NEBRASKA TEACHERS AGAIN SELECT OMAHA

Omaha, January 2.—The Nebraska state teachers' association has decided to meet in Omaha for their next convention, the first week in November 1918. Prof. F. M. Gregg of the Peru State Normal was elected president. The following were elected to the executive committee from their respective congressional districts: First, Jess Newton, Lincoln; Second, J. H. Beveridge, Omaha; Third, A. V. Tee, Wayne; Fourth, J. H. McGee, David City; Fifth, R. J. Barr, Grand Island; Sixth, (held over), H. O. Sutton, Kearney.

CONSERVE MORE, PRODUCE MORE

On November 1st this country had exported all its available visible surplus of wheat and its products, but we must go on sending to Europe to feed our soldiers, the soldiers of our allies, and the starving people, many million of bushels of wheat or its equivalent in flour. This wheat and flour can only be secured by our saving. Generally speaking, wheatless day is observed all over the country at public eating places. Every home should observe it. It is a patriotic duty that should be followed by all who want to help win the war. Anyone who is unwilling to observe wheatless or meatless day lacks in that noblest of human characteristics—patriotism.

Save sugar—use more of the plain foods—foods that require less sugar in preparing. Drink coffee and tea without sugar (if you use them at all). Most breakfast foods are palatable with little or no sugar. Try it. Save meat. Meatless day means—no pork, no beef, no mutton. There is a shortage of meat and an extreme shortage of pork. On days other than meatless day, if you use meat, it is well to remember that we should be especially saving of pork and its products. Save more of it for our soldier boys. The farmers are doing all they can to produce the most possible and still there is going to be a shortage. Why not raise pigs in town? "A pig and a flock of chickens in every back yard in town" would be a good war slogan. If there is a city ordinance against such live stock within the city limits, such ordinance should be (as a war measure) set aside for the time being.

Dairy products—there is a shortage of dairy products, the best kind of foods. Nothing pays better than a good dairy cow. There should be more in the country and there should be more owned by town people. There should be more milking done in the winter time—prices of products are better, no flies to reduce the cows' product and the farmers are less crowded for time.

I do not pretend to be an expert authority on the subjects above, but in my official capacity I am making this appeal to all the people of Wayne county because I love my country.

Save, conserve, produce more food.
J. H. KEMP,
County Federal Food Administrator.

ADAM AND EVE RAISED CAIN

But the kind of cane we want to tell of is that from which sorghum is made. With sugar scarce and high, with a soil which will grow a good quality of cane, and the seed from the crop frequently selling for enough to make it a profitable crop, and with a feed value equal to that of most any forage crop there is yet opportunity to secure from a cane crop a splendid return in sorghum—from $75 to $80 per acre—if some one will install a mill for the manufacture.

We have had a talk with a man who is experienced in the work, and who may be in position to take the work up, and we wish our farmer readers who think it might pay to plant from one to five acres of cane would talk the matter over with him and see if this industry cannot be established at Wayne. A. P. Gossard is his name.

MOLER-IVERSON

At Vermillion, South Dakota, January 1, 1918, occurred the marriage of Miss Bernice Moler to Mr. Carl Iverson, Rev. Lyson officiating. Only relatives and immediate friends were present. The ceremony was performed at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Iverson. A wedding dinner was served immediately after the ceremony and the happy couple left for this place where they have been visiting since with the bride's sister, Mrs. John Grier. They went back to Vermillion today where the groom is engaged in the hardware business and where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Iverson is well known at Wayne, having lived here a number of years and is a graduate from the state Normal. She has been employed in the University at Vermillion for the past year.

Notice

There will be installation of the Rebekah and Odd Fellow officers at the E. O. O. F. hall Monday evening, January 7. Members of the orders are requested to be present.

CONSERVATION BEGINS AT HOME

And in this spirit of conserving, the Democrat is entering a subscription campaign similar to one indulged in successfully several years ago. Here is the offer:

For a short time we will accept $1.00 in full payment for subscription to the Democrat from date of receipt until January 1, 1919.

This applies to new subscribers and old ones who pay any arrears to date.

In the history of all newspapers there come times when a circulation tonic is good, and The Democrat has found that nothing pleases the people better than to give them opportunity to act as their own agent and save for themselves what it would otherwise have cost to solicit their subscription. Because of the high cost of everything which enters into the make up of a newspaper we have postponed for a year this move, and are now making the offer in the face of conditions which many papers claim warrant advancing their subscription price to $2.00 the year.

This offer is to stand during the month of January, and two dollars advance payment (to January 1920) is the limit.

The Democrat is now better than ever before equipped to issue a local newspaper equal to any in this part of the state, and this move does not contemplate any less service to readers or advertisers in the future than has been given in the past. If you believe in conservation let us have your name and the dollar.

With Best Wishes for the New Year, we are Very truly yours,
GARDNER & WADE.

