Shall Wayne Have a Company of Soldiers? Lt. Pile of Company G, Stanton, Says Opportunity is Now.

The Democrat learns that there is an opportunity now for a company of militia at Wayne if just a little effort is made to secure it. We already have 22 members of Company G who belong at Wayne, and there is a vacancy in the regiment which may be filled by a company at Wayne if 30 additional men will volunteer. Wakefield, Winside and Carroll might each contribute a few if they so desired.

The Democrat does not think our plan for a militia is the best that could be devised, but believe it the best plan we have to fit men for soldiers, should they be needed. Where they have a company the rules provide for a certain amount of time for drill for which the state pays a small sum. The members of the company are all required to attend an annual encampment for at least one week each year. For this they draw pay and rations. They are subject to the call of the governor for duty in the state in case of riot or other troubles making it necessary. They are also subject to a call from Uncle Sam in case of war, when they would be subject to the same rules and regulations as the men and officers of the regular army. Some of the advantages might be enumerated at the military knowledge and discipline gained from the drill and the annual encampment, and the knowledge of camp life and how to take care of one's health properly which is given at the encampment. This would be worth much to any who might volunteer in case of war, as many would, if needed. In such a time the knowledge would be of much value to a man.

As a local institution a properly conducted company is something of which a place may be proud. It makes an organization of the younger men which is maintained without direct expense to the community, and an organization which is very convenient at times. They are the natural arm of law enforcement and order preservation at a time of public gatherings.

They frequently give drills for the amusement and entertainment of visitors who come to the city for celebrations. Sometimes a sham battle is given. At Wayne there are plenty of young men who might be better off if organized in such a company with a place of meeting and regular evenings for drill. In the opera house we have a building which could be converted into an armory, and the rental which the state pays for such a room would be far better return from this building than has been received of late, and be the cause of having it put in shape for the public.

The Democrat would be glad to publish the views of others for or against the idea. The commercial club could well consider the matter and aid if it seemed proper, for to aid this would not call for any great money investment. Let's give the question consideration.

A Train of Cattle For Wayne

Last week John Shannon came to Wayne from the western part of the state with a train load of cattle, and 14 car loads were distributed among the feeders of this vicinity. He has another bunch due to arrive today. Part of his cattle are being sent up the branch to Carroll and other stations.

Frank Pingrey received two cars of feeders Wednesday from Omaha markets.

Weather Report

For the week beginning Wednesday, October 6, 1915. For Plains States and Upper Mississippi Valley: Showers and higher temperatures Wednesday or Thursday will be followed by generally fair weather during the remainder of the week, with seasonable temperature.

Mrs. Clara Ellis has gone to Los Angeles as a delegate from this state to the annual sessions of the national P. E. O. She plans to visit relatives in California for several months.

Crops and Weather

The weather for the past week has been quite seasonable, but not all that was desired in the way of fair, warm weather. Friday was cool and windy. Saturday was a very fine day, perfect for that time of the year, and Wayne was thronged until late at night, and few if any expected to be called early Sunday morning to witness a heavy shower of rain and hail, but it came just the same. The rainfall amounted to .75 of an inch. The clouds hung over the earth during most of the day and night, clearing Monday evening when the wind went down and there was no question about the frost Tuesday morning, for it was visible and could be felt. It was not a hard freeze, but a killing frost. The thermometers registered from two to four degrees below the freezing point.

The hail did but little damage in most places because most crops were harvested except corn, and the general opinion is that it was not hard enough to injure corn that had its growth, though it slit and stripped the leaves. About four miles south of Wayne is a strip where the hail was heavier than other places, and here the corn was damaged some, but to what extent cannot be told until later. Apples appeared to be a shining mark, and many were cut and bruised. Tomatoes were also pounded where not picked. As no wind accompanied the hail no glass was broken, though stones fell as large as hickory nuts.

Opinions differ as to the effect of the frost on the corn, but the majority of farmers we have seen think it has done no harm, and that the frost will help start the corn to condition for cribbing. Most of them also express the opinion that the crop will contain quite a percentage of good corn, some soft and some light and chaffy, depending upon the weather for the next month. If warm and dry, the corn not fully ripe will shrink, but if wet it will be heavy and soft until frozen, when it will be hard enough but spoil quickly after thawing out. At any rate the corn crop is made, be it good or bad, and a short time will tell what it is.

T. J. Murrell Struck by Auto

J. W. Maholm of Burkett sends us the following account of the accident which befell T. J. Murrell, taken from the Grand Island Independent:

"T. J. Murrell, of Burkett, and a veteran of the civil war, was quite seriously injured shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon on the Grand Island National bank corner when a jitney bus accidentally ran into him. The trouble occurred when C. C. Hansen, driving his car north, and T. P. Mullin, driving a jitney, tried to dodge each other. In doing this the jitney ran onto the sidewalk and struck Mr. Murrell. The old man was hurled to the walk and lay unconscious.

He was immediately taken to the general hospital where, on examination, Dr. Phelan found a cut at the back of the head and a concussion. The old man seemed to suffer considerable as he was carried into one of the rooms.

Everything possible for his comfort was arranged for."

Mr. Maholm adds that Mr. Murrell had not been able to speak and that there is but slight hope for his recovery. His daughter Grace was called to his bedside and his son, Ed Murrell, went from here Tuesday morning. It was but a few weeks ago that Mr. Murrell was greeting his friends here and telling how well he felt. At that time he attended the funeral of his old comrade, A. Anson. Mr. Murrell has many friends here who hope that he may recover from his injuries.

There was surprise at the home of George Heady Wednesday evening when a stranger called, and entered the home and established the fact that he was his brother Thomas, whom he had not before seen for thirty years. The brother was accompanied by his son John, who is sheriff of Switzerland county, Indiana, where they live at the little city of Vevay. It is needless to add that these brothers have much to tell of their lives in the past 30 years, and in recalling earlier days.

State Normal Notes

Rev. A. S. Buell was a recent visitor.

An interesting meeting of the German club was held Monday evening.

Mr. George W. Wilcox, our enthusiastic cheer leader of last year, is teaching near Dorsey, Nebraska.

Miss Rachel F. Fairchild, critic teacher in the junior high school, was called to Aberdeen, S. Dak., last Thursday, by a message announcing the serious illness of her sister.

Miss Marguerite Dennis has dropped her school work temporarily to accept a position as teacher in a rural school in Dixon county.

Prof. H. H. Hickman left Saturday for Newton, Iowa, where he will attend a homecoming and visit for a few days at his old home.

Mrs. Mary Trotter arrived in Wayne Thursday evening and will make her home with her daughter, Miss Stella Trotter, secretary to the president. They have engaged rooms at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Buell.

Mr. John McTee returned to work Monday morning after having been marooned for two weeks at the Union hotel, during which time he cheerfully complied with quarantine regulations.

New registrations this week are: Elsie R. Lamb, Spencer; Mary West, Page; Gladys A. Chambers, Wisner; Bernice Brant, Wayne.

The organization of the Camp Fire girls, formed during the summer session, has commenced the work of the year with Miss Mary E. Mahood as guardian. The new organization is known as Watseka camp.

The athletic committee has announced the following football schedule, which as yet is incomplete: Normal against Trinity College at Sioux City, October 9; Normal against Buena Vista at Storm Lake, October 15; Normal against Trinity College at Wayne, October 23; Normal against Bellevue at Omaha, November 5; Normal against Buena Vista at Wayne, November 13; Normal against Omaha University at Wayne, November 25.

On the program of the North-east Nebraska Teachers' Association to be held at Emerson, October 9, appear the following names of former students of the Normal: Miss Beva Harris, Ponca; Miss Edna Baluss, Hoskins; Miss Ruth E. Sterling, Carroll; Supt. C. L. Culler, Hartington; Abigail Wendt, Wayne.

The reception of the faculty to the students, given regularly at the opening of each term, occurred on Wednesday evening of last week. After passing down the receiving line the students were seated in the auditorium to listen to a brief program. President Conn gave an address of welcome, which was followed by a response by V. F. Wilson. Mrs. W. H. Morris rendered very beautifully three vocal selections and Professor Lewis gave an illustrated talk. The latter part of the evening was spent in getting better acquainted. Light refreshments were served.

Fall Festival and Carnival

The Walter Savidge Amusement company will open its final engagement for the season here on Tuesday, Oct. 19th. The season has been an exceedingly profitable one financially, which is very gratifying to Mr. Savidge, considering the amount of inclement weather encountered during the season. The Savidge Players will open in the rural comedy-drama, "The Parson's Romance," the play that gave such genuine satisfaction on its earlier presentation here. The company will change their play and vaudeville features each night. Band concerts and free feature acts will be given on the streets both afternoon and evening. The little ones and grown ups can ride on the merry-go-round and the ferris wheel, also visit the animal show, the glass blowers and the other attractions. Be sure and bring the children. Don't forget the dates, Oct. 19 to 23, inclusive.

At an election held at Stanton last week James Pile was elected to the office of lieutenant of Co. G. of 4th regiment N. N. guards Mr. Pile is an energetic member of the company, and will fill the office with credit.

School Notes

The freshmen gave their first rhetorical program before the high school last Friday morning. The theme, was "Travel" and proved highly entertaining and instructive. Ralph Carhart reviewed the development of the present railroad system, describing the most important improvements in equipment. O. T. Conger gave a personality sketch of some of the men instrumental in bringing railroad transportation to its present high state of efficiency. Margaret Mines read a very interesting paper describing the wonders of the Yellowstone park as they impressed her on her recent trip. Joe Ringland delighted the school with a violin solo rendered in his usual artistic style. The high school upper classes thoroughly appreciated the efforts of the freshmen and look forward with pleasure to their future programs.

In the absence of a speaker for the usual weekly address to the high school last Friday, Professor O. R. Bowen spoke on the "Life and Work of Nebraska's Most Distinguished Citizen." He prefaced his remarks with the statement that perhaps comparatively few know who he is as the choice was only recently made by a vote by the committees of representative Nebraskans appointed by the governor for that purpose. That the choice should have fallen to a quiet, unassuming teacher is no doubt a matter of surprise to many who may not have followed the work of Professor Lawrence Bruner of the University of Nebraska. Mr. Bowen reminded the school of the fact that Mr. Bruner is a northeast Nebraska product, having grown to manhood at West Point. Mr. Bowen's talk was full of interest and the students will be glad to have him appear often in the capacity of lecturer.

Last Thursday Mr. Walter Weber conducted the forty-one pupils of the fifth grade through the roller mill. The engine room, wheat cleaning, grinding, bolting, purifying, filling and sewing of sacks were items of interest which Mr. Weber explained as best he could above the din of the machinery. Last, but not least, the crowd was weighed, their total weight being 2900 pounds. The class heartily voted it an enjoyable and profitable visit.

Indications are that a large number of the public school teachers will attend the teachers' meeting at Emerson Saturday. As the teachers have decided not to attend the Nebraska state association the first week in November it is especially desirable that as many as can should be present at the Emerson meeting.

The pupils in the sixth grade are taking a lively interest in providing plants for their room. Bonnie Moran, a member of this class reentered school Monday after an absence on account of his recent injury. Marviline Norton of this class has moved with her parents to Minnesota.

