LAST WEEK AT TABERNACLE

Plans Made for Big Day Sunday. Brass Bands and Competition Parade. Last Sunday Greatest Attendance to Date

Sunday will close the four week campaign at Wayne with the hosts of Satan and sin, and plans are being made to make the day a rousing one. In addition to services at the tabernacle there is to be a parade of Sunday schools, and banner is to be given to the largest delegation from outside of Wayne in the line of march. The bills announce that there will be bands and music for the parading people.

With the preaching of the farewell sermon, "Pharaohs Promise", the Fife evangelistic meetings that have held away here the past four weeks will close. The past week has, as prophesied, been a rousing success and the remaining three days promises to end in a climax of religious upstirring.

Last Sunday afternoon scored highest in the meetings when the big temperance parade marched up Main street with banners flying and drums beating. Delegations from Randolph, Belden, Laurel, Concorl, Wakefield, Pender, Wisner, Pilger, Stanton, Norfolk, Winside, Carroll and Sholes, and numerous surrounding districts participated. The wind made banner carrying difficult and band playing impossible, but despite dust and wind people gladly marched and navigated the sails as best they could.

The sermon on "Booze" was a red hot pan of burning facts and the liquor interests got badly burned. Nebraska is going dry if the enthusiasm and the spirit of the meeting Sunday is any criterion of sentiment. The lecture was a masterpiece of rock bottom facts that proved why Nebraska should be dry.

Sunday evening the evangelist spoke on the "Second Coming of Christ". Nearly all the delegations that heard the afternoon sermon remained for the evening services which embodied many splendid thoughts.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. Fife spoke to the women and girls upon the subject of community building, the important part women and girls have in performing this work. Tuesday evening the sermon was on "What Must We Do to be Saved?"

Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock Miss Yockey met the girls at the Presbyterian church in their last meeting. In the evening the text was "Religion That Saves".

Mr. Fred Kuhn, who left for Missouri on business, has been ordered to return home by the "Boss" (Big Brother Earle calls him this) and so Mr. Kuhn is going to be here and play at the concert Friday evening. The concert is said to be an attraction that chautauqua companies are after, especially Mr. Robert Fife's impersonation of "Honest Abe". The concert given two weeks ago pleased and no doubt this one will more than come up to expectations. Delegations from surrounding towns have promised to be present and by the way tickets are selling the house will be packed.

Sock Shower

Fred Blair, good cheer dispenser, and wife, assisted by Mrs. Keyser, entertained four that are yet, four that used to be, and one who intends to be no longer, bachelors, at the Fred Blair home Monday evening, October 2, the hours being 7:30 until very late. It was a sad farewell party for one Dr. F. E. Gamble who has gone to join the ranks of that brave army of benedictes.

Yea, it was a mournful party indeed. Those present were Sam Davies, W. D. Redmond, Jay Baughan, L. A. Kiplinger, Dr. Gamble, C. E. Carhart, Stanley Owen, Fred S. Berry, Dr. T. T. Jones. In order to cheer the drooping spirits of the company Fred Berry told again all his humorous stories. Everybody laughed as they always do, only more feebly. L. A. Kiplinger was in his usual very witty frame of mind and stirred the hearts of his listeners by the melancholy recitation "Drinking Liquor". Sam Davies wept bitter tears to think that one so young in life as Dr. Gamble should be cut off from happiness and it made him feel less secure in combating the lovable Dan Cupid after he had so successfully resisted him the past seven years.

Dr. Gamble was the recipient of many pairs of hand painted socks which will no doubt be cherished in his memory box.

Mr. (Stubby) Blair and wife are to be complimented upon being able to successfully feed the men. Eating was of necessity begun early in the evening and continued up to the time of departure. Not much order was sustained for the married men ate as they always do, in a hurry, the other element enjoying it as they always do, slowly.

But seriously it was a splendid evening most enjoyably spent. Dr. Gamble was highly congratulated and extended best wishes by all. The only regret expressed was that Mr. Gamble did not follow the advice of the tin signs so permissively scattered throughout the land and "marry in Wayne."

The meeting adjourned at a late hour (after L. A. Kiplinger and W. D. Redmond had finished eating). All expressed many thanks to the host and hostesses for the excellent evening so enjoyably spent.

Dr. Gamble left this morning for Woodhull, Illinois, where he will be united in marriage to Miss Grace Annie Lowry, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. N. H. Lowry, Wednesday, October 11th. Further particulars will be given later.

Dr. Gamble is well known, both in Wayne and surrounding community, being one of the clothing firm of Gamble & Senter. He is very popular here, of fine character and morals, and an earnest church worker, having sung in the Presbyterian church choir for a number of years.

For a number of years he has resisted Dan Cupid's gentle, yet insistent, will but has finally given up. The Democrat extends with his many friends the heartiest congratulations and best wishes for a long and most happily wedded life.

Foster-Whelan

Mrs. James W. Whelan of this city and J. H. Foster, prominent contractor at Wayne, Nebraska, were married yesterday in this city by the Rev. A. A. DeLarme of the First Baptist church. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only a few relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Foster will motor to Wayne where they will make their home.

So says an item in the Omaha World-Herald of last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Foster arrived at Wayne Saturday evening, and are now at home in the Foster residence on 7th street. Mr. Foster is a man highly respected and has many friends who will welcome the lady he has selected for a life partner to our community.

Evangelist Clyde Lee Fife's Message

For almost one month we have poured out our hearts before God for the salvation of this community. God has heard our prayers and hundreds have already lined up for Christian service.

Judged by every worthy standard of comparison I consider this campaign a tremendous success. Not a single plan has failed. The response has been immediate and definite.

And now that we are about to bid farewell to our host of friends in this beautiful city and community, we thank sincerely all who have in any way helped—The Democrat, and the Herald, the scores of committee men, the great choir, the ushers, the police, the splendid ministers, the business men, and our friends and generous givers of time and money from far and near whom we shall never forget.

But before we bid you farewell and the tabernacle campaign is no more, we ask that the people of Wayne and community pray and work as never before for the salvation of others so near to the kingdom.

CLYDE LEE FIFE.

A Soldier Boy Letter.

Llano Grand, Tex., Oct. 1, 1916.

Editor Democrat, Wayne, Neb.

Dear Sir:—This fine cool Sunday morning we again say hello. It indeed makes us think of October mornings in Nebraska. Last two nights we even were chilly under our woolen blankets, but in the day time it warms up much the same as it did in July. We haven't had much rain for some time and the roads are quite dusty.

The health of the boys in general is good, although the hospital is full of malaria patients. Most of these cases are quite light and the boys are soon in line of duty again. Privates Maupin, Patterson and Jenks are now there from camp E. There has been a lot of talk of going home, which we no doubt will soon do, but there are many boys who feel that if duty at home was not so urgent they would remain over winter in the south that they might be better informed as to conditions here.

This past week has been a busy one for us, and the variety of duties was great, consisting of close and open order drill, hikes and maneuvers. Tuesday we made another hike with heavy equipment, this time going to Donna a distance of about 6 miles. In or near Donna we saw some well improved farms, and as usual we were much impressed by the large ferns, palms, oleanders and flowers which adorn the lawns of these farm homes. Tuesday afternoon we were much pleased to receive our cots. They were rather late in making their appearance but we shall enjoy them for the rest of our stay. Tuesday night was stunt night, and we had a delightful time. We had music by the chorus (boys), solos, ventriloquism, juggling and speaking. The Y. M. C. A. building is always full on these occasions.

Wednesday afternoon companies E and F made an advancing attack on a fort which if I remember right was held by company G of Stanton. We all made the attack and never lost a man. The boys called this the battle of "Sand Burr Run". This name came from the fact that a cornfield through which we were advancing had a vertible carpet of sandburrs, in which boys had to crawl between advances.

Thursday morning Fourth Nebraska in cooperation with some of the North Dakota troops which are at Mercedes marched out south of Mercedes to pilot a wagon train through from Brownville to McAllen. While we were not at either of these places, we did have the real wagon train and it made its way safely under watchful eyes of our northern boys. Going out company E was advance guard, assisted by some mounted scouts from Dakota camp. Coming back we were the rear guard. These problems would be very helpful to the boys should war ever occur. An incident of the march was when we were coming back through N. Dakota camp, a connecting file of E company of rear guard was charged upon by one of the cooks of Dakota who was armed with a pan full of doughnuts. He captured the good will of the entire bunch.

Saturday morning was one of the big events of our stay here. Gen. Funston was in camp and we were out for a division parade. Of course we were anxious to make a good showing which I believe we did, although haven't had any official report as yet. In this parade were nine regiments of infantry, consisting of two Nebraska, one Dakota, three Minnesota and three Indiana. Also there was the artillery batteries from Minnesota and Indiana camps. Then the Iowa and Oklahoma cavalry from Donna was there. Besides these were the hospital and supply companies, the signal companies, the engineers, machine guns corps and six brass bands. This was sure fine to look at. Beats all the pictures I ever saw.

