

The Nebraska Democrat

ESTABLISHED 1884

WAYNE, WAYNE COUNTY, NEBRASKA, NOVEMBER 2, 1916

$1.50 PER YEAR

Mrs. William Orr

(Contributed)

The dear Lord's best interpreters
Are humble human souls;
The gospel of a life like hers,
Is more than books or scrolls.

Mrs. Emma D. Morris Orr was born in Davis County, Iowa, on New Years Day in 1867, and departed this earth life in Omaha, October, 27th, 1916.

The Morris family moved to Oakland, Iowa, in the early 30's and Miss Emma Morris was married to Wm. Orr, now of this place, in Prairie City, Iowa, May 6th, 1886. The newly married pair lived in Oakland for about 12 years when Mr. Orr disposed of his business there and soon after moved to Wayne Nebraska where the family has since resided.

Mrs. Orr was known since girlhood as a faithful, consistent member and servant of the church. She united with the Christian church when a young girl. In Oakland, she transferred her church membership to the Congregational church. On coming to Wayne, she became a member of the First Presbyterian church, of which she was a loved and honored member at the time of her call to the Great Beyond.

Mrs. Orr was a very active woman in all community affairs till she was stricken, nearly eight years ago, with what eventually proved to be her fatal illness. During these later years, although she could not go about as much as was her wont, her ministrations of love and kindness did not cease. Many are they who rise up today to call her blessed.

Two children remain to mourn their mother's departure, Mrs. Neva Cavanaugh of Lincoln and Mr. Carroll Orr of Wayne. Two sisters are living, Mrs. Guy Walters of Coulee City, Washington and Mrs. O. A. Strahan of Malvern, Iowa. These with the brother, William Morris, and the bereaved husband have the sympathy of a host of friends who sorrow with them.

The body was laid away in God's Acre in Malvern, Iowa, on Sunday, October 29th, 1916, her pastor, Rev. S. Xenophon Cross reading the burial service. In Christian faith, her friends look beyond to reunion in the glory land. She was a Godly woman, a true friend, a noble wife and loving mother. The memory of her life and deeds is sweet to all who knew her.

McEachen Sells Poland Chinas

The hog sale of George McEachen last Saturday at the pavilion was not as largely attended as are some sales, but Mr. McEachen tells us that he is satisfied with results and considers that his first sale was all that he could expect for a start. His offering was younger than is usually put out at a fall sale, and yet the average was around the $30 mark. Starting with number 18 which sold at $41, to E. E. Driscoll, the others followed as given: 40, J. H. Claussen, $27; 7, D. A. Jones, $27; 8, W. A. Hunter, $25; 12, Ray Robinson, $25; 16, E. E. Driscoll, $31; 5, J. H. Claussen, $26; 20, Ray Robinson, $21; 10, All Challie, $31; 43, D. A. Jones, $29; 9, W. Roggenbach, $29; 29, Jens Thompson, $26; 6, Chas. Heikes, $52; 50; 42, Frank Woehler, $28; 33, D. A. Doings in the District Court

Case 304. Charles O'Sellon et al vs. Wayne County Bank of Sholes, et al was tried before Judge Welch the first of this week. All the evidence was turned in, and the ruling of the court will probably be given sometime in the near future. In the case of The State of Nebraska vs. Carl Carlson the court ruled that the defendant be given 50 days in the county jail as punishment for the crime he committed.

D. A. R. Chapter Formed

Mrs. C. H. Aull of Omaha state regent of the D. A. R. was here Friday organizing a chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution society. Friday evening fourteen ladies met at the home of Mrs. Ray Reynolds and officers and authorized members were received. To become a member one must prove that she is a descendant of an ancestor who took part in the Revolution of 1776 by papers filed with the state secretary. Mrs. J. W. Jones was elected local regent, Mrs. A. Jacobs vice regent, Mrs. Homer Seace secretary and Miss Florence Welch registrar. The other members are as follows: Mrs. Ray Reynolds, Mrs. J. G. Mines, Mrs. F. G. Philleo, Miss Elsie Ford Piper, Mrs. I. H. Britell, Miss Fannie Britell, Mrs. Clara Ellis, Mrs. V. L. Dayton, Mrs. G. J. Green, Miss Mamie Wallace. The chapter will meet every month after the organization is fully completed.

Hallowe'en

The W. C. T. U. held a Temperance party at the home of Prof. Hickman Tuesday evening. A short miscellaneous program was given consisting of music and readings. A very interesting and humorous debate was presented on the subject, Resolved, That equal suffrage will be of greater benefit to this nation than will Prohibition. Mr. Redmond and Rev. Buell upheld the affirmative of the question and Rev. Gaston and Professor House the negative. Following this deep and learned discussion the company turned their attention to playing Hallowe'en games and doing "Stunts". Refreshments were served late in the evening.

Election Returns Wanted Complete

County Clerk Reynolds makes the request that the judges and clerks of election in the various precincts send him as complete returns as possible at the earliest hour obtainable that returns from Wayne county may be fairly complete before the official count is made. If all will do this, Clerk Reynolds will be able to give to each precinct the vote of the other precincts as well as supply state headquarters, more quickly and accurately. Have a system—call the clerk and report your result, and others wanting it can get it from this central point without confusion.

The Official Ballot

On other pages of this paper voters may find the official ballot and thus ample time to study the makeup of the same and familiarize themselves with the names of the candidates they favor, and be able to mark their ballot much more intelligently when they come to the booth. Many voters never see a ballot until they come to vote, and the long array of names confuses and they often fail to vote just as they had intended, or vote a part of the names only. The ballot this year is in different form, and more simple, we think.

Wayne Cattle to Inter-National Fair

Last week F. M. Griffith picked a bunch of good ones from his herd of cattle and shipped them to J. C. Redfield of Newell, Iowa, who is preparing a car load of cattle for an exhibit at Chicago the first week of next month, at the Inter-National Stock Show. Mr. Griffith's contribution was a bunch of as pretty black polled cattle as one will see in a month travel. They are grass fat, and will weigh 1,200 as 2-year-olds.

Preacher Talks for Wets

Last Friday evening Rev. Wallace Short told an audience of Wayne people why he is not a prohibitionist. Many of the dry people attended, and so far as we know none were converted to his ideas of personal liberty. He thinks legal suasion is the wrong way to overcome the drink evil, and would apply moral suasion and education for a cure.

Richard L. Metcalfe Here

Friday evening the opera house has been engaged for a talk from Richard L. Metcalfe, of Omaha, a man known to many Wayne people either personally or by reputation. All are welcome to hear him discuss the campaign issues.

Social Notes

The Womens Union Bible Study circle had a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. H. H. Hickman Tuesday afternoon. Letters were read from Miss Grace Soderberg, formerly of near Wakefield now a missionary in China, and from E. Sywulka who states that Thilda Jacobsen will soon return to Africa. Sywulka further writes, "News has at last reached us from German East Africa. As soon as the war broke out the old time lust for war and plunder broke loose among the native tribes and dressed in war paint and spears they went forth pillaging the country. I fear three of our missionaries have thus entered their reward. How much longer is this poor fallen earth to be drenched in blood and tears of anguish sin and offering?" The next meeting will be in the M. E. church parlors and special prayer will ascend for state wide prohibition. Mrs. J. A. Halley will assist in this meeting and all are cordially invited.

The Eastern Stars provided a fine evening of entertainment for the Masons and their wives Thursday evening at the club rooms of the Eastern Stars when nearly two hundred members met in a good old fashioned Hallowe'en party. The hall was neatly decorated in Hallowe'en colors emphasizing this time of the season. The program began at eight o'clock, Mesdames Davis and Jones singing a duet and encore, Mrs. J. Miller a piano solo and encore and Miss Mack of the State Normal faculty a reading and encore. Following this program Hallowe'en contests were staged in which some of the older men and women carried off prizes by being able to play some of "those old games" better than the younger generation. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening consisting of pumpkin pie, coffee and doughnuts.

Two of the primary classes of the M. E. Sunday school enjoyed a progressive Hallowe'en party Tuesday evening. The young people assembled at the home of Miss Florence Gardner at about 6:30. After masking and dressing as ghosts they marched down Main street to the home of Miss Mable Gossard. Here games were played and ghost stories and riddles told. While there a delicious Hallowe'en luncheon was served. Following this jack o' lanterns were again lighted and the line of march ended at the L. C. Gildersleeve home. Here more games were played and another luncheon was served. After this the little ones were taken home. All had a good time and wish Hallowe'en came oftener.

The Seniors of the normal "pulled off" a good stunt Tuesday night when they all adopted the Ku Klux Klan idea of ghost costume and marched in a body down main street. It made one feel just a wee bit trembly to see them for they did not have much to say. The class first had a Crystal party and later adjourned to the Gem Cafe where a regular feed was enjoyed. The same mysterious bunch next went to the campus where a Ukalela was procured and singing, ghostly, ghastly and classical was heard. The members of the class adjourned to their homes at a late hour.

Seventeen little girls belonging to Mrs. A. R. Davis' class at the Presbyterian church were entertained at their teacher's home Tuesday evening at a Hallowe'en party. After a Jack o' Lantern parade the little guests went to the hostess' home. The rooms were darkened and decorated in 'spooky' black and orange colors. An old witch had consented to attend the party and fortunes were told by her. Games and music made up the program which was much enjoyed. Hallowe'en refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the playing.

The Early Hour club held their initial meeting Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Ley. The rooms were attractively decorated in Hallowe'en colors. The evening was spent socially playing five hundred and telling Hallowe'en ghost stories. The hostess served dainty refreshments at the close of the program. Guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Theobald, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Ley, Mrs. M. A. Phillips, Mr. Fred Berry, Mr. and

Mrs. Harry Craven and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clark. The club will meet every Thursday evening hereafter.

