TABERNACLE MEETINGS CLOSE

500 Converts Claimed. $3,000 in Cash. Successful from First to Last the Evangelists. Enter New Fields. Home Pastors Happy and Hopeful.

With the singing of the song "Bless Be the Tie that Binds" the five meetings came to an end, the curtain went down on the last act of one of the greatest revivals that Wayne and community has ever witnessed. Over one thousand people marched by the pulpit while the choir sang this grand old song and bid Evangelist Fife and his party goodby. There were tears in the eyes of many, showing that in four weeks stay here the party have won warm friends. Choister Earl Fife and Miss Yockey left Monday afternoon for their home at Plymouth, Indiana. Evangelist Fife and brother Robert, left Tuesday morning for Rushville, Missouri, where they will hunt ducks by day and chase fox by night, just as a little vacation trip for three days. Saturday they will go to Fulton, Missouri, where they open a four week campaign Sunday backed by twenty-one churches of Collaway county. Fred Kuhn and wife and little son "Fritzie" also left Tuesday morning for Fulton where Mr. Kuhn will get things in readiness for the opening of the meetings.

It is estimated that 500 converts have been won during the meetings. The budget of $1220 has been all paid in and the expense of the meeting have been cleared up, a fine feature, as it leaves no "lingering regrets." In the free will offering taken Sunday the Evangelist received $1224. From the concerts, of which there was two given by the party during their stay here, $579.50 was taken in. The total amount received then was $3023.50. Mr. Fife pays his helpers out of the amount taken in by the concert and collection, which is said to amount to over $10,000 a year.

Sunday last was a great day. The service in the morning despite the cold was well attended delegations from many surrounding counties and towns being present.

The sermon "A Convenient Season" won many men and women to the right side of life. The parade in the afternoon was the best demonstration of the month. With the Thurston band leading the long procession of Sunday school, delegations marched down main street. Several decorated floats added much to the line of march, the McIntosh float winning the prize $5.00 for the best offering.

The sermon at three o'clock was well attended and was full of good advice to both christian and non christian. In the evening the farewell sermon "Pharaohs Promise" went home to the listeners being one of the strongest texts touched upon.

And so the meetings are over. "The good that will be done rests with God and the people," said Fife. "I have worked with all the bodily and mental energy I have at my command." "Wayne and Wayne people are the best ever." Mr. Fife showed the effect of the campaign but he was cheerful and his voice sounded with that old lovable southern dialect that people have learned to like.

"We love Wayne and her people and we are going to thank you often." "By George," said Mr. Fife, relapsing into his southern vernacular, "there is only one thing I regret and that is that those hams did not arrive and I was cheated out of giving my friends a regular Kentucky feast." But here is an alternative. "If any of my friends should care to come to my home in Plymouth 'the White House on the hill' I will treat them to a feast that they will never forget. And Mr. Fife spoke as though he meant it.

From reliable source we gather that Mr. Fife and his party have received several invitations to hold meetings in Nebraska in the future. Their work in Wayne has surpassed all expectations. It has been of a community, moral uplifting nature. What ever may be said of them personally must be forgotten when one considers the real good in spiritual and higher mental value. The personal work of the company has been of the highest standard. The chorus under the able direction of Mr.

Earl Fife was an inspiration and of great help every meeting. Without him and his choir of 300 voices the meetings would have failed. Miss Yockey "the big sister" who endeared herself in the hearts of all young women and ladies of the town by her personal work, her soprano solo that was encored every time she sang, will be missed by all. Her personal work accomplished a world of good.

Fife's sermons were carefully planned to best fit the needs of the community and county spiritually, morally, mentally. They went home, they made better men and women of everyone who heard them and that is the highest compliment we could pay. We are going to miss him but we are never going to forget the "BOOZE" sermon, nor the Prayer sermon, nor "What Think ye of Christ", nor "Cleaning up the town" the last that so went home to the men and boys. Said one who attended much. "No we will never forget any of these nor any of the other sermons that inspired us to something worth while."

To the local ministers and every committee and every committeeman, all hail. To them belong great honor in being able to successfully finance and see that a tabernacle was completed to hold the meetings. To each of the four pastors of the local churches whose names are familiar to all, special thanks are due for earnestly working every moment in co-operation with the evangelist party.

So the campaign ends. May a feeling of good fellowship, the loyalty of a christian people, for one another and their fellow man in or out of the church be the ultimate outcome of the four week campaign.

The pastors of the Wayne churches paid the following tribute to the Fife party:

Wayne, Nebraska
Oct. 7th., 1916.

To all who are interested in Evangelism,
Greeting:—

The Fife Brothers Evangelistic Co. of Plymouth, Indiana have been in our midst leading the forces of righteousness against the cohorts of sin;

As their lives among us have been true and pure, plainly revealing their noble, christian characters;

As musicians and workers, they have wrought with the skill of the master artists;

As their courteous and loving personalities with kindly interest in the people have been manifest to all;

And as Brother Clyde Lee Fife's preaching has been fair, fearless, forceful, true in the doctrine and application;

Therefore, be it resolved that we the pastors and people of Wayne engaged in this campaign, do extend to them the right hand of christian fellowship and commend them to the churches everywhere.

Signed in behalf of the participating churches:—

Rev. W. L. Gaston, Pastor Baptist Church.

Rev. S. X. Cross Pastor Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Fetteroff, Pastor English Lutheran Church.

