TAMMANY ON TOP AGAIN IN OLD NEW YORK

Election returns from New York indicate beyond a doubt that John F. Hylan has been elected mayor of that city by a plurality of fully 50,000. The morning papers of Wednesday say that Hylan will have 140,000 more votes than had Mitchell, the present mayor, and the independent candidate, who has been counted on as a clean man and guilty of giving the great city the cleanest and best business it has had in years. The result of the election might be taken as an indication that the people of New York are not especially favorable to an administration which the political bosses of one faction or another cannot control. This is not necessarily saying that the incoming mayor will be corrupted by any political faction, but it looks as though Tammany men and methods might have won.

There were three unsuccessful candidates. Bennett was the republican candidate, he having defeated Mitchell for that nomination, after which Mitchell accepted a fusion nomination. Bennett appears to have run last in the race, both Mitchell and Hillquist, the socialist candidate having received more votes than he did. The socialist vote increased more than 400 per cent, and from the precincts given appears to have been close to the Mitchell vote in numbers.

The entire Tammany ticket appears to have won. Most of the papers of the city were hollering for Mitchell, but they were not with the voters.

Tammany leaders call it a victory for economy and business methods in the affairs of the city, and the newly elected mayor announces that his efforts to govern will be along these lines. He wants it understood that he is loyal to his government and the country in the present crisis, and that the vote for him need never be pointed to as an expression of those who would in the least oppose the government at Washington in its great fight for democracy. Most of the city officials on the Hylan ticket were elected with their chief. Ten socialist aldermen are said to have won places on the council.

Suffrage Wins in New York.

New York State voted on the equal suffrage amendment, and it is said to have won by at least 40,000, and the women are correspondingly happy and hopeful. In Ohio, it is thought that the suffrage amendment is lost. The wets appear to have carried the state on the question of prohibition. New Mexico has apparently been carried for prohibition.

Other Places Report

The Penrose faction in Philadelphia appear to have been defeated. The republican candidate for governor, McCall, and all of that ticket in Massachusetts have won.

Geo. F. Buck, a republican is reported winner in Buffalo. John Galvir has been elected mayor of Cincinnati. Rochester, New York, and Louisville, Kentucky, claim the election of republican mayors. In the latter city it is the first republican victory in ten years.

RED CROSS NOTES

Much interest has already been shown in the surgical dressings work, which the chapter will take up in the near future. The materials have been ordered, and the new work room in the city library is being fitted up for the purpose. The great need of putting out these dressings as rapidly as possible is shown by the fact that one whole box—twelve cubic feet of dressings—is sometimes used in the treatment of one patient.

There will be a place for every one who is interested in this work. There will be a course of seven or eight daily lessons for those who feel they can pledge a certain number of hours per week to assisting in the open shop work. A small fee, covering the cost of materials, will be paid into the chapter treasury by those taking this course. The open shop work will be conducted two afternoons each week, and will be open to anyone interested, whether she can give the entire two afternoons each week or only an hour occasionally. Those wishing to take up the regular course of instruction are requested to register with Miss Ella Morrison, Phone Red 224. Further announcements will be made next week.

MRS. S. D. RELYEA

Wayne people were shocked Saturday morning to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. S. D. Relyea. She had been seriously ill but two days and the afternoon before her death seemed to be in good spirits and improving, but the angel of death was hovering near and she end came Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Funeral services were held in the home Tuesday afternoon, Rev. F. J. Jordan of the Baptist church officiating. He took for his subject "Prepared Mansions" and cited the Biblical text "In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you." He gave beautiful word pictures of the promises made to mankind, words that brought comfort to his listeners and eased the pain of parting with the best earthly friend—mother. He said in part: "I do not know the departed sister very well, but had met her once and was greatly impressed with her kindly and womanly qualities. She was a good wife and mother to the family and nothing that I might add today would be too strong to do justice to her good name. The description of the virtuous woman in Proverbs 31:10-31 would be a fitting tribute to Mrs. Relyea. Her presence in the home will be greatly missed and no one can take her place. Not only was she good in her home and kind to the family but was equally happy in showing kindness to her neighbors and friends.

"Our sister has never been very strong and about ten years ago was quite sick but she rallied then and has been in fairly good health until Sunday, October 28th when she took sick. The family and friends did not think that the sickness was unto death until Friday night when she seemed to grow worse. She finally departed this life last Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock.

"The city is poorer today because of the going away of our sister, friend, mother, and wife. She has gone from us, but her memory will still linger, and time after time we shall be cheered when we think of her and what her life has meant to many."

Miss Mary Simpson was born in Iowa, March 10, 1855. She was married to S. D. Relyea, September 21, 1881, at Sioux City, Iowa, and they moved to Wayne immediately after making their home here ever since. Four children were born to this union, one having died in infancy. The others: Miss Mate, who has made her home with her parents and cared for her mother tenderly during her last sickness; Mrs. Ray Hickman of Ryegate, Montana, and Mrs. H. E. Jordan of Sioux City, Iowa, were in attendance at the funeral. The sickness of the mother was so sudden that the children could not be summoned in time to see their mother alive. Two brothers and one sister survive her beside the sorrowing husband.

The Democrat offers heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved relatives. "Weep not that her toils are over, Weep not that her race is run; God grant we may rest as calmly, When our work, like hers is done. Till then we yield with gladness These treasures to Him to keep; And rejoice in the blest assurance, He giveth His beloved ones sleep."

RED CROSS MEETING

The annual meeting of the Wayne county chapter of the American Red Cross will be held at the City Hall, Thursday evening, November fifteenth at seven-thirty, for the purpose of electing officers, making reports and transacting such other business as may come before the meeting.

Mrs. Albert M. Jacobs, Secretary.

RED CROSS MEETING

The Red Cross has moved into the basement of the public library building. The room will not be open for knitting or work on Friday of this week as the Christmas committee will have the use of the room for their special work.

To comply with the library regulations there must be no conversation on the stairs and the ladies are asked to be as quiet as possible so as not to interrupt the work of the library.

Mrs. Jacobs, Sec.

COMMUNITY WELFARE CAMPAIGN

Theodore Hanson from somewhere was here for a meeting Sunday evening, working on a campaign to raise $12,000 in this state to use in the legislature (not as a bribe of course) next session to secure legislation for "community welfare," as they see it. A Mr. Wilson is also at work in this state somewhere as his assistant, and some one at Kansas City, we are told, is holding headquarters at that place. Their bills called for meetings Sunday afternoon and evening, but the speaker arrived too late for the afternoon meeting, we were informed, and a union meeting of several churches was held at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening when the speaker's subject was "Community Salvation."

Yesterday afternoon and last evening the bills called for a meeting at the English Lutheran church, and again this afternoon and evening and Friday the same. The announced subjects in the order given are: "Prevention, Not Cure, No. 1." (The Pre-Adolescent Child.) "The What, Why and How." "Prevention, Not Cure, No. 2." (The Adolescent Child.) "The New Social Conscience." "Prevention, Not Cure, No. 3." (Supervision.) "The World Asset Our Nation's Liability."

The object announced for the raising of this fund is to secure legislation in this state for the regulation and control of dance halls and the censoring of moving pictures. These are two very worthy objects, as we see it, and did Wayne have an affliction of illy controlled dance halls it would need our prompt attention and support. As to the picture blue-pencilings, there is already a board which passes upon all pictures before they are shown, and they are said to be really quite competent, and most efficient in keeping bad and demoralizing pictures from the screens. So to us it seems that these meetings for that purpose are at least ill-timed. Just now the nation is exerting every pound of push possible to make the right win in this great war, and to inject a plea for funds on this people at this time, for a law to try to impose upon some of the larger cities police regulations not of their own making appears out of place.

So far as we know, Wayne citizens are bending every energy toward supporting the government in its great war over the sea for world-wide democracy. Our men are buying bonds, and women, too. The women are working and knitting under the direction of the Red Cross for needed supplies for the men and boys who are offering their all to the country; and just now the plea is for a great donation that the boys may know that old Santa Claus may find them in the trenches, in France and the great training camps here and across the water. Wayne county has about 200 young men in the service, and they should be remembered this year and now. This is a rich community, and its wealth should be used where it seems that it will do the most good, in the eyes of the donor.

RED CROSS OF WAYNE

HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of this organization is called for next Thursday the 15th, to elect officers and listen to reports, etc. Below we give a partial result of the year's work in the way of contributions made and sent forward for use.

NEBRASKA FUEL SITUATION

A Lincoln dispatch relative to the coal supply says: The national fuel administration has promised that Nebraska shall receive 5,000 tons each month of anthracite from one dealer and fifteen cars from another during the present shortage, the shipments to start immediately. This amount, it is thought, will relieve the situation for people heating their homes with base burners.

Fred P. Loomis of Omaha, has been appointed by Fuel administrator Kennedy as his assistant in supervising the distribution of coal to Nebraska consumers.

Appointments to the advisory committee, which will work with the state fuel administrator, have been announced as follows:

For the various congressional districts: First, Mayor J. E. Miller, Lincoln; Second, G. W. Holdrege, Omaha; Third, M. D. Tyler, Norfolk; Fourth, Frank W. Sloan, Geneva; Fifth, W. H. Leaning, Hastings; Sixth, Judge R. R. Dickson, O'Neill.

The local coal situation is not the best. All local dealers save one now have a supply of more or less soft coal, and with weather conditions as they have been there is no immediate danger of a shortage. Yet the supply might easily be exhausted by a bit of bad weather, especially if it should be such as to interfere with rail shipments, like a bad snow and blizzard.

Most people with furnaces have a partial supply at least, and some think plenty for the winter; but hard coal of the nut size for base burners is at a premium. A number of cars have been received and distributed, and one dealer said that he had had hard work to get an agreement between those wanting it as the amount each should have. Others have none, yet, and have their names on the waiting list. Meantime, the weather man is doing the right thing for the people, and tempering the wind to the coalless people. All are hopeful that the promised relief will come this day, enough to let some of us start the base burner.

The city has been short at times, and for a time this week it looked as tho a shut down of light and power might be necessary, but they have a supply again. Some are advocating that the 24-hour service be discontinued for a time, closing at 11 or 12 o'clock until morning. This would conserve some coal and inconvenience but few people.

THE ARMOUR TIDBITS

Last week the advertisement of the Central Meat Market carried an invitation for all to watch their display in the window, and no doubt many did and failed to find the display of the Tidbit packages which the advertisement indicated might be there. They failed to arrive on time, but are NOW on exhibition there—but will not be for a great time, for this market has the only consignment of them in this part of the state, and numerous mail orders will need be filled from here, for they have been nationally advertised. For those who cannot see the window, we will say that the Armour's Tidbits are a very neat package of dainties of a wholesome nature so packed as to be available to send to your soldier boy just as they are. A package contains soap and shaving soap, tooth paste, cheese, wafers, gum, honey, chocolate, dates, pineapple, marmalade, bouillon cubes, boned chicken, peanut butter and other useful and eatable things. The price is wholesale, and is designed to do a bit toward furnishing cheer to the boys in the trenches and introduce to the public some very high class foods. A printed sheet accompanying the shipment says: "These choice morsels have been assembled without thought of 'balanced rations' or 'food unit' value. Well-selected variety, highest quality and wholesome goodness were first considerations. We believe this Tidbits package will be gladly welcomed by Uncle Sam's fighting men, who will find in it a pleasing variation from regular camp fare and a happy expression of loving thoughts from the folks 'back home'."

