ESTABLISHED 1884

WAYNE, WAYNE COUNTY, NEBRASKA, JUNE 29, 1916

$1.50 PER YEAR

THE NEW NORMAL BUILDING

Contract Let to J. P. Riddle for $85,000 Building as Shown in Democrat Last Week.

Business of great importance for the future of the Wayne State Normal school came before a recent meeting of the Board of Education held at Kearney, and as a result, the Wayne institution was granted a new building to be erected at once, and to cost about $85,000. The general contract was awarded to J. P. Riddle of Creighton, his bid being $62,000. Other bids submitted, with the amount of the bids given only approximately, are as follows: F. E. Mullholen, Chadron, $63,800; Buck & Wind, Omaha, $64,150; Gould & Son, Omaha, $73,200.

The contract for electric wiring was let to Harry P. Holdeman of Kearney for $737. For heating and plumbing, C. J. Burk & Son of Kearney were the successful bidders, the amount of this contract being $2,095. The contract for heating and plumbing does not include any radiation, or plumbing and heating fixtures, which items will mean an additional cost of at least $8,000.

The new structure will be known as the Industrial and Gymnasium building. The construction will be of the same general type as that of the Administration building. The exterior will be gray granite and a bluish red brick, with a red tile roof. It will be 88x128 feet in dimensions and three full stories high.

On the first floor of the building will be the domestic science laboratory, model kitchen and dining room, connected with which will be a large reception room to be used for a physical training and banquet hall. On this floor will be located the girl's dressing room and shower room; also boys' dressing room and shower bath, opening into the plunge room, which contains a plunge bath 42x20 feet, eight feet deep at one end and three and one-half feet at the other. The second floor will be occupied by the gymnasium, 88x56 feet, the chemistry laboratory, large sewing room. The industrial arts and machine shops will also be on this floor.

The third floor will be occupied by the balcony and track above the gymnasium floor, the mechanical drawing room, woodworking shop, finish room and demonstration room.

The location of the new building will be south and east of the building at present used by the training school. It will be complete in every detail, and will fill a long felt need of the school along the line of better and broader physical and industrial education.

The contractor, James P. Riddle, well known in Wayne. He had the contract for the erection of the administration building and his brother, John Riddle of Wayne was his foreman. Mr. Riddle expects to begin work soon and hopes to have the building enclosed before the first of the year.

At the same meeting the contract was let to F. E. Mullholen of Chadron for an east wing to the Chadron building at a cost of $51,548; also a gymnasium for the Kearney State Normal at a cost of $52,195. The general contract for the Kearney building was awarded to Walter Knutzen of Kearney.

The board adjourned to meet at Lincoln on August 7, 1916, at 1:30 p. m.

New Teacher For Normal School

At the last meeting of the Board of Education, Prof. G. E. Cress was elected director of physical training and assistant in mathematics in the Wayne State Normal. Mr. Cress is well and favorably known in Wayne. He was graduated from the advanced course of the school in the class of 1913 and was for three years superintendent of schools at Winside. He is now taking special work at the University of Chicago and will assume the duties of the new position at the opening of the school in September.

P. D. Burnham, an aged citizen near Sholes, died Sunday at the home of his son Henry B. abam and the body was taken to Silver City, Iowa, for burial. Rev. Trump of Randolph held a funeral service at the home, and the Masons were to have charge of the burial in Iowa.

A Great Ministerial Conference

The Lutheran Immanuel's church northeast of Wayne, was the host of the North Nebraska Pastor's Conference from Tuesday to Thursday last week. It was a delight to the 72 visiting pastors of the Lutheran Missouri Synod to enjoy the hospitality of this progressive and prosperous community. Twenty-five pastors were prevented from coming, and were excused.

The object of these annual conferences is to hear and discuss lectures and papers on doctrinal and practical themes and to partake of the Holy Communion. Rev. M. Adam of Omaha was chairman and Rev. A. Lambrecht of Blair, secretary.

Rev. W. Harm of Bancroft submitted a treatise on Romans, chapter 7, verse 21 to chapter 8, verse 11. He showed how a continual combat for the supremacy is fought in the heart of the Christian, between two opponents, viz., the sinful nature, called flesh or Old Adam and the regenerate nature or the new man. The latter strives to be constantly obedient to God's will and command, while the former strives to bring the Christian into the subjection of sin and rebellion against Christ, his rightful Master, Lord and Redeemer.

Rev. H. Erck of Leigh read a highly instructive and learned treatise on the Biblical Doctrine of Predestination. The substance of the paper was: God teaches, that He has from eternity decided and determined to save, redeem, and keep in the faith those who are finally saved. This is also called: Election by Grace. A large number of practical questions on pastoral, official and business matters were discussed and decided. The conference service was held Wednesday evening. Rev. Herman Sohauer of Shelton held the confessional sermon preparatory to Holy Communion.

Rev. E. Eckhard of Battle Creek held a timely and elevating sermon on Christ's appearance to seven of his disciples on the Sea of Galilee after his resurrection and Christ's conferring upon Peter the office of the ministry and his apostleship. John, chapter 21. The text shows the work of the ministers: I. The nature of the work of feeding the flock. II. The laborer as fisherman and shepherd. III. The success which is a divine gift and blessing.

The chorus of the local church and a pastor's chorus each rendered a selection, the 23 Psalm, both of which were a delight to the audience. The local choir, under the direction of Prof. Theo. Schmidt, the teacher of Immanuel's, is to be commended for its noble efforts, the rhythm, exactness and fine shading of it singing, earning well deserved praise. The pastor's chorus, under the direction of Rev. H. Hensick of Madison also deserves praise for its excellent singing, especially if considering the little opportunity it had to practice.

In the last session on Thursday afternoon the assembly expressed its deep gratitude to Immanuel's congregation for its unlimited hospitality, and to the pastor, Rev. E. Gehrke, for his energetic efforts in arranging the details of assigning the guests to the various members of his church, as a member of the conference expresses it, "The pleasant memory will linger." Next year the conference will meet at Omaha.

The pastors who arrived at Wayne, Monday, June the 19th, were given an auto ride by the Public Service club and taken to the normal, which trip and visit was very enjoyable and pleasant to the ministers.

Democratic County Convention

In pursuance of a call for the State Convention at Hastings, Nebraska, on July 25th, 1916, at 2 o'clock p. m., the democrats of Wayne county, are hereby called to meet in mass convention at the Court House in Wayne, on Saturday, July 8th, 1916, at 3 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing 8 delegates to the State Convention and for the perfecting of the county organization.

WALTER GAEBLER, Chairman, J. W. ZIEGLER, Secretary.

WAYNE'S FAREWELL TO CO. E

Wayne Boys Who Belong to Co. E, N. N. G., Given Great Ovation on Eve of Departure for Camp. Feast, Music and Speech.

It was a happy thought which changed the supper being prepared for the Wayne Public Service club for Friday evening last, to a farewell banquet for the members of the militia company which had assembled at Wayne last Wednesday and Thursday in response to the call of the governor. When it was known Thursday morning that orders were issued for the departure of the men on Friday, the committee of Baptist ladies and of the Public Service club simply speeded up and completed preparations for the supper 24 hours ahead of schedule time, thus showing how slow are those who are proposing to gain an hour by setting the clock ahead 60 minutes.

It was an imposing sight when the uniformed men, 70 strong, marched to their places at the neatly decorated tables and were then entirely surrounded by the business men of Wayne and vicinity. Though surrounded they did not surrender, nor were they starved out by siege. At the close of the supper J. J. Ahern, the toastmaster, started the ball going by telling his military experience, which was most thrilling. Chas. Bright then gave the soldiers a lesson in Spanish, as they may need to know a bit of that language if ever they expect to do any courting in Mexico. Recalling experiences in the Philippines, Mr. Bright gave the young men many valuable hints and much good advice.

Rev. Buell made a most excellent talk, and in behalf of the ladies of the church presented each soldier with a neat copy of the New Testament, the writers distributing the little books among the men. Attorney F. S. Berry added a few remarks to cheer the boys up a bit, and join in wishing them well in the discharge of their duty. Judge A. A. Welch spoke briefly giving caution and advice as to the care of health that will be most beneficial if followed.

The toastmaster then turned to the guests of the evening and asked Lt. Mahaffey, who has had ten years of army life to his credit, to speak. He briefly told that army life is not all sunshine nor is it all sorrow. He told the men that the discipline might seem strict at times, but that the good soldier did as told with confidence that the officer in charge was using his best judgment to have all for the best. Lt. James Pile was then asked to speak, and introduce Capt. Burnham to the citizens of Wayne. In few words, Jim thanked the Wayne people for the aid and encouragement they had given him in his efforts to organize a company of National Guards at Wayne, and now that it was completed, he felt a just pride in the organization.

In introducing Captain Burnham he gave briefly a review of his life from the time he entered the old Wayne normal—told of his school work at Fremont and that he had successfully served Stanton county for two terms as superintendent of schools, and for the past school year had been a student at the university at Lincoln, where he was highly respected, and because of his skill in military matters had been elected first a major and then a colonel of the cadet organization of the school.

Captain Burnham responded to his introduction with words of thanks and praise for the people of Wayne and the most excellent company formed here. He commented on the fact that they had not a drunken soldier in the bunch and commended the citizens for starting the men out with bibles instead of beer, as he had known of at other times. He pledged his best efforts in behalf of the safety of the men entrusted to his care, and many a father and mother felt much more resigned in the sacrifice they were making by knowing that their son was under the charge of such an officer.

All sang America as the meeting adjourned.

THE START FOR CAMP

Friday morning the sounding of the fire whistle called the people of Wayne to the station to witness the departure of Co. E, for camp at Lincoln and perhaps to the border of Mexico if the need comes for their services. The boys in khaki were given a good send off both by the Public Service club, the citizens, fathers, mothers, sisters, brothers, friends and sweethearts. With very few exceptions the people of Wayne gathered at the station, and with them were many from the country and other places, though muddy roads from heavy rain prevented many outsiders from coming.

The boys first marched in order to the baggage car where all equipment except their guns were loaded into the car. They then marched to the north side of the depot, lined up in inspection order, where a short program was to be given in their honor, "the Home City's" tribute to her departing sons.