Last evening boys from our company going to Brownville were Kennedy, Dailey, Hunter, Brian, Carlson, Duncan, Rickabaugh, Juhlin, Berry and Lieutenant File. Boys no doubt thought this their last chance as our mechanic Davis was busy making boxes and why should he make them if we weren't going to pack them? This morning a number of boys are going to the lake and the river.

With best wishes from all, I am as ever, JAMES J. STEELE.

Winside Store Burglarized

Monday night, or early Tuesday morning the store of Fleeer Bros. at Winside was entered and robbed of all the silks in stock, estimated to be worth $1,000 or more. There is absolutely no clue to the burglars at this writing, but they are quite apt to be in some way related to the ones who visited Bloomfield the week before and appropriated the best stock of silks in the city. Silk values have become so high that one may easily carry a thousand dollar's worth of the fabric at once, and it could be placed in an automobile and spirited away without detection. Then once it has the wrappings removed it would be really impossible to identify it, making it an especially easy goods for thieves or fence to dispose of.

A stranger and a strange automobile at Winside the day before is now remembered, but there might be a dozen of them any day in these days of automobile travel.

Champions of the Game

That is the claim made by O. C. Lewis and J. H. Kemp, who were at Carroll the other day, and took the Carroll horseshoe experts down the line to a glorious defeat. As we got the score, the Carroll bunch simply got goose eggs. It made the Wayne fellows proud, and we expect that W. D. Redmond will have to show them how to put the shoes around the pegs before they will come back to earth.

A Great Temperance Gathering

The Hanly-Landrith campaign party aboard the cold water train arrived at Wayne Wednesday afternoon about one o'clock. The party was immediately taken to the tabernacle where a large crowd was assembled to hear these noted speakers. Mr. Hanly, prohibition candidate for president, spoke of the prohibition amendment that comes before the Nebraska people this fall. Mr. Stewart, a member of the party, occupied a few minutes of time in explaining the means of support of the trip throughout the union. A freewill offering was taken up to help defray the expenses. Vice president candidate Landrith spoke briefly reaching one of the strongest climaxes a prohibition speech could contain when he called upon the young men and women under age of twenty years to stand up with hands raised if they wanted to see Nebraska dry.

The party left for points in Iowa from here. The members of the party are as follows: Hon. J. Frank Hanly of Indianapolis, former republican governor of Indiana and now Prohibition candidate for president, with Mrs. Hanly; Ira Landrith of Nashville, Tenn., former southern democrat, now the prohibition nominee for vice president; Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago, chairman of the national campaign committee and Mrs. Stewart; Dr. D. M. Bottoms of Battle Creek, Michigan, medical attendant; John L. Wenner of Middleburg, New York, national committee press representative; Lambert St. Clair of Washington, D. C., associate press representative; Frank E. Herrick of Wheaton, Illinois, prohibition poet and attorney; Miss Hallie McNeil of Indianapolis and Miss Jeannette Zweir of Brooklyn, N. Y., secretaries.

Aboard the train for the trip through this state were the following prominent prohibitionists: L. B. Gilbert of Lincoln, candidate for United States senator; J. D. Graves, of Peru, candidate for governor, of Nebraska.

Nominate Precinct Officers

At an adjourned caucus, held Monday evening at the office of J. H. Kemp the democrats of Wayne named the following candidates for precinct officers:

Police Magistrate—James Britton.
Justices of the Peace—Clyde Oman and Martin Ringer.
Constables—W. M. Fleetwood and John L. Soules.
Assessor—R. E. Williams.

Pryor-Darcy

Wednesday, Sept. 27, at 6 o'clock a. m., Miss Catherine Darcy and Frank Pryor were married at the St. Ludgerus Catholic church, Rev. Father Windolph, officiating.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple went to the bride's home where a sumptuous four course wedding breakfast awaited them. Dinner also was served to intimate friends and relatives.

The bride was attended by Mary Darcy, her sister, and the groom by Richard Kane. The bride wore a white taffeta dress with chiffon and pearl trimmings. The bridesmaid was prettily attired in a gown of white crepe. The groom and best man wore the conventional black.

Miss Darcy is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Darcy Sr. She is a young lady of more than sterling worth and enjoys the friendship of all who know her. Mr. Pryor is the son of Mrs. M. A. Pryor of Wayne and is well known in this vicinity, being connected with the Creighton Lumber Co.

The happy couple left on the morning train for a short honeymoon at eastern points.

The Liberal joins with the host of friends in wishing the happy couple all the joys and blessings of wedded life.—Creighton Liberal.

Bride and groom visited at the home at his mother, Mrs. M. A. Pryor while retrning home the first of the week.

Lightning Strikes House

Last evening about 6:30 lightning struck the house in the southeast part of Roosevelt park addition and did considerable damage to building and contents. The house is occupied by Frank Henden and family, but while they were not seriously hurt, they do not care to have the experience repeated. The bolt appears to have struck the ridge of the roof, as the chimney shows no damage, and found its way to the ceiling where the plaster was badly wrecked.

Mrs. H. was standing near the stove, and the shock threw her down and stunned her slightly. It also cleaned the stove pipe, taking it down at the same time, giving everything in the room, as well as every one, a covering of soot. A new rug in an adjoining room appeared to be ruined with the soot, which completely covered it.

Marriage Licenses Issued

H. H. Hanvill and Miss Naoma Wilson were granted a marriage license by County Judge Britton October 2, and married by him.

A. C. Christensen and Marie E. Roberts were married by the Judge September 30th.

Frank Hatfield and Bertha Broscheit were granted a license September 30th and married by Rev. Buell. They will live at Wakefield.

Hampshires for Sale—10 spring boars, one 18 months old. 7 miles southwest of Wayne. See Emil Broschiet, route 3.—adv. 40-4.

E. Plum and wife of Hastings, Iowa, returned to their home Friday after a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. Kelly and family.

Jens Anderson, wife and daughter Alice, went to Pender Saturday to visit with relatives. They returned home the first of the week.

Miss Hulda Gustafson was a passenger to Wakefield Saturday afternoon to visit with friends. She returned home the first of the week.

Miss May Fredrickson returned to her home in Sargent Bluffs, Iowa, Friday after a few days visit with her sister, Miss Anna Fredrickson, who is attending the normal.

Mrs. Chris Harrigfeldt of Emerson, who has been visiting at Wausa for the past few days, came Saturday afternoon to visit with Mrs. B. Osborne for a short time before returning home.

Fred Kuhn of the Fife Evangelistic party left Friday morning for Mexico, Missouri, on a business mission. Later he will go to Fulton, Missouri, for a few days. Mr. Kuhn will be gone four or five days.

Mrs. Ellis Stewart and son, Harry left Friday morning for their home in Minneapolis after a two week visit with Mrs. Stewart's parents, James Britton and wife. Miss Faye Britton accompanied her as far as Sioux City.

Mrs. W. L. Chichester arrived home Saturday afternoon from Los Angeles, California, where she has been the past month visiting with relatives. Mrs. O. S. Gamble, who accompanied Mrs. Chichester, remained for a more extended visit.

Fitar's store was burglarized and robbed at Bloomfield Wednesday night of last week. Entrance was gained by unlocking one of the doors and a quantity of merchandise, all silk dress goods was taken to the value of about $800. The cash register was not disturbed. No trace of the burglar or burglars have been obtained yet. Sheriff Porter was notified to watch and bloodhounds were sent to Bloomfield Thursday night.

Mrs. Geo. W. Hughes and children came Saturday from O'Neill to visit with her parents, R. R. Smith and wife for a few days, after which she is planning to go to the farm southeast of Wayne where her brothers, the Smith boys are farming and batching, and keep house for them during corn shucking. It hardly looks as though the young ladies of Wayne and vicinity were living up to their opportunities this leap year season when two such likely young men have to import a sister from the sandhills to help them while they gather their bountiful harvest. Perhaps some young lady may yet beat the sister to the place. Mr. Hughes is planning to come here for the winter after his hay is marketed.

Mrs. W. L. Richardson went to Sioux City Saturday morning on business for the day.

John R. Massie went to Sioux City Saturday morning to be gone a day or two on business.

Mrs. J. E. Hufford went to visit relatives at Central City and Holdrege the first of the week.

Misses Amanda and Ora Davis of Carroll were at Wayne between trains Saturday afternoon.

Miss Mata Lilje of Fremont came home Friday evening to visit with home folks here for a few days.

John S. Lewis was a passenger to Meadow Grove Friday evening, going up to attend to farm interests.

Miss Ola Alger went to Sioux City Monday to visit at the home of L. S. Dickerson and wife, her sister.

Miss Florence Welch was a passenger to Sioux City Saturday morning, returning home in the evening.

