J. J. KELLOGG OF ALLEN KILLED IN AN ACCIDENT

Mrs. I. C. Trumbauer was shocked Sunday upon receipt of a message telling of the accidental death of her father, J. J. Kellogg, one of the pioneer farmers of that vicinity. Mr. Kellogg conducted extensive farming operations, and in spite of his advancing years was active in carrying on the work of the place. That morning he was aiding in hauling hay to the feed lot for the cattle when the load upset, and he fell from the hay and his head was caught beneath the rags, and his skull crushed, causing almost instant death.

A funeral service was held at the home and again at Emerson where the body was taken for burial Tuesday. He has long been a resident of this part of the state, and his death will be mourned by many friends.

D. of H. INSTALL OFFICERS

Tonight the Degree of Honor will install their officers. Each member is accorded the privilege of inviting one guest and the evening will close with a banquet.

The officers to be installed are as follows: Charlotte Hanabaker, C. H.; Mac Ellis, L. H.; Barbara Lerner, C. C.; Mary Riese, Usher; Etta Roskopf, Usher; Jessie Warnick, R.; Anna Juhlin, Treasurer; Grace Jacobson, T. W.; N. J. Juhlin, O. W.

REV. WM. SHALLCROSS TELLS OF SUFFERING ARMENIANS

Rev. Wm. Shallcross of Omaha spoke at the Presbyterian church here Sunday morning. His subject was, "Sufferings of the Armenians Under Turk-German Persecution." Rev. Shallcross is pastor of the south side Congregational church at Omaha and is a forceful, interesting speaker. His word pictures depicting the suffering people across the sea brought the realization of the horrible scenes very near to his listeners who will no doubt respond nobly to the plea for help he made.

In company with Rev. Cross of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Shallcross visited our neighboring towns Monday, and a county organization has been perfected with W. H. Gildersleeve of Wayne as county chairman. The apportionment for Wayne is $800 and for the county of Wayne $2,000. Rev. Shallcross is giving 30 days of his time to this cause and he hopes to raise the required amount in that time. He tells us that there are three reasons why we should give freely to this cause. They are: First, because they are a Christian people; second, because from a humanitarian standpoint because they are starving and in dire distress; third, they are our allies in this war.

Every county in the state will be organized in this drive and it is a nation-wide campaign.

CHRISTMAS DINNER AS 'TWAS SERVED TO THE SOLDIER BOYS

That our boys in olive drab are well fed is a well known fact but a glance at the following Christmas dinner menu will prove the happy truth that they are also banqueted sometimes. If any of the stay-at-homes had anything better than this menu we are here to say we were not included in the lucky list.

This was the dinner served to the boys at Camp Pike, Arkansas, and with it came a letter from Orra Martin, saying "We had a good time

Christmas, didn't get sick over the good things to eat and wasn't very homesick either."

SURGICAL DRESSINGS NEEDED

Miss Morrison informed our Red Cross secretary that she is in receipt of a letter from headquarters saying that 1600 surgical dressings will be required from the Wayne division of that work by the last of this month. Every one who can help in the work should come forward now when their assistance is most needed. Those taking up the work now and are able to put in the required number of hours will be permitted to wear the regalia of the Red Cross.

Tuesday evenings as well as Thursday evenings have been set aside for this work to enable clerks and teachers to lend their aid. Come now and get in the class and do your bit.

YAN NORMAN - GATES

At Windom, Minnesota, December 26, 1917, Miss Kathryn Van Norman was married to Mr. Carl Gates, Judge Annes officiating. Both these young people are from Wayne. Miss Van Norman is a successful teacher in our Wayne schools and Mr. Gates is employed in the Boyd barber shop. They are very splendid young people and are well known here where they expect to make their future home. The bride will finish her term of school before they go to housekeeping.

The Democrat offers congratulations.

PLATT - WHITFIELD

Miss Etta R. Platt, formerly a student at the Wayne State Normal, was married on January 2, 1918 to Lieutenant Sterling Whitfield at Camp Cody, New Mexico. Particulars not learned at this writing.

THAT DOLLAR CONSERVATION OFFER

Made by THE NEBRASKA DEMOCRAT to the people of Wayne county and vicinity last week is proving very popular, and many are taking advantage of the liberal offer and acting as their own agent and saving the commission to buy War Savings Stamps or bread and clothes, just as pleases them most.

Here is the offer:

One dollar, this month, is accepted as full payment of subscription to the Democrat from the date of payment until the close of 1918. This is the most liberal offer ever made by a local newspaper, considering the present cost of production, and NOW is the time to take advantage of it.

Present subscribers come in the same as new ones.

MARY PICKFORD WILL COME TO VISIT THE CRYSTAL

On Monday, January 14, Mary Pickford, "America's Sweetheart," will visit the Crystal in her newest Aircraft picture, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," "Little Mary" with her effervescent youth, her genuine comedy and her wonderful knowledge of dramatic technique, is the ideal person to immortalize the little girl of the New England village, who the dominated by two crabbed old aunts, does not permit it to crush her spirits.

In "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" Mary Pickford takes the part of a little girl who goes to live with two maiden aunts. How she fights with the Smith children, sells soap to get a lamp for Mrs. Simpson, gives a circus in a barn from which she is routed by the aunt and how she meets Adam Ladd and how after graduating from school they are again brought together is all brought out in typical Pickford style.

This picture discloses another "Poor Little Rich Girl" type of vehicle for "Little Mary," offering the famous screen queen a character, however, that carries with it even greater charm than that presented in her well known Eleanor Gates play. As the nationally known Rebecca, Mary will add greatly to her vast popularity as the darling of the cinema in a human subject that plays upon the heart of every child and every person that remembers childhood days, making it a photoplay that is enjoyed by men, women and children alike.

In the cast are other popular players and you cannot afford to miss seeing Mary Pickford in this popular play.

CHARITY AT HOME

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. had a call last week from the Orphan's Home at Council Bluffs. They have 270 homeless children there and are greatly in need of clothing. The letter they received states that clothing even tho it is worn can be used.

