WM. HERN VICTIM OF HIGHWAYMAN

Shot Sunday Evening by Gabriel Toyeler, Who Demanded Money of Bridge Men.

GUILTY MAN STILL AT LARGE

Sunday evening just at dusk as the men who have been working on a bridge about six miles northwest of Wayne were going to their boarding place they were met by Gabriel Toyeler who had until recently been working with them, who commanded the three men to hold up their hands. It is said that one of the men gave what money he had, but Wm. Hern recognized their assailant as the man who had been with them, and told him so, when Toyeler fired at him, the ball entering just below the heart and passing thru both walls of the stomach, lodged in the back. Aid was at once called and the injured man taken to the Wayne hospital where his wound was promptly cared for, the bullet extracted, and up to this morning no symptoms have developed which indicate that he may not recover, tho such wounds are usually fatal. The time during which unfavorable symptoms usually make their appearance has nearly passed, and with each passing hour the hope is stronger.

Before going on the operating table the young man was asked for the names of relatives to be notified in case of death. He said he had no near relatives at all but gave the name of an old lady who "had been a mother" to him. It is a sad case and the young man seems deeply grateful that he was fortunate enough to fall into the hands of the kind nurses and doctor at the Wayne hospital.

Toyeler is yet at large, tho search was begun soon for him, and his direction of flight is not known. The stealing of an automobile at Wakefield that night led some to the opinion that he had made his escape that way. The car was abandoned near Hubbard, we are told, and if taken by the highwayman indicates that he has probably gone to Sioux City.

Toyeler is 26 years old, about 5 feet six inches in height, 160 to 170 pounds, large shoulders, dark complexioned, small eyes and hands, smooth faced. He claims to be German but looks like a Greek. He speaks fair English.

Y. M. C. A. AT NORMAL

Tuesday morning, Mr. Holcombe, representing the interest of the student Y. M. C. A., presented the needs of funds to the students and faculty of the Wayne state Normal school.

In explanation of the need of money to carry on this work, Mr. Holcombe spoke in detail of the service the Y. M. C. A. is rendering in the training camps of America, on the firing line of European battlefields, of work in hospitals and among the six million men who are now prisoners of war.

At the close of his address pledge cards were distributed with the following heading: "Desiring to do my share toward alleviating the suffering occasioned by war and to make possible the conservation of the best in the young manhood and womanhood for the work of reconstruction after the war, I agree to contribute to the Students' Friendship War Fund _____ dollars."

Never before was a cause presented to the State Normal school which met with a more generous response than did the request for contributions to this war fund. A complete report cannot be made at this time as the signers were given until December 3 for the return of the cards. At noon Tuesday eighty-eight students had handed in their cards with subscriptions amounting to $448.80, or an average of $5.10 from each student. The total amount subscribed will exceed $1,000.

BRESSLER TO LOOK AFTER FUEL

As a branch of the state organization, John T. Bressler has been appointed county chairman of the committee on fuel administration, and he has appointed the following members of the organization: John Shannon, Warner, Walter Gaebler, Winside, F. S. Benser, Hoskins, C. E. Closson, Carrell, Mr. Gibson, Sholes. The purpose will be to look after proper distribution of fuel supplies.

FATHER KEARNS IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Sunday afternoon while W. J. McInerney was taking Father Kearns to Carroll for a service at the church there, the car upset at the top of the hill near the Brugger farm, spilling both the occupants out, and breaking two ribs for the priest, besides leaving several bruised places about his head and body. Mr. McInerney escaped with but little or no injury. The snow had made the road quite slippery and they had no chains on and were driving at not to exceed three or four miles an hour when the accident happened. The car commenced to skid, the wheel struck an obstruction to the side motion, the wheel crumbled and the car went over with the power shut off and the break applied. They continued their trip to Carroll, but no services were held, and Father Kearns was brought to his home at this place where he is waiting for nature to knit the ribs and heal the bruises. His many friends are glad he was not more seriously injured, and hope that he will soon be about again.

Another automobile accident happened Monday evening when L. M. Rodgers and P. C. Crockett were driving in from work in the country. The car acted much the same as did the one told of above, and the occupants had to crawl out from beneath the best they could. Mr. Crockett was somewhat shaken up, but no bones were broken.

WAYNE WAS LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE

At the time of the address by Ex-President Taft in Omaha last October, a permanent branch of the League to Enforce Peace was organized for Nebraska. This is a branch of the national organization of which Mr. Taft is president. The purpose of the organization is to further the creation of a world tribunal in which disputes can be settled by peaceful means after this war is over. The league is for the uncompromising prosecution of the present war until the world is made safe for democracy.

It is deemed desirable to have county branches of the organization, and accordingly John T. Bressler was appointed chairman for Wayne county, naming the following men as members of the local organization: Professor J. R. Armstrong, Judge A. A. Welch, Rev. S. X. Cross, Rev. D. W. MacGregor, Rev. F. J. Jordan, Rev. J. H. Petheroff, Judge James Britton, E. O. Gardner, E. W. Huse, J. H. Kemp, W. D. Redmond, Fred S. Berry, President U. S. Conn, A. R. Davis, E. E. Lackey, J. G. W. Lewis, Dr. J. T. House, J. G. Mines, S. R. Theobald, J. J. Ahern, and P. M. Corbit.

THE K. OF C. DRIVE IS MEETING MUCH SUCCESS

A member of the committee who is asking the citizens of Wayne and Wayne county to do a bit toward furnishing the Knights of Columbus with funds to carry on their good work in the soldier camps and at the front are meeting with a liberal response, and feel that the Wayne county quota will be much over-subscribed—possibly 100 per cent. The members of the committee are finding people of all classes and creeds realizing that this is the time when we should not fail to give to every worthy cause so long as we have a dollar to spare above actual needs—and it is right that we should thus give. The widow's mite was the greatest gift of all in its day, and so it may be today, not the sum given but the balance on hand which may be the measure of your donation. The committee hope to complete their canvass this week.

NO MORE GERMAN WANTED IN WAYNE CITY SCHOOLS

This week R. P. Williams has been the busy man, having assumed the task of asking the citizens of Wayne to sign a petition asking the school board to have the teaching of the German language discontinued. When last asked, his list contained the names of more than 200 patrons of the school, and he found but very few who refused to sign. In many other places the authorities are asked to have the teaching of that language discontinued.

ORDINATION SERVICES AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The First Baptist church of Wayne ordained its pastor, Rev. Fletcher J. Jordan, Tuesday evening with prayer and laying on of hands. A large audience was out, made up of the membership and friends of the church. The service was very beautiful and impressive, the ordination prayer especially made one think of the solemnity of the occasion. It is a wonderful privilege to be ordained in the service of the Master and we feel sure that our Rev. Jordan will be true to the sacred vows taken at this time. The service will long be remembered not only for its beauty but for the lesson of loyalty and love taught from beginning to end. At 7:30 the local ordaining council composed of the pastors and laymen of the association was organized. Rev. F. W. Benjamin was chosen moderator, and Rev. M. L. Dilly, clerk.

The meeting opened with a song service after which Rev. S. E. Bishop led in prayer. The candidate read a fifteen minute paper giving his Christian experience, call to the ministry and views of Christian doctrine. Questions followed which were answered satisfactorily. The ordination sermon was preached by Rev. E. F. Jordan of Grand Island. His text was Second Timothy 4:7. Rev. F. W. Benjamin gave the charge to the candidate, Rev. A. H. Nickell the charge to the church. Rev. N. C. Parsons welcomed the pastor into the fellowship of the ministry, Rev. E. J. Minort pronounced the benediction.

Ministers who attended were: Reverends E. F. Jordan of Grand Island; Ray E. York of Lincoln; L. R. Bobbitt of York; A. H. Nickell of Polk and N. C. Parsons of Oakland. These were of the permanent council of the state. The association pastors were: Reverends E. J. Minort of Tilden; F. W. Benjamin of Norfolk; S. E. Bishop of Creighton and M. L. Dilly of Carroll.

WORKERS NEEDED
Many young ladies are needed to help make surgical dressings for the Red Cross. Miss Morrison, who has taken the course, has been drilling a class for some time and they are now ready to go to work in earnest. There is an urgent call for surgical dressings and the work must be rushed. Each Tuesday and Thursday this branch of the Red Cross will meet in the rooms in the library. Bring with you a white apron with bib and sleeves or a bibbed apron and sleeve protectors. A cap also must be worn while at work.