High school boys to be eligible to a place on the football team must have a passing grade in at least three subjects for the preceding week.

C. L. Anderson, representing the W. M. Welch Manufacturing Co., visited the school Tuesday. He was formerly superintendent of schools at O'Neill, Ord and Oxford.

Leonard Gamble entered the fifth grade Monday. He comes from the public schools of San Pedro, California.

The sixth grade is enjoying the reading of "Tik-Tok of Oz" during the opening exercise period.

Mesdames Frank Gaertner and William Andressen visited the sixth grade Monday.

The football team is planning to play Laurel Friday evening after school.

Ruth Baughan is a newly enrolled pupil in the second grade.

Mrs. J. Felber visited the eighth grade yesterday.

Social Notes

Tuesday evening Mrs. Arthur Norton acted as hostess to fourteen lady friends at a seven o'clock, three-course dinner in honor of Miss Pearl Hughes which was served at the home of Miss Ethel Huff. The dining room and table were tastefully decorated in pink and white. The centerpiece was in the form of a large pink and white cake, and after the second course Miss Hughes was asked to cut the cake to which she very gladly consented, but was much surprised to find that it contained several packages of various descriptions. In order not to disappoint her, the hostess brought her a delicious angel food cake which was very prettily served to the other guests. The ladies then passed into the parlor where Miss Hughes sought to make known what the packages contained. After several minutes of unwrapping she learned that she had been showered with seventeen pair of hose from those present, and other out-of-town friends. At an early hour the guests departed for their respective homes, all assuring the hostess that they had spent a very pleasant and enjoyable evening.

Monday evening a very delightful social gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hughes, the occasion being a surprise on Miss Pearl Hughes by the young people of the Baptist church. It was in the nature of a farewell for Miss Hughes, who leaves Wayne in a short time for her new home in the west. Over twenty of the young people gathered there and in different ways showed their appreciation of the life and work of Miss Hughes, who has been most useful in the work of the young people. Some time was spent with games and music, after which dainty refreshments were served. At the close of this the pastor, on behalf of the young people, presented Miss Hughes with a beautiful cut glass bowl and plateau. Miss Hughes, with appropriate words, responded to this token of friendship. She has filled a large place in the work of the church, and she leaves a host of friends in Wayne.

Mrs. Davies and Mrs. Blair were joint hostesses at a one o'clock luncheon Monday, October 4, at the home of Mrs. Blair, when the Aeme club held their first meeting of the year. The tables and rooms were decorated with autumn leaves and flowers. After the delicious three course luncheon, which was enjoyed by all present, Mrs. Bressler, the president, called the club to order and the following program was given. Roll Call, Summer Notes, California Expositions, club. The summer experiences of the members were very interesting and the description of the California expositions as given by Mrs. Mines and Mrs. Davies, who were there, was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Peters a guest of the afternoon was made an honorary member. Club adjourned to meet in one week with Mrs. Bressler.

The Royal Neighbors celebrated the close of their member-getting contests, Tuesday evening, with a banquet. The net gain during the two contests was forty-five new members, one transfer and one social became a beneficial member. The camp won a $15 prize offered by the Supreme Board of Managers for securing fifteen beneficial members in a given time. We still have reduced rates and another cash prize offer is made to all local camps. About seventy-five were present Tuesday evening and an enjoyable hour was spent, after the business session. Watch for the notice of their next meeting.

Miss Mable Gossard was hostess at a most helpful session of the bible study Saturday night. Miss Emma Abbott was the leader of the lesson. Mrs. Claude Ferrell will entertain the Circle Saturday evening.

The U. D. club met with Mrs. Ray Reynolds last Monday afternoon. Members answered to roll call with summer reminiscences, after which a covered dish luncheon was served.

Mrs. C. O. Fisher entertained the Bible Circle Tuesday afternoon and the lesson study proved very profitable. The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. B. Young.

The Monday club meets with Mrs. Bowen, Monday afternoon.

Death of Mrs. Graff

Mrs. Wilhelmine Charlotte Graff died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Damme, Friday, October 1, 1915, from troubles incident to old age, at the age of 83 years, 10 months and 11 days.

She was born December 20, 1831, at Hinter Pommern, Germany. In 1858 she was united in marriage to John Schudt, and came to America five years later, stopping in Missouri, and three years later (1866) her husband died. In 1871 she was united in marriage with Jacob Graff, who passed away in 1911, since which time she has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Damme, her daughter. Six children, three sons and three daughters were born to her and all are living except one daughter.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. Rudolph Moehring at the German Lutheran church Monday afternoon, following a short service at the home. A large number of relatives and friends from the neighborhood southwest of Wayne followed the body to its last resting place, showing the sorrow of her friends and their sympathy for the bereaved family.

Hans Ott went to Omaha Tuesday to look over the offering of feeders and see if they are priced low enough for him to indulge in the exercise of feeding a bunch this winter without it costing him too much for the sport.

John Heeren near Carroll held the first farm sale of the season last Thursday, and one who attended said that prices averaged good, but he thought they would have been better had the fate of the corn crop been less uncertain.

Mrs. J. T. Baughan from Lincoln, accompanied by her daughter Ruth, came last week to visit her son, here, J. T. Baughan. She thinks Wayne a pretty place, and admires many of the fine residences and the high school building especially.

What has become of the boxelder bug so thick a year ago? Too much wet for them to thrive. At the close of some warm, dry summer they will be here again. Winter does not seem to put them out of business, but this rain water has them on the go.

Donald Rasdall, who has been employed in the German store for the past three months, returned to his home at Homer Saturday, resigning on account of poor health. This will doubtless make an opening for some good salesman in the near future.

Mrs. Nora Osborn and children arrived the first of the week from California to make their home again in this part of the world. She is the daughter of Mrs. J. S. Gamble and will visit there for a time until Mr. Osborn joins them some time later.

The winter wheat crop of Nebraska for the year 1915 totals more than sixty-seven million bushels. This is three million in excess of the record crop of 1914. Hamilton county is the banner county for production, with more than three million bushels to her credit.

Dan'l McManigal from south of Wayne went to Omaha Saturday afternoon, declaring his purpose to listen to the great preacher Sunday or some other day. Mrs. McManigal left Tuesday from Winsor on a trip to the west coast, where she will visit the expositions and friends. She plans to return by a southern route and visit a daughter in Texas.

H. V. Cronk of Waterbury had the misfortune to have unfavorable weather and worse roads the day of his hog sale, September 28, and as a consequence those who attended the sale picked up some bargains. His offering consisted of 50 head of Duroc Jersey boars, young and old. The top was $55.00 with an average of $26.75. If those who wish to purchase breeding stock would attend the sales when weather is against them they might secure better bargains. Those who attended this sale were fortunate, for Mr. Cronk is known as one of the breeders who produces quality.

Mayor J. E. House of Topeka, Kansas, who is also a newspaper writer, being criticised for his newspaper English, calls his critic by challenging him to a contest in which each contestant shall write 1,000 words on some subject to be suggested 15 minutes before the contest starts. The mayor agrees to finish in an hour but allows his opponent the handicap of an extra half hour to complete his article. The challenge will probably not be accepted, and, if it is, the critic will doubtless be badly worsted. Few people realize what a variety of subjects the newspaper writer has to handle, or under what pressure he works. Preparing copy for a newspaper and leisurely composing an essay are two different propositions and the wonder is that newspaper English is as good as it is. However, writing for a newspaper is splendid practice for anyone, and we believe it would be a good thing if all our students could do some writing of this kind—under the inexorable supervision of the editor's blue pencil—Hartington Herald.

Henry Kay went to Sioux City Monday, accompanied by Fred Larsen. Mr. Kay went to select a wheel chair for his little son who is just recovering from infantile paralysis. He says the little fellow has a partial paralysis of one leg, and he has hopes that he may recover pretty fair use of that in time.

Mrs. Coleman of Leigh, who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. T. McInerney, left Monday morning with Miss Agnes McInerney to visit at St. Louis. Mr. McInerney went as far as Omaha with them, and remained there a few days to attend the Ak-Sar-Ben and listen to the preacher.

J. J. Ahern was called upon to go to Chicago Monday to hurry up the people who are making cloaks for his store. The supply was not equal to the demand, and they needed a little hustling up at the factory. He did think of talking to them over the wireless telephone, but the wind was wrong for the reply to come this way distinctly. Then he had some other engagements for the trip, both going and returning.

There are no new cases of infantile paralysis at Wayne, and those who were in quarantine are now out and the children doing nicely. One new case in the country nine miles northwest of Wayne was quarantined last week, the August C. Jacobson home, their 15-year-old son having a light attack. Both legs and one arm were affected, but he is reported to be doing nicely, and there is strong hope that he will be but little, if any, inconvenienced after a few weeks.

O. E. Wood, organizer for the Farmer Union, is said to be agitating the plan of forming a township school district in Blaine precinct in Antelope county, about ten miles northwest of Neligh. Mr. Wood may be able to organize farmer unions and thrive at the business, but we venture the guess that if he goes to meddling with the school system of a precinct, to form a consolidated school he will have a war started at once that will keep him going some for a few months—yet some one should move in such matters, for ultimately it is coming to that, or some system other than the one we now have. He has the advantage in this work of being among home people, and also the sanction of the governor of the state to thoroughly investigate the matter.

Librarian's Report

for the month of September. Number of books loaned—Adults, 458, Children, 258, Total 716. General average 32.12, German books 5, Magazine 116, new readers 14.

Sam Davies presented to the library, for one year, the St. Louis City Journal.

Books presented to the library by Mrs. N. Williamson: The Revolt of Sundaramma, by M. J. Elmore; India, Malaysia and the Philippines, by W. F. Oldham; Ping Kna, A Girl of Cathay, by Rachael R. Beirn.

Miss Charlotte Larison gave the following list: Past and Present, Thomas Carlyle; The Silver Cross, S. R. Keightley; Palace Beautiful, Mrs. L. T. Meade; Miss Milne and I, Mannington Caffyn.

Donald Miller presented this list of books: Columbus and the Discovery of America; Paul Prescotts Charge, H. Alger Jr.; Bunny Boy and Grizzly Bear, L. Smith; The Young Fur Taker, G. Rathbourne; The Little Lame Prince, Miss Mulock; The Boy Spy; J. O. Kerbey; Scissors Pictures, Ethel E. Barr; Moore Goops, Gelett Burgess, Librarian.

The State of Trade

Bradstreet says it is better and improving. There is more snap to it. Iron and steel buying better at home and war orders are also in evidence. Cotton and cotton seed are higher in price. So, too, are prices on lumber, iron and steel. There is a scarcity of labor in some industries. Stock market is active, farmers are holding wheat, and bank clearings show heavy gains.

Of the crops the reports are summed up as follows:

Every day that passes without killing frost makes the prospect for the corn crop better, but the plant is very green, and the prospect is for a good deal of soft corn. The crop is about matured in the central west and east, but northern Illinois and most of Iowa need two weeks of warm, dry weather.

Winter-wheat threshing reveals good yields of varying quality. Spring-wheat threshing has been delayed by rains, both in the northwest and in Canada.

