Fourteen Nebraska papers organized under the name of the Nebraska Publishers' Bureau are always doing great things for this state, and their latest effort to make better known the wealth and resources of the state is being successfully staged this week, and the stage is the most magnificent and extensive perhaps ever played upon. Special trains of magnificent cars, long processions of automobiles and thousands of miles of travel are parts for the stage in Nebraska, and the play is publicity.

From the far east, Boston, New York, Philadelphia by special car came representatives of the great advertising agencies who are annually placing $25,000,000 worth of advertising. They handle much of the work for the great nationally advertised goods the names of which may be seen in so many magazines and newspapers. These Nebraska publishers thought they were not getting the proportion of this business which the wealth of this great commonwealth would entitle them to, or which it would be profitable for these great agencies to place here, because they had not seen Nebraska. So the special was brought, and started at Omaha Monday, and is making a circuit of the state this week, visiting Fremont, West Point, Winier, Norfolk, Wayne, Columbus, Grand Island, Kearney, Hastings and Lincoln.

Wayne is the only place visited off the line of their rail travel, and that they might see the best of the state, a leisurely drive by automobile was made from Norfolk Wednesday. The sight they saw was an inspiration to these men from the city, and the small stony farms they had seen fertilized, tilled and coaxed to give back a scanty crop. Here they saw vast fields of corn, wheat, oats, alfalfa—countless herds of cattle roaming at will in immense pastures, swine and sheep. One corn field was passed in which the force at work was cleaning five rows of corn every time they crossed the great field in which the corn row were a half mile long either way. More than an acre of corn plowed at each round. Great fields of alfalfa were being put into stack, for we do not have near barn room to hold our crops.

They marveled at the magnitude and wealth of this farm land. After a ride of thirty miles they were most royally entertained and feasted by the ladies of Wayne, who had prepared a great picnic dinner and had tables spread on the court house lawn. It was an effort that was much appreciated by our visitors and the home folks who partook. More than three hundred dined there, and still more could have been fed, so lavishly did the good women provide.

The country so beautiful, the dinner so bountiful, the schedule time so short that our visitors had little time to visit the Wayne business houses, all of which were in their usual good order with neat, dressy display windows—but they see such things at home and in many places—but such a land as this, never—so they may be pardoned for lingering amid the fertile fields.

A party of several automobile loads made the drive to Winside to escort the visitors here.

The visitors were a genial, jolly lot and sang the praises of Wayne and the Wayne ladies at the close of the dinner—and some most excellent singers they were. All joined in the song we all know, "America", and they were gone.

Among the visitors to Wayne were: E. B. VanHook, Philadelphia; E. W. Rankin, Topeka; Rufus E. Harris, Omaha; Wm. T. Lang, New York; Willard D. Hosford, Omaha; Harry W. King, Chicago; Clarkson A. Collins, jr., Everett T. Wells, J. W. Desbecker, Frank Kaus, D. J. Ogilvie, New York; Miles Greenleaf, F. J. Roach, Omaha; Harry E. Gooch, Lincoln; W. A. Baer, New York; Charles E. Bellamy, Boston; Duncan P. MacPherson, Philadelphia; Ross L. Hammond, Fremont; A. M. Lewis, New York; C. H. Baker, New York; Henry Doerly, Omaha; J. P. Hallman, New York; Willard F. Bailey, Kearney; C. W. Pugsley, W. R. Mellor, Lincoln; Lloyd

Swain, Columbus; Harry G. Atkinson, New York; C. C. Rosewater, Omaha; D. J. Hinman, New York; L. C. Pruden, Frank Hermes, New York; Thos. F. Sturgees, Omaha; G. G. Flory, New York; G. R. Dunham, Boston; W. C. Sampson, Boston; W. W. Scott, Omaha; L. T. Kohl, W. A. McCarty, Hastings; C. B. Towle, Lincoln; C. C. Leffingwell, John F. Fitzgerald, New York; L. B. Towbin, Lincoln; Arthur G. Shew, Philadelphia; Harold F. Barber, Boston; S. R. McKelvie, Lincoln; S. E. Luth, New York; R. R. Foster, Harry B. Schunehut, Walter Rosicky, Omaha; Norris Huse and more than twenty others from Norfolk who neglected to register before the banquet.

Of the impression made by northeast Nebraska on the men from the far east we quote from a report of their first day trip after leaving Omaha:

"Grandest state I ever saw," exclaimed D. J. Ogilvie of the Cheltenham agency, New York, after having seen the great cattle herds at these Elkhorn valley farms.

Mr. Ogilvie is very much interested in raising stock and this part of Nebraska's prosperity appealed to him particularly.

The one thing that hit J. T. Desbecker hardest was the continual chorus of Nebraska song birds along the country roads. Mr. Desbecker is with the C. F. Redfield agency, New York, where, he says they don't hear the song of a wild bird from one year's end to another. He was particularly smitten on the western meadow lark, which was "new stuff" for him.

It was the famous farm of Owen Kane that knocked the boys from home to their knees. Mr. Kane met the delegation at his lowly cottage, which cost only $18,000, and then showed them $150,000 worth of shorthorn cattle, including one bull, for which he has refused as high as $10,000. When Mr. Kane told them that he came to his present farm about thirty years ago with forty meager beans in his war bags, the easterners pretty nearly had a relapse.

Judge A. R. Oleson of Wisner engineered the auto caravan over perfect roads at a high rate of speed and some of the boys got their collars soiled. Another incident that should be deleted by censor occurred when the roistering tribe stopped beside an exquisite strawberry ranch and gobbled the luscious fruit until their lips challenged those of Anna Held.

Dammeyer-Steib

At Fremont, Nebraska, June 4, 1891, Mr. Wm. Dammeyer and Miss Caroline Steib were united in marriage. The young people were born and grew to young man and womanhood in Germany, but it remained for them to come to America and here meet, love and wed. For twenty-five years they have traveled together and Sunday the quarter of a century of married life was celebrated at their neat home in this city. A party of about forty friends from Wayne, Wisner and Pilger responded to their invitation and had a most enjoyable day. Several from Wisner and Pilger were present at their marriage 25 years before. Refreshments were served with true German hospitality and many tokens of esteem and friendship were given by the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Dammeyer came to America thirty years ago, and after marriage lived for eight years at Fremont, and then came to Wayne which has since been their home. About four years ago they visited their relatives and friends in Germany, and went prepared to remain if the old country looked as good to them as they often thought it would when thinking of the friends of other days and the scenes of a happy childhood. But after a visit of two or three months they again set sail for America and Wayne, and now feel that they are settled for life in one of the garden spots of the world.

Shearer-Larson

Wednesday, June 7, 1916, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hiscox in this city, Forest E. Shearer of Stuart and Miss Edna M. Larson of Wakefield were united in marriage. Rev. A. S. Buell of the Methodist church officiating. The bride and groom departed at once for the home of the bride's parents near Wakefield, where a royal reception was given them. They will make their home at Stuart.

Obituary—Mrs. T. B. Heckert

Elizabeth Jane Shipley was born in New London, Iowa, April 28th, 1868, and came to her death in Sioux City, Iowa, June 4th, 1916, after an illness at the hospital lasting six weeks and being at the time of her death 48 years, 8 months and 9 days of age. She was married to Dr. T. B. Heckert September 11, 1890. To this union were born two girls—Mrs. Clara Norris of Hastings and Miss Margerite Heckert of Wayne. Dr. and Mrs. Heckert made their home in Wayne in 1893. Mrs. Heckert was a noble woman, having endeared herself to a host of friends in the church and community. She joined the Methodist church in Wayne under the pastorate of Dr. H. H. Millard in 1902 and has been a faithful worker in the church and its societies. She was a member of the P. E. O. society and the Monday club. The entire community is poorer because of the death of this splendid woman in the prime of her life. The community extends their sympathy and prayers to the bereaved family in their great sorrow.

