EDITORS COMING TO WAYNE

The Commercial Club, the Schools, the Churches and the Editors Bid them Welcome. An excellent Program Promised.

BANQUET FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

With Wayne people united in an endeavor to properly entertain the members of the Northeast Nebraska Press association at its first regular meeting, no editor or publisher in this corner of the state should let "business" keep him at home. Nothing but death should hinder. Besides a splendid time it is proposed to have plenty of practical questions worked out at the business sessions of the gathering. More than 100 editors have been invited, and acceptances are coming to the secretary daily, and it is his request that all who plan to come, and that will so plan, notify that official, that ample provision may be made for entertainment. The Commercial club has entered into the matter of entertaining with a hearty good will, and the Wayne Commercial club does things right always. At their meeting Friday evening the president named the following committees to keep the ball rolling until the meeting adjourns:

Banquet—Chas. H. Bright.
Orchestra and cigars for Banquet—Fred Blair.

Program—E. W. Huse, E. O. Gardner and A. R. Davis.

Selling Tickets for Banquet—H. C. Henney, Jas. Ahern, Frank Gamble and S. R. Theobald.

Reception Committee—E. O. Gardner, E. W. Huse, Rollie W. Ley, Hamer Wilson, H. C. Henney, Phil H. Kohl, John T. Bressler, U. S. Conn, S. R. Theobald, W. M. Orr, Herman Mildner, Jas. Ahern, Rev. Buell, D. H. Cunningham, A. R. Davis, L. A. Kiplinger, Fred Blair, C. E. Carhart, Grant Mears, H. B. Craven, W. A. Hiscox, Walter Weber, L. A. Fanske, F. S. Morgan.

Reception Committee at Banquet—Chas. H. Bright, Rev. Cross, G. A. Wade, Mrs. E. W. Huse, Mrs. M. A. Phillips, Mrs. G. W. Crossland, Misses Helen McNeal, Elizabeth O'Brien, Florence Gardner.

Committee to Show Visitors City—Phil H. Kohl, Chas. Craven, B. F. Strahan, Clyde Oman and Grant S. Mears.

Entertainment Committee—John T. Bressler, H. B. Jones, H. S. Ringland and J. G. Mines.

The public meeting will be on Friday evening, when a banquet will be given at 6:45 at the basement of the Baptist church, and the capacity of the room will be tested by the guests of the city and the men and women of Wayne who will mingle with them about the banquet board, and it might be well to call up some member of the proper committee and secure your tickets right now. The ladies of the Baptist church have the serving in charge, and no other guarantee of a splendid repast and excellent service is needed by those who have attended any function at which they have served, and it is whispered that "practice makes perfect," and that nothing less will satisfy the ladies.

But not alone at the banquet will the meetings be of interest. There will be some interesting discussions and valuable papers read. There will be a chance to discuss co-operation of publishers for the advancement of the interests of this part of the state, not only of the press but of all the varied interests of this region, for if the people prosper the papers will not perish. There are some strong and unique characters among the newspaper men and they will be heard.

Editor Stone of the Hartington Herald formerly preached verbally from the pulpit—he now speaks to more people through the columns of an excellent paper than the average paper gets within reach of his voice in a week's time.

"Rose" Warner of the Lyons Mirror is one of the pioneer editors and he always calls a spade by its proper name.

H. H. Pease of the Beemer Times is a trust-buster and a rooster-catcher, and he will be after the "patent inside" graft just right, and he has a saving sense of humor in his scragging.

Eugene O. Mayfield, the man who presides over the destiny of the Sunday World-Herald is to be with us.

Victor Rosewater—who guides the Omaha Bee, will talk.

Word has not yet come from Edgar Howard as to whether or not he will be able to attend, but all hope to see him—and if he is here he will be a part of the meeting for sure.

Fred Marshall of Niobrara has promised to give a performance on a tight cat-gut—and they do say he is some fiddler.

Local talent will add much to the program in the way of oratory and music, and they will need no introduction to our readers this week.

The program follows:—
Friday, Jan. 28, 10:00 a. m.

Address of Welcome—Mayor D. H. Cunningham.
Response—Marie O'Donnell Weeks, Norfolk Press.

Report of Committee on By-laws. Membership enrollment. Round table.

Brink-Wrobel

The marriage of Miss Nellie E. E. Brink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Brink, of this place to William C. Wrobel, of near Wayne, occurred at the home of the bride's brother in Sioux City yesterday morning.

The bride is well and favorably known in Emerson where she was raised and attended the public schools and has a host of friends who wish her much happiness. She is a charming and beautiful young lady and while we do not know the groom he must be a fine young man to win the heart and hand of the bride.

The Enterprise is unable to learn where they will make their home.—Emerson Enterprise.

How about your subscription.

Among the Sick

Grip and pneumonia are quite prevalent not only here but elsewhere. In fact the grip is an epidemic in many places. Among those who are ill are reported Mrs. Geo. Effline about four miles east of town. She has been suffering from pneumonia which followed grip, and at this writing is suffering from meningial trouble. Two children in the home are recovering from pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Schmidt, who are visiting at the Gettman home were about to depart last week for their home in the far west when their little child was taken with pneumonia. The little one is better and they hope to be able to return home next week.

The four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rodgers is quite ill of pneumonia, he tells us, but with the care of a nurse the little one is showing slight improvement.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Coleman is critically ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. John Grier is reported quite ill yet. She has been suffering for several weeks.

Fred Fredrickson from near Concord was at Wayne last week to have his tonsils removed. Alvina Victor also underwent a like treatment.

A Rare Musical Treat

The presentation of the sacred cantata, "Ruth" at the college auditorium, Tuesday evening is deserving of much praise, not only as an entertainment of a high class, but because of the aid it is in cultivating the love of music by those who participate as well as those who have the pleasure of listening.

Under direction of Prof. J. J. Coleman of the Normal, the music of the institution has received careful and efficient direction and the presentation of this concert shows how carefully the work has been done. The State Normal Chorus was most ably accompanied by the Voget String quartet of Norfolk—pupils from the Voget conservatory of which Mr. Otto Voget, formerly of this place is the head. The members of the quartet are Misses Beatrice Miller, Bessie Crockett, Ernie Voget and Jean Preece.

New Commercial Club Committee

At the meeting Friday evening, the members of the Commercial club named the following members to act as the executive committee for the coming year, and it is hoped that they will have the hearty support of every interest in both town and country. There is no reason why Wayne city and country should not double teams and add to their efficiency 100 per cent. The new men are. Paul Harrington, W. F. Fisher, H. Henney, S. R. Theobald, Fred Blair, H. B. Craven, F. S. Berry, v. A. Senter, Ralph Rundell, Chas. Bright, H. Lundberg, G. S. Mears and J. J. Ahern.

The committee has not yet held a meeting to organize by electing their new officers. It is a progressive committee, and they will perhaps have the streets of Wayne paved during their administration.

Raymond Davey Dead

Raymond Davey, who was engaged in the automobile tire repair business with his brother, Frank Davey, at 423 Water street, died yesterday at the German Lutheran hospital of pneumonia. He had been ill for ten days, says the Sioux City Journal.

