Encouraging reports were given, and some well defined plans were made for the work of the coming year. A cordial spirit of fellowship with the other churches prevailed. Their pulpits were supplied by the visiting ministers. The evening union service was also in their charge.

The delegates were well taken care of by the members of the local Baptist church. They spoke most highly of the spirit of hospitality they found everywhere.

The next annual meeting will be held with the Creighton Baptist church, and Rev. J. B. Minort of Tilden will be the preacher of the annual sermon.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM
Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, as spokesman for republican leaders, has outlined the republican party position in the coming congress and the following presidential campaign, and we quote the summary of his position as given by the associated press, and ask that each voter read it and answer the questions we ask, they being-but natural conclusions:

1. "That they shall advocate the abolition of and oppose the re-enactment of the direct war tax."
How do they propose to raise money for government expenses?
2. "That they shall oppose an increase in the income tax."
Who will they tax to make up the deficit?
3. "That they shall work for a great navy as a prime necessity for national defense."
Who do they propose shall foot the bill for this great navy?
4. "That they shall work for a sufficient army."
That they shall work for provisions for the machinery of war."
How are they going to meet this growing cost?
5. "That they shall seek to free this country from dependence upon Germany for dyestuffs and other chemicals."
Does not that mean a raising of the tariff tax?
6. "That they shall work for a modification of laws enacted by the Wilson administration which have paralyzed business enterprise and initiative."

What laws have paralyzed business, and what business? Is it the law reducing the tariff tax that they would "modify"? Do they propose to build up another "infant industry" in dyestuffs as they have in armor plate and other protected infants? Would they restore to the sugar trust some of the power for levying additional tribute on the consumer of sweets?

The reading of the speech plainly shows that it is their purpose to take tax from those who have and place the burden on those who have not. A higher tariff to extort taxes on the every day necessities of life to give those who supply them an opportunity to do a part of the taxing for their own benefit. They would tax the food and clothes of women and children to support an army and navy and support it extravagantly as they have always done. If that is to be the battle line for the next congress and the next presidential campaign it should be a welcome one to those who are responsible for the legislation of the last congress.

Ruth Sends Word
"Oh dear, I wish Ruth was back home from her vacation," said that young woman's puzzled aunt one morning, "I want so much to ask her what to do for these rugs and carpets that are curling up at the edges. I know she would know a remedy. I'm just going to write and ask her what to do."

And she did. And in two days' time she had this answer from Ruth: "Dear Aunt, keeping your carpets from cupping up at the edges is the easiest thing in the world. Just try this and you will not have any future trouble: Lay your rug or carpet upside down, on a level floor. Make very thin cooked starch, and add five cents worth of powdered gum arabic, dissolve in a little water. Apply to the back of the rug with a paint brush, and when the rug becomes dry it will be like new. If you should want to know anything more, I shall be glad to help you, if I can. Hoping that you are all well, I am etc."

"I knew she'd know," commented her Aunt with satisfaction, "for she's always reading about or hearing somebody tell about such things, and she never forgets 'em."

These improvements will cost us this year $317,000 extra.
Yet this year also brought to Goodyear users an enormous price reduction, making 45 per cent in two years.

Note what Goodyear users get this year on tires in smaller sizes. We have added 20 per cent to the air capacity. That adds immensely to your riding comfort, combats the blowouts and overloading that came to smaller tires. We have added 30 per cent to the rubber in the side walls, where constant bending breaks so many tires. We have made new molds—changed the whole design—because of newly-discovered ways to add to the tires' endurance.

Note that Goodyear tires, as made before, won top place in Tiredom. Never has another tire won so many users. It is these tires—proved the best tires built—which we have bettered this year in every way that experts know. Get these super-tires. Our mammoth output makes this extra value possible. James Stephens and J. A. Jones were participants in a deal last week whereby Mr. Stephens became the owner of the town residence now occupied by Mr. Jones and Mr. Jones now owns eighty acres of land lying across the road west of Mr. Stephens' farm home. Mr. Stephens and family will retire from the farm and move to town November 1st.

Last Friday a team belonging to Henry Lagge became frightened at a passing coaster wagon and broke loose from the hitching posts and ran away. They were overtaken by an auto about two miles northwest of town and driven back to town. The marshal has forbidden all coasting and roller skating on Main street and on streets where hitching posts are located.

While mowing a pasture last Friday morning, Rosa Yaryan encountered quite a scare. He was mowing along the creek and left the team standing for a few minutes. The horses in stamping flies began backing down the bank and the lines became caught in such a way as to continue the backing, until both horses and mower were lodged in the creek. One horse would have drowned had Ross not held its head out of the water until help came from town to relieve him. Wesley Linn was in swimming near by at the time, and Ross hastened him up town for help and a number of men came to the rescue. No real damage was done however excepting parts of the harness being broken but it was a narrow escape.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Cattle Receipts Large and Prices Not Far From Steady.