Mrs. Hahn, Secretary.
Harry Haller, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Haller, who live not far from Winside came home Monday evening on a short leave of absence to eat Thanksgiving dinner with his feet under mother's table. He joined the navy about a year ago, and is serving on the battleship Minnesota. He has been on a number of short cruises, but has not yet been over to the other side of the pond. He stepped from the train here Monday evening to greet a few friends, and when asked if he liked the work and the navy he replied in the affirmative with emphasis, and added that if his time was now out he would sign up again at once. He is the picture of health, hardy and fit for any service.

CHRISTMAS TALK FOR THANKSGIVING.
This year of all others, it seems, is the year when our Christmas buying should be of the practical kind—something which can be used daily if need be, and with that thought in view I have stocked for the coming holiday trade with an exceptionally fine line of dresses, suits, waists, coats and all manner of wear for women and children, and ask that those who come to Wayne to make Christmas purchases come and see my offering before buying. Here you will find the latest and best in ready-to-wear garments, whether for children or young or middle aged ladies—for there are no old ladies. I have a fine line of shirt waists in fancy Christmas boxes, a fine line of combs, dresser sets, a bit of fancy worked scarfs and dollies, jewelry and novelties, from which to make your choice for a Christmas present which will make the one who receives it glad all the year.

NEWS NOTES

Kelly was acquitted on the first ballot of jurors at his last trial at Red Oak, Iowa, for the axe murders at Villisca more than five years ago. It was his second trial, the first jury to hear the case standing 11 to 1 for acquittal. Thus 23 out of the 24 men before whom he was tried have held that he is not guilty. The first trial attracted wide attention but after the first trial the public generally lost most of their interest in the case, for they did not believe him guilty; and did not think a second jury would convict. Kelly is writing a book and may lecture, if invited to do so, in which event some may wish he had been convicted or at least adjudged insane.

The Germans appear to be marching to defeat in every direction. The British, French and Italians are each and all doing their bit to add to the discomfort of the kaiser and his followers. Driven back many miles on the west front, checked and repulsed in Italy and defeated in France; Russia is again showing signs of coming back—or at least ceasing to go back. German losses of men and guns is said to have been very heavy the past week, and the Austrians have lost equally with the Germans. In Turkey the British have been winning ground.

A declaration of war against Austria is now being urged by Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, and it may so happen when congress convenes again.

The railroads are pooling business in order to give a service which will keep them out of the hands of the government, for the time has come when they must produce the maximum results in transportation or let the government come in and take charge. The people have long and patiently paid a big price for good service and failed to receive it. Now they want the goods or they will just take the business under their own management.

One million Germans will be released for war on the west and south fronts, if Russia makes separate peace. Those Germans should ask Russia to stay in—for the war zone on the east seems less dangerous.

French and English soldiers are now with the Italians, aiding in not only holding the German forces in check in Italy, but in driving them back toward the land from whence they came.

British troops are moving on Jerusalem, and with prospects of taking the city.

Argentine stands firm in their declaration against Germany, tho the pressure has been brought to make them change their vote, and decline to break with Germany.

American troops in France are doing their bit with much efficiency and to the satisfaction of all except their foes.

DAVID STARR JORDAN SPEAKS AT NORMAL

Says Peace Can Come Only When German Rulers are Repudiated By Their Subjects

SPEAKS TO LARGE AUDIENCE

No more distinguished and learned man has visited Wayne than he who was here to speak to the people Friday afternoon and evening. David Starr Jordan, the head of the great Leland Stanford University of California. In the afternoon he told of the wonders and beauties of the South Sea Islands to an audience of students and citizens. It was a most pleasant story and told in pleasing manner. Those who heard him can almost see the beauties of those enchanted isles.

But it was when he delivered his talk on Pangermany in the evening that the audience which filled the auditorium of the college to the balcony gave most undivided attention to his story of the cause of the great European war and his ideas of the results which will come when it shall end, as it must, in the opinion of many, ere many months. The speaker has had ample opportunity to study the question at first hand, having been in Europe most of the time since the war opened. He was sent there to study the war and economic and social conditions, and as he told much of the result of his observations it was most instructive as well as interesting.

He has great confidence in the German people, but not in their rulers. The following summary of his talk was given in the Goldenrod.

"German people would, I believe, accept the principles of democracy and end the war now, but the dynastic powers of that nation will give up their very lives before they submit to democracy," said the speaker in response to the question "When will the war end?"

In the course of his lecture he said:

"The recent revolt of the sailors of Kiel was proof of that. But such revolutions won't occur soon again because those men are paying for their revolt with their lives. If a silent vote of the German peasants could be taken they would want peace and democracy, but German officers can't understand why the world is not willing to lie down and accept their perfect government. They believe in their system, and will not soon give up their faith in converting the world to it—by force."

Germany Last Dynasty.
"A French sergeant I know expressed what I believe to be the real issue of the war this way. He said: 'The people have nothing; the people should have everything.' I have been behind the scenes in Europe and I know Germany as the only country still to countenance a dynasty. England has made her king a social power and Germany alone is ruled by an hereditary leader."

"There are today three castes of society wanting war. The dynastic caste which to save itself must have war to check democracy. This caste gives rise to the second group, the militarists. Militarism is necessary as a means of the dynasty for fulfilling his threats and force. One nation builds up a strong military organization and others must have the same in self-protection. Such was the case of France and England.

"The third caste is the plutocrats who think prosperity exists in war time and are willing to have war at that price. I had a monkey once who had cut off a part of his long tail. The monkey discovered the bloody stub and sucked it thinking it a new food source. That monkey was prosperous in war time. War time prosperity can exist only when individuals are willing to suck the blood of their own nation. Such individuals exist now in New York and other places, but those individuals altho they brought pressure to bear, did not bring on the war."

"Kultur" is Militarism.
"This war was brought on by the German philosophy of Kultur, which means not the French culture, but discipline. The word dynasty means power of authority. One of the powers the German kaiser has had it to evoke a philosophy strong enough to hold his people. He had the powers of chemistry and finance to uphold it, but he had also a N. Nellen and family are moving to Norfolk, where Mr. N. is going to establish a business in his line, and help supply monuments for the people who need them.

Messrs Mitchell and Christensen of the monument works of this city returned last week from a visit at the quarries of Minnesota and Wisconsin, and Mr. Mitchell tells us that they have two cars of the finest and best granites ever purchased for this part of the state.

Mrs. C. F. Gifford returned to Wayne Friday from Detroit, Michigan, where she was called two weeks ago on account of the serious illness of her mother. She was accompanied by her daughter, Frances, who has been attending school at Norfolk. She left her mother improving.

David Moler, who moved from Wayne a year ago to a place near Marshalltown, Iowa, spent part of last week with relatives and friends here, leaving Sunday for his home. He is able to be about with the aid of crutches, and is apparently in as good health as when he left Wayne.

Well here it is nearly Christmas again. Most of you are going to have pictures made to give as presents. Why not do it now and give us plenty of time to finish them. We will be very busy and you can avoid a lot of inconvenience by having your sittings made now before the rush starts. C. M. Craven.—adv.44-1f.

Mrs. Lester Cartwright went to Omaha Friday and brought her little girl to Wayne. The child is but two years old and has been in the Methodist hospital suffering with ulcers of the eyes. She seems to be completely recovered and Mrs. Cartwright went to Wolbach the first of the week to join her husband. They had a very pleasant visit here with Mr. and Mrs. P. G. James.

Vere Mann arrived Saturday and spent Sunday with his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dennis. Vere is an old Wayne boy having graduated from the Normal two years ago. He has been a teacher in the government's service in Porto Rico but has been called to the colors and left Monday morning for Omaha to report for duty. His stay here was short but he enjoyed meeting with relatives and old friends.

Professor A. V. Teed went to Norfolk Friday where he visited the rural schools of Madison county. He gave a lecture Friday evening in the Farmer's Union Hall near Meadow Grove and talked on the subject of "Consolidation of Rural Schools." Professor Teed is a firm believer in consolidated rural schools and says that wherever the experiment has been tried it has proved a great success.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Galley returned home from Camp Funston, Friday evening and Mrs. Elmer E. Galley arrived home Monday night. They had been down to visit Elmer E. Galley who is in the training camp. They say that he is looking fine as well as the rest of the Antelope county boys who are at the camp. The men are well fed and cared for and every thing is done in a business-like way at the training quarters.—Elgin Review.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Henderson visited over Sunday with their daughter Mrs. Geo. Dotson of Carroll. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson left for Marshall, Minnesota, Wednesday where they will make their home with relatives this winter. The old folks miss their son Allen, who was called to the colors and they think the days will be less lonely if spent with relatives while he is away in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Henderson and daughter accompanied the old folks making the trip by auto. They will spend Thanksgiving there with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ferguson accompanied by Miss Inez Elming started for Long Beach, California, Tuesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson will make their home at Long Beach the greater part of the winter and do not expect to return here before the first of April. Miss Elming will spend the winter with relatives at Ocean Beach and other California points.