John Kay was looking after business matters at Omaha last week and visiting friends as well as seeing the sights.

Mrs. B. D. Goodyear and Miss Craun of Dixon went to Norfolk Saturday, returning home on the afternoon train.

Miss Ruth Fletcher, who is attending the normal, visited with parents and friends at her home in Carroll Sunday.

Miss Mabel Anderson returned to her home in Wakefield Monday after a few days visit with her uncle, A. D. Erickson and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Goes from Silver City, Iowa, came Monday to visit at the home of E. A. Surber and wife, the ladies being sisters.

Miss Olive Griffith, who is teaching at Blair, returned home Friday evening to visit with home folks. She returned the first of the week.

Mrs. Mary Libengood returned to her home in Emerson Monday morning after a few days visit with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Meyers.

Miss Edith LaRue of South Sioux City came Friday evening to visit with Miss Maude Grothe. Miss LaRue returned home the first of the week.

J. H. Mellick, wife and daughter arrived Friday evening from their home at Humphrey, Minnesota, to visit with Silas and Frank Mellick and families.

Mrs. George Berres returned home Friday evening from Sioux City where she has been in a hospital for the past few weeks recovering from an operation.

Mrs. J. J. Conner and Miss Louise Hill left for their home in Austin, Texas, Monday morning after a four week visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Almond.

C. H. Kilbourne and wife of South Sioux City came Saturday evening to visit with their son, O. D. Kilbourne and wife. They returned home the first of the week.

Mrs. T. W. Moran was a passenger to Tekamah Friday where she visited with her sister, Mrs. H. W. Whitaker, who is recovering from an operation in a local hospital there.

Miss Birdie Cross returned home Saturday evening from Omaha where she has been confined in a hospital the past three weeks, recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Thos. Hughes went to Oakdale Saturday to visit her sister, Mrs. Chas. Duncan, who formerly lived here. She was accompanied on the visit by Mrs. C. E. Conover and her mother, Mrs. Emma Rickabaugh, who were starting for their new home at Colome, South Dakota, but were to visit a few days at the Duncan home.

When Mrs. Emma Livinghouse returned from her visit in South Dakota she brought from Jacob Gasper of Bridgewater some sample corn taken from his field near that place, which are now hanging in the Democrat office window. People who see it will say, perhaps, that the climate of South Dakota is changing to grow such corn, but that is hardly probable. It is much more probable that the corn growing farmers who have invaded that state from the real corn belt, have applied better methods of cultivation—have properly submided the soil of other days—rotated crops and cultivated so as to retain moisture, improved their seed and selected a corn that will thrive in that climate. We cannot think that nature has changed much there or here, but farm methods have improved, and much credit should be given to men like Mr. Gasper who have aided in the work of education and evolution.

The arrival of and coming of winter will insist on a change of undergarments. When securing your supply for cold weather, decide on Munsingwear if you really want faultless underwear.

GAMBLE & SENTER

D. C. Hogue was here from Winside Sunday.

Henry Hansen went to Pierce Monday to look after his farms near that place.

B. D. Goodyear was a passenger to Carroll Monday morning on a business mission.

Elmer W. Closson from Sholes went to Omaha Sunday for a short stay in that city—looking after cattle.

Mrs. John Harder and granddaughter, little Miss Gladys Harler, were passengers to Sioux City Saturday for the day.

Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Cherry were here from Winside over Sunday, visiting at the home of his brother, J. M. Cherry and family.

Miss Anna Young returned to her home at Pender Saturday morning after a few days visit with her sister, Mrs. Carl Martin and husband.

Miss Cella Gildersleeve, who is teaching at Atkinson, came home Saturday morning to visit with her parents, Wm. Gildersleeve and family.

Mrs. M. L. Trester returned to her home at Lincoln Saturday morning after a week visit with her daughter, Mrs. V. L. Dayton and husband.

Harry Fisher is quoted in the Norfolk News as saying that when a fellow begins to play golf he should put his religion in his wife's name.

Miss Wright Rice and Miss Laura Crain returned to their home in Dixon Saturday after a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Goodyear.

A number of people are planning to attend the democratic banquet at Norfolk next week Thursday evening, if all goes well in the way of roads and weather.

Mrs. Walter Norris and son Charles went to Grand Island the first of the week to visit for a few weeks at the home of Mr. Norris' parents, and with friends there.

County Surveyor Jones was out in Chapin precinct last week running some road and farm lines for the county. A part of road surveyed had been narrowed to 25 feet, and the county commissioners thought the time had come when the importance of the roads would make it necessary that they be opened out full width, and the survey was to determine where the fences should be put. Mr. Jones was also running lot lines for several Carroll people who are to build new or are building. Among the number he mentioned Dan. Davis, J. Jones, Wm. Jenkins and Mr. Schlum. Carroll is having a nice lot of improvements this season, indicating that in the passing of prosperity pie this thriving berg has not been omitted.

Miss Ruth White, who is teaching at Wausa, came home Saturday morning to visit with her aunt, Miss Charlotte White.

Mrs. J. Hammers and daughter Florence, who have been visiting at the home of her parents, John Stallsmith and wife, left Saturday for their new home at Laramie, Wyoming, where Mr. Hammers had gone to take charge of the largest flouring mill in the state of Wyoming. Mr. Hammers was for a number of years at Wakefield, but for some time past has been at Neligh.

W. M. Goodyear, who has been here the past three weeks assisting his son, B. D. Goodyear with his painting work, returned to his home in Scranton, Iowa, Saturday morning.

F. R. Dilts of Wakefield is enjoying his going and coming now, for he rides in a fine 7-passenger Chalmers which he purchased through Walter Norris, the local agent at Wayne.

Will Morgan went to Omaha Saturday morning to attend the fair for the day. Later he went to Harlan, Iowa, to visit with his daughter, Mrs. J. Graves and family for a few days, returning to Omaha today to hear President Wilson speak.

Always a Good Buy

THE BEST IS ALWAYS THE CHEAPEST

THE sound investment in a stove can not always be determined the first year. It takes years to demonstrate the true worth, efficiency, and superiority of a heating stove. However, there are certain facts which point out the stove that renders the greatest service.

For almost two generations P. D. Beckwith and his Estate have been manufacturing a high grade of heating stove known the world over under the trade name ROUND OAK. That name is copyrighted by Beckwith with the United States government, and it has never been placed on any cheap, poorly constructed, or inferior heating stove. Beckwith says, if you want to buy a cheap stove, you'll have to get it of somebody else. He doesn't make it. Look for the name, Round Oak, on all four legs of the next heating stove you buy. If it is not there, then it is not a genuine Round Oak.

Letter from Camp on the Border

In a friendly letter to J. G. W. Lewis, James Steele tells many things of interest to Wayne people, therefore Mr. Lewis has given the Democrat permission to use as much of the letter as we desire, which is practically all of it, for James so tells the story of camp life that there is nothing which is not of interest:

Llano Grande, Texas,
Sept. 17, 1916.

Mr. J. G. W. Lewis,
Wayne, Nebr.

Dear Sir: Have sadly neglected to write to you as I promised, but have often thought of you and the interesting times we had discussing Mexico and European situations, in political science class. Have been here for some little time now and it seems that the United States and Mexico are about to clasp hands on friendly terms. As a result we expect to be home again before many weeks. However, if nothing further is done to heal this weakness of the inhabitants of our sister republic, we believe that in the near future the soldier boys will return to the border.

Eighty-seven per cent of Mexicans cannot read or write, and out of 15,000,000 inhabitants, 60,000 own practically the entire acreage, one family having control of a territory larger than the state of Indiana. Many thousands of the poor are slaves on the large plantations.

However much good we have done by being here, we guardsmen cannot solve this problem alone. Wages of sin are death, and it is through sin from some source that we are faced with this problem. We can allay the trouble, but the cure must come about through changes in the heart of the people, both at home and abroad. The Mexican people need schools and churches that they may be made to see the right way of living, also the big property owners need to recognize the rights of people below them in station and act accordingly or else be forced to quit business.

As far as we of the United States are concerned, as soon as Mexico sees that really we are acting the big brother to her and are not just after her worldly good, the crisis will be past and we need not fear.

Mexican laborer in Mexico receives fifty cents per day and must support himself and family out of that amount. Their rations are bought from day to day as is also the fuel. The women do this shopping. They cook the noon meal and they and all the children take the meal and go where the husband and father is employed. They form a ring sitting around their mess on the ground. They have no knives, forks or spoons as they cannot afford them, therefore they use a piece of tortilla or pancake to dip the beans or other food out of the vessel. Beans are a staple food of the Mexican and he likes them with lots of cayenne pepper. One could take a long trip through Mexico now with very little expense if he dared risk his life. A shopman of Brownsville just recently made a trip to Monterey to buy Mexican curios. His railroad fare for the 350 miles was 65 cents. Another made a roundabout trip to Mexico City and return, traveling a total distance of 3400 miles. His hotel bills for ten days at best hotel in Mexico City and entire expenses of trip, including car fare was only $65.00. Provisions are relatively high over there, eggs being 65 cents each in their paper money which is about 3 cents in United States money.