A quartette started the singing of America joined in by the soldiers and the crowd. Following this "Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue," was sung. A short talk by Acting Mayor Geo. Lamberson followed, in which he asked that all the boys write home as often as possible. Wayne will always be interested in all their activities.

Captain Burnham now called Private Bryan of Decatur from the ranks and introduced him to the people. Bryan was instrumental in enrolling 17 men at Decatur, bringing them to Wayne to join the company here. Other men, said Burnham, both in Wayne and outside deserve praise in helping to swell the ranks of the company.

Rev. Gaston next spoke and delivered the farewell talk to the soldiers on the part of Wayne and Wayne people. Mr. Gaston first wished the men God-speed, good luck and good cheer in their work in the coming days and months. It was his hope, the hope of the fathers and mothers and friends of the boys that they would not have to fight, but if it was the will of God that events must lead to a fight to submission before peace could reign then the prayers and thoughts of all would follow them throughout all the days to come, praying that they might accomplish their work quickly.

Mr. Gaston sought to impress upon all the fact that the soldiers were not going down to annihilate, to crush out, to murder or to destroy, but to gain in the shortest time possible submission to ideas foreign to those dominant in Mexico today, that of just rebellion and destruction. "It is our aim, the aim of the community, the state and the nation in sending our boys to carry to that people view of progress, of humanity of Christian attainment of ideals and thoughts higher and nobler than Mexico now possesses. If force must be used to accomplish this then force was the thing to use. But throughout all the struggle if it must be that men, soldiers, of America must never forget this thought. That they are fighting for the cause of the right, which is humanity."

Mr. Gaston gave a short review of the history of Mexico, how at one time in the history of the world, she stood high in the rank of nations; how once she stood high in the scale of civilization and progress; how once the flag of Mexico was respected; but how that has changed during the passing years. Mexico has gone backward not forward, downward and not upward to higher attainments. The time has come for this, her sister nation to redeem, if it lies within our power, a lost people by carrying to them our ideas of education, our plans to develop lands long idle and cause them to produce rich fruits and grain, giving them our ideals of schooling, building them school houses, sending to them American teachers, giving, as America always gives, to better the world and its people, giving the same that she gave to the Philippines and to Cuba.

If sacrifice is required, said Mr. Gaston, to obtain these things then America will gladly give of whatever she possesses to obtain it. If sacrifice will accomplish what continued rebellion will not, then Mexico must sacrifice too. The flag was the next mentioned, the flag that stands for progress, for the highest things attainable, the flag that floats over "the land of the free and the home of the brave." The Mexican flag was once a proud banner, but it has been trailed in the dust. It is our duty to lift that flag or to give them a new one. The color of the Mexican flag is red, white and

AND WAR HAS NOT YET COME

President Carranza Liberates Soldier Prisoners, but Answer Not Given as to Future Conduct

Washington, D. C., June 28.—An immediate break between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico has been averted with the American demand for release of the twenty-three troopers captured in the fight at Carrizal complied with.

Whether a state of war has been prevented or merely postponed no one here would attempt to say tonight. Official information as to the attitude of General Carranza was lacking.

Until his response of Secretary Lansing's note dispatched Sunday making two peremptory and distinct demands is received there will be no decision, on whether President Wilson shall lay the crisis before congress.

green, the green may have to be removed and blue substituted, but one thing must be done—the Vulture that stand in the Mexican flag where the stars do in our flag must be torn out and the dove of peace put in its place.

Mr. Gaston closed by again wishing the boys the best of success and good hope.

Cap. Burnham responded to the address by thanking Wayne and Wayne people in behalf of his company for their splendid entertainment and patriotism in being at the station to wish them good luck. "We intend to do our best and we want your help in this way. Send cheerful letters. Mothers, fathers, friends when you write send cheerful, helpful news. We get blue enough sometimes, without added sad thoughts sent by you, so send cheerful letters." Hearty cheers followed this talk of good advice.

The boys then marched to their waiting cars and in a short time the train arrived. With tears, smiles of hope, hearty hand shakes, cheers, waving of handkerchiefs, blowing of whistles Co. - E, Wayne's patriotic band of young men left for camp and for whatever is in store for them.

May they return as cheerful and hopeful as when they left, minus no member and we will honor them for being ready when the call came, but if they shall go to the front to battle unto death, then we will honor them doubly for responding to the call of "Old Glory" the flag that will carry its message of light and hope to a degraded and deluded people.

Sunday morning Lt. Pile started for Lincoln, accompanied by eight men, part new recruits and part of those who were here to go with the other men as follows: Leonard B. Sponhauer, Wayne; William E. Eastburn, Randolph; Peter A. Larson, Hoskins; Henry Hachmeier, Wayne; Guy G. Meade, Winside.

Could Not Pass in the Same Track

Last Saturday E. Henderson and Albert Echtenkamp demonstrated that two automobiles cannot pass each other when meeting in the same track. The two cars met about three miles south of Wayne, Mr. Henderson going south to a dance with four passengers and the other car with two passengers was coming north. The meeting was between two hills. The Henderson car had just crossed a small bridge, and one of the occupants tells us was on the right side of the road and going at a very slow speed, while the other car was traveling much the faster of the two. The Echtenkamp car had the fenders smashed and was disabled to such an extent that it had to be hauled to a car hospital for repairs. Mr. Henderson's car suffered much worse, and when it was examined it was found necessary to get a new frame and other parts needed extensive repair. No one was seriously injured, which is one good feature of a bad mess. Young Laase, riding with Henderson, had his fingers cut on the broken windshield, and all knew they had been in a collision from the shaking received. It may take a judge, jury and lawyers to fix the blame for the mishap, if rumors are true.

Barn Burned

Last Wednesday the fine new barn on the Carl Victor farm was struck by lightning and burned to the ground and one horse killed. Fred Victor is farming the place and was unharnessing one of the horses when the barn was struck. The horse was instantly killed and fell over knocking Mr. Victor to the ground with the horse partly on top of him in such a way that he could not move. Mrs. Victor saw the barn in flames from the house and rushed to the rescue of her husband who did not appear. With no little difficulty Mr. Victor was finally released and they then went to save the stock. They succeeded and so the loss will only include the barn and the horse. Mr. Victor can feel fortunate that he got out alive. Material is being hauled for a new barn 38x50.

Wayne Chautauqua to be Good

That is always assured before the program is accepted, and this year, from July 9 to 16 inclusive will be no exception—unless it be better than usual. Naturally you plan to go and take the family, and now is the time to be prepared. For your convenience practically every business house in Wayne has season tickets for sale, and if you would show how much you appreciate the fact you will see some of the merchants you patronize and secure your tickets early—for the season ticket is the cheapest even if you can attend but half the time or less, for you will naturally want the best—and that costs the greater admission, so the season ticket is best if you attend but five or six of the twenty entertainments.

Have you seen the Preparedness tie? It's to be had at Morgan's Toggery.—adv.

Mr. Griffith tells us that the corn crop outlook here is the best he has seen since leaving home, and that Wayne county is far above the average in crop outlook.

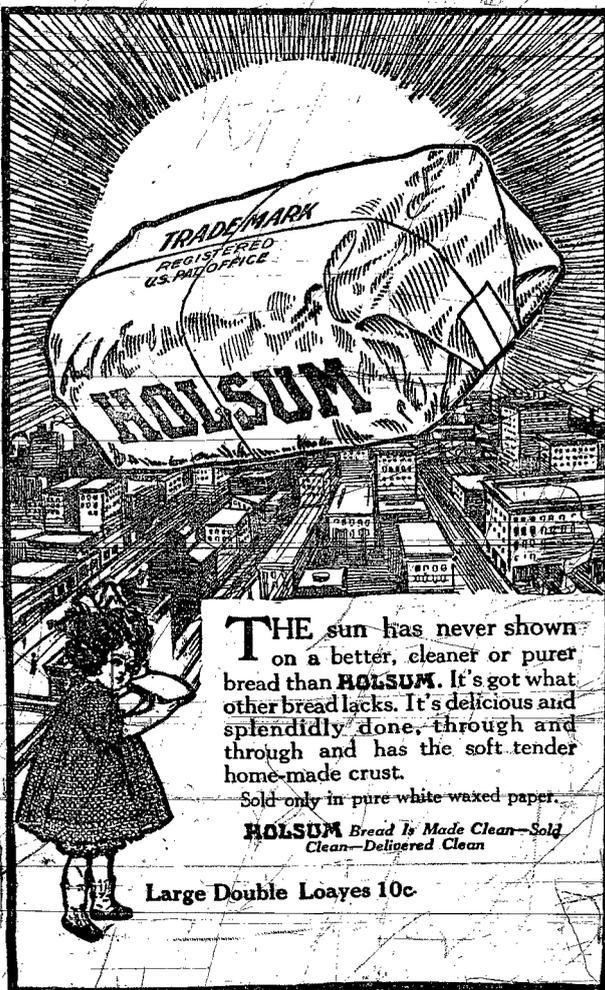

Look up—up higher and see if you can see the top. Think of it, National bank deposits in the past year have grown $2,198,000,000, or more than $4,000,000 per week the year through. In other days our republican friends would have appropriated all of the glory for such unequalled evidence of prosperity, could they have ever made such a showing. The democrats claim that it is due to helpful legislation which is giving to the great mass of common people opportunity to enjoy and control mors of the product of their labor than ever before they have had in the history of this country. In the just distribution of the wealth produced by the common people come prosperity to all who are worthy of it. If the common people enjoy such opportunity, will they vote to return to those other and darker days when law enabled the sponges of the nation to absorb a larger share of their product?

State Bank of Wayne

Lincoln Letter

Auditor Wm. H. Smith has rejected the $1,700,000 Douglas county bond issue voted on at the recent primary election, on the grounds that the issue failed to receive the necessary majority. The bonds received a majority of the votes cast on the proposition, but failed to receive a majority of all the votes cast at the election, and as the courts have held in numerous instances that this is necessary, the auditor refused to approve the history and will accordingly decline to register the bonds.