Northeast Medical Association

Forty-five, "pill slingers," as they are sometimes called, gathered at Wayne Monday evening to attend the semi-annual meeting of the Northeast Medical association of Nebraska. The business meeting convened at nine o'clock at the City-Hall auditorium where papers were read and discussed concerning some of the diseases that are called to the attention of the general practitioner. The papers read and the discussions were so interesting that the medical men did not adjourn to the Baptist church until nearly one o'clock for the banquet prepared for them by the ladies of that denomination. The wives of these excellent men, who are trained to watch and wait for their husbands at all hours day and night with a patience that only a doctor's wife knows, were entertained by the wives of the four physicians who had charge of the local program, at their homes. While the men talked of pills and bills the ladies no doubt talked well just talked as women talk.

Seventy-five people sat down to the banquet table at one o'clock and most thoroughly enjoyed the four course dinner. When all had dispensed of the food, toastmaster L. A. Kiplinger was introduced by the President of the society, Dr. Evans of Emerson, and the fun began. Mr. Kiplinger was at his best, surrounded by men who made him proud and scared. The first speaker introduced was John Buis past noble secretary of this august body and who had marvellous tales to tell of the letters the secretary receives from doctors who cannot attend the meetings and tell their excuses. Mr. Buis said there was three classes of doctors, the boaster, the loafer and the knocker. The first; always attended, paid their dues and did their level best to encourage the work that is being done by the society. The second, the loafer, did not care if they attended or not and if they did go it was to get something for nothing and to go home and forget all about everything said or done. The third class, the knocker, not only never attended, nor ever paid their dues but they always had a slam to dish out for any man who did go. Co-operation was the keynote of the address the speaker urging that every member boost for the better society.

Dr. E. J. Fleetwood of Wakefield was cleverly introduced by the toastmaster and after the preliminaries was given the floor to talk on the subject "Excuses, valid and otherwise." Mr. Fleetwood said in part that there was one excuse that let a doctor stay away from the meetings and that was sickness in the family, or himself or a patient that was very critically ill. The excuse "too busy" to come sounded good but it was rarely the truth. Such a statement often obscured the hidden meaning, jealousy, ill will, or selfishness. Mr. Fleetwood emphasized the meetings in that they were an educational feature in which every member no matter how wise he thought he might be, always obtained much good. The doctor rarely sees social life and such meetings give a chance to become better acquainted with men of his fraternity.

Dr. J. J. Williams cut his speech "The Doctor and the Public," short on account of the late hour and the last speaker of the program, Reverend W. L. Gaston of the Baptist church spoke on the subject "The Doctor". Mr. Kiplinger in introducing Mr. Gaston uttered some sayings, brilliant and otherwise, concerning Mr. Gaston's gaseous name so in his opening remarks Mr. Gaston stated that it could be plainly seen that Mr. Fred Berry's coaching of the past three weeks had wrought marvels in making Mr. Kiplinger a graduated after dinner toastmaster. And Mr. Toastmaster quietly subsided. Mr. Gaston, toast was brim full of humor and yet underlying the whole theme was a tribute to the profession that every man and woman present felt. A tribute was paid to the modern medical laboratories and the men of science who are giving their time and energy and often their wealth to discover the cause for these mysterious ills that often overlook us. Mr. Gaston emphasized one truth that the doctors heartily applauded when he said that fifty percent of the night calls are unnecessary. "A day doctor is a better physician than a night doctor." "The night call should be charged doubly for, then perhaps people would be a little more considerate when they roust a physician out to drive miles to attend a patient who is not dying nor has any intention to die."

In conclusion the speaker said that the people take off their hats to the doctor. "There is a shrine of heroic sacrifice, going to the home of the poor and rich alike, knowing often that no reward in money will be theirs, yet gladly sacrificing health, time and money to the cause of keeping the health of the community in good shape." "The greatest servant is the servant of fellowman for he who serves his fellow is serving his God."

This ended the meeting at Wayne. The next meeting will be held at Emerson in April. The attendance is steadily growing and the interest is manifesting itself, showing that the society is an educational and social success and regarded as such by the doctor.

The officers of the society are: Dr. Evans, president. Dr. F. G. Dewey of Coleridge, secretary-treasurer.

Physicians and surgeons of note attending the meeting were Dr. Townsend, Dr. Sibley and wife of Sioux City and Dr. Patton of Omaha.

W. E. Beaman Assigns to Creditors

When it became known Monday morning that W. E. Beaman, for more than five years last past an active grocer of this place, had made voluntary assignment of his stock, fixtures and accounts in favor of his creditors there was much surprise.

Those who knew his circumstances realized that he was doing a big volume of business and much credit on a small capital, and as his business appeared to be steadily growing it was assumed that he was doing reasonably well, hence the surprise.

The store has been closed since Monday and as yet no statement is given out of his assets and liabilities, but he told a representative of this paper that if they could sell at full value the difference would be slight.

Asked as to the cause, Mr. Beaman frankly stated that he had known for some time that he was not making headway financially, and had sought the cause and he thinks found in the fact that the business of the country town grocer is made up of too large percentage of business on which the profit is small or none at all. He found that fully 60 percent of his business was in this class, while the mail order houses were getting the greater part of profitable staple goods. It was his opinion that more than half of the coffee, tea, spices, etc. are sold from the mail order houses, the Larkin clubs and the like. He said that butter and much produce was handled without any margin—fruit and other perishable goods did not pay. One who used much coffee would come for a pound of coffee when out, but send away for 50 pounds. He was not complaining, but simply giving the reason as he saw it.