Mr. Davey was born at Jackson, Nebraska, on February 19, 1891. Seven years ago he came to Sioux City and started in the tire repair business. Besides his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davey, 2715 Pierce street, with whom he made his home, he is survived by four brothers and three sisters. They are Frank, John, Clarence, Walter and Madeline Davey of Sioux City; Mrs. Fred Berry, of Wayne, and Mrs. F. E. Sutton, of Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Berry was called home Monday by his condition. The funeral is to take place today.

Union Bible Circle's Birthday

Some fifty women attended the fourteenth anniversary meeting of the Ladies Union Bible Study Circle at the home of Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. E. Abbott and Mrs. Beckenhauer welcomed the ladies at the door. The opening hymn, "In the Sweet By and By," was heartily sung and Miss Charlotte White offered a most touching and beautiful prayer for the Circle and its many interests. Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis very ably led the lesson study, using the advance Sunday school lesson in Romans 8, and Mrs. Maude Ferrel sang a much appreciated solo, "I have the Witness." This was followed by a report of answered prayer during the past year, also a brief report of the work of the sixteen pastors and evangelists who are telling the great story in many lands showing 2,698 bibles and testaments distributed and 600 persons won to christian living from the deepest sin.

Letters of congratulation from out-of-town friends were then read:

Mrs. C. P. Gregg of Peru: Greetings to your virile organization on its fourteenth anniversary. To my mind nothing is quite so noble as a band of busy women laying aside the cares of life for a short time to study the great book which is the source of true life. May the inspiration you receive prepare you for ready service in "fields white unto harvest."

Mrs. H. O. Ward of Spencer, Iowa, writes: Wish I could tell you what a place the Bible Study Circle has in my hearts affections. It has been the greatest help to me in a spiritual way and its influence had much to do with our heeding God's call to "service."

Mrs. J. A. Halley, New York, says: How I wish I was with you today and could feel the warm clasp of your hands and could look into your faces. The remembrance of those pleasures are with me.

Mrs. G. F. Moles of Wessington Springs, South Dakota, writes: How I wish I could be with you today. The blessing I received from the Circle has always been an inspiration to me. Many other encouraging messages came from far and near to be read at this interesting meeting.

Dainty refreshments were then served by the committee, Mrs. Bracken, Mrs. J. H. Wright, Mrs. A. M. Helt and others at the close of the meeting. Mrs. D. W. Noakes will be hostess next week and a splendid meeting is looked for.

City Teachers' Institute Program

The program for the annual city teachers' institute to be held in the high school assembly room after school is as follows:

January 24, 4 p. m. President U. S. Conn "New Problems in Education. 4:40 p. m; Prof. J. G. W. Lewis, "How Current Events May be Used in the Different Classes."

January 26—Prof. E. E. Lackey, "Abandoned Geographical Theories"; Dean H. H. Hahn, "Teaching Children How to Study."

January 27—Prof. C. H. Bright, "Some Successes I Have Known among Teachers, and their Causes"; Prof. H. H. Hickman, "Some Failures I Have Known among Teachers, and the Causes."

January 31—Prof. E. J. Hunter, "A Few Practical Things in Industrial Work for the Average School"; Prof. J. T. House, "Community Life."

February 2—Prof. J. J. Coleman, "The Aims in Public School Music"; Miss Edith Beechel, "Illustrations of Stating the Problem in Assignment of Lessons."

February 3—Miss Sara J. Killen, "The Aims of Public School Drawing and Art"; Prof. I. H. Britell, "Cultivating the Powers of Observation."

Simon Goemann has moved into the M. Miller house vacated by Ralph Clark when he went to his newly acquired home on Main street last week. Mr. Goemann simply moved in, for he had no moving out to do after the fire of a week before. He has installed a complete new outfit of furniture, including a piano, and it must seem much like starting out new in life. Mrs. Goemann and the children, who were away visiting when the fire came, returned Tuesday to their new surroundings.

A Merry Poppin' of Water Pipes

Every winter catches some one with an exposed water pipe which Jack Frost cracks, but the cold wave of last week was particularly disastrous. The plumber was a welcome visitor, and many a hurry up call was made.

The June Conger residence was in bad shape to withstand a cold wave. Just at the start their furnace suffered a collapse, and a new section was hurried here to repair, only to find after it was inserted that there was still another section broken, and then after that another. A cook stove and an oil stove did not go far toward warming so large a house at such a time.

Art Ahern started a fire in the range at his home Monday, and all seemed to go well until—bliff—the water front exploded, and Miss Arnold, who is staying there with her sister, Mrs. Ahern was quite severely scalded.

Something like that happened at the Ralph Rundell home a day or two earlier, except that no one happened to be near enough to be burned, but the flood which followed was something that made them think of Noah and the ark. The damage to the stove was slight.

C. H. Hendrickson's water pipe sprung a leak; but it was not hard to replace.

Boyd Dewey says that their plants all froze in the room with the base burner, but admits that the fire was getting low.

Frank Gaertner had a little time at his home.

Clyde Oman had to thaw out a frozen pipe under the house where there was no way to get at it except to dig.

Rural Carrier Examination

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the county of Cedar, Nebr., to be held at Wayne, Nebr., and Sioux City, Iowa, to fill the position of rural carrier at Hartington and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other postoffices in the above-mentioned county. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a postoffice in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

Old Pioneer Passed Away

J. M. Huglin, who has been making his home the past few years with his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Weatherholt of this city, died Tuesday forenoon at 9:45 a. m., from LaGrippe and complications of old age. Mr. Huglin was almost 80 years old. The funeral will be held Friday. Full particulars next week.—Hoskin Headlight.

See us for wedding invitations.

Social Notes

The P. E. O. met with Mrs. Clara Ellis last Monday evening. Mrs. Rollie Ley read a paper on "Holland, Its People and Towns." Mrs. Hufford read a paper on "The Industries of Holland." Mrs. Ellis gave a very fine report on her trip to Los Angeles as delegate to National Convention of P. E. O. Mrs. T. T. Jones sang a solo. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Hufford.

The Minerva club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Grothe. Members answered roll call with current events. Mrs. Conn gave the history of the last Tolstoi. Mrs. Lewis gave a review on the war in Europe. The club will meet Monday, January 31, with Mrs. Hunter for a social afternoon.

The A. O. U. W. and Degree of Honor held joint installation at their hall last Thursday evening, and report a most excellent time. In addition to installing their new officers there was a splendid repast, a short program and a social hour not soon to be forgotten.

The Girls Bible Study Circle met at Miss Iva Laase's last Saturday evening. Miss Crockett was leader and the lesson was very interesting to all who were there. The Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. E. Ferrel next Saturday evening at seven o'clock.

The Acme club met with Mrs. J. Williams last Monday afternoon. Mrs. Weber gave an excellent book review on the "Sword of Youth," by James Lane Allen. Mrs. Williams was leader of current events. Club will meet next week with Mrs. Bressler.

The Monday club met with Mrs. R. E. K. Mellor. Mrs. Hahn read a paper on "Spices, Extracts, Starches and Sugar." Mrs. Heckert read a paper on "Herbs and Beverages." Mrs. Welch will be hostess next Monday.

The Early Hour club meets this evening with Dr. and Mrs. Williams. The evening will be spent with cards after which a delicious luncheon will be served.

Ladies Aid of Presbyterian church will spend a social afternoon with Mrs. J. Woodward Jones. A supper will be served.