As to our work here, though it has been trying at times, we feel that whatever effect it has had otherwise it is an experience which we shall value highly in later years. Monday of the past week we had competitive drill amongst different companies of each regiment. Company G of Stanton won preliminary of our battalion in the forenoon, but were bested in the afternoon in battalion contest by company C of Omaha, under Capt. Todd. Tuesday our boys were again on the guard line. About the only enemy they look for nowadays is the mosquito. Much war is being waged on this little pest just at present as malaria fever has broken out in camp. Medical officers nightly make their rounds through tents to see that the boys have their nets over them and at a proper height and see that they are tucked in around bottom. Tuesday night was stunted night at Y. M. C. A. Fifth Nebraska put on the program which was good. It recalled old time literatures in spirit. It will be our turn next Tuesday if we are here. Wednesday evening Mr. Bruce of Mercedes gave us a talk of interest to all the boys. Subject: "Rio Grande Valley." He told of the quality and possibilities of the soil of the lower Rio Grande Valley which is a delta. Sugar cane is fast becoming the leading product, four thousand acres have just been cleared a little ways south of our camp and will be put to cane the coming season. All together there will be from 12,000 to 15,000 acres in cane around Mercedes next year. All this must be irrigated. Cane produces on an average crop here about 40 tons per acre. This turns out about 200 lbs. sugar to the ton and in ordinary markets bring about five cents per pound. Mr. Bruce also said that many of the early vegetable crops were being planted now.

Thursday we had a regular field inspection by regular army officers. We were marched to parade grounds with heavy equipment and here our entire outfit inspected, even to the cooks kitchen utensils, which were hauled out by one of the supply wagons. On Friday our regular hiking day, it rained so we drilled a couple hours in camp. Saturday came the bimonthly inspection of the major and the boys were again marched out to display their belongings and to pitch their pup tents. Today we are all at home as no one may secure a pass for three days, we do not know why. Our dinner today consisted of mashed potatoes, soup, chili beans, pineapple, tea and coffee. Good many of the boys bought ice cream as a side dish. For amusement today there are two meetings at the Y. M. C. A., also two ball games on our diamond, which is 75 to 100 feet from our end tent.

Expect you are pretty busy nowadays on the hill. Wish I might be there too, expect to later on, which means hard work to catch up with my work.

With best wishes and hoping to see you soon, I am

Your friend,
JAMES J. STEELE.

The Tragedy of It All

Those in attendance at the Federal court in Norfolk last week saw the wheels of justice go around in a way that makes the average citizen despair.

The central trial was the International Harvester Co., vs. Mrs. A. E. Fricke a guarantor on note given as surety with one of the companies agents.

Arthur F. Mullen appeared for the harvester trust and H. C. Brome also of Omaha appeared for Mrs. Fricke. When the evidence was all in the judge took the case from the jury and ordered a verdict for the harvester company. The question raised by Mr. Brome was that the officials of the harvester trust had induced the defendant to sign the contracts and other papers by saying that the local agent was "perfectly good." A school for giving evidence had evidently been held as every official of the harvester trust from the highest to the lowest testified that they never had made inquiry to learn if Mr. Bard was responsible financially.

This testimony was so palpably false that a smile ran around the court room as it was well known that a creditor cannot even have a hidden birth mark without this institution knowing all about it. —Creighton Liberal.

C. H. Surber and wife were passengers to Omaha Tuesday morning to attend the Ak-Sar-Ben.

Building Addition to Church

Work is well under way for a substantial addition to the German Evangelical church southwest of Wayne. The church and also the one southeast of Wayne is under the pastorate of Rev. Fischer, and both are in the midst of most prosperous communities, and to meet the growing needs a basement is being put under the church building, and an addition of 16 feet will be made to the original building. This will make a house of worship 28x56, with full basement under all. Part of the basement will be used for the heating plant, and the remainder may be finished to meet the needs of the congregation.

Here is something which the people who do their own washing will appreciate, if it works as it is said to. For handkerchiefs that are used by people suffering from colds, place them on a pan or basin of some kind and sprinkle them with salt the evening before wash day, then cover with water, and in the morning most of the offensive matter will have been carried by the salt to the bottom of the pan, leaving the fabric free from most foreign matter. Another economic method for people who heat their wash water over a stove is to fill the wash boiler only partly full and then place other kettles over the remainder of the stove top and thus conserve all of the heat possible. It will save an half hour of time getting hot water to start with. A dish pan of water placed in the oven will heat as quickly as on to the stove, thus utilizing no heat that costs nothing.

L. W. Alter Candidate For County Assessor

An Iowa Product and Nebraska Homesteader. Complete Exhibit of His Career. Twenty-Four Years a Resident of the Six Million Dollar County. Name on Ballot for First Time. Let Every Dollar Bear an Equal Burden

No Oyster Need Apply

Comes now this credential to every voter in the good county of Wayne, and makes an exhibit of the qualifications and claims of I. W. Alter. I. W. Alter lives in Wayne, where he has been well known for twenty-four years and where he has high rank among the respected business men of the place. We are telling who he is, where he is, what he is, and why he is, because he is a candidate for a county office and the people have a right to know everything about candidates there is to be known. When a man becomes a candidate for any public office his days as an oyster are ended. For a candidate to draw himself into a shell during a political campaign is absolutely suicidal and is almost certain to inoculate with a fatal disease called obsolescence. You may think that you are well known, and still be defeated by men who never knew of you until they saw your name on the ballot on election day. When it comes to a public office, no oyster need apply.

I. W. Alter for County Assessor

I. W. Alter is a candidate for county assessor of Wayne county on the republican ticket. No apologies need be made. He was duly nominated in the regular way at the April primaries, and if he is elected he has the ability, experience and integrity to fill the office with credit to himself and the party. It is the first time that his name ever has graced a county ballot for a county office. He never has exercised his American prerogative to chase the phantom goddess that presides over the elective positions and now, that his name is on the ticket, it is up to the voters to consider his claims.

He is an Iowa product. He is charged up to Des Moines county. It was in Iowa that he received his education. He traveled the course of the public schools and later studied at Howe's Academy at Mount Pleasant, Iowa. It was in Iowa that he first had actual contact with real business. It was in Iowa that he married the good wife who has been the partner of his sorrows and pleasures during his business career.

He Is a Nebraska Homesteader

In eighteen hundred and eighty-four he left Iowa behind and came the river over. The lure of Nebraska prairie land pulled him out of an Iowa store and made him a Nebraska homesteader. He settled in Pierce county near Plainview and there experienced the pleasure, and short measure, of homestead life on the frontier. It was there that he learned frugality, economy and a few other things not taught in fashionable schools. It was there he caloused his palms and sweat the sweat of an honest farmer. After three years on the claim he commuted his entry and received a patent from the government. Later he moved to Plainview and engaged in the implement business. He is a business man by instinct and training. He is careful and painstaking. He is methodical and for these qualities blames his early business experience. He has owned land all his life and has thus been chained close to the soil. He knows what a farmer finds out by experience or learns in the university of drought and grasshoppers.

Twenty-Four Years

in Wayne County

Twenty-four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Alter came to Wayne, and here they have lived ever since. Here they built their home and planted their vine, and Ben Davis. They liked Wayne, and Wayne people, and Wayne peoples soon learned to like them. They have made many friends, and their friends of early days are still their friends, if they are living. Mr. Alter went into the abstract business. He became an expert searcher of titles. For years he has poured over the county record and traced holdings through all the transactions this side of the government patent. As to values and worth of real property he qualified in the hard school of close and actual contact. He knows what taxes have been for all the years the land has been taxed.

Hand Made and Kiln Dried Ability

Wayne county farmers and business men, you want a man of ability and of fine integrity to set tax values on your property. You want an honest, hard-headed business man, who can do business on business principles and by business methods. This is not politics, it's business. You want a man that you can trust to do the fair thing by all property and by all property owners. You want a man that will make each dollar's worth of property bear its just proportion of the public burden. That is the thing that makes taxes light. Men who have known I. W. Alter for years believe him to be admirably equipped for the office of county assessor. They know that he is honest and fair and just and will stand first, last, and between meals, for a fair and equitable assessment of every dollar's worth of property in the county. They know that his books will be neat, well kept, and creditable. They know that everything will be business-like and done as it should be. They know, too, that electing I. W. Alter to the office of county assessor, is not sending a boy to mill or hitching a colt to the loaded dray. They know his ability is hand-made and kiln-dried.

