Cavanaugh--Orr

The wedding of Miss Neva Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Orr to Arthur T. Cavanaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Cavanaugh of Winside was solemnized at 3:30 Wednesday morning, August 9, 1916, at the home of the bride's parents, the Reverend S. X. Cross of the Presbyterian church of this city officiating.

Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present for the ceremony which took place in the reception room of the home. There was a temporary altar erected beneath a bower of asparagus and pink asters under which the bridal party stood.

Large vases full of beautiful flowers were placed in various parts of the room their fragrance and loveliness adding to this glad event.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Wm. Morris, accompanied by Miss Virginia Chapin of Winside, sang "Dawn" by Cadman. Following this song, Miss Chapin began the Mendelssohn wedding march. The bride and bridegroom walked to the altar unaccompanied, preceded by little Miss Harriet Craven as flower girl and little James Morris as ring bearer, the ring ceremony being used. The bride was given away by the father, Mr. Orr. She wore a neat dark blue velvet traveling suit, carrying in her arms a beautiful large bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride's roses.

Following the ceremony there was a reception, after which a two-course wedding breakfast was served in the dining room which was decorated in sweet peas, roses and peonies.

Mr. Cavanaugh and his bride left at about ten o'clock in David Townsend's car for Norfolk where they took the train for Denver and other points in the west, to be gone about two weeks. They will make their future home in Lincoln where Mr. Cavanaugh is professor in the commercial department of the Lincoln high school.

The bride comes from one of the best families of her home town and bride and bridegroom are popular and well known both at Wayne and Winside.

Out of town guests were O. A. Strahan and wife, who is Mrs. Wm. Orr's sister, daughter Frances and son Howard, of Malvern, Iowa, David Townsend and wife of Norfolk, Mrs. Mary McMakin of Winside, Miss Virginia Chapin (who caught the bridal wreath) of Winside, and the bridegroom's parents, D. G. Cavanaugh and wife of Winside.

The wedding presents were numerous and of excellent selection, consisting of silver, cut glass and china.

The Democrat joins with the many friends of these popular and deserving young people, starting out in the fullness of life, in extending congratulations and wishes for bounteous happiness and success.

Dr. Lutgen Undergoes Operation

All Wayne was surprised when it became known that Dr. S. A. Lutgen must undergo an operation for acute appendicitis. For a few days the doctor had not been feeling well, but kept about constantly until Tuesday evening when pain became so intense that he could no longer diagnose his trouble ordinary bowel trouble. Drs. DeLong of Norfolk and Simon of Winside and Jones of this city were called, and decided that an immediate operation was necessary, and that the sudden relief from intense pain indicated rupture of the appendix. The doctor went onto the table of his hospital shortly after midnight and the condition was found as indicated by the physicians named above, who removed the appendix. It was found necessary to leave the wound open in order that it might drain properly. Dr. Lutgen is resting well this morning, but it will take at least two days yet before danger of serious complications passes. His brother, Dr. Lutgen from Auburn came Wednesday morning and is here to aid in his care.

The Auto Polo Benefit

Wayne had its first taste of auto polo Monday at the old fair grounds and judging by the large attendance and the interested attitude of all spectators, it scored a big success.

Savidge brothers of Ewing and their crew of dare-devil polo players arrived Monday morning from Norfolk, and by three o'clock in the afternoon their cars were in trim and engines in tune for a fast match. Wayne and Wayne community turned out in large numbers and polo fans from neighboring towns and districts came via train and auto to view the fight for supremacy between France and America's polo men.

Mr. Savidge and W. L. Gaston, secretary of the Public Service club, who were responsible for the bringing of the match to our city, at a quarter to four walked around to the various sections of the crowd and called their attention to the various flags that the umpire and score keeper (Savidge) held and explained their use and meaning. The white flag signified start playing, the red and white, ball out of bounds, or foul, the red flag, a broken or disabled car, and the checkered flag the winner of the point and in the end the game.

Promptly at four o'clock with the polo ball in the center of the field and with the machines and their men at the two opposing goals, Mr. Savidge dropped the white flag and the game was on. Red Anson and "K" Buffington wearers of the yellow and black colors started with a rush for the center beating the other car and carried the ball with only a few minutes play for first goal over their opponents, Leonard Hall and Cope Butler, wearers of the blue and white.

Hall and Butler came back strong in the next play and won the point. It was during this play that Hall's car had a wheel smashed and he took the "Yellow Flier" for use.

Fiery Red Anson now got mad and took the next point. At the beginning of the play both cars spilled, throwing out their drivers treating the crowd to a delicious thrill, the men shouting, "good work" and the ladies screaming faintly "poor dears." (At least that is what we heard several of the fair sex say.)

The score being tied, the umpire announced that the tie would be played off and in a final quarter of play that was fast and furious and in which Red Anson's car turned over a second time, Hall and Butler after a hard tussle took the point and the game.

The score is as follows:

Points Won	Fouls
Red Anson, driver, 2	4
K. Buffington, mallet man
Leonard Hall, driver 3	5
Cope Butler, mallet man

To say auto polo is a popular sport would be putting it mild. The game rivals all games, fast, thrilling, fascinating, and is one that demands skill, quick wits and a steady nerve. Recklessness does not pay, as was shown by one of the driver's work. Although getting his car over the ground faster than his opponent he was "not there" at the critical time and his apparently slower opponent "edged" over on him, lining up his car at the right moment for a clean drive by careful judgement.

The receipts of the game were a trifle over $300. Of this three-fourths went to the polo team and one-fourth or $75.45 was the amount Wayne received. This is the fund that will go to our boys of the border. By the large attendance it was clearly evident that Wayne is more than willing to turn out strong for a cause that is good.

A letter and a draft for $70 has gone to the boys on the border.

Sons of Herman Picnic

Sunday members of the order of Sons of Herman met in a social picnic at the Henry Mier home and enjoyed a happy time. There were visiting delegations from the lodges at Randolph, Winside and Altona. C. J. Nuss gave an address of welcome and State President Wm. Piepenstock spoke for a short time. Then the hours were given over to eating, dancing and a general social time. Next Sunday the order will have a picnic at Winside.

As One Minister Sees Things

Carroll, Nebraska, August 8, 1916.

Editor Wayne Democrat:—A part of my work is educating the public to appreciate high ideals. It ought also to be a part of yours, but from the space you have sold to the run etc., interests it appears that you do not care what ideals you set before the people. One of my boys called my attention to the so-called Prosperity League ad. As a father of four sons I cannot seem to consent to encourage such things by continuing your paper coming to our home. I must be consistent with my principles, so will have to ask you to discontinue my name from your mailing list.

Yours for high ideals,
R. J. MCKENZIE.

We are glad to comply with the request of the writer for we do not wish to poison the children's minds and wish him well in his work of educating the public to appreciate high ideals. We may not have our ideals as high as some people, but we are not so "narrow gauge" as to deny others a chance to present their views to the public on a question on which even very able men differ. The advertisement in question is one sent in and to be paid for by an organization of men who do not think the best interests of the people are served by the enactment of an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the sale of intoxicants. We are not of that number, but we believe every question before the people should be discussed and both sides given an opportunity to be heard. It is not the province of a newspaper in these days to bear the expense of placing the ideas of each and every faction before its readers without compensation. However like most editors we give space for the discussion of public questions to the extent which we deem public interest warrants. Regardless of whether editors believe in the doctrines expounded from the pulpits of their community they give hundreds of dollars worth of publicity to the different church and social organizations. The Democrat has been glad to do what it could to help all such organizations in their work.