CITIZENS OF WAYNE AND VICINITY

We are offering a fine lecture course at the State Normal this winter. We have an excellent auditorium with plenty of seats. We want you to come and join with us and help us to make our activities a credit to us and to our city. The more you help us the more we can do, and will do for you in return. We think we are bringing some people here who are decidedly above the small town class, e. g., David Starr Jordan, whom we have secured for Thursday, November 22. If the citizens of Wayne and vicinity will pull with us we can have some attractions as good as come to Sioux City or Omaha. Here is a more complete list of our numbers secured to date:

Dr. K. F. Nance, fresh from the French battle front. William Allen White says: "I know of no one else giving a more comprehensive, interesting and impartial picture of the actual conditions of the war than does Dr. Nance." Dr. Nance will be here next Tuesday, November 13th.

David Starr Jordan, known in every civilized country of the world, will lecture here, Thursday, November 22. Ralph Parlette, Monday, January 28. A most widely known and recommended humorous philosopher, Don't miss his "University of Hard Knocks."

The Irish Players, a high grade company presenting two short Irish comedies and one tragic drama each evening. They come Tuesday, February 26th.

The Bohemian Orchestra, the highest priced single number we have thus far. The orchestra brings with it a real Italian tenor in the person of Signor Bartolotta. The orchestra on Thursday, March 14th.

We are selling a ticket good for six numbers for $1.50. Support us generously and we may be able to secure an additional number of high grade for mutual benefit of all of us. Lecture Course Committee.

A PATRIOTIC MEETING HELD AT RANDOLPH

W. O. Hanssen and Ernest Rippon drove to Randolph Tuesday evening to attend the patriotic meeting there, and the report is that there was a rousing meeting at Randolph which filled the hall and necessitated the holding of several overflow meetings. Several days ago committees went among the farmers and took down the pictures of the Kaiser and his family in several of the homes of naturalized Germans, and they were compelled to attend the patriotic meeting. No violence was done. Mayor Harms of Bloomfield; Attorney Willey of Randolph; Dr. Mullen of Bloomfield and several others spoke. The sentiment of the meeting was that all naturalized Germans be taught to talk English.

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist church will have their annual supper at the church basement Thursday evening, November 15. The price will be 35 cents a plate and all who bring the price will be welcome.

Liberty Bonds Same as Cash

Uncle Sam's "say so" is good enough for us and we consider them the same as cash.

We will take Liberty Bonds the same as money in payment for any Instrument in Our Store

Buy these bonds to the full extent of the price of any instrument you desire to purchase and we will accept the bonds in full payment for that instrument. It's a patriotic act to purchase the bonds.

We have to offer the New Edison; the Victor Victrola; Chickering Bros., Davenport and Treacy, Milton Planos and the greatest of all piano players.

These instruments bear the highest standard of excellence and in the musical world are acknowledged of the highest standard. Remember we sell on the Payment Plan to suit the purchaser.

Bring Cream to Fortner.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Philson of Bloomfield autoed over Saturday. Mr. Philson went to Sidney and Mrs. Philson visited a short time with her brother, W. J. McInerney.

Miss Agnes Richardson of Newcastle is home for a three weeks vacation. She is a teacher in the schools at that place and they are having a vacation on account of the shortage of cornhuskers.

R. B. Judson went to Omaha Friday to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Julia Cook. Mrs. Cook has been ailing for some time and the news of her death was not unexpected. Mr. Judson has our deep sympathy in his grief.

Wm. and Fred and Misses Laura and Ella Studis came over from Madison by automobile Sunday to visit with their sister, Mrs. Walter Lerner for the day. They enjoyed the day very much and visited places of interest here.

Dr. Sibley of Sioux City was called to Wayne Saturday evening in consultation with Dr. Hess over the serious condition of Mrs. S. E. Auker. It is to be hoped something can be done to relieve her condition as she has been a great sufferer.

L. G. Doinner came home from the western part of the state last week, with a car of young feeders he had purchased near Hemingford. He will soon go again to that place, as he purchased more stock there but could not get a car to ship them home in.

Mrs. Mary McRea, who has been visiting her son M. C. McRea at Bushnell, South Dakota, came last week to her home here with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Madden. She was accompanied by her son, who spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives and friends here, and returned to his home Monday.

Cecil McCouan, who lived at Wayne up to about six years ago, came the first of the week from Big Sandy, Montana, and was looking up old friends here, and thinking of shucking a bit of corn. He notices many changes for the better in Wayne. He is a cousin of John Good, who recently moved to Bloomfield, and he will visit him at that place before leaving these parts.

Yes, gentle reader, Pierce has mossbacks as well as every other town. A mossback is a cross between the fifth century and the fifteenth. He is found in the fossilized form in nearly every city in the United States and still lives. He raises his rent, detests a boom, loves to have other people bear all the taxes, hates to have a new enterprise, despises anything which smacks of progress and won't help a newspaper boom its own town. They are as drones to a hive of bees and like the industrious bee, the live business man should avoid these drones and patronize those who are an advantage to the place they reside in.—Pierce County Leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cartright from Wellback came to visit over Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. James. They had been at Omaha with their little daughter who had need of treatment for eye trouble and returned to that place Monday after spending the day with home folks here. They formed a part of a complete family re-union of the James family, all gathering about the family board for the day in honor of their father's 50th birthday. The occasion was a happy one for the James people, parents and children, and one which will be remembered as the day when father began the last half of his first century of life in America. May he have many returns of the fifth anniversary.

Miss Agnes Finigan of the Normal was a Norfolk visitor Saturday.

Mrs. Kate Carpenter and daughter Effie were Sioux City visitors Saturday.

A big line of coats Saturday at the Mrs. Jeffries Store for ladies wear.—adv.

O. C. Lewis was a Winside visitor Monday, and thinks that place now as dry as Wayne.

Miss Martha Butler of Norfolk who has been visiting with Mrs. A. G. Adams returned home Saturday evening.

Mrs. Wm. Weatherholt came over from Norfolk Saturday evening, called here on account of Mrs. S. D. Relyea's death.

Mrs. Walter Weber from Wakefield passed thru here Sunday, going to visit relatives at Colome, South Dakota, for a few days.

Mrs. Petz, who has been here from Lusk, Wyoming, visiting at the home of her brother, Homer Seace and wife, went to Omaha Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tobias of Harlan, Iowa, came last week for a short visit here at the home of his brother, Dr. D. D. Tobias. They left for their home Monday morning.

Mrs. Ralph Clark and children went to Wakefield Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. August Samuelson over Sunday. Miss Ruth went down Thursday and will return with her parents.

Miss Martha Weber came over from Norfolk Sunday to visit home folks, and with her sisters Mary and Agnes drove to Pender to visit at the home of a sister residing at that place.

Fred Martin, who is feeding quite a bunch of sheep north of town, sold two double deck loads of ewes last week, an Omaha packing firm being hungry for mutton sent a man out to buy them.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Thompson from Lyons came up Friday evening and visited over Sunday at the home of her son, G. H. Thompson and family. They returned home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shurtliff from Walthill came last week to visit a few days with friends here, and were guests at the Fred Martin home north of Wayne; the two ladies being sisters. They returned Monday.

Nothing you can send your soldier boy will give him as much pleasure and comfort as your photograph. You can't all visit your boys, but you can send them a new picture. Have it made now, don't wait. C. M. Craven.—adv. 44-tf.

The corn-huskers continue to come and go. Some stop and husk a time before they go. Meantime a lot of farmer girls are out gathering corn each day. One farmer told us Saturday that his daughter is beating him at the game, and that she had a record of 80 bushels a day to her credit. Geo. Andresen, who lives northwest of Wayne gave us a snapshot of his two young daughters at work in the field. These young ladies are quite young, but are delivering the goods. They go to their work neatly attired in overalls and jacket, with substantial leggings protecting them from sandbars. Misses Rena and Agnes Andresen certainly make a striking picture, and their father calls it a view of the New Nebraska corn-huskers. The Democrat believes that such work, if not too strenuous, is as good for the girls as the boys, and that it will tend to condition them for good health thru the winter.

WHY FOOD CONTROL IS SO NECESSARY

Any attempt at food control in this great prosperous land of plenty is an innovation. Nationally we have never experienced a crisis in our food supply. Because it has not been given any thought since the early colonial days more than two centuries ago, the necessity for food control is not now appreciated by our people. It is so difficult for us to realize that a national scarcity of food might possibly exist. For this reason it is proper to consider the causes that have made it necessary for our nation to take control of our wheat supply.

The world is at war. It is the greatest war of all time. The task of feeding the armies in Herculean. It is a big problem not only because of the monstrous armies to be fed but also because of the great distances the food must be transported and the difficulties that surround its transportation. Altho this task would be a big one for the entire world, conditions are such now that almost the entire burden is placed on America—on Canada and the United States. We acquire a personal interest in feeding these armies when we place our own soldiers at the side of those already on the battle front.

Nearly one-third of the food supply necessary for the armies consists of wheat. Our exports of wheat during the past three years have been the heaviest in our history and our supply is now the lowest in ten years, so our government can not afford to take a chance on the supply of wheat for our army. The supply dare not be left in private control where it can be hoarded in great elevators, nor in the control of speculators who can, if they so desire demoralize our army more effectively by withholding wheat supplies than any other way.

Our domestic demand for wheat will of necessity be acute. Were speculators permitted to manipulate our supply in such a way that they could extort from our public unnecessary and unconscionable margins, such uprisings would result in our large consuming centers as would materially interfere with our peace at home and our successful conduct of the war. These uprisings would be serious because they would result not alone from the high prices but from the unjust extortion connected with those high prices. As a war measure—as a war necessity—our government must con-rol the distribution and the price of our wheat in order that our country may be sure of its supply for the army at the front at all times, and in order that disaster may be prevented at home which would surely result from ruinous speculation and heartless extortion. PEASE BUYS PLAINVIEW PAPER

H. H. Pease who ran the Beemer Times about six years, and who quit last spring to get outdoors on a rural mail route for his health, has purchased the Plainview Republican. He issues an interesting, newsy paper at his newly adopted town. He states that the good schools at that place, as well as the inviting conditions about the business part of Plainview had something to do with his removal to that town. His two daughters and son have entered the high school, he is nicely settled and now ready to do a first class business at the printing office.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

Mr. Charles R. Ash has given us access to another bunch of interesting letters from his son Ray, who has been at Camp Travis, Texas, since some time in September, where he and others were taken from Kansas.

In the first letter he tells of a visit on a Sunday to San Antonio, Texas, near which place their headquarters are. A part of this city is old, some of the buildings and churches having been built more than 200 years ago.