I. W. Alter went to Lincoln on a business mission Friday.
Geo. Fortner was transacting business at Sioux City Monday.
E. B. Chichester went to Omaha Friday to visit relatives for a short time.
John Sabs was called to Chicago Monday by the sad news of his mother's death.
John Good and Adolph Donnan went to Omaha Monday with a car of hogs and a car of cattle.
Miss Maud Koser, who has been working for some weeks at the Radio Round factory as a stenographer, returned to her home at South Sioux City Saturday.

Mrs. C. H. Fisher was a visitor at the Dickerson home at Sioux City Monday.
Misses Martha and Mary Weber went to Hartington Sunday for a short visit.
Mrs. J. McIntyre and daughter, Miss Mabel, went to Sioux City Monday for the day.
J. E. Brooks and wife, who are here from Idaho, went to visit relatives at Coleridge Monday.
P. L. Mabbott left Monday morning to visit home folks in southern Wisconsin, Spring Green being his destination.
Mrs. F. S. Berry went to Sioux City Monday afternoon to visit her brother, who is quite seriously ill of pneumonia.
Frank Frederick and his little son from near Hot Springs, South Dakota, came last week to visit at the home of his father-in-law, John Kret. Saturday they went to Laurel to visit at the home of his sister, Mrs. M. Walters.

Homer Heitzman and wife from Winside were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Peterson Sunday, returning home Monday.
F. S. Berry was a visitor at Sioux City Monday, and from there went to Lincoln to present some matters before the supreme court of the state.
John Scofield left Monday to spend the week at Omaha, attending the annual meeting of the implement men of this and adjoining states.
Lester Bellows of Carroll went to Minneapolis Monday where he is in attendance at the annual meeting of the hardware dealers of this great land.
Miss Eloise Miner left Friday morning to visit for a month or two at the home of her uncle at Independence, Kansas. She accompanied C. A. Chace and family as far as Kansas City on their way to California. At that point they placed her in charge of the railroad people for the last lap of her trip.

T. J. Howarth from Randolph made a call at the home of his brother-in-law, A. P. Gossard, Friday afternoon while enroute to Norfolk for a visit.
Robert Wallick from Dalton, who has been visiting Wayne friends for a week or more, left Saturday for Lincoln where he will visit his brothers for a time before returning home.
Mr. J. C. Forbes left Saturday to visit at his old home at Dixon, Illinois, visiting friends and looking after business matters. He also plans to visit Chicago before returning.
Miss Ethel Kellogg, who has finished the advanced course at the Normal, has accepted a position in the schools at Dixon, and left Monday to begin her duties at that place.
Mrs. John Root of Eagle, and her daughter, Mrs. Walter Rose from Nebraska City, who have been visiting at the home of son and brother, Alva Chaplin and family returned home Friday.

F. Sederstrom and A. Chance left Friday morning with a scoop shovel and a look of determination for Naqora. Their mission was to come home in an automobile which they had to abandon there Wednesday on account of the storm which made it impossible to see, and the drifts which had not yet been traveled through. But they thought the shovel would help if any other such difficulties were encountered.
Mrs. Geo. Yaryan from Carroll, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Maude Smith, went to Sioux City Saturday to visit at the home of son and brother, W. W. Yaryan. Mrs. Smith is expecting to remain for an extended visit. Her friends will be glad to know that she is able to make this visit, which is her first trip from home since her injury more than two years ago by which she was paralyzed from the small of the back down. She is quite hopeful of being able to walk again in the course of a few years more, as she is steadily improving in health and strength.

Check C. Moore of Sioux City was here Monday, and visited at the Gardner home for a time. Mr. Moore had just returned from a trip in the east where he went in company with a lot of the traveling salesmen of the rubber trust as we call it. At any rate the factories of the concern they represent, and will perhaps be better able to stretch a point or two to make a sale since they have seen how it is done with the real rubber. Cherk says that he was one of the worst rubber-necks of the bunch having never before been among the sky-scrapers of the east cities. They visited Washington, New York and Boston and some lesser places. President Wilson was not at home the day they called, he having other important business, but they saw the vice-president. One thing Mr. Moore had in mind on the trip and which may become a fact in the near future was securing a branch house of this great concern at Sioux City from which to supply the trade of this territory.

Gleaned From Democrat's Exchanges

The teachers of Stanton county held a meeting at Stanton Saturday.

The Cedar County Telephone Co. declared a dividend of 8 per cent last year. Hello!

David Fletcher of Neligh has purchased the electric light plant at Brunswick and promised a progressive policy.

The Burlington promises a modern brick depot at Columbus, as well as make other reforms on that line of their road.

Columbus made a new record at their postoffice last year in the money order department, handling more than $100,000.

Emerson firemen are to hold their 13th annual ball at that place the evening of the 28th, and they do say that their annual hops are some swell affairs.

Oscar Bring of Emerson died last week. A man in good circumstances his friends were many and he had no enemies. He was progressive and a booster.

An exchange tells of someone being accidentally shot with a gun. Over in Iowa they used to get shot with a bottle—sometimes fatally, and be dead-drunk for a week.

A new telephone equipment has been installed at Emerson, and the poles have all been removed from the streets, and the wires have been encased in a cable the same as here.

There is what is called a "death trap" railroad crossing near Walt-hill, and the county commissioners are planning a change to make it more safe. The railroad should co-operate with all such "safety first" movements.

Twenty years ago Emerson had stored there for shipment and speculation more than 100,000 bushels of the corn crop of that vicinity for that season. Not so now in this country. Most of the corn is fed to cattle and hogs.

We notice that a large number of our exchanges are quite largely edited by the agricultural department at Lincoln. In some cases it is an improvement—in other not. And there is yet room for a lot of improvement among the best of the bunch.

Fred Case and John Riemers from near Wausa had trouble about hay, and got into court over a matter of $28.77. When the smoke cleared away the verdict was for plaintiff, and the costs amounted to almost twice the amount of the judgment, being $52.65.

Fire loss in Nebraska in the year 1915 amounted to $1,788,269, according to annual report of Fire Commissioner Ridgell, just issued. A great deal of this loss was caused by carelessness. However, the fire loss in this state last year was not so great as it was in 1914 and in some other years. In 1914, the report shows the loss from fire in Nebraska was $1,973,071. In 1912 it was $2,251,774. In 1910 it was $2,181,023. Commissioner Ridgell praises the work of the volunteer fire companies of the towns of this state, says the Butler County Press.

At Homer last week, according to the Star, a young man dressed in female garb pretending to be a mute peddled soap about the place with good success. Of course it was a man or else he was not pretending to be speechless, for no woman could successfully pretend to be speechless.

According to the Cedar County News, leap year has driven a lot of the eligible young (?) men to the tall timber. They saw the powder on the faces of the charming young ladies and knew that it was theirs to flee or surrender. To them it appeared that discretion was the better part of valor.

Homer will vote on the question of issuing $5,000 bonds to build an addition to their school building. It is a foregone conclusion that the bonds will carry, for 144 signed to call the election. With the addition they will have room to establish and care for the 12th grade, and thus they expect soon to save the cost of the extension to the patrons of the school in the tuition saving they can make.

Insurance on the Dodge county court house, at Fremont, destroyed by fire a few weeks ago, was $40,000 and there were $7000 on fixtures and furniture. The insurance companies have made proposition to settle on basis of $32,000 on building and $4,000 on contents. The county board by unanimous vote justly rejected the insurance adjusters' proposition and will insist on the full amount of insurance being paid.