Also they would like dried fruit of any kind or dried corn. It seems hard that our county of Wayne should be called upon to send at least $2,000.00 across the water when our own children here in our large cities and in the homes for orphans are in actual need. It is just and right to give to the poor no matter where they may be. To alleviate suffering is a God-given command but the pinched, starved faces of our own poor should be made rosy first. Remember that "charity should begin at home." Hundreds of children, almost our own flesh and blood are in need. It is not right that they should perish from lack of care because foreigners in a foreign land need our surplus money. Perhaps this sounds like a selfish plea but the writer has worked among a city's poor and knows conditions. And in this great country of ours there would not be one child without the necessities of life if we would all make it our personal aim to care for our poor. There would, after that was done, be plenty to make drives with for our starving friends across the sea. Any one with anything, money, clothing, fruit, etc., to give to this cause take or send your donation to Mrs. J. H. Boyce.

Later—The report is telephoned that the ladies have already been able to forward a shipment of more than 150 pounds of clothing to the home, and there is small reason why it might not be made more than double that amount, for beyond a doubt the closets and attics of Wayne have plenty of cast-off clothing, worn somewhat or out of style, which are of better quality and more serviceable goods than can ordinarily be bought today. Look around and help keep the children warm—especially when you can do so without expense to yourself. That may be what is called "stingy giving" but after you do that you can give something that "hurts."

SIX OCLOCK CLOSING

Inasmuch as the Nebraska Council of Defense has requested that all retail stores in Nebraska, after January 1st, close at six o'clock each evening except Saturday evenings, for the purpose of conserving fuel and light, we the undersigned are willing to cheerfully comply with this request—at least until April 1, 1918.

There may be different points of view regarding this question, but only one that is vital, our government's wishes are sufficient.

WAYNE COUNTY PURE BRED STOCK MEN MEET FRIDAY

Tomorrow is the day when the members of the Wayne County Pure Bred Stock Breeders will hold their annual meeting, and the officers have decided to make a day of it and with that end in view have called their business meeting to take place at the city hall here at 10:30 in the morning. From there they will go at noon to the Baptist church with their friends to a dinner. They have asked those who attended the booster trip with them last fall to be their guests, and also representatives of the public service club and others. All of their members are urged and expected to attend, it promises to be a gathering which no one eligible will care to miss.

After they have eaten, the afternoon session will be held at the city hall where the public generally will find a welcome. On the program will be Prof. A. G. Peters, authorized poultry expert, who is in position to tell his hearers much about that great industry of this state, which is not yet half what it might be nor what it should be. All will be interested in this talk, for we all like chicken.

John Daton of the department of Organization and Stock Improvement will be one of the speakers, and he can tell something of interest to all stock breeders. Local speakers will also add a bit to the program, and the government has heard of the meeting and will send J. F. Coupe, one of its good agricultural extension men to attend the meeting, and he is booked for a talk.

The Livestock industry is easily the most important branch of agriculture in Wayne county, and it should be given most careful and intelligent consideration. Such an organization as they have here of representatives of nearly every branch of the industry should mean much to its members and to the county. The Democrat believes that none who are eligible for membership should fail to belong.

We want to see this first annual gathering of this organization a success, and it will be if others realize the far-reaching scope of the organization in producing results in the purchasing and marketing of stock, as well as in creating incentives to grow more and better live stock.

"HOW AMERICA CAME INTO THE WAR."

Sunday evening at 7:30 in the Methodist church the churches of the city held a union meeting in the interest of a drive which is being put on to sell thrift stamps and war savings certificates. Another loan is soon to be floated, but if the people of the United States buy enough of these certificates it will be unnecessary to undertake that campaign.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather there was a large crowd at the church and if the elements had been more favorable the seating of the fine Methodist church would have been taxed beyond its capacity.

Five ministers representing the Protestant forces of the town were on the platform. The meeting opened with the singing of "America," after which Rev. F. J. Jorden led in prayer. Rev. Cross read the Scripture taking for his lesson the forty-sixth Psalm. The Methodist choir rendered the delightful anthem entitled "Praise Ye the Father." The audience sang "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus" which was followed by some well-chosen remarks by the Rev. D. W. MacGregor, introducing the Hon. J. J. Boucher, an attorney of Omaha, the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Boucher said that he was out in the interest of the war saving campaign and was having the time of his life. "I did not know there was so much to this war until I began to study the facts relative to the war. People, not a few, have questioned the advisability of the United States entering this great conflict, but after studying for several months I am at the present time, absolutely convinced that we did the right thing in entering the struggles on the side of the entente allies. 'No one' says Mr. Stephens, 'without he has a wooden head should longer question the rightness of our position relative to whether we should have gone against the great menace to free government and democracy.'

The address of the speaker was enlightening and inspiring and no time during the hour and a half that he spoke did he fail to hold the attention of his audience. The speech might be characterized as an argument through. He furnished sufficient evidence for every statement which he made, and threw much light on the well-laid plans of Germany for the last forty-five years.

While the rest of the countries of the world have been busy in peaceful pursuits the citizens or subjects of Germany have been busy preparing for war. In 1913 she had a standing army of 500,000 men, and within a few months that was increased to 800,000. France fearing the menace passed an act in her parliament giving the country the right to increase the standing army. This action of France was all that saved the world while England was getting ready in 1914.

Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, a friend of the speaker told him some wonderful facts that he learned while in Germany a few years ago. A station agent gave him an exhibition of German vaunted efficiency. He said, "We have every man in Germany listed and within a short time we could mobilize our vast army." In giving Dr. Hillis an example of this he turned up the name of Hans Schmidt. There were six with the same name but the government had separate data on each one. Everything that each man had was listed. The children, horses, cows, harness, even down to the minutest detail. The certain bridge was mentioned upon which they were to meet in case of being brought together.

The United States was justified in declaring war on Germany a thousand times on April 6, 1917. The sinking of the Lusitania was an open breach of all international law. Ambassador Gerard was shamefully treated in Germany after the declaration of war in 1914. The kaiser refused to see him on the ground that he represented a country that was selling munition to belligerents. What about Germany selling munitions to the Russians in their war with Japan, and in the Spanish-American war she was selling munitions to Spain and even to the Filipinos against the United States. "Germany has no case there" said Mr. Boucher. "In one of the Hague conferences the representatives of Germany threatened to leave unless that right were accorded neutrals."

