VIM, VIGOR AND VICTORY WIN

Such Seems to be the Christian Slogan in Battle with Hosts of Sin at Wayne Program of Week and Sacred Concert Friday Evening

With increasing vigor and enthusiasm, both on the part of the people and the evangelistic party, the tabernacle meetings that are to last until October the eighth, are becoming more and more popular and attendance and interest increasing with every meeting.

Friday evening at six-thirty in the basement of the Baptist church one hundred and twenty-five men and young men sat down to the table and partook of the many excellent things to eat so well prepared by the ladies of that denomination. Unity, it was said before hand, was to be the keynote of the evening, and to use one of the Evangelist Fife's favorite pulpit and home expressions they "laid away" vast amounts of food that no doubt went home as straight and true as will that big ham that Mr. Fife is planning to feed his preacher friends—when it comes. Unity was the keynote of the speeches, talks made by several of the business men as to plans for furthering the success of the meetings by co-operation and fellowship on the part of all the men, and Mr. Fife's talk on the same subject, on plans he wished to be worked out during the campaign. And the banquet was a success for that unity and spirit of co-working is already beginning to show itself in the meetings.

Following the banquet the service in the tabernacle, most appropriately called "student night" was a headliner. The tabernacle was filled by seven-thirty, both with students and teachers, and with parents as well. Sections of seats roped off for the students were filled with high school classes and classes from the normal. Each section had the school colors displayed prominently and class yells, school yells and other yells showed that the Blue and the White and the Orange and the Black were there with all the school loyalty and spirit. The evangelist, in one of the strongest sermons of the meetings thus far, struck home truths straight from the shoulder, facts, vital facts concerning "The American Home" and its relation to the proper and only square and right way in bringing "young America" to a proper realization of life's responsibilities and the great and most important work the parents have in forming these right ideals, clean morals and habits, teaching them Christianity and the giving of the life to God's work here on earth.

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 Mr. Earle Fife met the children at the tabernacle and a very interesting hour session was held, while Mr. Fife entertained them with stories of the bible and with games. Immediately following this the party of evangelists held a street meeting at Second and Main streets which was largely attended. Mr. Fife spoke on the origin of revivals, how at Pentecost the first meeting of organized christian work was held upon the street. The speaker earnestly urged that all give the tabernacle revival a chance. "Wayne people" said he, "are so self satisfied that they are going to hell so fast they cannot see it for dust". Come out to the meetings and give God a chance to give you the things that the soul needs to make it completely satisfied." Saturday evening the subject "That Good Confession."

Sunday morning at eleven o'clock seventeen hundred people, not alone Wayne people, but delegations from Stanton, Carroll, Winside, Laurel, Wakefield, Pender, Concord, in fact towns for miles around, were represented, some by a few and some by many. Following the sermon "Which Way", the first call was given and 109 hit the war famed and most appropriately called "Sawdust or Glory Trail". One mother with her four sons went forward to dedicate their lives to the work of the true life. One aged old grandmother, young people, old and young alike, came forward to shake the hand of Mr. Fife and to consecrate their lives to God. Sunday afternoon about 1600 hundred people were at the meeting, the sermon being on the topic, "Four Groups". Sunday evening was the high water mark of the campaign, approximately 2000 being present from Wayne and neighboring towns to hear a powerful sermon on the subject "What Will You Do With Jesus?" The total number of converts for the day were 149.

Monday instead of being rest day was work day for the Fife party for instead of stopping Mr. Fife decided to lay aside rest and strike hard some more. "Conversion" was the subject of the evening meeting and although not largely attended, the talk was helpful to all, especially the new converts who the day before had taken the new step in life.

Tuesday morning from 10:00 to 10:20 the first down town business house meeting was held at Jones' Bookstore. This is somewhat a new idea for most of the men, but it is going to be a success as was shown by the interest of the men who attended. These meetings will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings of every week throughout the rest of the campaign. Tuesday afternoon Mr. Fife spoke on "Soul Winning", the first of a series of lectures on this subject. In the evening the evangelist spoke on "What Shall be the End." This was "Carroll" night and Carroll was there. The delegation had a section of seats reserved for them. Special songs were sung and Carroll was made to feel at home and that Wayne was working for all the county for Christ and not just Wayne alone.

Wednesday morning the down town meeting was held at Blair & Mulloy's clothing store. The service in the evening was on the subject "Does Christianity Pay?", financially, morally, mentally and in every other way that reason can be based on.

Below we give the program in condensed form for the coming week, beginning today, and also the program of the concert of high class musical and popular entertainment. The admission will be 50 cents to adults and 25 cents to students.

As was stated in the beginning the meetings are taking on a new note and are beginning to get under the roof and dome of most of the people. The big choir—well "you just got to hear it to really appreciate it" is the way one man puts it. The solo work of all the members is simply great and thoroughly enjoyed by all. If you have not "been there", go. Give them a trial. If you are not satisfied, well you are not out anything. If you are, why simply go again.

It might be well to add that $228 has been taken in up to date. Also it is known that $1200 is going to be the amount required to finance the meeting throughout.

Brakeman Roy L. Tucker Hurt

Roy L. Tucker, brakeman on an extra freight passing through Wayne Tuesday afternoon was badly cut and bruised about the head and shoulders when he was struck by two freight cars as they were coupling. Mr. Tucker's right ear was completely split in two and the lower lobe of the left ear cut almost in twain. A long deep gash above the right eye and cuts and bruises on the shoulders were sustained. The cuts on the ears and forehead required eleven stitches. Mr. Tucker had given the signal to the engine with a string of cars attached to back up and couple to some empties on the siding just east of the water tank. The engineer evidently failed to see Tucker's signal to slow down and believing they were going to hit hard enough to throw the car off the track Tucker jumped for the air valve near the coupling. But before he could reach it the cars struck and he was thrown back and forth by the impact and swaying of the two cars striking both sides of the head and the shoulders in such a way as to split the ears. The wounds were dressed by the railroad physician and surgeon, Dr. E. S. Blair, and he was placed on the freight train and taken to a Sioux City hospital. Although badly hurt it is believed no serious results will be the outcome. The injured man's folks live at Blair, Mr. Tucker making him home in Omaha.

Old Settlers at Carroll Last Friday

It was an enjoyable day at Carroll last Friday when pioneers and old settlers gathered for the second attempt at an annual picnic. Weather was wrong July 4th when the old settler event was to be taken on with the celebration at Carroll, so Carroll says come again. The weather was fine, but a trifle cool, so that many took an early dinner at home by the fire instead of a picnic dinner on the grounds, then came for the rest of the day. Wayne people were too much engaged in the tabernacle meetings to give the attendance the occasion deserved from here.