A petition was circulated Saturday in behalf of Judge Welch who will be a candidate to succeed himself on the district bench. The Press is pleased to here and now declare itself for the judge, who is one of the ablest, most just men in the state. Since the enlarging of the district it becomes democratic, and while the judge is a republican the judiciary is non-partisan and in the case of the Wayne man we believe the non-partisan supposition will hold true. Welch is a mighty good man and democrats as well as republicans will recognize it.—Norfolk Press.

Our good friend C. E. Burnham, has a perfectly lovely plan whereby he would end the European war and put things on a paying basis again. He would confiscate one-half of every rich man's estate or holdings, making this in payment of the war debt. The poor man gives his life or the lives of his sons, says Burnham, why not the millionaire half of his million? M. D. Tyler says the Burnham plan would not work out, but that the London Daily Times advocates an income tax of 50 per cent and this, he thinks, would be fully as effective in bringing results and more likely to work out successfully. Mr. Tyler makes the startling statement that in his belief Socialism will grow strong enough to make Burnham's plan possible before many more years.—Norfolk Press.

April 18—less than three months and the primary is upon us. Are we prepared?

Deposits in the state banks of Nebraska have increased nearly $21,000,000 during the past year.

Ex-Senator Burkett is going to make the race in the primary for the republican nomination for vice-president. The primary ballot gives promise of being quite a complete directory of the politicians and near politicians of the state.

It begins to look as though the people might have to take a choice between President Wilson and Ex-President Roosevelt this fall. To many of the republican party the choice may look uninviting, but we predict that in such case the present official will win the election.

Orchard pruning may be safely done if the temperature is enough above zero and the wind is not too fierce. But don't try it such a day as last week Wednesday. Cut the dead wood all away and burn it. Cut out cross branches and thin the top well to let the sun in for the fruit on the lower branches.

Much depends upon the view point. "A fine day," said a neighbor as he turned his face from the cutting wind with the mercury below the 20 minus point. He is a coal dealer. The man who is waiting to harvest ice might have said as much—and then he can say it again next summer when the mercury begins to boil up toward the top of the tube.

The President is planning a tour of the country in the interest of his preparedness legislation. Sorry to see him do it, for we think he is wrong, and that it will prove the most serious mistake of his term of office. To be sure there is a strong sentiment in favor of preparedness in certain circles, especially in the east—but that does not make it seem right.

The President is standing nobly by his Mexican policy of "Watchful Waiting," and he is right in that instance we believe. If the Carranza government is trying to do the right thing for the people of Mexico the power of special interests will be against him to the utmost, and our government should uphold him so long as he does the best he can, and not shy a brick in to encourage the rioters who are working for control, not peace.

As the battle on the question of spending millions for war preparation progresses, the fellows who dare advocate such expenditures are becoming fewer—there is an election this fall, don't you know? The January Commoner, just at hand, is strong against the program for war preparation. The editor makes a good point when he suggests that congress first pass a law to raise the necessary money and see who then is for the expense and from whom it will be taken. The Democrat thinks the first step of preparation should be good roads, so that those who are in danger of being hurt in our coast territory may quickly retreat to the interior where the invading army, if it follow may soon be put out of business. If we remember correctly the fellows who went out from Boston in the early days of the revolutionary war had a hard time getting back.

An editorial in the Sioux City Journal last week ably and forcefully presents the republican situation on the presidential candidate. It says that the progressives who objected to boss rule at the time of the last convention are not now so objecting, because they think they will be able to boss the bosses. In other words the bosses must let Roosevelt and Perkins run the bosses. They have modified their attitude on many questions and invite the republicans to affiliate with them—or do looking as they did in 1912. And worse at the situation the Journal predicts that the candidate will be Roosevelt or a man whom he selects or the progressive will have a candidate. It looks to us, in the light of such events as the Gary dinner, like a sham battle in which straw men are to be set up and shot at while the interests once more get into the saddle and endeavor to put a man of their kind and under their command in the white house. Can they do it?

Miss Mary House Wins

Each Sunday the Omaha World-Herald devotes a page to the little folks and offers prizes for their best literary efforts or skill in solving puzzles, or some feature which keeps their interest alive. The Sunday paper contained the following story from Mary House of this place, and for it she received a prize of $1.00, it being the best written story of the week:

I was visiting this summer a family at Oakdale which possessed a large white and gray cat, beautifully marked, that they called Snookums. The family were interested in birds, especially orioles. They had put some strings, or ravelings, on the clothesline for the orioles, so they could make their nests better. One morning the cat, who liked to get birds, tried to catch the orioles, but did not succeed.

She then tried other places and finally caught a small robin and brought it to the feet of her mistress. The lady plucked the dead bird and punished the cat severely. She also brought her inside of the screen porch, but Snookums mewed so pitifully that she let her out again.

This did not cure the cat of her bad habit, and she again hunted for birds. This time she succeeded in catching an oriole. Her mistress caught the cat eating it and she brought Snookums inside the screen porch, determined to keep her in the entire day. A little later Snookums saw an oriole dart by and she ran away from it as fast as she could. Some say that cats don't remember, but it's my opinion that they do.

COUNTY BOARD.

Wayne, Neb., January 11, 1916.

Board met in regular session. All members present.

Upon motion it is hereby resolved that each member of the board be and is hereby appointed a committee of one to investigate claims of demand upon the county for pauper maintenance at the poorhouse, and for temporary relief and also to investigate claims and demands of any party on county road and bridge funds to be expended in the several road districts of the county. P. M. Corbit is hereby directed to act as such committee in the First district; Henry Rethwisch is hereby directed to act as such committee in the Second district; Geo. S. Farran is hereby directed to act as such committee in the Third district.

Provided however, that in case of emergency anywhere in the county coming to the knowledge of any of the commissioners where it is necessary to give immediate relief to a pauper, and no other commissioner being present the commissioner present shall see that the necessary relief is provided. Each member shall report to the full board at its next session, and all acts performed by him as such committee with his recommendations for action by the board. All justices of the peace, and the county clerk are hereby forbidden to give any aid whatsoever, except as stated below, and all persons requiring county aid, such as medical attendance, admittance to the poor house and other necessities shall make application direct to the commissioner of the district for which he acts.

Under this resolution the county clerk and superintendent of the poor house are given authority to call the county physician for medical attendance when they deem it necessary.

On motion the following resolutions were adopted, Resolved:

1. That a board of health for the county be appointed by the county board, the same to consist of three members, one of whom shall be a practicing physician.

2. That said board of health be and they hereby are empowered to enforce such regulations as may be adopted by this board to prevent the introduction of contagious, infectious or malignant diseases into the unincorporated territory of the county, and to enforce quarantine rules made for that purpose by it or the board of commissioners.

3. That in case in their judgment it shall become necessary to establish a pest house, and if the pest house be established by the county board the same shall be under the supervision of the board of health, and the said board of health shall have power to cause such person to be removed thereto as they may deem necessary in order to enforce the quarantine rules and prevent the introduction and spread of such contagious diseases.

