WAYNE COUNTY'S GIFT TO THE Y. M. C. A. FUND

All This Week the Drive Has Been On—Volunteers in the Service Make Great Success

WAYNE COUNTY MUST HAVE $4000

At the Baptist church Sunday evening for the Y. M. C. A., union services were held, the Methodists, Presbyterians, English Lutherans, and Baptists coming together for this great cause. The auditorium of the church was crowded and a large choir furnished excellent music. A. R. Davis, county organizer, had charge of the meeting and he launched a campaign in an earnest manner and instilled into the hearts of his listeners the necessity of quick action in this movement as the Y. M. C. A. needs money NOW. W. D. Redmond of the Normal spoke on the Y. M. C. A. work at Camp Funston and his talk was full of good things done by this great organization. He gave a simple explanation and it paved the way for the drive. A general favorite with Wayne people, Mr. Redmond was well chosen by the leader at this time. Superintendent J. R. Armstrong of our city schools also gave a talk. J. D. Haskell of Wakefield was next introduced and after an apology to the "excellent Wayne speakers" he lost sight of his imagined failings in his deep personal interest in his subject and he carried his hearers into the Y. M. C. A. work as it is carried on thru this country and Europe. He need make no apologies, he has that gift, so rare, of making his thoughts bear the fruits of understanding and appreciation. A. R. Davis then held the attention of the audience for a few moments and drove home the arguments of the evening and sent his hearers home to ponder over this subject of giving to a great cause.

The work of this great organization is spoken of in almost every letter received from our boys. A letter now before the writer received from a printer friend at a Colorado camp says, "I never knew how wonderful the Y. M. C. A. really was until I came here. Everything is done for our comfort and you need not think that your admonition to 'be good' will be forgotten—they won't let us forget. This is the life to make a man out of a fellow." The Y. M. C. A. follows them to the camps, to the firing line, to the hospitals, always caring for their physical, mental and moral welfare, keeping the Christian boys pure and making manly, Christian men out of the unbelieving and careless. By the power of example the secretaries teach the beauty of right living, not from teaching the fear of God, but from pointing the way to peace of mind thru the better system of brotherly love and self sacrifice. And we, the people of Wayne county, hold in our hands the means of giving the boys with the colors this great advantage.

A telegram received Wednesday by A. R. Davis says that the original sum asked, $2000, must be doubled and that means our county of Wayne must raise $4000 for this Y. M. C. A. fund. The committee has met with great success everywhere and the amount has been doubled it will be easy to secure the required sum. It is impossible to give the figures at this time but we hope we will give the totals next week.

At the public schools Wednesday evening a meeting was held for the boys and young men and it was one full of rousing enthusiasm. Dr. F. O. Robinson of Hartington, President Conn and Dr. House of the Normal and A. R. Davis talked to the boys and every one of the large crowd there are going to be boosters for the Y. M. C. A. The "war banquet" was greatly enjoyed and was served by the girls of the domestic science class under the direction of Miss Clara Hoese. At the conclusion of the addresses Superintendent Armstrong presented to the boys the plan of every boy pledging the cause to earn and subscribe to the cause ten dollars to be paid during the next ten months. To this call the boys responded liberally and pledged the sum of over $300.

Among out of town guests present at the banquet were teachers from the schools of Winside, Carroll and Hoskins.

The first job assigned to the boys' army is to create one million dollars additional wealth. Each boy that enrolls will agree to do some extra work; to raise something that he

NEWS FROM FUNSTON

James Ahern kindly permits us to give the following from a letter to him written by his brother John. There is much anxiety as to the boys in camp since it is known that they are in quarantine. But this letter assures us that it is measles and not meningitis which is afflicting the camp.

Here is the situation—There is lots of measles and spinal meningitis here. Seven men were taken out of our barracks and a couple of cases of spinal meningitis were reported. Today we learned that they were not spinal meningitis, but that a couple of the boys have measles. Jorgensen and Cross are the only Wayne county boys sick. The quarantine is not as strict as you or we would expect. We cannot leave the ground immediately around our barracks, but they do line us up twice a day and march us out to the hills by ourselves where we drill by ourselves. Some of the boys managed to stop a passer-by occasionally and get him to go to the canteen for them to buy tobacco, fruit, etc. If no further cases develop, we will be out in 8 or 10 days so you see it isn't bad. If any spinal meningitis develops we are cooped up for 21 days.

We have to carry our beds and all belongings outdoors the first thing every morning and leave them out in the dust, dirt, etc., all day. The barracks are fumigated every day and every man has his nose and throat sprayed 3 times a day with two different solutions for nose and throat each time. We moved from our old barracks to another building about a half mile farther east and of course we are all tired, cross and dirty and sleepy. Five men, including Byron Hoile were down from Laurel today and we got to talk to them outside the barracks. I told Byron to sure stop and see you and tell you how we are fixed.

I'm sorry your letter didn't come in time for me to write you data for the mess fund but it came this morning. However, here is some information.

We have 36 Wayne county boys here. About 33 men were weeded out of our company and sent to Camp Pike, Arkansas, this week. This included Orra Martin, Hans Peterson, Emil Dangberg, Max Henschke, Chas. Apgar, and Roggenbach. All the rest of the men from the first 5 per cent and the bunch I came with are here. All the last bunch are at Deming, New Mexico. From this you will know how to pro rate your fund.

Things are not well enough organized here yet to enable me to give you all information of how the fund can be used.

DR. BRITELL REPORTS FROM CAMP FUNSTON

Word has been sent to Wayne friends by Dr. Britell, who is now stationed at Camp Funston that it is measles that is troubling the boys of Co. I. He says that there have been a few cases of meningitis in the entire camp of 55,000 men, but that prompt medical aid is saving 90 per cent of the few who have contracted this disease—and that only two deaths have occurred from this disease in the entire camp. The letter written by Mr. Ahern in another place tells of the treatment received by those who have the least symptom of the disease as well as those who may have been exposed to the disease. The ounce of prevention is certainly freely given.

would not have raised, to feed some animal that he would not have fed, to take jobs that he would not have taken, or in a word to work with his own hands and brains to create ten dollars worth of food or labor within the next ten months. Money not earned by the boy himself is not wanted, nor will it be accepted.

The leaders of this great movement want the boys in France and in the prison camps to know that the boys at home are working for them. John A. Mott says that "If the Y. M. C. A. will do what it can do it will save one million American graves."

Now is the time to act. This is the week of the great drive when 100,000 boys will be enrolled. Next week will be too late.

Any boy wishing to enroll, send or phone your name to J. R. Armstrong, Wayne, Nebraska, and he will send you the official enrollment card with further instructions.

REPORT OF CHRISTMAS PACKET COMMITTEE

The following committee met at the home of Mrs. O. R. Bowen Tuesday, October 30, at 3 p. m., to make arrangements for receiving funds and preparing Christmas packets for the soldiers.

Mrs. Mabbott, Royal Neighbors. Mrs. Ingham, Aeme club. Mrs. Hiscox, Women's club. Miss Killen, Eastern Star. Mrs. Davies, P. E. O. Mrs. Lackey, Minerva club. Mrs. Cunningham, Coterie. Mrs. Bowen, Monday club. Miss Craven, Shakespeare club. Mrs. Seafeld, W. C. T. U. Mrs. Orr, Coterie club. Upon motion, Mrs. Bowen was elected chairman. The following committees were appointed.

Soliciting: All of the above and Mrs. Davies, Mrs. Theobald, Mrs. Boyce and Mrs. Crockett. Mrs. Orr was selected to provide boxes for receiving funds in the business houses. Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Lackey were selected to present the matter to the public schools and the training school respectively. Mrs. Cunningham was appointed to have the project advertised at the Crystal Theatre.

Buying: Mrs. Davies and Mrs. Boyce.

Arrangements: Mrs. Mabbott, Mrs. Ingham and Mrs. Lackey.

Packing: Mrs. Cunningham and the Coterie club together with assistants appointed by the chairman.

All members of these committees worked faithfully and well. Individuals, both in Wayne and in the county, as well as the various clubs and lodges, were very generous in their contributions. Mr. P. H. Kohl was the largest, individual contributor, giving $10.00. Mr. Assenheimer came second with $5.00.

Receipts

Sandahl's sale $25.55
Hoskins 34.25
Sholes 10.50
Wayne and vicinity 220.91
Wayne and vicinity (later) 15.73

Total $306.66

Expenditures

80 Christmas Packets $112.61
Cash 120.00
Balance 74.05

Total $306.66

The original quota for Wayne county was 130 packets. 30 were assigned to Carroll and Rev. R. J. McKenzie was appointed chairman. 30 were assigned to Winside, and Miss Loretta Cullen was appointed chairman. 70 were assigned to Wayne, Hoskins and Sholes and vicinities. After the soliciting was practically completed, word came from the Red Cross headquarters that the quota was doubled. Inasmuch as plans were at that time almost completed, it was thought best by the committee to send in 80 packets and enough cash to provide at Headquarters in Chicago for $2.00 each. So $120.00 has been turned over to Mrs. Jacobs to be sent to Chicago.