The home of Mrs. H. Ringland was the scene of a Hallowe'en party Tuesday evening, Mrs. J. Wendte and Mrs. Ringland entertaining the pupils of the Junior department of the Presbyterian Sunday school. Twenty two little folks were taken through the mysterious mazes of ghost land and told by goblins and elves of the ghosts and spooks that live there. Folk games were played throughout the course of the evening. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

The Acme club met with Mrs. E. Davies October 30th. In response to the roll call miscellaneous quotations were cited from various authors and poets. Mrs. H. Wilson was leader in the discussion of current events. Light refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting. Guests of the club were, Mrs. Griffen of Florence and Mrs. Hale of Fort Dodge. The social which was to have been held Monday evening was postponed until Tuesday November 7th.

One of the jolly Hallowe'en parties Tuesday night was at the Panabaker home when Miss Cora entertained a party of eleven of the "Hello" girls, so if your call did not get expert attention for an hour you know that the ladies who serve you so well were having the time of the season. It was a real Hallowe'en event with fine music and dainty refreshments. None of the boys were present except James Harman.

A very interesting meeting of the U. D. club was held at the home of Mrs. C. H. Fisher Monday. Current issues and events were discussed by the club at the beginning of the program. Mrs. H. B. Jones read the theme of Mrs. Felber's on the subject, "Pepsin, Pep and Patience." Mrs. Fisher read a discussion on "Our Misunderstood Nerves." The club meets with the Monday club November the 6th, which is hostess to all the local clubs on that day.

The Young Ladies Bible circle was entertained Saturday evening by Miss Etta Platt, the newly elected president, at the home of her aunt Miss Ella Redmond. Miss Laura Thompson led the lesson and many helpful lessons were drawn from it, then Crystal Dragon played and sang very sweetly a solo, "He is Mine". Miss Mable Gossard will entertain the circle Saturday evening and all the girls are cordially invited.

Mrs. A. A. Welch was hostess to the Monday club October 30th. Mrs. Jones read an excellent paper upon the subject "Sitka, Alaska" and Mrs. Kiplinger a discussion of the "Fisheries and Fur Bearing Animals." The members of the club have found the study of Alaska, America's richest possession, very instructing. The next meeting will be held with the Monday club.

The Juniors of the normal held a masked party in the college "Gym" Tuesday evening. Nearly all the members of the large class were present and a most enjoyable time was had by all. The evening was spent in folk dancing and Hallowe'en games of various kinds. Masks were removed at the close of the program. Light refreshments were served.

The Baptist young people society entertained about thirty five students of the Normal Friday evening in the church basement the guests being members of the Baptist congregation either here or at their home town. The evening was spent in a social way, games of various kinds being played. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

The Monday club will entertain all the clubs of Wayne Monday afternoon at the public library. Professors Britell and Lewis will make talks concerning some of the topics under discussion today and Miss Virginia Bowen will give a reading. Other features of entertainment will be given throughout the course of the afternoon.

The Shakespeare club met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Harriet Porter. The regular lesson on the study of Mexico was taken up with much interest by all. The club will hold no meeting next week due to the teachers meeting at Omaha but will meet the following week at the home of Miss Mable Dayton.

The Campfire girls were entertained at a Hallowe'en party Monday evening by Miss Lynette Rennie at the home of Mrs. Ada Rennie. The evening was spent in contests of different kinds in which the young ladies competed for first honors. They also bobbed for apples and pulled taffy.

The girls of Kingsbury Hall entertained a number of normal boys Friday evening at a party social in the gymnasium. The evening was spent in playing games of various kinds. Light refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Tuesday evening is the regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors, and the ceremony of adoption will be used for candidates, after which a social time and refreshments will be served, and all resident and visiting neighbors will be welcome.

The Junior High school of the Normal was entertained at the home of Prof. Hickman's Friday evening. Hallowe'en games and stories were the order of the evening program. Light refreshments were served at the close of the play.

The Queen Ester circle, but recently organized, will meet with Miss Virginia Bowen the evening of November 9th.

The P. E. O. meets next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. H. Wilson.

PLEA FOR A HALF-NICKEL.

It Would Be Handy In Making Change and Might Reduce Prices.

The ham sandwich, which was once 5 cents, now frequently costs a dime. The same disturbing truth applies to other things in common life, both inside and outside of lunch rooms. There is no need of statistics from economists to inform us that the cost of living has advanced. Every spender of money knows it. Retailers are more reluctant to put prices up than is generally realized. They know that consumption decreases as prices advance. That means less business, and profits depend partly on large business. When more than the traffic will bear is charged the traffic falls off.

Change making is one of the items in up to date retailing. It must be done quickly if expenses are to be kept down. The young woman at the lunch room desk has not time to count pennies. She must deal in nickels, dimes and quarters if she is to maintain her astonishing speed and accuracy.

We need another coin. Three cent pieces were confused with dimes and were hard to use because they were not fractions of other currency. No one but a statistician thinks in decimals. The rest of us do our sums in fractions. Four three-cent pieces make 12 cents, but there is no such coin. Eight of them make 24 cents, but the coin almost corresponding is worth 1 cent more. If three cent pieces were again issued they would not fill the bill.

With a half nickel it would be different. Half a nickel is a fraction of every coin from the mint. Were there such a coin 5 cent raises would not have been so common. If there should be such a coin many prices would come down.—Boston Globe.

SAVING THE RUG.

Tale of a Bottle of Ink, a Quick Witted Friend and Some Salt.

While stopping at a new and expensively furnished hotel a guest spilled a bottle of ink on a costly velvet rug. light blue and pink in color. A friend who was calling on her at the time quieted her fears by assuring her that she would fix it so that not the slightest stain would be left.

First she had a quart of fine table salt sent up at once. Sifting the salt through her fingers, she covered the ink spot entirely. To all appearances there was nothing but a pile of fine table salt on the rug.

Over this she placed a heavy chair, cautioning the guest not to disturb it nor to allow the maid to do so. After promising to return the next afternoon to finish the job she went cheerfully about her own affairs.

True to her word, she made her appearance the following afternoon and, calling for a dustpan and whisk broom, removed the salt. There was not the slightest stain of ink on the rug. The salt, having carefully sifted on the spot, had slipped into the pile and absorbed all the ink. Of course the salt, except a thin layer on the outside of the pile, was as black as ink could make it.

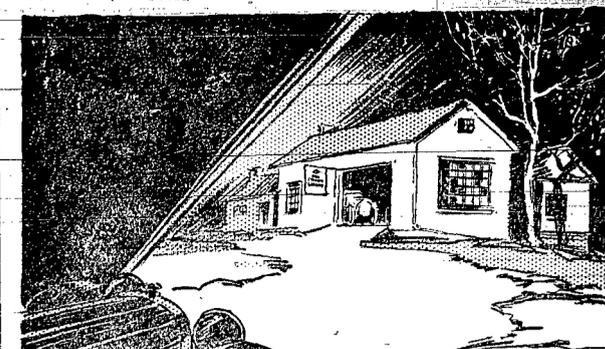

This method of preventing ink stains is as effective as it is simple. The secret of success lies in acting promptly, having fine salt, sifting it on the spot so slowly and gently that it slips into the goods and allowing it to remain undisturbed until it is bone dry. Then it may be safely removed with a whisk broom and dustpan.—New York Sun.

The Seismograph.

Though the man in the street might easily mistake a seismic disturbance for the rumbling of a traction engine or an explosion, the marvelously delicate instruments which record earthquake shocks are immune from such delusions. The recording pen of the seismometer ignores any local tremors which have not a seismic origin, but the faintest real earth quakes, though they have traveled thousands of miles through the earth, set the pen tracing the telltale graph by means of which the seismologist calculates the place, time and magnitude of the happening.—London Chronicle.

Our First Tariff.

The first tariff act in our country was signed by President Washington on July 4, 1789, near the very beginning of his first administration. Hamilton was the author of the measure, which provided for specific duty on some forty-seven articles and ad valorem rates on other groups of articles. The second tariff act was approved by the president in August, 1790.—New York American.

BIBLE MANUSCRIPTS.

The Sinaitic, Alexandrian and Vatican Are the Oldest Known.

The oldest Bible manuscripts in existence date from about 450 A. D. and show us the Bible as it existed soon after apostolic days. The earlier manuscripts were either lost or destroyed in the terrible persecutions which were directed not only against the Christians, but against their treasured sacred writings, their enemies thus hoping to stamp out the slightest traces of Christianity. The three oldest manuscripts now in existence are known as the Sinaitic, the Alexandrian and the Vatican manuscripts.

The Sinaitic was found by the eminent Bible scholar Tischendorf in a convent on Mount Sinai in 1844. It contained the Septuagint, other parts of the Old Testament, the New Testament complete and some of the apocryphal books. The writing, after a lapse of more than 1,500 years, is still clear and legible.

The Alexandrian manuscript, which came to light in 1628, is not quite so ancient as the Sinaitic. It has the Old Testament complete, except that ten leaves are missing, and the New Testament lacks nearly thirty leaves. It is in the British museum.

The Vatican manuscript, the most ancient of all, is a great treasure, consisting of about 700 leaves of vellum bound in book form. Part of Genesis is missing and also a number of the Psalms. The New Testament is complete up to Hebrews, ninth chapter. Other early Bible manuscripts of great value, but inferior to the three mentioned, are the Codex Ephraem and the Codex Bezae, besides which there is a long list of later manuscripts.—Christian Herald.

THEY SAW THE DOCTOR.

And After the Interesting Visit the Physician Also Saw.

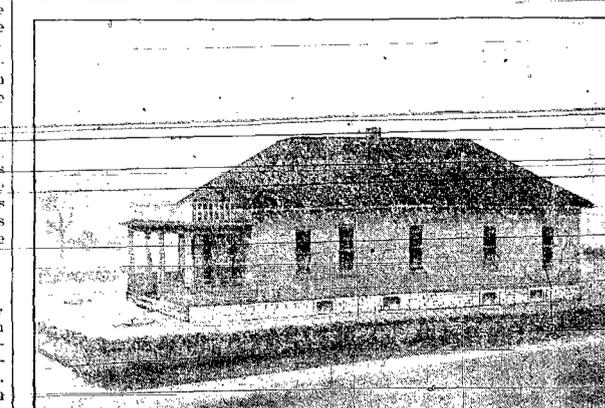

A Chicago specialist got, on a certain morning, the card of one of the richest of our western millionaires. He went down instantly and found a well dressed man, who said:

"I am here, sir, on a delicate and painful matter. My wife is a victim of kleptomania, and, knowing your skill in mental diseases, I have brought her on for treatment under you."