4. The said board of health or any member thereof may enter any premises in the county not within the corporate limits of any city or village for the purpose of determining whether or not any contagious disease exists therein and shall adopt such rules and regulations for their own control and for the carrying out and enforcement of the quarantine rules and regulations adopted by this board as in their judgment they may deem necessary. They shall elect such officers from their own body as they deem necessary and shall keep a record of all of their proceedings and persons quarantined.

5. The expenses of said board of health which are not properly chargeable to the persons affected with such contagious diseases or persons occupying the premises where the same exists shall be paid from the county treasury upon bills duly allowed by the board of county commissioners, in the same manner as the other indebtedness against the county.

The compensation of the members of this board of health shall be 25 cents a mile one way, and for examination and quarantine of each family $2.00. They shall be allowed by the county board and paid from the county treasury in the same manner as other bills against the county.

6. The county board may at any time remove any member of said board of health and appoint another in his place.

7. All persons who have been quarantined and the premises quarantined, shall be thoroughly fumigated in the manner provided by the rules of quarantine and adopted by this board, at the expense of such persons and the occupant of the quarantined premises and no quarantine shall be raised until such persons and premises have been thus fumigated.

Provide that paupers and premises occupied by paupers may be fumigated at the expense of the county. All fumigation shall be under the personal supervision of one member of the board of health, under the personal supervision of a practicing physician.

On motion the following regulations and rules for quarantine of contagious, infectious, or malignant diseases were adopted.

1. Whenever within the limits of this county, and without the corporate limits of any city or village, a person is suspected of having smallpox, scarlet fever, diphtheria or other contagious disease he shall be immediately isolated within his own household as carefully as possible and as soon as a contagious disease is recognized it will be the duty of the attending physician and householder, to give written notice of the same to the clerk of the county, giving the name of the disease and of the family where it exists, with the number exposed and all other particulars that may be of any value.

2. The premises where the above contagious disease exists shall be duly quarantined by the county board of health through its proper officer or any appointee (a) by placing upon the house or some conspicuous point upon the premises a placard giving the name of disease in letters not less than three (3) inches in height, (b) By a verbal or written notice to the householder to remain on the premises and in no way mingle with other persons nor to allow others (except the physician) to approach nearer than (30) feet to any house or person thus quarantined. This rule applies also in case of exposure.

3. Such quarantine to continue until in the opinion of the medical adviser of the board of health, the last case of the disease likely to occur therein has completely recovered and is ready for disinfection, provided however, that in case of extreme necessity one free from disease may be released earlier after thorough disinfection of person and clothing and with a certificate from the above medical adviser.

4. The necessities of life, as often as occasion demands may be carried within thirty (30) feet of the quarantined house by a neighbor or other duly appointed messenger, but no nearer, nor shall any effects whatever be brought away from the household until thoroughly disinfected.

5. In case of death from contagious disease there shall be no public funeral and the body of the deceased shall be closely wrapped in sheets well saturated with disinfectant and closed in a tight casket, this to be again wrapped with a disinfected cloth, and in such cases the corpse shall not be carried to or near any body of people while on its way to a cemetery.

6. When in any school district or community several families, say five to eight are infected with contagious disease or very many exposures have occurred the board of health may prohibit all gatherings of people in that community including sessions of school, until in their opinion the emergency is past.

7. All physicians should use due precaution in their visits to quarantined households to avoid the danger of contagion to the well.

8. When in the opinion of the medical adviser of the board of health quarantine can safely be raised, it shall be done with fumigation with a 40 per cent solution of formaldehyde, using at least five ounces to each 1,000 cubic feet of air space, solution to be applied by an approved evaporation or by the sheet method. The room to be sealed at least six hours, all persons to receive a disinfecting bath and their clothing to be fumigated and the house thoroughly cleaned. This to be done in accordance with the "Suggestions of the state board of health to physicians."

9. When in the opinion of the board of county commissioners a hospital is needed to which individual cases of contagious diseases may be removed, or when such method will accommodate those without homes at much less public expense or for any other reason it is deemed best, a building suited to their needs shall be provided.

10. Whoever in any way willfully or negligently disobeys these rules of quarantine and disinfection shall by such disobedience render himself subject to prosecution and a fine of $25.00 for each and every offense, and shall meanwhile if infected, and subject to quarantine be held at the quarantine house or hospital until the time for disinfection.

On motion the following persons are hereby appointed as members of the county board of health, George T. Porter, Dr. J. G. Neeley and Dr. J. J. Williams.

On motion J. E. Harmon is hereby appointed janitor of court house and grounds for the year 1916, and salary fixed at $60.00 per month. It is hereby resolved that board allow for the year 1916, the following wages for road work:

Decayed Teeth Spread Disease

At the beginning of an investigation to determine the best way of terminating an epidemic of scarlet fever, that had infected our city for three years, school inspection was instituted, it took just sixteen days to free the public schools of the disease. From this time on we looked to the condition of the mouth and teeth and insisted on all cavities being filled at once, when released from quarantine.

I believe these cavities to be fine incubators for pathogenic bacteria. In the near future I predict that a dentist will be on all boards of health.

Judge J. F. Boyd of Neligh was a Wayne visitor Wednesday, having business at the court house. The judge was long prominent in politics in this district which he served two terms in congress, and he met many an old friend of the earlier days.

Among the cases filed with the clerk of the district court for trial at the February term is Dan Martin vs. Henry Grosse-Rhodes, et al, to quiet title and settle a disputed contract. Carrie O. Reeder is also asking to be released from the bonds which bind her to Thos. V. Reeder.

Mrs. Carl F. Baker, who was at a Sioux City hospital for three weeks, returned to Wayne the first of the week and is now staying at the home of his mother, Mrs. Emma Baker, while rallying from the treatment. Mr. Baker plans to return this week with part of the children to their home at Dalton, and Mrs. Baker will return a few weeks later.

Mrs. J. McNutt went to Sloan, Iowa, Wednesday to visit her mother, who is ill of grip, and as she has passed four-score years and more she naturally wants to have her children visit her. At the station here Mrs. McNutt was met by her brother, Wiley Hoskinson from Neligh, whom she had not seen for several years, on a like mission, going home to see mother.

Mrs. Skeen, formerly of this place, but for a number of years a resident of southern California, was here last Thursday night, stopping to greet a few friends while on her way from Ponca, where she has been visiting her daughter, to visit at the home of her son at Cody. She is planning a more extended visit upon her return from Cody before she returns to her home.

Jack Rowher from Douglas county was here last week visiting Hans Otte, Chas. Schroeder and John Hanson, friends of long ago. This was the first visit in Wayne county, and the first time he and Mr. Otte had met for almost a third of a century, in fact since they were boys. He was much pleased with the country, and surprised to see how universally good are the cattle grown and fed here. He returned to his home at Elkhorn Friday.

W. Morgan, who moved to Granite Falls, Minnesota, last spring, came Tuesday evening for a short stay at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan. He came to Sioux City with a bunch of shoats from his farm, and then came out here for a day or two. His bunch of 90 young porkers sold for more than $1,300, which is not bad for a bunch but eight months old. Wm. Young, one of his Laurel neighbors, drove down and took him back to the neighborhood he left last spring to greet a few friends.