Fred VanNorman from Dundee, Minnesota, came Sunday morning for a short visit with his brothers and friends here. He also wanted to look after his share of the corn crop on his farm here, which they wrote him was not keeping the best the kind of weather we have been having. He sold part of the crop while here, and arranged for the care of the rest. He says that the Minnesota corn is nothing to brag about this year in their part of the state.

VEGETOLE

WHAT IS IT?

VEGETOLE is an absolutely pure vegetable fat, processed to proper cooking consistency without anything being added to it. VEGETOLE supplies every body-need for fat without taxing digestion, is economical both in first cost and in use, and in cooking brings out the natural flavor of the foods.

The fact that it is an Armour Oval Label Product is in itself proof positive of its quality and purity. Recipes cannot go wrong if VEGETOLE is used.

What VEGETOLE Will Do.

VEGETOLE can be used wherever a shortening or fat is needed in baking, cooking or frying. As a shortening, it makes delicious, flaky pie-crust, cakes and biscuits.

For frying, it quickly forms that rich, golden-brown crust which permits thorough, digestible cooking. Further, because it can be used over and over without carrying flavors from one food to another, it is highly economical.

And best of all, because of its extremely high smoking point—over 150 degrees above the temperature required for cooking—it will not smoke up the kitchen and house.

Never sold in bulk, but put up in convenient sized pails—3 sizes—and sold to an increasing number of patrons at the

Will Open My Optical Parlors, December 1

I have recently returned from Chicago where I had the opportunity of working with and being instructed in the use of the latest instruments of which I have bought a complete outfit.

I will be ready to open my optical parlors at Dr. Williams' old rooms south of the Union hotel.

I feel that I am better able to diagnose all cases of refractive errors and diseases of the eye. I have had twenty-eight years of experience and this, with modern methods, makes me better able than ever to care for your eye trouble.

Hahn Will Accept N. S. T. A. Nomination.

In response to a notice from Miss Belle Ryan, secretary of the State Teacher's association, Dean H. Hahn of the Wayne State Normal school has expressed his willingness to accept the nomination for president of the association. Mr. Hahn has, for three successive years, been nominated for this position, withdrawing two years ago in favor of Dr. Luckey, and last year in favor of Miss Powell. He feels that he owes it to the teachers of the state to allow his name to be used in the election this year. Dean Hahn has many friends over the state who are very glad of an opportunity to vote for him for the head office, for they believe with him in the position taken below.

In announcing his acceptance Mr. Hahn made the following statement:

"I was not an active candidate for the nomination, but I am for the election. I wish my candidacy to go before the teachers as a protest against political activity and manipulation either before or during the meeting of the association. I am willing to abide by the choice the teachers make without an attempt to manipulate and organize their vote. My nominations and elections since the new plan is in operation is proof that they may be trusted in this matter. We were all pleased with the manner in which Miss Powell presided at the meetings of the recent association and the way its affairs were managed; and so with her predecessors.

"The new method of nominating and electing officers was instituted for the sole purpose of eliminating politics from this feature of the association. But the new plan seems to be susceptible of as much political manipulation as the old one. In all kindness my candidacy is to raise the issue as to whether the teachers want such activity to discredit the new plan. Any support the teachers may see fit to give my candidacy I shall interpret in the light of this issue."

SIX CARROLL BOYS ENLIST

Our neighboring town of Carroll is an all-American town and her people are the kind Uncle Sam needs in this time of stress. It is only a small town but has given its quota to the colors and Monday morning six more of their brave young men volunteered to help wipe the Kaiser off the map. They are: Rhodney Garwood, George Thomas, Will Collins, Clarence Woods, William and Mike Finn. Carroll relatives and friends who came to see them off were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Finn and daughter, Marguerite; Matt Finn, Winnie Collins, Alice Root, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denesia and Dan Stanton. These boys will all join the navy. Mr. and Mrs. Finn are certainly doing their bit. Two sons went Monday and the third, Clifford, planned to go Tuesday to join the aviators. Three from one family is plenty but their parents appear proud of the fact that it is their boys who can offer so much to their country. Garwood and Collins will enter for wireless service.

The next two weeks will see a great many of the young men who have felt that they should go into service offering to go, for after the 15th of December they will not be accepted thus, if they are registered, and by enlisting before that time they have more freedom of choice as to the branch of service they will accept.

Nothing you can send your soldier boy will give him as much pleasure and comfort as your photograph. You can't all visit your boys, but you can send them a new picture. Have it made now, don't wait. C. M. Craven.—adv-44-1f.

TEACHERS' MEETING A GREAT SUCCESS

At the county court room at Wayne Saturday, November 24, Miss Pearl Sewell, county superintendent, conducted one of the regular semi-annual teachers' meetings. A large number of teachers from over the county were present and all report an interesting and instructive meeting.

The program was exceptionally good and the interest in the whole day's session did not lag a moment from beginning to end. The forenoon's session started at 9:30 with a musical number by Miss Mable Trenary, supervisor of music in the Winside schools. Miss Trenary brought ten small children from the fifth and sixth grades of her school and the work they did certainly proved her ability as a teacher.

The reading circle work as taken up by Dean Hahn of the Normal was especially interesting. It seems, however, that this work is either misunderstood or neglected as the teachers do not give it the time they should. Reading circle work is a wonderful help to any teacher and the talk by Dean Hahn will no doubt arouse the teachers to its value as an assistant in their work.

The pupils of district number one, under the leadership of Miss Mildred Weber, sang some of the children's songs which delighted the audience.

At the afternoon session commencing at 1:15, Dean Hahn took up the reading circle work a few minutes after which Professor Coleman led in some community songs, the old favorites, "The Star Spangled Banner," "Old Black Joe," "America," etc. This part of the program was perhaps enjoyed more than any other. Professor Coleman seems to be able to make one forget self and the singing was the more sincere because no one felt that they were being criticized.

Miss Loretta Hickey, who teaches in district number 32, came fourteen miles to attend bringing with her six pupils from the third and fourth grades of her school. The numbers by the little folks speak well for her interest in her work.

A short talk by Miss Alma Blandin home demonstration agent, was timely. The teachers can be a great help to the country in this crisis and in no greater way than to lend their aid to Miss Blandin in carrying out her plans along these lines.

Attorney Davis gave one of his famous short talks on "Practical Patriotism." Mr. Davis is never too busy to help any good cause and has become a favorite in his ever-ready willingness at this time.

ANOTHER DRIVE COMING DECEMBER FIFTEENTH

This time it is the women of Nebraska, those who make up the committee of the state council of defense. These women have been doing and are doing a great work for the people and for the efficiency of the men who have gone forward to fight our battle. They organize by states, the states by counties, and then they make use of the clubs and societies already organized, and let neither creed, color nor sect interfere. Any woman who believes in American principles and institutions is entitled to membership. Their work is classified by the following departments of work, and they have already accomplished much to merit your support.

1. Registration for service.
2. Food production.
3. Food conservation.
4. Home economics.
5. Women in industry.
6. Child welfare.
7. Maintaining existing social service agencies.
8. Creating Moral and Spiritual forces (health and recreation)
9. Educational propaganda.
10. Americanization (naturalization of foreigners).
11. Liberty Loan.
12. Red Cross and Allied relief.

How is the woman's committee to be enabled to continue its activities? Only by the support of the public at large. The appropriation by the legislature has been so small that a public appeal has been necessary. The woman's committee appeals to the public in Nebraska to give support to this necessary co-ordinating work which is the backbone of all the war relief among women. An especial day, the 15th of December, has been set aside for the campaign to raise funds for the Nebraska state division of woman's work of the council of national defense.

Our woman's county council of defense has been organized but a short time but has accomplished a great deal of work. They took charge of the registration of women, September 12, at which time over one thousand women registered for patriotic service. They also took an active part in the Liberty loan drive, thru the efforts of their members they

Next Saturday will be the Opening day for the Xmas season at the Variety Store.

The display of Holiday Goods is now ready and awaiting your inspection.

I have tried and I think I have succeeded to gather together the most complete and pleasing stock of Xmas Goods and you will be surprised, considering the abnormal times, at the big showing the Variety Store is able to make this year in Holiday Goods of all descriptions. They include practical and desirable gifts for the young and old, brother and sister, father and mother. All these gifts have been selected with an eye to their utilization and while I have a large variety of Holiday Merchandise, in which every taste and style is considered, yet service and practicability is never overlooked.

