The Postoffice Site Question

Drawing conclusions from an editorial which appeared in the Wayne Herald on October 12, several Republican papers in this part of the state, notably the Pierce County Call, are seeking to make political capital out of the announcement made some time ago that Wayne would receive a new post office building. By a distortion of facts these papers attempt to convey the impression that the announcement was made in the interest of Congressman Stephens; that as given out plans were practically complete for the same; that later the secretary of the Public Service Club made investigation and found that the name of Wayne does not even appear in the appropriation bill; and that in consequence thereof the "ebullitions of joy", over the announcement made with such "unction" by the secretary of the Club had passed away, and disappointment, despair and gloom had settled over the little city.

Those conversant with the post office situation in Wayne know that the facts do not justify such conclusion. The first announcement of the proposed building was made at a noonday luncheon of the Club on August 14, 1916. There was no reason for a misapprehension as to the status of the building project. Neither Congressman Stephens nor the members of the Club sought to mislead the people of Wayne; the announcement made at that time was understood to imply that a bill had been introduced and initial steps taken to secure a new post office for Wayne. We quote from this paper in its issue of August 17 to show that the public was informed, as nearly as could be of the exact status of the building project:

"Postmaster Berry was greatly surprised a few days ago when he received a package from Congressman Stephens in the form of a copy of a bill introduced in the House of Representatives by Congressman Clark of Florida, carrying with other items an appropriation of $5000.00 for the purchase of a site for a government post office at Wayne. All will be glad to see Uncle Sam's business housed in more convenient and commodious quarters, though it will naturally be several years before the necessary red-tape can be gotten over to bring the matter to a successful conclusion."

Adjournment of Congress came, and no definite progress has been made since that time, but aside from the usual delays on appropriation bills nothing of a disappointing nature has intervened. After the Herald editorial appeared, it developed that the statements made therein were based on information furnished by Rev. Gaston, who had gotten hold of the wrong Calendar number, having received No. 299 instead of the correct bill, which is No. 321. Postmaster Berry then asked Mr. Huse to investigate for himself by writing to the chairman of the committee. This he did and received the following reply:

"Washington, D. C., Oct. 18, 1916." Mr. E. W. Huse, Wayne, Nebraska. Dear Sir: "In the absence of the chairman, who is now in Florida, I am taking the liberty of answering your query of the 14th inst. with reference to the project of a public building site at Wayne, Nebraska. The bill is not 'dead' but will be called up for consideration and passed at the short session next winter. It would have been considered during the past session but for the pressure of other matters.

Trusting that this is the information you desire, I am Most Truly Yours, Edward Clark, Clerk to the Committee."

Such, in brief, are the facts in regard to the Wayne building appropriation. The measure will soon come before Congress with good prospects for favorable action. No attempt has been made either by Congressman Stephens or the Public Service Club to mislead the public, and it is regrettable that, even in the stress of a political campaign, anyone should try to make a purely business project serve to the advantage or disadvantage of any candidate for office.

When here last evening in reply to the question concerning the status of the Wayne appropriation, Mr. Stephens said that Wayne's chances of the appropriation were the same as that of every other item on the list. If any public building appropriations are made our money will be with the rest listed on the bill.

Rev. Gaston has just given us a copy of a statement made by him for publication in the Herald which fully explains his action in the matter, which we omit for lack of time to put into type.

State Normal Notes

Miss Elsie Meyer is now teacher in a rural school near Roundup, Montana.

Frank L. Ready is waiting the completion of a $15,000 building in order to begin his work in a rural high school near Hartington.

The headquarters of the state normal school during the state teacher's association will be at the Castle Hotel, Omaha.

Mrs. Irene Little, a student of the last summer session, writes that she will resign her present position at Christmas time and come to Wayne for the completion of the advanced course. Mrs. Little is now teaching at Cherokee, Iowa.

Greetings received from Charles F. Webb give evidence that he has not entirely forgotten the Normal. After being lost for several years Charley has at last been located on a farm near Concord, Nebraska. The entertainment given by the Hampton Court Singers last Friday evening has received much favorable mention and was well attended despite unfavorable weather conditions.

Clifford J. Ireland has invited President Conn to be present at exercises to be held on December 29, at which time a new high school building will be dedicated. Mr. Ireland is serving his fourth year as superintendent of the Yutan public schools, which is evidence that he is successful in his work.

One of the best football games of the season will be played next Friday afternoon against Bellevue College. The Normal defeated Bellevue on the home field in 1914 and on the Omaha field last year. It will be a spirited contest from beginning to end. Game called at 3 o'clock.

The Y. W. C. A. gave a program at convocation Friday morning. With the president, Miss Amy Culbertson, presiding, the following program was rendered: Paper, Miss Fish; piano solo, Miss Carson; vocal solo, Miss Cassidy; reading, Florence Welch.

Crystal Theatre Sold

J. E. Hostettler and M. B. Nielson of Howell representing John Kozal of that place closed a deal Monday, in which the Crystal moving picture theatre was sold to Mr. Kozal. Mr. Nielson, manager for Mr. Kozal took possession Monday evening, and will have charge of the show until Mr. Kozal and family move here sometime within the next three or four weeks. O. C. Liedtke, present assistant manager and operator will remain with the new company in his present position. Mr. Kozal will announce the policy of the theatre upon his arrival here. Mr. Hostettler has no definite plans as to the future at present. During his ownership he has given Wayne public good and new films, his policy being for a progressive, up to date show. The new manager tells us that the best modern plays will be shown upon the screen at all times and other features which will be announced in due time.

Blew Out All the Lights

The west boiler, No. 1, at the power house blew out a flue Wednesday evening about six o'clock flooding the fire box, the boiler room and engine room and putting the electric lights out of running from two hours, as another boiler had to be filled and heated before service could be resumed, consequently the delay. Wayne took on the look of a "City of Darkness" from the two hours, old kerosene lights and flashlights being used to grope around with. It makes one appreciate electricity when they are gone out, perhaps more than when they are lighting our homes, for then they are taken as a matter of course. Wayne is indeed fortunate in having excellent service, this being the first time for three or more years that they have been inconvenienced for any such length of time.

The Letter from the Border

Llanó Grande, Texas,
Oct. 22, 1916.

Editor Democrat:—

Has now been two weeks since I last wrote you. Could have written last week but things have now grown so routine I fear your readers tire of it. Even the weather refuses to make any decided change except at nights which have been very cool here of late. One needs two blankets over him to keep the chills away. The farmers however are planting and cultivating their winter crops and the trees and plants remain green as ever. I notice however the sand-burr crop is mature.

The boys are showin' much "pep" since these nights set in. They still think they can husk as much corn as you fellows at home were they to get back soon.

Camp life now is a great improvement over that when we first landed here. We now have floors in our tents and cots to sleep upon. At first we slept on the ground and lizards, tarantulas, bugs and mosquitos insisted upon keeping us company. Then, we sat on the ground and ate our mess, which sometimes would be well peppered with sand by the breeze. Now we have a dining room, table and benches. Then we have our Y. M. C. A. where we go to write letters, listen to debates, lectures or take part in Bible class. Then the boys have become accustomed to the climate and to their duties and can perform their tasks with much less effort than formerly.

Beginning last Thursday we have had a series of tests which are not yet finished. To date Company E ranks as one of three highest in regiment. First Thursday p. m. we had an advance on an enemy which had been located by a patrol sent out for that purpose. We with another company were acting as advance guard of a larger body of troops.

Friday morning our company under direction of Lt. Pile made a reconnoitering trip to the lake. While we were not permitted to go bathing or boating, we nevertheless enjoyed the trip. Getting home at noon we were informed that we were to farther complete our test by making a four mile forced march with heavy packs. This we did making the four miles in an even hour and not losing a man.

Yesterday morning we had inspection of equipment. Inspection of rifles ranked excellent, there being but one dirty gun in the company and it belonged to a man not on duty. We have yet the first aid tests, the signal tests and the manual of arms, also range finding.

As to our entertainment the Literary and Debating on Monday night, St. Nat night Tuesdays, and other things of interest the remaining nights of the week. Last Thursday night 1st Minnesota artillery band gave a band concert after which we were entertained by members of New York cavalry which were encamped on our parade ground for the night, they being on their way to Brownsville and Point Isabel. There is one regiment of them and they must make 40 miles per day.

A College Club has been lately organized and promises to be a source of entertainment and perhaps do some educational work as well. Classes already organized are Spanish, German, Telegraphy and Penmanship. Of course there are many colleges and universities represented and a little later we expect to put on the different songs and yells. Would be a hard proposition down here to tell the season of year by the games played, for most every day we see ball games, others playing volley ball or basket ball while many football teams have been organized and are daily practicing, putting these things with the fact that trees are ever green you can see why we need a calendar.

Perhaps you would ask us when we will be home, we will be very frank with you and say we don't know. A while back we thought we could very nearly guess. I am sending you another copy of our 5th Nebraska poet's verses entitled "Dreams". It hits well our experiences in the border.

Asking you not to forget to send us a copy of your paper I close with best wishes from all.

James J. Steele.

Dreams

When the long day's drill is over

Comes the time I love the best,
Sayin' rest you clumsy Rookie
Time to smoke and dream and rest.

All day long it's hustle-bustle,
But at night I'm home it seems
When I light my pipe or cigarette
And sit a dreamin' pleasant dreams.

When through the day come things unpleasant
And my angry passions rise
An' I feel that I'm mistreated
An' no one cares how hard I tried;

'Tis then I long for evening's freedom,
An' a long way-off it seems,
But it's worth a heap of waitin'
To sit a dreamin' pleasant dreams.

When the revellie is blowin'
Then I must get up and dress
And hit the line and make a showin'

Regardless of my loneliness,
I used to be a plum good sojer
But I'm in wrong here it seems
So at night out in the moonlight
I jest sit dreamin' pleasant dreams.

Sometimes I sneak out after taps
And jest sit starin' at the moon,
Askin' him about my future,
And he tells me the time is soon
When this salutin' and "sir"-in will be over.

And I can fish in Nebraska streams
An' with my dog and fishpole only,
Sit a dreamin' pleasant dreams.