The Farmers' Union of Cedar county held its annual meeting and election of officers at the court house last week. The meeting was very successful one, and largely attended by farmers from all the various locals of the county. The annual report of the condition of the organization, read by Secretary Childs, was a most encouraging report and indicated that the volume of business done by the farmers' union during the past year far exceeded the expectation of its promoters and officers. The following nine directors were elected for the ensuing year: P. O. Olsen, A. H. Cressy, Gilbert Schager, J. A. Thoene, Peter Schmidt, J. H. Edwards, A. G. Eickhoff, Ole Nordby and E. W. Child.

The funeral of Miss Agnes Coleman, last Saturday afternoon from the St. Mary's Catholic church by Rev. Father Kearns was largely attended by friends of the family, in spite of the severe weather. Among those of the family from a distance was Joseph Coleman, Everett, Washington; John Coleman from DeSoto, Nebraska; Dr. F. Coleman, Hartley, Iowa; Ed. Coleman and wife, Letcher, South Dakota, brothers, and Miss Clair Coleman, a sister from Landers, Wyoming. John Finn from Emerson, a cousin and old Wayne county neighbor and John Kelleher from Tilden, who formerly lived in this county and near the Coleman farm home, came to join with the friends and relatives in a tribute of sympathy and respect.

State Normal Notes

Mr. B. C. Marcellus of Chicago visited friends at the Normal Wednesday.

A meeting of the Board of Education will be held at Wayne on February 6.

A class in extemporaneous speaking is a new elective subject offered by Miss Mack this semester.

The Normal chorus under the direction of Professor J. J. Coleman gave the cantata "Ruth" in the auditorium last Tuesday evening.

Dr. J. R. Gettys, formerly a member of the Normal Board of Education, was a visitor Tuesday.

Miss Mary B. Hicks completed the work of the higher course at the close of the first semester and returned to her home at Stanton.

A county teachers' examination will be held at the Normal Friday and Saturday for the accommodation of teachers living outside of Wayne county.

Miss Edith Witmer completed her work at the close of the first semester and was immediately elected to a position in the grades at Sioux City, Iowa.

Miss Lena Davis of Winnebago and Miss Goldie Porter of Battle Creek recently enrolled for a course in Sociology, to be taken under Dr. J. T. House.

Thirty new students enrolled for the work of the second semester, making the total registration to date 451. This is exclusive of the number enrolled in the grades.

Mr. John Rockwell, whose work has been so successful as superintendent of the Butte, Nebraska, schools, is planning to spend next year in the University of California.

Students and faculty are pleased to learn through Dr. House that in the near future they will have the pleasure of listening to Mr. John G. Neihardt.

Miss Sara Henry gave a reading at convocation Wednesday morning. Miss Henry is a graduate of the Morningside school of expression and will secure a professional life certificate at Wayne at the close of the present school year.

Mr. H. Lee Wells is serving his first year as principal of the Carter, South Dakota, schools. Although the school is small it issues a regular monthly school paper. Mr. Wells is an experienced printer and looks after the mechanical work in addition to his duties as editor-in-chief.

School Notes

Recent visitors were Mrs. Chas. Cooper of Decatur and Mr. Cliff Penn.

A. C. Lamb, manual training director, was absent from school last Thursday and Friday, on account of an attack of quinsy.

A kindergarten class of thirteen was promoted this week to the first grade, making an enrollment of fifty in that grade. A new class in kindergarten also entered this week.

The annual try-out in debating will be held at the high school January 27. At this time the team will be selected to represent the Wayne high school in the state league.

The high school is sorry to lose from its number Delma Baughan, who has returned to Lincoln, Eva Hughes to Carroll, and Etioise Miner who will spend several months with her uncle's family at Independence, Kansas.

Report cards will be issued tomorrow. These will show the results of the first semester's work, and should receive the careful consideration of parents. Much good might accrue to students through conferences with teachers where reports indicate unsatisfactory work.

The children of the second grade are weaving doll hammocks. The color schemes are very attractive and the work of high order. The sixth grade has completed the work in physiology and taken up history. They have finished reading, "Scouting with Daniel Boone," and are now reading, "Under Fire for Serbia," as an opening exercise. Marvelyn Norton of this grade has returned to the home of her parents at Madelia, Minnesota, to remain until they move back to Wayne county.

Sokol-Stewart

At St. Mary's church in this city by Rev. Father Kearns, Monday morning, January 17, 1916, Mr. Chas. Sokol of Winside and Miss Elizabeth Stewart of this place were wed. The groom is one of the business men of Winside, the bride daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stewart of this city.

J. S. Carhart was a visitor at Sioux City Wednesday.

Greatest Travel Writer TO TELL OF ALASKA

The World-Herald of Omaha has secured a contract for the exclusive publication in Nebraska of a series of one year's articles in the Sunday World-Herald on the new country of Alaska. Mr. Carpenter spent a year in that country of mystery which the government of the United States is taking a hand in developing. He is the best known descriptive travel writer in the world. He is enthusiastic about what he discovered there and says it is the best human interest and next-to-news material he has ever found. All of our information about this country has hitherto been from dry government reports. The story of this great treasure house, farming section, home of new industries of great magnitude, a magnificent country and a most interesting people will be told by Mr. Carpenter in the Sunday World-Herald. It will be illustrated by beautiful and appropriate half-tone illustrations.

Lincoln Letter

Reports from all the United States land offices in Nebraska, except Alliance, received by State Auditor Smith, show that during the year 1915 there were 1,697 homesteads "proved up," thus adding that many parcels of land to the taxable property of Nebraska. Alliance is the largest land office and last year reported over 1,000 final proofs.

Harry B. Fleharty of Omaha, speaking at the democratic editorial banquet, congratulated the country upon the settlement of the currency question, declaring that panics are a thing of the past for all time to come because of the banking bill. He predicted that the tariff question would be forced to the front in the coming campaign.

An audit of the state treasurer's books for the period beginning January 8, 1915, and ending December 31, 1915, shows cash receipts of nearly three million dollars in addition to the funds raised by the regular tax levied. Interest on state funds in depository banks amounts to $28,046.91, and office and miscellaneous fees foot up to $382,504.40. Institution and university cash funds amount to $472,488.33, and interest on the educational trust fund investments totals $434,820.61. Investments held by these funds were paid to the amount of $941,221.63 during the period, thus presenting a problem for re-investment.

At the democratic editorial banquet in Lincoln the 11th, those who opposed President Wilson's preparedness program—and some of those who favor it in a modified form expressed the conviction that all armor plate and munitions of war should be supplied by the government itself, manufactured in plants owned and operated by Uncle Sam. Such a policy would remove all selfish motives, for jingoism, and render the preparedness program free from danger of militarism.

Democratic Editorial Banquet

The banquet given by the Democratic Editorial association, at the Lindell hotel, Lincoln, January 11, was attended by about 400 guests and was a most pronounced success in every way. Credit for this is due in great measure to President John M. Tanner, who acted as toastmaster; E. A. Wairath, secretary; as well as other members of the committee on arrangements. John W. Coutright, editor of the Lincoln Daily Star is the champion booster, however, having disposed of 101 tickets.

This banquet served as a sort of preliminary state convention for bringing out candidates for state office. Announcements were made of the candidacy of Charles W. Pool for renomination as secretary of state; Wm. H. Smith for auditor; Geo. E. Hall for treasurer; Willis E. Reed for attorney general; W. S. Ridgell, Jack Grace and Victor Wilson for railway commissioner; Harry Adams for treasurer; and a number of other aspirants made speeches but did not make formal announcement of their intention to file.