NORMAL ENROLLMENT EXCEEDS EXPECTATIONS

Another enrollment of students for the short courses took place at the State Normal school Wednesday when the school resumed work after the holiday recess. Many young men on the farm find it impossible to spend more than three months in school during the year, and the work is planned in such a way as to offer them the advantages of the state Normal during the winter months.

The Randall Act, passed in 1907, made the completion of the tenth grade necessary for entrance in a Nebraska normal; but this law was amended so as to permit the entrance of mature students who have completed all the work of their home district. Hence a boy or girl living in a school district which offers only eight grades of work may, upon the completion of the home course, matriculate in a normal school and pursue a course in advance of the eighth grade, but a resident of a town or city district are still held to the completion of the tenth grade.

Owing to the uncertainty of the close of corn picking, two opening dates for the beginning of the short courses are necessary; the Monday following Thanksgiving and the opening of school after the holiday recess. On the first date thirty-five students registered this year, and on Wednesday fifty more new students entered. In the commercial department courses in bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic, commercial law and commercial English are offered; in the manual training department the young men have the choice of forge or bench work, or of mechanical drawing; in the department of agriculture the course covers practical problems pertaining to the farm.

War conditions have called so many young men into military service it was thought that the demand for this work would be greatly decreased, but the enrollments in the short courses on December 3 and January 2 of this year compare favorably with those of last year. The boys dormitories are now all filled and many of the young men have found accommodations in private families.

The school year is divided into two semesters of eighteen weeks each and a summer session of eight weeks. The first semester closes January 18, and a reorganization of classes will be made at that time in all lines of work other than in the short courses. The short courses will close about April first.

ARE YOU SUBJECT TO A FEDERAL INCOME TAX

Collector of internal revenue, Geo. L. Loomis, announces that a federal income tax officer will be sent into this county January 14 and will be here until January 22. He will have his office in the county court house in Wayne and will be there every day ready to help persons subject to the income tax make out their returns without any cost to them for his services.

How many income tax payers will there be in Wayne county? If you can guess how many married persons living with wife or husband will have net incomes of $2,000 or over and how many unmarried persons will have net incomes of $1,000 or over this year, then you know.

Returns of income for the year 1917 must be made on forms provided for the purpose before March 1, 1918. Because a good many people don't understand the law and won't know how to make out their returns, the government is sending out this expert to do it for them. But the duty is on the tax-payer to make himself known to the government. If he doesn't make return as required before March 1 he will have to pay a penalty ranging from $20 to $1,000, pay a fine or go to jail. So if you don't want to take chances on going to jail, you better call on the income tax man. If you are not sure about being subject to the tax, better ask him and make sure. Whether you see the income tax man or not, you must make return if subject to tax.

Of course, persons resident in other counties may, if they want to, come here to see the income tax man.

The collector suggests that everybody start figuring up now his income and expenses so as to be ready with the figures when the expert arrives. Expenses, however, don't mean family expenses, money used to pay off the principal of a debt, new machinery, buildings or anything like that. They mean what you spend in making your money—interest, taxes paid, hired help, amount paid for goods sold, seed, stock bought for feeding, rent (except your dwelling), etc. Income includes about every dollar you get.

CO. I UNDER QUARANTINE

A letter from Harvey Haas gives the information that Co. I, 335th infantry, in which most of the Wayne boys are serving is under strict quarantine. He said he was lucky to have had an early date for his sale as he couldn't possibly be away now. He did not say just what they were quarantined for but said they could not get out of their barracks even for the Christmas festivities on the grounds there. Each one of them received a Christmas box from the Red Cross and these brought the Christmas cheer to them.

WAYNE COUNTY STOCK BREEDERS ANNUAL MEET

Friday, January 11th is the date set for the annual meeting of the members of the Wayne County Pure Bred Breeders' association, and the city hall at Wayne is the place. The business session is called for 10:30 in the morning; that the afternoon may be given over to a farm program to which the public generally are invited.

The program is not yet complete and cannot be presented at this time, but it is known that Prof. A. G. Peters, a poultry expert connected with the U. S. extension work is to be here and address those present. Chas. Graff of West Point, who has been named to look after the matter of increasing hog production in this district, has promised to attend and tell what is being done to make two pigs grow where but one grew before. His talk will be of value to all. Weather conditions being favorable, this meeting should be the largest one in the history of the organization. No farmer whether a member or not can afford to remain away from the afternoon meeting.

WATTLE MAKES PUBLIC IMPORTANT FOOD RULES

The following definite rulings are announced by Gurdon W. Wattle, federal food administrator for Nebraska, upon advice from the United States food administration. "Growers of wheat cannot exchange their product at the mill for more flour than they can buy on the market. "Sugar should be sold to city and town customers in lots of 2 to 5 pounds, and to rural and farm customers in lots of 5 to 10 pounds. "Flour should be sold to city and town customers in 1/4 to 1/2 barrel quantities, and to rural and farm customers in 1/4 to 1/2 barrel quantities. "The advertising of sugar and flour to induce greater consumption is considered against public policy. "Traveling salesmen representing merchantile houses selling direct to the consumer must be licensed as brokers."