Rev. W. L. Gaston was the speaker, and he paid a magnificent tribute to the pathfinders in this fertile county. They selected a goodly land, and did much to make it better in every way, until today as a result of their wisdom in directing all matters, domestic, political, educational and religious, no more prosperous, contented and enlightened people are to be found in all the great west with its untiring energy and never-failing ambition to make happy homes.

Ring-Tangeman

Charles O. Ring of Sparta, Wisconsin, and Miss Edna Anna Tangeman of Carroll were united in marriage Wednesday, September 20, 1916, at the home of the bride's parents, H. H. Tangeman and wife, living north of Carroll, Rev. Moehring of the German Lutheran church of Wayne tying the nuptial knot. Following the wedding, which was attended only by relatives, the newly married couple left for their new home in Sparta, where Mr. Ring practices chiropractic. Harvey Tangeman of Iowa Falls, Iowa, also a chiropractor, and Mrs. H. Trautwein of Winside were witnesses of the marriage. The Democrat extends congratulations to these young people.

Obituary--Dennis Kelleher

Dennis Kelleher, aged 55 years, died at his home in Windom, Minnesota, Friday, September 15, his death being due to mictic aneurism. The funeral was held Monday morning at the St. Mary's-Catholic church of this place, Reverend Father Kearns having charge of the funeral services. Relatives and friends from out of town were: John Finn and wife of Emerson; Matt and John Knieple, Miss Rose Coleman, and P. J. Rodowick of New Castle; John Kelleher and family of Tilden; Mrs. H. Dineen, Mrs. Dineen and Lucius Dineen of Sioux City; the wife and the seven children of the deceased.

Mr. Kelleher was born in the county of Cork, Ireland, September 24, 1861, one of a family of four brothers and one sister. Two of the brothers live in America, John at Tilden, Michael at Los Angeles, California, and the other brother, Dave and sister, Mrs. Ryan reside in Ireland. At the age of nineteen years Mr. Kelleher came to this country, first settling in Galena, Illinois, but two years later removing to this county where he lived a little over twenty-five years. A few years following his coming here he was united in marriage to Miss Hannah Dineen of Sioux City, who also had grown to young womanhood in Ireland, a short distance from the Kelleher home. To them were born four children. In 1908 Mrs. Kelleher died and a short time following her death Mr. Kelleher and children moved to New Castle where they resided seven years. Two years following his moving to that place he was married to Mrs. Celia Haum to whom three children were born. Mr. and Mrs. Kelleher and family moved to Windom two years ago where they have lived until the time of Mr. Kelleher's death.

Mr. Kelleher was a man well liked and respected for his many fine traits of character. He has a host of friends, not only here but in the other places that he has resided, who will mourn his death. The funeral was a large one, many of the friends coming to pay their last tribute to the deceased. The Democrat extends earnest sympathy to the mourning ones here at home and the ones abroad who must mourn in silence and alone for the one gone.

Farmer Union Enters Wayne

During the past few months a local union has been organized in the neighborhood northwest of Wayne, and they now have a membership of about thirty. They have secured an option on the elevator on east 2nd street formerly owned by the Anchor people, and are fitting it to take in grain and handle it for the members and possibly others. It is reported also that they will have coal in the near future. Milo Krimpke is the president, but from what we can learn they are not yet permanently organized and officered.

Social Notes

Miss Fannie Britell entertained the campfire girls Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock, at a farewell party. The time was spent very pleasantly in making campfire booklets. At six o'clock an excellent two-course luncheon was served. At the close of the evening the campfire girls presented Miss Fannie with a beautiful spoon in appreciation of her services as their guardian, who departs next Sunday for Evanston, Illinois, where she will enter the Northwestern university as a junior.

The P. E. O. sisterhood met with Mrs. Chace and daughter, Miss Marguerite last Monday evening. Each member responded to roll call with a short poem. Mrs. Chace gave an excellent original poem which was very much appreciated by those present. Mrs. Hufford was leader. The hostesses served delicious refreshments. Mrs. Welch and daughter, Miss Florence will be hostesses October 2nd.

The Central Social Circle met with Mrs. John Crier last Thursday afternoon. The members all being present except two, each member gave a five minute reading, which was very interesting. The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially. At 5:30 an elaborate two-course luncheon was served by the hostess. The circle will meet October 2nd with Mrs. Geo. McEachen.

The W. C. T. U. of the normal invited all the girls to a "Getting Acquainted Hyke". Many girls responded to the invitation and all went to a nearby grove where they partook of a delightful "wienie" roast. Games were then played until time to return. The girls voted the W. C. T. U. royal entertainers.

The 19th of this month was Wm. Lou's 74th birthday, and his many friends remembered him, and invaded his home where all made merry with plenty of good cheer and a bountiful repast. He is never forgotten when September 19th comes. All wish him many returns.

The Girls Bible Circle met last Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Opal Robbins. Mrs. Ferrel lead the lesson in a most delightful manner. Miss Yockey delighted all the girls with her singing. The next meeting will be with Miss Cynthia Gilbert at 3 o'clock next Saturday.

Intense Farming Profitable

That is one of the hobby's of the editor. To be sure to make it pay one must select a crop for which there is a demand and one which will stand up for shipment if grown in greater quantity than home consumers need. Such a crop is the grape. The few vines grown here in the gardens and on the farms prove that they are a reasonably sure crop, and produce well of a fruit of excellent quality and fine flavor.

So far as we know, August Bonzynski, who purchased a farm about four miles west of Winside, has the only field which anywhere near approaches a vineyard of commercial proportions in this county. Mr. B. is here almost daily supplying our dealers with choice grapes of the Concord variety. He tells us that the crop this season is less than last, but that he will have at least 4,500 baskets, besides selling a 100 bushels or more at home by the bushel. As he has a half section of farm to look after it is quite possible that his patch of five or six acres of grapes do not receive the attention which they might have from one with smaller holdings. The demand for grapes is not nearly supplied in Nebraska by home grown fruit, many cars coming from the big vineyards on the stony clay hills of western New York, so there is a stiff, long haul freight charge for protection to a Nebraska grower.

Down near Wisner where they are trying to take a kink out of the Elkhorn river, they have a new channel cut low enough to carry part of the flow, and now their next move will be an attempt to dam the old channel to divert the water to the new one in quantity sufficient to make it cut the ditch deeper.

