WAR BUDGET SHOWS WERE AFTER KAISER

America Plans to Spend Thirty-Six Million Dollars a Day During Year—Tanks and Airplanes On the Program.

McADOO ASKS FOR $13,504,357,939

Washington, December 3.—War expenses and maintaining and improving military establishments, will aggregate $13,504,357,939 for the year ending June 30, 1919, according to estimates submitted to congress by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo today.

This is at the rate of practically $37,000,000 a day. Recognizing the value of tanks as demonstrated by the British, the United States proposes to spend $75,550,000 in constructing these land dreadnaughts and other armored motor cars and supply trucks.

To enable America to gain supremacy of the air, $1,126,294,260 is asked to carry out the government's aviation program. Of this, $1,032,294,260 is to be spent on the army aviation corps and $94,000,000 for the navy.

That the war department is looking forward to open fighting and the use of cavalry is indicated by an appropriation of $28,000,000 that is sought for cavalry horses.

The navy department plans to spend $125,000,000 additional completing torpedo boat destroyers already authorized, $20,000,000 toward armor and armament for vessels previously authorized and $32,397,000 for completion of submarines previously authorized.

The Items of the Budget.

The total budget submitted by McAdoo is $5,284,602,496 less than the appropriations made for the fiscal year, which ends June 30 next, which totaled $18,788,960,437. This sum, however, included $7,000,000,000 in loans to the allies.

The war department asks for $10,102,399,149, or $2,584,973,276 more than was appropriated last year. The increase is due to the expansion of the aviation program for enlarging fortifications and arsenals and a greatly increased payroll.

The navy asks $9,047,914,997, against $1,596,864,382 appropriated for this year.

The food administration asks $5,000,000, double its appropriation for this year.

The fuel administration asks $2,500,000 for salaries and expenses.

The council of national defense requests an increase to $970,000 over the $500,000 appropriation made for the current year.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. J. W. Scott of Wakefield came Wednesday morning for medical treatment and care. She is an old lady, and can better receive the care she needs here.

P. C. Miller, a feeble old gentleman from Winside is making his home at the hospital for a time to get needed medical attention and care. He is a Dane, and speaks but little in any other tongue, and understands our language but little.

Wm. Hern, who suffered a gunshot wound in the stomach a week ago Sunday appears to be on the highway to complete recovery, and is promised release from the hospital Sunday if conditions continue to improve.

Mrs. E. O. Gardner underwent a major operation Wednesday morning in the hope of relief from a trouble of long standing, and is rallying nicely from the operation with hopes of better health as a reward for present suffering.

BASKET BALL NEWS

The boys of the Methodist church have organized two basket ball teams. The regulars call themselves the "Methodists" and the other team is called the "Independents." They will practice together this winter and both expect to schedule some interesting games.

Last Thursday evening the "Methodists" defeated Winside high school at Winside by a score of 43 to 24. The first half was hard-fought and ended 23 to 16 in favor of Winside.

Following are the Wayne players: Grothe, center; Hickman and Renick, forwards; MacGregor and Carhart, guards.

THANKSGIVING AT WAYNE

Thanksgiving day passed off very quietly at Wayne. Many people especially the young folks from the college, went to their homes in different parts of the state to eat dinner with home folks and dinners were given at various homes at Wayne to guests from out of town and children home for the day. Many homes were made sad this year by absent sons, brothers and sweethearts who are stationed at different camps over the country and some are "somewhere in France," but the thought of possessing a boy willing to go on the firing line must be a source of thanksgiving in itself. And Uncle Sam takes good care of his men and the good God watches over and protects His people. If, in the conflict, they are sacrificed, they die in a just and noble cause and we must bow to His will.

The Union Thanksgiving services held at the Methodist church Thursday evening were well attended and the Rev. MacGregor preached a very splendid sermon, full of good things to take home and ponder over. The choir furnished excellent music. Many people found the time to come out and enjoy the services and get a better understanding of the "day of thanks."

The weather was perfect and the roads never in better condition and many auto loads of people were out in the fresh air and sunshine. All places of business were closed, the newspaper offices too closing that their employees could enjoy the day. Even the our country is at war and shadows cover the brightness of former years it is something to give thanks for that we are Americans and alive in this wonderful country of ours. If Thanksgiving next year brings us a world peace these days of shadows will not have been in vain.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

The following permits have been issued by the county judge recently: Henry Fischer and Helen Lubben, from near Wakefield, and they were married November 29, 1917, by the Rev. Bournemann.

Arthur Runers and Bessie Montgomery from Kadoka, South Dakota, and Judge James Britton tied the knot which made them one, November 28, 1917. They came to a good court to be joined, the judge says.

Louie J. Ballew and Nora Meloin from the good old state of Missouri wanted the knot tied in a good town, and had Judge Britton do it for them at the courthouse Monday, December 3, 1917.

H. W. Bergt and Mathilda Berres were given license this week, and their marriage has not yet been reported here. They belong in the vicinity of Altona, being son of J. G. Bergt and daughter of Geo. Berres. They have the well wishes of a host of friends.

George Frahen and Sevena Krieger, were given a license and the knot was tied by Judge Britton, Wednesday, December 5, 1917. They are both from the vicinity of Wisner.

MRS. OTTO KREMKE

After an illness of several weeks Mrs. Otto Kremke passed away at her home west of Wayne, Wednesday, November 28 at the age of 42 years, 8 months and 23 days.

Maria Henriks was born March 5, 1875, at Holstein, Germany, and came to America in 1893. She was married to Otto Kremke January 31, 1895. To this union six children were born, all of whom survive. They are: Freda, Hattie, Edna, Herman, Louis, and Harry. Besides these and her husband she leaves to mourn her loss three sisters, one in Alabama, one in Denver, Colorado, and one in Heminingsford, this state.

Funeral services were held at the English Lutheran church at Wayne, Saturday, December 1, Rev. J. H. Pettefor officiating. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

To the bereaved relatives the Democrat offers sincere sympathy.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS DAY.

Anti-Tuberculosis day will be observed at the Presbyterian church at Wayne next Sunday. Dr. C. T. Ingham will speak in the morning and Dr. T. T. Jones will speak in the evening. At the other churches in the city the day will also be mentioned with prayers and short talks by the pastors. The day has been made a National day and should be observed everywhere.

MEETING OF COMMITTEE ON PEACE ENFORCEMENT

A committee of about twenty named by J. T. Bressler met at the library basement Monday evening to learn why they were there. They had been named as members of the move to enforce peace, a movement started some months ago, and still doing good work.

The meeting organized by naming F. S. Berry temporary chairman and J. H. Kemp temporary secretary. J. G. W. Lewis read and told of the history and purpose of the organization and how it might be possible for the local organization to help it in its work. After remarks by most of the members of the committee it was decided to adjourn until Monday evening the 17th. At that time J. G. W. Lewis expects to have more information as to the work from headquarters, he having been named for that work. A committee was also named to ask the library board and the college and high school libraries to secure a few standard reference books for the information of the people along the line of what we can do to help adjust things after the war.

This committee will probably be extended to all parts of the county, and form a nucleus for educational work along the line of peace enforcement.

LEGAL ADVISORY BOARD NAMED FOR OUR COUNTY

Governor Keith Neville has named the following as a legal advisory board for Wayne county: Judge Jas. Britton, Attorneys F. S. Berry and H. E. Siman. The letter which comes with their notice of appointment tells that their duties are to assist the county board and the men who have registered in getting their answers to the questions to be propounded to them December 15th properly filled and filed for classification. According to the reports given in the daily papers, on the 15th of the month a list of questions will be mailed to each of the men who registered last June, and from the answers to these questions the county board will make up the classification which will determine the order in which they will be called as needed.

WAR WITH AUSTRIA IS TO BE DECLARED

In his message to Congress, the President thinks it wise to recognize Austria as perhaps equally guilty of the crime of Prussianism with Germany, and with her should be brought to terms favorable to the people. The message carries a warning to Turkey and Bulgaria, that if their conduct makes it appear necessary there will be no hesitation in declaring war on those powers. The dispatches state that beyond a reasonable doubt Congress will pass a resolution conforming to the wishes of the President, and do it before this week closes.