Sometimes I get so pesky hungry
For some of mother's cakes and pies,
That I get scared someone will notice,

The hunger in my very eyes,
Then I hunt a lonely quarter
By two little runnin' streams,
I wonder if I'm doin' wrong
To sit there dreamin' pleasant dreams.

When they're handin' out the letters
And the home town paper too
I forgit my patriotism for a minute,

So would you,
There's good amount of fightin' blood

A surgin' through my veins
But until the time to use it
I'll jest sit a dreamin' pleasant dreams.

School Notes

Arthur Hanssen of the kindergarten enjoyed a birthday party held this week in his honor by his classmates.

Gordon Ewing is a newly enrolled pupil in the first grade.

Recent visitors were Mrs. Perry Hughes, Mrs. Elwayne Fleetwood, Mrs. George Noakes, Rev. S. X. Cross, Miss Martha Weber, Miss Mary Weber, Mrs. W. O. Hanssen and niece, Mrs. J. Felber and Miss Frances Oman.

The Freshman class presented its first program before the high school yesterday afternoon. A piano solo by Leslie Rundell brought to his feet two huge bouquets, which Leslie graciously accepted. Mary Housen read a class prophecy. Susie Souders gave a reading from Riley, and Faunell Senter and Martha Crockett, accompanied by Katherine Strickland, sang a duet. Each performer was accorded the compliment paid Lincoln by the audience when he delivered his Gettysburg address.

Regular monthly class meetings were held Tuesday afternoon.

Two new features, history and appreciation have recently been introduced into the music course. Victrola records will be used in the work in appreciation.

The first issue of the Wayne Watchword for this year, appeared this week. The staff is to be congratulated on its neat appearance.

Chas. Reynolds, county clerk, talked to the civics class Tuesday afternoon on the subject of county government. This aroused lively interest in the subject and the students had many questions to ask of the speaker. The period ended all too soon.

Dan Stephens' Makes Able Speech

In spite of bad roads, unsettled weather and the elimination of all electric lights in the city last evening until eight o'clock, a well-filled opera house of interested voters gathered to hear their representative tell something of the history of the present administration, and the great questions both national and international which have confronted the President during his term of office. Inheriting from the republican administration the Mexican trouble, it has remained a question for politicians and greedy interests to wrangle over while the administration held for the principle that the Mexicans must settle their own troubles.

After telling of other foreign complications, which grew from the European war, and how they had been handled with the purpose of maintaining our rights without entering the field as a bully or a combatant he turned his attention to the home questions which so vitally interest us, and which the "Plunderbund" of Wall street hoped to see neglected that they might continue undisturbed to plunder the people as in the past.

He showed how the National banking laws tended to drain the money of the people from the rural districts to the great money centers where it was used in speculation, gambling, wrecking the people's railroads and all manner of dishonest uses; how nearly impossible it appeared to get it back to its owners when they needed it, and how it gave these great manipulators opportunity to throttle business and create panics. He told of the move of the present secretary of the treasury to check their power by issuing money for the relief of the people and passing it out over the heads of these great money trusts; something never before done without permitting the money combine of Wall street to take toll from it. Then he showed how the new bank law acted to check this money combine and make a panic impossible so long as the credit of all the people is good—how it puts the people, the real owners and producers of wealth in control of their money.

He told of the enactment of the Rural Credit law and what it is proposed that it will do for the farmer—saving the people fully 3 percent interest on the four billion dollars of farm loans—enough to pay the entire debt off in about 35 years, principal and interest.

He also told of the law which congress passed to prevent a great railroad strike and the losses resulting therefrom to the people who produce the wealth. He told of the responsibility of the trainmen, moving perhaps a half-million dollar's worth of property in one train, and how comparatively little pay they receive for the responsibility, which is greater than if the property was fixed where it could not get away. Day or night, good or bad weather they carry this freight and the people of a nation in safety. On this great matter he stood with the President and the people and against the gang who have made playthings of the fortunes of the people and the rights of the people that they might have more money with which to gamble.

Then there is the child labor law and many other great progressive measures, many of which the progressive and liberal republican members of congress aided in passing.

It was a splendid meeting, and the speech made a most favorable impression upon those who heard it. He says that his meetings over the district are uniformly good and the interest in these vital questions great. Wilson's strength he says is growing daily.

While the audience gathered in the glow of a few lamps, C. J. Rundell let a bit of light on the political situation, and filled in what would otherwise have been a weary wait with a bit of talk.

J. H. Kemp presided, and introduced the Normal quartet which gave some excellent songs. In introducing the speaker Mr. Kemp made plain that the franking privilege given to congressmen was for the people, not the member of congress, and that the man who used it properly was doing his duty to the people who sent him to represent them. Mr. Kemp did not, however, uphold the franking of an automobile from Washington to Nebraska, but the news of congress was the property of the people and it should be sent to them.

A Closing Farm Sale

One of the first, if not the first farm sale for the season is to be held by John Good, on the Sullivan farm southeast of Wayne on Wednesday, November 15th. Mr. Good has been on this farm a number of years, and has purchased a small farm near Bloomfield, and he has an accumulation of young stock and good farm machinery which he will not need and cannot care for on the smaller farm; so he will make a closing sale of practically all of his young stock, about 40 head, of different ages, a number of good horses, farm machinery, most of which is like new, and it will be an opportunity for the farmers to stock up. Next week the Democrat will tell more in detail of this sale, or auctioneer Cunningham can tell you of what the offering is to be.—t1.

Mrs. J. Kimball Dies

Mrs. J. Kimball of Wakefield died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Murphy three miles north of Wakefield last Thursday, age 77 years 8 days. The funeral services were held at the Christian church Monday afternoon at two o'clock, the body being interred in the Wakefield cemetery. Mrs. Kimball is well known here having lived near Wayne for many years. Her husband died three years ago.

The funeral services were largely attended.

The "people's attorney" in rate cases before the state railway commission is himself a candidate for election to the commission this year. He is among the most widely known Nebraskans from his authorship of the bank guaranty and the 8 o'clock saloon closing laws, and his great fight against the increase of telephone rates. His years of experience successively as farmer, business man, bank examiner, legislator and attorney, in connection with the soundness of his views on telephone and railway regulation, especially fit him for the office.

Voters, don't fail to vote for him—Victor E. Wilson, for state railway commissioner. He is on the democratic ticket, but he thinks that the office should be made non-partisan.—2.

Wm. H. Smith, State Auditor. State Auditor Smith is serving his first term and is a candidate for re-election. His motto has been "Business Methods Applied to the Public's Affairs." The cost of operating his department was reduced $5,039.52 during the first 18 months of his term. His influence and vote were exerted in securing a $1,018,000.00 reduction in state taxes in 1915-16, and in raising the valuation of the railroads $5,000,000.00 for taxation purposes in 1916.

Miss Floy Whitney, who has been visiting with her brother Frank Whitney for short time returned to her home at Hartington Saturday.

Miss Lona Weaver returned to her home at Brunswick Saturday following a few days visit with her sister Miss Fern who is attending the normal here.

Nels Juhtin returned home Friday evening from Lincoln where he attended the I. O. O. F. meeting held there Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Misses Henrietta Moler and Mildred Woodruff, who is attending the normal here, went to Sioux City Friday to visit at the Woodruff home for the week end.

Dr. Wightman left for his home at Long Beach, California, after a two month visit here looking after his farm interests and visiting with relatives and friends.

Bert Graham and wife who have been visiting at the Charles Ruebeck home for the past three weeks left Saturday afternoon for their home at Granite Falls, Minnesota.

Mrs. F. C. Drake and son Earl went to Laurel Saturday to visit with Mr. Drake who is traveling on the road but who could not get home this Sunday on account of extra work.

John Neihart of Bancroft came Saturday evening to visit with his friend, Dr. J. T. House of the State Normal for a short time. Mr. Neihart returned home the first of the week.

Miss Camille Hansen went to Sioux City Saturday to visit for a day or two with her father, Nick Hansen who is in one of the hospitals there recovering from effects of an infected tooth.

Carl Clasen returned to Auburn Monday morning following a few days visit at home here. Mr. Clasen is in charge of the construction of a hospital at Auburn being built for Dr. Lutgen of that place.

Since this part of Nebraska is coming to be recognized as an apple country, and some of the later plantings of trees of the winter varieties are coming to a bearing age, the following from the experience of Wm. Soost of Magnet should be of interest. Mr. Soost, who is a candidate for a seat in the state senate on the democratic side, says that he has had an experience which may prove of value to fruit growers who have not heard of it. Mr. Soost owns a number of farms and on each of them he has an orchard. He said that when he first came to Magnet that there were no fruit trees in that vicinity and that one day he was over on Lawn Ridge and east of Coleridge and saw the fine trees growing there so concluded to try growing them over west of here. He has been successful with his orchards as a whole. He tried some of the preparations recommended by the Agricultural College for spraying but generally they injured the trees. Finally a fruit grower at Blair advised him to bore holes into the trees and place a small chunk of blue vitriol in these holes and plug them up. He has found that this keeps the trees from the various insects that usually ruin fruit trees, and it is cheaply and easily done.

Carroll Orr was a passenger to Omaha Saturday, going down to visit with his mother.

Miss Sybil Dixon went to Norfolk Saturday evening to visit with relatives for a brief time.

Mrs. L. E. Panabaker and Miss Inez Quist went to Laurel Monday morning to visit with Mrs. Panabaker's sister, Mrs. L. C. Wailing for a week.

Mrs. J. W. Jones went to Omaha Monday morning to attend the grand opera for two days. While there she will visit with friends from Lincoln.

John Mellick and wife and little daughter Daisy left Saturday morning for their home at Comfrey, Minnesota, after a three weeks visit with Wilbur Sparr and family and with Sitas Mellick and family.

J. S. Carhart and wife were called to their old home at Mapleton, Iowa, the first of last week by the death of a relative, Mrs. Culver. He returned Wednesday evening and the wife the latter part of the week.

Dan McManigal returned Friday from Omaha where he bought a car of feeders for his corn crop, or a part of it, for it will take several cars of cattle to handle the crop of corn on the McManigal broad acres this season.