Mr. Beaman has a host of friends here who regret that his misfortune has come to him and to the community, for he had a store of which all were proud, and we do not think he has lost any in the respect or regard of the people who know him by taking the step he has.

Wallick-Laase

Welch and Cress at Williamston

Eastern dailies gave a report of the football game last Saturday afternoon between Williams and Union College. The game was played at Williamstown, Massachusetts, the home team winning by a score of 13 to 0. This game was of special interest to Wayne people because two of the players formerly played with the Normal team, Herbert Welch and G. E. Cress. Mr. Welch is now captain of the Williams team and played center. Mr. Cress had the position of full back.

He Sailed the Great Deep

K. Henry Meyer from near Wakefield was a pleasant caller Tuesday, and while here his conversation drifted back to the days of his youth. He tells us that he has for years taken a paper printed at Portlargo, Brazil, a place he visited often when a sailor. Until a few years ago he also received a paper regularly from China, but as it is now about forty years since he received his honorable discharge from the German navy he has lost interest in foreign affairs as told by a local paper.

After he became a seaman and had made numerous voyages, he was called to serve three years in the German navy, and for this service he was paid $7 per month, a half of which was taken for his clothing for the first half of his term of service. When his time was out his ship was in China, and he was therefore in service nearly six months over-time waiting for a relief ship to arrive. Those were long days to the boys, and not many of them cared to serve a second term. He said that but one out of 700 who finished their service when he did was willing to enlist. He was a member of the reserve as long as he remained a German subject, but that was not long. In China he met with the sailors and men of the American navy when on shore on leave of absence for a day or two, and he said that our boys were envied because of the greater pay they drew, and the consequent better financial condition when ashore. During his life of three-score and five years, more than ten years were spent on the water. He visited many foreign lands, and once "sailed round the horn," on his way to San Francisco. He could, beyond doubt tell many a tale of interest of adventure and sea-faring life, and we hope to have another chapter some day.

Wayne Normal vs. Yankton Friday

Much interest centers in the football game next Friday afternoon between the Wayne Normal and Yankton College. The game is scheduled to take place on the Normal field at four o'clock p. m. For several weeks Coach VanMatér has had his warriors in training, and he feels that the boys are in splendid condition for Friday's game. Seven of the present team were in the 1915 squad. The others, while new at Wayne, are experienced players. Last year's team made an excellent record and everything points to a successful season this year. Mr. John J. Gross of Winer, the 1915 coach, will referee the game. Following is the line-up.

But the fact remains that those who visited the great swine show realized that its equal never before has been held. The President and wife were among the visitors.

Return of The Savidge Company

The Walter Savidge Amusement Company opens a five day engagement in Wayne on Tuesday, October 17th, after which the company will close for the season. In an interview with Mr. Savidge he stated that both from an artistic and financial standpoint this has been the most successful season that the company has ever enjoyed. He attributes this to the excellent business conditions that have existed throughout his territory and also to the high class of attractions offered by his company. This applies especially to the Savidge Dramatic Players who have presented a class of plays that are rarely seen outside of the larger cities. It is hardly necessary to state that each and every feature presented by this company is of the highest moral standard as Mr. Savidge would not tolerate anything that would offend even the most sensitive of his patrons. The dramatic players will open in "On The Border", a play that contains a deeply interesting story of Mexican border life with just enough thrill to hold the audience attention every minute throughout its action. Feature Free Acts and concerts by the Savidge Challenge Band will be given on the streets, both afternoon and evening, and the Ferris Wheel and Merry Go Round will be in operation, both before and after the dramatic performances.

Local Ministers Entertain Fife Party

The four ministers, Reverends Buell, Gaston, Cross and Metterolf and their wives gave a farewell 6 o'clock dinner to the Fife evangelist party Thursday evening at the Baptist church. The dinner consisted of that well known viand the preachers are so attached to, chicken and the many other good things that preachers wives only know how to cook. Following the dinner with Rev. Buell presiding as toastmaster Rev. Gaston responded to the subject "The Fife's". Rev. Cross spoke a few minutes concerning some of the work accomplished during the meetings of the past four weeks. Rev. Clyde Lee Fife in response to all things previously said spoke on "Memories." Before disbanding for the evening services all sang and prayer was offered that the work done should live for all time in the hearts of Wayne people. It was a splendid meeting and one long to be remembered.

As Good as Gold

Differences between the value of promissory notes to bankers under the old and new banking systems—the republican and the democratic, to be more specific—are shown in the operation of the new currency law.

Under the old system, the one republicans promised to remedy but which they didn't, good notes lay like corpses in bank vaults when money stringencies came on.

Under the new system, the democrats put into effect, according to their promises, good notes many now be converted into Uncle Sam's currency and thus banking institutions can meet all demands upon them for money.