Excessive rains have hurt potatoes in parts of the northwest. The crop in Aroostook county, Me., will be smaller than for some years past.

The editor of the Craig News, after digging up statements handed him by the business men of his village which ranged "all the way from the cheapest lithographed blank headings to the punched blanks on which a rubber stamp had been used," stuck them back in the pigeon hole and refrained from saying anything detrimental about the catalogue houses. After spending his hard earned dollars with business institutions that send away for their stationery, he declines to offer the "farmer any cheap advice as to where to buy their goods."

It is bad enough to pay your honest debts when the bill is presented on a home-printed statement but for the printer to take one of those "job lot" things from a person who never even so much as asked the price at a home office, is hard to do and keep smiling.

An estate estimated at $25,000 was left by the late Judge William H. Munger, of Fremont, for eighteen years judge of the United States district court for the district of Nebraska. His will left the entire estate to his wife. The will is dated October 12, 1914, and includes the following:

"As my entire estate will be no more than necessary to afford my beloved wife a suitable living, I make no provision for any of our children, having full confidence that my beloved wife will render them any assistance they may require, in her power to give, and make suitable provision for each of them upon her death."

Going the Limit.

"What foolish things a young fellow will do when he is in love."

"Yes. Some of them go as far as to get married."—Kansas City Journal.

Eating Asparagus.

Mr. G. K. Chesterton does not like the modern way of eating asparagus. "Excluding cannibalism," he writes, "and the habit of eating sand (about which I can offer no opinion), there is really nothing one can eat which is less fit to be eaten with the fingers than asparagus. It is long; it is greasy; it is loose and flabby to every sort of soft yet sudden catastrophe; it is always eaten with some sort of oily sauce, and its nice conduct would involve the powers of a professional juggler, combined with some practice in climbing the greasy pole. Most things could easily be eaten with one's fingers. Only this one tiresome, toppling vegetable I eat between my finger and thumb. I should be better off as a giraffe eating the top of a palm tree. It doesn't want any holding up."—London Chronicle.

Farm News and Notes

In this county the farmers neglected last winter to employ a farm demonstrator or agricultural agent, and in so doing, we think neglected an opportunity to add to their wealth. In Gage county with the aid of their agricultural agent they have discovered that one-fourth of the cows milked in that county are not profitable to milk—they do not pay their board—and the same is probably true in this county, but there is this difference. The Gage county farmers have learned by test which is the cow to dispose of, but the farmers here as a whole do not know. The Gage county farmers have 2,500 cows that are not paying their keep—and they know which ones they are, and they will be sent to the block for beef and the good ones kept. A few farmers in this county have a test for their different cows, and they are the ones who are making money from the cow.

A chance to homestead 160 acres of dry farming land in eastern Wyoming will be offered this month. One hundred and fifty thousand acres or approximately one thousand quarters will be thrown open for settlement under the homestead laws of the United States. 160 acres will be the limit of the filing. The land will be open Saturday, September 25th, for inspection and any one desiring to investigate the land may do so on and after that date, but no settlement on any of the land is permitted until after filing which can be done at Cheyenne, Wyo., on and after October 25, 1915. This land is located in eastern Wyoming, extending from Guernsey on the north to Platte on the southeast and south to Hawks Springs irrigation project. It practically all lays south of the river and is suitable for dry farming.

A farm survey has been made in Thurston county by the farm management organization of the county which demonstrates that the average farm investment in that county is $25,308. More than $22,000 of this is in lands and buildings; a little less than $2,000 is in stock; feed supplies not quite $500; machinery $360, and cash $147. The majority of the farms of the county are rented and in many cases the tenants own every thing except the land. It does not speak very well for the county that a condition exists which leaves such a large percentage of the farms in the hands of tenants. More small holdings by owners would be better.

The state will furnish free vaccine for blackleg, and calves should be treated at this time as the season for this disease is at hand. Instructions and the material for the vaccination may be had by writing to the college of agriculture at Lincoln, department of animal pathology.

The Farmer Union is to open a store at Neligh in the near future.

Carroll Stock Show

AND Domestic Art Exhibit

Wed., and Thurs., October 13-14

AT THE STOCK PAVILION

It is the purpose of this enterprise to show to the citizens of Wayne county and the world the possibilities of this community in the growing of fine stock and farm products, and exhibits will be made at this time in

Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Hogs and Poultry, and the Grain and Fruit Products of the farm, as well as Domestic Arts, such as baking, canned fruits, preserves, bread, cakes, pies, butter, and all manner of plain sewing and fancy work by the ladies.

Premiums given for the best exhibits. NO ENTRANCE FEES CHARGED except from prize winners. But $1.00 a pen will be charged those showing stock for sale purposes only.

The farmers and citizens of Carroll and vicinity can and do produce live stock and all products of the farm and home equal to the best in this or any other state, and it is for the purpose of inviting the public to see what we are doing along this line that this great show is inaugurated. One of its missions is to show one-half the people what the other half are doing—we know too little of our own possibilities.

Plan to attend and learn what your neighbors are doing—see what you may and show what you have accomplished—help your neighbor and let him aid you by an exhibit that will show to the world the possibilities of our home community—It will make it a better and richer place.

Old General Prosperity

Apologies to James Whitcomb Riley
Old General Prosperity's come to our town to stay; the local merchant's all are glad, now trade has come our way; there was a time when money vanished from us like a fog; "Enclosed find check, for which please send... as per your catalogue". We had the same goods right at home; our prices, too, were right, and none saw the light; out of town concerns had methods that we didn't know about—the mail order firms'll git you, if you don't watch out.
Once we had a citizen who wasn't very wise; he kept the General Store, but would not advertise. His groceries and drygoods, an' his butter and eggs too, hardware and his boots and shoes were good, but no one knew; and so we spent our money where it didn't help a bit to make the town a better one; to make us proud of it; the big city got the profit, and we merchants what were we about? The mail order firms'll git you if you don't watch out.

This citizen at last woke up and advertised his goods, an' all others followed suit and came out of the woods and they helped their town paper which had always done its share to boost the town and help to put it on the map somewhere. An' the paper it helped them in turn, an' people came to buy, and found that money spent at home makes old Depression fly, and unless this mutual spirit kinda hovers all about, the mail order firms'll git you if you don't watch out.

Boys Win Prizes

Clarence Wilde, 10 years of age, residing at Genoa, took first prize in all three of the classes offered by the Nebraska state fair to members of the Nebraska pig club. Walter Briggs of Seward and George R. Hayes of Raymond were also awarded prizes. Members of the pig club must be not less than 10 nor more than 18 years of age. They must care for the pig or pigs, record the feed given, give a statement of the weights and the rate of gain and prices of feed. In awarding the prizes the judges allowed forty points for the best hog with respect to the purpose it was to serve; fifteen points for the best daily gains on the hog; twenty-five points for the cheapest cost of production, and twenty points for the best kept records.

The Iowa newspapers these days are so busy naming a governor that they can scarcely sleep nights.

If every rich man, woman or child could be compelled to go out for one year and make a living by their own efforts there would be a lot more charity in the world for those who have not from those who have.

Try to work the Allies loan method on your grocer. If you owe him $100 go to him and ask to borrow $200 to pay him off and agree to trade the extra hundred out with him. When he asks for security tell him you have none, but you will pay him cash with his own money.—Petersburg Index.

It now develops that Cummins of Iowa made such a straddle in 1912 that neither side dare trust him as a candidate in 1916. The two horses trying to carry the republicans to victory in that campaign went too nearly in the opposite directions for even Cummins to ride them both at the same time all the way.

That $500,000,000 loan is about all subscribed and no one invited us to subscribe a penny. But they had to bid up pretty well to get it through that way. The bonds were sold at 96 1/2 cents on the dollar and as they draw 5 per cent that makes a pretty good investment—if it comes back so they do not have to foreclose.

Another victory has been won by the Administration at Washington. Germany has disavowed the sinking of the Arabic by her submarine, expresses regret and agrees to pay indemnity. Thus it is again proven that the "pen is mightier than the sword." It is just as well to settle these questions before war as after, so long as they are always settled by the same method in the end.

Down at New Orleans where the people were nearly drowned by a storm a few days ago, water was one of the things sent to them by the relief committee which furnished supplies. The kind of water with which they were ducked was not the kind that one would enjoy drinking—if the people of that city drink water—for it blew in from the sea, the briny deep.

Chicago is to go dry Sunday for the first time in 40 years, and the liquor dealers are howling about it to beat the band—40 years of uninterrupted law breaking, they think should give them rights for the next 40 years, but perhaps it does not. If we were in that business in Chicago or elsewhere we would be pretty good and obey the law quietly, otherwise there will be a law which will simply close them seven days in the week—even in Chicago. In fact inside of 20 years we predict that there will be no saloons in this country conducted along the lines they are now run. They will have to reform greatly or they will be closed. Liquor will be bought, sold and used, but not through such places as the saloon as it is and has been in the past.

...Porcelain Gowns...

When an anterior tooth is so badly decayed that it can no longer be filled and the root is sound, it can still be saved. The tooth is cut off to the gum line, a silver platinum pin fitted into the rot, and a porcelain tooth selected to match the adjoining teeth. This is then cemented to place.

This restoration is permanent, and if well done, can not be detected as artificial.

T. B. HECKERT, Dentist
20 Years in Wayne

The sleepy people in some of the smaller cities and towns where the common barnyard rooster is not extinct, have discovered a way to keep the father hen from disturbing their slumber until daylight at least. Some bright one of the crowd who are blessing the man who invented sleep and cursing the fellow with curses loud and deep who discovered early rising, noticed that his rooster never crowed without stretching his head up to his full height, and forthwith fixed a board shelf over the roost so that the chanticleer would bump his pate every time he attempted to crow.

The editor of the Sioux City Journal has the political situation all laid out, and makes it look very plausible. According to the Journal the next congress will (or should) restore the tariff on sugar and add a bit of duty to wool as a revenue measure—not as a protective measure, and thus secure the necessary money to run the government and at the same time please the planters of the south and close the mouths of the republicans who are going to holler for more tariff tax if they have a chance. It is possible that the administration might do worse than to take this advice.

If memory serves right it is about a score of years since W. W. Astor packed his bandbox and moved over to England—because the government here, under the protection of which he had made his millions, was going to ask a small percentage of his income to apply on the running expenses of the government. Now he would no doubt be glad to pack up and move again, for the home of his adoption is asking an even one-third of all his rents in the form of an income tax to help finance the war. Well, let him stay there, and we from this side of the pond will let him pay the income to pay us in interest on the bonds of his adopted country.

We notice that quite a number of our exchanges ran the advertising of an Omaha department store last week. The Democrat rejected the advertising for the reason that we did not think it fair to the home merchant who carries an advertisement 52 times a year to let a competitor come in for just one issue at a season and time when the cream was all at the top and make the skimming. We could not feel that it was the right way to treat our best patrons. To be sure we could have been compelled to insert this advertisement, which was clean and legal, had the one asking the space insisted—as a common carrier of advertising of legitimate and fair business it could not have been rejected had it been demanded and the rate asked others had been tendered.