Our prohibition friends, as well as those who think differently, have each offered to edit columns of the Democrat and furnish the filling ready to print without expense to us except ink, press work, the know how, the postage and the white paper (which is mighty high just now), giving us the glory of scattering their views as our own, but we declined both with alacrity and informed them that if they wished their views sent out in this paper it would have to come as advertising, which might be had at regular rates, and that ended that attempt to graft publicity. Both applicants were told that the paper favored the enactment of the amendment, and that such expression of opinion as the editor deemed best would appear from time to time.

From the appearance of our exchanges our reverend friend will have a lonesome time so far as the leading newspapers are concerned if he lives up to the rule he is applying to the Democrat to keep his sons from knowing what other people think on public questions, for this advertising campaign is state wide. If he is going to be entirely consistent he will not ride on the railroad, for like the newspapers, they are public carriers and so take all classes of people and merchandise, including saloon keepers and preachers sugar, bibles, and booze. If the instruction one can and will give his children is not sufficient to enable them to defend themselves from contamination when they meet an argument or statements which do not conform to their creeds and beliefs, then there is something wrong with their instructor or the theories he teaches; then he had best keep all newspapers from his children, keep them to themselves and always under his personal supervision.

The Democrat has no apologies to make for permitting advertising space to be used to discuss any question of public weal about which there is a nearly equal division of public opinion.

Mrs. Henry Ley, LeRoy Ley and wife and Mrs. F. S. Berry and son started by auto today for Denver and Colorado Springs.

Social Notes

The young friends of Miss Ruth Scofield were entertained at her home Tuesday evening in honor of her birthday, and a dozen guests enjoyed a few hours at games and a splendid two-course luncheon served by her mother. The guests hope for another birthday party so happy an event as this one.

Last Monday was Master Franklin Phillo's fifth birthday, so his mother invited twenty-six little people in to spend the afternoon. They played games on the lawn where a picnic lunch was served at five o'clock in small boxes for each little guest. Master Franklin received many nice presents.

It was a happy dozen young ladies who gathered at the bakery Friday evening at the invitation of Wm. Beckenhauer as a surprise to his daughter Frances, on her 13th birthday. After refreshments the party went to the Beckenhauer home and spent an hour at games, and were then given an automobile ride about the city. Numerous presents were bestowed.

The P. N. G. club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. John Sherrill. The rooms were decorated in Rebecca colors. The guest were divided in pink and green sides in a nail driving contest, air-ship race, high dive, basket ball game, and crowning of the queen. In these contests the greens won the championship. The hostess, assisted by Miss Clara Burson, served a delicious buffet luncheon. Next meeting will be September 12, with Mrs. P. L. Mabbot.

Mrs. C. O. Fisher was hostess at a most interesting meeting of the ladies Union Bible Study Circle Tuesday afternoon. The lesson on Christian Giving was thoroughly discussed, all agreeing that the system of giving was preferable to the old notion of church fairs, suppers, etc., now somewhat out of date. Letters were read from various parts adding interest to a sacred Sabbath for Wayne and for the sick and troubled as requests came. Mrs. T. F. Bracken will be hostess next week and all are welcome. Miss Elsie Gilbert will be the leader.

The Campfire girls with their guardian went camping in Rennie's grove last week Tuesday. Four tents were raised, each one having a name—Ampao, Indian name for rising sun, Kill-kar, Happy Hollow, and Britell's Seldom Inn. A long table was spread under the trees, and many were the guests who were welcomed at its board. Thursday evening the Campfire girls had a ceremonial meeting, after which marshmallows were toasted and water mellons eaten. Mrs. Crossland and son Paul, Mrs. Rennie and daughters, Erma and Eleanor, Wm. Beckenhauer and daughter, Fanneil, Mr. and Mrs. Britell, Mr. and Mrs. Senter and son Charles, Mrs. House and Helen Reynolds were guests of the evening. Friday afternoon the girls broke camp after spending a most delightful time, and came home tanned and covered with "chiggers."

Carl Carlson Held for Assault

At a hearing before Judge James Britton Tuesday, Carl Carlson, better known as "Biscuits," was held in default of $500 bail to answer to a charge of assault and attempted robbery on Leonard Krizler, a shoe repair man. The testimony showed that he had struck his victim with a beer bottle while at the city park Saturday evening, intending to rob him of jewelry. He was arrested as he was making hurried preparation to skip the town, and will stand trial in the next term of district court. Krizler's bond for appearance was placed at $100 and Wayne Miller a witness at $50.

Local Weather Forecast

The weather prediction for this part of the earth, Will Weber says to expect windy and rainy weather the 13th to the 20th.

H. A. McCormick of the Wynot Tribune was a Wayne visitor Saturday, and paid the Democrat a fraternal call.

Barney and Joe Munsinger were at Fremont Wednesday.

Is Council Planning Another Gift?

One of the important questions coming before the council was a petition from property owners along the south side of 7th street from Main street west, asking that 26 feet along the south side of such street which is 106 feet wide, be vacated to abutting property, and that a committee of householders be named to assess the damages sustained by any person by reason of such action. The committee named are W. H. Weber, F. G. Phillo, T. W. Moran, C. M. Craven and J. S. Carhart.

If the petition shall be granted the Democrat hopes that it will not be a giving away of public property to private individuals as has been done on some previous occasions. This strip 26 feet wide will make about eight city lots—corner lots, too, 26x150 feet, valued at an average of perhaps $500 each according to prices asked for lots in that vicinity, and it would be the proper thing for the citizens to all share in the benefits if this property is to be sold, rather than only the few who own abutting property. The Democrat would suggest that these lots be held by the city, if the street is narrowed, until they can be sold at their true value.

Lloyd William Tyrrell

From an obituary appearing in the Bancroft Blade we glean the following life history of Lloyd Tyrrell, who was born in Jo Davies county, Illinois, July 21, 1887, and came with his parents to Wisner when but a babe. Fifteen years later he moved to Pender. September 10, 1910, he was united in marriage to Miss Delia Sellers of this place, who with one child survives him. He also leaves a father, mother and seven brothers and sisters and many other relatives besides a large circle of friends.

Rev. James Clark of Lyons conducted the funeral service at the Baptist church, the I. O. O. F. lodge of which he was a member having charge of the funeral. A large number of friends attended in recognition of his many sterling traits of character and christian life.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sellers of this place, parents of Mrs. Tyrrell, were in attendance and returned home Wednesday. Others from Wayne who went to pay their tribute of respect were Amos Beckenhauer and wife, L. M. Rodgers and wife, H. Giese and Lydia Sellers.