It is a part of his duty to welcome the recruits in connection with others in the medical corps, and speaking of the day this letter was written, he said: "We are taking in new recruits now. Five hundred and twenty today. Eighteen were exempted, 4 mentally disqualified, the rest physically, disease or bad feet was the cause in most cases, with poor eyes and missing fingers added to the list of those disqualified. There has to be something radically wrong if rejected, for there is a place of some kind for nearly all of them."

At this time they were planning for the receipt and examination of about 6,000 negroes, who were to commence to arrive a few days later.

He says that they are treated well, but that the first men who went in were under the old officers, and that the discipline was such that all had to "do the mark." He thinks those who come later and will be under new officers will have an easier time.

In a letter a little later to his sister, he tells that he had been given a position for a time which pleased him better than that on the reception committee. His Lt.-Colonel had selected him to assist in drawing charts. He says that the last day he worked at the "infirmary" they examined and passed 967 in the day, and it was a business proposition and made men and recruits both step lively. One day they had a large number of Mexicans to examine. Some of them did not know how to read, nor could they tell their age very accurately, and they had to fix a birthday for them officially.

Their grounds were being improved daily, and altho they had at this time taken in several thousand men the grounds appeared quite empty in most parts for it is expected to quarter from forty to fifty thousand.

Among the recruits arriving with the first contingent of the conscripted men were a lot of Indians.

In another place he tells of the many horses being received, and that they are not up to the standard of those purchased earlier in the game.

He tells of the great aeroplane review at Leon Springs, not far from their camp, where they had the largest review of the air fleet ever held on this side. It was reported that those who had been in training there were to leave for France within a few days.

His letters tell of weather conditions which were generally warm, and show anxiety or interest in what is going on at home. He wondered how his brother Max was going to take army life when he got into it, and one could read between the lines at times that all news from home folks is most welcome, and it would be well for home folks to remember this and mention a lot of things when writing to the soldier boys which appear trivial to us, but the farmer lads who have gone will be glad at times to get individual reports from each cow, calf, horse, hog and chicken, not forgetting that the dog also has a place in the lad's thoughts when far away in camp. Cheerful, newsy letters are most welcome, and we all owe it to them to see that they get them regularly. There is no place more lonesome at times than to be, as one old gentleman said of his daughter who was in the city: "All alone with 100,000 people." Think of what a lonesomeness that is. No one knows until they have tried it. Write to the boys. The writer of these letters will receive mail addressed to Charles R. Ash, Camp Travis, Texas, 90th Div., 18th Amb. Corps Detachment.

Ray sent the folks a very neat souvenir folder of views of San Antonio showing parts of the old and the new city and some soldier camp scenes.

The last letter of the bunch was written at the close of a hard week work, when sixteen of the corps he is with had examined and vaccinated 6,700 men besides caring for a large list of sick daily. Castor oil and salts are standard remedies for the sick for the first visit of the physician and then if that does not put them right they are probably given a taste of some other remedies. It certainly is a great life the lad is leading, and his daily experiences, if he keeps a record will make a story of interest to his friends and to himself in the years to come.

A Letter from Willis Fleetwood October 29, 1917.

Dear Folks: We left Great Lakes Friday morning at 7 o'clock. It was raining hard when we left and rained all day and most all night. From Chicago on we had a special car of our own. There were fifty-five in the party and they served our meals in the diner, half of us going at a time. We had breakfast at Great Lakes at 5:30.

The country all the way was beautiful. The woods were one gorgeous mingling of colors and the grasses were equal to the trees in beautiful colors. We came down over the B. & O. to Washington. The old rail fence is not a thing of the past yet. All the way down we saw very few wire fences. The fodder was in the shock in most fields and I never saw corn quite so thick. Where there wasn't a shock of corn there were stacks of big yellow pumpkins.

We had stopped at Garrett, Indiana, when I sat down to dinner and before I had finished we were passing thru Hicksville, Ohio. Ohio is very much like Indiana at least what we saw of it. It got dark before we left Ohio. The greatest sight of this trip was passing thru Youngstown and Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. It was dark and rainy and the glow from the steel smelters made it look as tho we were passing thru hell fire. The sky was all aglow with red light and here and there a large converter shot flames and sparks up into the sky and the men running about looked like imps of darkness. Our train stopped some time in Pittsburg. Pittsburg at night is certainly conflicting to the senses. It is a beautiful sight but I can't say much for the smell.

After leaving Pittsburg I went to bed and when I awakened we were pulling into Washington. We had about two hours here but didn't get around very much. The morning was damp and foggy. Before we left the sun came out and it got real hot for us for we had left snow at Great Lakes.

The country around here is very pretty—lots of timber and Quantico is on the banks of the old Potomac. We all like it fine, much better than at Chicago. I never saw a finer looking bunch of fellows than these marines—great, big good-natured chaps. They are older than the average sailor. The marine must be 21 years of age.

Quantico is a very small place and is real old fashioned. I saw an ox team hauling lumber Saturday afternoon. Some of the little stores and shops have gas torch lights. And I never saw so many coons in my life.

We will go thru special training in field work and just where and when we will leave is unknown. Must close with love to all.

FOOD CONSERVATION - NIT
As a community we are great on food conservation on paper and in talk, but we are not even to first base - no, we have not any more than struck a "foul" and started to run before any fair umpire would call us back. We tell of conserving sugar, and advertise a candy sale for funds for the Red Cross in the same issue - the two stories don't dovetail into any logical plan for conservation.

We want to conserve meat and reduce the cost of the same to the consumer, yet we ship our hogs live weight to a distant packing house and buy bacon and lard - paying freight, commissions, cost of killing and curing, then freight back again and retailer's profit - why not take

Basket Store Notes

A bystander remarked our coffee sales must be enormous. The so, price and quality are entirely responsible for it. A trial purchase of "Our Pride" blend will convince you why this store excels. Many 25 pound sales extend to outside territory. For 28c we supply a coffee equal to any 35c or 40c coffee. Make us prove it.

We promised this community the best carload of box apples on this market and we have made good. The varieties are Winesap, Roman Beauty, Black Twig, Jonathan and Stayman Winesap. The quality is so far above the ordinary box apples we want everybody to call and inspect them. It's really a pleasure to show these apples. The price is but a trifle more than ordinary commercial box apples.

Sugar may be scarce until January 1st. Western shipments are going east. We are selling on a $1.00 limit.

the short cut? We never yet have seen the packing house cured ham which would compare with the best home cured hams.

We should conserve freight, commissions and speculator's profits. An exchange tells of a garden owner at Glenwood, Iowa, who raised three Hubbard squashes averaging 50 pounds each from one vine, and no doubt some little squashes that did not get their name in the paper; and a Hubbard squash properly baked or steamed does not have to offer any apologies to the sweet potato as a table bird. But we neglect to grow the squashes and ship in the yellow spud at five or six cents a pound, paying railroad freight, wholesale and retail profits and stand the loss from decay between producer and consumer, apparently just because we are lazy, neglectful, indifferent and prosperous. The railroads have all they can do now, if we save them part of this work - the sweet potato is probably worth as much as a hog or cattle food where grown as the producer gets for it, if the speculator can have his way in buying. WHY NOT GET DOWN TO BUSINESS?

To us it seems a whole lot better to have the merchants limit the amount of sugar they sell to each patron during the present shortage, which is but temporary, rather than seek to corner it for big profits wrung from the people, who have been worked up to a frenzy of doubt by circulated rumors of a shortage. There are plenty of people here at Wayne and in this vicinity who are holding both flour and sugar, bought in quantity some months ago, which would not sell on the market today for the sum they paid for it. As a rule, it is a safe plan to buy simply for your ordinary needs. When we get batty and try to lay in a two-year supply of what we usually buy once a month, some one is going to get hurt in the pocket book.

Germany and Austria are talking peace now to Italy, having slipped in on them when they were at a disadvantage. But then, it is time for those powers to talk peace, for they are practically out of men to take the places of those made vacant by war. They have taken the old men and the boys - in fact no sacrifice has been too great for the German rulers to exact from their people. They have robbed the cradle and the grave. They have lost annually an average of 1,200,000 men, and they have far from enough to make the reserve for another year - even by calling boys who under the laws would not be subject to military duty until 1920.

Prohibition, even such prohibition as we have here in Nebraska under a democratic administration, both state and national, has reduced criminal court cases fully two-thirds - and over in Iowa they used to tell us that prohibition was a republican affair pure and simple, which the democrats would ruin if they could. But the prohibition of the republicans there failed to prohibit, so it had no enemies among the liquor people.

Hanging is the proper treatment for the one responsible for the deliberate robbers of Chicago who permitted several hundred car loads of food stuffs to stand on the tracks at Chicago and freeze and rot that the prices might be higher on the holdings of the speculative robbers. Hell is not hot enough to roast them as they should be cooked.

Bran bread, properly made is palatable, and more healthful than that made from high patent bleached flour. The pride of our women in their ability to make bread very white is responsible for a vast amount of ill health and stomach trouble. That is who the millers lay the demand for bleached flour to, but we all know that Adam laid the apple stealing to Eve.

Equal suffrage amendment in New York appears to have carried by 100,000 majority. Give the women a chance down there - they cannot make a worse mess of government than the men have made and hold their job.

The price of bread is coming down maybe. The government is now about to begin to see why loaves are no larger from the city bakeries than when flour was five dollars a barrel higher.

He was quite a diplomatic bachelor who admitted after six months of married life that he had his wife trained so well that he could make her do anything she wanted to.

See A. G. Adams, the owner, about a modern residence for sale within a week - it's going, and a bargain. adv.

TIDRICK HAS GOOD SALE

Thesday Harry Tidrick had a sale of Poland China and Duroc Jersey boars, and Auctioneer Cunningham ran the bunch of 40 head thru the ring in an hour, and got an average of nearly $68 the head for them, and still left money enough in the crowd to permit the Red Cross ladies of Winside to gather in $23 at a collection which they were given permission to take. Now that Uncle Sam has fixed a minimum price for pork on foot, such purebred stock as the Wayne county breeders produce should bring good prices. Here is a list of purchaser and prices.

TEACHERS MET WEDNESDAY

Says the Omaha Bee: Henry H. Hahn of Wayne vice-president of the Nebraska State Teachers' association, is being mentioned in connection with the presidency of the organization. He was a candidate at the annual meeting here a year ago.

A. H. Dixon, assistant state superintendent, also is being supported by a group of friends who are urging his election. Another man who is "in the hands of his friends" is F. M. Gregg, of the Peru state normal school. None of these men is a candidate in the usual sense, but each is being pushed and supported by friends.

J. F. Mathews of Grand Island is being boomed for another term in his present office. The annual meeting of state teachers this year will be marked by sharp political fights which have characterized former gatherings. The race for president will be spirited but not accompanied by personalities, the leaders state.

Superintendent Beveridge, chairman of the local committee, reported last night that everything is in readiness for the big convention which will be started today in earnest.

Six hundred Omaha teachers have registered at headquarters.