"Bring the lady to see me tomorrow morning," said the physician. "It will be best not to bring her to your office," faltered the millionaire. "The sight of other patients might excite her. I suggest—"

"I'll receive her in my drawing room. Will that be better?" asked the physician. "Oh, much better!" said the other in a relieved tone.

And the next day the western millionaire led into the physician's drawing room a young woman of singular

The dear Lord's best interpreters
Are humble human souls;
The gospel of a life like hers,
Is more than books or scrolls.

Mrs. Emma D. Morris Orr was born in Davis County, Iowa, on New Years Day in 1867 and departed this earth life in Omaha, October, 27th, 1916.

The Morris family moved to Oakland, Iowa, in the early 80's and Miss Emma Morris was married to Wm. Orr, now of this place, in Prairie City, Iowa, May 6th, 1896. The newly married pair lived in Oakland for about 12 years when Mr. Orr disposed of his business there and soon after moved to Wayne Nebraska where the family has since resided.

Mrs. Orr was known since girlhood as a faithful, consistent member and servant of the church. She united with the Christian church when a young girl. In Oakland, she transferred her church membership to the Congregational church. On coming to Wayne, she became a member of the First Presbyterian church, of which she was a loved and honored member at the time of her call to the Great Beyond.

Mrs. Orr was a very active woman in all community affairs till she was stricken, nearly eight years ago, with what eventually proved to be her fatal illness. During these later years, although she could not go about as much as was her wont, her ministrations of love and kindness did not cease. Many are they who rise up today to call her blessed.

Two children remain to mourn their mother's departure, Mrs. Neva Cavanaugh of Lincoln and Mr. Carroll Orr of Wayne. Two sisters are living, Mrs. Guy Walters of Couleesville, Washington and Mrs. O. A. Strahan of Malvern, Iowa. These with the brother, William Morris, and the bereaved husband have the sympathy of a host of friends who sorrow with them.

The body was laid away in God's Acre in Malvern, Iowa, on Sunday, October 29th, 1916, her pastor, Rev. S. Xenophon Cross reading the burial service. In Christian faith, her friends look beyond to reunion in the glory land. She was a Godly woman, a true friend, a noble wife and loving mother. The memory of her life and deeds is sweet to all who knew her.

McEachen Sells Poland Chinas

The hog sale of George McEachen last Saturday at the pavilion was not as largely attended as are some sales, but Mr. McEachen tells us that he is satisfied with results and considers that his first sale was all that he could expect for a start. His offering was younger than is usually put out at a fall sale, and yet the average was around the $30 mark. Starting with number 18 which sold at $41, to E. E. Driscoll, the others followed as given: 40, J. H. Claussen, $27; 7, D. A. Jones, $27; 8, W. A. Hunter, $25; 12, Ray Robinson, $25; 16, E. E. Driscoll, $31; 5, J. H. Doings in the District Court

Case 304. Charles O'Sellon et al vs. Wayne County Bank of Sholes, et al was tried before Judge Welch the first of this week. All the evidence was turned in, and the ruling of the court will probably be given sometime in the near future. In the case of The State of Nebraska vs. Carl Carlson the court ruled that the defendant be given 50 days in the county jail as punishment for the crime he committed.

D. A. R. Chapter Formed

Mrs. C. H. Aull of Omaha state regent of the D. A. R. was here Friday organizing a chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution society. Friday evening fourteen ladies met at the home of Mrs. Ray Reynolds and officers and authorized members were received. To become a member one must prove that he is a descendant of an ancestor who took part in the Revolution of 1776 by papers filed with the state secretary. Mrs. J. W. Jones was elected local regent, Mrs. A. Jacobs vice regent, Mrs. Homer Seace secretary and Miss Florence Welch registrar. The other members are as follows: Mrs. Ray Reynolds, Mrs. J. G. Mines, Mrs. F. G. Philleo, Miss Elsie Ford Piper, Mrs. I. H. Britell, Miss Fannie Britell, Mrs. Clara Ellis, Mrs. V. L. Dayton, Mrs. G. J. Green, Miss Mamie Wallace. The chapter will meet every month after the organization is fully completed.

Hallowe'en

The W. C. T. U. held a Temperance party at the home of Prof. Hickman Tuesday evening. A short miscellaneous program was given consisting of music and readings. A very interesting and humorous debate was presented on the subject, Resolved, That equal suffrage will be of greater benefit to this nation than will Prohibition. Mr. Redmond and Rev. Buell upheld the affirmative of the question and Rev. Gaston and Professor House the negative. Following this deep and learned discussion the company turned their attention to playing Halloween games and doing "Stunts". Refreshments were served late in the evening.

Election Returns Wanted Complete

County Clerk Reynolds makes the request that the judges and clerks of election in the various precincts send him as complete returns as possible at the earliest hour obtainable that returns from Wayne county may be fairly complete before the official count is made. If all will do this, Clerk Reynolds will be able to give to each precinct the vote of the other precincts as well as supply state headquarters, more quickly and accurately. Have a system—call the clerk and report your result, and others wanting it can get it from this central point without confusion.

The Official Ballot

On other pages of this paper voters may find the official ballot and thus ample time to study the makeup of the same and familiarize themselves with the names of the candidates they favor, and be able to mark their ballot much more intelligently when they come to the booth. Many voters never see a ballot until they come to vote, and the long array of names confuses and they often fail to vote just as they had intended, or vote a part of the names only. The ballot this year is in different form, and more simple, we think.

Wayne Cattle to Inter-National Fair

Last week F. M. Griffith picked a bunch of good ones from his herd of cattle and shipped them to J. C. Redfield of Newell, Iowa, who is preparing a car load of cattle for an exhibit at Chicago the first week of next month, at the Inter-National Stock Show. Mr. Griffith's contribution was a bunch of as pretty black polled cattle as one will see in a month travel. They are grass fat, and will weigh 1,200 as 2-year-olds.

Preacher Talks for Wets

Last Friday evening Rev. Wallace Short told an audience of Wayne people why he is not a prohibitionist. Many of the dry people attended, and so far as we know none were converted to his ideas of personal liberty. He thinks legal suasion is the wrong way to overcome the drink evil, and would apply moral suasion and education for a cure.

Richard L. Metcalfe Here

Friday evening the opera house has been engaged for a talk from Richard L. Metcalfe, of Omaha, a man known to many Wayne people either personally or by reputation. All are welcome to hear him discuss the campaign issues.

Social Notes

The Womens Union Bible Study circle had a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. H. H. Hickman Tuesday afternoon. Letters were read from Miss Grace Soderberg, formerly of near Wakefield now a missionary in China, and from E. Sywulka who states that Thilda Jacobsen will soon return to Africa. Sywulka further writes, "News has at last reached us from German East Africa. As soon as the war broke out the old time lust for war and plunder broke loose among the native tribes and dressed in war paint and spears they went forth pillaging the country. I fear three of our missionaries have thus entered their reward. How much longer is this poor fallen earth to be drenched in blood and tears of anguish sin and offering?" The next meeting will be in the M. E. church parlors and special prayer will ascend for state wide prohibition. Mrs. J. A. Halley will assist in this meeting and all are cordially invited.

The Eastern Stars provided a fine evening of entertainment for the Masons and their wives Thursday evening at the club rooms of the Eastern Stars when nearly two hundred members met in a good old fashioned Halloween party. The hall was neatly decorated in Halloween colors emphasizing this time of the season. The program began at eight o'clock, Mesdames Davis and Jones singing a duet and encore, Mrs. J. Miller a piano solo and encore and Miss Mack of the State Normal faculty a reading and encore. Following this program Halloween contests were staged in which some of the older men and women carried off prizes by being able to play some of "those old games" better than the younger generation. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening consisting of pumpkin pie, coffee and doughnuts.

Two of the primary classes of the M. E. Sunday school enjoyed a progressive Hallowe'en party Tuesday evening. The young people assembled at the home of Miss Florence Gardner at about 6:30. After masking and dressing as ghosts they marched down Main street to the home of Miss Mable Gossard. Here games were played and ghost stories and riddles told. While there a delicious Halloween luncheon was served. Following this jack o' lanterns were again lighted and the line of march ended at the L. C. Gildersleeve home. Here more games were played and another luncheon was served. After this the little ones were taken home. All had a good time and wish Halloween came oftener.

The Seniors of the normal "pulled off" a good stunt Tuesday night when they all adopted the Ku Klux Klan idea of ghost costumes and marched in a body down main street. It made one feel just a wee bit trembly to see them for they did not have much to say. The class first had a Crystal party and later adjourned to the Gem Cafe where a regular feed was enjoyed. The same mysterious bunch next went to the campus where a Ukulele was procured and singing, ghostly, ghastly and classical was heard. The members of the class adjourned to their homes at a late hour.

Seventeen little girls belonging to Mrs. A. R. Davis' class at the Presbyterian church were entertained at their teacher's home Tuesday evening at a Halloween party. After a Jack o' Lantern parade the little guests went to the hostess' home. The rooms were darkened and decorated in "spooky" black and orange colors. An old witch had consented to attend the party and fortunes were told by her. Games and music made up the program which was much enjoyed. Halloween refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the playing.

The Early Hour club held their initial meeting Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Ley. The rooms were attractively decorated in Halloween colors. The evening was spent socially playing five hundred and telling Halloween ghost stories. The hostess served dainty refreshments at the close of the program. Guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Theobald, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Ley, Mrs. M. A. Phillips, Mr. Fred Berry, Mr. and

Mrs. Harry Craven and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clark. The club will meet every Thursday evening here-after.