A recipe for Cottage Cheese:—We were just going to publish the way to make it, when it was remembered that a lot of Wayne people have a heap of trouble to get milk for their coffee—so we will suggest that some one get busv and start a good dairy.

Leslie Ruebeck left Friday afternoon for Llano Grande, Texas to join his regiment, the Fourth Nebraska, Co. E. after a thirty day furlough. Mr. Ruebeck came home to be present at the funeral of his brother, Russell Ruebeck.

The village of Wynot has just purchased a bunch of new equipment for the municipal light plant. A new 25 horsepower engine and a 15-k. w. generator switchboard are a part of the purchase. It is thought that the future needs are anticipated for a dozen years.

Mrs. Lee Buroker of Menno, South Dakota, who has been visiting with relatives at Sioux City for the past few weeks came Saturday evening to visit with Mrs. Frank Whitney for a short time before returning home. Mrs. Buroker left for her home Monday morning.

Mrs. Emma Baker received word Friday evening of the death of her granddaughter, Gertrude Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carson of Upton, Wyoming, death occurring Friday afternoon. Mrs. Baker left for Upton Saturday morning, the funeral being held the first of the week, at the home of the deceased.

Speaking of the W. H. Copple sale of Poland Chinas at Bancroft last week the Blade says that the average was more than $35 for the 55 head, with two topping the sale at $60 each. Not a bad average for a bunch of last spring pigs. Swan Lonsdale of Wakefield was one who paid top price. The other went to a Lyons man, but the big end of the offering went to home folks. It is a good breeder who can sell most of his offering to the men who know him best at a better price than outsiders will pay. Mr. Copple is preparing for a bred sow sale at the proper season.

Friday November 3d is proclaimed by the governor as "Fire Prevention Day," and it is a mighty fine thing for everyone to take at least one day off each year and try to make things as safe as possible from destruction from fire. It might be safe to look after such things now, and then celebrate the day set apart. All that we can save from fire loss is pure gain—for once burned it is gone—and so often a fire destroys that which cannot be replaced. During the past few years Nebraska has been looking to fire prevention, and by so doing has saved millions of dollars—and under the present system it seems that insurance rates should be cut some where near the middle.

WHEN A room in the house goes dark, you know why
WHEN A part of your body goes wrong, I know why

The principle is the same. If a person would try to light the dark rooms by making more electricity instead of turning on the switch, you would call him crazy.

Yet that is what most people do with their bodies. They take drugs and do everything to try and make a part of their body do its duty when it is really cut off from the source of supplies.

Pressure on the nerve caused by subluxated vertebrae (bone) of the spinal column will injure an organ just as pushing a button of an electric switch will put out the light.

Democratic Candidate for Governor
A NATIVE SON.

A practical man of the people who has made a success in business and to whom the tricks of the ambitious politician are unknown.

He offers a constructive program that will benefit the people of Nebraska and his candidacy is in harmony with the strong Democratic platform adopted by his party at Hastings.

He believes that the highest duty of any public servant is to carefully see to it that the will of the people, as expressed at the polls upon all questions, is carefully carried out.

The two Republican newspapers in North Platte are supporting his candidacy and the vote of nearly five to one given him at the primary election by the people of his home town, among whom he was born and raised, is proof absolute that he is a man of character and standing and a safe one to be entrusted with the business affairs, as well as the enforcement of the laws of the state.

Note for a home-grown man and a confirmed economist and business administration of state affairs.

Parker Against Hughes

John M. Parker, Progressive vice-presidential candidate, in a telegram to the New York "World" gives the following reasons why he will speak against Hughes:

"Because, with great respect for Mr. Hughes' personal character, in my humble judgment the greatest calamity to this nation would be to again turn it over to the republican machine, which is still under the absolute control of the same bosses against whom even lifelong republicans arose in vigorous and overwhelming revolt;

"Because no man could have closely observed conditions at Chicago without marvelling at the complete domination of the Republican Old Guard or pitying Progressive leaders who succumbed to that powerful influence and then deliberately betrayed and sought to turn over to the Republican party men who can neither be bullied nor bought;

"Because, instead of constructive statesmanship, republican leaders prefer to indulge in personal abuse and seek to revive sensationalism, which all true patriots know is a dead and buried issue;

"Because I earnestly believe a national party, unbought, unbossed, knowing no sectionalism and standing firmly for protection and human welfare is urgently needed, and thousands of men will join only such a party.

"For these and many other reasons I expect to go to Ohio, New York and perhaps other states, say what took place at Chicago and show what progressive measures have accomplished within the past four years for humanity and for the nation."

Dr. D. W. Phifer of Denver Speaks
(Contributed)

Some of the benefits of temperance in Colorado are seen in the following statements of fact by Dr. Phifer.

"One quart of liquor is now being used in the state where the open saloon policy sold 41 barrels, of 40 gallon each."

"The first month the bank clearings increased $19,000,000, in Denver."

"Bank deposits in Denver have increased $1,000,000 a month."

"6,000 saving accounts have been started in Denver since January 1st."

"General business has increased 39 percent in Colorado this year."

"All saloon buildings now being used for other business."

"Denver county jail only 50 prisoners as against over 300 last year."

"More than 50 percent of the Denver police have been dismissed."

"19 counties without a prisoner. One county jail is now used for a store room for spuds."

"The state debt is being paid at the rate of $3,109.00 every day since the first of January."

"During 10 weeks in August and September this year 44 were put into the state pen, during the same ten weeks last year there were 149."

"July 1915, wet, 47 put in pen, July 1916, dry, 4 put in pen."

"At the present time the warden is putting 4 out to every one he is taking into the pen."

"One half of the 'Owl' car traffic (the cars that run after twelve o'clock) has ceased and 27 percent of the traffic was women and girls and their patronage has nearly all ceased."

"1260 Denver washer women quit taking in washings since Colorado went dry."

"The dairies have increased their business 46 percent."

"Breweries all busy making soft drinks, one making soap, one making malted milk."

"The train men's picnic of 49 coaches always have one coach full of drunks this year did not have a single drunk."

"16851 saloon keepers in the United States quit business last year. That would be one every thirty minutes for 1915."

"19 states dry now, 7 to go dry in November this year, 8 to vote on the question next year. Local option in more than half of the United States now. The nation dry in 1920."

"There was a decrease of $2,000,000.00 in revenue from sale of booze in the United States in 1915."

"The prosperity destruction league of Nebraska, has recently stated that the farmers of Nebraska sold 28,000,000 bushel of corn to the breweries last year while the government report shows that the breweries only used 11,000,000 bushels of all grains in 1915."

The New Garage

Grounds has been broken on the site for the Gabler Bros. Auto Garage and by the first of the week the contractors will be on the ground and ready for operations. This building will be 50 x 100 feet, cement blocks and a pressed brick front, with one of the late designs as a pattern.

The total cost of this garage will be in the neighborhood of $4,300. The storage room will be 50x75 with a small office taken off. The work room will be 25x50 and will be ample room compared with their present quarters. An addition 50x50 feet will be built in the course of a couple of years.

J. H. Foster of Wayne has the contract for erecting the building all complete.—Winside Tribune.

Settles Sectionalism Talk

The democratic managers have evidently been stirred by the charge of "sectionalism" in the works of the administration, and they come back with what is a very interesting statement, regardless of its political employment at this time. A careful perusal of this will convince any man that there is nothing in the sectional issue raised. They say: The congressional appropriations have been distributed according to population and to the requirements of the different parts of the country.

The federal good roads law offers abundant evidence of this non-sectional fairness. The southern states get $19,377,000, as against $55,622,500 for the northern and western states, under the terms of this act.

Far from being sectional, the democratic party is today the only national party in existence in the United States. It has representatives in congress from 38 states and senators from 34 states, whereas the republican party is represented in the Senate by only 26 states and has representatives in the lower house of congress from 38 states.

Most of the important positions in the government service are filled by persons from the north and west.

The federal reserve board is composed of Charles S. Hamlin, of Massachusetts; Frederick A. Delano, of Illinois; Paul M. Warburg, of New York; and Aloph C. Miller, of California, as northern and western members. The sole member from the south is W. P. G. Harding of Alabama.

The five members of the federal trade commission are Joseph E. Davies, of Wisconsin; Edward N. Hurley, of Illinois; Will H. Parry, of Washington; and George Ruble, of New Hampshire, as northern members, while William J. Harris, of Georgia, is the only southern member. The federal farm loan board is without a single southern member. It is composed of Herbert Quick, of West Virginia; Chas. E. Lobbell, of Kansas; George W. Norris, of Pennsylvania, and W. S. A. Smith, of Iowa with Secretary Wm. G. McAdoo, of New York, as ex-office chairman.

Martin A. Knapp, of New York and W. L. Chambers, G. W. W. Hanger and W. H. Smith of the District of Columbia compose the board of mediation and conciliation.

The board of Indian commissioners, with a membership of 11, is without a southern man on its roster.

President Wilson has filled three vacancies on the supreme court bench and in no instance did he name a southern man. His appointees are James C. McReynolds, of New York, Louis Brandeis, Massachusetts and J. H. Clarke of Ohio. The president's cabinet is composed of seven northern and western members and three southerners, as follows: Secretary of state, Robert Lansing, of New York; secretary of the treasury, William G. McAdoo, of New York; secretary of war, Newton D. Baker, of Ohio; attorney general, Thomas W. Gregory, of Texas; postmaster general,

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarhal, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarhal Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Big Sheep Ranch

The farm of C. D. Jenkins southwest of this city has been attracting considerable attention the past week. On one day at one time eight automobiles were parked in the yard and it is almost impossible to find a time when there is not at least one carload there. The reason for the numerous visitors is six thousand two hundred sheep which they are now feeding. For several weeks Mr. Jenkins has been busily engaged buying sheep and shipping them to Madison in such numbers as he could handle to best advantage. Large new feeding pens have been constructed and workmen are now enlarging his water system. Running water will be piped to each pen from a large cement tank. A few sheep have been fed in this county in other years but we believe no one has ever gone into it as extensively as Mr. Jenkins. The outcome is being watched with great interest by farmers in this vicinity as in the past years cattle and hogs only have been fed to any great extent.—Madison Star Mail.