Good Roads Work Under Way

Now is the time for Wayne people to aid the good road work going on just south of town, in which Ted Perry, H. Miner and some other farmers are aiding. The county is putting two large concrete culverts in and also aiding in the grading, and every citizen of Wayne and good road club should do some work on this needed grade. The new county grader should be put in there for a time and not be kept always in other parts of the county.

See the Democrat for wedding invitations.

Crop and Weather Conditions

An inch of rain, lacking a fraction Sunday night was beneficial to corn and hay and pasture lands. Cooler weather followed for two days.

Wednesday evening a second storm came from the northwest and the rainfall was 1.9 inches, making nearly three inches this week. The last evening storm was accompanied by high wind and the east wall of the new garage building now in course of construction was blown out. The wall had but just been laid and mortar was green and soft, and the wall, 75 feet in length was practically completed raising in the center to quite a height where the ridge of the roof was to come, and was not yet tied at the corners by the side walls more than half way up, making it an easy mark. The rain also flooded the cellar and carried with it part of a block wall 75 feet in length which formed the east side of the basement. The damage will consist largely of several days labor to replace and some broken tile. Some trees were broken in different parts of the city and wires were knocked down.

Wind toppled a silo over on the Peters farm six miles south.

Below are some crop reports:

Fred Wolter had a yield of 43 bushels machine measure from 69 acres of oats of a quality that will more than weigh out.

S. E. Avker gathered 43 bushels per acre from 40 acres of upland oats, the quality is good and free from smut tho the seed was not treated.

The following oat yields have been reported: Earl Gamble, 65 bushels per acre; Harvey Miner, 61; John Kay and Frank Pritchard, each 57½ bushels. Mr. Pritchard had that yield from a 40 acre field.

Inez, daughter of Henry Foltz, kindly called and reported their wheat yield on 110 acres as 17.1-3 bushels per acre of a good quality of fall wheat. They also had 70 acres of early oats that were heavy weight, overrunning the machine measure and that 3,504 bushels or 50 per acre.

At the Otto Fleece place southwest of Wayne one hot day last week the machine and crew nearly broke all records. They shelled out more than 4,000 bushels of grain. From 75 acres of oats he had 4,200 bushels, machine measure, which means fully ten per cent more according to weight this year. He also got 620 bushels of wheat from 25 acres which is practically 25 bushels per acre, and the oats figure 56 bushels per acre.

Hickman-Willert

Mr. Glenn Hickman, son of Prof. Hickman of the Wayne state normal faculty, was married in Omaha, Wednesday morning, August 8th to Miss Lillian Willert of Tekamah. Mr. and Mrs. Hickman will make their home in Tekamah, following a short honeymoon trip, where Mr. Hickman is professor in the high school.

Frank Youngmeyer returned Saturday from Omaha where he had been for an operation on the tubes between eye and ear. He is getting along well, and thinks his troubles are ended from that cause. He has long been working on the Spike place. He expressed the opinion that crops are better here than further south.

Quite a number from Wayne drove over to Winnebago the first day of the week to see what an Indian pow-wow was like. There was a big time there, and white folks from every section of the country tributary to the reservation, not a few being city folks from Omaha and Sioux City. Their dances are said to be wonderful.

SOLDIER BOY WRITES

Guy Nettleton Tells of Life on Texas Border. Is Located at Brownsville.

Randolph Times: Brownsville, July 28.

Dear Parents: I just received the box you sent to me at Camp Dodge, and most of it was in good shape.

You ought to see our camp this morning. It is in pretty good shape, for the boys have planted palms in front of the tents and we have flower gardens along the sides of the tents.

We are camped about a quarter of a mile this side of the Rio Grande river. I have seen Mexico but have not as yet set foot on her.

Brownsville has 11,000 population, of which 10,000 are Mexican and only one thousand white people.

Don't worry about me, as I am feeling fine and enjoying myself. The climate is not so bad as it might be, and I believe it is going to agree with me.

Oh, yes, I want to tell you about one of our boys who went to town last night to get a hair cut.

Your loving son, Guy Nettleton.

State House Letter

Speaking of official economy in state affairs, State Auditor Smith is deserving of considerable credit for the manner and business efficiency in which he has handled his office since he took charge January 7, 1915.

It is quite apparent from surface indications at this time that the national republican platform has troublesome times ahead of it. One of its planks, especially, is causing a great deal of caustic comment among republicans from every section of the state.

The State Auditor's report for July shows that the state expended during the month $798,847.56, of which $438,778.87 was the semi-annual temporary school fund apportionment.

There are no deficiencies and there will be no registering of warrants during the present administration.

Secretary of State Pool collected $50,117.52 in July, which includes all revenues of his office. This was more than was collected by his predecessor in the same month in 1914.

During the month of July State Treasurer G. E. Hall invested $242,800.00 of state money in bonds which draw 5 per cent interest. The total investment of trust funds by the state up to August 1st, was $9,774,398.33.

Mose Warner says: If Mark Hanna's ghost could speak today, here is what it would surely say: 'Vote for Democracy's full dinner pail.'

Does Prohibition Prohibit?

Testimony of Two Reputable Witnesses of Des Moines, Iowa

The First Witness:

Extract from an editorial which appeared in The Des Moines Evening Tribune of June 6, 1916:

'The Evening Tribune has asked a half dozen men recently who ought to know, and they agree that liquor can now be bought openly at more places than when we had saloons.'

The Second Witness:

Extract from a news article, prominently displayed on the first page of The Des Moines Capital of February 19, 1916:

'Des Moines banished the saloons a year ago last Wednesday.'

'But Des Moines today is consuming liquor at the rate of a million dollars' worth a year—mostly whiskey.'

'Des Moines is receiving two carloads of liquor a day.'

'This is at the rate of 750 carloads a year or fifteen trainloads of fifty cars each.' * * *

Here we have the testimony of two responsible Iowa newspapers that Statewide PROHIBITION does not prohibit.

In Nebraska, under our Local Option, High License Law, the people of any community are granted an opportunity to say whether or not license shall be issued governing the sale of alcoholic beverages.

In future articles we will present evidence proving that Nebraska, under that law, has made great progress from a moral as well as from an economic standpoint.

Street Corner Discussions

Now that election time draws near and a deciding event comes before the American voter to be settled by him, as one walks along the street he finds groups of men discussing the relative merits of the candidates for president, and the other high offices of our land and voicing his convictions and decisions as to the men he wants to guide the national ship for the following four years.

These discussions are interesting, logical and fair to all candidates concerned. One hears but little bitter, loud voiced, illogical and unreasoning talk yet. Every man seems to have observed, considered, and in a large per cent of the cases, decided during the past four years that the man president now is or is not his candidate for the highest office in the land is prepared to give his reasons, not as an uninformed voter influenced by shouting politicians, but as an American whose country and country's honor are his first consideration, knowing where he stands and why.

It is indeed gratifying to see this. It means more to America than ever before to have our citizens vote for the men who will serve and do well, because they know that they are being elected by men whose intelligence and understanding of events matches their own. And no man fails, it can be safely asserted, will be elected following an 'emotional bonfire campaign' in which he makes assertions that can not be followed up by facts and intelligent proof to uphold his reasons for making them. The men, and they will indeed be men in every sense of the word, who will be given the offices of trust in our land, will receive them because they have proven their stamina and worth in character and deeds.