President Wilson's name was always loudly applauded, but there was division on his preparedness program. Former United States Senator Wm. V. Allen and Arthur Mullen stood in support of preparedness, while Governor Morehead, I. J. Dunn and C. W. Bryan spoke in opposition to it. Applause was about equally divided. Mr. Bryan alone touched on the prohibition question and declared himself in favor of it. Mayor Jim Dahlman made an earnest speech in favor of placing the "man above the dollar," and declared that Omaha democrats would support the present state officers for reelection and W. J. Bryan for delegate-at-large to the National convention.

Who is Responsible?

What, or who is it, that is responsible for the demand for a standing army and navy, second to none, or superior to any, supported by European nations?

Have the people of these United States at any time signified desire for this innovation? Is this menace to the peace and prosperity of the wealth producer being fastened upon them on account of the process now in vogue converting the land-owning farmers of the U. S. into tenants, being too slow? Are members of the labor unions too prosperous? Did the democrats at their last national convention declare themselves in favor of stimulating European countries in the matter of standing armies and navies?

If the producers of this country are to be burdened by the same yoke that has galled the necks of the producers of wealth in European countries, what particular difference will it make to them whether they call themselves citizens of a representative government or are being ruled by an emperor? Is the United States at the present time, while at peace with all nations, with the European countries devastated by war, more in danger of being overcome by some foreign power than it has been in the past?

If the government has conducted itself in such a manner in the past as to warrant the approval of all other nations, what new departure is our government contemplating that should cause us to apprehend that at some time in the future some nation or nations are liable to undertake the novelty of whipping these United States from off the map?

I am aware of the futility of predicting what the future holds in store for us, but I am going to venture the prediction that should either political party at this next national convention have the temerity to declare itself in favor of such a standing army and navy as congress has been asked to provide for, that after the votes at the presidential election shall have been counted, it will be found that the sentiment contained in the song, "I did not raise my boy to be a soldier," is more firmly entrenched in the minds of our citizens than Teddy Roosevelt would have us believe.—A. H. Cressy in Hartington Herald.

Differs With the Government

August Hohneke of Hoskins was in Wednesday with a car each of cattle and hogs. He says that he is forced to dispose of his stock because his corn is gone. The crop was not nearly so large as he anticipated, and to make it still worse the quality was very poor. Mr. Hohneke agrees with other farmers, who say that the government's figures on the corn crop were very misleading, so far at least as the northern part of the corn belt is concerned. According to this idea, which is practically the same as that held by a good many other farmers, the yield in bushels is turning out very much less than expected at the time the government reports were made up and besides that the quality is nothing like as good as expected at that time. In other words the government reports according to Mr. Hohneke overestimate both quality and quantity.—Journal Stockman.

Jim Dahlman was at his best the other evening when called upon to address the assembled democratic editors. He wanted it understood that he is still a democrat, undaunted and unafraid, but shorn of all ambition to attain higher personal honors than those already within his grasp. He told the boys as far as he was individually concerned they might all go to Helena, Montana, since he had no further favors to solicit at their generous hands. In that plain way he voiced the sentiments of politicians generally. After the newspaper man has howled himself black in the face to further their ambitions, and there is nothing more he can do to boost them toward the summit, he may go to the place Mr. Thorne says isn't, as far as they are concerned.

The politician is so rude,
So full of guile, I find
He has no grace, no gratitude,
No nothing of the kind.
When he is reaching for the plum
So valued by such men,
And you turn in and help him some,
He'll smile upon you then.
He'll shake your hand, to give you joy,
And even tip his hat;
He'll say you are a "bully boy,"
And let it go at that.—Bixby.

GOE'S Hog Worm Cream Concentrated

All Hogs are Wormy: By the very nature of the hog, His way of living and what he eats, is bound to be wormy.

There is no market for hog Worms, and they sap the life blood and your money from the hog. Hog worms stunt young hogs, and a stunted hog is a money loser in the fattening pen. The greatest menace to the health and thrift of the hog is worms. A wormless hog will be a choleraless hog.

Gores Hog Worm Cream is certain death to hog worms. It is the cheapest insurance and the best investment for hog raisers. It costs less than 3c per hog, "Each Dose", and if fed once each 30 days will keep them free from worms.

No Waste and Proper Dose

Gores Hog Worm Cream is not like any other medicine, it is a heavily concentrated cream preparation containing an absolute anthelmintic "Worm Killer", and if the directions are followed, each hog is certain to receive the proper dose.

You simply mix or stir Gores Hog Worm Cream in swill. It mixes perfectly and evenly. Put your swill in the trough and there you are.

Gores Hog Worm Cream is put up in the following sizes with full directions for mixing in swill or water and sold at the following prices:

- Small size enough for one dose for 25 hogs, price.....$1.50
- 1/2 gallon enough for one dose for 60 hogs, price.....$3.00
- 1 gallon enough for one dose for 120 hogs, price.....$5.00
- 3 gallons enough for one dose for 360 hogs, price....$10.00
- 5 gallons enough for one dose for 600 hogs, price....$15.00
- 10 gallons enough for one dose for 1200 hogs, price...$25.00

Gores Hog Worm Cream should be fed at least once a month.

The Bryan Treaty Bar
A Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune directs attention to the lamentable situation in which we find ourselves in our relation with Great Britain. Great Britain has been interfering with some of our maritime commerce, and yet "we can do nothing to compel it to raise the blockade of food shipments to Germany or to cease its depredations on American commerce." Why can we not compel Great Britain to do these things? Because the Bryan conciliation treaty stands in the way. Under that treaty we are bound to make no move toward war until there has been a year's discussion of the issue upon which the two governments are in disagreement.

See what a mess Mr. Bryan has got us into. We can send a firm but friendly note to London protesting against the injury done our business, but just as soon as we start to send over a fleet to enforce our rights London can pull the treaty on us, and the fleet must go into leash for at least a year. This impotency is the more distressing because nobody can fail to realize that the mere threat to put a fleet into action would at once bring Great Britain to any terms we might be disposed to dictate.

Almost equally vexatious, according to this patriotic Washington correspondent, is the fact that the same treaty would prevent congress from honorably imposing an embargo on shipments of munitions to the allies. As a matter of fact it would appear that congress could impose such an embargo just as honorably as Great Britain imposed an embargo on our food shipment to Germany. Assuming for the sake of argument, however, that the treaty would preclude an embargo, what a disappointment it must be to all our manufacturers and workers who are busily engaged in making munitions at profitable prices and good wages, when they realize that the goose that lays the golden egg cannot be killed.

Brushing aside fustian, does anybody of common sense think for a moment that the United States would try to settle a commercial controversy with Great Britain by inviting test of naval strength, even if there were no treaty to forbid? Does anybody believe it would be good business to retaliate for the loss of a few tens of millions of dollars in foreign trade by imposing an embargo that must mean the loss of hundreds of millions and the plunging of many of our industrial communities into deep depression?

If the Bryan treaties were all that was saving us from such stultifying asininity, then we should be profoundly grateful to Mr. Bryan. As they are not, we may accord the major share of the credit to our national common sense. It will be easy enough to find something else to rub Mr. Bryan about.—Sioux City Journal.