The prohibitory amendment which is to be voted upon in this state next fall is said to be a simple declaration against the sale of intoxicating liquors except for religious, mechanical and medicinal purposes. It should be neither endorsed nor condemned by either of the two great political parties of the state, for it should not be a party measure. Jones may favor its adoption and if his party oppose it he feels that he can not vote his party ticket without voting against a measure he believes to be right—and on other economic questions he feels that his party is right. It is not a party question and should not be made one, except by the prohibitionists. The voter who favors or opposes prohibition should be able to go to the polls and vote his sentiment on that question independent of any other and then abide the expressed will of the majority like a loyal citizen.

"We can't understand why some of the newspaper brethren in this locality are enlarging their papers," says Marion Bruce, in the Rolfe Arrow, "unless its to run more plate matter. We may take the wrong view of it, but it's our opinion that not over 5 per cent of the people read this plate matter, either on the inside or the outside. What the boys ought to be doing is to get control of their own publications and printing all at home, even if its only two pages. It isn't so much the size of a newspaper, as what's in it, that commends it to local readers".

The Democrat says, "Ames" to such sentiment. There is no worse monopoly, in our humble opinion, than the concern which furnishes the patent "guts" for the rural newspapers of this country. In this day of rural mail delivery and daily papers the average reader of the country newspaper has about as much use for the patent pages of a paper as a lot of fellows will have for an overcoat in the next world.

Athletics at The Wayne Normal

Increased interest in athletics at the Normal has been evident since the beginning of the week, at which time John J. Gross of Wisner assumed his duties as football coach. It is the aim of Mr. Gross in the few days still remaining before the first scheduled game, to get the team in readiness to meet Trinity college at Mizzou park, Sioux City, next Saturday afternoon. A large delegation from the school will accompany the team and see that the W. S. N. has proper inspiration during the contest.

Thus far the Normal has entered into contracts with four colleges for the season of 1915. Of this number the names of three were on last year's schedule, the home boys winning in every case by a decisive score. The Omaha University, scheduled for the big Thanksgiving game, met defeat last year by a score of 26 to 0; Bellevue, defeated in 1913 and again in 1914, will play Wayne this year on its home field; Trinity college, whose name appears first upon the schedule, met the Normal twice last year, getting out the first time with the short end of a score 26 to 0 and losing the second time with a score of 14 to 0. Trinity meets the Wayne squad for the third time next Saturday afternoon. That the approaching game is attracting attention in Sioux City, is evident from an item that appeared in the Tuesday evening Tribune, from which we quote the following:

"Stiff practice is the order for the football squad at Trinity college. Coach Parsons is working his men hard in preparation for Saturday's game at Mizzou park with the Wayne normal team. Defeats shown in last Friday's game will have to be remedied if the defenders of the blue and gray expect to come out of the fray victorious. Wayne is credited with having a very fast team this year.

"The local boys have two marks to wipe out this year against Wayne, as last season the Nebraska lads twice defeated Trinity by decisive scores. As was the case last year, Wayne comes on the Trinity schedule twice this year. In event that Coach Parsons' men win both games things will be evened up a little."

Mr. John J. Gross, recently elected football coach, has the Normal squad in training every evening from 3:45 to 5:30. He finds some excellent material and expects to develop a winning team.

Mr. Gross is a graduate of the law school of the University of Nebraska. He played on the first University team in 1914 and comes highly recommended by Coach Stiehm. In last year's Cornhusker the following information in regard to Mr. Gross appears below a quarter page halftone:

"John Gross, Guard, weight, 167"

"He had the grit, he had the speed, He had a wise old pate— The only thing that Johnny lacked Was just a little weight. Yet, often, he squirmed through a thousand pound wall, And stopped, in his tracks, the man with the ball."

Some Late News Notes

President Wilson announced yesterday his engagement to wed Mrs. Norman R. Galt of Washington. The date of the wedding is not fixed, but it is thought it will be early in December. The bride to be is said to be a most excellent woman. In this as in other grave questions the Democrat is willing to leave much to the good judgment of our president, and surely wishes that happiness may come of the union.

Greece is still on the ragged edge. The king and many of the people are for war as an aid to the Allies, but the queen, a sister to the ruler of Germany, appears to be able to thwart their plans for the time. There is much speculation as to results, and whether or not the Greeks and Roumanians will remain neutral.

On the great battlefields, east, west and south mighty armies are locked in death struggles for supremacy. At times the advantage is reported with one and then with the other. Certain it is that neither side has made any great gain or signal victory. It is still in the balance, and the day of settlement is not in sight.

Bulgaria has at last plunged into the war, as aid to Germany, Austria and Turkey.

Among the Churches of Wayne

Methodist Church

(Rev. A. S. Buell Pastor)

We are at the beginning of a new conference year and we trust that it will prove to be a year of the greatest possible good to the greatest possible number. At the services last Sunday morning the choir introduced a processional which was something of an innovation for Wayne. It is truly a great satisfaction to begin another year with so competent and efficient a choir. The pastor can always be assured that the musical part of the program will be first class and on time. Not once during the past year was the organist absent or tardy and the leader and choir members have been equally dependable.

The Sunday school under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Phillips and Brother Wm. Beckenhauer has done splendid work this year and we still hope to do better work during the coming year. The infantile paralysis has kept the little folks away for a few Sundays but that scare seems to be over now and we hope to see all the little folks back next Sunday.

The Epworth League is well organized and the young people expect to carry out a full program in all departments of the League work this year.

The Ladies Aid society, the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, the Woman's Home Missionary societies all did splendid work last year. The Methodist Brotherhood had charge of several public programs during the year much to the delight and profit of the people; they did not work the devotional and social departments of the organization. We shall be glad to see the men active in these other departments of the work this year.

The pastor is outlining a course of sermons which will be ready to announce a little later, but is not quite ready for this weeks notes.

We had very appreciative audiences both morning and evening last Sunday. A goodly number of strangers were present at the evening service. There was a splendid attendance of young people at the Epworth League devotional meeting Sunday evening. All of the regular services next Sunday morning with preaching at 10:30 and 7:30 by the pastor.

Presbyterian Church

(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

The Rally Day program will be given next Sunday at 10:45. The program, in part, is as follows:

The Banner of Christ.

1. Opening song, "The Banner of Christ."
2. Prayer, followed by the Lord's Prayer, in concert.
3. Scripture reading—Old Testament—New Testament.
4. Singing and other special exercises, by Beginners', Primary and Junior departments.
5. Singing by the entire school, "Sound the Battle Cry."
6. Brief addresses or reports from representatives of the different departments so far as they exist in the school:—Mrs. J. Woodward Jones, Mrs. Wm. Morris, Mr. W. R. Ellis, Mr. E. Bernshine, Mrs. D. W. Noakes.
7. Singing by the entire school, "Up! Rouse You! Soldiers."
8. Missionary exercise, "Brothers of the Flag," Intermediate.
9. Singing by the entire school, "We've a Story to Tell."
10. Rally Day greeting or address from the superintendent.
11. Offering for Missionary work among foreign immigrants.
12. Report of the secretary of the school regarding attendance.
13. Singing by the entire school, "Tell it Wherever You Go."
14. Benediction.

The Ladies Aid will meet on Wednesday at the usual hour with Mrs. J. J. Williams. Work will be provided. The ladies are preparing to do a much needed service in adding to our church plant and equipment.

The Missionary society plans a church dinner to be held at the church next Thursday. Bring well filled baskets and come and have a good time. A Missionary offering will be received, be prepared for that. The regular meeting of the society will be held in the afternoon.

Baptist Church

(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor)

From the standpoint of the weather, Sunday has been our unfortunate day. It is always good to know that regardless of the weather conditions, the faithful number will be present. Though after all, church going is very much of a habit. Excuses are many for not attending church worship, but real reasons are few. Excuses are what people create to justify actions they know are not right. If church going is a habit it would do you good to build it into your constitution, because of its value to your own life, your children's interests and your neighbor's welfare.

"Soul Conviction" will be the subject of the sermon Sunday morning. There is something lacking in many a christian's life. It is a deep conviction of the truthfulness of truth.

"Building a Kingdom" is the theme for the evening sermon. Jesus found a field, he gave his life to transform it into a Kingdom.

At 6:30 the young people will meet. Let every young person of the church put forth an effort to make this meeting worth while. It offers a great opportunity.

Prayer meeting at 7:30 Wednesday evening. Here is where your soul comes in touch with spiritual building material.

Tomorrow afternoon the Prayer circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Abbott, with Miss Elsie Gilbert as leader. Last week the circle had a fine meeting, in the country, west of town at the home of Mrs. Hawes.

Let us all help make the next two weeks significant in our church life.

German Lutheran Church

Rev. Moehring, Pastor

Next Sunday, Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Preaching at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon the pastor will preach at Winside at 3 o'clock.

To Farmers of Wayne and Vicinity

You will notice in this issue, an advertisement of a public land sale which will be held at Long Pine, Nebr., on Thursday, Oct. 14, 1915.

Many people of this vicinity have no conception of the opportunities there are in and around Long Pine, Nebr., for anyone who is inclined to want to go into the live stock or farming business. The most of the land around Long Pine, is of a very dark sandy loam, and is among the most productive land to be found in the United States. Land there that compares in quality with the best land in Wayne and Cuming counties can be bought at from $35 to $60 per acre, and while it is a little farther from the river, yet there is the best of railroad facilities, and a man does not have to have a fortune to own his own farm, in fact, he can own one of his own, and just as good, much cheaper than he can rent the high priced land.

Many farmers living in this territory have seen their land grow in value from almost nothing to where it is today, and the land referred to above is just as sure to do likewise as a few more years roll around.

You fellows who are paying high price rent, had better take a few days off and run up and look the situation over.

It will pay you to go up and attend this auction sale of 960 acres close to town on Oct. 14th, whether you care to buy or not.

Never in the history of the world was there a better chance for the renter and the farmer with limited capital to own his own place, and himself, soon become one of the retired farmers who can take it easy the rest of his life.—adv.

Notice to Non-Resident Defendants

To CORNELIUS McGREEVEY, ADMINISTRATOR of the ESTATE of FRANK UEDING, DECEASED, CHRISTINE UEDING, JOSEPH UEDING, SOPHIA UEDING, PAULINA UEDING, IDA UEDING, ANTONE UEDING, and the INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY of AMERICA, non-resident defendants:

You, and each of you, will take notice that P. D. Corell, as plaintiff, filed his petition in equity in the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, on the 10th day of September, A. D., 1915, against you, and each of you, impleaded with Minnie B. Reynolds, formerly Minnie B. Hamilton, the object and prayer of said petition being to foreclose a certain real estate mortgage given by Frank Ueding on October 8th, 1907, conveying the East 50 feet of the West 100 feet of Lot 1, in Block 7, of the original town of Winside, Nebraska, said mortgage having been given to secure the payment of a certain promissory note of even date therewith, for the sum of $1,500 with interest thereon, from date, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum until paid, said mortgage being recorded in Book 35 of Mortgages, at page 264 of the records of Wayne County, Nebraska, said note and mortgage having been for a valuable consideration sold, assigned and transferred by the said Minnie B. Reynolds, formerly Minnie B. Hamilton, to the plaintiff, P. D. Corell, who is now the owner and holder of said note and mortgage. Default having been made in the payment of said debt, plaintiff prays for foreclosure of his said mortgage, for costs of suit, and general equitable relief.