I am glad to welcome visitors and proud to show the Goods.

The first week of the Holiday season this year will be devoted especially to Toys.

Toys are not as plentiful as in former years, at least some lines are not. And while I have a complete line now, I am sure one week's selling will clean out the supply on hand of some of them with no chance to replace them. It is therefore none too early to buy your toys right now. Do it during

THANKSGIVING

Today is our national Thanksgiving day and it is right and proper for all to pause and bow the head and enumerate, so far as possible, the many things for which we should be thankful. Health comes first, perhaps. Opportunity to help others is a great blessing. Most of us should be thankful that our part in the great world war does not require the "supreme sacrifice" so many are called upon to make. True, many who are near and dear to us are on their way to battlefields to brave its death-danger; but the great mass of our people are apparently living in peace and quiet scarcely knowing that we are active in carrying aid to a people who stand in sore need of having the blessings of a free government given to them.

A bounteous harvest has been given the people of this great commonwealth, and health, wealth and prosperity abounds on every hand and for all this let us truly give thanks by doing all within our power to uplift and cheer those less fortunate than ourselves.

WHY NOT IN WAYNE COUNTY

The Monday World-Herald took space on its editorial page to call attention to the fact that sorghum—the real kind made on the farm from cane grown at or near home is hard to obtain. The editor then paid tribute to this once famous sweetening and household necessity.

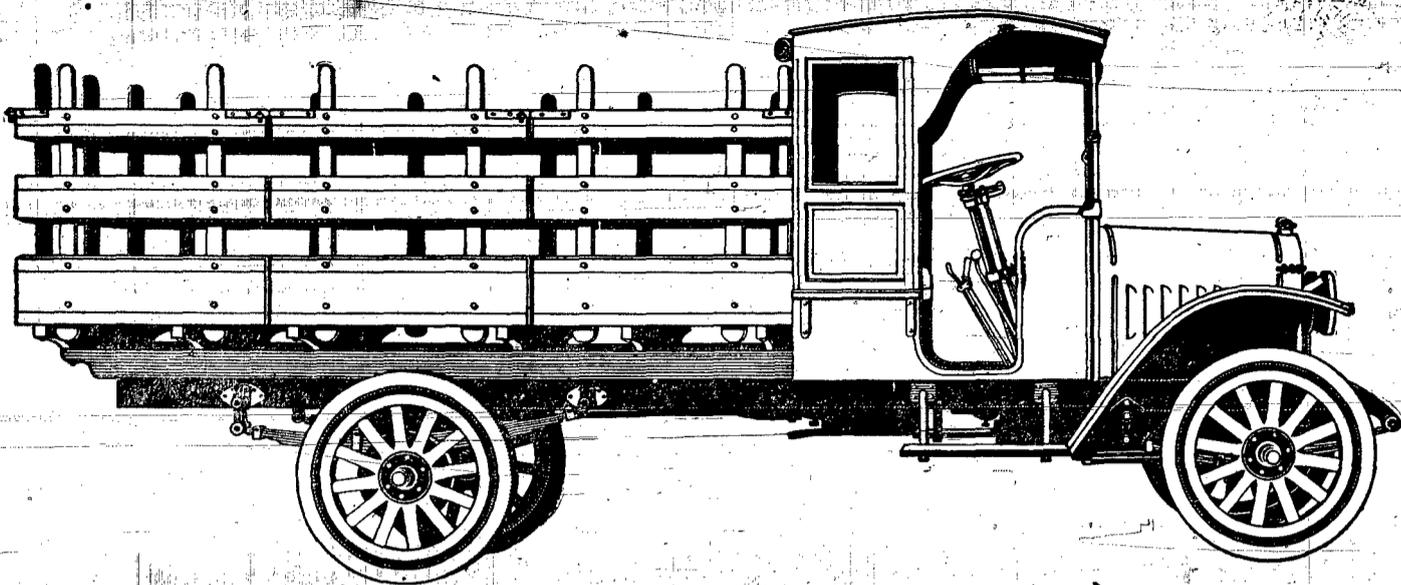

Since coming to Wayne the editor of this paper has tried to get the real sorghum from one we knew in Iowa who makes the real thing—and twice have failed to get an order in time to receive a supply. Once we accepted a shipment of the commercial product put up and labeled, but no more of that, thank you. This year, acting as a distributor for a few neighbors and friends, we ordered early a dozen gallons, and the good taste has gone out from that syrup until we have asked if it is possible to get another dozen.

But that is not the point. Why should not some one procure an equipment here for converting cane juice into molasses, and then induce a few farmers to put in a bit of cane and make it up on shares or for cash or buy the cane? We believe such a move would be profitable, and the Democrat will be glad to cooperate and give some publicity to help the thing start. If some one will attempt to supply the local demand at least with the real "long sweetening."

The letters from the young men in our country's service which have been appearing from time to time in the Democrat are read with interest by our readers. Many times people stop the reporter and ask when there will be another letter. It will be grateful news to the boys to know that their letters are appreciated and we hope for more letters and that the boys will write often for publication. A subscriber living in Michigan wrote last week saying that while acquainted with but few of the boys from here, and with but one of those whose letters we have used, that she always reads that part of the Democrat with much interest and hopes we can give such reports often—because—well, because she has those near and dear to service and the conditions which surround these boys are of vital interest. What is true of one may be true of those in whom others are more deeply interested.

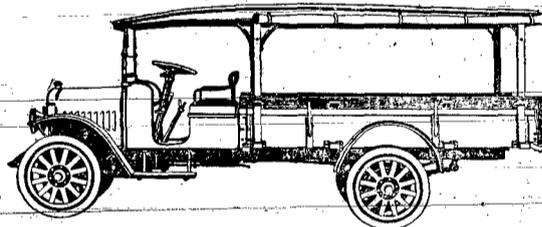

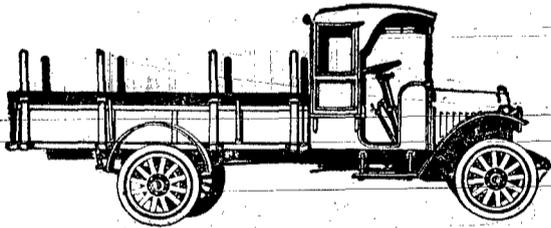

Sunday next is in many places, we are told to be observed by the pastors in a campaign against tuberculosis. Better try fresh air and clean living conditions. We believe that much tuberculosis is preventable, and this is a work for any and all the people all of the time, and the preachers may aid with a service devoted to telling the people what should be done, but that is not going to eradicate the plague.

There Was an Eager Rush for Beans
It is a significant thing to see a man who has made as much of a success of life as W. S. Weston has to notice anything so small as a few beans which should be picked up and used instead of being left to spoil on the ground. There is not a man in Hartington who is willing to give more generously to any good cause than Mr. Weston, but he can not bear to see anything lost. It is the thrift which has made him a great figure in our economic life and the generosity which has made him a respected man in our social community that will not permit him to overlook the smallest commodity which may be of benefit to anybody. That this interest on his part was understood and appreciated by our people was evident from the fact that The Herald containing his notice had not been out for more than three hours when the scout garden was filled with pickers and not a bean was destroyed.—Hartington Herald.

Corn in Bad Shape.
According to reports, corn is not keeping well this fall and the farmers in this community are put to a lot of trouble and worry to keep the crop from burning and rotting after it has been gathered. It appears that the corn froze too hard all at once early in the fall. Had the cold frosty weather continued there would have been no trouble since in that case the corn would have frozen dry in due time. The warm weather that has prevailed the past month has on the other hand resulted in much soft and wet corn. Some of the corn that was cribbed early in the fall, we are told, has had to be removed and scattered to keep from burning and piles stacked in the yard have had to be shoveled and turned for the same reason. Frosty, snappy weather would save the corn but if the present mild weather continues for any length of time there is danger that much of the corn will be spoiled.

That is the information we get from the farmers.—Wausa Gazette.

"A GOOD FOR NOTHING HUSBAND"

Perhaps the cleverest cast of players ever with an attraction in the middle west will be seen at the Wayne Opera House on Saturday night, December 1, when Robert Sherman's "big comedy success" "A Good for Nothing Husband" will be presented.

There are a great many shows that will be seen in Wayne this season, but the management of the theatre are most enthusiastic in their praise of this play.