Dr. Ambrose L. Summe of the department of education, University of Pennsylvania, an authority on rural and primary education, will arrive this morning and will visit the public high schools. He will address the general meeting in the Auditorium Wednesday night on "The Educational Program of a Democracy" and will appear before a joint session of the kindergarten, primary and story tellers' sections Thursday

CATTLE SALE

At The Wayne Pavilion

Saturday, Nov. 10

91 Head of Good Cattle

I will offer for sale a mighty good bunch of cattle. There are 61 Whiteface calves, every one a good one; 20 good steers and 10 coming two-year-old heifers.

These cattle are of good quality, and while I could have gotten cheaper cattle that would have perhaps made me more money, I bought these knowing that the people of this vicinity appreciate quality. These cattle will be cut and sold in bunches to suit purchaser.

forenoon at the Strand Theatre, where he will speak on "Things Worth While in an Elementary Education." He will also speak to the teachers of rural education and rural school sections.

The first general session of the state teachers was held Wednesday night in the Auditorium. The first feature on the program was community singing led by Thomas J. Kelly of the conservatory of music, Cincinnati. Dr. Suhrie followed with an address, and Miss Mae E. Schreiber of Boston spoke on "Come, Let Us Reason Together."

CAN HE WIN AT PRIMARY?

Speaking of Senator Norris' candidacy for the republican nomination to succeed himself as senator from this state, the Norfolk News remarks: "Senator Norris' announcement at Lincoln that he intends to run in the republican primaries for renomination as United States Senator will bring before the people of Nebraska the question whether they want to be represented in the upper house by a man who can be depended upon to give whole-hearted support to the administration's efforts to win the war or by one whose past record and present declarations indicate he will, at best, be but like-warm in upholding those who are struggling to make the world safe for democracy and for America."

"Senator Norris' address in opposition to the declaration of war is still fresh in our minds. He expressed his attitude tersely when he said that he felt we were, by entering the war, placing the dollar sign upon the American flag."

FLAG UNION NEWS
Laura Lyons is spending the week at G. W. Woggett's near Winside. Albert Hingelin is improving so is Mrs. T. E. Wilcox.
Irvan Lyons address is Co. G, 134th Infantry, Camp Cody, New Mexico. He writes that those who were in the depot brigade with him were distributed in other companies, it being sort of a supply. He certainly appreciated the Democrat the times he got it at Camp Funston and would be glad to get it again.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lyons spent Wednesday at Nels Ericksons. Mrs. Erickson is slowly improving from her recent operation.

REV. CLEVELAND LECTURES HERE

At the Presbyterian church Monday evening the Rev. Denton B. Cleveland, of Lincoln, gave an interesting lecture, "The Challenge of the Young Men to the Church." It was a treat to hear Rev. Cleveland. He is greatly interested in our boys in the camps and in the trenches and these lectures are for the purpose of putting a little booklet of his own writing and excerpts from the Bible into the hands of the soldiers. It is said that any Bible or testament is too large for the soldiers to carry into the trenches and the booklets are small enough to be carried anywhere. The Normal quartet sang several selections and a solo by Mrs. A. R. Davis, "Keep the Home Fires Burning" were greatly appreciated. While here Rev. Cleveland was entertained by Mrs. A. A. Wollert.

TIMELY TIPS FOR THE WEEK

The brood sow's ration should not be corn alone. Supplement with meat meal tankage or cut alfalfa hay.
Calves ought to be on full feed by this time.
Go over the orchard and where fungus disease occur cut out and burn. Also gather the smut of corn and destroy.
Remember that washing the separator after each separating means better cream and less loss of fat.
In northern sections prune and lay down grapes. Cover strawberries with a straw mulch after the ground is frozen.
Give fattening fowls plenty of corn, but don't forget the green food and animal food for the layers.
Fattening lambs receiving alfalfa do splendidly when fed ear corn. Shelling and grinding doesn't pay.

Million Letters In the Mails Today Bearing Magic Words "With the Colors"

Keynote of the Splendid Work the Y. M. C. A. Does Among Our Men In Uniform Is Keeping Them In Touch With the Folks at Home.

STAMPED WITH STARS AND STRIPES AND RED TRIANGLE

Multifarious Ways in Which the Association Appeals to Your Boy,
Your Neighbor's Boy, or Some Boy You Know and Love—Creates a Helpful Environment in Cantonment, on Way Overseas, in Front Line Trench and Beyond—First to Aid as He Comes Tottering Back—Give Your Share of the $35,000,000 Required to Accomplish This "Last Evidence That Somebody Cares."

It was evening on the broad Hempstead Plain, Long Island, where the Rainbow division was spending its last night before embarking for France. It had been raining hard in the afternoon—a cold, steady autumn downpour—and there was nothing to suggest the rainbow in the outward aspect of the camp. Lines and lines of sodden canvas housed 27,000 men, gathered from 27 different states. The ground was dotted with poles and quagmires. Under the wet canvas it was damp and cold, with a penetrating chill. Lit by flickering candles, the tents were far from cheerful shelter for a man's last night in his native land.

But there were seven big tents where electric lights, numbers and friendliness made the night pleasant.

least is on its way to you. Each one of our 16 cantonments, where the new national army is being trained, is using more than a million sheets of this paper every month. In the draft army alone that means 16,000,000 filaments of love every month reaching out from the great encampment where the men are being trained into the greatest army this nation has ever dreamed and binding them to the hearts at home. Multiply that by thinking of all the other places where Uncle Sam has men with the flag—in navy yards, on the high seas, in arsenals and officers' training camps and "Over There" in France. In all these places men are writing home. Those unassuming little sheets of notepaper gladden millions of hearts a day. They transfer more love from one

Music, Games, Good Reading and Correspondence Facilities in Y. M. C. A.
Building.

In each of these a soldier was strumming on a piano; others were reading books and magazines; hundreds were writing letters home. Behind the raised counter at one end three or four young men were busy passing out notepaper and envelopes, selling stamps and weighing parcels, which the men were sending home. One of the soldiers said to me as I stood in the tent used chiefly by men from Iowa: "We came all the way here from Des Moines, and we were mighty lonely. Then we found this Y. M. C. A.
on the job, and it's been a home and more than a home to us. It gave us what we wanted when we needed it most. We'll never forget it. The boys' best friend is the Y. M. C. A."

Fine, Clean-Cut, Upstanding Fellows.
How close those benches were packed with men, bending over the long tables absorbed in their writing! What an appeal to the sympathies those great groups of soldiers make! Fine, clean-cut, upstanding fellows, some of them mere boys, one thinks immediately of the sacrifice they have made for the rest of us and how precious they are to some one back home.
Somewhere, in far off farm or village or city street, there are parents or brothers or wives who would give all they possess for one glimpse of those sunburned faces as you and I see them on their last night before going across. And it was with a throbb-ing of the heart that I watched them, bent over their letter paper, in one after another of those seven big tents.

These were the tents of the Y. M. C. A.
On that last night in America the association was serving the soldiers in the best of all ways—giving them an opportunity to write home. On previous nights they had enjoyed boxing bouts, movies, concerts, dramatics and a score of healthy entertainments as well as religious meetings. But on this last night home ties were strongest. And perhaps that is the keynote of the splendid work the Y. M. C. A. is doing among our men in uniform—
keeping them in touch with home.

Magic Words, "With the Colors."
In these times there are some letters that mean more to us than any we have ever read before. They are written on sheets of paper stamped with the Stars and Stripes and the red triangle of the Y. M. C. A., and they bear the magic words, "With the Colors." There are many more than a million such letters in the mails now as you read this. Perhaps one at part of the world to another than statistics can express. Statistics are pretty poor anyway when it comes to reckoning in terms of love and human tenderness. Let's put it this way:

That the Y. M. C. A. is the biggest express company the world has ever seen, and the parcels it is handling are the loves and devotions of human beings.

World's Best Loved Trademark.
This war has made us think hard and fast. Your boy or your neighbor's boy or some boy you know and love has been called to do his share in the big job of policing the world for democracy and human liberty. Is it any comfort to you to know that whenever his duty may call him your boy will have a friend that will serve him in body, mind and soul? Are you glad to know that this friend will place books and magazines at his disposal, organize classes to teach him whatever he wants to learn, give him a pocket testament and invite him to join religious meetings of the faith that he was brought up in? Did you realize that the association provides athletic equipment for his favorite games, teaches him games if he knows none and holds concerts, lectures, movies, Bible classes, dramatic entertainments and every kind of wholesome amusement to keep him interested? Are you glad to know that this friend will go with him overseas, help to shield him from a score of difficult and dangerous temptations and follow him right up to the front line trench and beyond it? The last contact the soldier has with this life he loves so well is a cup of tea given him by the Y. M. C. A. free just before he goes "over the top" to a hand to hand struggle with the enemy. And as he comes tottering back from No Man's Land, wounded, but strong enough and plucky enough to keep on his feet, even before his wounds are dressed the Y. M. C. A. is waiting for him with tea and sweet chocolate, the great comforts of the man in the trenches. Do you wonder that the Red Triangle is called "the best loved trademark in the world"? One soldier in France has called it "the last evidence that anybody cares."

If every thinking citizen could see with his or her own eyes something of the actual work being done for our men by the association there would be no question of the Y. M. C. A. having to appeal to the public for money.
Rather than let this essential work fall for an instant rich men would sell their motorcars, poor men would forego coveted possessions or even necessities. The work must go on, because there is no one thing that contributes so much to the spirit and efficiency of the troops. The Y. M. C. A. is working night and day to help the government win this war. And every penny that is given to aid the work is a direct assistance to the health, happiness and strength of your boy and mine.

Snapshots of Kaleidoscopic Work.
In all the big cities in France where our men pass through in large numbers, the Y. M. C. A. is operating hostels, where they can get beds and meals at a minimum cost. In London
the American Y. M. C. A. has erected a large building for our soldiers and a clubhouse for American officers.

There are Y. M. C. A. dugouts right behind the front line trenches, where the soldiers can get hot drinks, crackers and other comforts at all hours.

Over 2,000 men who had been rejected on account of physical disability have been able to get into the British army by reason of the physical work of the British Y. M. C. A.

A fleet of motor cars leaves the big Y. M. C. A. headquarters in London at midnight every night to pick up soldiers who are wandering about the streets without any wholesome lodging in which to spend the night. These cars are operated by Englishwomen of position and refinement, who report that they never meet any discourtesy at the hands of the soldiers. The importance of this service can be estimated by the fact that at least 50,000 soldiers are on leave in London every week. Over half of these sleep in Y.
M. C. A. beds every night.

Entertainment on Vast Scale.
The Y. M. C. A. has erected a big auditorium, seating 3,000, in each of the big draft camps, and huge chautauqua tents, seating 2,500 in the other encampments. The association is running a 22 week entertainment circuit among the camps and is paying 16 companies of entertainers, who are traveling to 30 camps performing before the men.

In each of the draft camps the Y.
M. C. A. has ten secretaries engaged in educational work. The association is seeing to it that every man who cannot speak English is taught to do so. In many of the camps the association has a singing director, who is teaching the men to sing the popular and martial airs that do so much to keep up their spirits.