The funeral of Mrs. Heckert was from the home at 10:30 Tuesday forenoon, Rev. A. S. Buell of the Methodist church preaching a brief discourse to the many friends and neighbors who had gathered in honor of the worthy woman who had gone from among us and to give expression to their sympathy and respect for the bereaved husband, daughters and aged mother. A rich tribute of flowers was offered. The burial was at the Wayne cemetery.

Obituary—Mrs. Mary Ellen Hyatt

Mary Ellen Cooper was born at Bluegrass, Scott county, Iowa, September 14, 1842, and died at her home in Wayne, June, 1916, being at the time of her death 72 years, 8 months and 19 days old. She was married April 15, 1866, to A. J. Hyatt and to this union were born seven children, of whom four are living, W. B. Hyatt of Wayne, Geo. W. Hyatt of Randolph, Alvin M. Hyatt of Onawa, Iowa, and Mrs. Jerucia Ann Searight of Woodsword, Montana. Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt came to Wayne county twenty-eight years ago and settled on a farm south of town, moving into Wayne three years ago last January. Mrs. Hyatt was a member of the Grace Methodist church. Her favorite song was expressed in the prayer, "Pass me not, O Gentle Savior." Mrs. Hyatt has not been well for a long time and was subject to painful attacks at times and in one of these had attacks she passed away last Saturday. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved husband and children.

The funeral from the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon was largely attended by the many friends of the family. Members of the G. A. R. post of this city and of Randolph, where Mr. Hyatt was a member for a number of years, as well as Randolph members of the W. R. C. attended the service in a body. There was much love and appreciation of this good woman's worth expressed in the large floral tribute given in her memory. The service was conducted by Rev. A. S. Buell, and the burial in the Wayne cemetery.

A Talk on Talkwith Rock

A very unusual theme will be presented in the Sunday evening lecture at the Baptist church next Sunday. There will be two wide awake helpful services, both embellished with a rich program of music. The morning services will be the occasion of the second sermon on Elijah and those who heard the initial sermon last Sunday will want to hear the next one.

In the evening Rev. W. L. Gaston will lecture on "Talkwith" Rock or Lessons and Scenes from the Top of Mount San Jacinto. Mr. Gaston spent two weeks on the famous mountain of Southern California and what he has to say about it will be both interesting and entertaining.

Summer students at the Normal will be very warmly welcomed and they should by all means hear this lecture.

C. J. Rundell Gives Lecture

Mr. Rundell announces that he will give a lecture Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the Bell school house. All are invited—admission free.

EIGHTH GRADE GRADUATES

The Largest Class in History of County Finish 8th Grade Work and Prepare to March Onward in School Work

Standing room was at a premium at the county court house Saturday afternoon when a class of 78 eighth grade graduates gathered for their commencement exercises and diplomas. A large majority of the rural districts were represented as well as the village districts of Hoskins, Winside and Carroll, and the consolidated district at Sholes. The class members filled the space back of the rail which is reserved for officials, witnesses and others in court time, while an audience composed of their friends, relatives and people interested in the success of the school work filled all available space in the rest of the room.

Decorations of white and green, the class colors, were neatly draped about the room, while the class motto, "Earnest Efforts Lead to Success," was stretched across the room in green letters on a white background.

A splendid program was given. The vocal solo by Miss Edna Jones captivated the audience. The address by Dean Hahn of the state normal was most appropriate and excellent. It was sound advice to both patron and pupils, and is deserving of publication, but could not be obtained for this issue of the Democrat.

The welcome of the different high schools of the county, extended to the graduates through representatives of the different schools was hearty and appropriate. They urged the advisability of continuing the school work to, "The End of the Row," as suggested by the title of Mr. Hahn's splendid address, and their different presentations of the claims of their schools and of the advantages of high school work in general could not be otherwise than made more emphatic from the fact that the speakers were students of the high school for which they were making a plea. Hoskins, Sholes, Carroll and Wayne representatives spoke, the Winside speaker not being able to attend and no one was named as substitute.

Following the class song, which the superintendent wrote, diplomas were presented by Miss Sewell and a benediction was pronounced on the pupils and audience.

CLASS SONG

(Tune—"Marching Through Georgia")
How fast the years have passed away
Since by our mothers sent,
To the old white school house on the hill
Where happy days were spent,
In spite of teachers' rod and rule
For those on mischief bent
For we were working for high school.

Chorus:
Hurrah! hurrah! our colors green and white
Hurrah! hurrah! we stand for good and right
At lessons hard for eight long years we've dug with all our might
For we were working for high school.

Those eighth grade girls and many boys
Will never pass the test
As sure of it the doubters were
As sunset in the west
And then of course we just sat up
And did our very best
For we were working for high school.

But now since the exams are done
And gone all doubt and fears
When we look back along the line
It almost brings the tears
Because we know we'll not go back
Where we have gone for years
For we are ready for high school.

So bring us our diplomas now
For we have sung our song,
Sung it with a spirit that shows
We've not gone wrong,
Sung it as we ought to sing it
Eighty voices strong,
For we are ready for high school.

Fleetwood-Laub

Announcements have been received by friends here telling of the marriage, at Grand Junction, Iowa, Wednesday, June 7, 1916, of Mr. Elwaine E. Fleetwood and Miss Faye Eleanor Laub of that place. Mr. and Mrs. Fleetwood will be at home at Wayne after July 1st. We stop the press simply to congratulate.

The Northwestern Mutual Meeting

More than 150 officers, agents, policy holders and visitors were the guests of J. H. Kemp last evening at a banquet served at the Baptist church by the ladies of that church following a business meeting of the agents of this insurance company in northeast Nebraska. During the day these men discussed matters of interest to them and of the company, and a good many who are eligible to insurance will individually learn of the plans they made.

The banquet was the first attempt of anything of that nature in this state, though in some other states the agents and policy holders have meetings similar to this. The ladies of the church won much praise by their excellent service. When all had finished their repast Toastmaster F. S. Berry took charge, and there was not a dull moment from the time the Normal quartet sang their first selection until the curtain rang down three hours later. The praises of this company were sung and told by policy holder, agent, district manager and state official, and some of the guests who were not classed above.

As an entertainment it was a success—as an advertisement for the company it should rank high in returns to the promoters. Time and space forbid a more complete report at this time.

State Normal Notes

The summer session of the Wayne State Normal school opened Monday with the largest attendance in the history of the school. With the registration of students incomplete, the attendance at the close of the third day was 542 in the regular normal departments and more than 100 in the training school. This is 77 more than was ever enrolled in any previous summer session.

The registration blanks show 28 Nebraska counties are represented in the attendance, with students in attendance from Iowa, South Dakota, Missouri, Colorado and Iowa.

The first summer session of the school since it became a state institution was held in 1911, the total registration being 235. The growth of the school in the past five years will be observed by a comparison of the number enrolled on the first three days of registration week, beginning in 1911.

Session of	1st Day	2d Day	3d Day
1911	144	31	9
1912	171	90	12
1913	220	123	34
1914	235	120	40
1915	270	121	42
1916	371	146	25

Card of Thanks

Friends and neighbors will accept our sincere thanks for many acts of aid and sympathy extended to us during the sickness, death and burial of wife and mother. For the floral offerings we are truly grateful.