A Six Million Dollar County

Just wait a minute and let this soak in: Wayne is almost a six million dollar county. In round numbers the assessed valuation this year is $5,776,289. That is lots of property, and it makes the office of county assessor one of the most responsible offices in the county. There is no office that is more important. If you are going to elect a man without qualifications to some position don't make him assessor. Here you want a level-headed man who knows his business, and is responsible, and is a judge of property values and one who is not afraid to do the right thing.

Mr. Alter is the kind of a man we are talking about—in fact, he is the man. He has been an abstracter for years. That is a fine school in which to learn land prices and former assessments. He is in the real estate and insurance business now and has been for several years and that touches the price of land and city homes and city merchandise and personal property. His business for the last twenty-four years has had to do with price, assessment, insurance, and settlements. His word is as good and as binding as a buckskin note. Whether republican or democrat, that is the kind of a man you want to assess, and to oversee the assessment of your property in Wayne county.

The county assessor will have under him and subject to his direction thirteen or fourteen precinct assessors who will do their work as directed by the chief. These men must be aligned and supervised so that the work is done right and satisfactorily. This adds to the responsibility and will call into requisition more of the chief assessor's qualities.

For Twelve Years

Justice of the Peace

For the last twelve years I. W. Alter has been pressed into service by the people of Wayne precinct and compelled to serve as Justice of the Peace. He has not sought the office, did not want the office, but it has been thrust upon him. He has served, however, to the entire satisfaction of the community and has made a fine judge of the initial court.

Mr. Alter is always identified with all public enterprises and is in every way a public spirited citizen. He stands for the good things, the clean things, and the progressive things of the community.

And now, gentlemen, he aspires to an office in which politics has little or no place. The property owner does not care whether the assessor is a republican or a democrat if he is a man who can be trusted and who will do his duty without partiality and leave no favorite untaxed. If he will be economical and thorough, honest and reliable, his partisan affiliation will be forgotten. Mr. Alter makes no promises aside from the statement that he will do his duty to the best of his ability, but his friends go on his bond and bind him to be fair, just and efficient. FRANK FRENCH.

THE TREND TOWARD WILSON

This is a time when straws which will show which way the political wind is blowing are eagerly watched by men of all political parties as well as citizens who are not especially strong in party affiliation. One of Wayne's business men has been for several weeks improving the chance to get expression of traveling men who call upon him, and he is surprised at the result. Of fifteen first questioned eleven had been republican, but were now for Wilson. Among nine others, he found but two voters who were for Hughes. One of these had been a Roosevelt man, and would transfer his allegiance to the man acceptable to the Colonel. Of these men eleven out of twelve were for Wilson and an equally large percentage believed that he would be elected.

One morning this week a traveling man, wearing the little brass button on the lapel of his coat, indicating where he had stood in the late unpleasantness was a visitor at this office. He said that he had always voted it straight without question until six years ago, when things did not look to suit him. Four years ago he was so dissatisfied with his old party leaders that he would not vote for their nominee, and did not vote for any presidential candidate. He was afraid of the name Democracy because he did not understand it—but now he is equipped to vote by mail for he will not be home on election day, and says that Woodrow Wilson will have his vote. And every where reports come the same way.

Probably the candidate for vice president on the prohibition ticket told more in a few words of the cause of Christianity being some 2,000 years in getting to its present position than most are willing to admit. He said they had wasted their best ammunition and energy in fighting each other over doctrinal points, instead of fighting the devil with their powder and thunder. He admitted that one road to heaven was as good as the other—if one lives so as to get there.

When you go to the polls to vote in November remember that it is your duty to vote for what you think will be to the best interest of all the people. If that be a call for a change of administration and you want to take the chance vote that way.

According to the map shown of the territory gained by the French from the Germans in their last three months of almost constant fighting is less than one half the size of this little county of Wayne. The losses on both sides have been nearly a half million men in the time. And to think that America is not permitted to participate in this glorious affair. Imagine such a struggle, such a price for 117 square miles of territory.

Having first expurgated and then censored their movie films, the Republican National Committee should now transmute or somehow inject into the speeches of its standard-bearer some sort of an intelligible constructive program that will appeal to a thinking and intelligent electorate.

A chain is no stronger than its weakest link. Let us have a strong judiciary in this district, one that we can be proud of, and the people at large envious of. Judge Welch and Judge Allen, would make this district one of the strongest in the state. Let us elect them both.

School Notes

Visitors during the week were, Mesdames Wm. Anderson, John Meister, A. R. Davis, F. R. Dean Wilson Rickabaugh, H. G. Miner and Ruth Ingham

Recently enrolled pupils are Marion Kortwright, fifth grade; Mary Parker, third grade; Navine Osborn and Isabel Adams, first grade.

A practice game of football between the high school team and the college second team Friday evening resulted in a score of 13 to 0 in favor of the latter. The boys have a game scheduled with Pender for October 27. Here's hoping they win.

The Freshmen class and some members of the faculty enjoyed a "wienies" roast last Friday evening. They report a jolly time.

At a recent class meeting the Junior class elected the following officers: President, Don Gildersleeve; vice president, Virginia Bowen; secretary-treasurer, Wilma Gildersleeve.

The Watchword staff has been completed except for an editor for the department of athletics. Those selected were Helen Main, editor-in-chief; Virginia Bowen, associate editor; Donald Gildersleeve, business manager; Knox Jones, assistant manager. Class editors are Cidne Macklin, Senior; Russel Prescott, Junior; Stella Arnold, Sophomore; Mary House, Freshman. Each class has provided a committee to solicit subscriptions. It is hoped they will meet ready response.

The teachers hold their regular meeting this evening when they will begin the study of the reading circle work for the year. The text used is "Sociology and Modern Social Problems", by Elliott.

The seventh grade surprised their teacher, Miss Clara Burson, last Friday evening by presenting her with a souvenir spoon in honor of her birthday anniversary, and inviting her to a party in the music room. Here a short program was rendered, games played, and refreshments of punch, ice cream and cake were served. The pupils were also so thoughtful as to provide company for Miss Burson's father who was ill, so that she might be free from worry.

The first football game of the season is scheduled for Friday evening when the Wayne team will meet the Laurel boys on the college gridiron at 4:15. The public is invited to see the fun.

See the Democrat for wedding invitations.

Social Notes

The first meeting of the year of the Monday club took place at the home of Mrs. Kiplinger. Mrs. T. W. Moran, the new president of the club, spoke on some of the work to be done this year. The members of the club told of the reading they had done during the past summer. The newly elected members, Mrs. T. T. Jones, Mrs. Rollie Ley, and Mrs. C. A. Mc-Masters were welcomed by the club. Mrs. Kiplinger, Mrs. H. H. Hahn and Mrs. G. J. Hess, members of the program committee served a two course luncheon following the program. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. C. Main.

The regular meeting of the U. D. Club was held Monday at the home of Mrs. Harry Craven. Members answered to the roll call by telling some current event. Mrs. Ray Reynolds read a paper on "Musical Good Housekeeping", Mrs. H. S. Ringland a discussion of Music M. D.; Mrs. Craven playing records upon the phonograph illustrating the musical prescriptions the M. D. calls for. The program was a most unique one and most thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Following the meeting the hostess served light refreshments. The next session of the club will meet at the home of Mrs. C. M. Craven.

The P. E. O. sisterhood met with Mrs. A. A. Welch and daughter, Miss Florence for a domestic evening Monday. The members, of whom nearly all were present, responded to the roll call by mentioning and explaining some labor saving device. Mrs. Harry Fisher read a paper on "The Model Kitchen" and Mrs. Don Cunningham an article on "Table Setting and Serving". Mrs. J. W. Jones was leader in the discussion. The hostesses served dainty refreshments at the close of the meeting. Mrs. S. R. Theobald will be the hostess next week.

Mrs. H. J. Felber entertained at her home Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5:30 twenty little folks in honor of her little daughter Evelyn's fourth birthday. Games were played that whiled away the time very pleasantly. Little Miss Evelyn was given many presents by her numerous little friends. A light luncheon was served about five o'clock, the little guests taking their departure soon after, thanking their hostess for the nice time.

The Shakespeare club held their meeting at the Dr. Heckert home Tuesday evening with Miss Rachel Fairchild. The year's program was adopted, the study this year being Mexico. Further plans for other work were discussed which will be announced later. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Miss Nettie Craven.

The Acme club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Bressler. A business meeting was held, committees appointed for the looking after certain work of the club. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the business session. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. S. R. Theobald.

Last week Thursday was the 76th birthday of Mrs. Henry Jans, and a number of her lady friends spent the afternoon with her in honor of the event. Several tokens of friendship were left with her as reminders that she still has friends. After refreshments the ladies departed wishing her many returns of the anniversary.