How many income tax payers will there be in Wayne county? If you can guess how many married persons living with wife or husband will have net incomes of $2,000 or over and how many unmarried persons will have net incomes of $1,000 or over this year, then you know.

Returns of income for the year 1917 must be made on forms provided for the purpose before March 1, 1918. So if you don't want to take chances on going to jail, you better call on the income tax man. If you are not sure about being subject to the tax, better ask him and make sure. Whether you see the income tax man or not, you must make return if subject to tax.

CAMP FUNSTON NEWS

Mrs. Elmer Galley returned today from Camp Funston, Kansas, where she spent the holidays with her husband, Sergeant Galley. Mrs. Galley says she had a splendid time there and had the good fortune to eat both Christmas and New Year's dinners with her husband at the camp. At the Christmas dinner the boys were allowed to invite anyone who might be visiting them and there was a general good time there. And the dinner was sumptuous, nothing was too good for the soldiers. They gave an amateur Christmas entertainment on the grounds, soldiers from the west putting on some western stunts and the whole entertainment was exceptionally good. Mrs. Galley was the only guest at the New Year's feed, her husband being mess sergeant gave her special privileges. It was one of the pleasantest vacations Mrs. Galley has ever enjoyed and she reports the boys satisfied and happy.

SEVENTH'S DEFICIENCIES ARE BEING REMEDIED

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 2.—After looking over the list of deficiencies in the Seventh regiment, as disclosed by the federal inspector, Governor Neville has chirked up some, and now says that it won't take over two weeks to place the regiment in position for federal recognition. The lack of armories in a number of instances has already been remedied, by renting proper halls and rooms. Several companies will be reorganized because the draft and the enlistment hit them. Recruiting has been carried on so as to make up the number lost, and if the regiment can be accepted before the drafting begins anew it has an excellent chance to get into the service. Rev. J. M. Leidy, the chaplain, has been barred on account of age, but the governor and the lieutenant colonel, the ranking officers, fall within the age limit of 40 years.

BILLIE BURKE VISITS WAYNE

In "The Mysterious Miss Terry" Billie Burke visited the movie theatre here Tuesday. Billie is loved by the American people everywhere and she was in a natural role in this play. In real life she is known for her acts of charity and many a down-hearted beginner has she helped on to the road to success. So in this play when she befriends the poor fellows, one who wished for the west and the "cancer after the cattle" one who wanted "just enough of this world's goods to be able to trot with the swells," another fellow who was a struggling author who wanted to get some publisher interested in his writings. All of them she had the happiness of giving their heart's desire. The happy smile that comes from doing something for the happiness of our fellow creatures was not a bit of acting on her part; it was the real happiness of a life spent in the service of humanity.

Mr. Nelson, our movie man, has put on some excellent pictures this winter and the theatre going public have only good things to say for him.

ALMOST WRECKED THE PLACE

Last Friday morning Mrs. G. S. Mears started a fire in the range, after having been away from home long enough for the pipe to freeze some where in the works, and fortunately stepped over to one of the neighbors just about time for the cannonading to begin, for when the temperature was just right there was an explosion which wrecked the stove and threw coals all over the room, firing coats, and other clothing which happened to be hanging there as well as setting fire to considerable of the furniture. The firemen were called, but the call was called off before they left the engine room, for by carrying the burning garments out and with the aid of neighbors, Mrs. Mears soon had the fire under control.

Mr. Mears found an adjuster of the company carrying insurance on his house was in town at the time of the fire, and the damage to the house was placed at $140. He had no insurance on the contents, and therefore has to stand a loss of fully $150 on contents burned or damaged.

THE LIGHTLESS NIGHT

The city failed to shut off the light as announced last Thursday evening, because some one got cold feet, or something of that kind, and because some people could not well dispense with them on such short notice. But they went off the first night of the new year, and as we understand it is to be the regular policy until the coal situation clears up a bit. At the present price of coal, when it can be obtained, the closing down from 11 until 5 o'clock means a saving to the city of from $10 to $12 a night. If that be true, we should all try the old lamp if we need a light.

FORTNER SELLS CINDERELLA FLOUR

Geo. Fortner tells the Democrat man that he had received a car of that real Cinderella flour just a short time before the new ruling went into effect relating to the manufacture and sale of flour, and he supposes this will be the last he can get of the present standard of whiteness. He can only sell this subject to the ruling of the food control board, but he thinks his many patrons who have used this flour for so many years should understand and know that it may be had at his mill, subject to the regulations.