FEDERAL FARM LOAN BUREAU

No legislation passed by the present congress, we believe, is destined to have a more important part in the development of the United States than the act commonly known as the Rural Credit bill. It was the privilege of the editor to study the bill this week, reading circulars Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, just issued by the federal farm loan board, October 18th. We hope that many of our readers will write for copies of these bulletins, and it would be a most timely matter for the schools to take up wherever they have a class in political economy. When the short course at the college opens shortly, we hope that Professor Lewis will see to it that all of the prospective young farmers attending form a "dummy" national farm loan association and go through all of the forms for obtaining loans. These circulars tell of all details of the law in such plain language as to make them easily understood, and in such an entertaining manner that it is a pleasure to read them.

The fact that the government has at last made a move to aid the men who till the soil which they own by providing ample credit with an easy way to pay the same, and at very low rate of interest will do more for the upbuilding of prosperity for all of the people than any other one thing which could have been done. Put the man who tills the soil in a position to go forward with the work of development which he so well knows is needed without any hampering and nagging debts—without the fear of foreclosure and secure in the knowledge that no one will or can take advantage of him in time of stress, and agriculture will make some wonderful strides. Large land holdings will go up on 20 and 40 acre tracts instead of on half and quarter sections; lands will be better tilled and less waste be had. Silos, barns, hog houses, hen houses, and barns will be built. Better houses will come and the material things of farm life be more in evidence than ever before.

There has long been a feeling among the people of Nebraska that the highest tribunal—the court of final resort for those who place different constructions on law—should be composed of men who have judgment well matured and who are yet in the prime of life and able to do a man's full work. Governor Morehead recognized the need of such men on the bench of the supreme court of the state when he named Andrew M. Morrissey chief justice to fill a vacancy. We hope the people who have been so vexed at the delay in securing an opinion from this court will remember that at this election they have an opportunity to confirm this appointment and the good work he has done at a non-partisan election, for while on the minor offices such as president, governor, and road supervisor we are still tied to party, for the important office of chief justice of the supreme court we may vote for the MAN and not be irregular in our party standing, for the judges are not party men. That Justice Morrissey has made good is conceded by all who are familiar with his excellent record. If you wish to see the business of the court passed on as rapidly as is consistent with justice vote for the man who has added new speed to its work in the past 18 months.

Butler County Press:—There is no Wet and Dry issue between the political parties in Nebraska or their candidates. Each candidate for governor will obey the will of the people as expressed in the vote on the proposed Prohibition amendment. Every candidate for the legislature who is elected will obey that will, as expressed by majority vote of his constituents. To do otherwise would be political suicide. The proposed Prohibition amendment is not espoused or opposed by any political party in Nebraska. It is as much a non-partisan matter as the election of judges of the courts.

It seems significant at the republican campaign meeting in David City on October 11, addressed by two distinguished gentlemen of worthy reputation, John L. Kennedy of Omaha, nominee for United States senator, and Congressman Lenroot, of Wisconsin, the applause was not for the criticism and the petty carping that was indulged in for lack of issues but was for the periods of patriotic eloquence that each speaker incidentally gave voice to in praise of the United States and its possibilities and privileges. The mere partisan points were received apathetically; the periods of patriotism received prompt and cordial applause. The appeal to sectional prejudice that each speaker unworthily made received no enthusiastic approval.

One thing which appears to trouble our German friends who are not fully in accord with the President's policy of dealing with the government to which they think they owed allegiance, is that when they think of voting against Wilson they can find no effective way to aid in his defeat without aiding the cause of those who would have pursued a policy which would have led to war with Germany had they been in power and taken such course as they claim the President should have followed. Looking at it from that angle Wilson does not seem wholly bad.

It is now time for Teddy, and that man Hughes, who is running under his direction, to get up on their hind legs and howl about the manner in which the neutrality of Greece is being violated. We cannot see why they have so much to say about Belgium and nothing about Greece. Would Roosevelt have Hughes go to war with the Allies at once to preserve the neutrality of Greece? We might be able to have trouble with most of the world if we undertake to protect the small nations—all of them at all times.

A great many Wayne people who are acquainted with the genial democratic congressman from the big republican 11th Iowa district, Tom Steele, are watching his fight to be returned with much interest. Steele has made a record of efficiency, and that is what people are demanding these days. It is not the political color of a man's hair—if he has any left—that counts, but the brain beneath and how it is used.

Right now is a fine time to advocate paving. If they are from Missouri you can easily show 'em how desirable it would be at this stage of the road.

W. O. HANSSSEN

Candidate For County Treasurer

Seeks your support in the coming election November 7. He is qualified to serve the public in a business like manner and has EFFICIENCY in every way to fulfill the requirements of the office.

If there is any man who thinks all of the great interests that oppose the income tax and do not favor government regulation of railroads and railroad rates, that those who would profit from war with Mexico or trouble with any European countries are urging the election of Hughes without knowing about what he would do if elected, he has another guess coming.

The Nebraska law making the judiciary candidates non-partisan and then restricting the sum which may be used for campaign expenses works a hardship, for being non-partisan they feel that they must use papers of both political faiths, and it cuts the space pretty small and the time short.

While Hughes is criticizing the acts of congress recently passed, he is criticizing members of his own party, for many of them voted for the measures criticised. And they and their friends will not take kindly to having their honesty, patriotism, or judgment questioned.

It is safe to predict that the election of 1916 will see more independent voters and more independent voting than ever before. That means a better government as a whole. The people may make a mistake—but they will correct it soon if they can but act independently.

Would Hughes and Teddy have done any better?

Election November 7th

Among the Churches of Wayne

Presbyterian Church

(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

You, whose eye shall chance to fall upon this line, are very cordially invited to attend a special service of song and sermon at the Presbyterian church, at the evening hour on the next Lord's Day.

Next Sunday will be Rally Day at the Presbyterian church. Rally your forces to the help of the Lord against the mighty. If your duty does not call you to study and to serve in some other Bible school, join our ranks next Sunday at 10:45.

To Mrs. Horace Theobald, great credit is due for the enthusiastic and efficient choir of eighteen voices organized for the special Sunday evening services. Hear the big choir next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Wm. McEachen will lead the Honorary Members' meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. at the usual hour next Sunday evening. All friends of Christian Endeavor will want to attend this meeting. It is especially urged that all honorary members be present.

The following specialties in pulpit themes are announced for the first two Sunday evenings in November. "Something anent AMUSEMENTS," November 5. "How the Strongest Man in Wayne became Strong," November 12th.

Miss Hooper gave an inspiring address at the church on Tuesday evening. The Ladies Aid met and transacted important business at the home of Mrs. Henry Ley on Wednesday afternoon. The Teachers Training Class met this week with nearly every member present.

Hear the sermon next Sunday evening on "The Rewards of Religion." This address will cure pessimism. It will have an actual, practical value for every one who hears it. Come and bring your friends.

The prayer meeting subject for next week will be "POWER." Read the first chapter for suggestions. The meeting will last from 7:30 to 8:30. You will miss something good if you are not there. You will be helped by being present. Suppose we make a resolution to attend these mid-week meetings.

Methodist Church

(Rev. A. S. Buel, Pastor)

Last Sunday was another red letter day for the Methodist church. A large class was received into the church. The Sunday school was well attended in all departments and the teachers entered upon their work with fine enthusiasm. If you are not enrolled in a class you should be and if you are a member you should bring another with you. The departmental young peoples work started out in fine shape Sunday evening. Remember to find your place in one of these departments next Sunday evening at six-thirty. Epworth League will be led by Miss Moffitt, our deaconess, with the subject "Lord Here Am I, Send Someone Else." Intermediate League superintended by Miss Kate Adams in the parsonage, and the Boy Scouts under Mr. Lee Wells in church dining room. The Queen Esther's will meet and organize at seven thirty Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Wm. Rennieck. Young ladies fourteen and over are invited to join this society.

Prayer meeting at the church every Wednesday evening at seven thirty. Sunday school at eleven forty-five, morning preaching at ten thirty, by the pastor, subject, "The Growing Experience," and at seven thirty in the evening, subject, "Others."

"Come thou with us and we will do thee Good."

German Lutheran Church

Rev. Moehring, Pastor

There will be no services next Sunday.

A week from next Sunday, November 5th, the Reformation Festival will be celebrated. The Sacrament of the Altar will be administered at Winside in the morning at 11 o'clock. There will be preaching at Wayne in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Sacrament of the Altar will be administered at the Wayne church two weeks from next Sunday, November 12th in the morning. Services will begin 10:30 o'clock.

Wayne 0-Morningside 110

The Morningside College football eleven plowed its way through mud to victory over the Wayne State normal at Mizzou park Sioux City, Friday afternoon to the tune of 110 to 0. Mud and slush was six inches deep in places making just one grand slippery slide down the field. Two minutes after play began every man was covered from head to foot. The ball became so slippery that players put on gloves to better hold it. Comparatively few fumbles were made, Morningside making three but recovering every one. Toward the close of the game with their long lead Coach Sanderson of Morningside withdrew all but two of his regular men, substituting second team men, Captain Johnson and Behmer being the two remaining regular.

Touchdowns were made at will by the Morningside men they being held for downs only once throughout the game. Forward passing was not popular due to slippery conditions. Wayne trying two and gaining seven yards. Morningside made her gains by end runs, line smashes, off tackle drives, fumbles and intercepting forward passes. The total number of yards gained by Wayne was seventeen. Morningside scored a touchdown in the first few minutes of play and from then on to the final period of the game it was a straight march down the field toward their goal.

An Open Letter From

Congressman Stephens

Mr. A. L. Brande, Pierce, Nebr. My dear Sir:— In your issue of last week I note the following statement with reference to my use of my congressional frank:

"If Congressman Stephens were to use a free-railroad pass with the same reckless disregard of consequences as he is using the free government postage, or franking pass, the authorities would have had him in jail long ago. Let any private citizen violate the postal laws by sending private or business communications through the mail without postage, as Congressman Stephens has done and is doing in thousands of instances, and see what the United States Postoffice inspectors would do with him."