There are about 3,500 foreign and domestic corporations doing business in Nebraska, and the corporation tax department of Secretary of State Pool's office has been kept busy for several weeks past, re-issuing tax licenses to these corporations. Already more than 1,000 have been issued for this year, and great batches of remittances are coming in daily. The domestic corporation tax is due July 1, and after August 1, delinquent companies must pay 15 per cent interest. Foreign corporation tax is due August 1, and become delinquent after September 1. More than $100,000 of revenue is annually derived from these taxes. This is the direct result of democratic legislation, the law having been passed during the session of 1909, when the legislature was solidly democratic.

By request of Fire Commissioner W. S. Ridgell, Attorney General Willis E. Reed has handed down an opinion, that where a fire inspector finds defective wiring in private residences or public buildings which does not conform to the provisions of the Underwriters code or is not considered safe, he can order the Service Corporation to shut off the light until the wiring is put in safe condition. The department has just received a letter and copy of an opinion in a case which was appealed from the Common Pleas court of Scioto county, Ohio, wherein the Fire Marshall law of that state was declared constitutional. The letter also cites the fact that the Indiana law was also recently upheld by the courts. The Nebraska law is similar to those of the above mentioned states, and the Fire Commission is at present involved in a suit at Minden and two at Ewing questioning the validity of the Nebraska statutes. The commission is confident of a favorable opinion.

Not since 1897 when President McKinley issued his call to Governor Silas A. Holcomb for the mobilization of the Nebraska National Guard for service in the Spanish American war, has there been such military activity as is now apparent at the state capitol. Nearly a score of years has come and gone since those stirring times, and it is Governor Morehead who, this time, as Commander in Chief of the N. N. G., receives an almost identical order from the Secretary of War under President Wilson, to begin preparations to mobilize his forces for service on the Mexican border. The order was the signal for feverish activity at guard headquarters. Messengers scurried hither and thither, telephones and telegraph offices were besieged; khaki clad officers and men of the line suddenly appeared, springing up as it were, like phantoms in the night, and the tramp, tramp of their army shod feet became familiar sounds along the corridors of the capitol building. Where a few hours before all was peace and pastoral appearing, the scene was suddenly changed to one of grave military and war-like deliberation. Most of the men are anxious to go and no trouble is anticipated in mobilizing the two regiments required, and more if necessary. As this letter is written orders from Washington are to the effect that mobilization will take place on the state fair grounds. By the first of July it is expected to have the regiments about complete, well along with the regular drill and other work incident to rounding the men into shape for service in the field.

Questions and Answers

DO YOU KNOW THAT: It's worry, not work, which shortens life? Always thought so. A cold bath every morning is the best complexion remedy? Sure it is good.

Poor health is expensive? Found that out, too.

The U. S. Public Health Service has reduced malaria 60 per cent in some localities? Cut out the other 40 now.

The death rate from typhoid fever in the United States has been cut in half since 1900? Then another 20 years should eliminate it.

Pneumonia kills over 120,000 Americans each year? It won't if they will practice deep breathing in the open air.

Flyless town has few funerals? Tough on the undertakers.

The well that drains the cesspool is the cup of death? That admits no argument.

Lady Manual Trainer

While at Wayne a few days since the writer was shown through the State Normal school—or, rather through some of the buildings. It's a great institution, and of inestimable value to the young people of this section of the state. What interested us the most was the manual training department. It was late in the afternoon, and only a few students were at work, and this being the summer school, not so many will be found in this department as during the regular terms. Two young ladies were at work here, one a beginner. The other was taking her third summer's work here, being the teacher of the St. Helena school in the north part of Cedar county. We have forgotten the young lady's name, but we learned from her that manual training has done a great deal for the boys of that community. She said that boys who formerly were not regular in attendance and often tardy, are now on hand when she arrives at the school house almost every morning. This lady teaches the eight grades, and has added to this manual training for the boys and sewing and fancy work for the girls. When asked when she found time for these extra studies, she answered: "In the morning before school, at noon, during the play periods, and after school." This young lady is making a success of her profession, and next year goes back to teach the same school she has taught for several years. Manual training and domestic science will soon be taught in every school in the land. We believe every teacher in the state of Iowa has to be able to teach these branches—no matter how small the school.—Laurel Advocate.

If Brother Nevin will come again next year, the excellent work of which he speaks will probably be done under more favorable conditions, for a contract has been let for a new building for this work, which is now in crowded quarters in half basement beneath one of the dormitories.

Crop Prospects Here

At this writing a summary made from the answers of many farmers as to local conditions agree that winter wheat is doing nicely, and will be ready for harvest before the middle of July with prospect of a splendid crop in quality and quantity. Spring wheat is much the same, except that it is not yet advanced enough to be free from several dangers, such as rust scalding by hot, muggy weather when in bloom as well as a knock down storm.

The oat prospect is No. 1, for a good crop, but there is a danger period yet to pass.

Alfalfa, other hay crops, and pastures are up to full 100 percent. The first cutting of alfalfa is about all in stack and in much better condition than last season. The second crop on the pieces which were cut early will soon again be ready for the mower.

Corn is said to average small for the time of the year, but of good color, fairly good stand and clean of weeds as a rule.

Early potatoes are in fine shape and promise a liberal yield.

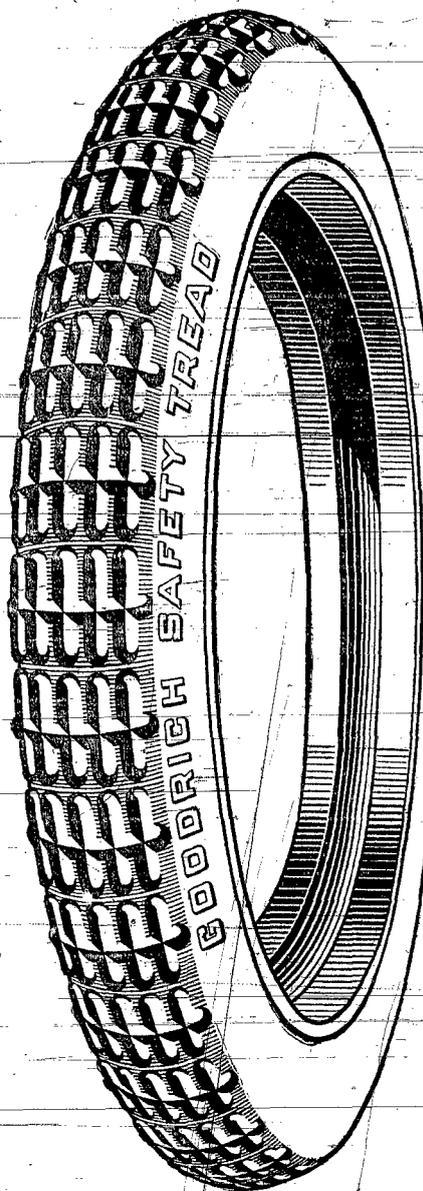

Cherries have been a light crop, and are now being gathered. There are no commercial orchards here, but in the six cherry seasons since the writer came to this county we have always had cherries in fairly generous quantity; which inclines one to believe that if there be any fruit which might be grown for the market here the cherry is one of the best adapted to climatic conditions. So far as we know the average cherry tree does not receive proper care in the matter of pruning, spraying and cultivating. Properly encouraged the cherry should pay a dividend.

"Just a Volunteer"

Cherokee Times: Once in a while you will hear someone sneer at the members of the National Guard and speak lightly of them as "tin soldiers," but you can put it down as almost a certainty that the one who makes the remark isn't built of soldier material. He'd rather stay behind out of danger's reach than shoulder his gun and march out with the boys. History proves that there is no more valiant or effective fighting force in the world than the American volunteer army, and the strapping boys who make up the guard, if they are put into active service will face dangers just as bravely and acquit themselves just as creditably as have the boys who have gone forth to battle in every war of the nation. It was boys who did the fighting in the 60s, and it will be boys who will do the fighting in any war we may have. They are the material of which soldiers are made.

"Reason-Why" Tires

GOODRICH "Barefoot" Tires are light in weight, and close grained.

This proves them relatively free from the usual inert substances or "fillers," that give excess weight, stiffness, and grind, to Tire treads.

More than 200 different Makes and Brands of Motor-Car, and Truck, Tires were manufactured and sold in U. S. A. last year, 1915.

These totaled about 12,000,000 Tires. Of that 12,000,000 total Tires, the B. F. Goodrich Co. made and sold one-fourth.

Yet, Tires are only one of the 237 different lines of Rubber Goods made by the Goodrich Rubber Factory, which is the largest in the World, with a 47-year Experience.

This indicates the "Reason-Why" Goodrich Best-in-the-Market Fabric Tires can be, and are, sold to Consumers (via Dealers) at the lowest prices in America, per delivered Mile of Performance.

THE question sometimes is asked, "Why don't you perfume Ivory Soap for bath and toilet purposes?"

Our reply is this: "We think that the delightful, natural odor of the high grade materials we use should not be concealed by a stronger, artificial perfume. We think Ivory's natural odor is more pleasing than any perfume. It is a fragrance that suggests purity and cleanliness, a fragrance that people like from the beginning and never tire of."

It makes a lot of difference which foot the shoe is on—whose ox is gored. Twenty years ago, and ever since until but recently, the Financial World, the official organ of the money sharks and usurers, and even before that time was calling, planning and scheming in the dark for the single gold standard. Why? It represented the creditors—the individual to whom nations, corporations, that is, small corporations were in debt. These debts had many of them been contracted under the double standard, and if they must be paid under a single standard of gold, it meant that more of the world's products would come to them in payment—that the price would rule lower. But now the shoe is on the other foot, to a certain extent. England, the great creditor nation has been forced by gigantic war expenses to make vast debts. The same is true of Germany, France, Austria, Russia and Italy, though the latter have never been creditor nations to the extent that Great Britain has. Now, according to the Financial World, it is very probable that this gang of financial pirates will advocate the restoration of free coinage of silver, though perhaps not at the old ratio. If these nations are to become debtor nations to such an extent that the world gold supply will not keep pace with the annual interest, then they would propose to fix a ratio at which they will accept silver in lieu of the gold which it would or might be impossible to get. If their argument of 20 years ago be true that would be confiscation of their debt at least in part. It was all right for them to confiscate a man's equity in property then by making it impossible for him to pay except in a money which they would corner. Now the debt is so large they fear re-putation unless they can provide a way to make the payment a bit easier. Why not pay it in paper money? If they can make a dollar out of 50 cents worth of silver, as they said of the silver dollar, why can they not make a dollar from a scrap of paper? The people who borrowed the money should decide to pay it in paper. If the standard is to be changed let there be no half-way business. If they want to make it easy for the debtor to pay, why not make it real easy?