Wayne Public Service Club Grows

As a result of a contest between sides selected by V. A. Senter and Fred L. Blair four weeks ago the Wayne Public Service club has added 81 new members, practically doubling the membership. The membership should again be doubled and doubtless will be. In the contest for new members the Senter side won a little better than two to one, the sides standing 69 to 29 when the first of June dawned. This addition of new blood means much to the club and it is hoped that each and every new member will be a booster—get into the game in earnest and invite some other good citizen to join and help boost. Below we give a list of the new members:

Geo. Lamberson, N. Neilen, Sam Temple, J. H. Vibber, W. R. Ellis, Prof. O. A. Bowen, C. A. McMaster, J. C. Nuss, Dr. Williams, J. J. Coleman, Frank Gaertner, H. S. Dailey, C. E. An Old Corner Mark Going

The work of wrecking the "White Livery" barn is under way, the building being torn down and moved way to make room for the erection of a new and better building. Burret Wright, who purchased the property a few days ago will at once begin the erection of a garage building 75x150 on the site of the old barn. The new building is to be of brick and hollow tile, and it is to be occupied as a garage, with sales room and repair shop in connection.

Special Teacher Examination

There will be a special teachers' examination held June 23 and 24, in all county and city certificate subjects.

The Reading Circle will also be given on Saturday the 27th.

Mrs. J. Woodward Jones and daughter Ruth, went to Lincoln Friday to visit relatives a few days.

Mrs. Gus Newman went to Scribner Saturday to visit her sister, Mrs. Hoffman, who is ill at her home in that town.

Chas. Johnson, who has been working at Sioux City for several weeks, is with wife and family here this week, but is planning to return to the city again.

Geo. F. Sebald was a passenger west the first of the week going to Winside for the first stage of the journey with prospect of going to Neligh as the second hitch.

Mrs. Fred Volpp, who has been visiting at the home of Marcus Kroger and C. Johnson, her sisters, and at Bloomfield since the first of last week, returned to her home as Scribner Saturday.

About thirty boats, large and small, German and English and from 8,000 to 9,000 men, nearly equally divided as to the combatants, were lost in a North Sea naval battle last week.

Mrs. Higgins of Omaha spent Sunday at the home of her nephew, E. W. Huse. She was at Ponca last week where Mr. Higgins was buried, and came to Wayne for a short stay before returning to her home.

At Madison they are threatening to build a $25,000 hotel. Perhaps it will be well to wake the natives by a county-seat location fight in this county. A committee of citizens had a hand in bringing this matter to a successful issue.

The New "Get a Receipt" Plan has been adopted by

FRANK GAERTNER

House Furnishings and Pianos

Wayne, Nebraska

For the protection of our customers, our clerks and ourselves, we have installed the new "GET A RECEIPT" plan in our store. Our new receipt-printing National Cash Register designed especially for us by The National Cash Register Company of Dayton, Ohio, enables us to adopt this plan.

When buying goods at our store in the future a PRINTED RECEIPT, like the one shown herewith, will be issued from the register. It will show the amount of your purchase, the clerk who waited on you, the date and the number of the sale, together with any announcement we may wish to make to our customers from time to time.

This printed receipt will be wrapped in the parcel or handed to you personally whether buying for cash or on credit, or paying money on account.

Cut out this receipt. Good for $2 on the first $20 worth returns

HOW THE PLAN BENEFITS YOU

1. It prevents disputes.
2. It prevents overcharging.
3. It prevents mistakes in change.
4. It stops mistakes in charge accounts.
5. It insures a proper record of money paid on account.
6. It protects children by giving them a printed receipt to bring home.
7. It protects servants or messengers sent to our store. The receipt shows the amount spent and where they spent it.
8. It shows which clerk waited on you and, in case goods are exchanged or returned, proves the price paid and the date purchased.
9. It tells you of special announcements we wish to make.
10. It is a receipt for the money spent.

We ask your co-operation in this plan to protect your interests as well as our own, to the extent of seeing that you "GET A RECEIPT" from the cash register on every purchase and when paying money on account.

Thanking you for past patronage, and hoping that you will co-operate with us in making this store an ideal one from a customer's standpoint, I am, Very truly yours,

John Kober and wife of Traer, Iowa, who were visiting at Randolph last week received word that two of their granddaughters, the Kober girls were among those drowned in the railroad wreck in eastern Iowa, when a passenger train went down because a flood had undermined a railroad bridge.

It is suggested in some quarters that our bank guarantee law is responsible for a failure at Decatur because it tends to encourage careless banking. We fail to agree with that diagnosis. It will tend to make those who are to be held for a part payment of a bank's losses, the other banks more watchful, to see that bankers are careful, and they are in excellent position to know who is doing reckless banking.

Seward County Farmer Makes a Reply to R. R. Smith's Letter
Editor, Nebraska Democrat, Wayne, Nebr.

Dear Sir: It was with a great deal of interest that I read the letter of Mr. R. R. Smith, published in your issue of May 11th. It is very evident, after reading the letter, that Mr. Smith is not correctly informed as to the advantageous or disadvantageous of the county agent. I feel sure that if Mr. Smith would come to Seward county or Gage county and investigate the members of the Farmers' association, he would go home feeling that he had done himself and neighbors of his county a great injustice by his letter.

Gage and Seward counties, being the first two counties to take up this line of work, I will discuss the kind of men that are usually found acting as agents in these counties.

In Mr. Smith's letter, he claims that they are inexperienced or white collared school boys, which is absolutely untrue. The boys who have taken charge of the work, to my knowledge, and are acting as county agents have always been boys who were raised on the farm and have had actual experience in farming. The two county agents we have had in Seward county for the past four years, have been hard working, conscientious and efficient men. They do not profess to teach the farmers how to farm, but merely act as informing agent in matters that might come up pertaining to either crops or stock conditions.

We maintain, at a great expense, an Agricultural Experiment Station at Lincoln, where experiments of all kinds are carried on during the year. Bulletins are prepared and sent out giving the details of the results obtained by these experiments during the year. I dare say that very few farmers in the community read or study these bulletins as closely as they should. However, by having a county agent, who is in touch with the state farm at all times, and who has on file in the county agent's office these bulletins as well as the United States government bulletins pertaining to every question that might arise on the average farm. He is a man that is prepared to bring the information direct from the experiment station to our farmers upon all questions and experiments that have been tried out.

This man also acts as a clearing house for anything that we have to sell. If you have any seed or stock of any kind, it is listed in the county agent's office and if we want to buy anything of this nature, we always make known our wants and he acts as secretary and assists in bringing the buyer and seller together in our county. It often occurs that our own neighbor has exactly what we want to buy and we have what he is looking for, thus saving a middle man's profit, and at the same time, the seller, as a general rule, is able to get more than if he had sold it to some dealer.

Furthermore, Mr. Smith does to realize that at this time he is helping to support our agricultural agents by indirect taxation. The government has seen fit to appropriate $1200 to assist any county that takes up this work. The members of the association make up a like amount in order to get this appropriation. From a small beginning the association has grown here in Seward county to the extent that we have found it necessary to employ extra help to take care of the extra duties that the county agent has. I might add that the county supervisors, seeing the great amount of good that the county and farmers were deriving from having such an association as this, in the county, has seen fit to equip an office in the county court house with every facility desired to make the work a success. They have also provided a reading room for the benefit of every farmer in the county.

This man is not hired by any banker, merchant or any other business man and the comparison drawn by Mr. Smith is surely far fetched. They are most unreasonable and I dare say that after he understands the matter thoroughly, that he would be a most ardent supporter of county agent work.