One gleams all this from these discussions. He realizes at once that every man is well informed on issues. No law or bill passed by congress and the president is obscure or foggy to him. He sees all, he knows all, and he puts his stamp of approval or rejection upon the act.

Woman suffrage, prohibition, rural credit law, shipping bill, income tax, the European war, its ultimate outcome, not as to the side which will win, but its meaning to us; financially, spiritually and educationally, these are only a few of the issues discussed. An uninterested listener is made to feel in a short time that America is first, last and always, with these men. And as he goes away he is left the firm impression that the men will vote this fall as they have been given the way in their hearts and innermost minds, to see the right place to put the X mark.

J. J. Chilcott Dies

J. J. Chilcott of Leslie precinct, Wayne county, died last Sunday at his home after a long illness during which time he bore his sufferings in great fortitude and patience. The funeral occurred Tuesday from the Presbyterian church at Pender, Rev. A. G. Martyn, the pastor, having charge of the service. The remains were laid at rest in the Pender cemetery. Six of the seven sons acted as casket bearers. The funeral was largely attended.

farm near Pender in 1894 where he still resided at the time of his death. Mr. Chilcott died July 30, 1916, aged 61 years, 7 months and 10 days, after a long illness of eighteen months having been bedfast and helpless since last November. He was united in marriage to Miss Bell Hyam of Harlan, Iowa, in 1884, and unto this union were born seven sons. They are: Herman, Harvey, Clayton, Lee, Lytle, Lester and Bud, also three daughters, namely: Jessie, Edna and Ethel. His mother, with five brothers and three sisters also survive him, his father having died about thirty years ago.

Mr. Chilcott was a man highly esteemed and beloved by all who had the good fortune to know him. He was square and honorable in his dealings with his fellow man, and his whole ambition being for the welfare of his family. He will be missed in this community by friends and neighbors as well as the dear ones he has left at home to mourn his loss. The family have the sympathy of all in their bereavement. —Pender Times.

Wayne County Teachers' Institute

The Wayne County Teachers' Institute will be held in Wayne, beginning Monday, August 21, and continuing for five days. All persons expecting to teach in Wayne county are required to attend institute. Attendance at summer school will not be accepted as a substitute, since our institute is placed so late as to avoid the necessity of this excuse. Others who are interested and expect to teach in the future are invited to attend. The enrollment fee will be $1. The enrollment will begin on Friday, August 18, at the superintendent's office, and will continue until the opening session. Miss Lillian Beach of University Place, Miss Ethel M. Williamson of Albion, and Mr. A. H. Dixon, superintendent of the city schools of Tekamah, will be the instructors. Miss Lillian Beach, of Wesleyan University, is an experienced, successful kindergarten and trainer of primary and kindergarten teachers, has unusual ability, is thorough, and brings the work to a high standard. She will have charge of the primary work and music. Miss Williamson will take up work in the Palmer Method of Penmanship. She has had charge of the penmanship in all the grades of the Albion school and the training of the city teachers for teaching the system. Mr. Dixon will have classes in United States History, Pedagogy, Psychology, and Civics. The highest praise has been heard of his work in institutes in which he has worked in other years. —Patrons are welcome at all sessions. See Crystal program in this paper every week.—adv. 31tf.

The RANGE ETERNAL

Masterpiece in Range Construction

During the week of Aug. 14 to 19, we will make a special showing of these ranges on our floor when a special representative will be pleased to point out to you the "thirty particular points of Eternal Excellence."

It is built by men who never have marketed a mistake—whose concentrated efforts have ever been towards better quality, and whose range always has been the best of its time.

This range has no heirlooms. It has inherited no old patterns or castings. Its builders have profited by a thirty years' experience in range construction which has taught them what to do and when to do it.

This range weighs more than any other malleable range. They have substituted malleable iron for steel in the end draft, reservoir top and many other places. They have added the heavy steel and asbestos back flue lining and the heavy steel strengthening plate on the bottom of all ovens. They are using more rivets in their construction. They have increased the weight of many malleable iron and steel parts which experience has taught them should be reinforced.

When a state fair or some other fair substitutes automobile races for the old-fashioned horse race they are not materially progressing in the eyes of many people.

The republican national campaign is said to have started Sunday when Candidate Hughes left New York on his first campaigning trip. He will go to the west coast making numerous addresses en route.

We noticed in some of the exchanges that the heat wave was broken, but never-the-less, it was doing pretty good business when these papers went to press—the heat was melting everything nearly.

There are 6,500 rural school districts in Nebraska, and if they were consolidated into about one-fourth that number with about half as many teachers as are now employed would it not be better for all?

The new rural credit law is soon to become operative—the appointment of the officers having been partially completed. Many places are asking for the location of one of the 12 banks, Sioux City being among the number.

During the state fair meet Superintendent Thomas has called for a state-wide conference of rural school patrons to consider questions of interest and importance to the rural school pupils—so it is possible that hogs, horses and cattle will not be the only interests advanced by the state fair this year.

Hughes is for suffrage, says an exchange—he may be, but as we read it he simply favors submitting a constitutional amendment to the people. He may be with that once it is submitted as he was regarding the income tax dead against it. Wilson, too, is for suffrage—that is he believes that it is a question for each state to decide the same as it decides who of the men are entitled to the ballot.

Republican editors in Nebraska received their handsomely engraved invitation to attend the Hughes notification and acceptance speeches the day the event was to be staged in the evening, and therefore not many of them went. But he can keep the card to show his grandchildren what a well-known man he once was.

Iowa has a new law for the absent voter, and it is thought that 25,000 voters will take advantage of it this fall. This will be a great saving in expense to voters. It may also tend to do away with the railroads furnishing transportation gratis to those who are supposed to vote for certain interests as they have done in other years, though it is possible that this practice has not been safe for a number of years and not followed now.

In his opening speech Candidate Hughes seems to say the loudest of any one thing, give us the appointing power—the spoils of office or give us defeat. He admits that he can scarcely bear to see a democratic president do what the republicans have been doing for many years—appoint men who will co-operate in carrying out the policy of the party. That is a part of the game and we venture to say that Hughes played it well when governor of New York, and would do it again as president provided the people ask him to preside. But he had better give more time to upbuilding and less to knocking if he hopes to win.

Speaking of the Hughes speech of acceptance the Sioux City Journal puts much of the situation in a few words, as follows:

"The first function of an opposition party is to oppose. In the last four national campaigns the democratic party discharged this function. In the last three years it has had the constructive role, and now it is up to the republicans to demand restoration to power on the ground that they could have done much better than the democrats had they been left in power. Unless Mr. Hughes and his party can raise in the popular mind a presumption of the truth of this assumption the chance for a change of administrations next year will be exceedingly slim."

Can he do it? We think not.