The progressive, or moose party is now undergoing its first test, and it may determine whether or not it is founded on a principle or for the spoils of office. Certain it is that if founded for and on principle it will not die because betrayed by a false leader—it will live until the principle is taken up and carried to a final decision by some party. The national prohibition party has existed for years because it was made up of men who thought it was right—men who rather vote for what they considered right and lose than to vote for what they claimed they did NOT want and be counted on the winning side when the votes were counted. In all these years the prohibition party has never won a national election, nor has it ever come near it—but it has carried on an educational work which has resulted in many prohibition states, and which will shortly carry prohibition to all the states and the nation.

On another page is an article which should be of interest to the farmer who thinks he cannot raise much stock on a quarter section of this good Wayne county land. Unless the Wayne county farmer is willing to admit that Ohio land is better than Nebraska soil he may see what one man can do on a farm of 140 acres. He does it by the use of barns and silos. He has no alfalfa there, which is a valuable asset in this state—especially this part of the state. The Democrat's farm editor believes that Wayne county can well care for more than twice as much stock as is now fed here—grow them from birth to market age and make more money than is now made by buying feeders and putting the fat on with the corn ear and throwing the stalk away. Read the story, please.

If the republican party was wrong four years ago and the progressives left it because it was wrong, what has it done since that time to redeem itself with these same people? Why should these voters go back? If they go back this shows there was nothing to them only they wanted to own the boar that was to eat the cabbage. If the progressives are to join the whigs, the know-nothings and other dead parties and rest beside them in the political grave, and the members really left the republican party because they were wrong, why not remain away and join the democrats. Many of them will and many of the standpaters will. The Wilson administration has pleased them.—Corning (Iowa) Free Press.

Now that Teddy has jumped his job—declined a presidential nomination tendered him by men who were evidently more honest in their convictions, and more true to them than the Colonel, it is needless to have him say that he is out of politics. That is the natural inference. And the fellows who blindly forsook their party, the political home for years—a lot of them are out of politics, we hope, and will become citizens instead of politicians. There is much need of true citizens in this land, and but little use for politicians.

A Letter From Camp Morehead

Headquarters, Co. E., 4th Neb. Infantry, Lincoln, Nebr., June 27, 1916.
Editor Democrat:
Thought perhaps you would like to know how the Wayne boys are getting along, so will write a few lines. We stopped at Norfolk for dinner Friday. Company I of Gordon joined us there and Stanton Company G at Stanton and you may be sure the boys were getting a royal send off. At Fremont two more companies joined us and we had a special train from there to Lincoln. We arrived at 6:20 p. m., the train stopping at fair grounds.

We then went to work putting up our tents, finishing about 9 o'clock. We had to order "eats" from commissary and it was about 10:30 before we had mess.

Saturday we attended three lectures on topics of interest to soldiers Sunday, Chaplain Beecher of the 4th regiment held church services at auditorium on grounds. There were lots of town people there as well as soldiers. Visitors thronged the grounds all day long. In the afternoon a large crowd of Omaha people, accompanied by a 32 piece band came over to cheer the Omaha boys, whose tents are just east of ours. Mayor Dahlman and several other men made speeches to the boys. After that two auto truck loads of pies, oranges, plums, lemons, cigars and gum were dealt out to the boys of Omaha, and you just bet the boys will be loyal to Omaha and U. S. A. Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dean and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Young visited our camp and you may be sure it was a pleasant surprise. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Grant Mears, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mears, Miss Belya-Nickels and Prof. Lackey's daughter visited our camp. Gus Will has been here two or three days. All this cheers us up. However we haven't been working hard. Drilled two hours today and will muster into federal service this afternoon. All other companies in our regiment have mustered in. Expect to leave for New Mexico sometime this week. Will not be examined until we reach the southland if reports are correct.

Most of the boys are anxious to move on, this is pretty much like waiting at a depot for trains.

We feel pretty much like the girl in the following story:

"Tom had been paying attention to Clara for some time. One night she said: Tom this is tear year.

Tom—But I haven't the money now.

Clara—Yes, I know Tom, so I thought you might give some of the more eligible men a chance."

Likewise Carranza has had his trial, it is now time for the more eligible one (U. S. A.).

Also another short story:

Uncle Josh in the city seeing a sign, "Woman's Exchange," went into the office and addressed the lady in charge, "Be you the only woman here?"

Lady—"There are no others."

Uncle Josh—"Then I guess I'll keep Hanna."

We have nothing against Mr. Hughes but guess we will keep Woodrow Wilson.

Boys are enjoying themselves though discipline is strict. However, Saturday night some of the boys of Co. E., growing weary of camp life passed through guard lines into the city, only to be met by an officer and thrown in the guard house for the night. They haven't been to the city since. However, they were not alone that night.

Lieutenant Pile and our new recruits arrived Sunday evening. H. S. Dailey has since been elected mess sergeant and you can be assured he has the boys smiling since he came on duty.

An incident of camp life was a thunder storm Sunday evening about 9:00 p. m. Wind blew hard and thunder and lightning severe. Boys had to get out in storm and open up ditches around tents and loosen ropes to keep stakes from pulling up. Wasn't much sleep for a couple hours.

There are about 1,500 soldiers in camp and there is something moving most of the time. There is a jolly set of fellows in the city of Co. E., often think of you people up there and know they will have to move to be a credit to our Home Town and if it becomes necessary for us to strike, we will like Abraham Lincoln, we will strike hard. As ever, Yours truly, JAMES J. STEELE

Word just comes from Lt. Pile this morning to the effect that men had all been mustered into the federal service. All have also received typhoid vaccination. All well and send greetings to their Wayne friends.

Increasing Your Summer Enjoyment

Just two things make summer unpleasant—heat and insects.

Screens are an antidote for both.

A well screened house is free from flies, mosquitoes and other insects.

With screens on windows, doors and porch, the house can be kept cool—left open day and night.

So here is a simple, practical and inexpensive way to spend a delightful summer. Think what it will mean in better health, in more enjoyment because of better ventilation and freedom from insects.

Why not let us share the pleasure with you by furnishing screens?

Among the Churches of Wayne

Methodist Church
(Rev. A. S. Buell Pastor).
That was another splendid audience at the Methodist church last Sunday morning. The Sunday school attendance was also good, although not as large as two weeks ago.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach a patriotic sermon in keeping with our national holiday on July 4th, and dealing with the call to enlist in the army and navy of our country.

In the evening the theme will be, "The Citizen Hero."

At the official board meeting on Monday evening it was decided to make the canvass for benevolences next week. The budget of benevolences will include Foreign Missions, Home Missions, Freedman's Aids society, Conference Educational offering, The Church-Temperance society, the Board of Sunday schools, the American Bible society, the Methodist Hospital, the Crowell Old People's Home, the Student Pastor at the Nebraska State University, the Conference Claimants fund for retired ministers and the support of Bishops and District Superintendents. The board is desirous that everyone shall contribute liberally to these great causes. If you wish to contribute to the causes herein mentioned, the most economical and the most efficient way is to make your contribution through the regular church boards.

On Friday evening July 7, the Worker's class in the Sunday school will hold a social in the church parlors and at the same place and at the same time the Children's Missionary society will sell refreshments of ice cream and cake and home made candy. Everybody is invited to the social and all of the church services.

The District Federated Meet is in session in Stanton this week. An unusually strong program is listed, including the Rev. Clarence True Wilson, D. D., of Topeka, Kansas, the Rev. L. O. Hartman of Chicago, Chancellor Fulmer and Dr. I. B. Schreckengast of University Place, Rev. J. F. Boeye, D. D., of Grace Methodist church, Lincoln. The program began Tuesday and lasts until Friday afternoon.

The children of the Probationers' class will meet Thursday, July 6th.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
(Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor)
Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Preaching at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m.

Luther League at 7 p. m.
Services preparatory to communion will be held at the church Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Sunday morning Holy Communion will be administered at 11 o'clock. This service is also set apart for the baptism of children and the reception of new members.

Despite the threatening weather the Young People's meeting was well attended and the splendid practical talk by Rev. Moehring was much appreciated by all present.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society will meet at the church next Wednesday afternoon for the study of missions.

The lawn social given by the young people last Friday evening was enjoyed by all and it netted a nice sum to be applied on the organ fund.

Children to Give Concert

There has been a change in the program announced for the Baptist church, and instead of the Sunday evening lecture on the Dun Donald Secret, the Sunday school will put on a concert consisting of songs, recitations drills and instrumental music. The Dun Donald lecture will be postponed one week.

The morning service will be as usual with Rev. Gaston in the pulpit with a live subject to discuss. Good music is being arranged.

Rural Carrier Examination

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the County of Wayne, Nebraska, to be held at Wayne at 8:30 a. m., on July 22, 1916, to fill the position of rural carrier at Winside and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above mentioned county. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Application should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

Put Wilson on G. O. P. Ticket

An indication of republican friendliness to President Wilson is found in the fact that all over the country in the presidential primaries his name was written on the republican ballot in the place of the republican candidates. The following is an excerpt from a letter received from Omaha:

"In canvassing the vote, however, it was noticed by myself and the other members of the canvassing board that in nearly every precinct in the county the name of Woodrow Wilson was written on the republican ballot as candidate for president. We have 124 districts in this county and I believe that the districts would average four or five each of such votes written in for Woodrow Wilson."