The home of Mrs. H. Ringland was the scene of a Halloween party Tuesday evening. Mrs. J. Wendte and Mrs. Ringland entertaining the pupils of the Junior department of the Presbyterian Sunday school. Twenty two little folks were taken through the mysterious mazes of ghost land and told by goblins and elves of the ghosts and spooks that live there. Folk games were played throughout the course of the evening. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

The Acme club met with Mrs. E. Davies October 30th. In response to the roll call miscellaneous quotations were cited from various authors and poets. Mrs. H. Wilson was leader in the discussion of current events. Light refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting. Guests of the club were, Mrs. Griffen of Florence and Mrs. Hale of Fort Dodge. The social which was to have been held Monday evening was postponed until Tuesday November 7th.

One of the jolly Hallowe'en parties Tuesday night was at the Panabaker home when Miss Cora entertained a party of eleven of the "Hello" girls, so if your call did not get expert attention for an hour you know that the ladies who serve you so well were having the time of the season. It was a real Hallowe'en event with fine music and dainty refreshments. None of the boys were present except James Harman.

A very interesting meeting of the U. D. club was held at the home of Mrs. C. H. Fisher Monday. Current issues and events were discussed by the club at the beginning of the program. Mrs. H. B. Jones read the theme of Mrs. Felber's on the subject, "Pepsin, Pep and Patience." Mrs. Fisher read a discussion on "Our Misunderstood Nerves." The club meets with the Monday club November 6th, which is hostess to all the local clubs on that day.

The Young Ladies Bible circle was entertained Saturday evening by Miss Etta Platt, the newly elected president, at the home of her aunt Miss Ella Redmond. Miss Laura Thompson led the lesson and many helpful lessons were drawn from it, then Crystal Dragon played and sang very sweetly a solo, "He is Mine". Miss Mable Gossard will entertain the circle Saturday evening and all the girls are cordially invited.

Mrs. A. A. Welch was hostess to the Monday club October 30th. Mrs. Jones read an excellent paper upon the subject "Sitka, Alaska" and Mrs. Kiplinger a discussion of the "Fisheries and Fur Bearing Animals." The members of the club have found the study of Alaska, America's richest possession, very instructing. The next meeting will be held with the Monday club.

The Juniors of the normal held a masked party in the college "Gym" Tuesday evening. Nearly all the members of the large class were present and a most enjoyable time was had by all. The evening was spent in folk dancing and Halloween games of various kinds. Masks were removed at the close of the program. Light refreshments were served.

The Baptist young people society entertained about thirty five students of the Normal Friday evening in the church basement the guests being members of the Baptist congregation either here or at their home town. The evening was spent in a social way, games of various kinds being played. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

The Monday club will entertain all the clubs of Wayne Monday afternoon at the public library. Professors Britell and Lewis will make talks concerning some of the topics under discussion today and Miss Virginia Bowen will give a reading. Other features of entertainment will be given throughout the course of the afternoon.

The Shakespeare club met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Harriet Fortner. The regular lesson on the study of Mexico was taken up with much interest by all. The club will hold no meeting next week due to the teachers meeting at Omaha but will meet the following week at the home of Miss Mable Dayton.

The Campfire girls were entertained at a Halloween party Monday evening by Miss Lynette Renick at the home of Mrs. Ada Renick. The evening was spent in contests of different kinds in which the young ladies competed for first honors. They also bobbed for apples and pulled taffy.

The girls of Kingsbury Hall entertained a number of normal boys Friday evening at a party social in the gymnasium. The evening was spent in playing games of various kinds. Light refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Tuesday evening is the regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors, and the ceremony of adoption will be used for candidates; after which a social time and refreshments will be served, and all resident and visiting neighbors will be welcome.

The Junior High school of the Normal was entertained at the home of Prof. Hickman's Friday evening. Halloween games and stories were the order of the evening program. Light refreshments were served at the close of the play.

The Queen Ester circle, but recently organized, will meet with Miss Virginia Bowen the evening of November 9th.

The P. E. O. meets next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. H. Wilson.

A Christian Endeavor convention is to be held at Omaha November, 2nd to 5th. A strong program will be presented.

Mrs. Kiel of Manly, Iowa, returned to her home Monday after a few days visit at the Chas. Schroeder home.

Mrs. C. T. Norton went to Malvern, Iowa, Saturday where she attended the funeral of Mrs. Wm. Orr held there Sunday afternoon.

F. E. Gamble and bride returned home Friday evening from their wedding trip through the east. The members of the "Nut Club" and their friends were notified by telegram that the newly married couple were on the Omaha train and they were at the local station with bells and rice to welcome them. A banquet was given at eight o'clock at the Calumet cafe, all the old friends being present. Following the supper the guests went to the home of Mr. Gamble where little speeches were made by our graceful local attorney and wit, L. A. Kiplinger, and Dr. White, tooth artist. Mr. and Mrs. Gamble were presented with a fine cut glass dish by their friends. The guests departed for their homes at an early hour wishing the two the best of happiness and success. Sam Davis, local Nut Club editor, handed us the above report.

Election November 7th

Mrs. G. A. Yaryan and daughter Beth, of Carroll was at Wayne Saturday afternoon between trains.

Lyle Martin of Walthill came Monday evening to visit with his parents, Fred Martin and wife for a brief time.

Mrs. J. W. Jones returned home Friday evening from Omaha where she has been the past few days attending opera and visiting with friends.

Miss Hallie Lamberson who teaches at Wynot came home Saturday to visit with her parents, George Lamberson and wife for a short time.

Dr. T. B. Heckert and daughter Marguerite, went to Malvern, Iowa, Saturday morning to attend the funeral of Mrs. Wm. Orr held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. B. A. Merrill of Amboy, Minnesota, who has been here for the past three weeks visiting with her sister, Mrs. W. R. Ellis left for her home Monday morning.

John Shannon returned from the west the last of the week with 14 cars of cattle, the last of the seasons run. He tells us that he has bought more than 2,000 feeders in, mostly for this county. That would mean a train of about 65 cars of cattle, and when they have been fed out their increased size and weight will make nearly 100 car loads.

Defeat of the democratic ticket in Nebraska this fall would be notice to the lawmakers at Washington that the farmers and merchants of this state are in favor of relinquishing their power to control or regulate rates to be charged for railroad, telephone, telegraph and express service within the boundaries of the state. Can it be possible that the farmers and merchants of Nebraska feel disposed to send that sort of a message to the world?

Thos. Sundahl of Sholes was at Witter, South Dakota, last week where he traded his farm to Mr. McDowell of Sholes for land in this county. While on the way home a poll of the train between Winner and Norfolk was taken, and to us it seems to be a very fair average of what will happen next Tuesday. Hughes led off with 24 votes, and Wilson followed with 39. Then the wet and the dry sentiment was found to be 12 wet and 51 dry.

A vote against Senator Hitchcock is a vote against President Wilson. "I want you to remember that a president without a congress that is heart and soul for the things that he represents is as absolutely useless as a figurehead."—Woodrow Wilson. adv.

The Dayton Sale

On account of the roads being almost impassable only a small crowd attended the Duroc and Holstein sale of V. L. Dayton's October 26, but those who came were there for business. The boar offering was a topnotcher, the 34 spring pigs averaged 225 pounds each. Several were heard to say while inspecting the hogs that it was the best lot of spring boars they had ever seen in one man's pens. Considering quality it was surely a bargain day sale for those present but under existing conditions, Mr. Dayton was well pleased. There was no demand for gilts and Holsteins so only a few were sold. The top boar of the sale was No. 13 an outstanding good pig sired by Grand Crimson Wonder and out of Blue Ribbon Queen. He went to C. M. Christensen, Rapid City, South Dakota, at $89.00. Mr. Christensen was offered $100.00 for him before he left the farm.

The average of the sale was $35.80, including a few gilts, and the average of the males was $37.25. Below are the purchasers with the number of animal purchased:

Number 6, F. Schulte, $49; 4, J. D. Pollock, $48; 5, John McIntyre, $40; 2, P. M. Corbit, $27; 7, C. Weierheuser, $32.50; 3, W. Carlson, $45; 8, S. E. Five gilts sold at prices ranging from $21 to $30. In the grade Holsteins Henry Theophilus bought a cow at $70; and heifer at $66. Herman Heise calf at $20; John McIntyre a heifer at $65; and H. Koehmoss a cow at $101.

KEITH NEVILLE
Democratic Candidate for Governor
A NATIVE SON

A practical man of the people who has made a success in business and to whom the tricks of the ambitious politician are unknown.

He offers a constructive program that will benefit the people of Nebraska and his candidacy is in harmony with the strong democratic platform adopted by his party at Hastings. He believes that the highest duty of any public servant is to carefully see to it that the will of the people, as expressed at the polls upon all questions, is carefully carried out.

The two Republican newspapers in North Platte are supporting his candidacy and the vote of nearly five to one given him at the primary election by the people of his home town, among whom he was born and raised, is proof absolute that he is a man of character and standing and safe one to be entrusted with the business affairs, as well as the enforcement of the laws of the state.

Vote for a home-grown man and a continued economic and business administration of state affairs.

Among the Churches of Wayne

Presbyterian Church

(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)
There will be a meeting of the Session in the church parlors next Sunday morning at 10:30.

The Brotherhood classes have their regular meetings each Sunday at 11:30. More men wanted.

The subject of the Sunday sermon will be, "Power for Witness." Read the first of Acts.

Let the spirit of Rally Day be kept up in all the work of the Sunday school. A good motto: "Bring One."

Junior C. E. meetings from now on at 3:00 o'clock. Miss Clara Hoese, Miss Bessie Durrie and Miss Mae Hiscox have charge of the work.

The Teachers Training class will meet at the church next Tuesday evening at 7:30. The fourth lesson in Oliver's book will be used.

Remember the prayer meeting at the church on Wednesday evening. We want to make this a great preparatory meeting to the Sunday evening meeting.

The Y. P. S. C. E. is to be congratulated on presenting Dr. Robert W. Taylor last Friday evening in his excellent "Phototravels." This splendid entertainment is as unique in method as in name. The doctor has traveled all through our great West, and has evidently seen things wherever he has gone. All who heard the lecture will see more when the opportunity comes, if it ever does come, to journey this great western wonder world than if they had not heard Dr. Taylor.