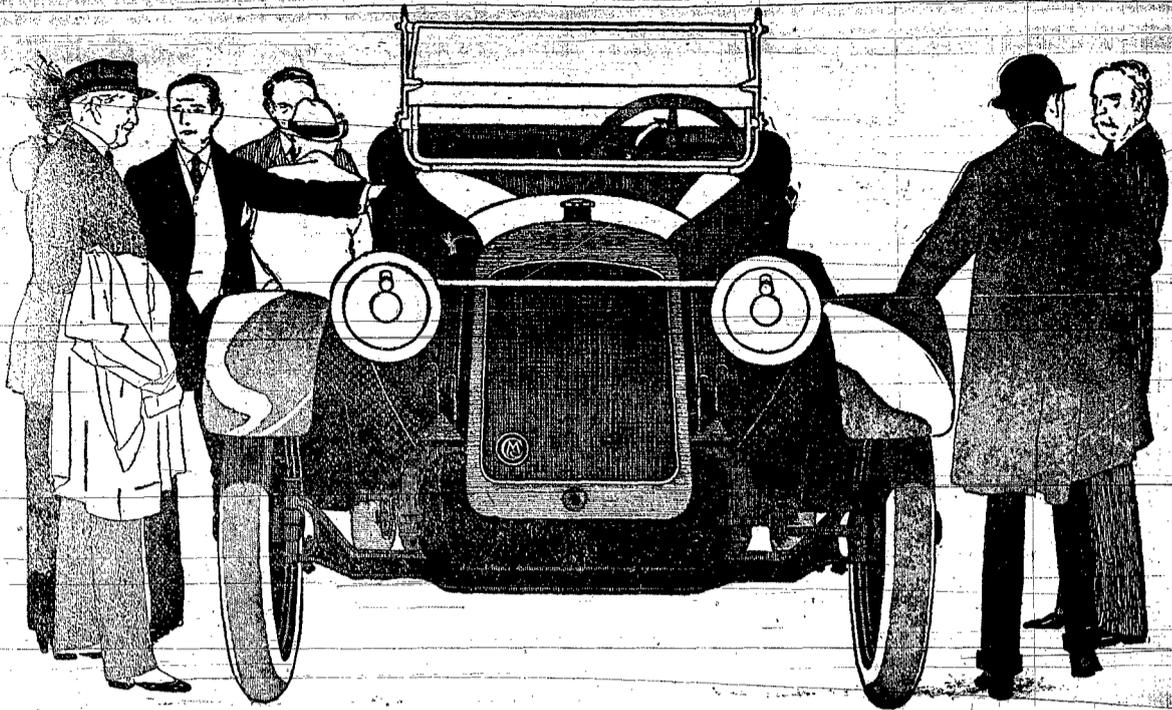

This one basic principle of the new currency law is a panic preventive. It is this that is one phase of a bill that has cemented banks together, and that gives the a united front where before they stood alone and brought on panics.—World Herald.

That is the Real Secret of the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers Popularity

Whenever you see the Chalmers trade mark you always see the phrase "Quality First." Whenever you think Chalmers you think "Quality." And if you have been reading my ads or have been in my salesroom, you are impressed with the fact that the 3400 r. p. m. is a Chalmers car of unusual quality.

I've often said that it is, in my opinion, the greatest car the Chalmers Company has built. And I have an excellent reason for saying this. It is a step ahead of any preceding Chalmers because it performs a shade better. The Quality in the new Chalmers is the kind of quality that tells on the road and tells wonderfully.

Now it is just this exceptional quality, just this shade of improvement that has brought Chalmers sales and production ahead in leaps these 12 months past.

I don't think the men in charge of affairs at the Chalmers factory realized what they had in the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers. At any rate they underestimated the demand. They built more than they had ever produced in any previous season, 'tis true, but still not enough.

The first making order was snapped up quickly. Then came a second lot. These went just as fast.

Now the factory is building the third lot and I understand that Chalmers has no intention of stopping even there. Quality it was that caused this unprecedented demand. Chalmers certainly have the right idea in building cars. "Quality First."

That interesting serial which annually appears in the Nebraska papers in October of each year under the title of "Delinquent Tax List," is again about to appear in these days of democratic prosperity. It may continue to grow larger, even though the printer's fees are correspondingly less.

Many a man now feels the weight of taxation heavy on his shoulders. Because he is carrying an equity in a lot of heavy and holding it for speculative purposes, which he has interest as well as taxes to pay. There are those who think that the public—the people in close proximity to land—pay its value largely, and that to them should be given the benefit of a tax that value, the tax to be paid by those who use the land. Grant these two first claims and the other is logical, and who is there to say that the land was created to be monopolized by any person or persons?

There is perhaps in the candidacy of State Treasurer George E. Hall a question far greater than that of State Treasurer.

simply who shall hold the office and handle the money of the state. Mr. Hall, when he took the office, said it should be run according to law, and it is so doing. Instead of following the precedent of those who had gone before, he incurred the displeasure of many county treasurers by asking them to remit to the state official each month that which was due the state. It was just, and it was the law, but it did not seem to please. The good result has been that the state has at all times had the cash to pay its bills, and has thus saved not only the interest formerly paid out on registered warrants, but has added to the state funds interest paid by the banks for the state balances on hand. This also helped to make possible a reduction in state taxes of about one million dollars. If you approve such a business policy, you will see that George E. Hall has your vote next November. If you think the state money should be used as a football and kicked about from pillar to post by county treasurers, and local bankers around in the different counties to play with, you should vote and work against Mr. Hall. For that is the issue squarely put before you.

That Republican Meeting
Tuesday evening the republicans had a large meeting of those who came to hear what A. L. Sutton and Mr. Warner, who wants to go to congress and Mr. Lenroth, of Wisconsin who is now a member of congress, had to say on the political issues of the time. Garret sent more than a dozen automobile loads, who brought a band and some refreshments. The volume band came down, and played and most of the people turned out to hear. Chairman Berry presided with much dignity. The Normal Institute sang appropriate songs, and all was prosperous these good democratic times.