There are 12,000,000 of farmers in the United States, whose farms are mortgaged for $3,000,000,000. They are paying an average interest rate of 8 1/2 per cent or $225,000,000 a year for the use of this sum: The rural credits bill which has passed both houses, and is now in the hands of a joint conference committee to smooth out certain wrinkles, makes 6 per cent the maximum rate and a saving of $75,000,000 with no danger of Uncle Sam getting scared every time money is a little tight, and closing them out. Like the regional bank scheme, it is more "war on business,"—from the Wall street viewpoint. It is one more brake on their power to depress or boom credit for speculative purposes. It puts the man who guesses right as to natural causes above the fears that have obtained the past two decades—that a bunch of speculators in New York had it in their power to upset the financial equilibrium of the entire country when ever congress or the president refused to heed the dictation of Morgan or Rockefeller. They could scare the small business man or the fellow who had a note pending, into agree shakes. After accomplishing their purpose, they then lectured on the value of "confidence." Now, fortunately, matters are shaping themselves so that we may exercise confidence without this advice.—Bridgeport Herald.

Jochim Test Dead

Jochim Test died Monday afternoon at the home of his son, Gust Test, in Wakefield. He was the oldest inhabitant of this vicinity, being 94 years, 2 months and 23 days of age. Lambs About 25c Lower; Ewes Steady to Higher. Largest Supply For a Long Time, Bulk of Receipts Consisting Mostly of Range Springers. Best Lambs Bring $10.95, Ewes $7.00.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Neb., June 28, 1916.—Cattle receipts for Tuesday were fairly large, some 156 loads or about 4,000 head. Dressed beef men seemed rather slow to get out into the yard, and they started in picking up the best yearlings at about steady prices, while they could hardly be induced to look at much less bid, on the heavy cattle. The buyers took the desirable heavyweight heaves and yearlings at steady to strong prices. At the present yearlings and heavy cattle are bringing $9.75@10.25 and on up. Bulk of the fair to good cattle both heavy and light are selling around $9.25@9.75.

Quotations on cattle: Good to choice heaves, $10.00@10.50; fair to good heaves, $9.25@10.00; common to fair heaves $8.25@9.25; good to choice yearlings, $9.50@10.25; fair to good yearlings, $8.60@9.40; common to fair yearlings, $7.25@8.50; good to choice heifers, $7.50@8.50; good to choice cows, $7.25@8.00; fair to good cows, $6.00@7.00; canners and cutters, $4.00@6.00; veal calves, $8.00@11.50; grass bulls, $5.50@6.50; beef bulls, $6.75@7.75.

The shippers were out early for hogs on Tuesday's market with urgent orders, and started right in buying hogs on a 5@10c higher basis. One or two of the packers also filled a few urgent orders at about 5c higher prices, but owing to reports of steady to lower trades from other points values slipped back to about a steady basis. The general market was figured a shade higher than Monday's, bulk of the sales landing a spread of $9.50@9.70, with more of the packers hogs selling at $9.55, than any other price, the shippers paid a top of $9.80.

Lamb receipts for Tuesday were very liberal, some 56 cars, or about 14,000 head. The call for old sheep continued good, and the bulk of the ewes on sale moved at prices that were steady to 10c higher, best selling at $7.00. For lambs it was a rather slow affair, packers having sharply lower orders, and forcing a 25c decline. Best lambs sold to $10.25 with a decent good kind around $10.75@10.85.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, spring, fair to choice, $10.00@10.95; lambs, spring, cuts, $8.50@9.25; lambs, fair to choice handy, $9.25@9.80; lambs, fair to choice heavy, $8.50@9.50; yearlings, fair to choice handy, $7.25@7.75; yearlings, fair to choice heavy, $7.00@7.25; wethers, fair to choice, $6.75@7.25; ewes, good to choice, $6.40@7.00; ewes, fair to good, $5.50@6.40.

Such tobacco enjoyment as you never thought could be is yours to command quick as you buy some Prince Albert and fire-up a pipe or a home-made cigarette!

Prince Albert gives you every tobacco satisfaction your smoke-appetite ever hankered for. That's because it's made by a patented process that cuts out bite and parch! Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

has a flavor as different as it is delightful. You never tasted the like of it! And that isn't strange, either.

Buy Prince Albert every where tobacco is sold in tippy red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin ham-dors—and that corking fine pound crystal-glass ham-dor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such clever trim—always!

Men who think they can't smoke a pipe or roll a cigarette can smoke and will smoke if they use Prince Albert. And smokers who have not yet given P. A. a try-out certainly have a big surprise and a lot of enjoyment coming their way as soon as they invest in a supply. Prince Albert tobacco will tell its own story!

Order of Hearing and Notice on Petition for Settlement of Account

In the County Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, State of Nebraska, Wayne County, ss.

To all persons interested in the estate of Wallace E. Graves, deceased:

On reading the petition of Rollie W. Leff, Administrator, praying a final settlement and allowance of his account filed in this court on the 24th day of June 1916, and for distribution of the residue of said estate in his hands.

It is hereby ordered that you and all persons interested in said matter may, and do, appear at the County Court to be held in and for said county, on the 3rd day of July, A. D., 1916, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted, and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Nebraska Democrat, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, for one week prior to said day of hearing.

What Dividend Should a Telephone Company Pay?

We believe that we should pay such a return on the money invested in our property as will enable us to obtain additional money necessary for making extensions and improvements required by the public.

If we do not earn enough to get this new money the public will suffer from the curtailment of extensions and improvements that should be made. We make additions to the plant out of new money invested and not out of profits from the service sold.

There are many problems peculiar to the telephone business necessitating extra expenditures which we cannot control. There are occasional expenses caused by sleet storms, floods and tornadoes which amount to thousands of dollars. Then there may be increased taxes or possible exactions from governing bodies regarding methods of construction, operating requirements, etc., which add to our expenses. These costs always bear upon the problem of dividends.

This company is and will be satisfied with a fair average return on the money actually invested in the business. We have absolutely no "watered stock." A dollar has been invested in physical property for every dollar's worth of securities issued. All we ask or have a right to expect is such a return on the money invested in our property as could be obtained on the money if it were invested in other business enterprises involving like risks.

In special cases in the extension of business where extraordinary risks are taken which entitle us to some extra profit in consideration of such risks, we shall only ask for that return on the investment which any equitable commission or court would award us.

The graft enjoyed by the county treasurers of Iowa made the aspirants for such positions in Nebraska turn green with envy and they appealed to their congressmen for relief. The government land paid no taxes and the homesteader whose land was not taxable for five years preferred to let his taxes become delinquent at 10 per cent, to paying from three to six per cent a month to the banker.

The political situation in 1876 afforded the opportunity to the Nebraska county treasurer to urge his congressman to offer the public lands of Nebraska for sale to speculators. The G. O. P. had lost control in congress, but John Sherman, with a colored lady and a barrel of money, went to Louisiana and saved the presidency by a single vote. The conspirators, in the pay of the Bank of England, were dismayed but not defeated. As Carranza depends on the peon's hatred of Americans, so these men counted on appealing to the prejudices of the voters and continued their remorseless policy of burning the people's money and issuing interest-bearing bonds upon its ashes. This policy paralyzed industry in New England in 1876 and in the central states in 1877, and produced three millions of idle men, stigmatized as tramps. This monster of misery crossed the Mississippi river in 1878 to pay Wayne county farmers 18 cents for wheat, 8 cents for corn, $1.60 per cwt. for hogs, and 50 cents a day for labor.

The people could no longer endure the strain of establishing what the conspirators termed an honest dollar. Enough of them discarded the blinds of partisan hatred to elect a congress that, led by 14 greenback members of the house, extinguished the flames that were cremating the people's money, repealed the resumption act and set the mint to work that had been silent for five years, coining the dollar of our dads. And under that act more than 600,000,000 silver dollars were coined and certificates issued thereon not redeemable in gold, but as good as gold.

These acts by a democratic congress brought relief to a papered people. Prices rose rapidly, prosperity soon blessed the land, there were no idle men called tramps. But the G. O. P. in 1880 claimed all of the credit for it, found enough believers to drive the foolish democrats out to grass. It was during this period when the G. O. P. was fighting for its life that the Nebraska treasurers urged their congressmen to have the public lands of Nebraska offered for sale to speculators. The western congressman would consent to any graft to enable him to hold his job, and the eastern congressman would consent to anything that would enable him to perpetuate his graft, the protective tariff. But the "popocrats" destroyed this graft by an act requiring the county funds to be offered to the highest bidder not less than 2 per cent) with good security.

F. R. Pryor returned to his home in Creighton Tuesday after a few days visit with his little daughter Marseline, and his sister Miss Margaret Pryor.

Poss Gallagher and his brother "Cotton" Gallagher were in town Monday, Padge greeting old friends. They returned to their home in Coleridge in the evening.

J. G. Knecht from Arlington was here the first of the week visiting his farm and Wm. Buetow and family, who are leasing and working the place for a number of years.

The last Lyons Mirror was a humdinger, and some of the writings of brother Warner would do credit to the editor of the Bingleville Bugle—and the orthography is far better.

Little Miss Edith Shurtliff accompanied as far as Emerson by her aunt, Mrs. Fred Martin, with whom she has been visiting the past few days, returned to her home in Walthill Tuesday.

Mrs. Henry Hansen and children, Richard and Elsie, returned to her home at Holstein, Iowa, last week, following a visit at the home of her relatives, Dick Hansen at Wayne and his son on the farm.

Mrs. Horace Theobald went to Sioux City Tuesday, going down to meet Mrs. A. R. Davis and her two children, Burr and Katherine Lou and Mrs. Theobald's son, Marion, who are returning from a visit with Mr. Davis' folks, who live at Blenco, Iowa.

At Stanton, Monday and Tuesday, July 3 and 4, there is to be a great race meet. It is reported that there are plenty entries to make a good meet, and they have some trotters entered with a record better than 2:10, so one may expect to see good speed tests.

V. A. Senter, son Charles, and Ed Sellers went to Bancroft the first of the week to visit; Mr. Senter with his mother, Mrs. Helen L. Senter, Mr. Sellers with his stepson, Tyrell Sellers, who lives on a farm near Bancroft. Mr. Sellers remained to visit for a few days, Mr. Senter returned Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. John Burtwistle autoed to Wayne Sunday morning, visiting during the day at the C. W. Duncan home. They report that C. W. Duncan is now driving a new car. Mr. Duncan has owned several different makes of cars since moving to Wayne and when he sold his last one he vowed he would never own another but recently got that, there is no cure for it only to buy a car.—Pilger Herald.