NORMAL SHORT COURSE

In December and January of each year, after the corn in husked, boys from the farm have been enrolling for work at the Normal, remaining in school until the middle of March, and returning to the farm in time to begin spring work. For these young men, entering for the winter term, the school arranges special short courses, covering a period of twelve weeks, to which those who have completed the eighth grade or its equivalent may be admitted. The work includes bookkeeping, civics, manual training, penmanship, spelling, commercial English, agriculture and arithmetic.

In the manual training department two lines of work are open to the young man who enters at this time: first, carpentry, the aim being to teach him the proper use and care of the common tools which should be found on every farm, and to enable him not only to do repair work on farm buildings, but also to plan and build them; second, blacksmithing, the management of the fire, the bending, shaping and welding of iron and steel, the making of rings, bolts, wrenches, and the shaping and tempering of steel tools being listed among the topics to be considered.

In the short course in agriculture some practical phases of farming will be presented; some problems connected with the care, feeding and management and judging of live stock; also practical farm problems in arithmetic.

In the past these special courses have attracted a large number of young men to Wayne at this time of year, and still a larger number after the Christmas vacation; but because of war conditions the December registration fell short of that of last year, and naturally a smaller number than usual is to be expected in January.

About thirty young men enrolled last Monday; the short courses are organized, and the new students seem happy and contented in their work. East Hall, with Clifford Penn in charge as preceptor, was opened for those who desire dormitory accommodations.

CENTRAL GARAGE

CHANGES OWNERS

In order that Guy Strickland may join others in the service of his country he has sold his business here, the Central Garage, and as soon as he has closed up some business matters and collections will report at Annapolis for duty in the engineer corps, a place for which he qualified in civil life, and followed the profession for several years, spending part of his time while thus engaged in Central America. His father, D. L. Strickland and Walter Miller have the business having taken possession a few days ago. They will continue to handle the same lines and cars as have been found at the Central in the past.

A FINE NEW CHURCH NEARING COMPLETION

The first of the week County Surveyor Jones went to Carroll, and from there to the Methodist church about five mile southwest of that place where he was employed to survey the boundary of their cemetery, as a handsome iron fence is to be put in place this week weather permitting. Mr. Jones tells us that a $20,000 brick church edifice is approaching completion, built by the Welsh Methodist people of that vicinity. It is to be one of the most complete and modern church buildings when finished, and with brick wall and an asbestos roof will be nearly fire proof.

HAIGHT-KIRCH

Wednesday afternoon, December 5, at the Methodist parsonage occurred the marriage of Miss Ethel Haight of Verdel and Mr. Emil Kirch of Monowi, the Rev. D. W. MacGregor, officiating.

Miss Haight will be remembered by many people at Wayne as she attended Normal here two years ago. She is a successful teacher in the Knox county schools.

Emil Kirch is a young farmer who has made good. After a brief wedding trip the groom will go to join the colors and the bride will return to her school duties near Verdel.

CONGRESSMAN STEPHENS AT WAYNE DECEMBER 19.

Congressman Dan V. Stephens, who just returned from a trip to Europe where he went to "see what he could hear," has accepted an invitation to tell of his trip and experiences at the Normal auditorium on Wednesday evening the 19th. The admission is free and the invitation is to all.

News reports from places where Mr. Stephens has given his talk say that it contains much information, obtained first hand, and is told in such an interesting manner that no one should miss the chance to hear it who can possibly attend. Mr. Stephens as a representative from congress was in position to see and learn much which the private citizen would not be permitted to witness, and Dan has a very happy way of telling what he knows and has seen in a way which enables the listener to almost see it. Beyond a doubt the auditorium will be filled to its capacity.

PURE BRED BREEDERS WILL HOLD MEETING

Last Saturday at the city hall there was called a meeting of the Wayne County Pure Bred Breeders' Association to clear up the business of the organization preparatory to the annual meeting for the election of officers and passing on annual reports. The affairs of the organization appear to be in excellent shape for one so young. To the writer there seems to be a lack of interest among many breeders of the county in seeking to take part and a membership. The organization appears to be most fair to all breeders, and while the benefits are not yet great, it does not take much imagination to see that it can and doubtless will be of much help to its members in many ways. It gives a confidence to buyers to have stock purchased backed by a community of breeders who are interested in the reputation of each and every member of the organization—that is—they hold that all members must have their stock measure up to a certain standard.

The annual meeting will be held Friday, January 11th, and at that time, and from now until that time breeders should learn what they can of the organization, and prepare to take an annual membership at that date. It is a good thing to pass along.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

No other message given to the world has been so favorably received and heartily commended as the one which President Wilson sent to congress at its opening this week. It was more than a message to congress. It was a message to the people as well—and yet broader—it was a message to the people of other lands. Even to the people of the governments with which we are warring. If they but heed it, it will mean more to them than to any other people; and is a great message to the people of the world, and wherever civilized government exists this message has been sent. We cannot at this time quote from it, but all may find it in the daily press, and millions have already read and reread it, and will continue to study it. It is an inspiration to the world's people.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS DOUBLE THEIR QUOTA

While the work of raising funds in this county for the Knights of Columbus is practically closed, reports are not yet in, and so the report will not be given until the next issue. However, one member of the committee reports that they are assured that the sum asked from this county will be practically doubled.

FINE YOUNG STOCK FOR SALE, NEAR PIERCE

Mr. Fry of Pierce sent us a letter stating that he had a number of good young cattle for sale, but the letter has disappeared, and we cannot give description from memory, nor can we get in touch with those who know by telephone. Address Harvey Frey, Pierce, Nebr.

FEDERAL FOOD CONSERVATION

Mr. Hoover of Washington, D. C. is the head of this national organization, he having been appointed by President Wilson. Mr. G. W. Wattleo of Omaha is the head of the organization in Nebraska. A county chairman has been appointed in each county and these with Mr. Wattleo constitute the state organization. A meeting of this organization was held in Omaha this week and the duties of the county chairmen outlined. These duties are numerous and varied.

County organizations are to be perfected. Various county committees are to be appointed.

Public meetings are to be held over the several counties. Prices and consumption will be governed.

Meatless and Wheatless days are to be observed by everyone. The purpose of the organization is to:

- 1.—Stabilize prices.
- 2.—Increase production.
- 3.—Prevent waste.

Every man, every woman, every child in the county, in the state, in the nation is requested and urged to assist in perfecting the organization and in carrying out its purposes. The food shortage is appalling and the winning of the war is a tremendous task. Each individual must help. Will you help? We are counting on you.

Federal Food Conservation Commission. J. H. Kemp, chairman, Wayne, Nebraska.

SOME LATE NEWS NOTES

Congress is again in session—present your bills—if you want them to become laws.

Soldiers of the German and Russian armies have agreed to quit fighting and let the matter be settled by diplomacy. Just how much of Russia is represented in this move is hard to tell, but certainly only a small portion of the people, for Russia will never want to trade their weakening of a czar for the cunning, brutal kaiser. There will be trouble without end under such a condition.

Congressman Dan Stephens and Ross L. Hammond are home from their visit to the other side, and have been telling of what they saw. Monday night they spoke to great audiences at Fremont, and make a wonderful impression. Congressman Stephens has accepted an invitation to visit Wayne and speak at the Normal auditorium. We expect to be able to announce the date in another place in this issue of the Democrat. All will want to hear him.

The Non-Partisan League, which organization turned things upside down in North Dakota, politically, has invaded Nebraska, and has a number of branch organizations. The one at Wakeo has managed to have so conducted its affairs as to have been charged with disloyalty to the government. These charges were not made good, and so go for nothing, unless it be to prove that they are making some partisans of the old parties weary.

OLD QUARTERS MADE NEW

While the repair work on the First National Bank Building has been going on Homer Wheaton, who had a barber shop beneath, has not been idle, and as a result he now has one of the prettiest and neatest shops in this corner of the state. Mirrors make some one who looks like you face you on all sides, chairs for the barbers, easy chairs for patrons and a rocker or two make it look like a comfortable place to tarry until you are "next." With all neat and new a bath room, and well lighted shop by day and better lighted by night it is one of the best equipped to be found. It is open for you today.