Your statement is false, malicious and libelous and published by you with the knowledge that you had no ground whatever upon which to base such a charge. I have asked you on former occasions to correct statements that you have made in regard to my official conduct but you have never had the decency to do so. I am writing you now denying absolutely the charge that you have made in your paper and I brand it as a malicious falsehood deliberately uttered by you, knowing in advance that it was a falsehood.

I also state with perfect confidence that you haven't the moral courage to publish this letter and that you will continue to attack me underhandedly in the future as you have done in the past, reiterating and making other similar charges that are as false as this one and which ultimately will lead you into trouble. I challenge you to produce any mail of any kind or character under my frank that was sent out in the interest of my private and personal business as you charge. If you had any such evidence you would have long ago submitted it to a Government inspector. If you were a patriotic and self-respecting citizen and had any respect for your word you would immediately make complaint and see that I obeyed the law that you claim I have not obeyed. The facts are, as you know, that you haven't any evidence of any sort and never have had and never will have.

I fully expect to continue the use of my frank in the interest of my constituents, and if you can find any of my constituents who have received letters from me under my frank in violation of my franking privilege I would suggest that you file such letters at once with the Postoffice Department.

You fawned at my feet when you were postmaster at Pierce for any favors that I might be able to render you even to the point of practically supporting me in my first campaign. You also claimed credit to yourself for having secured city mail delivery service for Pierce when as a matter of fact it was secured by my recommendation. I certainly treated you well in those days and permitted you to claim credit for something that you deserved no credit for and now you repay me by publishing from week to week attacks that you know to be absolutely false.

Yours truly,

Nebbraska defeated the Oregon Aggies by a score of 17 to 7.

Lincoln churches will be asked to supply workers to get out the dry vote.

Hastings captured the next annual convention of the Nebraska Baptist association.

A second case of infantile paralysis has been reported to the Omaha health authorities.

S. G. Murdoch, a Wyoming rancher, was fatally injured by a fall from a railroad train near Sidney, Neb.

Samuel Wright was killed by a Burlington train while walking on the track between Phillips and the Platte river.

It is reported that a reduction of 50 per cent of accident cases has been brought about by the Burlington's "safety first" campaign in the Platte mouth shops.

James H. Casebeer, editor of the Blue Springs Sentinel, died suddenly at Blue Springs. He was fifty-eight years old and leaves a widow and three children.

Rev. W. H. Cooper of Fullerton was elected moderator of the Presbyterian synod at the opening session at Hastings. Judge J. C. Martin of Central City was appointed vice moderator.

The University of Nebraska college of agriculture will be "at home" to sheep growers and feeders of the state at the annual "Lamb Feeders' day" at the university farm, Oct. 31.

The most successful meet in the history of the state organization of blacksmiths closed at Hastings after selecting York as next year's convention city. Old officers were re-elected.

Only one town in the state thus far is definitely known to have refused to excuse its teachers for the convention of the Nebraska State Teachers' association in Omaha, Nov. 8-10. This is Red Cloud.

The Stella electric light plant has been sold to an eastern corporation known as the Continental Gas and Electrical corporation of Cleveland, with western office in Omaha. The new owners agree to have lights in Stella within forty days.

John Chapman, who shot and injured his daughter, Myrtle, while attempting to shoot his divorced wife, pleaded guilty in the district court at Pender. Judge Graves gave him an indeterminate sentence of from one to ten years in the penitentiary.

Joe Herink of Marfa, Kan., was found dead in a South Omaha hotel. He had brought a big consignment of wheat to the Omaha grain exchange. He was fifty years old and death is believed due to heart trouble. He had been dead several hours when found.

A jury in Judge Sears' court at Omaha awarded a verdict of $7,000 damages to Grace Ray, administratrix of the estate of Joseph C. Ray, a brakeman for the Union Pacific, who was killed when he stepped in front of a train. The plaintiff sued for $30,000.

Governor Morehead honored a requisition from Platte county officials and asked the governor of Illinois for the return to this state of Charles Podroza, wanted in Columbus on a statutory charge. The complaining witness is Ada Ker. Podroza is under arrest in Chicago.

Arthur county is without a church building. Only one minister, Rev. M. B. Dillon, a Congregationalist, regularly holds services of a religious character. The entire county, with its 720 square miles of territory, is the field of labors for Mr. Dillon and his wife. Their home is at Arthur.

The Union Pacific road has asked permission of the state commission to park a private car free at Columbus. The car is owned by the Baptist association and is used for religious meetings. The law is silent on the question, but as the interstate tariffs permit it the request will be granted.

W. V. Hoagland of North Platte was elected grand master of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows at Lincoln. After an exciting and close battle for the grand wardenship, J. W. McKisick of Beatrice was elected to that office over Charles Johnson of Fremont and Don Garber of Red Cloud.

Despite the frantic shouts of County Attorney Gibbs and the emphatic ratification of Judge Miltenberger's gavel on the desk, Charles Hampton, colored, succeeded in drinking half the evidence in a bootlegging case in police court at North Platte before the bottle could be taken away from him.

Chancellor Avery of the University of Nebraska announced that national officers of the Sigma Chi fraternity would be summoned to Lincoln to take drastic action against the local chapter, possibly the withdrawal of its charter. The action of the chancellor follows complaints by the Lincoln police authorities that the chapter house has been used as a hiding place for property alleged to have been taken from hotels and billiard halls.

A community commercial club has been organized at Dunbar.

Earl C. Reid has been appointed rural letter carrier at Sherman.

The 1916 session of the Northwest Nebraska District Teachers' association will be held at Rushville, Nov. 3 and 4.

Express companies doing business in Nebraska will pay into the state treasury this year $3,000 more taxes than they did in 1915.

George E. Turkington of Omaha was elected head of the Nebraska Odd Fellows at the business session of the grand encampment at Lincoln.

The proposition to issue $25,000 bonds for the construction of an electric light plant at Beatrice was defeated by 93 votes. The vote was for 604 and against 507.

Fast eastbound freight No. 94, on the Rock Island, was derailed in the Dewitt yards, and thirteen cars of fruit, bullion, grain, etc., scattered over the yards.

The Young Women's Christian association will hold a conference at Beatrice early in November and delegations from various counties in the state will attend the meetings.

Governor Morehead has appointed D. S. Dalbey of Beatrice as a member of the board of appraisement for the extension of the university campus to succeed Robert Cowell of Omaha.

All English speaking churches at Holdrege united to hear Rev. Mr. Sox smith of the Presbyterian church deliver his last sermon, being forced to leave on account of his wife's health.

The officers have secured no clue to the whereabouts of the slayer of Cozme Rodriguez, the Mexican who was found murdered along the Rock Island right of way near Ellis. Rod Rodriguez's skull was crushed with some blunt instrument. He had $130 on his person which was taken.

Morris & White, proprietors of a grocery store and meat market at Beatrice, have made a voluntary assignment for the benefit of creditors and closed their doors. Lack of capital and bad debts are given as the causes for assignment. The liabilities are about $5,000, it is said.

Burlington officials have ordered removed a blockade of two boxcars placed in such a way as to prevent the Union Pacific from double-tracking across the former's right of way in Hastings. It is presumed the Union Pacific will now lay the second track across the Burlington right of way.

Bids for supplies for state institutions during the next three months were opened at the office of the state board of control. Prices are generally higher on everything than three months ago, although the state board does not believe it will result in a deficit at any of the state institutions.

Dr. Leonard De Vore, who was arraigned in Dakota City on a charge of homicide and footlock, was bound over to the district court, which will meet in November. De Vore's bond was fixed at $5,000. De Vore was arrested in connection with the death of a patient, Mrs. Kate Nichols of Laurel.

J. W. Bosely, a member of the soldiers' home at Grand Island from Adams county since 1908, has secured a temporary injunction restraining Commandant Walsh and the state board from discharging him. Mr. Bosely has been writing signed articles to the local press criticizing the management of the home.

Major Haysel, assistant adjutant general of the Nebraska guard, is in Ashland superintending the erection of buildings and rifle pits at the national rifle range in expectation that the range will shortly be used for rifle practice by the government. General Hall is on the border, where he went to look into the condition of the Nebraska troops and to present the regimental flags prepared by the patriotic women of Nebraska, for the Fourth and Fifth regiments.

Cast into the Missouri river some months ago, probably murdered first, the remains of two children were found in a cracker box near the bank of the river by Deputy Coroner Lar kin of South Omaha. The children were probably six months old when they were put to death. There was little left but the skeletons and what once had been white dresses.

State officers and shippers are joined in protesting against the new tariffs on interstate freight, effective Oct. 25, and superceding general order No. 19 of the state railway commission, operative since September, 1912 by a temporary injunction granted by a federal equity court at Omaha. Judges Smith, Woodrough and Elliott comprising the tribunal, concurred in the opinion granting the enjoining order. Their ruling, however, contains a stipulation that a $50,000 bond shall be placed in trust by the carriers to compensate shippers for overcharges should the final hearing for a permanent injunction be denied.

Investigation of the Burlington stock train wreck near Smithfield, which resulted in the death of eleven persons and the injury of sixteen others, is still being vigorously pursued by officials of the railroad in an effort to determine the cause of the catastrophe. E. E. Patton, engineer of the third section of the train which ran into the rear end of the second section, told his story at the inquest held at Smithfield. He asserted he was running at a speed of about twenty miles an hour when he suddenly saw the red lights of the second section at a distance of about twenty car lengths. "I immediately set the air," he testified, "but the rails were slippery on account of a misty rain, which also obscured the view, and was unable to stop in time to prevent the collision."

POULTRY PICKINGS.

Fall is the easiest time to get the advantage in the battle against mites.

The gray poultry mite is commonest in dark, damp, dirty poultry houses, where it thrives upon filth. Sunshine, ventilation and cleanliness are the remedies.

Keeping surplus cockerels and old male birds longer than is actually necessary is a waste.

Lack of cleanliness causes a terrible amount of waste, making degenerate stock and poorly grown chickens.

Almost every household throws away enough table scraps to feed a small flock of hens.