In Cedar County towns, according to the Laurel Advocate, a Red Cross campaign was not put on at this time for the reason that they had but so recently taken their first membership that it would be taking the fee for three months membership, so their campaign will go over until July.

Here is a good suggestion from the York Democrat which all should read: "Every church in Nebraska should be flying the Stars and Stripes these days. Let the patriotic officials of each church start the fashion, and then we may be able to get a line on the few church congregations made up of pro-Germans and anti-Americans."

Frank Haller has only resigned as president of the board of state regents, not as a member of the board. If he were any kind of a man at all, he would resign altogether from the body. The people don't want him any longer. They don't have any use for a man who masquerades in the garb of a petticoat like he did, and upholds the Kaiser. The people will get rid of him the first chance they get.—Pierce County Leader.

Saturday morning the mercury marked the low point for the month of December, not only for this December but for several of them. We have no government measure here for the weather, but thermometers in different parts of town were reported as registering from 24 to 30 below the zero mark. The absence of any wind made this temperature tolerable—but it was a hard blow at the coal bin which was not any too full to start with.

Quite a number from here went to Wayne last Wednesday evening to hear Congressman Dan Stephens speak on his recent trip to the European battle front. They report the speech to have been one of the best they ever heard. One Laurel man—and he isn't a democrat either—said: "It was the best thing I ever heard in my life." The Advocate editor wanted to hear him, but Wednesday being press day—and the holiday edition at that—it was impossible to get away.—Laurel Advocate.

French People Identify American Troops By Their "Bull" Durham Tags!

READ THIS

This photograph of Private T. H. Grant of First Illinois Infantry shows how the Army carries "Bull" Durham—the familiar tag hanging from breast pocket.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS. (Special Cable to Chicago Tribune.) BASE OF AMERICAN TROOPS IN FRANCE, June 28.—[Delayed.]—The first contingent of the American expeditionary forces has disembarked in France.

Symbol of Identification. One common symbol of service in both our army and navy has been accepted as distinctive by the French peasants. It is a little black and white paper tag that hangs by a piece of yellow string from the left hand breast pocket of the service shirt or the navy jacket. This identifies the bearer as possessor of a sack of a well known tobacco brand and has been interpreted as uniform equipment.

Mike Coleman has purchased from L. W. Roe and Geo. Fortner thirty-four acres at the south edge of town. The only improvements on the place are the barn and old slaughter house buildings, which shows that Wayne county land is not depreciating any in the opinion of those who have the price to pay for good dirt. This is a very fertile tract of land, and always produces a bumper crop.

Organized agriculture, when all of Nebraska's big farmers' meetings will be held, has been scheduled this year for January 14 to 19. No matter in what special line a farmer may be interested, there will be from two to half a dozen meetings of particular interest awaiting him. The best agricultural experts from the middle west and even from the entire United States have in many cases agreed to be present and give expert advice along their specialties. Present farming conditions, the exact counterpart of which have not been seen in years, make it imperative that each farmer keep himself informed as to the best methods of handling his particular products in war time. A single item gleaned from one of the many meetings held during the week has often during the year more than paid the expenses of a trip to Lincoln.

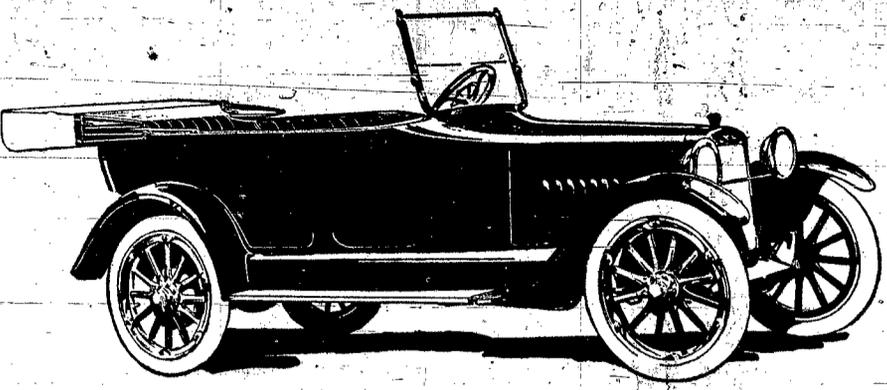

Will the feeding of soft corn cause cholera or other diseases among hogs, this is a question which is being raised this winter as never before due to the corn situation in Nebraska. It is a question that cannot be answered in a word; there is more than that to be said. The feeding of soft corn will require, as everything else, the exercise of judgement and common sense. Common sense demands that the spoiled, rotting ears be thrown away—preferably, not picked. Their feeding value will be found less than nothing for such feed tends to run down the hog's condition. Ordinarily soft corn, however, has its feeding value, but common sense tells one that it does not contain the same feeding value as hard corn which should, therefore, be fed with soft corn. Steers seem to thrive on soft corn without hard corn and with no injurious results. Summed up in a nut shell, soft corn should be mixed with common sense—the former to be utilized, the latter exercised.