Mr. and Mrs. John Strang from Elyria, Ohio, came last week to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Munsinger, cousins. This is their first visit west, and they had been getting acclimated to the west gradually by stopping at Tabor, Iowa, for a visit before venturing into the wilds of Nebraska in the vicinity of Wayne. They left Monday so fully in love with the "hundredless" west that they will go to their eastern home by degrees, planning to stop at Tabor and then go on to Chicago and tarry a day or two at the stock show, which they will appreciate, having seen where lots of the stock is grown which will go to make up that show. They had planned to visit Denver, but changed that plan to take a look at the cattle from a thousand hills. They were most agreeably surprised to find the west so much better than the east in many respects, and that it was much more thickly populated than they had expected to find it. We really think they would enjoy living among the western people.

"The million Dollar Doll" coming to the Wayne Opera House next Monday December 10, is an imaginative, melodious, tuneful musical extravaganza, regally arrayed in costumes of great beauty and variety, presenting a picture of color, light, movement and melody almost beyond imagination. The changes of costume and scenes are bewildering in their frequency and the final picture of the famous "Joy Zone" at the Panama Exposition and illumination of the "Tower of Jewels" presents as brilliant a spectacle as anyone could desire. Tuneful songs, that will start your feet going, hilarious dancing, by people who have forgotten all of their troubles and look only for the gayeties of life, costumes of great splendor presenting a riot of color and beauty, all presented by a company of people who look only on the gay side of life, carry the audience along until one can almost imagine he is really on the Joy Zone at the Exposition. It is one of the biggest musical offerings of the season and in every way represents the very best in musical extravaganza.

A Peanut Proposition.
 Charles D. Ammon is a subscriber to the El Campo (Texas) Citizen and had a copy of the issue of November 18 when he was in the Press office on a business errand Monday and drew attention to a news story in it about a peanut proposition of considerable scope and size. A man from Dallas was in El Campo promoting a million-dollar association to build 100 peanut warehouses at different points in Texas and a big factory in Dallas to manufacture peanut flour, peanut butter, peanut meal, peanut cake, peanut cooking oil, peanut salad oil, peanut lard compound, roasted peanuts, salted peanuts, peanut candy, peanut feed for chickens, pigeons, hogs and dairy cattle, peanut soap, peanut fertilizer, etc. The promoter is confident that there are millions in it. Mr. Ammon drew attention to it as a unique enterprise.—Butler County Press.

UNITED STATES BRINGS FUEL REGULATION HOME

To those who have been waiting for the control of the coal supply to reach the retail dealer and the little consumer, we can say that it has arrived. J. T. Bressler of this place has been named by John L. Kennedy, the state fuel administrator of this state to act for Wayne county, and Mr. Bressler has the required authority and the blanks to begin business.

The coal situation here has not been serious, except that those who depended upon hard coal for their base burners have not been well supplied, but little of that grade of coal coming to Wayne, and that, in spite of the efforts of dealers has not been distributed as it might have been had it been possible to have present restrictions in operation sooner.

Mr. Bressler has appointed five men to act as local members of the committee in the different towns: Wayne, John Shannon; Winside, Walter Gagliher; Carroll, C. E. Clossen; Hoskins, F. S. Benser; Sholes, Mr. Gibson. These men and the county chairman work without compensation.

Below we give the form of application one must sign to get coal, and some of the rules governing the members of the committee:

Application and Statement
 Date of application:
 To whom made:
 Building to be heated or purpose for which wanted:
 Coal required, Hard..... Soft.....
 Coal on hand: Hard..... Soft.....
 Coal ordered from other dealers: Hard..... Soft.....
 How much needed within next 30 days: Hard..... Soft.....
 Signature of applicant:

Duties of County Committees

It shall be the duty of the county committees (1) to gather information regarding the supply of fuel in their several communities; (2) to ascertain the fuel needs of the communities, with special regard to the points of immediate need; (3) to investigate carefully and report AT ONCE on prices at which each size and quality of coal is sold in the several communities, and continue to so report at such regular intervals as the state fuel administrator may deem advisable; (4) to ascertain AT ONCE and report to the state administrator the gross margin which is being charged by each dealer in each community for every size and quality of coal and whether such margin is excessive; and (5) when called upon to do so to investigate the status of contracts between jobbers or operators and the industrial plants of the community, especially where such contracts call for delivery at prices below the President's price, with a view to insuring prompt deliveries under these contracts.

The retail plan promulgated by the United States fuel administrator on the 1st day of October, 1917, gives a specific method by which each retail dealer may fix his retail margin. This plan is not to be modified or changed in any respect, except where it is causing evident and definite injustice. Where this is found to be the fact, the county committee in the community in which dealers affected are doing business shall immediately make a careful investigation of the facts and ascertain what is a reasonable gross margin, which the retailer may properly be permitted to add to the cost of the coal to him in order to determine the retail selling price.

General Instructions
 You have four different statements, to be signed and sworn to by the retail dealer. The affidavit relating to these statements follows the last statement. A dealer doing business in several towns in the county need not sign more than one of the financial statements. The members of the committee assist dealers in making out their statements.

You have two other forms; one to be signed by consumers when they purchase coal, the other by retail dealers when they ask for assistance in obtaining coal.

The consumers' statement is to prevent hoarding.

The retail dealers' statement is to be forwarded by the chairman of the committee to the state administrator, to be used as a basis in obtaining and speeding up coal shipments. Applications for assistance in getting hard and soft coal should be on separate sheets.

Members of the committee calling the county chairman by telephone, may reverse the call, and have it charged to the county chairman, in his official capacity.

The chairman calling the state administrator by telephone, may reverse the call, and have it charged to the state administrator.

Members of the committee sending telegrams to the county chairman, may send them "Collect, Government Rate, Official Business."

Telegrams from the county chairman to the state administrator may be sent in the same way.

Communications, reports and recommendations should be sent to the state administrator, by the county chairman. This is necessary to simplify the administration business.

In recommending a change of prices, an average flat price in each community is to be preferred; so that a particular kind of coal will sell in a particular town at one price; no matter how many dealers may handle it. Wholesale prices are based absolutely on orders of the President, and are not subject to local regulation.

A Line Yard Company doing business in numerous towns and cities may submit to the local committee in the city or county in which its principal office is located, a statement of its costs and selling prices for each of its yards. Such local committee may then recommend a tentative gross for each yard, which, upon receiving the approval of the state fuel administrator, may be put into effect immediately.

If complaint is made in any city or locality where a branch yard is located, the local committee shall have power to make an investigation of the gross margin complained of, and to report to the state fuel administrator such change as it may recommend.

The power vested in the committees is an extraordinary war power, conferred by Act of Congress, upon the President, and by him exercised thru Dr. H. A. Garfield, United States fuel administrator, the state administrators, and the local committees. Information obtained from dealers or their publication is confidential, and not for public use. Reports and recommendations of the committees are not to be made public until they have been approved by the state fuel administrator.

Further information may be had on application.

JOHN L. KENNEDY,
 State Federal Fuel Administrator,
 Omaha, November 27, 1917.

THE SELECTMAN'S LAST CHANCE

There seems to be no present reason to believe that this fearful war will reach its certain successful conclusion for at least another year, while our military college warns us that three or four years may be required.

In the latter case it is the unpleasant probability that every physically available man of draft age in the United States will be required to do his share for a cause as noble as Old Glory itself.

The war department has announced that after the hour of noon, on December 15, no men of draft age at the time of registration may voluntarily enlist in the military service of the United States. Since recruits from this district have to be sent to Fort Logan, Colorado, this means that December 12 is about the last day for men eligible for selection in this district will be free to join the colors of their own free will.

Major Frith, in charge of recruiting in this district, feels in his heart that many men who are almost certain to be called within the next twelve months are doing themselves a positive injustice by not enlisting before the closing hour, and thus taking advantage of the opportunity to select the branch of service appealing to them most strongly. He expressed this feeling scores of times, and it strikes us that the point is well taken.

The army and navy, in all their branches are open to all men of select age today—but the bars will soon be dropped against them, and it is highly probable that many a young soldier will sometime regret that he did not avail himself of the opportunity to choose the color of his hatcord or the cut of his blouse.

It is certainly a matter that should be most carefully considered by every young man who registered on June 5. Major Frith is indisputably correct on that score.—World-Herald.

A Lalley ball bearing electric light plant would make a most suitable Christmas present for the whole family. Buy it now, it is no experiment. 21,550 plants sold in six months.

After the closest investigation by experts, several leading automobile distributors in Kansas City formed a separate company to handle the Lalley and signed a contract for $600,000. The Public, a weekly journal of fundamental democracy founded twenty years ago by Louis F. Post, now assistant secretary of labor at Washington, announces that beginning January 1 its size will be increased one-third and the subscription price increased from $1 to $2 a year.