We crave the opportunity to speak next Sunday evening at the 7:30 hour to all who already have ideas on the big subject of social recreation, amusements, etc. We do not promise the stock sermon on "amusements," but we really do have a message that is worth while on the matter of the consecration of Social Life. We want the college folks and all other young people.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church

(Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor)
Sunday school next Sunday morning at 10 a. m. Last Sunday broke the record for attendance at Sunday school. The special effort made by the delinquent secretary certainly had its effect and the school appreciates the interest Mr. Tompset has shown to secure a larger and more regular attendance.

Worship with sermon at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. The morning subject is "A Cheap Religion." In the evening the pastor will preach on "Surprises in Judgment." We extend a special invitation to such as have no regular church home to attend these services.

The timely subject of "Personal Questions on Prayer," will be discussed at the Luther League. Special phases of the subject have been assigned different members, such as How? Why? and When to pray. You will be interested if you come.

The confirmation class has the largest enrollment in the history of the church. Thirty young people are taking this course in religious instruction. It is not too late yet to join the class. It meets every Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Clara Gustafson will entertain the Ladies Aid next Thursday afternoon.

The officers of the church will meet in the pastor's study next Wednesday evening in regular monthly session.

Methodist Church

(Rev. A. S. Buell Pastor)
Next Sunday morning the pastor will speak on the "Holy Communion."

The Rev. J. Bruce Wylie will speak at seven thirty Sunday evening on the "American Vampire". Rev. Wylie is a pleasing and forceful speaker and you will hear him at the Methodist church Sunday evening.

Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:30.

The ladies of the Home and Foreign missionary societies will give their annual supper November 16th. Everybody will be there who knows from past experiences what a great event this annual feed really is. The ladies are preparing for a great throng.

You are invited to all of the church services.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh medicine, manufactured by F. J. Chalmers Success Is No Surprise

IT WAS A CERTAINTY that the Chalmers combination of a high grade car, manufacturing ability, and distributing organization could have but one result.

THOUSANDS OF MOTORISTS were ready to buy a quality six-cylinder car at about $1,000. They wanted style, beauty, performance. They did not want unnecessary size, or costly operating expense.

HENCE THE INSTANTANEOUS WELCOME that greeted the Chalmers Six-30. There was an irresistible appeal in its marvelously smooth and velvety engine, its almost unbelievable "pick-up," its luxurious riding qualities, its economical up-keep.

THAT IS THE REASON WHY Chalmers business is constantly growing. That is why it was necessary in the last few months to build new buildings, lay new railway tracks, add to the already enormous manufacturing facilities. That is why the output has increased from 500 four-cylinder cars of the first Chalmers model in 1908 to nearly 30,000 high-grade six-cylinder cars for the current year.

THE CHALMERS COMPANY ENTERS ITS GREATEST YEAR with an unusual car. Large production and a splendidly equipped factory insure the continuance of a quality car at a quantity price.

Present Prices

Touring Car, Five-passenger, $1090; Touring Car, Seven-passenger, $1280; Roadster, $1070; Cabriolet, $1440; Touring Sedan, $1780; Limousine, $2480; Town Car, $2480.

(All prices f.o.b. Detroit and subject to change without notice)

NOTE—The price of the 7-passenger Touring Car and of closed car models on this chassis will shortly be advanced. An early order will receive benefit of present prices.

WALTER F. NORRIS, Agent
WAYNE, NEBRASKA

Bellevue College Victorious

Wayne Normal was defeated on the local field Friday afternoon by the Bellevue college of Omaha by a score of 12 to 0. The game was hard fought from beginning to end, both teams being very evenly matched in weight although Wayne was able to make five and eight yard gains at times by line smashing. Bellevue's end running and forward passing was well organized and it is with these tactics that they made their gains. Although sometimes pushed off their feet by Wayne's massed plunges they seemed to always possess the punch to hold the opposing line when they neared the danger point.

Bellevue kicked off, Wayne receiving the ball but losing it on a fumble a few seconds later. By series of end runs Bellevue worked the ball into the Wayne territory and by a forward pass to Erwin behind the goal post were able to score six points. Bellevue failed to kick goal. The remainder of the first half was hard fought both teams trying forward passing. Bellevue making gains by them but Wayne fumbling. By a series of line smashing Wayne was able to get within scoring distance and a long forward pass was tried and successfully thrown to the Wayne man behind the goal post but it was lost when he fumbled and dropped the ball. During the last few minutes of play in the first half Wayne again fought her way within four yards of the Bellevue goal but again lost, this time on downs. Bellevue punted down field and when the whistle blew ending the half the ball was in Wayne territory.

Bellevue scored a second time in the third period when Captain Racely carried the ball through the Wayne line and around the goal post for a second touchdown. Bellevue failed to kick goal. The last quarter of the game was the most spectacular in as much as both sides fought with all the pep they had at command. Wayne when she had the ball made good gains by line smashing but the Bellevue line always held at the critical time.

Considerable fumbling was done on both sides, Wayne losing many chances to gain by fumbles and Bellevue doing the same. Ellis starred for Wayne, Captain Racely and Evans for Bellevue. During the few minutes he substituted for Evans, Minser of Bellevue, proved himself to be "little but mighty" for he found many holes through which to squeeze and squirm for short runs of gain.

The line up was as follows.
Wayne: Ankeny, Havekost, Farrier, Sabin, Hering, Muhm, McDonald, Rockwell, Capt. Ellis, Christensen, Munsinger.
Bellevue: L. E. H. Erwin, L. T. W. Gustafson, L. G. E. Ebersole, C. Kinnier, R. G. J. Allen, R. T. J. Daugherty, R. E. G. Williams, Q. B. C. Evans, L. H. H. Dunlap, R. H. Capt. Racely, F. B. H. Shainholtz.
Summary: Referee, D. W. Kline of Norfolk; Umpire, C. A. Crawford of Wayne. Touchdowns: Evans 1, Racely 1. Substitutes: Bellevue—Minser for Evans, Picotte for Dunlap, Wayne, Cooper for Rockwell, Cox for Cooper, Johnson for Ankeny, Cox for Sabin.

RUNDELL'S COLUMN

Why vote for Wilson for President? Because he refused to accept the advice of the Jingos of his party that he make war on Mexico to popularize himself, thereby insuring his re-election; because he replied to unkind critics with kind retort, proving that he communes with God and is not a stranger to the Christ.

Why vote for Marshall for Vice President? Because he materially aided Wilson to obtain the many meritorious measures in the interests of the people.

Why vote for Hitchcock for Senator? Because he forced the investigation of Ballenger that put Taft on the toboggan and paved the way to the election of Wilson.

Why vote to re-elect Congressman Stephens? Because he desires through the local press to know and do the will of his constituency; because his voice and vote has always been for the people in their fight against the Wall street conspirators.

Why vote for Neville for governor? Because the city of his birth, boyhood and manhood "dry" for by 100 majority, gave him 420 votes at the primary to his "dry" opponent 60; because his record is 100 per cent good. Because Judge Sutton received a large majority in whiskey soaked Omaha over his prohibition opponent, indicating a large support from the "wets". Because, unlike the Judge, he would not favor a law reducing the age of consent of girls from 18 to 15 years, because governors from Omaha have the habit of betraying the people of the state.

Why vote for Howard for lieutenant governor? Because he, unlike his opponent, never betrayed the people in the interests of Omaha by repudiating both a personal and a platform pledge.

Why vote for Treasurer Hall? Because he saved the tax payers a half million dollars by forcing the county treasurers, who wanted to play the loan shark act with the people's money, to remit monthly.

Why vote for the other democratic state candidates? Because, like Treasurer Hall, they have proved that they do not regard a public office as a private snap.

Why vote for Phil Kohl for senator? Because he knows how to do things for his constituents and never betrays them in the interests of the Omaha bunch.

Why vote for Rundell for representative? Because he will be efficient aid to Senator Kohl to obtain ample funds for the Wayne Normal; because he favors an income and inheritance tax and make them a special state fund sufficient to maintain the University and Normal schools, thereby reducing the tax on both personal and real estate one-third; because he will fight for a re-submission of the tax amendment (that was defeated in 1914 by that Omaha bunch that loveth a lie) and refer it to a special election that provides for reasonable exemptions and a higher rate of taxation on large ownership like the Goddard estate.

Why vote for Henry Bartels, Chas. Reynolds, John Massie and W. O. Hanssen? Because they are all known to be good, trustworthy men.

A Wolf in Sheep's Clothing

Very accurately describes state-wide prohibition. Be not deceived.

The claim that the proposed prohibition amendment will make Nebraska "dry" is a fraud.

Those who propose a law that is to be submitted to a vote of the people are expected to file with the Secretary of State an explanation of what the law undertakes to accomplish.

Over the signature of the Nebraska "Dry" Federation appears this explanation:

"The proposed amendment does not attempt to deal with the habits and appetites of our citizens."

This is the naked fraud that is put before the unsuspecting voters of Nebraska.

In plain language, addressed to the drunkard, the bootlegger, to the boy and to the young man, the actual promise of the amendment is:

"Buy a money order. Mail-order any quantity of beverage from Chicago, St. Joseph, or Kansas City. Our so-called prohibition law permits you to be as intemperate as you like so long as you purchase outside of your own state."

There can be no denial of the fact that these are the conditions offered Nebraska under the fraudulent prohibition law we are to vote on.

The Yoke of Prohibition Is Heavy

For if this amendment is adopted, it will fasten on Nebraska the demoralizing conditions now prevailing in other prohibitory states.

In Kansas this fraudulent brand of prohibition has prevailed for thirty-five years, and has made the vile, unspeakable alley-joint a fixture in nearly every community. In the past two years Kansas sent 85 murderers to prison, Nebraska, in comparison, sending only 29 in the same period. On June 30, 1916, the number of convicted felons confined in state prisons in Kansas was three times the number imprisoned in Nebraska. It cost Kansas taxpayers over $701,000 in the two years to guard and maintain her convicted felons, as against a cost of $325,000 in Nebraska.