NOTICE!
The call for surgical dressings is urgent and that department of the Red Cross is in need of workers. Any one who can give some time to this work should enlist at once. It has been decided to set an evening each week when the young ladies who are employed in the day time can help. Several of them have said they would gladly give their evenings because their days were too full of school or office work to be able to help. Miss Morrison will have charge of the work and each Thursday evening from 7 to 9 she will be glad to have as many as can give these two hours to this work.

SAXON "SIX"

A Big Touring Car For Five People

25 Cars Costing $2000 or More Use 11 Big Features of Saxon "Six"

There is only one way to establish definitely the value of any car.

And that is to calculate what it offers for its price and compare that to what other cars offer at their prices.

Take for example Saxon "Six" at $935.

It belongs in the price-class that ranges from $800 to $1150.

At the start we can eliminate from consideration all "fours." For it is generally conceded that a "four" simply cannot class with a "six."

Now consider the other "Sixes" selling between $800 and $1150.

And consider Saxon "Six" at $935.

First, Saxon "Six" is the only "Six" at less than $1,000 with a Continental motor.

Next, Saxon "Six" is the lowest-priced car in the world that is a "Six."

There's a big value-margin in favor of Saxon "Six" in those two points.

Next, Saxon "Six" is a better car on the basis of its quality features than any other car in its class—$800 to $1150. And here is the proof:

A check was made of 25 cars, each car costing $2,000 or more. As a matter of fact 14 of these 25 cars sell at $3000 or more. And 8 of the 14 sell at $4,600 or more.

Now every single one of these 25 cars use 2 or more of 11 big features that Saxon "Six" has.

Or, say it in another way, every one of these 11 big features of Saxon "Six" is used by at least 4 of these 25 cars. That settles the quality question.

Now take the matter of performance.

Saxon "Six" offers a pick-up of wonderful liveliness and smoothness—going from a dead stop to 50 miles per hour in 26 seconds.

Saxon "Six" offers really amazing flexibility. Its minimum speed is 1½ miles per hour "on high."

Saxon "Six" offers long life, great endurance, and thoroughly remarkable economy in upkeep.

And the price is $935 f. o. b. Detroit.

It may not be that low for long. Come in at once.

STRAWS SHOWING THE WAY THE WIND BLOWS

Below we quote a few editorial paragraphs from the Nebraska State Journal which show how a great republican paper looks at things as they are trending. They follow:

California and Florida will be sufferers from the disappearance of trains de luxe which is beginning to take place. Travel and winter resorts are two of the luxuries most easily dispensed with in a pinch. The process will be good for transportation but bad for the hotels and cities which thrive on tourist trade. There is no reimbursement for war losses of this sort, making the more reason why war should be paid for to the fullest possible extent out of war profits.

The association for an equitable federal income tax will join with other bodies in holding a conference on democratic financing of the war at Washington on January 15. The association holds that "seven billion dollars can be secured by current taxation annually—at least $3,200,000,000 from the excess profits tax, $1,350,000,000 from heavy taxes on unearned incomes and $500,000,000 from taxes on unused and inadequately used land. This is $2,000,000,000 more than the estimated yield this year of the excess profits tax, and $690,000,000 more than the income tax on individuals is expected to provide; while a reasonable tax upon slacker lots and acres will give the government half a billion dollars the fiscal experts have overlooked." An effort will be made to induce congress to adopt this fiscal program without delay.

In case government ownership of railroads becomes permanent, railroad rates will tend toward a mileage basis. Perhaps the zone system as it has been worked out in certain European countries and in the parcel post system of the United States may be the final outcome. The effect of this change would undoubtedly be to discourage the centralization of business and population that has been going on in the last fifty years. Railroad business would move without regard to the interests of individual lines. Great traffic clearing houses like Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and other terminals would be likely to give way to many smaller clearing places with rates based more on distance and equity than on the power the big communities to club the railroads into granting special favors. The decentralizing tendency of a transportation system operated solely in the public service is not the least of the great changes that may be expected to follow the new policy.

OBSERVED 50TH ANNIVERSARY
On Wednesday afternoon of last week Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schultz, sr., residents of our city celebrated their golden wedding anniversary amidst all their children and a few close friends. At 5:30 o'clock Rev. Aaron made a short but very impressive ceremony. Immediately after a wedding dinner was served. The guests were seated at two tables decorated with roses and carnations. The evening was a most enjoyable one, being spent in visiting, playing games and music.