The dope furnished and used by the American Economist, the organ of the American Protective Tariff League, is great stuff. They tell of the scheme which Great Britain has that beats our protective tariff measure. It is to simply prohibit imports of things which compete with the favored industries of England. The joke is that according to the Economist this is done to keep out competition of the American producer—and we have been, under republican rule, all of these years putting up good tax money to keep the pauper labor of England from flooding our markets with cheap goods—and now England has become afraid of us as a competitor and puts up the wall so high that we cannot get anything over it which they can make at home. That makes a sort of a double fence between us. Sometimes two farmers cannot agree to jointly build a fence between their farms, and each builds the entire distance the two fences paralleling each other, making between them what is called the "devil's lane". So it might be with the tariff. This country putting a prohibitive duty and England prohibiting without duty.

The news reports tell us that infantile paralysis is gradually spreading west. Health officers and physicians claim that the disease is probably caused by filth—and that it may not be highly contagious, but that flies are supposed to be an agency for conveying the germ which gives the dread disease. The logic is clear. It is the duty of one and all to keep their premises clean. And here it is that the request comes that the editor tell the authorities to tell those who have filthy allies and back yards to clean up, at once. We hope to see Wayne made clean and kept clean.

Temple's smoke house was the heat center last Friday when the mercury outside was above the 100 mark. Some careless smoker lighted a cigar and opened the stove and threw the match in. Now Mr. T. had been making the stove a receptacle for all of his pasteboard boxes, and it was filled to capacity. Once started there was no stopping it, and for two long hours it was hard to tell whether the proprietor or the stove was the hottest, though the latter was red in the face. The fellows promised to be more careful in the future.

C. Clasen is home from his trip to Michigan, and reports that the crop conditions here are equal or better than any seen along the way. In Michigan he said harvest was just beginning, and that corn appears a month behind Nebraska corn. In fact he noticed a great difference.

Abraham Gildersleave, who has been having ill health for a number of years went to the Wayne hospital to have his case literally looked into Saturday, and the appendix was found to be harboring some hard foreign substance which was removed with that organ. He is rallying nicely from the operation.

True Duncan was kicked by an automobile he was cranking at the Clark garage Tuesday, the crank breaking one of the bones at the wrist. An x-ray of the arm after the bone had been put in place shows that but a small piece was broken from the end of the bone, and that it had been properly put in place.

W. H. Bohnert and wife from McAllister, Oklahoma, who are visiting in this corner of Nebraska, drove over from Neligh Tuesday to visit at the home of his uncle, A. G. Bohnert. The visitor was at Wayne twelve years before for a time, and remembered a few of those in business here then, but most of those he knew then have changed residence places.

Wm. Beckenhauer went to Tekamah Sunday to visit his wife near that place. Returning he met the big storm Sunday evening—or was afraid to meet it, and stopped at Pender until its fury had been spent. He then came on and found no mud until within nine miles of Wayne—then he says he has seldom found the mud worse, but he managed to get his car through, having a jug with him filled at Pender, but it would have been a helpless task without the jug, which was filled with water to keep his radiator cool.

The vote of the railroad men for a strike unless their demands are complied with is a big majority over those who oppose it. Meantime, the public to whom both the employees and the road management look to pay all the bills appear to have no voice in the matter. The day will come when such things will not be tolerated. A general tie-up of the railroads will be nothing less than a calamity to the people. The people make the railroads possible and profitable, and they should be considered.

It pays to agitate. Several years ago when the writer was new at Wayne Henry W. Truelsen of Omaha, a traveling agent for the "Omaha", visited this city and left his card at the Democrat office. After reading the gentleman's name and business, we saw on the reverse side of the card what they claimed was a map of the "Omaha" line, but as nowhere on the alleged map was the name of Wayne, and our loyalty to our new home impelled us in a friendly manner to make mention of the omission. Thursday, our friend again called, and presenting his card made some reference to Wayne on the map, and added that we could no longer feel slighted, for they had eliminated the rest of the map, convinced that so long as it did not tell the name and location of the best place on their entire line the omission of the minor places was a matter of small importance. If our friend will use the cards we will have a map made as it should be, and print him some real cards.

See the Democrat for fine stationery and bills.

Link Welbaum and J. C. Goode drove to Sioux City Wednesday afternoon.

ALL VOTERS WANT TO KNOW

American Writers Ask Candidate Hughes for Information of Interest to Every Voter in Pending Election.

Below we give several questions which appear to many as of vital interest in the presidential campaign, and we fail to see how a candidate can fail to answer them and expect any one to vote for him. The time is here when the average voter wants to know the views of a candidate on the great questions of the day and he has no right to ask for votes without giving his views quite explicitly on economic questions. It may be easy to knock, but what will the knocker do if given a place of trust and power? It will take more than knocking then. The people are willing to change their president when convinced that a candidate has something of more value to offer the people than they now have. Here it is:

New York, Aug. 2.—On behalf of a committee of distinguished American writers, the executive group of which met yesterday at the Hotel Biltmore, George Creel gave out the following letter:

"To the Honorable Charles E. Hughes: The professional workers who sign this letter have small interest in parties, but a very deep interest in democracy. It is our hope, through this voluntary association, to assist in the promotion of honest, educational discussion in order that fundamental issues may not be decided in prejudice and ignorance.

"Mr. Wilson's beliefs have been expressed in law and in declared policies. He has made an open record by which he may be judged. Wise choice is not possible unless you yourself make equally specific statement of purposes and convictions.

"Without intent to offend, we feel justified in charging that in no single public utterance have you filed a bona fide bill of particulars. Nor have you offered a single constructive suggestion.

SAY HE TALKS GENERALITIES.

"Generalities are without value. Blanket criticism is worthless. What we desire to know, that it is fair that the electorate should know, are the exact details of your disagreement with President Wilson. What has he done that you would not have done and what has he failed to do that you would have done or propose to do?"

WANT HUGHES ON RECORD.

"Honesty and patriotism demand that you put yourself upon record in such manner as to permit people to judge you as they are now able to judge President Wilson. For example:

"(1) Would you have filed instant protest against the invasion of Belgium and backed up that protest with the United States navy?"

"(2) It is arrant nonsense to talk about action that would have prevented the Lusitania tragedy. The vague advertisement did not appear until shortly before the hour of sailing. The occurrence was one of those things that civilization has made the world regard as incredible. The only honest question is this: Would you have made the disaster the subject of diplomatic negotiations or would you have broken relations with Germany at once?"

"(3) Would you have urged upon congress an embargo upon the shipment of munitions to the allies?"

"(4) Would you urge universal compulsory military service?"

"(5) You are frank in stating that Huerta's morals were of no concern to Americans. Does this mean that you would have recognized Huerta?"

"(6) As matters stand today, would you be in favor of intervening in Mexico?"

"(7) Does your attack upon the Wilson shipping bill mean that you are in favor of ship subsidies?"

"(8) You speak enthusiastically of the rights of the worker. Does this imply that you endorse the Clayton anti-trust law and the seamen's bill, or will you urge their repeal?"

"(9) What are your specific complaints against the federal reserve law?"

"(10) As governor of New York you opposed the income tax amendment. Does this antagonism persist? Do you or do you not believe in paying for preparedness out of a tax on incomes, inheritances and munitions?"

TOO CRITICAL FOR TALK.