You are required to answer said petition on or before Monday, November 22nd, A. D., 1915.

P. D. Corell, Plaintiff,
By Fred H. Free,
adv. 40-4 Attorney for Plaintiff.

Over Three Hundred Farmers Attend Meeting in Omaha

Farmers from every agricultural state in the union attended the annual meeting of the National Farmers Congress, held here last week. Delegates from Nebraska and Iowa were here with the largest delegations and were very active in the deliberation of the congress. More than three hundred registered. The distinct feature of the program was the moving pictures of Nebraska and Omaha which were shown Thursday afternoon. Dr. George E. Condra of the University of Nebraska showed various reels of the resources of the state and explained them with an interesting lecture. Moving picture reels of Omaha were shown by manager Parrish of the bureau of publicity.

H. VonSeggern and Fred Larson from south of Wakefield were at Wayne Tuesday to interview the commissioners of this county regarding a road which is to be established between this county and Thurston, along the county line in their country, and also to try to get a joint action by the boards of the two counties for a new bridge over the Logan. The bridge which now spans the river there is condemned as unsafe, and while used some people fear to cross it and make a wide detour to avoid it. Mr. VonSeggern tells us that this bridge has been there for 35 years, being the oldest in the county.

Paul Wagner's Great Offering of

Poland Chinas With Quality

To Be Sold In

Norfolk, Nebr., Wednesday, October 13th

Fifty-Two Head—2 Yearling Boars; 18 Fall Boars; 27 Spring Boars, 5 Spring Gilts. Absolutely Cholera Immuned.

Seven of the fall boars are by Big Jumbo 2d, a litter brother to McGath's Big Jumbo; 2 by the champion Big Tom, and 9 are by Big Wonder, a son of Fessenmeyer's A Wonder. The yearling boars are by Big Joe, Fessenmeyer's boar, and Big Tom. The spring boars are by Big Jumbo 2d, Big Joe's Wonder, King of All, King of Wonders, Nebraska Wonder, Fairview Wonder, Britchett's A Wonder, Big Ursus, Equality Chief and Big Wonder by A Wonder. The dams of this offering are sired by Big Timm, The Big Orphan, Columbus, Big Orange, Mow's Black Orange, A Wonder, Big Tom, Long Wonder and Long King's Equal.

Look over the above breeding carefully. Where will you find as many Thousand-Pound Champions represented in one sale?

The offering is growthy and in fine condition. There are many outstanding boars in this sale. Of these you should note carefully 5 Big Jumbo 2d fall boars that are litter mates to the fine pen of show sows that this herd won on at the State Fair this fall. Also 2 spring boars by Big Jumbo 2d and out of a big Timm dam that are good ones; 3 fall boars out of a Long King's Equal dam that are hard to beat; and others of the same breed character and big type that makes this offering one of the best this season. This sale should be looked upon as one of the important events in the pure bred business in that section of Nebraska and breeders and farmers should turn out well. If you cannot attend the sale, send your bids to O. I. Purdy, representing the Nebraska Farmer.

?? QUESTIONS ??

How Can We Economize?

You can do so by using Wayne Superlative Flour.

How?

Store your milling wheat at the Wayne Roller Mill.

Why?

You will receive 30 lbs. of Wayne Superlative and 10 lbs. of bran for a bushel; or 33 1-3 lbs. of Wayne Superlative and no bran.

Where Does the Economy Come In?

Three bushels of good dry milling wheat will get you 100 pounds of Wayne Superlative. If such wheat is worth 85c per bushel. Three bushels would cost you $2.55. Can you beat it for Economy?

If you have no wheat, let us buy it for you, store it with us, and use the flour as you need it. The European war is still on. Can anyone foretell where prices will go?

There are those who almost envy the early settlers and pioneers of this county who now have ample competence, comfortable homes and broad rich acres at their command, because they had the foresight to look ahead and secure a farm in this county where values have mounted until those who come later feel that prices are so high they cannot chance buying for fear they will drop or not go higher. These men should read the advertisements of the Democrat today. They tell of opportunity—not as good, perhaps as has been had here, but as good or better than this appeared to most people but a score of years ago. You might have to undergo some hardships—you will if you remain here—but look at the prospective reward and read carefully.
The Mrs. U. M. E. Tharp property in the west part of the city was sold at auction Saturday to settle the estate, and was purchased by Dr. J. J. Williams for $1,055. The property consists of a 7-room house and a quarter block of land, and was worth the price paid, and can be made much more valuable by grading and fixing a bit, for the lots happen to be a little low, especially for the wet season.

Public Land Sale

2 miles east and 2 miles south of Long Pine, Nebr. Thursday, October 14, 1915

Sale will start at 1:30 p. m. In case of rain sale will be postponed until next day

On above date I will offer for sale at public auction the following described Farm, Ranch and Hay Land: All of Section 9 and north half of Section 15 in Township 29, Range 20. This farm contains 960 acres and lies just 4 miles from Long Pine, Nebraska. This place will be sold all in a body or in smaller tracts. This is a rare chance for any one wanting to go into the stock business or for any one who wants to make big returns on his investments.

Section 9 has, in addition to the cultivated land, at least 300 acres more that is good, smooth hard land and none rough. The soil is a very dark sandy loam and is very productive.
The north half of section 15 lies cornering section 9 and is used as a hay meadow.
On the north half of section 15 there are at least 200 acres of splendid hard farm land and only about 30 acres on the entire tract that is at all rough.
This is one of the greatest combination farm and stock ranches to be found in Nebraska and a splendid road to and from town, in a well settled neighborhood, and is the best equipped place for farming and stock raising in Northern Nebraska.

IMPROVEMENTS:
Section 9—All fenced and cross-fenced; 4 hog pastures; 20 pen stock yards; 2 wells and wind mills; good grove; 5 room residence; horse barn for 18 head; mow above; cattle barn 16x100; 2 granaries; corn crib; coal house; new wagon scales with cattle rack all complete; large lawn, well fenced; 7 acres splendid alfalfa, 100 acres in good state of cultivation.
LIVE STOCK:
There is on this place, about 200 head of cattle, 30 head of horses and mules and 100 head of hogs, which will be offered at private sale to any one purchasing the farm.
IMPLEMENTS:
There is also a full supply of farm implements and hay tools which can be bought right if wanted.

Arrangements have been made for plenty of automobiles to furnish quick transportation. All people from outside will be taken out and brought back free.

Terms of Sale: $2000 cash on day of sale, $6000 March 1, 1916, when possession will be given. Balance on or before 5 years from date of sale with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. A discount of 5 per cent will be given on all cash paid March 1st over and above the $6000.

This place is being put up to sell and will positively be sold to the highest bidder.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills from Kansas come this evening to visit at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Stallsmith, and other relatives and friends here.

Among those who went to Omaha Wednesday to see the big carnival were C. W. Hiscox, Eli Laughlin and wife, Mrs. Ada Rennick, Mrs. Chas. Madden, and J. G. Mines.

The first load of new corn was sold at Neligh last week for feeding purposes, and was reported to be sound corn, but not dry enough to crib. The selling price was not given.

Miss Lulu Ross, who has been at Latham, Missouri, for the past 13 months, taking treatment, returns home today feeling improved in health. She stopped to visit at Omaha a few days.

Sam Davies went to Omaha Wednesday afternoon and is having a well-earned vacation until Friday. While in the city he will visit the daily paper offices, and listen to Billie if he has time.

Hennepin county, Minnesota, in which Minneapolis is situated, held an election Tuesday on the question of saloons or no saloons, and the wets claim to have won by from 5,000 to 8,000. The dries admit a defeat, and charge fraud.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clark returned Monday from southern California, where they have been since last winter. Mr. Clark thinks the climate there agrees with him better than here, especially in the winter, and it is his plan to return to that state before the winter here gets very cold.

Quite a serious accident happened in Leslie precinct Friday. An automobile met a team driven by Miss Rosa Gall, a daughter of Henry Gall, and the frightened horses crowded over and threw the buggy from a bridge, and Miss Rosa had an ankle broken in the upset. The automobile owner took her at once to a Pender physician and after the broken bone was put in place took her home again.

S. Taylor was called to Homer, Iowa, Wednesday by a message telling of the death of a brother at that place. He formerly lived there.

John Venneberg is putting a concrete floor in his barn, an improvement which will last many years if put in right and not used too soon after being put in.

John Stallsmith and wife went to Meadow Grove Wednesday and today are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Rouse, an old soldier friend of Mr. Stallsmith who is celebrating the 50th anniversary of his marriage.

Wm. Fehr, who lost a glove at Wayne two weeks ago and advertised for it without result, suggests that if the finder will meet him at the Democrat office he will either flip coppers for the two gloves or give the finder the mate to the one found, for one glove is of but little value in driving an automobile.

Henry Frevert and wife were called to Plattsmouth Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Frevert's cousin, Mrs. Louie Dose, who died at that place Monday night. On the train they were joined by her brother and sister, Ed. Behmer and Mrs. C. J. Fuhrman, from Hoskins, who accompanied them to Plattsmouth.

Any professional man is gratified when he learns that his work is recognized as of unusual merit by another of his profession. So when Wm. Beckenhauer received word from an undertaker at another city saying that a body shipped from here came to him in better condition than any he had received in 20 years experience, it is but natural that he feels gratified.

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. McMasters left Tuesday to visit at Omaha and Lincoln, where they have relatives and friends. They have been residents of Wayne but a few months, but Mrs. McMasters says she likes the town, and will like it better when they have been here long enough so that it will be their turn to get into a better residence than the one they now rent. That takes time at Wayne, we are sorry to say.

Mrs. Jacobson was taken to a Sioux City hospital Wednesday morning for care while waiting for the bone of her leg, just above the ankle, to knit. She had the misfortune to fall from a porch Tuesday afternoon at the home where herself and son live near Wayne, and made a bad fracture, one of the bones having been driven through the flesh. She is 82 years of age, and that means a slow uniting of the bones. Mrs. J. is nearly blind, and it is thought that she stepped from the porch accidentally, falling about two feet.

August Anderson, one of the employees of the railroad, had a close squeeze one day last week at New Castle, where the crew he was with were at work. As we understand, Mr. Anderson was standing on the steps of one of the cars in which the crew live when away from home, trying to close a door as the car was being moved out, when the car came to the elevator which was almost too close to the car to make it comfortable for Mr. A., but he thought "safety first" as the bump came and started to roll him between the car and the building, and he tightened his grip and hung on, hugging close to the car, and was soon out of the close quarters. He was pretty sore the next few days where the rubbing came the hardest, but was soon about as usual. He promises to look and see if a grain elevator is coming along next to the track before he again stays out to close the slide door on a moving car.

H. J. Miner read the Democrat last week when we quoted corn prospects as seen by a lot of blue farmers on a stormy day, and hitched up and came to town with a bunch of ears from his field which shows that he has some corn out of the way of the frost which came Monday night. Of a dozen ears he left at the Citizens bank a number would make good seed. We are glad that some one could show that the corn prospect is better than some of them predicted.