Mr. and Mrs. Schultz are natives of Germany and were married in Pomellen, Germany on December 19, 1867. They came to America in 1872 and landed in New York, October 29, and from there came to Brestal, Wisconsin, on November 2, 1872, living there fourteen years. They immigrated from there to Nebraska in 1886 and located on a farm east of Hoskins in Hancock precinct where they resided twenty-four years after which they retired and moved to our city where they are enjoying life. Mr. and Mrs. Schultz are both very active and able to do their own work. Mr. Schultz is 75 years of age and his bride is 73.—Hoskins Headlight.

1/2 of 1 per cent of the total coal supply has been exhausted. Making due allowance for the immense increase in output during the past 35 years, to counterbalance the vanishing wood supply, the known sources of coal supply are sufficient for the next 7,000 years.

The United States outranks all other nations of the globe in coal production and in coal consumption. In normal times a very small proportion of the coal mined in this country is exported—only 4 per cent in 1913, out of a total national production of nearly 800,000,000 tons.

Great special stimulation in coal production cannot be brought about in one year, particularly when coal operators seek to prevent important stimulation, but it worth while to take time in bringing the supply fully up to national needs each year.

The above very comforting assurance from the Sioux City Tribune that the coal supply will last until most of us poor mortals now shivering around here will be where we do not need coal should cause us to cease fretting. Of course, if the coal is there, but so tied by monopoly that one cannot get it, there is no warmth for the people except under the collar...

GOVERNMENT AND RAILROADS

No act of the government in recent years at least, compares in importance and far-reaching effect with that of last week by which the government takes over the railroads of the country so far as the management is concerned at least.

Most of the people with whom we have talked are most wonderfully pleased with the idea, in spite of the fact that very few of them dared to even suggest such a thing a few years ago, and the one who advocated it was considered little better than an anarchist.

We do not believe in confiscating whatever value the present owners may have in the roads—nor do we believe that the people should pay the present corporations holding title to the roads for the value which the people have given to the roads.

Miss Josephine Mack returned the first of the week from Rome, New York, having been called to her old home there by the death of her father. Her many Wayne friends will sympathize with her in the sad loss.

Laundry soap will soon be $1.00 per box higher. I can do you some good. Act quick. Ralph Rundell. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Donahey returned Tuesday evening from a trip to Sioux City and Omaha. In the former city they visited Mrs. Donahey's mother. In the latter city they visited Mr. Donahey's mother. They had a splendid visit.

Frank Pritchard was on the Omaha market the first of the week with a car of hogs and two cars of cattle. His porkers sold at $16.70 and his cattle at $12.60. There has been quite a lively movement of live stock from here this week and last.

Salt is very scarce. I have a supply of lump rock on hand. Ralph Rundell. adv.

L. C. Austin, one of the medical corps of the navy, who has been on duty at Goat Island, California, left for his post Wednesday after a visit with friends here. He formerly attended the Normal at this place.

The last report we published of the receipts of the Red Cross bazaar given by the students of the Normal gave the amount raised as $204.43. The students sold much of the goods left from the sale and the grand total to date is $223.30. This is a splendid showing and the students are to be congratulated for their good work.

Mrs. Geo. Crossland went to Norfolk Wednesday to visit a couple of days with Mrs. Lewis Sessions. Mrs. Crossland received a telegram Wednesday, stating that her son, William, who was here to spend Christmas, is now at Camp Johnston, Florida. He is in the signal corps and was transferred from Fort Snelling, Minnesota.

Have just invoiced. Have some lots of canned goods below cost. Ralph Rundell. adv.

Our January thaw came the first day of the month this year, and it caught cold before the dawn of the second day. Most people enjoyed an opportunity to stand out in the sun and get warm without paying tribute to the coal barons. If some of those fellows could do it, they would corner the sunshine, air and water and make everyone pay tribute to them or shuffle off and give a fat fee to the undertaker.

French Penn, who is at the Great Lakes training camp, has been visiting his brother and many friends here, returns to camp today. He says that it is a great life, and the training there is to be the making of many young men, who before had been simply drifting. The eating and sleeping accommodations are good he says, and while he would prefer the civilian life, he would not feel that he was doing his duty to take his first choice at a time like this.

C. H. Christensen returned Monday from his visit to Oregon, where he was called by sickness of relatives and to see his little son. He reports there is quite a change of climate between here and there, for he left flowers in bloom and gardens of radishes, lettuce and the like thriving. Here he almost hit the cold wave, with mercury seeking the little ball at the bottom of the tube. He fortunately traveled just behind the crest of the cold wave.

Miss Alma Blandin, who was the appointed home demonstration agent for this part of the state and has been located at Wayne for several months, left for Camp Dodge, Iowa, Wednesday where she will engage in Y. W. C. A. work. Miss Blandin will be greatly missed here and in surrounding towns because of the good she has accomplished thru her line of work and also because of her pleasing personality. Miss Anna Stokelberg of Beatrice has been appointed to fill her place here and will start on her new duties soon.

Oscar Liedtke was visiting at Sioux City Monday.