The Public has been one of the few strong journals that have whole heartedly supported the government in its war policy without compromising in the slightest degree with those "enemies within" represented by social and economic injustice. It is steadily growing in influence, and its editorial and special articles furnish an excellent lead for liberal thinking in these critical times. Some of our exchanges are advocating the holding of old corn for seed. A little late speaking for many of the farmers, for there was a time when the old corn sold above $2. per bushel and a lot of them failed to look ahead—in fact, at that time the corn prospect looked pretty good.

Mrs. Elmye Gallely returned from a trip to Camp Funston, Kansas, Monday evening where she went to visit with her husband who is in service at that place. Mr. Gallely had a short furlough and with his wife spent the time at Council Bluffs and Omaha, where they were joined by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Surber. Mrs. Gallely says that the rumors going the rounds to the effect that there is lots of sickness there has been greatly exaggerated. It is true that the measles is in the camp and that the place has been under quarantine but there are few deaths from any cause. In a camp of 40,000 men the percent of sickness is very low, lower than in our big cities. Every thing that is known to medical science is being done for the comfort and happiness of our soldiers and Mrs. Gallely says that parents can rest assured that their boys are in good hands.

If the first three days of December tell the kind of a winter we are to have for the three winter months, it won't be very bad—but that rule was smashed last winter along with a dozen other "unfailing" signs of a mild winter. The hopeful prospect this winter is the entire absence of these signs or the mention of them up to date.

DO YOUR SHOPPING HERE

I am proud to announce that I am now prepared in a 100 per cent complete way to cater to the Christmas needs of my customers. The display in the store is ready and I invite you to come and see it. Please yourself about buying, but be sure and see the goods before you make any definite arrangements for your Xmas supply.

Santa Claus says you Must Hurry

Christmas is the day for the children. If we see them smile, if we can make them happy we grown-ups are satisfied even if we have to do without some things ourselves. At a time when we have to reserve our funds for our family and our country, we naturally turn to useful and practical gifts for ourselves, but the child will never see it that way. There is no Christmas for the child without playthings. Just now I have a full assortment of toys, but some lines in this department are scarcer than others and the supply will give out sooner. Better buy toys early this year. No better time than right now.

Next Week Will Be China and Glassware Week

No woman can get enough China and Cut Glassware. No matter how full the china closet is already, she will always squeeze another piece in it and feel that much richer. Considering that very few imported goods came in this country the last few years I have managed to gather a very representative stock of real China at very reasonable prices. A nice line of Inexpensive Cut Glass will also help to cover your needs in that line. Special Prices next Saturday on imported China plates and on thin translucent Jap cups and saucers.

SAVE SUGAR!

Order from the United States department of agriculture and food administration. The imperative duty of the nation is to reduce the consumption of sugar one-third for the remainder of the year 1917. The threatened sugar famine makes it imperative that individuals and families begin at once to conserve sugar. Our present sugar supply is sufficient for our own consumption only until January first! In America we have been using sugar at the rate of 90 pounds per capita per year—about 1 1/2 pounds a week. The French for some time have been on a ration of less than 1 ounce a day—about 2 tablespoonsful, or 1/2 pound a week. Unless we send them a million lbs. the next two months, their ration will be reduced to nothing. Can we do it? We can do it if the American people will reduce by one-third their consumption of sugar in any form until the new West Indian crop will be available in January. Will we do it? Merely placing these facts before the people ought to call forth a hearty response.

The first and possibly greatest difficulty confronting us in sugar saving is prejudice of habit. Americans have allowed their fondness for sugar to increase to the point where it has passed extravagance, and has become actual waste. As a matter of fact, the average person in this country would not suffer to any extent if he were obliged to forego sugar almost entirely for a few weeks. The health of many would be improved if the excessive amount now eaten daily were reduced.

The government has sent out this questionnaire to be answered by the house-keepers. Keep a record for one week and send in result to Alma Blandin, home demonstration agent, Wayne, Nebraska.

Questionnaire on Sugar Consumption

- How much sugar is served on your table in a week?
- What is the average amount each person uses in tea and coffee?
- Does your family use sugar on cereals?
- Do you add sugar to the baby's cereal and cup of milk?
- What kind of dessert do you

WAR PIE CONSERVATION

Every home and every army agrees that man must have a balanced meal, with a good dessert, either at home or in army rations.

That doesn't mean that you shouldn't economize in desserts these days.

You should and you can.

NONE SUCH Mince Pie is a very real dessert—none better. And a NONE SUCH package of Mince Meat works out the economy of pies, cakes, puddings, and cookies.

NONE SUCH is economical, because its condensed form and paraffin-lined package prevent waste.

It costs only a few cents and is cheaper than bulk mince meat bought by the pound.

NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT is made from the very best ingredients. Just what you would use if you were making it yourself, and it comes to you cheaper than you could make it yourself.

A package of NONE SUCH Mince Meat becomes three times the package weight when the moisture in making is added.

(f) Will each member of the family who uses more than 6 tablespoonsful of sugar a day—including the amount used in cakes, puddings, etc., agree to reduce the amount to 4 tablespoonsful?

(g) Will you for one month substitute dishes which contain little sugar in place of cakes, puddings, pie, etc.? For instance, use molasses, syrups, and honey in sweetening; use salads freely, and use fruit, fresh and that canned last summer in place of such dishes as cakes and puddings.

(h) Will you agree to use fresh fruits, raisins, dates, figs, nuts, popcorn, and similar things for your holiday gatherings and cut down on candies and dishes which call for sugar?

(i) If there are five persons in your family will you agree to limit the sugar used in all cooking and served on your table in any form, including candy, to one pound (2 cups) a day for the remainder of the year? This will give approximately three ounces a day per person. For each member of the family over five use six tablespoonsful additional and for less than five reduce the amount six tablespoonsful for each person.

(j) Will you keep a record of the amount of sugar saved in this way?

SPRING WHEAT FOR NEBRASKA

The survey made by the Nebraska State Council of Defense as to the winter wheat acreage sown in Nebraska this fall indicates about 75 or 80 per cent of the normal planting, says the Twentieth Century Farmer. So, for Nebraska to get back to its usual wheat production the farmers of the state are called upon by the government to make up the deficiency by the sowing of spring wheat next year. Fortunately, so much extra land having been planted to corn this year will make it easy for farmers to use their cornstalk fields for this purpose. The State Council of Defense urges very strongly that the necessary seed supplies to do this be obtained as soon as possible. In localities where good spring wheat is being held arrangements should be at once made by those who need it so that no good seed wheat will be shipped away for milling purposes until the local needs are provided for.

This is the voice of the Nebraska State Council of Defense speaking to the farmers and land owners of this great agricultural state that has practically no limit in wheat production when the spirit of crop-growing is aroused. Where is there a district of country in all this great America that can excel Nebraska in its combination of cereal crops? It is a winter wheat state second only to one in acreage and yield. As a spring wheat state it stands ready to record for 1918 an acreage and yield that will place it high among the big producing states in this class of wheat production.

There has never been a better opportunity for the spring wheat grower to make a record in food production than now on our present big corn stubble acreage. It is just the place for an early start in spring wheat sowing; besides, there is a price for this product that is at once fascinating to the man who has the soil so nearly under cultivation for the crop.

Arouse to the full measure of this opportunity to protect our people and country and maintain for our state the spirit of loyalty to which it has so steadfastly adhered since it added its star to our banner of states fifty years ago.

The Handicap of Brains

The increased wages which laborers now receive makes us feel like saying farewell to editorial sanctums, pen and shears. Negroes in the South are being offered more than a thousand dollars a year for day labor. And it is pretty much the same here. Farm hands demand fifty to sixty dollars per month, free board, lodging and washing and the use of a Ford thrown in. Editors, teachers, ministers and other workers of their class have to struggle along on less than the man with no education or special training can demand and receive.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch says: "The other day a canvasser called at the home of a college professor in an Illinois town and pressed the professor's wife to buy an article that cost several dollars. The professor's wife told him gently, but firmly that she could not afford it. The canvasser was frankly skeptical. He glanced about in an appraising way and said, insinuatingly: 'You have a nice home here, and your husband, I believe, is a coal miner.' 'No,' said the woman, 'my husband is only a college professor.' The canvasser, apologized and withdrew.—EX.