Germany was a year late in entering the war. One of the high officials of Germany told Admiral Dewey that Germany was going to make war on the world fifteen years after 1898. Especially was he very arrogant with reference to the United States and so much so that the Admiral incorporated his remarks in his report and today it appears in one of the congressional records. There is no question about the sinister aims of Germany against America. A certain man showed Gerard a map that the Germans had of the United States and its places of vulnerability. Especially if their plans had carried were they going to attack the cities of Washington, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Chicago, New York City, Baltimore and other cities along the Atlantic sea-coast. "These could have been held too," said the speaker, "because at the time of the declaration of war we had hardly enough powder to last one day in our army in France."

The English people under George III, one of the German autocrats, took Washington in a few weeks. This is considered one of the vulnerable spots in our country.

"But I hear a great many people say the war would be all right if we only had allowed Germany to attack us first. Let us see about that," and then he cited instances in the war of the Independence and the war of 1812. Washington said that he would have been defeated had it not been for the aid which the French fleet rendered him at the taking of Yorktown. The English had only 40,000 men in the war while Washington had 400,000. "No, the trained army of Germany would be worth many millions of our untrained men. The only thing to do was to foil the enemy before he came and sacked our cities and ruined our homes. Is France especially glad that the war is being fought on her soil? No, indeed."

How are we going to win this war? Economize and do not buy the non-essentials. Do not crowd Uncle Sam out of the markets. He has plenty of money but the people have bought the cloth so the soldiers in a great many cases have had to go without an overcoat. Wear your old overcoat another year. It is better to save now than later to have to raise a war indemnity of fifty billions of dollars for Germany.

WAYNE COUNTY SELLS $120,871 WORTH OF RED CROSS SEALS

Wayne county made a splendid showing in the sale of Red Cross seals this year. The ladies on the committee for Wayne were Mesdames E. E. Lackey, C. W. Hiscox, Harvey Miner, Ray Reynolds, Geo. Porter and Miss Sewell. The amounts from the different towns were as follows: Wayne, $87.31; Winside, $20.85; Carroll, $2.66; Sholes, $1.80; Hoskins, $3.25; Leslie precinct, $5.00. The sale in Leslie precinct was an hundred per cent sale as they sold every stamp sent them. The ladies who had this sale in charge and the merchants who aided them deserve a great deal of credit for the success of the sale.

THE MEANEST MAN YET

Over in Cedar county is a farmer who insists that the people he hires on his place speak German only. The citizens of that county should see to it that he goes back to the kaiser's trenches where he will hear German only, and that orders to go out into "no man's land" and do-and-die like a dog. If he is an American he should talk United States. The fact that when his hired man, a German, whom he employs at less than prevailing wage because he cannot speak English or understand it, asked him to take him to Hartington to fill out his questionnaire, he refused and also refused to let the man have a horse to ride or drive, and made it imperative that he walk both ways and return the same day, one finds out just what sort of a blood-sucking patriot he is. "Raus mit ihm." We did not get his name, but he lives near Wynot, and we do not see why the Tribune did not call it right out in meetin'.

NOTICE!

To whom it may concern: There has been some low down people who have made practice of every time we have company they will come and pound on the door or window and when we open the door they run. Now I am a law-abiding citizen, I don't allow any gambling nor I don't keep anything to drink, but one thing I do keep and that is a loaded gun and I will use it after this notice if this happens any more; so take warning. H. A. Masten.

My Tuesdays are meatless,

My Wednesdays are wheatless,

I'm growing more eatless each day;

My home is heatless.

My bed it is sheetless,

They're all sent to the Y. M. C. A.

My coffee is sweetless,

The bar rooms are treatless,

Each day I grow poorer and wiser;

My stockings are feetless,

My trousers are seatless,

My God, but I do hate the kaiser!

PRESIDENT'S PEACE TALK

The government of the kaiser has been making monthly peace talks or proposals, but no one except the kaiser appears to ratify his plans of peace, not even his own subjects. He is not fair, frank or honest, and so why waste his breath? Tuesday President Wilson sent a peace message to Congress, or rather delivered it in person to the house and senate, and it contained the following proposals of terms on which peace might justly be made, and in these he is backed, not only by the American people but by the people of the civilized world, including practically all of the subjects of the Central powers now fighting by direction of the ruling autocrats under whose control they appear to be for the present. Here are the terms of America and her Allies.

1.—Open covenants of peace without private international understandings.

2.—Absolute freedom of the seas in peace or war except as they may be closed by international action.

3.—Removal of all economic barriers and establishment of equality of trade conditions among nations consenting to peace and associating themselves for its maintenance.

4.—Guarantees for the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with democratic safety.

5.—Impartial adjustment of all colonial claims based upon the principle that the interests of peoples concerned have equal weight with the interest of the government.

6.—Evacuation of all Russian territory and opportunity for Russia's political development.

7.—Evacuation of Belgium without any attempt to limit her sovereignty.

8.—All French territory to be freed and restored, and reparation for the taking of Alsace-Lorraine.

9.—Readjustment of Italy's frontiers along clearly recognizable lines of nationality.

10.—Freest opportunity for autonomous development of the people of Austria-Hungary.

11.—Evacuation of Roumania, Serbia and Montenegro, with access to the sea for Serbia and international guarantees of economic and political independence and territorial integrity of the Balkan states.

12.—Secure sovereignty for Turkey's portion of the Ottoman empire, but with other nationalities under Turkish rule assured security of life and opportunity for autonomous development with the Dardanelles permanently opened to all nations.

13.—Establishment of an independent Polish state including territories inhabited by indisputably Polish populations with free access to the sea and political and economical independence and territorial integrity guaranteed by international covenant.

14.—General association of nations under specific covenants for mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to large and small states alike.