GREEN FEED FOR THE POULTRY IN WINTER

About the only hardy crop that can be grown on poultry ranges for the purpose of furnishing green food during the winter is rye, writes H. E. Eswine in the Philadelphia Press. A patch of rye near the poultry house will be a partial solution of the green food problem. In favorable weather the fowls will be allowed to pasture on the rye. This, however, will prove an uncertain single source of green food, for there will be some days when the weather will not permit the birds to be out of doors. For such times it will be necessary to have some other source of green food.

One of the best for this purpose is the common stock beet or mangold. More green food can be grown on a given area when planted to this crop than any other. A small space will grow enough for an entire winter. Where only a few hens are kept the roots may be cut in two and each half hung on a nail within reach of the hens. They will help themselves without further trouble. For large flocks it is best to cut the beets into ribbons with a machine made for the purpose rather than slicing them, thus enabling them to be eaten much more readily.

Sprouted oats is another satisfactory source of green food. Oats may be sprouted in the following manner: Place six quarts of heavy oats in a ten quart bucket. Fill the bucket with warm water. (Do not use hot water. Ten drops of formalin added to the water will prevent mold. Let the bucket stand in a warm room for forty-eight hours. By the end of that time the oats will have soaked up all the water. Then spread the oats in trays.

These trays ought to have a depth of about two inches. They may be made of wood with cracks in the bottom to let out the water, or better yet, make them of galvanized iron with perforated bottom. The oats should be about one inch or less in depth. These trays should be placed in a rack or they may be placed on the floor in the furnace room or any other well ventilated place having a temperature of 60 degrees F. or above. The room should be light so as to give a green color to the oats. Sprinkle the oats well at least once a day with warm water. In from seven to ten days, depending on the temperature, the oats will be from four to six inches high.

The Rouen duck is the favorite in France, where it is highly prized both as an egg producer and as a market fowl. It has a long, deep body, close flaked flesh of fine flavor, the mature drake weighing about nine pounds. Its plumage is much like the wild mallard, of which it is considered a descendant. The birds here pictured are a Peking duck and a Rouen drake, the Rouen being distinguished by the ring around its neck.

It is best to feed at this time, as the growing plants have used up all the plant food stored in the grain and will then be in their best condition. Ordinarily as much oats as grows on one square inch is sufficient for one hen per day. It is best to provide it at noon in troughs provided for that purpose.

Corn Produces Eggs. Corn is an excellent poultry food. A few years ago poultry writers generally advised poultrymen not to feed corn to laying hens. Chemical analysis has shown it to contain more fat forming elements than wheat, and on this account it became very unpopular, and higher priced wheat was fed in its place. Later, however, experiment stations in actual feeding tests showed it to be the equal of wheat when fed in proper combinations. The Massachusetts station secured as good if not better results in egg yield from corn as from wheat.

NATURE'S ICY GRAVEYARD.

Fossil Marvells Strew the Dreary Wastes of Arctic Siberia.

Little does the traveler think as he drives over the dreary wastes of snow and sees no living thing save the arctic fox, the raven and the snowy owl that the ground below him is packed full of the remains of enormous animals that have perished in some mysterious manner. Such nevertheless is the extraordinary fact, states "Siberia and the Polar Sea."

The whole of northern Siberia, from the Ural mountains to Bering strait, is one vast graveyard. The bones, teeth and skulls are those of elephants, rhinoceroses, buffaloes and musk oxen. They occur everywhere. They are found on the banks of the rivers, in the plains, on rising ground and in frozen cliffs. On the shores of the Arctic ocean there are sloping banks of ice. These are split and furrowed in all directions with deep chasms, and as the traveler looks down into their dark depths from above he sees that the lower portions of these icy chasms are filled with fossils.

In other places on the northern coast of Siberia fronting the Arctic ocean the low cliffs that rise above the beach and are formed of earth and clay are full of the bones of elephants and rhinoceroses. In the brief summer, which hardly lasts for six weeks, portions of these earthy cliffs thaw and fall on the beach below. Then it is that the traveler who walks along the shore witnesses an astonishing spectacle. Not only does he observe icebergs stranded on the beach, but he also sees the tusks and bones of elephants (the mammoth) lying on the shore.

If he leaves the Arctic ocean behind and journeys inland the same sights constantly meet his astonished gaze. He comes, it may be, to a plain where for perhaps half a mile the whole ground seems to be formed of masses of tusks, teeth and the bones of elephants and rhinoceroses welded together in one confused mass in the frozen soil. These mighty beasts must have been destroyed in herds, but how they perished no one knows. Still more amazing is the fact that the islands in the Arctic ocean north of Siberia are equally full of the tusks and bones, and on the shores of these islands in the polar sea the tusks of elephants can be seen sticking up in the frozen sand.

Stranger still, actually the very bodies of these great elephants, with flesh and hair perfect, are seen standing upright in the frozen cliffs. When the cliffs thaw the bodies of these great elephants fall to the ground and are so perfect, after being entombed for thousands of years, that the wolves eat the flesh!

There are many who maintain that a great future is before Siberia, owing to its vast mineral wealth and its corn producing power. This applies to the southern districts, but has nothing to do with the regions of awful desolation to which we have referred.

Baseball and the Marines.

Americans are lately the best bomb and grenade throwers in the world and are capable of waging wonderful trench warfare in case of hostilities, say United States marine corps officers. "The average American youth early learns to throw a baseball with speed and accuracy, and it is because of that we, as a nation, are especially fitted to wage the modern war of the trenches. Baseball is encouraged at all our stations, and the skill displayed by marines—even untrained recruits—in the bomb and grenade throwing practice is really remarkable," said a marine corps officer.

Ancient Preservation of the Dead. Herodotus gives a good description of the manner in which the early Ethiopians preserved their dead.

Having thoroughly dried the corpse, they plastered it over with a paste made of gypsum and then painted the face and exposed parts so as to make them look as natural as possible. Dead bodies served in this manner remained intact for hundreds of years.—London Globe.

Aptly Described. "I have been courting her for two years," said the disconsolate one. "and I am certain that she will refuse me when I propose."

"Ah, that is interesting," said the amateur photographer—"a sort of undeveloped negative."—Pittsburgh Press.

"Sure I can," replied Freddie. "Desert is the stuff you get a little bit of for eating a whole lot of things you don't like."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

As the Years Go By. The letterhead of a certain lawyer bears a legend that savors of sound philosophy. It runs, "I am anxious for business, but have passed the experimental age and am now demanding cash for my services."—Case and Comment.

"I was. I played the part in a pair of very tight shoes."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Cattle Market Steady to Stronger; Moderate Receipts

HOGS STRONG TO 5c HIGHER

Lamb Market Slow Account of Late Trains. Most of Offerings Not Yarded Until Late in Forenoon. Not Many Killers.—Percentage of Feeders Larger Than on Monday. Trade About Steady. Monday's Fat Sheep and Lamb Prices Well Sustained.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Nebraska, October 25, 1916. A very respectable run of cattle showed up for Tuesday, some 422 loads, about 11,500 head. There were hardly enough corn fed steers here to afford a real test of the market. Grass stock made up the big bulk of the supply, and the strong demand from dressed beef men for the good grass beef indicated an equally active call for the corn feds. Nominally it was a steady to strong market for desirable corn fed beefs. Choice yearlings sold up around $10.50, and the right kind of heavy beefs would have brought the same figure. Pairs to good beefs went around $8.50@9.50. Supplies of the stock were of fair proportions, and desirable cows and heifers as a rule commanded steady to stronger prices.

Quotations on cattle: Good to choice beefs, $9.75@10.50; fair to good beefs, $8.50@9.50; common to fair beefs, $6.75@8.25; good to choice heifers, $6.75@7.25; good to choice cows, $6.50@7.00; fair to good cows, $5.85@6.40; canners and cutters, $4.25@5.75; veal calves, $8.00@10.00; bulls, $5.25@6.50.

The largest hog run since the opening of September, more than seven weeks ago, put in its appearance here Tuesday, estimates made before 10 o'clock placed the run at 121 loads or 8,400 head. Other markets seemed to react and while local shippers did not have very many orders, their early purchases were as much as 5c higher. The first hogs packers bought were steady to strong, although their early bids were of a rather easy tone.

The sheep and lamb run for Tuesday was just fair, arrivals counting out eighty loads or some 24,000 head. During the early part of the forenoon there was practically nothing done. The bulk of the offerings did not get to the barn until long mid-forenoon, and what lambs were yarded early did not include many killers. Account of the drizzling rain all forenoon when arrivals did reach the barn most of them were wet, which caused some slowness in the trade.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, good to choice, $10.00@10.10; lambs, fair to good, $9.65@9.90; lambs, feeders, $9.00@10.00; yearlings, good to choice, $7.50@7.75; yearlings, fair to good, $7.00@7.50; yearlings, feeders, $7.00@8.00; wethers, fair to choice, $6.50@7.40; ewes good to choice, $6.50@6.65; ewes, fair to good, $5.75@6.50; ewes, plain to culls, $4.00@5.50; ewes, feeding, $4.50@5.75; ewes, breeders, all ages, $6.25@9.00.

Pointer for the Preacher. Among the stories related by the late Rev. Dr. A. F. Pierson was one of a marble cutter, with chisel and hammer, working a block of stone into a statue. A preacher who was looking on said, "I wish I could, on hearts of stone, deal such transforming blows!" "Perhaps you might," was the workman's quiet answer, "if, like me, you worked on your knees."—Philadelphia Record.

Speedy Giraffes. The kangaroo, supposedly a fleet beast, covers but ten to fourteen feet a second, while the giraffe dashes along over fifty feet in the same time, and an ox attached to a wagon goes two feet a second. Some species of hare run sixty feet a second, others not more than half so fast.

Definitions of Mah. Man has been defined by Aristotle as "a reasoning animal," by Plato as "a political animal," by Dante as "a ridiculous animal," by Vargh and by John Fiske as "an improvable animal." Boerhave calls men "mud worked up by the hand of God."