Last week a marriage was completed between Miss Laura Peterson of Norfolk and Harry Lavigne, a soldier member of Co. F, 13th cavalry, whose term of enlistment will expire when this year closes, and the marriage was by mail. They plan to go to London after the war, where the young man's parents live. He is a native of Detroit, and the bride and parents have lived at Norfolk about a year, but had formerly lived at Osmond and O'Neill.

The Ponca Journal-Leader in giving away the secrets of 1882 states that the town of Norris is growing fast, and if the railroad is extended from Wakefield up the North Logan it will give Norris the biggest kind of a boom. Evidently the railroad did not go that way for the town of Norris is now said to be located in Hayes county. Perhaps a cyclone moved it. At that time hogs sold at $7 per cwt. and one farmer came in with a load of seven porkers which brought him $157.50. That number of pounds of good hogs today at the market price would have called for a check for not less than $236—but the chances are that at that particular time the $157 would have purchased more of nearly any commodity than the $236 will today. But hogs were not usually that high in those days.

G. W. Burchfield of Old Point Comfort, Virginia, who has been here the past two weeks visiting with his sister, Mrs. W. A. K. Neely and family, left Friday morning for Kansas City. Later he will go to different points in the east on a business and sight-seeing trip. Mr. Burchfield is a veteran of the civil war, having fought throughout the campaign, first as a cavalryman in the Fifth Pennsylvania and later in the standing army. He also traveled over a part of this state in the early seventies when the only guide was a compass by day and the stars by night. Mr. Burchfield thoroughly enjoyed his visit here and as he travels much was able to pass judgment on comparison of land values in the different sections of our country and he said Wayne and surrounding community look very good to him in comparison to what it was once.

Mrs. W. T. Evans of Carroll was at Wayne on business Saturday.

Oscar Weiland was at Osmond the first of the week looking after machinery.

Miss Hilda Larsen went to Omaha Sunday afternoon to resume her studies at the school for the deaf at that place, beginning her senior year in the institution, we are told. Her mother, Mr. L. Larsen, accompanied her and remained a short time.

J. W. Kinsey of Omaha was looking after a few matters of business here last week. He was in the meat business here for a year or more, and after a fire made the building untenable and the owner neglected to repair it promptly, he sought another field of business.

The Hoskins Headlight last week came out in new form, changing its issue day to Thursday. The office sports a new press, and the last old Washington hand press in the county has been retired. The Headlight is now a 5-column quarto, with patent inards the same as before, but the new form makes a better looking paper.

The ladies auxiliary to the cemetery association at Wynot have completed plans for a new fence about their city of the dead, and now ask the men to furnish aid to erect the fence. If it were not such a grave subject we would suggest that the fence they build will not keep most of their people from entering that place eventually, and no fence will be needed to keep them there.

Prohibition in Iowa is getting so that it is not so funny for those who persist in violating the law. In the old home paper last week we read of the conviction of John Kleinlen at Dubuque—Dubuque the place that for thirty years has harbored those who violated the law. John came up for the second offense. He had been caught once and plead guilty and paid a fine of $200 and was busy making that back and more with it when his blind pig was raided a second time. Johnny cried when he learned that the judge must send him to Anamosa—the law does not give an option to the judge after the first violation. The editor read the account, with much interest, for John father, uncles and his grandfather were violating the liquor law thirty years ago—in the times when convictions were hard to get in the county they were in, and a fine would settle it. Running a paper in the same town it was a privilege to give them such publicity as the proof of the statements would warrant, and when the bunch were once convicted on a large number of counts the fine and costs was but $900, and we do not know whether or not it was paid. But they got some free advertising just the same. The joke of it was, Kleinlen was not a lawyer, and he planned to get off with another fine when he plead guilty. He will probably be good now for a year, as he will be at the prison reformatory. The way of the transgressor is hard and the sins of the father are visited upon the children, etc. Well, Johnnie was not so much to blame, he was brought up that way.

Light frosts Thursday and Saturday night has put the corn in shape to dry. While the frost was a week earlier than the average frost date, corn was nearly all matured past the damage age, so that the injury from frost will be very light. The season has been a short one between the last and first frosts, but it was, in spite of that, one of the best if not the best for every crop this county has ever experienced. Wheat, oats, corn, hay and pasture have all been above average.

The Winside Tribune last week came to our desk an all-at-home paper, thus giving the editor control of the advertising patronage. This leaves the people who expect to reach Wayne county people by an advertisement in the patent side of a paper but two small papers carrying their dope. In other words the institutions who want to make their goods known in Wayne county will have to deal with the local newspapermen, and cannot come in without paying a fair advertising rate. We are glad to see the Tribune discard the patent inards.

Prohibition and Increased Taxation

A Message from Governor Capper of Kansas

*** "Kansas, in common with other states, has experienced in the last decade an increase in the cost of government and the burdens of taxation, far beyond the increase of population. In twelve years public expenditures have increased 68 per cent in the state; 77 per cent in the county; 153 per cent in the city; 119 per cent in the township; 132 per cent for schools."***

This quotation is taken word for word from an official message from Governor Capper of Kansas to the Legislature of Kansas, 1915 session. The message is dated Jan. 12, 1915, is signed "Arthur Capper, Governor," and appears on pages 11-17, of the official Senate Journal, State of Kansas, 1915.

The attention of the reader is called to the fact that taxes have increased enormously in Kansas, a prohibition state.

Dry Boosters Visit Wayne

Saturday evening a party of seven who had spent the week touring this northeast corner of Nebraska in the interest of the prohibition amendment, drove into Wayne but little behind schedule time, though they had been at ten other places before reaching Wayne that day. They spent Sunday here and visited the revival meetings afternoon and evening, making a restful day after a week of campaigning.

Frank Harrison of Lincoln was the party leader or manager, and he was accompanied by Mrs. Harrison who also took part in the work. Other speakers in the party were Mrs. Patrick McGerr of Fall City, said to be an eloquent advocate of the cause, and the speaker who won a pledge from the Irish of Jackson, where they held an enthusiastic meeting which was attended by many of those engaged in delivering liquid refreshments from that place to the thirsty at Sioux City. Miss Isabelle Haveus of Atkinson was another of the ladies. Fred Carey of the Omaha News was reporting the trip to that paper. Senator W. F. Dale of Denton, H. Wickersham of Harrison and J. J. Boucher of Omaha made up the party.