Lloyd George made a famous speech last week and his English ideas of the situation are very similar to those of President Wilson. It is a war to the finish between democracy and autocracy, and there can be no question as to which will win. It is principles not men or nations for which this war is waged; and who can doubt but that in such a case democracy will win. The people of the world will never consent to be burdened with any government which does not derive its just powers from the consent of the governed. The idea of self-government has been making mighty strides in recent years. Even in this land of the free we are breaking away from the rule of party leaders, and the "invisible" government once so powerful in legislative halls is crumbling before the power of publicity. Freedom of speech and press and a system of free schools makes a condition in which honesty of purpose will count for much more than trickery and bribery, whether the bribe is one of money or of place and power.

Editor Pease of the Plainview Republican advises the president to appoint Teddy in the place of Secretary of War Baker, and simply scare the kaiser into quitting the war. Yet we read that the kaiser tells that Teddy is responsible for this war. The story goes that when Teddy and William were hobnobbing together that Will trotted his army and equipment out to impress the ex-president with what he had done in the way of preparedness. After the show was over, Teddy is reported to have said: "Bill, you can lick the world;" and when asked as to the why of this war, Bill said that he had been foolish enough to believe what Theodore told him. One wonders why it is that when a republican advises the president to become non-partisan they never fail to select an extreme partisan of their class to fill a leading place.

This is the year when an election is to be held in this state, and it might be well for the fellows who are going to offer their services on the altar of their country for so much per to begin to think of the most modest manner in which they can make an effective appeal to the voter. Meantime the voter should do a bit of thinking along the line of who can and will do the most for the people—who will serve them best.

Economy in the cut of the dude's wearing apparel is one of the things now claiming the attention of those who would conserve, and a day should be set aside for the dude to be dressed like wife folks, along with the other days we are now observing.

Some of the representatives in congress are trying to have the law fix a date when the government will again turn the management of the railroads back to the combination of interests who have shown that they are utterly incapable of efficiently serving the people. The congressman who goes on record as advocating the return of railroad control to the monopolies is digging his political grave wide and deep—and they will be covered good and deep. Don't monkey with the elephant.

Our Synodical Superintendent, Rev. Wm. E. Kearns, D. D., will be in this church next Sunday morning and evening. Dr. Kearns is one of the real strong men in church work in the middle west. All should hear him.

The executive committee of the International Sunday School Union association and the Sunday school council of the Evangelical denominations have adopted a plan for a 120-hour course in teacher training, to take the place of the First and Advanced standard courses.

The session passed a resolution last Sunday advocating the getting together of the churches of Wayne for the rest of the winter for Sunday and mid-week evening services, in the interest of coal conservation. We are willing and anxious to do our bit in this way. Indeed, it seems to us the only right and reasonable thing to do under the circumstances.

We desire to render every possible assistance in the matter of the Armenian and Syrian relief. Rev. Wm. J. Shallcross, of Omaha, organized the work in Wayne county last Saturday, Sunday and Monday. While there are many other demands upon our time and purses, there is probably no genuine charity work in the world today to which we can give with as much confidence that our money will reach its destination and do good.

There are never too many workers and everyone should feel that it is their personal duty to give as much of their time as possible to this work. Many other called upon Mr. Shephard during the afternoon.

The following from his old home town in Iowa, is highly prized and self-explanatory:

Alden, Iowa, About Christmastime, 1917.—Mr. Levi J. Shephard, Oakdale Nebraska. Dear Sir and Brother: As Christmas time is coming around to all of us once more, and close after it, another wonderful day—the most wonderful day you have ever seen—is coming to your good self, the officers and members of Radiant Lodge No. 366, A. F. & A. M., here at your old home town of Alden wish to extend to you their brotherly greetings and congratulations.

We are all agreed, surely, that it is a wonderful thing to live even a little while. It is a wonderful thing to live twenty years or thirty years or forty years, but to take a running jump as you have done and live an hundred years is exceedingly wonderful. Not one of your Masonic brethren whose names are hereto attached expects to meet up with any such record. You better believe, though, it looks grand enough and good enough to all of us to be worth trial. We intend to plant our sandals and make footprints as long as we can with an upright regular step.

So far as we have been able to learn, you are the oldest veteran on any Masonic roster in Iowa. That statement was made a few days ago in the presence of Grand Master Barry and Grand Secretary Parvin and not denied by them, so we are counting it as true and boasting of it whenever we have an opportunity. We are very proud indeed to have you as a member of Radiant Lodge

SOME NEWS ITEMS TAKEN FROM THE GOLDENROD

San Antonio, Texas,
Kelly Field, No. 1, Line 105
December 25, 1917.

Dear Friend.

I have a few moments tonight which may use in any way I choose. I have written as yet but few letters and shall therefore send a few this evening. I should have written sooner but hoped to be in a permanent company before now and wanted you to know my fate.

Perhaps you know that I am trying to get into the flyers corps and I want to state that it will be no easy matter for me to pull that. I certainly hope I make it, but have not taken my final test as yet. Everyone tells me I have an over amount of nerve (brass, I think is more appropriate) to even dream of making a plane soar. Perhaps I have, but I am still living in hope. I, however, shall consider myself most fortunate if I do succeed to that degree.

There are more departments to the aviation than I ever dreamed of when I came here. I am not surprised that they can use fifty thousand or more men.

The best authority I have been able to consult states that we have nearly forty thousand Sammies here now and many leave each week. Some go to Egypt to complete their training, others go directly to France, more go to other camps.

I wish every Wayne Normal student and faculty member could see Kelly Field. I am certain that you would all be filled with a feeling of satisfaction. There are about four thousand tents in each of which are ten individual cots; a great many large brick and wooden buildings, several thousand acres of ground for drill ground and a large field for the flyers in the field. We are about four miles from San Antonio.

It rains once every three years here and freezes about as often. It is not uncommon for one to see overcoats and furs in spite of that fact. The daytime is cool in cloudy weather, but quite hot when old "Sol" beams forth. The evenings are exceedingly beautiful. We always hate to go to bed; it is so much like beautiful June weather.

All lights must be out by nine o'clock. We should never be out of tent after that time, except on some work as guard, etc.

Aeroplanes fly from daylight until dark every day, fifty or more in the air all day. We have drill twice each day, forenoon and afternoon.

I should like to tell you about my trip from Omaha to Fort Logan and from there here, also, many interesting things about Logan, but I must close.