"We agree with you that it is a 'critical period' by far too critical for candidates to talk in terms of office seeking, rather than in the simple, earnest language of definite Americanism. Respectfully,

(Signed) Samuel Hopkins Adams, Ray Stannard Baker, Ellis Parker Butler, L. James Brown, Dan T. Barton, Irvin S. Cobb, Wadsworth Camp, Joseph O'Hara Cosgrave, Stoughton Cooley, William L. Cheney, George Creel, James Forbes, Fred C. Howe, Gilson Gardner, Frederick Stuart Greene, Oliver Herford, Prof. Louis Johnson, Richard Lloyd Jones, Peter D. Kyne, Percy Mackaye, A. J. The Church Wedding

What we dislike about a church wedding is that the principals and all the supernumeraries have to goose-step their way to the altar to funeral music which gives the impression of a hanging rather than a festival of joy.

When Mollie wed me at the farm Her father got from Uncle Sam, We sought the parlor, arm in arm, As spry and happy as a clam; I might have said as gay as two, But in this instance one will do.

The air was cool the day we wed— The merry month of May— And I know what the preacher said On that eventful day.

Old Elder Hand prayed quite a lot, And Adam Simpson tied the knot. It was no formal sort of deal (With elogs upon the feet) And mother Bates put up a meal That all were glad to eat.

If called to wed in church, I feel I never could have stood the deal. —Bixby.

Rev. R. B. Hall was a Wayne visitor Monday, and conferring with a local committee of a society for the care of homeless children which he represents in this part of the state, regarding a good home for a lad of 13 years. He suggested that it is possible that there may be several good homes where this child or others which they have for placing in homes may be needed if people are acquainted with the fact that such a child seeks a home.

Ex-Senator Elmer J. Burkett, who also wanted the honor of running on the republican ticket for vice-president, was a Wayne visitor Thursday morning, and found the latchstring of the Democrat hanging out for all ex-and-want-to-be candidates for high office and stepped in for a short time. He was on his way to Randolph to fill a chautauqua engagement. He spoke at Norfolk the day before on government ownership of railroads, and he is against the plan. Friday he was to speak on the same subject at Lyons, and Mose Warner offers in advance if he opposes the ownership by government to give him points to convert him to the other way of thinking—offering a 1000 to 1 reasons on the public ownership side. Evidently Elmer would be no match for Mose.

Miss Roxa Groves, aged twenty-eight, member of a prominent family at Wahoo, went to Omaha a week ago and sent a letter to her parents at Wahoo saying that she was going to jump into the river. A telegram has been received from Coroner Jeffries of Nodaway, Mo., saying a body answering the description of Miss Groves had been taken from the river there.

Federal District Attorney T. S. Allen left Lincoln for Bridgeport to bring proceedings against Postmaster Porter at that place, who was dismissed from the service some weeks ago, but refused to relinquish the office. As a result Porter has been bound over to the federal grand jury on a charge of refusing to turn over the office on demand of the postoffice department.

City Health Officer Chapman announced that while Lincoln is free now from infantile paralysis, a fifteen days-old baby died of that disease recently. It was not known at the time of death what the trouble was and several persons gathered at the house. The health department is taking due precaution to prevent an outbreak following the exposure of these persons to the disease.

John Witt, prominent real estate dealer at Scribner, was shot and killed by Will Henry, a transient horse trader, with whom he quarreled. Witt was shot through the heart with a rifle. Henry and his wife and Alfred Darr, another member of the horse trading party were arrested and taken to Fremont. Henry claims he shot in self-defense. Witt went out to order the campers off his pasture when he became engaged in a quarrel with Henry.

The state banking board appeared to the state supreme court from a Lancaster county district court decision denying the right of that body to withhold bank charters on the ground that communities are already efficiently served with such institutions. The state board intends to fight the matter out to a conclusion, as all three members, Governor Morehead, Attorney General Reed and Auditor Smith, believe thoroughly in the principle.

CHIROPRACTIC!

Cause vs. Effect

The principle of chiropractic (adjust the cause and the effect is eliminated) is right. Clinical observations of tens of thousands of cases, as far as can be learned, every known condition of the human body is subject to, shows conclusively that this science is reaching all conditions and correcting the cause of disease, opening the way for nature to cure.

Chiropractic is not a theory any more; it is a science of facts and is doing for suffering humanity that which other professions have been striving to do for ages.

Chiropractic should be thoroughly investigated by those who are sick, or by those whose dear ones are suffering from disease. Chiropractic courts investigation. A science which is based upon logical principles delights in being investigated; while a pseudo evades analysis. Do not insult your intelligence by ridiculing the great science with which you are unfamiliar; nor will you be a stumbling block to those who want to come in touch with this science. Chiropractic invites suffering persons to come and see her and get well. Do not abuse the best friend of poor suffering humanity, chiropractic.

Lady patients. In no line of disease do we have better success than in the various diseases and ailments which affect womankind. Benefits are promptly shown without the annoyance which they are subjected to under other treatments. The proper nerve supply being restored, normal functions are quickly re-established.

Your health and happiness depend on the condition of your nervous system. Investigate this wonderful science. It's a pleasure to tell you about it.

Hog Men Coming to Omaha

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 9.—Unusual plans are being made for the educational features of the National Swine Show in Omaha, Oct. 2 to 7. The Experiment station colleges of Nebraska, Iowa, and Missouri have already outlined their exhibits which will show these features:

Hog cholera control in a sanitary way; equipment for raising, farrowing houses, methods of feeding by machinery in contrast with feeding by hand and its economy and efficiency, watering, feeding on floors, and the actual work of self feeding.

The Nebraska exhibit will be under the direction of Prof. C. W. Lee, of Nebraska university; the Iowa exhibit will be in charge of John M. Evvard of Ames; and the Missouri exhibit will be supervised by Dr. J. W. Conaway of Columbia.

The show will be a farmers' show in every sense and not an exhibitors' show. The exhibits will be placed with respect to the way they will appeal to the farmer. He will have an opportunity to judge of the relative value of different breeds, their producing capacity and the marketing of the product after produced.

Every convenience for systematic and intelligent study of hog raising will be provided for the farmers.

For years the ready print houses have sold advertising to a certain class of advertisers at a price most unreasonably low, and the country publisher has circulated this matter for nothing all these years. Now the American Press is proposing to reform this practice if 2,000 papers now giving this space away in direct competition with themselves will agree to take a ready print service which will furnish at a cost no greater than they now pay on an average and refund to each publisher 1 cent per inch per 100 circulation for all the advertising space used. Thus a paper which now sends out 750 copies would receive 8 cents per inch for the advertising appearing in the ready print for which they now get no pay. Any one but an editor would do that.

COMMISSIONER'S PROCEEDINGS.

Wayne, Neb., August 1, 1916.

Board met as per adjournment. All members present. Comes now James Britton, county judge in and for Wayne county, Neb., and represents that he is about to become temporarily absent from the county and asks that the county board appoint a competent and disinterested person to act in his place, who shall give bonds in the same manner and possess the same powers and be subject to the duties, restrictions and liabilities therein prescribed by law respecting county judges.