At this place they addressed an audience of 100 people, many of them voters, at 2nd and Main streets.

The crowd would undoubtedly have been much larger but for the fact that the tabernacle where the revival services are being held, was full before the dry people blew their horn to assemble the people.

Mr. Harrison told the Democrat man Monday that they had been having good meetings all week with large and sympathetic audiences. Monday they began the day at Carroll and closed at Creighton, visiting as far north as Bloomfield and as far west as Niobrara.

Every democratic newspaper man and every newspaper man regardless of politics who favors Judge Howard for lieutenant governorship, as many republican editors do, should demand that the democrats who are standing back of Jimmy Pearson and his populist nomination show their hands and at once. Judge Howard ran in the primaries in a way that justifies the belief that he and the principles he supports are popular with the great mass of Nebraska people. Judge Howard is a democrat. He leads strength to the democratic ticket. His friends want to know the identity of those persons opposing his election. Is Judge Howard to be made to suffer because he is a newspaper man with convictions that he is not afraid to express? If so, by whose authority? A little more interest in the welfare of the entire ticket by certain powers in Lincoln whose corporation leanings are as ingrained as their own egotism and self-assertiveness will be appreciated by the people of this part of the state.—Norfolk Press.

Beth Low, once mayor of New York, is dead. He was a man of money and opportunity, yet he devoted the last 15 years of his life to endeavor to aid his fellow man by making conditions such that he could help himself.

When former Justice Hughes sustains the child labor law, as he does in his St. Louis speech, what legal ground has he for questioning the validity of the 8-hour law? Both are based on the same principle—the constitutional authority of Congress to regulate labor engaged in interstate commerce.

The talk is that after the present war is over the allies will make a trade war, in which the countries now fighting together for the subjugation of Germany, Austria and other governments with them will continue allies, and by tariff legislation try to crush all competition. We would like to see them try that.

"President Wilson" said Ida Tarbell in speaking of Mexico, "has proved his fitness to lead the cause of progressive civilization. True, he has not yet had time to convert the man who cries for his pound of flesh, nor alter the views of him who falls to see that bloody war is but the primitive expression of savage desire of conquest or revenge. But he has forced respect for neutrality and he has handled his delicate Mexican inheritance with tact and wisdom."

Candidate Hughes should organize a "Knockers" club, for he would easily become its chief, judging from his persistent pounding. That would make a great rival for Teddy's Ananias club.

but we doubt if the membership would increase as rapidly as it did under the reign of Teddy in the palmy days of his career.

By some strange happenstance four lifelong republicans met at a Wayne business house one day last week, and commenced to talk politics, and four of the bunch volunteered the information that he was going to break the rule this year and vote for President Wilson. The proprietor did not say whether or not there were any other people in at the time, but perhaps not any more former republicans or there might have been more than four confessions.

(Publicity Committee)

To all members of the church, and others, "Lest you forget". The school has voted to try to increase the membership twenty-five per cent by October 29th. To do this necessitates hearty co-operation by every one.

Next Sunday is National Rally day. Come and bring your friends. School will open at 9:45 and close in ample time for the tabernacle meetings.

Superintendent.

Nebraska day at the Sioux City fair drew 111 from Wayne and community and 220 from the branch line, making a total of 331 of Nebraska citizens from this corner of the state, besides those who went by auto.

There are a few country schools which are not using Parawax Sweeping Compound. Every school patron should insist on Parawax being used. It kills the germ and keeps the dust down under action of the broom. 100 pounds will cost $3.25 and lasts a school year.—Ralph Rundel.—adv.

September 29 there is to be a county class adoption of Modern Woodmen at the camp headquarters here. There are to be forty or fifty candidates, we are told, with the promise of Head Consul Talbot and some of the state officials for the occasion. Carroll, Winside, Sholes and Hoskins camps will have candidates in the class.

Dr. T. Ames of New York City stopped at Wayne the first of the week while returning from a tour of the Yellowstone park, to visit at the home of J. H. Miner and wife, his cousin. Dr. Ames is a nerve specialist in the great city, and was out for a nerve rest, no doubt. This was his first visit in the west—though he thought he had been west once before when he ventured as far as St. Louis. He has visited and studied in Europe, but this year he is seeing part of America. He liked the fertile fields of this country, and the exhilarating air of a Nebraska September day.

Burl Cunningham came down from Bloomfield Monday evening by automobile to visit a few hours among his Wayne friends, and in every acquaintance he has a friend. The editor is glad to note that Mr. Cunningham is moving in good company these days. With him came Mr. Cooper to visit his daughter, Mrs. W. R. Ellis, and Jon. B. Neff, the representative from Knox county to the legislature, and the democratic nominee for a second term, which will doubtless be given him by the voters of his county, for so far as we can learn the worst offense with which he is charged is associating somewhat with Representative Mears of this county, but no one is going to tell that on him at home. Both Mr. Neff and Mr. Cunningham paid the Democrat a friendly call. Their mission here, however, was to attend the joint meeting of the Odd Fellows and Rebeccas. ## RUNDELL'S COLUMN

It is said by those who oppose religious revival meetings that only emotional people are moved by them. It is well that so many are susceptible to sentiment. They were emotional men who gave us Abraham Lincoln for president in a crisis that demanded it. Two incidents occurring in the same year stirred the emotions of the people, even to the school children.

Joshua R. Giddings, an ardent abolitionist, visiting Boston was seized by a mob incited by those profiting from trade with the slave states. The mob led him about the city with a rope around his neck exhibiting him to jeering crowds. The mob at last surrendered him to the sheriff who incarcerated the "culprit" for safety.

The other incident was the apprehension of a fugitive slave by a federal detective in the state of New Hampshire. The owner appeared, paid the reward and the "culprit" was brought from jail heavily manacled into the presence of a democratic federal judge. The attorney for the slave holder solemnly read a bill of sale giving the age, height, weight and a description of the scars on the back from a flogging for a previous attempt at escape. All legally signed and sealed.

The judge, being one of those emotional fellows with tearful eyes, said to the attorney, "show me a bill of sale from God Almighty and you can have your flogger."

It was the fortune of fate that Chicago was selected as the battleground for the triumph of democracy over Hamiltonianism. The eastern delegates were dead sure of the nomination of their big lawyer, Wm. H. Seward, who had been appointed by the court to defend a crazy negro on trial for a double murder and had saved him from the gallows. Seward, like all lawyers, was true to his client and was well paid for his services. The same can be said of Hughes who was employed by the legislature of the state of New York to prosecute the insurance companies. The same is true of our own John L. Webster, who was employed by the Nebraska Legislature to plead before the United States Supreme court to uphold the maximum freight rate law when he and his party both vehemently opposed the law.