HOGS FIVE TO TEN CENTS OFF

Sheep Market Generally Steady and Lambs Slow to Easier—Packers Insist on Taking Off 15c on Account of Wet Fleeces.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Aug. 18.—Receipts of cattle yesterday were 5,000 head. There was a very fair buying demand and desirable kinds of both beef and feeders were disposed of in good season at prices that were not materially different from Monday. The market, in fact, showed little change in either direction.

Quotations on cattle: Good to choice yearlings, $9.00@9.70; fair to good yearlings, $7.75@8.75; good to choice heavy heaves, $9.00@9.40; fair to good cornfed heaves, $8.25@9.00; common to fair cornfed heaves, $7.00@8.25; good to choice fed heifers, $7.00@8.50; good to choice fed cows, $6.50@7.25; good to choice grass heifers, $6.50@7.25; good to choice cows, $6.25@7.00; fair to good cows, $5.50@6.25; common to fair cows, $3.75@5.50; good to choice feeders, $7.35@8.00; fair to good feeders, $6.70@7.35; common to fair stockers, $5.50@6.50; stock heifers, $5.75@6.75; stock cows, $5.50@6.50; stock calves, $6.50@8.00; veal calves, $7.00@10.00; fat bulls, stags, etc., $5.00@7.00; prime grass heaves, $8.25@8.75; good to choice grass heaves, $7.85@8.25; fair to good grass heaves, $7.40@7.85; common to fair grass heaves, $6.40@7.40.

Receipts of hogs yesterday amounted to 9,000 head. The general market was 5@10c lower. Both shippers and packers paid as high as $7.30 for several bunches of lights. Most of the packing hogs moved at $6.25@6.35, with, of course, a fair sprinkling of good butchers and lights on up.

Sheep and lamb receipts yesterday totaled 13,000 head. Bulk of the good lambs brought $8.25 and, while this is on paper 15c lower, the amount of water in the fleeces made actual costs about the same as on Monday. Old sheep brought generally steady prices. Best ewes were unable to beat $5.25 to packers, although a string of breeders went at $5.35, and buyers consider that price high enough to stop most of them. Trade in feeder lambs was for the most part a repetition of the butcher market. Most of the feeders took $8.00 or a little less, and nothing was able to go over $8.05.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, good to choice, $8.25@8.40; lambs, fair to good, $8.00@8.25; lambs, feeders, $7.50@8.25; yearlings, fair to choice, $5.50@6.25; wethers, fair to choice, $5.50@6.00; ewes, good to choice, $5.00@5.25; ewes, fair to good, $4.50@5.00.

DROPS BOMBS ON MILITIA

Aviator Succeeds in Making Flight Over Camp at Fremont.

Captain McMillan dropped bombs from his aeroplane onto a detachment of soldiers of the Fourth regiment at Fremont, and theoretically escaped the fire from the militiamen who were stationed in a grove a mile from the camp headquarters.

Thousands of Fremonters watched the maneuvers. Captain McMillan who made the flight, ascended to a height of 2,000 feet before attempting to drop the bombs.

When engaged in dropping the destroyers the engine stopped and the pilot had considerable trouble in getting it started. He had decided to volplane to the earth when he got it under control and made several circles over the squad of soldiers and camp before alighting. He was in plain sight of the city and hundreds of Fremonters watched the maneuvers of the machine in the air from their homes.

TWO KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Electric Bolt Fatal to Nels Matsen and Herman Thompson.

While working on the farm of Ray Triplett, near Herman, stacking wheat, Herman Thompson and Nels Matsen were struck by lightning and instantly killed. The team attached to the wagon used in hauling the grain ran away and Anna Triplett, nine years of age, who was on the vehicle, was thrown off and her left arm dislocated.

There was one flash of lightning and from what can be learned the bolt struck and instantly killed Matsen, who was on the stack, and instantly seemed to spread in a sheet of flame to the wagon load of bundles, killing Thompson.

Parriott of Auburn, a member of the last legislature. They will be required to employ a stenographer, who will receive $1,000 a year when they get it. Plover Are Protected.

Federal Inspector Holland of Washington called at the office of the game warden on his annual rounds looking after the enforcement of the game laws of the country. In connection with his visit he was shown a letter from W. F. Bancroft, assistant in the biological survey department at Washington, in which an effort was made to correct a statement emanating from an unreliable source that plover were not protected by the federal game law. Plover are protected by the federal laws, but doves are not coming under the protection of the state game law, as the latter are not considered a migratory bird in the full sense of the law.