W. C. Montgomery has sold the Pilger Herald to Harvey Nye, formerly of Stanton, who will take possession July 1st. Editor Montgomery sold on account of the health of his wife, and hopes to locate at some point in the west where the climatic conditions will be more to her liking. The Democrat wishes the new paper success, not only in the newspaper venture which may be considered well near assured, for he knows about that business, but another exchange tells us that the young man went to Glenwood, Iowa, and there on June 20 was united in marriage to Miss Hazel Burger of that city. Probably he made no mistake in that venture, though he may not be as familiar with the duties of husband as those of editor.

Mrs. M. A. Pryor returned Monday from Winslow after a short visit with her son, T. J. Pryor and family.

Mrs. I. W. Alter and daughter, Miss Eva, were passengers to Sioux City Wednesday, returning in the evening.

Donald Porter and wife from Carroll visited with Sheriff Porter and wife Saturday, and also with Mrs. Lou Surber, returning home Saturday evening.

Mrs. E. R. Moran, from Hartington, who is visiting with Mrs. R. A. McEachen went to Bancroft Tuesday to visit with relatives there for a few days.

J. H. Vibber left the first of the week for Independence, Kansas, accompanying his brother George to his home at that place at the close of his visit here.

A. S. Buell, wife and son Robert, autoed to Stanton Tuesday to attend the District Federated meeting of the Methodist church, which convenes there the 27, 28, 29, 30th of this month.

S. W. Dayton and wife went to Harlan, Iowa, Tuesday on a business and pleasure trip. They will also go to Panama where Mr. Dayton has land interests. They will be gone about a week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tompkins from Bassett were here Monday night visiting at the home of her parents, E. L. Griffith and wife, the lady's parents. They were on their way to visit at Omaha.

Mrs. Wendel Baker and daughter Helena, went via auto the first of the week to Winnebago to visit with Mrs. Baker's daughter, Mrs. E. G. Ross. She was also accompanied by Mr. DeLaney and Master Louie Baker.

Rev. P. D. Cox of Dixon passed through Wayne, via auto, the first of the week, and visited a short time with Rev. Buell and family. Rev. Cox is going to Stanton to attend the meeting of the Methodist church held this week.

Neal Thompson and family of Dalton, are visiting friends in this part of Nebraska, having left home by automobile the first of the week. They are making headquarters at the home of the lady's mother, Mrs. Emma Baker.

W. R. Ellis accompanied his little niece Miss Helen Olin, as far as Norfolk Tuesday morning to put her on the train that will carry her to her home in Madison. Miss Olin has been visiting Mr. Ellis and family for a short time.

Last Thursday Mrs. L. J. Coyle and children, Mary and Joseph, came from Lincoln to visit at the homes of Peter Coyle and wife and T. W. Moran. On Saturday they were joined by T. P. Coyle of Omaha, who is also visiting at the same homes, his father and sister.

Miss Molly Woolston of Magnet was a between-visitor with Miss Winifred Main Tuesday morning, leaving on the ten o'clock for Stanton, where she will attend the Methodist convention which hold session there Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

Mrs. Purdy came last week from Akron, Colorado, to visit a short time at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. G. J. Hess. She is great-grandmother to Miss Bonnie Hess, and that young lady is quite proud of the fact that she can visit with one two generations removed. They have a four-generation photo taken when the grandmother was presented here the first of the week. Mrs. Purdy is nearly 80 years of age, and remarkably spry, and would pass for ten years younger easily.

STAKING FARM BOYS.

Bankers and Business Men of Oklahoma Start Youngsters in Hog Raising.

Bankers and business men throughout Oklahoma are starting hundreds of farm boys into the hog raising business by either furnishing a free pig or lending the money necessary to start in the business. Although many persons have expressed a willingness to provide a certain number of boys with foundation stock at no cost, the most popular plan now seems to be a business arrangement by which the boy shares a responsibility practically equivalent to that of business transactions he may enter into later in life.

Three county agents in eastern Oklahoma recently held a conference and adopted a contract form to be used in their counties in the Pig club work. Following are the terms of the contract as agreed upon in these three counties:

That the party of the first part furnishes to the party of the second part a registered sow pig.

That the party of the second part agrees to receive the pig above mentioned, to make all reports required, feed it, care for it and house it as directed by the party of the first part, provided that all pigs shall be housed in a hog house such as described in Farmers' Bulletin 596, on pages 11, 12 and 13, or a hog house of its equivalent.

It is further agreed that the party of the second part shall breed the sow when not less than eight months of age to a registered sire of the same breed.

It is further agreed that the party of the second part shall keep all breeding stock registered.

It is further agreed that the party of the first part reserves the right to purchase the choicest pig of the first litter at from six to ten months of age at $15 if unbred and at $20 if bred, to be sold in turn to another club member.

It is further agreed that the party of the second part shall sign a promissory note, which shall bear 10 per cent interest from date until paid, for such amount as party of the first part may have spent for the pig that was delivered to the party of the second part.

It is further agreed that payment of above note shall be made on or before the expiration of one year from time of entering this contract and when same shall have been paid by the party of the second part that the original sow mentioned, together with all of her increase, shall become the property of the party of the second part.

It is further agreed that in case the party of the second part is unable to carry out the provisions of this contract or willfully violates them the pig with all her increase shall be paid for at once by the party of the second part or returned to the party of the first part to be delivered to some other club member. In such case the party of the second part ceases to be a club member.

Pruning Peach Trees.
[J. F. Riddell, Oklahoma station.]

A question frequently asked is, "When is the proper time to prune peach trees?" In general the answer to this question is: During the dormant period, preferably in late winter or early spring, just before growth starts, except in regions where bleeding from wounds is likely to occur. In such regions it should probably be done in early winter, but conditions and the object of pruning must be considered in each case. If the pruning operations are very extensive economic requirements may make it necessary to prune throughout the winter whenever the weather is suitable for men to work in the orchard. If the fruit buds are endangered during the winter by adverse temperatures it may be advisable to delay pruning as much as economic conditions permit until settled spring weather arrives. This is especially advisable if heavy heading in of the previous season's growth is involved, since the proportion of live buds may determine the extent to which the cutting back should be carried.

BITS OF POULTRY WISDOM.

To prevent hens from eating their eggs arrange a false bottom in the nest, through which the egg will roll slowly out of sight when laid. There are several ways of doing this. By making the nests dark the formation of this habit will be prevented.

The best means of cheering up chicks is furnishing them with some garden worms to fight over. If it's dry and worms are scarce fresh beef cut in strips will serve the purpose. Sliced onion will do the work if you don't give it to them too often. Anything to make them scrappy.

An excellent grade of charcoal can be made by burning corncoals till they turn red, extinguishing the fire and when dry grinding for mash feeding for the poultry.

To tell a pullet from a hen look at the surface of the upper part of the wing. In a pullet this shows minute rose colored veins, which are not seen in a bird over twelve months old. A pullet, too, has smooth legs and shows long, silky hairs in the plumage, which are not seen in a bird over a year old.

Often lack of exercise and green food will cause feather eating. It is a very good plan to feed sulphur in the mash, especially when one sees the hens starting this bad habit. In a very confined run one should give the birds all the occupation possible. It is also a good idea to have a perch out in the outside runs.

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!
The Central Meat Market will be closed tight from Monday night until Wednesday morning, so meat yourselves early.

Sunday night the twenty-fifth Charles Weeces living two miles northwest of town had a fine yearling colt struck and killed by lightning during the electrical storm. When found, the colt was lying with its head over the fence wire in a field not far from the house. It is supposed the lightning struck the horse in the head as no mark on the body was found. There was no insurance on the animal.

Mrs. Elsie Keeney came last week to visit at the home of her uncle, R. K. Smith and family, and this week her husband, A. L. Keeney came to join her in a visit. Mrs. K. has been taking training as a nurse at a Lincoln college, and the husband has been teaching agriculture in a college at Harvey, North Dakota. We hope that he will give his uncle a few pointers on the matter of farm demonstrators and teach him the error of his ways. He is to teach at Lincoln next year, and will probably continue the same branches of instruction.

J. T. Baughan returned Tuesday morning from a visit at Lincoln. He was at camp, and mingled with the Wayne bunch both Sunday and Monday, and reports that the boys all appear to be enjoying camp life to the utmost. It is not known when they will leave Lincoln for the border. The throng of visitors at camp, he said, was greater than he had seen at a state fair, and there are automobiles from the uttermost parts of the state. The street car lines to the grounds are over loaded. The members of Co. E., were about in the act of being mustered into the service the same as the regular, which makes them liable to do duty without as well as within this country.

Cletion Gossard, whose home is at Cabri, in the Saskatchewan, Canada, came from Lincoln Monday evening to visit a day or two at the home of his uncle, A. P. Gossard. The lad has been attending school at Lincoln and living with an aunt there, for their Canadian holdings are on the frontier, and it was not until this year that they have had a school within their district, so that he had missed three years of schooling. He is now on his way to his Canadian home. When asked if he did not think they would send him to war, he said he thought not, as he is but 14 years of age—though he appears of fighting size. He has a cousin who enlisted and is across the water somewhere.

Thresher Burned by Lightning
During the thunder shower last Thursday evening lightning struck the shed in which John Kay had housed his threshing machine, and but for the aid of neighbors, who first saw the fire and the generous rain wetting things got, the barn, a few rods away, would have also been a matter for the insurance people to settle for. Mr. Kay had insurance on the machine in the Capital Fire Insurance Co., of Lincoln, and S. L. Stewart of Allen, the local agent, was here the first of the week, accompanied by an adjuster, settling the loss to the satisfaction of Mr. Kay. This is the second machine loss Mr. Kay has sustained, the other machine catching fire while at work from the engine no doubt.

until the cattle are shipped. Thus the manure and straw become a foot thick, and as it is rather soft anything but an overhead carrier would be impractical.

For ease in handling, the straw is stored overhead, where it is put by the blower at threshing time. The straw is then thrown down through convenient openings. This method results in a quantity of well-preserved manure. The cattle keep surprisingly clean at a minimum of labor.