Those short velet collar overcoats and English style suits that Blair & Mulloy are showing for fall are beauties. Try one. adv.

Our breeder readers, if Poland China hogs are their favorites, should read and heed the sale advertisement of Paul Wagner of Pierce, which is to be held Wednesday the 13th, at Norfolk. Mr. Wagner has a splendid offering of the big kind of Polands with quality, the strains that are popular with all breeders—the kind that pay. Norfolk is but a comfortable automobile drive from this county, and our farmers should bring some of this good stock to their herds.

A new contest is being inaugurated at the Wayne Bakery this week which is calculated to get the little folks boosting for the "Best Yet" bread baked at that place for everybody. The boy or girl under 15 years of age who secures the most votes before 1 o'clock in the afternoon, December 24, will be given absolutely free a Juvenile Auto valued at $50. The editor saw this car, and knows it will appeal to all of the little folks, and a big contest will be waged. There will be more particulars later.—adv.

Gabe Wells is the man who makes old furniture as good as new—and better than a lot which you get in these days of high priced lumber and labor. Since coming to Wayne he has gone out into the barns and sheds and into the attics and found cast-off furniture which he has made over like new. He is equipped to upholster a piece of furniture as well as at the factory, and he carries some staple coverings in stock in the leathers and has a most complete sample line of tapestries, plushes and other popular cloths for upholstering furniture. The moral is plain—bring your cast off furniture, which needs new upholstery to him, opposite Union hotel, and have it fitted out at a little cost and put it back in the parlor again where it will make the catalogue house "bargains" look like 30 cents, or else tell us that this advertisement is a mistake.

KILLS DOURINE HORSES

Valuable Animals Slain by State Veterinarian in Hooker County.

J. D. Aaderson has returned to Lincoln after superintending the killing in Hooker county of twenty "dourine" horses and two glandered horses.

Hooker county, with Blaine, Thomas, Cherry and Grant, have been quarantined on account of horse diseases since last October, but the first killing took place last week. Dr. Anderson expects to find a hundred or more infected animals and kill them immediately, so that the quarantine may be raised within a month.

The dourine horses were appraised before being killed at $1,901.50, of which one-third, $633.83, is paid by the state and another third by the federal government. The state pays two-thirds of the value of glandered horses, while the owner stands the remaining third.

An Interesting Washington Letter

From S. B. Russell, Lakeside.
Frank O. Martin kindly gives the Democrat readers a chance to share with him the reading of an excellent letter from S. B. Russell, formerly county clerk for this county, and one of the best known citizens here a few years ago. Those who read the letter will hope to hear that he has improved in health and once more well. He tells of former Wayne people as follows:

My dear Frank:
"Your letter dated August 12th is before me. It should have been answered long ago but at the time I received it I was on the sick list and was knocked out for nearly two months and not able to be at the office. I assure you, however, that I was pleased to have a line from you and would enjoy having a long chat with you. But that is out of the question at present and the only way is to a few words dotted down on paper. I am just now able to do a little work and at best I can't do much any more as I am pretty badly crippled and suffer every day I live. What can't be cured must be endured and I try to be patient and not make those around me miserable by complaining. Well I hardly know where to commence writing. It has been fifteen years since I left Wayne and it does not seem very long either but the years are measured off quite rapidly. I will be 62 years old the 8th of October next should I live. So I am traveling along towards the final sunset. I note that your father is still living and has reached a ripe old age. I would love to have a visit with some of the old citizens that I knew for so many years.

Chas. Johnson and Uncle Henry Miller both have passed to their reward. Uncle Henry was 87 years old when he died. He was quite spry and did a lot of work for a man of his years until about three months before he died. He simply slid down the grade as if he was going to make a peaceful landing and did but little murmuring although he did not suffer much. His wife is still here and lives just across the street from us.

Mark Jeffrey and his family live in Santa Monica, California. Two of Mark's girls are married. The Nebraska people are getting somewhat scattered. The Richards, Guy and Ira, live in Waterville. Henry Goll also resides there. Henry has 1040 acres of land and threshed something over 22,000 bushels of wheat. He purchased a new combine costing him $4,500. I saw him dinking the other day with the tractor and he was cutting a swath of 33 feet. He will use the machine to plow with and will run 12 or 14 plows. Henry has a fine ranch and making money. The Gettman's are also over there; I saw the old gentleman when I was over as he was out making the boys a visit. Loebsock is also one of the big farmers. Mr. Benson who came out with us lives in Bremerton, Washington. Nels Grimsley lives in Seattle, and also Burdick.

My own family are getting scattered and all but one girl, the next to the baby, married. My baby girl lives in Deer Lodge, Montana, our oldest lives in Chicago and the rest live here. My son Doek has turned to ranching and he has two children, boy and girl. The girl is now going to school and the boy is only a few months old. My two other girls have each two children. One resides here and the other at Mansfield, in the big bend country. Only a couple of hours ride in the auto.

The Schultz's live in Waterville also. I don't know whether you remember the family or not. Mr. Schultz is Ira Richard's father-in-law. Mr. Schultz is very poorly and it does not look as if he will be here long. He has the consumption. Guy Richards has retired from work and his health is not good, having heart trouble.

Now Frank I think that I have given you a list of most of the people who came from Wayne. I like this country and it sure is a fine place to live. A very even climate, not subject to sudden changes as it is in the east. It has been very quiet here in the way of business the last two or three years. Guess this cruel and inhuman war perhaps is the cause. When it will end is an unknown problem. I still think that Germany will get a flogging but she is going to defeat and a great sacrifice. Would that the money could be spent in bettering conditions of mankind, instead of slaughtering the people and destroying property, and leaving a trail of misery and want.

Guess our man Bryan is going over to talk peace to those people but I am inclined to think that he has a big undertaking on his hands. I have but little faith in his winning out on this score. But he is the man that can put up a fine argument if they would but lend an ear and heed the words. I think when the war is over it will be the means of thinning down the crowned heads and they will have a long time to think over their foolishness. But I must slow down as I am consuming too much of your time and may exhaust your patience. Remember me to your good father and any others who may perchance have a faint recollection of me. So with kind regards to yourself and family and hope that I may have a chance to talk with you again in the near future. Very sincerely,

S. B. RUSSELL

Wheat Smut Control

Smut on wheat is said to cause the loss of millions of bushels. It is easily prevented, according to a bulletin of the United States department of agriculture. The smut frequently turns a bright prospect of wheat into a loss of the use of the land, the cost of the seed and expense of harvesting. We suggest that those who are sowing wheat this fall take the precaution of treating their seed, for it frequently means a crop or a failure. A full crop or perhaps 40 to 60 per cent of a crop. Below we give the formula for treatment.

Bunt or covered smut of wheat is one of the most easily prevented of any of the cereal diseases. The following is recommended: Run all seed wheat through a fanning mill in order to blow out the unbroken smut balls. This being done, the grain should be soaked ten minutes in a solution consisting of 1 pound of commercial formalin (obtainable at nearly all drug stores) added to 40 gallons of water. The seed thus treated is next allowed to drain and is then piled on the floor and stirred frequently until sufficiently dry to sow. If during this process the kernels have swollen very much, the drill should be set to sow a little thicker, else the quantity sown per acre will be less than was intended.

Recent experiments have shown that in certain sections of the country the soil of a field producing a crop of smutted wheat this year may harbor enough smut spores to cause the appearance of smut in next year's crop if the field be reseeded to wheat. This sometimes occurs where smut is very bad, in spite of the planting of treated seed, and shows that in such localities crop rotation should be practiced in addition to seed treatment. Bunt or covered smut of wheat attacks no other cereal crop, but other cereals have their own smut diseases.

Nebraska vs. Florida

Edward Stoner, who went from Bloomfield to Jensen, a coast town in Florida, writes an interesting letter back to the Monitor in which he does not paint the country as the poor man's paradise. He says that stock cattle do well, but hogs do not thrive well there—as he has two that are more than a year old and their combined weight is not more than 250 pounds. Fishing is quite an industry in the winter and some make it pay by being fitted with nets and boats. Of the truck farming he says that when they have a crop it costs all it will bring to get it to market and sell it—so they have the exercise. Work for wage is not plentiful, as the negroes supply the demand. The summer was hot and very wet and crops not much good. To grow a crop they must buy a fertilizer. This is the season of the year when they are planting their gardens, and the crop for harvest in our winter and spring months is just beginning to come up. He would be satisfied to be back in Nebraska.

State Bank of Wayne
Henry Coy, President

The World Wide War Trust

(From Congressional Record.)
United States Senator George T. Oliver, of Pennsylvania testified before the senate lobby investigation committee that he owned 1,000 shares of stock in the United State Steel corporation and held a "considerable" interest in copper mining. He testified he also owned 7,700 shares in the Pittsburgh Coal Co., and two news papers—the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times and the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Increased armament requires great quantities of both copper and coal.
The United States Steel corporation is the owner of the Carnegie Steel Co., which concern has obtained $32,000,000 worth of contracts from the navy department or armor alone, and other millions of dollars' worth of contracts for other materials used in the increasing of the army and navy.

On February 2, 1915, one of Senator Oliver's newspapers editorially asked:
"But what is meant by that resounding mouthful 'disarmament by the United States?' Isn't the fact that the United States is pretty well disarmed as matters stand? . . . There isn't much sense talking of the United States disarming before it is armed."

Get Ready to Pay in Earnest Now
Two billion dollars have been collected in 10 years from the men, women and children of our nation for militarism, a sum sufficient to dig the Panama canal, pay off the national debt, with enough left to defray for one whole year the entire expense of all the churches, including foreign missions, all the free schools, colleges, and universities in America.

And the end is not yet. The war traffickers have not finished reaping their harvest, they are just getting in good trim to make us pay the cost of militarism in real earnest. American people, listen to this little colloquy which occurred recently at one of the hearings of the Naval Affairs committee between representative Finly Gray, of Indiana, and Admiral Vreeland, a big navy booster:

Mr. Gray. "I wish to inquire of the admiral if it is not the policy of other governments to increase their navies with all the other leading powers?"

Admiral Vreeland. "It is, sir."
Mr. Gray. "What would be the advantage to us or any of the powers if the navies were increased equally by all the nations of the world? Would there be any advantage to us or to any other power?"

Admiral Vreeland. "Not if you mean in the same ratio."

Mr. Gray. "Would not the same grounds exist after an increase for a further increase?"

Admiral Vreeland. "It would seem so."

Mr. Gray. "There would be no advantage gained by any nation, then. How long could that be maintained, that even increase, and what advantage would it be to any nation?"

Admiral Vreeland. "If it continues to increase, the poorer nation will eventually exhaust itself, and then the other nations, the United States included, will have a free hand—I mean be free to build in accordance with the changed conditions."

Mr. Gray. "Then it is only a question of the limit of taxation?"

Admiral Vreeland. "Yes, sir." In other words, the only thing that the international war trust has to fear on the score of reduction of profits is the limit of the ability of men, women and children to keep on paying the ever and ever increasing per capita appropriation tax in the form of higher prices for food-stuffs and wearing apparel. This is certainly a bright prospect for the armor, powder, battleship and ammunition trusts. But for the tax payers the prospects are not so bright.