Mrs. Henry Suhr was a Sioux City visitor today.

Miss Anna Thompson went to Omaha today where she will visit relatives and consult a specialist. Miss Thompson has been a great sufferer with sinus trouble and may have to undergo another operation.

Little Miss Lois Coolidge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Coolidge, is ill at her home with diphtheria but is reported as getting along nicely. She was ill about two weeks before her sickness developed into the dread disease. The home was put under quarantine immediately. We are glad the little one is improving.

Dick Auker was at Chicago last week with several cars of cattle, and Jack Liveringhouse went in to help care for them. He reports that the market was pretty fair, but that the weather was beastly. They left the city by the lake when a snow storm was raging, and Jack said that the wind from the lake certainly found the marrow in his bones—and he would as soon face a Nebraska blizzard as those water-laden blows from the lake. In fact, he said, he would not live in that city if he owned on that condition.

BEAUTIFYING THE CITIES OF THE DEAD.

With the passing years more and more attention is being given to making the cemeteries of this part of Nebraska little "beauty acres," and no one thing adds more to the attractiveness of the last resting place of relatives and friends than monuments of known quality and of appropriate design. Wayne is fortunate in having located here the progressive firm of Mitchell & Christensen, who are experts in the selection of material and designs, as is evidenced by a visit to their work and display rooms on First street. The Democrat man was looking over the new work they have just placed on the floor, and while we have seen many displays with more imposing monuments, we have not seen any which was composed of so many really pleasing and beautiful patterns. They have another car on the way which they tell us they consider as good if not better than the one just placed on display.

Give Us a Trial For Quality and Price

I wish you to consider that the aim of the market for 1918 will be to continue the policy of the past year and make it the place where quality is high and prices as low as can be given and assure their patrons good service.

We kill the best animals obtainable for our trade. We ask you to give us a trial order or two, feeling that from our fine line of meats we can fully supply your every need for both meat and meatless days.

The Sunday school has shown a marked growth in membership and in efficiency during the past year. The school showed its confidence in Mr. F. H. Jones as leader by unanimously electing him to the superintendency for 1918. Let us all rally to the proposition to make this the best year yet.

In this church, at the present time, the best energies of all are given to make the Sunday evening services the brightest and best of the day. The music is the very best, the sermons are pointed, the welcome is to all and from the very heart. The sermon theme next Sunday evening will be "The Lash of the Law." ITEMS FROM NEIGHBOR TOWNS

At Bancroft the last municipal act of the municipality for 1917, was to vote on the question of bonding the town for $8,000 for waterworks extension and for the sum of $9,500 for a town building. The bonds may carry as high as 6 per cent interest if necessary to sell at par—if the citizens authorize their issue.

Little Verne Brainard of Oakdale was killed by a bullet from a gun in the hands of a little playmate last week. The boy with the gun was playing with others inside a barn, and fired the rifle and the little fellow outside received the bullet after it passed thru the side of the barn.

The farmers of Leshara are turning their attention to the production and preservation of seed corn with much profit. Their corn land is producing crops that marketed in this manner are returning from $100 to $142 per acre.

Sheriff Dorsey of Pender was over in the east part of Thurston county and captured a quantity of high explosives which a German farmer had obtained from Chicago. It is contrary to law now to deal in or handle explosives unless registered with the county clerk, and this the man had not done.

The office of the Dakota City Eagle narrowly escaped destruction by fire last week when Editor Schmied attempted to fill the tank on his mho-casting machine while the fire under the melting pot was still going. It was a mighty foolish thing to do as the editor admits while nursing his burned hands and thanking the good guardian angel who sometimes saves men from their foolishness, that it is no worse. The office and entire building had a narrow escape, and editor Schmied will never again assume that he is too green to burn.

Fred Marshall of the Niobrara Tribune is at Lincoln, with the intention of taking up his favorite work—the study of music. We see nothing to tell who is going to be at the helm on the Tribune, unless it be a signed article in the paper giving tribute to Mr. Marshall. J. E. Morehouse is the one who claims to be guilty of writing the tribute to the former editor.

MUCH OLD SEED IN CRIBS

Over 10,000 bushel of old corn, much of which will do for seed, has been discovered on the farms of Monona county, Iowa, by the county agent. Success in this and other counties in finding old corn leads the agricultural extension men at Ames to believe that there is more than enough old corn now on farms to seed next year's crop if it could be preserved for seed and not sold or fed. It is thought that the old corn in each county will average 2,500 bushels.

Not long ago at a meeting in a certain Iowa town, two elevator men stated that they did not know of a bushel of old corn left in their community. A farmer present proceeded to inform them of over 500 bushels within two blocks of one elevator. This is probably typical of conditions all over the state.