Tell everyone that I am alive and happy. We are all happy here. We are proud of this, the one truly free country. We don't want peace before we are assured that we can have it, and we know we shall get it. The colors of Old Glory must and never will fade.

Your friend, Christy.

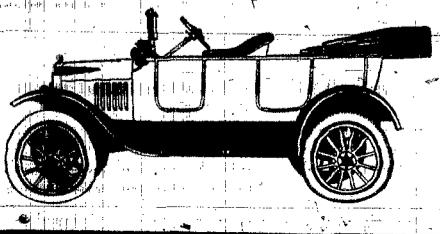

Professor Bowen gave an interesting talk in chapel last Monday. Surveys of school efficiency are only of value because of their application. Biographies are written for the purpose of showing the qualities possessed by men of achievement. Bryce maintains that the most prominent men in life have four essential qualities:

ties: courage, determination, intelligence and belief in themselves.

What is our greatest desire in life? asked the speaker. What should one do if he is twenty-one? Frank Crane, in the American, states that under such conditions he would go to work and not wait for the ideal job; he would adjust himself to society; care for his health; train the mind; save money; be happy; study the art of being pleasing, neat and punctual; and would come to a decision concerning his religious ideas.

Professor Bowen asked Wayne people to name one thing they would do if they were twenty and in school again. The answers are very interesting. The replies include reading excellent current magazines and papers, completing the college course without borrowing money, finding a vocation and planning one's course to fit the same, indulging in the social and athletic phases of the school life. Others would select a dominating member of the faculty and use his influence, would go to the school having the most important men, use every moment of time for service. One would study the fine arts, another would master the subjects that he might be of service in later years, and another would desire to eliminate all ideas except those based on the broadest views. To others the most important things to do are to be efficient today that one may be, so tomorrow, to study three or four professions and select one which best fits the individual, to select one line of work and know more about it than any other person, to have good habits, to study the sciences and fine arts, and to study seven years beyond the high school in specializing along one definite line.

The Normal purchased a large service flag which was made by the girls in the sewing class of the domestic science department. The flag now has fifty-eight stars, which fact shows that at present time there are fifty-eight young men in the service who at some time have attended the Wayne State Normal. Only those whose addresses are known are represented on this flag. There are several other young men, formerly students of W. S. N. S., who are in the service at the present time but their location is not definitely known. When these names are added the number on the list will be raised to nearly seventy.

Further honor was shown the former students in service by the artistic honor roll poster which was made by Professor Wiley. At the top of this poster is drawn in pen work the picture of an eagle and the flag. Below these appears the name of each former student now in service.

Writing from the University of Chicago, Mr. Herman B. Siems says: "Occasionally when I receive the Goldenrod, a longing to be back on the hill overcomes me, and when that mood passes away I get my flute and play, or try to sing, 'There's a Normal on the Hill!' While a student at Wayne Mr. Siems was prominent in all student activities, and we are pleased to know that attendance in a large institution has not lessened his interest in the Wayne State Normal.

LEAVES STORED FOR WINTER

They Are Easily and Quickly Gathered in Various Ways—Big Pieces of Cloth Excellent.

(By M. A. COVERDELL.) If farmers only understood the many uses to which leaves could be put, more of them would be stored.

Some may think it takes too much time and labor, but they are easily and quickly gathered in various ways. One good plan is to have cheap barrels handy, fill them with leaves, and set them away where rain or snow will not reach them.

Another method by which the storage of leaves may be accomplished is that of using common gunny or burlap sacks. These, also, may be stored away without emptying the sacks, and they will be in convenient shape to use a few at a time during the winter.

If one has only a small number of sacks, the leaves may be carried and emptied from the sacks into some out-building not in use; but where one desires to store a considerable quantity, we find that bed-sheets, or similar pieces of cloth, are excellent for the purpose.

Simply spread them on the ground; rake up the leaves with a common garden-rake and pile them on the sheet; catch hold of each of the four corners and draw them together.

A large quantity can be carried in this manner, and when it is desired to empty the sheet, let go of one corner and allow the leaves to roll out.

VALUE OF BARNYARD MANURE

Price Fixed at $8 to $9 Per Ton for Use on Farm Crops by Ohio Experiment Station.

Can barnyard manure be worth $8 to $9 a ton for use on farm crops? At present, prices for commercial fertilizers, it has had this value in tests conducted by the Ohio agricultural experiment station.

Eight tons of manure reinforced with 820 pounds of acid phosphate has been as effective in increasing crop yields as the same quantity of acid phosphate mixed with 480 pounds of nitrate of soda and 260 pounds of muriate of potash, in tests covering 20 years at the experiment station at Wooster.

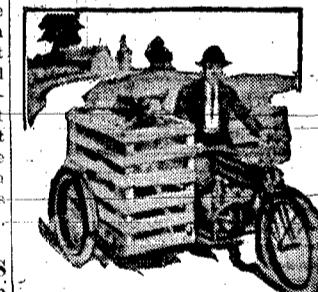

Nitrate of soda now costs nearly 4 cents a pound, and muriate of potash 20 cents. At such prices the eight tons of manure has had a replacement value of at least $70.

Every pound of manure saved and used with the utmost economy will relieve the fertilizer situation this year and put crop yields on a higher level.

GOOD MATERIALS FOR MULCH

Ashes, Leaves, Straw, Evergreen Boughs and Clippings Mowed From Lawns Are Valuable.

There are many materials which are valuable for mulching. Ashes, leaves, straw, evergreen boughs and clippings, grass mowed from the lawn, rotten manure, bark, half-rotten wooden chips raked up at the base of the out-of-door woodpile, pine needles from the woods, marsh hay, charred peat and stones are among the materials which can be used.

Stones are valuable laid above the rooting portion of layered slips. Evergreen boughs, coarse manure and dry litter suit hyacinths. Lilies receive a mulch of ashes with favor and well-rotted manure is a benefit to peonies, for it can be worked into the soil in the spring.

you are given a certificate card with spaces for twenty stamps of this size. The stamps draw 4% interest, compounded quarterly, which is equivalent to about 4½%. This is the highest rate of interest the government has ever paid.