The packets contained the following: kakhi handkerchief, writing paper, envelopes, pencil, package gum, Hershey bar, flashlight, safety match box, tin box candy, coffee can of fruit cake and cookies and a package of salted peanuts. In some of the packets where there was no flashlight a trench mirror and mouth organ were substituted.

I am not able at this time to report on the progress of the work at Winside and at Carroll. Mr. H. E. Ruhlow at Hoskins and Mr. Coleman at Sholes are to be commended upon their assistance in this work and the contributors at those places thanked for their generous giving.

A balance of $74.05 is still on hand to be turned over later.

I wish to thank those who assisted in making this important project a success. MRS. O. R. BOWEN, Chairman.

ALMOST $600 FOR OUR SOLDIERS

At the Crystal theatre Sunday afternoon and evening and Monday evening—"The Spy," a great war picture was given, the proceeds to go into a mess fund for our boys in service. Mrs. Henry Ley had the matter in charge and she appointed the following committee to assist in the work: Mesdames J. J. Ahern, Rollie Ley, Fred Berry, A. R. Davis, D. D. Tobias, T. W. Moran, C. A. Chace, E. J. Hunter, Chas. Craven and Miss Margaret Pryor.

Mrs. Ley proved a tireless and enthusiastic leader and the rest of the ladies were efficient co-workers, the children aided in the sale of tickets and the venture proved a success. Mr. Neilson, manager of the Crystal gave the use of his theatre and the picture to the cause and it was certainly a wonderful picture. The house was packed at each presentation and everybody enjoyed the show and they will also be pleased to know that the proceeds go to such a worthy cause.

This money will be used exclusively for the Wayne county boys. The name and address of every young man with the colors from this county will be secured and the money will be divided equally among them. It is planned to have a permanent mess fund to be used at times when the boys especially need extras. In sickness it will be hard for them to have the extras so needed and relied at such times and it will be easy to call on the mess fund reserved at home for money needed. The boys will feel grateful indeed to the noble hearted ladies and in fact every one who aided in this movement.

The ladies and their assistants collected about $307 and over $580 was taken in at the door.

FREE MEDICAL EXAMINATION FOR WAYNE PUPILS

Under the direction of the school board, superintendent Armstrong is this week issuing a circular letter to the patrons of the Wayne schools explaining the need and opportunity for the pupils to have an examination as to their condition physically, the opticians, dentists and physicians of the city having accepted an invitation to assist in the work, which will be done at the school house and will not interfere with regular school work. Any parents who object to their children having the examination may make it known to the superintendent. The result of the examination will be entered on a card and is open only to the superintendent, teacher and parents of the pupil. No attempt will be made to treat the pupils, that being a matter for the parents to decide, after they know the result of the examination.

It certainly is a fine thing for the parents and pupils to thus have the opportunity to know whether or not their children are working under most favorable conditions or under a handicap.

PATRIOTIC MEETING AT ALTONA SUNDAY

Plans are completed for a patriotic meeting at the Altona school house at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, when a number of speakers will be present to address the people. All will find a welcome. The meeting is to be held under the auspices of the county council of defense.

Such meetings are becoming quite common of late, and they are doing much to present the correct American position in relation to the war with Germany, and once it is understood there are few indeed who are not loyal to America and most heartily endorse the stand of the President and the American people.

MRS. S. E. AUKER DEAD

Word just comes from the S. E. Auker home of the death of Mrs. Auker, which occurred this forenoon following an illness of nearly a month. A most excellent mother has been called. There are yet no funeral arrangements.

LADIES' HATS

Our stock has been added to constantly and you will be surprised at the bargains we offer. Saturday, November 17.—adv. I. Mrs. Jeffries Ready to Wear Shop.

PATRIOTIC MEETING AT HOSKINS WELL ATTENDED

Monday evening at Hoskins a patriotic meeting and flag pole raising was an inspiring gathering, and the good talks of the speakers did much to give some of the citizens of that vicinity, who are German, and had been reading some of the papers in that language, a broader view of America and Americanism than they had previously had. Some who had not previously been what one would call a real good citizen of their adopted land came out and openly confessed that they had been seeing the wrong side—had the wrong view point. They pledged, as the new light broke over them, that they would be truly Americans from now on.

Dr. Mullen and Mayor Harm of Bloomfield were there with their persuasive eloquence. A. R. Davis and Harry Simon of Wayne and Winside, told some wholesome truths and Corporal Baldwin of the Norfolk recruiting station was there ready for volunteer soldiers. Back of the oratory some saw the grim power of a tolerant government which stood ready to enforce its just laws which had too long been ignored. We incline to the belief, however, that in most cases it was because of their new understanding of the situation as much as fear of law which prompted the new spirit of patriotism manifested there.

DAVID STARR JORDAN SAYS:

"The Pan-Germanist League or Union is coming to be recognized in these days as the chief obstacle to World Peace, as it was before 1914 the chief promoter of World War." "The war has disclosed the abject fatality of Pan-Germanism." "The highest statesmanship of the hour will lie in bringing German democracy into harmony with that of the rest of the world. To this end it is vital that Germany shall never gain anything whatever, anywhere thru Pan-Germanist aggression. It is equally vital that her present antagonists gain nothing thru adoption of Pan-Germanist lust for annexation."

CORN CONDITION HERE

There is no doubt but that much corn has been gathered and cribbed or piled out too green to keep well. George Bush, a farmer of experience, tells us that two years ago, when corn was soft, he avoided trouble and loss by piling on the grass in narrow piles and long rather than round and high. In this way he says he had no damage, and he advises those who are now having trouble to do likewise. It is a shame to grow a corn crop and crib it too green and cause it to damage. Best be in less of a hurry to husk—for it will keep on the stalk the best of any place yet found.

Let us fit you out in a nice Trench overcoat for Thanksgiving. Morgan's Toggery. adv.

CAMP FUNSTON LETTERS

The following letter was received Wednesday from Glenn Gildersleeve and it speaks for itself that camp conditions there are O. K. and need cause no worry.

Camp Funston, Kan., Nov. 11. Mr. and Mrs. Boyce, Wayne, Nebraska.

Dear Friends:

Was very glad indeed to receive your fine letter for it makes a person feel that the folks at home are watching him and expecting him to do his best in the job which by the way I consider as the biggest with which I have ever been connected. We are at War and how little do people realize it. I can hardly keep myself from feeling at times that I am dreaming but if things keep on as they are it will be but a short time till things will seem more real.

This is a wonderful thing for the men-in-training—simply wonderful—for how many of us there are who have never realized to the full extent what government is. We have never felt authority before. We felt we could dodge the law but now we cannot and for that reason this training gives me a respect for my government and country I have never had before and never could have had I believe had it not been for this.

So you see I am not regretting being here and when folks from home let me know they think of me occasionally it makes life just so much brighter and a person feel like working just so much harder.

At present we are in quarantine for measles so if you are afraid of the dreaded disease as it seems here you had better destroy the letter. However I think there is no danger as the men were all taken to the hospital as soon as they showed any symptoms.

If we stay here at Camp Funston I expect to be home for a day or so at Christmas time and will expect to see you then, altho it will seem queer not to see you across the street. Best regards to you—also to Harold. Give him my address and tell him I would enjoy hearing from him and will try to give him a little taste of army life. With best wishes for both of you I am, Sincerely yours,

GLENN GILDERSLEEVE
Co. I, 355th Infantry.

GETS THE MOST OUT OF YOUR COAL

In homes where the Round Oak Moistair Heating System is installed, at 68° the house is most comfortable. With most types of heating systems the thermometer registers 75° to secure the same results. This difference is occasioned by the amount of moisture in the air circulated by Round Oak Moistair Heating Systems.

This is only one of the five distinctive improvements. You should thoroughly investigate the Round Oak Moistair Heating System before deciding on the heating system that is placed in your home.

Plan to secure your Christmas packages at this place at the above mentioned time. There will be a large variety to select from.

The following call has been extended by the National Service Commission of the Presbyterian church: "Let every Presbyterian congregation, whatever its customs in the past, and unless it should disturb present plans assemble in its own house of worship on the morning of Thanksgiving Day this year, and, in an unusually spiritual and sympathetic manner, observe Thanksgiving Day under the appointment of the President of the United States." Our Session has decided to observe this day as suggested.

There has been arranged, as seemed expedient, for the evening of Thanksgiving day, a united service of Thanksgiving, wherein the different branches of the Christian church will all be gathered together, representing in a sense the whole Christian life of the community. This service is announced elsewhere in this paper. Friday, following Thanksgiving day, is to be observed in all our churches as a day of special humiliation before God. Families are encouraged by the pastor and the session to observe the day by reading appropriate and extended portions of God's word and by engaging in definite prayers of repentance, confession and intercession. Where family altars have crumbled and are broken down, our people are solemnly admonished to re-establish them upon this day.