In our association here, the county agent vaccinates all the hogs for cholera without any expense to the members, except the serum. I might add that we have made arrangements whereby we buy this serum at a less price than any individual can secure same.

The members are benefitted in a good many ways by having an association of this kind.

During the winters there are illustrated lectures held in the various precincts of the county where by the farmers are brought together where they discuss the problems of their farm and get the experience of the various farmers in their vicinity and by these get together meetings, where each and every farmer discusses the way he handled the problem that came up, every member is benefitted by the experiences of his neighbor.

Furthermore by having a county agent in your county, you are in touch with every county agent in the United States, and Seward county farmers have been able to place through their county agent, during the past year something like $18,000 worth of alfalfa seed that went to other county agents throughout the United States, and the profits from this one item alone has more than paid for the salary he receives.

The Seward county farmers' association expects to have a tour and get together picnic on June 1st, and it is likely that several hundred automobiles, comprising the farmers and members of this association, will spend the day in visiting a dozen or more farms that are carrying on the various kinds of farming and stock raising in the county. Each owner of the farm visited will make a short address explaining how he handles his farm and the advantages that he has found by handling it his way. You can see the vast amount of good that can be derived from a tour of this kind. It would be a pleasure to have Mr. Smith and his neighbors join us on this tour to see for himself the feeling of the farmers towards an association of this kind, after having tried it out for the past four years.

Being a farmer myself, I know the great amount of good that we have derived by having the county agent. I can say to Mr. Smith, that I operate five farms here in Seward county and that I have increased my donation to the association each year for there has never been a year that the benefits have not been fourfold.

We are now working on a three year basis and we all feel that it has become a permanent fixture and it is quite likely that in the very near future the county agent work will be put on a county basis, whereby the association will be supported by direct taxation as a that we have here in Seward county to act as their agent, they will be, be most fortunate in having an organization of this kind.

Seward county, through her able county superintendent and county agent, assisted the two boys that captured the first and second prizes in the pig contest in the state.

And still the good work is going on. At this time we are forming boys' and girls' clubs over the entire county, and there will be fifteen loving cups given to the boys and girls in Seward county, who produce the best dairy calf, the best beef calf, the best pig, the best pure bred colt, or best grade colt, the best sheep, the best poultry, and in fact, we expect to have a judging contest for the boys and girls, where they will compete among themselves for the numerous prizes that will be given by the association.

By co-operating in this way, we not only help ourselves but we help every progressive man in the county that is willing to progress, but of course, if a man has come to that point where he is willing to let well enough alone, he is not much benefit to the world at large.

New inventions are coming to us every day and the world goes on at a very fast rate regardless of whether we favor the new teachings and the new inventions or not. But in traveling over the state, you can generally pick out the man who is doing things that are worth while, by the kind of business place that he keeps, whether it be farming, banking or any other business.

This letter is given to the Wayne county farmers, unsolicited, and with the hope that they will at least look into the matter fully and be convinced that the work of the county agent is a benefit to the entire community.

I sincerely hope that Wayne county will adopt this work and be counted one of the progressive similar move has been made in other counties.

So far as this work being for Indians and uneducated farmers, I want to say to Mr. Smith, that they are not the class of people that associate themselves with an association of this kind. However, they have not arrived at that point where they are progressive enough to receive any benefits from any association.

There is not one of us who is not able to learn something from our neighbors if we will only take the pains and trouble to find out how and why he is handling the work he has at hand, a different way than we have been doing it.

So far as the banker, doctor, merchant and the various professions that he refers to are concerned, every one of them has their organization where they get together and discuss the various problems that confront them.

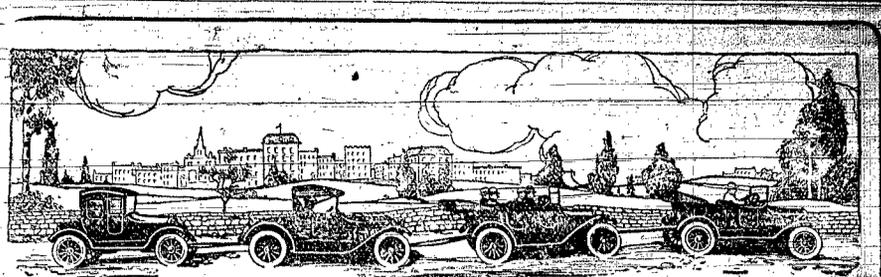

The movement for a county agent is in the line of progress the same as Mr. Banker, Mr. Merchant, and any other line of work that is being carried on by the people of this age and when any one man or set of men arrive at that point where they know everything and that they cannot be benefitted by coming into contact with other men that are promoting the same line of work that they are interested in, I fear that they have become so narrow that it would be a hard matter to convince them on any subject that confronts the average man as he journeys along through life.

We are apt to jump at conclusions and cross the bridge before we get to it. But before a man, who is on trial for some offence, is found guilty, the evidence must show that he has committed a wrong and would suggest that Mr. Smith get the evidence of the various members that are now supporting other organizations of this kind before judgment has been passed. If Wayne county is granted government aid for a county agent, and they secure the kind of men counties of the state, in better agriculture and better stock.

Yours truly,
D. M. HILDEBRAND,

How the Texas Tube test happened!

IT nettled Bill Parr considerably! So many motorists had carelessly stated that "all Tire Tubes are just Rubber." He determined to show some folks the difference, in a way they would never forget.

There were four Cars at the door, and their Owners or Drivers at his elbow. To these he said,—"Boys,—how strong do you think this Goodrich Brown Tube actually is?"

"Do you believe it is strong enough to tow Mr. Oden's five passenger Car, with four people in it, for 20 blocks?"

"You don't, eh?" "Well now here's a bit of a Bet I want to make with any, or all, of you."

"I will bet you a Dinner that this little old regular Goodrich Tube (34x4) will not only tow Mr. Oden's Car, but will tow all three of your Cars,—fully passengered,—through the streets, for the full 21 blocks (more than a mile and a half)—starting and stopping as many times as the crowd makes it necessary."

"I will,—if you Gentlemen are agreeable.—line up all four of your Cars, right here and now, take three regular Goodrich Tubes hap-hazard out of their boxes,—tie one tube between each two Cars, (which means hauling three Cars on the first Tube) and tote You all that way to 'The Corners.'"

"Are you willing to bet a Dinner that any one of the three Tubes will 'go broke' on the way, or show a flaw which would leak Air, or prevent its being used for its original Tire purpose afterwards?"

"You are, eh?" "Well,—the Bet's on!" "Come along, and you be the Judges."

THE Dinner was a very Cheerful Affair. As Oden said afterwards (when putting up his share of the Bet) "you could have bet me a Million on that, Parr, and I'd have taken you up,—even if I had to borrow the Million."

"I don't see how the blamed Tubes ever did hold out,—especially going up Saco St. under such a strain."

"With eight people in the last three Cars,—and a total load of over 8,000 pounds I sure thought to hear something snap before Second Block."

"Whaddye put into that brown Goodrich Rubber anyhow, to make it hang together like that?"

Fritz said that what puzzled him most was the brown Rubber Tubes "not being all stretched out of shape after such a tug, even if they did hang together at the finish."

"Look you," said he, "when we released the load,—after the Haul,—they instantly snapped back into just three-quarters of an inch longer than they were at the start!"

"And that 3/4 of an inch, they took up again in less than two hours rest."

"WELL, boys,"—Bill Parr remarked,—as he smoothed out a wrinkle in his well-filled vest, "that'll stop the Argument about all Tire Tubes being 'just Rubber,' won't it?" "If the Brown Stuff that toted all you Heavy-weights,—and your Cars,—for 21 blocks, without a Sign of Heavy Duty afterwards, isn't something MORE than 'Just Rubber,' like other Tubes,—then you'd better buy the 'Just Rubber' kind hereafter."