BURNING POWDERED COAL

It would seem from the number of articles that have appeared in the scientific publications and trade journals, that it is time the new way of conserving coal were put into practice. All reports agree that when coal is reduced to a very fine dust and the dust burned in a properly constructed furnace the waste is greatly reduced. It is asserted that 90 per cent of the heat in coal when used in furnaces as now made, is wasted. With this new process it is claimed that 90 per cent of heat is used and only 10 per cent wasted. It seems that this dust is blown into the furnace and nearly all turned into heat, but little going up the chimney.

It would seem that if such a large percent of the coal could be saved that would solve the fuel question, but it must be remembered that only a part of the coal produced is used for power and heat purposes. In the great steel factories coal is first reduced to coke and then the coke is piled by the hundred tons into the blast furnaces to make steel. Only about 15 per cent of the coal mined is used for domestic purposes. Nevertheless to reduce the cost of heating in the homes would be a very great relief. It is said that an appliance for burning powdered coal can be attached at very little expense to an ordinary house furnace. If that is so, why does not some enterprising contractor or builder go to work and do it? One engine on the Chicago and Milwaukee has been burning powdered coal for a year at a very great saving and it has been proved that the lowest grades and cheapest coal are best when powdered.—World-Herald.

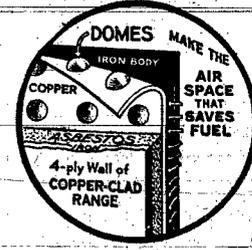

MONEY IN ELECTIONS

With the publication of the campaign expenditures of the fusion committee in New York, a great deal of the regret over the defeat of Mayor Mitchell will vanish. Most disinterested Americans wished for the election of Mitchell because of the fine administrative efficiency which he displayed. But why should a mayor who was only efficient on the administrative side be so attractive to men with money that a fund of $1,300,000 could be raised to re-elect him?

The democrats in the last national campaign spent $1,800,000, less than a half more than was spent in this New York City campaign on behalf of a candidate who received only 140,000 votes. The republicans ran the last national campaign on $2,400,000, less than twice Mayor Mitchell's campaign fund. For every vote polled by Mitchell there was ten dollars from the campaign fund.

There is no suspicion that the money was in any part used corruptly. The objection is that there was simply too much of it, and that such a fund expresses too close a confidence between the mayor and the millionaires of the city. Samuel Untermyer was not a supporter of Mitchell, and his comment on the figures is that of an opposing partisan. But much of it is justified. He said: "The expenditure of the stupendous sum of $1,300,000 by one political faction in the city election is disgraceful and indefensible. No such fabulous sum could possibly have been used with honest intent. It is about ten times as much as was expended by its successful adversary receiving double the number of votes, and about

Believing Or Knowing

In the public press, over our signature, we tell you that the asbestos-lining of ranges sweats every time a fire is built. We tell you that this sweat causes a range to rust out from the inside.

We tell you that plating the fire linings with copper or aluminum or enamel can do no possible good, because on the wrong side of the asbestos.

We tell you that a sheet of pure copper on the cold side of the asbestos between the asbestos and the range body is the only way to prevent internal rust in ranges.

LET US PROVE IT

Come and See the Asbestos Sweat.

See the sweat standing on the iron body. Roll this moisture up in beads with your finger. See the same piece of asbestos sweat again as soon as it cools, in 30 minutes or less time.

You will also see the sheet of copper between the asbestos and range body. You will see the dry air space next to the range body. You will see how internal rust is entirely overcome by placing a sheet of pure copper between the asbestos and range body.

You will see why Copper-Clad Ranges are so named. You will see a range that wipes clean like a dish; a range that is as free of hinges, catches and latches, as an automobile body. You will see an ebony body framed in nickel, with not a rivet head or screw head or bolt to mar its silvery surface.

CARHART HARDWARE

140 times as much as was spent by the socialist party, which received the same number of votes. Incidentally, the result is a great tribute to the intelligence and incorruptibility of our electorate. Most national campaigns have cost each of the great parties less."

One fact evolves out of this matter which should, however, be an encouragement to democracy. The candidate with this vast fund did not win. He received hardly half as many votes as his opponent. One wishes that this opponent had been a man of better promise. Yet the fact remains that this enormous sum of money was not sufficient to bring a mayor, who for one season and another had become unpopular, within the remotest sight of success. Money cannot win elections when the voters are strongly on the other side.—State

The above tends to show the wisdom of the democratic law enacted a few years ago which makes it a part of the election program to have the campaign expenses of the different candidates published. The people have a right to know who is paying these expenses as well as how great they are. It is safe to assume that in the days when no record of the cost of an election was published, some of the candidates and his friends paid well for the office, and then made the office return it all with added interest.

Here is a Fish Story

An exchange says: One day recently Howard Quinby, while fishing in the Kenisco Reservoir, caught several perch. Later in preparing them for dinner he discovered in the stomach of one two very fine pearls. They were of such size that he was prompted to have them examined by a New York jeweler and was astonished to have him offer $140 for them. Mr. Quinby has decided to have them polished and keep them. This is said to be the most valuable catch made in the new reservoir since it was constructed.

Now and then we see an old-fashioned man who stops to read a sale bill, but most of the people read them as they gallop past.

The governor of the state of Sonora, Mexico, is said to have given orders for the extermination of the Yaqui Indians. They used to tell the Indians of this country that they would be killed if they committed certain offenses, and the noble red man replied "Ketch 'em first."

In the matter of declaring war on the powers allied with Germany in war the question which the President appears to consider of great importance is which will give us the greater advantage in a settlement when it is over, as it must be some day. Then will be the time for the people of this land to strike for world democracy.

Has Villa's money run out? We have not heard of him for a week, and at last reports he was about to capture all of the border country between this country and Mexico and set up a little government of his own. Even telegraph tolls cost money, and no man can run a successful revolution without publicity and let any one know what he is doing—and if no one knows, what's the use?

In naming Editor Chas. F. Clark of the Butler County Free Press at David City to the office of inspector of explosives for Nebraska, the President and those who make recommendations to him have selected a man most worthy by reason of his devotion to the principles of democracy in many years when there was no reward save a clear conscience that things democratic. But in addition came to the man who advocated to that the people of the state and nation will be faithfully and ably served by brother Clark for his competent, painstaking and diligent in performing any duty assigned to him. It is not thought that the duties of the office will make it necessary for him to discontinue his editorial work on the Press, which would be a loss to the readers and patrons of that excellent paper. The Democrat wishes to extend congratulations.

SOCIAL NOTES

The Minerva club met Monday, December 3 with Mrs. H. H. Hickman. The program was opened with the singing of the convention song of the state federation by the entire club. Mrs. Ben McEachen was the leader of the lesson. She gave much valuable information concerning her topic: "The Renaissance—Golden Age of Women." Mrs. J. T. House greatly pleased the club with her rendition of Chopin's "Polonaise" Op. 61. Mrs. E. E. Lackey read a short article on "September—the Autumn of Woman's Life" and Mrs. E. J. Hunter read a prize story printed in Sunday's World-Herald, written by Miss Mary House. Mrs. Harvey Miner closed the program with a "Special" which aforesaid "special" was entirely characteristic of Mrs. Miner. When her number was called, she produced from the depths of her knitting bag, two great heaping plates of delicious date bars. The "ah's" and "oh's" of surprised pleasure partly rewarded our hospitable member, who is never so happy as when she is dispensing good cheer with her invariably "good cats." The club meets December 17 with Mrs. W. R. Ellis.

The Shakespeare club met with Miss Luers at the S. D. Relyea home Tuesday and enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Remember the date, December 13, and come.

The Junior Music club met Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. T. House, each member bringing a guest. Some of the two-piano music was a pleasing feature of the program, at the close of which the children enjoyed a peanut husk. Following that came lively games. Refreshments consisted of oranges with little human faces carved in the skin and other fruits and candies combined in a way to represent comical little animals and character dolls. This caused much amusement.

RABBITS FOR MEAT

Belgian Hare Is One of the Best for Table Use.