Mr. Sutton, who wants to be governor of this state, pretty bad or badly, was the first speaker. He is dry, he says, and all of a sudden he has discovered what a drape the saloon is to this state, and we know it all along. Mr. Sutton, perhaps knew it, but he was not voting with the party which has consistently opposed the saloon all these years, but now that the people have a chance to say what the state's policy shall be without voting for someone they do not want, he is zealous for the cause. No one supposes for a moment that with an avowed vice candidate in the primary campaign that Douglas county politicians, wet as they are, gave a majority of about 3,000 in that county unless they knew where they could find him. He criticized the present state administration for extravagance, because taxes are now more than they used to be. He talked dry for votes.

Mr. Warner, the candidate for congress on the republican ticket who next trotted out, and he told of what he did as a boy and read some figures showing how prosperous is this nation under a democratic administration—how the exports have multiplied higher and higher—only he called it transports instead of exports. We transported much more this year and last year than the previous years. He liked most anything, but conservative policies, along economic lines. We pause to answer the question of the fellow who wondered if he was the same Warner who spoke here last January at the editorial banquet? No, that was Moses, and Moses Warner is a domestic and an orator, by comparison, the best of the way he was saved for the last of the cause, and the congressman from Wisconsin was not up. He is a really big, long, long fellow, and former to tell a lot of facts while relating a law that he said were facts. While he was telling that there had been no trust prosecutions under Wilson administration people who stayed at home, and read their evening paper noticed a dispatch from Washington telling that the Supreme court was considering cases then for violation of the anti-trust law, and that there were about 700 such cases then pending before the court which had been started under the present administration.

Open Letter To Mr. Hughes

Dear Mr. Hughes:
You'll please excuse
My dullness if I seem obtuse,
Or fail to properly enthuse,
When you break loose.

The papers give me all the news
And more advice than I can use;
But when I try to get your views
Our public questions, then I lose
My patience, and sigh and say
"Oh, what's the use!"

I give the devil all his dues:
I rather liked you, Mr. Hughes,
When you were judge. But when you choose
Our President, I must refuse
To read your "ooze."

The Democrats you still accuse;
Your lamentations I peruse.
These may alarm—they can't amuse,
And thinking men they won't confuse;

But altogether, Brother Hughes,
You're too profuse.
One final word before adieu:
If you would stand in Wilson's shoes
You'll have to try some other ruse—
For, by the gods, you're going to lose!

The Republican party will get its dues;
You're up against it, Mr.
Hughes.

SIZE OF FOWLS

AFFECTS EGG YIELD

[By Professor T. E. Quisenberry, Missouri experiment station.]

"We find that 90 per cent of the proved best layers by the trap nest are the smallest birds." is a statement made by one of our greatest poultry men. The weights of the birds entered in the national egg laying contest conducted by the Missouri experiment station for the past three years and the egg records all indicate that this statement is true.

No matter what the variety may be, if a pullet of that variety makes a good egg record, upon weighing her we find she is usually one-quarter to three pounds under standard weight. Lady Showyou, the White Plymouth Rock hen which laid 281 eggs in our first contest, weighed only six pounds, being one and one-half pounds under standard. Missouri Queen, the Rose Comb White Leghorn pullet, which led last year and made a record of 260 eggs, weighed only two and three-quarter pounds. While there is no standard weight for this variety, yet this pullet was the smallest of thirty-six pullets of this variety in the contest.

The Barred Plymouth Rock which made the highest record was a pullet one and one-eighth pounds under weight. The Black Langshan which made the best record was nearly two pounds under; White Orpington, two pounds under; Silver Wyandotte, one pound under; White Wyandotte, three-quarters of a pound under; Buff Wyandotte, one-half of a pound under; Buff Orpington, two pounds under; Black Orpington, two pounds under; Black Minorca, one and three-quarters of a pound under, and so on through almost the entire list of varieties.

On the other hand, the majority of the pure bred hens which make the poorest egg records are up to standard weight or considerably over, as a rule. Not more than 10 to 25 per cent of the best laying pullets of any variety are ever up to standard weight. During the past three years we have had birds from several hundred breeders, and our experience is that this is usually true, no matter what variety it may be or from what breeder they may come.

Colorado, near the Nebraska line at a very low price, also several pieces of Cheyenne county, Nebraska, land at right prices. Don't hesitate to ask me about any of these farms.

The Peking, the Indian Runner and the Rouen are the most common breeds of ducks. The Pekings are white and lay large white eggs. The Rouens are a great deal like our wild mallard ducks. Their eggs are of a greenish color. These birds are a setting breed. The Indian Runners are fawn and white and not as large as the other breeds. They grow rapidly, are good foragers and splendid layers. Duck raising is one of the most profitable branches of the poultry business. For market purposes the Peking duck is best. The ducks herewith illustrated are Pekings.

DAIRY WISDOM.

It is as impossible to estimate the productiveness and value of a cow as it is to guess the exact number of bushels of corn a certain field will yield.

To do well the cows should be turned dry something like six weeks before freshening. This is good for the calf, rests the cow and develops the udder.

Anything that disturbs the quiet of the cows has a direct effect on the yield of milk.

The pills used for feeding the calves should be scalded out regularly every time they are used.

If there are two kinds of roughage for the cows next winter it will be better to feed both at the same time rather than to feed out one and then start on the other.