On November 1, the United States department of agriculture estimated that about one per cent of the 1916 corn crop was still left in Iowa cribs. One-half of one per cent of a crop is needed to seed the next crop. So if proper precautions are taken to preserve what corn remains, it will go far toward solving the seed problem for next spring.

What is true of Iowa may apply here. It should be looked into.

OUR SPACE IS MERCHANDISE

Under the above heading a number of our exchanges are running something to the effect that their advertising space is what they have to sell, and that therefore they propose to sell it to those who have need of it, and therefore free notices of any and all social and semi-public gatherings where an admission fee is charged or things sold, will be run at their regular advertising rates, and that looks right from our view point. The great majority of local newspapers annually give church suppers, school entertainments and kindred enterprises hundreds of dollars worth of space for which they receive too frequently only thanks, and lots of times not even so much as that. That the publishers are largely responsible for this no one need deny. But it is time for a reform. A little space for the school, a bit for the church supper, some for the Red Cross social, and a funny announcement of the fire men's masquerade ball, and the date of the football or basketball game, and where are you at?

WAYNE MOTOR COMPANY

SHALL THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE FEDERAL LAND BANK SURVIVE?

On January 5th there will come up a bill in Congress for an amendment to the Federal Farm Loan Law that gives every evidence of being opposed to the best interests of the agricultural industry of the United States. The bill to be introduced will provide that in the future nothing but new loans may be negotiated thru the Federal land banks. A man, according to it, who has a loan from any privately owned loan company at the expiration of the time on his loan if he wishes to renew will be forbidden the privilege of taking out the new loan or renewal with the federal land banks.

Even during its short existence so far the Federal land bank has proved a God-send to the farmers in many communities thruout Nebraska. It has given them loans at rates that are the most satisfactory they have had. Further, it has extended the time of their loans to practically a life-time, if they wished, which eliminated all hardship in liquidating at maturity. More important yet, it has provided an amortization plan by which the loan may be gradually extinguished over a long period of years and the mortgagor never feel the pinch of a lump payment at a stated time. Its effect has been beneficial to the farming interests everywhere. In Nebraska since the Federal land bank was established there have been applications for loans totalling to $20,000,000. To date, $9,000,000 of these applications have been granted and the loans negotiated. Had it not been that the Federal land bank had held its stock off the market that it might not interfere with the liberty bond campaign more money would be on hand and more loans would have been negotiated. The bank has already been most effective but its possibilities have not been realized, by any means. As it secures more money the bank will be increasing value. It can not be expected at the present that it shall try to compete with liberty bonds. It will, however, gradually place its stock on the market so as not to interfere with the financing of the war and more and more loan associations under the bank will be accommodated.

Local loan associations under the bank should lose no time in wiring their congressmen to lend their influence in defeating the amendment prohibiting the renewal of loans with the Federal land bank that have been held in privately owned institutions.

HOARDING, NOT SCARCITY, RESPONSIBLE FOR PRESENT HIGH WOOL PRICES.

In a recent statement the War Trade board declares that no wool shortage exists, either in the world's supply or in the amount on hand in the United States, notwithstanding the increased consumption for military purposes. The clip in most countries has steadily increased since the outbreak of the war.

"The price of wool has advanced in the United States by a percentage greatly in excess of such price advances in other countries," says the statement. "The price in the United States has advanced 200 per cent above the prewar level. The price in England is fixed at 55 per cent in excess of prewar prices."

"Cloth manufacturers (in the United States) have been impelled by fear to carry abnormal stocks of wool, and to contract with dealers and importers for unusual quantities for far-forward delivery. Manufacturers of clothing have been infected by a like dread, inciting the purchase of cloth exceeding in volume their requirements."

MORE ROOM FOR STOCK

In building sheds, stables and housing accommodations for the live stock of all kinds kept on the farm it is a mistake to stint your room. A large, roomy shed is much better than cramped quarters, which is one of the very worst features for the health and comfort of the swine. Give them plenty of room and liberal accommodations for sleeping quarters. See that the rack space for the hay and fodder eating animals is not crowded. Every animal in the shed or stable should have rack room; otherwise the weaker and least aggressive are crowded out and forced to eat at the second table when the food has been nussed over or entirely consumed; thus the weak become weaker and the strong become stronger.

There will generally be one or more animals in most herds that are not able to take care of their own interests and the sooner they are taken out and put in a yard where they can have a fair chance the better. An invalid division is not very bad thing to have on all farms where there are various classes of stock kept. The backward and least aggressive may be nursed along in this way and not permitted to run down in flesh.

Room, plenty of room, is the general remedy in keeping live stock contented and comfortable in the feed lots and winter quarters generally. It takes but little more material and labor expense to increase the size of this class of buildings when you are at the planning and work. This is the best time to give it attention. There is no better paying business now than producing and growing live stock—cattle, hogs and sheep—and finishing them for the packer. Increase production, thereby helping yourself by helping the world. —Twentieth Century Farmer.