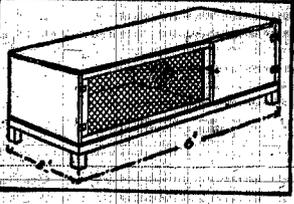

QUALITY OF FLESH SUPERIOR

Much of Excellence of Animals Depends on Rapidity of Its Growth, and Still More on Manner of Cooking It.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

By the production of domestic rabbits on farms and in the back yards of villages and even of cities, the meat supply of the country may be considerably augmented. Such rabbits may be easily grown and can be propagated without costly investment in land and buildings.

The Belgian hare is one of the best rabbits for table use. It weighs more than most breeds, develops very rapidly, and the quality of the meat is superior to all the others. The Flemish giant is a cross between the Belgian hare and other breeds, developed especially for large size, with the result that the flesh may be slightly coarser in mature animals. With young hutch rabbits, few persons can distinguish differences in the quality of the flesh of the various breeds. Much of the excellence of the rabbit as food depends on the rapidity of its growth and still more on the manner of cooking it. As often prepared, it is dry and insipid; but in the hands of an experienced cook it becomes all that the most fastidious taste can wish. An especial requirement in cooking the Belgian hare is that none of the natural juices of the meat be lost in the process.

The directions herein given for the care of Belgian rabbits are applicable to the management of most other breeds.

Selection of Stock.

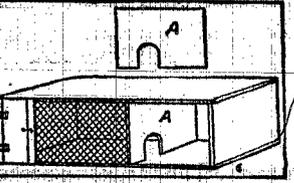

If rabbits are bred for food only, the selection of stock is of less importance than when they are bred for show purposes. All that is required is a suitable animal of good, hardy stock. However, the points for which the fancier breeds the Belgian hare include also those most desirable in a food animal, so that if one can find stock with these characters well marked, and at the same time constitutionally sound, he should by all means obtain it. Pure-bred stock is more profitable, too, because it may be sold for breeding purposes as well as for the table.

General Standards.

Belgian hare fanciers of a few years ago differed somewhat in opinion as to the proper standard of color for this animal. Some aimed at the color of the wild English hare—a sandy light brown. Most American breeders seem to have preferred a deeper reddish brown. In all other respects the standards were the same. The chief requisite concerning color is that it shall be as nearly uniform as possible throughout the upper surface of the animal and that the fur shall have a rich luster. The "tickling" or shading, should be wavy rather than dotted. The belly and the lower surface of tail and hind feet should be whitish, but not pure white. The neck and breast should be somewhat lighter in shade than the back, but not in marked contrast with it, nor should the change in shade be abrupt.

Ears.—The ears of the mature Belgian should be about 5 to 5½ inches in length, varying with the size of the animal. They should be well shaped, strong at the base, and almost transparent at the middle. They must not be pendulous, but should when the animal is quiet be inclined backward, resting straight over the shoulders. A narrow black edging at the tip and as far down the front and back as possible marks the best stock.

Body.—The body of the Belgian is longer in proportion to the whole bulk than that of any other breed of the same size. Bucks and the younger females should never have the appendage known as "dewlap." This sometimes develops in the older ones, but is regarded as a blemish in animals intended for show purposes. The back should be only slightly arched, and the forelegs and feet should be perfectly straight and free from white.

Age of breeding stock.—The beginner should always select mature animals about a year old for breeding stock. These may be known by the brisk, alert look, the small white teeth, and the small claws almost hidden in the fur. Coarse, long hairs are a sure indication of age. Listless-looking rough-coated, or pot-bellied animals (except pregnant does) should be rejected, especially those having the whites of the eyes stained with yellow. A hutch rabbit in good health is gentle, neither savage nor overtimid, and does not scream when lifted by the ear.

The Sexes.—The does selected for breeding may be of the same strain and even of the same litter, but the buck should be of different stock, and when possible obtained from another breeder. Hardy young animals with the best characteristics of the breed may be bought at from $1 to $2 each. Often they may be had of nearby breeders, thus saving the expense of carriage on long journeys by express.

Hutches and Pens.

The Belgian hare does not do well when kept wild in open warrens. The common English rabbit is better for this purpose. A good many Belgians have been turned out in various parts of the United States, and in the vicinity of the city of New York and on the western coast this has resulted in some complaints of damage to crops. As a rule, however, and fortunately for the farmers, these animals, when obliged to shift for themselves, fall an easy prey to their enemies and disappear within a few months.

Belgian hares may be managed successfully in two ways: (1) entirely in hutches, or (2) in outdoor fenced runs, or courts, with hutches for does when having young, and sleeping hutches for other stock. The hutch system with various modifications is the more common and is the only method adopted by rabbit fanciers who raise for show. The use of small runs or rabbit courts to give the animals healthful exercise in fine weather is of advantage.

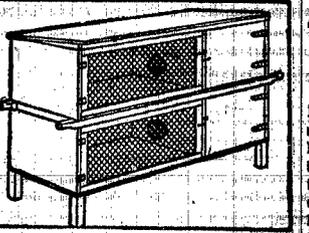

The Rabbitry.

The rabbitry may occupy part or all of a barn or shed, or be built in a sheltered space in the angle between buildings or walls. The indoor rabbitry has decided advantages. The place should be well ventilated, but not subject to drafts of cold or damp air. These may be prevented by ventilators in the roof, or by a system of elbowed pipes passing through the sides of the building and reaching a height of two or three feet above the openings.

Hutches.

Hutches for the Belgian hare should be somewhat larger than those intended for smaller breeds. They should be built of good lumber, have tight floors, and have at least 12 square feet of floor space and a height of two feet. If there is plenty of room in the rabbitry it is best to have the hutches separate; but they are usually set in tiers or stacks, two or three in height. Each hutch in the rank is complete in itself, so that its position may be shifted at any time.

A convenient indoor hutch is one 6 by 2 by 2 feet, with a movable partition dividing off a third of the space at one end for a nest and sleeping chamber. The partition has a smooth hole to permit passage of the animals from one part to the other. The front of the hutch has two doors, one of wire netting, the other of wood. The wooden door opens to the sleeping chamber and should close tightly. It is best to use metal hinges for the doors. The partition may slide in a groove between the doors or may be put in and taken out through one of the door openings.

Outdoor hutches should have sloping roofs and overhanging eaves to protect them from rain. The screened door should have a sliding cover of wood or be fitted with a removable cloth cover. Small holes bored near the top of the hutch will afford all necessary ventilation.

Movable hutches have some advantages. They may be carried outdoors in fine weather and taken back under shelter at night or during storms. Long, narrow cleats projecting at both ends of the hutch are all that are needed to convert the ordinary hutch into a movable one.

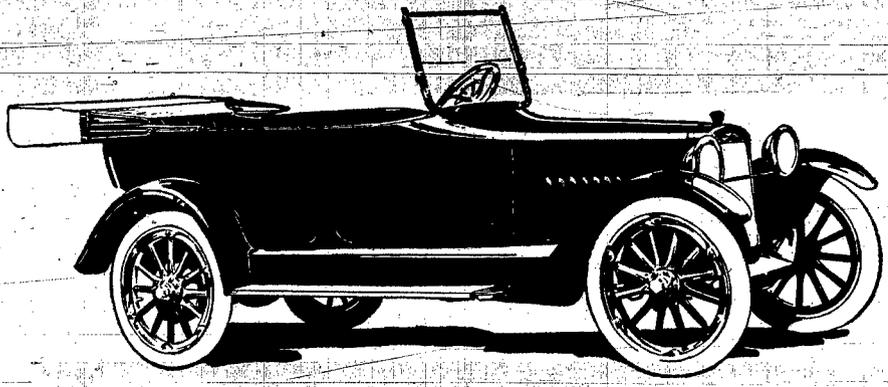

Courts.

A rabbit court may be paved or floored, or it may be a grass court surrounded by a rabbit-proof fence. Sleeping hutches inside the court may be small boxes of any sort if they are stout and water-proof. They should have sliding doors to confine the rabbits if desired, and should also have small holes near the top for ventilation. If a court is used, hutches will still be needed for breeding does.

A rabbit-proof fence to inclose a grass court should be made of heavy poultry netting 5 or 6 feet wide and of 1½-inch mesh. The posts, projecting 3 or 4 feet above the ground, should be well set outside the edge of the court. The netting is stapled to the posts, leaving a projection of 6 inches or more at the top and about 18 inches at the ground, to be turned into the court. The lower edge should be covered with 10 or 12 inches of soil to prevent the animals from digging out. The upper edge also is turned inward to keep them from climbing out. Brackets at the tops of the posts make the best support for the overhanging netting, although horizontal pieces of wood nailed to the posts will answer.