The Democrat reporter attended Baptist church Sunday morning and enjoyed meeting with the good people there. We were disappointed because Rev. Jordan did not give us one of his splendid sermons, but the meeting will stay long in our memory because of the evidence of Christianity there. There was only a small audience out but their treasurer took the occasion to bring up the subject of the deficit on the church books. Two hundred dollars was the sum to be made up and it took just five minutes by the clock to raise the required amount. An additional sum of twenty-seven dollars was added to the amount for good measure. It was done so quickly no one thought of the old excuse of the h. c. of l. In fact we doubt if those Baptists ever hide behind a subterfuge of any kind when the good of their church is at stake. We didn't hear a sermon, it is true, but we came away with a feeling of good fellowship and a thankfulness that we live where such splendid people live, people who "let their light so shine before men" that we see their good works and profit by them.

Water, Pure and Plenty, Produces Pork and Poultry

The "IDEAL" Hog Waterer

For hogs and poultry, will add to the thrift of your herd and flock and make the high-priced feed produce the maximum amount of pounds of better meat.

An absolutely sanitary Waterer that will not freeze in winter and keeps the water cool, fresh, and clean in the summer. An all-the-year-around Waterer. Every hog raiser knows that good, clean water is absolutely necessary in raising hogs and chickens to get the most out of them. Hogs and poultry are two of the best paying crops you raise and the better care they receive the more profit they make for you.

A hog wants water frequently—he will leave his feed and take a few swallows of water if the water is convenient for him. They require lots of water to digest their food properly and keep the system in a good healthy condition. A hog consumes from 7 to 8 pounds of water for each pound of dry matter eaten—nearly twice as much as horses and cattle.

You can positively save 25 per cent of your feed cost by giving your hogs a constant supply of good, clean water, with the chill off just as they want it.

A hog will live and put on weight for 4 or 5 days with practically no food if he is given all the water he wants, but he will begin to lose weight in two days if he has no water, even tho he has all the corn he wants.

One of the hardest chores on the farm is to properly water the hogs, especially in cold, zero weather when the water freezes in the trough in half an hour. It is a hard job to chop ice from the trough two or three times a day to give the hogs fresh water, and even then they do not have water as often as they should. With an Ideal Waterer your hogs can have a constant supply of good clean water with the chill off just as they want it, night and day. Hogs will drink frequently both night and day if the water is convenient and the right temperature.

With the tank style of Waterers the water is automatically fed to the drinking pan by the vacuum system. The trough is always full but never overflows. No mud hole or disease breeding places around the drinking troughs. The drinking trough is thoroughly protected so horses or cattle cannot step into it or damage it, and hogs cannot get into it with their feet to foul or waste the water, but they can always have all they want to drink.

In the top of the tank is a vacuum—no air or anything but just space. A complete vacuum is a non-conductor of heat and cold so this keeps the water cool in summer and helps to keep it warm in winter.

In cold weather the water that is exposed to the air will freeze first. There is no advantage in keeping water in a tank warm if it freezes in the trough where the hogs drink. You will note that the lamp sets directly under the drinking pan so the water cannot freeze and the heat then passes up around the tank and keeps the water at just the right temperature. The Ideal Waterers have been used and worked perfectly with the thermometer at 35 degrees below zero.

The heat being properly applied as it is, and confined inside the casing, the lamp can be turned low so it uses only a small amount of coal oil. It costs only 2 or 3 cents a day to keep the water warm night and day in the coldest weather.

An approach is built to the drinking trough so hogs of any size can drink.

The Ideal Waterers are made of heavy galvanized iron. They are strong and substantial and will last for years. They are shipped complete with lamp and metal chimney.

Waterers for Farms Having a Water Supply

Many farms have supply tanks and for these we make the No. 10 and No. 22 Waterers which are connected to the water supply system or can be connected to a common round stock tank or cement tank.

The No. 10 and No. 22 Waterers are made of heavy galvanized iron and have a heavy positive float valve which regulates the water in the drinking pan. Simply run the water under frost line to the Waterers, then up thru the bottom and connect to the float valve.

No. 22, which has two drinking troughs, is so constructed that it can be set into the ground, making the troughs the right height for hogs to drink.

The door being in the upper part of the Waterer so you can easily place the lamp under the drinking pan. As a permanent Waterer in the hog lot where you have water piped from a supply tank the No. 22 is just what you want.

- PRICED DOWN RIGHT
- No. 10—For attaching to supply tank, weight 40 lbs. $15.00
 - No. 5—60-gallon Waterer, weight 100 lbs. $25.00
 - No. 102—Same as No. 10, with two drinking troughs, weight 40 lbs. $17.00
 - No. 22—To be attached to supply tank, with two drinking troughs, weight 45 lbs. $20.00
 - No. 52—60-gallon Waterer, with two drinking troughs, weight 100 lbs. $31.00
 - No. 62—100-gallon Waterer, with two drinking troughs, weight 140 lbs. $40.00

IDEAL NON-FREEZING STOCK WATERER

Is a sanitary drinking fountain for horses and cattle. This stock waterer is constructed of heavy galvanized iron, with heavy supports and braces. It can be connected to any supply tank or water pressure, and has a float valve which will work perfectly on any pressure from 5 to 100 pounds.

The float is protected by a partition so that it cannot be disturbed.

There is an outlet in the bottom so that the tank can be easily cleaned.

The waterer is 30 inches high, 29 inches in diameter and holds 32 gallons.

There is a 1 inch air space between the water tank and the outside casing which gives the heat a perfect circulation.

It is equipped with large lamp which keeps it from freezing in the winter.

The lamp holds 3 quarts and will burn 48 hours at zero weather.

Get an Ideal Non-Freezing Stock Waterer installed at once and your horses and cattle will have a good supply of clean, sanitary water at all times, both summer and winter.

Price complete with lamp $41.00

Ideal Chicken Waterer.

You realize the importance of giving chickens good, fresh, clean water, both summer and winter, and know how much trouble it is to properly water the chickens. In zero weather you must carry warm water to them several times a day and then it stays warm only a short time.

Hens will lay better in winter if given fresh water with the chill off. Eggs are 65 per cent water and the laying hens must have plenty of good water at the right temperature.

The extra eggs you get will soon pay for an Ideal Waterer besides the saving of time and labor.

It is no trouble to have a constant supply of good, pure water at the right temperature for your chickens if you use an Ideal Chicken Waterer. It holds 5 gallons and the water is automatically fed to the drinking pan by the vacuum system.

There is always about one inch of water in the drinking cup so the chickens always have all they want.

The drinking cup is protected so the chickens can get only their heads in to drink. They cannot get into it with their feet or scratch dirt into it. The tank is inside a casing with an inch air space all around. Under the tank is a lamp so the water cannot freeze, but is kept at just the right temperature.

The expense of running the lamp is very small as it costs only about a cent a day and as the chickens do not drink at night you can empty the Waterer and put the lamp out if you wish. The tank is easily filled or emptied, as it lifts out of the casing, and to fill it you simply lay it down and pour or pump the water into the drinking space. When you set it up the pan will always have about one inch of water in it. To empty the tank, simply tip it forward and the water will run out.

With an Ideal Waterer you know your chickens have all the water they want—just as they want it—winter or summer.

The fight for an increased freight rate is now on. We favor having Uncle Sam take over the railroads if the present owners cannot be satisfied with the largest earnings ever made, without asking for more.

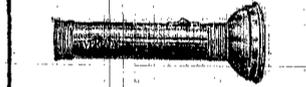

Omaha is famous for trying to induce the country press to make announcement of the conventions which are coming to that city, but they appear to have failed to herald the coming of the I. W. W. crews, and a line in the city papers says that the police were ordered out in special force to act as a reception committee. Their secretary says that but 400 were expected. Perhaps the rest are busy these days. Down in Oklahoma last week the citizens turned a dozen of them out to find their way somewhere, wearing a suit of tar and feathers.

A lot of fellows who claim to want "peace" are inconsistent enough to claim they expect peace to come thru a policy of non-resistance to the forces of the greatest mob of war lords ever gathered in one aggregation. They cannot be credited with being sincere unless they are willing to accept the title of "fool."

SOCIAL NOTES

The Coterie held its regular meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carroll Orr. After the usual business session, the club enjoyed a "Red Cross" program. Mrs. Paul Mines gave a paper on "Origin of the Red Cross Work," and Mrs. Don Cunningham on "Work of the Red Cross at the Present Time" were especially interesting just now when all loyal Americans are eager to aid this organization in its noble work. The club voted to give a free will offering towards purchasing the little paper testaments for the soldiers. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. LeRoy Ley.

The Woman's club met with Mrs. L. C. Coolidge Tuesday. Roll call was responded to by current events, followed by a short parliamentary drill. A review of the Red Cross magazine by Mrs. Burrett Wright was very interesting, as was also "The Style of a House" by Mrs. J. H. Wendte. A discussion on "What is Wayne's Fire and Police Protection," and "What are Wayne's Building Restrictions" was led by Mrs. J. H. Wendte. A special number, a solo, by Miss Will, accompanied by Mrs. Martin Ringer was greatly appreciated. The next meeting will be with Mrs. R. N. Donahay, December 11.