Of 64 Y. M. C. A. men at Camp
Dix only three are being paid full salaries. In all the camps the majority of the Y. M. C. A. men have left lucrative positions to do this work simply because its appeal is irresistible to any red blooded man. Harry Lauder, the famous Scotch singer and comedian, now on his farewell concert tour in the United States, is giving all his spare time to the service of the association and is singing to the soldiers at all the camps he can reach.

In one of the draft camps the Y. M.
C. A. is supervising athletics on 120 playing fields, providing full athletic equipment. The winners of the inter-regimental games will play the champions of the other camps.

One of the greatest services rendered by the association is the making

A Red Triangle Dugout in the Trenches.

out of money orders by which the men can send their pay home to their families. In some of the big camps the Y. M. C. A. is providing banking facilities for the men as well.

Do Your Bit With a Tennyson.
This month (November) the Y. M.
C. A. must raise $25,000,000 to carry on its work among our soldiers and their allies until next July. Of this $25,000,000 about $24,000,000 will be spent on the work with our own troops or about $10 for every man in Uncle Sam's uniform. If everybody who has received letters from soldiers and sailors were to contribute $10 the task would be easy. Are your boy's health and happiness and clean soul worth $10 to you?

Your town mayor, your pastor, your school superintendent will know who is the treasurer of the campaign committee in your county or town. Otherwise send a check or money order to Cleveland H. Dodge, treasurer, 124
East Twenty-eighth street, New York city.

Only sacrificial giving by millions of givers will make possible the continuance of this vast work for American soldiers and for those of our allies.

ZEDA THE MODERN BROOM

It isn't so hard to see good things that come out of a broom as it is to see the good things you should have instead of a broom.

Note the Fibre Shield
One of the reasons for the long life of ZEDA, The Modern Broom, is the patented fibre shield that fits snugly over the shoulder. Makes the broom more attractive and enables you to reach the hard-to-get places without fear of breaking the straw on the sharp edges of beds, tables, chairs, etc.

Largest and highest-rated independent broom manufacturing establishment in the universe.

fore them. Feed them abundantly and well. Such rations as these are splendid:
A—Shelled corn self-fed plus meat meal tankage self-fed plus salt self-fed.
B—Shelled corn self-fed plus buttermilk at the rate of 4 to 5 pounds to 1 of grain when pigs weigh 50 to 100 pounds; 3 to 3½ pounds as they go from 100 to 150; 2 to 3 pounds from 150 to 200; 1 to 2 pounds from 200 to 250 and ¼ to 1 pound after they pass the 250 mark.

THE CRY OF "SHORTAGE"
Whenever there is a corner to be formed or prices are to be raised the first step is to get the press to announce a "shortage." That was the process that was used in both coal and sugar and it would have worked out but for the extraordinary powers that congress bestowed upon the commissions that have been handling those products. Had it not been for the interference of the government sugar would now be selling for 20 cents or more a pound, while the facts are the sugar crop is the greatest ever known with a big hold-over of thousands of tons in Java.

The agricultural department's figures, and they correspond almost exactly with those of Willard & Gray the acknowledged sugar statisticians, show an enormous crop of sugar for the crop year. The promise now is the world crop is 270,700 tons larger than last season, while the total American crop North, Central and South America is 340,000 tons in excess of 1916. The war has not increased the consumption of sugar, but greatly reduced it, for some millions of people are consuming far less than they did previous to the war. Does France, England, Italy or the Balkan states consume as much sugar as in normal times? Men are beginning to believe that there has been a manipulation of the supplies of sugar in some way not yet discovered. Sugar making from both cane and beets is now going on in the United States and will reach the maximum next January. Some farmers are already considering the planting of a patch of sorghum and making their own sweets as they did in pioneer days and so be safe from these "shortage" manipulators. It is announced that the government recently discovered 100,000 tons of raw sugar in Louisiana.—World-Herald.

THE H. C. OF I.
(From the Plainview Republican)
You can't get away from it. You have got to eat. You must eat.
If these eating conditions were the direct results of the democratic administration, I wouldn't give two whoops in the frying pan for the Demmy's chances at the next election. But you and I know these prices are abnormal. Mr. Hoover knows it and strange as it may seem to, Mr. Hoover had started in to fust the trusts but when he got in up to his neck he found that he was helpless and he would have to appeal to the patriotism of the American people. There was no law to get at the very fellows he went after and the result is the public is being flim-flammed to a more or less degree under the war cry. The war may have a good deal to do with present conditions and prices but when they tell me things are selling cheaper in England and Germany today than the same thing is selling in the U. S. A., I get snorting mad and want to see the proof.

Statistics show that there is more raised of everything this year than the average. We are asked to observe wheatless, meatless and wasteless days; bless your dear life we are all down to that base right now and don't need any urging, we simply have to do it whether we will or not. If Mr. Hoover thinks he can bring the prices down by causing a great surplus by non-use he is off again on the wrong foot. The commercial life of people is so constituted that somehow this idea of patriotism don't appeal to them when it concerns a matter of profits. There must be laws and those laws must be enforced, socialistic tho they may be, for men will charge all the deal will stand and yet not infringe to any great extent on his supply of American patriotism.

I avow the cost of living,
At the present time is giving,
The philosophers and statesmen much distress,
And the ceaseless agitation,
Has aroused my indignation,
Till I've been damaged more or less.

It is true that meat is rising,
And it wouldn't be surprising,
If the packers are conniving at the game.
But I'll not shake and shiver,
While the retail price of liver,
Will consent to kindly stay about the same.

There is many a greedy glutton,
Stuffing pork and beef and mutton,
Till it makes of them a race of arrogant slaves.
But I've somehow got a notion,
That this same insane devotion,
To this habit sends them down to early graves.

For there is a gentler diet,
Which if you will take and try it,
You'll enjoy more of the earnings from your toil,
And your palate will feel fine,
If you'll just invest a dime,
In a soup-bone, friend, and take it home to boil.

Don't go round a rip and roaring,
Cause the price of meat is soaring,
When its nought but ingenuity you lack.
For my friend, there is a plenty,
And there's not one man in twenty,
But can pull thru if he's only got the knack.

Even in the tightest pinches,
You can buy a few square inches,
Of the high-priced beef or bacon now and then.
If your wife's the least bit savvy,
You can have a dose of gravy,
And that's mighty good for ordinary men.

DO YOU WANT A GOOD NEBRASKA FARM?
If so, call at the Democrat office and learn who has 320 acres for sale with one set of improvements for less than $70 the acre; or the place will be divided and 160 sold—the quarter without improvements at $80; the unimproved 160 acres at $65. Six mites from a good town, and a good soil, and a corn crop to show what it will produce. Fair terms.—42 tf.

SOLDIERS WANT MINCE PIE
"Like Mother Used to Make"
Along the lines of the military encampments, mince pie proves to be prime favorite with the boys in khaki—from the noble lye private straight up to the commanding officer all affirm it "great eat." They want the kind they used to get at home.
And as one piece of mince pie goes a long way toward a meal, the efficient American housewife is not slow to appreciate that she can turn this to advantage in her own home.
NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT is made just as the best housewife makes the best mince meat in her own kitchen. The package recipes are good for pies, cakes, puddings, and cookies.
Bake a NONE SUCH War Pie—no top crust. Saves flour, shortening, labor, money—half the crust. Good, too. In this way you help the U. S. Food Administration.
For economy NONE SUCH is the leader, for it comes in a paraffin-lined package which prevents waste, and is cheaper than bulk mince meat bought by the pound. The package weight increases three times its weight when the necessary moisture is added. It costs only a few cents—is absolutely clean and keeps like fruit cake.

Mr. Carson moved to a farm near Bloomfield about 19 years ago, and before that he was a Wayne citizen.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Ley will leave soon for Cheyenne county where Mr. Ley will start a bank at a town twelve miles from Sidney called Girly. The family will live at Sidney this winter on account of the boom on everywhere in that western country but will perhaps build at Girly in the spring. Wayne people, especially the young married people, will greatly miss Mr. and Mrs. Ley and the good wishes of hosts of friends will go with them to their new home.

O. C. Lewis returned Saturday from a month's visit in Western Kansas with his daughter, Mrs. C. H. Leebick. He went back to get acquainted with the twin babies. They are three months old now. Mr. Lewis stopped at Camp Funston on his return and had a splendid visit with the Wayne county boys. He says they are happy and contented there and he spent a day visiting about the camp. Lloyd Fitch helped him find the boys and he visited with Orin Martin, John Aherin, James Strahan, Harvey Hdas, Henry Waffler and other Wayne and Winslow boys.

Shop in The Morning

In many respects shopping in the morning hours is more pleasant than during any other hours of the day. The stock is better arranged and the store assistants have more time to assist the customers. Then just now when labor is scarce, the movement for efficiency is getting greater on every side. Morning shopping becomes more desirable.

School Hosiery

To withstand the hard knocks given in rough play of school days, hosiery must be well constructed of good yarns with the best of dye.

We are now offering special hose for school children in different weights that will give maximum service at reasonable prices.

A LOOK INTO THE FUTURE

Twenty-five years hence there will not be a crowned head in Europe. Beyond that it is idle conjecture. The mystery of the future, which cannot now be fathomed, will turn upon the degree that the proletariat invested with power shows itself equal to the emergencies of self-government, which is merely organized self-control.

The rule of force quite gone from the scene, the rule of numbers arrive—no man-on-horseback to intervene—the question will revolve upon how the numbers carry themselves and what they do. "Citizens," cried Vergniaud in the National Assembly just before the terror, "there is but too much reason to fear that revolution, like Saturn, will successively devour its progeny and leave at last only despotism with its attendant calamities." This actually happened. Sick of bloodshed, sated with license, weary of chaos, society turned to Napoleon.

Can that old game be played upon the world again? It would simplify the forecast of the future to think so. But on the other hand, another surmise seems coming to the speculative and there are reasons to believe that in that particular form the one-man power will never assert itself.

One thing is certain, the proletariat is on the way. The divine right of rulership in kings is doomed. The divine right of the people, to rule will carry all before it. That means, of course, goodbye to the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs.

The principle of "meinselt und Gott," which the Kaiser asserts, and to which the Germans pin their faith, is as dead as the issue of the institution of African slavery. The feudal characteristics that cling to it are, likewise, a kind of insanity—its antiquate, stilted, tyrannous forms—its obsolete ceremonies, functions and superstitions—the clothes, the very hats and boots it wears—proclaim that it lives in the atmosphere, the dreams and the lingo of the middle ages and recks not the movement of modern times. The court circle, equally in Berlin and Vienna, has been but a fool's paradise—sometimes a hideous tragedy—always an artificial comedy—from which the sensible recoil and they who would truly live, very often run away.

The Romanoffs are gone. Constantine has gone. The Hohenzollerns and Hapsburgs must go. If the Kaiser survives the war he will find—maybe in the loneliness of some island of the sea—that instead of being an understudy of the Almighty, he has been the sport and prey of outrageous fortune, as Bonaparte found away off among the lonely crags of St. Helena. —Yeoman shield.