One of the causes of caked udder is too much feed of the wrong kind. If a herdman knows how to feed and care for dairy cows there is very little danger of udder troubles, says Hoard's Dairyman. When a cow is fed a heavy grain ration right up to the time of parturition there often follow annoying

A Good Road is a Joy

It draws the most travelers because of its smoothness and adds pleasure and comfort and saves breakage, while a shorter road produces the opposite.

Property along a good road is worth more, sells easier than property along a bad road.

A STORE like this, not good in spots and on certain days or at a particular season, but actually good all over and any day is a good store to trade with.

The Football Game Friday

In a game that was a fine exhibition of clean, fast football, Wayne High school eleven met and defeated the Laurel school Friday in the Normal gridiron by a score of 33 to 18.

The teams were evenly matched the Laurel team being possibly a little heavier per player than our boys. The forward passes, formation plays and fake plays reflected credit to both coaching and teams of the schools.

Laurel hung up six points in the first few minutes of play. Wayne come back strong with a touchdown and scored a second a few minutes later. Miner making a long run down field. In the last few minutes of the half Laurel in one of the best fake play forward pass seen on the grounds for some time scored six points by a touchdown and one more on the goal kick, putting her one point ahead of the Wayne team.

Thirteen proved a lucky number for our boys for in the last half Wayne scored three touchdowns and three goal kicks, thus winning the game.

Wayne met defeat at the hands of Laurel two weeks ago on Laurel's grounds in their first game of the season, but Friday's result settles things differently.

Although Wayne's team is somewhat light they are fast on their feet and their team work under the coaching of C. A. Crawford is developing so that it will prove a big factor in their future games.

Keith Neville's Talk

It was not a packed house which greeted Keith Neville at Wayne Monday evening, for there had been a hitch in the advertising program somewhere along the line, and there was not even any one authorized to announce the meeting from the platform at the big tabernacle meeting Sunday—in fact it was not supposed that the political meetings were to be announced from the pulpit, but they should be, for next to our spiritual welfare we should look after the economic questions which have to do with the material good of man. While it is true the audience was small the voters present, about 150, were favorably impressed with the sincerity of the man, and the logic of his talk. He spoke of the great constructive measures of the recent congress. He explained the benefits of the new banking law, creating the reserve banks. He told the plan and purpose of the rural credit bill, and made plain how it will benefit the people, and by helping to develop the resources of the nation, add to general prosperity, making labor for the man whose only capital is brain, bone and muscle; with the means to purchase, the dealer has an increased business, which calls for more manufactured goods, and that makes demand for raw material supplied from mine and field, and all these will call for money, which will not permit that commodity to remain dormant in the bank vaults.

He told how this state's financial affairs are in the hands of a number of different boards, the members of which are made up by the different state officials, and therefore how important it is that the officials who become active on these different boards and committees be men from the different parts of the state, well knowing the needs of the people of all parts. He told of the saving made by the present officials, leaving with the different counties from $5,000 to $25,000 of cash which had formerly been used or misused by the state officers. He told of the saving to counties by the standardization of the county bridge. He also showed that should the republican ticket be elected every member of most of the boards would be residents of either Omaha or Lincoln, leaving the state at large practically without representation on the boards which handle the affairs of state. The present officials have been wise, economical and efficient in the discharge of their official duties, and are deserving a second term as a reward for service well performed as well as in the interest of true economy.

In regard to the dry or prohibition amendment he made it clear to any who wish to be fair, what nearly all knew before, that this question is absolutely independent of other political issues, and the platforms of both parties pledge their candidates if elected to carry out the will of the people as expressed at the polls—the only exception being that the democratic party pledged all in general, and the prohibitory amendment in particular, to receive honest enforcement should if the people say Nebraska shall go dry. And as this platform pledge, Keith Neville gave his personal pledge. The effort to inject the wet or dry question into the election as a party measure is an attempt to deceive the voter.

There is a place to vote your sentiments on that important question, and your vote for this or that set of officers has no weight in the matter. You must vote for or against, and the men elected are to be instructed thus by the voters. Be fair, vote for the men who stand with you on economic questions.

Mr. Neville during the day made speeches at Hoskins, Winside and Carroll in this county before coming to Wayne.

Shake Bill!

If, in 1912, Taft and Roosevelt told the truth about each other, this is the exhibition that was staged by the Old Guard last week: Taft shook hands with a "demagogue," a "neurotic," a "flatterer," a "honeyfugler," a "friend of the Steel Trust and the Harvester Trust," and a politician who had "received campaign aid" from Standard Oil, Penrose, Cannon, Quay, Platt and Foraker.

Roosevelt on his own statement, shook hands with the "upholder and beneficiary of crooked privileges," the associate of "Guggenheim, Aldrich, Penrose, Gallinger, Lorimer, Cannon and McKinley"; the man "responsible for the alliance between crooked politics and crooked business," a "friend of the bosses"; a President "guilty of the most scandalous abuse of the patronage"; a tariff-maker representative of "special privilege and special interest"; likewise with the former head of "a government administered by Messrs. Lorimer, Guggenheim, Barnes, Gallinger and their like in defiance of the will of the people"; and, finally with the chief executive of "a government under which the people are defrauded of their rights."

Thus, in one handshake, is effected a reunion of all the elements and interests of the Grand Old Republican Party. Let all true progressives take note of this amazing development.