Fourteen ladies, members of the Monday club, hid themselves to Wakefield Monday afternoon and enjoyed a meeting with Mrs. Charles Beebe at that place. A very pleasant afternoon is reported and the ladies voted, Mrs. Beebe a delightful hostess. Refreshments were served. The ladies enjoyed a splendid paper on Peru by Mrs. C. A. Chase and afternoon was spent socially. At last week's meeting of the Monday club $10 was donated to the Red Cross by the members of the club and Mr. and Mrs. Kohl donated $10. The next meeting will be with Mrs. C. A. Chase.

The Central social circle met Thursday last with Mrs. S. W. Elder. Roll call was responded to by current events. Each member was called upon for a story describing a trip taken during the summer vacation. Some very interesting stories were told and the afternoon was greatly enjoyed. Two new members, Mrs. Guy Elder and Mrs. Will Back, were added to the honor roll. The ladies decided to give a quilt to the Orphan's home. A delicious two-course luncheon was served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. John Hans at Carroll, December 13.

Mrs. Chas. Reynolds delightfully entertained the Sunday school classmates of her son, Edward, last Friday evening. The class consists of nine boys and they with their teacher, Mrs. D. W. MacGregor, spent an evening of pleasure. The boys played games and entered into several contests. Light refreshments were served. Edward Reynolds presented each boy with a mysterious package as they said good-night and a gift was found in each one. The boys declare Edward a royal entertainer.

The Acme club met with Mrs. E. S. Blair Monday. Roll call with current events proved very interesting and instructive. The ladies are assigned different topics and they endeavor to keep up on everything of vital interest in these days of stress. They also put in some time on Red Cross work. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clara B. Ellis. At that time the ladies will have a discussion on plans for a Thanksgiving dinner.

The ladies of the D. A. R. met with Mrs. C. E. Carhart Saturday last. The time was spent in Red Cross work. Mrs. A. M. Jacobs read interesting excerpts from a book, "The Whistling Mother." Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. A. B. Carhart. A new member, Mrs. Ringland was initiated. On Tuesday afternoon the ladies met with Mrs. E. Kostomlatsky and finished furnishings for a hospital bed. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Philleo. It will be an all day session and a Hooverized luncheon will be served.

A dinner party was given at the Dan McManigal farm Wednesday in honor of Mr. McManigal's seventy-fifth birthday. His daughter, Mrs. West served an excellent dinner to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Ley, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Mabbott and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ley. Mr. McManigal was presented with a gift by the guests. He has reached a good old age but he is strong and well and the Democrat trusts that he has many more years before him in which to enjoy such perfect health.

The P. N. G. club met with Mrs. C. T. Ingham, Tuesday afternoon and spent the time sewing for the Red Cross. They will donate twenty-one pairs of pillow cases. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. M. S. Davies served light refreshments. Grandma Hiscox was a guest. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Juhlin, December 11.

The O. E. S. held their regular monthly meeting Monday. On account of the serious illness of Mrs. S. E. Auker, her daughter, Mrs. Merchant could not be present to be initiated so that part of the program was dispensed with. A program was given, however, and the evening was pleasantly spent.

The Rural Home society held an interesting meeting with Mrs. A. T. Claycomb last Thursday. The time was spent in Red Cross work. A quilt was made as a gift to the Red Cross. Light refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. C. Forbes, Thursday, November 22.

The Early Hour club meets with Mrs. John Harrington this evening. Mr. and Mrs. Harrington will take their guests to the Methodist supper at the church and they will enjoy one of those old fashioned Methodist feeds after which they will repair to the Harrington home and play 500.

The pleasant Valley club meets this afternoon with Mrs. Andy Thompson. They will spend the afternoon hemming tea towels for the Red Cross. Refreshments will be served.

The Minerva club will meet with Mrs. W. E. Beaman next Monday instead of Mrs. Geo. Porter. Members please take notice. The regular program as usual.

THE NEWS OF THE WEEK

The week just closing leaves the war situation looking better for all save the Germans and their aids. Italy has apparently halted the German drive at her northern border, and facts seem to indicate that the Italian losses in men and guns was far less than the German claims, else Italy would have a small army indeed to stop the drive. The Allies have sent aid to Italy of men, munitions and other needed things.

In Russia the news reports have made things look dark and they do not now appear very bright. But according to latest reports the powers that revolted against the new government are down and out, leaving the new republic stronger and better for the ordeal it has had to undergo.

American troops have been to the front and acquitted themselves well with small losses, and came back after a session on the front line with the respect and confidence of the veteran soldiers of the allies.

On the west front the French, British and Americans have been driving the German forces slowly back. Now the invasion of Germany is considered quite probable in the near future. When the battles are fought on German soil, a new peace city will be sent out from the central powers.

The U-boat losses have been less in the past week than any week since that manner of warfare has been engaged in. The German sailors mutiny at times when ordered to places on the U-boats. Too many go and never return.

In this country the railroads are asking an increased freight rate, and in turn the employees are asking a wage increase, to meet the increasing cost of living, and thus they would form an endless chain pulling everything UP. The evening papers of last evening tell that President Wilson is moving to cut a link in this endless chain by taking the railroads over and operating them. It certainly is time for the men who work for the railroads and the men who claim to own and operate them to realize that the railroads are common carriers, and are made valuable by the people who patronize them—and that the rights of the people to live and transact business over these roads is paramount, and that their quarrels must be settled in some manner that will not leave the commerce of the nation at their mercy—for they have none.

A PAPER WITHOUT ADVERTISING

Last week Editor Harris of the Coleridge Blade issued that paper without any display advertising and only a few locals of an advertising nature. The paper consisted of two pages only of the usual size. More than half of one page was devoted to plate matter, a continued story which has been running in that paper. In explanation the editor says: "You will perhaps wonder at the size of the Blade this week. Here is the explanation.

The cost of this size sheet is as follows: Setting up 40,000 M's at .35 per M. $14; three hours press work, folding and mailing, two people, $4.50; stock $1.25; ink 10c; time in writing up copy 10 hours, $7.50. Total $27.35 actual cost.

For a year $1422.20 actual cost. Now the total Blade subscriptions at $1.50 come to $1060. Net loss on this size paper from subscriptions is $320.20 a year.

The ads. are left out for the reason that our local dealers find that advertising does not pay, or has not up-to-date. Hence you pay no attention to their ads. They have been paying us then a donation to in turn donate to you a large paper. We are going to stop this donation. We can make better money putting most of our time to other work than on the paper and there is no earthly reason why business men of Coleridge should be making a straight donation to the readers of the Blade every week.

So it is our intention to give the readers the paper they pay for but

ZEDA THE MODERN BROOM

It must be twice as long, say—
Ten thousand times or more.
Cause you can find nearly any day
In any grocery store.

no more and not to beg and bludge and blarney the local dealers into the expense of money which they feel is a practical waste, under the guise of advertising.

Before going to this plan permanently, we are at work on a co-operative plan with manufacturers and local dealers. The local dealers of Coleridge are perfectly ready to try any plan that promises results. They have been patient and tried many but to no avail. They are still ready to be bled, for they are bled by so many fake deals under the guise of home patriotism and home "boosting" etc., that they submit without protest. However, we do not propose to bleed them any more even for the benefit of the Blade readers. If the new line of advertising which will be tried out does not show definite results to each dealer, if the readers do not read these ads. and go and call for goods that they see advertised just as they read magazine and catalog ads. and then write for that particular article, and thus show that local advertising is appreciated and does pay, why then the plan will be dropped and as stated the paper will appear without advertising and in the size only which the combined subscriptions warrant."

We do not believe that the business men of Coleridge will long be without advertising; or they will be without business of the usual volume. While they may profess not to see any direct results from their advertising, and may honestly think they are getting no returns, we believe that they will find "results" if they do not advertise. Coleridge has numerous competing towns, and their business people will not be slow to invade that territory with advertising. The mail order and department stores will invite the people to come, and if not asked to stay at home and told of what is to be found at home in the way of merchandise, it is certain that the circle of their trade zone will materially narrow.

A WHIPPED GERMANY

The while the German armies roll across northern Italy pretty much as will a dispatch from Copenhagen, one of our sources of German news and opinion, shows the situation of Germany in a very different light. "In the midst of the general exultation in Germany over the victories on the Isonzo and Riga fronts," says this report, "and the demands for revision of the peace program in accordance with the new war map, German business classes are beginning to obey the injunction to consider the commercial map as well. An increasing amount of injunction duobligitGwpy amount of attention is devoted by the newspapers to the growing difficulties of re-establishing German foreign trade after the war. Articles in serious newspapers, even of pan-German views, are found almost every day in which it is pointed out that diplomatic breaks with China and Central and South American republics, instead of being a source of amusement on account of the military unimportance of these nations, mean the loss of Germany's hard-won commercial position in these markets and increase the difficulties of the up-hill fight to rebuild the foreign trade after the war."