Sentiment defeated Bryan in 1896. Senator Jones, an ex-slave holder, was made chairman of the democratic national committee. One picture showed Jones with a revolver in both hip pockets and a cat-o-nine-tails under his arm surrounded by his slaves hoeing the cotton and the cane. The contrast was shown by a picture of Mark Hanna handing a negro a check as his weeks wages.

The sentiment for Lincoln was created largely by ministers and editors and others who had heard or read his masterful debates with Senator Douglas and it will be the ministers and others who can be aroused by sentiment that will elect Woodrow Wilson this year. Hughes has no such men as Ford, Goethals and Edison or women like Mrs. Bass and Ida Tarbell supporting him. New York through Wall street influence gave us one lawyer governor for president in 1892. Emotional men and women will overwhelm the present efforts.

With Wilson holding a child by each hand and a throng of tots thanking him at Shadow Lawn for the child labor law thrown on the screen will overwhelm the New York lawyer governor.

Lincoln struck the shackles from black men and women. Wilson gave liberty to the children of both black and white, an opportunity long and sadly neglected by a political party that pretends to a love of God and Godly things.

C. J. RUNDELL.

Reasons For Opposing Wilson

If you are a republican and think the republican congressmen who voted with the democrats for preparedness were wrong, you should work and vote against them or else vote for Wilson.

If you believe, Mr. Republican, all of the republicans and democrats wrong who voted to enact the law protecting the children of the land from serving a most exacting taskmaster instead of being in school and at play then vote against the man who urged the passage of this bill and affixed his signature making it a law. If you think Lincoln did wrong in freeing the bondsmen half a century ago, and that Wilson did wrong in giving thousands of children the freedom which of right belongs to a child, vote against him.

Perhaps you think it was a mistake to have a federal reserve law which took from the Wall street money brokers a vast amount of their power to rob the farmers and other producers through control of the money of the country, you certainly should vote to retire the man who signed the bill and restore the presidency to the Keeping of Wall street.

If you believe the rural credit bill is going to ruin the country, it may become your duty to oppose the democratic nominee, and many republicans in congress who voted for this measure.

Perhaps you believe, with the aristocratic republicans of the senate, that it would be better for the people of this great land to suffer the losses caused by a great railway strike than to give heed to the cry of the men who make possible prosperity not only for the railroads, but for all the people. If you are in that class it might be wise to consider the matter of voting for the prohibition candidate.

In fact, if you think we should have engaged in war with Germany to help the English, or that we should have sent the flower of our young manhood to leave their bones to bleach on Mexican soil in a war for power and territory, do not vote for Wilson.

No Space to Give Away

Tekamah Herald: H. F. Carson of the dry federation says he has purchased 50,000 columns of plate for the country newspapers, to be published free. It means that he asks the publishers to donate $100,000 worth of space to the cause while he pays the trust concerns for the plate and spends the rest of the money for getting out posters, leaflets and his own stump speeches, then pockets a balance for his own salary. From a close observation of our exchanges, we will venture to guess that for every column printed ten are thrown into the junk pile. The publishers of newspapers are entitled to pay for their space just as Mr. Carson is entitled to pay for his time.

A Catechism

Manchester Press: What is print paper?

Print paper is something on which newspapers are printed when they can get it.

Is it hard to get print paper? It is not hard to get enough for a week or two in advance, if you have the money.

Does it take money to buy print paper? It does and then some.

How much money does it take? All that the editor can make, added to his home, family cow, graphophone and underwear.

Is the Press printed on print paper?

At the present writing it is, but it will soon be reduced to the editor's old shirts and nighties.

What is the Press paying for print paper?

When it pays for anything, which is very seldom, it pays all the traffic will bear and if the traffic gets any heavier may the Lord have mercy on our souls.

What is the latitude and longitude of the present traffic?

We have not heard from the paper house for a day or two, but at present print paper, such as the Press is using, sets us back 8 1/2 cents a pound. We have been buying at heretofore for 3 cents a pound. This is why the editor is about to leave town and swallow the contents of a drug store.

Under these harrowing circumstances, should ye subscriber get sore and froth at the mouth if his paper is stopped when the time is out?

He should not. Rather, he should fall on both kneecaps and offer up thanks because taxes are not increased owing to the great influx of editors to the poor house.

The Ideal Ranch

Your Choice of Fifty Thousand Acres in East Central Nebraska

Have you pictured to yourself the Ideal Ranch? It would be within 150 miles of Omaha, adjoining the corn belt, embracing a valley of unfading hay in which flowing wells would furnish the purest of water, and adjoining this valley would be the cheap pasture land required to finish the picture and make this Ideal Ranch both complete and profitable.

Such a combination seems too good to be true. Yet it is true. We can furnish you a ranch fulfilling every element of this picture in the famous Beaver Valley in East Central Nebraska. Read the following statements—You can bank on them.

1. For 20 years it has been my business to purchase large bodies of land belonging to individuals or estates and subdivide them, selling them out at a very moderate profit to smaller purchasers. I buy at wholesale and sell at retail and can make a moderate profit on my wholesale price and still sell the land for less money than a man would have to pay, the average occupant of the same territory. The very process of subdivision enhances the value of the land so that any man purchasing at or near the start can take a substantial profit the day I am through. I have never subdivided a single tract where the men did not, within 5 years from the date of purchase reach a point where they could double their investment. To take a place near at hand, I sold out most of Boone county by buying the larger holdings and subdividing them. I am safe in saying and can readily prove that every purchaser made from twice to four times what he invested within the first six years. For five years I have been buying back and re-selling at a profit land which I sold less than ten years ago at $35.00 to $40.00 per acre, and I have been paying $75.00 to $110.00 per acre and then making a profit on a re-sale. What I did in Boone county I will do to the adjoining lands on the Beaver Valley and I will do it in less time because the class of customers who are coming today are more able to do things and do them faster than the customers to whom I sold the Boone county land.