"I'm going to ask you to sign your names to this 'Texas Tire Tube Test,'—just to show that you have taken part in a regular Exploit which is mighty well worth recording."

So indeed they did,—and here is the affidavit:

AFFIDAVIT.
This certifies that we, the undersigned, took part in and witnessed the Texas tube test referred to in the advertisement entitled "How the Texas Tube Test Happened!"—that the test was made on date of Nov. 11, at Waco, Texas, the distance covered being twenty-one blocks and that the result was as described.
Signed— W. M. ODEN,
J. M. NASH,
B. A. FRITZ,
W. A. PARR.
Subscribed and sworn to before me by W. M. Oden, J. M. Nash, B. A. Fritz and W. A. Parr, this 3rd day of May, A. D. 1916, at Waco, Texas,
Signed— J. G. WREN,
Notary Public,
McLennan County, Texas.

Now what think You of these GOODRICH Tire Tubes that could bear up under such a gruelling test? Reflect that they cost you no more than the "ordinary" Tubes you so carelessly accept!

home Tuesday for a two weeks' visit. He will take work in the University of Minnesota this summer. Next year he goes to Waldorf, Minnesota, in charge of the schools. At that place a new thirteen room building is being erected this summer. It will be newly equipped for domestic science, manual training, and agricultural subjects.
I. D. Wood, drainage expert for the federal government, but working under the direction of the State University, was here Tuesday to look over one of J. D. Haskell's farms south of John Lennart's. It is the plan of the government to establish drainage systems on two farms in each county as object lessons to show the value and method. R. H. Camp, farm demonstrator for Thurston county, accompanied Mr. Wood.

Last Friday night a farewell reception was given for Brother and Sister McCarthy in the parlors of the Christian church. Many friends and members of the church were present. Mrs. Wallace Ring presented them with a magnificent dish containing a sum of money which was a token of love and remembrance by those present. Mr. McCarthy says he is going to use the purse of money to buy peach trees to plant an acre of ground on his Missouri farm.

Bulletin No. 3

Why Not Face the Facts About Armor Competition?

To the People:

The policy of the United States Government for many years has made real competition in armor-making ineffective.

The Government might have asked the three armor plants for bids and let the entire tonnage to the lowest bidder. That would have made competition effective.

The result of such a course would have been to drive two of the three manufacturers out of business, and leave the country with facilities of only one plant in time of need.

The Government in fact has always asked for bids from the three manufacturers, but no matter what the price quoted, each year's business was divided among them.

Armor makers serve but one customer—the Government, just as a public utility serves but one customer—a community.

The solution of the public utility problem is regulation of rates.

The solution of the armor problem is for the Government to fix the price.

We voluntarily agree to accept any price fixed by the Federal Trade Commission. Isn't acceptance of that offer better than the destruction of an industry built solely to serve the Government?

WAYNE MARKET REPORT

Following are the market prices quoted us up to the time of going to press, Thursday:

Oats	30c
Corn new	56c
Barley	40c
Spring wheat	84
Wheat	80
Eggs	18c
Butter	25c
Hogs	8.50
Fat Cattle	$6.50 @ $8.50

It has been proven by government experts that farms nearest market are of greater value, though less fertile, than those more remote from the point where the product is exchanged for money or goods.

In an Illinois town publicity is being used to enforce sobriety. One convicted of being intoxicated has his or her name posted on a public bill board, where it is kept until three months has elapsed since the person has been convicted of drunkenness. Publicity can cure many evils.

With a few more naval encounters like the one last week between the German and English fleets, the United States will easily stand first as a naval power, without having to go to the expense of building any new cruisers. Only in their submarine equipment will these powers have a lead over us.

The Cedar County Farmers' Telephone Co., has received orders from the state railway commission to raise their rates 25 cents per month per patron, and now the patrons are crying loud. They should have made their hell when notice was given that the higher rate was asked by the company. A lot of people never tumble to what is coming until a house falls on them.

An effort is to be made to repeal the law protecting the red fox and the gray squirrel. Under protection they are becoming too numerous, and birds too few, for the squirrels are said to be very fond of bird eggs and young birds, and they have been known to acquire a taste for small chickens. We hope that Mr. Rundell will make a note of that as one of the things to look after next winter.

Both at New York and Chicago, great preparedness parades have been held, more than a quarter million participating—some of them on full pay and order of those who employ them—but with all this rush for the parade, the recruiting stations at both places are finding it hard work to enlist 5,000 men who favor preparedness enough to become a member of army or navy. Such preparedness is a pure fake, and not worth the cost of the shoe leather worn out in the parade.

Many people will be glad to witness the great films of the "Battle Cry of Peace" at the Crystal Friday or Saturday. This great work is intended to lead people to prepare for peace by being ready for war, if we correctly understand the announcements that are sent out. Be its object what it may people will want to see it, and none the less because they may not believe in this form of preparation for peace. The editor has but little sympathy with those who would neglect needed internal improvements to prepare to repel an imaginary foe. He would rather see a million dollars spent to develop our water power, than to see half that sum paid to needless defense program. It would be far better to spend millions so that they will help to save and produce other millions than to spend them to put this nation in the position of a man with a chip on his shoulder daring anyone to knock it off. It is to be hoped that all who can will see the pictures.

In this issue of the Democrat may be found a reply to the letter of Mr. R. R. Smith, published four weeks ago. This letter comes from a farmer in Seward county, and while a trifle long is well worth reading for the manner in which he defends the employment of a county agent to aid the farmer. The letter was received a little too late for the last issue of the Democrat, as did another reply which will find a place next week—in fact we have two more replies to Mr. Smith, and whether he was right or wrong in his position, his letter has drawn quite a return fire—and from it all we come to know more of the question of farm demonstrators or county agents. We live to learn, and this may help us to learn to live. The question is a live one and may be profitably discussed, and the Democrat is willing to aid in giving both side of the question publicity.

Aged Pioneer Gone

Ernest Behmer sr., one of the early pioneers of Wayne county and owner of about 900 acres of land, died at 5 o'clock Friday morning, June 2, at the age of 85 years, 1 month and 8 days of complications due to old age. Mr. Behmer was in good health up until about four months ago when his health gave out and he grew weaker until the end came. Mr. Behmer took an active part in the early days of his life. He served as county commissioner for several years, when the county seat was located at Laporte, which was about eight miles southeast of Wayne. That time was before a railroad went through here and Mr. Behmer made his trips on horseback, when he attended the commissioners' meetings. He was also president of the Farmers' State Bank and during his life he held other minor offices. Besides a man who was always ready with a helping hand, he lived a Christian life.

Mr. Ernest Behmer was born in Germany in 1831 and came to America in 1861, settling near Janesville, Wisconsin. He was married there to Ernestine Muehlmeier and lived there for eleven years and in 1872 they came to Wayne county, taking a homestead just west from where Hoskins now stands. Mrs. Behmer died in 1894 and Mr. Behmer moved to Hoskins six years ago. Eleven children were born to them, of whom five survive: Mrs. C. J. Fuhrman, E. O. Behmer, Mrs. Henry Frevert of near Wayne, W. F. Behmer and Ed. Behmer. His sons are prominent farmers or business men in and near our city. Besides these he leaves one brother, Mr. Aug. Behmer sr., one sister, Mrs. Aug. Hackemack of New York city, thirty-two grand-children and nine great grand-children.