Water, Pure and Plenty, Produces Pork and Poultry

The "IDEAL" Hog Waterer

For hogs and poultry, will add to the thrift of your herd and flock and make the high-priced feed produce the maximum amount of pounds of better meat.

An absolutely sanitary Waterer that will not freeze in winter and keeps the water cool, fresh, and clean in the summer. An all-the-year-around Waterer. Every hog raiser knows that good, clean water is absolutely necessary in raising hogs and chickens to get the most out of them. Hogs and poultry are two of the best paying crops you raise and the better care they receive the more profit they make for you.

A hog wants water frequently—he will leave his feed and take a few swallows of water if the water is convenient for him. They require lots of water to digest their food properly and keep the system in a good healthy condition. A hog consumes from 7 to 8 pounds of water for each pound of dry matter eaten—nearly twice as much as horses and cattle.

You can positively save 25 per cent of your feed cost by giving your hogs a constant supply of good, clean water, with the chill off just as they want it.

A hog will live and put on weight for 4 or 5 days with practically no food if he is given all the water he wants, but he will begin to lose weight in two days if he has no water, even tho he has all the corn he wants.

One of the hardest chores on the farm is to properly water the hogs, especially in cold, zero weather when the water freezes in the trough in half an hour. It is a hard job to chop ice from the trough two or three times a day to give the hogs fresh water, and even then they do not have water as often as they should. With an Ideal Waterer your hogs can have a constant supply of good clean water with the chill off just as they want it, night and day. Hogs will drink frequently both night and day if the water is convenient and the right temperature.

With the tank style of Waterers the water is automatically fed to the drinking pan by the vacuum system. The trough is always full but never overflows. No mud hole or disease breeding places around the drinking troughs. The drinking trough is thoroughly protected so horses or cattle cannot step into it or damage it, and hogs cannot get into it with their feet to foul or waste the water, but they can always have all they want to drink.

In the top of the tank is a vacuum—no air or anything but just space. A complete vacuum is a non-conductor of heat and cold so this keeps the water cool in summer and helps to keep it warm in winter.

In cold weather the water that is exposed to the air will freeze first. There is no advantage in keeping water in a tank warm if it freezes in the trough where the hogs drink. You will note that the lamp sets directly under the drinking pan so the water cannot freeze and the heat then passes up around the tank and keeps the water at just the right temperature. The Ideal Waterers have been used and worked perfectly with the thermometer at 35 degrees below zero.

The heat being properly applied as it is, and confined inside the casing, the lamp can be turned low so it uses only a small amount of coal oil. It costs only 2 or 3 cents a day to keep the water warm night and day in the coldest weather.

An approach is built to the drinking trough so hogs of any size can drink.

The Ideal Waterers are made of heavy galvanized iron. They are strong and substantial and will last for years. They are shipped complete with lamp and metal chimney.

Waterers for Farms Having a Water Supply

Many farms have supply tanks and for these we make the No. 10 and No. 22 Waterers which are connected to the water supply system or can be connected to a common round stock tank or cement tank.

The No. 10 and No. 22 Waterers are made of heavy galvanized iron and have a heavy positive float valve which regulates the water in the drinking pan. Simply run the water under frost line to the Waterers, then up thru the bottom and connect to the float valve.

No. 22, which has two drinking troughs, is so constructed that it can be set into the ground, making the troughs the right height for hogs to drink.

The door being in the upper part of the Waterer so you can easily place the lamp under the drinking pan. As a permanent Waterer in the hog lot where you have water piped from a supply tank the No. 22 is just what you want.

PRICED DOWN RIGHT

No. 10—For attaching to supply tank, weight 40 lbs.	$15.00
No. 5—60-gallon Waterer, weight 100 lbs.	$25.00
No. 102—Same as No. 10, with two drinking troughs, weight 40 lbs.	$17.00
No. 22—To be attached to supply tank, with two drinking troughs, weight 45 lbs.	$20.00
No. 52—60-gallon Waterer, with two drinking troughs, weight 100 lbs.	$31.00
No. 62—100-gallon Waterer, with two drinking troughs, weight 140 lbs.	$40.00

IDEAL NON-FREEZING STOCK WATERER

Is a sanitary drinking fountain for horses and cattle. This stock waterer is constructed of heavy galvanized iron, with heavy supports and braces. It can be connected to any supply tank or water pressure, and has a float valve which will work perfectly on any pressure from 5 to 100 pounds. The float is protected by a partition so that it cannot be disturbed.

There is an outlet in the bottom so that the tank can be easily cleaned.

The waterer is 30 inches high, 29 inches in diameter and holds 32 gallons.

There is a 1 inch air space between the water tank and the outside casing which gives the heat a perfect circulation.

It is equipped with large lamp which keeps it from freezing in the winter.

The lamp holds 3 quarts and will burn 48 hours at zero weather.

Get an Ideal Non-Freezing Stock Waterer installed at once and your horses and cattle will have a good supply of clean, sanitary water at all times, both summer and winter.

Price complete with lamp $41.00

Ideal Chicken Waterer.

You realize the importance of giving chickens good, fresh, clean water, both summer and winter, and know how much trouble it is to properly water the chickens. In zero weather you must carry warm water to them several times a day and then it stays warm only a short time.

Hens will lay better in winter if given fresh water with the chill off. Eggs are 65 per cent water and the laying hens must have plenty of good water at the right temperature.

The extra eggs you get will soon pay for an Ideal Waterer besides the saving of time and labor.

It is no trouble to have a constant supply of good, pure water at the right temperature for your chickens if you use an Ideal Chicken Waterer. It holds 5 gallons and the water is automatically fed to the drinking pan by the vacuum system.

There is always about one inch of water in the drinking cup so the chickens always have all they want.

The drinking cup is protected so the chickens can get only their heads in to drink. They cannot get into it with their feet or scratch dirt into it. The tank is inside a casing with an air space all around. Under the tank is a lamp, so the water cannot freeze, but is kept at just the right temperature.

The expense of running the lamp is very small as it costs only about a cent a day and as the chickens do not drink at night you can empty the Waterer and put the lamp out if you wish. The tank is easily filled or emptied, as it lifts out of the casing, and to fill it you simply lay it down and pour or pump the water into the drinking space. When you set it up the pan will always have about one inch of water in it. To empty the tank, simply tip it forward and the water will run out.

With an Ideal Waterer you just your chickens have all the water they want—know as they want it—winter or summer.

Ideal Chicken Waterer, $7.00

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

Baptist Church

(Rev. Fletcher J. Jordan, Pastor)

A very important item of business will come up next Sunday morning before the preaching service. Each member of the church should be out as it is something which concerns us all. Sermon by the pastor after the business. Special music by the choir under the leadership of Professor Davies. The morning worship begins at 10:30. In the evening at 7:30 the pastor will discuss the value of a human soul.

The subject for the young people's meeting at 6:30 is "Seeking Worth-While things." Proverbs 8: 10-21; Matthew 8: 38. Sunday school for an hour after the morning service. We ought to have a good attendance before the winter sets in when many of our country folks can't always come because of the inclemency of the weather. Be sure and favor us with your presence next Sunday.

The church and pastor wish to be helpful to all classes of people. If anyone is sick in the church or congregation, please let the pastor know. If you are in trouble or perplexity of any kind let us share your burden. Strangers in our city are welcome to all the services of this church. All folks without a church home are cordially invited to attend the Lord's sanctuary and join with us in helping the community. May our prayer be that God may save many souls for himself during the coming months. God can answer prayer, and it is for us to claim the promise.

Presbyterian Church

(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all who read this to attend service in this church next Sunday.

The sermon next Sunday morning will be on the subject "Our Country's Call." There will be special music under the direction of Mrs. A. R. Davis, chorister.

Every Sunday has been rally day in the Sunday school for several weeks. Superintendent F. H. Jones is securing utmost efficiency in the organization. There is a class for you.

Miss Mae Hiscox has again taken up the work of superintending of the Junior Christian Endeavorers. This is a good place for the boys and girls to go Sunday afternoons. The hour is three to four o'clock.

Y. P. S. C. E. meeting is at 6:30 on Sunday evening. Mr. N. J. Maxwell has been secured to lead this meeting next Sunday evening. Mr. Maxwell will bring a message that will be worth while. This welcomes visitors.

The Sunday service upon which we are now centering our very best efforts is the Sunday evening preaching service. The sermon theme for next Sunday evening will be "Earth's Chosen Heroes." You will find this a sane, enthusiastic, patriotic service.

Methodist Episcopal Church

(Rev. D. W. MacGregor, Pastor)

The services of last Sunday gave evidence of advancement in all departments of our church work. Very appreciative audiences both morning and evening.

The address given at the Epworth League service on the emigrant who comes to our shores was greatly enjoyed.

LIVE STOCK NOTES.

Don't kill the fine eye lambs. Some one will want them to re-enforce his flock.
Should a horse seem weak or show difficulty in rising suspect feed at once and let all soft or unsound corn be rejected; also musty hay.
A man who confines his pigs in a wet, dirty pen is robbing himself. Give the pigs or porkers a chance and they will always keep their beds clean.
Roots, turnips especially, are almost a necessity to the profitable handling of sheep.
Skimmilk is always valuable. Middlings and some tankage are also valuable for pigs.
Teach all colts first to walk fast. A fast walking horse is a joy.

RAISE MORE SWINE.

Hog is the Most Important Animal to Grow For Meat and Money.

The quickest and surest way of augmenting the meat supply next to the raising of poultry is by raising hogs. The United States department of agriculture points out. The hog is the most important animal to raise for meat and money. He requires less labor, less equipment, less capital, makes greater gains per hundred pounds of concentrates and reproduces himself faster and in greater numbers than any other domestic animal. As a consumer of by products the hog has no rival. No other animal equals the lard hog in its fat storing tendency. The most satisfactory meat for shipping long distances on train, boat or wagon and for long storage after reaching its destination is mess pork. There is no animal which produces more meat and meat products than the hog.

Pork finds ready sale because packers have discovered many ways of placing pork on the market in attractive and highly palatable form combined with most excellent keeping qualities. There is no other meat from which so many products are manufactured. Very near 50 per cent of the total value in dollars and cents of the meat and meat products slaughtered in the packing houses of the United States is derived from the hog. Our country leads by far all countries in the production as well as in the consumption of meat and meat products. Three-fourths of the world's international trade in pork and pork products originates in the United States in normal times, and the war greatly has increased this proportion. According to the estimates, there was an increase of 9,580,000 hogs between 1910, the census year, and 1916, inclusive. The increase at the end of 1916 was 3,148,000 over the preceding year, while it is estimated that there was a decrease at the end of 1916 of 313,000 hogs compared with 1915.

If we expect to continue to provide meat to foreign peoples as well as our own people, every farmer must put forth the best effort to produce more hogs. Hogs can be kept profitably upon many farms where they are not found today. Farmers who already raise hogs can produce many more, for there is not much chance of producing meat this year in excess of the requirements.