"A Good for Nothing Husband" is one of the funniest comedies of the day and age and what goes to make it more than interesting to the spectator is the fact that it is not alone built for laughing purposes, but also has a stirring and interesting plot that serves to add zest and flavor to the comedy and hold the attention of the audience thruout the entire play.

Added to this the producer Mr. Robert Sherman has given the play a lavish scenic production, leaving nothing wanting to add to the delightful realism of the performance either in settings or stage equipment. The players have been most carefully selected both for their fitness for the roles assigned and the types necessary to give a delightful entertainment.

Chicago mail order houses report a gain of 20 to 25 per cent over the business of last year. This is evidently a fair measure of the increased business activity of the country. These concerns do not appear to be gaining upon the trade of the country stores, for wherever you go thruout the west and northwest the small towns report a steady growth in business and a remarkable ease in the movement of money.

IN MEXICO

There are still, in or out of Mexico, men with money who think they see a chance to profit by harassing the Mexican government. This is the only explanation of the reappearance of Villa with more than a mere band of men and munitions. It may be the landed aristocracy which the revolution has overthrown. It may be owners of mineral deposits which the new government insists must either be developed or abandoned to those who will develop them. It may be Germany bent on making it impossible for Mexico to do as Brazil has done, and perhaps even hoping to bring the aim of the celebrated Zimmerman note to fruition. A raid by Villa across the border might be a good German maneuver.

Mexico has the work of a generation in recuperating from the fever thru which it has just passed. It needs peace. It could not make war effectively. Its wise policy is obviously to keep out of the world war, tho a declaration of sympathy would do no harm. There is small reason to believe, however, that the resurgence of Villa will either force the Mexican government to make terms with the opponents of the revolution or lead Mexico into entanglements with the United States.

President Carranza walks daily from the castle at Chapultepec to the national palace in Mexico City, a distance of about three miles, unguarded and unattended. Mexico City is crowded now with close to a million people. Yet the president of Mexico goes abroad less guarded than the president of the United States. If the degree of order and good feeling which this reflects has been attained in Mexico City, the new government must be on pretty solid foundations. In truth, thru nearly all of Mexico, the schools and the industries are running on full time. Eleven thousand Mexicans are rebuilding the 12,000 railway freight cars and locomotives wrecked during the revolution. Visitors are amazed at the industrial and commercial progress which the country has made in the past year. True, there are still sections in revolt, especially in mountain districts where outlawry is as hard to suppress as our own Indian uprisings used to be. But in point of population and wealth, this is a small part of Mexico.

There is a delightful number of reasons, on the whole, to believe that whoever is financing the new Villa outbreak is losing his money for his pains, says the State Journal.

The Aurora Republican objects to having Senator Norris classed as a republican, which we take is an evidence that Editor Perkins is showing signs of repentance for the act of the republicans in foisting Norris into office. Here is what Brother Perkins says:

"As a party newspaper of reasonably respectable standing the Republican resents the suggestion that Senator Norris is running for reelection as a republican candidate. Republicans generally are supporting the government in the prosecution of the war to a victorious conclusion. They are not embarrassing the President with demands that he shall continually re-iterate the terms upon which he will entertain a proposal of peace."

LETTER FROM CAMP PIKE

Camp Pike, Arkansas, Nov. 18. Dear Friends:

Well, I thought it was about time for me to write to my Wayne friends and tell them some camp news. We left Camp Funston and arrived here all right on the morning of the 8th. There were about 102 of us came down here. We left Camp Funston about four o'clock in the evening, traveled all night, all the next day and all that night, never leaving the train until we had landed at Camp Pike. We stopped at different stations along the route and got hot coffee, bread etc., to eat. One place along the way the Red Cross was ready with a feed for us hungry soldiers. They gave us apples, coffee, strawberry jam and apple sauce, all we wanted to eat. We sure appreciated their kindness. We had Pullman cars so we did not mind the trip.

On our way down here I saw something I never saw before—negroes working in the cotton fields in Oklahoma. Along the railroad where the road was enclosed we could see them hauling the cotton to town in bales and we saw them waiting their turn to drive up and unload them. Some of them were unloading them onto the ground.

I saw several log houses and I also saw the timber from which the logs were taken. They had it piled in a large pile. The soil along the road is a bluish color and down here it looks like clay. I think we passed coal mines also on the way down, there was a large pile of coal piled near the railroad.

The climate is fine down here, the wind doesn't blow like it did at Funston. Only two of the Wayne boys came down with me. They are Emil Daigberg and Charley Apgar.

I told you I would send you a picture of the company but thru a misunderstanding I didn't get mine. I will try to get it later.

With love to all my friends, I am,

Very sincerely,
Orra Martin.

WAR ACTIVITIES IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23, 1917.—The population of the city of Washington has increased at least 50,000 since the war began. It is natural that the capital city, the center of governmental activities, should show this marked effect of the most extensive preparation for war ever undertaken by any country. A steady stream of new appointees to the great civilian army pours into the city; the streets hum with activity; everybody is busy and earnest; on every hand are the sure signs of a competent organization with a fixed purpose.

At the request of the United States civil service commission the Washington Chamber of Commerce has undertaken the work of directing to suitable rooming and boarding places the new arrivals who are not acquainted in the city. Hundreds of desirable rooms, with or without board, are listed, and at very moderate rates. Application for accommodations can be made by new appointees thru correspondence before leaving home or by calling at the office of the Washington chamber of commerce, No. 611 Twelfth street, N. W., upon their arrival in Washington.

Stenographers and typewriters make up a large part of the additions to the force at Washington. Thousands have been appointed and thousands more are needed. Ship draftsmen for the Navy Department, mechanical draftsmen for the service generally, and statisticians and what are known as clerks qualified in statistics or accounting, index and catalog clerks, balance of stores clerks, and schedule clerks for the ordnance department of the army are also in great demand. Representatives of the United States civil service commission at the postoffices in all cities are furnishing detailed information concerning positions at Washington in which workers are needed.

QUICK

easy starts in the coldest winter weather and lightning-like pick-ups when the motor is running on Red Crown Gasoline. Red Crown vaporizes readily—even when the motor is stone-cold. The cylinders draw in a full charge of gas that explodes at the first tiny spark. That's why Red Crown saves the batteries of your starter. And if you want a sudden burst of speed—in dodging through traffic, or on a country road—you'll get it if Red Crown Gasoline is in the tank. For every drop is full of punch and power. And every gallon is like every other gallon—dependable and pure. Get Red Crown wherever you see the sign—at our Service Stations and all good garages. The best winter lubricant is Polarine. Flows freely in zero weather; oils perfectly at any temperature.

EAT MORE CHEESE!

(By Home Demonstration Agent)
Are you keeping a "meatless day" in your household?

Have you considered cheese in the diet as a real meat substitute?

"Store" cheese, more properly known as American Cheddar, is more nourishing pound for pound than meat. Do you know that one pound of cheese supplies more than twice as much energy as a pound of fowl or round steak, and almost twice as much protein as the same amount of fowl or ham? It is therefore a cheaper food than the meats.

Few people in this country eat cheese in sufficient quantities for it to form an important part of the daily fare. We use it too often as an appetizer, or as a seasoning—not as a real food. But you say, "I cannot eat cheese. It does not agree with me." Probably you have been eating it with a heavy dessert at the end of a heavy meal. Probably not the cheese, but the rest of the meal gave you indigestion. Did you ever think of that?

Extensive digestion experiments, carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture, have demonstrated that more than 95 percent of the protein of cheese is digested, and 90 per cent of its energy is available. Cheese, properly prepared, eaten in large amounts, and for long periods, did not cause any disturbance in digestion.

Try this for a "meatless day" dish:
Baked Hominy and Cheese.

2 cups cooked hominy
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon oleomargarine
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon salt
pepper or paprika
½ cup grated cheese
¾ cup bread crumbs
Make a white sauce of milk, fat and flour. Place the hominy and cheese in alternate layers in a buttered baking dish. Pour the white sauce over this. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake for about 15 minutes.

INTERESTING "WIRELESS NEWS"

The following letter was received this week from E. L. Eaton, a captain in the signal corps. We print it because it is of great interest to the public to know how cheerfully our wireless operators are doing their duty. To these brave men who have gone in the service for us we owe a great debt of gratitude.

On board the "Camilla Rickmers," Singapore (Federated Malay States) August 7, 1917.

Dear Friend: Under very sudden orders I left Corregidor on June 23 and reported on this ship for duty as wireless operator. I was certainly glad to get away from Corregidor station as nearly four years wireless work at one station gives one quite enough of one place. All that I am at liberty to tell you is that we are bound for "somewhere" and will arrive there sometime.