Rev. M. L. Dillev begins his work as pastor of the Carroll Baptist church Sunday, October 22. He comes to this church after a three years pastorate with the Octavia Baptist church, his first pastorate in this state. He is formerly from Iowa where he graduated from Central College at Pella, following which he held successful pastorate in his home state and has proven himself efficient in his work in Nebraska. We believe his coming to the pastorate of the Carroll church will be marked with progress. All are heartily welcome to all the services of the church.—Carroll Index.

 One Justice of the Peace for each precinct.
 One Overseer of Highways for each road district in the county.
 One Precinct Assessor for each precinct in the county.

Also, at the same time and places, two amendments to the constitution of the State will be submitted to the electors for adoption or rejection under the provisions of the initiative, to-wit:

Shall the constitution of the State of Nebraska be amended by adding thereto the following:

On and after May first, 1917, the manufacture, the sale, the keeping for sale or barter, the sale or barter under any pretext of malt, spirituous, vinous or other intoxicating liquors, are forever prohibited in this state, except for medicinal, scientific, or mechanical, or sacramental purposes.

That Article V (5), entitled "Executive Department" of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska be and hereby is amended by adding thereto the following new section to be numbered Section 19B: Section 19B: The governor shall appoint an elector of the state who shall be known as the Food, Drug, Dairy and Oil Commissioner. Such commissioner shall be appointed for a term of six years and shall have power to administer all laws now administered by the Food, Drug, Dairy and Oil Commission, and the powers possessed by the Governor as the commissioner of the Food, Drug, Dairy and Oil Commission shall cease to exist in the governor and his deputy, and shall become vested in the Food, Drug, Dairy and Oil Commissioner, which commissioner, without further authority of law is hereby authorized and directed to assume and exercise all the powers and perform all the duties heretofore vested in, or exercised by the governor with reference to the Food, Drug, Dairy and Oil Commission, but nothing herein shall limit the general supervisory or examining powers vested in the governor by the laws or the constitution of the state, or such as vested by him in any committee appointed by him. Said commissioner shall give bond, receive such compensation, perform all duties and comply with all regulations that are fixed and established by law.

Which election will be open at Eight o'clock in the morning and will continue open until Eight o'clock in the evening of the same day.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 5th day of October, A. D. 1916.

UNITED STATES SENATOR GILBERT M. HITCHCOCK CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

During his service in Washington Senator Hitchcock has helped to give this country: Popular Election of Senators; The Income Tax; Postal Savings Banks; Government Powder and Armor Plants; the Good Roads Act; Government Railroad in Alaska; Tariff Reform; Federal Reserve Act; Farm Loan Act; Clayton Anti-Trust Act; Anti-Child Labor Act, and numerous other reforms.

He has fought for the guarantee of bank deposits.

He secured passage of the bill to give the Filipinos a larger share in their own government, with a view to Philippine independence.

He fathered the resolution that saved to the people the coal lands of Alaska.

He has supported President Wilson in the great policies that have distinguished his administration.

HE IS AN INDEPENDENT, COURAGEOUS AND PROGRESSIVE PUBLIC SERVANT AND ASKS FOR RE-ELECTION ON HIS RECORD.

RUNDELL'S COLUMN

The criticisms of the President revives a vivid recollection of the first five weeks of President Lincoln's administration. Eleven states had seceded, organized a government and were preparing for war.

Horace Greely, chief promoter of the republican party, urgently counseled "Let the erring sisters go in peace." The New York city merchants enjoying a lucrative trade with the south, urged peace on any terms, while the Buchanan school of statesman said the constitution did not permit the invasion of a sovereign state. The abolitionists of the John Brown school clamored for war.

Leading southerners have since said it was this divided sentiment that misled them to fire the first gun. The bombardment of Fort Sumpter brought a quick response from the democratic Chamber of Commerce of New York in the form of a war resolution and a donation of $10,000,000.00 to a bankrupt treasury. Who is so bold as to say, without this substantial backing, "Lincoln would have prepared for war."

Early in the war we had the first disavowal of the act of a naval commander by an American President. Mason and Slidel, rebel commissioners to France and England, were forcibly taken from a British merchantman on the high seas. Their release was promptly demanded, which was resented by Secretary Seward with other members of the cabinet.

But Lincoln, like Wilson, calmly counting the cost of blood and treasure of a war with both France and England in a defence of a doubtful American right, disavowed the act and surrendered the prisoners. The Northern heart was fire against England for aiding the rebels and Lincoln was denounced with as unkind epithets as are being applied to Wilson today by Roosevelt, Hughes & Company. The Germans do not have to falsify the record to oppose Wilson. They err only in their viewpoints. But you American bred and born editors and orators have no regard for the truth. You charge Wilson with failure to compel Huerta to salute the flag, and call it shameful for desertion of American refugees at Tampico. Now, what are the facts? Admiral Mayo, not Wilson nor official Washington, demanded of the Mexican commander that he apologize and salute the flag as reparation for mistreatment of United States marines. The demand was refused, and war seemed imminent.

Wilson, by the bedside of his dying wife at Sulphur Springs, learning that a large cargo of war material was about to land at Vera Cruz, ordered Admiral Fletcher to seize the custom house, not to compel Huerta to salute the flag, as you say, but to prevent war or have a big advantage in case of war.

The excited Mexicans caused the foreigners, mostly American to flee to Tampico for safety. Admiral Mayo, believing that an effort to rescue these refugees under the American flag would endanger their lives, arranged with German and English captains to rescue them, while he sailed away out of sight with the stars and stripes, and by this maneuver 2000 refugees were saved without the loss of a life and this is what you call a shameful act by president Wilson.

Now let me give native Americans a little free advice. If you desire to avoid for yourselves and your children unpleasant epithets it is up to you to defeat President Wilson, for if he is elected the Historian will record him in the Galaxy of fame with four other great American Presidents, Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln, all Southern born and bred and educated in the school of righteousness and humanity.

A noted American admiral once said "May my country always be right, but my country right or wrong." Had the Northern people adopted this admiral's motto, the first five weeks of Lincoln's administration, there would have been no war. And had the American people stood as one man back of President Wilson, there would have been no Lusitania disaster.

C. J. Rundell.

PROHIBITION Does Increase the Tax Burden

Absolute proof is at hand that prohibition has enormously increased the tax burden for the Kansas farmer and property owner. So great is the burden of taxation in prohibition Kansas that half the counties in that state find themselves in serious financial difficulties.

HERE IS THE PROOF:

(From the Topeka "State Journal" of Dec. 7, 1915)

"MUST RAISE LIMIT"

"One-Half of Kansas Counties in Financial Mire"
 "Bond Issues, Economy or Legislative Relief Only Hope"

"Fifty per cent of the counties of Kansas will be forced to adopt sweeping economy measures or issue bonds to cover deficits in their general revenue funds, unless the next legislature raises the limit of the general revenue tax levy, according to men in touch with the financial condition of counties over the state."

The reason for the heavy tax burden under prohibition is not far to seek. Under prohibition, it becomes necessary to prosecute in court every year thousands of persons having alcoholic beverages in their possession. Each such case costs the county about $50, according to the Topeka, Kan., "State Journal" of August 29, 1916. This paper also states in the same issue that in Topeka alone, there are 106 such cases docketed for the September term of court. This is the condition in one Kansas county, at one term of court alone.

Kansas spent $701,944.40 in the last two years to maintain the inmates of her state prisons, while Nebraska spent less than half that sum.

WHO CARRIES THE TAX BURDEN?

It is interesting to observe how the prohibition politician always manages to unload the increased burden of taxation on the farmer and on the property owner. In Kansas the state tax levy for 1916 is equal to 6.5 mills on a one-fifth valuation, and in Nebraska it is only 6.1 mills on a one-fifth valuation.

In order to deceive the people and keep the state tax levy from mounting sky-high, the prohibition politicians in Kansas simply raised the assessed valuation of farm lands many millions of dollars this year.

HERE IS THE PROOF:

(From the Topeka "State Journal" of Oct. 5, 1916)

"Twice has he (Governor Capper, the prohibitionist) handed the FARMERS a package, by raising the valuations of their farm land, in order to raise more taxes, yet he permitted the railroads and corporations to go at the same old rate."

GOVERNOR CAPPER OF KANSAS HAS PUBLICLY ADMITTED THAT THE VALUATION OF KANSAS PROPERTY WAS BOOSTED $79,000,000 IN 1915 FOR PURPOSES OF TAXATION.

THIS IS TYPICAL OF THE PROHIBITION POLITICIAN EVERYWHERE. HE RIDES INTO OFFICE ON THAT ISSUE, AND THEN PROMPTLY PUTS THE BURDEN OF INCREASED TAXATION BROUGHT ABOUT BY PROHIBITION, ON THE FARMER AND ON THE PROPERTY OWNER.

The squares shown below will appear at the TOP of the ballot. An X marked in square 301 is a vote AGAINST PROHIBITION.

Notice to Non-Resident Defendants

To H. C. Klinger, administrator of the estate of Jonathan Brugger, deceased, and Henry Brugger, Etta Kiscaden, Kate Heberling, Mary Morrell, and Elmer Brown, sole and only heirs at law and next of kin of Jonathan Brugger, deceased. You, and each of you are hereby notified that John H. Brugger as next friend for, and on behalf of his minor son, Norbert Brugger, filed his petition in the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, on the 14th day of September, 1916, against you; the nature, object and prayer of said petition is for specific performance of contract of Jonathan Brugger, deceased, made in his life time with plaintiff in said suit, to convey certain lands located in Wayne County, Nebraska, to wit: the southwest quarter of section fourteen, township twenty-six, Range two east of the sixth principal meridian, to plaintiff in said action; said petition names each and all of you defendants in said action by reason of you being the heirs at law and next of kin of said deceased, and prays the court that you as heirs at law and next of kin of said deceased convey said land to plaintiff in said action in compliance with the contract of said deceased.

You are required to answer said petition on or before Monday, the 27th day of November, 1916.
John Brugger, as next friend for and on behalf of his minor son, Norbert Brugger,

Lincoln Letter

A recent presidential poll of the labor vote in 31 states, extending from coast to coast, was made by the Literary Digest and the results published in its issue of October 7. The poll shows the electoral vote as follows: Wilson, democrat, 332; Benson, socialist, 47; Hughes, republican, 43; Scattering, 43.