If the tax payers of the world want to escape being forced to pay higher and higher taxes until they get so high they simply can not pay them, there is but one thing to do, and that is for the people of all the nations to insist that their governments manufacture their own munitions of war.

If the millionaire and multi-millionaire war-trust magnates can not make huge profits in supplying the armor, guns, powder, and battleships, they will take the same attitude toward the wasting of public funds that the rest of us do.

According to the Butler county Press Billy Sunday might have had a larger following on the diamond than in the pulpit. At any rate the Press says that a special was run from Wahoo to Omaha Sunday to hear Sunday, and another left at about the same time to carry people to a base ball game at David City. The preacher got but 35, and the ball game 60.

Her Leap Year Privilege

How a Fortune
Was Lost.

By CLARISSA MACKIE

"Tum-te-tum, tum-te-tum!"
Angela Winton watched the little fingers wander uncertainly up and down the piano keys.
When the pupil had gone Angela closed the piano with a sigh of relief. Twenty years of teaching music had worn her nerves to a fine edge.
"I wonder if it will always be the same?" she thought as she went to open her letter box. There was a letter.

A little color flashed into her pale cheeks as she read the name in one corner of the business envelope:
JOHN T. CATESBY
Attorney and Counselor at Law
John Catesby was an old friend of Angela's, and she tore open the letter with a feeling of impatience at her swift conclusion that John's unexpected letter was in direct response to her query of the moment before. Very likely it had to do with the bridge club to which they both belonged. The letter read:

Dear Miss Winton—Please call at my office immediately, as I wish to consult with you concerning an important matter of business. Faithfully yours,
JOHN T. CATESBY.
"Dear me! I wonder what he wants to see me about? I may as well dress and go downtown now," she thought as she folded the letter.

An hour later Angela presented herself at Catesby's office. She was a small, timid looking woman with soft brown eyes and a wealth of glistening brown hair. Twenty years of battling with the world had made Angela bold of heart and unafraid, but the appealing look remained in her eyes.

An office boy took her into John Catesby's private office, and Catesby grasped her little gloved fingers in his large hand and forgot to release them for a moment.

"You wished to see me?" asked Angela, and, thus reminded, he drew forward a chair beside his own.
"Listen to this," he said in an odd tone, picking up an open letter:

Sydney, Australia, Jan. 18, 1915.
Dear Sir—Kindly inform my niece and only relative, Miss Angela Winton, that it is my intention to bequeath my entire fortune of $1,000,000 to her, provided she is married at the time of my death. She is the only old maid in the Winton family, and if she is still unmarried when the announcement of my death is made she will merely receive a small annuity, while the remainder of my estate goes to charity. As I am suffering from an incurable disease it behooves my niece to hasten to the altar.

JOSEPH HENRY WINTON.
"How utterly absurd!" cried Angela as rosy blushes invaded her smooth cheeks. "The very idea! He might as well cut me off with an annuity and be done with it!"

Another letter had been received by Catesby on the same subject. The lawyer had been a protegee of Winton, who had sent him to school, to college and had paid his way while he studied his profession. Winton never married, and, as stated in his letter, Angela was his only relative. He was very fond of her and had noticed what Angela had not even suspected, that his protegee loved his niece. He was in hopes that the two would make a match. In this event they would inherit his fortune together, and John would make a capital manager of the estate.

Finding that death was not far distant, he had written the two letters, the one intending to influence his niece, the other to advise Catesby of his desire to leave them his property jointly. In the one for John's private reading he had told him that it was his intention to place his niece in a position which would place Catesby in a position to marry her.

"Excuse me just a moment," said Catesby, rising. "I am called away on a matter of business."

He went into the outside office, where a client was waiting for a few words of advice, and Angela was left alone with her startled thoughts.
How glorious to be the owner of a great fortune! What bliss to travel, to have beautiful clothes, to help the needy!

How sordid it was to consider that she must marry and lose her freedom, but who on earth would marry her? Common sense told her that many unscrupulous men would embrace the opportunity to become the husband of an heiress.

From an adjoining office came the lowered voices of two stenographers.
"I saw the letter!" insisted one impatiently. "It said she must marry before he died or she would lose the money! The idea!"

"As if such an old maid could find a husband quick as a wink!" giggled the other. "Did you ever see such a little brown mouse of a woman?"

"I wonder if she knows it's leap year and she has the privilege of asking some man to marry her? It's her only chance to get the million, believe me!"

When Catesby returned to his desk he found Angela drawing down her veil. Through the filmy meshes her cheeks were pink and her eyes flashed dangerously. All Angela's fighting instincts were aroused. She must have that million at the price of her pride, at any price!

For the time avarice possessed her soul.

"And now, Miss Winton," smiled Catesby ruefully, "let us plan how we can agree to your uncle's eccentric proposition. Of course you do not want to lose a fortune."

"Of course not," said Angela crisply. "I shall not lose it, Mr. Catesby."

He stared at her.
"You mean that you are going to be married?" he asked.

Angela nodded.
"Then the matter is simplified," he said brusquely. "Perhaps you can arrange to be married immediately so as to gain the fortune. You may as well have it."

"Yes," said Angela mechanically. He opened the door for her.
"You will let me know at once?" he asked in such an altered tone that Angela flashed a glance at him. His face was pale and stern, and the friendly look was gone from his dark blue eyes.

It was almost as if he had guessed Angela's bold intention.
"I've got to—I've got to look out for the future," thought Angela all the way home.

That evening Angela sat and thought and thought of all the men she knew who were eligible. When she had weighed and sifted them and discarded the impossibles and the undesirables there remained but two—Roger Frame and Dr. Deering.

Roger Frame was a civil engineer, or, rather, an uncivil one—brusque and bad mannered, but withal a fine, strong character and a good friend.

"And," debated Angela, "it must be desirable to have one's husband a good friend as well."

Dr. Deering was her minister, the middle aged rector of her church.
"I will explain to them," thought Angela, with hot cheeks. "They will understand, and, as that office girl said, it is leap year. I am only taking advantage of my privilege."

The next morning Angela arrayed herself in her best frock, happily a new one of soft gray with a hat to match. The hat was trimmed with violets, and at her breast she pinned a bunch of the same sweet purple blossoms.

Who could guess the panic in Angela's heart when she stood before Roger Frame's office door? All her principles were in revolt, in arms against the fear that she would lose Uncle Joseph's money.

Facing Roger Frame in his private office, Angela's pale found refuge in hasty speech. Her words tumbled desperately from her lips.

Roger Frame's rugged face was gravely tender as he took her hands in his.

"You have done me such a great honor, Miss Winton," he said gently, "that I am proud of your confidence in me. But, you see, I've complicated matters by engaging myself to Mrs. Weed, but sit down and let us talk, it over."

Angela smiled bravely and shook her head. "I've another name on my list," she said hardily. "The rector."

"Dear lady," said Frame earnestly, "I wish you much joy and success in your quest. Dr. Deering is a good fellow, but I'd like to wring your uncle's neck for placing you in such a position!"

Angela's lip quivered. "If Mr. Catesby had only thought of some other way out of it," she said piteously.

"Catesby? He's the lawyer in the case?" asked Frame quickly.

She nodded. "You see, I must do something, Mr. Frame," and with one shamed look over her shoulder, she slipped out and closed the door upon a very angry man.

Roger Frame jerked the telephone receiver from its hook and called John Catesby's number.

Dr. Deering's reception room was bathed in mellow sunshine when a trim maid ushered an agitated Angela into the room.

"Dr. Deering is engaged at present," said the servant. "He will be at liberty in a little while."

Left alone, Angela could hear the frightened thumping of her heart.

There was the purr of a motorcar outside and the sound was instantly stilled. The rector had another visitor. Angela's courage waned rapidly. She had arisen in a panic when the servant ushered a man into the room with the same explanatory formula.

The man was John T. Catesby.

"Ah?" he cried quickly. "Have you seen him? Am I in time?"

"I haven't seen him yet," admitted Angela faintly.

"Then—then—" he stammered excitedly, "why not marry me, Angela? I love you. I want you for my wife." He held out his hands. Angela placed her trembling hands in his. "If I have to marry any one," she faltered, "I'm so glad it's you!"

He drew her closer.
"Suppose your uncle had never written you? Suppose there had been no fortune involved?" he whispered.

"Your love would have been riches enough," said Angela, her face against his and her pretty hat all crooked.

He smiled contentedly.

"Then you may read this," he said drawing a cablegram from his pocket. "It came half an hour ago."

It was from Sydney, Australia, and dated the day before. It announced the death of Joseph Henry Winton.

Angela would have drawn away from his arm, but he held her closely.

"And you come to me after that?" she asked.

"Didn't I say I loved you?" he retorted gruffly. "I've been screwing up my courage to tell you. Your becoming an heiress was a dash of cold water."

"But what shall we say to Dr. Deering?" questioned Angela.
"Why, we'll ask him to officiate at our wedding next week!" was Catesby's brilliant suggestion.

Legal Notice

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF WAYNE COUNTY, NEBRASKA.

The State of Nebraska, on the relation of Norris Brown, Attorney General, Plaintiff, vs.

The Wayne County Agricultural Society, Frank E. Strahan, the Wayne Speed and Fine Stock Association and the County of Wayne, Defendants.

TO ALL CREDITORS OF STOCK-HOLDERS AND OFFICERS OF, AND ALL OTHER PERSONS INTERESTED IN THE WAYNE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Notice is hereby given that claims are now on file in this case against the Wayne County, Nebraska, Agricultural Society, dissolved, and against the funds thereof in the hands of the trustees John T. Bressler, Harry B. Jones, (Substituted for D. C. Main, deceased) and Gilbert E. French, and that said trustees have filed their final report in this case accompanied by a petition for the allowance of all just and legal claims and for an order of distribution and praying that the Court enter such other and further orders in the premises as may be just and agreeable to equity:

It is therefore ordered by the Court that on October 16th, A. D. 1915, at the court house in the city of Wayne, Wayne County, Nebraska, at the hour of 9 o'clock, A. M. thereof, or as soon thereafter as the case may be heard, said Court will pass upon said claim and on all other claims which may be filed and will make an order of distribution and enter such other and further orders and judgments in the case as may appear to be just and legal. All persons in interest may file such just and lawful claims as they have before said date which will be duly considered. It is further ordered that a copy of this order be published in the Wayne Herald and the Nebraska Democrat, for four successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.
ANDREW R. OLESON,

About "Watered Stock"

Not a cent's worth of "watered stock" has ever been issued, or any fictitious values or intangible assets claimed, by this Company.

A dollar has been actually invested in telephone property for every dollar's worth of stock, bonds or other securities issued.

We endeavor to keep our property in good repair, operate it efficiently, give our employees living wages, and finally pay a fair rate of interest on the money actually invested in the property.

Economy in Construction

The Bell System is conceded to be the best constructed and best equipped telephone organization in the world, yet the capitalization of the Bell properties is less per telephone than any other comprehensive telephone system on earth.

The Bell organization has created and developed the entire telephone art. Almost without exception, no important telephone improvements have been created by any other telephone administration, either in this country or abroad.