The feeding space, in which there were fifty steers at the time of my visit, measures 60x60 feet. Counting out the space occupied by the watering trough and mangers, each steer has about 60 square feet of floor space. These steers were receiving 50 pounds of corn silage and 3 1/2 pounds of cottonseed meal a day. They were put on feed the first of last November, and were not out of the barn all winter, except to be weighed. At the time they went in the average weight was 690 pound; on the first of March it was 900, and the fifteenth of April, just two days before shipping, they weighed about a thousand pounds apiece.

"I aim to feed all the silage they will eat," Mr. Hyslop explained. "I let the corn mature well, and put it in the silage without any water except when we are a little late. It takes about 25 acres of corn to fill the four silos. In feeding silage I watch to see that they eat it all. If any is left I cut down the next feeding, as the cattle must not lose their appetites. I start them out with about a pound of cottonseed meal per head, and gradually increase the amount till they are getting from 3 to 3 1/2 pounds per 1,000 pounds of weight."

"Pittsburgh, Buffalo, and our local markets offer the best prices for this sort of stock, which is classified as 'tidy cattle,' although perhaps better known as baby beef. The animals must be fat and weigh about 1,000 pounds.

"Some of these cattle," he explained, "I got from Kentucky. The others I raised myself. We bought feeders on the Chicago market at first, but have lately found that difficult because of quarantine, and besides, feeders are getting higher in price.

"Raising feeders is a new thing with us, but it is paying. Two years ago I bought 24 Shorthorn heifers at $30 apiece. Up to the time their calves were weaned those heifers cost two dollars a month for feed, or $48 apiece, making a total cost of $78. The value of the manure is figured as offsetting the labor, and I make no charge for service, as we bought our own Shorthorn sire and, when we were through with him, fattened him up and received $10 more than the purchase price.

"Figuring the value of the breeding cows and their calves at market prices, our gross profit on raising these feeders was 17 1/2 per cent. Allowing for interest on investment and miscellaneous expense, our net profit is just about ten per cent.

"You can tell the readers that feeding silage to steers is a good deal different than feeding grain and hay. In the first place, you can't count on the hogs' getting much by following the steers. That makes some difference in the hog end of the business. Besides, you must keep the cattle at an even temperature.

Keeps Cattle in Warm Barns

"You will notice that the foundation wall is of cement blocks, and ventilation comes from three sides. We never shut the place up tight, but neither do we let cold winds blow on the cattle. When the wind is from the west we open the east door, and when it blows from the east, then the west door is opened and the east door closed. Once or twice last winter water froze in the tank, but it was only a thin film.

"In the spring we sell all except the breeding stock, and that gives us time for general farming, hauling out the manure, and getting ready for fall feeding again."

Five head of dairy cows are kept the year round. The plan of stabling them is both simple and ingenious. Like the beef cattle they have a covered yard which is dressed over with fresh straw every few days so there is always a clean place for the cows to lie down. Mr. Hyslop has observed that a cow will never lie down in a dirty place when a clean one is to be had.

At milking time the cows are turned into a small room in the barn, where they are fed and milked. The room is away from all barnyard odors, and as it is cool and rather dark in summer the cows may be milked in perfect comfort both to themselves and the milk. Flies rarely find their way into this milking room. After the night's milking they are turned into another pen, and consequently are always at hand to be milked in the morning.

This plan is perhaps most practical for small-sized herds, but in

Baby Beef From Silage

D. S. Burch in Farm and Fireside

"How long have I made a business of feeding cattle? Well practically all my life. I am fifty-four years old now and was born on a stock farm. Since about 1881 I have been farming myself; that makes a stretch of thirty-five years that you might call practical experience."

The man who was telling me this is W. W. Hyslop, one of the farmers in southwestern Ohio, who knows how to feed silage to beef cattle and make it pay. He also had considerable experience in fact, still has a few dairy cows as well as a flock of 35 sheep and a bunch of nearly 125 hogs.

But his main business is stock-feeding and general farming, all conducted in a businesslike way on his farm of 140 acres, valued at $125 an acre.

"Some twenty years ago," he went on to tell, "we tried dairying, and made a success of it, as successes are usually reckoned. But as there was so much work my wife had to do in connection with that kind of farming, we felt we should change to the farming I had been taught when I was a boy. So we decided to go back to beef and hogs. We were shifting our farming to meet this change of mind when the hailstorm of July 6, 1906, came along. Not an ear of corn was left on a field of 44 acres, and we lost practically everything in the crop line.

"Raising beef cattle is not as profitable as dairying on a year-around basis, but it paid better on a six-months basis--the winter months of course. There is less work, a smaller investment, and I am not so dependent on hired help. I find that I can operate the farm cheaper the way I am doing now.

I own the farm and furnish everything. My son works it with me and gets one third. Only in the summer do we need an extra hand."

To look at Mr. Hyslop's buildings and barnyards you would never suspect him to be in the stock business. His four stave silos, with an aggregate capacity of 300 tons, are all inside the barn, as are also his cattle. There are several reasons for building that way.

Labor Costs are Low

"In the first place," he said, "this isn't a costly barn, so the room occupied by the silos is not very valuable. The barn roof covers them all, so I save at least part of the cost of four silo roofs, as I want my silos to be covered. But the chief advantages are the convenience and greater durability of the stave silos when built inside.

"The oldest has been giving me service for twenty years now and the newest is ten years old. The first two or three years the hoops need some tightening, but on all but the newest I haven't touched a bolt for ten years."

The silos looked as though they were good for twenty years more of service. They were home-made affairs, built of two-by-sixes tongued and grooved with the inside of the stave an eighth of an inch narrower than the outside so as to provide for the curvature. The customary silo hoops are used on all of the silo.

A carrier running on a system of overhead tracks allows the silage to be dumped directly into any one of a half dozen mangers. This carrier enables one man to do the feeding as quickly as two men could do it most any other way. The floor is an earth one, and as the manure collects fresh straw is added. The manure is not removed the winter and early spring, it permits the dairy work to be done quickly and without continually subjecting the cows to wide changes of temperature, when they are brought from outdoors into a warm stable twice a day and then turned out again. Besides the cows keep cleaner than when confined in stanchions all the time, and one pen may be cleaned out when the cattle are in the other.

This plan is not entirely new, however, and a very similar one has lately been suggested for the economical use of milking machines. Instead of having a large stable piped with vacuum lines for the milking machines, a small milking-room is suggested into which a few cows are brought at a time. The milking machines are to be in the small room; which makes installation simpler and less expensive. The cattle are allowed to stand untied in a suitable pen, and after they are milked are turned into another pen. Another advantage of this plan is the reduced labor, as the machines need not be moved at all, and the work of handling the milk is also less.

Carroll Will Celebrate

Not only the 4th of July, but at the same time the annual old settler picnic will be held, and all of Wayne county is invited for the spread. Speaking, music, tennis, ball and other games will interest you. At night there will be fireworks plenty, and autos will find ample parking place.

Saturday forenoon, several auto loads of boosters with their fine band to blow for them, were here. After listening to their music an official of the Public Service club invited the visitors to come in and take some liquid refreshments at the drug store, where a social half hour was spent. Beyond a doubt the majority of Wayne people who go out to celebrate will visit Carroll.

"How I Do Hate Ashes!"

"Why do you have them then?" "But don't they get out of order?"
"But my range—" "Not if you're careful to use a good grade of kerosene. I use Perfection Oil—that's the Standard Oil Company's best."
"Let your range go out for the summer. Get one of those New Perfection Oil Cook Stoves. You know—the kind with the long blue chimney burners. You don't have to bother with coal or ashes if you have a New Perfection. It's as quick and handy as a gas stove."
New Perfection Oil Cook Stoves are sold in many styles and sizes by hardware, furniture and department stores everywhere. Ask to see the new heat retaining oven.

A Question for Republicans
(St. Louis Republic)
Permit us to run over a catalog that may have by now the monotony of familiarity, but will never have monotony of any other kind. We recall its items for a special purpose.
The democrats, in the past three years, have done a vast number of things. They have revised the tariff just as they said they would. They have created and set up a new currency system. The whole financial machinery of the United States has been rebuilt by them. They have passed an income tax law. It has been in operation almost three years. They have added to the anti-trust law, clearing up its obscurities. They have created a federal trade commission and set it to work on big problems. They have begun the building of a rail road in Alaska. They have passed a military bill—the most important in the history of the army since the civil war. They have passed a rural credits bill. They have had ly ready to acquiesce in an executive dictatorship, in the hope of getting in that way reforms denied by a congress dominated by obstructive machines in the senate and in the house. Taft was as putty in the hands of the bosses. He was a mush of probations; he even approved the Payne-Aldrich tariff! The popular despair increased. Then came the Wilson administration. And the laws demanded by the people began to be passed.

We desire to ask the standpat hosts who are cheering for Hughes to think a moment. His election should mean the dominance once more of the standpat leaders of congress. It was Penrose, Murray Crane, Smoot and Lodge who nominated him, with the potent figure of Nicholas Murray Butler in the background, giving the orders his chiefs carried out. Each of the five is an engine-turned, wire-wound reactionary. None ever had a progressive political idea in his life. Each bows three times a day before the God of Things as They Used to Be.
Suppose Hughes could be elected, with Smoot and Mann the leaders of a senate and house republican by a safe margin. (Imagination can go no farther). What chance would there be that any sort of legislation demanded by the mind and conscience of progressive citizens could take shape in the brains of such leaders as those or filter through a chamber watched by their cold eyes.
And now we come to the practical point. It makes no difference whether our republican friends like popular demands or not; unsatisfied, they are dangerous in the extreme. To deny them is laying up wrath against the day of wrath. Mr. Hughes has been nominated through the operations of machinery controlled by men no more responsive to popular demand than Berlin is to London or London to Berlin. What profit would it be to the nation to elect him and go once more over the weary period of our history lying between the palmy days of Mark Hanna and the retirement of the prudent Nelson W. Aldrich?

J. G. Knecht of Arlington is spending a few days at the Wm. Buetow home.

Mrs. Cooper of Hitchcock, South Dakota, came last week for a three weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. Roy Pierson.