What the Germans now begin to see is that however successful the German armies may be, in the economic ends which lay beyond the war Germany has suffered a disaster which it will be the work of a generation to repair, if indeed it is ever to be repaired. The Copenhagen report says: "The thought that German shipping might be barred or restricted in the ports of Germany's present enemies, which has long been scoffed at by shipping and export experts, has now come home to the business world as a real menace. Discussions of peace conditions, even in the most virulent pan-German war organs, emphasize the necessity of again procuring for German shipping the 'most favored nation' treatment in foreign harbors, which was formerly enjoyed, as a vital condition of the settlement after the war." Business men are obviously concerned over the course to be taken by the German government. "The situation is realized with especial keenness in Hamburg," says this report, "where in repeated articles by business experts the government has been warned that the plans to promote the recovery of German exchange and keep down prices by establishing an official purchasing monopoly would merely result in rival nations securing the scanty world supply of foodstuffs and raw materials."

There is afloat in Germany a story said by this reporter to be well authenticated, "of a conference between Emperor William, Field Marshal von Hindenburg, General von Ludendorff, and Albert Ballin, head of the Hamburg-American line, last summer, in which the Hamburg shipping magnate, after listening to the glowing account of the military situation given by military leaders, told the emperor that every extra month of the war meant an additional year in getting out of the slough of the ruin after the war. He declared he did not expect to live to see Germany out of her difficulties."

All of the European belligerents have suffered economically by the war, but the opponents of Germany have not, like Germany, placed themselves outside the sympathies and confidence of the world. With its foreign trade lost and its internal strength sapped by the tremendous struggle thru which it has passed, Germany is a bled-white nation. The power of the armies on which it has specialized for a generation may suffice to defy for a long time yet the military power of its opponents. Many a Spanish bull has made his most vicious lunges after receiving the fatal stroke of the torador. Such is Germany, whipped the even yet possibly able to make a stalemate peace. —State Journal.

Patriotism! Did you ever stop to think how many kinds of patriotism are being developed by this great war? There is the patriotism of the hypocrite, who as Pollock said: "With one hand puts a penny in, with the other takes a shilling out." That is the patriotism of the corporation which is making an abnormal profit from the war while pretending to help it, and yet objecting to paying any very considerable portion of the excess to the government, preferring rather to invest it in Liberty Bonds, so that it will make other millions. Then one sees the patriotism of those who wear it on their sleeve as an ornament, and take pride in calling attention to their particular brand of loyalty and love of the land of the free and the home of the brave. There is also the patriotism of the hundreds of thousands of men who freely offer their services, and their life if need be that a great principle shall be perpetuated and its rich privileges be handed down to coming generations and given to peoples who had perhaps never dared to hope that they might become free from the yoke of autocracy—that the "divine right of kings" would ever hold them as subjects. This is a patriotism which none can doubt. Then there is the loyalty and patriotism of fathers and mothers, sisters, brothers and lovers who remain at home and mourn the absence of a loved one and in their moments of anxious waiting imagine an hundred dangers and evils lurking unseen in his path and besetting one whom they hold more dear than life itself. They perhaps sit and knit, make Red Cross bandages and do all in their power to win a righteous war. Who can measure the sacrifice of the mother who sees a son leave, perhaps never to return; the wife who bids a husband and father farewell, of the little ones who weep and wonder when papa will come home? Pen cannot express it, the orator cannot tell it—no one can KNOW it save those who sit and weep and pray and hope and trust and say "Thy will be done—Amen!"

AN OPEN QUESTION

What finally has put the crimp in the movement to dismiss town schools for the saving of the corn crop is the farmers themselves. Their verdict, by the way, is not specially complimentary to town folks, yet deserves their serious consideration. The farmers lack confidence in the town boy as a corn husker. They have an impression that he isn't good for much at genuine, productive physical labor. He may be first rate at batting a ball or making a touchdown, but is he of the rugged substance of which cornhuskers are made? Corn husking blisters the hands and, if one isn't careful, sprains the wrists. Wrestling with ice planted corn husks at daylight in a November morning isn't exactly an occupation one sticks to for love of it. Will the furnace heated town boy stick to the game with enough effect to make it worth while to expend a team and unnumbered fried chickens to fill the void that is always ever present in the "tummy" of the city chap?—Pierce Call.

Ted Perry now rides in a new car, he having recently purchased a Marmon car with an 80-h. p. engine and room for four people. The speed it can make is not really known, but it is as fast as one wants to ride if the driver cares to let her out. They tell Mr. Perry he will have to have a Ford tow him out of town, for the machine is so liable to exceed the speed limit on its own power. But the fellows who told that are evidently jealous. It certainly is a handsome car, and probably worth all of the $3,900 which it cost.

Some one took a joy ride with a Winside car here Sunday evening, and left the car near the college. No reflections on the faculty, but the county and city officials tell us that it is going to fare ill with anyone caught hereafter with a car not his own. Of course, no one was caught this time, but some one will have to pay one of these days. The car was slightly damaged.

We found June Conger's car at the corner of Main and 6th streets this morning. He had been to Sioux City Wednesday and was almost home, and driving slowly when, chug, both front wheels came off, the axle on each side breaking close to the wheel. No one was hurt and the car showed no other damage. He said it had not been steering easily during the trip. Yes Sioux City is dry now.

Pride, prosperity or style must have struck the Gamble & Senter store, for they have just installed a mighty fine revolving hat case, which keeps the stock in a dustproof case but have it all so that it may be seen without trouble. The rack swings out and revolves—retreats and closes up. The doors come out and swing a corner like a trolley car and bob about into place almost automatically. Its a fine improvement and matches their suit rack.

Lester Cartwright returned to his home at Wolbach Tuesday. He and Mrs. C. came to Omaha two weeks ago that their little daughter might have an eye trouble treated; then came on for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. James. Early last week they returned with the little one to Omaha and then came here to continue their visit. Mrs. Cartwright will remain with home folks here until the little one is ready to return and then go to Omaha for her and return home.

Fred Renard of Oakland, representing the Seventh Nebraska regiment was a Wayne visitor Tuesday, coming as a recruiting officer. He will have several recruits from here and will return tomorrow and take up the work again. Mr. Renard will also visit other adjoining towns. He tells us that the young men of army age are scarce these days, most of them already having answered the call to the colors. The Seventh, with our Governor Neville at the head, will be an all Nebraska regiment and to belong to such an aggregation of home products will appeal to many young men. The required number of recruits will undoubtedly be easy to get.

THE BRUNSWICK

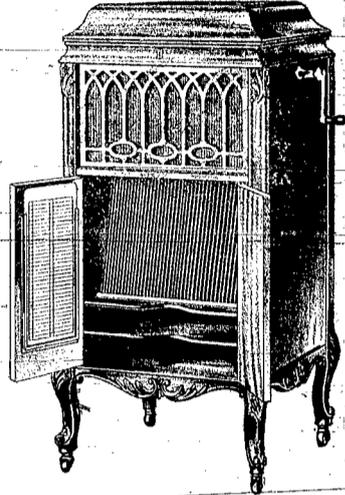

Unlocks the Gates for All Lovers of Music!

Until the coming of the Brunswick, music lovers had to buy and play records made by the makers of their phonographs. This meant barring many of the favorite artists. It meant a limited selection.

For instance, the Brunswick makes it possible for you to now enjoy the famous Pathe records, Europe's favorites. The wonderful Pathe records cannot be played on ordinary phonographs. The Brunswick provides a sound box for the Pathe records without extra cost.

Now you may buy any record you want, whatever make, and the Brunswick will play it as you never heard it played before. The Brunswick plays all records. It is all phonographs in one. It opens the gate to a new world of music, hitherto limited.

Hear the Brunswick yourself, then decide. We leave it to you, after making comparison. We know you will agree with thousands of others that the Brunswick has a better tone, and that its many features make it the phonograph you always wanted.

The Democrat reporter met with a story of mystery at the depot one day last week. A lady was going away from Wayne and the reporter, as is usual in such cases, approached her and asked her name. "Sit down," she said, "I want to talk to you. I came here to visit an old friend of mine, a lady I have known for years. I had been here but a few hours when we started to talk of the war situation. To my astonishment my friend said she hoped that Germany would win this war and further said she would be glad to see the day the kaiser would rule us. Well, I packed my grip and left. I have no use for a pro-German." The reporter urged and insisted that she give the name of the Wayne woman who is so disloyal but she was firm and as yet we do not know. We would publish it if we did and will yet if we ever find out.