A $5 stamp costs $4.12 now and a cent more each month for the rest of the year. In five years it will be worth $5. But you do not need to keep the stamps five years unless you want to. Whether you have one or two hundred of them you may cash them any time at the post office on ten days' notice. But if you do not hold them for five years you get only 3% interest on the money invested in them from the time you bought them until you cash them in. To get 4% compound interest you must hold them to the date of maturity, which is January 1, 1928.

DUROC JERSEY HOGS

Wednesday, January 30, 1918.
Stuthman & Koehlmoos, Pilger, Nebraska.

This article was submitted by Frank C. Buila, State Publicity Manager, National War Savings Committee.

The National War Savings Committee is not only endeavoring to raise two billion dollars for the government through the sale of War Savings Stamps, but is attempting to create in the American people the habit of thrift and economy.

In the words of Lloyd George, the War Savings Committee hopes to teach the people that in war times "extravagance and the purchase of non-essentials is treason."

Every time a citizen in these war times purchases a thing not absolutely necessary to his health and comfort he is assisting in blotting out more American lives by Prussian shells.

When one purchases something he does not need he makes men work who could otherwise be producing guns and munitions to help end the war more quickly.

There are not enough workmen in the country to produce all the luxuries.

MANIA FOR BURIED TREASURE

Seekers of Wealth Always at Work on Sunken Spanish Vessels Along European Coast.

There have always been treasure-seekers diligently endeavoring to discover and bring to light the wealth hidden by their predecessors. Only a few years ago a princess of the royal blood of Britain was seeking for gold in the depths of the sea. She—it was the Princess Louise—had the right to the hulls of the vessels of the ill-fated Spanish Armada, which went down off the Isle of Mull during their scared and hurricane-driven flight round the British Isles. She had little more luck than her ancestors, who had been working at that treasure-trove since the seventeenth century, for only a few old cannon and a small number of coins were brought to the surface.

In the days when Drake sailed the seas a Spanish galleon always meant plenty of gold to the British sailor, and romance and tradition have taken nothing from their luster, so that wreckers and treasure-hunters are practically always at work at some one or other of the ancient Spanish wrecks that lie all round the coasts of Europe.

It is not generally known that when Queen Victoria died she left to the Princess Beatrice her rights to the gold in the ships of the Spanish Armada lying at the bottom of the English Channel. How rich a trove that is may be judged from the fact that longshoremen all along the south coast make a practice of seeking for the coins that a soul-wrecker drives on to the beach out of these same vessels.

GOOD PROFIT IN CAR RIDE

After Paying Woman's Fare Man Extracts Her Last Quarter From His Trouser's Cuff.

She boarded a trolley. All the seats were occupied and she had to stand. When the conductor shouted, "Fares, please?" she gave a sudden start and dropped something. She began to look on the floor. The conductor kept on saying, "Fares, please!"

"I've dropped it," said the young woman, "I've dropped a quarter, and I don't seem to be able to see it."

"I can't help that," replied the conductor, "You'll have to pay your fare."

"I haven't any more money."

"Then you'll have to get off at the next corner."

"I'll send the money to the company by mail: I have an appointment in 15 minutes, and if I have to walk I will be frightfully late."

A young man sitting in the seat in front of the distressed damsel spoke up:

"Pardon me, miss," he said, "may I pay your fare?"

"To be awfully obliged," she replied. So the fare was paid. The polite young man wouldn't even give the girl his name and address and soon left the car.

As the car started again he whistled to the conductor and when he got that functionary's attention, ostentatiously he extracted from the cuff of his trousers the lost 25-cent piece, held it triumphantly aloft and hastened, grinning, down a side street.—New York Evening Post.

Light From the Left Side.

The well-known fact that, when using the eyes for any near work, the illumination should come from the left side rather than the right is often disregarded. Let anyone who considers the matter of little importance once demonstrate to himself the difference and he will never forget it. Take a pencil and paper and try to write while in such a position that the light will fall from the right side. The shadow of the hand or pencil or both is thrown on the paper in such a way as partly to cover the characters one is making. This necessitates a closer viewpoint and a conscious strain on the eyes. Now let the position of the writer be reversed so that the light falls on the work from the left side. He will notice that the shadows fall away from the work he is doing and leave the field unobscured. In making the change he cannot help but notice the feeling of ease that immediately is experienced by the eyes. This applies to any other kind of near work in which the fingers work under the guidance of the eyes. This fact should be remembered in planning school-rooms, workrooms, offices and any places where steady close work is to be performed.

Wise for His Years.

Tommy had been promoted by the chemist. He was now allowed to serve behind the counter. The other morning a middle-aged lady, looking her full age, came in.

"Have you any cream for restoring the complexion?" she asked bashfully.

Tommy was a wise lad. He eyed her too vivid cheeks with open admiration.

"Pardon me, madam," he said politely. "Don't you mean cream for preserving the complexion?"

And the delighted lady bought six boxes right away.

Encouraging Stripe.

You stated in your announcement of my marriage to Miss Susan Spatz that we were launched upon the troubled sea of matrimony."

"Well, young man," replied the editor of the Diggsville Clarion, "what's wrong with that sentence? It's a fine figure of speech."

"Maybe so, but it looks to me like an invitation for my wife's relatives, to get busy and start something."

SOCIAL NOTES

Miss Beecher Engaged

Right Rev. and Mrs. George Allen Beecher of Hastings, Nebraska, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Allen, to Lieutenant Adrian Robert Brian, of the 40th United States Infantry, now stationed at Fort Sheridan, Illinois. Miss Beecher graduated at Brownell Hall in the class of 1914, and has since pursued her studies in the College of Fine Arts at the Nebraska State University, making a specialty of journalism. At the present time she is acting as her father's secretary.

Mr. Brian is a graduate of the state university, and received his commission at Fort Snelling last August. No date has been fixed for the wedding—Omaha Bee.

Miss Beecher will be remembered here as she was in the employ of the Herald several weeks and made many friends during her short stay at Wayne.

Junior Senior Party

Friday evening last the juniors of the state Normal entertained the seniors in the new gymnasium at the college. This was the first time the new building had been used for a party and the building was dedicated right.