SAXON "SIX"

A Big Touring Car For Five People

Try This Test Yourself It Proves the Wonderful Value of Saxon "Six"

Take the important features of Saxon "Six" one by one.

Bear in mind the price of Saxon Six—$935 f. o. b. Detroit.

Then look among the costly cars and see whether cars of far higher price have these same features.

If they do, that is absolute proof of the high quality of Saxon "Six" and the remarkable value it is.

Here's how the test works out.

Saxon "Six" at $935 has a Continental six-cylinder motor. So have 12 other cars ranging in price from $1115 to $2200.

Saxon "Six" at $935 has Timken axles. So have 19 other cars ranging in price from $1115 to $4000.

Saxon "Six" at $935 has Timken bearings. So have 11 other cars ranging in price from $1250 to $5000.

Saxon "Six" at $935 has the Stromberg carburetor. So have 9 other cars ranging in price from $1115 to $4000.

Saxon "Six" at $935 has the Remy ignition. So have 9 other cars ranging in price from $1175 to $4000.

Saxon "Six" at $935 has the Fedders radiator. So have 16 other cars ranging in price from $1175 to $6300.

Saxon "Six" at $935 has the Spiral bevel gear. So have 18 other cars ranging in price from $1115 to $10,000.

Saxon "Six" at $935 has the semi-floating axle. So have 11 other cars ranging in price from $1200 to $4800.

Saxon "Six" at $935 has the Exide storage battery. So have 9 other cars ranging in price from $1145 to $4800.

There's the evidence. It's the straightest, clearest proof ever offered as to the value and quality of any car. It sets Saxon "Six" above the claims of all other cars, within $200 or $300 of its price.

We quoted you $935 f. o. b. Detroit as the price of Saxon "Six." That is true. But with manufacturing costs going up and up it may not remain long at that price. So place your order now.

MARKEN ISLAND OLD STYLE

Ancient Manners Are Still Observed and Historic Costumes Are Worn by the Inhabitants.

Marken Island is a bit of the old Holland, an inlet lying in the Zuyder Zee not far from Edam, of cheese fame. Holland is rapidly becoming modernized nowadays; the blue bloomer of the canal boatmen has gone the way of the wooden shoe, well toward oblivion, although the latter, it is said, is becoming increasingly popular with the price of leather soaring, writes Niskan. The Dutch are rapidly abandoning the old ways that endeared them to the artists of bygone generations, so that any spot where the traditional customs are still preserved is worthy of note as a living museum of history.

Such a spot is Marken Island, where old manners are still followed and the old costumes still worn. Separated by only a narrow channel from the progressive mainland, it is none the less fifty years behind the times. It seems to be characteristic of small islands that they progress much more slowly than mainland whence their people came. Thus in the Arran islands off the coast of Ireland the old Irish tongue is still spoken; in the Hebrides men still live as they lived in the days of Scott, and on Marken Island the men still go down to the fishing boats in bloomers and wooden shoes.

The dark blue bloomer is the mark of the married man, while the single men wear white—a somewhat illogical arrangement in view of the facilities for laundry work that married men ought to have. The women wear the old-time costumes and carry their knitting about with them on the streets. Every one of the houses is exceedingly small and almost unbelievably clean. There are not more than 300 people all told in this little colony of fishermen.

Marken is quaint and old-fashioned, but it lacks the touch of self-unconsciousness to make it perfect. In all the little shops you can purchase picture postal cards depicting scenes that are "quaint" and "typical." And when a region begins to realize that it is picturesque it has taken the first step on the road to the commonplace.

The record of the supreme court of Indiana is a strong arraignment of judicial decisions. Within the past few months it has nullified a child labor law, a two-cent railroad fare law, and a law granting women municipal and presidential suffrage. It may be that these laws were unconstitutional, but the recall would provide an easy method of overcoming that difficulty. It may also be said by some that the people of Indiana can amend their constitution if they wish. But the supreme court knows better. It has not only nullified the legislative acts mentioned, but has held unconstitutional a resolution for popular vote on calling a constitutional convention. That the people have no inherent right to rule themselves is substantially the position taken in the suffrage case by these learned judges and their action shows that they honestly believe what they say.—The Public.

KNITTING AND NATURALIZATION

The women in Chicago have been combining the work of different departments. Some of them hired a hall in the neighborhood where many foreign women dwell and invited the women in for light refreshments and a social hour. While they all knitted and sewed, the Americans talked to the foreigners on the causes of the war, and other matters pertaining to its progress which would tend to enlighten them. This educational work was done by the committee on Women in Industry. In the night schools in Texas where the work of Americanization of foreign-born people is very active, it is no uncommon thing for a grandfather, son and grandson to be instructed in the same classes.

A large amount of long distance service is also being used to communicate with the supply depots and camps, and to link them more closely with each other and with Washington.

As the war continues, increased demands will be made upon the telephone industry by the government and by private commercial and industrial activity.

You can "do your bit" by asking only for telephone equipment you must have and by making only such local or long distance telephone calls as are absolutely necessary.

CONQUEST AND KULTUR

The Democrat is in receipt of a press edition of "Conquest and Kultur", compiled under direction of the government, and absolutely accurate in its translations of the sentiment expressed by the German rulers and others in power or under the spell of the German dream of world-conquest which actually show the sinister motive of the German rulers against their own people and the rest of the world. We say against their own people, for these rulers would make their people fight, suffer and starve that they might add to the power of the dynasty.

Here are some German utterances: "We must not look for permanent peace as a result of this war. Heaven defend Germany from that."—Oskar A. H. Schmidts. Schmidts is a writer on politics and literature. "Arbitration treaties must be peculiarly detrimental to an aspiring people which has not yet reached its political and national zenith and is bent on expanding its power in order to play its part honorably in the civilized world. Every arbitration court must originate in a certain political status; it must regard this as legally constituted, and must treat any alterations, however necessary, to which the whole of the contracting parties do not agree as an encroachment. In this way every progressive change is arrested, and a legal position created which may easily conflict with the actual turn of affairs and may check the expansion of the young and vigorous state in favor of one which is sinking in the scale of civilization."

WAYNE TRIMS WINSIDE

The Wayne Methodist church basket ball team defeated the Winside high school team by a score of 43 to 24. The game was fast, full of thrills and good team work was in play throughout the game. But Winside was out-classed in every division of the game. Our forwards, center and guards playing a steady and consistent game. One thing noticeable was the lack of fouling, and rough playing and crabbing. The home team has just organized, and winning their first game, hope to keep up the good work throughout the season. The first game at home will be in two weeks and we want all the church members and town people to come out and give our team their support.

The lineup for the game at Winside is as follows:
Wayne—
Alvin Rennie, R F
Lawrence Hickman, L F
Lawrence Hickman, L F
Marion Grothe, C
John Carhart, R G
Albert MacGregor, L G

Winside—
Harry Pender, R F
Virgil Bleigh, L F
George Nelson, C
G. Russell Henderson, R G
Ulrich Press, L G

A jingling, joyful Comedy, with sparkling music and pretty girls, is what is promised all who see the Million Dollar Doll at the Wayne Opera House next Monday, December 10, when she makes her appearance in this city. A company of recognized musical comedy stars, and a "Real Beauty Chorus" which sings haunting tunes, with pretty sensational dances, in costumes of great beauty, that are a perfect riot of color, will present this new musical comedy. There has never been a show that has received more flattering press notices. The unanimous approval of the public has been accorded it, and the verdict, wherever this comedy has been presented, has always been most favorable. This new twentieth-century play will be the attraction at the Wayne Opera House for one night only, and you can not afford to miss it.

On the west and the south war fronts the battle goes steadily on, and the Germans are reported as failing to continue their advance in Italy and unable to recapture the positions taken by the British on the west front. The reports state that German losses during one day of the contest were greater than any one day since the war began. British also had some losses of men and guns, and quite a number of Americans are said to have fallen on the west front. In the far east the British are drawing nearer to Jerusalem, and its capture is practically conceded.

SUBMARINE WARFARE AND THE PRUSSIAN AUTOCRACY

DAVID F. HOUSTON, Secretary of Agriculture

Why is the United States at war with Germany? Why all this preparation, expense, and jeopardy of thousands of American lives? Are we fighting the battles of England, France, Italy, and Russia? Are we in the war to pull the chestnuts of the allies out of the fire? Are we fighting to help them recover lost territory or to acquire new possessions? Why do we fight at all? Why not employ peaceful means? Why not negotiate?