PRACTICAL CONSERVATION FOR PRACTICAL APPLICATION

E. E. Richards, president American Poultry association: We are going to win this war. It is going to cost our treasury billions of dollars besides the lives of hundreds of thousands of our bright young manhood, but we shall win. To win this war the quickest, and with the least loss of lives we must provide the food, for as Napoleon said: "An army marches on its stomach." This means that an army must be well provisioned to reach its greatest efficiency. In the war times that are passed, an army could largely subsist upon the country through which it passed, but there is no living upon the country through which modern armies are passing. There is no living upon the Greek or Balkan states, nor on Salonica, so that as Lloyd George said some time ago, the food supply is one of this war's greatest necessities. The greater part of the food supply must come from the United States not only for our 1,760,000 and more boys in the army and navy, but we shall have to feed our people at home, and must also supply the allies who are fighting this world's greatest battles.

Mr. Herbert Hoover, the nation's food administrator, asks for more poultry, chickens, turkeys, ducks, and geese. Mr. Hoover pleads as follows:

"To the American Poultry association and producers of poultry and eggs in the United States:

"We are short of red meat. Our soldiers and our allies require more than ever before. We are advocating in every household, every hotel and restaurant in this country the substitution of poultry for red meat. Increased production of poultry can be effected much faster than beef, pork and mutton. While we must increase in all the latter, we want have a quick response in poultry and poultry products. There is a great waste of poultry feeds from every household and every farm. It requires little labor. Cannot the poultry raisers of the country help us by providing the increased supply we need?—Herbert Hoover."

What can you do to help in this world-wide meat emergency?

Every farmer can raise more and better poultry and do it far more profitably by disposing of all surplus males, by keeping only the yearling hens, and the earliest and best matured pullets, thus keeping no dead-heads or "slackers" to consume what should go to the profitable producers. It is a crime to dispose of a laying hen or a pullet that is just about to lay. Keep the hen house neat and clean. Repair the roof, the windows, and stop any direct drafts that are possible by knot holes or cracks. Too much glass and not enough open front is bad. Write your state experiment station for needed information. Every state in the union except Florida and Wyoming maintain poultry departments which are pleased to aid the home folks with their poultry problems.

Poultry is profitable. No source of meat supply is as rapid or as cheap. Every pound of poultry produced will help in sending a pound of meat across to the boys that are fighting your battles. Every farm should have a carefully culled flock of not less than two hundred fowls. The larger the farm, the larger the flock, and such a flock should be maintained largely from economical reasons. Poultry will pick up ninety per cent of its living from scattered and wasted grains. They act as scavengers in consuming a large part of what would otherwise be lost. Poultry will prove valuable in eating obnoxious bugs, grasshoppers, worms and insect pests, that would otherwise destroy food that is valuable. To the dweller in a village, town or city, a well kept flock of a dozen or twenty-five good laying hens will prove profitable. They can be kept from the lawn, garden, kitchen and table off all of which makes the choicest kind of poultry feed with but a small addition of grain.

During the next year every effort should be made to raise and consume every pound of poultry flesh possible. It is one of the easiest and quickest ways of helping to increase food production, and that is what every red blooded American must do to help his country during the period of the war. Every pound of meat produced will help put a bullet at the Kaiser. Do your bit.

REDUCING DISTRIBUTION COSTS.

The new organization among the farmers called the Non-Partisan League seems to be mainly concerned with the distribution of commodities. From what their organizers say, it seems that members of the League do not believe that there is anything wrong with the producers or consumers, but an interloper gets in between them and collects an unreasonable tribute from both consumer and producer. The fight was started against the charges of North Dakota, and has spread to seven other states, although North Dakota is the only state where they have captured the government.

The League is gaining adherents not only among the farmers, but there has been also a decided movement to cheapen and simplify the "middle man" processes in the cities. There are breaks being made in the former way of doing business in various western cities. Farmers are sending their produce, not to the commission men to be sold by them to retailers, and then to the consumers, but to their own agencies in the cities, which are labeled, "from producer to consumer." If the farmers can supply the consumers thru these agencies with food supplies cheaper than thru the old commission man and retailer, then there will be no need of a political upheaval to attain the object sought."

The above is from the editorial page of the Omaha World-Herald, and there appears to be as much need for consumers to organize to fight the high cost of buying as for the producers to organize to get in more direct touch with the consumer. Thus far, as we understand, this league plans only to deal with the products of agriculture, for it is a farmer organization. The consumer should be encouraged to join with them in a laudible effort to eliminate the leech who stands between the producer and consumer demanding tribute from each before he will let the product of one pass to the other. We do not figure the man who buys in quantity and sells at retail actually handling the goods, asking only a fair profit for the service he gives, is detrimental to either producer or consumer, for he serves both; but the fellows who will stand between the two and let the produce of one rot or freeze to keep it from the other until he can get his "pound of flesh" is the man who could serve mankind better in the trenches. He is an anarchist, not a distributor. It is he, not the retailer or producer, who is waxing fat on the ill-gotten gains which arise from a condition he has been able to create. But we think it will take something in the nature of a political upheaval to properly remedy the matter.

THE POOR BOY'S CHANCE

It is poor comfort to an unemployed man to remind him that the economic system which deprives him of a job enables an occasional poor boy to become a millionaire. So when an exchange dwells on Henry Ford's rise from a poor boy earning $3.00 a week to a multi-millionaire, it fails to prove the justice of existing conditions. An occasional exceptional poor boy will reach financial prosperity under any economic system. There is no need to worry about the future of embryo Henry Fords. But the average poor boy is not in that class. He will be in need of a job all his life. Should we allow conditions to remain unchanged whereby men who are willing to work can be deprived of an opportunity to work?

Would not poor boys gain greatly if chances to become multi-millionaires were reduced and chances for jobs increased? Would not such a change be better for rich boys as well?

L. C. Walling, superintendent of the Laurel municipal electric light plant, recently received a very tempting offer of a position as superintendent of a larger plant in an Iowa town at a good advance in salary. Naturally he resigned here, more than a week ago (asking The Advocate not to publish the fact) and now we are most pleased to be able to state that Monday evening the village board persuaded him to continue in his present position. Mr. Walling has had charge of the plant here since its installation and it would seem little short of a calamity to lose him now. The plant under his direction is giving satisfaction; he knows all the little ins and outs of local conditions and it would be a bad plan to swap him for a stranger as long as it can be avoided. They say you can't keep a good man down, and no doubt some time Mr. Walling will outgrow so small a place (he's a pretty husky chap) and we'll have to give him up; but let's put off the evil day as long as possible.—Advocate.

The Bell Telephone Unites the Nation's Military Forces

The government is using the Bell Telephone to link the army training camps, the supply depots and the coast defenses with each other and with the great military bureaus at Washington.

New construction necessary to meet the increased demands for service and equipment has been held back by the shortage of both labor and materials.

You can "do your bit" by asking only for telephone equipment you must have and making only such local and long distance calls as are absolutely necessary.

Emperor and Czar. The Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria, notwithstanding his numerous visits to Vienna, never succeeded in making himself welcome to the Austrian aristocracy. For a long time the aged emperor refused to receive him. After much useless scheming to get the ear of Francis Joseph he was advised to obtain the aid of Mme. Schratz, who held at Schoenbrunn an influential position.

Ferdinand sent to this favorite a jewel box with a note: "I desire to offer to you the earrings that my mother wore until her death. Delight to accept them and intercede in my favor with the emperor."

Mme. Schratz used her kindly offices, and Francis Joseph consented to receive the king of the Bulgars. Ferdinand had brought a napkin filled with papers that he wished to show to the emperor. After Ferdinand's departure the emperor, turning to his grand chamberlain, said: "It is curious that a king should be so lacking in manners. This fellow has spoken to me as though I were a mere notary!"

Welding Glass.

Welded glass suitable for certain optical instruments and other apparatus is a novel material that is stated to be of great practical value as well as much interest. As the welding process is described by Parker and Dally to the Faraday Society of London, the glass surfaces to be joined are placed in good optical contact under pressure and are heated to a carefully predetermined temperature, which, to avoid distortion of optically worked surfaces, must not approach too near what is defined as the "annealing point." This point of appreciable softening is determined for any kind of glass by noting the temperature at which the internal heat stresses seen in the glass with polarized light quite suddenly disappear. Similar glasses unite perfectly well below this point, but with very unlike kinds the softer becomes distorted before the harder is hot enough to make a good weld.

Stewed Apples.

To stew apples so each quarter is unbroken and so clear one can almost see through it is an art, and yet it is a simple thing to do if one only knows how. Peel tart apples very thin, cut them in quarters and remove the cores and seeds. As fast as you can peel and quarter them drop the apples in a saucepan in which you have already placed cold water to the depth of two inches. When the apples are all in put the saucepan over a slow fire, cover it till the water reaches the boiling point, then remove the cover and let the apples simmer almost imperceptibly till you can pierce them easily with a toothpick; then sprinkle the sugar over them and let them just simmer until it is all melted. Remove the saucepan from the fire and let it stand where the apples will get cold before turning them into a dish for the table.

Bumps on the Head.