This is what the fraudulent prohibitory amendment is offering Nebraska, instead of a Nebraska "dry." Look these facts square in the face and decide if you want these conditions to prevail in Nebraska. Think it over!

may have to fight for it to maintain it.

The Democrat is very glad to differ with some of its republican friends who favor a wet Nebraska—and we are also equally glad to join with others of them in voting to make the legal sale of liquor in the state impossible.

This issue closes the campaign so far as the Democrat can help a good cause, and we have but this to say—we do not believe any apology is needed for either state or county democratic nominees or the platform they stand on.

That Keith Neville will make a good governor if elected is the claim of those who have known him best and longest. A young man of wealth, he is a clean man of good habits, who neither uses liquor or tobacco, and who pledges in advance to do the will of the people as expressed at the polls if called to the high office of governor.

Do you think the child-labor bill was a good act? If so vote to approve it; for in urging its passage the President bared his breast to a storm of criticism from nearly all the great interests of the south, and also many of the monopolies of the north. That act freeing children from bondage is of greater importance to this country and the people than the emancipation proclamation, for it frees more people, and frees them at a time in life when there is hope for them to become a real citizens rather than simple a part of the machinery they were destined to feed and care for.

When you go to the booth next Tuesday expecting to vote for a dry Nebraska, as many will do, you should remember that when the votes are counted and the victory won—as we believe it will be, the battle has but just opened so far as eliminating the sale and use of intoxicants. It will require a number of years of ceaseless work to have the law rigidly enforced. Not that the great majority are not law-abiding—but because there is a fat profit in selling booze—the greater the profit the more trouble. It will take time and public sentiment to eliminate the liquor traffic as well as a dry law. In Iowa they have been fighting the battle for more than 30 years, and they still have places to fight. Local sentiment and education will help.

Those fellows who are hollering about the stamps they had to put onto a deed or mortgage for a few months because war stopped imports from coming to this country at the outbreak of the trouble should go to some of the warring nations and see what a war tax means. Suppose that we had a real tax on land transfers, as some other lands do, and the government take from half to two-thirds of the increase of value over a previous sale. As a usual thing the public is entitled to receive such a tax, for in nine cases out of ten the public has made those values, and therefore they belong to the public. It is a well established and considered a just tax in some lands. Why do they not holler about the income tax which was passed so as to repeal this stamp tax?

Under the laws as now in force we have 729 days to talk politics and one day to act. Next Tuesday is the day which counts more than the other 729. Therefore vote your sentiments Tuesday. If you want to go back under the rule of the standpat element of the country and begin to walk backwards again vote that way. If you are a progressive and believe in the forward move of things political which have to do with improved conditions for the people there is but one way to have your sentiments registered—and you will not have another chance for two years—so make hay Tuesday of the kind you like best. Party name and party tradition is ceasing to hold live men these days. They want a president who does things and such a one we now have, and it is for YOU to express approval or disapproval.

It is quite interesting to read the story of our republican friends crying and sighing because the tariff was taken from farm products. Most farmers are wondering if a tariff would add a penny or two to the $1.75 for which wheat is now selling—then they wonder if corn would bring more than $1.00 per bushel right in the face of a bountiful harvest. Corn is three times the average price of corn at this season of the year when a tariff protected it from the pauper corn of Canada. Then there is wool on the free list, and never in the history of all the years of a protective tariff has it been so high. Then there is the poor beet farmer. Only this week we read that the sugar beet is selling for more money today than ever before. Hogs have always been a pretty fair price when not hampered by a protective tariff.

A republican letter which we found on our desk asks the question why should beet sugar be admitted free while cane sugar is protected by a 15 per cent tariff? The only answer we can give is that it is not so admitted.

The fellows who are so much afraid of the competition of Europe after the war closes—if it does end—are the same trust magnates who fear all competition, and would if possible monopolize the air and water of mother earth—in fact they already have some of the water cornered and use it to water stocks with. If they could control the air they would do worse than water stocks; they would inflate values with wind pure and simple on all manner of things they might acquire.

KEITH NEVILLE

Not long after the primary election the editor, who had read much about Keith Neville's undesirable qualities, wrote to a friend for an honest report as to the nominee's habits, his ability, and his character in general. A letter miscarried, and the reply was long delayed in coming, and while the reply was not written for publication, we believe that we violate no confidence in quoting the following from the letter, every word of which was in commendation of Neville:

"Really Keith Neville does not need reforming and he is a good, clean young man. Had you seen him in action at Hastings when they were forming the state platform you would have been favorably impressed. I knew his grandfather who established the first cattle ranch in western Nebraska nearly fifty years ago, and I knew his father who was congressman twice and district judge for many years. Wm. Neville was a populist and one of the very early reformers of the state and as a judge his decisions were fair to the common people. Twelve years ago when I was a candidate for congress I found Keith Neville one of the ready and willing young democrats of Lincoln county.

"He inherited his grandfather's and his father's estates and has shown sufficient executive ability to keep them in good condition. Being the only son and grandson he could easily have degenerated into a useless person. He could easily have found rapid society but he did not. Good blood made him an excellent young man. There is no disputing the fact that reactionary forces joined in the selection of Neville, but he was not compelled to stultify himself to secure their support. They will in all likelihood support him in the election, but the dominant character of his father and grandfather will be reflected in the actions of Governor Keith Neville. Reactionaries would have liked to have selected a man of their color but they knew such a man could not win.  The many forces that entered into this, need not now be discussed and the enmities might better be forgotten. Division of reform forces is what the power of greed most desire. I would not support him if I did not know he will be unwavering in his sense of duty if elected. He has long years of usefulness ahead of him and his good sense would prevent disaster to his career if he were inclined to lean to the wrong side, but he is not so inclined.  I do not think any reformer will make a mistake in giving him unqualified support. His home town after going dry by 90 gave him a vote of 420 to 92. He would not have gotten that vote if he had been at all bad."

In the first half Wayne had things all their own way. Johnson of Wayne scored the first touchdown in the first period. A short time following the score Lowe of Wayne recovered a fumble made by a Bloomfield player and made a 90 yard run before he was downed. The Wayne men then hit the line hard and Black carried the ball through for a second score. Goal was kicked both times the score, being 13 to 0 at the end of the first half. But the last half was hard fought Wayne losing three of her men by accidents thus weakening the line considerably. Bloomfield was able to score once but following their touchdown the local bunch tightened up and held for the remainder of the final periods.

The Flock

The exceptionally high prices of poultry products this year warrant a rigid calling of the flock, says the poultry department of the college of agriculture. The sooner this is done the better.

Males of large, vigorous type, showing well-developed breast, strong bone, large comb and wattles, and bright eyes, should be held for breeding purposes. Crow heads, long beaks, and weak legs indicate a lack of constitutional vigor and are usually found in poor producers. Hold the late-molting hen and sell the early-molting hen, the persistent or all-summer sitter, and the over-fat hen. Sell the immature pullets, or runts, and save only the best. Never breed from diseased stock.

Free range for breeders is essential, and it is not a wise plan to confine them permanently in winter quarters until snow comes.

Idaho A Big State

To those of us who remember Idaho in our school geographies as a small pink block, shaped like an easy chair facing east, it may be of interest that this State, which in 1890 added the forty-five star to the constellation of the flag, is nearly as large as Pennsylvania and Ohio combined and larger than the six New England States with Maryland included for good measure. It is divided into 33 counties, the smallest of which is half as large as the State of Rhode Island and the largest greater than the combined area of Massachusetts and Delaware.

Idaho covers an area of 83,888 square miles, divided principally between the Rocky Mountain region and the Columbia Plateau, only a small part, in the southeast corner of the State, lying in the Great Basin. In elevation above sea level the State ranges from 735 feet, at Lewiston, to 12,087 feet, at the summit of Hyndman Peak. It is drained mainly to the Columbia through Snake River and its tributaries and has an annual rainfall of about 17 inches, the range in a single year at different places being from 6 to 38 inches. The industries of the State are chiefly agriculture, stock raising and mining. Hay, wheat, oats and potatoes are the principal crops. A large area is cultivated by irrigation. The mineral production includes gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc. The output of lead in 1913 was valued at $13,986,866, that of silver at $6,033,473. The population of Idaho in 1910 was 325,924. Overland Guide book, Bulletin 612, United States Geological Survey.

Straw Is Valuable

Straw stacks are too valuable to be burned. According to figures supplied by the chemistry department of the college of agriculture, the fertilizing value of wheat straw is $2.60 and of oat straw $3.10 per ton from the potash, nitrogen and phosphorus they contain. This is entirely over and above the value of the straw in supplying organic matter to the soil. All straw not used for feed or bedding will pay big dividends on the labor of hauling it out.

Homestead in Wyoming

J. H. Gow, J. H. Gow, Jr. and Paul Lienberger of Crofton, returned Monday from their trip to Wyoming to look for land, having filed on 320 acres each of government land adjoining. The government had leased this land to the cattle men for a term of years. Two years ago their lease expired and it was thrown open to homesteaders. They must be on the land by April 21 and can prove up in three years. Mr. Gow was attracted to the land by friends from Bellevue who are living on a rented ranch 12 miles from Sheridan and will go onto their homesteads about five miles from his, in the spring. They will be 30 miles from Buffalo, their nearest town of any size, and 65 miles southeast of Sheridan. They will raise stock and do dry farming. They brought back some fine specimens of potatoes of both the red and white variety. They say they helped gather the crop for half a day and all were as fine as these. They are selling at $1.25 per hundred.

Mr. Lienberger, who is a son-in-law of Mr. Gow, Sr., farms near Crofton. Mr. Gow, Sr., lives on the L. C. Toiles farm 3 1/2 miles northwest of Laurel, and Mr. Gow, Jr., in the house put up last spring by J. R. Durrie on the Long sections. Value Of Manure

The fertilizing value of the total excrement from horses is about $20 per animal per year, and from cattle about $25, according to the chemistry section of the Nebraska Experiment station.