These questions are now being asked not infrequently, especially by German propagandists, by a few disloyal natives, and by some unintelligent and unpatriotic pacifists. Such people imagine that the time is opportune. They imagine that many Americans are astounded and resentful over the prospect of enormous expenditures, burdens of taxation, and sacrifices of life. They assume that there is, or will be, a reaction; that the people have short memories. They place reliance on the fact that the scene of conflict is remote, that our people cannot appreciate that a defensive war can be waged by forces and heedless of them, finally repudiating her most solemn obligations. In the meantime, while we were extending hospitality to her diplomats here and representing her abroad, she was carrying on a hostile propaganda within our own borders as well as abroad, promoting plots to destroy our plants and attempting to sow dissension among our people. Recall the history of our negotiations with Germany, of our attempts to secure justice by diplomatic, peaceful means.

RAISE MORE HOGS

Again the rural press of the nation is called upon to come to the rescue, and help feed the army which is to go to the Kaiser, and we are responding as best we can. The appeal comes thru the extension service, and Brother Pugsley asks every farmer in Nebraska to grow at least one extra porker where he grew but five last year. Some states are asked to raise two hogs where but one was raised before. We will do our best, brother, and ask our farmer friends to aid, and try to conserve the pigs

GERMANY'S PLEDGES TO AMERICA.

No. 1 (July 3, 1915). "The Imperial government repeats the assurance that American ships will not be hindered in the prosecution of legitimate shipping, and the lives of American citizens on neutral vessels shall not be placed in jeopardy."

No. 2 (September 4, 1915). "Liners will not be sunk by our submarines without warning and without safety of the lives of non-combatants, provided that the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance."

No. 3 (October 5, 1915). "The orders issued by His Majesty the Emperor to the commanders of the German submarines have been made so stringent that the recurrence of incidents similar to the Arabic case is considered out of the question."

No. 4 (May 4, 1916). "In accordance with the general practice of visit and search and destruction of merchant vessels recognized by international law, such vessels, both within and without the area declared as naval war zone, shall not be sunk without warning and without saving human lives, unless these ships attempt to escape or offer resistance."

ALL OF THEM RUTHLESSLY BROKEN

at a distance and that aggressive action may be in the highest degree defensive.

The main answer to these enemies of America within and without is simple. We are at war with Germany primarily to assert and to defend our rights, to make good our claim that we are a free nation, entitled to exercise rights long recognized by all the nations of the world, to exercise these rights without restraint or dictation from the Prussian autocracy and militarists, to have the kind of institutions we wish and to live the kind of life we have determined to live. We are at war with Germany because Germany made war on us, sank our ships, and killed our citizens who were going about their proper business in places where they had a right to be, traveling as they had a right to travel. We either had to fight or to keep our citizens and ships from the seas around England, France, and Italy, or to have our ships sunk and our people killed.

We did not make this war. Germany made war on America and only after exercising great patience and enduring grievous wrongs did we formally declare this to be a fact. For over two years Germany had committed hostile acts against our sovereignty, destroying the property and lives of our citizens, acts which if committed by any smaller power or power nearer home would have led to a quick demand from our people for a belligerent response. By turns, as it suited Germany's needs, she was apologetic and contemptuous, conciliatory and dictatorial, full of promises and heedless of them, finally repudiating her most solemn obligations.

so that they may become hogs. To have the work given general attention the state has been divided into districts and a committeeman placed in charge of each district.

Wayne county is in district No. 14, and Hon. Chas. Graf of Bakeroff has been named to get out and agitate the question and bring to the attention of the farmers the need of increasing the pork supply. The other counties in this district are Cedar, Dixon, Dakota, Cuming, Thurston and part of Burt. The selection of Mr. Graf was a good one, for he is a practical farmer and stockman with a wide acquaintance over this district, in which he has in other days made political campaigns. Let's all boost the pig production.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Wm. Brummond had a good sale Tuesday.

Miss Fern Oman was up from Lincoln for Thanksgiving dinner and a visit.

Remember your friends can buy anything you can give them except your photograph. C. M. Craven—adv.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. James came from Missouri this morning to visit for a time at the home of their son John James and family.

Once a visitor called the thick cream served for his coffee "skimmings," and George Fortner wants to buy your "skimmings." adv.

The Catholic ladies hold a food exchange and bazaar at the Roe Grocery, Saturday, December 1 and Saturday December 8.—adv. 1.

Mr. P. C. Crockett who was injured in an automobile accident on November 26 did not improve as fast as expected and a doctor's examination Sunday revealed two broken ribs.

John Ahern arrived home Wednesday evening for a two day visit, the last of a ten-day leave, he having been with home folks in Illinois. He looks the soldier at thru, and says it is not bad. He reports all well cared for at camp.

The young ladies of Winside have organized a club called the "Despair Barrel." They say that there is no hope in "hope boxes" any more now that there is such a scarcity of eligible young men. And the boys at home are not interested because there is no competition.

Father Kearns who was seriously injured in an automobile accident November 25 has not been getting along as well as his friends would like. At this writing, however, he is reported as improving. We are glad to note this and trust the improvement will be lasting.

Mrs. Henry Kay and little son, who have been for several months at St. Louis, where the little fellow was taking treatment for infantile paralysis, came home last week, and the little fellow shows improvement, being able to get about the home without the aid of crutches, tho he is yet wearing braces.

Well here it is nearly Christmas again. Most of you are going to have pictures made to give as presents. Why not do it now and give us plenty of time to finish them. We will be very busy and you can avoid a lot of inconvenience by having your sittings made now before the rush starts. C. M. Craven—adv. 44-4f.

The office of the Lyons Mirror was destroyed by fire one night recently, and the loss is reported at $2500. This will be a sad loss to Editor Mose Warner who has spent the major portion of his life building up the business. We hope he carried insurance enough to enable him to replace the plant and continue the business.

Mrs. Emma Baker received word the first of the week that a son was born Saturday, December 1, 1917, to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Mulvey, at Winner, South Dakota, and this morning word came for Mrs. Baker to come at once. She left this morning, not knowing why the call came, but fears serious illness of the mother or baby. Mrs. Mulvey is her daughter.

J. H. Kemp was at Omaha Tuesday and Wednesday, attending a meeting of the county chairmen of the Nebraska department of the federal food conservation organization. Mr. Kemp says that when one attends such a gathering he begins to realize that we are at war, and that many deaths and sacrifices must be made before the end comes. This county of which he is chairman, is soon to begin organization.

Mrs. Frank Pollard of Ogden, Utah, who has been visiting her brother, L. J. Courtright and family, went to Cherokee, Iowa, Tuesday to visit a sister before returning to her home in Utah. Mrs. J. E. Morton of Granada, Minnesota, also a sister of Mrs. Courtright has been here for a couple of weeks and will leave for her home Saturday. The re-union of brother and sisters was a very happy one.

Miss Madge Rippon, who was taken to a Sioux City hospital last Thursday suffering with a severe attack of appendicitis, underwent an operation that evening, and for a time was in a most critical condition, but at this writing the reports are much better and her restoration to health now seems assured, if no unforeseen trouble develops. Madge has many friends here both young and old, who have anxiously watched her case and will be glad to learn of her improving condition.

THRIFT STAMPS

Postmaster Berry is busy these days selling the new "thrift stamps." By the purchase of these stamps one may start as small a sum as 25 cents drawing 4% interest, compounded quarterly. For $32.40 one may purchase a bond redeemable at will with interest; or by leaving it five years you get $100 for the paper. It is not taxable and your purchase of same is limited to $1,000. But Mr. Berry can tell you all about it. More than $400 worth were sold here opening day, and at Omaha and other places the demand soon exhausted the supply first ordered but more will come

Announcement

Will Open My Optical Parlors, December 1

I have recently returned from Chicago where I had the opportunity of working with and being instructed in the use of the latest instruments of which I have bought a complete outfit.

I will be ready to open my optical parlors at Dr. Williams' old rooms south of the Union hotel.

I feel that I am better able to diagnose all cases of refractive errors and diseases of the eye. I have had twenty-eight years of experience and this, with modern methods, makes me better able than ever to care for your eye trouble.