The lump raised by a blow on the head is due to the resistance offered by the hard skull and its close connection with the movable elastic scalp by many circumscribed bands of connective tissue. The result of a blow when the scalp is not cut is the bruising and laceration of many of the small blood vessels or capillaries. Blood or its fluid constituent, serum, is poured into the meshes of the surrounding connective tissue, which is delicate, spongy, distensible and cellular, and the well-known bump or lump is quickly formed. This cannot push inward at all and naturally takes the line of least resistance. Similar bumps may be formed on the shin in exactly the same way, for the shin bone also is covered only by skin and subcutaneous connective tissue.

Purity for man, next to life, the greatest good. That purity is procured by the law of Mazda to him who cleanses his own self with good thoughts, words and deeds. The first session of the continental congress was held in Carpenter's hall, Philadelphia, Sept. 5, 1774, with forty-four members present. All the colonies were represented except Georgia and North Carolina. Peyton Randolph of Virginia was president and Charles Thomson was secretary.

"It's easy to find out what time it is," said a married man. "If the hall clock says 5:20, and the drawing room clock says 5:50, and the dining room clock says 6:05, and my watch says 6:15, and my wife's little dinky watch says 6, it's 6 o'clock in our house."—Exchange.

A Safe Oil to Use

An engine with caked carbon on the piston head, fouled spark plugs and unseated valves is like a person with a cold in the head—all stuffed up. Most of this comes from using an oil that doesn't burn up clean.

Polarine burns up clean—reduces carbon to a minimum—makes a smooth running, powerful and economical motor.

Some motor oils pit the cylinders and eat away the valves and piston rings. That's due to acids. There's not a trace of acid in Polarine. It simply cannot eat away the metal and destroy the efficiency of the engine.

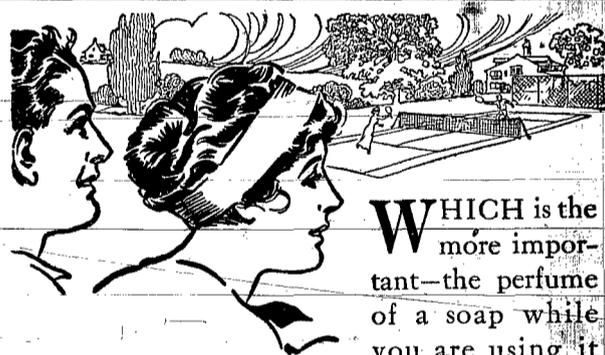

Play safe. Use Polarine always. Free from acid, grit and other injurious foreign matter. At our Service Stations or any good garage—wherever you see the sign.

We are in style here; our corn is soft. The fellows who gathered seed corn last September are the ones who will have good seed and perhaps the only ones so blessed.

The Farmer store is building an addition for warehouse and garage.
Monday evening there was a patriotic meeting at that place, but owing to threatening weather the attendance was not large. Blacksmith Hogfre opened his shop for the meeting and had it nicely decorated with flags, and well seated for an hundred people, tho that many were not there owing to threatening weather conditions. Another meeting will be held at the school house at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, when a number of speakers will be present, and beyond a doubt a large audience. Among those from Wayne at the meeting Monday evening were H. Wilson, O. R. Bowen, F. S. Berry, and others. Come to the Sunday meeting.

BUILD MORE SHIPS

A bad time is coming for America. It is due in the middle of the campaign of 1918. At that time, great armies will be assembled in France ready to crush the German resistance and force a decision, but will be deterred because of a lack of munitions of war. Reorganized Russian armies will stand on the eastern front ready to break thru in a dozen places but will be paralyzed by lack of munitions of war. Italy and Greece will be eager to hammer a hole in central Europe, but will have no hammer. These same munitions of war will be piled high on our of war will be piled high on our our seaboard waiting for transport. Then will be our time of helpless rage and humiliation. Then, everyone high or low, official or what not, who is directly or indirectly responsible for the inadequate supply of ships will have experience of a nation's execration. What a pity some of these men were not in England at the time of the shell disclosures. And this matter is incomparably more serious. Are we fatuous enough to suppose that our allies who have carried the burden of war for three years, and will be nerved by our entry to their supreme effort next year, will not face the following winter with despair gnawing at their intrepid spirits? Their progressive exhaustion cannot go on indefinitely. Our time to do our part is next year, or we may find ourselves a year later bearing the full brunt, with all the disadvantages of distance, and the unimaginable expense in life and treasure. This is not hysteria; it is a protest against criminal complacency; it is based on an understanding of European affairs which is not befuddled by that German revolution that some of our papers so futilely anticipate, which has seen the war to closely at hand to believe it is going to be won by parades on Fifth Avenue. Our enormous preparations have a value that is contingent upon one absolutely indispensable condition—a sufficiency of ocean tonnage. The very minimum that can make our way a conclusive factor in Europe next year, is double what our shipbuilding program expects to produce. It is certain that Admiral Capps and Chairman Hurley are doing all that two humans can—until the American people get behind them. A fraction of the effort that was put into the Liberty Loan will do the work. Is labor needed? American mechanics will rise to this emergency as readily as they serve in army or navy. Is steel needed? No one has suggested that it will not be forthcoming. Mr. James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, made the declaration that the United States shipbuilding commission should build 6,000,000 tonnage instead of only 3,000,000 in the next eighteen months.—The Public.

A QUIET WEDDING

On Tuesday, November 6, the Rev. G. A. Matthudess of the Lutheran church of Sioux City, united in marriage Mr. Otto F. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith of Stuart, Nebraska, and Miss Frances Bartels, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bartels.
The bride has grown to young womanhood in our midst, having attended our public school and graduated from the Wayne State Normal in 1909. She has been a successful teacher in Wayne county and also at Merriman, Nebraska, for several years. She is possessed with a charming way that tends to make friends of all her acquaintances, and will be a true helpmeet to the man she has honored with her heart and hand.
The groom, while a stranger to us, comes highly recommended and is in every way worthy of the bride he has won.
After a short wedding trip they will be at home on the groom's farm at Garland, Wyoming, where a nice home has recently been erected.—Carroll Index.

DEACON STEBBINS ON FALSE ECONOMY

(Burgess Johnson in the Delinctor)

I'M JEST as patriotic as the next man you kin bet,
And common-sense economy I'm sticking up fer yet;
But some folks hev gone crazy in this anti-wasteful wave,
An' squandered time an' thought an' strength on liddle ways to save.
I don't believe in knocking, so I jollied 'em along,
An' praised all kinds of savin' things—the right ones with the wrong—
Until I larnt that Polly Hicks hed led my wife astray,
An' planned some sort of foodless meal fer our Thanksgiving Day.

SI HICKS he stopped me on the street jest 'fore Thanksgiving week;
He was so plumb excited he could hardly git to speak.
He'd larnt a secret our two wives had kept a week or more
To hev combined Thanksgiving up to his house fer us four.
That scheme along was right enough, but SI went on to say
They'd planned to celebrate it in some frugal kind of way.
They hadn't chose no turkey, an' he'd kinder like to know
If my wife was fixin' mince-meat like she did a year ago.
I swan to goodness, SI was right—I hadn't smelted a one
Of all those fragrant cookin' things that oughter been begun.
So SI and I, we set right down an' let our genius burn,
An' figured out a little plan how us two worms would turn.

THET night my wife she up an' said she guessed that she an' I Might eat Thanksgiving dinner with the Hickses fer a try;
'Twould be lots jollier, she said, an' save a lot on feed.
Now all our children was away; an' I sez, "Yes, indeed!"
She seemed surprised I was so meek. We planned it so that she Spent Wednesday night with Polly Hicks, an' SI come down with me.
Those women never said a word about "economize,"
But we knew there wa'n't no turkey, an' I never smelt no pies.

OLD SI an' I set up all night an' worked like anything;
We didn't git to church until the folks stood up to sing.
The sermon was a wise one, all about consarvin' strength.
But it made us late to dinner, 'twas so powerful as to length.
By heck, they was a dinner! Each latest war receipt
Fer makin' substitutes fer food was there fer us to eat,
The womenfolks wa'n't happy; you could see they'd lost their nerve;
Poor Polly shed a tear on some fried mush she tried to serve!

STEWED apricots was our dessert; then no't a word was spoke,
But solely rose SI an' I an' grabbed our womenfolk.
They seemed too flabbergasted er too mournful to object;
We didn't stop fer coats er hats, but started home direct.
The chore man see us comin'—we had left him there in charge;
I counted all his missin' teeth, his smile it was so large;
An' when he opened wide the door it made my sperrets rise
To smell the real Thanksgiving' smell ascendin' to the skies.

I GUESS you've guessed our secret: We hed the table set,
An' 'old Pa Turkey he was there, an' cranberry, you bet!
The cooking wasn't no great shakes, 'twas easy work to beat—
But jest the same it cheered us up to see them women eat!
We laughed an' laughed together, an' nobody was sore;
It's hard to lose yer temper when yer passin' plates fer more!
An' SI an' I was happy, even though our wives both said
Thet they'd put us on short rations fer the next two months instead!