More dairy farmers should raise hogs, for they fit in especially well upon dairy farms where skimmilk, buttermilk or whey is fed upon the farm. A man who has skimmilk is in a better position to raise pigs than a man who has none.

CURING ALFALFA HAY.

Careless Handling Reduces Value by Shattering Off the Leaves.

Saving the leaves and preventing leaching of nutrients by rains are given by the Ohio agricultural experiment station as the two essentials in making the best alfalfa hay. Curing the hay in bunches under covers is given as the most efficient method to harvest the most nutritious hay.

Careless handling of alfalfa may reduce the value of the hay considerably. The leaves contain nearly three times as much nitrogen and calcium as the stems, chemical analysis made at the experiment station show. Handling the crop so that the leaves are not broken off will save these most valuable nutritive constituents.

Exposure of the hay to rain is another source of loss of nutrients in hay. Dried alfalfa over which water washed lost 50 per cent of its nitrogen; 75 per cent of its phosphorus, 90 per cent of its potassium and 40 per cent of its calcium. This represents the common loss in the value of hay exposed to the weather for considerable time when rains occur.

Curing alfalfa in bunches, or cocks, preferably under caps, tends to eliminate such losses. The hay may be cut one day, bunched the next and then cured in the cock for two days or more. Shattering of leaves is thus prevented, the hay retains its green color, and little of its value is lost. Duck or heavy unbleached muslin covers are frequently used to cap the cocks so that the hay is not wet by dew or rain.

HOG CHOLERA CONTROL

The U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, the State Live Stock Sanitary Board and Extension Department of the Nebraska State Agricultural College, co-operating, have placed a government veterinarian, Dr. J. W. Giffee, at Norfolk, to assist the farmers and hog raisers of the surrounding country in the controlling of hog cholera. No vaccinating will be done, but free investigations of all hog diseases will be made, i. e., should a farmer have a sick hog and he is in doubt as to what is causing the sickness, the government veterinarian will make free investigation and advise what the trouble is.

This work was primarily started in 1913, at which time the government picked three counties, one each in Iowa, Missouri and Indiana. They furnished the serum and did the vaccinating, and it was found that early vaccination would save a larger per cent when cholera was found than to wait until the disease had progressed so far into the herd that saving a large percent of them was impossible.

At the present time the work is carried on by an organized effort on the part of the farmers and hog raisers in co-operation with the government, the State, U. S. Board and Extension Department of the state college, by having a county organization. A president, vice president, secretary, and a township supervisor is elected at the organization meeting. The township supervisor then appoints a man in every four section or two miles square who gives the locations of the different farmers located in his territory. This gives a working organization that is invaluable in combatting the dreaded hog cholera, and allied hog diseases.

Dr. Giffee has an office in the post office building at Norfolk. While he cannot be reached by telephone at the present time, notice will be given of the telephone number as soon as practicable.

HELP WIN THE WAR

(By Mrs. Mary Meyers)
Dear ladies of Nebraska,
Let's lend a helping hand,
Let's help to feed the Allies,
Let's help our Uncle Sam,
We need not starve our families;
We need not stint their fare;
If we each one conserve our food,
There'll be enough to spare.

Let's look into our pantries,
Is the dried bread moulding there?
Remember, Herbert Hoover
May step in unawares.
Let's plan our meals ahead of time
And use up every bite
Of food which might be wasted
If it is not used up right.

Then let us go down cellar
Where the summer's crop is stored,
There's the cabbage, carrots, beets
and spuds,
Must be served upon our board.
We cannot ship these foods abroad,
To our armies o'er the sea;
So let us aim to use these foods;
"Twill be best for you and me.

Let us plan our meals for Tuesdays,
With a little extra care.
Let us try to make them wheatless,
Let us try to do our share.
Then remember Friday's meatless.
'Tis small sacrifice for us,
And it means so much to Europe,
For send them meat we must.
So let's be conscientious
About our saving food;
Let's take advice from Hoover,
Advice will do us good,
And if we do our duty
And help conserve our crop;
We'll help defeat the kaiser,
And win the war! Sure pop!

Sick Wife's Story Surprises Wayne

The following has surprised Wayne A business man's wife suffered from dyspepsia and constipation for years. Altho she dieted she was so bloated her clothes would not fit. ONE SPOONFUL buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ka relieved her INSTANTLY. Because Adler-ka empties BOTH large and small intestines it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. H. J. THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Coupelet is a most practical two-passenger car—with room enough for three. It is really two cars in the one—an enclosed car of pleasing appearance for inclement weather, summer and winter, while the large sliding plate glass windows, with removable pillar, make it possible to transform it into a most delightful open car. Top is permanent, saving trouble of raising and lowering. Comfortable deep upholstery—a car of class and comfort.

POWERFUL

Zero weather doesn't take the pep out of Red Crown Gasoline. It's still the same powerful fuel that you knew in summer. You need Red Crown in winter more than at any other time. You need its powerful punch to pull you through drifts, over snow covered hills and where the going is rough and tough.

Red Crown Gasoline makes winter starting easy. Vaporizes quickly and explodes at the first spark. Get Red Crown at our Service Stations or from good garages anywhere. Always look for the Red Crown Sign.

Polarine is the perfect winter lubricant. Flows freely in freezing weather.

The War's Effect on Telephone Traffic

Since the beginning of the war the government has been a very heavy user of our service, and private requests for telephone facilities have been greater than ever before.

We are finding it difficult to meet these increased demands for service and equipment because of the shortage of metals and other telephone materials.

You can "do your bit" by asking only for such telephone equipment as you must have and by making only such local or long distance calls as are absolutely necessary.

SOCIAL NOTES

Minerva Club.
The Minerva club met Monday at the home of Mrs. F. S. Berry, Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis was in charge of the afternoon's lesson. She treated her subject "Woman's Opportunity During the Middle Ages" in a most comprehensive way. The leader told of the knowledge of the great Greek and Roman masterpieces being kept alive and handed down to us by the women of the religious communities of the middle ages.

Mrs. E. E. Lackey, president of the club, gave a splendid, detailed report of the doings of the recent federation at Omaha. She brought back to the club the impression which she had derived from the intellectual feast she had attended. The club voted to co-operate with Mrs. S. A. Lutgen in presenting to the public, her gift book "Chrysanthemum," which she is planning to put on the market for the holiday trade.

The club also voted a Christmas fund of $11.50 to be expended partly in candy and partly in fruit for our soldiers.

Miss Finigan's lecture to the club scheduled for November 12 at the Normal, has been indefinitely postponed.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Fortner, November 19.

Community Club Entertainments.

The students of the Normal were delightfully entertained Saturday evening by the Community club at Terrace Hall. It was a Halloween party and each of the many rooms of Terrace Hall was decorated appropriately for the occasion. The first floor was decorated with corn stalks, the second floor with Jack o' lanterns and the third floor with black cats. The cats were so real some of the young ladies declare they heard them snarling and spitting as they ascended the stairs.

Each room held a different mystery and weird scenes greeted the visitors everywhere. Fortune telling was the feature of the evening and the Red Cross room, the last to be visited where everyone was cured of their ailments, was the most interesting of the evenings delightful program.

When the guests reached the third floor they were served with pumpkin pie and coffee. Then good nights were said and the tired, happy guests departed. Everyone reports a splendid time and feel grateful to the community club for the entertainment.

The Coterie met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Don Cunningham and the club had the pleasure of adding Mrs. Frank Gamble to the list of members. Mrs. Perry Theobald gave a very instructive map study of North America. Mrs. Arthur Ahern read a particularly excellent paper on "Resources of North America." It was interesting to know that, at the present rate of consumption, the state of Kentucky alone can supply the world with coal, for generations, the present shortage said to be due to lack of employees; that North America produces one third of the meat of the world, exclusive of China, but that it has the lowest potato production per acre, of the world. The program closed with the club singing "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner." Mrs. Charles Kate was the guest of the club. The Coterie will pack the Christmas boxes for the soldiers at the Red Cross rooms Friday morning. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Carroll Orr next Monday.

The Minerva club ladies entertained their husbands Tuesday evening at the beautiful country home of Ladies' Afternoon at The Bowling Rooms!

Numerous women of Wayne enjoy an afternoon bowling, and now that the cooler weather has come, I have decided to reserve the alleys for them on Tuesday and Friday afternoons, if they wish to take advantage of the time then.

There is, perhaps, no more healthful exercise than bowling, for the reason that it brings into use practically every muscle in the body, and this exercise has been the means of improving the health of hundreds of business men whose regular work does not give them sufficient diversity of exercise. Many of the ladies need more than any other thing an exercise which will bring into action the muscles of arms and back.

W. Welbaum

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miner. A 7:00 o'clock buffet supper was served. The decorations were patriotic and the colors of our allies vied with our beloved Red, White and Blue. The evening was spent playing various games and singing patriotic songs. Mr. and Mrs. Eli Laughlin and daughter, Izora, Miss Pollard, Frank Roe, and Mrs. Sprinker, who is a visitor in the Miner home were guests. Mesdames Grothe, Lutgen, Beaman, Roe and Ley assisted the hostess in serving. The evening was greatly enjoyed by those present.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. C. A. Grothe last Friday afternoon. There was a good attendance. Mrs. Horace Theobald read a paper on the theme that there is more money spent for tobacco and cigarettes than there is spent for meat. Mrs. Main sang a beautiful solo with Miss Helen accompanist. It was voted that the W. C. T. U. would give $5.00 to the Christmas fund for the soldier boys. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clasen, November 16.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church gave a Halloween social in the church basement Friday evening. It was a social affair and was a decided success. The basement was beautifully decorated by the young ladies and a program was given. The Pumpkin quartet, lightning bugs and fairies gave tone to the scene. A luncheon of pumpkin pie and apples was served. About one hundred people were out and they voted the Epworth League members royal entertainers.

Members of the Juvenile Music club met at the home of Mrs. House Saturday afternoon. After a more than usually interesting business meeting a piano and violin program was given by the members. The next regular meeting will be Saturday December 1 at the home of Mrs. House. Arrangements are being made for an exceptionally interesting time. The members may invite a guest, and after the program, child games and amusements will be indulged in.

The young ladies Bible Study circle met with Miss Charlotte Ziegler Friday evening and studied the 12th of Romans with Nellie May Edwards leader. The girls had a very enjoyable and well attended meeting and look forward to another fine time this Friday evening when Miss Gladys Goodwyn of Sloan, Iowa, and Miss Fern Stanley of Dixon are expected to visit the class.

A very happy company of fourteen little folks, seven boys and seven girls gathered at the home of Miss Viola and Master Maurice Kopp. A very delightful time was spent from four to six-thirty. At five-thirty delicious refreshments were served in a dark room, lighted with Jack o' Lanterns. All departed having a very jolly time.

The Woman's club met with Mrs. Will Rennie Tuesday afternoon. The ladies discussed the Christmas kit boxes for the boys and they voted a donation of $11.00. Mrs. Wendte gave a review of the state convention at Omaha. The next meeting will be with Mrs. L. C. Coolidge next week.