Nearly half of the nitrogen and potassium from farm animals occurs in the liquid excrement. It is therefore important that this be saved thru use of sufficient straw to absorb it. Manure stored in the open barnyard loses a considerable proportion of its nitrogen thru fermentation, and its potassium and other mineral elements thru leaching. This loss may be avoided by hauling the manure to the field as fast as it accumulates. If this is impracticable, it may be stored in a covered shed where animals run over it and so keep it well packed. The greatest loss of fertility occurs when the manure is stored in loose piles.

Mr. Farmer—Mr. Consumer —YOU PAY THE FREIGHT

Your interests have been imperilled because you have not been consulted.

Congress put through the Adamson railroad law under pressure of the President. That law is not even an 8-hour law—it is simply a law increasing wages of trainmen, who threatened a strike if they didn't get an increase. It merely provides that ten hours' pay shall be given for eight hours' work, thus increasing the pay of engine and trainmen 25 per cent. Under a U. S. statute now in force these engine and trainmen may work 16 hours a day. Thus, an engineer getting 80c an hour will receive under the Adamson law $16.00 for a day of 16 hours, where now he gets but $12.80.

The railroads say this increase in wages will amount to $100,000,000 per year; the railway unions insist that the increase will be but $60,000,000 per year.

But this is not all. The engine and trainmen are but 20 per cent of the railroad employees, and now the other 80 per cent are preparing to demand equal treatment.

President Wilson has said that this increase in wages, if necessary, shall be taken care of by an increase in freight rates, and, of course, an increase in freight rates will be necessary. In fact, the Adamson law not only purposes to reimburse the railroads in this manner, but the railroads can be depended upon to get more.

Nebraska is in the middle of the continent and no State has a longer haul to the Atlantic or the Pacific; therefore is it not evident that this bill is of vital importance to every farmer and consumer in Nebraska, as these, and not the railroads, are the ones who are to pay the cost? For years Nebraska farmers fought for lower freight rates and succeeded. Now we are going back to the old ways, with a prospect that rates will be higher than ever before in the history of the State.

Farmers and consumers of Nebraska, you remember how you have struggled to get the rates you are entitled to. Are you going to submit to this new imposition—this action of the President and Congress to undo your work of years?

VOTE NEBRASKA DRY

There is every reason on earth why the saloon should be abolished from Nebraska. There is no sane reason why it should remain. The Liquor Question is an economic question. It affects your pocketbook. It has a Bearing on your Living Expense on every Commodity of Life. The money spent for Liquor in the United States each year is Greater than that spent by all the people for food, clothing and fuel. The money spent for Liquor in the United States each year is twice as great as that which it takes to run our federal government. The money spent for Liquor in the United States each year would build six Panama Canals. The money spent for Liquor in the United States each year is three times as great as that spent for education.

Booze Compared with War

WOUNDED AND KILLED BY WAR

In all the wars of the world from the Russo-Japanese as far back as 500 B. C., the killed and wounded amounted to about 2,800,000. About 700,000 were killed in battle and 2,100,000 wounded.

WOUNDED AND KILLED BY ALCOHOL

Register General of England states that out of every 61,000 of the population there will be about 1,000 deaths every year, but out of the same number of total abstainers there will be only 560 deaths. Therefore, 440 deaths out of every 1,000 that occur could be attributed to alcoholic poison.

Applying that to our own country: 440 deaths every year out of 61,000 of our population means 720,000 deaths every year by alcohol, while but 700,000 men have been killed in battle in all the wars of the world for 2300 years.

If a young man at the age of 21 is a total abstainer, his prospect of life is 44 years. He will live, on the average, to the age of 64. If he is a temperate regular drinker of alcoholic beverages his prospect of life is 31 years. He will die at the age, on the average of 51 years—having lost 13 years out of his life.

A soldier wounded in battle and losing ten years of his life is considered seriously wounded.

From 23,000,000 to 24,000,000 people in the United States drink alcoholic beverages. These have cut out, on the average, 13 years of their lives.

Add the number of confirmed drunkards—4,000,000—and we have a grand total of 27,000,000 to 28,000,000 Americans who are seriously and more than seriously wounded, while there have been but 2,100,000 of men seriously wounded in all the wars of the world since the dawn of history.

Alcoholic poison is, roughly speaking, 10,000 times as destructive as all wars.

—Hon. R. P. Hobson.

The Money Spent for Drink

$2,500,000,000 Spent for Drink Annually

It is estimated that the people of the United States spend almost two billion and a half annually for intoxicating liquors. It is difficult for the mind to comprehend so large a sum unless we resort to comparisons. Let us suggest a few.

It has recently been stated on high authority that the cost of the war now raging in Europe reaches the enormous total of three hundred and seventy-five millions a week—or more than fifty millions a day. If this is true the drink bill of the United States would carry on the war for six weeks—and that means that the daily cost of liquor to the people of the United States is more than one-tenth of the toll that the belligerent nations pay because of the awful conflict now raging—the greatest that the world has ever known, whether measured by the number of men engaged, the destructiveness of the implements employed or its expensiveness to the nations involved.

Would Build Six Panama Canals Each Year.

The cost of the Panama Canal, the most gigantic engineering feat in history, was about four hundred millions of dollars. Is it not appalling to think that we spend for drink every year something like six times the cost of the Panama Canal.

Three Times the Amount Spent for Education

We have endeavored to secure an accurate estimate of the amount of money spent on education in this country, and the figure given is seven hundred and fifty millions of dollars. This pays all the teachers who instruct the children, from the kindergarten to the university, in this land of more than ninety millions. It provides salaries for the great intellectual army whose inestimable service no figures can describe. If we were to cease these expenditures, this nation, so conspicuous in all that contributes to the civilization of the world, would lapse into barbarism. And yet we spend for drink more than three times as much as we spend for education.

WHAT THE GOVERNORS OF OTHER STATES SAY

State of Arkansas

Little Rock, September 23, 1916.

HON. W. T. THOMPSON

Lincoln, Neb.

Chairman Nebraska Dry Federation.

My Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your letter asking an opinion as to the effects of the statewide prohibition law in Arkansas.

In reply, I beg to advise that I think the law one of the best that has been passed in this state in many years. It is certainly a great success in every way, from an economical as well as from a moral standpoint. Our business interests are greatly improved; we have more money in the banks; our merchants are doing more business and make better collections; and, of course as you know, that means that helpless children and good women are being better provided for. In addition to this, crime has greatly decreased since the prohibition law went into effect January 1, 1916.

Very respectfully,

(Signed) GEO. W. HAYS,
Governor.

State of Washington OFFICE OF GOVERNOR

Olympia, October 2, 1916.

MR. W. T. THOMPSON,

Chairman Nebraska Dry Federation.

My Dear Sir:—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 20th ultimo asking for an expression from me regarding the results of the law that closed the saloons of the state of Washington on January 1, 1916, and in reply would say that the state has now had eight months during which the law has been in force. There is no question in my mind but that the enactment of this law has been a great benefit to the people of the state. Sentiment in its favor is much stronger today than on the day when it took effect.

Yours very truly,

ERNEST LISTER,
Governor of Washington.

State of Mississippi

Jackson, September 22, 1916.

MR. W. T. THOMPSON,

Lincoln, Neb.

Chairman Nebraska Dry Federation.

My Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your letter and in reply beg to state that my observation has been that prohibition does prohibit. I regard it as the very greatest benefit to any state to have the most stringent law prohibiting the sale and manufacture of liquors.

Since Mississippi has been in the "dry column" crime has materially decreased and millions of dollars per year have been turned into legitimate channels of trade which would otherwise have gone for the purchase of intoxicants. Our prohibition law is one of the most stringent on the statute books of any state, and no person is allowed to have, in his possession, more than one quart of whisky or twenty-four pints of beer in any quantity to any one person other than once every fourteen days.

(Signed) THEO. G. BILBO,
Governor.

High Schools Are Hurt by Saloons

The following is compiled from the Nebraska Educational Directory of 1914-15, issued by the State Department of Education. It should convince every sane person that saloons keep at least one-half of our boys and girls from getting a high school education.

In the 205 accredited high schools of the state, those in the dry towns enroll an average of 262.6 per 1,000 of school population, and the average attendance is 228.8 per 1,000.

In the wet towns the enrollment is 122.3 per 1,000 school population, and the average attendance is only 102.6 per 1,000. Again, an advantage for the dry towns of more than 100 per cent.

No person can raise the cry of "picking" the towns, for these official figures include every one of the high schools in Nebraska. There is but one answer to it. Banish the saloon.

Drink Bill Double the Expenses of Federal Government

The annual appropriations of the federal government are a little less than a billion and a quarter of dollars. This sum includes the salaries of all the public officials from the President down. It includes the salaries and expenses of our Ambassadors and Ministers through whom we maintain diplomatic relations with the entire world; it covers the cost of our consular service which looks after our commerce in foreign lands. It includes the expenses of the treasury, which handles our money, collects our taxes and supervises the banking system of the nation. It covers the expenses of the army and the expenses of the navy.

It provides means for enforcing the laws of the United States. It includes the operations of the postoffice department, which carries mail to every village, hamlet and city, with its fifty-six thousand postmasters, its nineteen thousand railway clerks and its seventy-five thousand mail carriers in the cities and in the country. It covers the expenses of the interior department, with its multiplied agencies for dealing with pensions, with the public lands of the country, with irrigation and with Indian affairs. It covers the expenses of the agricultural department with its experimental work and its search throughout the world for that which can be profitably grown in this country. It supplies the needs of the rapidly increasing department of commerce and the vitally important work of the department of labor. It supplies the funds needed by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the regulation of railroads and by the new Federal Trade Commission for the prevention of monopoly.

All of these governmental agencies employed in administering the Federal Government of this great nation are operated at an expense of less than a billion and a quarter of dollars. Think, if the mind can comprehend it, of this nation spending twice that amount for alcoholic liquor. One billion and a quarter for running the government. Two billion and a half for booze.

HANDLING DAIRY BULLS.

Head of the Herd Should Never Be Permitted to Run With the Cows. The one safe manner of handling the dairy sire is to keep him confined at all seasons, writes M. Coverdell in Kimball's Dairy Farmer.

While stall or stable confinement is preferable to allowing the sire to run at large, I have found it much better to have a good grass lot for him to range in.