At a meeting of the board of county commissioners of Wayne county, Neb., held at the court house in Wayne, Neb., this first day of August, 1916. This matter came on for hearing on the application of James Britton, county judge that there be appointed a competent and disinterested person to act in his place during his temporary absence from the county. Upon consideration whereof the board orders that Jas. E. Brittain, found to be a suitable and competent person, be and he hereby is appointed to act in the place of the county judge during his absence and disqualifications from acting in any cause during his term of office and that the said Jas. E. Brittain shall give bonds in the same manner and possess the same powers and be subject to the duties, restrictions and liabilities therein as are prescribed by law respecting county judges.

Proceedings of July 19, 1916, read and approved. Bond of Jas. E. Brittain, acting county judge in the absence of the regular county judge is hereby approved.

Report of James Britton, county judge, showing amount of fees received by him for the quarter ending June 30, 1916, amounted to the sum of $360.45, was examined and on motion approved.

On the 24th day July, 1916, the county judge made an order extending the widow's pension of Rachel Sparks, allowing her for the months of August, September and October the sum of $10.00 per month and for the months of November, December and January the sum of $15.00 per month, all of which was duly acknowledged by this board.

Board hereby transfers $2,500.00 from the county general fund to the county general road fund.

The following claims were on motion audited and allowed and warrants ordered drawn on the respective funds as follows:

Slip a few Prince Albert smokes into your system!

You've heard many an earful about the Prince Albert patented process that cuts out bite and parch and lets you smoke your fill without a comeback! Stake your bank roll that it proves out every hour of the day. Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

There's sport smoking a pipe or rolling your own, but you know that you've got to have the right tobacco! We tell you Prince Albert will bang the doors wide open for you to come in on a good time firing up every little so often, without a regret! You'll feel like your smoke past has been wasted and will be sorry you can't back up for a fresh start.

You swing on this say-so like it was a tip to a thousand-dollar bill! It's worth that in happiness and contentment to you, to every man who knows what can be gotten out of a chummy jimmy pipe or a makin's cigarette with Prince Albert for "packing"!

PRINCE ALBERT
the national joy smoke

THE Prince Albert side red tin, not in fact, every Prince Albert package, has a real message to you on its reverse side. You'll read: "Process Patented July 30th, 1907." That means that the United States Government has granted a patent on the process by which Prince Albert is made. And by which tongue bite and throat parch are cut out! Every where tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert smoking in its tippy red bags. So, side red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin bundles and in that clever crystal-glass humidor, with sponge-moistener top, that keeps the tobacco in such fine condition always!

RUNDELL'S COLUMN

Hughes has spoken, but his speech lacked the punch, as Rev. Gaston has already told us that the record of the G. O. P. is an open book. Hughes is familiar with the invisible government—is Mr. Gaston? Answers to the following questions will determine:

With $60,000,000 of government notes paid out to prosecute the war from July, 1861 to the following January and with these notes in circulation at par with gold—

1. (a) Why did congress, the next month, in the act making them legal tender for all debts, dues and taxes, EXCEPT duties on imports and interest on public debts?

(b) What powerful financial interest was to be benefitted?

(c) What two prominent republicans debated the matter for two days in conference committee, where most of our laws are made, the one opposing, pleading the cause of the people with tearful eyes against the other, representing the bullion brokers of Wall street?

The next year congress passed the National Bank act. This act provided for the printing of notes by the government in the name of the bank and gave the power to pay local and internal taxes, redeemable in nothing better than a crippled greenback on approved security without interest, and imposed a tax of only one per cent, but taxed state banks ten per cent.

2. (a) In what way could this act aid the government in the war?

(b) Is it true that Secretary Chase was promised the nomination in lieu of Lincoln if he would recommend this act to congress?

(c) Was it to create a monopoly in the graft of drawing interest on debts that state banks were taxed ten per cent to put them out of business?

About this time congress passed a conscription act providing that a man, married or single, must go in defense of his country unless he could put up $300. The draft obtained 75,000 men and $75,000,000 (not gold, but greenbacks).

3 (a) Was this to prove to the poor man that the G. O. P. can always be relied upon to legislate in his interest?

(b) Is this infamous act to be found in Hughes' open book?

At the close of the war there was $1,300,000,000 of government money in the hands of the people. Prosperity and contentment prevailed, except creditors who objected to being paid with cheap money. Eleven states, destitute of money, restored to the Union was sufficient reason for letting well enough alone. But the invisible government—redeemed $850,000,000 in interest bearing bonds and burned the people's money until Wall street had it's "Black Friday" and President Grant saved the situation by issuing and depositing with the banks $50,000,000 of greenbacks.

4. Senator Sherman's book does not mention this; does Mr. Hughes' open book?

Senator Sherman said that his salary in 1867 was not sufficient to board himself and wife. But he visited the Bank of England that year, and upon his return purchased an expensive residence at Mansfield, Ohio.

5. Does Mr. Hughes' open book inform you as to his business and if his trip had anything to do with the destruction of more than half of the people's money?

The high cost of living induced congress to double their salaries and that of the President and made them retroactive, and also passed a bill to equalize the bounties to the veterans. Grant approved the first two bills, and with the same pen vetoed the last on the ground that the treasury would not stand it. A charge of 2 per cent interest on the notes the government was loaning the banks without interest would have paid it.

Senator Sherman's memoirs justifies the doubling of the salary of president and congressmen, but fails to mention the veto of the old soldier bill.

6. Does Mr. Hughes' open book contain it?

At this date, 1870, everything from a marriage certificate to a burial permit was taxed. Nearly $2,000,000 was annually collected on matches; tea was taxed $1 the pound and a big tax was also on coffee. The invisible government proclaimed from the rostrum, sanctum and the pulpit that the big war debt was a national blessing, so to perpetuate a good thing they repealed the income tax law.

After donating half of the valuable public land to railroad corporations, they began this year to offer the balance to speculators at $1.25 per acre; repudiating the democratic preemption law, made for the purpose of preserving the public lands for the born and unborn.

7. Does Mr. Hughes' open book tell you about this?

Will the landless lad born in 1870, now with a faithful wife and family of children, renting one of the many quarter sections of the GodJard estate which he should have been permitted to preempt or homestead, vote the republican ticket? C. J. RUNDELL.

Letters from Camp Llano Grande

Editor Democrat:—Camp life is flourishing in Llano Grande camp. We are drilling every day to get the men in the best possible shape for service. The sun comes down pretty hot at times but the boys never shirk. We have a pretty good bunch, they are getting to be real soldiers. We were taking 4 mile hikes just after breakfast, but now we are getting 8 miles every morning to get the men into marching. We expect to be on patrol duty along the border shortly and we all hope so. It will be a change for the men. We were on guard last night. It rained hard and everybody got soaked. We were busy driving stakes and fixing tents all night. Lieut. Pile had a bunch of men on outpost duty about half mile from camp, but had to pull them in on account of high water and rain along the canal. The only kick the men have is we haven't had a pay day yet and everybody is broke, but I understand we will get our pay about August 10th for June and July, which sounds good to everybody.