Tenants and Taxes
The only instance on record where the landlord did not shift increased taxes upon the renter occurred recently in Glasgow, Scotland, and it was beaten there by a strike conducted by the women. They tendered to the landlords, who raised rent on account of the increase in taxes, the usual amount and refused to pay more. The landlords sued out ejectment proceedings and said that they would turn all these recalcitrant tenants out on the streets. They had a perfect legal right to do so but when the case came to trial, the judge advised the landlords to accept the regular amount of rent and not try to make the women pay the cost of the war for they were far less able to do so than the owner of the real estate.

At first the landlord haughtily refused to take the judge's advice, but they shortly learned, as the old proverb says, "there are a good many ways to kill a cat." On one plea and another the cases were continued, which is a rare thing in the Scottish courts. A movement was started to house these tenants by the city government as a relief war measure, the tenant to pay rent to the city at the old rates. When the thing had advanced far enough to make certain such action would be taken, the landlords were informed that if they insisted on their ejectment suits they should have their legal pound of flesh and the tenants would be put out, but their property would remain vacant, they would have the taxes to pay without any income from it, and if they were not paid, the property would be sold for taxes. The landlords surrendered and the tenants were allowed to remain at the old rates.—World-Herald.

Senator Norris Scores
Senator Norris scores heavily against President Wilson when he states that the same people who cried for increased railroad rates are now crying for increased expenditures in the army and navy. "The same president," said Senator Norris, "who is urging the preparedness program is the one who used his influence and the influence of his office to bring about the increase in railroad rates. The same president who is carrying out one of the planks of the platform on which he was elected formerly urged that we should regulate the issuing of stocks and bonds by railroads, put forth his strong arm and stopped the enactment of that kind of a law just on the eve of its realization.

"The Limit," He Fears
"I fear sometimes that we have reached the limit of endurance. This false cry in favor of militarism if carried to its logical conclusion means suffering in the end for the common people."

Senator Norris is in position to do his country a great service. He is thoroughly hated by the powerful members of his own party and there will be a price on his head as long as he lives for the exposure he forced on the New Haven railroad steals and he might just as well cut all of the strings and he will find that next year there will be many voters in Nebraska who will forget partisanship and do their duty at the polls.—Creighton Liberal.

The above from the Liberal shows that there are many people of all political parties who want reforms to move a bit faster. The Democrat has been well pleased with the Wilson administration as a whole, because it has progressed in many ways against great obstacles. Certain powers are so entrenched behind special privilege granted in other days that any move against them and for the masses is attended with much difficulty. We would be glad indeed if our junior senator would join hands with those of like mind to hurry forward reforms and obstruct the onward march of the greed for wealth in its attempts to confiscate the natural resources of the country and the earnings of the people.

Farmers' Insurance Company Met
More than 150 farmers from Madison, Pierce, Stanton, Wayne and adjoining counties were in Norfolk Monday of last week to attend the annual meeting of the Farmers' Fire Assessment and Insurance Co., at which the business included the renewal of 1,530 policies which continue in force for five years. The company has been in existence for twenty-five years and Secretary Grimm has been able to show a substantial increase each year. About 100 new policies were issued in 1915 and the treasurer shows fully 1,530 policies amounting to $4,206,210 in force. Only one policy was cancelled in 1915 amounting to $2,240.

Herman Buettow, who has been president of the organization for many years was reelected, as were all of the other officers. Fred Grimm is secretary and C. F. Winter is the treasurer.

Among the Churches of Wayne

Methodist Church

(Rev. A. S. Buell Pastor)

Notwithstanding the extremely cold weather and the prevalence of "grip" among our members, there was a good attendance at the church and Sunday school last Sunday. The sermons for next Sunday will continue the series of practical interpretations of the decalogue. The first and second Commandments respectively furnished the background for last Sunday's messages.

Next Sunday the morning message will be on "Reverence," and the third and fourth Commandments will show the advantages and righteousness of reverence to God's name and to God's institutions.

The evening message will be on the fifth Commandment which affords an opportunity to speak on the home, with its privileges and responsibilities. Especially emphasizing the sacredness of marriage, the honor due parents, and the rewards of filial devotion. Here is the guarantee of life and happiness in return for service that is most pleasant and easy to perform. Every one interested in the home will want to hear this sermon on Sunday evening. The message will be of interest to parents, children and young people.

"Fathers provoke not your children to wrath, but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." "Honor thy father and mother that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

The young people of the Sunday school are planning a social for Friday evening.

The following letter just received from the pastor of the church where Mr. G. I. Waltz, has been conducting the singing part of the program. Professor Waltz is to have charge of the music during the Union Evangelistic meetings in Wayne, beginning February 6th.

South Essex, Mass.
Rev. A. S. Buell,
Wayne, Neb.

My Dear Brother—In response to the word of Mr. Waltz, I am writing this word to you relative to our work in this place. We began Sunday evening and have had stormy weather every night until last night, but in spite of this fact, we have had nearly thirty bright clear decisions in five nights in a constituency of about four hundred. Mr. Waltz is a master of audiences. Without his presence we would never have been able to have accomplished anywhere near the results that have been accomplished. I am pleased to know that you are to have him during the month of February. I am sure that you will have a large and successful meeting.

Fraternally yours,
ATHUR A. PITMAN,
Pastor M. E. Church.

Presbyterian Church

(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

The hour of morning worship is 10:30. Be on time and you will not miss any part of the service. If practically all the members of the church are present next Sunday morning, a particular announcement, of interest to everyone will be made. The topic for the morning sermon will be: "The Unselfishness of True Religion."

The Philathea-Barracca class have their charter, a fine organization. There were 21 members in attendance last Sunday, bad weather notwithstanding.

Everybody is invited to all the services of this church, of course. We desire, however, to urge you to come to the evening meetings. Of all the meetings of the day, this is most distinctively the meeting for everyone. The theme for the address next Sunday evening will be: "Pressing On." A live message on a "pressing" theme.

The C. E. will meet at 6:30. The topic is: "Amusement That is Worth While." Misses Cella Gildersleeve and Effie Carpenter will lead the meeting.

If you have not already begun to do so, begin now to boost for the February meetings. Wherever the meetings may be held, we are together in spirit and should plan to be all together in attendance upon the meetings. For the good of the community of Wayne and vicinity, let us all boost and plan to attend the meetings.

The Juniors have reorganized and meet each Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. They take this new start with fine prospects for excellent work.

Baptist Church

Rev. W. L. Gaston, Pastor

There was a good crowd last service at the corner church and the music was very highly complimented. On the platform the speaker constructed a four-square Wayne, while the people watched and listened. It was a plea to support the business interests of the town in order that business might bring to the people the best things of life—that beautiful homes might be maintained. It was a plea for schools and education such as could only be maintained in a prosperous town where business was good. And last came the church, most important of all. Good business, good homes, good schools called for good churches and the churches supplemented all other culture and developed the spiritual and the higher ambitions that are intuitive in every human breast and while schools prepare for life here the church comes on and teaches how to project that life out into and through the eternities.

You are asked to come again next Sunday and are promised a program just as interesting and profitable. Just as replete with good music by the choir of good strong voices, will be the presentation next Sunday both morning and evening.

The Making of a Prince will be the subject of the evening lecture and will be one especially helpful to young people. Come early and bring somebody with you.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and removes dandruff. It is excellent for falling hair and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.