Queen Esthers met with Miss Alice Blair Monday evening. The lesson was led by Miss Nellie Steele. Miss Madeline Bohner gave an interesting report of Home Missionary convention she attended at Omaha last week.

The U. D. club met with Mrs. J. H. Komp Monday. Red Cross work took up their time. They also decided to do some baking for the Christmas packets. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Harry Jones.

The Woman's Bible Study Circle met with Mrs. C. Clasen Tuesday afternoon and greatly enjoyed an hour of study of Nehemiah. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ziegler in the west part of town.

The Shakespeare club met Tuesday evening with Miss Fortner. The regular program was followed and an interesting time reported. The next meeting will be with Miss Fairchild, November 20.

The Camp Fire girls met with Miss Mabel Britell Saturday evening. After the business meeting the girls decided to collect paper dolls from magazines to send to Belgian children.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. John Bressler. The missionary society will meet with Mrs. Henry Ley this afternoon.

The Acme club will meet at the home of Mrs. E. S. Blair Monday evening and Mrs. C. T. Ingham is to be the leader.

There will be an initiation and a half hour program at the regular meeting of the Eastern Star Monday evening.

The ladies of the D. A. R. will meet with Mrs. C. E. Carhart Saturday afternoon. Red Cross sewing will take up the afternoon.

St. Mary's Guild will meet today with Mrs. Lantaff. The time will be taken up sewing.

A Nameless Letter.

The following is taken from a letter which a friend permitted us to use, but he did not feel free to give the name for publication, but he is a Wayne boy who is making good in camp and has been given the very kind of work he liked best of all, and work for which he has the natural gift. After telling of camp life and how he likes it, he says:

"I have been transferred to the Ordnance department and am very glad of it too, since now I can work at my own trade, that is, repair and fool with guns of all kinds. At present myself and four other boys are getting acquainted with two different makes of automatic machine guns, the Lewis and the Colts respectively.

The Lewis is made by the Savage Arms Company of Utica, New York, and the Colts is made by the Marlin Company. We are supposed to learn the name of every part on the different guns, just where each piece goes and what it is there for, and to be able to explain just how the gun operates; in fact, teach the troops how to use and take care of them. Also we are to repair them when they need it. They tell us that later we will, in all probability, have heavy field guns to repair, but as yet we have no tools with which to do such work.

Some of the machine guns are very complicated, one gun alone having about two hundred parts to it, and there is a name for each piece and each piece serves a purpose. When they are loaded they are rather dangerous, especially when there is a meddlesome person about.

Did you have any snow up there in Wayne county about a week and a half ago? If snowed about an inch down here at that time, and I was looking around today and was surprised to find quite a bit of it in one of the trenches the boys have made. The weather at that time was pretty severe, but now we are having the finest kind of weather here. Say, Kansas is the dirtiest place I was ever in. The dust is blowing most all the time. At times it is so bad that we can't see across the street, and the worst of it is that most of it is real fine sand. It may rain one day and a day or two later the dust is in the air again, that is if the wind is blowing the least bit."

CHRISTMAS PACKETS

The ladies of the Red Cross and the club ladies have been having a very strenuous week and the past few days have kept them especially busy. If our soldier boys have a happy Christmas enjoying their packets on which the ladies have spent so many hours work they will surely be grateful to the ladies of Wayne county who, thru unselfish hard work has made this possible. Next week we will give an account of the money collected and the success of the venture.

Guy Wilson, B. J. Holle, R. L. Lathrop, Nels Utter, and C. E. Nevin of Laurel passed thru Wayne this noon on their way for a visit with the soldier boys at Camp Funston. Mr. Nevin was a pleasant caller at this office.

George D. Blair of Denver, Colorado, arrived Tuesday evening from Camp Funston, Kansas, where he has been overseeing the erection of barracks there. He is a brother of Fred Blair of this place and the young men had not seen each other for twenty-seven years or since they were small boys. They had a splendid visit trying to bridge the years.

Orra Martin Writes
Camp Funston, Kan., Nov. 4.

Dear Friends:
Well, we have been pretty busy this last week and when night comes it does seem good to go to bed and rest. We were on guard one day and night this week and some of us were on the truck, picking up waste paper around the camp and hauling it to the dump to be burned. So you see we are busy.

We were glad to see the Wayne people who came recently to see us and they surprised us all.

Today is Sunday, but it didn't seem like Sunday to me. We had to clean up the barracks and make wooden guns. I unfortunately cut the palm of my left hand pretty bad with a saw.

I get the Democrat regularly and I am more than glad to get it. Our company had some pictures taken and when I get mine I will send you one to put in the window of the Democrat office. Most of the boys in the last bunch that came here have already gone to Deming, New Mexico. We are all getting along fine and enjoying life as best we can. The wind has been blowing badly today. Oh! the sand and dirt!

It is bedtime and I must close. Will write more next time.

Your Friend,
ORRA MARTIN,
Co. I, 335th Infantry.

The following information was received this (Thursday) morning:

Tuesday, November 6.
I am leaving here this afternoon for Camp Smith, Arkansas, about 700 or 800 miles south of here. About 35 or 40 of us out of this company are going, I don't know just who else will go yet. I received the Democrat and was glad to get it. How is everything at Wayne? As soon as I can I will send you my address. They have put me down as a teamster. Tell the Wayne people I am feeling fine and dandy.

Yours sincerely,
O. R. MARTIN.

A Letter From The Navy

The following letter was received by the Democrat reporter from John L. Ballard, a Coleridge boy now aboard the battleship Montana:
U. S. S. Montana,
November 4, 1917.

Dear Friend:
Received your letter yesterday. I miss lots of my letters and I am certainly glad to hear from my friends. The life here is all right, only dreadfully lonely. We are at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, now and will leave here in about three weeks. We made a trip across and I dread going again but I guess that won't help any if we get orders to go.

We all have hopes of being in New York for Thanksgiving. I suppose lots of young men have gone from Wayne. It is too bad for so many fellows to have to go but you see the more to go will make this war end quicker so we all can go home.

When you want to take a trip come to the east coast and see me. I would be the happiest kid on earth to see some one from home.

If you ever see Scotty Sherbahn or Bessie Plumleigh tell them "Hello" for me. Don't forget to write again soon.

Good-bye, I must close for this time and play for the morning concert.

Think once in a while of your lonely friend aboard the "Monty."
Address, U. S. S. Montana, care of Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

"THE SPY"

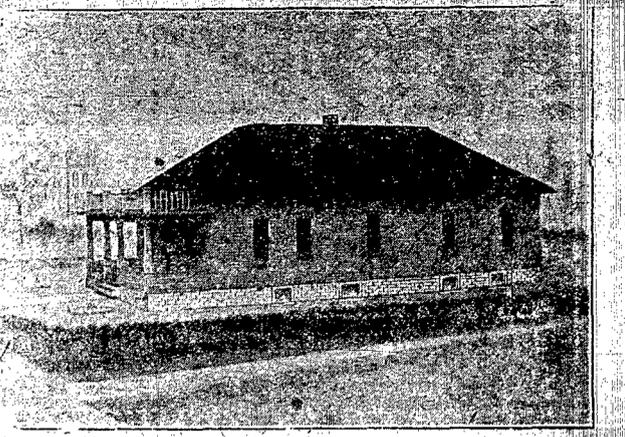

Mr. Nielson, manager of the Crystal, has secured the great war picture, "The Spy" and will give a matinee Sunday afternoon with an evening performance Sunday and Monday evenings, the proceeds to go into a Meiss fund, to be used to purchase extras and articles needed for the Wayne county boys. The admission will be 50 cents for adults and 10 cents for children under twelve years of age. Saturday afternoon the young people of Wayne who have kindly volunteered for this purpose will dress as spies and call at every house and business place to sell tickets.

Mrs. Rolfe Ley, Mrs. J. Ahern and Mrs. Conger went to our neighboring towns and put up paper for "The Spy" and also left a number of tickets to be sold.

Mr. Neilson is giving the use of his theatre and the picture free for his donation to the cause. Don't miss this chance of giving to the boys and also to enjoy this great movie.

ANSWERS—THE NATIONS—CALL

Herbert Hoover having designated the International Live Stock Exposition a "Food Training Camp," by this act drafts this institution into the service of this country. "More meat" is the appeal of the food administrator. To win the war, beef and pork (especially the latter) will be necessary. There is a shortage of meat and fats. For years this deficiency has been developing. During that period the International Live Stock Exposition has acted as a conserving agency, educating the country along lines of economical production; otherwise supply conditions in this emergency would have been even less favorable. This season a great drive for immediate increase in production will be made. The moment is opportune and conditions ripe. Consumption of meats has reached a stage several leaps ahead of production and the International Live Stock Exposition teaches the way out. More cattle, hogs and sheep of better quality and earlier maturity, insuring maximum weight and minimum expense, is the solution of the problem.

The International Live Stock Exposition which will be held during the first week in December, will this year emphasize its mission. The problem of the moment is more food and in no other way can the lesson be more convincingly taught.

Freedom.
Great is the moment when tidings of freedom reach us, when the long enthralled soul from amid its chains and squalid stagnancy arises, were it still only in blindness and bewilderment, and swears by him that made it that it will be free. Free? Understand that well, it is the deep commandment, dimmer or clearer, of our whole being to be free. Freedom is the one pursuit, wisely aimed at or unwisely, of all man's struggles, tollings and sufferings in this earth. Yes, supreme is such a moment (if thou have known it); first vision as of a flame girl snail in this our waste pilgrimage, which thenceforth wants not its pillar of cloud by day and pillar of fire by night. Something it is even—nay, something considerable—when the chains have grown corrosive, poison ous, to be free from oppression by our fellow man.—Carlyle.

Rhubarb Leaves.
More than one case is on record where leaves of the rhubarb plant produced fatal results when served as "greens." A survey of all the available data indicates that while the stalks of the common garden rhubarb furnish a perfectly safe article of food for most persons, the leaves of the same plant may not prudently be employed for culinary purposes. Rhubarb wine, which was once extensively used in adulterating champagne, is made from the stalks, yet Dr. William Prout, an eminent physician and chemist who died in 1850, thought it was so potent an agency in producing stone in the bladder that he wanted parliament to prohibit its manufacture.

The safe course in regard to rhubarb appears to be this: Stick to the stalks, but let the leaves alone.—New York Sun.

High Collars in Quito.
In an article on "Quito, the City of the Equator," Harry A. Franck describes in the Century some of the difficulties he encountered when shopping in South America.

"The line of demarcation between the gente decente and the gente del pueblo of Quito is the white collar. Naturally the tendency is to make it as wide and distinct as possible. When I had searched the entire city I found my customary brand of collar at four times its American price, but the lowest collar in stock was weirdly suggestive of some species of human giraffe. "You misunderstood me," I protested. "I did not ask for a cuff, but for a collar." "But this is a collar, señor!" cried the shopkeeper. "Something lower, please." "But this is a very low collar. It is so low that no one in Quito will wear it, and we are not importing any more of this brand."