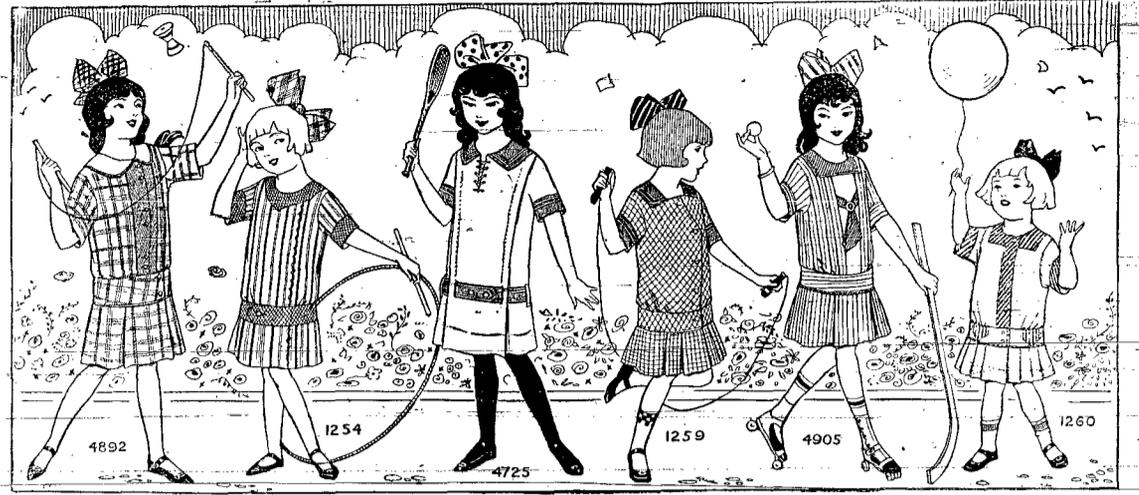

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the German Lutheran church. Rev. Aron, pastor of the church officiating and paying a beautiful tribute to the memory of the deceased. The casket was covered with beautiful floral designs that loving fingers ever wrought, all of which spoke of peace, purity and immortality. At the close of the services an unusual long procession followed the casket wagon to the cemetery of the German Reform church where burial was made. At the open grave we said, "farewell." May God's purest angels guard his slumbers.—Hoskins Headlight.

Among the Churches of Wayne

Presbyterian Church
(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)
A cordial invitation is hereby extended to the teachers and students of the summer school to attend any and all of the services of this church. In the Sunday school, there are classes that will be attractive to you. The young people will welcome you to the Y. P. S. C. E. The evening service next Sunday evening will please you. Come!

There was a very encouraging congregation in attendance at the last Sunday evening services. Come again. The sermon subject for the next Sunday evening will be, "The Young Man that was Loved at First Sight." There will be a good music program. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock and close at 9. We shall be pleased to see all our old friends and many new friends.

The following Children's day program will be offered next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. under the direction of Mrs. A. R. Davis and Miss Neva Orr:
Opening Song—The School.
Greetings—Lucile Noakes.
Song, "Sing Children, Sing"—Boys and Girls' Choir.
Recitation, "Children Everywhere"—Helen Felber.
Prayer Song—Esther Mae Ingham, Katherine Lou Davis.
Recitation, "The Flag"—Franklin Philleo.
Song, "Every Lovely Thing"—Mrs. Clasen's Class.
Primary Song, "The For-get-me-nots"—Sadine Hostettler, Nattalie Johnson, Vivian Kinne.
"The Message of the Bells"—Marietta Clasen, Edna Hansen, Don Miller, Marion Surber.
Exercise, "Fly Away"—Dorothy Roberts, Dorothy Felber, Twilla Hostettler.
Exercise, "Hosanna in the Highest"—Seven Girls.
Cradle Roll Exercises of Graduation.
Brief address, "From the Field"—The Pastor.
Closing Song—The School.
Benediction.
Children will be presented for Baptism at this service.

Methodist Church
(Rev. A. S. Buell Pastor).
There will be the regular preaching service at the morning hour by the pastor and not the Children's Day program as announced last Sunday. There was delay in getting the programs so that the Children's Day exercises will be held on Sunday morning, June eighteenth. Dean H. H. Hahn will give the message Sunday evening on, "The Child and the Home." This is a splendid message and shows careful thought and many practical truths. Every adult in Wayne should hear this message.

There will be a public reception to the new students at the church on Friday night. All of the students and all others are invited to come. The price of admission will be a SMILE and a Hearty Good Will. This is to be an evening of good fellowship for the purpose of getting acquainted.

The students are very cordially invited to make the Methodist church their church while in the city. The regular services are as follows: Morning worship, 10:30 a. m.; Sunday school, 11:45 a. m.; Epworth League Devotional meeting 7 p. m.; Evening Preaching service at 8 p. m.
The mid week bible lecture and prayer meeting at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
(Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor)
Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.
Preaching at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m.
Luther League at 7 p. m.
The subject of the morning sermon will be, "The Work of the Holy Spirit." In the evening the pastor will take for his theme, "The Sin Unto Death." John says "there is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it." Does this intimate that even in the christian community there may exist a sin unto death? If this be true then those externally numbered among believers may be severed from the inward fellowship of life in Christ, and the sin does not mean blasphemy against the Holy Ghost. But what does it mean? Come to the service and hear the discourse.

The Council will meet in regular monthly session next Wednesday evening.
A young peoples' choir has been started in the Sunday school and it has improved the singing. We hope to have every chair filled next Sunday morning.

The Ladies' Aid will meet next Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Ed. Miller.

German Lutheran Church
Rev. Moehring, Pastor
Next Sunday: Pentecost. Services will begin at 10:30 a. m. Sacrament of the Altar will be administered.
Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.
The pastor will be at Winside in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. It is the confirmation day of our Winside congregation. Let us all be present.

Next week Sunday will be held our annual Missionfest service, and next week the names of the ministers who will assist in the services will be given.

The Third Nebraska Contest
Tekamah, Neb., Journal:—Congressman Dan Stephen will have a lot of explaining to do to the voters of this district this fall. He has an opponent in the person of William P. Warner, who is going to make him hot foot it to come anywhere near being reelected. Dan himself realizes that he is up against it this time and is trimming his sails accordingly. He will be careful to plan his campaign this year and will make an effort to remain on all sides of all propositions in order to get every vote. Dan's name will be Dennis, we feel, after "Bill" Warner gets done with him.

Beyond a doubt the above "wish is father to the thought" in this instance. But it is possible that when W. P. W. comes to make known to the voters what he stands for and why, he may be doing his share of explaining.

Comments on Sheep Industry

Editor Democrat:—I read with interest the article on sheep growing in the last issue of the Democrat, telling of the experiment of the state board at Lincoln in keeping the fair grounds clean. Now I can tell a more profitable sheep story than that, in which my son Harry had a part, on the home farm at Apex. He started with one sheep four years ago, and now has 17 head, and he lost two head last year, a buck and a ewe getting too much salt, otherwise there would now be more sheep on the place. Sheep will thrive where cattle or horses cannot live. Last year he clipped six old ones and received $17.00 for the wool and sold three weathers for $20. This year he clipped eight old ones and received $26 for the wool. This year he got nine lambs, three ewes and six bucks, which will be worth from $50 to $60 this fall.

You asked the question why so little attention is paid to sheep and so much to hog growing—two questions to be answered: One is the fence question, the other the wolf or coyote question. One must have hog-tight fences in order to raise sheep, and then the county or state should pay a wolf bounty, as they are the greatest menace to sheep in Wayne county; but we suppose there are no wolves on the state fair grounds.