The juniors are splendid entertainers as each senior will testify. The evening was spent dancing old fashioned square dances and the Virginia reel. A spelling match, in which the juniors kindly let their guests walk off with the honors, was a feature of the evening's entertainment. All were dressed to represent hard-times and many and varied were the costumes. A hard time luncheon of gingerbread and coffee was served.

A Pound Social

Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Jorden of the Baptist church were the recipients of a pound shower Tuesday evening when about thirty five of the members of the church gathered at the rectory, each bringing a pound of something good to eat. Rev. and Mrs. Jorden were not exactly surprised as a member of the congregation gave Rev. Jorden a notice to read last Sunday at the morning services that all might know of the plans. The evening was one of pleasure. Ice cream and cake were served. Rev. and Mrs. Jorden feel deeply grateful for the kindness of their guests.

A Surprise Party.

The neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Larsen gathered at their home Saturday evening last and gave them a pleasant surprise. They brought with them three well filled baskets and the evening was a very enjoyable one. An oyster supper was served and a beautiful coffee percolator was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Larsen.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Hammer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ellenberg, Mr. and Mrs. John Grimm and family and Nels Nelson.

The Early Hour club ladies and their husbands were entertained at the Harry Fisher home Tuesday evening. Of course the place is sufficient to prove that they must have had a very good time. And the fact that "lights out" found them reluctant to leave speaks for the delightful hospitality of the Fishers. The party was a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. John Harrington as they left Wednesday morning for Arizona; and also Mrs. Henry Ley and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chace, who expect to spend the balance of the winter in California. A two-course dinner was served at 6:30 and the evening was spent playing 500. The one disappointment was when it was learned that Mr. and Mrs. Ley had left that morning instead of later as the club ladies understood they intended.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. Britton Friday last and enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon. Quite a large membership was out. Devotional was led by Mrs. Holt. Mrs. Britton sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Boyce. Ten minute talks took up some time. Mrs. Miles had a paper on "False Promises." Mrs. Crockett had for her subject "How Can Parents Teach Obedience." Mrs. Rennick's subject was "What is the Sunday School Doing for Boys?" The ladies took up and discussed a letter they had recently received from the Orphan's home at Council Bluffs in which a plea was made for help. Elsewhere in this issue is an article on the subject. It is to be hoped that the ladies will have ready response to their call for assistance.

The Queen Esthers gave a surprise party last Thursday evening for Miss Florence Gardner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Rennick. Miss Florence left Sunday for Wisner where she will teach the balance of the school year and her Queen Esther sisters thought they would give her a farewell surprise. The evening was one of great pleasure and to make the surprise complete Miss Florence was presented with a pair of gold hats as a token of the high esteem in which she is held by the young ladies. Mrs. Rennick served a delicious luncheon. The girls decided they would give a pot pourri later, part of the proceeds to go to the Red Cross.

The Woman's club met with Mrs. C. W. Hiscox Tuesday. Mrs. Martin Ringer gave a review of the Red Cross magazine. Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer gave a very interesting paper on "Heating and Ventilation of the House." Mrs. Wollert talked on "Lighting," her talk was excellent. The ladies joined in singing "Keep the Home Fires Burning." It was planned to hold a St. Valentine's party, February 14, at the Methodist parsonage at which time the ladies will entertain their husbands. The next regular session will be February 12 with Mrs. D. W. MacGregor.

The P. N. G. ladies were entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. John Sherbahn and the afternoon was delightfully spent. Mrs. W. O. Hanssen was initiated into the mysteries of the club. The first part of the afternoon was spent in knitting and other fancy work. A short program rounded out the time. Mrs. Ingham sang two pretty solos and Misses Madeline Bohnert and Edna Hanssen played two duets. The entire club sang "Keep the Home Fires Burning." The hostess served hot rolls, jelly and coffee.

Tuesday last little Miss Alice Berry was hostess at a dinner party served at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Berry, to a half dozen of her little schoolmates. The dinner was in honor of their anticipated promotion to the third grade at the end of the semester. It was a happy crowd, and their two hours from the school at noon was none too long for them, so happy and free were they at their play. Mrs. Berry enjoyed making the little ones happy as much as they.

We neglected to mention in our social notes last week the annual dinner of the Rural Home society. It was held this year with Mr. and Mrs. Eph Beckenhauer, Friday, December 28. The members and their husbands and families spent the day at the Beckenhauer home. Each member taking something good to eat and a splendid dinner was served at noon. The afternoon was spent playing games and having a social good time. There were about thirty people out and they report a splendid time.

The Helping Hand society held an interesting meeting last Thursday at the James Grier home with Miss Etta Thun hostess. The men belonging to the women members were present to lend dignity to the occasion, and they are also to attend the next meeting, which is to be held at the Andrew Stamm home next Thursday. The ladies who attend are to sew for the hostess, and the men will doubtless aid in some manner. At any rate a splendid session is promised.

The Shakespeare club met with Miss Sara Killen at the A. M. Holt home Tuesday evening. Miss Beechel gave a talk on "Woman Suffrage," as written by Dr. Anna Shaw. Miss Redmond gave a paper on "The Red Cross Nurse." Miss Mary Mason had for her subject, "Food Conservation." They were all excellent. Miss Killen served light refreshments. The next meeting will be with Miss Mason, Tuesday evening, January 22.

The Acme club meets at the Red Cross rooms every Monday, to work on surgical dressings. They have decided to give up their club programs and take up this work now needed so badly by our armies. We are glad to note this move on the part of Wayne club ladies. All of the ladies have been giving of their time and money to the Red Cross now for almost a year and wonderful things have been accomplished.

Mrs. Chas. McClellan entertained the Ladies Bible Study Circle Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Laub led the lesson study. It was planned at this meeting to hold a meeting with Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer next Tuesday to celebrate the 16th anniversary of the Circle. At this time Miss Agnes Glenn, a missionary from Japan, will be present and give a lecture. There will also be a number of out of town guests.