Lost His Car—But Found It

Earl Merchant had his car stolen last Thursday at Omaha while there attending the Ak-Sar-Ben, by either one or perhaps more "nice thieves." With his wife and George Noakes and wife who accompanied them, he had parked his car at 16th and Douglas about nine o'clock in the evening and had gone to a theatre a short distance away to attend the performance. When they returned an hour later their car was gone. Mr. Merchant at once notified the police and gave the car number and description of it as best he could. The car was located Friday morning about ten o'clock at 21st and Farnam. And here is where the nice part comes in. Instead of stealing the robes and other wraps and "pulling" the fixtures as auto thieves often do, not a thing was disturbed. In fact they were so nice (the thieves) that they took off the top boot and folded it up neatly and placed it under the rear seat so they would not lose it. Also they folded up the back number so no one would find them. Seven gallons of gas still remained in the tank and the engine showed no signs of rough usage. Whoever did the stealing surely knew their business and were as near to being real gentlemen as auto joy riders ever attain.

Good Bye Tabernacle

Good bye tabernacle, we have had a good time over there with you, but we are mighty glad to get back to the old church and settle down to the work that is on hand to be done and resume our regular services. Let every Baptist show up next Sunday at the church for the morning service and the Sunday school which follows. It will be a very important service and one which we will cry hard to make helpful to all those who are coming into the church. The ordinance of baptism will be administered at the morning service.

The young people will turn out for their regular meeting at 6:30 p. m. The subject of the evening sermon will be "The Marked Road." It is a great subject and will be used as the basis of good advice to young converts.

The evening service will begin at 7:30 and will be preceded with a song service. W. L. Gaston.

The Truth About PROHIBITION and MURDER

MURDER is being committed in prohibition Kansas with far greater frequency than in Nebraska.

Official Prison Record:

KANSAS-- Sentenced for Murder in 2 years 85

NEBRASKA--Sentenced for Murder in 2 years 29

Eighty-five Kansas murderers convicted and sentenced in the short space of two years ending June 30, 1916, as against twenty-nine in Nebraska in the same period!

The appalling murder record of Kansas carries a lesson of terrible import to the citizens of Nebraska. Under prohibition there has grown up in Kansas the inevitable "Alley Joint" evil. In these "joints" liquors of the vilest sort are dispensed to men and boys by dissolute characters, both male and female, spreading crime and debauchery to every part of the state.

(Excerpts from article in "The Topeka Daily State Journal" of August 29, 1916.)

"Of the 166 criminal cases docketed for the September term of court, 106 are for violations of the prohibitory law.  As a rule, about one-tenth of the cases brought charging violations of the prohibitory law are tried. They cost the county about $50 each."

"One noticeable thing about the criminal docket for the September term is that forty-six of the JOINT cases are against women."

If you are opposed to the Alley Joint evil and the increase of crime, vote No on the prohibition amendment.

The squares shown below will appear at the TOP of the ballot. An X marked in square 301 is a vote AGAINST PROHIBITION.

The preliminary hearing for the Barackman murder, which occurred June 17 in the southern part of Cherry county, came up before Judge Fisher at Valentine. The defendant, Mrs. Barackman, put up a plea of self-defense. The evidence was very conflicting, several of the witnesses contradicting. The judge bound the defendant over until the district court sits in September.

Eight hundred Nebraska troops including men of all political faiths and all religious creeds, joined with Bishop Beecher, chaplain of the Fifth regiment, in religious services at Camp Morehead Sunday and solemnly prayed for the divine guidance of the president in his efforts to maintain peaceful relations with not only the country to the south of the Rio Grande, but with all the nations of the world.

COMING BACK

UNITED DOCTORS SPECIALISTS WILL AGAIN BE AT

Wayne, Nebraska, Union Hotel, Friday, October 27, 1916--ONE DAY ONLY.

Hours 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.—Remarkable Success of Talented Physician in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases Offer Services Free of Charge

The United Doctors Specialist, licensed by the State of Nebraska, for the treatment of all diseases, including deformities, nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect. The United Doctors are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their result that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle. Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, rheumatism, sciatica, tapeworm, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep-seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physician, should not fail to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days. According to their system no more operation for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter, piles, etc., as all cases accepted will be treated without operation or hypodermic injection, as they were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases. No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you. Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, call, it costs you nothing. Remember, this free offer is for this visit only. Married ladies come with their husbands and minors with their parents. Laboratories, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, adv. -40-3

A Letter From Soldier Boys

Editor Democrat:—
Another week's work has gone and as we gaze back upon it we could not say it has been a bad one. Indeed it has covered quite a variety of the labors of a soldier. This breaks the monotony of the weary hours. Another thing which made this week's work interesting was the absence of the hike with heavy equipment. We have been to the rifle range twice this week shooting for record. The boys are doing quite well for the practice they have had. We each shot twenty times at the last two shoots. Highest mark made in our company was 67 out of a possible 100. This was Sergeant Craig score.
One day we were sent out in squad formations in different directions from camp to make maps and get a general out lay of land. One of these formations discovered a stolen Ford in the bushes not far from camp. The car had just been stolen the day before and was restored to the rightful owner.
Then the signal practice has been taken up this by the use of the semiphor system which uses two flags, the other is the wigwag and uses only one flag. Here I might say Reuben A. Faulk has transferred to the Signal Corps as a telegraph operator, also Archie Wright secured his discharge and left for home this week. Other interesting events were guard duty which came on Wednesday and pay day which came on Thursday. The latter though I believe created the most interest.
The Y. M. C. A. program for the week was as follows. Monday night, Debating and Literary; Tuesday night, Stunt night; Wednesday night, Bible Class; Thursday night, Spanish Class Friday night, Omaha night, program by Omaha battalion; Saturday night, "Macbeth" by Paul Dodge and concert by Minnesota artillery band. Has been a full week all the way round and we have had no time to get homesick.
Last evening, Captain Burnham, Harold Mears, Sergeant Craig, Paul Connealy, Dewey Hogbin, Jas. Connelly, E. and G. Chinguis and Jas. Sears left for Brownsville