This is a very nice ship, about 450 feet long and has only been built three years. It is one of the German ships that were interned in Manila Bay and then seized by the United States when war was declared.

Uncle Sam has other forts:

Than these along the bay;
They're floating on the ocean
And they're painted battle-gray.

While way up in the wireless room

Prepared to do his best
You'll find a soldier laddie
With a brave heart in his breast.

He's not afraid of submarines;

He's not afraid of lead,
He's ready in the wireless room
While you're asleep in bed.

He's hifty with a rifle

He can use a six-gun well
But he only needs a wireless spark
To send a Hun to h—

He's ready for the Tonton

And he's ready for the Turk;
Throw in a few Bulgarians—
'Twill speed him in his work.

He's seen the world from Frisco to Manila.

And from Peking to Peru;
The "Stars and Stripes" are first with him,
Let them be first with you.

So wireless, wireless,

Send the word abroad—
For the Allies and Uncle Sam-u-el
He'd die and face his God.

HELLO - HELLO

By more than $3,000, the 408th battalion, U. S. Signal corps, which includes the Bell telephone employees who volunteered from this state, recently carried off the honors in the second liberty loan campaign conducted among the signal corps battalions at Little Silver, New Jersey.

The battalion of Bell telephone men from this vicinity bought bonds amounting to $22,550 while the next highest battalion subscribed but $19,250.

While these former Bell telephone employees were carrying off camp honors, 2,137 of their associates at home subscribed for $127,550 in second liberty loan bonds or $26,550 more than they took of the first liberty loan. By making these subscriptions thru the company, telephone employees are enabled to pay for their bonds on a monthly installment basis.

HELPING OTHERS

(From the Goldenrod)

If we do not leave the world in better condition than it was when we entered it, we deserve never to have lived at all.

"May every soul that touches mine—Be it the slightest contact—get therefrom some good."

Some little grace, one kindly thought, One inspiration yet unfelt, one bit of courage

For the darkening sky, one gleam of faith

To brave the thickening mists of life, One glimpse of brighter skies beyond the gathering mist,

To make this life worth while, And heaven a surer heritage."

Some human beings are so low and sordid, so ruthless and grasping, so arrogant and overbearing, so inhuman and selfish that they trample everyone and everything underfoot that crosses their path. On the other hand there are pure souls that possess the best minds, the purest hearts, the finest, most unselfish natures and who are a continual benediction to those who come their way.

David Graham Phillips says, "When one meets most so-called great men—your great men down town, for example—one realizes that they owe almost everything to their slyness, that they steal labor of hands and brains of others who are superior to them in every way but craft and unscrupulousness." These are the men who add nothing to the sum total of human happiness and progress, and will leave the world in worse condition than when they entered it. In striking contrast to these are the noble, unselfish souls who are constantly trying to add to human happiness and universal advancement.

Reverend Francis E. Clark describes one such man: "I have known more brilliant men at least many more showy men. He was a good deal of a recluse. One could not seem to get very near him. You could never get enough of him. He was not a good mixer. He never sought popularity and applause. He often took the unpopular side. He never occupied very high positions, or tried to shine on platform or in pulpit; yet how people honored and loved him! And when he died, how people mourned! He lacked many popular qualities, but he was greatly unselfish and he won a place among young and old because of his great unselfishness."

"Is life worth living? Yes, so long as there is wrong to fight, Wall of the weak against the strong, Or tyranny to fight; Long as there lingers gloom to chase, Or streaming tears to dry,

One kindred woe, one sorrowing face That smiles as we draw nigh; Long as a tale of anguish swells The heart, and lids grow wet, And at the sound of Christmas bells We pardon and forget;

So long as Faith with Freedom reigns And loyal hope survives, And gracious charity remains To lighten lowly lives; While there is one untrodden tract For intellect or will

And men are free to think and act, Life is worth living still."

—H. H. Hickman.

THE JOHNNY-YANKS

(From Somewhere in Europe)
T. C. McConnell in Louisville Courier Journal.

My mother's dad fought under Lee;
Dad fought in Sherman's ranks,
It's in the blood, so as for me,
I'm with the Johnny-Yanks.

The Frenchman, Englishman and Scot

The Irishman and Maux,
All shouted "Bravo," when they caught
A glimpse of Johnny-Yanks.
The Kaiser sneered, "They fight me!—Vat?"
I welcome tem mit tanks,
A breakfast dish for Me und Gott,
Vill be tem Schonnny-Yanks."

So I suppose we'll have to treat
K—B— for "lunprank,"
And hear him howl, "Mein Gott, you cheat,
You're mit tem Schonnny-Yanks!"

Don't call us Sammies any more;
(It "don't go" in the ranks.)
Nor other nicknames, three or four;
Just call us Johnny-Yanks.

"That name's too long," headliners shout.
"We must decline with thanks,
Well, we have shot the hyphen out."
Just write it "Jonyanks."

Girl's Statement Will Help Wayne
Here is the girl's own story: "For years I had dyspepsia, sour stomach and constipation. I drank not water and olive oil by the gallon. Nothing helped until I tried buckthorn bark, glycerins, etc., as mixed in Adler-I-ka. ONE SPOONFUL helped me INSTANTLY." Because Adler-I-ka flushes the ENTIRE alimentary tract it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. H. J. Felber, druggist. 3.

TELLING MUCH OF SOLDIER LIFE AT CAMP CODY

Fritz Dimmel of Winside, who went into Uncle Sam's service, and is now at Camp Cody, has written an interesting letter to the editor of the Winside Tribune, where he was for a time employed learning the business. His letter contains so much that is interesting that we reproduce a portion of it, and it is all so interesting that we scarcely know what to omit:

This soldier life isn't a bad life at all—that is, so far—it's like holding down any other job—minus one privilege—you can't quit but personally I wouldn't care to quit, just yet not having seen enough service to be satisfied that I have had enough. Several thousand drafted men have arrived from Camp Dodge and Funston to fill up incomplete units in the 34 divisions. Perhaps you have heard that among the Funston men sent here were: Irvin Lyons, Frank Krause, Fred Cadwallader and young Parker. Frank Krause is in Co. C 108th engineers or in the same regiment as are the other Winside boys. The other three boys I think are in the 58th Depot brigade. The other Winside boys are in the best of health and spirits. Bill Rhudy spends most of the time shining up his leather leggings or combing his hair pompadour and has most of the rookies saluting him when they meet him on the streets of Deming. Howard Porter is continually talking and his tent mates say that he even talks in his sleep for fear that someone else will wake up in the morning and beat him to the word. Henry Nelson bustles himself with writing to his girl each night, Dutch Hansen is always looking for a victim to throw his out-curve at. Jesse Johnson writes poetry and draws cruel cartoons of the kaiser; Fred Hansen is usually present or accounted for at or on the way to the canteen, Jesse Witte is calling for a natural or picking over a full house and Louie Meyer, who by the way has been transferred to the signal corps can be found wherever there's a band found playing. Frank Krause is nursing and coaxing along a French moustache and it occupies much of his spare time making it fit his upper lip. As for myself, keeps me busy keeping out of trouble and the kitchen, and so our little family lives on and learns more of the part each will play in the war.

A gigantic stadium built for the soldiers for athletics of all kinds was completed and dedicated last Saturday. A 300 piece band composed of practically every band in this division furnished the music for the occasion which included wrestling and boxing by some of the best men of these sports in the middle west. There were about 10,000 soldiers present. There were several woman guests and 3 French officers sent to this camp to assist in training the men in the various branches of the army. An epidemic of measles has broken out in camp and several companies have been quarantined; among them is Co. I, in our regiment and Co. C of the 127th artillery which is Guy Meade's company. The engineers are going thru an intensive siege of training and are becoming remarkably proficient in building trenches and barbed wire entanglements. The trenches are constructed on the same plans as those in France and the work is said to compare with that of "Vets." The entire camp it seems is now in intensive training and the progress the various organizations and branches of the service are making are more than encouraging and by the time they have put the finishing touches on us fellows we'll live up to all the expectations don't forget that.

We are now doing mostly detail work such as unloading engineers supplies from the cars into our warehouses and hauling wood for this winter's use. We haven't received all our train equipment as yet so far have had little training in our particular line of duty. We have only four teams of mules and the saddle horses for the officers and non-commissioned officers, the balance of the mules about 103 head we expect any time. We have had some bayonet and signal drill but will be required to do little drifting and we have turned in our rifles, part of which were given to other organizations where the manual of arms is more necessary, once we receive our equipment we will do little else than haul material to the engineers.