Reduced to percentages, President Wilson received 72 per cent, Mr. Benson 11 per cent and Mr. Hughes 9 per cent.

The third quarterly report of state expenditure for 1916 has just been issued by State Auditor Wm. H. Smith. The quarter comprises the months of July, August and September, and the report shows that a total of $1,557,380.40 was expended during the period, as against $1,032,458.12 the previous quarter. The last report, however shows that $488,778.87 of the above amount was school apportionment. The state university expended $424,578.24 for building and maintenance. The fifteen institutions of the state under the board of commissioners, including the board, used $320,322.75. The balance of $878,706.64 is for general state government purposes, but includes $57,400 for Normal training in high schools, and $66,839.66 for the expenses of the four normal schools. The total amount expended for education purposes for the last quarter was $987,591.77, or a trifle over two-third of the total state expenditures.

According to a report compiled in the treasurer's office by State Treasurer G. E. Hall, from December 31, 1896 to March 31, 1915, the state paid out over one million dollars in interest as a result of registering state warrants. In some bienniums of this period of years his interest sum ran up as high as $200,000. In the years 1913-14, the state paid something like $47,000 interest. When Treasurer Hall took charge of the office on the morning of January 8, 1915, he was confronted with the problem of stopping this waste of the people's money, and in five days after taking charge of his office gave orders to discontinue registering warrants. In the meantime he issued his famous decree to county treasurers that tax payments must be made monthly instead of semi-annually as had been the custom in the past. It took a supreme court decree to finally bring some of the county treasurers to an accounting, but in the action Treasurer Hall has saved the taxpayer many thousands of dollars. No warrants will be registered under Mr. Hall's administration.

O. E. Bernecker, secretary of the state board of equalization reports that the tax received from the express companies doing business in Nebraska this year will amount to $22,581.88. The law under which this tax was created is known as Section 7477 of the revised statutes of Nebraska, and was passed by the 1913 legislature. Wm. H. Smith, present state auditor, who was a member of the state senate in 1913, is the author of the bill. The law requires that 2 per cent of the gross earnings of the express companies be paid into the state general fund as a tax. In 1914, the first year of the operation of this law the express companies doing business in the state, viz: Wells Fargo, Adams and American, paid into the state treasury $19,880.92. In 1915 the three companies paid $20,745.52.

Before the Smith law was passed, the system of taxation was distributed over about 80 counties of the state, the sums collected were small and in many cases difficult to collect. It cost nearly as much to get the amounts into the state treasury as some of them were worth. Under the present law the tax is paid in from the head offices, and no trouble or expense is experienced by the state in its collection. It is conceded to be one of the best tax laws on the statute books of Nebraska.

The "Drive" For The Senate

The republican National Committee has sent out the word that a special effort must and will be made to regain control of the United States Senate. Recently the New York Times published the following interview with Nicholas Murray Butler the noted stand pat republican leader.

"It is, I suppose, no secret that the republicans confidently expect to regain control of the United States senate. To do this they must gain nine senators. Of this number five are believed to be certain, namely, those in Maine, which has already voted; New York, New Jersey, West Virginia and Ohio. Four more must be gained from the following eight opportunities: Maryland, Nebraska, Missouri, Nevada, Arizona, Mon-

Chief Justice Andrew M. Morrissey
Non-Partisan Candidate to Succeed Himself.

The Judiciary has been taken out of politics. Judges are not nominated by political parties, but are voted for on a separate non-partisan ballot. Judge Morrissey's work as Chief Justice has been heartily commended by those having business before the Supreme Court. In the April primaries the voters showed their appreciation of his efforts by giving him a splendid majority. Out of 83 counties he received a majority of 80; and in the whole state he received 9,993 more votes than were cast for any other candidate for Chief Justice. He is in vigorous health; in the prime of life; has demonstrated his fitness for the position, and for these reasons you are asked to help elect him to succeed himself.

PLEA FOR A HALF NICKEL.

It Would Be Handy In Making Change and Might Reduce Prices.

The ham sandwich, which was once 5 cents, now frequently costs a dime. The same disturbing truth applies to other things in common life, both inside and outside of lunch rooms. There is no need of statistics from economists to inform us that the cost of living has advanced. Every spender of money knows it. Retailers are more reluctant to put prices up than is generally realized. They know that consumption decreases as prices advance. That means less business, and profits depend partly on large business. When more than the traffic will bear is charged the traffic falls off.

Change making is one of the items in up to date retailing. It must be done quickly if expenses are to be kept down. The young woman at the lunch room desk has not time to count pennies. She must deal in nickels, dimes and quarters if she is to maintain her astonishing speed and accuracy.

We need another coin. Three cent pieces were confused with dimes and were hard to use because they were not fractions of other currency. No one but a statistician thinks in decimals. The rest of us do our sums in fractions. Four three-cent pieces make 12 cents, but there is no such coin. Eight of them make 24 cents, but the coin almost corresponding is worth 1 cent more. If three cent pieces were again issued they would not fill the bill.

With a half nickel it would be different. Half a nickel is a fraction of every coin from the mint. Were there such a coin 5 cent rates would not have been so common. If there should be such a coin many prices would come down.—Boston Globe.

SAVING THE RUG.

Tale of a Bottle of Ink, a Quick Witted Friend and Some Salt.

While stopping at a new and expensively furnished hotel a guest spilled a bottle of ink on a costly velvet rug, light blue and pink in color. A friend who was calling on her at the time quieted her fears by assuring her that she would fix it so that not the slightest stain would be left.

First she had a quart of fine table salt sent up at once. Sifting the salt through her fingers, she covered the ink spot entirely. To all appearances there was nothing but a pile of fine table salt on the rug.

Over this she placed a heavy chair, cautioning the guest not to disturb it nor to allow the maid to do so. After promising to return the next afternoon to finish the job she went cheerfully about her own affairs.

True to her word, she made her appearance the following afternoon and, calling for a dustpan and whisk broom, removed the salt. There was not the slightest stain of ink on the rug. The salt, having carefully sifted on the spot, had slipped into the pile and absorbed all the ink. Of course the salt, except a thin layer on the outside of the pile, was as black as ink could make it.

This method of preventing ink stains is as effective as it is simple. The secret of success lies in acting promptly, having fine salt, sifting it on the spot so slowly and gently that it slips into the goods and allowing it to remain undisturbed until it is bone dry. Then it may be safely removed with a whisk broom and dustpan.—New York Sun.

Our First Tariff

The first tariff act in our country was signed by President Washington on July 4, 1789, near the very beginning of his first administration. Hamilton was the author of the measure, which provided for specific duty on some forty-seven articles and ad valorem rates on other groups of articles. The second tariff act was approved by the president in August, 1790.—New York American.

BIBLE MANUSCRIPTS.

The Sinaitic, Alexandrian and Vatican Are the Oldest Known.

The oldest Bible manuscripts now in existence date from about 400 to 450 A. D. and show us the Bible as it existed soon after apostolic days. The earlier manuscripts were either lost or destroyed in the terrible persecutions which were directed not only against the Christians, but against their treasured sacred writings. The enemies thus hoping to stamp out the slightest traces of Christianity. The three oldest manuscripts now in existence are known as the Sinaitic, the Alexandrian and the Vatican manuscripts.

The Sinaitic was found by the eminent Bible scholar Tischendorf, in a convent on Mount Sinai in 1844. It contained the Septuagint, other parts of the Old Testament, the New Testament complete and some of the apocryphal books. The writing, after a lapse of more than 1,500 years, is still clear and legible.

The Alexandrian manuscript, which came to light in 1628, is not quite so ancient as the Sinaitic. It has the Old Testament complete, except that ten leaves are missing, and the New Testament lacks nearly thirty leaves. It is in the British museum.

The Vatican manuscript, the most ancient of all, is a great treasure, consisting of about 700 leaves of vellum bound in book form. Part of Genesis is missing and also a number of the Psalms. The New Testament is complete up to Hebrews, ninth chapter. Other early Bible manuscripts of great value, but inferior to the three mentioned, are the Codex Ephraem and the Codex Bezae, besides which there is a long list of later manuscripts.—Christian Herald.

Crocodiles and Alligators.

The true crocodiles are distinct from the alligators. Among the points of distinction the following are the most noticeable: In the crocodiles the so called canine tooth, the fourth counting from the front, fits into a notch in the side of the upper jaw and is therefore visible when the mouth is closed, while in the alligator it is received in a pit in the upper jaw and is therefore invisible or nearly so. Again, in the crocodile the hind legs have a fringe of fattened scales which is wanting in the alligators, whose legs are round.—London Saturday Review.

THEY SAW THE DOCTOR.

Agd After the Interesting Visit the Physician Also Saw.

A Chicago specialist got, on a certain morning, the card of one of the richest of our western millionaires. He went down instantly and found a well dressed man, who said:

"I am here, sir, on a delicate and painful matter. My wife is a victim of kleptomaniya, and, knowing your skill in mental diseases, I have brought her on for treatment under you."

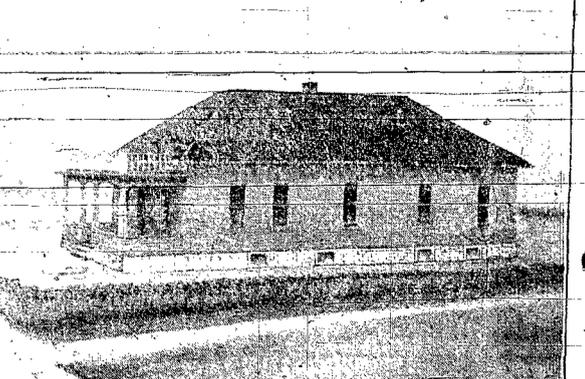

"Bring the lady to see me tomorrow morning," said the physician.

"It will be best not to bring her to your office," faltered the millionaire. "The sight of other patients might excite her. I suggest—"

"I'll receive her in my drawing room. Will that be better?" asked the physician.

"Oh, much better," said the other in a relieved tone.

And the next day the western millionaire led into the physician's drawing room a young woman of singular