Mrs. Andrew Stamm will be leader of the Sunday school in the Stamm schoolhouse next Sunday at 2 p. m. There will be preaching services at 3 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. James McIntosh had as guests for dinner Sunday, Mrs. E. R. Gibson and son Roy of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Buetow and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. John Beckman, Mr. Fred Beckman, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lessman and daughter, Laurine.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beckman very pleasantly entertained a party of young people at their home one evening last week. The hours were devoted to music and dancing. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Mr. E. R. Gibson and son Roy of Omaha, have been visiting with old friends and neighbors in this vicinity the past week. She went to Sioux City yesterday to visit a few days with her father, T. S. Goss, before returning to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller and the lady's father Mr. Nelson, autoed over from Ponca Saturday to spend the week-end at the O. G. Randol home. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Halladay and children were guests at the Randol home Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Buetow was hostess to the H. H. S., Tuesday afternoon. The fact that there was only one member absent made it an unusually interesting meeting. The ladies spent a part of the time sewing for the hostess. During the social hour Mrs. Wm. Watson and Mrs. Ray Chapman won prizes. A two-course luncheon was served at five-thirty. Mesdames E. R. Gibson of Omaha, George Porter, James McIntosh, Rav Chapman, and the Misses Elsa Anderson, Laurine McIntosh, Etta Thun and Jessie Watson were guests of the club. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Alex Jeffrey three weeks from today.

Flag Union News

Mrs. Lucy Phillips and children are spending the week at the F. L. Phillips home.

C. J. Harmeiers' from west of Carroll visited at Henry Harmeiers' Sunday.

Mrs. H. C. Lyons and Harry called at Will Mills, near Carroll Sunday.

F. H. O'Gara and family, Roy Lathrop's and Mr. Darnell's of Laurel, visited at A. A. Smith's recently.

Pete Nygren has been in Wayne taking special treatment and from last reports, we are glad to say, is improving.

Mr. H. C. Lyons, Laura, Elmer and Reuben returned Monday noon from across country trip to Westington Spring, South Dakota, to visit relatives. The crops here are about a week in advance.

Cattle Shipments This Week

Tuesday a train of at least eleven cars were pulled out of here by the afternoon train, bound for Omaha. Wm. Cunningham had two cars from his farm, C. E. Gildersleeve went with one car. August Loberg and son Frank from Carroll had three cars of good stuff. One load came from Randolph and four from Wausa. One load went out from here Monday and quite a string came down the branch from Bloomfield. Sunday evening there were several cars on the train which came from the Bloomfield branch, and an extra came from the west with one lone car.

Neglect of the Child's Teeth Criminal

A mouthful of decayed and unclean teeth in a man or woman is disgraceful, but in a little child is almost criminal, because some one has neglected him.

It has been demonstrated that any child that is required to clean his teeth daily, and who visits the dentist often to have small cavities stopped, can be assured of keeping all his teeth to a good old age.

Dentistry is efficient and a skillful dentist, if given an opportunity can almost guarantee immunity from toothache or loss of the teeth.

Your duty to the child is to see to it that he has good sound teeth.

CHAUTAUQUA ATTRACTIONS

STANLEY L. KREBS
PSYCHICLECTURES

July 11, 1916

DR. Stanley L. Krebs, the eminent psychologist, who is to lecture at the Chautauqua, holds the record for rather unusual activities in the realm of science and research. He has slept in more "haunted" houses, pursued to their fair more "ghosts, hobgoblins, spectres, phantasm, figures, and forms appearing at the mystic horror-haunted hour of midnight; hunted the cause of more "sounds," "voices" and "whisperings of the dead"; investigated more "pow-wows," "water-smellers," "dowers," an "well diggers"; studied the phenomena of more "fire-walkers," of Africa, fakirs and yogis of India, magicians of Malta, dervishes of Persia, and thaumaturgists generally; invented more methods to match the marvels and magic of "mind-readers" such as Hodiuidin of France, Heller of England, Anna Eva Fay of America, etc.; discovered and exposed the mysterious tricks and almost magic procedures of "medims," "trumpet speakers," "slate writers," "letter writers," etc.; than any other one man living. His history and industry in this particular line have been remarkable. He is fearless and almost pitiless in pursuing men's ideas to their source, and mercilessly turns the light in upon all "hexeret" and "witchcraft," ancient or modern.

Presbyterian Church

(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

The subject of the next Sunday evening meeting of the C. E. will be, "How to Make Ours an Ideal Nation." The lesson may be found in I. Peter: 2:1-10. Marion Grothe has been appointed to lead the meeting.

We desire to see every young person at the C. E. meeting next Sunday and to stay for the evening service. The sermon theme for the evening meeting will be, "A Promised Inheritance." This is a theme for young folks.

The regular monthly Christian Endeavor business meeting will be at the church parlors Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A special effort is being made to have a report read from every committee. The committees have been doing good work.

The great Fife revival campaign is only two months away. Let every person join in with every other person to boost for these meetings and to get ready for organized personal work. Read a good suggestion repeated this week in the C. E. Column in REMEMBER.

Mrs. J. H. Wendte will give a report of the state Sunday school convention in the Sunday school next Sunday. Be there and hear an interesting and encouraging report. There are classes suitable for all and all persons are cordially invited to attend this Sunday school.

The Communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed on next Sunday at 10:30 o'clock. There will be a meeting of the Session at 10:00 o'clock. An opportunity will be given to unite with the church—either by letter or on profession of faith. Children may be presented for baptism.

Shirts for the fourth. Get them at Morgan's Toggery. 75c to $3.—adv.

Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beebe of Wakefield celebrated their 22d wedding anniversary in a very pleasant manner last Tuesday evening, June 27. The dining room was very beautifully decorated in pink and white. Ropes of pink were draped from the chandeliers to the corners of the table. The centerpieces were large bouquets of pink and white carnations. The place cards were in the form of tiny pink baskets. At 6:30 a four course dinner was served by Misses Bernice and Marjory Beebe, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Beebe. The evening was spent in composing poetry complimentary to the host and hostess and other amusing stunts and all departed after having a royal good time, and wishing the bride and groom many happy returns of the day. Those in attendance from Wayne were: Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Ley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ley, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gildersleeve, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gildersleeve, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Craven, Mrs. Ed Reynolds, Clyde Reynolds.

Mrs. J. J. Coleman was hostess at the regular meeting of the Bible Study Circle Tuesday afternoon. After the interesting lesson study, Mrs. Young gave a report of a visit Saturday to Co. E., at the Lincoln encampment of National Guards. The boys were most appreciative of their pocket testaments and most of them declared they were reading them daily and were most glad to know that earnest prayer was being offered for them. "How is mother taking it?" one of the boys asked thoughtfully, and all sent their love back to the home folks. "Tell them we are in good spirits," they said, and please send us the Wayne papers.

Those going to Pilger Friday afternoon please meet at Central market at 1:30 sharp.

Pleasant Valley club and Rural Home society held a joint meeting at the home of Mrs. Harvey Miner last Friday afternoon. The program consisted of an instrumental solo by Mrs. Bert Surber a paper on "Club Work" by Mrs. Ash; reading by Mrs. Laughlin, Mrs. Munsinger and Mrs. McIntosh then gave "Joshua's Secret" which caused much laughter and amusement for all present. Refreshments were served after a social hour.

P. E. O. Sisterhood had a business meeting at the home of Mrs. Clara Ellis on Monday evening. The hostess and Mrs. Davies, who were delegates at the State convention at Alliance read very excellent reports. At the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served.

The Rebekah and I. O. O. F. lodges will hold installation of officers at the I. O. O. F. hall next Monday night July 3d. After the installation exercises refreshments will be served. All members are cordially invited.

The Girls' Circle will meet with Geneva Henderson Saturday evening, nearly opposite City Hospital. Every girl should be present.

Ladies Missionary society of Presbyterian church will have their annual picnic next week Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ash.

The Minerva club will have their annual picnic dinner at 6:30 on the court house lawn today.

Jacobs-Wiedenfeld

At eight o'clock Tuesday morning, June 27, 1916, at the St. Mary's Catholic church in his city, Rev. Faher Kearns officiating, Mr. Nicholas Jacobs of Douglas, North Dakota, and Miss Mary Wiedenfeld of Wayne were united in holy bonds of matrimony in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

The groom was attended by Mr. Henry Classman, and Miss Kate Wiedenfeld, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid.

After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's mother where a reception was given in their honor.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jacobs of Hankinson, North Dakota, and is a prosperous young farmer.

The bride needs no introduction to Wayne people as she has been a successful teacher in the schools of Wayne county for several years.

The happy couple left for a short wedding trip and after July 10th they will be at home on the groom's farm near Douglas, North Dakota.

All Take Notice—The full force from the Central market will go on a toot the 4th, and when the market closes Monday evening the key will be lost until Wednesday morn.

The Oxford Company
July 15 and 16, 1916

The Oxford Company is formed of professional singers and entertainers, tried and good. Each one capable of giving a full evening recital alone—the combination is almost ideal. Their program will be a revelation to Chautauqua audiences—quartettes, light operas, solos, readings, sketches, crayon talks, etc. They will present a concert afternoons, and the operas Mikado and Robin Hood in costume in the evenings.

A Great Missionfest Service
Last Sunday missionfest was observed by the congregations of the German Evangelical churches west and southeast of Wayne, over which Rev. Fischer presides, at the Wm. Damme home, where there is ample shade and lawn. There was preaching both morning and afternoon, with a picnic dinner at which more than 350 people were served—the largest attendance ever recorded on like occasion by the two congregations.

Rev. Fischer, as the pastor, presided and ably conducted the exercises of song and praise, himself and family, in which he has a quartette, aiding much in the singing. The morning sermon was by Rev. Mangelsdorf of West Point, and in the afternoon, the former pastor, Rev. F. Klinschweske, from Tilden preached the sermon. Rev. K., accompanied by his wife, were most warmly welcomed by the members of the two congregations over which he had presided as pastor for several years. A collection for missions is one of the objects of these meetings, and on this occasion the sum of $135 was raised.