BY HECK! There's times and seasons for most every act of man;
Ther's a time to swear off puddin', or to feed yourself on bran;
But if I heered December first was fixed fer Judgment day,
I'd celebrate Thanksgiving' in the good old-fashioned way;
Not wastin' stuff, you understand—not hoggin', to be sure;
Jest fillin' full, an' thankin' God, an' givin' to the poor.

NEWS FROM HOME FOLKS

More Warner of the Lyons Mirror is hearing from his relatives, or rather, to be more accurate, Mrs. Warner is hearing from home folks. News reports from Lyons to the daily papers tell that a letter from his father-in-law, Mr. Taylor of Carey, Idaho, in which the western man declares that, despite his 78 years, he wants to go to France and battle with the Kaiser, and he wants Mr. Warner to go with him. Mr. Taylor formerly lived in Dakota county, Nebraska, where he was at one time county commissioner.

A dispatch in another column tells that Lee Taylor, who disappeared in the wilds of Alaska twenty-five years ago and who had long been given up for dead, showed up recently at the home of his sister, Mrs. M. M. Warner, in Lyons, with the record of having accumulated two fortunes after his supposed death. He accumulated a million dollars in the Alaskan fields, but it was stolen from him and then he went to work again, and is now a wealthy man, living at Saskatchewan, Saskatchewan, Canada.

We hope this brother-in-law buys a new equipment for the Mirror and turns Mose loose with pen and shears and paste with force enough in the shop to put all he would say into type and then onto paper.

ERNEST HINZ LOSES ARM IN SHREDDER

Last Thursday, Ernest Hinz, who lives between Allen and Waterbury, had the misfortune to lose his left arm as the result of an accident while shredding corn on the Sam Knox place. In some manner while he was trying to extricate some fodder from some of the machinery under the shredder which was causing trouble, his hand was caught between the rolls and before the other men on the scene could stop the machinery or give him any help, his left hand and part of the arm had been torn clear off and was taken into the shredder. He was hurried to Sioux City where it was discovered that in order to forestall any danger of blood poisoning, it was necessary to amputate the arm again above the elbow.

The hand that was torn off was found by the workmen the next morning lying under the machine.
Mr. Hinz is a young man who has been a good, hard worker and it is a sad occurrence when a young fellow loses so important a member of the body as his hand. According to late reports he is getting along as well as could be expected.—Allen News.

Alice Berry in Accident

Tuesday evening while at play with other children little Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Berry, went to show the others how to jump from a step ladder. Just as she sprang the ladder toppled over back, and she fell across it striking her mouth on one of the steps with such force as to knock the teeth from the lower jaw and also break the top part of the jaw bone. Her face was pretty badly bruised, and she will lose two of her teeth which were all she had on that jaw of her permanent teeth. She was taken at once to the Wayne hospital and the bone adjusted and bandaged. The physician expresses the opinion that the jaw will heal so that when the other permanent teeth start, they will come all right. It will make a painful face for the little one for a time.

WHO GOT SAM'S CASH? BRING IT BACK AGAIN

While at the postoffice Monday morning Sam Davies had the misfortune to lose his pocketbook containing more than $20 in bills and some checks. He thinks he pulled it from his pocket when taking out a check or note-book to enter a subscription order. When he missed it a few moments later search for it was in vain. Whoever got it should return it. That might save trouble.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The high school girls have under way an organization for some sort of patriotic service. The trend seems to be toward Junior Red Cross or Y. W. C. A. work. Definite announcement of their plans will be made after the organization is perfected. It is safe to assert that Uncle Sam has no more loyal boy and girl patriots than those in Wayne High, and they mean to show their loyalty in service. Call on them when they can help.

Dean Hahn of the Wayne State Normal addressed the high school at convocation period, Tuesday. His theme was "Know Thyself" and he explained that such knowledge is very difficult of attainment. He spoke very earnestly of the force of habit, both good and bad. High school students and faculty are very grateful to Mr. Hahn for his interest.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AT WINSIDE

Monday and Tuesday of this week the county Sunday school convention was held at Winside. Monday evening a large crowd went over from Wayne and they report a splendid meeting. The hours of each day were filled with good things along Sunday school lines and a great deal of good was accomplished by the meeting. Never have our Sunday schools had such opportunities to do great good among our young folks. If they fail in their mission—it is only thru lack of organization and effort. And it is to perfect this work that these county meetings are held.

RED CROSS NEWS

The ladies of the Red Cross are shipping today another box of knitted goods to the soldiers. Following is a partial list from Wayne: 19 sweaters, 9 mufflers, 8 pairs of wristlets, 6 hemets and 15 pairs of socks. There were some knitted goods sent in from Carroll. The full quota of sweaters will be in as soon as the unfinished ones are handed in. The ladies of Wayne county have certainly been doing their bit.

ANOTHER FRIEND HEARD FROM

(From the Goldenrod)
Frank L. Ready, of the class of '16, was with Company A, 43rd U. S. Infantry, training at Fort Douglas, Utah, and since has transferred to Fort Riley, Kansas. He has sent to the school an interesting and valuable collection of geological specimens consisting of many valuable and rare rocks and minerals. The following is an extract from a letter which Mr. Ready has written to Professor Lackey:

"The few stones and ores that I am sending you may be of some interest in that they come from one of your former pupils. You will understand that there is sufficient reason for the collection not being larger or better than it is. We drill seven hours a day, teach school in the afternoon and evening, and are required to perform numerous other company and regimental duties. The only time that can really be devoted to searching the mountains for exceptional stones is on Saturdays and Sundays. Many of the peaks we have climbed are from two to six miles in height all the way from five thousand to twelve thousand feet and over. Only those who have done considerable climbing up mountains can realize what it is like. If one wishes to walk far enough and climb high enough he may see iron mines, silver mines, copper mines, lead mines, gold mines, opal mines and many others. The mountains here are covered with hundreds of deserted mines where prospects have failed. These mines offer splendid opportunities for search as they are not guarded. This afternoon one of the soldiers here and myself are going out to the Bingham mines on the lake shore. Here are some of the largest copper mines on earth."

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Nov. 14.—Cattle receipts were liberal again today, 13,500 head, and there was little if any improvement in quality. Desirable beef steers were in active demand at steady prices, and the better grades of stockers and feeders ruled a shade stronger. Supplies of cows and heifers were rather heavy and demand restricted so that trade was dull and prices lower for butcher and canner stock.

Quotations on cattle: Prime heavy beeves, $15.00@16.00; good to choice beeves, $14.00@15.00; fair to good beeves, $13.00@14.00; common to fair beeves, $7.00@11.00; good to choice yearlings, $14.00@16.00; fair to good yearlings, $12.00@14.00; common to fair yearlings, $6.50@11.00; prime heavy grass beeves, $12.00@13.50; good to choice grass beeves, $10.00@11.50; fair to good grass steers, $9.00@10.00; common to fair grass steers, $7.00@8.50; good to choice heifers, $8.00@9.35; good to choice cows, $7.75@9.25; fair to good cows, $6.50@7.75; canners and cutters, $5.50@6.25; veal calves, $9.00@12.50; beef bulls, $6.50@8.00; bologna bulls, $5.50@6.50; prime feeder steers, $11.50@13.00; good to choice feeders, $9.00@11.25; fair to good feeders, $7.50@8.75; good to choice stockers, $8.50@10.00; fair to good stockers, $7.00@8.00; common to fair grades, $3.00@7.00; stock heifers, $6.50@8.00; stock cows, $6.00@7.50; stock calves, $6.00@10.00.

A 10-25c Advance on Hogs

Hog receipts continue to show improvement. There were 5,800 head here today, and with a vigorous demand from both shippers and packers the market was active at prices all the way from 10¢-25¢ higher than Monday. Choice heavy butcher weights brought $17.40, and the bulk of the trading was at $17.00@17.25, or 70¢-80¢ higher than one week ago.

Sheep and Lambs Higher.
A very moderate run of sheep and lambs showed up, 9,100 head, and trade in all classes was active at prices ranging from 15¢-30¢ higher than Monday. Fat lambs brought $17.00, fat ewes, $11.00, and feeder lambs, $17.50.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Fainting.
First aid treatment for fainting should consist in getting the patient into an open air space as quickly as possible, lowering the head if the face be pale and raising it if it be congested. At the same time the clothing must be loosened from the neck to the waist. It is absolutely necessary that a free circulation of air be had, so if there is none stirring vigorously for finding helps considerably. Give nothing by the mouth, but if she is conscious the sooner fluids are given the better. Cold water in sips, cold tea, hot coffee, cold milk and warm beef tea are all useful, but some stronger and more quickly acting stimulant may be necessary. Ammonia in the form of sal volatile is the stimulant usually employed in ambulance handling. A dose of from five to thirty drops of this salt in two tablespoonfuls of water is generally effective, but a great objection to its use is that it sometimes causes vomiting, which is especially undesirable in one who is already weak and exhausted.