As the Democrat is a good booster, I suggest that you go to boosting to have the state legislature pass a law giving at least a $5 bounty for a wolf scalp. Not all are able to buy 239 sheep as did the state board, but they can do as my boy did four years ago, and I venture to say that in 10 years he can have more than 50 head of sheep.

Now, Mr. Editor, sheep raising is a profitable business, but if the wolves were exterminated it would not be nearly so hazardous, and if it were not for the wolves I venture to say that there would be many more sheep raised, therefore boost for a wolf exterminating bounty.

Respectfully yours,
AUG. HOHNEKE.

REV. ROBERT J. PATTERSON
"Catch My Pal Patterson"
July 16, 1916

Mr. Patterson is an Irishman. He studied at Trinity College, Dublin, specialized in History, Jurisprudence and Political Science, and graduated with honors. He studied law and obtained the degree of L. L. B. He studied Theology in Edinburgh and Belfast, and was ordained as a Presbyterian minister in Armagh, the city of St. Patrick, where he labored some years, till in 1909, he was led in a wonderful way, which he tells on the platform, to found the Catch My Pal Movement. This movement is becoming world-wide. Its history is one of the Romances of Social Reform. Mr. Patterson is now in America for the fourth time. He has traveled over 35,000 miles in the United States and Canada speaking at Assemblies Synods, Conferences, Chautauquas, Colleges, Universities, and specially arranged meetings. He has probably addressed more people during the past five years than any other Irishman.

Mr. Patterson is a most gifted speaker, his moral earnestness, his dramatic power, his humor, his pathos, his power to make people want to go and do something worth while, is so unusually masterful, that he will be remembered as one of the "great treats of a lifetime."

Robert J. Patterson has a distinct message. He has been denominated, "AN APOSTLE OF GOOD SAMARITANSHIP". Besides, he is one of the biggest "hits" on the lecture platform today. You must hear Catch-My-Pal Patterson.

School is out or soon will be, says Editor Mills of the Wakefield Republican, who quit teaching two years ago to get into the editorial harness, where there are no vacations. What will occupy the seven or eight hours of the children's time the school has been taking? Will the time be spent in useful labor, or forming loafing habits and leaning devilment? For the farm homes the problem is not a great one. Plenty of work under the immediate supervision of the parents is readily provided. In town it is one of the hardest problems that parents have to solve. Many of them let it go unsolved and the children, boys especially, suffer lasting injury because they have no regular employment. "An idle brain is the Devil's workshop; idle hands are his tools." Habits of industry in place of the habit of idleness or loafing, respect for hard work through having done much of it, appreciation of the value of money by having to earn it—these things are worth far more than book learning. They are essential and should be required as a part of everyone's education. Boys, get a job for the summer; do not be afraid of real manual labor in selecting it. It will be good for you mentally, morally, physically and financially, it will raise you in the estimation of the community. Parents see to it that your children are profitably employed; if any object, use effective means of persuasion and be sure to see that they are busy at something worth while. The community has a right to expect it of both children and parents.—Wakefield Republican.

The Grave

Saturday evening, June 3, 1916, Robert H. Jones and wife witnessed the life of their infant son, Oliver Cromwell, aged 7 weeks, pass away after a brief illness of bronchial trouble. The service over the little body was held at the M. E. church Monday afternoon, Rev. Buell, their pastor, offering all comfort and consolation one can give at such a time. The burial was at Wayne cemetery. Many friends extend sympathy to the bereaved family in their loss of this bright little one.

RUNDELL'S COLUMN

The republican leaders, editors and orators for many years have won much support through posing as the friend of the poor and the landless men. Let us examine the record from the beginning. Thomas Jefferson, whose democracy is unquestioned was in the convention that prepared the Federal constitution. He was so obsessed with the belief that "all men are created equal" that he offered to free his 400 slaves if the delegates would consent to a provision abolishing African slavery.

But the New England shipping interests strenuously objected. They not only refused to join in forming a union of states so much desired by all unless slavery were permitted, and the thrifty Yankee secured a license in the fundamental law of the land to steal negroes in Africa for 20 years and sell them in the United States or West Indies as slaves (see Federal Constitution, African slave trade permitted for 20 years.)

Rhode Island, consisting of one county, when the tide is in and two, when it is out, was so disgruntled over the curtailment of what she regarded as a VESTED RIGHT, that she remained out of the Union for four years.

Thomas Jefferson became president in 1800, opposed by the federalist party under Hamilton. That party changed its name in 1833 to the Whig, and changed again in 1854 to the Republican. Instead of going to war to obtain more territory, Thomas Jefferson purchased a vast domain from a foreign monarch for $3,000,000, a part of which is now the state of Nebraska.

The public lands of Illinois were owned by that state. A large part of the state, including Chicago, needed a railroad to connect with the river commerce at Cairo. A bill granting the Illinois Central railroad company a very liberal amount of land was passed by the lower house of the legislature, but the senate by amendment offered and pressed by Stephen A. Douglas, required the railroad company to pay 7 per cent of its Gross earnings into the state treasury. Several times since when the state was under republican control, the company has tried to get the word Gross changed to Net earnings, and in one effort lacked but one vote of winning.

When Altgeld was governor an insane asylum was destroyed by fire. The inmates were cared for at great expense to the state and the state was without funds to rebuild. The governor called on the general manager of the railroad, who after learning the situation drew his check for $250,000, saying, "Credit to our gross earnings account."

One year's subscription to the Democrat will be given for an instance where the republicans have donated the people's land to railroad corporations and have provided for any returns, not even the transportation of the mails. To be continued next week.

C. J. RUNDELL.

June Moving at Wayne

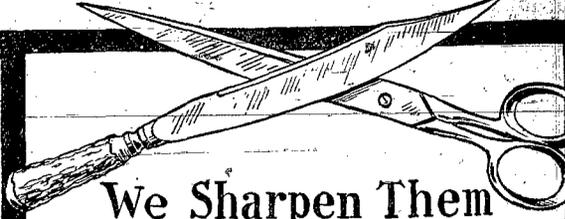

The first of June this year appears to have been the time when a number of people took to change from one house to another, and Wayne is so congested that at any time one move cannot be made without some one else moves, and thus it goes. According to report, the people who have been occupying the house recently purchased by Burret Wright just north of the court house moved from Wayne to Atkinson. This made a place for Forrest L. Hughes near his place of work, and he moved there. Claud Ferrell then moved to the house vacated by Hughes, and Professor Wright and family, who are moving here from Beeimer will occupy the house vacated by Ferrell. John Payne and wife moved to Wyoming, and H. R. Ferrell, who has been living in the old Fortner house, took the Payne place, and Chas. Bright and wife, who sold their place to Mr. and Mrs. White, took the Fortner place, thus giving their home to its new owners. Then Guy Root, who is moving here from Sholes, and who is engaged at the Paulsen grocery, is to go into the Ray Perdue house. E. E. Fleetwood (Bunt) is accused of having rented the neat little brick of Gus A. Johnson, and is said to be assembling furniture there—but then this is leap year so that need not be thought strange—in fact it is quite natural.

Interesting Facts From Lincoln
A special train loaded with Nebraska Democrats will leave Lincoln, Monday afternoon, June 12, at 4 o'clock for the National Democratic convention which convenes at St. Louis, June 14th.

State Auditor Smith has appointed E. E. Clark, formerly of the state banking board, expert accountant in the auditor's office. Mr. Clark takes the position held by C. Q. DeFrance, who recently resigned to take the appointment as actuary in the insurance department. Mr. Clark has had some seven or eight years experience as an accountant, and is thoroughly qualified for this branch of the state's service.