Altho our ration allowance was cut from 43 to 41 cents a day a short time ago we are being well fed and most fellows are outgrowing their first uniforms. Occasionally we receive chicken, ice cream, and pie, generally on Sunday and the way the fellows make thru these luxuries would scare a railroad gang cook. We have two half holidays and each Sunday in the week off for recreation, baths or washing our clothes. Baseball is the principle recreation and many good games are played on the three days, Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The engineers team have played three games and won three. While the engineers regiment team has met every worthy rival team in the division and defeated them all. Next Sunday the team plays a club picked from the entire division. Such players as Rouse, Ramsey, Kelly, Kane, Halladay and Shaeffer play with the engineers and most of these are probably known to Winside fans having played the state league base ball.

Speaking of the baths we are compelled to take at least two baths a week and wash our clothes at least once a week. Washing clothes is about as disagreeable a job as confronts us, but I might say and with all due modesty that we wash our clothes as clean if not cleaner than ninety per cent of the laundries. We take our ivory soap and wash brushes and "roll into 'em" and if soap and energy can do the job we have some time both in length and cleanliness. The fellow that is somewhat shy of water is at length invited to take a bath and if that fails to move him, the bunch do it for him and without his consent. And so it is, the important factor in the health of the compulsory. And if you knew any of the puny, sickly and apparently broken down that surprised you by being accepted in the army, you will be doubly surprised to see what a change this camp life has wrought in them, its making men out of them and don't be surprised either if some of these little fellows jump astraddle some big stiff that's always carrying a block on his shoulder, and knock his block off because boxing is perhaps the most popular army sport and if you don't pick a match for yourself, they will pick one for you and you're not so apt to be as fortunate in that case. Then too, they seldom have a fist fight in this division, if an argument or trouble rises between a pair of men which cannot be settled by arbitration, they get the boxing gloves and let them settle it that way and generally is settled in a more decisive and satisfactory way than the bare knuckles. If the bare knuckles are used and the pair detected by an officer they usually work in the kitchen a few days washing frying pans, peeling spuds and waiting on the other fellows at meal time, this is about as severe a punishment as can be dealt an offender and he feels it keenly; for a "Kitchen Kop" as they call them is never done, he is called about 4 a. m. and works until 7 p. m. and when he is thru and placed in the kitchen as punishment he is confined to his quarters (his tent) and not allowed to leave the company. Of course kitchen police are necessary and except as a punishment each man except officers and non-commissioned officers, or men in charge of a tent, all must serve their turn.

We had a pay day last week, pay day usually comes on or about the 5th day of each month and is always heralded about a week in advance and by the time it arrives a man's nerves and patience are almost wrecked (and so are his last month's pay). A wagoner in our train receives corporals pay, $36; privates $30 and first class privates (truck drivers in the train) $33. There are 27 wagoners, 27 privates, and 14 first class privates in our company. Bill Rhudy, Howard Porter and Henry are privates and I am a wagoner. There are also two horseshoers, one sad-

THE BRUNSWICK

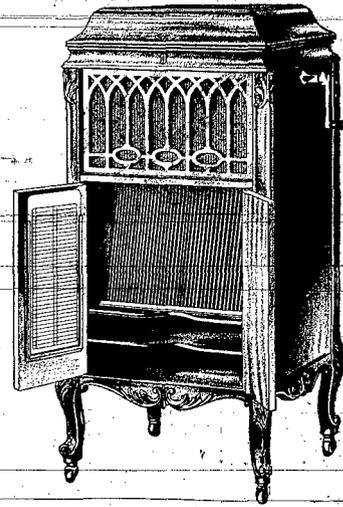

Unlocks the Gates for All Lovers of Music!

Until the coming of the Brunswick, music lovers had to buy and play records made by the makers of their phonographs. This meant barring many of the favorite artists. It meant a limited selection.

For instance, the Brunswick makes it possible for you to now enjoy the famous Pathe records, Europe's favorites. The wonderful Pathe records cannot be played on ordinary phonographs. The Brunswick provides a sound box for the Pathe records without extra cost.

Now you may buy any record you want, whatever make, and the Brunswick will play it as you never heard it played before. The Brunswick plays all records. It is all phonographs in one. It opens the gate to a new world of music, hitherto limited.

Hear the Brunswick yourself, then decide. We leave it to you, after making comparison. We know you will agree with thousands of others that the Brunswick has a better tone, and that its many features make it the phonograph you always wanted.

der one bugler, two cooks, eight non-commissioned and two officers in our train. The corporals, saddlers and horseshoers receive $38 a month in the train and the sergeants and cooks $44 and buglers $30. Each regiment is paid off on the same day. Most of the spare change is immediately put into circulation at Deming.

They have imported a score or more of singing girls and opened a dozen or so bone dry parlors and "Sammy" tells the painted lady what he would like to have her sing. She responds immediately in a wondrous chorus girls tenor, acts it out and Sammy pays—and pays well. What the bone-dry joints don't get the photo galleries and the jews (jewelry stores) get—anyhow they get it. Most of the fellows are rather skeptical about the sugar famine up north as most of them receive candy regularly they fear the sugar famine will out of their candy supply. The weather is fine here much like Nebraska summer altho not so hot. And while the nights are uncomfortably chilly we are comfortably quartered, the government having issued stoves and extra blankets and wood floors, sides, backs and fronts in our tents. Our tents look much like a clean kept home and extra clothes and other articles cannot be seen lying on the cots or on the floor. Most of us have made trunks of the timber or loose lumber lying around camps and everything is neatly stowed away. We have our quarters inspected once a week, each Saturday and our tent has never had a bad report. Owing to much sickness which is prevalent in camp we are compelled to furl our tents each day from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. so that the contents may be thoroughly aired and sunned.

A party of us visited the largest mountains near the camp which is 14 miles distant and after climbing a few hundred feet most of us were willing to return to terra firma; the air becomes very thin at the height we reached and few of us could accustom ourselves to it. The campsite is almost a mile above sea level and when we first arrived here many of us suffered from the high altitude. Well Roy, I have said my bit and knowing that much of this you may not find interesting. Will avoid further waste of time. As always, Your Friend, Fritz Dimmel. 109th Engineers train, Camp Cody, New Mexico.

Ralph Berridge of Wausau was a visitor Monday. Ralph is now located at Fort Omaha and is in the signal corps. He had been to Wausau on a furlough.

The Nation's Need Ahead of Yours

Immediately upon the declaration of war, the whole Bell Telephone System, including our service, our equipment and our trained men, was pledged, unreservedly, to the government.

We have been called upon for men for the army signal corps, for telephone equipment for the camps at home and the troops in the field and for long distance service between the various army headquarters.

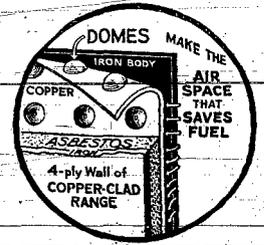

We can perform our full measure of service to the nation only when we handle government requirements ahead of all private needs.

Asbestos Sweats When Heated

SWEAT RUSTS

Asbestos sweats when heated and when a range is fired up the heat drives the moisture out of the asbestos and drives it to the cold side. There, on the cold iron body, this moisture condenses, sweats and rusts.

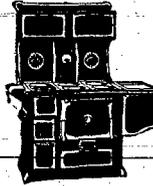

Sweat-rust takes hold on the inside where you never suspect it. A good range must be thrown away because the body is rusted out—destroyed. It was destroyed by the great foe of all iron and steel—Sweat-Rust.

Saves Fuel.

Without the asbestos wrapping, the heat would pass off quickly, as it does from a sheet iron heating stove. You would have to be shoveling fuel all the time, then it would be either too hot or too cold. With asbestos, the heat is caged and you get the full benefit of it.

Asbestos saves millions of dollars' worth of fuel every year. It is fully justified, and no stove maker would think of quitting asbestos. It is true, asbestos does sweat, but the sheet of copper between the asbestos and the wall stops all Sweat-Rust, in Copper-Clad Ranges, no matter how much it sweats.

THE COPPER-CLAD

The Copper-Clad patents cover "Any Rust-Proof material placed between the asbestos and the outer casing or range body."