Auto Turns Turtle

While coming to Wayne Sunday evening in a roadster, Bert and George Van Norman, accompanied by L. J. Courtright went into the ditch over the end of a culvert near the Brown farm. Fortunately no one was seriously injured. Sitting three in a seat, George Van-Norman had one foot out of the car, and jumped when he saw what was coming. Bert, the driver, ducked under the steering wheel and crawled out through the door when the machine stopped skidding. Mr. Courtright was caught by one foot, and it was quite badly bruised, and across the chest, so that he was not able to move, but the men who got out and some from the car they were meeting lifted the car so that he was soon released. They met another automobile at this point, and each gave the proper share of the road, but the little car failed to get back into the road before the culvert was reached. They do not blame anyone for the accident, and lay it to the fact that the glare of the lamps on the other car so blinded the driver that he could not see the road well.

Return of The Savidge Company

After the most prosperous season ever enjoyed by this well known organization the Walter Savidge Amusement Company will conclude its season with a five day engagement in Wayne starting Tuesday, Oct. 17th. While the personal of the company is practically the same as at the opening of the season, a number of new and novel carnival features have been added, including the California Sea Lions, the Australian Kangeroos and African Ostrich Farm. The Wayne public will no doubt be pleased to learn that Querry & Grandy have returned to the company and will appear on the streets each afternoon and evening in their clever ariel and contortion act and the Savidge Challenge Band will also be in evidence with three concerts daily. Be sure and bring the little ones for a ride on the Merry Go Round and The Ferris Wheel and do not fail to see The Savidge Dramatic Players who will open in the Myron Leffingwells beautiful play "On the Border" and change their play each night during their engagement.

DELINQUENT TAX LIST FOR THE YEAR 1915.

County treasurer's office, Wayne, Wayne county, Neb., October 2, 1916.

Notice is hereby given, that in compliance with the revenue laws of the State of Nebraska, I, L. W. Roe, the county treasurer of Wayne county, will on Monday the 6th day of November, 1916, between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., at the office of the county treasurer in the county court house in Wayne, in said county, offer at public sale and sell the following described real estate, or as much of each tract of land or town lot as shall be necessary for the amount due thereon for the taxes of the year 1915, as herein stated together with all expenses for advertising, costs and fees that by law have or may be accrued at the time of payment. I will adjourn the sale from day to day, until all the said real estate has been offered for sale.

L. W. Roe, County Treasurer, Township 25, Range 1.

The Ideal Ranch

Your Choice of Fifty Thousand Acres in East Central Nebraska

Have you pictured to yourself the Ideal Ranch? It would be within 150 miles of Omaha, adjoining the corn belt, embracing a valley of unfading hay in which flowing wells would furnish the purest of water, and adjoining this valley would be the cheap pasture land required to finish the picture and make this Ideal Ranch both complete and profitable.

Such a combination seems too good to be true. Yet it is true. We can furnish you a ranch fulfilling every element of this picture in the famous Beaver Valley in East Central Nebraska. Read the following statements—You can bank on them.

1. For 20 years it has been my business to purchase large bodies of land belonging to individuals or estates and subdivide them, selling them out at a very moderate profit to smaller purchasers. I buy at wholesale and sell at retail and can make a moderate profit on my wholesale price and still sell the land for less money than a man would have to pay the average occupant of the same territory. The very process of subdivision enhances the value of the land so that any man purchasing at or near the start can take a substantial profit the day I am through. I have never subdivided a single tract where the men did not within 5 years from the date of purchase reach a point where they could double their investment. To take a place near at hand, I sold out most of Boone county by buying the larger holdings and subdividing them. I am safe in saying and can readily prove that every purchaser made from twice to four times what he invested within the first six years. For five years I have been buying back and re-selling at a profit land which I sold less than ten years ago at $35.00 to $40.00 per acre, and I have been paying $75.00 to $110.00 per acre and then making a profit on a re-sale. What I did in Boone county I will do to the adjoining lands on the Beaver Valley and I will do it in less time because the class of customers who are coming today are more able to do things and do them faster than the customers to whom I sold the Boone county land.

2. I have purchased from the Allerton-Thompson people 50,000 acres along the Beaver Valley. The Beaver joins the Loup river just west of Columbus and runs Northwest through Platte, Nance, Boone and Wheeler counties. Our lands begin some twenty miles Northwest of Albion and fourteen miles West of Elgin. I am subdividing this great tract. It now lies from fourteen to twenty miles from a railroad but the railroad is only a matter of development and days. The man who goes there now will double his money if the railroad never comes and will treble or quadruple his money the day a railroad is assured. A man must make his choice whether he will go ahead of the railroad and have the railroad come and make him independent or whether he will wait for the railroad and then buy, paying for the railroad three or four times over. There is no point on this ranch ten miles from a good market town in East Central Nebraska, right in the corn belt. It is the best buy in Nebraska today. We will take Eastern Nebraska property in exchange at its real value but will not stand for inflation as our price are uniform to every customer.

3. Nature made the Beaver Valley the best hay land in Nebraska. To nature's great assortment of grasses man has added Timothy, Clover, Red Top and Blue Grass—all of which thrive when the seed is merely sprinkled over the sod—until today the mixed grasses of this valley will produce as much beef and more milk per acre than the highest priced corn land in the state.

4. We have abundance of grass thirty days earlier and from thirty to ninety days later than the average Nebraska pasture.

5. We have water that cannot be beaten in the world—pure, ever flowing, cool in summer, warm in winter, cheap to obtain, costing nothing for maintenance, and inexhaustible.

6. One of these valley quarters properly managed, with less labor, less expense, less risk and therefore less worry, will produce more profit per acre than the highest priced corn land.

7. Adjoining these hay flats are the Summer pastures where stock can be raised at less expense per head than in the olden days when range was free. Posts and wire cost less than range riders and the percentage of loss is infinitely less.

8. We can divide this property to suit. If the tract you select is short of buildings we will build to suit and have the buildings completed for your occupancy. We have started out to make this a valley of homes and the man who buys now will win a home and fortune at once. Our prices are cash prices but we can give you terms because Loan Companies will loan as large a per cent of the selling value of this land as they will on the highest priced corn land in the state.

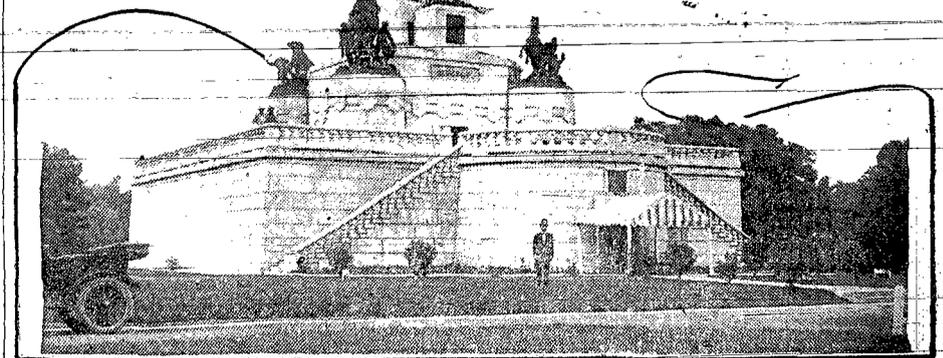

9. The cutting up of this great ranch means a tremendous development in Nebraska's most beautiful valley.

COME. Don't wait to write but telephone at our expense. Our cars will meet you any where. We can suit you. Opportunity is knocking now.

"BUCK'S" BASE BURNERS

FIRST

Economy Durability Convenience Appearance

"Buck's Double Base" Base Burner

A non-competitive heating machine that is the most beautiful, best mounted, easiest controlled Base Burner in the world

It is a specialty, because it has a double base; it is two stoves in one, a first class base burner multiplied by two.

On account of the double base it has a hot air circulating flue system twice the size of any other Base Burner.

The double base and double size hot air circulating flue system produces the largest radiating surface ever put into any Base Burner.

This causes it to deliver double the heat with a given amount of fuel, or as much heat with half the fuel.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Cattle Market Active and Steady,
Fair Receipts

ANOTHER DECLINE IN HOGS

Reaction in Killer Lambs; Good, Active Market. Values 10@20c Higher Than on Monday. Tops Bring $9.70. Brisk Feeder Trade—Offerings Sell Readily on Good, Strong Basis—Fat Sheep Also Active, Firm—Comparatively Moderate Run.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Nebraska, October 4th, 1916.—A fair run of cattle showed up for Tuesday, some 464 loads, or about 12,000 head. Corn-fed cattle were very scarce on Tuesday's market, but what few cattle were offered found a ready sale at steady and in some cases stronger figures. A small bunch of very choice light yearlings landed at $10.35, and the fair to good 1,050 to 1,300-pound beefs are quoted around $8.75@9.50. Receipts of cows and heifers were not very large for Tuesday, but there was a healthy demand from both local packers and outside butchers, and trade was active with prices fully steady with Monday's.