I understand somebody wrote home and stated we had to buy water down here, that is a mistake. The water is piped right to the cook kitchen and we get ice every morning which gives the men plenty of good water to drink. We have five shower bath houses for each battalion in the regiment. Everything is in good sanitary condition, also the nights are pretty cool so everybody can sleep good, the only thing we have to look out for down here is Mexicans, rattle snakes and tarantulas. Private Jastrum and myself had a battle with one big tarantula last night. As we came into my tent he ran out from under my cot and attacked us. We both deployed for action and flanked him. Jastrum got in the blow that layed the gentleman low. This is all for this time.

Respectfully,
Lt. Mahaffey,
Co. E, 4th Nebr. Inf.

Editor Democrat:—Glancing at the calendar we find that another week has rolled around. It has been interspersed with sunshine and shower and as the boys have been drilling the time does not drag on their hands, although it does seem a long time since we left Wayne.

It is sure an interesting sight to see two or three thousand men marching four abreast down the road.

Yesterday morning we went for a seven mile hike. Was gone about three hours. Rested 2 periods of 15 minutes each. It may be of interest to know that not a man of Co. E fell by the wayside although a few were not feeling their best. There were hospital wagons along with us but we believe they all came back empty. It was a pleasant trip even though the weather was warm. We passed by the lake of which we have spoken before. Also the possibilities of this country was awakened anew. Saw fields of ripe corn, some of it in shock, also second crop of corn about 6 inches high. Then we saw cotton fields which have bolls of good size already, cane and maize had headed out. And you may be sure it did us good to see a farm house for all we see here is tents. These houses were surrounded by palms, lilies and trees of different descriptions. At one of these homes we saw a row of young banana trees, and across the road was an orchard of young orange trees. Along the road may be found many wild olive trees.

Last night we were issued new belts and haversack and this morning we were issued new mess kits, meat cans and towels.

There is a regimental inspection on today, this means inspections of tents as to neatness and sanitation, also inspection of blankets, raincoats, bed ticks and all equipment furnished by the government. This will include inspection of all clothes, also condition of men's feet. The thing which the most emphasis is laid upon is the condition of the rifle. This must be thoroughly cleaned inside and out and have the proper amount of oil and not a speck of rust to be seen. This means lots of work in this damp climate.

Tonight our company goes on guard again. This means work all day Sunday which we are not over anxious to do as we appreciate a day of rest. However, we must take our turn.

There have been quite a few in our regiment apply for discharges on the bill pertaining to dependent relatives. This means that you must have one or more dependent relatives, that you must have three affidavits to that effect from disinterested persons from your home, must be able to get your job back again. These discharges have been held up awaiting the outcome of the army bill which carries two million dollars appropriation for dependent relatives of national guardsmen and regulars. So far as I know at present, there has been only one application from Co. E, that is Jerry Jones.

Another installment of magazines was received during the past week, which were much appreciated. They help pass many dull moments and also help to keep us posted on affairs of the day. Again they cause us to think of the folks at home who send them to us.

You would hardly think this the same place it was when we came here. What was then a wilderness of brush and mesquite trees has become a city of tents with graded streets. In the background all the trees have since been grubbed out and all grass and weeds cleared away. This is used for drill grounds and is becoming more solid every day. We have battalion drill an hour every afternoon. This is supervised by officers of the regular army.

JAMES J. STEELE.

Among the Churches of Wayne

Presbyterian Church

(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

We are for temperance and we want Nebraska to have a chance to show that prohibition will prohibit.

Mrs. Grace D. Keyser is the new superintendent of the primary department in the Sunday school. Attendance is keeping up finely during hot weather.

We wish that every church members in Wayne would read the article entitled, "Religion with a Voice," in the last issue of the Continent. There is good reading in every issue of this excellent paper.—1

Miss Grace Nettleton will lead the meeting of the C. E. at 6:00 o'clock next Sunday evening. The topic will be, "True Beauty, and How to Get It." The meeting will be dismissed in time to allow everybody to go to the court house lawn meeting.

The usual morning services of this church will continue all summer. The sermon subject next Sunday morning will be, "Room To Live." There will be special music directed by Mrs. W. Johnson. Summer visitors in Wayne and vacationing members of sister churches are cordially welcome.

Get ready, so as to be ready, for the Five meetings. The time is short. Write letters to your friends and ask them to come. All can help get ready for these meetings by being at the Sunday evening meetings at the court house. The young people are lining up all their forces to do their part in the Five campaign.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Cattle Market Steady to Stronger; Trade Fairly Brisk

HOGS STEADY TO 10c HIGHER

Lamb Values Weaker; Good Rangers Bring $11.35. One Price Affair for the Desirable Offerings. Mutton Market Rather Slow; Some Sheep Sell About Steady.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Neb., August 9, 1916.—There was a pretty good run of cattle for Tuesday, some 202 loads or 5,000 head. All classes of buyers seemed to favor the lightweights, and yearlings brought $10.00@10.15. Right good weighty heaves sold at $9.75, and fair to pretty good 1,000 to 1,250-pound heaves went mostly around $9.00@9.50. The market for cows and heifers was not quite as active as Monday's, but prices ruled about steady for the desirable grades. Good to choice stock sold around $6.80@7.25, and the bulk of the fair to good butcher and beef stock sold at $6.10@6.60.

Quotations on cattle: Fair to good yearlings, $8.75@9.50; common to fair yearlings, $6.50@8.50; good to choice heaves, $9.60@10.00; fair to good heaves, $9.00@9.50; common to fair heaves, $7.75@8.75; good to choice yearlings, $9.50@10.25; good to choice heifers, $6.75@7.50; good to choice cows, $6.65@7.25; fair to good cows, $6.00@6.50; feeders and cutters, $4.00@5.75; veal calves, $9.00@11.75; hog-bone bulls, $5.50@6.25; beef bulls, $6.00@7.00.

Owing to the encouraging advice from other points, and shipper buyers who anticipated a repetition of Monday's market, and had pretty good orders again, paid prices that were 10@15c higher for the hogs they wanted. Packers made some of their first purchases at the same figures, but they bought most of their hogs at figures that were about strong to a nickel higher, and in some instances steady. Bulk of the packers' purchases landed at $9.25@9.45, the best grades on up, and the top reaching $9.85.

Sheep and lamb receipts for Tuesday fell only one car short of yesterday's total, 59 cars, or approximately 16,000 head reported in. Packers' early bids for lambs were 10@15c lower, but sellers priced their lambs steady and up to midforenoon refused to make any concessions. However, when the bulk of the supply finally changed hands, it was at figures that were around 10c lower. A few ewes sold as high as $7.40, and wethers and yearlings at $8.00. One load of feeding lambs brought $9.55.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, good to choice, $11.25@11.55; lambs, fair to good, $10.75@11.25; lambs, feeders, $9.00@9.65; yearlings, good to choice, $7.75@8.25; yearlings, fair to good, $7.00@7.75; yearlings, feeders, $6.50@7.00; wethers, fair to choice, $7.00@7.50; ewes, fair to good, $5.75@7.00; ewes, plain to culls, $4.00@5.75; ewes, feeders, $4.50@6.00; ewes, breeders, all ages, $6.25@9.00.