SOCIAL NOTES

The home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Neilen was the scene of great merry-making Friday evening when about twenty-five friends of their son, Carlton, walked in and gave him a farewell. The guests assembled at the Rev. Fetterolf home and went to the Neifen home in a body. Carlton soon recovered from the surprise, however, and entered into the fun of the evening. Games were played and the evening was very enjoyable. One of the features of the evening was a mock wedding, Luther Fetterolf playing the part of the minister performed the ceremony that "led for life" Carlton Neilen and Miss Viola Bastain. Light refreshments were served. Carlton will be missed greatly among the many friends he had made, while at Wayne and their good wishes go with him to his new home at Norfolk.

Miss Mack Entertains.
Miss Josephine Mack gave a three-course dinner Sunday at 1:30 p. m. to the following guests: Misses Martha Kiepke, Clara Brodhagen, Fidora Friedrich and Elizabeth Raabe all of Norfolk and Misses Eleanor Schwichtenburg, Elsie Friedrich, Minnie Marquardt and Myrtle Butterfield all of the Normal. The young ladies enjoyed Miss Mack's hospitality and feel deeply grateful for her kindness. The afternoon was pleasantly spent socially and the Norfolk young ladies left for their homes on the evening train.

At the high school Thursday evening last the freshmen entertained the sophomores. It was one of those school events full of life and fun and that everybody had a glorious time goes without saying. Games such as "Going to Jerusalem," "Happy is the Miller," and "Magic Questions" were played. The old favorite Virginia reel was danced by the happy guests. Light refreshments were served after which the guests departed with a thankfulness to the "freshies" for an evening of pleasure.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. J. H. Boyce Friday, December 7. Mrs. E. Ellis will have charge of devotions, Mrs. Boyce will give a musical number. There will also be several ten minute papers. Mrs. A. M. Heit will read a paper on "The Effect of Suffrage on the Woman Herself." Mrs. A. A. Wollert will have a paper on "The Effect of Suffrage on the World." The afternoon will undoubtedly be one of pleasure.

Tuesday evening, December 4th is the regular meeting night of the Royal Neighbors. There is important business for this meeting. Election of officers. Report of Red Cross Committee. The presence of every member is particularly desired at this time. Come out and spend the evening. At the close of the business session refreshments will be served and a social hour spent.

The Perry Theobald home was the scene of a merry time Saturday afternoon last when about fifty-five little children gathered to help Miss Marion Jo celebrate her sixth birthday. The afternoon was spent playing children's games and listening while Mrs. Theobald read stories. Refreshments were served. The children roted little Marion Jo and her mama royal entertainers.

The Monday club met this week with Mrs. H. H. Hahn. Roll call was responded to by new recipes along the lines of food conservation. In the absence of Mrs. G. J. Hess, who was to have a paper on "What to Eat in War Time," the subject was taken up by Mrs. Hahn. Mrs. Hess sent her manuscript and it proved to be very interesting.

The Acme club met with Mrs. A. M. Jacobs Monday. Current events and discussion took part of the time. The balance was spent in Red Cross work. It was a very interesting meeting. The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. H. Ellis at which time Mrs. C. E. Carhart will be the leader.

A large number of young ladies attended the girl's Bible circle at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Clasen last week, and report a very interesting session.

The Baptist Missionary society will meet at the home of Mrs. E. C. Sprague on Friday afternoon November 30, at 2:30. A good attendance is desired.

The Shakespeare club will meet with Miss Luers Tuesday evening, December 4. Members will respond to roll call with their assigned subjects.

The Bible circle met at the Carl Lewis home, and a good meeting is reported. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. H. Wright.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. O. A. Chace gave a one o'clock dinner. It was a family dinner and was one of Mrs. Chace's famous spreads.

The P. E. O. will meet with Mrs. John Hufford Monday evening, December 3.

power above the people identified with it. God, the people couldn't touch except thru the kaiser, his mediator.

"Being a perfect form of government, it must be spread over the world. Of course, there were, under the kaiser, dukes and noblemen, but they were always corrupt, for only as they pleased God thru his mediator, the kaiser, could they keep their titles or possessions. Such was the philosophy founded in 1885 which has caused today's war.

"They began at that time to train their soldiers to frightfulness and cold bloodedness. They sent brothers to put down the uprisings of their own people that blood would have no terrors for them. For nothing, not even the ties of kinship, should, under the perfect system, interfere with service, conformity and efficiency. They interpreted those three ideals by seriously saying, 'Be a soldier, pay your taxes and keep your mouth shut.'

Saturday noon the members of the Normal faculty gave a luncheon to Dr. Jordan at the Hotel Boyd and had for their guests a number of the professional and business men of Wayne. At the close of the dinner, President Conn of the Normal asked the guest to give a short talk, and for a half hour he talked of conditions in Europe, and told of his hopes based on his knowledge of the sentiment of the German people of a rule of, by, and for them.

He paid elegant tribute to President Wilson, and said that while no one knows what the President plans to do, he is willing to trust his judgment to do the right thing. He said that he believed that Mr. Wilson has his plan mapped out and that when the proper time comes he will take the people into his confidence and act—but that until such time no one will know what the president in planning. He acts from principle, and is not given to yielding to impulse and acting in haste and repenting later. It was indeed a rare treat to listen to his story of conditions in the old world and his opinions and wishes as to what may come of all this. The Normal management are to be congratulated upon the success of this great attraction for all the people to their course of winter entertainment.

gent to open Sherman street from 5th to 7th streets was read before the mayor and council, and on motion was referred to the street and alley committee.

The poll tax of O. S. Gamble and L. E. Panabaker were each refunded because they were over age when the levy was made.

The council passed a resolution remitting the poll tax of all the soldier boys now in the service.

WAYNE COUNTY SCHOOL BOYS ENLIST FOR SERVICE

More than fifty Wayne county boys have enrolled in the Y. M. C. A. army of 100,000, organized for the purpose of backing up the troops in Europe. The first task assigned to these boys in to create $1,000,000. Each boy has pledged himself to earn and give $10 ($1 per month for 10 months) to the war work council to carry on the work of the Y. M. C. A. in Europe and to assist in feeding American prisoners back of the German lines.

The names of eight boys at Shofes have not been received.

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

Baptist Church
(Rev. Fletcher J. Jordan, Pastor)

Next Sunday morning the ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed at 10:30. The pastor will give a short communion meditation after the usual worship of prayer, song and devotional readings. The last communion service was largely attended and the desire of all our membership is that these services may become more spiritual and meaningful. Let us come once more to His table and keep His sacred memory fresh in all our lives.

Evening worship at 7:30 with a sermon by the pastor. His subject will be "The Single Purpose of Daniel." These evening services are very important from the standpoint of the church and let us be in attendance in the evening if at all possible.

Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis leads the B. Y. P. U. next Sunday evening at 6:30. The subject for the meeting is entitled "Self-Control" and the scripture is found in 1 Cor. 9:24-27, (Consecration meeting.) The young and old are asked to be present at this service and enjoy the good things which are in store for all who come.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30. Important business will come before the meeting and it is imperative that each member be out as far as possible. The church covenant will be read by all present and new consecrations made to the Master. All who have books should read the second chapter of "The Naturalness of Prayer."

Choir practice Friday evening at 7:30 instead of Thursday evening at the same hour.

The union Thanksgiving service is to be held this year in the Methodist church Thursday evening at 7:30. Rev. MacGregor will preach the sermon. Let us all be present that evening and make it a real service of thanksgiving to Almighty God.

The public are very heartily invited to all the services of the church of the glad hand. Come.

Methodist Episcopal Church
(Rev. D. W. MacGregor, Pastor)

Union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist church Thursday evening, November 29. Everybody welcome.

Sunday school at 10 a. m. At 11 a. m. a short sermon followed by the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Evening services at 6:30 and 7:30. Everybody welcome to our services.

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church
(Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor)

Sunday school meets every Sunday at 10 a. m.

Public worship with sermon at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The subject in the morning sermon is "The Fifth Commandment." In the evening there will be the fourth sermon in the series on the Book of Esther.

Luther League at 6:45 p. m. The subject is "The Days of Creation." Luther Fetterolf is the leader.

German Lutheran Church
(Rev. Rudolph Moehring, Pastor)

There will be services at Winside Sunday at 10:45 a. m. There will be no services at Wayne.

Presbyterian Church
(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

There will be a meeting of the Ladies Aid society next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harvey Ringland. The ladies are invited to bring along any Red Cross knitting or sewing in which they are engaged.

The Session will meet next Sunday morning at 10:00. New members may be received at this time. There will be a Communion session in connection with the morning service. The evening meeting will be a special Thanksgiving evangelistic service.

There will be services at this church tomorrow (Friday) afternoon and evening. The afternoon meeting is for women and girls. Several interesting addresses will be made. Everybody is invited to these meetings.