Here he secures the benefit of the open air, sunlight and the essential ex-

Dutch Belted cattle are not so numerous in this country as most of the other foreign breeds of dairy cattle. They are well liked by those who have handled them and return good profit for feed consumed. Dutch Belted cattle are black, with a wide band of white about the body. The animal shown is a pure bred Dutch Belted bull.

ercise, all so important in developing and maintaining his breeding qualities to the highest degree.

When needed for service the bull is led forth and allowed to breed. He then is returned to his lot. Finding no encouragement in breaking through the hog wire and the four barbed wires above it, he settles down to quiet grazing. Absolutely bull tight—that's the word—when you keep the bull in a lot.

By lot confinement I have kept my bull in fine breeding condition, serving all cows brought to the lot and securing calves with strong, vigorous constitutions. I consider much of this success due to the fact that I keep a sire till he is fully matured, while other breeders often sell their sires at the end of the first or second breeding season. Last year two of my neighbor dairymen bought fine specimens of Jersey bulls for breeding purposes. They ran with the herd. But one season's service was all they got out of them. They sold them on the market at a big loss, to say nothing of the fact that their calves that season were from a young, immature animal.

I used a safety lead for the bull. Although I did not consider this necessary, it is best to keep on the safe side at all times when dealing with bulls, as some sudden outbreak of temper is apt to catch one at a disadvantage. My lead was a discarded broomstick, with a harness snap firmly wired to one end of it. This is snapped into the bull's ring in his nose, and he can be held well away from one while he is being led in and out of his lot. This could be made to quiet down a bull that had been allowed to become somewhat unruly, keeping him staked out by a long rope when not in actual service. Also, where a bull of the quality is becoming somewhat bronchy, a board one foot wide and fifteen or eighteen inches long can be swung over his eyes as a blind, so he will not attempt to break through the fence. A thin piece of leather will serve the same purpose. Wires attached to the tips of the horns and fastened to the ring in the nose are also effective in discouraging the bull in crossing against the fence.

NEW DAIRY COW FEED.
Experiments With Fish Meal Prove Its Desirability in the Ration.
(Prepared by United States department of agriculture.)
That fish meal is a desirable food for cattle when used in conjunction with certain other foods is indicated by experiments which have been made by the United States department of agriculture. The experiments included an inquiry into the preparation of fish meal and the working out of methods for producing one of a more desirable quality than that ordinarily produced when the fish waste is used only for fertilizer.
The experiments were made with a ton of fish meal made by the improved process.
The preliminary results obtained by the dairv division of the bureau of animal industry by feeding the fish meal to dairy cows were satisfactory that a more extended study of its value as a dairy feed will be undertaken during the coming winter. The preliminary experiments showed that the cows fed on a ration containing fish meal gave a greater yield of milk than cows fed on a similar basal ration containing no fish meal, but containing cut-pressed meal. The milk from the cows which were fed fish meal contained a lower percentage of butter fat than the total yield of fat obtained was approximately the same for the two groups. There was some variation in the readiness with which the animals ate the ration containing the fish meal. As a rule, cows which have not been highly fed on feeds for which they have a fondness will eat a fish meal ration readily and are eager for it. In these tests the feeding of fish meal had no detrimental effect on either milk or butter.

ANTICS OF PURE GLYCERIN.

This Queer Substance Is Endowed With Peculiar Properties.

One of the great advantages of glycerin in its chemical employment is the fact that it neither freezes nor evaporates under any ordinary temperature.

No perceptible loss by evaporation has been detected at a temperature less than 200 degrees F., but if heated intensely it decomposes with a smell that few persons find themselves able to endure. It burns with a pale flame, similar to that from alcohol, if heated to about 300 degrees and then ignited. Its nonexplosive qualities make the compound of much use as a vehicle for holding pigments and colors, as in stamping and typewriter ribbons, carbon papers and the like.

If the pure glycerin be exposed for a long time to a freezing temperature it crystallizes with the appearance of sugar candy, but these crystals being once melted it is almost an impossibility to get them again into the congealed state.

If a little water be added to the glycerin no crystallization will take place, though under a sufficient degree of cold the water will separate and form crystals, amid which the glycerin will remain in its natural state of fluidity. If suddenly subjected to intense cold pure glycerin will form a gummy mass which cannot be entirely hardened or crystallized.

Altogether it is quite a peculiar substance.

The Tibetans.
The Tibetans are not beautiful. How could they be when by their own confession the national ancestry runs back to the king of the monkeys and a hobgoblin?
Bonnavot says of them, "The very bears are better looking." The type is midway between the Eskimo and the Chinese. Broad, flat noses, without visible bridge; no eyebrows, wide mouths, full lips, oily skins, hair as coarse and straight as horsehair and short, square, ungainly figures—these are the elements of the unpleasant picture.

Real, Nevertheless.
"What is the political difference," inquired the man from back home, "between the citizen who is about to vote and the citizen who has already voted?"
"A mere distinction of terms," responded Congressman Hammett, "the one who is about to vote is a good fellow, while he whose ballot already has been cast is a good thing."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Quite a Distinction.
"Politician, isn't he?"
"Oh, no, he's a statesman."
"Well, what's the difference?"
"A statesman, my dear chap, is one who is in politics because he has money. A politician, on the other hand, is one who has money because he is in politics."—Boston Transcript.

Setting Him Right.
"Happiness," declared the philosopher pompously, "is only the pursuit of something, not the catching of it."
"Oh, I don't know about that," answered the plain citizen. "Have you ever chased the last car on a rainy day?"—Dallas News.

The Liquor Issue Here

In Nebraska, as elsewhere, party lines disappear when the liquor question enters the arena of politics. The defender of the saloon knows neither party allegiance nor party loyalty. It is a matter of business with him and he boasts of his political independence.

The opponent of the saloon can not afford to be less independent. There will be, but one important task before the coming session of the Nebraska legislature, namely, the enactment of laws putting in to effect the prohibition amendment which will be adopted on November 7th. At the April primary the dry candidates for governor in the two leading parties received twenty-four thousand more votes than the wet candidates. As only two-thirds of the vote was polled in April the majority ought to be thirty-six thousand when the full vote is polled in November. It ought to be more than thirty-six thousand for three reasons: First, because the wets came nearer polling their full vote at the primaries; a second, because the wet voters drew the line on the liquor question more strictly than the dries and, third, because the dries have had all the time since April to gain recruits.

The liquor interests have their candidates for the senate and house in every district where they have chance any to win, and their aim is to inaugurate an era of lawlessness—the condition which is to follow if the liquor interests can control either house. Wet democrats and wet republicans are working side by side in their conspiracy against the home and humanity. Dry democrats and dry republicans can not afford to be less earnest in defense of the home and all that is high and holy. They should unite and vote for the dry legislative candidates without regard to party differences on other subjects. The opposition is united; there must be no division among the friends of the amendment. If in any district two dries are running against one wet, one of the dries should withdraw. No man who has the interests of the state at heart will allow his personal ambition to jeopardize the cause, and he should not be permitted to do so even if he attempts it.

If the enemies of the saloon are only half as active and zealous as the representatives of the breweries, the distilleries and the saloons, the amendment will be adopted by an overwhelming majority, both houses will be controlled by the friends of the amendment—and Nebraska will be saloonless forevermore.

On another page is an advertisement sent in by the republicans, to which we give space, but we do not agree with the plea put out there. It attacks the 8-hour law and implies that the President promised an increase of freight rate to meet an increased labor cost, which they assume will follow the 8-hour day law. The best authority we can get is to the effect that the 8-hour law will simply move freight 100 miles in eight hours instead of being ten hours at it. Besides the law is one that is simply on trial—and investigation as to the labor cost is being made during the first six months when the law is on trial. The president could not and did not promise any freight increase, though the road managers wanted such an assurance. It may be easy to criticize the act of congress and the president, but what would the people and the road managers have said had the strike not been averted? The Democrat thinks that law in averting the impending trouble was the one course open to follow at the time. For more than 40 years, the republican party, the pretended friend of labor and the people and prosperity and all things good, was in power, and when they were driven out they had never done one thing to prevent such a strike as was pending but two months ago. Then that talk about the distance from Nebraska to the coast of either east or west is good. We have a natural waterway from Nebraska to tide water, but there has long been too much politics and railroad activity in the lobby at Washington to make intelligent moves to utilize this great free highway. To navigate these great rivers is the solution of railroad freight rates. Not only carry freight on them, but harness them and use their mighty power to displace steam.

Assuming that the republican doctrine of a protective tariff make prices higher it might be fair to assume that corn would now bring $1.25 if it had a 25 cent duty, instead of $1.00. That would make it so plain high that the farmers could not afford to feed it to their hogs, and then we would have no pork. Just think of a cargo of Argentine corn coming to this country and reducing the price of Nebraska corn from 30 cents under the old protective tariff to more than $1.00 per bushel with competition open to the world. If Nebraska goes dry the loss of the demand for corn for whisky will amount to more than the Argentine corn yet sent to this country, provided they make whisky from corn any more.

WHEN A room in the house goes dark, you know why
WHEN A part of your body goes wrong, I know why

The principle is the same. If a person would try to light the dark rooms by making more electricity instead of turning on the switch, you would call him crazy.

Yet that is what most people do with their bodies. They take drugs and do everything to try and make a part of their body do its duty when it is really cut off from the source of supplies.

Pressure on the nerve caused by subluxated vertebrae (bone) of the spinal column will injure an organ just as pushing a button of an electric switch will put out the light.

present chairman of the State Railway Commission, who has been largely responsible for these far-reaching accomplishments of the commission, will show that YOU APPROVE HIS RECORD

The work of the State Railway Commission directly affects the pocketbook of every Nebraskan. Cash transactions of the various companies under its supervision amount to about $40,000,000 a year, which is paid by the people of this state.

It is the duty of every voter to see that the proper sort of men are placed on this commission in order that the people's money may not be squandered.

The question every voter should decide is:

Shall I vote blindly a partisan ticket, or shall I vote upon the basis that I would vote for a manager of my own company doing a $40,000,000 business?