2. I have purchased from the Allerton-Thompson people 50,000 acres along the Beaver Valley. The Beaver joins the Loup river just west of Columbus and runs Northwest through Platte, Nance, Boone and Wheeler counties. Our lands begin some twenty miles Northwest of Albion and fourteen miles West of Elgin. I am subdividing this great tract. It now lies from fourteen to twenty miles from a railroad but the railroad is only a matter of development and days. The man who goes there now will double his money if the railroad never comes and will treble or quadruple his money the day a railroad is assured. A man must make his choice whether he will go ahead of the railroad and have the railroad come and make him independent or whether he will wait for the railroad and then buy, paying for the railroad three or four times over. There is no point on this ranch ten miles from a good market town. It is in East Central Nebraska, right in the corn belt. It is the best buy in Nebraska today. We will take Eastern Nebraska property in exchange at its real value but will not stand for inflation as our prices are uniform to every customer.

3. Nature made the Beaver Valley the best hay land in Nebraska. The nature's great assortment of grasses man has added Timothy, Clover, Red Top and Blue Grass—all of which thrive when the seed is merely sprinkled over the sod—until today the mixed grasses of this valley will produce as much beef and more milk per acre than the highest priced corn land in the state.

4. We have abundance of grass thirty days earlier and from thirty to ninety days later than the average Nebraska pasture.

5. We have water that cannot be beaten in the world—pure, ever flowing, cool in summer, warm in winter, cheap to obtain, costing nothing for maintenance, and inexhaustible.

6. One of these valley quarters properly managed, with less labor, less expense, less risk and therefore less worry, will produce more profit per acre than the highest priced corn land.

7. Adjoining these hay flats are the Summer pastures where stock can be raised at less expense per head than in the olden days when range was free. Posts-and-wire cost less than range riders and the percentage of loss is infinitely less.

8. We can divide this property to suit. If the tract you select is short of buildings we will build to suit and have the buildings completed for your occupancy. We have started out to make this a valley of homes and the man who buys now will win a home and fortune at once. Our prices are cash prices but we can give you terms because Loan Companies will loan as large a per cent of the selling value of this land as they will on the highest priced corn land in the state.

9. The cutting up of this great ranch means a tremendous development in Nebraska's most beautiful valley.

COME. Don't wait to write but telephone at our expense. Our cars will meet you any where. We can suit you. Opportunity is knocking now.

OMAHA MARKET REPORT

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Neb., September 20, 1916.—Cattle receipts for Tuesday were rather liberal, some 467 loads or about 12,000 head. Although the total receipts of cattle were comparatively heavy, there were practically no really desirable corn fed steers here, and in fact scarcely any corn-feds at all. It was about a steady market, as dressed beef men were all inquiring for some good natives, and had any been here they would have undoubtedly sold well. Supplies of cows and heifers were tolerably liberal and the bulk of the desirable butcher and beef stock sold in about the same notches as on Monday.

Quotations on cattle: Good to choice heaves, $10.00@10.85; fair to good heaves, $9.00@9.75; common to fair heaves, $8.75@8.75; good to choice heifers, $6.75@7.25; good to choice cows, $6.50@7.00; fair to good cows, $5.85@6.40; canners and cutters, $4.50@5.75; veal calves, $8.00@11.00; bologna bulls, $5.25@5.55; beef bulls, $6.00@7.00.

Shipping demand for hogs for Tuesday did not seem to be very urgent, but with stronger advices from Chicago early, order buyers paid about steady prices for their hogs. Some of the packers had urgent orders, and some of these were also filled at fair prices, fully steady with Monday's prices. Two of the packers bought some of their hogs after other buyers were through that looked around 5@10c lower.

Tuesday's sheep and lamb run was just a little more than half as large as Monday's big supply, counting out 36 cars or some 27,000 head. A large share of the receipts were late in getting up to the barn, and for this reason it was well along in the forenoon before enough lambs had sold to establish a market. However, the demand was broad and buyers took hold in good shape, and by mid-forenoon several bands had sold around $10.40 which allowing for the difference of quality was considered 10@15c higher than yesterday.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, good to choice, $10.25@10.40; lambs, fair to good, $10.00@10.25; lambs, feeders, $9.75@10.40; yearlings, good to choice, $7.75@8.50; yearlings, fair to good, $7.00@7.75; yearlings, feeders, $6.50@8.00; wethers, fair to choice, $6.50@7.50; ewes, good to choice, $6.75@7.20; ewes, fair to good, $6.00@6.60; ewes, plain to culls, $4.00@5.75; ewes, feeding, $5.00@5.50; ewes, breeders, all ages, $6.25@9.00.

More and more buyers are finding that the satisfaction of getting a cheaper price on articles they buy is not the only satisfaction there is to look for. S. Fishman came back from Sidney the first of the week, and tells us that many Wayne county people have visited their country, and that every one from this county purchased land. He brought with him samples of this season corn crop, which he said were taken from fields that will return forty bushels per acre. Their wheat crop was good this year, some pieces making as much as 40 bushels per acre.

C. A. Grothe returned home from his trip to North Dakota the first of the week. Yet he said that with present prices (democratic) measured in money the crop paid him about half of what the last year bumper crop brought. Doings of the State's Servants

About 3,500 warrants were issued by State Auditor Smith for the month of August, which totaled $316,891.90. Of this amount $171,659.73 was drawn from the general fund. The balance was for the University, Normal schools and the various cash funds. Something like $80,000.00 was for the university purposes. The state aid bridge fund was lightened by $27,789.74.

State Treasurer Hall during the month of August invested $105,000.00 of the state's trust funds in the purchase of school and municipal bonds. At present there are about $75,000.00 in bonds on the waiting list. All these bonds draw 5 per cent interest. Up to September 1st, the state's bond investment, as shown by the state treasurer's books, amounted to $9,855,098.33, with a combined total annual interest of nearly one-half million dollars.

Attorney General Reed has filed a brief in the supreme court in a case recently appealed from the Lancaster county district court, which was brought by the Railway Commission through the attorney general's office, to compel the Missouri Pacific to put a telephone in their depot at Panama in accordance with a law passed in 1909. The case was fought out in the district court and appealed. It will come up for hearing in the supreme court in October.

One of the features of the state fair this year was the state pure food exhibit under the direction of Food Commissioner Harmon, occupying one entire building on the grounds, setting forth the commission's system of inspection, showing the work that is being done by this department. A corps of inspectors were on the grounds all week inspecting foods and drinks, and enforcing the law relative to sanitary conditions. All eating stands were screen enclosed and the health of the visitors was guarded in every possible way. Patent medicine fairs were not allowed to do business on the grounds, two of them having been compelled to close up shop the first day. Large signs were tacked on the food and drink stands to show that they had been inspected twice each day. As a result there was less sickness at the fair this year than has ever been known before. Credit is due the fair association for its co-operation with the food department in bringing about this condition.