Dean H. H. Hahn of the state normal addressed the high school Tuesday afternoon on "The Best Methods of Study". He called attention to the necessity of studying rapidly, willingly, continuously and with concentrated attention in order to get the best results with the least effort. Mr. Hahn's talk was exceedingly helpful as well as entertaining.
Yesterday morning the visiting candidates, W. J. Warner, A. J. Cornish, and A. L. Sutton, visited the high school and addressed the students. Mr. Warner's talk was reminiscent in character. The speaker compared the educational opportunities of today with those of pioneer times, and made a plea for full preparation for meeting the responsibilities of the age. Mr. Cornish spoke of the necessity of government. His assertion that power comes to the man who puts forth power was the keynote of his remarks. Mr. Sutton called attention to the misdeeds to be found in all lines of human activity, and emphasized the necessity of care in the choice of a vocation. In conclusion he touched briefly on the temperance issue.

and Point Isabel which is on the gulf coast about 20 miles from Brownsville. They expect to return this evening.

W. O. HANSSSEN

Candidate for Treasurer on the Democratic Ticket

What I Have Been. What I Am Today. What I Promise to do If Elected.

Having been called on to tell Wayne county people who I am and what I was, I will endeavor to tell you in my own plain words and thereby fulfill the duties I owe the voters of Wayne county, so they may intelligently judge of my ability to handle the affairs of the County Treasurer's office, the place I seek, and whether I am worthy of being entrusted with the duties of the office. No one knowing me better than I know myself I take this means and challenge any one to deny or repudiate any statement I may hereafter make.

I was born near Hamburg, Germany, on November 7th, 1875, and will be exactly 41 years of age on election day.

My father being destined to work and toil for little compensation, and finding it hard to support a family in the old country, emigrated to Iowa in 1888, with another, who is now living at Holstein, Iowa, and five of us children, five others having preceded them to this country. The first summer I spent on the farm and the winter in school, I being very anxious to master the English language. Three years was thus spent, at work and school. During the last year, a nine month period, I earned at the same time $15.00 a month for janitor work. After this I started to learn the butchers trade and being used to small wage in previous years, $15.00 per month and board looked good and the savings which was at least two-thirds of that amount went to my parents who were growing old and trying to pay for a little home, which by our help they accomplished.

Being of an adventurous nature, I left home in 1894 to see the world, and I did. Working at various trades and labor, I had the fortune or misfortune whichever it might be, to land in St. Louis, Mo., sick and penniless in the winter of 1895 and 6. The Sisters hospital there took me in and with motherly care made me again fit to face the world. I was too proud to write home for help and being anxious to demonstrate that I could make my own way I immediately secured a position as a farm hand near Cedar Rapids, Iowa. With my summer savings I then started out and in 1898 I landed in Minnesota and started to learn the brick-laying trade which I soon mastered. I married in 1900 and my wife and I left immediately for Colorado. Locating at Colorado Springs I soon became foreman for a Denver contractor which position I held until leaving in 1904 on account of my wife's health.

We then located at Randolph, Nebraska, where I went in the butcher business with my brother. I came to Wayne 3 years later, in 1907, and was the cause of putting Wayne on the map with a state-wide reputation for having the most sanitary and up-to-date meat market in Nebraska.

Those who know me best know my failing, namely, working day and night when necessary. This soon brought me down to going a little slower and finally I had to quit the business on account of ill health.

For the past two years I have followed the business of Real Estate and Insurance and am connected with the Kohl Land and Investment Company of Wayne. I am also doing a little farming and doing what I claim is creating better sanitary conditions and making a saving for the people of Wayne by gathering the refuse which would otherwise be left in the alleys and form breeding grounds for disease, vermin and germ carrying insects. I ventured to overcome an annual expense of $1100 on a 40 acre tract to work out this scheme and am satisfied it will prove successful and leave a little balance for myself.

Failure in my undertakings I have never known, with the exception of being once defeated for the office of County Treasurer when I had been but a short time in the county.

My dealings with perhaps one third of the people of Wayne county for a number of years since should enable you to place judgement this fall. I have not obtained great wealth and am only to be what I make myself. Have always been a cheerful contributor whenever needed for individual or public purposes to better the conditions of someone or somewhere. "One commandment I try to follow most "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

The fact that I am now serving my third term as City Councilman in Wayne should prove that my home people who know me have confidence in me.

I have always attended my own books in business. Have gained much experience and knowledge through various occupations. I will please the public in general business matters as I have been in contact with men in all stages and conditions of life, socially and otherwise. I claim the ability to perform all that is required of me should I be successful in obtaining by your vote the office I ask for.

I promise you to perform the duties that may be entrusted to me most faithfully and with efficiency second to none.

Whether Democrat or Republican, judge me from a non-partisan standpoint. Trusting that you can conscientiously support me in this campaign, I am

Yours for Service,

W. O. Hanssen