According to a recent report issued by the state bureau of labor, there are 1,390 manufacturing establishments in Nebraska, with a capitalization of $46,428,992.45. These institutions turned out in 1915, products to the value of $161,972,974.38. The total number of employees is given as 23,261. Total wage per week is $316,447.02, of which male workers receive $281,830.86 and females $34,616.16.

At a meeting of the state board of equalization last week, the railroad valuation on a one-fifth basis, was increased $1,916,590. The actual valuation of the railroads of Nebraska was $279,725,532. This increase raises it to $284,808,327. This is the first increase in railroad valuations since 1909. The increase is based on the improvements made during these years, and will add to the former assessments about 3 1/2 per cent, the main lines only being affected.

An action has been brought in the supreme court by the Standard Oil company, et al, in the form of a mandamus to compel State Treasurer Hall to pay food and oil commission warrants out of the funds now deposited in the state treasury. Some time ago an Omaha oil company, presumably acting for all the companies, secured an injunction in the district court, in an attempt to prevent Deputy Commissioner Harmon from collecting oil inspection fees, on the assumption that the collections exceeded the expense of inspection. Mr. Harmon retaliated by procuring an injunction from the supreme court preventing interference by the companies until a hearing could be had on the question in the higher court, the court meanwhile ruling that all money collected by the oil department be turned over to that body, with the exception of enough to defray the expense of oil inspection. Since that time Treasurer Hall has received no deposits from the food and oil commission, but still has a large sum on hand previously turned over to him by that department. The mandamus suit has put a new phase on a question in the matter of cash fund appropriation in which, heretofore, the state has been the plaintiff but is now forced to act in the capacity of defendant.

Deputy Attorney General Barrett appeared before Judge Corcoran at Hastings on May 29, in support of a brief contending that Judge Corcoran had jurisdiction to hear and determine an action brought on behalf of the state of Nebraska to quiet title to the real estate, consisting of two 160 acre farms in Adams county and certain business blocks in Hastings belonging to the estate of John O'Connor, deceased. The case was tried in January and the court found against the 158 defendants and in favor of the state, but reserved his judgment upon the legal question of jurisdiction until the attorneys of both sides could file briefs upon the question. After reading the briefs the court decided in favor of the state and against all the defendants, both upon the evidence and the law. Probably no case of this kind in recent years has attracted so much attention, both in and outside the legal profession, the court's finding marks a new precedent in legal annals of Nebraska. The fight began in 1913 and in 1915 when Mr. Barrett became deputy attorney general he was put in charge of the case by attorney General Reed. Both this and the will case will be appealed to the supreme court, but as no particular ground exists for a reversal of the lower court's decision the state's attorneys are confident of final victory.

Money for Good Roads

The United States senate has passed a bill appropriating $85,000,000 for good roads, providing an equal amount be spent by the states. There is no question whatever about the need of good roads. But the senate overlooked one very important matter in connection therewith.

In the absence of any provision to the contrary, the federal government's contribution of $85,000,000 will be raised, as is all other federal revenue, by indirect taxes on food, clothing, and other things used or consumed by the people. The greater part of the states' share will be raised by taxes that have practically the same effect. At the same time the roads built will increase to an enormous extent the value of lands adjoining them. So that the people will pay taxes on what they produce and consume, in order that landowners may be enriched.

That this is a fact has been conceded on more than one occasion by Mr. T. Coleman du Pont, president of the National Good Roads association, and candidate for the Republican nomination for president of the United States. Mr. du Pont once offered to build a 200-foot road at his own expense through the length of his native state of Delaware. As a large landowner along the route of this proposed road he would have been reimbursed through increased value.

He mentioned as reason for this offer the fact that the state should build the road rather than a private individual, but that he did not care to wait for the state to make up its mind to do so. He holds that the government should not only condemn the land on both sides of it, so that it might be recouped for its expenditure with a profit besides. He would not have this land sold, but held and leased to users by the government.

There is still time to include in the good roads bill the plan advocated by Mr. du Pont. It is far superior to the plan of putting the entire expense on taxpayers and giving the entire gain to landowners.

But a simpler method would be to levy a direct tax on land values, exclusive of improvements. That would get the money from those who get the benefits, without burdening producers of wealth. It may be said in addition, that all public revenue should be raised in that way, since all benefits, besides road building, conferred by government, cause increased land values as well. But the good roads scheme offers a fine chance for a beginning at doing things in the right way. —Sioux City News.

The Health Muse

"How doth the busy little fly
Improve each shining hour?
Washing his tootsies in the milk
And causing it to sour."

So sings the bulletin of the municipal health department of Saranac Lake, N. Y. And here is another gem from the same source:
"Little pots of flowers, little pots of paint
Make attractive neighborhoods out of them that ain't."

Wherefore the bulletin urges all citizens to get busy in a general protracted anti-fly, anti-dirt and pro-beauty campaign. For—
"It ain't the individual nor the city as a whole
But the everlasting team work of every bloomin' soul."

Such poetic appeals should certainly produce results. And why confine their application to Saranac Lake?
Thus says an exchange and so say we all of us.

Kissing in Iceland.
Among old time laws against kissing those of Iceland appear to have been the most severe. Banishment was the penalty laid down for kissing another man's wife, either with or without her consent. The same punishment was enforced for kissing an unmarried woman against her will. If it could be proved that she had consented to be kissed the offender was still liable to a fine of a great quantity of cloth for each offense.

Stamp Collecting.

In 1847 the island of Mauritius issued two varieties of stamps—one in red at a penny, the other blue at twopence. Of these only some twenty or so are known to be in existence, and within recent years two pairs of red and blue sold respectively for £680 and £1,021. Stamp collecting is necessarily a modern hobby, and it would be difficult now to trace it to its source. Some say that the hobby was of English origin and spread to the continent; others declare that it came to us from Belgium. The first note on the subject in Notes and Queries appeared in June, 1859, when Mr. Crosswell, a Tunbridge schoolmaster, commenting—as something new—the fact that a boy in his form had collected between 300 and 400 different specimens. In 1864 a provincial paper referred laughingly to a collector who advertised his collection for sale at £200, adding: "We only wish he may get it."—London Standard.

A Long Lived Eagle.

It has been a tradition from time immemorial that the eagle renews its strength when very old. It mounts aloft until it comes very near the sun, when, scorched by the heat, it throws itself into the sea, whence it emerges full of renewed vigor.

Such have supposed that the passage in Psalms ciii, 5, "Thy youth is renewed like the eagle's," alludes to this old fable. But the more probable fact is that it refers to the strength and vigor which characterize the eagle even in old age.

A couple of years ago a large specimen of eagle was shot on the fjord by the city of Nakskov, Denmark. Around its neck was fastened a small chain to which was attached a sealed bottle. On opening the bottle a note was found written in Danish, which translated reads as follows: "Caught and again made free by N. and C. Anderson in the year 1792."

Pain and Appendicitis.

That pain at what doctors call "McBurney's point" is not, as generally believed, proof of appendicitis was demonstrated before a Texas medical society recently by Dr. P. I. Nixon of San Antonio in an address published in the Medical Record.

Dr. Nixon told the history of several cases in which operation proved the diagnosis of appendicitis to have been erroneous and of one in which an exploratory operation proved appendicitis to be the trouble when there was no pain over McBurney's point. This is situated low down on the right side of the abdomen.

It takes a combination of several different symptoms together to warrant a certain diagnosis of appendicitis.

No Pedestal For Him.

"What's the matter with a pedestal?"
"I have been studying the statuary in the park. Putting a man on a pedestal generally means that he'll have to stay out in the cold by himself."—Washington Star.