A very polite little Miss who was a guest at a juvenile party recently sought the hostess as she was about to depart, and said: "Mrs. —, I have had a splendid time and such a nice dinner, I want to thank you for the very pleasant time I have enjoyed. My mother told me I should be sure and tell this to you. Good bye."

The Monday club met with Mrs. A. A. Welch this week. Roll call was responded to with New Year's greetings. Mrs. Rollie Ley gave an excellent paper on "Merchant Marine and the Navy." Mrs. Beebe also gave a very interesting paper on "Races of Russia." The hostess served light refreshments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. T. W. Moran.

The Central Social Circle is meeting with Mrs. Gus Wendt today in an all day session. Dinner was served at one o'clock. Roll call was responded to by current events and a verse from a favorite author. They will have a grab bag, the proceeds to go to some charity. Fancy work and a social time is reported.

The Minerva club will meet with Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis next Monday. Mrs. Huse is leader and the subject for the day will be "Women from the Nineteenth Century to the Present Day." Mrs. Lutgen will sing a solo. Mrs. Roe will give a special number. The ladies will undoubtedly have a splendid afternoon together.

The Young Ladies Bible class met Miss Ella Benshoof Saturday evening. Miss Ina Brayton presided at the meeting and Miss Opal Robbins led the lesson study. There was a good attendance and a very interesting meeting. Miss Mae Hiscox will be hostess for the young ladies Friday evening.

The U. D. club met at the Red Cross rooms Monday and worked on surgical dressings. The ladies have decided to give up their regular club work and devote their time to making surgical dressings. This is certainly a patriotic move and the ladies are to be commended for their unselfishness.

Miss Bessie Durrie was hostess at a card party Saturday evening at the J. H. Kemp home. There were guests for three tables and auction bridge was played until the manager of the electric light plant winked at the fair ladies. Miss Durrie served delicious light refreshments.

The P. E. O. Sisterhood met with Miss Winifred Main Monday, January 7. Roll call was responded to by New Year's resolutions. The Victrola furnished delightful music and the ladies enjoyed a social hour. The next meeting will be with Miss Myrtle Ringland, January 21.

In our social notes last week we made mention of a New Year's dinner given Misses Anna and Lulu Arrowsmith of Newport. The hostess was Mrs. W. A. Hiscox instead of C. W. as stated.

The O. E. S. will meet next Monday evening in regular session.

C. E. Closson offered 5 lbs. of candy which sold to W. E. James for $20, after which it was put back on the market and sold for $12.50.

Miss Esther Boehler has the full particulars regarding this candy, but we don't know whether they are for public use or not.

W. R. Thomas offered an auto, cash which brought $25 from N. F. Morris.

A quarter of beef from G. W. Wickett brought $28 from J. A. Jones.

Daniel Davis paid $16 for a load of cobs.

The top prices on other articles sold were as follows:

One pig $37, roosters $5.25 each, corn $13.25 per bushel, coal $16 per ton, doily $10.50, quilt $13.50, hand painted picture $11.50, flour $7 per sack, soap $10 per box, hay $22 per ton, butter $1.90 per pound, ducks $2.50 each.

A coat from Dobbin Mercantile Co. brought $17.

The hat from V. G. Williams' head sold for $6.50, Mrs. J. A. Jones' hat brought $3.50 and thus the sale progressed with everybody in good spirits and the bidding always in high.

Not one single article sold for less than actual value.

The day was ideal from a weather standpoint and the big pavilion was crowded to its capacity.

The contributors and buyers alike share in the glory of the success of the sale.

E. G. Evans and Col. F. Jarvis donated their services as auctioneers as did the First National Bank.

SOLDIER BOYS DEEPLY GRATEFUL FOR MAGAZINES

Mrs. E. S. Blair informs us that she has recently received a letter from Camp Funston saying that the consignment of magazines and books sent recently had been received and that the boys were pleased to get them.

Another box will be sent as soon as books enough can be collected to fill it. Bring in your late magazines and if you have a good book you would like to pass on hand it in to Mrs. Blair and she will see that it goes into the next box sent to the boys.

JUNGE-CORCORAN

At the Catholic church Tuesday morning at 8:30 occurred the marriage of Miss Marie E. Junge of Big Springs, Nebraska, and Mr. Charles M. Corcoran of Gregory, South Dakota, Rev. Father Kearns officiating.

The young folks were attended by Mrs. P. J. Barnes, a sister of the bride and Mr. Wm. McInerney. Shortly after the ceremony the happy couple left for the south where they will travel for a couple of months before returning to Gregory where the groom is engaged in the drug business.

HOME GUARDS AT WAYNE

As yet Wayne has no organization of Home Guards, nor has there been any successful movement to organize here, the the governor has issued the necessary commission or permission to one if not more than one person. Perhaps we do not need such an organization—and perhaps the man with organizing genius and inclination has not happened to get the commission. Perhaps with so many real soldiers already doing duty where most needed there is little need for what some have been pleased to term "tin soldiers." Certain it is, there has been no apparent need of a home guard here.

LENQUST-PAUSTIAN

On January 3, 1918, at the Methodist parsonage, Miss Gertrude Lenquist and Mr. Frank J. Paustian, both of Wausa, were united in marriage, Rev. D. W. MacGregor officiating. Mr. Paustian is one of Wausa's successful business men and Miss Lenquist is a popular young lady of that city.

All bids must be on completed work, as no extras will be allowed.

The board of county commissioners reserve the right to build or construct any other concrete bridges, arch or slab other than steel, which bears on other plans and specifications furnished by the state engineer and adopted by the county board.

The board of county commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, this 20th day of December, A. D. 1917.

NORFOLK DEFEATS WAYNE

(Delayed by Transposition)

The Wayne Independents staged their first game of the season Saturday evening, December 29 and lost to the Norfolk Y. M. C. A. boys by a score of 43 to 27. The Independents hope to make a much better showing when they go to Norfolk in the near future to play a return game.

The Wayne boys made a good strong attempt to win but knew there was not much chance as Norfolk had defeated Pierce high school the week previous by a score of 27 to 19.

The Y. M. C. A. boys had a fine, clean, fast bunch that could play together smoothly; their team work was the feature of the game, a short, swift pass being used to good advantage.