Winside Notes

(From the Tribune)

Wm. Brass received word Wednesday of the sudden death of his brother, Horace Brass, in Omaha and left on the afternoon train for that place.

Walter Gaebler was a passenger for St. Louis, Mo., Monday afternoon, having received a telegram stating that an accident had befallen his mother.

A birthday party was given Peter Backer last Friday evening at his home. There were about thirty present who enjoyed a good time in music and dancing.

Frank Weible was a passenger to Sioux City Wednesday afternoon. He was accompanied by the three children of Ed Lucas, who were called to the bedside of their father, who was suffering with blood poisoning.

It is rumored that G. A. Bleich is on a deal, whereby he will erect a large brick building where the Bleich & Wolf harness shop now stands. In this event we would have an entire block of buildings erected of brick.

From a telegram received just as we go to press from Phillips, S. D. to Mrs. Dave Leary, we learn of the death of her father, Bart Ramsey, which occurred this morning. Funeral services and burial will be at Phillips.

Mesdames Mary Tillson and Kate Averill and Miss Esther Tillson left for the Pacific coast today for a three months vacation trip. They will visit the Panama Exposition at well as all of the important cities of the west.

Richard Hodgson returned from Illinois Friday, where he had been visiting with relatives and old friends the last three weeks. He brought home some fine samples of Illinois corn which he has displayed in the Merchants State bank.

A real estate transaction was made a short time ago, whereby Wm. McMillen becomes the owner of the 9 acre tract formerly owned by A. P. Swanson. Mr. Swanson in turn buys the 7½ acres of G. A. Bleich, joining the incorporation on the northeast of town, and will erect a new residence there in the near future.

Word was received here last night of the sudden death of Ed Lucas who had been confined in the Samaritan hospital at that place since Monday. Some time ago Mr. Lucas received a slight scratch on his arm and later it developed into a severe case of blood poisoning with above results. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. E. Connell at the M. E. church Friday.

Rev. C. E. Connell returned from Lincoln Tuesday evening, where he had been in attendance at the M. E. church conference for the past week, and announced his appointment to Blue Springs. Rev. Connell has held the pastorate at this place for the past three years and has been very successful in his work and the church. It was with profound regret that we learned of his removal. They expect to leave here next Tuesday and will undoubtedly make the trip overland in the auto. We wish them success and pleasant surroundings in their new home.

Freda Lange was born August 16, 1886, at Denver, McLee county, Illinois, and died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lange, three miles east and three miles north of Winside, on Tuesday, September 28, 1915. When yet a very small child her parents moved to Onawa, Ia., and where she spent her childhood days and grew to womanhood. She was united in marriage to George Dugdale at Onawa and they continued their residence at that place until about 6 years ago, when they moved to Nebraska. Three children were born to his union, and who, together with the husband remain to mourn her loss. Besides her parents are eight brothers and four sisters living. The remains were taken to Onawa, Ia., this morning for interment. The sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of the entire community.

Robert Pritchard attended the Inter-State fair at Sioux City last week with thirteen head of his thoroughbred Duroc Jerseys and succeeded in winning third prize on boar pig under 6 months of age and second prize on producing sow. The judges placed Mr. Pritchard's offerings in third place but that fact did not appear to have any bearing with the stock-men who were looking for the best. The first prize winner sold for $100 and the second prize winner was offered at $75, but did not sell. The third prize winner belonging to M. R. Pritchard, sold for $150, which was $50 more than was received for the first prize winner and $75 more than was asked for the second prize winner. Mr. Pritchard sold another pig for $100, and another one for $50 and another one for $50, making an average of $90 for the four head.

The Seniors held a class meeting Tuesday afternoon and the following officers were elected for the year 1915-1916. President, Anna Peterson; vice-president, Both Yaryan; secretary, Eunice Linn; treasurer, Matt Stanton; sergeant-at-arms, Raymond Woolam.

A deal was made on Monday of this week whereby W. R. Thomas became the owner of the Dan Martin residence and Mr. Martin now owns the W. R. Thomas residence and a thousand dollar check.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snowden and Mr. and Mrs. George Snowden left Thursday of last week by auto to visit with the Richard Thomas family in Minnesota.

NEWS OF NEBRASKA

Reed Begins Action Against Rock Island.

BRINGS ONE FOR EACH YEAR

Superintendent Thomas Prepares Apportionment to Weak School Districts—Ridgell to File Suit Against State Treasurer.

Suit for the occupation tax due from the Rock Island Railroad company for 1914 and 1915 and from the Wells-Fargo Express company for 1914, with legal penalties, has been commenced by Attorney General Reed in the district court of Lancaster county.

Asserting that the capital stock of the Rock Island is in excess of $25,000,000, which makes it liable for the maximum occupation tax of $2,500 a year, the attorney general brings two actions, one for each year, totaling $4,450; the company having paid $550 on its 1914 taxes. Accrued interest at 7 per cent and a penalty of 10 per cent is demanded.

The Wells-Fargo is sued for $1,210, 2 per cent of its gross receipts of $60,490 for 1914, with an additional penalty of 10 per cent. The Wells-Fargo is not being sued for its 1915 tax, which will not be due until November. The Adams, the American and the Wells-Fargo Express companies have within the last few days reported combined gross earnings of $1,000,000 from Nebraska, which under the Smith law of 2 per cent occupation tax would make them owing the state altogether $20,000. In their report all protest against the tax as unconstitutional.

Lawn Grass Specialist In Trouble.

"Minnesota Evergreen," which Food Commissioner Harman claims is timothy, pure and simple, will cost W. W. Spooner of Lincoln prosecution at the hands of the state food commissioner for alleged misrepresentation.

Spooner was a lawn grass specialist and had seeded down plots for hundreds of people. When he did some work for James Murphy, chief clerk for the state banking department, and Murphy, who happened to be a former inspector in the food department, discovered the deception, reported the result to the commission. Spooner is said to have confessed.

Money to Philippine Soldier.

Another member of the First Nebraska regiment, serving in the Philippines in 1898, has been found and will receive $1.89, additional pay for the time spent on the state fair grounds before being mustered in. He is Charles L. Cannon, now serving as an army engineer in Texas City. Some time after the war the government made an appropriation to pay Nebraska volunteers for the extra time they put in at Lincoln. Several thousand dollars of the fund in the hands of the governor.

Protest by Gammel.

Peter Gammel, former engineer for the Nebraska Corn Meal company at Seward, has protested to Labor Commissioner Coffey that the Miller's Mutual Insurance company of Chicago has stopped payments due him under the workmen's compensation law. Since the insurance company has never been admitted to do business in Nebraska, the injured man is barred from suing the concern in this state, but the labor commissioner has informed him that he can sue the management for which he was working.

Attorneys Off to Capital.

Attorney General Willis E. Reed and Chairman Clarke of the Nebraska railway commission have gone to Washington, where they will take part in the final arguments before the United States supreme court against the proposal of the western railroads to put a 2-cent interstate passenger fare into effect.

Postal Losing in Nebraska.

The Postal Telegraph company, a Nebraska branch of the national corporation, is a losing proposition as an independent concern, according to a report of last year's business filed with the railway commission. The operating expenses are declared to be $82,349, while the earnings were $76,166.

Prepares Apportionment.

State Superintendent Thomas is preparing to apportion $25,000 as state aid to weak school districts. Districts whose maximum levy of 3.5 mills will not maintain schools seven months are entitled to the aid, which must be applied for before Oct. 11.

New Insurance Proposal.

Clay Hamilton, a Topeka lawyer, has presented to the state insurance commission a proposal that a Kansas insurance company protecting live stock under a new plan of lump insurance be allowed to operate in Nebraska. Other companies insure each animal separately.

Flece Motion Overruled.

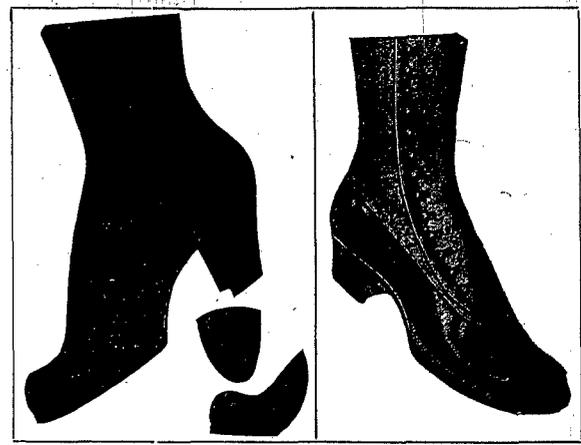

The court overruled a motion by attorneys for William Flece of Dixon county for a new trial on the murder charge brought against him years ago and which has already been before the court three times.

More Bonds Registered.

The state auditor has registered $28,000 of Grand Island paving bonds, purchased by a dealer in Grand Island.

Inspect Drainage Ditch.

Governor Morehead and State Engineer Johnson went to Richardson county for an inspection of drainage ditches in that vicinity, after the governor had been requested by a delegation of people from that section to override Johnson's objections to a drainage project. The state engineer claimed the plans drafted by the district to take care of the floodwaters along the lower Nemaha would not work out. He is working on a system of levees and parallel ditches to relieve conditions in that section, where thousands of acres of crops were ruined by the high water this year.

Board Takes Up Contracts at Kearney.

The state board of control awarded a contract for the construction of a boiler and a laundry for the state tuberculosis hospital at Kearney to Walter Knutzen of that city for $8,087. Bids for the plumbing and wiring were rejected as not being in the proper form. At the same time the board rejected all bids for the construction of a residence for the superintendent as being too high, and postponed the building to see how the building fund would hold out.

Federation Grows Stronger.

The State Federation of Labor may lose the support of the Lincoln Typographical union because of its stand on the proposed prohibition amendment, but it gained five other unions on the same ground, according to word reaching Labor Commissioner Coffey. Two carmen's unions, one in South Omaha and one in Fremont, and the carpenters' union of Fremont, have joined the federation, and two others signified their intention of becoming members.

Sutton Visits Governor.

Judge A. L. Sutton of Omaha, who has announced himself for governor on the Republican ticket, with the main issue that of prohibition, called on Governor Morehead and other state officials.

Northwest of Town

The H. H. S. will meet next Thursday with Mrs. Oscar Jonson. Mrs. Wm. Buetow spent Monday and Tuesday at the Dean Hanson home in Concord.

Owing to the inclement weather there was no Sunday school held in the Stamm school house last Sunday.

School in District No. 45 has been closed for two weeks on account of a case of infantile paralysis being discovered in the district.

Rev. B. P. Richardson will preach at the Stamm school house next Sunday at 3:00 p. m. This will probably be the last sermon he will preach at this place before leaving for his new home at Hastings.

Among those who are attending the Ak-Sar-Ben in Omaha this week are the following: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lessman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lessman and Mr. James Grier. Mr. and Mrs. H. Lessman returned home this morning.

to know and know now that he is prepared to so repair their shoes as to make them almost like new, and do the work with the least possible delay. It will be to your advantage if your home is at some smaller places where such equipment is not available to bring some of your partially worn shoes when you again come from home and have them put in the best of condition for wear. That's ECONOMY.