Probably the most encouraging sign of democratic popularity in Nebraska during the present campaign was that which prevailed Democratic headquarters on the state fair grounds last week. Many thousands visited the tent which was erected for the purpose and from every section of the state came men who were enthusiastic and brought glowing reports. Hundreds of progressive republicans were among the visitors who came to secure Wilson badges and to pledge their fealty to the democratic cause. One republican from Dorchester, was especially enthusiastic, and declared that progressive republicans in his neighborhood were strong for Wilson. There were seven voters in his family and every one would be cast for the president. Many others gave like testimony. They liked the present state democratic administration and its more than a million dollars of saving to the tax payers of Nebraska, and as one said, "We will vote the democratic ticket this fall for the first time. We are tired of the 'Old Guard' and the attempt of these leaders to force us to vote for Wall street and its interests."

The state railway commission has approved a revision of Burlington rates on sand and gravel out of Hastings. The rates cover a territory as far east as friend and as far west as Upland. The rates change from 2 to 5 cents a hundred, some of them being a reduction of 1 cent.

The Nebraska annual conference of the Methodist church will convene in Hastings Wednesday and continue in session until Monday. Four hundred and fifty ministers from practically all sections of the state will be present. This is the second largest conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in the world.

A storm of tornadic character struck near the village of Cairo, nineteen miles north of Grand Island, and resulted in considerable damage. Several persons were injured. Mrs. Dessebaugh was severely crushed and bruised when her home collapsed. Six inches of rain fell within a few minutes after the storm hit the village.

Plans for amending the state school laws in favor of rural institutions and creating wider opportunities for growth of rural schools and for education of rural boys and girls were made at the state-wide rural school conference at Lincoln. A course of studying providing for special emphasis on the essentials of a common education was favored.

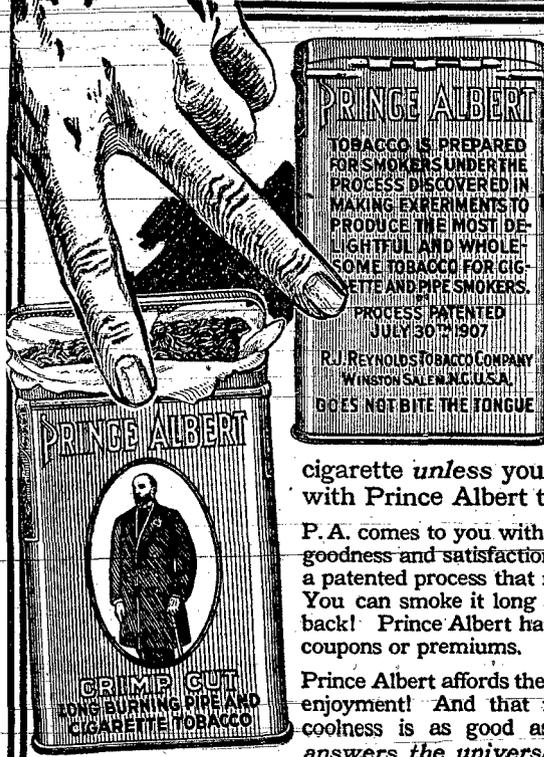

A thug's blackjack ended the life of James Kelly, soldier of fortune, who died in St. Joseph's hospital, Omaha. Kelly is the man who was found by road switchmen July 22 in a so-called boxcar, dying. He had been beaten and robbed and thrown into the car, which was then locked and sent to Omaha. Where the car came from has not been ascertained.

Samples of oil seep from certain springs in Sioux county sent to the state chemist at Lincoln have been pronounced mineral oil. Some eastern men have been investigating the matter and have leased land for the purpose of putting down a trial well. The land is very similar to the Wyoming district a little farther west where oil is abundant.

M. E. Smith, a justice of the peace living a few miles north of Mountain Grove, Mo., pleaded guilty to statutory charges preferred against him by three of his daughters and was sentenced to eighteen years in the penitentiary. Smith's arrest followed the recent marriage of his oldest daughter to a young farmer, who caused the warrant to be issued. Smith came there from Nebraska four years ago.

Fire was discovered in the home at Grand Island occupied by Mrs. Lucy Goddard, aged thirty-five, and when the firemen were able to get into the house her body was found on the floor of the room in which the fire had started. The greater portion of her body was burned to a crisp. While the first belief of the officers was that it was a case of suicide, bullet marks found in the doors point to a possible murder, with the fire as a means of hiding the crime.

Print paper is something on which newspapers are printed when they can get it.
Is it hard to get print paper?
It is not hard to get enough for a week or two in advance, if you have the money.
Does it take money to buy print paper?
It does and then some.

Is the Press printed on print paper?
At the present writing, it is, but it will soon be reduced to the editor's old shirts and nighties.
What is the Press paying for print paper?

is very seldom, it pays all the traffic will bear and if the traffic gets any heavier may the Lord have mercy on our souls.

What is the latitude and longitude of the present traffic?

We have not heard from the paper house for a day or two, but at present print paper, such as the Press is using, sets us back 8 $\frac{1}{2}$  cents a pound. We have been buying at heretofore for 3 cents a pound. This is why the editor is about to leave town and swallow the contents of a drug store.

Under these harrowing circumstances, should ye subscriber get sore and froth at the mouth if his paper is stored when the time is out?

He should not. Rather, he should fall on both kneecaps and offer up thanks because taxes are not increased owing to the great influx of editors to the poor house.

Griffith's Work Highly Educational

As an educational medium, Mr. Griffith's wonderful pictorial-dramatic work, "The Birth of a Nation", can hardly be rated high enough. The celebrated Dr. Parkhurst of New York says of it that a boy can learn more real vital United States history in a single evening from it than during three months in the classroom.

Dr. F. E. Spaulding, superintendent of the Minneapolis city schools, said "I most heartily approve of 'The Birth of a Nation', and its wonderful educational value cannot be over estimated. It is the most wonderful and instructive pictorial lesson in the history of the nation I have ever seen. To the youthful and student mind 'The Birth of a Nation' is singularly intense and impressive; to the adult mind, the spectacle is both entertaining and enjoyable. I appreciated every scene and every moment of the picture. It should be seen by all."