Quotations on cattle. Good to choice beefs, $10.00@10.60; fair to good beefs, $8.75@9.75; common to fair beefs, $6.50@8.50; good to choice heifers, $6.70@7.00; good to choice cows, $6.35@6.75; fair to good cows, $5.50@6.25; canners and cutters, $4.50@5.50; veal calves, $8.00@11.00; bologna bulls, $5.25@5.85; beef bulls, $6.00@7.00.

Arrivals of hogs for Tuesday were the largest since three weeks ago, amounting to 102 cars, or 7,000 head. Packers had the stage all set for another drop, and while sellers flatly refused offers of $9.00 for their packing house droves early, they eventually had to take that figure. Shippers had some orders, and passed up all but the very best, and this rendered their competition of little or no real benefit to the general market.

Bulk of the hogs moved at $8.90@9.10, while a sprinkling of the better stuff sold on up to $9.25, and a shipper gave $9.40 for one load, the top. Receipts of sheep and lambs for Tuesday were really moderate for this time of the year, only about 90 cars, or 25,000 head putting in their appearance. So far this week supplies are only a little more than half as large as for Monday and Tuesday a week ago. The demand from packers was lively and competition very keen, movement starting early at $10@20c higher prices.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, good to choice, $9.40@9.50; lambs, fair to good, $9.15@9.35; lambs, feeders, $9.00@9.75; yearlings, good to choice, $7.75@8.25; yearlings, fair to good, $7.00@7.75; yearlings, feeders, $6.50@8.25; wethers, fair to choice, $5.50@7.75; ewes, good to choice, $5.50@6.75; ewes, fair to good, $5.75@6.50; ewes, plain to culls, $4.00@5.50; ewes, feeding, $4.50@6.00; ewes, breeders, all ages, $6.25@9.00.

Captain Ralph McMillan, head of the Nebraska aviator corps, was killed in a night at the county fair at St. Francis, Kan.

Monday evening Miss Sarah J. Killen of the normal faculty had the pleasure of entertaining cousins from the old home state, Pennsylvania. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Tomb, and their two nephews, Byron and Bion Tomb, from Vandergrift of the "Key-stone" state were here, coming by automobile the entire 2,100 or more miles. They made the trip in seven days time. They were also guests at the Thos. Bracken home, Mrs. B., being a former neighbor.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Williams (better known as "Wat") from Lakefield, Minnesota, came Tuesday evening to visit with their many friends in this vicinity, where they lived for so many years, and with relatives at and near Carroll. Mr. Williams tells us that the Minnesota fish crop is very large this year, and that oats and corn are also good crops. As to wheat, he said that he had none this year. However, Wat did not try to tell us any fish stories which he expected us to believe. He said they had been seining Heron Lake near his place and that the first few hauls the catch was measured by tons—but then he never said Jonah swallowed the whale.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

The Hartington race meet has been declared off—instead of being pulled off.

Nick Hansen, who spent two or three weeks at the Wayne hospital put there by infection from a bad tooth is able to be out and has gone to the home of his uncle, Emil Hansen just out of town for a week or two while convalescing. He was seriously ill for more than a week.

Rev. Gherke from northeast of town and Theq. Schmidt, their school teacher, and Geo. Brammer left Tuesday for Arlington to attend the conference of the German Lutheran church for northeast Nebraska which will be in session at that place for a week.

Leo, Menney, who was in the meat business at Wayne about two and a half years ago, and still owns property here, was over from Stuart Tuesday looking after his property and visiting acquaintances. He reports that crops are above average in his part of the state.

Randolph, it is said, is to have a new depot. They need it, and it seems that it really should be a union depot at a junction of the two roads through that place. Because the Omaha and the Burlington are not on the best of terms is poor excuse for the building of depots and timing trains so as to make it as inconvenient as possible for the traveling public.

A number of auto loads of people went to Carroll Monday evening to hear Evangelist Mrs. Stephens who is holding revival meetings there this week. Mrs. Stephens will be remembered as the evangelist who held such splendid meetings at the Methodist church in Wayne last winter. The meetings at Carroll are proving a big success, converts going forward every evening. Mrs. Stephens spoke on the great "Passion" play that is held in Oberammergau, Germany, drawing lessons from its teachings that apply to our life here.

Alex Scott and wife went to Sioux City Sunday to visit a day or two, and he visited the stockyards Monday to see what he might find in the way of a car or two of feeders for his corn crop. He thinks that a good way to market it.

The home of L. A. Fanske and wife was the scene of a pleasant gathering Sunday, when two cars loads of their Sioux City friends and relatives drove out to take breakfast with them and remained for dinner. The party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Evenson, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Keith and daughter Joyce, Misses Ella and Anna Peterson, Mrs. Sadie Smith, Miss Margaret Waters, Miss Sena Aune, and Mrs. Fanske's mother and sister, Mrs. C. Wells and daughter Marjorie. The hours were pleasantly passed renewing old acquaintance and discussing the news regarding mutual friends. Part of the ladies of the party were employed with Mrs. Fanske before she wed and came to Wayne.

O. C. Lewis returned home last week from a hurried trip through the west, where he went on a business mission. He says that he was not in California long enough to know much of it, but the first impression was not really pleasing. When he went west the strike was pending, and no one knew when he might have to get out and walk the rest of the way. At Grand Junction, Colorado, he said the railroads had at that time refused to accept more fruit for shipment, but they allowed the peach growers to load refrigerator cars in an effort to keep their valuable crop from spoiling, and also that it would be ready to move if the trouble was averted. He saw hundreds of cars loading there with the finest of peaches. Most of the orchards owners had discharged their pickers, as there would be no market for the crop in case of strike. Mr. Lewis stopped in Utah on the trip west.

Twenty-seven persons were injured, several seriously, when a broken rail on the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad near Mancelona, Mich., caused nine coaches of the Chicago and Cincinnati flyer to go over an embankment.

Stookum Jim Mason, an Indian who with George Carmack of Seattle discovered the Klondike gold field twenty years ago, died in poverty recently at Carcross, Yukon territory. At one time he had $100,000 in gold, nearly all of which he squandered.

Professor Charles Rose Rines of Dartmouth college, who was sued for breach of promise by Miss Edna May Grove of Omaha, was married to Miss Charlotte Everett of Chicago. His bride said she refused to let a breach of promise suit interfere with her happiness.

Villa, with a force recruited as a result of his recent victories in the vicinity of Satevo, to about 1,000 men, attacked General Elizadondo in the vicinity of Santa Ysabel and forced the Carranza leader, who had about 600 troops, to fall back toward Chihuahua City.

Lady Lang of Los Angeles, already champion of several distance swims, is the possessor of another title, having bested Duke Kahanamoku in the 500-yard open water swim at Honolulu. His time of six minutes, eleven and two-fifths seconds is a new amateur American record.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, made public a statement on "Labor's Achievements and Issues" for 1916, in which he characterized the past year as a remarkable one in the progress of the labor movement, especially in the shortening of the working day and in general labor legislation.

President Wilson formally opened his campaign for re-election with a speech accepting the Democratic nomination in which he characterized the Republican party as a "practical and moral failure," defended his Mexican and European policies, recited the legislative achievements of his administration and declared for "Big America."

Shall We Discard Local Option and Adopt State Prohibition?

Under the existing Local Option Law, it lies within the power of the citizens of any community in Nebraska to adopt local prohibition for their own city, town, or village.

In every community in this state absolute control over this question lies in the hands of the majority of the voters. No interference from the outside is possible; nothing can thwart the wishes of the majority in the city, town or village, with respect to the question of license or no license.

Many communities in this state have availed themselves of the power granted to them under our Local Option Law, and have adopted local prohibition for their own community. Where there is a dominant LOCAL public sentiment in support of that policy, it is possible to make the no-license policy respected and obeyed.

There are, on the other hand, many communities in this state where it is the opinion of the majority of the citizens that the license policy is better adapted to their own community. Where that is the prevailing sentiment, the community is permitted, under our existing Local Option Law, to license the sale of alcoholic beverages—subject of course to the provisions and restrictions of the general state law.

In neither case, is a policy forced on a community from without. The principle of Home Rule prevails.

It is now proposed to substitute for this policy of local self-government, the policy of state-wide prohibition. This prohibition policy is not intended for the relief of communities in which the no-license policy already prevails, but is designed to FORCE such a policy on other communities against their will.

The result, as the experience of other states has abundantly established, would be disastrous in every city and town on which prohibition is forced. It means, where dominant local sentiment is opposed to prohibition, lax enforcement of the law, the dividing of such towns into bitterly hostile factions, the reign of the spy and of the informer, the rapid growth of crime—and in the end it means higher taxes.

Against the substitution of such a system for that under which Nebraska is now operating, everyone having the best interests of the people of this state at heart, should solemnly protest.

COMING BACK

UNITED DOCTORS SPECIALISTS WILL AGAIN BE AT Wayne, Nebraska, Union Hotel, Friday, October 27, 1916—ONE DAY ONLY.
Hours 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.—Remarkable Success of Talented Physician in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases
Offer Services Free of Charge

The United Doctors Specialist, licensed by the State of Nebraska, for the treatment of all diseases, including deformities, nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect. The United Doctors are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their result that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, rheumatism, sciatica, tapeworm, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep-seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physician, should not fail to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

According to their system no more operation for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter, piles, etc., as all cases accepted will be treated without operation or hypodermic injection, as they were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, call, it costs you nothing.

Remember, this free offer, is for this visit only.

POULTRY and EGGS

STARTING THE PULLETS.

Young Chickens Should Not Be Forced to Begin Egg Laying.

Egg laying in late fall and early winter is not in accordance with natural law, writes Professor J. B. Morman in the Buffalo News. Fowls are domesticated wild birds. The natural period for laying is during spring and early summer. Therefore to get eggs from pullets in winter it is necessary to give growing chickens special care and attention.

The first essential to success is to keep the young birds growing steadily. The pullets should be separated from the cockerels when about three months old. When four months of age the pullets should be growing into promising layers. At this age they should be given every opportunity to mature naturally. But it is a mistake to force pullets too rapidly. Such a practice may produce a few more eggs at the start, but it will usually result in disappointment.

The pullets may molt. In that case egg production in winter will cease, or the pullets will not reach normal size when they begin to lay. In that case the eggs will probably be small in

The white variety of the Cornish family of fowls, unlike their dark brethren, is an American production, originating about forty years ago. While not a great egg producer, the White Cornish will hold its own with any of the general utility fowls. It is as a table bird that the Cornish shines. Cocks frequently weigh over ten pounds, the hens a pound less. The bird shown is a White Cornish cockerel.

By no means force pullets by overfeeding with such high animal protein feeds as ground bone, meat scraps, fish scraps or skimmilk. They need small amounts of animal protein for proper growth and normal egg production, but overfeeding is fatal to success. To be properly fitted for laying a pullet should be in full flesh, with a small amount of surplus fat. The latter is required to maintain the normal body heat as cold weather comes on. Body heat is constantly being radiated, and the supply must be kept up by means of fat. To produce a proper amount of fat growing pullets must be fed a balanced ration. How to do this successfully is one of the problems of poultry raising.

It is good practice to pen pullets by themselves when being fitted for winter egg laying. The pens should be prepared as early in the fall as possible. They should be properly cleaned and thoroughly disinfected. If possible, each pen should have a good sized yard and have roosting quarters, scratching pen, dust bath and nesting places. These should all be under cover, well lighted and dry and well ventilated. Cleanliness and roominess tend to keep growing pullets healthy and vigorous, and both are essential to successful egg production.

Recent tests by the United States department of agriculture show that fowls given certain feed showed 63 per cent of cornmeal, 20 per cent of beef scrap and 17 per cent of bran and middlings. Such a ration consists of the essential food elements of protein, carbohydrates and fats. Pullets must have all three forms of food substances.

Hens Need Animal Food.

Beef scrap is the most convenient form in which to feed animal food. This is a byproduct of the large packing houses and contains meat and bone in varying proportions which have gone through a boiling and drying process. It contains, therefore, little moisture compared with fresh meat scraps. It varies considerably in composition, but should contain from 50 to 60 per cent protein. Beef scrap varies also in quality. It should be light colored, with a meaty flavor and somewhat oily to the touch. When boiling water is poured over it should have a fresh, hearty flavor. If it gives off a putrid odor don't feed it.

Hens Like Bran and Middlings.

The byproducts of wheat—bran and middlings—form an important part in poultry rations in nearly all sections of the country. Bran is richer in protein than wheat, there being fourteen pounds in 100 pounds of bran and about twelve pounds in 100 pounds of wheat. It also contains more fat than wheat. These facts added to its relative cheapness make it an economical food to feed.

Our Policy Toward Telephone Employees

It is our policy to pay good wages in order that we may secure and retain capable employees.

Also, we believe it is economy and good business judgment to pay high enough salaries, to those who have proved their worth, as will encourage the younger people in the organization to work faithfully with better positions as their goal.

We strive to assist worthy employees to lay aside a part of their earnings by making it easy for them to acquire financial interest in the business. More than half of the men employed by this Company are stockholders.

With no expense to employees, we provide for their sickness, disability, injury, old age or death, as well if not in a broader spirit than any other corporation or government.

To make for the highest efficiency in the organization we rigidly enforce the principle of advancement of employees, dependent upon integrity, ability and meritorious work alone.

KEITH NEVILLE

Democratic Candidate for Governor

A NATIVE SON

A practical man of the people who has made a success in business and to whom the tricks of the ambitious politician are unknown.

He offers a constructive program that will benefit the people of Nebraska and his candidacy is in harmony with the strong Democratic platform adopted by his party at Hastings.

He believes that the highest duty of any public servant is to carefully see to it that the will of the people, as expressed at the polls upon all questions, is carefully carried out.

The two Republican newspapers in North Platte are supporting his candidacy and the vote of nearly five to one given him at the primary election by the people of his home town, among whom he was born and raised, is proof absolute that he is a man of character and standing and a safe one to be entrusted with the business affairs, as well as the enforcement of the laws of the state.

Charles E. Vansant, twenty-three-old son of a Philadelphia physician, was attacked by a shark while bathing in the surf off Beach Haven, N. J., and died before he could be rescued.

RUNDELL'S COLUMN

It is now evident that the big interests desired a disastrous railroad strike as the only means of defeating Wilson, that they might call him weak and wabbling, vacillating, inefficient, incompetent and fit only for a college presidency, but lacking the qualifications for presiding of a great republic. At the coming g. o. p. rally he will be denounced for his eight-hour law and the orators will shed crocodile tears over the poor farmers who must work sixteen hours to pay the railroad men twice the wages for half the time, which reminds me of my first contract to teach school at $3.00 a day when common labor was worth only $1.00. The director wanted me to chop wood before and after school hours.

The farmer is not as silly as you think, Mr. Whooper-up, he knows the ten-hour day for men and nine hours for women does not apply to the farmer. They will denounce the reserve banking law, by which the business men may borrow from the government at low rate of interest instead of Wall street at a high rate.

A stock feeder at Coleridge borrowed $15,000 of this democratic money at 3% per cent per annum. What hurts them is this new government money to be used to cancel all of the going to be used to cancel all of the bank notes and burn the bonds thereby saving the people $40,000,000 a year now being paid as interest on these bonds deposited by the banks. These bonds were primarily issued for greenbacks that had been paid out during the war and the money burned. The bonds refunded when due and pathetically referred to by the republicans as a sacred war debt, but it has been left to Woodrow Wilson to pay that sacred war debt with a match.

That is their unrevealed objection to the reserve bank law. The farmers for many years have been asking the government to loan direct to them but it was left for the democrats to devise a plan for the purpose. The commission appointed for the purpose has visited over a hundred cities to locate these farm loan banks where most needed. This commission, headed by Wilson's son-in-law called in the farmers for consultation. It reports that it found farmers paying as high as 60 per cent interest including commissions on land security that would be acceptable by Wall street and it satellites howl over being robbed of the craft they have enjoyed for 50 years and with it the power to produce a panic, at will. Had Wilson not monkeyed with the financial laws his other reform measures would have escaped criticism and his foreign policies would have been the best ever.

The 8 hour law provides for 8 hours work for 10 hours pay for six months as an experiment and a commission of experts to watch its operation. Should this commission after finding the railroad property to be worth less than six billion and that their net profit last year was over one billion on a capitalization of 17 billions it is more liable to recommend a reduction rather than an increase in rates. Since Wilson is long on experiments he may surprise the bank of England by restoring the old democratic law for the free coinage of both silver and gold. The Bryan Democrats have persistently claimed that England through the repeal of that law has profited up to date over 16 hundred millions on the purchase of silver bullion at the expense of the American producer. EXAMINE a fine lace collar that has been washed with Ivory Soap. Notice how clear it is in color. How much it feels like a brand new piece. How fresh and unworn it looks in every thread. That shows the quality of Ivory Soap—its mildness, purity and freedom from uncombined alkali.

To Wash Real Lace Collars and Other Fine Laces

Fasten the lace to a piece of clean white muslin so that each point and picot is held firmly in place. Make a good lather of Ivory Soap and warm water and let the laces soak for thirty minutes. Then alternately press between hands and dip in the water until clean. Do not rub. If necessary use a second clean sud of Ivory Soap. Then rinse in clear water, next in blue water and lastly in a thin starch. Tack on a board stretching the muslin evenly. When nearly dry, remove from the board and press thoroughly through the muslin. Do not put iron on the lace. When dry, cut the binding threads and you will find the lace like new.