Perhaps the most forcible argument in favor of its educational value was demonstrated lately by the school board of the city of Chicago. As the film was compelled to show in that city under protest, the Censor Board ruled that no person under 21 years of age should be allowed to witness it. After seeing it the public school authorities insisted that the ban be removed, so that every child in the city be afforded the privilege of seeing it and of profiting by its wonderful lesson.

Telephone Equipment Costs Have Doubled in Two Years

Material used in the manufacture of telephone equipment that could have been purchased for $50 two years ago cannot be bought for less than $100 today.

The following figures show the per cent increase during the last 20 months in the market price of several of the more important items used in the manufacture of telephone equipment:

Material	Increase	Material	Increase
Aluminum	108%	Lead	94%
Batteries	68%	Lumber	20%
Brass	174%	Platinum	98%
Copper	126%	Rubber	39%
Crossarm bolts	175%	Tin	66%
Crossarm braces	274%	Wire (Iron)	20%

These advanced prices are caused principally by the European demand for war materials and to the curtailment of foreign imports into this country.

Winside Notes

(From the Tribune)

Ralph Benser, a former resident of Winside died at Merced, California, September 7. He was an old soldier, and left this county about sixteen years ago.

Master Henry Koepke returned from Blair Wednesday morning, where he had been visiting in the homes of his sisters, Mesdames Ben and Will Ross for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Walter Christensen was quite severely burned Wednesday afternoon while melting paraffine. In extinguishing the flames from the paraffine she was quite badly burned on one shoulder and arm.

S. J. Rew and daughter Miss Veda of Tabor, Iowa, came last week for a visit in the S. H. Rew home. Mr. Rew returned to his home Monday morning, while Miss Rew will remain here and attend the State Normal at Wayne.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society met with Mrs. A. P. Swanson Monday afternoon and elected new officers as follows: Mrs. J. P. Brugger, president; Mrs. John Leuck, vice-president; Mrs. G. A. Bleich, recording secretary; Mrs. E. B. Henderson, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. George Lewis, treasurer. The hostess served a dainty lunch at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Pestal entertained over thirty young people at a watermelon party in their new home last Friday evening. Numerous games were the feature of the evening, after which everyone enjoyed him or herself eating watermelon.

School Notes

Following the custom of larger towns, we are planning with the aid of the town physicians on instituting a system of medical examination. The examination will be confined to diseases of the eye, nose and throat. Each pupil will be supplied with a card, which, when presented to the family doctor will entitle him to free medical examination. The doctor will then make a signed statement of the exact condition of the child, together with his recommendations.

The classes in the high school held meetings and elected officers for the year on the first Monday of the school year. The Senior class elected Gerald Leuck president, and Lorene Michael secretary. Prof. Wilson was chosen as adviser. The officers of the Juniors are Gladys Fletcher president, Ruth Tidrick secretary and Miss Madsen adviser. Of the Sophomore class, Faye Wylie president, Ulrick Press secretary, Miss Trenary advisor; of the Freshmen class, Wm. Fletcher president, Ruth Needham secretary, Miss Lynn, advisor.

On last Friday evening the three upper classes entertained at an informal reception, the freshmen and teachers. The evening was spent hilariously in the usual games, after which the freshmen and teachers were initiated. As they were then considered a part of the high school the fun went on. At 10:30 refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

The high school girls are also planning on playing basket ball this year. Three teams will be organized under Miss Trenary's charge.

School Notes

Joe Geary is a newly enrolled pupil in the sixth grade.

Visitors this week were Miss Zella Williams, Mrs. J. Feiber, Rev. S. X. Cross and Misses Ferne and Frances Oman.

Alice and Claire Wright have returned to school after a few days' absence on account of operations for the removal of adenoids and tonsils.

The high school domestic science class have made a study of fundamental stitches and made laundry bags. They are now beginning work on cooking aprons and towels.

Friday evening the Senior class and the high school faculty took a hike into the country where they enjoyed a wiener roast and melon feed. This was the first of the year's social events and was much enjoyed.

The first football game of the season will be played tomorrow evening at 4:30 against Laurel at that place. The boys in their practice work have been making a good showing, and hope to bring home laurels indeed.

Yesterday afternoon the senior class gave the following program: Piano solo, Helen Gildersleeve; reading, Jesse Randol; paper, "Welcome to the Freshmen," Gidne Macklir; reading, Jessie Watson; paper, "Senior Ambitions," Orvin Gaston. The Junior class will present the program next Wednesday afternoon.

The Rev. S. X. Cross addressed the high school Tuesday afternoon on the subject of opportunity. The talk was a timely one. With stories of incidents in the career of Admiral Nelson, Napoleon, Grant and others, he illustrated the theme of his address, "The person who succeeds is not the person who waits for affairs to adjust themselves." Mr. Cross further showed his interest in the schools by remaining to visit some of the classes.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Fern Oman with her sister, Miss Francis accompanying her on the piano, delighted the high school with several whistling solos. In response to the hearty applause given her she further favored the audience with whistled imitations of the songs of several well known birds. Her imitations were without exception true to the original. The high school will be glad to have Miss Oman appear before them again.

Monday evening the teachers and students who were in the high school last year entertained the new students, new members of the high school faculty, and all the grade teachers at a party in the gymnasium. The gymnasium had been tastefully decorated in the school colors. The games under the direction of Miss Mabel Dayton and committee were varied and lively, bringing forth peals of laughter. Ice cream and cake were served, and all went home feeling better acquainted and therefore better qualified to do good work in school than before. It is hoped that this may prove a happy as well as profitable year for all, and social affairs from time to time will be a feature of the year.

The celebrated Ulysses grain case came to an end at David City when the court found for the seventy odd farmer plaintiffs in the sum of $68,000. The court found that George Dobson was the owner of the grain business and that a conspiracy had been entered into between Dobson Smith and Spelts to defraud the plain tiffs. The court absolved the First bank from any liability and did not render judgment against Spelts, but did against Dobson and Smith.

Fred Altergott, wanted at Zurich Kan., on a charge of the murder of Lewis Barks, was arrested at Beatrice, Neb., and taken to Stockton by Chief of Police Hayden, to be turned over to the sheriff of Rooks county. Altergott was arrested in Beatrice under the name of Henry Cramer. He was charged with disorderly conduct for driving an employee of the Floyd Hivery from the place and threatening him with a neckyoke. He was serving out a fine of $1 and costs in the city jail. His detention was brought about by a card received there giving a description of Altergott. There is a reward of $500 for the arrest of Altergott, which Chief Hayden says will be divided among the members of the police force; all of them sharing in the credit for the arrest.
